FOUNTAIN TO SPEAK HERE

Former Lieutenant Governor to Open Political Campaign in This County

Honorable R. T. Fountain will make public address on Monday at 12 o'clock in the court house in Greenville beginning the 1934 campaign in Pitt County. The public is invited and urged to be present.

Mr. Fountain is a former lieutenant governor of North Carolina and in the last primary was a candidate for governor. This county gave him a large majority. He is the forceful and attractive speaker.

Mr. Fountain will deliver the address on invitation of Pitt County Tax Relief Association. It is well known that he advocated in the last campaign policies intended for the general good of the good body of common people and particularly the farming interests.

HIT BY AUTO; TWO INJURED

Robert Harris Jailed Here For Running Down Couple of People Last Night

Robert Harris, young white man of the Grimesland community, was held in jail here today on a charge of reckless driving growing out of running down a man and woman on the Greenville-Washington highway last night, a short distance from Grimesland.

Jack McDaniel, farmer of the Grimesland section, was in the local hospital suffering from painful but not serious injuries sustained when hit by Harris' car. A woman, whose name was not determined, said to have been walking along the highway with McDonald, was injured but not seriously enough to receive hospital attention.

The two were said by officer to have been walking on the right side of the road when struck by the machine.

When taken into custody by Sheriff Whitehurst, Harris said he was blinded by an automobile coming from the opposite direction and did not see McDaniel and the woman.

Sheriff Whitehurst said today Harris would be given a preliminary hearing as soon as McDaniel improved sufficiently to attend.

Late News Flashes From Over World

Seek Tobacco Tax Cut.
Raleigh, April 13.—(AP)—Governor Ehringhaus this afternoon asked chief executives of five tobacco growing states to meet with him in Washington next week to seek a 40 per cent uniform reduction in the federal tax on all tobacco products.

The call went to the governors of South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Georgia, which with North Carolina are the nation's principal weed producing states.

The governor's action followed a conference with representatives of North Carolina growers who memorialized Congress to vote the 40 per cent tax reduction as recommended by a congressional subcommittee.

Governor Ehringhaus said he had asked the governors to meet with him in Washington sometime early next week, the exact date depending upon the convenience of the other executives.

NEW TOBACCO WAREHOUSE IS TO BE BUILT OUT IN FRONT

Veteran Warehousemen Here Announce Awarding Contract for $60,000 Structure

Construction work on a new tobacco warehouse for Greenville is scheduled to begin immediately and the building will be completed by August 1, in ample time for the opening of the great bright leaf market.

The structure will be built on the site of the old McGowan-Cannon warehouse which was destroyed by fire two or three years ago. It will cost about $60,000 and will be one of the most modern and up-to-date buildings of the kind to be found in this part of the country.

Contract was awarded yesterday to the Erwin-West Construction Co., Statesville, N. C., Benton and Benton of Wilson were the architects. The new building is being erected by Hugh McGowan, Biggs T. Cannon and Will Moore, veteran warehousemen. Mr. McGowan, however, will continue to operate the Farmers Warehouse, and the new house will be operated by the other two builders.

The building is to be brick, steel and cement construction and will be 320 feet long and 160 feet wide. It will hold a day's sale selling at the rate of 360 pipes an hour.

The owners say it will be modern in every respect, providing bedrooms for the farmers and rest rooms for ladies. Circulating ice water will also be one of the features along with scores of other conveniences for the comfort of the thousands of growers expected to sell on the new floor.

The site of the new structure is on Dickinson Avenue and Ninth street, in the heart of the tobacco district, and has been vacant since the old warehouse was destroyed by fire.

PITT DOCTORS HOLD MEETING

Monthly Session at Woman's Club Last Night Marked by Papers, Case Reports

The monthly meeting of the Pitt County Medical Society was held at the Woman's Club last night and was marked by interesting papers and case reports.

Dr. J. C. Greene and Dr. R. S. McGeachy were hosts. An interesting paper on "Burns" was read by Dr. M. T. Frizelle of Ayden, and another was presented by Dr. A. M. Schultz on "The Mouth as a Gateway to Tuberculosis."

Dr. Winstead, of Pitt Community hospital, presented a case report on von Recklinghausen's disease, and another report was made by Dr. Grady Dixon of Ayden on "Pituitary."

A message was read from the Greenville Medical Society, organized (Continued on page Three.)

Foes of Payoff Measure Wrap Bill in Red Tape and Hope to Keep it so.

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—Foes of the bank payoff bill had it all wrapped in red tape today and hoped to keep it so until Congress goes home.

Its friends refusing to admit defeat, kept nipping away at the tangled trying to get the bill out into the open or vote in the house.

The measure—the McLeod bill—would have government pay depositors now tied up in banks that are still ailing.

It had been in the House Banking committee for sometime but the situation came to a head yesterday. Proponents of the legislation putting on steam garnered more signatures on a petition they had been circulating.

The four added to what they had made 141. The rules say that 145 names on a petition can force the House to vote on the question whether any measure held in committee shall be brought up for action.

But just when the signature collectors were getting ready to go over the top the Banking Committee reported out an amended bank payroll bill. One member charged it was a "trick" since he had not been notified of any committee meeting.

HONORS FOR LOCAL BOYS

Former Greenville High Students Winning Recognition at Various Colleges

The student-body of the Greenville High School was made proud again yesterday because of the fact that more scholarship honors have come to its graduates who are now in college. Lawrence Dudley and J. D. Swain made the High Honor Roll at State College again for the past quarter, according to the announcement made in the News and Observer yesterday. Cadet Captain George Dixon was also placed on the Honor Roll for the same quarter.

George Willard at State made the High Honor Roll for the first quarter. Harold Sugg at Davidson made highest honors for the first semester. Charles Shuff at Davidson likewise made honors. Jim Slay made the Honor Roll at Duke. Warren Scoville continues to make about the highest grade at Duke that it is possible for a student to make. Mary Lee Williams at the University made all "As" for the first quarter. Rodrick Williams in the medical school continues his high marks. Ray O'Brian who graduated from this school a few years ago is taking medicine at Wake Forest and is making "As" on all his work and has done so since he entered Wake Forest.

MUSIC MEET BOOKS OPEN ON SATURDAY FOR ELECTION

District Music Contest To be Held at the High School Tomorrow Morning

The District Music Contest of the 15th annual North Carolina Music Contest, will be held in the High School Auditorium tomorrow morning, beginning at 9:30. Junius H. Rose, who is chairman of the District, will be in charge of the program.

There will be fewer entries in the District Contest this year than formerly, due to the fact that the district has been split and also due to the fact that less music work is now being done in the schools than formerly. The City of Greenville, at the present time, is about the only city east of Raleigh which is doing special work in music. Miss Eugenia Thomas, member of the College faculty, will act as judge of the contest. The Greenville High School will enter the following events: Mixed chorus, Boys Glee Club, Mixed Quartette, Boys Quartette, Girls' Trio, Unchanged Boy's voice, Soprano solo, Alto solo, Tenor solo, Baritone solo, Tenor solo, Bass solo, Trombone solo.

Popular Branch and Moyock High Schools of Currituck county will have one entry each in the following events: Boy's Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club, Girls' Trio, Unchange Boy's voice, Alto solo, Baritone solo, Cornet solo, Bass, Tenor and Soprano solo. Elizabeth City will enter the Piano Contest and the Violin Contest. Hertford will enter the Piano Contest. Plymouth will enter one number of the Girl's Glee Club contest.

The schools of Snow Hill, Morehead City, New Bern, Trenton and Winston, were formerly participants in this district contest, but since the district has been divided, these schools will meet for the contest at the same time. The Greenville High School will not enter the band and orchestra in the district or State contest this year. In past years, the Greenville group have made a reputation for themselves in the State because of the quality of their formations. The work this year in all groups are better than it has ever been before.

The contest is open to the public and all lovers of music are invited to be present. There is no admission charge.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING HERE

School people and others interested in educational problems have been arriving from various parts of the state throughout the day for the second State-wide Educational Conference in session at East Carolina Teachers College.

At a brief general meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Mr. M. K. Fort, chairman of the program committee, made announcements. The two hours assembled for round table conferences on the theme "Education for the New Social, Political and Economic Order."

The visitors will be guests of the college at dinner at six o'clock this evening. The evening meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock in the Austin Auditorium with music by the Greenville High School students and (Continued on Page Four)

Bullet Proof Vests Taken At Warsaw, Ind.

TWO OTHERS POLICEMAN IS 'PLUGGED' DURING RAID

Sam Dudley Out For Pitt Sheriff A and Charlie Martin For Treasurer

The march to the political arena continued uninterrupted today with announcement of two candidates, one for Sheriff and the other for County Treasurer.

Sam Dudley, member of the Board of County Commissioners, and a former sheriff, announced he would seek the office now held by Sheriff Sam Whitehurst. There is one other candidate seeking the same office, Richard (Dick) King.

Commissioner Dudley for years has been associated with the political life of the county and is one of the leaders in the Pitt County Tax Relief Association which played an important part in obtaining tax relief for property owners.

He has served as member of the Board of Commissioners for four years and some years ago occupied the sheriff's office for a number of years.

The other candidate, Charlie Martin of Ayden, said he would seek the office now held by A. T. Moore and sought by four other candidates. Martin's hat was the sixth to fall into the ring for this important office.

Mr. Martin is a World War veteran and is a past commander of the Pitt County post of the American Legion. He has had eighteen years experience as bookkeeper and accountant and said he is fully familiar with the type of work passing through the office of the County Treasurer.

Mr. Martin has been a resident of Ayden for some years and recently has been connected with the federal campaign to improve the sanitary condition of the country. He directed the campaign in Pitt County.

HAM THIEVES TO FACE JURY

Five Men Rounded Up In Ring To Go Before Grand Jury Next Week

Johnnie Moye and Robert Jones, two members of a band of five alleged "ham ring" thieves, were taken to Snow Hill today to face preliminary hearing on a charge of theft.

They will be returned to Greenville to await action of the six months jury of criminal court next week along with the other three members of the ring—William Ballinger, Joe Jones and Albert Harris.

The ring members were nabbed by county and city officers night before last after Ballinger, arrested at Goldsboro with a load of hams, and Joe Jones, of Greenville community, confessed stealing hams in Greene and Pitt counties and implicated the other three men.

They were charged with staging a number of ham robberies in the two counties, and officers believed their capture will bring to an end one of the most widespread movements in years to deprive farm owners of their meats.

It was first thought the five men would be given preliminary hearing here this afternoon, but Sheriff Whitehurst said today he had decided to hold them for grand jury action instead.

Two Revolvers Also Stolen by Desperado A and Companion; Policeman Forced to Open Case Containing Arms; Dillinger Escapes in Black Sedan; Indiana Excited Over Incident

Warsaw, Ind., April 13.—A man identified as John Dillinger led a machine gun raid on the Warsaw police station today, plugging a policeman, stole four bullet proof vests and two revolvers and got away.

Jud Pittinger, the plugged policeman, said he was "quite positive that one of the two raiders was the Indiana "wooden gun" desperado. He recognized the other from pictures as Homer Van Meter, parolee Indiana convict and a member of Dillinger's official gang of bandits.

The raid, the third such foray in small Indiana cities credited to Dillinger's mob, put police and bank officials on edge. Similar raids at Auburn and Peru last October preceded bank robberies at Green Castle and East Chicago, Ind., and Racine, Wis.

Pettinger said the two criminals hit him on the head in an alley near the station. At machine gun point they forced him to walk to the station on the second floor of the fire house and forced him to open the case in which the arms were kept.

While they were choosing the vests he broke away and ran. The two chased him for a short distance but then returned to their black sedan and roared out of town. Paul Hodges, city fireman, awoke in his quarters downstairs just in time to see the raiders leave.

There seemed no doubt in Pettinger's mind that the leader of the bandits was the notorious outlaw whose "wooden gun" escape from the "escape proof" Crown Point jail March 3 amazed the country.

Now that the Senate has boosted the tax bill to $480,000,000 Republican independents in that chamber sought today to hand the government a club which they said would frighten tax dodgers into shelling out. Publicity was "the weapon they chose."

Sen. LaFollette of Wisconsin, won approval of a stiff increase in inheritance and gift levies yesterday brought before the Senate an Amendment to make all tax returns subject to public inspection. On the basis of past performances this amendment looked like an easy winner. This was the last major controversy to be settled before the tax measure which was once the $258,000,000 revenue bill is approved. After the Senate gets through with it it goes to conference with the House to adjust scores of Senate additions and subtractions.

SEEK TO MAKE TAX DODGERS SHELL OUT NOW

Washington, April 13.—(AP)—Now that the Senate has boosted the tax bill to $480,000,000 Republican independents in that chamber sought today to hand the government a club which they said would frighten tax dodgers into shelling out. Publicity was "the weapon they chose."

SOUTH AFRICAN ENVOYS FOR EUROPEAN CAPITAL

Capetown, South Africa.—(AP)—South Africa is to have embassies of her own in Europe.

Prime Minister Hertzog gave the first intimation of this new step in telling the senate the government intended to establish embassies in Paris and Berlin. The Berlin embassy would also deal with Swedish matters.

"Nothing could exceed the readiness of the British embassies in placing their services at the disposal of the union," he said, "but their hands are full and these new embassies must be created."

Richmond, Va.—(AP)—A trap that looks like a huge loud speaker or megaphone, but which draws beetles in, instead of sending sound out, is science's newest device for keeping insects from destroying tobacco.

The trap, designed by W. D. Reed department of agriculture insect specialist, already has lured to their deaths millions of cigarette beetles, one of the most destructive pests in tobacco warehouses in the south.

The beetles, which spend most of their lives in the semi-darkness or diffused light of the warehouses, are attracted by a moderately intense light especially during their period of migration in late summer and fall. Then a suction fan draws them to their doom.

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: The report that oil is being drilled for in streams a short way upstream to disrupt Judith Lane's effort to build the big Diablo dam according to Tom Bevins' plans, and with the $25 million dollars left her by Bevins for the purpose, she fears it is a ploy to snuff her, engineered by Morton Lambers, who is trying to break the Bevins will in favor of Mrs. Bevins and her daughter. She fears too that a visit from Scoggins, who holds a key piece of land, may mean trouble; his talks about his wife's desire for pretty things.

Chapter 35 PACIFYING SCOGGINS

WELL, sir, then we looked in a store window and there was a dress all shimmerin' like it had fish scales on it," Scoggins went on.

"Squins, they're called," said Judith, "little metal things that dovetail into each other."

"Well this one was a green one and Mamie she looked at it and then she looked at me and her eyes were chock-full of tears, just bein' happy. 'Ain't it grand?' she says.

"Next mornin' I made like I was goin' up to buy me a cegar and I went to that store aimin' to buy that dress for Mamie if it took my roll. Whatcha think they asked for it? Two hundred and fifty dollars. I didn't get it."

Judith appeared to be as shocked as Scoggins had hoped she would be, but beneath her sympathetic expression was worry. What in the name of goodness was the man leading up to?

"Miss Judith, I got a chance to git them things for Mamie, an I git Tommy a car and send him to college, without waiting for trees to grow and him too old to go and Mamie too old to enjoy things. I got a chance right now.

"You know that piece a land I got that juts into your flood basin? There's oil there and I'm here to tell you, you can't use it for water."

One trick that Judith had learned during her years as secretary to Big Tom Bevins was to maintain silence in a crisis, to let the other person speak first.

Judith felt that the fate of the big Diablo Dam hung in precarious balance as she sat watching Scoggins. Without his land there could be no dam. It formed a queer shaped snake's figure jutting far out into the flood basin.

The Tom's faith in Scoggins had been so complete he had neglected to get his consent to its use in writing. Judith remembered calling his attention to it the night of their first visit, but he had insisted such a procedure would be jeopardizing Scoggins' trust in him, after Scoggins had refused such a big price for his land.

"Don't reckon you understood, Miss Judy," he began again, troubled shame in his voice. "I'm going to git oil on my hand and I can't if it's flooded, see?"

"What makes you think there is oil on your land?" she inquired, with nothing but sympathetic interest in her voice.

"THERE'S been a man there with a divinin' rod working about the place. To tell you the truth, Miss Judy, he leaned close and half-whispered, 'there's a great lake of oil underneath this here valley, yes sir, just like they've got up to Longview.'"

"Strange the man didn't want to purchase it from you," she mused.

"He did," was the quick answer, then loyally, "but I promised Big Tom I wouldn't sell to nobody."

Judith repressed a smile at the unintentioned satire of his remark—"and then what did he say?"

"That he'd sink a test well and take a percentage for the sinkin' if I'd see the place didn't get flooded."

"And how was that to be brought about?"

"He said he'd go to court for me and git an in-jun-"

"Injunction," offered Judith to whom the word was fast becoming a nemesis.

goin' to do anything we got to do it now."

"Then what did you mean he wouldn't get out an injunction unless he had to?"

"Unless you'd agree to quit work without it."

Judith sat a few moments in silence. A crisis like this needed a man like Big Tom; not Justin Cunard, Judge Morgan nor any man she knew could handle it.

She was Big Tom's stenographer, she repeated to herself and she was going to act as she had acted in his office when things came up she couldn't handle during his absence. She would pretend he was temporarily absent.

"Mr. Scoggins, have you signed any papers?" she asked.

"No, Miss Judith, they was eggin' me on to do it, this man and Mamie, but I says no, I'm not signin' nothing."

"That's fine, Mr. Scoggins. I tried to talk Big Tom into getting you to sign an agreement for our use of your land in the flood basin and he wouldn't do it. He said he would bank everything he had on your word."

"He said that?" came the pleased, incredulous question.

"Yes."

"Miss Judy, I . . . I . . . I don't want to do this. It's just Tommy and Mamie and being able to give them things. I've got to Miss Judy. I owe it to them, that fish scale dress and a car for Tommy—"

"I KNOW," Judith, like Big Tom, was putting her trust in the man as she spoke. "I do understand how you feel, but I'm going to ask you to do something for Big Tom. No, not give up your oil. Mr. Bevins would never have asked you to sacrifice yourself for him, would he? And you could have depended upon him to play fair with you, always, couldn't you?"

"Yes, indeed, Miss Judith."

"Well, Mr. Scoggins, I'm acting as his secretary now and I'm going to carry out his orders, so think of yourself as dealing with him. Give me a few days to think this over. I want to explore an angle I've just thought about, and then I'll meet you and give you my decision. Is that fair?"

"Yes it is."

"And you will give me your word that you will not sign anything until after I've talked with you, nor go ahead with any of the plans this man offers?"

"Supposin' he won't wait?"

"If he's honest and there is oil on your land, he will wait."

"Of course . . . yes, of course he will, won't he?"

They shook hands. Scoggins started to go but Judith had motioned Delphy and the old woman appeared with a coffee pot and a frosted cake. They talked of everything excepting oil and dams and when Scoggins left he had forgotten his dogged, half-shamed manner of the earlier evening.

After he had left, Judith slipped a light sweater over her head and trudged up to the "Ship Rock". Wearily she stretched out on the rock and looked out on the plains, a blue-black bowl topped by a blue-black sky.

Was it worth the heartache and worry, this building of Diablo Dam? Surely it seemed that el diablo was at the bottom of it, something devilish seemed to dog her footsteps as she sought to carry out her instructions.

Moans And Groans

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Washington (AP)—Census takers may get a real bird's eye view of the farm situation under a proposal to use aerial photographs in mapping counties where past census figures haven't jibed exactly.

Photographs taken from airplanes would be grouped in a mosaic, permitting identification of every farm-field and growing crop. Then a new instrument called a "planimeter" would be applied, which would measure each field within 1.5 per cent of its correct area or within 4 per cent of its linear measure.

Trouble the farm adjustment administration has had in figuring acreages would be overcome partly by compilation of accurate agricultural surveys made through that method.

Widely used "new deal" agencies needed information. Programs for land-utilization, subsistence homestead development and slum clearance, for instance, are related closely to population movements.

Facts For AAA
In addition to the proposed bird's eye maps, the farm census would give the AAA facts about taxes, mortgages, idle land, abandoned farms, forest and pasture plots, sizes of farms, ownership and tenure equipment, membership in co-operations, acreage, production and value of crops and stock, farmers' expenditures—and other points involved in the new farm plan.

Lozier, who claims his proposal has President Roosevelt's approval, estimates the census would cost about $10,000,000 and would employ about 150,000 men and women.

GENEVA BUREAU SEES U. S. LABOR IN FRONT RANK

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

Geneva (AP)—The United States is beating the International Labor Organization to the latter's treaty-designated goal, but officials of the bureau aren't grieving.

The organization, which like the League of Nations, was created by the treaty of Versailles, was brought into being to establish "humane conditions for labor."

Present leaders consider that the Roosevelt labor policies are giving it a new lease of life—a sort of transfusion of healthful labor blood.

They are looking forward to a

June conference which will discuss the 40-hour week. The United States is expected to send an unofficial delegation, and the Geneva leaders feel certain that delegates from the rest of the world will listen attentively to expositions of American policies.

Although the organization was formed at Washington, the United States never took out formal membership. In the earlier days American labor feared that the body might severate measures that would be inimical to American standards.

Now the situation is reversed. European employers apprehend that "new deal" policies on child labor and collective bargaining might create delicate problems for them.

There is real hope here that the United States soon will see its way clear to join the organization. It is — what it means — to store

70 million dollars worth of tobacco

— 4½ miles of warehouses —

Everything that Science knows about is used in making Chesterfields. It means something to keep 70 million dollars worth of tobacco in storage. It means just this:

One thing we do is to buy mild, ripe tobaccos and then lock up these tobaccos in modern storage warehouses to age and mellow like rare wines.

We do everything possible to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

It takes about 3 years to age the tobaccos

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Woolard. Mrs. H. H. Settle was hostess. Mrs. Leo Burks presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. A. Darden, and the program on Japan was in charge of Mrs. W. H. Woolard.

After the reading of the minutes and the roll call, Mrs. Woolard introduced her subject by showing many interesting pictures on Japan. Her paper, dealing with the topography of Japan, its social and religious customs, its ancestral worship, its leading industries, and evidences of American influence upon the Japanese was then presented. This was followed by a most interesting travelogue given by Mrs. H. H. Settle from her personal diary. By means of vivid word pictures those present enjoyed glimpses of high spots in Yokohama, Tokio, Nikko, Kobe, Kyoto and Miyagiwa or Fairyland Park in the Inland Sea.

Following the program, tasty refreshments were served by the hostess.—Reported.

POEMS ON SPRING.
The following poems of spring were written by pupils of the Third Street School:

The sky is blue and sunny,
The river slowly glides.
The leaves on the trees
Shine like money.
The little brook downward slides.

Every day the bees come around,
The birds hop down to find food.
The butterfly finds pollen from the buds.
The flowers are in a happy mood.
—Alice Reiman.

The birds have come
The grass is green,
And bad old winter
Will not be seen.
The flowers are blooming,
And the buttercups are yellow,
And cool old summer
Is a jolly fellow.
—James Moye, 4th Grade.

Good-by snow and frost,
For here is merry bee,
Flowers are blooming too
And every rose and tree.

The birds are flying back,
For breezes are in the air.
The grass is green too and Children are playing everywhere.
—Johnny Wooten, 4th Grade.

Today the blades
Of grass came out
And danced upon the lawn.
Flowers, too, danced on their stems,
Like happy little fawns.
—Sarah Moore, 4th Grade.

Busy Workers.
I know some busy workers
They live down by the mill.
I know a whole lot of little one,
And they live in a hill.
—Sarah Moore, 4th Grade.

Lady Spring has come today,
Cold old winter stole away,
Flowers are blooming brightly
Birds are singing lightly.

All the trees are growing green,
Many butterflies are seen.
All the great big world is gay,
For Lady Spring has come to stay.
—Jim Ficklen, 4th Grade.

NEW BOOK BY MINISTER HERE OFF THE PRESS

Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, has written a book entitled, "The Awakening of St. Timothy's League" and it is just off the press.

Several volumes were forwarded to Mr. Lillycrop here today. Thousands of copies will be distributed to denominational members in all parts of the country as well as members of other groups interested in religious activities.

The book is dedicated to the "Young people of the Diocese of East Carolina with love and gratitude for all that their friendship has meant to me." It contains a foreword from Thomas Campbell Derst, bishop of East Carolina.

The book was published by the Morehouse Publishing Company of Milwaukee, Wis.

The book deals with the meaning and purpose of organized young people's work in the church and according to Bishop Derst, "Should be helpful at a time when such organizations are looking for programs and objectives."

Mr. Lillycrop, director of Religious Education in the Diocese of East Carolina, has written two books during his stay in Greenville. The first was entitled, "Betty and the Scarlet Bunny." The story first appeared in the columns of the Daily Reflector and was later dramatized and produced on the stage in several parts of the country. The initial presentation here will be remembered favorably by hundreds of people who witnessed the production.

COLLEGE PLAYS TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY

Every member of the staff of East Carolina Teachers College has some part in the production of the three one-act plays to be presented in the Austin Auditorium on next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

WE'LL WALK Or The Wail Of One Who Is Unlucky

Forty Ducks flew rapidly over the blind. The hunter raised his gun, pulled the trigger and one glossy victim fell with a thud into the placid water. One out of forty. Just his luck.

Old Spot flushed a beautiful covey of quail in front of Bob Smith. Up went his gun quick as a flash, there was a sharp report, and down fluttered a single bird. One out of twenty. Unlucky one.

Joe Trent stopped his unpretenc-ing car for three-quarters of a minute at the curb on the non-parking side of the street until his son, Billy, could step into the grocery ten feet away and get a loaf of bread for supper. Unlucky Joe! The ubiquitous cop asked him to move on or park on the other side—where all parking space was taken. Traffic was light and no cars were delayed by his stopping. The nearest parking space was perhaps two blocks away.

Mrs. Henry Spivus stopped her car in front of the grocery between two lines of parked cars and honked. She honked again, and maybe three times before the grocer's clerk came out. She gave him her order, he went back to fill it and eventually returned with an arm full of good things to eat. Meanwhile two lines of traffic had experienced some difficulty in clearing this spot without bruised fenders. Lucky Mrs. Spivus.

Joe Trent was held behind Mrs.
Spivus' car for several seconds by traffic in the other direction, and finally dodged through but got a cussing out from the truck driver who had to hesitate a moment to give him clearance.

Lotta Joy wanted to talk with Henry Gab. They both wanted to talk—very much, so Lotta stopped her car between two lines of parked cars, with traffic moderate in both directions, and honked for Henry who was holding down his regular sidewalk position on Fourth between Evans and Cotanch. Lotta and Henry had a jolly conference for five minutes. Lucky Lotta. Lucky Henry.

Lotta Jo gave Joe a most withering look and Henry Gab told him to visit an unpleasant region when Joe was blocked in again by cars coming from the other direction and he gave a short blast of his horn to ask her to move on.

Joe finally got home with his loaf of bread for supper but he was "out of sorts" and when a man gets that way he is likely to do more than the ordinary amount of thinking.
Joe has a pretty good memory, and he is observant so he reviewed the events of the day—some of them—to justify his irritation.

"Let me see," said Joe, "there was Mrs. Spivus stopped her car in the middle of the street, in traffic, for about five minutes; Lotta Joy ditto and I got an ocular cussing out; Ben Gay made a "U" turn at Third and Evans about 10:30 a. m., and nearly ran over the old lady who expected the car to go out Third Street instead of coming back down Evans; Lillie Youth and her friend drew up in front of the church last Sunday during the service and honked until Brady Bow came out to join the party." But that was yesterday, he remembered.

Joe was tired but supper wasn't ready yet and the old-time melody on the radio was soothing so he closed his eyes and "reviewed" some more.

"That big freight truck stood on the wrong side of the street for twenty minutes there in front of the chain grocery while other cars watched their chance to dodge around it; and the ice truck, and the bread truck, and the towel truck, and the advertising van, and the cold drink truck, and—oh, shucks, who can keep track of them or get around them either if they don't want you to?"

Joe was getting drowsy sitting there before the soothing coal fire but he roused himself for another effort.

"I wonder," he thought, "what was the justification for that long car being parked like the spoke of a wheel from the curb at the State Bank corner toward the "light-house" in the center of Five Points?

Or that one ditto in front of the McKay-Washington Store? Turning corners in traffic is bad enough without needless handicaps.

"Why will people be so careless as to cross traffic and park on the wrong side of the street? That big goof nearly ran into me this morning by starting out from the wrong side of the street when I was busy watching the traffic on my left an trying to give plenty of room for the big coal truck that was coming toward me?"

Joe blinked slowly. "In the past three years I suppose as many as three nit-wit drivers have pulled over to the curb and stopped for the required five minutes, or until they were sure the fire trucks would not be delayed nor endangered by their going ahead. That was mighty considerate of the three—but hard on the percentage."

Mrs. Joe Trent roused her husband from his reveries by announcing, "Soup's on!" with an uxorious sweetness that drove out of Joe's mind all thoughts of parking regulations, clumsy trucks, and inconsiderate drivers.

He even smiled a bit as the fragrance of a steaming cup of coffee penetrated his offended consciousness, and when the meal was comfortably tucked under his belt, he looked over at Mrs. Trent and said, "Mary, let's go to the picture show tonight." "Suits me fine," replied Mrs. Trent, and Joe added with finality, "We'll walk."

WEEDY-MYER'S BAND AT ROCKY MOUNT NEXT WEEK

Rocky Mount, April 13.—Beginning with the opening of the annual Merchants' Exposition and Automobile Show on Monday, April 16, Weedy-Myer's famous dance band, featuring those two personal vocalists, Frances Delaney and Babe Pearson, will play for dances every night that will draw hundreds of young people from every section of Eastern Carolina.

The advance sale of tickets for the dance has been unusually heavy.

according to the statement of Erle
H. Austin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, one of the sponsoring organizations for the exposition. "I am confident," Mr. Austin said, "that no series of dances ever offered in Rocky Mount will be planned as successful as the series qualified for the Exposition. In choosing an orchestra for the dances we picked one that is nationally known in Weedy-Myer and one that has recently scored new triumphs through radio broadcasting and in college dances. It is no surprise to me that the young people of Eastern Carolina are buying tickets for the dance in advance.

Since their last appearance in Eastern Carolina the orchestra has been improved until it has gained recognition as one of the leading orchestras available for dances in the south.

Miss Delaney, the lovely young singer, is a new addition to the band, and will bring to Rocky Mount during the exposition a nest of new numbers now the rage of Broadway and Hollywood.

Babe Pearson, one of the most versatile artists in the Weedy-Myer organization, likewise will popularize a host of the newest song hits.
Dancing will start at ten o'clock each night during the Exposition that begins on Monday, April 16, and continues for an unbroken week. The dance floor of the huge Exposition warehouse has been put into excellent condition for the youth of the section to enjoy.

GRIMESLAND FALLS BEFORE KIWANIS CLUB

For the second time this season Greenville Kiwanians yesterday afternoon, pronounced Grimesland high school baseball team to the tune of 14-4. The game was played on the athletic field at East Carolina Teachers College in the face of a chilly wind that provided uncomfortable temperatures and caused considerable discomfort among both players and fans.

From the third inning on the game was on ice for the local clubmen. It was in this frame that they staged a terrific batting rally overcoming Grimesland's 4 to 1 lead and virtually sewing up the game.

Grimesland used two hurlers, Galoway and Blackman in an effort to halt the onslaught but without results. Fourteen hits were yielded by the two hurlers, two of which went for triples and one for a double. Every member of the Kiwanis team was credited with a safe crack with the willow.

Ellwanger led the batting spree for Greenville, obtaining a total of four hits, one of which went for a triple. Duncan, Conley and Moore took second place with three hits each. It was Moore's triple in the third inning with the bases loaded that enabled Greenville to overcome the visitors' lead and cinch the game. The other two three-base clouts intermixed with singles also accounted for several of the markers.

Herman Duncan, former Eastern Carolina league star, one of the Kiwanis "holdouts" this season, appeared at shortstop yesterday and in addition to handling several hot chances, accounted for three of the hits made by his teammates.

Conley did the hurling stunt for Greenville in a way that held the visiting team scoreless when anything in the nature of a hit would have resulted in extra runs. It was he who pitched the locals to victory over Grimesland in the opening game at Grimesland last spring.

The Greenville club was credited with fourteen runs eighteen hits and three errors, while the visiting club chalked up four runs, six hits and five errors. One of the Grimesland hits went for the circuit.

It was announced today that the Kiwanians had arranged a game with either Greenville or Winterville here next week.

WAKE FOREST AND CAROLINA FACE BIG TEST

Chapel Hill, April 13—A crucial Big Five titular game with Wake Forest which is expected to produce a feature mound dual between Bill Herring and either Fred Crouch or Earnest McKeithan and which may have a big part in the outcome of the championship, heads a fine program of four varsity events scheduled for Carolina fields on Saturday.

The Tar Heel-Deacon battle will start at 3:30 preceded by the Carolina - Georgetown track meet at 1:30 o'clock. The Furman golf team will be met over the nearby Hope Valley course Saturday morning and afternoon and the Lynchburg Country Club tennis team will be engaged on the University courts beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

The Carolina nine is the defending champion in both the Big Five and Conference and has won its first six games in a row, defeating Davidson 12-4 and 13-5 in its only Big Five tests. The veteran Crouch yielded only 23 hits in pitching four of the six wins. In his one start McKeithan set Davidson down with four safeties.

Wake Forest won its one previous Big Five game from N. C. State 4-2 Herring giving up only six hits. The Deacons have a hustling, hard-hitting, young club, an dare viewed as a serious menace to the fine record of the Tar Heels, who deposited them from the Big Five throne they occupied in 1932.

Carolina's probable lineup is Captain Brandt, first base; Weathers second; Irwin, short; Leonard, third; McCaskill, catcher; McIver or Shapiro, left field; Vick, center; and Tatum or Barham, right. Wake Forest's regular batting order is: Slayton, rf; Gold, 2b; Mithell, ss; Wall, cf; Clark, 3b; Mulhern, lf; Patton, lb; and Myers, c.

The track team lost to Dartmouth 66-60 and beat Williams and Mary 73 1-2, to 52 1-2 in its two previous starts. A hard meet is expected from Georgetown, which made one of the best showings of any of the Non-Conference teams at the Indoor Games here this winter.

The two sprint races between Carolina's ten-second men, Hubbard and Childers, and Bradley and Parcel, who finished second and third in the Indoor Meet, are expected to be the feature events.

The probable lineup for the tennis teams lists four lettermen, Harris, Willis, Levitan, and Captain Morgan, and two reserves, Minor and McGinn. Only Captain Laxton and Fulenwider are sure of berths in the lineup for the golf match with Furman. The other two players will be picked from the ranks of Michael and Harris, who played against Luke, and Coffin and Sadler.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

TURNIP CUPS ATTRACTIVE FOR SPRING LUNCHEONS

Turnips cups make suitable holders for creamed foods and are attractive to us for spring luncheons. Select firm turnips of uniform size, peel and boil quickly in boiling salted water until the turnips are tender but not soft. Drain well and cool. With a spoon and knife cut out the insides to form a little case. Spread them with melted butter and heat five minutes and then fill with creamed carrots, peas or fish.

Measuring Butter.

Measuring butter is a simple task if you use the proper method. When a recipe calls for one-third of a cup, fill a cup two-thirds full of water. Then put in just enough butter to make the water reach the rim of the cup. That will give you the right amount quickly and accurately, and there will be no trouble with butter sticking to the cup.

For Afternoon Teas.

Cheese wafers are popular at an afternoon tea or following the evening bridge game. Wafers should be placed on a baking sheet, sprinkled with grated cheese and a small amount of paprika added. Bake until the cheese is melted. Or if you want something besides rolls to serve with a soup course cut stale bread into slices, remove the crusts, spread thinly with butter, cut into strips and brown in hot oven.

Making Cream Soup.

If you have some stock or leftover vegetables but not enough for regular soup, you still may have a substantial cream soup. Melt the butter, then blend in the flour and seasonings. Add the vegetable stock very gradually, stir and cook until the mixture is thick. Then add milk, hot or cold.

Removing Stains.

Tea and coffee stains should be treated before dry if possible. Stretch the stained portion of the material over a basin and slowly pour on boiling water until the stains are removed. If the stains are dry, soak the cloth in cold water and borax for a few hours, then in warm water and borax. Borax and boiling water are enemies of grease stains.

a better FERTILIZER for better times

THIS is an epoch-making year. There are changing conditions on every side. Much is being done to bring better times to the farmer. Bright tobacco growers will bend every effort to produce a better quality, higher-priced crop on a reduced acreage. Most low-grade tobacco will probably never reach the floor.

It is more important than ever to make sure you are using the proper fertilizer. Remember, potash is the quality-producing element in tobacco fertilizer. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the North Carolina State College of Agriculture recommend a fertilizer containing 6 to 10% potash for bright tobacco.

Chemical analysis of high-quality tobacco plants proves that a 1,000-pound crop contains more than three times as much potash as 800 pounds of 3%-potash fertilizer contains. In fact, this analysis shows that tobacco removes from the soil more potash than both nitrogen and phosphoric acid combined.

If you are dissatisfied with your yields and quality you probably have not been using the proper fertilizer. Plan now to use a mixture well-balanced with plenty of potash this season. Tell your fertilizer man you want 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

According to the new North Carolina fertilizer laws, the nitrogen in a fertilizer analysis will now be expressed as nitrogen instead of as ammonia as in the past. This means that this year's fertilizer as compared with last year's fertilizer of the same analysis will contain about 21% more actual nitrogen.

Fertilizer containing too much nitrogen produces rough, bony tobacco. Avoid this by selecting a fertilizer mixture in which the nitrogen has been well-balanced with plenty of potash. Tell your fertilizer man you want 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER is nothing new. It has proven its value in tests conducted over a period of years throughout the entire bright tobacco belt. The results of these tests show that farmers can very profitably apply two to three times as much potash as the average crop receives. The table below shows the results obtained by increasing the potash content of the average fertilizer used by 138 farmers on 1,242 acres of bright tobacco.

In these tests a fertilizer containing 8% potash was compared with a fertilizer containing 3% potash, or a fertilizer containing 10% potash was compared with a fertilizer containing 5% potash, etc.

Year	North Carolina - Virginia	South Carolina	Georgia - Florida
1928	$45.27	no tests	$25.12
1929	36.99	$20.62	30.75
1930	39.60	24.85	18.75
1931	28.46	32.84	21.91

This extra cash from bright tobacco was obtained not only from increased yields, but also from greatly improved quality. The North Carolina Tobacco Experiment Station has said: "Potash is perhaps the most important single constituent of the fertilizer mixture for the growing of tobacco from the standpoint of quality."

3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER gives best results with closer rows, closer spacing, ridge cultivation and late topping. Set more plants per acre and top after about half the crop is gathered. 3-8-8 holds the tobacco on the hill after it matures, without burning, producing a thin, grainy leaf with "high-dollar" quality.

When you buy fertilizer, remember that 800 pounds of 3-8-8 usually costs less than 1,000 pounds of 3-8-3, yet 800 pounds of 3-8-8 contains more actual plant food and is a much better balanced fertilizer. Tell your fertilizer man you want 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

The New Deal Demands Quality! The growers who produce the best tobacco will benefit most from better times. Plan now to produce a thin leaf on the bright side. Use the best cultural methods, correct spacing, high topping and the proper amounts of 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER. The extra potash in this fertilizer adds the grain and texture that brings more on the floor.

Your fertilizer man recognizes the importance of furnishing you with the mixture which will pay you best under present conditions. He now has 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER on sale. Tell him you want to produce "high-dollar" tobacco in 1934. Tell him you want 3-8-8 TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

New York Cotton

New York, April 13.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady one higher to one lower with sentiment divided on the Bankhead Bill passed by the Conference Committee.

At the end of the first half hour July had sold off from 12.04 to 11.98 and the general market was 3 to 7 lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, April 13.—(AP)—The ominous "Friday the 13th" failed to cast any particular blight on the financial market today although trends were highly mixed and sentiment cautious.

With the exception of a wide variety of preferred stock which again responded to increased demand, the equities list was dull. Most of the so-called leader held to fractional ranges.

Grains were again heavy with May bravely reaching a new seasonal low at 40 cents a bushel. Rubbers continued to register quite anber, cotton silver and copper lagged improvement.

The Auto group was inclined to drift as were the rails and utilities. The late tone was steady.

Card Sharps Nabbed. Hot Springs, April 13.—(AP)—Six men and three women were arrested by police here today during and after a raid on a reported hideout of Claude E. Barrow, Texas desperado, but chief of detectives Herbert Akers said none of the men was Barrow.

In an apartment house where four of the men and two of the women were seized Akers said a bushel of $20 bills was found hidden. He estimated they amounted to $3,000 or $4,000.

Two men and one woman, the latter with a small baby, were arrested later in a car on a highway a few miles from the city.

Akers said some of the men had prison records but as far as he knew they were not connected with any widely known criminal gangs.

Akers said he believed the prisoners were "confidence men and card sharks."

Lee P. Oliver, a justice department special agent testified yesterday of the Southern Methodist clergyman finding the money at conference in the district attorney's office here.

Moscow Subway Reveals Fort. Moscow.—(AP)—Defense of the 16th and 17th centuries, moats, walls and sall-porth, were penetrated when excavations began for Moscow's new subway system. The place where Czar John The Terrible conducted trials of his nobles also was located.

THE SEED YOU PLANT is, in a large measure, responsible for the results you achieve in your garden. To insure results of the kind that will afford the utmost satisfaction to you, care in the selection of your seed is a pre-requisite. Whether you plant vegetable or flower seed, you can't buy better seed for the purpose than ours.

Will File For Commission. Raleigh, April 13.—(AP)—E. C. Macon of Asheville, today filed notice with the State Board of Elections that he will seek the Democratic nomination for the North Carolina Utilities Commission in the June primary.

He will oppose Stanley Winborne the incumbent, who is serving on a gubernatorial appointment.

Macon was defeated by Winborne in 1932 when the two sought the nomination for Corporation Commissioner.

Tepper Spurs Himalayan Climb

London.—(AP)—Hugh Rutledge, leader of the Mount Everest climbing expedition of last year, revealed recently that an old opera hat formed an important item in the equipment. It was offered as a prize to the porter who would go highest on the mountain.

acted upon, was begun today in the House.

Representative Dingell of Michigan, prepared a petition by which the signers would pledge themselves to vote against any motion for adjournment until the bill has been acted upon.

He said although a large number of the members already had told him they were willing to sign it, the petition would not be presented. It was not determined what attitude the banking committee will take toward asking the House for quick action.
