The negro is harged with stealing $32 from the guest, whose name was not divulged by police, then going to Washington and attempting to board a train for Norfolk. As he was preparing to board the train he was taken into custody by Washington authorities and returned to Greenville to face trial.

Police said about $450 was found in possession of the negro at first, but later a $10 bill dropped from his person while he was being more thoroughly searched.

The negro is originally from Belhaven, and was said to have been working in Greenville about a month.

Late News Flashes

Report Favorably On Kerr Bill. Washington, May 18.—(AP)—The House agriculture committee today reported favorably the Kerr tobacco production control bill and asked Rep. Kerr of North Carolina, its author, to reintroduce it as amended by the committee in the House Monday.

Under it a tax ranging from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent of the market value would be levied on all tobacco marketed except Maryland tobacco, Virginia sun-cured cigar leaf and tobacco grown by farmers who produce less than 2,000 pounds in a crop year.

The bill is designed to protect the cooperatives in the farm administration voluntary reduction campaign and carries an amendment reopening the voluntary plan to all legible growers.

CHICOD HIGH HOLDS FINALS

Eighteen Young People Receive Diplomas at Closing Exercises Last Night

Chicod, the last school of the county to close this year, held its graduation exercises last night, and a tremendous crowd was on hand to see the eighteen young graduates receive diplomas in spite of the inclement weather.

The diplomas were presented by J. C. Galloway, member of the Board of Education, who expressed appreciation to the people of the district for their hearty co-operation during the year.

Preceding the graduation exercises members of the senior class presented a play entitled, "Pirate Gold," and this was received with considerable enthusiasm by the audience, consisting of people from every part of the school district as well as from other parts of the county.

The school, like some others of the county, has abandoned the literary speaker plan, and last night the program was in charge of members of the senior class who did everything to make the occasion one of the best in years.

Donald Conley, director of the Pitt County Department of Education, said today the Chicod school was established five years ago and during the time had experienced remarkable growth.

HEALTH QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN HERE TODAY

Winner to be Picked From 111 Contestants From All Sections of County

One hundred and eleven 4-H Club girls from various sections of the county came to Greenville today to stand physical examination in an elimination contest to select a Pitt County health queen.

The examinations were being held in the office of Dr. R. S. McGeochy, director of the Pitt County Department of Health, and a number of physicians and dentists of the community were assisting the health officer.

However, it was said today at the office of Miss Ethel Nice, Home Demonstration Agent in charge of the 4-H Club activities, that Miss Taylor would accompany this year's queen to the State contest in case one should be held.

Miss Taylor was rated as 100 per cent perfect, and probably would have captured first place in a State contest in view of the fact that ratings of contestants last year in all sections of the State did not reach the Chicod girl's score.

The contestants appearing here today were selected from a total of 350 young ladies competing for the honor in nineteen 4-H Clubs of the county, it was said.

The contest is an annual one. It holds forth much interest for the young women, all of whom attempt to preserve their physical fitness in every way possible so they may be counted among the healthiest going out from their organizations from year to year.

REGISTRATION BOOKS CLOSE ON SATURDAY

Voters Not Registered Urged to Get Busy and Register at Once

Registration books for the State-wide primary to be held June 2 will close tomorrow at sunset, it was made known today by F. C. Harding, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Elections.

Mr. Harding today notified F. A. Jordan, Greenville Township registrar, as well as other registrars of the county, that the registration books which opened May 19 must be closed at sunset May 19 under the existing election laws.

Under the law one year's residence in the State, six months in the county, or four months in a precinct, is necessary for those not already on the books.

Mr. Jordan stated that registration books were being completely revised, looking to speeding up the handling of voters primary day. The new book is being typewritten and the names of all persons who have died or moved from the county and not entitled to vote are being taken off the books.

This action, it was said, should greatly facilitate the handling of the great number of voters in this township where congestion has always existed because of the single voting place.

Two Newton Officers Badly Wounded During Gun Battle

MACHINE GUN USED BY MEN IN A SEDAN

Officers Attempt to Halt Machine With Tennessee License Plate; Occupants Open Fire With Machine Gun; Officers Return Fire as They Are Felled by Hail of Bullets

Newton, N. C., May 18.—(AP)—Two officers were seriously wounded here early today by a machine-gun fire from a small sedan which they had sought to halt. Becoming suspicious of three men who drove in and out of the city during the early morning hours, Patrolmen Arthur Huffman called Deputy Sheriff Ray Pitts to his assistance and sought to halt the car which bore a Tennessee license plate.

They said a machine gun was poked through a window as they approached and a hail of lead met them. Then the car sped away before residents hearing the shooting reached the spot. The officers were taken to a Hickory hospital where they were said to be dangerously wounded, although the full extent of their injuries was not determined immediately.

Pitts said the Tennessee car halted and that Huffman walked up to it and as he reached in for a bottle of liquor in the rear seat one of the men cried, "Put 'em up," and started firing.

Huffman, shot through the abdomen and one arm and Pitts through the hips. The officers said they drew their guns and then fell and emptied them as their assailants drove off. Both expressed the conviction they had at least hit the fleeing car.

The men with what appeared to be a machine gun continued their firing, Pitts said, and bullets plowed into the street where the officers fell. The spot where the shooting occurred is only three blocks from the business district on West C Street.

WANTS $350,000.00 AS HEART SOLACE New York, May 18.—(AP)—Trial of a breach of promise suit by Stanley Vulgaris, restaurant proprietor against Mrs. Olive Spencer began today in the State Supreme Court.

Mrs. Spencer, wealthy and socially prominent Charlotte (N. C.) widow, now lives on Riverside Drive in New York. She is the widow of John Spencer, who founded the Commercial National Bank of Charlotte and was the owner of three textile mills in North Carolina.

As the case came to trial before a jury today, Abraham Wise, counsel for Vulgaris, said his client spent $25,000 on gifts and entertainment for Mrs. Spencer, and neglected his restaurant to such an extent he lost $25,000 more.

In addition to cash, to the amount of $50,000, Wise said the thwarting of Vulgaris' love was worth another $200,000.

PICKETING ORDERED AT LAURINBURG MILL Laurinburg, N. C., May 18.—At a mass meeting of operatives of the Waverly Mills here today, picketing of the mill was ordered for Monday morning. One unit of the mill, with about 400 employees, is closed down as a result of a strike of workers who complain of the stretch-out system.

The mill owners claim the stretch-out system has not been involved but mill leaders say they can prove that it is. P. R. Christopher, of Shelby, president of the State Textile Federation, counseled the strikers at the mass meeting today. "We will do our utmost to achieve our purposes by peaceful means," he said.

TWO MEN PUT TO DEATH AT STATE PRISON

Mack Stefanoff and James Sheffield Die in Electric Chair for Murder

Raleigh, N. C., May 11.—(AP)—Mack Stefanoff, 45-year-old native of Bulgaria, and James Sheffield, 47-year-old man of Kansas, today were electrocuted at North Carolina State Prison for murder.

Stefanoff went to the chair first. Neither he nor Sheffield had anything to say in the death chamber.

The Bulgarian was accompanied into the little room by a Roman Catholic priest, while two Salvation Army workers walked the "last mile" with Sheffield.

Stefanoff was one of four men convicted of the murder of T. C. Barnes, official of a Taylorsville bank. The four tried to rob the institution last July, and when they were resisted they killed Barnes and seriously wounded Solon Little, another bank official.

Sheffield was convicted of the murder of James Miller, of Haywood County. The man was charged with killing Miller when he attempted to slay James Welch with whom he had a number of quarrels.

It took two shocks to kill Stefanoff and three shocks were necessary for Sheffield.

SWANKY DOLLAR FAKERS CAUGHT IN ROME SNARE

Rome.—(AP)—Dollar swank has landed nine Italian counterfeiters in jail for terms ranging from two to ten years.

The sentence was handed down by the Rome court of assizes. It found that a "dollar ring" with Antonio Chiore as leader, has been spending fake dollars in high class hotels, cafes and bars.

The counterfeiters used the fake dollars with great success until inflation came along. Then they had to pass more of them and were snared.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

AWHEEL OR AFoot The hostility between motorist and pedestrian is unreasonable but understandable. Yesterday we cursed the motorist who narrowly missed running us down as he speeded up to beat the red light. Today we are impatient with the man who steps off the curb just as we zoom around the corner in our car. The point of view changes in the time it takes to climb in or out of an automobile. BUT SHOULD IT?

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

SYNOPSIS: Apparently a policeman and a stranger have shot each other dead in the breakfast room of Pierre Dufresne's house.

Chapter 21 HELP AT LAST THE man seemed to be quite familiar with the house, Harper continued, "for he disturbed nothing. He started a fire in that hearth, very likely as soon as he arrived, for it was chilly. The logs were pretty well burned when we arrived on the scene."

Lafferty went out in the wake of the butler, and Harper, left alone, began to walk up and down the room, his eyes turning again and again to that armchair in which the baffling intruder had met his death.

"STEVE," Lafferty began, "I've been mulling over what you said about that man having shaved here in the house. That suggests just one thing to me—he was going to meet some one—and that some one was a woman. You can't escape the deduction."

Harper nodded. "Yes, but you can't be so positive about a woman being mixed up in it. Every time you see a man shaving it doesn't mean that he's going to a rendezvous."

Harper answered patiently, "That inference will not be overlooked. I hold no brief for the lady, but I have an instinctive feeling that she is entirely innocent. Not, as Doyle suggested, because of her air of fragility or any chivalrous duty to beauty in distress."

Drought, Insects Given Unmasked Aid

By CARL C. CRANMER Washington.—(AP).—The twin scourges of mankind—drought and insects—threaten to wipe out crop prospects of thousands of western farmers this year.

In the northwest as much as one-fifth of the spring wheat seeding in some states is reported not yet done while the drifting of soil has uncovered much seed already in the ground.

Thus, the intention to get rid of the surplus which has held down prices would be very nearly accomplished by the aid of nature and at the expense of thousands of farmers in the drought-blighted areas.

The lunch room. The burden of our hot lunch service which was so necessary, was relieved through the Government Relief Funds and sixty or more children have been served hot soups, milk and crackers daily, for a period of three months. The student body gave through a free-will offering on Thanksgiving, groceries and household supplies sufficient to accommodate four families. This was used in our immediate school vicinity.

The outstanding project for raising funds was the presentation of "The District School" in the high school auditorium on the evening of March 9th. Again we wish to go on record, our expressed gratitude, to the teachers who so faithfully worked and gave of their time and talent that our children might be benefited; to the mothers who so loyally supported the work that our school's program might be completed; to our outside friends who so generously and joyfully gave their time and talent, and we will forever feel indebted. The actual amount realized from this play was $63.10. This was used exclusively on the purchase price of a set of Compton's Encyclopedia, which was sadly needed in our school library.

At the beginning of this school term, those who had been studying the educational prospects of our state, especially of our public schools with salaries cut and incidental funds so low, wondered just what the outcome would be. But through the courage of our faculty, the faithfulness of our P-T-A. officers and loyalty of its membership, we of West Greenville, are happy in the fact that a better report of a year's work has never been recorded on the pages of the history of the West Greenville Parent-Teacher Association.—Reported.

RED OAK NEWS

The second Sunday in May will long be remembered by the folks in our community not only as Mother's Day but also as the birthday of our friend and neighbor, H. H. May. Mr. May was host last Sunday to over one hundred guests at a barbecue dinner with all its accessories, in honor of his fortieth birthday.

After Sunday school and church, the guests gathered at the spacious home. The large roomy porch was an enjoyable place for the older folks to gather in groups and talk of things that were interested in. The large shady yard was an ideal place for the children to play their games of ball, jump rope and hide and seek.

At 12:30 the feast was spread on a table under the noble oak trees and a feast it was; barbecue, bread, slow, chicken salad, ham, pickles and cakes and other good things too numerous to mention. A lovely pink and white birthday cake graced the center of the table. Everything went along fine, except that Sam Joyner drank some vinegar which he thought was tea.

It was one of the most enjoyable occasions in the history of our community and we wish Mr. May could have two birthdays a year instead of one.

The following folks enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. May: W. F. Crede, Raleigh; Mrs. H. P. Brown and Hobart Brown, Washington; Mesdames M. S. and I. R. Crede, Swan Quarter; Mrs. Luther Eubanks, New Bern; Mrs. Fred Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Taylor and Mrs. L. L. Kittrell, Washington; Mrs. Roy T. HUSKER PASS-SNATCHERS PROMISE FALL THRILLS

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—A pair of leaping pass-snatchers may play havoc with opponents of the University of Nebraska football team next fall.

A bright spot of the Cornshuckers spring grid practice was the work of Lester McDonald and Lloyd Cardwell, lanky freshmen. Their pass-catching kept the Blues, mostly yearlings, in the running with the varsity in practice and in the final spring tilt, gave the Blue a victory over the veterans.

SIX-FOOT-11 TEXAN SEEKS HUSKIE BASKETBALL BERTH

Seattle.—(AP)—Being six foot and an inch tall, Coach Hee Edmondson of the University of Washington basketball team admires length in his basketball material, if the candidate has something besides altitude.

Recently he gazed up into the face of a new arrival who announced he had come all the way from Texas to play on the Huskie cage squad next year.

"How tall are you?" he asked. "Six feet eleven, and may name's Kermit Wright."

Wright explained he still lacked one year of high school credits, but intended to remain in Seattle until he had made up the deficiency, and

The Detectives

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Top Notch did not tell Christopher what he had in his rooster mind, nor did Christopher tell Top Notch. Each started off in a different direction early the next morning.

Top Notch stood on top of a shed from which he could see Grandpa's front door steps where the rolls were supposed to be left. There were bushes in front of the shed so Top Notch was sure he would not be seen.

Christopher hid behind some leaves on a branch of a tree near the front of the house.

It was long before the time for the rolls to be delivered, but they waited patiently.

After a while they saw Grandpa coming out of the house. He had a long rope with him, and also a big stick.

Suddenly he pulled a package out of his pocket and opened it. Then he scattered the contents of the package all around.

Top Notch just couldn't help himself—he sneezed. Then Christopher tried to hold back his sneeze, but he only made a louder noise trying to stop himself.

"So you're the thieves—not one of you—but both of you!" cried Grandpa.

"I came to discover the thief for you," cawed Christopher as he started to fly away.

Grandpa couldn't catch the crow, but he could catch Top Notch. The poor rooster ran and fluttered quite a distance, and was just about to be caught, when some one gave Grandpa a heavy blow which sent him sprawling to the ground.

Grandpa is Puzzled

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
"Top Notch escaped just in time. He rushed home to Willy Nilly's to tell him what had happened. Christopher was there ahead of him.

"You shouldn't have gone near that place even to try to discover the thief," scolded Willy Nilly. "I think I'd better go over to Grandpa's and explain it all to him."

Grandpa had hit his head as he fell and was stunned, so he had no idea who had given him the blow.

"It seemed as though I were being lifted up in the air," Grandpa said. "I was some distance away from the house chasing your rooster when it happened, and by the time I had recovered and gone back to the door-steps, I found that the thief had again stolen the rolls. I know it had happened during that time. There was one roll left on the steps, showing the wicked one had left in a hurry."

"It's all very mysterious," said Willy Nilly as Grandpa repeated everything that had happened.

"He evidently knew it was just time for the rolls to be delivered, gave me a blow, took to a hiding place and came forth for the rolls before I had recovered," Grandpa groaned as he rubbed his head.

Just then Christopher came flying overhead and perched in a tree so as not to be too near Grandpa.

"I've found the thief. I've discovered him! Oh, Christopher Columbus Crow lives up to his name. And I've told him to escape," Willy Nilly told Grandpa what Christopher had said.

"He has let him escape!" Grandpa cried. "Who is he?"

"Well, he probably won't steal any more rolls," comforted Willy Nilly.

Britain Decries House Names

London.—(AP)—The British habit of naming, rather than numbering houses, has drawn the fire of the postal service. It has notified householders that unless numbers are used it will take no responsibility for lost packages.

Italian Police Pickets May Wed Rome.—(AP)—Even the "brigadiers," those carabinieri in the national police force on isolated picket duty, are being encouraged to marry by Mussolini's government. Hitherto their duties have been deemed too rigorous to fit matrimony.

SPORT SLANTS

The statistics may be a trifle hazy in this matter, but I have it on good Boston authority that one of the main reasons why Harvard hired Adam Walsh, ex-Yale line coach, is the Crimson football team gained something like a mere 100 yards in the last three years against Walsh-coached Eli forwards on straight-line play.

"That," suggested by Harvard informant, "gives you a pretty fair idea how well this fellow knows his stuff. Harvard made no move to engage Walsh until definitely informed that fate was setting him on the general shake-up at New Haven, but I do not mind saying now that we considered ourselves extremely fortunate to get a man of his character and ability."

"Walsh already has fitted in perfectly with the scheme of things under Eddie Casey, and you will see one of the best-dressed Harvard lines in years when the team makes the field this fall."

All of which may be duly noted at New Haven by Messrs. Pon, Neale, Myers and Williamson, the new Eli board of coaching strategy.

Team "Ours" To Victory
No Cornellian was more delighted than John Francis Mookley, dean of American college track coaches, when his athletes captured three relay championships at the Penn Relay Carnival. Some one suggested the 440 team was the best "four-cared crew" in the race, which was run on one of the most thoroughly rain-soaked tracks in the history of the meet. Three of the quartette repeated in the 880 and the Cornell hurdlers set a new shuttle relay record.

"The boys went into the meet thinking they had a real chance to win and they did well, said Mookley, who especially enjoyed the victories inasmuch as Cornell's only previous relay triumphs were in the four-mile event, and the last one of those in 1922. "They raised their own funds for the trip to Philadelphia from Ithaca by automobile and stayed with fraternity friends to help save expenses. That's the real kind of spirit."

Carry Out of Running
Some one had seen Little Bill Carr out on the running track for the first time since an automobile accident ended his foot-racing career, shortly after his sensational Olympic-year triumphs of 1932, so I asked him whether he contemplated making any sort of a come-back. "Never again," he replied. "I'm completely recovered, so far as my legs are concerned, but I am through with running. I have been out on the track, just for exercise, but tennis is the only sport I am giving any time to, and that's just for friendly fun."

Carr's accident prevented him from carrying Penn's colors during the outdoor season of his senior year, in 1933, but he intended to retire from competition after that, anyway, and devote his attention to further studies.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 18.—(AP)—Financial markets today appeared to have lost the inflationary urge which gave yesterday's sentiment a touch of buoyancy. Nibble stocks displayed considerable timidity about following the sharp rally of the previous sessions and quiet profit-taking was the rule during the major part of the day.

Hopes of further improvement in the wake of the government silver rejuvenation were abundant, but there was no scramble for utilities generally.

Overnight consideration of the Washington silver accord seemingly dispelled the idea that drastic currency expansion was imminent.

Many of the commodities were hesitant. Wheat and other cereals sagged. Some support was evident, but declines were prominent in the late dealings.

Transfers were approximately 1,000,000 shares.

eral arms and ammunition convention in a move to obtain control of the tariff munitions.

"The private and uncontrolled manufacture of arms," the President said, "and the tariff thereon have become a serious source of international strife. It is not possible effectively to control such an evil by the isolated action of any one country."

The message made no reference to the proposal for a world embargo on arms and munitions shipped to the warring nations of Bolivia and Paraguay, but it was believed that the President sought the treaty sufficient to point in that effort.

Mr. Roosevelt also urged that the world disarmament conference reconvening on May 29 set up an authority for supervision and control of the traffic in arms more than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925, which is now before the Senate.

Republicans Hammer Tariff

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Republicans hammered away today at the reciprocal tariff bill in the Senate without perceptibly getting Democratic expectations of victory.

The House being in recess, the debate was the undisturbed central focus for sight-seeing throngs. But significance bill were also being written by committees.

The approach of adjournment brings with it the inevitable rush where many bills are flattened out for every one that emerges into a law. Committees were anxious to get the pet legislation into favored positions.

Among the measures reported favorably for consideration were those for tobacco production control, to lend to farmers who want to redeem property foreclosed on them since mid-1931 and to set up a national board of 36 to arbitrate railway labor disputes.

Fails To Identify Suspect

Tucson, Ariz., May 18.—(AP)—June Robles failed this afternoon to identify as one of her kidnappers said by authorities to be the most promising suspect they had rounded up in their probe of the six-year-old child's abduction and confinement in a desert tomb.

To Hear Bailey and Reynolds

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—The Senate patronage investigation committee decided today to hear Senators Bailey and Reynolds of North Carolina, to testify tomorrow regarding their experience in seeking appointments in the alcohol unit.

The committee is investigating assertions which have been denied by A. Z. Dalrymple, special assistant in the attorney general's office, that Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, and five others formed a conspiracy to keep Republicans in office.

SEEK YOUNG MAN IN ATTACK CASE

Raleigh, N. C., May 18.—Claude Robbins, 20, Raleigh painter, was the object yesterday of a widespread search by police on a charge of criminal assault on a nine-year-old girl here. The warrant already has been issued.

The victim of the alleged attack which police were informed, took place Wednesday near noon, is Audrey Louise Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Parrish, 116 South West Street.

Although the warrant charges Robbins with a capital offense, Police Chief C. B. Barbour said he had not inquired into the case sufficiently to determine whether the evidence justified the charge.

Chief Barbour said the child's mother reported to him that her daughter accused Robbins of mistreating her. The girl visited the house at which he lodged, 110 South West Street, and it was there the assault is alleged to have occurred.

Detectives found that Robbins who recently came to Raleigh, had left his rooming place and he had not been located last night.

The girl's father is a railroad machinist.
