BIBLE SCHOOL FUND SWELLS

Total Contributions Today Given as $304.30; $100 is Yet Required

The fund being raised here for the Daily Vacation Bible School continued to move toward the top today in spite of the hot wave and human tendency to "flop" until improved weather conditions take place.

Additional contributions from Mr. W. I. Wooten, $5.00; from Joe Johnson $1; Greenville Banking and Trust Company $5, and W. H. Woolard $2, were received today to push the total up to $275.00 for the day.

With other church committees expected to canvass during the week, it was hoped the additional $100 required for total expenses of the school would be raised by the end of the week. The sum required for the four weeks' operation of the school is $400.

Over two hundred students were enrolled when the Bible school started the first of last week. They are receiving instruction in the Bible, handwork, and moral and physical improvement and will be returned to public school campuses in the fall to do their bit toward helping improve the moral atmosphere to the entire student body.

INTEREST IN PRIMARY LAGS

Pitt County to Go to Polls Saturday to Select House Member and Treasurer

Interest in the run-off primary to be held in this county next Saturday apparently has flopped noticeably during the blistering weather attack of the last few days, but with the day of balloting just a few days off the voting public is expected to take a squint at the four candidates and decide upon their favorites.

Involved in the race are Jack Edwards of Greenville, member of the House in the last legislature, and John Hill Paylor of Farmville, who ran ahead of Edwards and Bruce Eure of Ayden. M. O. Blount of Bethel, the highest man, obtained sufficient votes to assure his nomination to one of the two House seats.

Edwards ran next to Paylor and was eligible under the law to call for a second primary. This he did and since that time both he and Paylor have been scouring the countryside in an effort to rally their supporters on the day of balloting.

The next race is between A. T. Moore, county treasurer, and Vance Perkins. Perkins ran next to Moore in the six-cornered race and announced the same day that Edwards came out he would be in the second race.

One other second contest of township importance will take place in Swift Creek for constable. Although the candidates are hoping to draw out a comparatively large vote Saturday, the balloting is not expected to be nearly as large as the first primary when around eight thousand people went to the polls to register their sentiment, one of the largest numbers in the history of the county.

Pitt county people got in the habit of voting full strength when Roosevelt was sent to the White House on a landslide vote, and it isn't likely they will forget when the polls open Saturday morning to decide a second member of the House and a county treasurer.

Lightning Strikes Twice Winchester, Va.—(AP)—Lightning struck the home of Mrs. Tomas S. Crockett, near here, and plunged the house into darkness, although no serious damage was done. About the same time a bolt struck on another farm she owned some distance away and killed two horses.

Siamese kitten usually are left with their mothers until they are three months old.

FIERCE FIGHT CONTINUES AT BOLIVIAN FORT

Paraguayans Battle for Advantage in Effort to Capture Bolivian

Buenos Aires, June 26.—(AP)—After nearly a fortnight of steady fighting, 100,000 Bolivian and Paraguayan troops were still locked today in a prolonged battle for Fort Ballivian, Bolivian stronghold in the Chaco Boreal. Because of Paraguayan flanking attempts the line of battle is gradually extending northward until the Paraguayans are attacking intermittently up and down the front with three alternative objectives. They are: To dislodge the Bolivians from Avanti and Bolivian at the south end of the line.

To pierce the Bolivian line in the Canadian stronghold and L'Carren, sectors farther to the northern border to give wedge behind Fort Ballivian to the Philcomayo River.

To outflank the Bolivians at the northern end of the line in the hope of cutting off the Bolivian communications with Gorinby, the next important stronghold.

ROTES NAME COMMITTEES

Clubmen Make Preparations For Beginning of New Club Year July 1st

The naming of committees to have charge of Rotary Club activities during the new fiscal year was the highlight of last night's meeting of the local club.

The list was read by Herbert ReBarker, newly-elected president, who will be inducted into office next Monday night, along with Carl Adams, vice-president; Claude Gaskins, secretary-treasurer, and members of the board of directors.

The entire meeting last night was confined to discussion of functions of the various committees, singing of club songs and the usual supper.

The committees follow:

Aims and Objects Committee—Herbert ReBarker, chairman; J. H. Waldrop, Claude Gaskins, Charles O. H. Horne, H. J. McGinnis, and A. W. Fleischmann.

Club Service—H. J. McGinnis, chairman; E. W. Harvey, and R. L. Powell.

THE NAVY SAVED HIS LIFE

W. A. Robinson and his wife, Florence Crane Robinson, are shown in a hospital at Ancon, Canal Zone, where he is convalescing. The Robinsons were traveling around the world in a small sloop when the young explorer was stricken with acute appendicitis in the Galapagos islands. In answer to Mrs. Robinson's radio messages the navy rushed aid by air and sea from the Canal Zone and was responsible for saving his life. Robinson expects to resume his travels after he fully recovers. (Associated Press Photo)

STREET WORK CLEAN-UP WEEK STARTS TODAY PUSHED TODAY

Construction Forces Here Ready to Begin Resurfacing of Dickinson Avenue

Construction forces were on hand today for the beginning of operations looking to the resurfacing of Dickinson Avenue, from the Coast Line depot to Five Points.

Work was to have started yesterday, but inability of the contractors to get their machinery and forces on hand caused delay until probably today or tomorrow.

The work was scheduled to begin several weeks ago but the contractors became involved in some other sections and were unable to get machinery and men on the job before this week.

The reinforcing of weak places in the brick paving was completed sometime ago and everything was in readiness for the actual work of resurfacing.

When completed the avenue is expected to be one of the smoothest streets in the city. Uneven places in the pavement have impeded traffic to an extent in past years, but this condition will be relieved when the resurfacing is completed.

Dickinson Avenue, especially the section involved in the repaving, is one of the busiest in the city during the tobacco season, and its improvement will be received with gratification by growers who visit the city from day to day as well as residents.

Nat B. Sewell, State Fiscal Examiner, reports governmental departments in Kentucky have decreased their expenditures about one-third.

In January, 1922, twenty-five inches of snow fell in twenty-four hours at Washington, D. C., a record greater than any at New York, Chicago, Boston or St. Paul since the U. S. Weather Bureau began keeping records.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

25 FEET DANGEROUS PARKING

Parking within twenty-five feet of the intersection of curb lines is not allowed. This is one type of parking violation, frequently committed, which is extremely dangerous. The reason for this is that the view of the intersecting street is shut off and drivers are not able to observe approaching cross traffic. Also this clear "corner zone" helps pedestrians and drivers to see each other.

SEVEN HELD IN SLAYING OF THREE MEN

Canadians Charged With Slaying Highway Workers Near McAlister, Okla.

McAlister, Okla., June 26.—(AP)—Seven persons were being held for investigation in the mysterious slaying of three Canadian-Oklahoma highway workers whose bodies were found late yesterday in the hill country, twenty miles northeast of here, two days after they had disappeared from their homes. In the vicinity where the bodies of Homer Beasley, Hobard Watkins and Bill Gann were found officers discovered a scribbled accusation on the back of a campaign card.

Officers theorized the note was written by Gann as he faced death. It read:

"Jack Rackley, Phil Moore and George Baker killed Homer and Hobard and maybe me."

The three men named, also Canadians, were arrested along with the wives of Moore and Baker.

All denied knowledge of the crime which officers said may have been caused by a bootlegging war.

BUCK PUTS IN FIRST TOBACCO

Black Jack Farmer Continues to Cling to Distinction of Housing First Leaf

The annual business of "putting in" the tobacco crop of Pitt county, the largest bright leaf producing county in the world, started today when W. Les Buck, farmer of the Black Jack community, put in his first barn of the golden leaf.

Buck for the last several years has been the first grower to win the honor of "putting in" the first tobacco, and he was very happy over his ability to continue to cling to the distinction this year.

With the leaf reaching a state of maturity in several parts of the county the housing of the crop for curing is expected to hit its stride in the next two or three weeks. Thousands of tobacco barns will be fired up and persons traveling along the highways at night will be attracted by the weird glow of fire in barn furnaces.

Lack of rain damaged the Pitt county crop to some extent this year, and wind and hail over the week-end took a severe toll in the Black Jack, Cox Mill districts, but some of the producers are expecting a pretty good yield.

Then, too, the government reduction plan is expected to take away about thirty per cent of the normal yield. The crop will be light compared with previous years but the prospect of improved prices brought about by the government program has brought cheer to the thousands of men, women and children engaged in the tremendous task of producing the great money crop of the district.

From now on reports of farmers putting in tobacco will be received from all parts of the county and they will herald the beginning of the annual task of curing the tobacco in preparation for the opening of the market during the latter part of the summer.

Mrs. Nancy Cannon Buried At Ayden Monday Afternoon

Ayden, N. C., June 26.—Mrs. Nancy E. Cannon, 76, wife of Erasmus Cannon, a prominent citizen of Ayden, who died at her home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was buried Monday at 3 p. m. in the local cemetery.

The funeral service was conducted from the late home by her pastor, Rev. E. H. Canady of the Missionary Baptist Church.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. C. L. Stokes, Mrs. R. I. Smith, Mrs. Susan Manning, Mrs. Emma Cannon, all of Ayden; four sons, Richard, Thad J. R. R. of Ayden, and B. T. Cannon of Greenville; two brothers, Sebron Cox, Maryland; Biggs Cox, Martin County; forty-nine grandchildren and twenty-seven great-grandchildren.

Late News Flashes

Charge Sabotage in CCC

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—Evidence that 12 CCC trucks had been sabotaged by the introduction of sand into their oiling systems were given today to the House military sub-committee probing War Department expenditures.

An apparent reason for the sabotage, committee members told reporters, probably was to discredit the trucks.

Submitted for the committee records by Rep. Goss of Connecticut was a letter from Brig. Gen. A. G. Lott, commanding officer at Fort Riley, Kas., to War Department officials.

General Lott recalled it had been necessary to replace the motors in 12 Fargo trucks and added:

"A thorough probe of the motors when they were torn down by the Swanson Motor Co. revealed the fact that an act of sabotage had been committed and from samples of residue in the pans and in the oil chambers it was determined an abrasive material consisting of sharp crystal sand had been poured into the oil reservoir of each motor."

Orders Factor's Release

Chicago, June 26.—(AP)—Judge Evan T. Evans of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today ordered the release of John Factor, wealthy speculator from the Sycamore, Ill. jail, where he had been held pending the issuance of final orders for his extradition to England on a charge of defrauding investors of

CHICAGO CAFE MAN KIDNAPED

Andrew Sciacca Believed Held For Ransom by Band of Abductors Today

Chicago, Ill., June 26.—(AP)—A band of kidnapers was believed by police today to be holding Andrew Sciacca for ransom.

Sciacca, 50-year-old owner of the Oriental Cafe, was seized by five or six men early today while he was putting his car into his garage at his home at 5346 West Jackson Boulevard. The abductors were armed with revolvers and a shotgun.

"We're police officers," the leader of the band said, as they jerked Sciacca from his auto and dragged him to another motor car and drove away.

The victim's children were with their father in the car when the snatch occurred. They had ridden home with him after he had closed up his place of business for the night. One of them ran into the house and summoned police. Just as they arrived a telephone call was received warning not too notify the police.

Light Docket Before Court

Wheels of Justice Grind Monotonously Under Hottest Temperatures of Year

County court was in session again today, and while it was so hot that some of the officials felt like they would melt and run down in their shoes, they managed to move the dozen or more cases with rapidity and without threat of running a hot box.

The docket, like last week, was light again today with indications that work would be completed during the mid-afternoon.

The majority of cases consisted of charges of larceny, assault and other cases of a similar nature.

Mrs. Eva Harris and Infant Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Mae Harris, 40, and an infant born a few hours before the death of the mother, were conducted from the home near Greenville yesterday at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. Jack Tyson of Farmville. Burial was made in the family burial ground.

Mrs. Harris was a member of the Oak Grove Christian Church, near Stokes. She is survived by her husband, three children, in addition to several brothers and sisters.

The following were pall bearers: J. L. Simmons, Walter Briley, Wesley Johnson, Marshall House, A. J. Cox and R. F. Bristow.

NO INTENTION OF STRESSING ANY POLITICS

After Speaking to the Nation Mr. Roosevelt Will Clear up His Desk Friday For Beginning of Cruise Saturday; Signs Prison Industries Measure and "Glad To do it"

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will talk to the nation over the air at 9:30 (Eastern Standard Time) Thursday presumably to give a report on the State and Nation's affairs.

He has given a few such talks since he became President on March 4, 1933. The status of the forthcoming address was not made known.

Returning to Washington from a trip into New England, the President emphasized he had no intention of injecting politics into any talks he may make upon his return across the country from the West coast this summer.

This word was given out through Secretary T. E. A. as a result of speculation on the political significance of Mr. Roosevelt's cross-country trip this summer during his journey from Hawaii.

After making his talk to the nation, Mr. Roosevelt will clear up his desk on Friday and depart on Saturday from Annapolis on his cruise.

Mr. Roosevelt worked today on government business which must be disposed of this week.

He signed some bills, including the authorizing formation of corporation to insure a more effective diversification of prison industries.

"I am glad to approve this bill," he said in a statement, "because it represents a distinct advance in the progress of prison industry."

"Without any important competition with private industry or labor, the government can provide increasingly useful work for those who need to learn how to work and to learn that work in itself is honorable and is a practical substitute for criminal methods of earning one's livelihood."

Mr. Roosevelt has a call at Port Au Prince, Haiti, on his tentative program for the cruise to Hawaii.

There is very little talk here regarding the second primary to be held Saturday indicating that there is very little interest in it and that the vote will be small.

POLITICS at random

By BRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

It was not by accident that it fell to Vice-President Garner, above all others, to fire the first shot of the Democratic Congressional campaign.

Loyal, But Silent The inside story of the change provides one more example of Mr. Roosevelt's extraordinary knack for conciliation and team-work.

SPITE MARRIAGE by Katharine Haviland Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Marsha Moore's mother was gay and flirtatious, and not much of a mother. Her father concealed his rebuffs behind a smiling countenance and taught Marsha not to care deeply for anyone—excepting herself.

Chapter Two TEN YEARS

THE ten years that lay between Miss Gertrude Moore at thirty and Miss Gertrude Moore at forty taught Marsha a great deal of how to manage—with many other things.

Admiration often "quite wearied her" arrested and condensed; a little bright gleam would come to their eyes. Marsha measured men by the gleam and its intensity, and to stretch Mr. Klipping's line a bit, she learned about women from them.

Marsha, at twenty-six, was loudly frank in admitting that women bored her, and she thought they did. She did not consider the fact that the man who is stupid in business usually professes a distaste for business.

She walked alone a good part of the time, always when she did not select from the ranks one of the many admiring males. To be just to her, women did not give her a chance and men gave her too much chance; and this often makes trouble.

so noiselessly that its extent is not yet generally understood, even in Washington. Only a small percentage of members fully realize all Garner had to do with the success of the Roosevelt legislative program during the last session.

should sum it all up in a statement to the country—a statement which would serve as a springboard for the coming campaign.

They decided it should be someone outside the Cabinet, outside the domestic life of office-holders by Presidential appointment. In the end the choice fell unanimously, probably for the first time in history, not on the Speaker or any other titular party leader, but on the Vice-President.

Among his most cherished possessions, Garner took back to Texas with him a very short and very direct personal note from the President, expressing appreciation. It was full of such warmly affectionate terms that a few of his dearest friends.

Director Big Duck
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
Director Big Duck waddled forth to meet the parent ducks he saw coming toward him.
He was a fine, big, strong duck, and his wife who waddled after him was just the one the parents felt would look after their ducklings properly.
"Quack, quack, good-day," quacked Director Big Duck. "Have you come to see our camp? Yes, I know you have. Well, you see the sign in duck webbed-foot writing on that tree—'The Ducklings' Camp.' I've just finished making it. All along by the east shore of the lake where it is sandy the little ducks will sleep and where those long water reeds are just out into the lake they'll take their naps.
"The first thing we do every morning is to sing the Rising Quacking chorus. Then Mrs. Big Duck sees that they get a good breakfast. After that they walk around or play or do whatever they wish until it is time to tidy the place and they help Mrs. Big Duck do that.
"Then we have exercises. I teach them to flap their wings in correct time and I teach them how to fly in formation. Our flying drill is very splendid. We have another swim and then we have lunch. After lunch they all put their heads under their wings for short naps.
"Next we waddle around the outskirts of the lake and have nature lessons. We play splashing and other games before supper in the afternoon that we most want to do. That gives us lots of suggestions. Then we have supper and story telling."
The parent ducks were much impressed.

TRUMP OR NO TRUMP?
By Tom O'Neil
Original bids of no trump with most players are strong. When partner of the opener has a long suit that is solid, or nearly so, naturally he has hopes of slam.
Usually something more besides the responding hand's good suit is needed for success at a slam, such as an outside trick or a void. Difficulties are encountered occasionally in taking the bidding beyond the three no trump point where one suit is the only thing partner can contribute to the opening bidder.
In illustration is a hand from a rubber game at Garden City, N. Y. Trying for slam, William J. Manning wound up in five diamonds. A no trump game with an overtrick was a laydown. Five diamonds needed an end play for success. The hand:

In answer to North's opening one no trump South bid three diamonds. After a three no trump offer by North, South rebid diamonds. North assisted the diamonds to five. East, sitting over the no trump bidder in three suits, doubled. He would have been wiser to wait. South probably would have bid six.
With no trouble at all, at no trump the declaring side could take six diamond tricks, one spade, two hearts and a club. With diamonds the question was how to avoid losing a heart and two clubs. The declarer met the problem by eliminating spades and hearts from the North and South hands so that East had to lead a club.
West opened the club nine, which North ducked. East dived with the queen. North taking with the king. The double East marked the king and jack of spades in that hand. The spade ace was led from the North hand and a spade trumped South. There was a return to the North hand with the heart ace and a second spade was trumped South. Two leads of diamonds exhausted the adversaries and a heart put East into the lead. He held the jack of spades and the king-eight-duck of clubs. A spade lead would enable a club to be discarded South while the spade was being trumped North. The lead of the king of clubs or a low club would give the last four tricks to the contracting partnership.

GIANT CABBAGE PRODUCED AT COUNTY HOME

The county home, long famed for growing large vegetables, outstripped itself in the production of a 14-3/4 pound cabbage which was placed on display in the office of the Daily Reflector today.
Several days ago officials of the home sent three cabbage to the office to show what they were doing. They weighed over 8 pounds each. It was reported that the home was in the midst of making 1,500 pounds of sauerkraut today and when that is over they still will have plenty of cabbage left.

MERCURY STANDS AT 98 AT TWO O'CLOCK TODAY

It's hot but not so hot, according to the weather man, who, looking back on his records found that the temperature of 98, recorded here yesterday and today at 2 o'clock, was not as hot as some days last year when the mercury passed the 100 mark. However, the weather man said that it would reach that point later in the afternoon.
Regardless of the records, however, the weather was sizzling here today and according to the way everybody felt around the noon hour it was too uncomfortable to do anything else but sit in the shade and fan.

Jobless Families Start Life Anew

By HARRELL E. LEE
Woodlake, Trinity County, Tex.—(AP)—Here in the piney woods of "deep east" Texas the federal government is launching a community farm experiment which officials hold ay revolutionize the relief policy for hundreds of thousands of depression victims.
Houses, now being completed, will care for 100 families whose heads were stranded in Texas cities with little hope of being re-employed by industry. The government hopes these families will become self-supporting again, through cultivation of the 1,500 acres it has purchased for them, by the start of winter.
Each family will have a three-acre home plot for a garden, orchard, pigs and poultry.
The remaining 1,200 acres will be worked by all the residents, and the income pro-rated according to the amount of work done by each. This acreage will be cultivated with community animals and implements.
In addition there will be a community dairy, community bakery, machine and work shops, trading post, 10-room school, church, water system, community center and athletic field.
The expense of these projects, and the income from them, will be pro-rated.
While chief attention will be paid to agricultural work, with cotton and tomatoes probably the principal money crops, articles will be fashioned from fabrics, wood iron and steel in the community work room.
The houses are from three to five

MONROE NEW HEAD OF LENOIR-RHYNE

Concord, N. C., June 26.—Dr. P. E. Monroe resigned today as pastor of St. James Lutheran Church here to accept the presidency of Lenoir-Rhyne College. The resignation was submitted at a congregational meeting and was accepted with regret and reluctance.
Dr. Monroe will assume his new duties July 1, but probably will not sever his work with the local church before August 1. Dr. H. Brent Schaeffer retires as the college head July 1.

Crowded Denmark Hopes To Colonize In South America

Copenhagen.—(AP)—Denmark is scanning the horizon for a new outlet for her surplus population which formerly emigrated to the United States.
Spot which look likely are Argentina, Brazil and Venezuela and the foreign office is inquiring of their governments whether they would entertain the idea of Danish settlements on a large scale.
The scheme is that the emigrants would form their own communities in a country of their own or their government's selection. The Danish state is prepared to finance the emigrants, possibly allowing as high as $1,000 for each family.
In the South American countries are prepared to accept settlers. Dr. H. H. Steinhilber, minister of social affairs, plans to visit them, accompanied by Danish experts, for a survey of conditions and possibilities.
A great many Danes, however, oppose the idea of providing food citizens with money with which to become citizens of another country.

Believing Em Bill Huske ran into some strangers as opponents at a duplicate game.

"We have only one convention," they announced. "A jump take-out of partner's suit is not forcing."
One of the strangers opened the auction with an heart. Bill's partner passed second hand. The other stranger bid three diamonds.
Bill didn't have much, but he reflected. Why should anybody want to increase the contract with no intention of trying to go somewhere? The answer must be that he has nothing.
And so Bill doubted and his partner went to three no trump, making four for a top on the board.
It turned out that the three-diamond bid over one heart was made on five diamonds to the queen-low and nothing much else in hand.
"Supposing," mused Bill, "that the diamond bidder had not been a gentleman mindful of the ethics and gentleness of the game and told us in advance what his jump take-out meant. What a beautiful psyche he could have got away with!"

SUES ATTORNEY TO RECOVER INSURANCE

Wilmington, June 26.—Suit has been filed in superior court here against Hugh N. Pace, local attorney, for recovery of $3,000 insurance money allegedly collected by him for Mrs. Amber B. Nance.
The complaint sets forth that the attorney, who was a candidate for solicitor of recorder's court in the June 2 primary, refused to pay the insurance to Mrs. Nance when she declined to pay him $1,000 in attorney's fees.
The insurance was issued on the life of Clarence T. Nance, husband of the plaintiff, naming her beneficiary in the sum of $3,000. Some time after his death, on October 18, 1933, Mrs. Nance alleges, Pace called her to his office and informed her that he was an auditor for the Modern Woodmen of America with whom her husband had taken out the policy, that the order should pay her the sum of $3,000 and that he would help her get it.

rooms each and have modern conveniences. No two are alike. Some are one-story, some one and one-half and some two, designed in eight distinct types of architecture, with many variations.
Officials say that if the scheme succeeds, thousands of families will be financed on several hundred similar community farms scattered over the 48 states, under present plans. They believe the families can repay the government for the cost of their homes in 15 to 20 years.
The total cost of the Woodlake experiment has been estimated at about $250,000, or $2,500 for each family. It is believed each will be able to contribute an average of $18 monthly toward paying off its obligation.
The 100 families here were selected from about 5,000 destitute unemployed applicants who had previously lived on farms. Preference was given those whose heads were more than 40 years old, on the theory that they stood less chance of being reabsorbed in industry.

came in contact with the wire. Jesse Woolard, who was standing in the water near Miss Bowen when she screamed for help, went to aid her and is reported to have taken hold of her in an effort to free her from the wire. He was killed instantly.
Woolard had gone to Bayview with his brother-in-law, F. A. Heath, of Grimesland, and other friends, to enjoy a swim.

SLAYER OF GIRL FACING GALLOWS

Kansas City, Kan., June 26.—(AP)—Avis Woolery, 17-year-old school girl came to Kansas City August 17, 1930, eager to take up her duties as a nursemaid at $10 a week.
Friday, unless there are unforeseen developments, Paul H. Kauffman, stocky 35-year-old ex-convict, and former Columbia, Pa., resident, will die on the gallows here for her murder.
The offer of a nursemaid's job was a trap. Miss Woolery's mother in Webb City, Mo., answered the advertisement. Kauffman, in response, said he had a small child and that his aged mother was unable to care for it.
He met Miss Woolery at the union station here and took her to Swope Park. There he criminally assaulted her, strangled her to death with her stockings and tossed her body in a hole. The body was not found until October 12, at which time Kauffman was in jail on another charge.
He was convicted of murder and death recommended by a jury nineteen days later. The Supreme Court, ruling that the defense had not been afforded sufficient time to prepare its case, ordered a new trial.

BLACK-DRAUGHT "Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse

Writing from her home in Festus, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."
Because so many people know from having used it that Theiford's Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, millions of packages of it are sold every year.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

There is no challenge or threat to the masculine golf professional in the fact that Helen "Billie" Hicks, one of the most popular of America's women players, has turned to the business side of the game and perhaps set an example which a number of other feminine experts will follow in this country.

If anything, it should help stimulate an already evident growth in women's golf interest and, consequently, mean more business for the regular professionals.

On the competitive side, despite any extravagances that may be uttered elsewhere on the subject, there is not the slightest prospect that any woman player, amateur or pro, will give the men anything to worry about. The sexes will never be in the same class, from a golf-scoring standpoint, but it is entirely conceivable that at some future time it will be worthwhile to promote an open championship tournament for women, on a medal scoring basis.

This would benefit the game by keeping in competition such players as Miss Hicks, Joyce Wethered, Enid Wilson and others who take up the business side of golf.

Interesting Experiment
The most interesting feature of Miss Hicks' long-considered decision to forsake her amateur standing is the fact that it increases the scope of feminine activity and occupation in professional sports.

For years there have been professional inducements for women swimming stars, not only as instructors or for exhibitions, but in actual competitions for cash awards. Tennis offers only sporadic opportunities for a feminine pro and she must be a top-ranking star, like Suzanne Lenglen or Mary K. Browne, to get much out of it for each a short time.

Babe Didrikson, the Texas girl athlete, found that the rosy prospects for a professional athletic career were quick to fade.

Up to now golf has held out few business inducements to women, but the experiment, both here and abroad, will be watched with interest. Miss Hicks not only has a chance to do some pioneering, but, along with it, she has a five-year contract to make the arrangements worth financially.

She thinks there is distinctly a field for women teachers of the game.

"Women are successful teachers in most everything else, so why not in golf?" she asked.

"I think women are generally more patient and sympathetic, as teachers," I believe they would get better results in instructing women beginners at golf. Certainly there is a field for this, so far neglected, and I hope to help develop it."

New York Cotton

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Cotton futures fairly steady, two to six points lower, underselling against July notices. The market then rallied quickly on continued dry weather in Texas.

After selling off to 12.37 at the start, October rallied to 12.45, while July sold up from 12.03 to 12.17, making gains of about four to six points on active positions. Prices held steady within a point or two of the best at the end of the first half-hour.

Prices made new high grounds for the month, touching the highest figure reached since last February with October selling to 12.49, making advances of nine to ten points on the general list.

Considerably realizin was encountered, but the market was steady and active with prices holdin in point or two at the best at midday.

New York future closed steady, four to nine points higher; spots quiet; middlin 12.45.

The judge delayed signing the order until tomorrow to permit counsel for the British crown to get in touch with the State Department at Washington.

Judge Evans acted on a writ of habeas corpus after receiving a petition presented by Factor's wife asking the release of her husband under section 654 of the extradition act which provides that a prisoner shall be released if the secretary of state has failed to issue a final order within 60 days after the order. The time limit expired Saturday night.

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—Senator Bailey of North Carolina made arrangements today for a delegation to talk with Secretary Ives, public works administrator, Thursday about the route of the Phoenix highway to connect the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia and the Great Smoky Mountain Park in North Carolina and Tennessee.

Although the route chosen for the proposed $16,000,000 highway has not been made public, interested North Carolina parties have expressed fear the location will not be favorable to their state.

Probe Mistreatment of Child.
Jasper, Ala., June 26.—(AP)—A 12 year old girl suffering from wounds and malnutrition was in a hospital here today while Fayette county officers investigated her story of torture and near starvation at the hands of a woman who had her in custody.

The child, Mary Virginia Johnson, was brought here yesterday by Fayette county residents suffering from a broken arm and infection in one side. Her gaunt skeleton like body was covered with scars. She weighed only 45 pounds when admitted to the hospital.

FOUR TO BE ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Kinston, June 26.—Four men will be arraigned in superior court here today charged with the murder of a fifth in a bootleggers' war. They are Fred Wade, Leon Williams, Tom Williams and Eddie Mozingo. The man slain was Bennie Mozingo, kinsman of Eddie.

Mozingo was shot from ambush the night of December 6, 1933. The killing occurred in a lonely spot near LaGrange. He had gone there for whiskey kevs, according to officers who investigated the crime.

NEED ENERGY?

Here's the latest word from Science on increasing Vim and Energy...quickly!

Today we call attention again to important facts which were presented to smokers in a recent item in this paper. Perhaps you overlooked it. We repeat: You can rouse new vigor, when tired, by smoking a Camel. This comes from the "energizing effect" in Camels as recently confirmed and described by a famous New York scientific laboratory. Everyone gets fatigued...cross...down in the dumps...when his energy is used up. But the way to turn on more energy has now been pointed out, by actual Camel smokers who tell of their own experiences. And by up-to-date research made in the laboratories of science. And so—"get a lift with a Camel!" Any time you want to enjoy yourself or restore yourself. Steady smoking need not concern Camel smokers, since the finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS in Camels never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS — Turkish and Domestic — than any other popular brand.
