Seek Negro For Criminal Attack. Henderson, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Sheriff J. F. Hamlett of Vance county said this afternoon he had been told by Sheriff F. N. Spivey of Franklin county that Ben Wright, a 48-year-old negro, had been arrested on charges of having criminally assaulted Mrs. J. B. Wilson of Franklin county this morning.

The sheriff said that Sheriff Spivey declined to tell him where the negro was being held as he feared mob violence.

The Vance sheriff said Sheriff Spivey told him Mrs. Wilson was in "pretty bad shape." Efforts to locate Sheriff Spivey by long distance phone failed. At his office in Louisburg no confirmation of the arrest of Wright could be obtained and it was said the sheriff was not expected back until tonight as he was with a posse working on the Wilson case.

The Vance sheriff went to the scene of the crime at the request of Franklin officials. He said bloodhounds followed a trail from the place where Mrs. Wilson was attacked to a house in which the negro was found.

HITLER MOVES TO INCREASE HIS POWERS

Germany Looks With Uncertainty Across The Bier of Her Dead President

Berlin, Germany, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Germany gazed across the bier of her dead president today into an uncertain future of super-Hitlerism.

Complexities within the Fatherland and without confronted Adolf Hitler, the corporal who by the death of the aged Paul Von Hindenburg yesterday became master of the destiny of 65,000,000 Germans. His weapon for successful overcoming these problems is a dictatorial power without parallel in Europe.

The free liebesite he has ordered to be held August 19 to determine a successor to Von Hindenburg is as all Germans recognize to give him control. It will rubber stamp Hitler's assumption of presidential power in addition to those he exercises as chancellor.

Many Germans seemed bewildered over the suddenness of events even though nothing unexpected has occurred. It was considered that the chancellor would take the power when Von Hindenburg died and that he would seek quickly to gain the allegiance of the army which was Hindenburg's chief reliance.

The Nazis, however, have moved with nice regard to public reaction. Hitler's declaration of the title of president "because it is indissolubly bound up with the name of the great deceased" is regarded as a decision calculated to retain public support.

Nazis are jubilant, too, over the army and navy pledge of allegiance to Hitler which was made before midnight yesterday. These units of armed force were the most likely threat to Hitler and Nazism, and now they are bound to him by their solemn word.

There are reports that Czechoslovakian troops are concentrating on their frontier in a movement involving Germany. Czechoslovakia has watched the situation in Austria with its undercurrent of Germany involvement.

Other reports lack confirmation due to the right censorship say German soldiers are gathered at the Austrian border.

ROSE LAUDS GREAT WORK OF TEACHERS

Says Classroom Teachers Responsible For Fine Record of City Schools

"Credit for achievements of the city school system must go to the classroom teacher who has seen her salary reduced nearly fifty per cent while at the same time the number of pupils she had to handle each day has increased considerably," J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools, told members of the Board of Aldermen in monthly session at the City Hall last night.

The assertion was contained in a written statement submitted to the board by the head of the public school system. The statement was confined largely to the financial situation of the school system, supported for a regular term of eight months by the State, with a few references and explanations pertaining to operation of the institutions.

The statement, addressed to the Mayor of Greenville, declared that the classroom teachers "have saved the day educationally in Greenville and North Carolina."

The statement of conditions was introduced by the following remarks: "Will you please convey to yourself and your Board of Aldermen the appreciation of the School Board and the appreciation of the Superintendent of Schools for the fine manner in which you all have stood with the schools in recent years. We feel that had it not been for your steadfast help and cooperation we could not have carried on during these trying times."

"For your information I am giving below a few financial facts of a comparative nature concerning the expenditures of the Greenville City Schools."

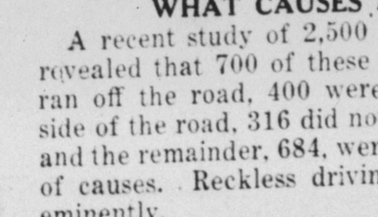

He showed the enrollment had increased from 2,901 in 1928-29 to 3,249 in 1933-34, with an average daily attendance from 2,101 to 2,742 for the period.

Total current expenses in 1928-29 were $111,787.73 compared with $57,461.73 for the year just closed. Per capita cost based on average daily attendance was given as $53.23 in 1928-29 and $20.06 the past year.

Number of teachers during the period decreased from 72 to 71. There were 54 white teachers in 1928-29 compared with 47 at present. Colored teachers were increased from 18 to 24.

The average teacher's salary was given as $1,202 in 1928-29 against $647.00 the past term.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

WHAT CAUSES ACCIDENTS? A recent study of 2,500 motor vehicle fatalities revealed that 700 of these were for speeding, 400 ran off the road, 400 were driving on the wrong side of the road, 316 did not have the right of way, and the remainder, 684, were attributed to a variety of causes. Reckless driving stands out here pre-eminently.

LOCAL POOL TO COST MORE THAN FIGURED

Providing a municipal swimming pool for the city of Greenville is beginning to hold an unexpected "hang-over" for members of the Board of Aldermen, charged with the responsibility of raising funds for defraying a portion of the construction cost, and they don't like it.

This fact was made very evident last night when Henry Rivers, engineer in charge of construction of the pool, appeared before the solons and told them that something like $5,000 would be necessary to complete the pool.

This will make the culvert, pool and other things in connection with the project cost approximately $35,000 against an original estimate of about $29,000.

Of this amount the city had agreed to provide $7,500 and the government emergency relief administration the rest. But last night the city's part was boosted to around $12,500 when Mr. Rivers said an additional $5,000 would be necessary to complete the project.

Members of the board found their complexions turning all colors of the rainbow, but the fact remained—the money had to be raised and Mayor Flanagan told the engineer to go ahead with the work, the board would do its best to provide enough money to see the project through.

Mr. Rivers asked members of the board if he should continue to push work in the expectation of throwing the pool open next Wednesday as previously announced, and was told to do so by all means, that the citizens had been waiting all summer on the pool, and at least should be able to

CITY PLANS TO GO AFTER TAX DODGERS HERE

A concerted campaign to bring tax "dodgers" into the fold of regular tax-paying channels will be launched by the city administration in the near future and people who have been evading the listing of taxes successfully will find themselves in a jam if they attempt to do so again.

Members of the Board of Aldermen meeting in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night heard several complaints of non-payment of taxes by certain elements and immediately decided to take positive steps to improve the situation.

The city needs all the money possible to take care of the costs of government and lighten the burden of all taxpayers as much as possible, it was said, by administration leaders, and tax-dodging in the future will not be tolerated.

An effort to put unlisted property on the books last year brought forth some fruit, members of the board were told, but not enough. Several valuable pieces of property in the city limits were described as "evading payment of taxes," and the owners will be asked to list property or the city will take recourse in the courts.

The evasion has been one of the most monumental problems of all forms of government in recent years, but this is the first time that flagrant violation of the tax laws has been reported here, although it was known that some property owners were "beating about the bush" attempting to stall payments of taxes.

No particular line of action was decided upon by the solons, but this will be taken up at the next meeting and a definite line of attack outlined to bring violators of the tax law within the folds of those paying taxes simply to do their part by defraying the cost of city government.

SEABOARD FARMER LOSES HIS LIFE IN FALL

Seaboard, N. C., Aug. 3.—Robert Edwards, highly respected 59-year-old farmer, lost his balance while repairing a tenant house this afternoon about 5 o'clock and fell from the roof. His head was split open and he died instantly.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rosalee Edwards and five children; his mother, Mrs. Ella Edwards, five sisters and three brothers.

Promoters promising to make rain fall increased during the recent drought.

CONCERTED DRIVE TO BE STARTED BY ADMINISTRATION IN THE NEAR FUTURE

LONG FORCES DEFY COURT ORDER TODAY

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3.—(AP)—Surrounded by the guns of the mobilized national guards at Jackson barracks, Adjutant General Raymond Fleming today replied to a District Court order for dismissal of troops by directing his officers to fortify their positions.

Forces at the gateway of the barracks refused the civil sheriff access to the commander of the State militia when they sought to serve the court order on him and Fleming over the telephone told newsmen: "I shall carry out the governor's orders. I have given my officers orders to fortify their positions."

The court order calling for demobilization of the troops in the bitter factional dispute between the political forces of Senator Huey Long and Mayor Semmes Walmisley, of New Orleans, was executed late yesterday by city attorneys.

The civil sheriff and chief of police served Long with summons as "a conspirator," but were unable to reach the adjutant-general.

Meanwhile the national guard officer sent a fresh detachment of militia into the city's voting registration office held by the force of arms since last Monday night and unloaded additional machine guns at the office just across the narrow street from the city hall where Mayor Walmisley had massed scores of heavily armed police. Advised the court order had been unable to reach Fleming, Mayor Walmisley said: "Naturally I cannot comment about the way a court order of the civil district court is being received or defied. Any comment must come from District Judge Nat Bond who issued the order."

"I can make no comment about this now," said Judge Bond from his home, "because I have not received official notice that the order of the District Court has been defied."

MORTON BACK FROM GEORGIA

Local Tobacconist Belives Entire Georgia Belt Will Average 23 Cents

W. Z. Morton, one of the leading tobacco warehousemen of this state, returned to Greenville early today after visiting all markets of the Georgia tobacco belt, and expressed belief that the entire belt would average about 23 cents a pound.

Mr. Morton not only visited every market, but watched sales in every warehouse floor and is in position to give an accurate estimate of what the Georgia market is doing. He stated the best quality and yield was found in the southern part

Program Calls For Strengthening of National Guards, Regular Army and Other Forces; Thousands of Planes to be Built to Bring Fleet Up to 2,340; Congress to be Asked For Funds

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—(AP)—The War Department has perfected a $33,000,000 plan to encircle the United States with anti-aircraft defenses. The plans will be laid before the next session of Congress. They call for the newest thing in anti-aircraft guns, searchlights and new control equipment for eight regular army regiments, seven national guard regiments, and 19 inactive regular army regiments.

The disclosure follows studies by the War Department experts who called the American aircraft defenses inadequate.

Secretary of War Dern, as result of recent inspections, is described as feeling the Panama Canal is seriously lacking in defense against enemy aircraft.

Army men are moving to strengthen the air force also. The air corps has submitted a program to buy about 1,000 planes to bring its fleet up to the 2,340 urged by the Newton D. Baker investigating board.

Congress has the say about providing the money. Although the program is designated for 1936, it is not expected that more than 500 planes will be purchased that year. That with other purchases already planned for the interim would give the army 180 serviceable planes.

GUARDSMEN DRILLING HERE

Local Military Unit Preparing For Annual Encampment at Fort Bragg

Greenville assumed something of a wartime appearance last night as members of the local unit of North Carolina National Guards tramped along principal streets of the city getting themselves in trim for annual encampment at Fort Bragg, beginning next Sunday.

Commander Herbert Waldrop said the boys are gradually rounding into fine form and will be in excellent trim for the gruelling test of camp life.

Three practice periods have been arranged for this week, and when the artillerymen entrain Sunday for Fort Bragg they are expected to be all set for capturing additional honors in the field artillery training and sportsmanship.

The unit for the last three or four years has attracted attention of high camp officers because of their splendid showing on drill and in sports and every effort was being made to uphold the record this year.

SPITE MARRIAGE
by Katharine Harland Taylor

Chapter 35
THE BLOW
 IT WAS early in March that Bob planned his start. As the result of almost superhuman pressure, he found himself free to go two days before he had thought he could start and—packing!

Packing made him rather abordably tremulous. Once and again he paused to stare blankly at the most familiar objects, a military brush,
 a comb, some such unromantic things.
 Then he would pull himself with a hard jerk, from that which he scorned as "mooning," to go on... shirts, collars, he must not forget to open and to empty the bottom drawer that had turned to a safe during one week of hard rains. Less than six days of travel and he would see his mother, Marsha.

Bartholomew would open the door to him; perhaps his mother would wait his coming in the drawing room; perhaps Marsha would be in the hall?
 Or perhaps because of his mother and the game they played for her, Marsha would meet him at the station. He hoped, fervently, that he wouldn't go to pieces to show her how much she still mattered, and to give her hint of the fact that she would always matter. He did not want to bother her in any way.

Young Todd, idle that day because of a touch of the fever that makes nomads cautious, wandered in to say, "Packing?"
 Bob laughed. "Might think so," he responded, "but in reality, I'm trout fishing."
 "Damned funny, aren't you?"
 questioned Todd. But he was not affronted. It was good to see old Bob coming back to his old self. Bob had been one of the most light-hearted of the crew before his marriage.

"Guess you'll hate to see your wife?" asked Todd.
 "Great hardship," Bob agreed.
 Todd realized he had been wrong about it; he saw Bob's eyes brighten and a flush creep under his tan.
 "Hate her, don't you?" ventured young Todd.
 "Suppose you mind your business,
 you nery brat," said Bob. He added,
 as he stepped on a bulging suitcase in order to close it, "And suppose you clear out. If Ling hadn't been full of hog, I'd have stationed him at the front door just in order to tell you that I was not at home. Is that clear?"

Todd admitted it was; he grinned, leaving. As he gained the open he saw Vicente disappearing into the gulch and, he waited. "No one's little racer," he murmured, as Vicente kicked his mule into following the twisting, rising path.
 "Letters, you loped, unwashed son of a razor back hog?" asked Todd, who tried to be virile, five minutes later.

VICENTE held forth a telegram, addressed to Bob. Todd hoped it did not contain bad news. "How fearful that would be!" he murmured, coming back to himself and to natural expression. He plucked at a hangnail as he looked nervously toward Alexander's and Powers' shack, which Vicente had entered in his usual slow way.

Vicente came out. There was no stir from the shack; no slightest noise came from it to liven the jungle silence.
 Todd moved, stealthily, toward the opened door. And this time a wish to help, not curiosity, took him.
 At the doorway, he looked in to decide that it must have been bad news, very bad news.
 Powers was sitting, slumped by the table, head dropped upon his arms and shoulders moving. There was a lizard at his feet. It scurried through crushed papers, darted across the room; up the wall. Todd said a cramped, muted, "Powers!"
 But Bob didn't answer and Todd backed away.

Bob sat up, squared his shoulders, he never knew how much later. Then again he read the word that told him that the feeble flame in his mother's weary body had gone out; the message was signed, "Marsha Powers."
 He would return now to arrange with Marsha Powers for their divorce, not to pretend for his mother with kissing Marsha as he met her.
 "I've been thinking too much of that," he said solemnly and aghast.

Commerce said:
 "The State sales tax ruling makes it mandatory that the tax be paid by the purchaser. How can a merchant advertise an article in his window for $1.00 and when the article is wrapped up ask the purchaser for $1.03 without mentioning the words 'sales tax'? On the other hand, what is the difference? The purchaser is paying the sales tax why should the merchant hesitate to mention the words 'sales tax.' The merchant does not get the money. He is merely collecting the money and in turn passing it on to the state.
 "There is no use for the Revenue Department of our state to try and 'beat the devil around the bush' and cause the merchant some embarrassment with his customers. The buying public knows that we have a sales tax, enacted by our State Legislature in the session of 1933. Why not face the issue fair and square and continue to mention the words 'sales tax' on every purchase. The majority of the buying public know that the State of North Carolina has a 3 per cent sales tax and that the tax is passed on to the purchaser and that they are required by law to pay the sales tax."
 Apartment house operators in Kansas City have adopted a code of fair competition.

The Plasters

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
 "Really," said Willy Nilly when he went into Top Notch's General Store, "this place is in great confusion. I'll just take a moment or two to tidy it up."
 Of course it took a good deal longer than a moment or two, but Willy Nilly felt so sure that he would really attend to his sticking-out ears this time that he did not mind. These lovely summer days, he thought, would keep his animal friends busy out-of-doors.
 After a while Willy Nilly was all ready to take the plaster back to his house.
 "I'll put the plaster on at home and then continue with my work. That way I'll be accomplishing two things at once. Oh, I need never say again that it's hard for me to get anything done when I succeed in two important jobs at once."
 Willy Nilly walked up the hill to his house and he took the plaster with him. Then he sat down and fixed it so that his sticking-out ears were held back.
 "It's not very comfortable," Willy Nilly thought, "but it will certainly make an improvement in my appearance. I want to have nice ears, so I'll suffer a bit for my vanity. We talk about Top Notch being vain, but we all have our pride!"
 The plaster began to burn. Willy Nilly tried to work in the garden but he was thinking so much about his ears that he found himself digging up some vegetables instead of weeds.
 "I wonder what this plaster is really for?" Willy Nilly thought anxiously. "Top Notch merely said I could have some any time."

 Oxford, Englan.—(AP)—Lord Nuffield, British automobile magnate, has his own way for dealing with radicals.
 He found three of them selling a Communist paper outside his works at Cowley.
 "You ought to go to Russia," he said, and offered to send them there.
 The reds, two of them students at Ruskin College, a labor institution at Oxford, took him at his word and the trip plans progressed until Lord Nuffield specified that the trio must stay there.
 "I pointed out," he said, "that if Russia is such a nice place they ought to have no objection to staying there."
 But all three refused the offer.

MANY PEOPLE AIDING CITY PLAYGROUND

Number of Individuals And Firms Help Put Recreational Center Over Big

The Greenville playgrounds are deeply indebted to many people and firms in Greenville for their kind co-operation, aid and gifts which have added greatly in our pleasures and occupations.

First, we are indebted to the Pitt County Welfare Department for arranging a playground activity for the children here and elsewhere in the county.

In Greenville we wish to thank Mayor Flanagan and Dr. Meadows of East Carolina Teachers College for arranging such a nice place for us to play.

J. H. Rose has added greatly in giving us the use of the High School auditorium for our musical and games, hours and singing games and dances; also the ravine for baseball and the school truck whenever we need it.

George Calrk is helping us by getting the grounds in the recreation park and ravine cleaned so that we may have more room to play, free from poison vines and weeds and rubbish.

H. L. Rivers and J. W. Clark have so generously loaned us carpenters to build the sand boxes and see-saws and are giving us scrap lumber for our wood construction work.

The Garris Evans Lumber Company has given lumber for our see-saws and offered to aid further when needed.

J. G. Clark has filled the sand boxes with fresh, clean river sand. Mr. Clark had this sand hauled, sifted and placed in the boxes, and each morning the little folks build castles, forts, houses and many lovely pictures; indeed it is as healthful as if it were really on the beach itself.

The Daily Reflector has so generously printed every notice about opening hours, programs and all articles we needed, and have donated a space in each Monday's paper which will be called Playground News. In this space the children will report their own playground doings.

Mrs. W. C. Vincent of the Shepard Memorial Library has fixed a Playground Department in the library. There is a shelf for the juniors and one for the seniors. On these two shelves may be found books with stories especially adapted to dramatization, handicraft and other playground needs.

White's Stores, Inc., have equipped the sand beds with playthings, such as buckets, shovels, sand sifters and molds, boats and other toys which add greatly to the children's pleasure.

Grant's and MacLellan Stores have given many rubber balls and animals. While the children are enjoying some of these, most of these toys are being saved for use in the wading pool.

Edwards Hardware Company has made our construction work possible by presenting us with ten pounds of assorted nails and also six baseballs to the baseball club.

Warren Drug Company has given a Red Cross Emergency Kit to be used in case of small accidents and which has already been very useful.

Miss Geneva Dail, one of our instructors has brought us a croquet set which is very popular in the Free Play Hour.

Mr. Walker of the State Theater is giving four passes to the picture show each week for the four best playground sports. The tickets will be divided among the juniors and seniors. Mr. Walker will select the kind of picture he thinks best suited for children each week and give these passes for these pictures.

As soon as the swimming pool is opened the Welfare Department will give us a number of tickets each week. These tickets, too, will be given for those striving for the most points in playground attainments.

The children are making up their own lists of points which they will work for and will announce them in their Playground News.

If the enthusiasm, co-operation and interest which has been extended to the Greenville Playground Directors is any example of just how interested the people of Greenville, especially those in authority, are in the growth and welfare of the children it can be truly said of Greenville that she thoroughly believes in her youth, and is ever ready and willing to help them attain a fuller, more wholesome growth. —Mrs. Eugene Robeson and Playground Staff.

POSTOFFICE RECORD FOR HIGH POINT BROKEN

High Point, N. C., Aug. 3.—Postal receipts climbed to a new high and the local postoffice had the largest month in its history during the month which closed Tuesday, it was announced by Postmaster S. C. Clark.

Total receipts for the first seven months of 1934 reached $107,134.14 on July 30, an increase of over $9,691 over the corresponding seven months of last year. Receipts for July of this year, a record month, indicated an increase of $3,354.53 over the corresponding month of 1933.

The volume of business handled by the local office during last month was the greatest in the history of the office, Mr. Clark asserted. He indicated that from a comparison of receipts 1934 may be a record year for the office, topping the receipts and volume of the banner year 1929.

SIXTEEN CASES OF DEVIL'S GRIP IN TYRRELL COUNTY

Columbia, N. C., Aug. 3.—Tyrrell County is in the "Devil Grip."

That is the pronouncement of Dr. S. C. Chaplin, county health officer, in connection with a disease which has just broken loose in the county.

The Devil's Grip, as Dr. Chaplin describes it, begins with a pain in the stomach or chest accompanied by a chill or high fever. It is a malady of from three to five days duration.

The county health officer reported twelve cases Wednesday.

BARFOOT JOES SUFFER A SETBACK

New York—(AP)—Barefoot boys with cheeks of tan, wash your feet in yonder pan; scrub hands well with yellow soap—that's the latest Girl Scout soap.

Not only that, but the Girl Scouts say they don't even want a barefoot person in their camps.

"The barefoot boy, no matter how blithe his whistle, would be just as welcome as the plague in a modern camp," report national headquarters officials here.

"If campers know how to take care of their feet and their food they will have eliminated most of the major camping difficulties," says the national camp advisory staff which is headed by Mrs. Walter N. Rothschild, of New York, chairman.

"Bare feet mean cuts, infections, bruises, poison ivy trouble and athlete's foot."

To eliminate these troubles at Camp Andre, Briar Cliff Manor, N. Y., the only camp operated directly by national headquarters, the Girl Scouts before and after swimming dip their feet in hydrochloric solution.

"A large supply of strong yellow soap seems to be the Girl Scout's second best preventative," says the staff. "Campers should wash their hands as often as possible, preferably with yellow soap. Its virtues seem indeed to be as numerous as those of an old patent medicine."

AFRICAN PLANES BECKON MRS. SMUTS TO TRAVEL

Pretoria, South Africa—(AP)—The wife of General Jan Smuts, South African statesman and soldier, has never been outside Africa because of her distaste for ocean travel, but she may fly with her husband to British Isles in September when he goes to Scotland to deliver an address as chancellor of St. Andrew's University.

General Smuts at 64 is an ardent flyer and intends to save nine days on his impending voyage by traveling by the Imperial Airways down the Nile valley to Cairo and thence to London.

China Buys Fishing Fleet. Peiping—(AP)—Seven modern trawlers have been purchased by the Nanking government from a German steel concern at a cost of $750,000. The ships are fitted with radio and will help protect small fishing craft from pirates.

(Continued on page Three.) of the belt. The crop was estimated at between 32,000,000 and 36,000,000 pounds with 75 per cent of the crop expected to be sold by Friday, August 10.

Mr. Morton said indications are the entire crop, except a few late ones, will be sold before the date set for the opening of the local market.

Giving the first facts in connection with operation of the allotment plan which went into effect in Georgia this year, Mr. Morton said the new system was not slowing down sales by any means but that things were moving along smoothly and satisfactorily.

Referring to the loose leaf tobacco code being administered by J. C. Lanier of Greenville, code administrator, Mr. Morton said provisions were in operation on all warehouse floors and that both warehousemen and farmers were benefiting by it. He said Mr. Lanier had tested all scales in the state and was seeing to it that fair trade practices as provided by the code were fully enforced.

Mr. Morton was highly pleased with the opening on Georgia floors and expressed belief the situation there held out brighter prospects than ever for improved prices when the Eastern North Carolina tobacco belt begins operation.

The appeal for more funds temporarily halted work on the tentative budget, but the board was to meet again in the near future to finish work on the budget and work the swimming pool out of the unexpected financial jam.

ROBBERS TO GET HEARING ON SATURDAY

Herbert Hemby and Stella Green Face Court For Carr Home Robbery

Herbert Hemby and Stella Green, colored, arrested here yesterday in connection with the robbery of Dr. Carr's home, will be given preliminary hearing in police court Saturday morning.

The police head said Hemby, who has served two road sentences on breaking and entering charges would probably find his way to the roads for life this time.

Stella Green was implicated by Hemby following his arrest in the home of Dr. Carr night before last when he was surprised by Sheriff Sam Whitehurst and members of the local police force.

Hemby was fingerprinted and police checked the prints with those of a robber who entered a Paris Avenue home in June and made off with an amount of foodstuffs.

Police said the negro had been taking goods from the house for a period of three weeks, and he probably would have gotten away with it had it not been for a neighbor near the Carr home who saw the negro sneak in the back door and notified police.

TAR BABIES BEAT LOCALS IN BAT SPREE

Tarboro hopped Lefty Dean's offerings to complete seven runs while Skipper was holding the locals scoreless yesterday.

The visitors made fourteen hits off Dean in his seven-inning stay on the mound. Harrington pitched the rest of the way and checked the visitors.

Collenberger, with four hits in five tries, and Manager Perritt, who hit safely three times, featured the Tarboro attack.

Fielding of Huiskamp and catching of Potts featured for the locals. Richardson worked a nice game behind the bat for the Tarboro club.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Financial market apparently were standing at the cross-roads today wondering which way to go.

Stocks backed and filled hesitantly. The pace was about as slow as the previous creeping session.

A few noticeable soft spots developed, but various drops also displayed a countering factor in notice.

The flurry of the aviation groups reflected further hope the army demand for fighting planes would whip up more business for the manufacturers.

New York, Aug. 3.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened fairly steady, unchanged to two points lower under liquidation and slow demand.

The relatively steady cables and bullish reports from the southwest evidently failed to stimulate any aggressive buying and the market was quiet after the call with fluctuations narrow.
