Acting Head To Fill Position Of Late Dr. Wright

SELECTION IS MADE TODAY BY TRUSTEES

Faculty and Student Body of East Carolina Teachers College Elated Over Former English Teacher's Elevation To High Post; Unanimous Choice Of Fact-Finding Body and Board; Named Acting President Five Months Ago

New College Head

Dr. L. R. Meadows was elected President of East Carolina Teachers College at a meeting of the Board of Trustees here today. He has been serving as acting head of the institution since May 3.

Dr. Leon R. Meadows, acting head of East Carolina Teachers College for the past five months, was elected permanent president of the institution at a meeting of the Board of Trustees at the college this morning.

Announcement of the board's action was received with general gratification by members of the faculty, the student body and the citizenship of this section of the State. Mr. Meadows was named acting president of the institution at a meeting of the Board of Trustees here May 3. At the same time a fact-finding body was named to look over the field of probable candidates for the position of president, and both that body and the board unanimously decided upon Dr. Meadows.

E. G. Flanagan, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees, who presided over the meeting today in the absence of Dr. A. T. Allen, of Raleigh, chairman of the board, said: "After giving careful consideration to a great many names of people both in and out of the State, the board has come to the conclusion that Dr. Leon R. Meadows was the man best fitted for the place. He was the unanimous choice of the fact-finding committee and of the board."

Only two members of the board were absent, Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, chairman of the board, and W. S. Moyer, of Raleigh and Washington City. Those present were members of the fact-finding committee: A. B. Andrews, chairman; E. G. Flanagan, H. C. Bridgers, and O. P. Makepeace. Others present were W. J. Boyd, Ayden; Robert R. Taylor, Greenville; J. K. Warren, Trenton; F. C. Harding, Mesdames Charles S. Forbes, of Greenville; John G. Dawson, of Kinston, and W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill.

The election and announcement of the new president came on a fitting date, October 5—the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the school. As the first quarter of a century under the first leader, the second under the second leader begins.

LEAF AVERAGE STILL MOUNTS

Market Paid $37.25 a Hundred For Over Four Million Pounds Here This Week

Tobacco continued to sell high on the Greenville tobacco market this week, and the report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, gave the average for the period as $37.25 a hundred. The total amount of tobacco sold during the week was 4,380,596 pounds for which growers received $1,631,553.82. Season sales were given as $32,708,474 pounds for $9,879,530.45, at an average of $30.20 a hundred. The sale yesterday was one of the lightest of the week, although prices still held to the high levels of the first of the week. The report placed the day's offerings at 531,740 for $187,542.94 at an average of $35.27 a hundred.

WILL ASK FOR REMOVAL OF CASE TO U. S. COURT

Durham, N. C., Oct. 5.—Eleven defendants to a $100,000 action brought by the local Brockwell operating company today filed notice that on October 12 they would file in the clerk's office petitions and bonds seeking to remove the litigation from Superior to Federal Court. The plaintiff, S. B. Brockwell, president and general manager of the firm, contends that the parent oil companies have conspired to fix prices in North Carolina and have resorted to unfair practices. Defendants in the suit are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, American Oil Company, Texas Company, Gulf Refining Company, Sinclair Oil Company, Shell Products, Inc., Pure Oil Company, Atlantic Refining Company, Continental Oil Company, and J. J. Sembower, of Charlotte, secretary of the State petroleum committee. The plaintiff further contends that Sembower took steps to libel his business, and that the taxpayers of North Carolina have paid $900 per day since July because of the alleged unfair practices of the eleven defendants.

Scanty Beach Garb Taxed Budapest.—(AP)—Deputy Petruvay of the Christian socialist party urged the Hungarian parliament to control scanty beach costumes by taxation, the scantier the suit, the higher the tax. Furthermore, the would have the tax collected on the spot for each and every appearance of the wearer. Increase use of hand labor is being fostered by the Netherlands government in an effort to assist employment in that country.

Introduces Testimony. Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Government attorney succeeded today in introducing the first of their paper witnesses against Samuel Insull, Sr. over the weakening protest of the defendant's counsel and his 16 associates on mail fraud charges.

The "paper witnesses" were leaders and customers of various brokerage houses from which the prosecutors hoped to bring evidence that Insull and the others in the last final venture of insolvent utility system bilked investors of about $10,000,000.

GOOD REPORTS ON EXPANSION CANVASS HERE

Business Men Reported Interested in Work of Eastern Carolina Association

Report of the first days canvass in the Expansion Movement of Eastern North Carolina Association, Inc. are very gratifying. "Despite the fact that the business men of this city are extremely busy now, more than thirty businessmen have cheerfully sacrificed a few hours from their business to increase the Association's numerical and financial strength. They realize the importance of both numbers and revenue if we are to successfully wage the fight for lower freight rates, continue to press the Tar River project which means hundreds of thousands of dollars to our people, to say nothing of the work the organization can do along industrial, publicity, and other lines," said C. W. Howard, President of Eastern North Carolina Association, Inc. The membership effort will continue through Friday and Saturday, according to Judge James chairman of the executive committee. Many of the tobacco men cannot devote a great deal of time to the work until Saturday morning. John Mitchell, Dave Turner, A. J. Rock and others reported 100 per cent success in their solicitation work thus far. Practically no citizen has refused to take out membership and contribute what he can this important work.

AUTO DEATHS REFLECT GAIN

Thirteen Persons Killed in September as Compared With Nine in August

Death continued to stalk ruthlessly over the highways of Eastern Carolina during September, and the monthly report of Lieutenant Jones head of the division highway patrol, showed today that thirteen persons were killed compared with nine the previous month. The list of injured was also slightly higher than August, the report showing that sixty-five persons were hurt against sixty-two the previous month. The department investigated a total of seventy-nine accidents, as compared with fifty-eight in August. Drunken drivers continued to give patrolmen considerable trouble, twenty-five having been arrested and fined for violation of the law. Licenses were also revoked in every case where the defendants were found guilty. The report gave 222 arrested for the period with 215 being found guilty and seven not guilty. Sentences totaling 243 months were dealt out to the various defendants. The department reported the issuance of 2,394 warnings, corrected 1,670 lights, and inspected 1,167 vehicles. Fines collected were given as $1,842, costs $1,286, revenue $8,002.61 with a total of $12,313.67.

IMPROVEMENT REFLECTED BY COTTON MILLS

Moderate Gains Reported After Three Weeks Standstill From General Strike

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The textile industry has emerged from its three weeks strike period with moderate improvement in operation. A sharp quickening of output has failed to materialize but there has been a decided pickup in output of special fabrics of which supplies have run low during the shutdown. The general statistical position of the industry was somewhat improved by the shut-down but several special fabric supplies were more than adequate. At the beginning of the strike it was estimated that stocks on hand were sufficient to meet a demand of six weeks for woolen goods, eight weeks for cotton and 11 weeks for silks. The shutdown was not complete, however, so that it can scarcely be said that stocks were cut as much as one-half in woolens or three-eighths in cotton. As a matter of fact it was chiefly in fine goods cotton lines that anything like a real shortage was beginning to appear as general operations were resumed.

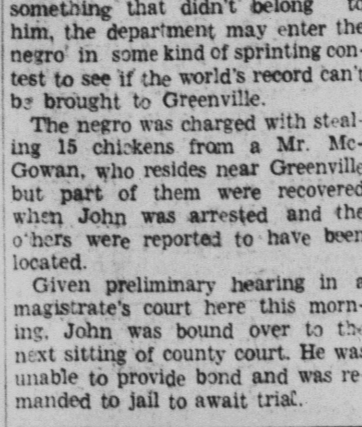

NEGRO SETS SPEED MARK

John Porter, Chicken Thief, Outruns High Powered Car Driven By Police

John Porter unquestionably is one of the speediest sprinters in this part of the country, barring none. Police can testify to this fact. John stole some chickens a night or so ago and brought them to town to sell. He had them on his back when police espied him and started in his direction. John thought the cops knew too much about the chickens and hit the road. The policeman got into a high powered automobile and gave chase. John didn't turn to the right or left but kept on straight down the street. The police pushed the car up to a high rate of speed but still John remained in the lead. After pushing the speedometer up to about seventy five miles an hour the police shot by John, stopped and took the panting negro into custody. Speaking of the affair today, Chief of Police George Clark said John could pick up his feet faster than any negro he ever saw. As soon as John serves time for taking something that didn't belong to him, the department may enter the negro in some kind of sprint contest to see if the world's record can't be brought to Greenville.

The negro was charged with stealing 15 chickens from a Mr. McGowan, who resides near Greenville but part of them were recovered when John was arrested and the others were reported to have been located. Given preliminary hearing in a magistrate's court here this morning, John was bound over to the next sitting of county court. He was unable to provide bond and was remanded to jail to await trial.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Honestly now, what's your hurry? Is it a desire to save a few minutes? If so, you are a poor gambler, for you risk your life against the saving of those few minutes. Excessive speed isn't fair. It isn't fair to yourself or your family. It isn't fair to other drivers. It isn't fair to pedestrians who depend upon you to use good judgment. There is little to be gained by unreasonable speeding, and much to lose.

GIRL BEATEN AND ATTACKED BY NEGROES

Irene Willard Tells Police of Seeing Friend Slain While Held Captive

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 5.—(AP)—A story of having witnessed the slaying of her girl friend and having been beaten, slashed and attacked herself in a Central Avenue den, where she was held prisoner for two days by a gang of negroes, was told today by Irene Willard, 26. She staggered, breathless and bruised into the Newton Street police station early this morning with her story. Miss Willard told police she saw her friend's throat slashed by one of the negroes, the body wrapped in sheets and dumped into an automobile. Miss Willard related that last night the negroes loaded the body of her friend into the car, forced her into the front seat of the car and started driving toward the beach. "I jumped out of the car and escaped," she said. "I ran as fast as I could." Miss Willard showed signs of having been abused, officers and hospital attendants said. They were uncertain whether the woman was suffering from hallucination or nervousness. Bruised and cut about the face, Miss Willard was clad only in a thin frock. She was barefoot and hatless. Police said she admitted she had been drinking.

TWO ARE ARRESTED FOR THEFT BY TRICK

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 5.—George Williamson, 23, of Canton, and J. H. Vance, 26, of Birmingham, Ala., were arrested Wednesday afternoon at the fair grounds by deputies and sheriffs on charges of larceny by trick and device in connection with an alleged eating trick worked on several eating booths at the fair. Both men were lodged in jail to await trial in municipal court this morning. Officers said the two men went to a booth, made a five-cent purchase and paid for the food with a 50-cent piece, receiving usually a quarter and two dimes in change. Turning slightly to one side where they could not be watched closely, the men switched the 25-cent piece for a nickel and then complained that the person who waited on them made a mistake had been made. Subsequently, the men would receive 20 cents additional when they claimed they had received a five-cent piece instead of the quarter they were given, the officers stated. Vance and Williamson made one mistake, officers said, and that was in attempting to work the trick twice on the same person. They were caught the second time, officers stated.

NEW JERSEY BIDS FOR HAUPTMANN

Gov. A. Harry Moore (left) of New Jersey and Attorney General David T. Wilentz are shown as they conferred in Trenton, N. J., regarding that state's move to extradite Bruno Hauptmann from Bronx county, New York, to stand trial on charges of kidnaping and murdering Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. "It is our hope and intention," Moore said, "to bring Hauptmann to trial here before he is tried for extortion in the Bronx." (Associated Press Photo)

LITTLE WORK CHURCH PAYS BEFORE BOARD OFF ITS DEBTS

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session at the city hall last night, and for the first time in months, confined attention entirely to hearing reports from the various city departments and paying bills. By reason of the lack of public matters awaiting consideration, the session was one of the shortest in months and members were able to return home at an early hour and snooze until their hearts' content. Mayor R. C. Flanagan presided and every member of the board was present.

ALDERMEN CONFINE THEMSELVES TO ROUTINE BUSINESS AT MEETING HERE

Colored dance promoters appeared before the board to seek permission to hold Thanksgiving dances in the city, but they were refused. The declination came after police informed the board that the applicants were not the desired type for such social functions, and acting on recommendations from the law enforcement department, the board turned down all applications. The decision, it was said, does not mean that permission will not be granted for the holding of dances during the holiday season, for it will, but the right kind of person must make application before the matter is really given serious consideration. It is the idea of board members to preserve law and order as far as they can, and a person obtaining permission to conduct a dance must have a good record behind him, assuring the board that every effort will be made to keep the dance on a high plane and free of disturbances.

MRS. JONES PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Annie Jones, 65, died at her home near Bethel this morning at 1:45 o'clock after illness of one year. Funeral services were held from her late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. W. H. Newman, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. J. O. Long, pastor of the Bethel Methodist Church. Burial was made in the Taylor graveyard near Bethel. Mrs. Taylor is survived by four children: Charlie and Henry Taylor, of Bethel; William J. Taylor, of Parmalee, and Mrs. Maggie Andrews, of Bethel; a sister, Mrs. Lucy Robertson, of the Gum Swamp Church community. The deceased was a native of Martin County, having moved to the Bethel section about thirty-five years ago where she has since made her home. She was a member of the Cross Roads Disciple Church of Martin County, and displayed much interest in work of the denomination prior to her illness. She was prominent in the community where she spent the latter part of her life and news of her death was received with sorrow.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR BETHEL COMMUNITY LADY CONDUCTED THIS AFTERNOON

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 5.—The body of Ed. Clark, white resident of the Askins section, was found early this morning on the Vanceboro highway about fourteen miles from New Bern, where evidently he had been run over by a passing automobile or truck. After viewing the body, Coroner G. M. Henderson ordered it removed to the home at Askins. He announced that he would investigate the death. Mr. Clark was about forty years of age, son of Walter Clark, of Vanceboro. He is survived by his widow, five sons and four daughters.

ACCIDENT MAY YIELD A SECOND FATALITY

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 5.—Another death may result from the motor accident of last Monday night in which James Kirby, negro, lost his life, when the car he was driving crashed into a truck near Tomlinson's cross-roads. James Coleman, also colored, who was with Kirby and who was at first reported as uninjured, has been found to have a fractured skull which Lucama doctors who are treating him think may result fatally.

TEXTILE ORGANIZER SAYS SELMA IS O. K.

Selma, N. C., Oct. 5.—R. S. Strickland, United Textile Workers organizer, said here today that Selma was erroneously included in the list of towns reported in Washington to the Textile Labor Relations Board as having textile labor discrimination trouble. Mr. Strickland returned from Washington today, and said that a large number of cases were reported from mill towns in this State, but that at Selma "everything is O. K."

Cabinet Prepares to Meet to Take Care of Critical Situation; Government Rushes Special Forces to Madrid and Other Affected Areas; Commerce and Industry Halt

Madrid, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A radical strike with the overthrow of the government as its announced aim swept Spain today and by noon nine persons had been killed and an unestimated number wounded. Three civil guards, an assault guard and one extremist were reported killed in Austria during several gunfire clashes. Several extremists were critically injured as strikers assaulted a civil guards detachment near the Pelaguera mine. The extremists were repulsed and the authorities rushed reinforcements for the guards. It was reported that the attackers wore red socialist arm bands and used army type of guns. At the Eber Gun Manufacturing center one extremist was killed and ten wounded in an attempt assault on the arm plant. The government dispatched an airplane squadron to Austria, which is considered one of the extremist strongholds following recent discovery of an arm plot there. The airplanes were used not only for reconnaissance, but for attack on extremist gatherings. In two small towns in Catalina the red flags of communism were used, but both places were captured by the civil guards and the extremists fled. At Sallens several were wounded as the guards expelled extremists. Commerce and industry was completely closed and only a few street cars operated by soldiers were running in Madrid. The new cabinet headed by Premier Alejandro Lerroux meets in special session. Joe Maria Cid, minister of public works, told his colleagues that the maintenance of railway communication was assured, as he had soldiers and special forces ready to take over the railroads in case they were needed. Flying squadrons of police and civil guards were reported to be keeping the capital free of any gatherings, dispersing under a state of alarm any groups of more than two persons. Police confiscated machine guns, pistols, and ammunition from all centers and homes.

BODY OF CRAVEN MAN IS FOUND ON HIGHWAY

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 5.—The body of Ed. Clark, white resident of the Askins section, was found early this morning on the Vanceboro highway about fourteen miles from New Bern, where evidently he had been run over by a passing automobile or truck. After viewing the body, Coroner G. M. Henderson ordered it removed to the home at Askins. He announced that he would investigate the death. NO CLUES OBTAINED IN LUCAMA ROBBERY

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 4.—Wilson and Raleigh police and Wilson County deputies are still minus all information that might lead to the capture of the three or four "yeggmen" who tried to burn their way into a Lucama bank early Wednesday morning. S. G. Gunter, Lucama's sole policeman, who was captured and wrapped up with rope while the robbers carried on their labors, has described one of the thieves as "short and foreign looking," and the other as "tall and red-headed." The other two men he did not see closely enough to tell what they looked like.

To Show Movies Of Greenville

Historical, civic and industrial Greenville will be the theme of a motion picture to be produced here in the near future by a motion picture producer in collaboration with the public schools and J. H. Rose, superintendent.

Shooting some of the preliminary scenes the producers have arranged to have the Greenville Rotary Club at their meeting next Monday night face the camera and the battery of studio arc lights so that the "knife and fork" play of these civic leaders may be properly registered for posterity.

The program includes detailed scenes of the high school and college and the student body of every school in Greenville. The mayor and city council, fire department, police department, the National Guard, American Legion and local fraternal orders will be invited to participate in the production.

Special arrangements have been made for showing the completed production in the High School auditorium, and after the showing it will remain here in Greenville at the disposal of any of the civic organizations who may care to make use of it in the future for exploiting the many advantages of Greenville as a good place in which to live.

A section of the film will be devoted to the industrial activities in our town and among the interesting and educational parts of this division of the film will be the making of a modern newspaper, the scenes being taken in the plant of the Greenville Reflector, and will take the many steps necessary to convey a bit of news into the paper you read daily.

The entire project is being sponsored by the schools and the proceeds which they derive from it will be used for athletic equipment.

Quick-Dick. By MARY GRAHAM BONNER. The railroad stop was a long distance off, so Top Notch, the rooster, awoke them all some time before daylight.

"Oh," thought Willy Nilly, "if only my automobile Two-Ways was in good repair, all of us could go over in that and then Quick-Dick could follow us on the way home."

But the automobile wasn't ready for any trip, so Willy Nilly and the others started off.

Top Notch made such slow time that Willy Nilly had to carry him, and the bears waited in Puddle Middle as it was too hard a walk for the cubs. Christopher and the ducks flew, and Rip, the dog, trotted along by Willy Nilly.

They just made it in time. As they reached the railroad stop, "way, way down the line—for the railway did not go near Puddle Middle—they heard the whistle of the train in the distance.

"He's coming!" they cackled and cawed and barked and quacked and shouted.

The train stopped and a brown horse was being helped out of a box car.

"Quick-Dick!" the Puddle Muddlers called.

The horse neighed and Willy Nilly went up to him and said: "Quick-Dick, I'm Willy Nilly, and I'm the little man who has animals for friends and who understands the language of all animals."

"I know," said Quick-Dick. "What a lovely name he had! What a noble expression! The Puddle Muddlers thought he was the finest horse they had ever seen."

And then the train's whistle blew and it was off, leaving Quick-Dick behind.

He has been absent from the campus on leave of absence three times, twice for graduation study at universities and for war service.

He was born and reared on a farm near Haynesville, Louisiana, which is near Shreveport, and attended the public school near his home. He attended Peabody College, receiving a two-year diploma from that institution. He then went to Baylor University at Waco, Texas, from which he received the A.B. degree in 1908.

From there he went to Yale University, from which he received both the A.B. degree in 1909 and the M.A. degree in 1912. He studied at Columbia University two years, 1913-1914, and 1927-1928. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from that university in 1928.

He taught in Crockett, Texas, just one year, the only year that he had ever taught before coming here.

The movement of the chassis assembled here to other places in the State to be equipped with bodies continued yesterday when forty were sent to Wilson; Wednesday, Converter to receive twenty chassis, making a total for recent days of eighty.

five which have been sent to body makers. The new chassis and bodies were purchased separately. The chassis are assembled here and sent elsewhere to body makers. The school commission has contracted for a total of 675 buses, which will be paid for with a Federal government grant of $180,000, combined with a State appropriation of $420,000.

What Happened? Mandy married a worthless chap, who even refused to deliver the washing she took in. One day she was talking to a white woman about the shiftless man, she said: "Is he older than you are, Mandy?" asked the lady.

"Yes, dat no-account am 12 years older den ah am!" "Then," sympathized the lady, "it must be a case of May having married December."

"No, ma'am, it ain't that. It am mo' like Labor Day done married to April Fool!" sighed Mandy.—Exchange.

Friendship Endures. Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—Little Ad Wolgast, one-time lightweight champion of the world, is still cheered by his old trainer and the opponent who years ago fought a sensational battle with him for the title. JOE HAUSER SEES MATE TAKE CROWN IN SLUGGING RACE

Minneapolis, Minn.—(AP)—Divested of his home run crown, Joe Hauser, disabled slugger of Minneapolis in the American Association, consoles himself with the thought it remains in the Miller family.

Stopped by injury at thirty-three homers, Hauser was passed by Buzz Arlett, walloping teammate, who a few days before the close of the season had clubbed thirty-nine blows.

Last year Hauser hit thirty-nine for an all-time record in organized baseball.

Brothers Rout Wolf Pack. Having fought off a pack of wolves with axes, the three brothers, Typkoff, have become heroes in the vicinity of Stahimaka, Bulgaria. The three were returning home after a day's wood-chopping when the yelping animals chased them. Soon the pack overtook them, pulled Gheorghito to the ground and attacked him. Vassil and Anghel charged the wolves with axes, their only weapons, and the pack fled. Gheorghito attacked the other two brothers. After a terrific battle, one of the brothers split the skull of the largest of the beasts. The others fled, and the three men, wounded and exhausted, dragged themselves home.

Long-Used Laxative. To be bought and used as needed for many years, speaks well for the reliability of Theodor's Black-Draught, purely vegetable family laxative. Mr. C. E. Ratliff writes from Hinton, W. Va.: "My wife and I have used Theodor's Black-Draught thirty-five years for constipation, a tired feeling and headache. I use it when I feel my system needs cleansing. After all these years, I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught."

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS. . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS. . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Marian Gordon
by JEANNE BOWMAN

Chapter 12
NEW EVIDENCE

TENSE with excitement, Marian leaned forward and studied the purple stamp at the top of Cliff Honson's letter to Silver. She hadn't been mistaken, there it was, "The Madder Construction Company" and, just below in smaller type, "Office of J. C. McSwain, general manager."

Marian leaned back. J. C. McSwain was Silver's father. Cliff had written something about Silver's thinking more of her father than of him, and Silver had said no one but a cad would condemn a girl for wanting to help her father.

But why, wondered Marian, should J. C. McSwain, head of a company handling such an immense contract, need help? She hadn't thought much of that angle at the first reading of the letter. She would read it again carefully.

She read, and when she reached the last of the second page, studied each word carefully.

Don't blame me, it's your own fault, unless I'm at fault for never having refused you anything I could give. You wanted to secure your dad and his reputation more important than my own. You were right of course. . . oh well.

Marian turned a page, a thick page. She thumbed it a moment, then gasped in wonder. There were two pages there. Now she separated the pages and found the inner one marked with the same scrawling writing:

Silver, if I hadn't been soothed as well as softened, I would have kept my money and not put it into the Madder to save your father. He says I bought a title, that's really humorous, fourth vice-president with the right to use desk space in their office and their stationery.

You pretend to know nothing of business but you're canny, you know as well as I that he shouldn't have bid in that school contract at such a low figure. Even with labor and commodities at a new low, he couldn't fill such a contract and not crash financially, unless he used the cheapest material on the market; material that can't pass inspection. He thought he'd offset that danger when he bought the inspector with ten thousand; I could have saved my self with even that. It's best money now for even if the map is cleared, the political faction pressing the charge will watch the madder work. He's going to need every cent I save him to break even. It looks as though you're in line for a new rich husband. You will and he'll give you just as I have. Just as Lawson, the poor, smitten fruit rancher gave the use of his name and his bank account to save Brown and indirectly your father for you.

Marian fingered the page with trembling hands. She held here evidence which might have sent Brown to the penitentiary; which might still send McSwain there, and Lawson, too, for perjury. She knew Silver had never read this page, for if she had she would have burned it immediately.

It was a wonderful story. Marian's first impulse was to telephone the office at once. But dare she? Aside from the havoc it would bring, would a scrawled note miraculously found in a reporter's pocket be enough evidence? She would wait.

No wonder Silver hadn't been sorry that Honson might die. With his death came certainty of silence on the bribe. That hysteria had been half relief, half shock. But what a self-centered person she must be to have demanded the sacrifice of Honson's money, only to leave him when it was gone. And how sure of his honor both she and her father had been.

But how had that letter reached her coat pocket? She had thrown the letter onto the chair in which she was sitting, her coat had also been there. However, letters didn't up and walk into pockets. Hamlin had taken her coat from the chair to hang it up. He must have thought the letter part of her notes and crammed it into her pocket without knowing what it was. But wouldn't he know . . . that man with the wise, kind eyes and cynical mouth?

It remained now for her to give the letter to Silver, if possible without her knowing it. Silver was in Oakland by this time . . . would she try to see Honson . . . try to destroy

Father And Son In Maine Senate

Portland, Me. — (AP) — Burkett and son, the Maine legislature doubles combination, moved together into the legislative finals of the 1934 campaign and copped a couple of seats in the state senate.

The 70-year old father, Fred E. Burkett of Union and the 47-year-old son, Frank U. Burkett of Portland, having parallel political ambitions were elected in their separate districts to the house of representatives in 1932.

In 1931 Burkett the elder and Burkett the younger, both republicans, again were victorious for the same offices, but Franz stepped up to the speakership of the House, while the father remained a floor member.

Boomed For Governor

The doubles combine they appeared doomed as young Burkett was boomed for the republican nomination for governor in the 1933 race. He decided differently, and ran for state senator. Likewise did the elder Burkett, meeting the same success as his son.

They have clashed over legislative matters. Back in their first term the elder emerged the victor by a single vote after a verbal tussle over an amendment to a bill to annex the village of Marlborough by the town of Lamoine. But harmony generally prevails.

Served In Air Corps

Franz Burkett, an attorney, a University of Maine graduate and once active in athletics, served in the air corps during the World War. Later he became assistant prosecutor of Cumberland county.

The elder Burkett operates a hardware store in Union and is principal owner of the Union telephone and water companies. Both have been school teachers.

Only once before has a father and son combination prevailed in the Maine legislature. In 1923 William E. Brewster served in the house of representatives while his son, Ralph O. Brewster, later governor, was a member of the senate.

A WISE SELECTION

The Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College made a wise selection, we believe, when they elected Dr. Leon R. Meadows as head of the College. Dr. Meadows has served the college here in the capacity of instructor for twenty-five years and during that time he has won the admiration of this community and all those young ladies from other sections who have attended the college. Shortly after the death of the late Dr. Robert H. Wright, head of the college since the institution came into being, we expressed the opinion that Dr. Meadows was the man that should be chosen to take Dr. Wright's place at the head of the college and we are sure today that the people of this community as well as all former students of the college join us in expressing our approval of the action of the Board of Trustees in electing Dr. Meadows to the presidency of the college.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week has been officially set aside as National Fire Prevention Week and the city of Greenville as usual will take part in observance of the week. Each year for the period immediately following Fire Prevention Week there is a considerable drop in the fire losses throughout the country and then as the lessons learned during Fire Prevention Week are forgotten the losses again begin to mount. So far this year fire losses in Greenville have been low and it is to be hoped that the citizens here generally will join in the fire prevention movement next week by removing every possible fire hazard and then let us remember to exercise the same caution throughout the year that we do next week with reference to unnecessary fire losses.

CHARITY FEEDS AFRICANS IN RICH DIAMOND REGION

Port Nolloth, South Africa.—(AP)—Six hundred persons are being kept from starvation by charity in this village port of southwestern Africa, within a few miles of one of the world's richest diamond fields. The diamond fields of Namaqualand are closed to prevent the flooding of a depressed market with the precious stones, and the closing of lobster canneries because of French limitations upon imports has completed the desolation of a town which eight years ago was a lusty copper port.

The copper mines, which repaid investors 483 per cent in the 1880's, were worked out years ago and the inhabitants of Port Nolloth had dwindled eight years ago to 195, dependent upon the lobster industry. The population quadrupled with the discovery of diamonds in Namaqualand, but all South African diamond exploitation has been stopped.

HITLER'S ADOPTED TONGUE TRIPS HIM ON GRAMMAR

Berlin. —(AP)—Austrian-born Adolph Hitler finds the quirks of the German language troublesome.

Whenever the official news agency distributes advance copies of Der Fuehrer's address to newspapers it almost invariably follows them with a list of corrections, mostly grammatical but others clearly due to stenographer's slips.

Eighteen faults needed changing in one of Hitler's Nurnberg party congress speeches for example, and fourteen in another. These included punctuation, the use of the indicative for the subjunctive mode, non-agreement of adjectives and articles, and incorrect plurals.

The public health service originally, was financed by a tax of twenty cents a month on seamen employed on American vessels.

TIGERS ROAR INTO DUKE FOR GRID BATTLE

Durham, N. C., Oct. 5.—With the arrival of Clemson's Tigers here today, the stage was set for the early season football engagement in the Southern Conference which will take place in Duke stadium tomorrow afternoon when the boys of Jess Neely meet Duke's Blue Devils. The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock.

Fresh from a great stand against Georgia Tech which might have been a victory instead of a 1A2.7 defeat, but for a fumble on the one-yard line, the Tigers are rated to be enough opposition to give the Blue Devils one of their hardest games of the season.

By their great game against the Yellow Jackets last week, Clemson assumed the role as being one of the most threatening teams in the Southern Conference football race and the winner of tomorrow's game will be the "team to beat" in the 1934 campaign.

A big and husky forward wall behind which a set of hard-driving, fast-stepping set of backs perform, will face the Blue Devils tomorrow. The line completely stopped the running attack of Tech's best team in recent years and, with Randy Hinson, as the spearhead, the Tigers several times advanced far into Jacket territory.

The game will mark the first time Wallace Wade of Duke and Jess Neely of Clemson have been on opposite sides of the field. Neely was backfield coach under Wade at Alabama for years, but leaving in 1931, for their present positions.

Accepting the claimed membership of such major groups as the J. O. N. S. (affiliated with the fascists); Union of Youthful Communists, Youthful Liberators (Anarcho-Socialists); Federation of Youthful Socialists, Popular Action Youthful Left Republicans and The Pioneers, an organization of extremist youths under 14, there are some 500,000 Spanish youths engaged in politics.

There also are a number of other smaller regional groups such as the "Nesaires Sois" ("We Alone"), of California.

Police Face Handicaps
Posts of responsibility of most of these organizations are held by adults, but a large percentage of their memberships is made up of minors.

The government feels that if it can eliminate the minors, the work of the police in dissolving riotous demonstrations will be simplified.

Police have been at a disadvantage in handling demonstrations where use of pistols, swords or rifles endangered lives of children, whereas weapons in the hands of these children have had a disconcerting way of producing casualties far beyond what one might expect from inexperienced users.

Likewise, the courage of these youthful elements has almost invariably exceeded that of older and more cautious participants in facing police charges.

Youths Defy New Law
Much of the recent sabotage, the government believes, has been perpetrated by youngsters.

The government has in nearly all cases attempted to exercise leniency toward the boys and girls, believing them generally victims of misguided enthusiasm. But when losses of life and property climbed the punitive decree was issued.

Almost without exception the youth organizations voted to ignore that decree, and the autonomous region of Catalonia has denied the government's jurisdiction to apply it here.

All Latin-America Rallies To Church

By PAUL SANDERS
Buenos Aires. —(AP)—This world's largest Spanish-speaking city expects to see here soon the biggest congregation on Spanish-speaking people ever assembled.

Crowning church traditions in Argentina from the days when missionary padres followed the Spanish conquistadores to the River Plate, the 32 international congress October 10-14 is expected to assemble more than 1,000,000 participants most of them from South America.

Princes of Church Attend
Six cardinals, headed by Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, papal secretary of state, and more than two hundred bishops and archbishops from forty countries will direct the ceremonies centering at a 105-foot cross in Palermo Park, where broad boulevards meet to form space for a million persons.

From outside Buenos Aires, most of whose 2,500,000 inhabitants have been preparing for the congress for ten years, will come some 300,000 persons, the congress officials estimate. About 250,000 pilgrims are expected from the Argentine provinces and 50,000 from foreign countries.

Archbishops Leads Americans
The United States delegation will be headed by Archbishop John Joseph Glennon, of St. Louis, and several bishops, including Bishop Paul J. Nussbaum, of Marquette, Mich.; Bishop Edward F. Hoban, representing Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago; Bishop P. A. McGovern, of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Bishop B. J. Mahoney, of Sioux Falls, S. D. Many Americans will arrive by steamer from New York October 9.

Most of the American delegates will live in hotels. Visitors who can not be thus accommodated will lodge in Catholic homes or sleep aboard their steamships or special trains.

Because there are so many foreign colonies here, the congress reception committee allocated Italian pilgrims to Italian homes, Germans to German homes, and so on.

In case there is even then an overflow, barracks will be established in Catholic schools and in Palermo Park.

Transportation proved a problem on the River Plate, which must be crossed by 30,000 coming from Uruguay—the largest foreign delegation. The trip from Montevideo usually is an-day run by steamer, but during the congress boats will cross to Colonia, Uruguay. To that point, the

A Washington Day Book

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington—Those who watched foreign exchange quotations during the last few weeks saw one of the big mysteries of the "new deal" venturing cautiously out into the open.

It was the two billion dollar stabilization fund set up when the government revealed the gold dollar early in January of this year.

When this fund first was created it was one of the most talked of things. For weeks it was one of the principal topics of discussion. Newspapers devoted columns of speculation as to how it would be used. Then suddenly it dropped completely out of the picture. It was the will of the administration President Roosevelt let it be known that he would consider all questions regarding it as having not been asked. Secretary Morgenthau made the subject taboo at all conferences with newspapermen.

Uruguayan pilgrims will travel by train, bus and automobile, and the vessels, shuttling back and forth across the thirty-mile wide river, will be able to make many trips daily.

Gradually it became cloaked in mystery. No one except the secretary of the treasury and a few of his trusted aids knew what the fund was doing.

Twice during September, however, the public had opportunity to check on its movements. On both occasions the fund to all appearances was used to bolster up the foreign exchange value of the dollar. The method of operation was clear.

The first instance, was on September 5. Inflation gossip and other rumors had sent the value of the dollar in relation to other foreign currencies (principally francs) down appreciably. Foreign speculators, particularly those in France, were selling the dollar short.

Late in the afternoon of September 5 French francs were offered for sale on the New York market. Many credited the stabilization fund. Confirmed with large offerings of francs, the same forces which were depressing the value of the dollar began operating in the opposite direction.

The franc slid down in value as compared to the dollar and the dollar moved up as compared to the franc.

'Balancing' The Supply
Two days later the United States treasury, through its fund, was credited with buying dollars in Paris. When the Paris market opened that day the dollar was worth 14.97 francs. By the time the treasury quit, buying that day the value of the dollar had been advanced to 14.95 francs.

Offhand such a fractional gain might seem trivial, but in foreign exchange dealings they are of the greatest importance.

In both of these instances the stabilization fund was credited with being used merely as an artificial interference with the law of supply and demand. When the supply of dollars is abnormal the fund can be used to absorb it or counterbalance it with a supply of competing currency. When the demand for dollars is too great the treasury can rush the fund in, in an effort to create a balancing supply.

More than twice as much opium was seized in the United States by Federal agents in 1933 than in the preceding year; the first four months of 1934 showed a considerable increase over the 1933 figure.

New Law Bans Madcap Youth In Party Ranks

By H. E. KNOBLAUGH
Madrid.—(AP)—The government has started to weed out of politics "rash strplings" whose desperate enthusiasm for a cause often prompts armed demonstrations resulting in injury to themselves and others.

Following a check of casualties caused by excitable youths with nervous trigger fingers, Rafael Salazar Alonso, minister of the interior, issued a decree forbidding membership in any political organization by any boy or girl under 16.

Those under 3 may join only with the written consent of their parents.

Children Menace Peace
The government estimated that 50 per cent of the membership of youthful organizations affiliated with political parties are minors whose judgment, the government feels is insufficiently mature to gauge the full consequences of armed action.

Dozens killed or injured, large property loss, and jails filled with youths have been the result of demonstrations where boys and girls in their teens have taken to the streets to protest this or that, or to

WARFARE ON FIRE DEMON IS PLANNED

Widespread Observance of Fire Prevention Week Sought By Local Firemen

Members of the local fire department were pushing plans today for widespread observance of "Fire Prevention Week"—October 7 to 13—and the public had been called upon to do everything possible to aid the firemen in putting fire prevention education over in a big way.

Fire Chief George Gardner called attention yesterday to the huge decline in the city's fire loss the past nine months and asked the public to assist him and his company in holding down the annual toll to the least possible figure.

Property loss from fire in the United States increased from $143,362,155 in 1900, to $269,778,480 in 1933, Chief Gardner said, and every effort is being put forward by national fire leaders to cut down the toll this year.

The fire loss in Greenville has been cut from $238,555 in 1932 to $5,563 for the first nine months of this year, the fire chief said. The loss last year was $33,841.

The loss in 1931 and 1932 was the largest in the history of the city. This was due mainly to the destruction of two large tobacco warehouses along with a considerable amount of tobacco stored in each. The firemen are elated over the fire record set during the first nine months of the year, and hope to go through the remainder of the year without much increase.

Governor Ehringhaus, realizing the importance of "Fire Prevention Week" recently issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, the destruction of life and property by fire is a matter of concern to everyone; and

"Whereas, the reduction of fire waste can be effected in direct proportion to the amount of care exercised by all people; and

"Whereas, the President of the United States for the benefit of the American people as a whole and with the view of arousing the people of the United States to the importance of eliminating our enormous fire waste, has proclaimed the week of October 7 to 13 fire prevention week.

"Therefore, I, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby proclaim the week of October 7 to 13 to be Fire Prevention Week in order that the people of this State in every community shall individually and through our various organizations, discover and correct existing fire hazards, promote measures of public and private fire protection, extend instruction in fire prevention among adults, as well as school children, and arouse the people generally to the need for habits of greater care, and to this end I appeal to our citizens to thoroughly co-operate with the various fire departments throughout the State, and I request that every mayor issue a proclamation. I earnestly solicit the co-operation of Chambers of Commerce, civic and women's clubs, and the press."

New York Cotton

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, two to five points advance on higher Liverpool cables and heavy rains in the Eastern and Central belts.

Offerings were relatively light and prices worked up another few points after the call with December advancing to 12.26 and May to 12.44, or eight to nine points net higher and 15 to 17 points above the low levels of yesterday.

The market was quiet later in the morning, but showed continued steadiness with prices working up to 12.29 for December and 12.45 for May, or about eight to twelve points net higher. There was a little more for sale at these figures. The market reacted two or three points from the best, but was holding nine to twelve points above yesterday's closing at midday.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The stock market showed signs of going somewhere today and in a brisk first hour rally prices advanced on the two or more points. Traders gloomy yesterday over the California political possibilities and other cloudy influences appeared to have revised their outlook overnight and an early buying rush caused the ticker to him thoroughly for a time. The activity dwindled later, although gains were fairly well held. Word from Washington that the NRA was considering relaxing its attitude, toward prices and codes apparently aided sentiment.

Bonds improved along with stocks, but the tape in this department was more restrained. Grains and cotton also firmed. The dollar exhibited renewed strength, again leading Europe currencies.

Late News Flashes

Elbar were captured by the extremists who compacted into their forces anarchists, communists and socialists. All six of the localities were recaptured in a gun battle by soldiers, police and civil guards. Airplanes roared into the fray, dispatched from government flying fields at Madrid, to bomb the rebels into submission.

No one knows how many were killed by the airplanes. They flew over the Pyrennes across the land of Dasques with orders to direct both bombs and machine gun fire at the strongholds of the extremists.

Will Let Jersey Have Hauptmann
New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—District Attorney Samuel F. Foley said today that should New Jersey ask additional time for a grand jury to consider kidnapping or murder charges, or both, against Bruno Richard Hauptmann he would ask the Bronx County court to adjourn the extortion case here against Hauptmann.

The extortion trial in the Bronx had been set for Thursday, October 11, and a special panel of 150 from which to select a jury has been drawn.

The Bronx prosecutor reiterated today a previous statement he was willing to turn Hauptmann over to the New Jersey authorities provided they made a request for extradition before the extortion case is brought up for trial.

Asked whether he would surrender the prisoner to New Jersey after Thursday, the date set for the opening of the trial in the Bronx, Foley replied:

"I will not surrender him unless Jersey requests his extradition before the actual trial begins."

Hauptmann Letters Found

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Possession by Bronx county authorities of thirteen letters in German which Dr. Samuel Luvliner, interpreter for the Bronx Supreme Court, declared refuted alibi dates and places of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, was disclosed today.

One of the letters, written by Fritz Hauptmann, brother of the prisoner, and a tailor in Dresden, Germany, was addressed to Max Hallenback as a furrier, and asked whether the late Isador Frisch, who died in Germany last March, had any assets.

The prisoner has maintained that Frisch gave him the package which three weeks before his arrest he declared contained the money which authorities later found was part of the Lindbergh ransom payment.

Snakes Greet Wine Dealer

When a wine merchant in Madras, India, opened his shop recently he found fifty snakes crawling on the floor. They had been placed there by an enemy. Recovering from him shock, the merchant summoned a snake charmer whose plaintive music soon attracted the reptiles, and they were captured. Many were found to be deadly poisons.

Gift Planes For Turkish Army

Ankara.—(AP)—Named for towns and villages whose peoples raised the purchase price, twenty-six airplanes were presented to the Turkish army on the nation's recent "aviation day." The Aviation League, sponsor of the gift, now is trying to make young men and women air-minded.

MARINA MADE YOUNGER BY ENGLISH RECKONING

London.—(AP)—Prince George, 31, and Princess Marina, 27, may celebrate their birthdays a week apart instead of in separate months.

When their betrothal was first announced, the princess' birthday was announced as November 30. This, however, was the date under the old Julian calendar, which the Greek church abandoned in 1923.

The difference between the old style and the usual calendar is thirteen days, so her birthday falls on December 13, an even week before Prince George's.
