MAJOR OF NEW ORLEANS DEFIES GOVERNOR ALLEN

Gov. Langer's Political Aids Seek To Hold Him In Office

THREATEN TO PUT HIS WIFE IN BALLOTING

Mrs. Langer Boosted As Successor to Her Deposed Husband; Allies of Governor Plan to Call Special Session of Legislature to Investigate Charge Against Him

Bismarck, N. D., July 21.—(AP)—Political allies of William Langer, deposed governor, were making a last ditch stand for power today in the face of heavy odds.

They tossed two political bombshells in the turbulent situation with announcement that Mrs. William Langer would assume her husband's place on the fall ballot, in event of his final disqualification and that an investigation of the conviction of the ousted chief executive would be started in the House of Representatives.

Langer was convicted of soliciting funds for relief workers. Contrasting strangely with the burly figure of preceding speakers, Mrs. Langer was cheered at a mass meeting last night at "the next Governor of North Dakota."

Support also met an announcement that Langer's conviction in federal court would be investigated regardless of whether a Senate quorum was obtained.

Hundreds of marchers yesterday descended on the state house to demand a special session of the legislature. This was refused by Acting Governor Ole H. Olson occupying the chief executive's office by order of the State Supreme Court.

'ARMY' FUND MOUNTS HERE

Contributions to Salvation Army Emergency Drive Totaled $56 This Morning

Contributions to the Salvation Army "Dollar Emergency" drive today had reached $56. It was made known this morning by Charles A. Stratford, captain of the local organization, who is directing the campaign.

Contributors have been asked to give $1 each to the support of the Army, but in two or three instances Captain Stratford said gifts had amounted to $2.

The list of contributors yesterday was larger than the day before, and the Army head expressed hope his canvassers would be able to report still a larger number today.

The drive was launched for the purpose of boosting the depleted resources of the organization which collected only a very small portion of last year's budget.

Captain Stratford said he and his wife are making an effort to expand the work here and hoped to be able to take care of any emergency which made arise during the winter because of the rapid influx of people to Greenville and community.

Those contributing yesterday were: J. H. Waldrop, $2; Elizabeth Tibbatts, Charles Horne, H. J. McGinnis, Bibro & Duncan, E. N. Higgs, J. H. Pitts, Novella Exum, Miss O. S. Ross, Hazehurst Motor Company, Carolina Kelvinator Company, J. G. Smith, Big Four Garage, Williams & Waldrop, D. Aman, Mr. Ford, Sam Fleming, N. O. VanNortwick, J. C. Blanchard, J. Ludlow Williams, R. T. Cox, P. L. Goodson, E. T. Flanagan, White's Five and Ten Cent Stores, Dr. Alex. Viola, Dr. T. M. Watson, Rosebud Beauty Shoppe, Dr. Shultz, Dr. A. L. Wooten, Dr. B. Johnson, Proctor Hotel Barber Shop.

When Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, was sighted months old he could name more than fifty phonograph records after hearing the first few notes.

VON NEURATH TALKS WITH HINDENBURG

Effort Seen to Prevent Removal of Von Papien From German Cabinet

Berlin, July 21.—(AP)—A terse announcement that two of Germany's most powerful conservatives, President Von Hindenburg and Constantin Von Neurath, former minister, were in conference today let loose a flood of conjecture.

A subject believed before them was the future of Franz Von Papien, vice-chancellor and fellow-conservative who brought opposition to the extreme Nazi policies into the open by a speech June 17, a forerunner of the revolt.

Von Papien, reports said, has sought five times recently to go to Neudeck for conference. Von Hindenburg is his staunch protector and is believed to have squelched a move by Adolph Hitler to oust Von Papien from the cabinet following the upheaval which began three weeks ago today.

Another belief was that Von Hindenburg and Von Neurath talked over the proposed east Locarno pact sponsored by France. German newspapers have accorded the subject a cool reception.

Under it Germany, Russia, France, Poland and other smaller powers would guarantee peace in Eastern Europe, pledging mutual assistance against an aggressor.

WITHDRAW PICKET AT WAVERLY MILLS

Laurinburg, N. C., July 21.—At 10 o'clock last night only watchmen guarded Waverly Cotton Mills here for the first time since May 27.

Pickets had been withdrawn and United States flags flown since the riot which accompanied the cotton mill strike had been hauled down.

The union local, according to leaders, today voted to accept the strike settlement and last night it was generally understood at least two of the four and possibly part of a third plant, will begin operations Monday.

P. R. Christopher, who served as workers' counsel at the Washington hearing of the Waverly dispute, and the union committee returned today and apparently convinced the disgruntled element of the strikers that acceptance was the best course. It is reported a representative of the National Textile Relations Board is to be here Monday morning when the mills are scheduled to start and investigate the stretch-out charges.

SHORT COTTON CROP CAUSING MUCH CONCERN

Altered Estimate of 10,000,000 Bales May Bring Control Modification

Washington, D. C., July 21.—(AP)—An altered cotton crop estimate of 10,000,000 bales or less might cause the Farm Administration to materially modify enforcement of the Bankhead Cotton Production Control Act, provided a widespread demand for that course came from Southern farmers.

It was learned today that administration officials are watching the situation and are prepared for eventualities.

The key to the situation will be found, it was agreed in authoritative circles, principally in what happens to the crop in the southwestern part of Texas, a big cotton producing State. At present Texas is blanketed by drought, which on the face of late official information available here is growing worse. Should good rains not come soon there and elsewhere production in the drought section might be reduced to within the Bankhead limit.

PLANT WILL REOPEN WITH 300 EMPLOYEES

New Bern, N. C., July 21.—About 200 men will start to work Monday in woods around Havelock on timber work for the Rowland Lumber Company and the following week the big lumber plant will be reopened here with about 300 employees. It is reported here as one of the best bits of industrial news heard in the section in some time.

During recent weeks, work has been under way on the building of a new "Y" for a large locomotive and on repair work on the railroads and trestles through the timber sections. The sawmill of the local plant has been closed most of the time for the past few years, though the planning mill has been in operation at intervals.

ILL FOR YEARS, HE SENDS BULLET INTO HIS BRAIN

Winston-Salem, July 20.—(AP)—C. H. Whiteheart, 75, for 30 years a salesman of the F. M. Bohannon Tobacco Company here, died this morning at the home of his brother, F. S. B. Whiteheart, Kernersville, from a self-inflicted revolver wound in the head. Whiteheart who had been ill for several years, spread a quilt upon the ground, lay down and fired a bullet into his head. He died within an hour.

ROOSEVELT PICKS HEADS R. R. AGENCY

Murry Latimer To Be In Charge of New Railroad Retirement Board

Abcard U. S. S. Houston with President Roosevelt, July 21.—(AP)—Far out on the Pacific waters, President Roosevelt today picked the men to administer the newly established railroad agencies.

Carrying on his official affairs while enroute to Hawaii, Mr. Roosevelt announced Murry Latimer will be in charge of the new railroad retirement board.

He also named three members of the national board to administer rail disputes—William Leiserson, of Yellow Springs, Ohio; James Carmalt, of Washington, D. C. and John Carmody, chief engineer of FERA. He awaited further word from the railroad executives and labor leaders before filling the other two retirement posts.

LANIER WILL SPEAK IN S. C.

Loose Leaf Code Administrator to Address Members of Warehouse Assn.

J. C. Lanier, administrator of the auction and loose leaf tobacco warehouse code, left today for South Carolina where he will address members of the tobacco warehouse associations of that State.

The code, providing for fair trade practices, wages, etc., will be presented by the administrator to the warehousemen so that they may be fully cognizant of what is expected of them when the season in the various belts gets under way.

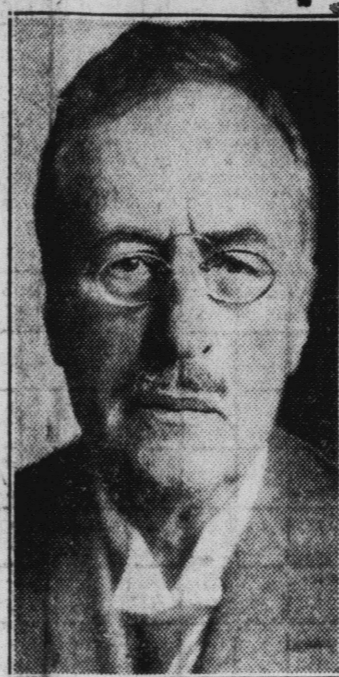

Before leaving, Mr. Lanier announced that Miss Florence Lutes, of Louisville, Ky., had accepted the position of secretary at his headquarters here. Miss Lutes was formerly secretary with the tobacco section of the United States Department of Agriculture and is expected to be of invaluable assistance in handling the tremendous volume of correspondence passing through the office of the Code Administrator.

Other assistants to Mr. Lanier are expected to arrive in the next few days. The office personnel, the administrator said, was chosen by the executive committee of the code authority.

After addressing the warehouse associations in South Carolina, Mr. Lanier expected to go to Washington City to confer with officials regarding progress to the tobacco situation and other matters.

In accepting the office of Code Administrator Mr. Lanier did not relinquish his position as specialist in the office of the tobacco section of the Department of Agriculture, but was given a leave of absence of ten months by Secretary Wallace to assist the loose leaf industry in applying provisions of the code.

Late News Flashes

Several Killed In Earthquake. Panama, July 21.—(AP)—A number were reported killed this morning by a second series of earthquakes which caused the national wharf at Puerto Armuelles to collapse.

No estimate of the number dead and injured was available. Property loss was said to have been high.

The new quakes terrorized the inhabitants of David City in the interior destroying most of the houses still standing after the devastating tremors of mid-week.

Hope For Strike Settlement. San Francisco, July 21.—(AP)—Hopes of peace stirred anew along the strike torn Pacific coast today despite martial law threats at Portland and disorders at Seattle as several agencies pressed for settlement of the prolonged maritime conflict.

HEAT DEATH TOLL MOUNTS OVER NATION

One Hundred Persons Reported to Have Perished in Various States

(By Associated Press) Heat fatalities in the current hot spell exceeded one hundred today. Missouri alone accounted for 33 dead in the past two days. Nebraska whose farmers have seen their crops wither under the devastating heat wave, reported 23 dead in a little more than a week.

Figures from some spots in the remainder of the torrid area were: Kansas, 4; Oklahoma, 16; Connecticut, 2; Ohio, 3; Minnesota, 3; Iowa, 6; New York, 3; Texas, 10, and Pennsylvania and Indiana one each.

Temperatures of more than 100 degrees were common yesterday throughout the stricken area and no general relief was in prospect. Pierre, S. D., had a temperature of 113 degrees yesterday, while Mexico and Missouri had 114 degrees.

HIGHER TAX RATE FOR PITT IS INDICATED

County Auditor Believes Rate Will Be 88 Cents Compared With 83 Last Year

Increase in the Pitt County tax rate for the present year was indicated today by John H. Coward, county auditor, who has just put the finishing touches on the budget for the current year.

With only a slight increase in valuations over the past year and increased appropriations for some departments of government, Mr. Coward said it was likely the rate would be increased from 83 cents to 83 cents.

He said the general fund this year would show an increase by at least $10,000 over the previous year because of increased cost of books, restoration of part of the salary reduction of elective officers, in addition to three or four other causes.

The Health Department appropriation shows an increase of from $5,400 last year to $10,000 this year because of an effort under foot to increase the efficiency of the health workers.

The commissioners have listened to a number of delegations on the health situation, described as "the most serious in the history of the county." Health authorities declared infant mortality in this county is higher than any other county in the State.

On the basis of complete check of the valuations of five townships, Mr. Coward said he believed the total county valuation would show only an increase of about 5 per cent. The total valuation last year was $27,096,000 compared with an estimated $28,000,000 the present year.

Valuations from the remainder of the fourteen townships have not been completed, but Mr. Coward said he expected to have them all in within the next several days.

He said the tentative budget, adopted by the commissioners at a recent meeting, would be presented to the public the first of next week, showing appropriations of the various departments and indicating where the increased cost of operating the government exists.

CLUB HOST TO BALL PLAYERS

Greenville Club of Coastal Plain League Guests of Kiwanis Club Last Night

Members of the local baseball club of the Coastal Plain League were guests of the Kiwanis Club last night at the Woman's Club and heard themselves lauded by Attorney M. K. Blount, former member of the State Senate from this county. Mr. Blount assured the players the community appreciated their efforts to give Greenville a winning club and declared the citizenship was behind them.

He spoke on the subject of "Athletics" and stressed the need of manliness and fair dealing in the field of sport as well as others. He said it is usually the cheerful loser that comes out on top in the long run, and told the players, headed by Manager Milton Harrington, fans were deeply appreciative of the fine spirit of sportsmanship exhibited by the club.

Manager Harrington spoke briefly concerning the affairs of the club, and said every player to the man was trying to pull Greenville to higher ground in the standing of clubs. Harrington was manager of last season's club that brought the championship and accompanying flag to the outfield of Third Street School grounds.

The program was in charge of Herman Duncan, head of the Kiwanis committee and also a member of the board of directors of the ball club. Mr. Duncan is paying the way to the two speeches mentioned some of the achievements of the club last year, and asked the Kiwanians to give their support to the players who are striving to convert the local club into a winning team in spite of the setbacks experienced the last several weeks.

Unstinted praise and support of the club in time of victory and defeat was declared necessary by Mr. Duncan to produce the kind of club the citizenship desires.

POLICE HEAD, DIS. ATTORNEY ARE INVOLVED

Governor Takes Steps To Remove Three Officials From Office Result of 'Alleged Vice' in New Orleans; Senator Huey Long Declares Situation "Cesspool of Iniquity."

New Orleans, July 21.—(AP)—New Orleans' mayor, police chief and district attorney today flatly defied Governor O. K. Allen to remove them from office.

The governor wrote an open letter yesterday to Mayor T. Semmes Wamsley, Police Chief George Reyer and District Attorney Eugene Stanley saying they would be removed from office and prosecuted unless they took action against gambling, vice and "other crimes" which he charged were rampant in the city.

Senator Huey Long, director of the state administration, characterized New Orleans as a "cesspool of iniquity," in a radio address early this week and promised the city would be "cleaned up."

He conferred with Governor Allen before the chief executive's ultimatum was issued. Superintendent Reyer quickly placed eight men at the door of the district attorney's office when he was informed of Governor Allen's action and instructed them to permit no unauthorized person to enter and tamper with records.

"There is no occasion for the action contemplated," Mayor Wamsley said over long distance telephone from Eagle River, Wisconsin.

PLAN TO BUY COTTON FROM OTHER NATION

New York Cotton Houses Make Arrangements to Purchase Staple in S. America

New York, July 21.—(AP)—To protect the position of the cotton market of the world while the American crop is being restricted, certain large spot concerns are adding their facilities to handle the production of cotton in foreign countries, it was reported in Wall Street today. Two of the great American firms engaged in merchandising cotton—Henderson-Clayton & Company, and George McFadden & Brother—have, it is understood, sent representatives to South America to make arrangements for handling cotton there.

BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL ESCAPED CONVICT

Wilson, N. C., July 21.—Two bloodhounds belonging to W. R. Brooks, of this city, Thursday trailed an escaped negro convict ten miles through swamps, creeks and wooded lands leading a group of officers who recaptured the man after a four-hour hunt.

The negro, Booth Ross, was sentenced to ninety days on the roads when convicted last week on charge of larceny. He escaped from a gang working on a road near Stantonburg Thursday morning about 10:30 o'clock. A hunt was started. The dogs were rushed to the scene and set on the trail. Deputy Sheriffs T. C. Hinton and John Woodard went along to make the capture.

The dogs, Joe and Lucy, tracked their quarry through two swamps, across several small creeks and several wooded areas in the section before Ross was finally captured. He was returned to the State road camp here in the custody of the two officers.

RELIEF OFFICE TAKES ON PAVING PROJECT

Rocky Mount, N. C., July 21.—The paving of the old Wilson road, starting at the Planters Oil Mill on the Norfolk branch of the A. C. L. on Cokey road and extending five miles, has been approved as a new FERA project, according to announcement today by Mrs. R. D. Bullock, director of relief activities here.

Work on the road will begin the first of next week. Mrs. Bullock said and about forty laborers and one foreman will be employed for fifteen days.

WIND STORM HURTS CROPS

Corn Believed to Have Suffered The Most Damage From Last Night's Blow

One of the most terrific wind and electrical storms sweeping over this community in several years last night resulted in damage to corn and other crops. In some instances fields of corn were leveled to the ground, and it was impossible to say what the total loss will amount to.

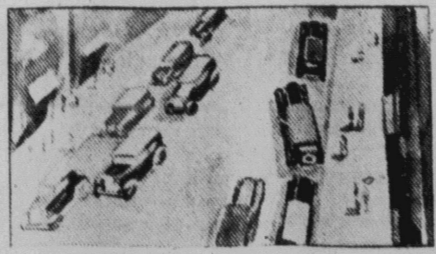

Young corn suffered the greatest damage, the more mature being able to withstand the wind which gained considerable velocity and caused grave concern at times among the citizenship.

It was not known how many sections of the county were affected by the storm, but reports of damage continued to trickle into the Pitt capital today.

Rain fell in torrents in this community, but the precipitation was not expected to result in pronounced damage to crops, the greater part having reached a stage of maturity. Tobacco in some sections probably suffered considerable damage by the wind tearing leaves off of stalks and blowing it to the ground.

Sharp lightning, accompanied by terrific claps of thunder, featured the height of the storm, but if anybody was injured by lightning, it had not been reported here today. A wind storm of greater severity visited the community the latter part of last August, but it was not accompanied by such an electrical display. The 1933 storm wrecked a part of New Bern and other towns near the coast, cutting off communications and practically isolating several communities for days.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

SIGNAL ALL CHANGES

The safe driver gives proper indications and signals when turning, moving from one lane to the other or pulling from the curb. When about to turn he slows down, pulls over to the right or left, gives the proper hand signal. The safe driver always indicates by these actions that he is going to change his course from the straight path.

Beware of Soft Words
 (Williamston Enterprise.)
 The National Association of Manufacturers is getting very tired of our government as it is now being run.
 The trouble has all come about because the government has taken over the management of its own affairs and has taken it out of the hands of dominating wealth—a thing that goes mighty hard with the great financial powers.
 There is also a vast difference in the line of thought and method of procedure as between the government and predatory wealth. The heartless money trust has used experts whose only business was to get all it could out of the public and pile it up in dividends. The government stepped in with a new line of thought and a desire to see that every man gets the proceeds and fruits of his labor, and has proceeded to put some restrictions on wealth by curbing its grafting power and extend the earning power of our country into every home that contributes to the production of the country's income.
 Of course, the two per cent of the people of the country who own 80 per cent of all the wealth of our nation do not like the government's policy. You see it is like this: When the government looks at this small two per cent and asks them where they go it, they are embarrassed because they know they got it by unfair methods of business which were little or no better than robbing and stealing.
 All right, you 98 per cent of the folks, you own but 20 per cent of the country's wealth. The other 2 per cent has the wealth and they are mad because the government has blocked their plans to grab it all. Take warning at what these 2 per cent are saying. They pose as your friends, but believe them not —they are still your enemies. Stand behind the fellows that are trying to relieve you.

POLITICS
at random
 By BRYON PRICE
 (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)
 There is a great deal more than appears behind the quiet which has settled over Washington.
 It is something more than just a "summer lull." Something besides that vacation yearning is responsible for the "deserted village" aspect of the capital. It is no accident that the "brain trust" is keeping the tent.
 The real explanation is that the administration is making today its most definite gesture to reassure business and dispel industrial and financial apprehension.
 After months of confusion, uncertainty and experimentation, Washington is in a mood to give the country a rest. Further than that, it is seeking in various affirmative ways to convince the business community it need not regard either present or future administration policy as a big bad wolf.
 No New Proposals
 Almost every important action since the adjournment of Congress has pointed directly toward that end.
 Mr. Roosevelt's address over the air, just before his departure for Hawaii, was devoted in very large part to reassurance, explanation, defense. In that respect it was different from any similar address he has delivered.
 His own long absence at sea is a part of the same picture. Business for the first time since March, 1933, is not guessing what tomorrow will bring forth from the White House.
 Virtually all of the other top-notchers among the administration's idea-men also are away—some of them as far away as Europe. Those who are making speeches—even including General Johnson—are talking in placating tones, springing no new proposals.

SPITE MARRIAGE
by Katharine Haviland Taylor
 CHAPTER 24
THE DECISION
 Bob crushed his cigarette to a fine ash. He stared at her and she stared at him. The room was dimly lit, the light from the window showing the shadows of the trees outside. The air was still and heavy.
 "It is what I want," she told him.
 Again she met his bewildered, questioning look. "Suppose," he suggested bluntly, "Tarleton tires of waiting for you? Of course, you could explain, but—"
 "You need not consider that," she assured him and a little bitterly.
 "It won't be," he paused to rub a clinging shred of tobacco from his lip, and then, able to speak again, he continued with: "More than a year. Of course," his voice was unsteady, sharp, "it would be vastly better for her to die believing a lie of us. Could you, do you think, without too much wrong to yourself, to your chances for happiness—manage it?"
 "I could! I will! I wish you could believe that I want to! That I want nothing so much!" she replied.
 For a moment he covered his face with his big, thin, tanned hands.
 "I'll never be able to thank you for it," she heard. She smiled; she was, she felt, thanked disproportionately for that which she longed to do; thanked by his trust and by his asking her to do something for him.
 His hands dropped. "You will stay with mother," he said, and as if he were issuing an order. "I have to finish my work; no one else can; but I'll go right along and hurry it through to come back. I have decided that's best. And I shall trust you not to do anything that might make her suspect the truth. You can tell Tarleton why you are going so cautiously and afterward—make it up."
 "It is not necessary for you to think of that... of Geoff as being, in any way, connected with me!"
 she responded; her cheeks hot, her voice unsteady.
 "We need have nothing to do with one another save before her," Bob stated, without heeding Marsha's outbreak.
 Her anger died. "I quite understand," she said dully.
 "An occasional kiss or two, and gentle words," he murmured, "necessary, those pretenses." A muscle at the corner of his mouth twitched.
 To pretend these frail sign posts to all that he had felt, to lose his two women at one time. "I am a weakling," he thought; "I'm letting it down me!"
 "I understand, Bob."
 "It may not be very long," he said again.
 SHE leaned toward him to lay her hand upon his. "Oh, Bob!" she said. He felt her sorrow for him and it almost melted him; but he saw, too, that "exhibition," the one that had ended his ecstasy for him.
 Marsha in Tarleton's arms; Tar-leton's lips crushed against hers. He rose brusquely to leave her.
 She heard the door of his room close against her, but he had asked her help and she had that fact to treasure and she would help him and live in his house. And dream of him as having lived in it, and dream too of how he had loved her, and how she loved him. And how she could love him with ever the chance for it again.
 But faint, that chance! His square, firm chin! And how she loved it, and him!
 The next mid-day found her settled in the Powers house and by the tea hour she could see the way she was to follow.
 "When are you going to start for Mexico?" she asked of Bob that evening when they were, for a moment, alone.
 "When I am certain you know the way around," he answered.
 "You trust me?" she questioned.
 "I am going to trust you," he said,
 and almost grimly.
 The mirthless smile she was learning, a smile that had roots in pain, appeared at that.
 "People deal so," she commented, and then she thought of the President's manifesto that the President is willing to revise and re-write the "new deal" program if it is found injurious to business.

CLOWNING
 Clowning his way through the scenes of Paramount's "Shoot the Works," Monday at the State Theatre, will be Jack Oakie, screen comedian. Arline Judge and Roscoe Karns are also featured, and Ben Bernie and his orchestra make their film debut, playing six new, hit tunes. Wesley Ruggles directed from a play by Ben Hecht and Gene Fowler.

Washington Daybook
 By HERBERT PLUMMER
 Washington—(AP)—The big 1934 political offensive definitely has been launched and all signs point to one of the most intensive campaigns in recent years.
 "The fight is on," Jim Farley, generalissimo of the Democratic forces, declared gaily just before he left Washington for an extensive reconnoiter of the west. "I hope the opposition party has a good time."
 When it is considered election day is not until November 6, the tremendous amount of political activity this early is unusual. If the campaign gains momentum as it goes along—and undoubtedly will—the finish promises to set a new record for a by-election year.
 Many of the wheelhorses of both parties thus far have shown little desire to take the field. They complain they still feel the effects of the grueling session of Congress and need rest.
 "Give me a little while longer to recuperate," one senator wrote to headquarters in reply to a request that he make a few speeches, "and I'll be at your command."
"Winning The West"
 Others, however, have shown no disposition to hold back.
 Farley's six-weeks' tour of the west eventually will take him to the Pacific coast where he will meet President Roosevelt on his return from Hawaii. He plans to meet the State Democratic leaders all the way across the continent and get from them the "down."
 General Johnson has started an

PLAINTIFF LOSES IN $50,000 STRIKE CASE
Marion, N. C., July 21.—(AP)—The long-continued $50,000 damage suit brought by Polly Vickers against McDowell County officers for the death of Sam Vickers, one of six men killed in the 1929 textile strike riots was brought to a close here today when a jury rendered a verdict against the plaintiff.

The jury, after deliberating for twenty-six minutes, reported that it had found no evidence that the sheriff and his deputies conspired to kill Vickers. Three similar cases, based upon the death of other strikers, were continued after the verdict was announced.

Trial of the suit began in McDowell Superior Court last week.

COURTHOUSE BELL TO GO BACK IN SERVICE
Salisbury, N. C., July 21.—The old courthouse bell which has been resting for thirty years is to be put back in service and will call attention to the opening of Superior and county court and will probably be rung on other occasions. A date on the bell shows it was cast in Troy, N. Y., in 1866.

In former years when the bell hung in the belfry of the old courthouse, now the community building, there was a four-faced clock used in connection with it, but the clock will not be put back in service.

TO CALL ON COUNTY TO ASSUME SCHOOL DEBT
Hamlet, N. C., July 21.—The city of Hamlet is planning to sue Richmond County to force the county to assume the school indebtedness of Hamlet public schools. Hamlet public schools have a bonded indebtedness of $106,000, according to the last statement of the city, which was June 30, 1933. Since that time some has been on the bonds. The transfer is proposed under authority of acts passed by the Legislature. It is understood that Rockingham will join this suit to force the county to assume its school indebtedness.

DISCOVER NO TRACE OF FARMVILLE ROBBERS
Farmville, July 21.—Police authorities here today were still looking for the thieves who broke in the Young Mercantile Company on Tuesday night and carried away over $300 in merchandise.

The robbers gained entrance to the store some time shortly after midnight by cutting the rivets in one of the bars over the window in the rear of the store and removing the bar and window pane. The robbers, it is believed, first tried to enter the safe but failed. They next turned their attention to the cash register which was empty. Finding no cash the looters went about the store making a choice selection of the finest merchandise. One of the group removed his tattered shirt and replaced it with a new one. The old one was left on the counter. Four or five suitcases were taken and it thought that the stolen goods were placed in these.

The Meeting

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
Early the next morning Willy Nilly started for the meeting which was to be held in the big grange in the next village. Christopher Columbus Crow flew over, too, and Rip the dog went along because he was loved in the village since he had been the hero of the fire. He felt he might be able to help Christopher.

The bears and ducks and Top Notch thought they had better not go, and Willy Nilly thought so, too. It was just as well not to make too big a crowd. They anxiously waited behind, and Rip promised to run back and forth to tell them how things were going.

The room was well filled when Willy Nilly arrived and several of the people there blessed when they saw Christopher.

But Christopher perched on Willy Nilly's shoulder and looked about the room with great dignity. He shook a little, it is true, but that was only because Willy Nilly was trembling. Christopher was as calm as could be.

Now the man who was taking charge of the meeting began to speak and he spoke for a long time against crows. There wasn't a good word he had to say for them.

Then someone else spoke and said that crows did more good than harm in destroying enemies of the farmer such as field mice, cut worms and others.

Many in the room did not seem so well pleased with this farmer's speech and Willy Nilly felt the case would be decided against crows.

All of a sudden there were sneezes and screams, and the meeting was broken up.

What had happened?

Meetings This Week.
The following clubs met this week: Winterville at the home of Mrs. J. O. Edwards; Chocod, at the school building; Ballard's, at the club building; and Grifton at the home of Miss Louis Mewborn.

Canning Reminders.
There have been several inquiries recently about using acids and canning powders. In case you want to invite stomach trouble use them. If you prefer health do not do it. Canning acids will preserve your canned foods, but are very hard on your stomach.

If you want to can non-acid vegetables and meat borrow a pressure cooker if you don't have one—or have them canned with a pressure cooker. It is very true that lots of vegetables and meats have been canned by other methods. It is also true that you make yourself or whoever eats them liable to a form of poisoning called "Botulism" which is on the increase. In 1930, 65.7 per cent of all cases of botulism were fatal. The food may taste and look perfectly all right and yet contain bacteria causing the poison. Intense heat is required to kill this form of bacteria.

Soup Mixture.
Corn, lima beans and okra are popular vegetables and many women want to can them—yet hesitate because of not having pressure cookers. Tomatoes are easy to can and contain an acid that is healthful and will also preserve other vegetables. Soup mixture can be easily canned with the water bath and can be used in so many ways. Put lots of it on your shelves for winter use. In case you do not have all vegetables according to the recipe use what you have—making sure to use more than have the entire mixture tomato—as the acid in the tomatoes will keep the other vegetables. The recipe follows:

Five quarts tomatoes, 2 quarts corn, 2 quarts okra or lima beans, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar (level), 2 tablespoonfuls salt (level). Scald and peel tomatoes, cutting out green or hard spots. Chop and measure. Cut young and tender field or sugar corn from cob. Slice okra in rings one-half inch thick. Place all in open agate kettle and boil until thick. Pour in No. 2 cans while hot and process 1 hour. Process a No. 3 can 1 1/2 hours.

Use an asbestos mat under the kettle when boiling soup mixture. It is very easily scorched.

When canning soup mixture in glass jars, process quart jars 1 1/2 hours. Process pint jars 1 hour.

Tips on CONTRACT
By TOM O'NEIL
A Squeeze Rubber

The kibitzers gather around in numbers, not to criticize, but to learn, when George Reith takes a hand at the Knickerbocker Whist Club, New York.

One of their most recent thrills was to see him make two small slams in the same rubber, each by a squeeze, when finesses would have gone wrong. In one hand five trumps to the jack were bunched against him. It proved to be a good thing. A thumpless adversary was squeezed to the first suit.

Here was the first:

NORTH DEALER
♠A J 5 3 2
♥A 6 4
♦A J
♣K Q 3

WEST
♠Q 10 8 6
♥K 9 5 2
♦9 7 3
♣8 6

EAST

♥8 7 3
♦K 10 5
♣A J 10 9 4

SOUTH

♥Q J 10
♦A 6 5 2
♣7 4 2

RETH
♠K 4
♥Q J 10
♦A 6 5 2
♣7 4 2

The bidding was short: one spade by North, two trumps South and six no trump North.

West opened a low heart, which was let run to the ten in the South hand. The jack was led and covered with the king and ace. A spade was returned from North to the king and the spade jack finessed. A low spade was led from North, East signalling with the eight of diamonds. George liked that indication of diamond.

In with the ten of spades, West led the nine of diamonds, and George came right up with the ace from the North hand and led to the queen of hearts and back to the North hand with the queen of clubs. After playing the king of clubs he led the two last spades. East could not protect the jack of clubs and at the same time keep his king of diamonds.

Rubber game squeeze follows:
NORTH: S-K 5 3; H-A Q 6 2; D-10; C-A K J 4.
WEST: S-Q; H-10 8 5; D-J 8 5 3 2; C-10 8 5 3.
East: S-J 10 8 4; H-K J 9 7 4; C-None; C-Q 9 7 2.
REITH SOUTH DEALER: S-A 9 7 6 2; H-3; D-A K 9 7 6 4; C-6.

South wound up in six diamonds after opening with an offer of one diamond. Hearts and clubs and no trump were mentioned North and spades South in the course of the proceedings.

West led the ace of clubs, which was taken with the king North. The head of the queen of diamonds showed a trump conglomeration. West. All right, reasoned George, after East played the seven of hearts, if West has the trumps here's hoping that East has the other suits. A loss in a squeeze play has to be taken quickly, so George let the ten of diamonds be won by West's jack.

Responding to the heart signal of East, West led a heart and up came the ace from North, followed by a heart ruff South. The last three diamonds were led from the South hand, exhausting West and putting the pressure on East. A low spade, a low heart and a low club were discarded North. East first let go the jack of hearts and a low spade and then was wrong whatever he did. On the last diamond he shed another spade and South completed his run of tricks with spades.

BUNGLES AGAIN PUT 'BUGS' ON THE TOBOGGAN

Scoreboard goose eggs are becoming so familiar to Greenville fans that they no longer expect to see anything encouraging for the time being at least after play on the home lot Wednesday and again yesterday. New Bern was the offender yesterday and had it not been for a ill-fated rally in the seventh frame the locals would have come the entire route entirely goose-egged.

"Lefty" Dunn of Ayden, East Carolina Teacher College southpaw, was the lad that had the locals feeding from his hand the entire route. While yielding eight hits, they were sufficiently well scattered to prevent the "Bugs" from reaching the home bag with the exception of the seventh inning one-run rally.

Reynold May, Duke University ace, went to the mound for Greenville and pitched what at any other time would have been a winning brand of ball had it not been for the poor support of his teammates, who had four costly bobbles chalked up against them.

Although the official scorekeeper gave the errors as four one man was heard to remark today that he lost all interest in the game after what appeared to him to be two dozen errors were presented on a silver platter to the fans.

New Bern, on the other hand, played errorless ball and gave Dunn the kind of support necessary to cause a pitcher to hurl his tongue out if necessary. Although Dunn was relieved by Wheelton in the first half of the ninth it was because of his inability to check the feeble drive started by the locals but which netted nothing more than an additional gooseegg.

May pitched for seven innings but in the words of a famous pair of black-faced comedians, he was so "regusted" that he relinquished the task to Taylor, a new addition to the club, who went the rest of the way with only one hit chalked up against him. The lost placed Greenville's string of setbacks at four, and indications today were that if something isn't done in the way a better brand of baseball it will not be long now before last season's champions will be at the bottom of the ladder looking at the stars of other teams actually do their stuff.

May obtained the longest drive of the day, for three bases scoring Dean, but the futility of his long range blow was plainly in evidence when those behind him failed to do anything about adding anything to what he had already accomplished. Poole and May actually led the hitting for the locals, each being credited with two.

Shipp, Patton and H. Ferebee grab be honors for the visitors, with one by Ferebee going for three bags and causing the speedy "Bug" outfielders to nearly run their legs off before the ball was finally returned to the inner circle.

Anything else to say about the contest—if it may be dignified by such phraseology, would be superfluous, and might cause Manager Harrington to show bad humor as he did while conversing with the writer yesterday about the writup of the day before.

DOUMERGUE ALL IN ALL TO VILLAGE OF ALGIERS
Gaston Doumergue, Algeria.—(AP)—Everything in this village is named for the Premier of France, even the wine.

Years ago Gaston Doumergue lived here as a justice of the peace. So well did he fulfill his duties that the citizens followed his later career and when he became world-famous named the village for him.

Now, the local wine is known as "Gaston Doumergue Brand."

SNOW HILL CHECKS KINSTON
Snow Hill, July 21.—Snow Hill checked Kinston's winning streak at five games by defeating the league leaders 2-1 here yesterday in a thrilling contest played before more than 1,000 fans.

Mack Stewart, Alabama youngster, pitched the route for the locals and kept Kinston's 10 hits well spaced.

The victory was at the expense of Fletcher, Kinston right-hander, who had won nine games and lost none prior to yesterday.

Snow Hill made only six hits but Tuck and Griffin twice combined to manufacture a run. In the opening inning Tuck singled and scored on Griffin's triple. Things were partly reversed in the seventh when Tuck tripled and tallied on Griffin's single.

Kinston had put over a run in the sixth to tie.

Three fast double plays by the locals helped considerably in keeping the visitors away from the scoring station. Both clubs played errorless ball.

Batteries: Kinston—Fletcher, McKeithan and Tatum; Snow Hill—Stewart and Royce.

AYDEN STOPS TARBORO
Ayden, July 21.—Tarboro's five-game winning streak ended right here yesterday as the locals banged 15 hits off two Tarboro flingers to get a 14-2 victory. The game was viewed by a large crowd, including a delegation of several score Tarboro fans.

While his mates were hitting hard and often, Lefty Byrd was turning in a good pitching performance for Ayden. Tarboro could muster only seven hits against the youngster's flinging Colenberger, with a pair of safeties, led the visitors. Manager Perritt, who sustained an ankle injury in Wednesday's game at Tarboro, was not in uniform but directed the Tarboro club from the bench.

Knowles was the batting leader for Ayden. He made three hits. Ranking next, with two hits each, were Miller, Bullock, Wall and Byrd.

Batteries: Tarboro—Skipper, Steineke and Richardson; Ayden—Byrd and Stevenson.

New York, July 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, nine to nineteen points on commission heavy buying on relatively higher Liverpool cables in absence of relief in the drought areas.

October sold up to 13.02 and March to 13.29 on the initial demand, but the advance met some reading and scattered Southern selling. After the opening had been supplied the volume of business tapered off with the market showing reactions of three to four points from the best at the end of the first half hour.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, July 21.—(AP)—Stocks steadied in today's brief market session after an initial burst of selling that carried numerous issues to new lows for the year. The metals, leaders of yesterday's relapse, recovered some of their previous losses.

The close was irregular with transfers of 550,000 shares for the largest Saturday in more than a month. There was little news that might

They Belong In Your Hat
If these other happenings are not pasted in your hat, they should be: Foot-racing—Bill Bonthron's victories in three out of five duels with his arch rival, Glenn Cunningham, who sped to a new world mile mark of 4:06.7. Bonthron's "rubber" victory in world record time of 3:48.8 for 1,500 meters. Ben Eastman's record half mile victory over Charley Hornbostel in 1:49.8.

Golf—Olin Dutra's uphill victory in the U. S. open, Henry Cotton's march to England's first triumph in the British open in ten years, and Lawson Little's smashing conquest in the British amateur.
Tennis—The big come-back of Old England along the main front, with Dorothy Round turning back America's Helen Jacobs at Wimbledon and Fred Perry sweeping the men's singles for the first British double in 25 years.
Horse-racing—The rush of Cavalcade, Kentucky Derby winner and king of the three-year-olds, to thoroughbred fame in the East and West.
Boxing—Max Baer's spectacular knockout of Primo Carnera for the world heavyweight championship. The topping of Jimmy McLaurin by Barney Ross.

Plenty Yet To Come
From the standpoint of localized enthusiasm, California and England have had the most to cheer about so far. Stanford's track team, small but powerful, and California's crew have turned in some of the best cooperative sporting efforts of the year. England hopes to round out her greatest season in decades by keeping the Davis Cup and challenging successfully for the America's cup (yachting) in September.
During September the men's singles at Forest Hills, the national amateur golf at Brookline, the America's cup yacht races and the East-West polo matches at Meadow Brook will be in progress. Before and after, such events as the return McLaurin-Ross welterweight title bout, the Columbia-Yale football eye-opener and the world series will keep eagle-eyed experts on the jump.

200 Perish In Flood
Warsaw, Poland, July 21.—(AP)—More than 200 persons were dead and damages estimated at about $200,000,000 were reported today as the flood waters of the Vistula River reached the very gates of the presidential palace in Warsaw.

Secs Frisco Strike Settlement.
Los Angeles, July 21.—(AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson, leaving today for San Francisco, expressed belief that the longshoremen's strike might be settled by the time he reached the northern city, at which he was due a little after noon, Pacific time.
The National Recovery Administration head said only the question of arbitration of control of hiring hauls remained and that he had urged the longshoremen leaders to settle this without the customary referendum vote by longshoremen members.

have further depressed the stock list, although the labor situation in Minneapolis did not add sentiment. Offerings dried up in the final hour, but trading quieted down appreciably.
Grains and cotton showed rallying tendencies. Wheat, corn and rye at noon had come back around a cent a bushel. Cotton firmed about a dollar a bale. Moderate short covering was reported in commodities.

Late News Flashes

trucks driven by union men rolled along the waterfront when the last line of a general strike in San Francisco collapsed with the unconditional return to work of teamsters.
Industrial leaders here pleaded the policy of cooperation for organized labor to smooth out differences left in the wake of the four day mass walkout which officially ended on Thursday.

Portland was admittedly the danger point of the revised peace hopes. Union leaders who had promised Senator Wagner to settle without drastic action, talked general strikes again while movement of cargoes with the recruited workers went forward behind police lines and national guardsmen awaited orders from Governor Julius L. Meier.
Seattle was quiet after a gas attack by police yesterday against 2,000 waterfront pickets.

City Salary Cuts Stay Out
Madison, Wis.—(AP)—Visions of restored salary cuts went glimmering for Madison city officials with the announcement of Mayor James R. Law that the city could do nothing this year that would cost money. Madison's financial difficulties are traceable to taxpayers who failed to the tune of $155,000—to pay taxes due this year. Added to that is $180,000 still unpaid last year.

Paris Plans Another Fair
