LARGE CROWD PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. WRIGHT

Governor and Other Notables Here For Funeral Yesterday Afternoon

Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, several other state officials and many persons prominent in educational circles of the state gathered yesterday afternoon to pay final tribute to Dr. Robert H. Wright, president of East Carolina Teachers College, who died Wednesday morning as a result of a heart attack suffered Monday.

Dr. Wright was the first and only president of the college and during the 25 years of its operation under his guiding hand the institution has grown from one of less than 200 students to its present student body of 1,000 young men and women. The college has gained an enviable reputation in its work of training young men and women for the teaching profession and ranks high among the teachers colleges of the nation.

During the hours of the funeral all business houses of this city were closed as a mark of highest respect to Dr. Wright and Judge Frank A. Daniels, presiding over Superior Court here recessed court shortly after the noon hour yesterday to permit court officials to attend the funeral.

The funeral services were conducted in the spacious Campus building of the college which was filled to overflowing by the thousands of students and an equal number of citizens from all walks of life.

For two hours prior to the services Dr. Wright's body lay in state in the Campus building with guards of honor composed of eight students each, changed every 20 minutes.

The services were conducted by Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church of which Dr. Wright was a member and Dr. Frank Dean, rector of the Wilson Episcopal church. Rev. Walter Patton of Fayetteville, former pastor of Dr. Wright offered prayer.

Dr. Dean paid beautiful tribute to the memory of his beloved friend in his remarks in the funeral services. No eulogies, he said, were needed, no words, only the things by which he might be remembered.

He spoke of him as father, son, husband, educator, teacher, Christian leader, good man and understanding friend, dwelling on his gift of friendship. He gave as his chief characteristic "the understanding heart" which he had for all and spoke of the high privilege of those who shared this close friendship with him. His peace, poise, and calmness were the qualities he would have those left behind remember and emulate.

One of the most touching sights during the time Dr. Wright's body lay in state in the Social-Religious building, was when the servants went in to take a last look. Maids, janitors, and workmen on the place, from the kitchen, the laundry and grounds filed by to look on the face of the man they felt was their friend.

Following the services at the college the funeral cortege made its way to Greenwood Cemetery where interment service was concluded by Dr. Combs.

Dr. Combs concluded his remarks at the grave with the following poem:

Now the labourer's task is o'er; Now the battle day is past; Now upon the farther shore Lands the voyager at last. Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

There the tears of earth are dried; There its hidden things are clear; There the works of life are tried; By a juster Judge than here; Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

There the penitents, that turn; To the Cross their dying eyes; All the love of Jesus learn; At His feet in Paradise; Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

Earth to earth, and dust to dust Calmly now the words we say Left behind we wait in trust For the Resurrection day; Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

Measles Temporary of the College

The Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College will hold a meeting next Wednesday, May 1. In the meantime, Dr. L. R. Meadows, who for years has taken President Wright's place in his absence, will have official charge of administrative affairs. Regular routine of college work was resumed this morning. No classes had been held since the signal of three bells called the students together at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, at which time they received announcement of the death of their beloved president.

H. P. FLEMING TAKES OWN LIFE AT LUMBERTON

Native of This City, Had Recently Become Pastor of Lumberton Church

Lumberton, April 27.—(AP)—Rev. Henry P. Fleming, 30, pastor of the Christian church here and a native of Greenville, N. C., committed suicide by shooting himself through the head at his rooming house here today.

Fleming came here March 4, from New Haven, Connecticut, where his wife is still employed at Yale University. She and an 18-month old child had been expected to join him here soon. Coroner E. W. Biggs, investigated and called the death a suicide.

The minister sent a bullet through his head in his room at the home of John Herring. A note evidently in Fleming's handwriting, apologized to Herring for the use of his pistol which had been missing for several days. Herring had reported the loss of his pistol to the officers and asked them to look out for it.

The body was found late in the day when the cook at the Herring home reported that the minister had not arisen and officers investigated.

Fleming was a graduate of Transylvania College, at Lexington, Ky., in the class of 1927 and of Yale Divinity school. He had a nervous breakdown last summer which left him depressed and members of his congregation expressed belief that this influenced his act.

The body will be held here pending word from members of his family.

Rev. Henry P. Fleming of Lumberton, was a native of this county, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. David Fleming.

FIRE BUG AT WORK AGAIN WAKE FOREST

Another Fire of Incendiary Origin Discovered in College Building Today

Wake Forest, April 27.—(AP)—Fire discovered early today in the Alumnae building at Wake Forest College gave rise to the belief that the town "firebug" has come out of hiding.

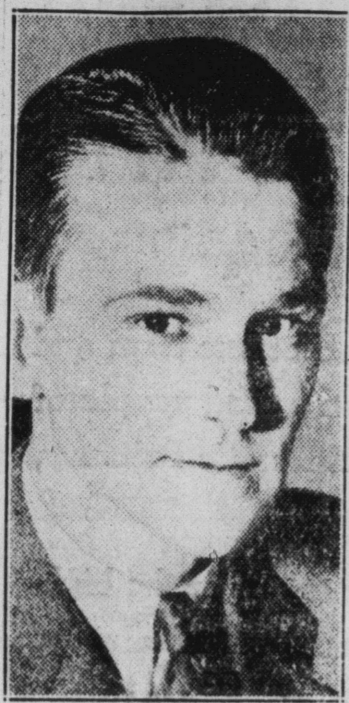

The fire was discovered about 12:15 a. m., by W. A. Brickhouse, student from Long Island, N. Y., who was studying in his room in Center dormitory next to the Alumnae building. His attention was attracted by light from the fire and he sounded the alarm. The blaze which had been started in a closet was extinguished by students before firemen arrived.

It was the fourth fire of mysterious origin the college has experienced within a year. Two of them were disastrous, destroying Waite Hall and Wingate Hall. In addition there had been a number of suspicious fires in the town of Wake Forest.

Files Brief In Luke Lea Case

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Dennis G. MORE TROUBLE IN ALABAMA COAL FIELDS

Strikers Bomb Railroad, Fire on Automobile and Force Mine To Close

Birmingham, Ala., April 27.—(AP)—Comparative quiet in the Alabama coal fields was shattered last night and early today when a roving band of armed men bombed a railroad trestle, riddled an automobile with bullets and forced a mine that had resumed production Wednesday to shut down.

The already heavy forces of special deputy sheriffs in Jefferson county who authorities had hoped to dismiss in a few days, were reinforced and national guard patrols were ordered back to the fields in this and Walker counties. Authorities said the situation was "more serious" than at any time since the shutdown of the mines April 6 but held out hope that serious trouble might be evaded by the report that Wayne Ellis, coal administrator of the NRA was enroute here.

NEGRO DIES IN CHAIR TODAY

Theodore Cooper Electrocuted For Murder of Durham White Man

Raleigh, April 27.—(AP)—Theodore Cooper, 30 year old Durham negro, went to his death in the electric chair at state prison today denying that he fired the shot that killed J. M. Laster, Durham white man for whose murder he was convicted.

Three shocks of current were required to kill the negro who entered the death chamber in a highly nervous condition. Just before he went to the chair, W. N. Huffee, Durham white man who was convicted of hiring the negro to kill Laster, denied any knowledge of the crime. Huffee is serving a life sentence in prison for being an accessory to the murder. "I feel sorry for Cooper," Huffee told newspaper reporters.

Cooper in his denial made no mention of Sylvester Hood, another negro who in an earlier confession he said was the slayer of Laster. Hood has never been captured. Laster was slain from ambush on the night of February 25, 1933.

Facing death, Cooper said nothing he had not previously said. Of late he had contended that Hood fired the shot, admitting only that he was present.

CWA DISTRICT MAKES GOOD SAFETY RECORDS

Rocky Mount, April 27.—With only 49 injuries and no fatalities as their record, officials of the nine-county CWA district with headquarters here today looked with satisfaction upon their safety achievement for the period of activity from December 1 to March 31.

In making public a report by E. G. Pedgett, State safety director, covering the safety record for the entire period of CWA operations, W. R. Wyatt, district supervisor said that the record in this section compared favorably with reports from other sections of the State.

BRITISH REPLY TO ATTITUDE OF JAPANESE

Indian Administration Says Japan Cannot Dominate Southern Asia

(Copyright, Associated Press) London, April 27.—(AP)—A British authority answer to the "Asia for Asiatics" manifesto came today from sources close to the British Indian administration. "Japan," the authority said, "may dominate China by force and may gain some influence in Siam through intrigue—but she will never exercise even minor influence in India and other areas of southern Asia."

"Asia for Asiatics" is rapidly becoming a slogan for all eastern people," he added, "but only the Japanese conceive of this new Asia as being dominated by Japan." The authority attributed the popularization of the slogan to Japan's drive for power and imperialistic expansion. Adoption of "Asia for Asiatics" acting in close collaboration with other powers has been enunciated officially by the Tokio government through Masayuki Yokoyama, Consul-General at Geneva.

No official reply, it was made plain, came from the government of Great Britain but the answer given the Associated Press was represented as accurately reflecting the views of the British Indian Administration.

Funeral For Mrs. McLawhorn This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Lilly Kathryn McLawhorn, 63, who died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thad Harris, Ayden R. F. D. Three, were conducted this afternoon at three o'clock at her late home, with Rev. R. P. Pittman, Free Will Baptist minister of Ayden, officiating. Burial followed in the Manning graveyard near the Bethany Free Will Baptist Church.

Mrs. McLawhorn had been confined to her bed for the past two months and death was not unexpected. She died in the community in which she had spent her entire life. She was a devoted member of the Bethany Free Will Baptist Church and attended services regularly until ill health forced her to quit.

She is survived by two sons, Robert and Jasper McLawhorn; four daughters, Mrs. Thad Harris, Mrs. Alice McLawhorn, Mrs. Roxie McLawhorn and Mrs. Lilly Loftin, all of Pitt County.

Tammany Tries Party Harmony In Bid To Regain Lost Prestige

By GEORGE TUCKER New York, April 26.—(AP)—Staging a revolution to help prepare the way for a political comeback, Tammany, its district leaders seem to feel, is back in stride with the national and state party leaders. It will keep in stride, too, they say.

What concerns Edward J. Aham, leader of the anti-Curry revolt, in particular and other district leaders in general, is whether the all-high command will be vested in a single authority as usual or in a steering committee—something rarely tried in the past.

If instead of a leader to succeed John F. Curry a steering committee is formed to assume temporary leadership, it is held possible that Grover A. Whalen, former police commissioner, will return to the local democratic limelight.

Many Tammany adherents urged him as a candidate instead of former Mayor O'Brien last fall, and one of the contributory causes to Curry's ousting was the disastrous defeat of his own candidate.

If rule by committee is voted down, then a determined fight may be made to elevate Aham to the leadership, a post, he narrowly missed getting five years ago.

The Tiger's Program. Irrespective of the outcome, the Tiger is pledged to a three-pronged policy:

- 1. Party harmony. 2. Resumption of the mastery in New York City politics. 3. Support of the national and state administrations.

SEEK TO PAY RANSOME FOR LITTLE GIRL

Halt Search For Kidnappers While Negotiating For Child's Release

Tucson, Ariz., April 27.—(AP)—A Pima deputy sheriff who declined to allow his name to be used, said today he understood a contact had been made during the night with the kidnapers of six-year-old June Robles.

Tucson, Ariz., April 27.—(AP)—The army of searchers in the hunt for the kidnapers of six-year-old June Robles was called off early today to permit the father to negotiate for the payment of the $15,000 ransom. The color was issued by Under-Sheriff Colby Farrar who declared Fernando Robles, father of the dark-eyed girl, and Carlos Robles, grandfather, said they were willing to meet the ransom demand. "The safety of the child comes first," Farrar said. "I don't believe any one would deny that it is of primary importance that June Robles be found alive."

Despite Farrar's order, war veterans still patrolled the highways in and out of Tucson at 2:30 this morning, but the heavily armed volunteers and peace officers stood by awaiting further orders from the father.

The mother was reported near collapse. County Attorney Clarence Houston said that the serious condition of Mrs. Robles influenced the decision to pay the ransom and halt the hunt.

A "Madonna and Child" painted by Bonidini and Bellini, renaissance artists, brought $2,000 at an auction in New York City.

CANNON TRIAL TO REACH JURY DURING TODAY

Bishop on Trial for Failure Report Anti-Smith Campaign Contributions

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and Miss Ada Burroughs were acquitted today on a charge of conspiracy to violate the corrupt practices act in the churchman's 1928 campaign against the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith. The jury was out three and a half hours.

Washington, April 27.—(AP)—Closing arguments in the trial of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., Leslie C. Garnet, district attorney, told a District of Columbia Supreme Court jury today that "when a Bishop unfrocks himself and goes into a political campaign under the banner 'It is a blessed thing to love the Lord,' he should at least keep his skirts clean, his hands unsoiled."

The case will go to the jury following instructions to the 11 men and one woman by Justice Dayton Gordon. Garnet spoke briefly, having practically completed his argument yesterday.

The Southern Methodist churchman and Miss Ada Burroughs are charged with conspiracy to violate the corrupt practices act by their failure to report all contributions received for opposing the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith in 1928.

Garnet said at the beginning of the campaign the bishop was in a terrific jam. Referring to Edwin C. Jameson, New York insurance executive and Joseph Frelinghuysen, former senator from New Jersey, as the "godfathers and angels" of the anti-Smith campaign, Garnet said the compelling motive of concealment was two-fold. First, he said, was that the churchman might use the contributions of "the angels of the campaign" to pay off obligations then due and the second was that the people of Virginia would not know that he like the ordinary ward-heeler was going from town to town and from precinct to precinct paying out money from the pockets of his bishop's robe. That is a beautiful spectacle," Garnet declared.

ASKS IBANEZ TO PROCURE NEW CABINET

Spanish Government Has Been Without a Cabinet For Past Three Days

Madrid, April 27.—(AP)—President Alcala Zamora today named Ricardo Somoza Ibanez, resigned minister of industry and commerce, to form a new government. The president's action came after three days in which Spain had been without a cabinet and monarchists commenting on the fact that such a situation was unheard-of in the days of the king.

The appointment came while some factions were clamoring for reappointment of Alejandro Larrouso, who resigned with the cabinet Wednesday. The expectation was that if the president could not assure peace through the formation of a cabinet acceptable to all the major groups, he himself would resign.

The monarchist group declared the situation had no parallel even in the worst days of the monarchy.

Late News Flashes

Dillinger Still Free. John Dillinger and Company held the lead today in the race against capture and death. George "Baby Face" Nelson apparently had evaded posses that had tramped through the tall timbers around Fairfield, Wisconsin, last night in search for him. Police at Saint Paul were warned by radio to look out for Nelson who was on his way to the twin cities in a car bearing Wisconsin license number 3731. Dillinger left no trace but everywhere trouble popped up. Evelyn Prechette, his companion, now under arrest at Saint Paul, gave Hollywood, California, a start when the report was given out that she carried keys to the Hollywood jail. The grand jury was preparing charges against the city physicians and a nurse said to have treated wounds of Dillinger and John Hamilton without notifying authorities.

SECOND TRIAL OF CLEMMONS NEARING END

Negro Acquitted of Arson Now Being Tried For Second Degree Murder

The second trial of Claud Clemmons, Stokes negro, in Pitt county Superior court was nearing the end this afternoon as attorneys made their arguments before the jury. Late Tuesday afternoon Clemmons was acquitted on a charge of arson and yesterday a trial charging him with murder in the second degree got under way.

Clemmons has been in jail here charged with arson and three murders. The charges grew out of the burning of a tenant house on the farm of Heber Whichard, near Stokes. Three children, one that of Clemmons and the other two of Cora Roberson, occupant of the house that burned, perished in the flames. Clemmons' wife, also an occupant of the house at the time was among those who escaped.

The cases against Clemmons were built around evidence that Clemmons was separated from his wife who had gone to live with Cora Roberson and that he had made threats that she could not live there even if he had to "burn her up to ashes" to prevent it. Despite these threats together with the fact that Clemmons was away from his own home at the time the Roberson home was fired and had ample opportunity to set fire to it, the prosecution was unable to definitely connect him with the crime and the jury returned a verdict of "Not Guilty" on the first degree arson charge.

The evidence presented at the murder trial now in progress was the same as that used in the former trial and defense counsel has contended for dismissal of the case on the grounds that the defendant could not be guilty of the deaths if he was not guilty of the arson charge.

The case is expected to reach the jury during the afternoon.

ATTY. GENERAL TO SPEAK HERE

Brummitt to Discuss Proposed Constitution at Court House Tomorrow

Hon. Dennis G. Brummitt, Attorney General of North Carolina, will deliver a public address at the court house here tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Mr. Brummitt will discuss the present constitution of North Carolina and the proposed new constitution upon which the voters of the state must pass at the coming November elections. The speaker is well acquainted with all the facts pertaining to the state government and his address promises to prove an interesting and worthwhile one.

He comes to Greenville at the invitation of the Pitt County Tax Relief Association and the general public is invited and urged to hear him.

FIND COUNTY AFFAIRS ARE WELL HANDLED

Grand Jury Report to Judge Includes Only One Minor Recommendation

With the exception of a few minor changes all the offices and departments of the county are in excellent condition and being efficiently handled according to the grand jury report submitted to Judge Daniels this week.

The only recommendation contained in the report is for the installation of an adequate index system for the vital statistics records as a means of enabling the office to "render quicker and more efficient service."

The report in full is as follows: To His Honor, Frank A. Daniels, Judge presiding at the April term of Superior Court.

We, the Grand Jury of this term of Court respectfully submit the following report. We investigated all bills presented to this body and passed on same in accordance to the evidence.

We inspected the Prison Camp, and found same in a sanitary and excellent condition. We questioned some few of the prisoners as to their treatment and all of them spoke in the highest terms of their Superintendent, Mr. Manly Sellers.

We visited the County Home and upon our investigation we found the inmates well provided and cared for. We inspected the inmates bedrooms, and also bath rooms and toilets, and found all of these in a sanitary and excellent condition. We found the coal supply entirely exhausted and we recommend that a small supply be kept on hand in case of an emergency.

We inspected all of the County Offices and upon investigation we found all well kept and under efficient management. Upon inquiry we were informed that due to the increase of the volume of business in the Register of Deeds Office, we recommend that extra help be provided during the busy season and we further recommend that the Board of Commissioners proceed to install a new index system for the vital statistics records of births and deaths.

We find that the present system is inadequate, does not meet the conditions of the office. By so doing we believe that his office will be relieved of considerable time and annoyance, and by the installation of this system he will be permitted to render a quicker and more efficient service. We recommend that this filing system be installed.

We inspected the County Jail and found sanitary conditions much improved since our previous report. We inspected also the two toilets just outside the jail ward which we condemned in our previous report. We are highly gratified to report that these toilets have been put in a sanitary condition.

We wish to extend our appreciation to the presiding Judge, Frank A. Daniels, and the Solicitor and other officers of the Court for their courtesies and cooperation at this term of court. This report is respectfully submitted by the Grand Jury, for the April 1934 term of Court.

RECOVER PART RANSOM MONEY

Officers Get Back $3,000 of $200,000 Ransom Paid For Banker's Release

Saint Paul, Minn., April 27.—(AP)—Federal agents arrested a man in Chicago Thursday and recovered $3,000 of the $200,000 ransom paid for the release of Edward G. Bremer, Saint Paul banker kidnapped last January, it was reported today.

The source of this information declared that this was the first of the ransom money recovered. The suspect seized in Chicago was described as "hot."

CAPT. BEN G. O'NEAL SEEKS HOUS SEAT

Ocracoke, April 27.—Capt. Ben G. O'Neal, retired coastguardsman, announced this week that he is a candidate for the House of Representatives from Hyde County. Captain O'Neal says that he believes a fisherman representative can serve the farmers and fishermen as well, if not better, than a farmer representative can serve both interests. Captain O'Neal is a member of an old Ocracoke family and is one of the leading Democrats of this island town ship.

Those who attended the

TOBACCO TAXES

(News and Observer)

It is good news that President Roosevelt has authorized an inquiry to determine whether tobacco taxes
can be reduced by the present Congress. Friends of the tobacco farmers, who are the most numerous and most important parties in interest in the proposed reduction, will hope that government officials who will investigate the matter will not only consider the ability of the budget to bear the reduction but will also consider by what means the benefits of the reduction may be assured to the farmers and not merely added to the already large profits of the manufacturers. A reduction which would add millions to the profits of the manufacturers without putting millions into the pockets of the tobacco farmers would serve the enrichment of the few but not the welfare of the many.
The tobacco country wants tobacco tax reduction but it wants it for the tobacco growers who have been familiar with poverty in all the years when high tobacco taxes have not hindered the mounting wealth of the manufacturers.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE
BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Pierre Dufresne,
wealthy contractor and political boss, has been ambushed on a lonely road near the city. He reports the occurrence to the local police,
and then to Director of Police Connors, who is much perturbed. Meanwhile Dufresne has made a sly change in a bid for a certain large contract.

Chapter Three DEFENSE PLANS

CONNORS abruptly changed the trend of the conversation.
"Where was Markison while all this was going on?" he demanded.
"It wasn't Markison's fault. He left the Austerlitz with me this morning and rode as far as the Old Pike Road. Everything was quiet, and I didn't see any necessity for his tagging at my heels all day, so I dropped him there. I had taken Mrs.
Dufresne's car and no one but she knew where I was going. No one, not even myself, knew what time I would be coming back. Of course," he added, thoughtfully, "this may be just a coincidence and have nothing to do with the crank letters, but it looks as if those bullets had my initials on them."

Connors nodded and picked up the telephone. "Tell Markison and Barry to report to me at once," he ordered. Then he leaned back, chewing on his cigar. "Now, give me all detective nodded emphatically.

"That's true, Chief."

Connors snorted and leaned forward over the desk, punctuating his remarks with vicious jabs of the unlighted cigar. "Well, you're dead wrong, Markison. And you, too, Barry.
Somebody has been tracking Mr.
Dufresne. That same somebody fired three bullets into his car this afternoon.

"It's a miracle he wasn't killed."
No one but you two and Mrs. Dufresne knew about this trip beforehand, so it stands to reason this other fellow was on the job—and too smart for you.

"Now, get this, and get it straight.
We're going to protect Mr. Dufresne if we have to turn out half the Force to do it. Get together all the men you need to throw a cordon around him. Take no chances. Strike out along every line of inquiry you can think of.

"Barry, you take charge of these arrangements. You have a free hand, and I'll back you to the limit, but pick out men who know what it's all about. Markison, I'm putting Mr.
Dufresne's personal safety directly in your hands. You hang on like a shadow and keep your eyes open.
There is some one and it's up to us
to catch him!

"Get busy now, for Mr. Dufresne
wants to get back to the Austerlitz."

"Now give me the details of the shooting."

the details about this shooting," he suggested.

Dufresne recounted the meager details of the mysterious attack. "As you know, Jim," he continued,
"Markison has been trailing around with me for a week. And knowing that these anonymous penmen seldom try to carry out their threats,
I went about my business as usual.

"When my wife and I came back to the city last autumn, we delayed opening the house. Mrs. Dufresne took a notion to have some of the rooms re-furnished. She has been visiting some cousins out in the suburbs, while I put up at the Auster-litz as a matter of convenience.

"I've had a heavy round of visits up-State. Yesterday I decided to see Gridley about that Lee County job.
I called up Mrs. Dufresne before I started this morning. You have heard what happened on the way back."

To all seeming, the Director of Police was more upset and concerned over this attempted murder
than the man who had so narrowly escaped death. Dufresne was too important a man, both financially and politically, not to warrant every effort being made to protect his personal safety.

TWO of the Detective Bureau's best men had already been detailed on this affair after Dufresne
had produced his series of crank letters. The result had been entirely negative. But now that this threat had materialized in a lethal aspect,
something drastic must be done, regardless of the difficulties surrounding the tracking down of this type of lawlessness.

Presently Connors' secretary ushered in the two plainclothesmen.
They saluted their Chief and waited expectantly. Dufresne exchanged nods with them, then lit a fresh cigarette and withdrew to the window.

"Markison," Connors began,
"you've trailed Mr. Dufresne for a week, or close to it. What have you to report?"

"Nothing, sir," the detective answered, readily enough. "I'll swear
there was no one following him about while I was on the job. I've divided time with Barry, here, and he'll tell you the same." The second for the annual May festival which will be held Thursday, May 3, says

Miss Maud Newbury, superintendent of Currituck schools.

The grounds are being neatly grounded for the occasion when parents of Currituck school children will gather to enjoy the all-day outdoor event. Music and pageantry feature the morning program and the afternoon is devoted to athletic events.

Livestock experts say grazing on green grass is essential to the development of hogs.

And while you're downstairs, take a look at that car. Perhaps the bullet holes will convince you!"

After the crestfallen detectives had withdrawn to augment their forces, Dufresne came back to the desk and impatiently crushed out the stub of his cigarette.

"Those fellows are not up to this job," he declared. "They're too thick mentally, their ideas are muscle-bound. Probably they're still uncon-vinced, because they didn't see anything. The reason is obvious—they're just the common garden variety of 'gumshoe.' Their methods are harkmarked. Even a half-witted criminal could see them coming a block away.

"BEFORE I can feel safe again, Jim, I must have a man who won't waste time looking for false whiskers hiding behind trees. Can't you dig up a man I can take around with me without having him arouse suspicion or derision? Some one who can move about in evening clothes in places like the Austerlitz without looking like a musical comedy waiter? This thing may drag on for weeks and I can't have a riot squad picketed wherever I am."

Markison returned to indicate that the revised preparations were in readiness. Dufresne picked up his hat and overcoat and silently followed his bodyguard from the office.
After he had gone, Connors tilted
back and forth in his swivel chair, while he looked thoughtfully out at the falling snow.

Coming to a decision, he lifted the telephone receiver. "Get me Homicide," he ordered, and in a moment
he had his connection. "Director
Connors speaking. Put on Sergeant Harper."

The chair creaked back and forth
as he waited.
"Hello, Harper? . . . Say, Harper,
have you got a dress suit? . . . No,
I'm not joking. . . . Tuxedo? Sure, that'll fill the bill. . . . Come on over, Harper, and I'll tell you about this soup-and-fish job." He listened to the Detective-Sergeant's response and chuckled. "No, this is the real thing. I'll tell you about it when you get here. . . ."

Tomorrow, Harper has dinner

The WORLD OF STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

Last year the Dutch Indies listed a stamp of unique design bearing the latest picture of Queen Wilhelmina. The single value was 12 1/2 cents, apparently put out as a trial
"balloon."

The tryout must have met with favorable response, for a complete group of values, ranging from 1 cent to 250 gulden, and showing little if any change in general design, has appeared. The stamps are square, values up to 50 cents being approximately 1 inch, while those above are somewhat larger.

The 22 stamps embrace all of the basic colors and quite a few shade variations, and in addition to the Queen's portrait have a decorative frame down the two sides, with the value and the name of the country against a dark background at the bottom. There is no frame at the top, the background of the portrait being flush with the top line of the stamp.

1930 celebrating his sixtieth birth anniversary appears on the newest stamp offering of Denmark. Otherwise the frame is identical with the set of 1913-15, but the portrait faces
the left inside of the right.
It would seem that this group is intended as an extension of the 1930 issue, for its values start at 50 ore, and run to 5 krone. The 1930 set contained all of the lower values.

A TRIBUTE

Dr. Robert Herring Wright

Could I but leave one deed behind when my feet quit this sod; One little bud to blossom forth and say—"Twas here he trod Life's myst'ry trail," Then I could feel, when death rode by and closed my weary eyes, No deep regret,—no cause for tears,—no need of sighs Beneath the veil.

He left his buds,—not one—but scores—a garden fair Where future souls may benefit,—and passing there Stop to rejoice.

When time has gently dried our tears,—and filled with cheer Our aching hearts,—his face we'll see in ev'ry flower,—and hear His gentle voice.

—Edward Warren Hearne, Class of 1911.

Mrs. Langston Dies in Danville

News was received by relatives today announcing the death of Mrs. H. J. Langston, of Danville, Va. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in Danville. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Langston and Ernest Langston left this afternoon for Danville to attend the funeral. Other relatives will probably leave tomorrow.

Charity Ball in Rocky Mount

The Rocky Mount Rotary Club has selected May Day for the celebration of its annual Charity Ball, and has planned a double event in order that not only the dancing contingent of the city and of Eastern Carolina may join with them in the affair, but so as to provide entertainment for the older group of men and women who will wish to contribute to the undertaking. The Charity Ball this year will be preceded by a concert to be given at Mangum's warehouse where dancing will follow. The concert will ensue between the hour of 8 and 10, it is stated, and dancing will follow and continue until 2 o'clock. Miss Helen Burnett, Miss Gladys Duval, Miss Laura Fleming and Miss Frances Hardee of Greenville, and Miss Doris Flowers, Miss Vernice Lang Jones and Miss Vivian Parker Harris of Farmville, are among those receiving invitations to sponsor the ball.

Our Trip to Chapel Hill

We left school at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, April 12. We met Stancel Dilda over at Farmville and started eagerly for Chapel Hill. To prevent things from being dull while traveling we played "Cow Poker." Perhaps you are not acquainted with this game, but it's very simple. You count the cows on both sides of the road, when you see a grey mule on your side it doubles the number, when you see a cemetery it cancels all of your cows. It was decided for the losing side to buy the winning side a Coca-Cola when we reached Raleigh. Although our side won by one cow, we did not get the Coca-Cola.

We ate lunch, which we took with us, at an attractive filling station seven miles from Chapel Hill. After lunch we reached our destination and inquired the way to the place where we were going to spend the night. We found the home of Mrs. J. W. Parker in Carboro, just outside of Chapel Hill.

At 10 o'clock we attended the meeting where we were to find the school with whom we were to debate. After everyone was seated we were asked to go out and have a picture made. We drew some numbers, but did not know who they represented until five o'clock. We rode over Chapel Hill until five and found Nancey and I would debate at seven with Wingate, and Nannie Lucas and Marjorie would debate at ten with Lewisville.

Nancey and I won against Wingate, though we did not win as being the best negative team in the hall. It was after 11 o'clock, when Marjorie and Nannie Lucas finished debating. We had refreshments at the drug store—being weary of much talking.

We arose next morning ready to sight-see all of Chapel Hill. After breakfast we bought a kodak and went up to a fraternity castle on a hill. We made some pictures and saw Durham from this hill. We left here and went to the Stadium, where we made some more pictures.

We went to see some friends of Miss Dilda's and it was decided that Stancel would drive to Rocky Mount for a sick man, so we were to return part of the way "manless"—(even though it was Friday, the 13th).

About 12 o'clock we left Chapel Hill for Duke University. We ate dinner in Durham and came by Wake Forest, Zebulon, Spring Hope, Nashville and on into Rocky Mount. After meeting the sixth member of our party again, we went to the five o'clock show at the Carolina Theatre and saw Ann Harding play in "Gallant Lady." We had supper in a cafeteria after the show and started on the last part of the journey home.

We left the "chauffeur" in Fountain and we reached home safely in time for a good night's rest after a most enjoyable trip.

Large Crowd Pays Tribute to Dr. Wright

Dean in a beautiful benediction thanked Almighty God for the outstanding virtue of the great man and invoked God's blessings and guidance in the living up to these high ideals by those to follow in his footsteps.

The floral tribute was the largest ever seen in this city and bore ample evidence of the love and esteem in which the great educator and leading citizen was held. Among the many lovely designs was one made from flowers the children of the Training School brought themselves yesterday morning which were put together into a design.

A large number of relatives were here to attend the funeral. All of the brothers and sisters of Dr. Wright were here except Mrs. L. R. Wilson, of Chicago, and Mr. B. V. Wright, of Portland, Oregon, all of Mrs. Wright's immediate family and a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives of both Dr. and Mrs. Wright.

These in the family were Dr. and Mrs. John B. Wright and two sons, James and Isaac, of Raleigh; W. I. Wright, of Inroad, and daughters, Clyde of Chapel Hill; Betty, of Kansas; Rachel, of Raleigh and W. L. Wright Jr., Mrs. Geo. G. Thomas, Maplewood, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wright, of Wilmington and daughter, Rebecca; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, of New Bern and three children, Rosa Lee, Elizabeth and Henry; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murphy, of Greensboro and two daughters; Mr. R. J. Murphy and son, Bob, of Torony, N. C.; Mrs. Lee Simpson and son, James, of Atkinson; Mr. Wright, Murphy, of Greensboro.

Among other relatives were, J. D. Johnson, Henry Fason and Fred Johnson, of Clinton; Mrs. W. G. Carr, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Meares, of Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Parker, of Elm City.

Among the distinguished people in attendance were a number of state officials; Governor Ehringhaus, Secretary of State Stacy Wade, Assistant Director of the Budget Frank Dunlap, State Superintendent of Education A. T. Allen, and M. C. S. Noble, Jr., of the State Department of Revenue. From the University, President Frank Graham, Charles T. Woolin, M. C. S. Noble and N. W. Walker, President and Mrs. J. I. Foust and Miss Minnie McPeyen from the Woman's College of the Greater University; Dr. Cook of State College; President Charles Brewer, of Meredith; Dean Bryan and Professor' Memory of Wake Forest; President L. H. Campbell, of Campbell College; several members of the Board of Trustees, Alex Anderson, of Raleigh; Henry Clark Bridges, of Tarboro; W. J. Boyd, of Ayden; Carl Goerch, of Raleigh; A. D. Meehan, and a number of others from Washington were here.

Among the telegrams received were a number of splendid tributes from high state officials, presidents of colleges, educational leaders, groups of alumnae, school people, and others.

The Governor's message was as follows: "His splendid service to the State and to the institution that he served so well made him an invaluable servant of the people and I am sure I express the regret and bereavement of the entire Commonwealth."

Chief Justice, W. P. Stacy wired: "To those of us whom your distinguished husband honored with his friendship the news of his death comes as a shock, but we are comforted in the thought that North Carolina is a better state for his having lived and labored in it."

President Bruce R. Payne, of Peabody College wired: "A great educator and a noble man has passed. We shall not see his like again."

President Thurman D. Kitchen, of Wake Forest wired: "The state and the whole cause of education have suffered an irreparable loss."

President E. C. Brooks, of State College wired: "He accomplished much for the state, and the college will forever stand as a monument to him."

President Walter L. Linsie, of Davidson College wired: North Carolina has lost a citizen and educator."

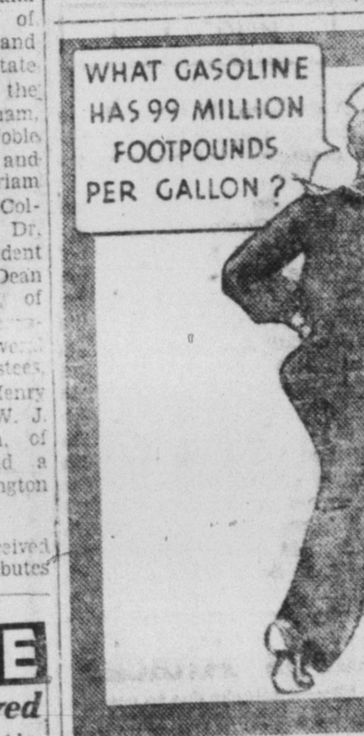

President H. T. Hunter, of Western State Teachers College, Cullowhee wired: "He has been a courageous, dynamic educational leader."

President L. E. Smith, of Elon College wired: "The state of North Carolina and its educational progress suffered a severe loss in the death of your distinguished husband and father. He not only belonged to you but to the state and nation."

Tennessee is about to realize an ambition of a lifetime.

If congress grants President Roosevelt's request for authority to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements with other countries it will be the tall, gaunt secretary of state who will play the major role in actual negotiations.

The house has already given its approval to the President's request and while stiff and prolonged opposition is expected in the senate final approval by that body is regarded as practically certain.

Hull's 22 years of service in the house and part of a term in the senate were marked by his unflinching zeal in opposing high tariffs.

A member of the house ways and means committee—the congressional groups charged with framing a tariff legislation—he is a recognized student and expert on the question.

Colleagues 'Ran Away' He admits he was so immersed in the subject while a member of congress that his colleagues "ran away" whenever they saw me coming because I bored them with my strictures on the unholly evils of a high tariff policy.

Now he is near the point where he will be able to put into practice some of the philosophies and doctrines for which he has crusaded so long.

When Mr. Roosevelt called Hull

from the senate to become dean of his cabinet, it was believed generally at the time that the Tennesseean's knowledge and background on the tariff question had much to do with the President's choice of him for this post.

Local trade agreements with other countries were known to figure largely in the Roosevelt tariff philosophy.

Groundwork Has Been Laid The first 14 months as secretary of state, however, have been spent principally in laying the groundwork for just such a move as is now contemplated.

Hull personally entertained high hopes of tariff negotiations with South American countries at the Pan-American conference in Montevideo last year which he attended as chairman of the American delegation.
