BLOODSHED MARKS DOCK STRIKE IN CALIFORNIA

William Gettle And June Robles Rescued From Their Abductors

THREE HELD IN GETTLE'S KIDNAPPING

Both Victims Returned to Their Families; No Ransom Delivered; June Robles Suffering From Lack of Food and Exposure; Gettle Reported Unharmed; Abductors Of Gettle Confess Crime

Los Angeles, Calif., May 15.—(AP)—Three men were arrested in the kidnapping of William L. Gettle, who was released unharmed and unharmed last night, were reported by authorities today to have admitted participation in the abduction of the Beverly Hills millionaire.

Statements of the three made in the presence of the police detectives, sheriff's deputies and police inspectors, named Jimmy Kirk as the alleged "brains" of the plot; Larry Kerrigan, as the man who guarded Gettle, and Roy Williams as the one who aided in the seizure of the millionaire at his summer home last week.

Under questioning by Captain Morris E. Stensland, of the sheriff's office, Kerrigan was quoted as saying he was to have received $18,000 for acting as Gettle's guard and that Kirk had ordered Gettle to write the letter regarding delivery of the $60,000 ransom.

Kirk in his statement before officers said the plot to kidnap Gettle was his idea, but that Williams and Kerrigan helped him make the plans. Asked if anyone else was involved in the plot, Kirk said: "That's all." He said he knew nothing about two women, Loretta Woodley and Joan Burke, now in custody.

Williams in his statement said he and Kirk, with two men, had kidnaped Gettle.

Late News Flashes

Fliers On Way o Rome. New York, May 15.—(AP)—Two fliers with a non-stop hop from New York to Rome as their goal, presumably were speeding over the Atlantic today on their way. The fact that Cesare Sebelli and George Bond were unreported since leaving the North American continent late yesterday caused no concern among associates they left behind.

Good weather was reported over the ocean and they were not due to sight land until they were about 3,700 miles out of New York.

Asks Congress For Huge Sum. Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The President asked Congress today for $1,322,000,000 to taper off the emergency recovery program during the coming government year.

The main portion of the fund—$940,905,000—was assigned by the President for general relief and public works purposes. He asked discretionary power to use it as demands required.

Out of this, however, he has tagged 100,000,000 for road construction; $40,000,000 for the navy ship-building program; $48,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority; $35,000,000 for public building construction, and $5,000,000 for highways. The appropriation would increase the government debt to the all-time peak of $31,834,000,000 for June 30, 1935 as fixed by the two.

HUGE SUM IS PAID OUT TO LEAF GROWERS

Government Checks Amounting to $320,000 Received by Farmers in Pitt

Approximately $320,000 has been paid out by the government to tobacco farmers of this county who participated in the acreage reduction campaign, it was made known today from the office of E. F. Arnold, director of the local Farm Office.

Although the last batch of checks have been paid out, Mr. Arnold said, around 500 benefits and 250 rental checks remain to be received. They are expected to reach the city most any time, he said.

These checks are paid to the farmers as benefit payments for tobacco sold before the Federal reduction campaign became effective last year and for acreage taken out of cultivation.

Farmers have literally swamped the Farm Office the last several weeks applying for their checks, and much of the money derived from this source has gone into preparation for this year's crop and general improvements on the farm.

Pitt County growers have been praised by government authorities for the fine way they responded to the call for reduction of the tobacco crop. The county was among the first to complete the sign-up.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

STOPPING AT NIGHT If it is necessary to come to a stop on the highway at night, drive off the pavement or road if the surface permits. It is up to you to prevent rear end collisions with approaching vehicles even if it is necessary to personally signal all cars. This may be a matter of life or death to other drivers who may not understand that your car is standing still. Avoid obstructing head or tail lights as you work on the car.

POTTS WILL SUPPLY HERE

Evangelist Called by Presbyterian Church To do Temporary Supply Work

Rev. J. R. Potts has been called to do temporary supply work for the Presbyterian Church. He will conduct the mid-week prayer meetings, and two services on Sunday. Mr. Potts is living at the Vines House, and has asked the congregation to keep him informed in regard to the sick and others in need of a pastor.

Mr. Potts has been doing evangelistic work in Martin county, and assisted the pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Ahoskie.

He preached in the local church several times and members of the congregation were highly pleased with his sermons.

The church has been without a pastor since the death of Rev. W. S. Harden, who died several months ago after serving the congregation for a number of years.

Relics of a "copper-stone age" which existed in the near east before 3,000 B. C. have been unearthed by archaeologists.

FOUR SLIGHTLY HURT IN PLANE-CAR CRASH

High Point, N. C., May 15.—(AP)—Four persons were slightly injured at the High Point airport Sunday when an airplane struck an automobile.

A transport plane piloted by Paul Davis, of Atlanta, Ga., was caught in a gust of wind as it landed and was tossed into an automobile occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roby Robbins and his daughter, of Thomasville. All three were given dispensary treatment. Mrs. Gaston Johnson, a passenger of the transport plane, suffered a wrenched knee.

MUCH BLUE MOLD IS FOUND IN EDGECOMB

Tarboro, N. C., May 15.—Reliable information received here is to the effect that much blue mold has appeared in tobacco plant beds throughout Edgecombe County.

One farmer reported that out of a bed sufficient to plant ten acres of tobacco, blue mold had destroyed so much that he will not have enough for one acre.

Electrical energy converted into heat within the tissues of the body is now used by heat-deep-lying tissues of sick persons.

FOUR JAILED IN MEAT THEFT

Two Men and Two Negro Women Held For Entering Davenport Smokehouse

Four negroes, two of them women, were held in the city jail here today charged with robbing a smoke-house of a considerable quantity of meat in the latter part of last week. Willie Boyd, Bruce Williams and Pearl and Lela Bynum were taken into custody by city and county officers yesterday and were scheduled to be given preliminary hearing sometime this week.

They are charged with breaking into a smokehouse in the farm of D. C. Davenport and taking an undetermined amount of meat. A ham and one or two other pieces of meat were recovered by officers in the round-up, but the bulk of the stolen property still was missing.

Two other members of the band were expected to be picked up by officers sometime today and charged in connection with the theft.

MANY MOTHERS ATTEND PARTY

One Hundred and Thirteen 55 Years Old or Over at Reflector-State Party

One hundred and thirteen mothers, 55 years of age or over, were guests of the Daily Reflector-State Theatre Annual Mother's Day Party given at State Theatre yesterday afternoon. Attendance was larger than last year when one hundred were present.

The party featured the presentation of "Wonder Bar," starring Al Johnson and an all-star cast.

As the mothers entered the theatre they were presented with bouquets given by the Greenville Floral Company, which co-operated with the Daily Reflector and State Theatre in making annual Mother's Day of greater significance to the mothers of the community.

At conclusion of the picture Mrs. Henderson, mother of Prof. E. L. Henderson of East Carolina Teachers College, was presented with a potted plant for being the oldest mother present.

Mrs. Leona McLawhorn was presented with a potted plant for having come the longest distance. She came from Grifton. Mother's Day Party was inaugurated by the Daily Reflector and State Theatre several years ago with a view to honoring those mothers who have passed life's meridian, and whose efforts have counted so largely in improvement of the life of the section. It has grown in importance from year to year, and mothers have shown their appreciation by attending in large numbers. (Continued on Page Four)

SOUTH SHOALS LIGHTSHIP IS SUNK AT SEA

Nantucket Wires Coast Guard at New York She is Standing By to Save Crew

New York, May 15.—(AP)—Coast guard headquarters reported today that the liner Olympic sent it a message stating it had sunk the Nantucket, South Shoals lightship, and was standing by to pick up her crew.

"Have sunk Nantucket," the message from the liner received here said. "Am standing by to pick up crew."

The message was signed by the commander of the liner. No further details were given.

A message that the lightship had sunk also was picked up by the Radio Marine Corporation, but it did not explain what caused the sinking.

SEED LOANS NEAR CLOSE

Filing Period For Government Loans to Be Concluded Tonight at Midnight

Farmers who fail to file applications for government seed loans by midnight tonight will be out of luck as the filing period comes to a close at that time.

Hundreds of farmers have already taken advantage of the government's offer to make them loans this season and T. O. Edens, director of the local office said today over 700 applications had already been favorably acted upon.

The filing period, originally set to close the first of the month, was extended until the 15th to give more time to file applications. Although the rush was practically over by the original closing time, Mr. Edens said numbers of applications had trickled in since the time and more were expected today.

Speed has been used in getting checks to the growers. In many instances checks have been sent to the local office within two days after receipt of applications at the federal office.

Farm operators have been able to obtain as high as $750 this year and this has played an important part in preparations for the planting season.

These loans along with other sources open to growers to obtain money have eliminated some of the worry usually accompanying planting season, especially among farmers who saw all of their earnings swept away during low prices of the depression era, and end of the season should see many of them in much better condition financially than in past years, providing of course, crops pan out as they should.

ROTES HEAR MUSIC CLUB

High School Musicians Entertain Clubmen at Weekly Meeting Last Night

By WYATT BROWN Greenville should be proud of its talented young people. The Rotarians know this quite well, for their weekly meeting last night at the Rotary Club they were afforded some good samples of what musical talent from the High School can do.

Presented to the Rotarians by Mrs. Ray Tyson, Jr., the club accompanied three of the numbers that won cups in the State musical contest held recently in Greensboro. Miss Helen Phelps, a junior, sang an alto solo, "Ships," by Bach, which won the cup for that event at Greensboro and she sang with confidence and in nice fresh voice. Miss Ona Shindler, head of the High School music department, accompanied.

Then Ben Herring accompanied by Miss Eva Hodges, gave his cup-winning rendition on the trombone. (Continued on Page Four)

Strikers Battle Non-Strikers In Pedro Harbor

ONE KILLED AND SCORE INJURED DURING FIGHT

San Pedro, Calif., May 15.—(AP)—Storming a stockade in which 400 non-strikers had been housed, a mob of 500 or more striking longshoremen created a bloody riot at Los Angeles harbor about midnight in which one man was slain and twenty-one injured, two so seriously they may die.

Scores were hurt slightly. The violence brought to an end a peaceful strike of the cargo handlers, some 1,800 of whom had walked out with thousands of others in the Pacific Coast port in protest against wages, working hours and demand for recognition of their unions.

Throughout yesterday there was noticeable restlessness at the harbor, and after midnight rumblings of disorders were heard.

Accordingly a guard of sixty special police and sheriff's deputies was dispatched to the stockade, built in the west basin near the Great Lakes docks. The shouting army of strikers launched the assault after midnight, descending on the camp army bearing lighted flares, clubs and sticks. Defense was battered down in short order and the torches applied to inflammable canvas tents.

Soon a terrific hand-to-hand struggle was staged between the two groups and guards. As tents continued to be fired, a volley rang out. Des Parker, who joined the union yesterday, was shot through the chest and killed.

PITT SCHOOLS TO END FINALS DURING WEEK

Ayden, Grifton and Chicod Only Schools Of the County Which Have Not Closed

With the majority of county schools already over with their commencements, finals were to be held in three schools this week. They are Ayden, Grifton and Chicod.

Graduation exercises were held at Pactolus and Winterville last night. T. B. Atmore, district school commissioner, spoke to the graduating class at Pactolus and Charles Dickey, Baptist minister of Williamston, was the speaker at Winterville.

Tonight C. E. S. Hilley, president of Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will speak at Ayden, and Wednesday night Judge J. Paul Prizelle, district judge of the Fifth Judicial District, will speak at the same place.

Diplomas will be presented to the graduating class at Chicod Thursday night. There will be no literary address, the program being in charge of members of the senior class.

A feature of the final day of commencement at Chicod will be a ball game between Chicod high and members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. The game was being looked forward to with interest by people of the community, and it was expected the several hundred people on hand for the graduating exercises will attend the game.

Impressive exercises have been held at all schools, the majority closing last week with presentation of diplomas to graduates and literary addresses.

Men high in the educational and religious life of the State were the speakers, and they left inspiration messages to the young people who step across the threshold into a life where educational equipment will count largely in their ultimate success.

HOWARD HEADS EASTERN BODY

Local Tobacconist Elected President of Eastern Carolina Asso., Inc.

At a recent meeting of directors of the Eastern Carolina Association, Inc., C. W. Howard, prominent Greenville tobacconist, was elected president to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. R. H. Wright, who died several weeks ago.

Mr. Howard is president of the Greenville Tobacco Company and prominent in business circles of the city and announcement of his election was received with interest by his many friends.

He has been active in work of the association since its organization sometime ago, and it was believed his executive ability would play an important part in carrying on the ambitious program outlined by the organization several months ago.

The directors also decided that the annual meeting of the organization would be held at Bayview after July 1. Although the full program has not been worked out, it was said this would include a boat trip from Washington to Bayview on a steamer of the Norfolk, Baltimore and Carolina Steamship Line.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE
 BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Two men have been murdered in Pierre Dufresne's big house. All the evidence points to the fact that they shot each other. Sergeant Harper does not believe they did. Howard Doyle, who inadvertently brought Mrs. Dufresne into the house, only to have her faint and injure herself, tells Harper that the detective will, to spite the mistake was made.

January 10th? When that time comes, Harper, you're going to find that Mrs. Dufresne will have an alibi that is really no alibi at all—then what?

"Certainly, I'm aware that there was a dinner party at Mrs. Morlock's last night and Mrs. Dufresne is a house guest there. But you will hear that Mrs. Dufresne was so upset over the news of the attack on her husband yesterday afternoon that she developed a severe headache and remained in her room. She did not come down for dinner.

"I've found out that you tried to reach her by telephone from the Ansterlitz and couldn't get an answer. Perhaps you haven't had time to find out why, so I'll tell you. By a most strange coincidence, there was a fire last night in the Morlock garage, and the telephone wires, strung just outside it, were burned and put out of commission.

"When I got to the house the confusion was at its peak—fire engines all over the street, salvaged automobiles parked anywhere, guests and servants running in and out to watch the show. No one knew where any one else was, or had been.

Doyle lowered his voice impressively. "While I was looking around I saw a woman's figure going into the house through the side door. I couldn't see her face, but I got a good look at the fur coat and the shoes. This woman had come up the rear walk. I could see her footprints in the snow. Everybody was over on the other side of the house, watching the garage burn.

"Well, I finally found a housemaid running excitedly around the hall and I asked for Mrs. Dufresne. The girl went upstairs and in a minute or two Mrs. Dufresne came down. Harper, you can imagine the jolt I got when I recognized the woman!

"Not only that, but they were soaking wet from the snow, as wet as my shoes were from walking over a mile in it! And when Mrs. Dufresne sent for her coat, to go along with me, there was the same fur coat I had seen disappearing through the side door, the fur still damp from melted snow. Now, what do you make of that?"

Harper was silently digesting this story of the reporter's. "That will bear a lot of thought, Doyle," he answered slowly.

"Get this—my final broadside, Harper. I don't know how far you've gone with your investigations but it strikes me that there's something in this case resembling the state of Denmark in Hamlet's time."

Doyle stood up and pointed through the window. "Do you see that stone wall? That's the boundary wall of Dufresne's property. On the other side of the wall are thick bushes. Last night some one hid there between the bushes and the wall, walked up and down and watched this house, most likely this very room. There is your witness! Find him, and you'll know what went on here last night!"

A few moments later Sergeant Harper and his assistant, Lafferty, bent thoughtfully over the sketch the former had drawn of the Dufresne house and grounds.

They just had come in from their inspection of the spot Doyle had discovered by a fortunate chance. The reporter's final broadside had been very telling, indeed, riddling into holes the infernal evidence so far provided by the killings. A witness, and a secret one, certainly substantiated Harper's doubts that the affair had been "haphazard." Here was the first hint of premeditation.

"That is certainly a choice bit of luck," Lafferty chuckled. "Wait till we blaze away with that and see whose feathers fly."

"That's exactly what we're not going to do," Harper countered. "It's an ace up our sleeve, but that's the best place for it at present. It's something to think about quietly, not brag about."

"Well, you're passing up a fine chance to put on the screws. You're giving them too much time to get their stories ready. I'm sure that smart chauffer, Donoghue, is wise to something, and then there is old Andrews and that son-faced Mrs. Whitmore—all likely material to work on. You can trust the servants to know things."

Harper smiled. "Don't let your patience get out of control, Jack. I'm deliberately giving these people plenty of time to think it over. If they're concealing something, they're sure to elaborate too much and take enough rope to hang themselves."

Tomorrow, the detectives begin a cold, relentless sorting of evidence.

Sundown Stories

The Mystery
 BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Suddenly they heard a loud "Caw, caw, caw," and Christopher Columbus Crow flew down to the ground. With the greatest dignity he walked up to Willy Nilly.

"Oh, Christopher," shouted the Puddle Muddlers, "you're making Grandpa Grouchy Galump accuse all of us."

"Of what?" he cawed. "What are you talking about? Here I come along on a nice, sunny day, feeling quite important and superior as I've just discovered a pretty piece of broken china which I intend to add to my collection.

"Some day, my friends, that collection will be very valuable. I don't know when it will be, or who will think it is valuable, but some day I feel sure that others besides myself will think well of it.

"Now you never have appreciated it, and I suppose I should be very thankful. If you liked it you'd all want it."

"Christopher, stop talking!" exclaimed Willy Nilly. "Give us the rolls!"

"Rolls?" cawed Christopher. "What rolls? What do you mean by rolls? It's not very polite to be told to stop talking when I'm trying to be so friendly and cheery and sociable."

"You know you've taken Grandpa's rolls and he is as angry as can be," barked Rip, the dog.

"Christopher, give them to us, and then I'll go over and try to make it up with Grandpa," urged Willy Nilly.

"I haven't Grandpa's rolls—or any rolls," answered Christopher. "And I know nothing about them." Here was a mystery!

While the next session of the legislature will be confronted with many important issues, certainly the prohibition question should not be one of them, despite reports from some sections that the matter will again be brought to the front. As we see it, the people of North Carolina have already recently spoken their minds on this subject in no uncertain terms and further discussion by the legislature will be but a flagrant waste of time.

The legislative candidates continue to keep quiet on the subject of their attitudes toward the important issues that must come before the next General Assembly. There are, of course, proponents and opponents among the voters to all the issues, and apparently the candidates are adopting the plan of "when in Rome shoot Roman candles" trying to leave the impression among the various groups of voters that they stand for just what each individual group stands for. This might be their idea of good politics but to us it looks like a case of cold feet or lack of the courage to stand up for what one thinks to be right. Again we say, the voters will do well not to accept general statements but ask the candidates directly how they stand on the important issues. If the candidates want the votes of the citizens, certainly the citizens are entitled to know the things for which the candidates stand.

duce his bill immediately in a form only slightly different from the original caused observers to think so.

The controversy over the bill has centered principally around the provision which would outlaw permanently "company dominated" labor unions.

Critics of the bill have referred constantly to the President's statement announcing settlement of the recent automobile controversy in which he said:

"The government makes it clear that it favors no particular union or particular form of employe organization or representation."

TELL GROWERS OF COTTON TO PLANT
 Raleigh, N. C., May 15.—North Carolina cotton farmers will not get their production allotments under the Bankhead bill in time for the planting season this year.

The county allotment will probably not be completed before June 1, and individual growers' allotments will be made after that, Charles A. Sheffield of State College said yesterday.

Sheffield, who has charge of the cotton program in North Carolina, is now in Washington helping the division of Agriculture figure out the county allotments.

He sent word to his assistants here to authorize the growers to go ahead and plant an amount equal to 60 per cent of their base acreage.

Non-signers of contracts also may plant this percentage of their base acreage, with the understanding that if they grow more than the amount to be allotted them, the excess will be subject to the 50 per cent tax imposed by the Bankhead bill.

In the following cases more than 60 per cent of the base acreage may be allotted to the growers, but the exact amount is not yet known, Sheffield said.

ONE DEAD FROM DUNN SHOOTING
 Dunn, N. C., May 15.—Jarvis Stephens, 18-year-old white man, is dead and Jeff Moore, 40, his companion, is in Highsmith's Hospital, Fayetteville, in a serious condition as a result of pistol shots inflicted last night about 11:15 o'clock by Z. H. Umcan, another white man.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
 Washington — Although stiff opposition still exists, those on the inside believe the way has been cleared for passage of the Wagner labor bill this session.

Denounced by its enemies as the most "unfair and un-American bill ever submitted to congress" and praised by its advocates as a move giving labor the protection to which it is entitled by law, both sides are marshaling their forces for a fight to the finish in the closing days of the present session.

Events of the past few days have strengthened greatly the hopes of Senator Wagner of New York, author of the bill, and his associates.

Principal among these events is the recent conference Wagner and Secretary Perkins of the labor department had with Mr. Roosevelt at the White House in which the bill was gone over in detail and revised.

WE WRECKED THESE NEW MOTORS TO PROVE PROTECTION FOR YOURS!

FIVE NATIONALLY KNOWN OILS HAVE BEEN PUT UNDER A SUPERVISED "DESTRUCTION" TEST TO GET THE FACTS

CONOCO produced New and Improved Germ Processed Motor Oil to give new and old motors the lubrication protection they should have. To demonstrate to you how well it will protect your motor, we arranged with the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association to test five other widely known and advertised motor oils along with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in a daringly different "Destruction Test." These six oils, a single fill of five quarts, with no more oil added, in six brand new, strictly stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication.

Away they started! The first oil failed at only 1713.2 miles; others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils lasted a total of 3318.8 miles. But New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricated its motor for a grand total of 4729 miles—more than 3000 miles farther than the first oil to fail, and more than 1400 miles farther than the second best oil! There is undeniable proof of the exclusive, unusual protection of Conoco's "Hidden Quarts"—and a record still unchallenged.

Drive into any Red Triangle Station—get a fill—know that you have the best oil for protection and economy.

THE ORIGIN OF THE POPPY CUSTOM

"A poem inspired it and a little lady from Georgia started it," said Mrs. Selma Carson Moore, poppy chairman of the Greenville unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, describing the origin of the custom of wearing poppies in honor of the World War dead.

"While serving on the staff of the Y. M. C. A., overseas headquarters at Columbia University in November, 1918, Miss Moira Michael of Athens, Georgia, received a copy of a magazine containing Col. John McCrae's poem, 'We Shall Not Sleep,'" explained Mrs. Moore.

"Touched by the poem's reference to poppies growing between the rows of crosses in the war cemeteries, Miss Michael decided to wear a poppy in honor of the war dead. She purchased a number of poppies and distributed them among the workers at the headquarters, starting a custom that has spread throughout the world."

The poppy was adopted as the memorial flower of the American Legion at the Legion's national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1920. When the American Legion Auxiliary was organized the following year, the little red blossom became the Auxiliary's memorial flower. The poppy is also the memorial flower of the British Legion and is worn in all parts of the British Empire in tribute to the dead.

The flowers which the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute here have been made by disabled veterans and contributions received for the flowers will go to the Auxiliary work for the disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

NEW COTTAGES AT ATLANTIC BEACH

Atlantic Beach, May 15.—Five new summer cottages are to be built at once here on the ocean front by K. W. Cobb, W. S. Moye, M. D. Lassiter, W. Z. Morton and R. M. Garrett, all of Greenville.

Harvey Hines of Kinston, and Booker Cunningham of Wilson, have purchased lots in Sunset Shores, on Bogue Sound, and construction work has been started for two new cottages for them.

The old Ocean Beach Hotel on the Atlantic ocean, adjoining the Atlantic Beach property, has been purchased by Scott Parham and will be operated by him and his associates during the summer.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new COC camp at Fort Macon, with plans to restore completely the historic old fort. The boys of the camp were entertained Friday night at a dance at the beach casino.

General Magnus McCloskey, commanding officer of Fort Bragg, was a visitor at the camp recently. Many visitors have been here during the past two weeks to go in the surf.

Artists With U. N. C. Glee Club. The University of North Carolina Glee Club in their concert at East Carolina Teachers College on Friday night, May 18, will present as guest artists Hubert Liverman, pianist, who will play two groups on the piano, and a trio composed of Thor M. Johnson, violinist, Raymond Fink, cellist, and Wilton Mason, pianist.

The trio will play the "Allegro non troppo" from Felix Mendelssohn's "Trio in D minor, Opus 49." Mr. Liverman will play "The Rhapsody in G minor," by Brahms; "Clair de Lune," by Debussy, and one of his own compositions, "Plainte Verdique." The songs by the Glee Club will be in four contrasting groups. Among these will be "Landsighting," by Grieg, with John G. Briggs, bass-baritone, as soloist; a Russian folk song entitled "The Song of the Cudgel," with Jesse Parker as tenor soloist; and "The Border Ballad," by Maunder.

A. A. U. W. HOLDS LAST MEETING OF YEAR The Greenville Branch of the A. A. U. W. held the last meeting of the year in the "Y Hut" on the college campus at eight o'clock Monday night, with Misses Gladys Hughes, Lorraine Hunter and Lelia Higgs as hostesses.

A very interesting report of the year's work was given by the retiring president, Dr. Lucile Turner, and annual reports by the other officers and chairmen of the various committees.

The program committee, composed of Misses Lorraine Hunter, Dora Coates and Lelia Higgs, submitted a number of suggestions for next year's program. Instead of following one topic throughout the year a varied program was decided upon.

The president announced the committees for next year. Miss Frances Wahl made a most interesting talk on "Education in Germany." She spoke of Germany as a bridge of the countries of Europe. She gave a survey of the history of education in Germany, beginning with the private systems under the different churches, and Martin Luther's influence, bringing it down through the centuries to the Nazi regime. She contrasted the present system with the system that grew up after the war. She gave in detail the present method of training teachers in Hamburg. In conclusion she read two exceedingly delightful and instructive letters from Miss Nettie Brogden, a former supervisor in Guilford county, and a sister of Mrs. D. M. Clark, who Gastonia, N. C., May 15.—Arthur C. Jones, Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. A. C. Jones, of Gastonia, and a second-year student at Woodberry Forest School, Orange, Va., was recently declared the winner of a State-wide Latin contest in which students from all the schools in the State of Virginia were eligible to participate.

Following preliminary contests in six centers over the State the final contest was held at Charlottesville. Young Jones is a graduate of the Gastonia High School class of 1932 and has made a fine record at Woodberry Forest, having led all his classes this year up to the present time.

FATAL STABBING IS RESULT OF DISPUTE

Durham, N. C., May 15.—Henry Bowling, 25-year-old Person County youth, was stabbed to death Saturday afternoon in a free-for-all fight which interrupted a baseball game near Mt. Moriah. Vester and Ollie Goss, two brothers of Durham County, were arrested for the crime.

An argument arising during the hotly contested baseball game between two teams, Coon Hill in Person County and Shakeras in Person County, led by Bowling's being stabbed in the heart.

MAN IN TROUBLE COMMITS SUICIDE

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 15.—Sam Barfield, about 35, took his life here Sunday when he fired a pistol bullet into the right side of his head, causing instantaneous death.

Neighbors were attracted to the back yard of the home he occupied by the sound of the pistol and found the man dying, the gun close at hand.

A letter addressed to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Brown, of Tarboro,

New Bern, N. C., May 15.—Carrying out the suggestion of Homer H. B. Mask, farm labor placement agent for the State and Federal Departments of Labor, it was decided here Saturday at a meeting of representatives from Craven, Carteret and Pamlico counties to organize a central committee in each of the three counties to work together, in co-operation with relief, re-employment and farm agencies, in an effort to place more laborers in jobs, especially on farms of the section.

The committees for the counties will be named by the respective heads of the welfare administration: Mrs. John D. Whitford, Craven; Mrs. G. T. Farnell, Pamlico; and Mrs. Malcolm Lewis, Carteret. They will meet here May 22 to work out definite plans.

STUDENT SEEKS $20,000 DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Raleigh, N. C., May 15.—Suit for $20,000 damages has been brought in Wake Superior Court against Paul Freeberg, a resident of Pennsylvania, for injuries sustained by George Mooneyham, Cary school boy, who was injured while crossing the Cary-Raleigh highway.

The complaint alleges that the youth was injured when Freeberg failed to stop for a school bus which was discharging passengers. The boy had stepped off of the bus and was attempting to cross the highway when he was struck, it is alleged. The accident occurred April 4 of this year.

TRUCK MOTOR FAILS; DRIVER IS KILLED

Statesville, May 15.—W. L. Gill, 44, motor express driver, was fatally injured today at a railway crossing east of the Southern station, when westbound passenger train No. 11 crashed into his truck. Mr. Gill was answering an emergency call on the Salisbury road, driving an empty Frederickson motor express truck, when his motor, according to a witness, went dead on the main tracks, directly in front of the train running at full speed.

Fragments of the demolished motor truck were scattered along the tracks for 150 feet.

Mr. Gill was removed to the H. P. Long Hospital, where he died four hours later. His right leg was crushed, and he received severe cuts and head injuries.

Conductor Simpson and Engineer Winslow, in charge of the train, rendered assistance to the injured man, and then continued their run, using the same locomotive which lost its cowcatcher and headlight, in completing the schedule to Asheville.

William Lester Gill, a native of Irdeell County, had lived in Statesville for the past thirty years. He had been with the Frederickson motor express for six years.

BETWEEN THIRTY AND FIFTY IS 'RED-HEADED' AGE

New York.—(AP)—Between 30 and 50 is the "read-headed age," even for folks who aren't naturally brick tops.

The number of red hairs on the head of a dark-haired person shows a considerable increase during this period, reports Nicholas Michelson of Columbia University. He has found it true from study of the heads of about 2,000 men.

About one out of five had some red hairs, mixed with brown and black. Michelson accounts for it by the fact that many hairs have both red and black pigment or coloring matter in them. In youth the black overshadows the red, but shortly before middle age the black begins to lose its potency while the red gains its strength. The change is believed to be associated with the graying of hair.

HOUSING FACILITIES LAG FOR WORKERS IN BOOM

Newcastle, Ind.—(AP)—Housing facilities here have failed to keep pace with the amount of work to be had, with the result that some 1,200 workers must commute from other nearby cities and towns.

Newcastle's boom for most part is caused by a branch of one of the country's largest automobile manufacturers.

Similar conditions prevail in Connersville, Anderson and Hagerstown, other Indiana industrial centers specializing in automobile manufacturing, making of automotive

"SHOPPING...THERE'S A REAL TEST OF NERVES, TOO, MR. BUCK!" Listen to what Mrs. Abbot J. Copeland has to say on shopping—and nerves: "There's no doubt in the world that healthy nerves are vital to a man who goes out and catches wild animals alive. But take it from a busy wife and mother who spends many hours each week searching through the stores— anxious to make the family budget reach as far as possible—you need healthy nerves to be a shopper, too! Tramping through miles and miles of aisles... pricing, comparing, judging quality and values... well, that's a test of anyone's nerves. 'Nerves' don't ever bother me, though. As for cigarettes, I smoke Camels. They don't upset my nerves. And I have never tasted such flavor and mildness." Frank Buck, who has brought back many tons of wild cargo from the jungles of Asia, says: "It takes healthy nerves to bring 'em back alive. It's a job packed with thrills, excitement, and real danger. I never would have been able to populate half the zoos in this country, cross the Pacific 20 times with tons of savage live cargo, and save my own life a half dozen times by quick action if I didn't have healthy nerves. I am a heavy smoker. I prefer Camels, knowing that I can safely smoke all I want without upsetting my nerves." How Are YOUR Nerves? Jangled nerves are apt to visit us all. You know the signs—telephone slamming, frowning, hot words that wound others, worrying and fuming over trifles. If you are inclined toward jumpy nerves check up now—on your eating and sleeping, your habits of work and play. Make Camels your cigarette. They never get on your nerves. Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand. TUNE IN!
