BRITAIN PLANS NEW APPROACH TO WAR DEBTS

Serious Fighting Raging In Gran Chaco Action Awaits

BOLIVIANS TRY TO DRAW OFFENSIVE

Paraguayan Troops Drive Against Fort Ballavian; Bolivians Strongly Entrenched In Fort Although Greatly Outnumbered By Paraguayan Army

Ascension, May 22.—(AP)—Serious fighting raged today along scattered sections of the Chaco front as Bolivians maneuvered in an attempt to drag the Paraguayan army into a premature offensive against Fort Ballavian.

Between the Paraguayan army and Fort Ballavian lies a middle-sized plain. Beyond and before the fort the Bolivian troops, though in smaller numbers, are strongly entrenched.

PLAN OPENING BALL SEASON

Coastal Plain Directors Discuss Several Matters At Meeting Here Last Night

The directors of the baseball club met last night at the Chamber of Commerce and transacted a number of matters.

The secretary was instructed to have the corporation papers renewed. Steps were taken to have the large banner placed across Evans Street to advertise the games at home.

The committee reported that work had been done on the grounds at the Third Street park and that the diamond would be in splendid shape when the season opens.

The directors passed on a score-book schedule of the season printed in the center of the book. The score book is a very unique idea, and those interested in baseball will be given a score book which has thirty leaves in it that will enable the fans to keep a record of every game played at home.

The directors adjourned to meet Wednesday night, May 23, at 8 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce at which time Manager Milton Harrington will be present and discuss with the directors the players that have been signed up.

IVES HEADS BANK GROUP

Bethel Banker Elected Chairman of Group One of N. C. Bankers Association

S. C. Ives, Bethel Bank cashier, was elected chairman of Group One of the North Carolina Bankers' Association at the annual meeting of the organization which came to a close at Manteo yesterday.

Mr. Ives is cashier of the Bethel branch of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company and is well-known among bank men in this part of the State.

W. H. Woodard, vice-president of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company, and J. H. Waldrop, cashier, said today the Manteo meeting was one of the best in years.

Highlights of the meeting, in addition to banquets and dance, were addresses by Millard Jones, Rocky Mount, president of North Carolina Bank Association, and Herbert Peele, editor of the Elizabeth City Advance.

Those attending from this section were W. H. Woodard, J. H. Waldrop, Johnnie Overton, J. H. Move, J. S. Moye, Greenville; J. L. Rollings, Winterville; J. M. Horton, Fountain; J. D. Wolford, Williamston, and F. C. Ives, Bethel.

Says Pres. Roosevelt Has Mastery of Nation

Amarillo, Texas, May 22.—(AP)—Jene How, Amarillo editor, said today a survey he had just completed revealed Roosevelt as having complete mastery of the nation in contrast with the fifty men James Gerard said were running the United States in 1930.

Howe, son of Edward Howe, famous Kansas editor, and controversialist who has tilted with Maxey Garden and other notables, picked 49 of the President's advisors who are consulted at his pleasure rather than at their pleasure.

ONLY SLIGHT LEAF INCREASE SEEN IN PITT

Tobacco Growers Disinclined to Deviate From Terms of Original Contract

Indications today pointed to the fact that only a few farmers in this county will take advantage of the 10 per cent increase of tobacco acreage recently announced by the Agricultural Administration because of dry weather prevailing in some of the flue-cured belts and improvement of demand for this type of tobacco.

E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Farm Department, who is conducting a series of meetings in various parts of the county in connection with the acreage increase movement, said today he found sentiment decidedly unfavorable to the proposal.

Mr. Arnold is explaining the nature of the 10 per cent increase on his round of the county, and in this way has come in direct contact with hundreds of growers.

Several days ago the farm director expressed the opinion the increase would be about 2 per cent, but since the time he has found that it will hardly go beyond 1 per cent.

In addition to direct contact with the farmers themselves, Mr. Arnold said fertilizer dealers said they had no increased demand for their products which is additional proof that the increase here will be negligible.

A leading tobacco grower from Carolina Township said yesterday afternoon that growers of his territory had generally agreed not to plant additional acreage and have appealed to others to do likewise.

Identify Young Man Killed at Salisbury

Salisbury, N. C., May 22.—The young man killed when struck by a passenger train here early Sunday morning has been identified as Albert J. MacKendrick, of Middletown, Conn., though he was known as Albert Miller.

Among the papers in his pockets was a will he had written last Friday in which he named beneficiaries of a thirty thousand dollar insurance policy.

Jailed on Charge of Killing Woman

Whiteville, N. C., May 22.—(AP)—S. Q. Edwards, 28, was lodged in the county jail here today charged with slaying Tessie Shipman, 21-year-old girl of Western Prong Township.

Evidence before a coroner's jury, which recommended a first degree murder charge, was that the couple had quarreled and that Edwards had written the girl telling her she would be the first of them to die.

Held On Suspicion

Clyde Stoddard (above) was held in Los Angeles county jail in connection with the W. F. Gettle kidnapping case. Police said he was co-owner of the automobile used in the millionaire's abduction by James F. Kirk. Kirk and two others were sentenced to life imprisonment for the Gettle "snatch."

S. C. WOMAN KILLS MATE

Mrs. Henry Britton, Prominent Sumter County Resident, Slays Husband

Sumter, S. C., May 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Henry Britton shot and killed her prominent Sumter County farmer-husband at their home here early today after she told officers he had strangled her and threatened to kill her.

Mrs. Britton said her husband attacked her about 4 a. m. and that she screamed for help. A negro servant responded to her cries but she fled into another room of the home with Britton following her.

Other room officers quoted her as saying she obtained a pistol and shot once as her husband continued to advance. The single shot pierced the man's heart causing instant death.

Mrs. Britton remained at home under technical arrest while Coroner J. S. Cain arranged for an inquest to be held probably tomorrow.

The family is one of the largest and best known in this section. Mrs. Britton was Miss Marie Glasscock, J. B. Britton, brother of the slain man, is a member of the State House of Representatives from Sumter County.

Officers had not learned what caused Britton to attack his wife so suddenly.

PLAN VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Organized Play And Work Assured Children of This City For One Month

Children of Greenville will have the opportunity of organized play and work through the medium of a Daily Vacation Bible School which will begin about the middle of June and continue for a month.

The school will be conducted through the united effort of all the churches of Greenville with the cooperation of J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools.

At a special meeting of pastors, Sunday school superintendents and others closely interested in the proposition it was decided to hold the school under the auspices of trained workers.

Facilities of the Third Street school and grounds will be thrown open to the movement. While all details have not been worked out the school will be under the direction of competent instructors and will be devoted to character building among the children of the city.

Definite announcement as to the date and details of the school will be made later.

Late News Flashes

Delivers Silver Message. Washington, May 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today recommended to Congress that he declare the American policy to be "to increase the amount of silver in our monetary stocks with the ultimate objective of having and maintaining one-fourth of their monetary value in silver and three-fourths in gold."

The policy would be mandatory. The President in fulfillment of his agreement with congressional silver advocates said he "should be authorized and directed" to make the purchases of silver necessary to attain this ultimate objective.

Payments to present silver holders in this country would be limited to 50 cents an ounce and profits so made would be taxed fifty per cent.

Pointing to the wide-bi-metallic agreement as the ultimate solution of the silver problem, Mr. Roosevelt revealed to Congress that he has already begun negotiations with neighboring countries in regard to the use of both silver and gold principally on a co-ordinated basis as a standard of monetary value.

The message also asked authority to take over present surpluses of silver in this country not required for industrial use on payments of just compensation and to regular imports, exports and other dealings in monetary silver.

The legislation to carry out the presidential proposal was ready to be introduced and swift passage was believed in prospect as a result of the understanding of the western silver advocates.

One Killed in Rioting. Minneapolis, Minn., May 22.—(AP)—One man was killed and at least 44 others injured, some seriously, in a riot at the city market today where striking truck drivers and sympathizers congregated to halt the movement of trucks.

Eighteen special police, some believed serious injured, were among those taken to city hospitals in ambulances and police squad cars. The injured were bleeding profusely.

HEBER AYERS ESCAPES AT PRISON FARM

Confessed Slayer of Floyd Cox Makes Successful Bid For Liberty Early Today

Heber Ayers, thirty-year-old Pitt County man, sentenced from 25 to 30 years in State's Prison here last January for the slaying of Floyd Cox, billing station employee, escaped from Caledonia prison farm early this morning, the sheriff's office was advised here today.

After submitting to a charge of second degree murder, during his trial in criminal court here, Ayers confessed shooting Cox to death in self-defense in a filling station card game when he said Cox attacked him over an alleged irregularity of the game. Two other persons, who Ayers said he did not know, took part in the game.

Cox's body was found on the old Stokes road, several miles from the city, the next morning. It was at first supposed he was slain for money but he was reported to have had on his person at the time, but this fact was never established.

A ballistic expert brought here from Washington, D. C., testified that a pistol found under Ayers' bed shortly after the slaying positively was the one used in the slaying of Cox. In fact, he identified the bullets taken from Cox's body as fired from the pistol. Later he gave a demonstration of his skill by identifying bullets fired from pistols while the trial was in progress.

Ayers went on trial for his life but the State accepted the plea of second degree murder and Ayers immediately opened up and gave his version of the slaying.

CIVIL COURT BEGINS WORK

Judge Frank A. Daniels Opens Two-Week Term of Superior Court Today

Judge Frank A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, opened a two-week term of civil superior court here this morning with a calendar containing approximately eighty cases of more or less importance to the people of this and other sections.

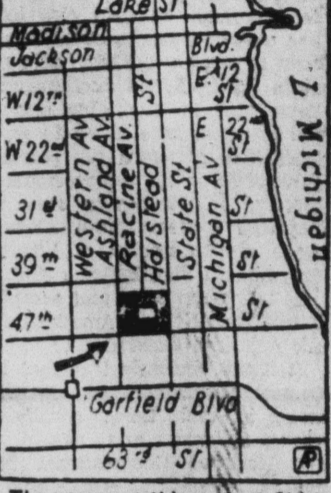

Court was originally scheduled to open yesterday morning but was deferred until today by Judge Daniels, who informed the clerk last week it would be impossible for him to reach the city before today because of pressing official business in Wayne County.

Hundreds of cases have been disposed of in recent terms of court and more were expected to be actually tried or compromised during the long sitting ahead.

Judge Daniels, who announced sometime ago he would retire at the expiration of this term of court, is considered one of the ablest jurists of the bench, and his return to Greenville is always received with gratification by members of the bar and court attendants generally.

NEW PROPOSAL EXPECTED TO BE MADE SOON

Sir Ronald Lindsay Makes Latest Report to London; Officials Quiet On Subject As Government Ponders Over the Question; Secrecy Surrounds Discussion

London, May 22.—(AP)—Indications were seen in circles closely in touch with the British government today that the British government may be planning an approach to the problem in the June installment due the United States.

Any such move, it was plainly seen, however, is contingent partly upon President Roosevelt's forthcoming message to Congress on the subject of debts.

Should the British take such action as is indicated it would represent a drastic change in the policy manifest in recent days. Until today official circles stoutly maintained that any move in the debt situation must come from Mr. Roosevelt.

Now the same quarters hint sternly that there has been a realization of this attitude over the holiday, leading to strong belief that Great Britain may be formulating a new plan for submission to Washington.

Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay has reported his latest talk to Whitehall, but the reports have been held in closest secrecy while the government reads and ponders over them.

OKAY COTTON SIGNUP HERE

Contracts From Pitt County Given Approval by State Board of Review

One thousand and six hundred revised cotton contracts from the county have been approved by the State Board of Review. It was made known today from the office of E. F. Arnold, director of the local Farm Department.

Mr. Arnold went to Raleigh sometime ago with the contracts, but it was found that a revision was necessary and work in that connection was pushed forward so rapidly that it was completed in comparatively short time.

The contracts will be forwarded to Washington within the next several days, it was stated, and as soon as they receive official okay the growers participating in the reduction campaign will receive one-half of their rental payments which involves 3 1-2 cents a pound on the five-year average production.

Mr. Arnold said he was highly pleased with the progress made in the cotton sign-up in this county and declared cotton growers like tobacco planters had scored something of a triumph in co-operating with the government effort to reduce production and improve prices of the staple.

SPUD PICKERS SOUGHT HERE

Beaufort County Wants 500 Workers From Pitt to Help Harvest Potatoes

The potato crop of Eastern North Carolina is rapidly approaching maturity and with the harvesting of that crop in the near future, growers are laying plans to get "pickers" for the crop.

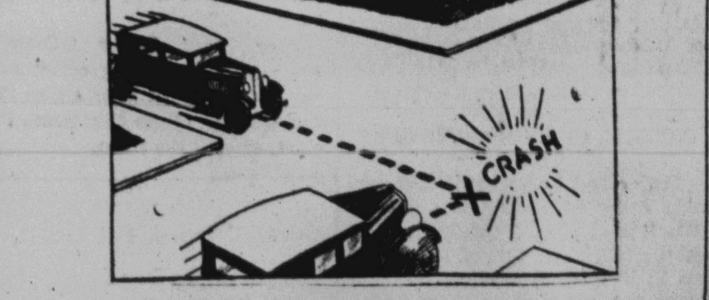

The National Re-employment Service Office in Washington has been requested to find some 500 workers who will be available for "picking up" potatoes in the early part of June.

K. T. Futrell, Emergency Relief Administrator of Pitt County, has been advised that a number of workers will be chosen from Pitt County relief rolls. However, each of these workers will be taken from those who are registered in the Pitt County Re-employment Office which is located in the basement of the Sheppard Memorial Library. In other words, each worker chosen to go to the potato fields will be chosen from those who are registered in the Greenville office of the Re-employment Service, but each worker chosen will be passed or certified by the Relief Office. There is no need for registering at the Relief Office with Mr. Futrell, but there is a need for registering at the Re-employment Office with Mrs. Ruby Allen. Where one person is registered at the Re-employment Office and that person is the head of a family, all the workers in that family can be selected to go.

This new work is expected to be very helpful to the unemployed of Pitt County and to those who have been depending upon the Relief Office for help.

Mexican beetles are reported doing considerable damage in the bean-growing belt of North Carolina.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper has found proof that the policeman who shot the murderer found the death of Pierre Dufresne's house did not kill such other. But one bit of evidence seems to connect the beautiful Mrs. Dufresne with the deed, and the other, which is the fact that the stranger died of a wound from a .38 caliber revolver instead of from the .38 caliber bullet found in the room, points toward Mr. Dufresne. A .35 revolver seen in his room has disappeared.

Chapter 24 AMBIGUOUS REPLIES

THE usual place for Mr. Dufresne's gun is in the highboy in his dressing room? Harper asked. "Andrews nodded in agreement. "Now, does any other member of this household keep a gun or revolver on hand?"

"No, no, nothing like that. Just the opposite. Hamill was a quiet, cool chap, very sure of himself. His theory was that guns should be used only as a last resort."

"Your first question I can't answer definitely, but I don't believe he did. I've been attached to the Fourteenth for eight years and I never met him. The answer to your second question is 'Yes.' Last June 21st a notice was leaving for the summer. This notice was given by a John Whitmore. Know him?"

"The important thing was to gain possession of that gun. At that moment Lafferty returned to the breakfast-room. "There's no doubt of its being gone," he reported. "I looked everywhere. Dufresne walked in while I was searching."

"How did he act?" Harper asked eagerly. "Suspicious and inclined to be a trifle nasty about it. How did you come out?"

"Then Dufresne hid it," Lafferty declared emphatically. "It's too bad we have to tread so damned quietly there."

"What do you mean?" Lafferty gave a wry smile. "Why, Dufresne's the one man we simply can't pin it on. He's the only one of the lot with a 100% bulletproof alibi. He was not only dead drunk at the time of the killing but locked away under police guard. Yet he knew that the fellow was shot with that gun and not by Hamill's, otherwise he wouldn't have hidden it. Say," he exclaimed, looking startled, "how in thunder did he come to know that?"

HARPER echoed his wonder. "Yes, how did he know that? Maybe we're barking up the wrong tree again. Suppose it wasn't Dufresne who removed the gun? Either the murderer himself slipped away with that gun or else confided the story to Dufresne, and he's covering up for him. Now we know that the murderer is not only alive, but walking around in this house."

Lafferty scratched his chin thoughtfully. "If we could only get that dead man identified. Somebody in this house knows and is deliberately suppressing his identity."

Harper smiled. "We can wear kid gloves, too, but we'll keep the brass knuckles slipped on under them."

"You mark my words, Steve. The minute you let fly with the facts we've uncovered there'll be a yelp and they'll try to run us off this case so it can be nailed up and buried in a hurry."

Harper's lips tightened. "Just let them try it. I'll carry this fight right up to the Director's office. Powerful as Dufresne may be, Connors won't let them hush it up by pinning it on Hamill."

They heard Officer O'Connell's voice from the hall greeting some one and a moment later Acting Captain Quigley, of the Fourteenth Precinct, entered the room.

KENGLA—WILSON

Major and Mrs. Durward Saunders Wilson request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Olive Morrill, to Charles Austin Kengla, Lieutenant Reserve Corps, United States Army, on Saturday, the second of June. One thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, at eight o'clock in the evening, the Post Chapel, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

The above invitation has been received by relatives and friends in the city. Miss Wilson is pretty and attractive and is well known in Greenville, where she has visited numbers of times. She is the granddaughter of the late W. B. Wilson.

ROSE—MONTGOMERY

Charlottesville, May 20.—In a ceremony of unusual beauty and charm, Miss Dorothy Frances Montgomery became the bride of John Edwin Rose last evening at 8 o'clock at the Myer's Park Methodist Church, Rev. Richard Ownbey officiating.

The vows were spoken in front of an altar of palms and southern smilax and branched candlesticks holding cathedral tapers.

Prior to the ceremony Eugene Craft rendered "Andante Cantabile," Widor; "Invocation," Mally, and "Romance," by Logan.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was rendered for the processional and Mendelssohn's march for the recessional. During the ceremony the wedding hymn "O Perfect Love" was played.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, A. L. Wiley, Jr. The bridegroom had his best man in his brother, Louis Rose.

Miss Jeanne Montgomery was her sister's only attendant.

The ushers were J. Hall Wills, George C. Snyder, L. B. Howell, and Charles F. Smithson, Jr., of Rocky Mount.

The bride wore a Landin model of white satin, fashioned on princess lines. The rose point lace veil was worn cap effect and extended to the end of her long train. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

The maid of honor wore a Maggy Rauff model of peach-colored mouslin de sole with slight train. On each shoulder was an immense bow. The skirt was ruffled from the knees to the bottom. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and blue delphinium.

Mrs. Dell N. Montgomery, mother of the bride, was attired in blue lace and wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids.

The bride is the older daughter of Mrs. Dell Norman Montgomery and the late James T. Montgomery. She was educated at Mary Baldwin College and is bright, vivacious, one of Charlotte's most beautiful girls and a popular member of society. Many pre-nuptial parties were given in her honor.

Mr. Rose is the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rose, of Franklinton. He was graduated from Duke University, where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He holds a position with the Aetna Casualty Insurance Company.

"LADY FOR A DAY" BECOMES QUEEN OF WALL STREET

May Robson who rose to new heights as a character actress in "Lady For a Day," selected as one of the ten best pictures of 1933, comes to the State tomorrow in the role of an eccentric rich widow in "You Can't Buy Everything." Included in the cast are Jean Parker and Lewis Stone.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Perkins, 1416 Dickinson avenue, on yesterday, May 21st, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They were recipients of courtesies and kindnesses throughout the day.

The day came to a most happy climax when about 8:00 last evening a large group of as fine neighbors as can be found anywhere in the Old North State who had assembled at the home of Mrs. G. T. Evans, appeared suddenly upon the front porch of the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were in their living room enjoying a radio program, when suddenly they were surprised at the voice of Mrs. J. A. McIver as she sang, "I Love You Truly."

On greeting Mrs. McIver at the door Mrs. Perkins found her front porch overflowing with neighbors, every one of whom had an attractive gift for the bride and groom of fifty years.

After the friends enjoyed seeing the thrill and happiness that came to Mrs. Perkins as she opened the packages, they were asked by Mrs. J. D. Wilson to follow the bride and groom, who were escorted into the dining room.

It was fine that there were so many gifts to be unwrapped, for it was while Mrs. Perkins was unwrapping the gifts that Mrs. J. D. Wilson and Mrs. J. C. Duval artistically decorated and arranged on the large dining table a delicious ice course and golden cake. The color scheme throughout was gold-en.

After all had gathered around the dining table, Rev. J. A. McIver, pastor of the family, was asked to make a short talk and offer prayer.

Late in the evening the guests left, feeling that it was one of the happiest occasions of their life.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McIver, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Duval, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ormond, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jordan, Mrs. L. H. Winstead, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Murphy, Mrs. M. E. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Minges, Mrs. B. F. Tyson, Mrs. H. B. Elks, J. Ernest Clark, Mrs. H. L. Elks, J. D. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Lucy Morye, Mrs. Guy T. Evans, Mrs. E. B. Higgs.

POPPY FUND TO AID CHILDREN OF VETERANS

Children whose fathers were killed or disabled on the poppy-studded battle fields of France will be among those benefitted by "Poppy Day," Saturday, May 26th, when replicas of the French poppies will be worn throughout the United States in tribute to the World War dead.

The funds donated for the little fatherless by the war. The bulk of the funds collected here will be used by the local Auxiliary in meeting the needs of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans in this city during the coming year.

The welfare of veterans' children is a constantly expanding responsibility of the American Legion Auxiliary. Injuries and diseases of the war take a steady toll from the ranks of the veterans, and nearly every veteran now dying or becoming disabled has dependent children.

Every penny of the dimes, quarters and dollars dropped into the contribution boxes of the poppy workers Saturday, above the bare cost of the materials in the flowers, will go to the disabled and the chil-

ROTOS TO BEGIN BALL PRACTICE ON WEDNESDAY

The Rotary baseball club will start practicing Wednesday afternoon, May 23, at 4 p. m. in preparation for the game Memorial Day, May 30, with the Kiwanis Club. It is expected that a nice crowd will be on hand to watch the practice. The Kiwanis Club is very anxious to scout the Rotary team, as rumors have been going around that the Rotary Club is going to place a fast and snappy team on the field when the umpire calls play ball at 4 p. m. Memorial Day, May 30.

Admission is going to be charged for this game and the proceeds will go to the Greenville Baseball Club. The local fans will never have the opportunity again of seeing so many stars in action as in this game. Several members have stated they expect to retire from the diamond at the end of this season.

COLLEGE SCIENCE STUDENTS MAKE TELESCOPE

Three science majors at the college, Misses May Hearne, Ida May Nance and Florence Sinclair, under the direction of Miss Catherine Cassidy, of the Science Department, have made themselves a telescope of the reflecting type through which one can see the craters on the moon, find several of the moons of Jupiter, and see other phenomena in the night sky multiplied more than a hundred times.

They have been working on the project for two months, at first, one night a week, then two, and for the past three weeks every night, as it was a slow, tedious experiment, requiring infinite pains and accuracy, yet very fascinating and of absorbing interest. The final test came when it was turned on the sky and it worked to perfection.

There is a national club of amateur telescope-makers, sponsored by the Scientific American. There will be a convention in Vermont on July 21 to which all are invited to "put their instruments in a car, put on your old clothes and come."

This is a voluntary project, entirely free from any class work, and is the outgrowth of interest aroused three years ago, when these students were freshmen, but they had no definite instructions, they could follow. When a book of instructions and magazine articles came out, they determined to make one.

They showed great ingenuity in getting material together and cutting down the cost. A fifty-inch wooden bar is mounted on a tripod of iron piping. The eye-piece, which is placed at the side of one end of the bar, is from an old microscope. The reflecting mirror, the grinding of which required most delicate work, is at the other end. The small flat mirror close to this, which served to bend the rays from the reflecting mirror, is a piece of an old windshield, silvered on the back. The entire cost was between $7.00 and $8.00.

Two glass discs of the same size, one the mirror and the other a tool, were rubbed together with an abrasive between. Extremely careful attention had to be paid to the stroke, the direction of the stroke, and the changing of the grades of abrasive. It took eighteen hours for the shaping of the mirror into a perfect sphere, and short periods with frequent testing when it was taking its final shape, a parabolic mirror. The silvering of the reflecting mirror was the final delicate test.

J. C. Cokerell rendered valuable assistance with the mechanical setup, but the young ladies themselves did all the scientific work.

BETHEL NEWS

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Mortals and Immortals," was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 20.

The golden text was from I Cor. 15:49: "As we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God." (Col. 3:1-3)

The lesson sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate sensual or sinful is immortal. The so-called pleasures and pains of matter perish, and they must go out under the blaze of Truth, spiritual sense, and the actuality of being. Mortal belief must lose all satisfaction in error and sin in order to part with them. Whether mortals will learn this sooner or later, and how long they will suffer the pangs of destruction, depends upon the tenacity of error."

Local Golfers Got To Wilson On Wednesday

The Greenville golf team will go to Wilson tomorrow to attempt to get "sweet revenge" for a 25 to 18 trouncing administered by that club several weeks ago, and if somebody doesn't watch his step the locals are going to return home loaded down with Wilson County bacon.

The local club has played four matches in the Eastern Carolina Association golf tournament, and has only one win to its credit, one tie and two losses.

Kinston has proved the easiest contender of the season, losing to the Greenville club in one match and splitting the second 50-50.

It was Rocky Mount and Wilson that came through with the two victories against Greenville, but in view of the close Wilson score it was believed the local boys might be able to turn the tables in tomorrow's encounter.

The customary lunch will be served in the Wilson club-house preceding the opening of the contest.

ROTES RAISE VOCAL STORM

Songfest Marks Weekly Meeting of Clubmen in Greenville Last Night

By WATT BROWN

What ho and hey nonny, nonny! Did you hear the dulcet tones issuing forth from the Rotary Club building during their weekly session last night? Inspired by the prize demonstration of Greenville's young singers last week, Lawrence Stroud, S. G. Wilkerson, Charlie Roberson, and Roy Campbell so happily cast as one quartette and John Atman, Alfred Schultz, "Doc" Horne and Leon Powell, miraculously effulgent with melodic vaporings harmonizing in another afforded their fellow club members with renditions "par excellence" under the aegis of John Clark.

In their own peculiarly effective manner each quartette did "There's a Long, Long Trail," and the Lawrence Stroud quartet did "Old Black Joe" extra for their hearers' delectation. With untrained larynx each warbled his serious way, and there for the audience's delight was "diamond in the rough" genius with Apollo their guardian.

A telegram purporting to come from the district governor of Rotary through consternation in the camp revealing that something had gone awry. But a letter from a friend of Yo Walker's cleared up all doubt and the program swung into full blast again with Hayward Dail doing some of the blasting and Alfred Schultz ably abetting the afore-mentioned.

Hayward Dail spoke at length on "Rotary Ethics in the Male Business."

With a few remarks about not feeling fully qualified to discuss ethics of the male trade, Hayward got his teeth—well, hardly his teeth since it sounded more like a rare sense of humor—into his stubborn subject. He let his hearers into some inside lights, but made his best points by comparing his trade to that of doctors—sort of drawn in by the pestle of the longest tailed of one of his subject's main interest. Further along he reluctantly disclosed how the sale of a car-load of mules for $50 and their delivery involved him through a morning, followed him to church services, and ended after the fall of darkness.

Alfred Schultz—still hoarse (not horse for his subject was not about quadrupeds but "Teeth") from his recent warbling launched into a discussion into the far-reaching profession of a dentist. It took him in his first years of practice into the study of the Zodiac and so-fourth except that this scribe bows to the censor.

Herbert ReBarker, the chairman of the program committee, passed the buck to Howard McGinnis for the perpetration of such music and oratory upon the club. The guests for the evening were Dr. Bonner and John Clarke, Jr. The attendance prize was won by "Doc" Horne. Lawrence Stroud spent most of the evening grumbling that there was a single member late to be fined for tardiness. There were a few tense moments while Kinchen Cobb, club president, was clearing up the matter of how Claude raled a whole strawberry short-cake while the rest got only small wedges—but Claude is in charge of the eats, and as Mrs. L. L. Reeves, who has charge of the preparation of the food and was responsible for Claude's getting the whole cake, he got it because he is the one that hands out the checks to the culinary department. But let it be said, Claude did not eat even one piece of the whole cake.

REAL ESTATE MOVES SLOWLY

One Transfer Involving $10,000 Filed For Registration Here During Week

The movement of real estate slowed down here last several days and records in the office of the Register of Deeds today showed only thirteen deeds of transfers had been filed for registration during the period.

The largest transaction reported here in several weeks was that of W. H. Woolard, trustee, to L. C. Skinner and others, 400 acres, for $10,000.

The next most important of the deals was that of F. C. Harding, trustee, to J. R. Harvey, for a consideration of $2,500.

Several other transactions involved amounts ranging from $2,000 to $10. They follow:

Scott Buck and wife to W. L. Buck, 17.9 acres, $10.

Addie Cox, executrix, to Wilbur L. Worthington, 72 acres, $100.

Presidential approval and passage of the bill to replenish exhausted PWA funds was all that stands in the way of the project now, Bailey said.

Bailey said Mr. Roosevelt had manifested interest in the project and that passage of the PWA money bill is virtually assured.

Under plans approved by the army and PWA engineers the project would include a $400,000 port terminal at Morehead City and the construction of jetties in Beaufort inlet.

Luckies are always in All-Ways kind to your throat.

because

THESE ARE THE MILDEST LEAVES—THEY COST MORE—THEY TASTE BETTER!

THEY TASTE BETTER!

The clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—They Taste Better!

LUCKIES use only the clean center leaves for these are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better. No top leaves because they are under-developed, bitter and harsh. No bottom leaves because they're coarse, dirt-covered, sandy. Only the clean center leaves go into Luckies. Then "It's toasted" — for throat protection. The long, golden strands of fine tobacco are rolled uniformly round and firm... no loose ends. That's why Luckies do not dry out. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.
