POWELL HELD UNDER BOND

Carpenter Bound Over On Criminal Assault Charge in Hearing Yesterday

Fred Powell, Greenville carpenter, charged with criminally attacking a local girl under sixteen years of age, was given preliminary hearing before Magistrate H. L. Jenkins here yesterday afternoon and bound over to Superior Court under bond of $750.00. He was unable to give bond and was remanded to jail. Effort, however, was being made today to provide bail.

Probable cause was found against Powell in the initial hearing, although he vigorously denied the charge.

Powell was taken into custody by Constable C. W. Evans here Tuesday after a warrant had been sworn out by D. C. Creech, father of the girl the prisoner is alleged to have attacked.

Officers said that Powell carried the girl to the Pactolus vicinity and hid her for three days. It was during this time that the alleged criminal attack took place.

Powell declared he did not assault the girl, arresting officers said.

Dr. Combs Appeals For Support of Bible School

By DR. G. R. COMBS

The citizens of Greenville have, I believe, a fine appreciation of all institutions and movements that stand for moral values and character building. Generally they give prompt and generous response to such movements. But the response to our appeal for the raising of a modest sum to help the churches of the community to conduct a Daily Vacation Bible School has not been what we had hoped. Several organizations and individuals have sent in generous contributions to this fund and to these we express our appreciation both for their promptness and liberality. But the most of us, I presume, are beset with a great temptation to "pass the buck," or delay, in such matters. But we should welcome the privilege of having a part in a movement that means so much to the future welfare of our community and the character development of our children.

The school is starting off with every promise of gratifying success. It has an excellent enrollment and the teaching staff has been carefully selected from the best equipped workers of the city. In selecting the instructors we have given primary consideration to Christian character as well as teaching preparation and experience. We hope and believe that the school will prove so productive of good that it will become a regular feature of our summer program for the city.

I have been asked to serve as chairman of the joint finance committee. This committee is composed of the following men, representing the various churches that are supporting and participating in the school: N. C. Warren and Dr. R. S. McGeachy from the Presbyterian Church, Jack Spain and L. B. Fleming from the Disciples Church, E. A. Hobgood and D. J. Whitchard, Jr., from the Memorial Baptist Church, John Clark from the Immanuel Baptist Church, P. H. Kasey from the Protestant Episcopal Church, J. H. Waldrop, J. H. Blount and J. H. Rose from the Methodist Church. These are all busy men, but they are sufficiently interested in this movement to give time and support to it. Let me appeal to every citizen, business organization, club and church society to get in touch at once with one of these men and make your contribution to this cause. The honorariums set up for some of the teachers is nominal and in no sense will compensate them for the work they are gladly doing for the children of the city. Four hundred dollars will meet the total cost of this four weeks' school. Let it be contributed promptly by the loyal citizens of our community who have children and believe in Christian character. We have set Monday night, June 25, as the date when this amount should be in hand. Your contribution will be reported in The Reflector.

GOOD MUSIC AT REVIVAL LAW OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

Special Solos and a Duet Arranged for Service at Presbyterian Church.

Another good crowd, liberally intermixed with representatives of other denominations, attended the series of revival services at the Presbyterian Church here last night.

Officers of the church were described today as greatly pleased with interest manifested in the revival which is scheduled to continue the remainder of the week.

Congregational singing which has been one of the features of the services each night will be accompanied by special musical programs during the remainder of the week, it was said today. In addition to the choir and congregational singing, Mrs. Glenn Scott will sing a solo tonight, Mrs. Charles White, Friday night, Mrs. Dink James, Sunday morning, and for the final service Sunday night a duet will be arranged.

The sermon text last night was a single word—"Eternity."

"I have never yet spoken the word as it ought to be uttered," said Rev. J. R. Potts, who is doing the preaching. "I have tried my best, and failed. How can a man speak a word that takes in the ages of time and all beyond it. A professor of mathematics in Nebraska once said: 'Eternity begins when computation ends.' Someone asked him what that meant. 'It means this,' he said, 'that when the man with the greatest mind the world has' (Continued on page Three.)

FOUR WOMEN DIE IN WRECK NAZI STEAMER

Young Officer of Steamship Dresden Proves Hero in Rescue Activities

Stavanger, Norway, June 21.—(AP)—A young officer was singled out today as the hero of the wreck of the Nazi excursion steamer Dresden in which four women died and many passengers were injured.

The steamer carrying 1,000 German Nazis on a holiday jaunt was knifed by a rock last night in shallow Hardanger fjord.

The Dresden, a 14,000-ton ship of the North German Lloyd line, sank at 7 a. m., today with only a part of her bow showing above the water. Capt. Moller, all of the ship's officers, and a Norwegian remained aboard the stricken ship until 3 a. m., at which time the ship had a 20-degree list and six feet of water in her hold. She was anchored to shore with heavy chains before she went down, so there is hope that she can be salvaged.

In the wild panic that followed the crash, 20 women were lowered to the water in a lifeboat—it drifted too close to the allowing propeller and capsized. Three women were lost and the fourth died from injuries.

Another boat carrying 20 women was being lowered when their gear broke and the occupants were flung into the water.

The young officer, diving boldly from the third deck of the ship went to the rescue of the women, encouraging them and supporting the weakest until the boat came to their aid.

AYDEN PLANS BIG SONGFEST

Community Sing to be Held at High School Sunday Afternoon At 5 o'clock

Preparations were nearing completion today for the community sing to be given at Ayden Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock under the auspices of the Ayden Woman's Club.

The sing will be staged under the direction of Patrick Alderman, of Goldsboro, famed for his successes in this field of musical effort, and Woman's Clubs, members of other organizations and the public generally, have been given a cordial invitation to attend.

The sing will be held on the campus of Ayden High School, and ample seating space will be available for several hundred people.

Preparation for the sing has been under way by the Ayden Club members for sometime, and it is being looked forward to as one of the outstanding events of the county this summer.

Last Rites For Alonzo D. Alford Are Held Today

Funeral services for Alonzo D. Alford, 32, who died here Tuesday night, were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, and burial was made in Tarboro.

Mr. Alford was supervisor of the state highway maintenance for Edgecombe and Pitt counties, and had made his home in Greenville the last two years. He was a native of Edgecombe county, having been born and reared near Tarboro.

He was well liked by numbers of friends here who received news of his death with sorrow. Death followed an operation for appendicitis. He had been sick about three days.

He is survived by his wife, a son and daughter, and several sisters and brothers, in addition to his father, A. A. Alford of Tarboro.

The average yearly crop loss to farmers caused by insects, it is estimated, is $1,500,000,000.

Democrats Meet in Raleigh.
Raleigh, June 21.—(AP)—With party harmony and praise of party leaders as the keynote, each speech the host of North Carolina democracy assembled here today in their biennial convocation.

Cameron Morrison, party leader who served as senator and governor, was vigorously applauded at times as he praised the achievements of Roosevelt and E. A. Tamm, but usually by the crowd of 3,500 persons listened quietly. Morrison, regarded as one of the state's most ardent dry leaders, made no mention of prohibition in his speech. He did not use the word sales tax but read sections of the revenue act levying 3 per cent tax and was applauded as he asserted the party would endorse the manner in which the governor and the administration met the emergency it faced.

FLOYD WILL SPEAK HERE

Head of State Tobacco Campaign to Address Kiwanians at Farmer's Night

E. Y. Floyd, tobacco specialist, in charge of the tobacco program in North Carolina, will be the principal speaker at the twice-a-month meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Woman's Club building tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

In view of the valuable information Mr. Floyd is expected to impart to his hearers, numbers of prominent farmers of the county have been invited to hear him.

Pitt county tobacco growers who were probably the first to complete their tobacco reduction sign-up which was launched by the federal government as a means of boosting prices, are always striving to keep in close personal touch with whatever is doing in the tobacco field, and the things Mr. Floyd says will be received with interest.

Another feature of the session will be reports from Bennett Moseley and Allyn Darden, delegates from the local club to the Toronto International convention of Kiwanis. Both heard lots and did plenty while they were away and while it is said Al told Mrs. Darden just about everything he did while in the Canadian city. Bennett, however, was more reticent on the subject.

TRADE BODY WILL BECOME REAL COURT

Federal Trade Commission to Pass on Cases Affecting The "Little Fellow" and Chiseling; Emphasis To be Placed on Judicial Functions; Pres. Roosevelt Suggested Move

Washington, D. C., June 21.—(AP)—The government, an authoritative source disclosed today, has forged a new weapon to strike at monopolistic oppression of the little fellow and chiseling.

By a far-reaching change in procedure, this source said the Federal Trade Commission is to become a business court to settle out-of-court decision on charges of unfair practices.

The weapon involving basic changes of the relations between the commission and NRA is contained in a technical order issued by the commission.

As this order was explained today, the emphasis is to be placed on the cases of judicial functions. Hitherto its operations have been threefold. Its investigators made complaints and then sat in judgment on its own complaints.

President Roosevelt, it is said, suggested the commission and NRA get together and iron out apparent conflict in practices. Out of this conference between the two the new plan arose.

DEMOCRATS GO TO BIG RALLY

Pitt County Party Members Hie Away To State Convention At Raleigh Today

Pitt County Democrats, great and near-great, hied away today for Raleigh to attend the State Democratic convention.

The convention is always of interest to party members in all sections of the State in view of the fact that delegates are elected to the National Convention and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the party discussed.

Democrats probably were more anxious to attend the meeting this year than ever by reason of the "new deal" which the Roosevelt administration has dished out to the country in no uncertain terms. It is claimed the administration has done more for the nation in a period of a few months than ever was done by a previous administration.

Cameron Morrison, veteran party leader of the day of the "Red Shirts" who quit politics a few years ago for hog-raising, is the convention keynote speaker, and when he gets through talking about his Republican foes, well, enough will be said. "Cam" is the type that feeds brimstone to his opponents.

Pitt County Democrats, who named their delegates at a party gathering two weeks ago, went all cocked to let the convention know "they are present" and have as much to say as anybody else present.

If someone would only be so kind, As to stop to cheer and pay her mind.

Give flowers or kind words, As sweet as the song of the birds, For this she longs the day through, All of this might be done by you.

A smile or a package would do her good, I'd carry her a story book or gift if I could, She would want to repay you for the deed.

Then one day she received a letter From her son of whom she was in need.

And this is how it read: "Oh, dear mother, I'm returning home," he said, "I have enough money and a sweet little wife To care for you the rest of your life."

And with the things he bought, All happiness was restored with delight, That the invalid sought both day and night.

LOCK AND DAM ON CAPE FEAR CLOSED
Wilmington, N. C., June 21.—Officials of the Wilmington district army engineer's office said yesterday that the first lock and dam on the upper Cape Fear River, located at King's Bluff, about 39 miles from Wilmington, is now closed, thus blocking the upper part of the stream to navigation.

The lock and dam were closed Friday. According to a recent notice given by the engineers, the structure will not be re-opened for about three weeks.

The step was taken in order to allow the contracting firm of T. A. Loving & Company of Goldsboro to carry out certain steps of construction in connection with improvement of the lock and dam.

Construction of a third lock and dam, at Tolar's Landing, is under way by the firm of William Eisenberg & Son of Camden, N. J.

SLOT MACHINES ARE PUT UNDER BAN
Durham, N. C., June 21.—Approximately 300 slot machines were outlawed in the city and the county of Durham this morning when Judge J. R. Patton, Jr., in Recorder's Court, issued an order that they all be removed from the county limits by midnight Saturday. A fine of $200 to $500 will be imposed upon the person who possesses a slot machine after the deadline.

Twenty persons plead guilty to charges of operating gambling devices. Four of them were distributors of the machines in the county. Judgment was continued for twelve months, two years in the case of the distributors, upon the payment of the costs amounting to $25 in each case.

Judge Patton pointed out this morning that slot machines have caused a nuisance in Durham County and have taken advantage of persons who could not afford to play them. All machines of chance used as a gambling device were outlawed. The twenty defendants were represented by Attorneys McThompson, of Durham, and F. H. Ginn, of Fayetteville.

BRING BACK RARE 'ANIMALS'
Mr. and Mrs. William Lavarre, returning to New York from a year's exploration in the jungles of British Guiana and Brazil, brought back two "ghost" cubs for identification by scientists at the Washington zoo. Jungle Indians said they had never seen cubs like these before so they called them haka, meaning ghosts. Lavarre believes they are some throw-back form with white jaguar-dog-badger-martin antecedents. (Associated Press Photo) known thinks his way out and out and out into the future, and his mind fails because it can go no farther, that is the beginning of eternity, there is no end. Tonight I stand on the edge of the precipice of time, and I cry, "How long art thou, Eternity?" I get the answer from this book. "The peace of the righteous is everlasting. The doom of the wicked is without end."

"Where will you spend it?" asked the minister. "No one can answer that question but yourself. If I could answer it for you, God knows I would. If your old mother could answer it for you, I know she would. God has placed the power of choice and determination in your hands. God may love, and Jesus may die, and the Spirit may plead, but you alone can settle the question of eternity. Where will you spend it?"

The sermon was well illustrated with human interest stories and was delivered in an impressive manner. Many who heard it said it was the most impressive of the meeting so far.

Special effort was being put forth today to have a large congregation of young people Friday night. The service will be especially interesting.

SLOT MACHINES ARE PUT UNDER BAN
Durham, N. C., June 21.—Approximately 300 slot machines were outlawed in the city and the county of Durham this morning when Judge J. R. Patton, Jr., in Recorder's Court, issued an order that they all be removed from the county limits by midnight Saturday. A fine of $200 to $500 will be imposed upon the person who possesses a slot machine after the deadline.

Twenty persons plead guilty to charges of operating gambling devices. Four of them were distributors of the machines in the county. Judgment was continued for twelve months, two years in the case of the distributors, upon the payment of the costs amounting to $25 in each case.

Judge Patton pointed out this morning that slot machines have caused a nuisance in Durham County and have taken advantage of persons who could not afford to play them. All machines of chance used as a gambling device were outlawed. The twenty defendants were represented by Attorneys McThompson, of Durham, and F. H. Ginn, of Fayetteville.

BUGS TAKE SNOW HILL FOR A RIDE

By R. O. MOYE

Gathering a total of eighteen hits off the offerings of Longest and Newsome, and playing a brand of ball that was superior to any seen this season, the Greenville Bugs defeated Snow Hill by the score of 9-7 yesterday.

The game was a nip and tuck affair with the locals always staying in the lead. Snow Hill threatened to overcome the two run lead in the 9th when they had two on base and none out but a beautiful double play, the third of the day, saved the victory.

Roger Taylor started pitching for the locals and was not relieved until the eighth inning. Roger did a mighty fine piece of work and at times when his meant runs struck out the batter on several occasions. He was relieved by Davis in the 8th when they pitched only one inning and it was then that May went in in the last inning to get the game over. Hulskamp had a big day at the bat, getting two triples and two singles for as many trips to the bat. Dameron got three singles, Bostic three, and Weaver three.

Snow Hill used two hurlers to stop the onslaught of the locals but were of no avail. Longest who lasted for only two innings, yielded a total of five hits, while Newsome was hit for a total of 13 in the remaining seven innings. Snow Hill made five mistakes while the locals made three. Cheek, Perry and Griffith with two safeties each led the Snow Hill attack.

TARBORO LOSES AGAIN
 Kinston, June 21.—A number of local fans decided yesterday to lend their moral support to the luckless Tarboro club, but this moral support didn't ward off the 12th consecutive loss for the Edgecombe county club. Kinston won 9 to 2, and Tarboro's percentage remained at nothing. It was the locals' sixth consecutive win.

Tarboro offered a revamped lineup, but the changes didn't help. In fact, bad judgment by the visitors allowed to go for the base hits, several blows which should have been fielded. As a result of the poor defensive play the locals collected a total of 14 safeties.

The visitors made only six hits off McKeithan, University of North Carolina hurler. Half of Tarboro's safeties were triples—hit by Brown, Lee and Jenkins. Tommy Irwin, Kinston's star shortstop, hit two doubles and a single.

Batteries: Tarboro — Shoaf and Richardson; Kinston — McKeithan and Tatum.

AYDEN BESTS NEW BERN
 New Bern, June 21.—Bradley's fuke homer in the fourth with three on bases paved the way for Ayden to defeat New Bern 6-3 here yesterday. It was one of three hits made by Bradley, who led the league eight-hit attack against two local hurlers.

The locals' seven-hit collection was headed by Norwood's double and single. A record holiday crowd turned out for the game.

Batteries: Ayden — Shields and Smith; New Bern—Kennel, Flythe and H. Perebe.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

It has been kept somewhat of a deep, dark secret so far, but it is about time that the National League close the nominations and elected William B. McKechnie, boss of the Braves, as manager of the all-star team which hopes to turn the tables on the American League in the all-star game at the Polo Grounds on July 10.

It may be argued, with Bill Terry's world champion Giants still on top of the heap, that the pilot of the best club in the league should also be selected to direct the all-star proceedings. Bill, however, will be in the game as the first baseman for the second straight year and it would seem sufficient to let him focus his main attention on personal chores, with a bench manager with McKechnie's well-known qualifications pulling the strategic strings.

There would be no harm in Terry acting as field leader, for that matter, but no sense of seniority and an all-around record for shrewdness in handling players, the job of replacing John McGraw belongs to Bill McKechnie.

Sound Grounds For Doubt

There has no doubt been sound basis for the criticism of Germany's treatment of the Jewish issue, which started out as a purely political proposition but quickly got all tangled up with athletics. German Jews were, in effect, barred from competition or even the opportunity to have fair tryouts for athletic teams, according to trustworthy advices to American officials.

Not even formal assurances from Germany's Olympic leaders served to remove the suspicion that such prejudice had been eliminated, and it was with the existence of this feeling that the American Olympic Association again tabled the dynamite-laden issue at its last session in New York.

The American attitude, rightfully so, is that the Olympic Games should not be permitted to develop racial discrimination. There have been many Olympic squabbles in the past and no doubt there will be more in the future but the basic world-wide character of the games has been and should be kept intact, without being subjected to transient governmental whims and fancies.

Too Late To Change

It would cause the biggest kind of an upheaval now to shift the scene of the 1936 games. Only the severest indictment of Germany's attitude would be regarded as sufficient grounds for so drastic a step. It would hardly be good business judgment, let alone good sportsmanship, for the Teutons to give cause for the International Olympic Committee to cancel its award to Berlin.

In the first place, it takes at least five or six years to prepare for the Olympics. Its organization is one of the most complex things maintainable, calling not only for a tremendous program of physical construction but the most exhaustive and detailed organization.

Local Grocers To Adopt Code

A certificate of authority from the National Food and Grocery Distributors' Code Authority of Washington has just been received in Greenville. A meeting will be held Thursday night, June 21 at the City Hall at 8 o'clock.

New York Cotton

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, one to three points higher in trade buying and covering owing to the high temperatures in the western belt and report that the government would buy at least 255,000 bales of cotton for relief work.

Both trade and commission houses were among buyers with demand coming partly from brokers with continental and Japanese connections. By the end of the first half hour prices had worked up to 12.30 for C-10 with active months showing advances of four to seven points.

After selling up to 12.31 for October, making advances of about five to seven points on active months, the market ruling about net unchanged to two higher at midday. Futures closed steady, one point higher to six points lower, spots quiet; middling 12.20.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Some of the silver shares gleamed brighter today and stocks sentiment showed signs of improvement. While there was some intermittent activity in some of the groups of equities, the trading dullness of previous session persisted in most departments.

Many operators were admittedly out of the market for the time being, apparently waiting for some further motivation from economic and private sources.

Commission houses, the majority of which are in the red because of much business, generally were in the gloom.

The stocks of declining grains and were interpreted as hopeful. Wheat dropped more than a cent a bushel. Gold and silver mining issues were firm and some chemical issues showed a better tone. U. S. Steel,

Commission houses, the majority of which are in the red because of much business, generally were in the gloom.

The stocks of declining grains and were interpreted as hopeful. Wheat dropped more than a cent a bushel. Gold and silver mining issues were firm and some chemical issues showed a better tone. U. S. Steel,

Governor Ehringhaus, listened to as was Morrison, usually in silence, was roundly applauded when he said that the Democratic party had fulfilled every pledge made in 1932 and that the party would pledge itself to preserve public schools and expand its aid just as far as finances will permit.

The official membership of the convention revised, was announced as 3,314 with an equal number of alternates, but hundreds stayed out of the auditorium where the cooling system failed to lower the temperature below 82 degrees. Shirt sleeves and fans were prominent in the flag draped hall.

Lynch Negro In Texas

Kirbyville, Tex., June 21.—(AP)—Two hundred white men last night took Son Griggs, negro, 30, from officers and hanged him, after he had been seen in the company of a 17-year-old white girl.

The mob stopped the car of the officers as they were taking the negro to Orange for safe keeping, tied a rope around his neck, dragged him away and hanged him. Seventeen shots were fired at the body as it dangled in the air. The crowd cut the body down and dragged it over the country behind a car and then dumped it nude and mangled near the door of a box factory commissary.

Both the negro and white girl were jailed and when the sheriff was told the mob threatened to break into the jail he decided to take them to Orange. The mob met the officers about 7 miles from Kirbyville.
