NEGRO DRAWS SIX YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

Pleads Guilty to Cutting Deputy Sheriff Harris Nearly to Death

Dennis Williams, negro, who shot Earnest Blount, negro, to death here two weeks ago, was sentenced to two years on the county roads by Judge R. Hunt Parker in Superior Court here yesterday. The negro entered a plea of manslaughter and evidence showed that he had been stabbed by Blount the same afternoon just a little while before the killing.

Jesse Dudley, negro, who cut Deputy Sheriff Herbert Harris almost to death several weeks ago, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to not less than six nor more than eight years in state prison at hard labor. The cutting occurred in the country between here and Farmville on a Saturday night when Dudley was making a disturbance and Sheriff Harris went to arrest him. Dudley immediately went on the offensive with his knife and inflicted cuts about the face, shoulders and chest that required about 200 stitches to close.

Immediately following the attack it was doubtful for a while whether the officer would recover.

Other cases disposed of yesterday included a breaking and entering and larceny charge against Willie Johnson in connection with the theft of some hams and he was sentenced to four months on the roads. Paul Mills, white man, was found not guilty on a charge of stealing money out of the pocket of another man.

The case of Doc Darby, negro, charged with the killing of another negro was called late yesterday and the defendant entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter. Final disposition of the case had not been made when court adjourned yesterday and the Terrell trial being set for the first thing this morning. Darby's case will not be completed until after the Terrell case is heard.

MERCURY DOWN TO 26 MONDAY AT ASHEVILLE

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 31.—Borne in to Asheville on strong northwesterly winds, frigid temperatures enveloped the city Monday morning and plunged the thermometer down to a low of 26 degrees—the coldest weather of the season and the coldest October 29 in Asheville since 1910.

The minimum of 26 degrees reached Monday morning, was colder than in any other cities of the nation. Greensboro excepted, outside of North Dakota and northern Montana, officials of the local weather bureau said. Greensboro also had a low reading of 26 degrees.

The temperature, after reaching its low mark at 7 o'clock, had moved up to 59 degrees at 2 o'clock, and the weather bureau forecast slightly warmer weather last night and along with partly cloudy skies.

The low reading on October 29, 1910, was 23 degrees—three degrees colder than Monday morning's low. The minimum temperatures Sunday was 33 degrees.

New Bern Man Is New Director Of East N. C. Ass'n.

A. McLean, Jr., cashier of the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company of New Bern, has been elected to fill the Craven County vacancy on the board of directors of the Eastern North Carolina Association according to announcement here today of C. W. Howard, president of the organization.

Mr. McLean, prominently identified throughout this section with civic betterment movements, was formerly a director of the Carolina Shippers' Association. During the past year leading business men in the eastern part of the State, together with the directors and members of the shippers' body, formed the Eastern North Carolina Association of which Carolina Shippers' is now a subsidiary and acts as its traffic department.

Organized prior to the death of the late Dr. Robt. H. Wright, president of the East Carolina Teachers' College, the association is dedicated to the development of the resources of the eastern counties of the State. Dr. Wright was elected as its first president. During the past year the association membership has grown steadily and it enters its second year prepared to carry on an effective program of industrial development, a "Buy North Carolina Products" campaign, a program of national publicity, and waterway development in addition to the transportation rate and shipping problems originally handled by the parent shippers' body.

The last bird refuge established in the United States is located at Boulder Canyon in Nevada and Arizona.

FIRST LADY NOT TO DEBATE CANDIDATE

No Room on Program For Another Speaker Says Chairman of Meeting

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt isn't going to debate Dorothy Fooks tomorrow night. After the First Lady had in effect accepted the challenge of Miss Fooks, New York Congressional candidate of the Law Preservation Party, Mrs. Caspar Whitney made this ruling:

"The program tomorrow night is already too long. We've no time for debate. I won't add another speaker." Mrs. Whitney is chairman of the dinner at which Mrs. Roosevelt is scheduled to make the last speech in behalf of Mrs. Caroline O'Day Miss Fooks' Democratic opponent. When she received the debate challenge, Mrs. Roosevelt replied if those managing the meeting wished Miss Fooks to speak, she would welcome her.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News.

By GEORGE DURNO

Washington, Oct. 31.—Shots: The tendency here is to force an impending agreement between Washington and London that will moor the dollar and the pound once more. On the other hand there are considerations that can not be overlooked.

First weigh the speech of Robert Worth Bingham, Ambassador to Great Britain, before the Edinburgh Philosophical Society. Bingham proposed an Anglo-American currency agreement, adding that if these two countries started the ball rolling, others would find it desirable to come in "whether on or off the gold standard."

With the straightest of faces of officials here—from top to bottom—denied that they had the slightest advance information as to the burden of Ambassador Bingham's speech. Yet the following night President Roosevelt appeared before the American Bankers' Association and said:

"With respect to international relationship, I have been glad to note the growing appreciation in other nations of the desirability of arriving, as quickly as possible, at a point of steadiness of prices and value. This objective of a greater steadiness we have constantly kept before us as our national policy."

If next Tuesday weren't election day everybody would be rushing forward with a stabilization story. The

TO RESTORE GOVERNMENT PAY JULY 1

President Will Recommend Restoring Last 5 Per Cent at That Time

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—(AP) Full restoration of government pay-cut next July 1 will be recommended by President Roosevelt. The President made this announcement today at his semi-weekly press conference.

This means a 5 per cent increase in all government salaries which will make them reach the 1932 level. Mr. Roosevelt said the pay increase would be urged in expectation of an increase in values and in prices by July 1.

He does not feel the increase will be warranted by January 1, but is confident of the upper trend by the time the new government begins July 1.

Upon taking office President Roosevelt brought about a 15 per cent cut in government pay. The last Congress restored 10 per cent of this reduction.

Formulating his budget for next year, the President said today he was preserving any estimates forthcoming from relief and public works expenditures until at least the first of the year. Meanwhile he said he did not have the slightest idea what figure would be recommended. Any tax legislation, he added, would hinge finally upon relief and public works expenditures.

Published reports of various public work programs being under consideration by the administration were discounted by Mr. Roosevelt. He warned that he was seeking all kinds of information from his aides, but was not anywhere near a decision.

WORKERS SET FOR BATTLE ON STRIKERS

FERA Workers Atop Table Mountain Say They Will Fight Any Interference

Denver, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Stone barricades encircled Table Mountain today as Federal Emergency Relief Workers prepared to resist resumption of yesterday's rioting in which four policemen and about thirty other persons were shot or beaten. Police officials who called out reserves yesterday to quell the disturbance arising from activity of strike agitators on FERA projects, said they feared more clashes today. Sheriff's officers of nearby Jefferson County said they looked for trouble on Table Mountain, the announced objective of the strike leaders.

Several avowed communists here as well as leaders of other radical groups announced they would lead a procession of automobiles to the mountain west of Denver and call on FERA workers there to quit as a protest to recent reduction in Federal relief funds and wages. The workers atop the bluff overlooking the town of Golden have declared that they do not want to strike. Advised of the agitators' plan, they hastily piled up a barricade of large stones and announced they will fight all efforts to interfere with their work.

Good Message At Tent Revival

The tent revival at the corner of Third and Cotanche Streets being conducted by Evangelist R. L. Erickson is being held every night at 7:30 o'clock and messages of great importance and good are being preached for the benefit of the lost of Greenville. Last night the evangelist told the people about "Knowing you are saved." It is right for every man to know he is saved. The sermon is a great important substance, and should be considered as such, and a guarantee that it is saved is of vital importance.

Do the Christians of Greenville know without a shadow of doubt they are saved? When a man invests his money he wants a guarantee. Why not the same in the matter of salvation? Some are satisfied to just make a feeble stammer at religion and never know for certain they are really saved. Some of the Bible utterances relative to a personal knowledge of being saved; first we know we have passed from death into life because we love the brethren. A complete change of living. All things have become new. Old things have passed away. The things we once loved while sinners, we now hate, and the things we once disliked we now love, because of the love of God that has come into our lives. It is all different now. Jesus said, love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, and despitefully use you, by praying for them. Can you honestly with a heart full of God-like love pray for your enemies? If you can you have been born again and are saved. You have a witness of the spirit within that tells you definitely you are saved. You do not think so, hope so, but really know so.

Come tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

NRA Unconstitutional

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Judge I. Grubb in U. S. District Court today dismissed an indictment against W. E. Belcher on the ground that the National Recovery Act and the code of fair competition for the lumber and timber producing industry on which the indictment was found were unconstitutional.

The order was entered upon agreement of U. S. District Attorney James Smith and Jerome T. Fuller, of Centerville, representing Belcher, to expedite an appeal to the United States Supreme Court. Belcher who operates saw mills at Centerville, Paintersville and other points was indicted on charges of paying his employees less than 24 cents an hour and working them more than 40 hours a week, as provided by the code of fair competition. ARREST THREE WHO STAGED ROBBERY HERE

Three Negroes Who Robbed Home Grocery Store Placed in Jail

Three negroes who staged the robbery of the Evans Street Home Grocery Store here early Sunday morning October 21, were arrested by police officers yesterday afternoon and after preliminary hearing this morning were bound over to Superior Court. The three negroes are Milton Reeves, employee of the store, his brother Jack Reeves and Luco Garrett. The money approximately $250 was stolen after the closing of the store late Saturday night and officers who investigated the robbery stated at that time it apparently was an inside job or someone had concealed himself in the store before closing time and began left in there when the store closed.

During the week since the robbery officers have been running down clues that might lead to the robbers and a close check of the actions of Milton Reeves revealed that he was in possession of more money than usual and that both he and Garrett had been exchanging small change for currency at various places in the city. Then yesterday when Jack Reeves made a cash payment of $60 on a second hand automobile officers investigated his having this amount of money and he was taken into custody.

Under questioning of the negroes it was learned that Milton Reeves, employee of the store, had concealed Garrett in the store before closing time and that then after the store closed Garrett removed the money from the box in which the store manager had placed it, removed the bar from the back door of the store and walked out. While Jack Reeves was not implicated in the robbery itself he was charged with receiving a part of the stolen money and having complete knowledge of the robbery. The negroes admitted hiding the checks obtained in the robbery in a catch basin on Cotanche street and burying part of the money in different places about the city.

The officers recovered the checks and all of the stolen cash with the exception of about $100.00.

Officer Makes Getaway With Eight Witnesses

Monticello, Ind., Oct. 31.—(AP)—J. Edward Barce, deputy attorney-general, and eight persons held as "witnesses" in the investigation of John Dillinger's wooden gun escape from Crown Point, Ind., disappeared early today when attorneys for one of the eight sought to serve a habeas corpus writ on Barce. The writ was sought in behalf of Ernest Blunk finger-print expert, by his attorney, Allen Twyman, East Chicago, Ind. but when Sheriff William J. Hayes attempted to serve the writ he learned that Blunk and the seven other witnesses had been taken from a hotel where they had been stopping.

C. B. Wirls, proprietor of the hotel, declined to permit the sheriff to search the rooms on the ground that he did not have a search warrant. While the two argued, Bruce was reported to have gone down a fire-escape, leaving with his witnesses by automobile for an unknown destination.

On the day of the funeral of Horace Watson at Golders Green, England, the theater of which he was manager, was draped in mourning and a matinee and evening performance was cancelled.

WILSON COUNTY COTTON NEARLY ALL HOUSED

Wilson, Oct. 31.—Eighty-five per cent of the Wilson county cotton crop of 1934 has been picked and between 50 and 60 per cent of the entire crop has been ginned, according to County Farm Agent W. L.

Mr. Adams has been having a busy time these days with county fair, tobacco and cotton. Now comes the story that this year has seen more cholera than ever before among the hogs of the county, and Mr. Adams has had that to add to his worries. During the last week or ten days he has spent most of his time traveling the county vaccinating the hogs against this disease.

QUANTITY OF LIQUOR CONFISCATED IN RAID

Washington, N. C., Oct. 31.—More whiskey was confiscated by county officers Saturday afternoon in a raid on the premises of the filling station operated by F. F. Fleming, on the New Bern highway near the Craven County line.

Fleming was arrested and released on bond on charges of possession of the whiskey. The confiscated beverage was found near the old New Bern highway about two-tenths of a mile below the service station. The old and new roads from Washington to New Bern parallel each other at this point.

Captured and confiscated in the Saturday raid were 18 pints and four quarts of alleged bottled-in-bond whiskey and 10 half gallon containers of alleged corn whiskey.

F. W. B. Revival Closes Tonight

Rev. R. P. Pittman delivered a very forceful sermon to his congregation last night. Choosing for his subject the first verse in Second Kings, chapter five—"He was also a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper."

Naaman, great and honorable, was the man referred to in the scripture quotations. "Riches and dignities do not exempt men from the calamities of life. None too high or none too low," Rev. Pittman asserted. "Young people should be religiously instructed, that they may be safe and also be useful in diffusing religious information. Religion makes its possessors blessings wherever they dwell. What a blessing to Naaman when he sought Elisha, a man of God, and complied with his instructions, after which he was made clean. We offer apply to many sources for relief in trouble. Many of us resort to the world instead of the church—to creature instead of the Creator—to ordinance instead of the Saviour."

The singing has been very inspiring. A solo song by Mrs. Melver was especially enjoyed by the congregation. Tonight being the closing of this series of meetings, the public is very cordially invited to attend this service.

DRIVE CAREFULLY TODAY

SCHOOL DAYS

School bells are ringing and thousands of children are on their way to and from school each day. Many of these will venture forth into traffic alone for the first time. Schoolboy patrons in many places will guide and protect them. Before the school year is out, these youngsters will have learned valuable and important safety lessons. The greatest responsibility for their protection rests with Mr. and Mrs. Motorist. A good rule to keep in mind is to drive your car as you would if the child in the street, or the child on the corner were your own boy or girl.

Hallowe'en Party

By MARY GRAMM BONNER
Willy Nilly's house was gay indeed with its Hallowe'en decorations. On the front porch stood a big "jack o'lantern," grinning at them.

The apple-bitting contest from the hanging strings was the hardest of all.
How the apples
did swing away before they could get their bites! Apple-bobbing in the tub
of water seemed easier, but every single beat up
set, which made
Willy Nilly groan.
That meant they were all going to get this mischief.
But Top Notch, in his practical fashion, made Willy Nilly feel better.

"You just decided that's what the upset boats would mean," he cackled. "You might just as well have said if they upset
it would mean that we wouldn't get into mischief."

Yes, Willy Nilly
felt better after that!

"Now," said Willy Nilly, when they had finished their games. "I've arranged that we should go over to the gymnasium
and have the old gipsy tell our fortunes. She is friendly to us
once again and the children are anxious to see the cubs. So if you all behave
well you needn't
fear anything."

"I wonder what she'll tell me," cackled and growled
and quacked
and barked and cawed each of the Puddle Muddlers.

Willy Nilly had been over to see the gypsies in the morning, carrying
presents with him,
and now Quick-Dick, their horse arrived, and took all the smaller ones on his back
to the gipsies' camp,
while the others
walked.

Oh, what fortunes
they were about to be told!

say anything at all about the Sinclair situation.

Some of the boys in the grandstand think Big Jim would breathe easier if somebody would guarantee him that California's Democratic candidates for Congress would survive even if Sinclair is beaten.

Bargains: American watch factories are next in line in the worry column as tariff bargainers shape up a reciprocity treaty with Switzerland. The duty on Swiss and other foreign watches is very stiff—$6.75 to $16.50 and more. American watchmakers claim they meet strong competition even with this protection.

A downward slash in the watch, clock, crystal, dial and watch parts duties is under consideration in exchange for Swiss concessions on American farm products. Chocolates too may have to meet stronger Swiss competition. The chocolate duty is 40 per cent ad valorem.

Switzerland wants to bore a hole in the American tariff wall so that Swiss cheese and embroideries can come in easier, but Secretary Wallace is "agin" any reduction on farm duties—and he's bawling that part of the tariff dickering.

Besides revision of cement and plate glass duties in dealing with Belgium, the bargainers propose to cut the duty on cut diamonds, which is now 10 per cent ad valorem.

Loud: Republicans have been shouting about what they contend is a very bad odor emanating from the Federal Emergency Relief Administration. Their objection, put briefly, is the Democrats are wooing and winning votes with federal money.

Forgetting the politics entirely it may be affirmed that a bad odor was noticeable in FERA headquarters the other day.

It seems a Florida patriot ran into what he believed to be a theft of cattle purchased by the Relief Administration. To prove his point the gentleman wrapped up the hide of a bundle of wool upon which was the brandmark "FERA" and sent it to Washington.

Miss Jane Woolfitt, attractive secretary of Cornington Gill, chief of the Division of Research, unwrapped the "evidence." Alas, the hide was quite green. A messenger with tightly held nose unwrapped the bundle and sent it back to its source while Miss Woolfitt opened all the windows.

Notes: Some desperate G. O. P. candidates for Congress are leaping on the bonus bandwagon. "Roosevelt is Dr. Jekyll, Farley is Mr.
Hyde," say Republicans in commenting upon Farley's letter boosting Upton Sinclair. Bankers at their convention privately said cost of materials and wages were too high to expect a building boom. Mortgage concerns holding hotels, apartments and office buildings can now obtain relief from RFC. Ghaffar Khan Djala, Persian Minister, is trying to laugh off the overnight falling in Persia of John Wright and John Polando, London-Melbourne flyers. The two Johns were in sore need of insect relief the next day.

By James McMULLIN
New York, Oct. 30—Support: Peace between the President and the bankers is far from whole-souled behind the scenes. Rank-and-file bankers in New York and elsewhere privately nurse the complaint that their leaders were too abject in hauling down their flag. You hear it said—off the record—"We've sold our principles for a pot of money that sounds pretty but doesn't mean anything." But the real big-timers don't feel that way about it and they are the ones whose support count. In the end they'll either convert or overrule the rank-and-file opposition. No more significant spokesman could have been chosen to tender the bankers' olive branch than Jackson Reynolds of the First National.

You couldn't find a more firmly conservative institution with a telescope. It isn't a Morgan bank but it is close Morgan connections. It was the only important New York Clearing House bank that had the nerve to refuse to sell capital notes to the RFC and nobody could possibly accuse it of trucking for favors. So when the First National's president says publicly that the time has come to bury the hatchet—and to recognize that aims so close to the bankers' heart as the balanced budget and stabilized currency are not yet possible—it means a lot more than just sound effects.

Equally significant was the fact that two bankers who did not hesitate to endorse the peace openly were S. Parker Gilbert of Morgan's and Seward Prosser of the Bankers' Trust—a Morgan institution. With men of this calibre favoring team work with Washington you can stake the family jewels that the general run of bankers will find themselves cooperating whether they want to or not.

Spokesman: New York believes that Reynolds' talk carried deeper implications than appeared on the surface. He has been a White House visitor more than once recently. Astute observers rate his remarks about federal relief expenditures and international money problems as an unofficial but authorized reflection of the administration's own viewpoint and intentions. Comment trusts that it was far more diplomatic to have a banker tell his fellows that the budget won't be balanced for a while than to have the President say so himself.

Insiders also say that A. B. A. leaders consulted Mr. Roosevelt's wishes as to what banker should present the pipe of peace. The fact that he found a Wall Streeter acceptable is taken as a sure and graceful recognition that effective banking leadership must still come from New York—even though the government will assert ultimate authority. You hear it said that this should dampen Chicago's ambitions to rival the metropolis in Wall Street influence for a while—and Wall Street gets a thrill out of that.

Markets: New York di-hards indulged in a gleat when the stock market failed to zoom the day after the President talked to the bankers. It was freely implied that the speech had been a flop.

But informed sources scoff at such a pat explanation of sluggish-ness in stocks. They point out that the bond market—which is a much better barometer of banking opinion—showed emphatic strength and predict that it will continue to do so. Stock weakness was traceable chiefly to the Legion's overwhelming bonus vote. Poor third quarter earnings reports were also a factor (although these should not be taken too seriously).

You may have noticed that the stock market doesn't leap to psychological bait as it once did.
There's a reason. In the good old days professional traders used to jump the gun with buying orders whenever bullish news was in prospect—sure of being able to unload at a profit within a day or so after the public swarmed to follow suit.

The sure thing boys don't pull that stunt any more. The public has lost its zest for playing follow the leader—at least the professionals are taking no chances on getting hooked by their own optimism. The spark of quick and certain profits that used to set off the rocket is missing.

But despite the absence of market fireworks some of the wisest sour-

County Relief Officers Attend District Meet

Yesterday the administrative staff of the Pitt County Emergency Relief office, Walter Cherry, G. S. Porter, R. A. Joyner, and J. B. Lewis, went to Washington, N. C., to attend a district conference of Relief Administration workers.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, State Administrator of the Emergency Relief Administration.

Mrs. Gertrude Gates, regional representative in charge of social work and a member of Harry Hopkins' staff, made the principal talk of the meeting.

Heads of these various departments of the State office were present and led discussions of the work coming under their departments.

Mrs. O'Berry told the workers that, on the occasion of her last visit to Harry Hopkins, he had quite definitely told her that North Carolina as one of the forty-eight States of the nation was not bearing its share of the relief costs, and that if this State did not do something about this situation, Federal moneys for further relief purposes would not be granted to North Carolina.

A second point brought out quite clearly was that Federal Emergency Relief of able-bodied unemployed persons and their families rather than for aged persons and others who have always been considered charges of the various counties.

Mrs. Gates, in her talk, endeavored to show in what ways the relief program was falling down and how best to change the administration of the program so as to achieve better results in the future.

In the afternoon part of the meeting, the heads of the departments, Dr. Brinton, Mr. Morse, Miss Simmons, and Mr. McDaniel led round table discussions of troublesome questions in connection with the detail work necessary between the State office and the various local administrative offices.

New Theatrical Season On Great White Way

By NOEL THORNTON. New York. (AP)—The balance of trade in the theater market discloses a definite westward trend as the new stage season attains its most active period.

Broadway first nighters early had their appetites for sophistication whetted by "Continental Varieties."

Three nations—France, Spain and Russia—combine to furnish the talent for this European evening with the famous Parisienne, Lucienne Boyer, giving her "tour de chant" as headliner.

Daughter of Chaliapine. On the same program are Vicent Escudero, the Spanish dancer, with his group gypsies from the caves of Sacre Mont; in Grandia; Lydia Chaliapine, Russian singer and daughter of the great basso; and De Roza, a bar-man illusionist who.

CAPUDINE EASES ACHES. RELIEVES pain quickly without deadening nerves or upsetting stomach. Banishes nerve strain. Brings welcome relaxation. Correctly blended formula. LIQUID or TABLETS.

starting with a simple glass of water, can produce any liquor named by members of the audience.

For the first time New York has the opportunity to hear Yvonne Printemps in an English speaking role as this famous French actress plays the lead in Noel Coward's "Conversation Piece."

Several years ago Mlle. Printemps created something of a furor here when she appeared with her former husband, Sascha Guitry, in "Mozart." Now she has learned English for the Coward role.

Irish Players Here. From Dublin come the Irish Players of the Abbey Theater on a nation-wide tour with a repertory which includes two plays frowned upon by Erin's censors.

Their Broadway engagement is at the Martin Beck Theater, following there the highly successful engagement of the O'Flynn Carle Gilbert and Sullivan troupe from London.

Three of London's most acclaimed dramatic stars are on the current season's payroll. Dame Sybil Thorneike returned after fourteen years' absence to play the understanding mother in "The Distaff Side."

Trude Lawrence is booked not only for a straight comedy, but also for the musical comedy, "Nymph Errant." Elizabeth Bergner will appear in "Escape Me Never," a New play from the pen of Margaret Kennedy, well-known novelist.

Two foreign stars were imported for the Viennese operetta, "The Great Waltz," which turned Rockefeller center into a haven for fresh-and-blood shows. They are Marie Burke, London prima donna, and Danilova, the Russian ballerina.

Utilizing the Sun's Rays. Inventors and scientists in Russia are giving much attention to the effort to utilize the rays of the sun in one way or another in the place of fuel with some promise of ultimate success.

One interesting and unique manner of doing this is that of spreading a coating of coal dust over the soil of the cotton fields in the spring for the purpose of hastening the crop, which, it is said, has been advanced by two months. The black dust absorbs the heat of the sun and communicates it to the soil.

Peach Pudding. Line the bottom of a pudding dish with stale cake. Over this pour one pint of richly canned peaches. Scald one pint milk, add three egg yolks, well beaten, one tablespoon cornstarch blended with a little cold milk. Cook in a double boiler until thickened, then pour over the fruit. Make a meringue of the egg whites and spread over the top of the pudding. Set in the open to brown.

Learn From Doctors How to Treat Colds

Four Points to Remember. As colds cause more loss of time and money than any other disease, every one should learn what modern medical science teaches as to their proper treatment. Your doctor has the following objectives: First—To relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thus aborting or lightening the attack and relieving the symptoms caused by the congestion—Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets, accomplish this by attracting the excess blood to the bowels. Second—to help the kidneys wash out of the blood the cold-poisons which cause the chilly sensation, feverishness, aches, and mean feeling—Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, assisting them in ridding the blood of the poisons. Third—To expel the germ-laden mucus and toxins from the bowels, thus preventing their absorption into the blood—Calotabs accomplish this thoroughly. Fourth—To keep the bile of the liver flowing freely through and out of the intestines, thus relieving the biliousness and constipation, which attend and aggravate a cold. As Calotabs contain opium, they promote the flow of bile. Thus, Calotabs meet these four important objectives of medical treatment for colds. One or two Calotabs at bed time with a glass of sweet milk or water, is usually sufficient, but should be repeated the third or fifth night if needed. The milk tones down the action, making it milder, if desired. Why risk doubtful or make-shift remedies? Get a family package of Calotabs containing full directions only twenty-five cents; trial package ten cents, at your dealer's (Adv.)

Marian Gordon by JEANNE ROWMAN

STORY: Marian Gordon's husband, Lon, just has been put in charge of the East Division high school building, which structure his employer, the contractor McSwain, plans to scamp Lon is better made the point, and Marian's pool of McSwain's treachery has been laid to her through Lon's stupidity. Now Lon has been ousted of the house because Marian has observed to his taking the school job out into to McSwain's arrangement to replace Waki, her friend, the gardener, with his own head gardener.

Chapter 34
CLEVER FOE
MARIAN couldn't think clearly. She was too tired, too sick at heart. She heard the purr of a motor, caught the flash of headlights on the windows and, turning over, nestled her head into the pillow and feigned sleep.

Lon was moodily silent the next morning. He kissed her lightly and went off to work with scarcely a word. Marian did not go to the hilltop, but she didn't need to see the car she heard coming to know to whom it belonged. Only one car had such an asthmatic cough, Waki's.

"Alla same come in postman," Waki was saying. brilliant smile in response. Interpreted, Waki's message meant that last night Lon had driven down to do as she asked and she was free of the Hondon gardener.

"Alla same come in postman," Waki was saying, working meanwhile to extract a letter from the inside of his sweater. "Come me like you say. See Missa O. K. Waki."
Marian nearly snatched the envelope from his hand. The letter, relayed through the only person she could trust, was from John King, her detective friend. Perhaps in this was the evidence she needed to convince Lon of McSwain's part in her Sacramento trip.

Dear Marian: Sorry to send you this report but it is the best I could do. I'm afraid McSwain is too clever a man for a girl like you to fight single-handed. I'd advise you to talk to your father as soon as possible.
"Now about the telegrams. I started here, learning the telegram had actually been sent from Sacramento. The wording follows: To Lionel Casad, Construction Office, East Brazos High School, Lon dear please go to safety deposit box find letter written by Cliff to Silver Hondon stop address and mail to me Congressional Hotel, Sacramento stop send air-mail special delivery stop vitally urgent, Marian.

MARIAN leaned back in the chair. Clever, how clever. Of course McSwain, knowing it was coming and having arranged to have Lon leave his car at home for her to use in leaving town, was ready to take him to the bank. She was willing to wager that he had also accompanied Lon to the vault and ascertained not only that he had found the right letter, but that he did not have time to read it.
McSwain had risked nothing. He was able to gauge Lon's lack of knowledge of the letter, by his attitude towards him. It had never changed from respectful admiration. She turned back to the report.

Kitchen Comments
Meat used in sandwiches should be chopped to a fine mince or put through the grinder, then seasoned well with salt, pepper, a few drops of Worcestershire, chili sauce or dressing. Or cream, stock or a little lemon juice may be used to make of spreading consistency.
For garnishing fish filling, sprinkle finely minced pickle over the top of the fish, and serve more mayonnaise in a little paper cup or lettuce leaf. A pair of olives or a pickle fan will dress up the niched dish.

Colored Baptist State Convention In Session Here

The local Colored Baptist Church is host to the delegates of the General Baptist State Convention meeting here October 30 through November 2nd.

The sessions of the convention began last night with the "Local Program" which was primarily one of "welcome" to the delegates and representatives of the various organizations that make up the convention. Excellent music was rendered by the senior choir of the Sycamore Hill Church. C. R. Graves presided over this session as master of ceremonies.

The devotionals were led by Rev. J. A. Nimmo, pastor of the host church.
R. C. Flanagan, Mayor of the city was introduced by Professor C. M. Epps, and spoke the city's welcome in earnest manner to the fine audience gathered in the church. Mr. Flanagan's remarks were much appreciated. Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor Memorial Baptist Church, represented the white Baptists of the city, and also the North Carolina Baptist State Convention (white). Mr. Fleischmann pointed out to the delegates that upon the basis of Christian brotherhood we were responsible for the ongoing of Christ's work, and that the heroes of faith were looking to us to continue their work.

Others who spoke words of welcome to the convention were Dr. C. R. Graves, Rev. T. V. McIver, Rev. J. J. Lang and Rev. J. A. Nimmo.
An address of response to these expressions of welcome and good will was made most enthusiastically by Rev. B. F. Jordan of Wilson.
The convention will continue until Friday night with interesting programs at each session.

Fundamentals

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH
Some years ago an instructor giving a course in literature at one of the colleges was shocked to find that no one in his classes knew anything about the Old Testament. References to the great figures of Bible history left the class untouched by a ray of answering intelligence.

Whether one presents the Old Testament as religion or literature is not the question in this case. The fact remains that without some knowledge of the stories and poems of the Hebrew race, a real knowledge of any modern literature is impossible. Scarcely a book of any claim to merit does not at some time and in some form contain a reference to the ancient library of the Hebrews which we call the Old Testament.

For a child to know nothing of Jacob and Esau, of Samson, of the tragic and intensely human story of David, the gorgeous poetry of the Psalms, the rhythmic language of the Old Testament, the things which should be as familiar and dear to him as Grimm's Fairy Tales.

And he should hear and read them in their context, and in the actual translation from the original, not in abridged and revamped nursery form. When he is very little the stories may be told him in a simple version, but as soon as possible he should learn to know and savor the rhythmic language of the Old Testament as it was so exquisitely and painstakingly translated for his forefathers.

Many of the greatest writers gained their feeling for style from these old authors. Certainly no man can claim to have a thorough education who has not read them. Another generation or two of children without this fundamental knowledge will make many of the English classics closed books.
