Hitler And Mussolini Confer In Venice Bomb Explosions Mark Activity of 'Judges of Hell'

PROBLEMS OF EUROPE ARE DISCUSSED

Informed Circles Reported Dissatisfied With Conversations; Conversations Continued Today Along More Concrete Lines

Venice, June 15.—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy delved deeply into European problems this afternoon in a second conversation following the German leader's arrival here. Their talks began immediately after a luncheon at the Golf Club on the Lido.

Again as on yesterday they were alone as they conversed and they talked in German.

Well-informed circles represented themselves as greatly disappointed with yesterday's conversations between the two leaders on the grounds that Hitler had proved himself to be a visionary while Mussolini essentially a realist, wanted to get down to the cases immediately. Today's discussions were more concrete and were captured.

NEGRO PUT TO DEATH IN CHAIR

Ossie Smith of Northampton Dies for the Murder of J. B. Hedspeth.

Raleigh, N. C., June 15.—(AP)—Ossie Smith, Northampton County negro, convicted of murder, was electrocuted at State's Prison this morning.

After two shocks of current had raced through his body Smith was pronounced dead at 10:38. The man was the 13th victim of the chair at State's Prison.

Smith died without confessing his guilt, prison authorities said. He was convicted of blocking a road with a log and shooting to death J. B. Hedspeth, farm overseer, when Hedspeth stopped at the log.

Smith robbed Hedspeth's body of a farm pay-roll he was carrying. The negro was the first man to go to the electric chair without appealing to the Supreme Court.

White's Stores Will Open New Store Saturday

White's Stores, Inc., announced today the formal opening of the new store on Dickinson Avenue, two doors below their old stand, Saturday, June 16.

In celebration of the moving to the new quarters, the firm is conducting a "Big Opening Sale" at which many special values will be offered the hundreds of patrons of the territory.

The building has been completely remodelled and splendidly furnished, and is considered one of the best appointed in this part of the State.

The firm operates several stores in North Carolina and enjoys a wide patronage. The business is owned and directed by S. T. White, who has long been associated with the business life of Greenville.

Ample facilities have been arranged for taking care of the throngs of shoppers expected to throng the building during the opening day, and in addition to the fine values to be offered, special entertainment features will be provided.

Thousands of new values from the great manufacturing centers of the world have been placed in stock and the showing will be the most extensive probably ever offered here.

Mr. White said the public is given a cordial invitation to attend the opening and participate in the savings to be presented in the many values offered in the various departments.

The firm deals in values from $5 to $25 on a Kansas City street.

BRING OUT PLANE CRASH VICTIMS

Fourteen men worked steadily through the night bringing out of the tangled forest in the Catskills the bodies of the seven persons who crashed to death in a huge airliner. The bodies were taken to Liberty, N. Y. Workers are shown emerging from the forest with one of the victims. (Associated Press Photo)

Late News Flashes

Set Market Opening Date. Asheville, June 15.—(AP)—F. P. Davis of Winston-Salem, today was elected president of the National Auction and Lose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Association.

Vice-presidents representing various tobacco belts elected included G. W. Knott, Henderson; E. J. Chambers, Fairmont and E. V. Webb of Kinston.

Recommendations for opening dates for the various belts made today by the sales committee were accepted by the code authority.

They were to be filed with the U. S. Tobacco Association at their convention at White Sulphur Springs on July 5, and then to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The recommended dates are: Georgia belt, August 1; South Carolina, August 14; Eastern North Carolina, August 28; Middle North Carolina, September 11; Virginia-North Carolina old belt, September 25; Virginia dark fire belt, November 7; Tennessee burley belt, Nov. 19; Kentucky burley belt, Nov. 26; Kentucky and Tennessee dark fire belt, Dec. 3.

NEW HEADS IN CHARGE ARMY

Capt. and Mrs. Stratford Take Over Duties of the Salvation Army Here.

Captain and Mrs. Charles Stratford have been transferred from Rock Hill, S. C., to Greenville by the Salvation Army.

They arrived here last night and immediately appeared before the Board of Aldermen and asked that financial assistance of the city be continued in order that Army work here may be as extensive as possible.

The captain and his wife come here highly recommended by the Salvation Army headquarters at Charlotte, and citizens of other cities where they have been stationed.

During their eight years of service with the organization, it was said they enjoyed remarkable success. They were stationed at Washington City for three and a half years. Citizens in one city in appreciation of their work erected a group of buildings costing $25,000 in which to carry on work of the Army.

Before leaving Rock Hill they put on a drive for funds that resulted in the raising of $10,000. Only $8,500 was actually sought in the campaign.

In addition to being excellently fitted for carrying on activities here, Capt. Stratford and his wife are talented musicians. Both are college graduates and have an excellent educational background for extending work for the organization here.

Captain Stratford is a physical director by profession and Mrs. Stratford a stenographer.

ASSURE BOARD WORK ON POOL WILL BE PUSHED

Aldermen Told Laborers Will be Kept at Work on Pool Until it is Completed.

The Board of Aldermen meeting in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night was told that work on the local swimming pool would be continued until completed without further delay.

The report was made by Herman Duncan, member of a committee named by the board sometime ago to confer with the Federal Relief Administration here to see what could be done to complete the pool in time for use this summer.

Mr. Duncan said K. T. Futrell, administrator, assured his committee that every effort would be made to keep workmen on the job from now on until work is completed.

The pool, one of the finest in this immediate part of the State, was started under the PWA several months ago, but work was suspended when the organization was abandoned by the Federal Government because of lack of funds.

Since the time varying numbers of workmen have been put to work, but sufficient progress has not been made to complete work before the latter part of the summer.

City officials several times have brought the matter to the attention of relief officials, and recently were assured by both State and local authorities that work would be pushed forward as rapidly as possible in the future.

The board discussed several other matters of public interest last night, okayed a number of bills and then adjourned until a later date when pressing matters will be considered.

Mayor R. C. Flanagan, whose illness caused the postponement of the sitting Thursday night of last week, was able to preside last night, and while not yet completely well, apparently is on the road to recovery.

Captain and Mrs. Charles Stratford, new representatives of the Salvation Army here, appeared before the aldermen and asked that the financial support of the city be continued. In a brief talk, Captain Stratford said he and his wife were here to render the best of service to the community, and desired all support possible in view of the relief situation expected to arise during the fall and winter.

The board at present is contributing $20 a month to the organization, and the representative was assured due attention would be given to his plea for further aid.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. R. L. Carr, member of the library commission, but at the suggestion of A. E. Hobgood, decided to make her an honorary member for life. Mrs. Carr stated in a letter to the board that she desired to be relieved of her duties because she was making her home in another part of the country at this time. The board expressed appreciation of her fine services in behalf of the library, and especially the part she played in obtaining the present beautiful library building.

Mrs. Judson Blount was named to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Carr. Sam Underwood, representing the local chapter of the American Red Cross, informed the board that the organization had sent Miss Evelyn Hart to an aquatic school, and that she would be ready for service when the pool here is completed.

The board also heard a report on the recent municipal election at which three members of the organization were re-elected for terms of two years. They were Joe Taft, Mrs. Hassell, and W. H. Norris.

WILL NOT PROBE S. C. ADMINISTRATOR

Washington, D. C., June 15.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, reiterated today that he had no intention of ordering an investigation of the relief administration in South Carolina of Malcolm J. Miller, administrator.

ALDERMEN GIVE $50 TO VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Board of Aldermen, meeting in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night, contributed $50 to the support of the Daily Vacation Bible School which opens at Third Street School next Monday, June 18th. Registration started this morning at 8 o'clock and pointed to large enrollment.

No parleys were held today. P. R. Christopher, State textile union president, said last night his committee was awaiting call of the mill officials for further conference.

Refusing to disclose issues involved, Christopher said that in the beginning they had seventeen points to consider—five major and twelve minor—that today only two major points stand between the employers and labor.

SITUATION IS QUIET IN LAURINBURG STRIKE

Laurinburg, N. C., June 15.—The situation was quiet last night at the Prince Mill, where striking Waverly Cotton Mill operatives were conditionally dismissed yesterday in "the Guards."

Reckless driving is usually associated with speed and other dangerous practices. It must be recognized though that the reckless "stopper" is far from "reckless."

Pleads Guilty To Bomb Threat

Thomas Layden, 17-year-old Newark, N. J., youth, pleaded guilty to a charge of threatening to bomb the Somerville, N. J., estate of Doris Duke, wealthy heiress. He received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for three years. (Associated Press Photo)

FAISON GORE IS SENT TO PRISON

Wilmington, N. C., June 15.—(AP)—Faison Gore, convicted wholesale liquor dealer, confessed to paying a negro, Ben Johnson, to kill Karl Hayduck, Castle Haynes farmer. April 28, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge W. C. Harris in New Hanover Superior Court here today.

Johnson, who testified Gore made him drunk and paid him to "knock off" Hayduck, pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder and was sentenced to thirty years in prison.

Gore and his wife, who witnesses said, admitted her love for Hayduck, denied having made an arrangement with Johnson to kill the farmer who was employed by Gore to operate a still.

The negro told the story readily and steadfastly maintained he was paid by Gore to kill Hayduck and "git."

LAUNDRY IN TARBORO DESTROYED BY FIRE

Tarboro, N. C., June 15.—Fire destroyed the Tarboro Steam Laundry about 2 o'clock this morning. The plant is located near the A. C. L. depot and when the firemen arrived there and opened the building to fight the fire it was in a mass of flames and beyond control.

It was the belief of the firemen that the fire started in the boiler room. The loss is several thousand dollars, with no insurance. The laundry was the property of R. W. Jones, well-known business man of this city.

London, England, is undergoing a systematic city cleaning.

THREE IOWA MEN FREED BY KIDNAPER

Texas Convict Captured Fifteen Minutes After Releasing His Captives.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 15.—(AP)—Held prisoners for nearly eighteen hours by an escaped Texas convict, three Iowa men were released today and fifteen minutes later the abductor was captured.

Release of the three men, Elmer Schuler Davenport, Ia., policeman; Al Schultze, secretary-treasurer of the Davenport, Ia., baseball club, and A. H. Fitch, Walcott, Ia., veterinarian, ended a night of fear for their safety and terminated a widespread search for them by Federal agents and possees.

The abductor was identified by police as Joe Palmer, 33, who with four other men escaped from the Eastham, Texas, prison farm last February 16, after killing a guard.

Palmer readily agreed to return to Iowa to face the robbery and kidnap charge in connection with the abduction of the three men, saying: "If they take me back to Texas they'll sizzle me."

He explained that by sizzle he meant the electric chair.

Palmer explained he kidnaped the policeman because he feared the officer halting him for questioning would find the gun he carried in his brief case, check on his back record and return him to Texas. The three victims were returned to their homes a few hours after they were released.

GLISSON INFANT WILL BE BURIED THIS AFTERNOON

Mary Louise Glisson, five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Glisson, died yesterday afternoon at 6:30 at the home of her parents on Reid Street. Funeral services will be conducted from the late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Berry will be in charge of the final rites. Burial will be made in the family burying ground.

Surviving are the parents and a sister, Peggy Rose.

BODY OF BOB HOOKS FOUND ON SIVER BANK

Goldsboro, N. C., June 15.—The body of Bob Hooks, 67, who was drowned in Neuse River eight days ago, was lodged against a log, about one mile below the place where he was drowned, about 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning by Gene Hayes, negro. The river was up and rising at the time of the drowning, and receding waters later left the body on the bank.

Roy Sykes and Jim Coley, negroes, were fishing in the river near Well's brick yard Wednesday morning of last week when they heard a splash and a call for help and saw a man struggling in the water and saw him disappear. He had jumped or fallen from the bridge.

It was learned that Mr. Hooks had been seen going in that direction, and when he was not again seen in the city, officers concluded that it was he who was drowned. A search was made with grappling hooks on that day and the next, and since that time, a daily lookout has been kept along the river.

Alumnae Favor L. R. Meadows as College Head

Dr. L. R. Meadows, acting president of East Carolina Teachers College, was boosted for the presidency of the school at the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association held here during commencement season, June 2.

The statement follows: "We, the members of the East Carolina Teachers College Alumnae Association, wish to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude for the service rendered by our late president, Dr. Robert Herring Wright. The motto of the school, 'To Serve,' was his living motto, and through his guiding influence this ideal of service was injected into the hearts and minds of all those who attended the college.

"We deplore our loss, and the loss the college has sustained. Realizing the difficulty which confronts the Board of Trustees of this institution, in the task which is imposed upon them in the selection of a worthy successor, we wish to recommend to them by the unanimous vote of the Alumnae Association the name of our beloved friend and teacher, Dr. L. R. Meadows.

"Dr. Meadows' connection with the college has covered twenty-four years of his history. His close contact with our late president as personal friend, his proven executive ability as director of the Summer School for twelve years, the designation of Dr. Meadows by President Wright, as executive officer in his absence, emphasize his fitness for the continuation of those policies which have promoted the growth of this institution for the past quarter of a century.

"Dr. Meadows' loyalty to the college, his integrity, his high ideals, his frank and unassuming manner, and his motivating influence for good have endeared him to the hearts of all those who have come under the magnetism of his strong personality.

"Believing these qualifications to be necessary for the continued growth of the college, we urge that Dr. Meadows' name be given favorable consideration."

Plan Memorial Service Sunday for C. McLawhorn

A memorial service for Charles McLawhorn, who died at his home in the Winterville community several weeks ago, will be held at the Bethany Free Will Baptist Church near Winterville Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The service will be in charge of R. F. Pittman, pastor, and special music will be provided by the church choir. The public is invited to attend.

WELFARE WORKER IS ORDERED TO BUY BEANS

Washington, N. C., June 15.—Orders were received today by Mrs. I. P. Hodges, County Welfare Director, an FER Administrator to purchase 500 bushels of string beans and to pay 50 cents per bushel for them.

The beans are to be delivered to her at a designated place and growers who have a surplus are asked to get in immediate touch with Mrs. Hodges.

FOUR PERSONS ARE INJURED BY EXPLOSIONS

Librarian in Office of "Henry Ford of France" Has Hands torn by Blast; Office Damaged; Four Other Infernal Machines Fail to Explode; Fourth Bomb Mailed to Department Store

Paris, June 15.—(AP)—A bomb exploded in the office of Andre Citroen, the "Henry Ford of France," today in the campaign of terror by the "Three Judges of Hell," which has frightened all Paris.

The bomb was addressed to Citroen personally, but was opened by the librarian of the motor plant. His hand was badly torn and the office was slightly damaged.

Four other infernal machines which failed to explode were received in this morning's mail, bringing to ten the total of bombs mailed by terrorists the last 48 hours. Four persons have been injured by them. The fourth bomb was found today in the mail distributing office of the Paris suburbs of Arcueil. It was addressed to a Paris department store.

PASQUOTANK MAN KILLED

Edward Stevens, of Elizabeth City, Dies in Auto Truck Mishap, Swan Quarter

Swan Quarter, June 15.—(AP)—Edward G. Stevens, of Elizabeth City, was killed and a man named Carrawan, of Rose Bay, was seriously injured in a head-on collision between Stevens' car and a truck near here last night when investigating the accident today said they had not been able to fully identify Carrawan and to learn the full details of the crash.

They said Stevens was alone and that the truck driver fearing he was going to clear the road for passing, pulled across the road into the path of the approaching car.

PRISON SENTENCE IS CHANGED TO NINE

Sanford, N. C., June 15.—According to information received here yesterday, Judge Johnson J. Haye in United District Court in Greensboro on Tuesday, changed the sentence of a year and a day in a Federal Prison imposed on Matthew E. Wicker, a former postal employee in Sanford, to a fine of $1,229.05. Wicker was convicted when tried last week, on a charge of misappropriation of funds in this amount.

Judge Haye stated that he would allow the sum of $536, the accumulated amount of Wicker's Civil Service retirement fund, to be applied on the fine, and as complete restitution had been made, he would recommend that the remainder of the fine be remitted.

Wicker, who is a member of a well-known family here, was in charge of the money order window at the local postoffice. The unearthing of the shortage by postoffice inspectors a few months ago caused much surprise, as he had been held in high esteem.

Experiment have proved ordinary calcium arsenate, used for years in killing boll weevils in cotton, is just as effective in eradicating potato bugs.

Social Calendar

7:45 p. m.—Mrs. L. B. Tucker will present her piano pupils in a recital in the auditorium of Sheppard Memorial Library.

4:30 to 5:30 p. m.—Mrs. S. T. White and Miss Helen White will entertain at a tea honoring Miss Mary James Lipscomb, bride-elect.

Shackell-Moye.
The wedding of Miss Clara Louise Moye and Aubrey E. Shackell of East Orange, New Jersey, a former resident of Edenton, N. C., was solemnized in a brilliant ceremony at 8:30 o'clock last evening in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Numerous cathedral candles in branched candelabra furnished illumination for the wedding scene and shed a soft glow over the altar decorations of palms, ferns, southern smilax and baskets of bride's roses. White satin ribbons marked the pews for relatives and out-of-town guests.

The ceremony was preceded by a musical program. Mrs. R. A. Tyson at the organ, played Rubenstein's "Romance," and Miss Jesse Moye sang "Because," by DeHeraldot. This was followed by Schubert's "Serenade," sung by Miss Moye and Charles James. Mrs. J. H. Waldrop sang "For You Alone," and "Sweethearts." Robert Rhodes of Kinston, played as a violin solo "I Love You Truly," by Bond.

As a professional, Mrs. Tyson played the "Bridal Chorus" from the opera Lohengrin, by Wagner; and as a recessional the wedding march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn. During the ceremony, "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell, was softly played.

Mrs. Tyson, Mrs. Waldrop and Miss Moye wore gowns of white lace. Their flowers were shoulderettes of briarcliff roses and valley lilies.

First to enter were the ushers, John Mayo Forbes, Jake Hadley, Zeno Brown and Joe Moye. They were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen who entered two at a time down opposite aisles, and formed a semi-circle on the rostrum. The bridesmaids, Miss Jane Hadley, cousin of the bride; Miss Sonora Moore, Miss Sarah Guiley, all of Greenville; Miss Elizabeth Transou of Greensboro, Miss Emily Braswell of Rocky Mount, and Miss Alma Lee of Selma, wore identical evening dresses of tea rose lace over pink made on princess lines. Their slippers and gloves were of the same shade. They carried arm bouquets of snapdragons, painted daisies and delphinium tied with ribbons in contrasting colors. The groomsmen were John W. Graham of Raleigh, Erskin Duff of Forest City, N. A. Riddick of Scotland Neck, Howard Moye, James Moye, brother of the bride, and Frank Patrick.

Mrs. Reid Perkins, dame of honor, and Miss Rose Hadley, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, entered down opposite aisles. Mrs. Perkins wore a gown of flesh lace over taffeta made on princess lines, with sandals and gloves of the same shade, and carried an arm bouquet of briarcliff roses and gypsophelia. Miss Hadley's gown was of blue lace made on similar lines. Her accessories were of blue, and she also carried an arm bouquet of briarcliff roses and gypsophelia.

Little Sammie White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. White, cousin of the bride, as ring bearer, was next to enter. He wore a full dress black satin suit and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Little Miss Peggy Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Reid, and little Miss Mary Cooper, daughter of Judge and Mrs. L. G. Cooper, were flower girls. They wore dainty frocks fashioned alike of pink tulle and carried baskets of rose petals which they scattered in the pathway of the bride.

The bride entered with, and was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Orville Moye. Her wedding gown was of ivory Duchesse satin fashioned along tight fitting lines, flaring at the knees and forming a long train. The high neck of the gown was trimmed with pearl bands and the sleeves were long and tight fitting. The veil was cap shaped and caught with orange blossoms. She wore suede sandals and carried a bouquet of bride's roses showing with valley lilies. The bridegroom attended by his father, R. G. Shackell of East Orange, N. J., entered from the study.

Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, united the couple in marriage, using the ever impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. Shackell is the daughter of Mrs. Hortense Forbes Moye and the late Dr. Elbert A. Moye. She was educated at Salem College, Winston-Salem, and at Sargent School at Cambridge, Mass. On her maternal side she is the great-granddaughter of Major Benjamin May of Revolutionary fame. On her paternal side she is descended from prominent Huguenot and Colonial ancestry. She is the great-granddaughter of Senator Alfred Moye, distinguished pioneer leader in education and religion, in whose memory a boulder is erected on the Farmville highway. She is socially prominent and has been honored with many dinner parties, bridge luncheons and tea dances by her numerous friends.

Mr. Shackell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shackell of East Orange, N. J., and a former resident of Edenton, N. C. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and a member of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. At present he holds a responsible position with the Waybrook Holding Company of New Jersey.

For the wedding, Mrs. Hortense F. Moye, mother of the bride, wore a gown of white lace. Her flowers were a shoulderette of gardenias and valley lilies. Mrs. R. G. Shackell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown in orchid chiffon and wore a shoulderette of gardenias and valley lilies.

Reception.
Following the wedding, members of the wedding party, relatives, out-of-town guests and scores of friends were entertained at a reception at the spacious home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hortense F. Moye, on Evans street.

The rooms throughout the home were beautifully decorated in pink snapdragons, roses and painted daisies.

On arrival, guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. White, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bundy and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Piggett.

At the door to the reception hall they were met by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brock and Mr. and Mrs. George Forbes Hadley. At the drawing room door and presenting guests to the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blount and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hortense F. Moye, Robert Orville Moye, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Shackell, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shackell of East Orange, N. J. Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Combs, Miss Rose Hadley, Joe Moye, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Perkins, John W. Graham of Raleigh, Miss Sonora Moore, Erskin Duff of Forest City, Miss Jane Hadley, Frank Patrick, Miss Emily Braswell of Rocky Mount, N. A. Riddick of Scotland Neck, Miss Sarah Guiley, Howard Moye, Miss Elizabeth Transou of Greensboro, James Moye, Miss Alma Lee of Selma, John Mayo Forbes, Zeno Brown, Rolfe Robertson of Warrenton, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Daughtridge invited the guests into the dining room where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moye and Mr. and Mrs. Cheatham.

The bridal motif of white and green was used in this room. On the table, which was covered with a lace cloth, was a lovely silver bowl of white roses and white sweet peas, surrounded with white tapers in silver holders. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pendergraft and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Young served an ice course in green and white, and mints. Assisting in serving were Misses Mattie Moye Gaylord, Catherine Tyson, Jane Hadley, Mary Woolard, Myra Stancil Blount and Fannie Cooper.

Miss Agnes Fullilove and Robert Moye directed guests to the register which was in charge of Miss Mary Warren, Robert Little, Miss Mary James Lipscomb and Iverson Skinner.

In the rear hall, directing to the living room were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr. Receiving in the living room and introducing guests to a second receiving line were, Mrs.

Blaze Puddle Muddlers

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Christopher Columbus Crow first flew over to Willy Nilly's and found him gone. He then rushed down to the ducks' pond and there he found all the ducks and Willy Nilly, Rip, the dog, Top Notch, the rooster, and Jelly Bear.

They all were having pond pancakes with fresh pond water juice, and were laughing and crowing and quack-quacking and barking and growling and having a wonderful time.

"Honey Bear is in trouble!" cawed Christopher excitedly. "There is a fire at the cave and she has been fighting it for all she is worth."

"How could there be a fire at the cave when it's all rocky up there?" asked Top Notch. "Besides the fire was completely out in the village when we came here to celebrate."

"Don't stop to ask questions," retorted Christopher. "The smoke is so thick she can hardly breathe and flames are curling around the ground. It's dreadful. Hurry!"

"By poor Honey Bear," growled Jelly Bear miserably, as he started off with the others. "And the poor cubs here I've been having a good time and they have been in danger."

"Don't think about anything now," cried Willy Nilly. "We must rush to their rescue."

The Chief Quacko Duck and the other ducks got the fire engine and the hook-and-ladder, and got buckets of water which they took with them and soon the Puddle Muddlers were at the cave.

They were not a minute too soon. Bravely they went to Honey Bear's rescue.

Tomorrow—The Rescue.

Home Grocery Stores Here Are Repainted

Repainting of the interiors of five stores operated here by the Home Grocery Stores, was announced today by J. J. Davis, manager.

Mr. Davis said the color scheme of all stores was being changed. Walls have been painted light tan and the shelves and other furniture pea green.

Work has been completed on all stores in the heart of the city and was being brought to completion in those farther removed from the main business district.

Rent Reductions Help Nazi Parents To Rear Families

By RUDOPH JOSTEN

Berlin. —(AP)— Newly-weds and parents of large broods live more cheaply in Berlin now than several companies owning large apartment blocks are granting them financial support.

Reduction of rents by 10 per cent for two years is the gift of the landlords to young couples and heads of large families among their tenants.

Bridal Pairs Drain Budget
Childless couples were preferred in previous years, and many landlords refused to lease their rooms to families. The change of sentiment was brought about by a Nazi court verdict which sent a "subversive" house owner into a concentration camp because he wouldn't let a couple with four children move into his apartment house.

While much is being done privately to make life easier for parents, Cupid is also officially invoked by the various government and city authorities to curb unemployment.

Hitler's marriage program, which has been in effect since June of last year, has been a huge success. More than 183,000 couples have been married with the government's financial support. During December and January the finance ministry was so swamped with applications for matrimonial loans that in February and March of this year the system had to be suspended because of lack of funds.

Bachelors Held Inefficient
This year, Hitler expects to marry on at least 200,000 girls who occupy gainful positions. By making business women, Hitler hopes to create jobs for an equal number of men. The equivalent of $39,250,000, has been set aside in the budget for this purpose and the loans, which averaged $240 last year, will be increased to about $300 this year.

An outstanding example of marriage-mindedness of the authorities was given by the Burgomaster of Frankfurt-on-Main, who ordered the city's bachelor civil servants—officials, white collar employees and common laborers—to marry.

"Bachelors are discontended and lead unstable lives which have ill effects upon their working ability," the city fathers hold.

Invitation to Wedding

Mrs. Eliza Ward Jones requests the honour of your presence at the marriage of her daughter Virginia

Mr. John Hutchinson Adams, Jr. and her niece Miss Elizabeth Moore to

Mr. William Lipscomb Wheabee on Tuesday afternoon, the twenty-sixth of June at half after five o'clock Eighth Street Christian Church Greenville, North Carolina

No invitations will be sent in Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. James At Home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James were at home yesterday afternoon, honoring the former Miss Clara Louise Moye and Aubrey E. Shackell.

Mrs. F. J. Forbes graciously greeted the guests on arrival and presented them to the receiving line which was formed in the music room with setting of red roses, gladioli and sweet peas.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. James were Mrs. Hortense F. Moye, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shackell, Miss Clara Louise Moye, Aubrey E. Shackell, and Mrs. Robert Lawson of Chapel Hill, house guest of the hosts. Mrs. C. S. Forbes directed the guests to the sun room. Yellow daisies and regal lilies were used on the punch table, and the windows were banked in yellow daisies and yellow sinlins. Mrs. C. C. Skinner, Jr., Mrs. Julian J. White and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pendergraft served delicious punch and hors-d'oeuvres.

Mrs. L. G. Cooper invited the guests into the dining room where they were greeted by Miss Elizabeth Thibault. The dining room was lovely, the table appointments were in Burgundy glass. The table was covered with a cream late cloth and centered with a Burgundy vase of yellow roses, lavender snapdragons, yellow daisies, blue sage and baby's breath. Two smaller vases of the same flowers were placed at either end. Shaded orchid candles in Burgundy glass holders were placed at the corners.

On the buffet were two Burgundy vases filled with regal lilies, yellow gladioli, blue delphinium and larkspur. Mrs. Larry James and Mrs. S. T. White, seated at the table, served sperry cream from large Burgundy glass platters. They were assisted by Mrs. W. W. Lee, Misses Jane Hadley, Mary Forbes, Jane Forbes and Nina James, who also served yellow and lavender mints and yellow and lavender decorated cakes.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hadley directed the guests to the lovely garden where a pleasant hour was spent.

Guests included members of the wedding party, members of the families, out-of-town guests and numbers of other friends.

Guest of Mrs. D. C. Moore.

Mrs. D. H. James of Greensboro, is visiting Mrs. D. C. Moore on Eighth street. Mrs. James is a former resident of Greenville, having lived here about forty years ago when her husband, the late D. H. James, was register of deeds of Pitt County.

Mrs. Bailey in Hospital.

Friends of Mrs. W. D. Bailey are sorry to learn of her illness in Pitt Community Hospital.

SUNDAY, FATHER'S DAY

While Mother's Day has been observed for years it is just recently that Dad has come into his own and too has a day observed in his honor. For the past few years the third Sunday in June has been set aside as Father's Day, so next Sunday the fathers again come into their own and for the one day at least occupy the place of guest of honor and the object of affections.

Don't fail to remember Dad next Sunday with some gift of appreciation for what he has meant to you.

Announcement that the state will immediately take over the toll bridges and causeways to Atlantic Beach and Wrightsville and will operate them toll free after about the middle of July, is of course pleasing to those who will get an opportunity to visit the resorts during the summer. It seems to us, however, that first attention should be given to taking over Chowan, Wright Memorial and other bridges that would serve travel in general. Eventually, it is understood, the state hopes to take over all the toll bridges but there should be no delay in taking over those that would serve the greatest number of persons.

If the present Literary Digest poll on how the people stand on the Roosevelt policies can be considered as accurate as former polls conducted by the magazine, there can be no question that the country as a whole is solidly behind the President in his efforts to bring America out of the mire of depression.

Realizing that the Daily Vacation Bible School to be conducted here beginning next week will prove of great value to the children of this city, the Board of Aldermen last night appropriated $50 to aid in financing the school. Approximately $400 will be necessary for the operation of the school over the four weeks period and it is to be hoped that enough voluntary contributions will be forthcoming without a soliciting committee having to make a canvass of the city. If you would like to aid in this great work send in your donation, now. This paper will accept these donations for the school and acknowledge same through the columns of the paper.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Sergeant Harper's investigation of the two murders in Pierre Dufresne's house, has located Mrs. Dufresne, her husband, a maid and a chauffeur in a serious tangle, for it has developed that mysterious notes concerning equally mysterious rendezvous have been found by the maid, and that both Dufresnes have paid her to keep silent. Harper just has failed to persuade Mrs. Dufresne to talk, and has left her under strict surveillance in her room.

Chapter 45 CROYDEN'S PLEA

THE house seemed as deserted as before, but as Harper came down the stairs he realized that the dinner must be over, for he heard music from the drawing-room, indicating Richard Croyden at the piano.

Harper was passing the doorway when the playing stopped, and Croyden, looking over his shoulder, hailed the detective. "Come in," he called, "if you can spare a minute, I've been watching for you."

Harper was somewhat surprised by this invitation. He eyed the pianist sharply as he crossed the floor. "Have a cigarette?" The detective declined the offer, while Croyden turned back to the piano, his fingers moving softly over the keys. "There are some passages in this I need to brush up," he explained. "Recognize it? Chopin, Polonaise in B Flat Minor."

The detective sat down in the chair by the piano bench. Croyden's whole manner was feverish and excited and though his fingers continued through rippling passages his mental abstraction showed that he was casting about for an opening for whatever he had on his mind.

Then, preceded by a nervous exhalation of cigarette smoke, he struck out boldly. "Harper, can't you call off the dogs? Must this thing go on, boring deeper and deeper into the private life of this house? You can't ease the dead by an autopsy on the living."

"A detective on a murder case has no friends, Mr. Croyden. We cannot call this case closed until we have found the killer who is hiding among you."

"The fingers slipped into a jangling discord and stopped. The pianist turned to face the detective. "I think you exaggerate when you call it a 'case,'" he challenged. "I really don't see it. Harper, you've built up a scarecrow of shreds and patches. When you tear it apart you won't find your murderer, but you will expose all the poor bare bones of our family skeleton to the public gaze. The public is always roaring for that sort of stuff, but I felt that you were above that kind of show, Harper."

He drew a long breath. "Don't think I'm talking wildly, or trying to hide some deep, dark secret. Dig below the surface anywhere in so-called Society and you'll find deceit, treachery, disillusionment. And, God knows, if you're going to take those things for clues to motive, you'll finish by putting all of us in the dock. Does this make sense to you or do you think I'm being merely rhetorical?"

Through a haze of smoke the detective looked straight into the glittering, excited eyes. There was no mistaking the genuine fervor of that plea. "I think I understand, Mr. Croyden," Harper responded gravely. "Yesterday, perhaps I should not have, but today a great many things have become clear to me."

CROYDEN turned again to the keyboard, softly fingering the treble keys with muted sound. "Are you a married man, Harper?" he asked, suddenly, without turning his head.

"No."
"Then take my advice—and think well first!" he counseled. "It can do things to you, bring about conditions that no lover can survive. One's birthright of spirit can be sold out for a compromise," he added darkly. "Today, we seem to cling only to the Thirteenth Commandment—'thou shalt not be found out.' Many things can be borne in silence, indignities to the spirit as well as acts of the flesh, so long as these are kept discreetly hidden from our neighbors' eyes. But flaunt them across the horizon and then comes the end. That is why I ask you to take no further steps in that direction."

He stopped to snub out the cigarette end. "I suppose you've heard about Mr. Dufresne and Joyce Robmer, to give the lady her more familiar name? And, possibly other details of the sort?"
Harper shrugged. "Servants will talk, tabloids thrive on scandal," he remarked, "and there's precious little escapes them. As I understand it, there have been discussions and suspicions on both sides of the fence.

"I'm not at all interested in private scandal unless it touches on the case itself."
"Ah, that's what you think, Harper, but you make the other poor beggars conscious of their tatters. That public loss of dignity can never be repaired. Affairs in this social world move in a complicated rhythm on their own. The unfortunate death of two strangers in this house threatens to visit injustices on those who had nothing to do with the case."

"It's not so easy to say just who those may be," was Harper's dry comment.

"Don't let gossip run away with your good judgment," Croyden replied quickly. "If you take that line, you'll find us all in your net, accusing and accused. No doubt you've heard that Dufresne and I were rivals once and not very friendly ones, either. You could make some interesting deductions from that."

Harper was silent, puzzled by some repressed force underlying the words. Croyden paused to light a fresh cigarette. "That's the root of plenty of trouble, Harper, when women can take over the dominating role. Take my wife, for example, I love her dearly, but she has always had more money than I can ever hope to earn. Besides, what chance has the masculine ego with a girl who can outdistance you at any sport you name—swimming, golf, riding, bridge? There is only one field left in which I can exercise my masculine conceit and that is this—" resting his fingers on the keyboard.

The detective was at a loss to account for this deliberate exposure of Richard Croyden's.

ceeded to send out bills. In most instances the members grudgingly paid off. They didn't like it, but Warren's threat of "full publicity" alarmed them. This is election year and none of them can afford to take chances.

Tantrums End Bill
One of the members billed by Warren's office is just rounding out his eighteenth consecutive year in the House, and holds a high position. The amount involved was slightly more than $3.

When this particular member received the bill he almost raised the roof off his office. He was all the more infuriated because only a little while before he had jokingly taunted a colleague for receiving a bill from Warren.

Vowing he wouldn't pay and storming that in all the years he had been in Congress never had he sent out unfrankable material from his office, he dispatched his secretary to Warren's office for a reckoning.

Mr. Warren was sorry his "old friend" was offended, tore up the bill in the secretary's presence and requested that the boss be advised to forget all about it.

Senate Gets 'Gravy'
The resentment of members of the House over this sort of thing goes deeper than the mere fact that their telegrams are being watched. It is rooted in the fact that while the two Houses of Congress are constitutionally equal, the Senate usually gets the gravy.

This is because the Senate has fewer self-constituted watch dogs. That fine old phrase—"senatorial courtesy"—permits members of that body to do pretty much as they please. It works all the way from a shave and a haircut in their own private barber shop to drinking mineral waters in their cloakrooms.

It's far different in the House. There are any number of self-appointed guardians of the "people's

LOCALS TRIM SNOW HILL TO 6-3 TUNE

Clean fielding and opportune stick-work enabled Greenville to defeat Snow Hill at Third Street School grounds here yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 3.

Led by "Skipper" Milton Harrington, who made good several difficult chances in center field, the "Bugs" showed probably the best form of the season and rapped out eight safeties to virtually put the game on ice.

The locals started their scoring early and maintained a definite lead throughout the game. Davis held the visitors fairly well in hand, and close hurling in one or two pinches enabled him to retire the side with the big end of the score still in hand. He allowed seven hits. Newman was rapped for eight bingles that were so well bunched they were gured largely in the tallying.

Wagner, Dameron and Farley walked away with batting honors for Greenville, each being credited with two safeties. Tuck collected two hits for the visitors.

Billy Brown, local boy who was switched from first base to left field and from there to right field, covered considerable territory, making outs of several Snow Hill drives which under other circumstances might have gone for safeties.

Greenville went to Snow Hill today to repeat the performance and climb up nearer the top of the standing of clubs' column where Ayden still remains undisturbed.

BRITISH START VOLUMES FOR LIBRARIES OF 7,084
 London—(AP)—A set of books that may not be finished for a century and a half, is in the making here. It is "The Complete Survey of the Historical Monuments of England" which was begun in 1908 when a royal commission was set up by Parliament. London's monument alone take up five volumes.

Similar commissions are carrying out surveys in Wales and Scotland, though their tasks aren't half as large.

TWO PITTSBORO MEN ARRESTED IN RICHMOND
 Richmond, Va., June 15.—Two young men hailing from Pittsboro, N. C., and booked as Jack Anderson, alias Jack Williams, and Charles W. Anderson, alias Charles Williams, were being held here last night as fugitives from that town, police information being that they were wanted there for alleged theft of an automobile.

The one giving the name of Chas. Anderson was fined $25 today in police court for carrying a concealed weapon.

Cheese manufactured in Mississippi plants last year totaled about 6,500,000 pounds.

LOSES $3,000 CLAM FOR LOSS OF COUPLE OF TEETH

Elizabeth City, N. C., June 15.—A jury in Superior Court here yesterday found against Robert White in his suit for $3,000 damages for two teeth which were broken out when, he claimed, he bit down on a plug of chewing tobacco. White set forth in his complaint that a third tooth in his mouth was broken by the bite that he had to have it pulled. For three teeth he asked the sum of $3,000. White claimed there was a flattened piece of steel in the plug.

Why Some Men Succeed

What a difference there is in men! Some of them are full of pep, energy, ability. They think straight and they think fast. They get there ahead of the other fellow. What's the difference? Usually a man eats success or failure at the breakfast table. Often he makes or loses a contract according to what he eats for lunch. Wise eating is the smartest thing a business man can do. At least one meal a day, especially in this warm weather, eat Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit. If you didn't have any other food you could live on this combination, and be mighty well on it, too. It gives your body all it needs for energy, tissue building, and disease resistance, and it gives you bran to keep you regular. The right food has a great deal to do with your success. Try Shredded Wheat for one meal a day, and see what happens!

BAER SCORES RING VICTORY OVER ITALIAN

New York, June 15.—(AP)—Reverberating from the smashing savagery of the most spectacular battle of big men in nearly eleven years of ring history the fight world acclaimed a raw heavyweight world champion, Max Baer, of California, a curly-haired wolf of a man, who combines a contemptuous grin and the stage mannerism of a movie actor with a killing right hand punch. Wild magnificent gestures and absolute disregard for anything his assailant could do and a sporadic but vicious onslaught, Baer trapped the helpless Primo Carnera in the eleventh round of a 15-round battle before a roaring crowd of 52,000 in Madison Square Garden's Long Island jaw, thereby ending the Italian's one-year rule at the top of the heavyweight ladder and bringing the crowd back to America. Carnera was knocked down no less than eleven times from the force of Baer's smashing blows before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the one-sided affair with only 44 seconds to go in the eleventh round and awarded the bout to the 25-year-old American on a technical knockout. As the challenger, Baer received 12 1/2 per cent, or $45,169 of the gate receipts. Carnera's share of the purse, 37 1/2 per cent, was $135,508. Jack Dempsey who received a cut of 7 1/2 per cent for releasing Baer from contract, pocketed $27,101, while the milk fund out of 10 per cent amounted to $36,135.

ARMY POSTS IN PHILIPPINES SEEN AS DEFENSE NUCLEUS FOR INDEPENDENT ISLANDS

By E. E. BOMAR
Manila, P. I.—(AP)—The United States will abandon about 700,000 acres in military posts when the Philippines becomes free about 1945, under the independence act accepted by the legislature on May 1.

Major General Frank Parker, commandant of the department of the Philippines, thinks the transfer can be made with little difficulty. American forces now include about 550 officers and 4,000 enlisted men, plus 62 officers and 6,398 soldiers of the Philippine Scouts, native Philippines whose service is restricted to the islands.

"We are not certain that we shall withdraw gradually or all at once," he said. "But we can do either with equal ease. Mobilization is an essential attribute of a good arm."

Islands Might Buy Posts
General Parker suggested that an independent Philippine government might wish to take over some or all of the American equipment, including the artillery on the island of Corregidor, the one-time "American Gibraltar" commanding the entrance to Manila Bay.

The Washington arms treaty of 1922 forbade the further fortification of Corregidor, but it still is rated as a formidable fortress.

General Parker said disposition of the Philippine Scouts need not be difficult because "by 1944 practically all will have been retired on Federal pensions."

Start of Philippine Army
Others he said might be the nucleus for a Philippine army, if one were decided upon, or incorporated in the Philippine constabulary, a military police force of about 6,000 maintained by the insular government to keep order in the far-flung archipelago.

Two score Scouts recently were retired with pensions upon a ruling of the District of Columbia Supreme Court in a test case.

General Parker predicted that more adequate internal policing would be necessary with the United States out of the picture. He admitted the American army was not in a position to defend the islands from a major external foe, but pointed out "the world knows there are millions more where we come from."

Soldiers Spending Missed
He suggested that the soldiers' pay that has been largely spent in the islands, amounting to about $5,500,000 a year, will be missed, though the War Department has made many of its purchases of supplies from outside the Philippines.

The 700,000 acres of land set aside for military purposes is contained in eight posts, flying fields and such establishments, chief of which are Fort Santiago, the headquarters, at Manila; Fort Mills, on Corregidor Island, where some 3,300 men are stationed; Fort McKinley, near Manila, manned by 3,100, and Fort Stotsenburg, a cavalry post 57 miles north of Manila, where 2,100 are located.

New York Cotton

New York, June 15.—(AP)—Cotton futures were fairly steady, four to nine points lower on Liverpool cables, favorable weather and the German moratorium.

Trading was quiet active at the start with July selling off to 11.48 and December to 12.23 under liquidation combined with moderate selling. The decline to 12.10 for October making reactions of about 35 points from the high of Wednesday brought in some buying on old trade limits. July rallied to 11.99 and December to 12.27, and the market was holding within two to three points of yesterday's closing quotation for active months at the end of the first half hour.

Offerings became very light later in the morning and prices worked up on fresh buying coming from commission houses. The general list showed advances of three to six points at midday.

Futures closed steady; four points lower to one point higher; spots steady; middling 12.15.

'BABY NRA' IS ONE YEAR OLD

The first birthday of NRA, that world famous child of the depression, will be celebrated at a party in Washington June 15. Since President Roosevelt signed the industrial recovery act, June 16, 1933, it has affected more millions of people than any other new deal legislation except laws dealing with banks and money. The story of NRA's first year is that of its administrator, Hugh S. Johnson (left). This hard-working onetime general is not the sole author of NRA's basic ideas but his personality and his beliefs have dominated it every step of the way. The first NRA blue eagle symbol is shown at left and the one recently adopted is at right. (Associated Press Photos) offered what he termed a counter proposal to the revised Wagner labor bill submitted to the industry by President Roosevelt in a move to avert the strike.

The gist of the plan contained four points:
An impartial board of three named by the President to adjust all violations of codes; to mediate and conciliate any disputes; to offer its services as arbitrators and with authority to determine any matter of discrimination or discharge of any employe.

All grievances and complaints to be referred to the board for final decision.
President Michael Tighe of the Steel Workers Union, advanced a plan that he would propose to the convention that the Green plan be submitted to the committee for study and then reported to the floor.

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY
Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon us in a deed of trust executed by Alonzo Boyd and wife, Lizzie Boyd, on the 10th day of March, 1923, and recorded in Book U-14, page 529, we will on Saturday, the 30th day of June, 1934, at 12 o'clock noon at the Courthouse door in Pitt County, Greenville, N. C., sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land to-wit:

BEGINNING at an iron pin with pointers in the run of said Pine Log Branch canal, a corner between Mary E. Tyson and Lawrence Anderson; thence with the agreed chopped line made between Ruel Willoughby and George W. Hemby and Arden Byrum in the year 1884 and recorded in Book F-4, page 287 as follows: S. 7 E. 112 ft.; S. 2-30 E. 257 ft.; S. 1-20 E. 153 ft.; S. 3-30 E. 155 ft.; S. 0-30 E. 98 ft.; S. 6-05 E. 50 ft.; S. 2-40 E. 289 ft.; S. 1-50 E. 261 ft.; S. 2-20 E. 242 ft.; S. 1-40 E. 174 ft.; S. 3-05 E. 183 ft. to an iron pin with pointers on the N. edge of a ditch, a corner between Mary E. Tyson and Lawrence Anderson in Sylvester Hemby's line; thence with the dividing line between said Tyson and Hemby along the N. edge of the ditch N. 81-35 W. 700 ft.; N. 79-35 W. 500 ft. to a maple; N. 79 W. 105 ft. to an iron pin on the N. edge of said ditch, a corner made today between said Tyson and R. E. Willoughby; thence with the dividing line made today between said Tyson and Willoughby N. 92 ft. to an iron stake with pointers, another corner between them; thence with another of their dividing lines made today N. 77-55 E. 952 ft. to an iron stake with pointers in a ditch, another corner between them; thence with another dividing line made between them today through the field N. 2-10 W. 1169 ft. to the center of the Stan-tonburg Rd.; thence with the said road N. 75-20 E. 521 ft.; N. 56 E. 195 ft. to the center of Pine Log Canal bridge; thence up the run of the said canal to the beginning, containing 93 acres, more or less.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of Alonzo Boyd and wife, Lizzie Boyd, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust.
A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale.
This the 24th day of May, 1934.
