Secretaries Of Chambers Will Meet in Kinston

Chamber of Commerce secretaries from practically every town and county in Eastern North Carolina will meet at 11 o'clock next Tuesday, October 3, in Kinston to confer with R. J. Blank, executive vice-president, and S. F. Dickenson, secretary of Eastern North Carolina Association, Inc., relative to the program of work and expansion movement of the organization now under way.

President C. W. Howard of the association in issuing the call for the meeting, said: "The work of our association must be identified very closely with that of the local Chamber of Commerce, supplementing its efforts and welding our local units into a powerful force without in any way trespassing upon the prerogative of the local trade body. With a board of directors elected by the membership limited to one director from each of the forty-four counties in our group, the association is truly representative of all sections and eliminate any possibility of domination and any selfish interest, in towns or locality."

Replies already have been received from Wilson, Rocky Mount, Wilmington, Elizabeth City, Kinston, Goldsboro, Tarboro and Washington Chamber of Commerce executives indicating the meeting will be well attended. "Attendance is not limited to Chamber of Commerce secretaries," said Mr. Blank at headquarters office, in commenting upon the meeting. "The press and any citizen in Eastern North Carolina interested in a constructive program of development for the area as a whole, is cordially invited to attend."

GANGSTERS ACTIVE IN TOBACCO TOWNS

Kinston, Sept. 27.—Petty gangsters from Northern points have invaded tobacco towns in this section, lured by the comparative prosperity resulting from high prices for farm produce. Three gangs have been spotted here, according to authorities. One official said today that the larger towns in the eastern tobacco belt are "overrun with racketeers." Important robberies here and elsewhere are believed to have been committed by criminals from a distance. Persons with "little rackets" are being watched here. Many have fled within a few hours of their arrival. New York, Chicago and Philadelphia are believed to have contributed to the local criminal population. The police are busier than ever before. Arrests recently have averaged more than a dozen a day.

PICKPOCKET ROBS FARMER

Jim Jarvis Loses Over $100 While Watching Amusement in Tobacco Town

Pickpockets made their appearance in Greenville yesterday and relieved a farmer named Jim Jarvis of something over a hundred dollars in cash and a check.

Police were working on the case today but appeared no nearer a solution than they were when they started. Nobody saw the thief at work and Jarvis didn't know exactly when the money was lifted from his pocket so the officers had very little evidence to work upon.

It was also reported today that another grower was robbed of $248 and his marketing card, but this could not be verified. Neither county officers or police had been notified of such a case and did not place much credence in the report.

Chief of Police George Clark said this morning he had been notified from Kinston that a man was robbed of $900 there last night. No details of the robbery were given.

Hauptmann Enters Plea of Not Guilty

Alleged Kidnaper And Slayer of Lindbergh Child Held Under $100,000 Bond After Arraignment Today; Counsel Seeks Bond Of $5,000 But is Denied; Next Hearing Date to be Fixed by District Attorney

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh made a surprise visit to the Bronx county building today and disguised in a line of detectives viewed Bruno Richard Hauptmann, former German machine gunner, charged with extorting $50,000 from the flier.

District Attorney Samuel Foley announced the meeting after Hauptmann had pleaded "not guilty" to an indictment returned by a Bronx county grand jury yesterday charging extortion in the Lindbergh kidnap case.

Colonel Lindbergh made the trip from his Englewood, N. J., home accompanied by several members of the district attorney's staff and rushed to the county building.

He entered the building unnoticed and as a disguise wore a pair of horn-rimmed glasses and cap.

Whisked to the sixth floor of the building in a private elevator, Colonel Lindbergh took his place in a lineup of detectives and the prisoner was brought in. The district attorney said that the outcome of the meeting would not be made public.

When the lineup was concluded, Colonel Lindbergh left immediately, also unnoticed.

The lineup caused a delay in arraignment of the prisoner before Judge Lester W. Patterson. Hauptmann wore a wrinkled gray suit, a white shirt and collar with no tie. He had a stubby growth of beard and said nothing during the brief proceedings which required five or six minutes.

His plea of "not guilty" was voiced by his counsel, James M. Fawcett, after Judge Patterson had opened the "Case of the State of New York against Bruno Richard Hauptmann and his several aliases." The court announced the arraignment was made on a bench warrant handed down yesterday at the same time that the Bronx county grand jury filed its indictment.

District Attorney Foley asked that the prisoner be held without bail and forfeit for the plea of not guilty and asked to be heard. Defense counsel referred to a section of the penal law of the state quoting from it that bail is permissible on a charge of extortion and asked that bail be set at $5,000 in the name of justice.

TRADE BODY PLANS DINNER

Eastern Carolina Organization Calls Meeting of Business Men For Oct 1

C. W. Howard, president of Eastern North Carolina Association, Inc. has issued a call to representative local business men to meet at a dinner to be held Monday night October 1, to discuss the program or work and expansion movement of the organization, now under way and which is of such vital importance to this community.

This is the first of a series of meetings to be held at central points throughout the forty-four counties served by the association in which representative business leaders of the area will participate and assist in the movement to be undertaken by the organization this year.

Eastern North Carolina with resources, agricultural, industrial and tourist possibilities, second to no area in the South, has failed to capitalize upon these assets because of lack of proper organization and a co-ordinated program consistently prosecuted during the past few years. The association is designed to correct this glaring weakness of the territory which it serves.

A more aggressive campaign is planned and will be waged this year than ever before against race discriminations which have taken literally millions of dollars in business, industry and freight costs from the channels of trade of Eastern North Carolina and diverted enormous sums to the coffers of Virginia and other neighbor States, said S. F. Dickinson, secretary of the association and manager of the traffic department. "Right now, we are pressing the Tar River development which means much to this section of our territory and is so close to the hearts and pocketbooks of the people of Greenville in particular as they will derive the greatest direct advantage from its construction. This is only one phase of the program contemplated by Mr. Blank and the board of directors, however. They realize that permanent prosperity for Eastern North Carolina can come only with intensive organization and the solution of certain fundamental economic problems now facing us. Our neighbors have powerful organizations day by day diverting revenues, and capitalizing upon the heritage which rightfully belongs to Eastern North Carolina."

Ronald Colman At State Today.
Ronald Colman returned from a year's vacation to bring an old friend back to the screen of the State Theatre, where "Bulldog Drummond Strikes Back" began a two-day showing today.

Ever since Colman made the earlier talkie, "Bulldog Drummond" the filmgoing public has retained a fond memory of the dashing Captain Hugh Drummond whom he first portrayed in that picture.

Drummond also holds a fond place in Colman's heart, for it was in the creation of this character that he scored his greatest screen hit.

Tips on CONTRACT
WRONG BUT PLEASED
By Tom O'Neil

With most players a jump rebound means an independently strong suit one that the bidder is prepared to play if partner has a void in it.

If the suit falls short of such requirements and partner has a strong hand there is likely to be an unsuccessful slam contract.

But what does it matter if a slam is bid under such conditions and made with more profit than there would have been on a slam in another suit that is technically the right contract?

North started the auction with one club and after East's pass, South bid a heart. West passed and North forced with two spades. South thought the force meant that North had a fit with hearts. South bid four hearts, counting on his fit with North's clubs. North thought that South had a string of hearts headed by the king and queen at least, and went to six hearts, the contract.

After a diamond opening, there

"Full Feeling" After Meals

Here is how Theford's Black-Draught proved helpful to Mr. Archie W. Brown, of Fort Green, Fla.: "I have taken Black-Draught when I have felt dull from over-eating or eating too hurriedly," he writes. "Small doses right after meals rid me of gases and heavy feeling. I am a great believer in Black-Draught."

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

was nothing to the play. Trumps were drawn, West making his king, and the king-queen of diamonds provided parking space for two clubs from the south hand, and a club was finessed.

If after the force of two spades by North over South's one heart, South had shown assistance for clubs, there would have been a contract for a little slam in clubs by North. One club would have been lost to West and hearts would have been ruffed until the King dropped. The fit in clubs in the hands of the contracting partnership made a club slam more justifiable.

"Well," remarked Briggs, in answer to the comments of a losing adversary, "we make a point more by the heart slam," meaning that the difference between 120 for a club slam and 180 for a heart slam counted 100 points insofar as the net of the rubber was concerned.

"You were lucky," countered the adversary, "in view of North's singleton ace, the adverse hearts might well have been bunched so that you could lose two trump tricks instead of one. Your holding showed you there was little likelihood of any bunching danger with clubs trump."

Returns On Smalled Crops Bring Golden Harvest To Nebraska

By HUGH A. FOGARTY
Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—Despite the drought and damaged crops, autumn is bringing a golden harvest to Nebraska.

Far from pessimistic, farmers of the Cornhusker State turn from reports that they are "drought-stricken" count more dollars than they have fingered since 1930.

One reliable private estimate based on government crop figures and current market prices, places their total 1934 income at $144,235,000.

There is no denying the extent of damage done by scorching winds and rainless weeks, but spectacular price increases, combined with added thrift and cash benefits under the government's AAA program have assured Nebraska of a farm income approximately $12,000,000 more than 1932 and $4,000,000 more than 1931.

Retail Sales Increase
In the cities, likewise, the pressure of flowing cash is being felt as reliable indicators point to an upturn in purchasing power.

A spokesman for Omaha retailers, for example, reports an increase in retail sales here during the first seven months of $23,000,000 over the same period last year; Omaha bank clearings in August showed an increase of $26,197,198 over last August. Smaller communities report corresponding gains.

Newspapers have been devoting considerable space in recent weeks to discounting any impression that Nebraska is "on the ropes."

Hay Down, Price Up
The farmer, they argue, is well ahead in the long run even though his crops—in some instances—are greatly reduced by lack of moisture. Selling prices of the things he raises have increased during recent months between 50 to 100 per cent over last year's prices.

Hay production, for instance, has been reduced greatly but will worth three or four dollars a ton last year is selling at $17 in the stack. Wheat, corn, hogs, cattle, chickens, milk, butterfat, eggs and all the other farm commodities tell the same story of reduced volume but increased value.

In addition to getting higher prices for the hogs they raise, the farmers are receiving AAA checks for hogs they didn't raise. Benefit checks under the corn-hog plan, will total $30,000,000 in the State. Wheat benefits will total $5,759,000.

Other government agencies, too, are contributing to Nebraska's larger income. The farm credit administration is reducing interest rates on farm loans. The Public Works Administration is in process of spending $30,000,000 in the State. The FERA had spent more than $12,000,000 here prior to September 1st.

Trench Silos Dug
Thrift, always fashionable on the farm, reached a new intensity as Nebraska farmers watched anxiously through the summer for signs of rain clouds. Appreciating the enormity of the task cut out for them, they utilized everything on the farm but the pig's squeal.

Cows that a year ago were out on pasture—largely unattended—this year were fed on corn and every quart of cream was saved to sell. On thousands of Nebraska farms, French silos were dug and tons of corn stalks, left to rot in the field in former years, were piled in; they'll be valuable stock feed during the winter.

By QUINTON JAMES
Iceland isn't very big, yet it has a demand for airmail stamps. They find probably their greatest use in mail sent out of the country across the seas, to be speeded through the skies after crossing.

Iceland started its airmail issues in 1928 stamp that year and the next with an outline drawing of an airplane. It was not until 1930, however, that regular air stamps were printed. This issue has been continued to the present day, a new set having just made its appearance.

The new stamps, six in number ranging from 10 aur to 2 krone, have as their principal motif an airplane in flight. On the two higher values, 1-krone dark brown and 2-krone orange red, a monoplane is depicted soaring high above the ocean-nestled country.

Two of the lower values, 10-aur blue and 20-aur green, show a biplane flying out to sea, while on the 20-aur purple and the 50-aur red violet a monoplane is seen speeding over mountainous territory. Various border designs are used, including airplane propellers and eagles.

The 2-krone is an additional value. The new issue also marks a slight change in the size of the stamps.

France Honors Bleriot
Louis Bleriot, who in 1909 did some real airplane pioneering by being the first to fly the English channel, is honored by a special airmail stamp by France. This year is the twenty-fifth anniversary of his accomplishment.

Pictured on the stamp in Bleriot's monoplane, a frail looking machine compared to the modern sky giants. It is superimposed above a map of the channel, which shows the route taken by the flier. The value is 2.25 francs.

The Lincoln Stamp
Although regarded by some collectors as a reissue, the current Lincoln 3-cent of the regular United States postage designs which first appeared in 1922 and have been continued to date, is not to be considered as a variety change by the catalog makers. The stamp disappeared simultaneously with Lincoln's birthday this year. There is little if any difference between it and the previous printing.

A total of 349,000 persons received relief in Missouri in June, 1934, an increase of 77,000 over the same month of 1933.

Reports of pickpockets
operating among the crowds specially in the tobacco district of this city, should be a warning to the tobacco growers against carrying large sums of money in their pockets. There have been two or three reports of large sums stolen by growers in this vicinity since the market opened and the grower who wants to play safe will leave his money in the bank when he ashes his tobacco check keeping on his person only a sufficient amount to take care of small obligations that he may pay in cash.

STACY AT THE HELM

(News and Observer)
The appointment by President Roosevelt of Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy as chairman of the Labor Relations Board, which has supreme power to adjust disturbances between the worker and employer in industry, could have a valuable effect upon the still disturbed relations of workers and manufacturers in the textile industry in the judge's native State.
North Carolina workers
and North Carolina manufacturers both know Judge Stacy as a learned jurist and fair and honest man. As chairman of the board named by the President in connection with the steel industry, and in earlier arbitration cases, Judge Stacy has gained a rich experience which will be valuable in the present difficulties. In his own State his appointment should bring to a prompt termination the quarrels which have arisen anew since the strike came to an end on Monday with the workers going back to their jobs at the President's request.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Marian Gordon, reporter for the Morning Dispatch, just has returned from hearing the jury's "not guilty" which frees William Brown of the charge of accepting a bribe for passing defective work on a new high school building. Now she learns that her schoolmate, the beautiful & tricky Silver Houdon has been granted a divorce from Cliff Houdon, and that Houdon has shot himself.
Marian is to go by plane to Reno to break the news to Silver, and get a story. Marian is explaining to her roommate, Anne.

Chapter Five
RENO

"WHAT sort of a chap is Houdon?"
asked Anne.
"Fine fellow as far as I know," returned Marian, "a little erratic, maybe. Always had more money than was good for him. Good looking, crew man on the U Varsity. Silver took me to the races one year."
"Think it was his fault she applied for a divorce?"
"Probably, in so far that he'd give her anything she wanted, like all the rest of us. She has the most unholy way of taking the things one loves most and making the giver glad he's giving. I haven't seen her since her wedding, but I understand he spilled her like everyone else.

There, how do you like the new dress?"
Marian had donned a lilac colored angora frock, pulled a beige angora hat over her hair and slipped into a beige lapin swaggar coat.
"Stunning," declared Anne with enthusiasm. "I'm so glad you're getting some sense about clothes.
You should take a few tips from this Silver friend of yours. Lon's the kind of a fellow every woman's bound to make a try for, and you're going to have to learn you can't always depend upon your hair and eyes to get you by. You're too practical, you and your plain tailored clothes."

"That from you," chided Marian,
"you and your uniforms."
"Put my Albert's a doctor and I'm only a nurse. Besides I have dimples. With those I could save a man's life and never be given credit for it. There's a horn . . . and the buzzer. Here are your gloves . . .
need any cash?" Anne followed her to the door. "Oh, and Ian, if Houdon holds his own, he'll be under my care, they won't take a chance on moving him tonight."
Marian found the cab at the curb, Estes and his camera inside. "And just as I pulled the quilt up to my chin," he was lamenting, "br went the telephone."
"You were lucky," laughed Marian, stowing her bag alongside his camera. "My chin hasn't seen a quilt for so long, it would probably think it was an eclipse of the moon."

As the cab careened around the corner Estes spoke. "Say Ian, what's this yarn about. I thought this marriage was one of those made-in-Heaven affairs."
"It was, but they didn't keep it there and this hemisphere is rough on marital unions."
"Another woman?"
"I don't think Cliff knew there were other women."
"Another man, then?"
"No," she paused as the cab shot into the estuary tube and wheeled along the floor of the bay

Life is hard in the Soviet Union Stalin and his associates in control of the communist party admit it in their speeches. Living standards are too low but the public is told that the only way to raise them is to join whole-heartedly in the plans of the proletarian government and hasten the complete socialization of industry and agriculture.
Transportation, industry, marketing and agriculture are all under fire. Failure to fulfill plans is assailed from Vladivostok to the Baltic, from the White Sea to the Black, so fast the signal lights ran into a single flare of red, blue and green.

"No," she repeated as they came out on the island, "people are divorced for other reasons."
"Not really," chortled Estes. "If they are us newsmen don't hear about them."
The cab skimmed the tree-lined avenues, crossed a bridge and scurried along a dyke that rimmed the bay-shore. To the left the airport buildings blazed like a festa city, and in the field, small ships arose and settled like queer species of night-flying moths.
They pulled up before the terminal, rushed into the building where their tickets awaited them, then out onto the field where the tri-motor express waited in the tremulous glow of flood lights.
Marian felt a pulse of excitement beat in her throat. The sheer beauty of the silver ship with its wide spread wings, the roar of power from the testing motors, erased the shabby scene of the court room and the later news of the tragedy from her mind.
She settled back into the comfortable seat, adjusted her belt for ease on the upward swing of the ship, heard the sharp slam of the cabin door, saw the co-pilot join the pilot in the control cabin. She accepted.

DRUNKEN CAR DRIVERS CREATE A PROBLEM

New Bern, N. C., Sept. 27.—The problem of drunken drivers is becoming quite a serious one in this county. Tuesday in recorder's court Judge Henry P. Whitehurst was confronted by nine different defendants on ten charges of driving cars while under the influence of liquor.
Four white men and one negro were sentenced to six months on the roads, with sentence suspended upon payment of $50 and costs. One white man had his case not pressed; one negro was acquitted and three cases were continued. The previous Tuesday in local recorder's court there were six charges of drunken driving, Judge Whitehurst stated.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes of filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.
If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.
If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait.
Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . .
a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.
But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

JOYCE GIVES EXTRA POWER TO CAROLINA

Chapel Hill, Sept. 27.—Emmett Joyce who split duty with Eddie Kahn at right guard for Carolina last fall, reported for the first time today, giving the Tar Heels four letter guardsmen and strengthening their line considerably at this key position.

The husky Junior from Chicago may come in for some good service if he can get in shape in time for the Wake Forest game here Saturday. Captain George Barclay turned up with a stiff knee yesterday, and while he is expected to be ready to go Coach Carl Snow will be anxious to rest the Tar Heels' brilliant leader as much as possible.

Wake Forest's hopes for a victory in the crucial opening game of the Big Five race mounted higher and higher with the announcement today that Don Jackson would not start Saturday. The star left halfback's leg injury was much improved. However, the coaches are fearful of the risk of aggravating the injury and having him laid up for two or three more weeks.

"Slippery Dick" Dashiell whose clever backfield running and passing have featured the last several scrimmages, is being groomed to take Jackson's place, with Randy Cooner, Eddie Martin and Harry Montgomery held in reserve.

Dashiell becomes the third sophomore to crash a place in the varsity lineup. Dick Buck with his clever and effective all-round play at end and Jim Hutchins with his hard driving at fullback had already won their places. John Trimpey 220-pound soph tackle, is another possible starter.

The Varsity has shown considerable power and more deception in its first scrimmages with the husky but green freshman team this week. It is an open question, however whether the Tar Heels can pierce Wake Forest's 200-pound veteran line or hold its driving backs.

The student body as well as the team appear to realize the importance of getting off to a good start in the first game under the new coach and are making intensive preparations to give the players their utmost support. Interest has run high since Wake Forest's 62-0 rout of Guilford, and heavy advance ticket sales indicate a crowd.

One bottle of DARE'S MENTHA PEPSIN is guaranteed to show you the way to complete freedom from the most stubborn gastritis or dyspepsia or your money back.

Dear Sir—After having used your MENTHA PEPSIN and obtained such good results, I feel it my duty to express my gratitude in this manner to you for your wonderful preparation, which has entirely cured me from indigestion which I have been troubled with for the past seven years.

I shall recommend MENTHA PEPSIN wherever I go, so that others may be benefited as I have been. It was a great drawback to me in my profession when I suffered with these attacks of indigestion. I felt greatly relieved after taking the first bottle and by the time I had finished the third bottle, I can gladly say that I was cured of my old enemy.—Mary E. Burton (Professional Nurse), Bridgeton, N. J.

And here is another who has suffered and who is glad to tell others what it has done for him.

Dear Sir—I recently bought a bottle of DARE'S MENTHA PEPSIN from a drug store in our town, and rejoice to say that it has cured me of indigestion. I had tried many medicines and had almost given up when a friend recommended MENTHA PEPSIN. I am only too glad to tell others what it has done for me.—Charles Bartlett, Millville, N. J.

No matter what other remedies you have tried, follow Mr. Bartlett's suggestion and get rid of your stomach trouble with the aid of DARE'S MENTHA PEPSIN. After your weak, disordered stomach is as good as new you'll sleep better, be stronger, have more endurance and your eyes will sparkle with health. What it has done for thousands it will do for you. But ask for it by name—DARE'S MENTHA PEPSIN—and be sure you get it.—(Adv.)

knows women's fashions and women know we do you remember seeing in the paper not so long ago that our buyers had returned from New York... and they're going up again soon... well, that's one reason we know women's fashions. We see that you always get the newest things from the style centers.

and then we keep in close touch with our customers and their needs... maybe you said something about wanting a tunic dress... and maybe one came in in the next few days. We called you and you came down... and even if we can't always call we drop you a postcard to let you know what's new.

we've been telling you about the lovely fall things we have... but really... they're so utterly ravishing... we can't do them justice by describing them. The handsome ladies at the right show what inspiring things have been done in the fall picture... a two piece effect with a fitted wastline, and emphasis on the flared peplum around the hips... a luxurious silver fox atop a stunning coat tailored in rich jacquard wool.

the daytime silhouette

... semi-tailored and tailored...

gay and colorful blouses in lovely fabrics accessories, too...

and shoes, too...

are utterly new and smart... bags in unusual leathers and odd shapes... gloves, so needful to one's ensemble... hats in splendid variations.

have a glorious air of elegance... suedes, galardine, crushed kid, brocaded kid... all are winning high favor.

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady unchanged to one lower with disappointing verpool cables of fact by commission house buying.

The market eased during the early dealings. December eased from 157 to 12.52. It appeared to offer assistance and recovered to 12.55.

The market remained quiet, but it then steady undertone later in the morning. Early demand uncovered some trade buying orders in addition to much local support which was sufficient to absorb small Southern selling and scattered offerings.

December rallied to 12.58 and May 12.77, or about two points above the previous closing.

N. Y. Stock Market

The sunny side of Wall street appeared to be favored by most traders today and prices showed signs of pushing to much higher territory.

While there was little news that might have steadied equities, to anything satisfactory sentiment seemed much improved when compared with recent gloom which hovered over their sectors.

The textile, railroad and merchandise shares were in some demand although the trade volume in all departments was considerably under that of the prevailing session.

The softness of some metals was attributed largely to the dwindling on inflationary psychology. The carriers bid better in the face of declining tariff indications. Receding labor rumbles added to the textiles while expanding resistances helped some of the other stocks.

Transfers were 775,000 shares.

Textile Workers Silent

Charlotte, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Appointment of the presidential textile board today brought a degree of peace to the industry in the Carolinas which had not been attained for weeks.

Labor, still bitter toward numerous mill owners who were charged with discrimination against union members as mills reopened following the general textile strike, bided its time.

Leaders announced to local unions where friction with mill owners was most acute, had been advised to hold their fire until the new board could be given a chance.
