Soviet Economic Organizations Have Already Been Instructed Not to Make Further Purchases From Americans; Deadlock Results From Attorney General Commings' Ruling Declaring Russia "Defaulter"

Moscow, May 7.—(AP)—A deadlock in Soviet-American trade moves loomed today as a result of attorney General Commings' ruling that Russia is a defaulter under the Johnson act.

The Russian government contends it cannot be held in default on the Kerensky debt because its intervention and counter claim against America remains unsettled.

It is understood that the Soviet economic organizations have been instructed to make no purchases from Americans which can be made elsewhere.

Tucson, Ariz., May 7.—(AP)—Returning from an extended trip into the state of Sonora, Oliver White, chief criminal deputy of Santa Cruz county at Nogales, Arizona, said today that June Robles, six-year-old kidnaped heiress, is alive and may be returned to her parents in 24 hours.

"I can state with clear conscience that June Robles is alive and probably will be returned in 24 hours," White said.

Beyond that he would make no statement, saying that authorities had agreed to do nothing that might interfere with the safe return of the child.

Authorities said a man and a woman with a child about the same age as the kidnaped heiress, was seen crossing the international border at 2:30 Saturday.

White was accompanied on the trip by a man he refused to identify. Coincident with his journey A. NEGRO HELD FOR ASSAULT

June Brady Jailed For Probably Fatally Cutting Another Negro Over Week-end

A drink-crazed negro, armed with a shotgun, went on a rampage in the Frog Level community yesterday afternoon, attempted to wipe out the personnel of the sheriff's office, but finally landed behind the county jail bars here.

Lee Knight, 30, and powerfully built, who caused all the trouble, will probably be given preliminary hearing sometime this week on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Deputy Sheriff Herbert Harris received a No. 4 shot in his left hand and Deputy Sheriff Preston Pierce suffered a black eye and loss of a front tooth as Knight cut loose with both gun and fists after promising to surrender.

The attack occurred after the negro had engaged in a gun-fight with Sheriff Sam Whitehurst, forcing the sheriff to duck behind a clump of bushes after he had emptied his revolver at the rebellious negro.

Sheriff Whitehurst went to the community to take Knight into custody for allegedly attacking another negro with a brickbat, bursting his skull and sending him to the hospital here.

As the sheriff arrived, Knight, with gun in hand, ducked back of a clump of brush and opened fire on the officers. The sheriff immediately brought his pistol into play but was forced to duck behind some vegetation when he emptied the chamber without subduing the negro.

Knight continued to fire, and as soon as the sheriff got out of range he sent to town for more ammunition and aid. Deputies Harris and Pierce immediately went to the aid of the sheriff, coming in at another end of the woods.

When they neared Knight, he was said to have told them to put down their guns and he would do likewise. Taking the negro at his word the officers did so and advanced toward the negro. Knight then cut loose with his fist, hitting Pierce in the eye, and opened fire upon Harris, one shot striking the officer in the hand. The two officers then grappled with the negro and held him until aid arrived.

Asked when he expected the debt message from the President, the Speaker said at his press conference he did not know.

I. C. C. TURNS DOWN PLEA FOR HIGHER FARES

Commission, However, Grants Permission to Continue 1-1-2 Southern Rate

Washington, May 7.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission turned down a plea of the NRA for an increase in railroad passenger fare rates in the southeast.

In a brief memorandum, the commission granted the Southern Railway Company permission to continue 1-1-2 cents a mile for travel in day coaches and three cents a mile in sleeping and parlor cars for six months after Mar 31.

Similar permission was granted to other carriers in the southern territory if they wish to stick to the 1-1-2 and 3 cents rates or to establish a two cent rate for coaches if they so desire.

The permission was granted over a demand by Sol Rosenblatt, deputy administrator, in charge of the motor bus code, who told the commission that the low rates charged by the railroads are causing motor buses to lose money.

NEGRO HELD FOR ATTACK ON OFFICERS

Lee Knight Injures Two Officers and Fires on Sheriff near Frog Level Sunday

June Brady, negro of the Belvoir community, was being held in the county jail today charged with probably fatally cutting another negro, Jesse Williams, in an altercation growing out of a crap game in the Belvoir area over the week-end.

Williams was in a Tarboro hospital suffering from a slashed throat inflicted by Brady with a razor allegedly over five cents.

Brady, Sheriff Sam Whitehurst said today, will probably be given preliminary hearing sometime this week. Advice from Tarboro said this morning that Williams' condition was critical and he likely would die.

The dispute took place during a game of crap, Sheriff Whitehurst said. Brady accused Williams of cheating him out of a nickel, whereupon Williams hit Brady with a soft drink bottle.

Infuriated over the double injury Brady was said to have pulled a razor from his pocket and slashed Williams' throat. Williams was immediately rushed to a hospital at Tarboro for medical aid. Brady was taken into custody a short time later.

SAMUEL INSULL ARRIVES AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, May 7.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, bound for Chicago, arrived at the Broad Street station of the Pennsylvania railroad at 10:02 (EST) today for a brief stay before resuming his journey west.

No monarch rejected by his subjects ever presented a more abject figure in flight than Samuel Insull, deposed utilities czar.

Ousted kings have sought and found refuge in neighboring lands—but not this former ruler of a vast empire, built up through intricate financial manipulations, which finally tottered and collapsed around him.

The crash of his four billion dollar utilities set-up reverberated throughout the world, with particularly tragic results in the middle west where thousands of investors in high-priced Insull securities saw their life savings wiped out.

The monthly report of Lester Jones, division patrol lieutenant, issued today, showed that eleven persons were killed in a series of accidents during April.

The number injured was given at sixty-four probably the greatest number registered for a single month in the history of the local patrol.

The death list, like the injured, was probably the highest of recent months, although March saw nearly as many killed in a series of accidents in every part of the division.

Drunken drivers gave patrolmen more trouble in April than any period in the years, the report showing that a total of 35 were arrested during the period. Twelve persons were also taken into custody for being drunk on the highways.

The patrol made a total of 182 arrests and investigated 61 accidents. The total warnings issued were listed as 2,022. Fines were recorded as $1,666; Costs, $1,176; and total revenue collected was given as $16,933.27.

One hundred and seventy-two persons were found guilty of the various charges lodged against them and sentences totalling 49 months were administered by the courts.

Mrs. J. L. Hassell in the second ward also is unopposed.

The polls opened at sunrise and will close at Sundown.

The voting was being conducted under the Australian ballot system, booths having been set up in the corridor of the court house to permit voters to record their preference undisturbed by others.

Judge G. V. Cowper of Kinston Presiding Over one Week Term of Court Here

A one week term of Pitt County Superior court, for the trial of civil cases, convened in Greenville today with Judge G. V. Cowper, of Kinston, presiding.

The calendar was given publicity the later part of last week and contained numbers of cases of more or less interest to the people of the community as well as others.

This is the first time Judge Cowper had ever held court here and his coming was received with interest by members of the bar and court attaches. He is considered one of the ablest jurists in this part of the state and is expected to do much toward completing a major part of the cases scheduled this week, providing of course no long-drawn-out invasion Avenue showrooms.

The French position on the war debts, it was reiterated, remained the same as after the overthrow of the government of former Premier Edouard Herriot, who championed the payment.

DECISION ON 'SPUDS' SOON

I. C. C. Expected to Make Statement on Eastern Rates in The Near Future

As it looks now the final decision in the case involving the rates on potatoes from points in eastern North Carolina will be rendered by the Interstate Commerce Commission at an early date. These rates have been before the Commission almost continually for the past nine years in one form or another, cases prosecuted by the Carolina Shippers' Association.

During the early part of 1932 the railroads, for the second time, published rates on potatoes from, to and between all points in the South on a basis that would have resulted in increases averaging $20.00 per car. These rates were suspended for investigation and have been involved in I and S Docket No. 3705. The rates from eastern North Carolina were expected in this case due to the fact that they were already involved in the case filed by the Carolina Shippers' Association.

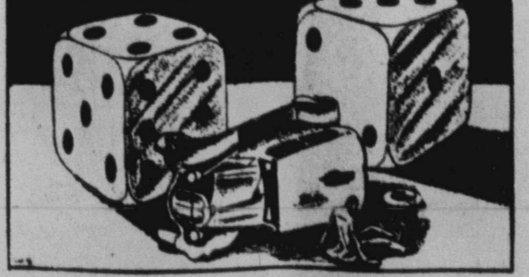

In the Commission's decision rendered Saturday in the investigation proceeding, it found the proposed rates unjustified and ordered them cancelled and found as reasonable rates on a level which is practically the same as that sought by the Shippers' Association. The difference in the total freight charges on the average eastern North Carolina crop on the basis proposed by the railroads and found reasonable by the Commission would approximate $150,000. The Shippers' Association has before the Interstate Commerce Commission petitions seeking the argument of the reparation feature of its cases and it is thought that these will be acted upon within the next few days.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

LIFE'S POOREST GAMBLE

If you are 35, you may expect 17,000,000 more minutes of life. To save one little minute some drivers will gamble and take a chance on losing the 17,000,000 minutes. They do this every time they jump a traffic light, when they cut in, when they stubbornly refuse to yield the right of way. They take a death-defying chance to save a minute. It's the poorest gamble yet figured out.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper has not found the murderer of a man who was shot in the Austerlitz. The man was shot in the Austerlitz. The man was shot in the Austerlitz. The man was shot in the Austerlitz.

Chapter II
OPEN AND SHUT
Before the discomfited servant could reply, the Superintendent of Service arrived with a bunch of keys on a heavy ring. The third key he tried did the trick. Harper and Andrews entered the bedroom, and the detective, after one look, closed the door on the others.

A disheveled figure lay across the bed, fully clothed except for coat and shoes. The coat was flung carelessly across a chair, the shoes kicked or thrown under the bed. Harper lifted the lolling head. The eyes were closed and puff, the facial flesh flabby and loose, but there was the meticulous beard, the fine, clearcut features of the real Pierre Dufresne.

Who, then, was the dead man sitting at the head of the table in that mansion on Powhatan Terrace, with a gun in his hand and a neat round hole through his brain?

At first glance Harper had been deceived by that corpse in the armchair, but a closer view had revealed differences in the hair, the facial structure, the ears, the age lines of his features, while a still closer scrutiny had shown him the fact that the dead man's beard was artificial. So he had turned the key on that room of death and followed the sudden, overwhelming urge to go back and make certain that Dufresne himself was still in safety.

The behavior of Andrews had been very peculiar and Harper had not been too absorbed to notice it. When the bedroom door had yielded under the master-key, the old butler had stumbled into the room like one in a daze, and now he stood uselessly around, with his eyes staring at his master's inert figure with a peculiar fascination.

The detective saw that his hands were trembling and that he grasped at things for support. This was the more notable when contrasted with Andrews' unspoken truculence before the door had been opened, for at one point Harper had felt that the gray-haired butler was considering forcible resistance.

The detective heaved the sagging figure around so that the lolling head rested on the pillow of the bed. He picked up the brandy bottle which stood on the night table beside the bed. It was empty. Some of the liquor had been spilled on the rug by the bed.

The detective's lips curled as he shook Dufresne brusquely by the shoulders. Harper soon realized that more heroic measures would be needed to restore this inert mass to reason and consciousness. He turned to Andrews. "We've got to get him sobered up," he declared. "You get on that phone and order up a bowl of cracked ice and a couple of quarts of the blackest coffee they can make."

While Andrews was carrying out this order, Harper admitted the two guarding detectives into the bedroom. He gave a brief but adequate account of the situation in the house on Powhatan Terrace. "Markison," he went on, "we've got to get Dufresne sober. I'm leaving that to you. They're sending up some cracked ice and black coffee. Open those windows and get him over to the cold air. Rub the back of his neck with the ice. Then fill him with as much of the coffee as he can swallow. Walk him up and down. If that doesn't work, give him an emetic and start over again. Let him growl all he wants, but get him on his feet."

Harper looked at his watch. "I've got to get back on the job. I haven't even started the work up there. When you get him fixed up, Markison, bring him up to Powhatan Terrace. You two will ride with him, of course. We've got to try to get some sense out of this queer business and I want Dufresne to see that room and the bodies in it as they were found."

Andrews had been listening, agitated, to the detective's description of the grisly scene in his master's house. "Mr. Dufresne's car is here in the garage, sir," he remarked, on hearing Harper's plan. "Where is the chauffeur?"

"Somewhere in the building. He is on duty until midnight. He can be ready on a few minutes' notice."

"How long has he been in Mr. Dufresne's employ?"

"Six or seven years, sir. He's quite reliable."

"That's all right, then. Come along with them, too, Andrews. By the way, do you know where Mrs. Dufresne is staying?"

"Yes, sir. She is visiting Mrs. Creighton Morlock."

"Then get Mrs. Dufresne on the phone for me, will you? I'll talk with her before I leave."

Andrews went to the outside telephone and gave the number from memory. Presently he was expostulating to the operator, "But that's quite impossible, Miss. There's a dinner party at that house. You must be ringing the wrong number."

He turned and spoke to the detective over his shoulder. "She says there is no answer. Mrs. Morlock is entertaining this evening. There must be some one to answer the telephone."

Andrews finally called for the chief operator and told his trouble to her, but she confirmed the operator's story. They were ringing the right number and there was no response.

Harper was impatient to be on his way. "All right, Andrews. Try them a little later. Tell Mrs. Dufresne that there has been some trouble at Powhatan Terrace and that I've sent Mr. Dufresne to come up there and give us his assistance. Assure her that he will not be incurring the slightest risk...."

IT'S A MIRACLE WE WEREN'T KILLED
I COULDN'T STEER - I COULDN'T STOP!
THAT'S THE FIRST BLOW-OUT I EVER HAD A BLOW-OUT! WILL IT BE YOUR TURN NEXT?

Play safe with Goodrich Silvertowns, the only tires with the Golden Ply. Get months of extra mileage, too!

The only warning a blow-out gives is BANG! Then it's much too late. Neither your steering wheel nor your emergency brake can save you. All you can do is hope for the best. For a nice soft set to land. Due to powerful motors and whirlwind revolutions of smaller modern wheels, the heat generated inside the tire is terrific. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A tiny blister forms inside the tire where you can't see it. As the friction increases the blister grows—bigger—BIGGER—until BANG! A blow-out! The rim hits the road. And a terrible drag sets in like some unseen monster pulling your car off the highway.

An amazing invention!
But now, internal heat, the enemy of tire safety and mileage, has been checked. By an amazing Goodrich invention—the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This remarkable engineering development, found only in the new Silvertown, resists intense heat. Binds the tire carcass and tread virtually into a single unit, inseparable even under grueling driving conditions. Thus, blisters don't form. The great, unseen cause of blow-outs is prevented before it begins. The Golden Ply thus made the "safest tire ever built" 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds. And here's proof. Racing daredevils tested it out at breakneck speeds. On the world's fastest track. Gave it everything they had. Not one blow-out. Similar tires without the Life-Saver Golden Ply failed at one-third the distance the Golden Ply Silvertowns were run.

Months of extra mileage!
In addition to being 3 times safer from blow-outs with new Goodrich Silvertowns on your car, you'll get plenty of extra mileage from your tires, too. For, with the destructive effects of internal heat overcome by the Golden Ply, the big rugged Silvertown outwears ordinary tires by months. Enjoy the priceless feeling of security every time you sit behind your wheel. Get more mileage than you ever got out of tires before. So play safe. Put a set of Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertowns on your car today. They cost not a penny more than other standard tires.

This insignia indicates that the Goodrich Company complies fully with the tire manufacturing industry code.

FREE! This handsome emblem with red crystal reflector to protect you if your tail light goes out. No obligation. Just join the Silvertown Safety League at your Goodrich dealer. Endorsed by Traffic Officials.

B. F. Goodrich Co. ends more motoring hazards

In a campaign to eliminate motoring hazards, Goodrich engineers have announced these important new inventions. The Life-Saver Golden Ply is already famous for the protection it affords motorists in overcoming the great, unseen cause of blow-outs. Following Golden Ply comes the Seal-o-matic Safety Tube... an amazing new tube that seals its own punctures. And finally, the Gold and Black Tube that protects against rim cuts and chafing—so strongly built, even running flat for a distance won't tear it.

WHAT OTHER BATTERY OFFERS YOU THESE 5 FEATURES?

- 1 The Goodrich Positive Plate Protector overcomes the chief cause of usual battery failures.
- 2 Special Cover Construction prevents outside short circuits.
- 3 Goodrich terminal post construction and exclusive Cover eliminate the chief cause of power-stealing corrosion and guard against loss of power due to SURFACE MOISTURE.
- 4 Electro-Pak cover design permits refilling without removing cover.
- 5 Monthly cost as much as 20% less.

Goodrich Electro-Pak

Amazing New Tube ends rim cuts and chafing

HERE'S PROOF Goodrich made a lot of special tubes to test this new Gold and Black construction. One-half of each tube was made of the new construction; the other half of the best old-style compound. Then they purposely ran them flat. The old-style construction was torn to shreds. Yet the Gold and Black half was sound and unharmed by this terrific punishment.

PIONEER TOBACCO MANUFACTURER DIES

Winston-Salem, May 7.—(AP)—Robert Lynn Williamson, 74, a pioneer tobacco manufacturer of Winston-Salem, died here today after a long period of declining health. He had lived here 36 years, having come here from Tazewell county, Virginia, where he was born at the family's ancestral home. With his father, the late T. F. Williamson, he engaged in the tobacco manufacturing business, and later organized the partnership of Brown and Williamson Tobacco Company.

"I know how Steel Protects You in a Warship or a Car"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH M. E. MERRITT, NAVY YARD, CHARLESTON, S. C.

"I bought a Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body... Lucky for me that I did!"

YOU'VE SEEN the steel armor on warships. It's Merritt's job to help make it. He knows how strong it is.

Small wonder that when he wanted a car, he picked Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body. But he never thought that this precaution would one day save his life!

The drawing shows what happened. A foggy night. A sudden stop. Rammed by a truck from behind... catapulted into the air. Smashing down! Turning over and over!

"The Safety-Steel Body was all that saved me!" he told us.

Experiences like this aren't common, but they do happen. That's why our engineers gave Plymouth a Safety-Steel Body and Hydraulic Brakes... the safest brakes made.

THEN, they made Plymouth more comfortable, with patented Floating Power engine mountings to keep all motor vibration away from the passengers... and Individual Wheel Springs to end all jouncing.

Any Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler dealer will gladly give you a Plymouth demonstration—any time.

"There's nothing but steel plates on today's warships. And steel is what I wanted in the body of my car, though I never thought, at the time, I'd be in a serious accident."

3. "One night it happened! I'd pulled up behind a parked car. A truck tore up in back and sent me sailing. But I lived to tell it!"

4. "My Plymouth saves my money, too. It gets me by on a tankful of gas each week. And no extra oil between drainings!"

5. DeLuxe Plymouth Sedan. Plymouth prices from $630 at the factory, Detroit, subject to change without notice. Time payments on Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.

VANN MOTORS MADE HUDSON DEALER HERE

The Vann Motors, Inc., Hudson automobile dealers, threw open their doors here today in the old Hudson building on Dickinson Avenue.

The new concern is under the management of M. Vann, of Clinton, who is assisted by Charles Beaman and L. S. Strickland, also of Clinton.

Mr. Vann and his associates will move their families to Greenville in the near future where they will make their future home.

The concern has been made distributor for the Terraplane and Hudson in this territory and have a new line of cars on display in the Dickinson Avenue showrooms.

Larger and more luxurious bodies of ultra-modern type are mounted on chassis designed on the basic principle of ultra-engineering which characterized the Terraplane for 1933. It is the principle which was responsible for the unprecedented record of performance and ruggedness established by this car. The Terraplane Six is made on a wheelbase of 112" and 116". The Hudson Eight is made in two wheelbase lengths, 116" and 123".

The exceptional smoothness for which Hudson-built engines have been famous since the introduction of the Super-six is even further accentuated this year. The six-cylinder Terraplane which takes the place of last year's model will have a larger motor, the displacement being increased from 193 to 212 cubic inches due to an increase in the bore of the engine from 2-15-16" to 3", and the stroke from 4-3-4" to 5", making the dimensions now 3" x 5" bore and stroke.

The new six cylinder engine develops 80 h. p. at 3600 r. p. m. It has a compression ratio of 5.75 to 1. On the DeLuxe series six which is on the 116" wheelbase, there is a composite aluminum and iron head which raises the h. p. to 85 at 3600 r. p. m. with a compression ratio of 6.25 to 1.

The two Hudson eight-cylinder engines also have a full 3" bore this year and 4 1-2" stroke. This provides a displacement of 254.47 cubic inches. The eight-cylinder engine on the standard series develops 108 h. p. at 3800 r. p. m. It has a compression ratio of 5.75 to 1. On the 123" series the engine also has a composite iron and aluminum head and develops 113 h. p. at 3800 r. p. m. Standard non-premium fuel can be used with all these power plants.

New York Cotton

New York, May 7.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm 13 to 19 higher on steeper Liverpool cables, foreign buying and small offers.

Scarcity of contracts became more pronounced after the early selling had been absorbed with July advancing to 11.29 while December sold up to 11.57 making gains of 21 to 24 points by the end of the first half hour.

The advance extended to 11.33 for July and 11.58 for December or 23 to 27 points net higher during the middle of the morning.

Buying tapered off after the close of Liverpool and prices eased later. At mid-day July was ruling around 11.25 and December 11.53, or 18 to 20 points net higher on the general list.

New York, May 7.—(AP)—Stocks again stumbled today notwithstanding dailying staples and favorable business.

There were some scattered recoveries in the first hour but offerings extended on the mild upturn and along about noon selling developed in all fields.

The activity also was more pronounced.

nounced on the siding movement and losses of one to three or more were soon appearing among the livelier leaders.

There was no news of an especially depressing character. The failure of the early movement to carry through was said to have discouraged several operators.

The short interest was also believed to have grown a bit larger in the past few days. Recoveries of fractions to about a point or so occurred in some shares in late dealings.

Transfer were 2,300,000 shares.

The Kiwanis and High school baseball game will be played Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Third Street school athletic field.

The members of the Kiwanis all star team are well known in professional and business, but if they are to win over the fast stepping High ball players they will have to put out a good fighting game.

Another angle to this contest is the worthy object for which it is being played, to raise funds for the Sheppard Memorial Library and the High school athletic club.
