Dillinger Gunner Believed Under Arrest At Chicago

MRS. GILLIS REPORTED IN TOILS OF LAW

Wife of 'Baby Face' Nelson Questioned By Police; Believed She May Have Tipped Off Officers As To Whereabouts Of John Hamilton, Ace Gunner

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The possibility that John Hamilton, ace gunner of the Dillinger club, is already under arrest, was one of the number of rumors that cropped up today following revelation that Mrs. Helen Gillis, widow of "Baby Face" Nelson, has been held by Federal agents for several days.

Government man-hunters seeking Hamilton as the accomplice of Nelson in the slaying of Department of Justice operatives, Samuel Coley and Herman E. Hollis, refused to comment to indicate if Hamilton's trail had been picked up.

A veil of secrecy was maintained concerning circumstances of Mrs. Gillis' arrest in Chicago Thanksgiving night.

Whether she voluntarily surrendered because of the stern Federal order to show her no quarter, or whether the government agents seized her in a hide-out, was not announced. It was learned, however, she had been questioned extensively at an announced place of detention, leading to the belief that she may have given the investigators information as to the whereabouts of Hamilton.

The fact that no announcement of Mrs. Gillis' detention was made until yesterday, gave strength to a suggestion in unofficial circles that Hamilton may be already in custody.

Another rumor was that Nelson had been in a hide-out near Lake Geneva, Wis., just before the fatal gun-fight at Barrington, Ill. This was denied by H. M. Clegg, official of the Department of Justice, who came from Washington to direct the man-hunt for the remnants of the Dillinger gang.

TRUCK GOES OFF ROAD KILLS ONE, HURTS THREE

Marshall, N. C., Dec. 5.—One man was killed and three were injured, one seriously, when the truck in which they were riding ran off an embankment of the Marshall-Greenville highway about twenty miles northwest of Marshall Sunday afternoon.

The dead man is Luther Randall, farmer of the Big Pine section, who was killed instantly.

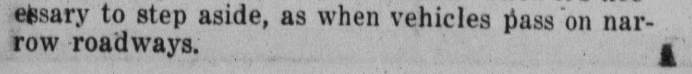

E. Edwards, driver of the truck, received slight cuts and bruises. He is being held in the Madison County jail pending a coroner's inquest.

Roy Goforth, of the Big Pine section, suffered probable internal injuries. He is in Oteen Hospital.

A. M. Lunsford, of the Big Pine section, received cuts and bruises, and was given treatment by a physician and taken to his home.

Air conditioning has been making notable progress in the Philippine Islands, installations being made recently in motion picture theaters, offices, hospitals and residences.

Mysterious Explosion Shakes Three Counties

Kinston, N. C., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The cause of a mysterious blast reported to have been felt for miles around today remained unexplained. The largest buildings here were shaken and dishes crashed from tables. The only available theory of the shock was that it was caused by a meteor which fell somewhere in this section.

IMPROVEMENT IS REPORTED IN COTTON TRADE

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Under NRA competitive competition in the nation's cotton textile industry has improved, George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, declared today.

Industry Makes Marked Progress Under NRA Competition Code

Speaking at the annual meeting of the institute, Sloan said: "By the code we attempted to create conditions under which the industry could function in a healthy manner. We have made improvement. We are learning by experience. Much remains to be accomplished."

Reviewing the past year in the industry, Sloan discussed the effects of the cotton textile code and the recent textile strike. The code, he said, has relieved the pressure toward minimum wages, equalized conditions of competition and enabled the industry to relieve unemployment.

POLICE PROBE ROBBERY HERE

Cigarettes Taken by Thieves in Entrance To Savage's Store Last Night

A store operated by John Savage at the corner of Eleventh and Evans Streets was entered by robbers last night and a check-up this morning revealed that nine cartons of cigarettes were missing.

The robbers evidently were also after money as there was evidence the cash register had been tampered with, but without obtaining any money.

The robbery was discovered this morning when employees opened the store for business and police immediately began an investigation.

Entrance to the building was made by removing a glass from a front window. The glass, investigating officers said, had already been broken prior to the robbery.

Although police began work on the case early this morning, Chief of Police George Clark said later that no clue had been obtained to the identity of the robbers.

MRS. GRICE AND BROTHER GO ON TRIAL IN WAYNE

Motion To Quash Indictments Against Alleged Slayers Denied By Court

Goldsboro, N. C., Dec. 5.—(AP)—A crowd estimated by officers at 1,500, milled about the courthouse here today as attorneys began the process of selecting a jury to try Mrs. Ruoy G. Rice, 30-year-old widow, and her brother, Donald Sasser, for complicity in the slaying of her husband.

The courthouse seats only 450, and the court ruled that every one would be barred except special veniremen and principals in the case until the jury was selected, which was expected to consume the remainder of the day.

Immediately after court was convened, the defense moved to quash the indictments and to continue the trial until another term of court. Judge R. Hunt Parker overruled all the motions.

Hugh Dorich and N. W. Outlaw, attorneys for Mrs. Grice and Sasser, gave no reason in asking that the indictments be quashed in arguing for dismissal. They contend the defendants were placed in double jeopardy since they had been indicted separately, arraigned and indicted after nol proes.

Judge Parker denied this motion with a statement that the defendants had been brought for trial.

POLICE COURT FAILS TO SIT

Lack of Docket Gives Officers More Time On Beats and Investigations

The regular Wednesday session of police court was abandoned this morning because there was no docket awaiting consideration.

It was the first time in several weeks that court didn't have at least one or two minor cases to hear, but this does not mean the police department didn't have anything to do.

Commenting on the lack of court actions this morning, Chief of Police George Clark said his men were busy with their regular beats while one or two minor cases to hear, but to solve the robbery of a store on Eleventh street last night.

As for himself the chief had plenty to do attempting to answer the countless number of questions piled by citizens over the telephone and attention to other office duties.

The next session of court is set for Saturday and if the past may be taken as an index to the future, the police head said they expected to have plenty to do.

LIQUOR MAKER SENTENCED TO COUNTY ROADS

Several Other Cases Disposed of in Weekly Session of County Court Here

Ernest Hardison, colored man of the Pactolus community, was convicted on a charge of manufacturing liquor in the weekly session of County Court here yesterday and sentenced to six months on the roads.

He was given the choice between the payment of $200 and costs of the road sentence, but was unable to raise the money and went out to serve his time on the roads.

Hardison was taken into custody when officers raided his still in Pactolus Township Monday, obtaining seven gallons of whiskey, 1,000 gallons of beer, the small copper still and a good supply of paraphernalia.

The negro made a break to run, but the fast-sprinting deputies of the sheriff's office were too much for him and he was run down before he had really gotten his feet in motion.

Approximately a dozen cases were disposed of, the lightest docket in sometime, and work was completed during the afternoon. Judge Dink James presided. The remainder of the cases given hearing follow:

Willie Harper, colored, carrying a concealed weapon; $50 and cost, pistol confiscated.

Roosevelt Robinson, colored, driving drunk, $50 and cost, and driver's license revoked for six months.

W. H. Coward, colored, non-support; pay one-half cost and provide proper shelter for his horse.

Len Hardison, colored, driving careless and reckless; $25 and license revoked for 60 days.

Glenn Brantley, driving without proper brakes, $35; cost, deducted and balance to be paid to Mrs. Mary Hunt.

Oliver Forbes, colored, driving careless and reckless, $25 and cost and license revoked for 60 days.

Walter Bright, driving drunk, $50 and cost, and license revoked twelve months.

With nothing but common grades being offered, the Greenville tobacco market today pushed toward Friday, the date for the closing for the season.

Late News Flashes

Britain Makes Offer. Geneva, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Captain Anthony Eden, British delegate to the League of Nations, announced today that if France will agree not to send troops into the Saar Basin territory and if Germany is willing Britain will police the Saar with British troops during the Saar plebiscite next month.

The British offer created an immediate sensation in the League of Nations: Capt. Eden's proposal was made directly to the League counsel in full meeting.

The council already had heard a report on the outlook for the plebiscite. It specified that if the Saarites vote in favor of continuing their present League rule rather than to be annexed to France or Germany that the League would become the "titular" sovereign of the Saar.

But the announcement of the British envoy was not the only sensation of the day.

Pierre Laval, France's foreign minister, told the council that France absolutely will not participate in any international force which may be (Continued on Page Six)

YOUTH HELD FOR ROBBERY

Edwin Jackson in Jail Here Awaiting Confinement in Reformatory at Concord

Edwin Jackson, 14-year-old youth of Grifton, was held in the county jail today on a charge of taking part in the robbery of Tucker's store at Grifton last Sunday night.

E. B. Murphy, another lad described by officers as about 15 years old, was arrested in connection with the same case but was returned to his parents on probation following hearing before Judge Frank Harrington in juvenile court here yesterday afternoon.

Judge Harrington ordered that Jackson, described as one of the most wayward youths of the community, be held in jail here until arrangements could be made for his confinement in reformatory at Concord.

The youths were alleged to have removed part of a broken glass in a window in the front of Tucker's store Sunday night, entered the building and made away with several cartons of cigarettes and about $1 in cash.

Officers suspected Jackson of complicity in the robbery and when questioned yesterday morning, he was said to have admitted the crime and also implicated Murphy.

In view of the fact that Murphy was a new addition to the field of crime, Judge Harrington decided to return him to his parents on probation with threat of confinement in a reformatory should he depart from the straight and narrow way again.

Judge Harrington said today he was attempting to make arrangements to get Jackson in at the state institution at Concord, but if unsuccessful there, would send him to some other place.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING HERE

Swift Creek Drainage Project and Several Other Matters Get Attention

Members of the Board of County Commissioners met at the courthouse this morning to consider business not completed at the regular monthly session here Monday when the new board was inducted into office.

When the board recessed at noon discussion of a report on the drainage of Swift Creek had been considered. This afternoon the naming of a superintendent and tax collection departments were reappointed, but the board adjourned late in the afternoon without being able to reach the matters scheduled to come up today.

The board received a report from a Government representative on the drainage of Swift Creek, a project left incomplete when the CWA suspended operations last summer.

The survey of the stream was made because of complaints from various sources, declaring that the creek had overflowed its banks, constituting a menace both to life and property.

The report was said to be of a favorable nature, and indicated the Government intends to complete the job as soon as possible.

In a statement received here from Washington last week, assurance of completion of the project was given and it was said the Relief Administration would move to begin work at an early date.

NASH MAN ARRESTED ON WHISKEY CHARGES

Wilson, D. C., Dec. 5.—Federal enforcement officers, Herbert Gulley and W. E. Wood, visited the farm of Oscar Lucas just over the Nash County line, Monday night, and came away with Lucas and eight gallons of whiskey which they claimed was being made without government tax permission. They took their prisoner before U. S. District Commissioner G. L. Parker, who put Lewis under $300 bail and continued the case until December.

Many historians have neglected to chronicle the fact that a young Irishman named John Findlay was the companion of Daniel Boone in the exploration of Kentucky, says Dr. Archibald Henderson, a recent biographer of Boone.

SHIP FORCED TO LAND WHEN GAS GIVES OUT

All Night Cruise of 23 Naval Craft Fail To Locate Three Men Forced to Land Yesterday; Believed to Have Been Far Off Their Route; Additional Planes To Join Search

Honolulu, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Through the air and over the water, army, navy and private searchers widened the hunt today for Flight Commander Lieut. Charles T. P. Ulm and two companions whose trans-Pacific plane was forced to an ocean landing.

Every hour brought new fears that the trim "Star of Australia," a land plane, had carried its three passengers beneath the surging Pacific when their gasoline gave out yesterday.

An all-night cruise of twenty-three crafts failed to locate any trace of the plane in which Ulm, Co-pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator Radio Operator J. L. Skilling took off from Oakland Monday for Honolulu on a contemplated Australian flight.

The trio was attempting to chart a commercial trans-Pacific flying course. The exact location of the luckless adventures was not known, as to SOS messages flashed from the plane indicated it came down 200 miles off Oahu, but Ulm said he was far off his course and frantically sought bearings.

Twenty-four naval seaplanes were serviced and made ready for take-off for search of an area within thirty miles of the Archipelago.

MEETS DEATH WHEN HE FALLS UPON SAW

Albemarle, Dec. 5.—A. G. Murray, 51-year-old farmer and saw mill man of Oakboro, Route 1, met instant death about 10 o'clock yesterday when he fell into a circle saw being operated near his home. Mr. Murray was tightening the guide on the saw when the carriage slipped, throwing him off balance. His right leg and left arm were severed and his body cut almost in half.

Funeral services were held from Pleasant Grove Baptist Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. C. C. Huneycutt officiating.

ELIZABETH CITY COP SEIZES LOAD WHISKEY

Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec. 5.—A 105-gallon liquor haul was made Sunday night by Officer Walter Spence, of the Elizabeth City police, after he had stopped the driver of a Ford V-8 for speeding and reckless driving.

After the officer started chasing the rum car, the driver, John Hill, negro, who gave his address as New-Jersey News, Va., tried to chase him.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News. Washington By GEORGE DRURNO Leader: The grand strategy of the forthcoming session of Congress will be mapped out this week by President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner—that is, FDR will shape his procedure largely on Garner's advice. It's surmised that "Cactus Jack" isn't enthusiastic over some White House policies, but he stands by as a valiant lieutenant when it comes to putting the Presidential program through Congress. Garner has a keen sense of timeliness in handling legislation, and his influence in the House is more potent than ever before. Frauds: An immense amount of work must be performed to run down possible frauds in income-tax settlements. Records run back 14 years during which time a Treasury official now under grand jury scrutiny was handling tax adjustments. All cases handled by him will be gone over. Other suspects are said to have operated by obtaining tips as to adjustments and then offering taxpayers to settle the dispute in the manner they knew it was to be settled anyhow. By doing nothing at all and merely waiting for decision they apparently influenced the Internal Revenue Bureau to settle "their way". In these instances only taxpayers were swindled. Other cases are believed to have been corruptly settled by officials in favor of taxpayers. (Continued on page four)

Flames Do $300,000 Damage To Film Studio

Burbank, Calif., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Fire swept Warner Brothers First National Studios here causing one death, injuring eleven and doing damage estimated at $300,000 before it was extinguished early today.

Albert Rounde, 65-year-old fire chief of the motion picture studio, died at the first aid station of heart failure which doctors said was induced by fighting the conflagration. Rudolph Hoop, an actor, and Miss Postoff, studio workmen, were the most seriously injured. Each suffered broken legs and minor burns and bruises. Officials of the film plant said the fire swept over about half the eighty acres occupied by the studio, but that the fire was of minor importance to the production of films.

Huge Rock Drops In Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Dec. 5.—(AP)—A slice of rock estimated to weigh 200,000 tons, dropped from Table Rock of the Canadian Falls here last night changing the contour of the huge cataract for the second time in five months.

Mrs. Bayard Wooten Here. Mrs. Bayard Wooten of Chapel Hill, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robeson on Woodland avenue. Mrs. Wooten is nationally known for her famous photographs of Carolina gardens and Carolina folk scenes. At present Mrs. Wooten is illustrating books for Loretta Carroll Bailey, Muriel Sheppard and Chas. Wolson. Of particular interest to Greenville and Eastern Carolina are Mrs. Wooten's latest photographic series, a series of handsome pictures portraying the tobacco industry from the seed through each stage to the smokers. In this series of pictures are beautiful scenes in the tobacco fields, at the barns and warehouses.

Mrs. Wooten's exhibits have been shown and need no introduction to Greenville art lovers. She has graciously promised the Sheppard Memorial Library her Carolina Gardens exhibit for the spring and it is hoped before long Greenville may also have the pleasure of seeing the new interesting tobacco photographic stories.

Gift To Mars Hill College. Mars Hill, N. C. Dec. 1.—Appreciation has been expressed by the girls of Mars Hill College for a recent gift from the Woman's Missionary Society of Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville toward the erection of a new girls' home at the college. The gift is one of the first received from friends outside of Mars Hill.

On account of the number of young people from Greenville who have been trained at Mars Hill, the plans for an enlargement program should be of especial interest. A roll of former students includes the following from Greenville: Mark Smith, Jennings Raesdale, Charles White, Urian Cox, Wesley Moore, Wafford West, William Teel, Ray O'Brian, Edna Stroud, Sallie Brooks, George Wilkerson, Sam Quinerly, Minnie Brooks, Esther Cox, Ernelle Brooks, Nathan Brooks, Joe Henderson, Robert Pittman, John Clark, Eleanor Harrington and Mrs. Grace Ellen, secretary of the college.

Large Crowds Attend Salvation Army Services. The revival service being held by the Salvation Army at the Universalist Church is being largely attended. It was said today. Ensign W. O. Self is doing the preaching. The revival began November 29, is scheduled the close December 9.

Application is being made for parole of Joe Mitchell Gurganus. All persons interested will take notice and act accordingly by communicating with Parole Commissioner Edwin Gill, Raleigh, N. C. P. M. GURGANUS, Dec. 5-11w-2wk.

Ballard's X Road. Mr. Mahsburn was with us Sunday afternoon. He preached from Rev. 3:20: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." A warning to luke-warm church members. Let us take heed.

Our Sunday school was interesting and instructive. Miss Lida Tyson of the Raeford school spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives here.

Friends will be sorry to know that Mr. J. T. Pilgreen is quite sick. We hope he recovers soon. Mrs. Malinga and son, Mr. St-

The project of building another dormitory for young women was inaugurated by the girls themselves in response to the increased enrollment this year and the inadequate accommodations of our present buildings. The fund began by them as a kind of birthday gift to the college on Founder's Day recently has been increased by the contribution of faculty members, many of the young men, and by the business men of the community, all of whom are cooperating heartily with the movement.

Realizing that Mars Hill College is the result of prayer and sacrificial giving, we trust that God will raise up friends who will assist in this and other worthy projects that must soon be undertaken to maintain the high standing of the institution. The long needed infirmary is now assuming permanent shape in the form of a beautiful little building of native stone, erected in memory of Dr. W. F. Robinson, and subscribed to by students, faculty, trustees, and many churches and physicians of this section.

The new girls' home is, in the opinion of many, one of our most urgent needs and we believe will serve to launch a much larger program in the next few years.

Mr. Bryson Bateman spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tyson at their novel farm—the Carolina Frog Ranch on Tranter's Creek, one mile from Williamston on Washington highway. Mr. Tyson is a new hand at this type of farming; since his ranch is fitted up with all the requisites of frog farming, success seems assured. We hope so anyway.

FOR A SAFE HOLIDAY SEASON

The Holiday Season is designed to bring joy and happiness — but it likewise brings with it a vast amount of preventable misery, because of the accident toll.

Here are a few rules, issued by the National Safety Council, to help pass a safe and happy Christmas Season:

Don't permit children to play in the streets. If you permit the children to shoot fireworks, see to it that they are cautious in so doing.

Winter brings special automobile hazards, such as ice and snow, poor visibility and soft highway shoulders. Remember them—and drive accordingly.

Don't use candles on your Christmas Tree—don't put it near a stove—don't use inflammable trimmings—don't permit it to dry out in the house after Christmas—don't fail to anchor it firmly—don't use light bulbs of greater strength than one are by candlepower.

These little hints are simple enough—there's nothing but common sense behind them, and they will cost nothing, in either time or money, to follow. And they may be the means of saving the lives of loved ones.

rayers who participated in the frauds.

Frozen: "There isn't anything tangible in the way of a debt settlement with Soviet Russia," says a Whirligig informant whose knowledge of the conditions is precise.

"Ambassador Troyanovsky is coming back to present in modified form the same old proposal—lend us the money and we'll buy some goods." We can't find that the Soviet government has changed its policy.

It has refused since 1920 to make any deal to settle debts. European creditors or Russia stand in the way of a settlement of the debt to this country. It exporters want to sell to Russia they can't get some credit on their own account and risk, but no way has been found to grant credit to the Soviet itself.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench, Jerry Mordant, and Molly O'Brien have joined forces to find a formula worth millions which Molly's father devised, and which was stolen at his death by John Osborne. Nicholas has been acquitted of the charge of murdering Osborne, but several dangerous persons believe he has the formula, nevertheless. He and Molly are moving from their studio; tomorrow Nicholas will have lunch with the great chemical engineer, Sir William Avon.

Chapter 18 NEW ALLY

I HAD packed my bag and was in the act of fastening the clasp, when a tap at the knocker announced that Molly had returned. I heard Jerry open the front door, and emerging from my bedroom, I found them waiting for me in the hall.

Jerry picked up a couple of suitcases which were standing on the mat. "Do you mind sitting behind and looking after the baggage, Nick?" he inquired.

"Are you referring to Molly?" I asked. He grinned. "Molly says she'd prefer to come in front with me."

"I've never been driven by a baronet," explained Molly. "I rather want to know what it feels like."

We passed through the gate into the narrow lane outside, where a large car was blocking up the fairway. I kept a sharp look-out while we packed ourselves in and rounded the corner into the main road, but, as far as I could see, no one appeared to be taking the least interest in our departure.

During the first hundred yards or so I glanced back once or twice through the small window behind me; then, satisfied that we were not being followed, I lighted a cigaret and ceased to trouble myself any further in the matter. After all, if they had the number of the car, it would be easy enough for them to discover the owner's name without trailing us openly through the streets of London.

It was just on twelve o'clock when we turned out of the crowded Strand into the courtyard of the Milan Hotel. The commissionaire on duty evidently recognized Jerry, for as we stepped forward to open the door, he touched his cap with a respectful smile of welcome.

"Haven't seen you for quite a time, sir." "No, I've been leading the simple life," said Jerry. He gave instructions that the two suitcases should be taken inside, and making our way through the revolving door, we entered the lounge. Owing to the earliness of the hour it was still comparatively empty.

Jerry took me by the arm. "Shall I talk to 'em?" he suggested. "They know me pretty well here, and I'll make sure they give her a decent room and don't overcharge her."

"Right you are," I agreed. "I'll get a seat over there in the corner and order something to drink."

I strolled across to where I saw a comfortable looking settee, one-half of which was partly hidden behind a giant palm. There was the obvious chance that at any moment someone I knew might walk in, and I had no wish either to be stared at or congratulated.

Close to the place I was making for stood a small page-boy. As I reached my destination he started forward with the obvious intention of relieving me of my hat; then, pulling up short, he remained there as though glued to the spot, his blue eyes fixed upon me in a kind of incredulous astonishment. Somehow or other his face seemed vaguely familiar.

I beckoned to him and, pulling himself together, he came up to where I was sitting. "What's the matter?" I inquired. "You look as if you'd seen a ghost."

He crimsoned violently. "Beg pardon, sir, but aren't you Mr. Trench?" "That's so," I replied. "You wouldn't remember me, sir. My names Jimmy Fox. You—you looked at some things of mine down at the drawing-class in Battersea last May."

Directly he spoke it came back to me at once. A friend of mine called Francis, who was interested in a scheme for giving free art teaching to working-class lads, had asked me to drop in one evening and inspect some of their efforts. I had been particularly struck by the work of the smallest boy there, a dirty-faced, tousel-headed urchin who was obviously gifted with a streak of real talent.

Pleased by his keenness and intelligence I had presented him with all set to run the gauntlet of the Supreme Court is the Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium act. Federal judges in Maryland and Virginia have held section 75, subsection S, unconstitutional. It provides for the appraisal of property after debtor and creditor have failed to agree on an extension of time to pay debts, and for retention of the property by the debtor for five years. The courts held this to be a violation of the "due process" clause.

Without waiting for a Supreme Court decision it is proposed to amend the law at the next session of Congress to obviate the constitutional doubt.

New York By JAMES McMULLIN Boss: Probably you've never heard of J. L. O'Neill—but mark his name. If and when a technicality is ironed out he's scheduled to become the new executive head of NRA—perhaps within a week. He won't have much to do with policy but he'll be the works on internal organization. Those who know him predict he'll be the works on internal organization. Those who know him predict he'll make plenty of headlines.

At present Mr. O'Neill is with the Guaranty Trust Co.—one of New York's biggest and most conservative institutions. His title is vice president but his job is bank manager. He gets no publicity but only chairman Potter and president Conway outrank him in actual power. Insiders describe him as a super-efficient and hard-boiled Irishman who wants—and gets—things done his way. If he takes the job it will be on the unequivocal condition that he's to be absolute boss in administrative matters. That will be bad news for NRA chair-warmers and office politicians.

Clay Williams and W. Averill Harriman have been trying hard to land O'Neill for some weeks. The Guaranty doesn't want to lose him and Bill Potter has been hard to convince. If he goes to Washington it will be on leave-of-absence basis. The technicality referred to focuses on its terms. He will probably remain until Congress concocts the new NRA recipe.

It's assumed that O'Neill's selection has FDR's approval. It would be hard to find more convincing evidence that NRA is being reshaped to meet big industry's demands. Observers comment on the delightful irony of choosing a man from what was probably the most outstanding anti-New Deal bank in the country to run one of the most important New Deal creations.

For Old Times' Sake Teacher asked a seven-year-old girl what a bride groom was. "Please, teacher," was the reply, "is a thing they have at weddings." —Portland Oregon.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The stock market continued its slow forward movement on a broad front today, boosting a handful of issues to new highs for the year. Stocks were joined by bonds while railroad issues continued their recovery and principal staples were firm under the leadership of grains. Wheat advanced more than a cent a bushel. The dollar again advanced in terms of the pound sterling. Continental gold currencies were quiet. The improvement in railroad securities had a stimulating effect on the general market though definite news developments of a character to account for the upturn in these securities were lacking.

New York Cotton
New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady 10 to 12 points advance in response to higher Liverpool cables, on foreign buying and on indications of the probable continuation of the Bankhead act. Business tapered off after early orders had been executed but the market held steady in a point or two of the best at the end of the first half hour. Offerings were light and prices held very steady on moderate demand with March selling up to 12.61 and May to 12.63 or about 15 to 17 points net higher. Prices at midday were within two or three points of these figures.

Fire Wipes Out Virginia Town

Haysi, Va., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Fire today practically wiped out this town of several hundred population, burning all buildings in the town proper except two garages and a small shoe shop. The fire was believed to have originated in a department store about 6 o'clock this morning. For miles along the winding highway that runs between the hills to the southwest Virginia town the roadside was strewn with merchandise and household goods removed in frantic efforts to effect some salvage.
