FRANK KELLY MAKES TESTS BEFORE JURY

New Jersey State Trooper Asked to Show Court How Prints Are Made as State Tries to Prove Hauptmann Made Lindbergh Baby Was Carried to Death; Defense Counsel Charges Method of Taking Prints Ruined Them

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 23.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's carpenter plane was used to fashion the Lindbergh kidnap ladder, and a piece of the ladder came from Hauptmann's attic, an expert testified today in his trial for the kidnaping and murder of Charles Lindbergh, Jr.

Arthur J. Koehler, a government forester and expert on identification of woods, said an upright from the ladder, down which the state charged the baby was carried to his death, matched perfectly with a floor board from Hauptmann's attic and that it had been planned with a tool found in Hauptmann's garage.

The expert said an upright piece in the ladder section taken from the attic of the Hauptmann home was at one time one piece.

He took the two pieces of wood on a display in the trial, held them together to make one continuous section, and declared:

"As a result of careful study I have come to the conclusion that these two pieces of wood at one time were one piece and they were cut in half."

Koehler's opinion was the welding link in the state's announced intention to wrap the ladder around Hauptmann's neck.

The ladder represents the fourth cardinal point of the state's case, the others being the testimony that Hauptmann's handwriting was that in the fourteen ransom notes, testimony that he was seen lurking near the Lindbergh home prior to the kidnaping and testimony that he collected the futile $50,000 ransom.

Koehler followed a string of witnesses who gave connecting testimony about the wood in the ladder, about wood that Hauptmann was alleged to have purchased and wood in the attic of Hauptmann's home which he rented in the Bronx.

KIDNAPER OF MRS. STOLL SEEN IN S. C.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23.—(AP)—A. R. Ward, assistant chief of highway law-enforcement, today said he believed a manish looking woman seen in an automobile near Winnesboro with a machine gun was Charles Robinson, Jr., 26-year-old Tennessee wanted for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll.

Marion Stevenson, 23, of Fairfield County, reported at the sheriff's office at Winnesboro, that she saw two machine guns in an automobile he pulled from a ditch for its two passengers who were clad in women's garb. Young Stevenson, son of Ed. Stevenson, Fairfield County highway supervisor, said he believed one of the women was a man.

"There are no possibilities," Ward said at highway patrol headquarters here. "The car may have contained persons waiting to pick up bank robbers after a robbery or that the manish woman was Robinson, Jr. (Continued on Page Four)"

WIFE SLAYER SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

Eddie Howell, Colored, of Bethel, Given 25 to 30 Years in Pen

Eddie Howell, Bethel negro, sped toward Raleigh today to begin a penitentiary sentence of from 25 to 30 years for the slaying of his wife Jamie Howell, on the streets of Bethel, the latter part of last November.

Howell, about 30 years of age, was sentenced to prison yesterday afternoon by Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount after a jury returned a verdict of guilty of second degree murder. He was charged with first degree murder but the jury held the court they found him guilty in the second degree.

The case was begun yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, went to the jury about 4:30 and the verdict was returned about 5 o'clock. There were no eye witnesses to the shooting which took place in the colored settlement of Bethel near where Howell and his late wife lived.

Witnesses reported hearing the report of a firearm on the street, and a short time later Howell walked by. The woman was found lying on the street, suffering from a dangerous wound and died shortly afterward.

Howell, an employe of a filling station, was found on the job by police shortly after the shooting and was taken into custody and confined in jail to await action of Superior court.

NEW THEATRE DRAWS CROWDS

Hundreds Attend Opening of Pitt Theatre at Five Points This Week

The opening of the new Pitt Theatre near Five Points was largely attended Monday and yesterday and large crowds continued to swarm to the playhouse today to witness the splendid picture program.

It was announced today by Manager T. V. Walker that Charles Five was the purchaser of the first ticket as the new theater was thrown open to the public Monday afternoon.

The show is operated by the Carolina Theaters, Inc., operators of the State Theater, and the building of Colonial architecture, was erected by Clifton Edwards at a cost of above $50,000.

The new show-house is considered one of the finest in this part of the State. The equipment is modern in every respect, affording every comfort for the hundreds of people attending the picture programs from day to today. It has a seating capacity of nine hundred, and is capable of taking care of the growing demands of the community in the several shows conducted afternoon and night.

Only the latest pictures are offered at the two theatres from day to day. Mr. Walker said, and people from many miles were numbered among the hundreds on hand when the new playhouse was thrown open to an appreciative public.

LADDER ADMITTED AS EVIDENCE

After several unsuccessful attempts to get the ladder which it is alleged was used in the Lindbergh kidnaping admitted as evidence in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann at Flemington, N. J., the prosecution achieved a distinct victory when Justice Trenchard ruled in favor of making it an exhibit. The defense had vigorously fought against admitting the ladder, which is shown above in court, as evidence in the trial. (Associated Press Photo)

LEGISLATIVE RAMBLINGS

By C. A. PAUL

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 23.—Indignant widows would have their ruffled feathers smoothed, according to Senate Reading Clerk Larry Eagles, by a bill introduced by Senator S. B. Frink. The Senator's bill provides relief for indigent widows and orphans of World War soldiers, but Eagles read it aloud to the austere Senate for several minutes senatorial dignity and caused Senator Frink some minutes of anxiety. The Senator was afraid that his stenographer had made an error and had really written it "indignant."

However, it's the bachelors and the bachelor-gals who have cause for anxiety, for the bill provides that they shall contribute $5 each annually to supply the relief. One woman's relief is another woman's pain in the pocketbook. And if the size of pocketbooks noted by some of our bachelor-gals is any indication of the volume of pain it will be rather acute.

North Carolina sheriffs will probably know "Trees" by heart and will doubtless learn to croon ala Bing Crosby if Senators E. W. Summerhill, of Onslow County, and E. V. Webb of Kinston, see enacted into law their bill to put a radio in every sheriff's office. Their idea is, of course, for the radios to be used in the apprehension of criminals. They would be short-wave sets and (Continued on Page Five)

COURT BUSY WITH LARCENY ACTIONS HERE

Three Defendants Sentenced to The Roads in Criminal Term Yesterday

Percy Smith, colored, was convicted of purse-snatching in the second days' session of criminal court here yesterday and sentenced to two years on the roads, by Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, who is presiding over the one-week term.

The negro allegedly snatched a purse containing $40 from Miss Ross, employe of the local telephone company, during the latter part of last year, and was later captured and confessed.

Two other colored men found their way to the roads on charges of larceny in yesterday's session, they having been rounded up here the latter part of last year in a concerted police drive to reduce this type of crime.

Stanley Haddock, charged with breaking and entering Wilson's Jewelry Store, on Dickinson Avenue the latter part of last year, was sentenced to twenty months on the roads. He allegedly obtained a number of watches, chains and other kinds of jewelry which was on display in the store window.

Three persons, two men and a woman held in connection with the stealing of a considerable amount of cigarettes from a Norfolk Southern freight car several weeks ago were given hearing. Frank Redmond, charged with doing the actual stealing, was sentenced to two years on the roads. Laura Carr, charged with receiving stolen goods, was fined $75 and ordered to pay one-half cost, and Sylvester Wilson, held on a similar charge, was fined $35 and ordered to pay one-half the cost.

Court continued delving into the docket a hundred or more cases with indications that considerable progress would be made by the end of the week.

It was indicated the grand jury would finish consideration of actions coming before its members sometime today and would then begin the regular visit to county offices. A report is expected to be represented to Judge Barnhill probably Friday morning, if not late Thursday.

SEEK LARGER SCHOOL FUND

Bethel P. T. A. Endorses $22,000,000 Program For State School System

The Bethel Parent-Teacher Association met in the auditorium of the Bethel High School last night with a large crowd present.

Following the usual business routine, there was a program of music and recitation, and then Superintendent Junius H. Rose of the Greenville City Schools, was introduced. Mr. Rose spoke on the present situation in the schools of the State, and the proposed program of the State Superintendent of Schools for North Carolina Schools during the coming biennium.

At the close of the address of Mr. Rose, the Association moved and passed unanimously a motion to wire the three Pitt County Representatives urging them to stand behind the $22,000,000 program of the State Superintendent coupled with the idea that local communities ought to be allowed and encouraged to supplement the State program where the community has the financial resources to do so.

The meeting was concluded with a talk by D. H. Conley, County Superintendent of Schools, who told the parents of the difficulties the county is having in operating the school buses on the small amount of money allowed for their operation.

TRUCK DRIVER IS BOUND AND LEFT IN AUTO

Two Men Armed With Revolvers Leap Aboard Truck Bound From Railroad Station to Post-office and Force Driver to Halt; Valuable Registered Mail of Bank Notes And Silver Seized; Robbers Escape in Mail Truck

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 23.—(AP)—Four bandits held up a United States mail truck today, bound its driver and escaped with registered mail which police said contained approximately $129,000 in bank notes and silver. The shipment was being taken to a Fall River bank from a train which previously had arrived from Boston.

Two men armed with revolvers leaped aboard the mail truck en route from the railroad station to the postoffice. The driver, Herbert Reil, of Fall River, was ordered to drive up a side street and park alongside a car occupied by two men armed with sub-machine guns.

The bandits conveyed the truck across the Trenton River bridge into Swansea and on to the province Fall River road.

Taping Reid hand and foot and tossing him into the bandit car, the men fled in the mail truck, sorting the mail as they went. The truck was abandoned a few miles away with all registered mail missing.

LOCAL MEN AT STATE CONFAB

Mayor and City Clerk Attend Conference Of Municipal Officers' Association

Mayor R. C. Flanagan and J. O. Duval, Greenville city clerk, are in Raleigh today attending a two-day conference of the State Municipal Officers' Association for discussion of proposed legislation for turning State funds back to the various municipalities of the State.

The conference opened yesterday morning and will be concluded today. Representatives of the association from all sections of the State attended, and a constructive program of legislation is expected to be the outcome of the meeting.

The two local men left for Raleigh yesterday morning, accompanied by J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools. Mr. Rose spent the day in Raleigh, returning by the way of Bethel last night where he delivered an address before the Bethel Parent-Teachers' Association.

George Clark, chief of police of Greenville, left this morning for Raleigh to attend today's conference of the association, returning tonight with the mayor and city clerk.

One of the main issues before the association is an effort to obtain legislation authorizing the State to return the tax on gas consumed by the various municipalities. This item alone, it was said, represents a tremendous sum, and would result in a great saving for the town and city governments in the course of a year.

Foes Of Secretary Ickes Claim Victory At Capital

Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—The foe Secretary Harold Ickes has made on Capital Hill claimed victory today after hearing reports he would not be the arbiter of the $4,000,000,000 fund for return of the destitute from the dole to public works.

It was a major development in a "revolt" in which dissenting House Democrats swung a compromise from the party leadership plan to rush a $4,380,000,000 relief and public works measure through Congress under strict "gag" rule.

To Open Fight On Sales Tax, Hearing Thursday

Reflector Bureau
Sir Walter Hotel

Raleigh, Jan. 23.—The anti-sales tax forces will appear before the joint finance committee tomorrow at 3 o'clock to present their objections to Section E of the revenue bill, which is the sales tax section. It is expected that the hearing will last the entire afternoon, with a possibility of running over into a night committee session.

All those in any part of the state who are opposed to the sales tax are invited to attend this hearing before the joint Finance committees and to the preliminary meeting of anti-sales taxes which will be held in the ball room of the Sir Walter Hotel here at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to John Paul Leonard, secretary of the North Carolina Fair Tax Association. Willard Dowell, secretary of the North Carolina Merchants Association and members of that association will also join in both the preliminary meeting and the hearing before the committee.

It has not yet been decided who the anti-sales taxes before the committee, Leonard said, since it is not known definitely as yet who will be here.

"We will map out our plan of procedure and decide who will speak for us before the committee at the preliminary meeting here Thursday afternoon," Leonard said. "We are expecting large delegations from every section of the state and we are confident we will have more than enough to present our opposition to the sales tax."

MANY CONVENTIONS SEEN FOR CHICAGO THIS YEAR

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Chicago merchants who found the 1933 and 1934 World's Fairs a boon to their businesses face the welcome prospect of seeing plenty of visitors during the summer of 1935.

Advance bookings indicate even more national and international conventions than the number held here during the past two years will meet in Chicago during 1935, said John Burke, president of the Chicago Hotel Men's Association.

News Behind The News.

Washington
By GEORGE DURNO
LAGGARD: The Wagner Lewis bill providing old-age pensions and unemployment insurance is framed to cut deep into the roots of what once was defended on all sides as "state's rights." The federal government will have control of the funds and oversee state administration. Passage of the bill will virtually force all states to adopt accompanying legislation of their own.

Yet there is little or no outcry against it. Many Congressmen think it does not go far enough and are demanding more generous treatment of the aged and jobless.

Economic views of members of both major political parties have changed vastly since the crash of '29. Social security is now regarded as an essential part of the recovery program. It is pointed out we actually are backward in not adopting it before, as have most other major nations.

RETICENT: Politicians who would have shouted "violation of state's rights" at the Wagner-Lewis bill in days gone by would have been motivated by the same reason which lined them up consistently against a sales tax.

There are quite a few states in which a large section of the population never has paid direct taxes. A sales tax would have hit these (Continued on page two)

Reports from Raleigh are to the effect that there is little hope for the anti-sales tax forces to be successful in their efforts to eliminate this form of taxation in this state, but there is possibility that the tax will be more inclusive and at a lower rate.

Somebody has evidently gotten under Cale Burgess' shirt to cause him to declare that he would have no statements or news releases for the afternoon newspapers of the state "because of what he termed the unfair and unfriendly attitude of the afternoon newspapers of the state toward the United Dry Forces and state prohibition."

Chapter 11 IN DURAYA

THE friar walked or ran most of the way south; and he seemed to spend more energy pulling the mule after him than in getting his own bulk over the ground.

"Why does he do it?" asked Montana. "Once a mule that was carrying him through the mountains slipped on a frozen rock and broke its leg," answered Rubriz.

"A child that moves mountains, eh?" said Montana. "But why did he come north with you?"

"He had heard the thousand stories about you, brother. He was hungry to see your face. That will make him a great man with the shepherds and the villagers."

But though he smiled, the first doubt had entered his soul, coldly. He saw that he would have to be on his guard from now on.

"You tell me, Brother Pascual," said Montana. "Shall I pass as a true Mexican cowboy?"

"Why not, dear friend?" asked the friar. "Your hair is black. And now that you have rubbed a little of that stain into your skin, you are as dark as most. Your hair is already black, and as for the blue eyes, those are found in Mexico often enough."

"Besides, the red mare is the sort of horse that a famous charro would ride. And you have a suit of yellow leather with silver spangles all over it. The good Mexican speech comes so easily off your tongue that even I, who know, at times, forget the truth about you."

"Tell me, also," said Montana, laughing, "if you think that you could ever really open your heart to a gringo."

"I can at least try, my friend. All men are the children of one God. So I can at least try!"

IN DURAYA they separated. The friar went to the church. But the bishop was not there. So he went to the bishop's palace and climbed the stairs which were open and unguarded day and night in order that the poorest of the poor might come to the Bishop Emiliano in the little, bare, upper room which was all that he reserved for himself out of the splendors he might have enjoyed.

The bishop was only vaguely aware that another presence was there, and it was some time before he looked over and found that Brother Pascual had returned to him. He started up at once and went to the kneeling giant.

"I have helped bring into Mexico a terrible man," said the friar. "I've brought El Keed all the way from the north to Duraya."

Commerce and the nation was agast at the idea of 3,000,000 unemployed, the former President was a member of a commission which studied the problem deeply and made recommendations roughly along the lines of the Wagner idea.

fore it is, or isn't, included in the final draft of the revenue bill, came clearly to the surface when he started raising objections to some sections of the franchise tax. Everyone has known all along of course, that the anti-sales taxers would find fault with other sections of the bill. They have to in order to keep up the fight against the sales tax. It is also apparent, at least to your columnist, that the administration is putting squarely up to the anti-sales taxers the problem of finding new sources of revenue to replace the Famous E. The buck is passed, and the anti-sales taxers are taking it. Just where they'll take it, is yet to be seen. There is, however, a definite movement afoot to spread out the sales tax to include everything. At least, one member of the joint finance committee is supposed to have in his pocket at this moment the outline of such a plan. He is an anti of course. If the going gets very rough and the anti sees that passage of the sales tax is inevitable, they will trot out their all-inclusive section and righteously demand that everything be taxed under that section. Their plan is an adaptation of the Mississippi Plan which does exactly that.

I'm expecting a powerful influence to be exerted by the motor express lines as a result of the proposal by Representative Con Johnson, of Ireland, in the finance committee's joint meeting to appoint a special subcommittee to look into motor express receipts and taxes. His proposal was adopted without opposition. I think it highly probable that an effort will be made by the anti-sales taxers to have taxes collected from motor express lines placed in the general fund instead of, as at present, in the highway fund. This would, of course, follow the present arrangement about railroads and railway express taxes. The latter two are taxed under the franchise tax law, while motor express companies are taxed under the motor vehicle provision. Diversion of motor express taxes to Jan. 8-11w-6w.

Realizing the great danger, and seeing and hearing of the increase in accidents, recently, which cause the loss of life and property. We, therefore, the Ladies Aid Society of the Free Will Baptist Church of Black Jack, Pitt County, North Carolina, do hereby petition Senator Corey and Representatives Paylor and Blount to use their influence and best efforts to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors, and the raising of the alcoholic contents of beer as proposed by some members of the present General Assembly.

The above resolution was passed by the above mentioned Society in regular monthly session January 19th, 1935.

The Resolution was brought before the congregation Sunday morning, January 20, with the result that a large number of hands were raised sponsoring the movement of the aforesaid Ladies Aid Society. (Signed):

Mrs. W. B. Harper, President, Mrs. N. A. Clark, Secretary, Mrs. J. M. Vainright, Treas., Rev. J. C. Griffin, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fleming of Jamesville, North Carolina announce the marriage of their daughter Mary Camille to

Mr. Amazon Earl Turner on Saturday, January nineteenth nineteen hundred and thirty-five Rocky Mount, North Carolina

At home after February first Hillcrest Palmyra, North Carolina

Rocky Mount, Jan. 21—The marriage of Miss Camille Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fleming of Jamesville, to Amazon Earl Turner, of Palmyra, was solemnized Saturday at high noon in the Church of the Good Shepherd. Rev. Francis N. Craighill read the ritual.

The church was decorated with ferns, palms and Cathedral tapers which burned in standards on either side of the chancel and Cathedral tapers also lighted the altar.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. E. H. Austin, organist, and Mrs. Lucille Sparks and Mrs. W. L. Thorn, soloists. Mrs. Austin played "Cantilene Nuptiale," Du-bois; "Estrellita;" Schubert's "Serenade;" "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" from Sampson and Delilah; "Love's Greeting" by Elga; "Love Song" and "Venetian Love Song" and "Souvenir." For the professional she used "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, Wagner; "O, Perfect Love" was played during the ceremony just before the vows were spoken Mrs. Thorn and Mrs. Sparks sang the "Choral Benediction" by Ingham.

The bride was escorted by her twin brother, Samuel Wallace Fleming, by whom she was given in marriage. She made a charming picture in her marriage suit of orchid wool, collared with dyed fox to match; and her hat and accessories were of church purple in rich contrast to the lighter tones. She carried a lovely Colonial bouquet of pink Briercliff roses, tied with orchid satin ribbons.

Mr. Turner is the son of Mrs. Selma Turner, of Palmyra, and is well known here, being the nephew of Mrs. E. R. Osborne of Church Street. He was educated at Oak Ridge Military Institute at Oak Ridge. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fleming of Jamesville. She attended Salem College, Winston-Salem, and St. Mary's School, Raleigh.

Miss Mack Speaks To A.A.U.W.

Developments are coming so fast in the field of science that even a worker in the field finds it impossible to keep up with them all, said Miss Jessie Mack in introducing a most interesting and informative paper before the A. A. U. W. at its meeting Monday night.

Miss Mack, instructor in science in the college, who was discussing by request of the group "New Developments in the Field of Science" limited herself to advances gained in 1934.

The first part of the talk, devoted to new steps in the biological sciences, showed what man has just learned in his fight to control pernicious anemia—formerly always a death warrant—by injections of a liver extract; to direct the battle against infantile paralysis along two major lines, the finding of a vaccine to prevent and medicine to cure the disease; and, in case of cancer, to concentrate on a study of possible stimulation of hormone production by certain glands that seem to develop in their secretion a natural enemy to cancer.

In the same section of the field, according to Miss Mack, there has come a new conception of importance of the two vital factors in the body, hormones and vitamins.

Of especial interest are the recent findings concerning the effect of the pituitary gland on intelligence. Out of six idiots (all with disturbances in this gland) who were fed the hormone in one experiment, five became normal in intelligence and the sixth above normal. This treatment is useful only in cases where trouble in this gland is causing the mental abnormality.

Failure of the adrenal gland to control its output is also of new importance, as it has just been discovered that an overproduction of its hormones tends to cause male characteristics to appear in women, and in the opinion of one scientist, at least—suggests the drift toward a neuter race unless controlled by science through removal of one of these glands.

There is new learning also on vitamins.

It has been found that Vitamin C, which prevents mouth disorders, can be synthesized in the laboratory and used to prevent pyorrhea.

It is thought, too, that a new vitamin has been found and that it will be definitely isolated and named this year. Indeed, Dr. Cecil Collins of Johns Hopkins, predicts the finding of three new ones in 1935.

The physical sciences also have made great strides forward during the last year. Miss Mack reminded the group, pointing out especially the development of speed—in the air, through the new transport average of 75 miles per hour and the Autogyro's 200 miles per hour, and on the ground through light trains and the use of streamlining in trains and automobiles.

The astronomer has located new heavenly bodies, have learned that aluminum is the ideal silencing material for the mirrors in their instruments because it comes nearest catching the violet shades, and have found it impossible to get above the hampering ozone layer surrounding the earth, by building towers on mountain peaks for their study.

The physicist has found new particles in the atom, has released energy from matter (though as yet he is unable to harness it) and changed energy to matter, in a very small way.

The old dream of changing one element into another has been made real by Madame Curie's daughter. In her laboratory she has just shown that some time in the future, man can change the elements at will, supplying those he lacks. She has changed one element into another by producing artificial radio-activity.

Even the famous "Relativity" of Einstein has been shaken during this past year by a new mathematician presented to the world by a scholar in India, an Oxford graduate, which declares Einstein is wrong in making the speed of light absolute.

From this glance over the field, said Miss Mack, in closing, one can only predict that there will be in 1935, as in the year just ended, new parts fitted in the picture of science which we are gropingly working out, and adjustments made of parts of the picture already there.

The speaker and members of the A. A. U. W. were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Jack Edwards, in her apartment on Fourth street.

ANTI-SALES TAXERS WIN FIRST TILT

House Members Win Point in Opening Salvo on Tax Issue In Legislature

By C. A. PAUL
Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 23—Dr. Ralph McDonald, ex-college professor and House member from Forsyth County, got at least to first base in his opening salvo on the sales tax and, at the same time, revived the late Attorney-General Dennis Brummitt's plan to levy a per-share tax on stock in foreign corporations.

Dr. McDonald went to bat when that section of the income tax bill known as the foreign corporation section took its turn before the joint finance committee. "We should adopt as a matter of principle," he declared, "that foreign stock is subject to taxation by virtue of its ownership. The existing law which entitles owners of such stock to deduct from their incomes tax returns an amount equaling the percentage of the corporation's income on which it has paid an income tax to the State is in itself a declaration that it is not an income tax." He followed with remarks on the theories of income tax, at which many older members of the committee openly smiled.

The picture changed when someone asked how much more revenue could be obtained by a share tax on stock in foreign corporations. McDonald replied that in 1931 the State would have collected $3,000,000 more had such a tax been levied. It was observed that the committee perked up at the mention of such a formidable figure. When asked to explain, Dr. McDonald said that a per share tax of twenty cents would yield "about" that amount.

This means of course that should the Legislature heed the advice of Dr. McDonald, an assessment of about twenty cents would be levied against each share of stock held by North Carolinians in foreign corporations. It would not, therefore, be an income tax or a percentage tax, but a flat tax on possession of the stock itself regardless of the amount of dividends.

At Dr. McDonald's elbow sat Representative Willie Lee Lumpkin of Franklin, who added his endorsement of the proposal. Three other members suggested that the McDonald plan be given consideration. He McDonald has said that he would offer an amendment this afternoon. Chairman Gregg Cherry told him that he would be given another opportunity today for further presentation of his argument and amendment. Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell was also asked to bring to tomorrow's meeting figures showing how much additional revenue would have been received during 1933 if Dr. McDonald's proposed measure had been in effect.

It is probable, of course, pointed out some observers, that the $3,000,000 figure quoted by Dr. McDonald might be considerably revised by Commissioner Maxwell's report. They added that the increased revenue might be considerably less. The tax of foreign stock shares is not new. It has been brought before finance committees for several years. One of its strongest advocates was the late Attorney-General Brummitt.

The action by the finance committee in leaving open that section of the revenue bill pertaining to foreign corporations at Dr. McDonald's insistence was unanimously considered by observers here that Representatives Willie Lee Lumpkin and McDonald would lead the fight to abolish the sales tax. It was quite plain today that they were working Representative Lumpkin had previously, after some debate, seen adopted as an amendment to the revenue bill franchise tax section his proposal to raise from $1.50 to $1.75 per thousand dollars of net worth the franchise tax on domestic corporations. In that he was aided by Mr. McDonald and Senator A. E. White, of Robeson County.

This afternoon will come the fight when Dr. Donald offers his amendment taxing foreign stocks. Few observers would predict the final outcome.

Willy Nilly's Idea

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
YOUR wig is missing, but you do not know really what happened to it. Maybe you forgot it when you went to bed if, during the warmer weather you are not in the habit of wearing it to bed," said Willy Nilly.

"But last night wasn't a warm night," said the man.

"True," agreed Willy Nilly. "But you may find you have mislaid it somewhere."

Sometimes it takes time for those things we have mislaid to show up. "So, in the meantime, let's try out my idea."

"What is it?" asked the little old man gruffly. He wondered if by any chance he had put the wig somewhere the evening before.

"I need a hair cut," said Willy Nilly.

"Don't be insulting," said the little old man as he felt his smooth round head which had (Willy Nilly counted) exactly two hairs on the top.

"I'm sure I don't mean to be insulting," said Willy Nilly. "It's just chance anyway. Some of us have lots of hair, others not so much."

"So if you'll forgive me, and realize I'm only trying to be helpful, I'd like to tell you now of my idea."

"I'll cut off a lot of my hair which will improve my appearance and I'll give you the hair that I cut off. At least it will keep your head warm when you are indoors."

"But how can I keep it on? It will fall right off."

"I've thought of that, too," said Willy Nilly. "And I've got a scheme that will keep it on. Of course it won't be the same as your wig, but it may take its place until the wig shows up."

New Dry Cleaning Plant To Open Here In The Near Future

Announcement of the opening of a new dry cleaning plant here in the near future was made today by J. C. Youngblood.

Mr. Youngblood, who will own and operate the business himself, said the plant would be located two doors west of the Home Furniture Store on Dickinson Avenue. He said the building had been renovated on the inside and would present quite an attractive appearance when completed.

Although Mr. Youngblood has been engaged in private business interests since coming to Greenville in 1922, he is not new in the dry cleaning business. He owned and operated such an establishment in Montgomery, Alabama, for five years prior to coming to Greenville. The plant was described as one of the most modern in the city.

Mr. Youngblood said the plant here would be equipped with the most modern machinery, and that a scientific deodorizing method would be used in the handling of all garments.

The firm will be known as the Sunshine Cleaners, and the public has been asked to watch for the opening date.

CORPORATIONS MAY GET TAX RELIEF IN N. C.

Domestic Organizations Scheduled to Get Some Attention In Revenue Bill

Reflector Bureau
Sir Walter Hotel
Raleigh, Jan. 23—North Carolina's domestic corporations which have found it necessary to borrow large sums are scheduled to get some relief if a new section of the revenue bill is approved. The section, an addition to the franchise tax schedule, deals with subsidiary corporations. Those corporations, most frequently a branch of an out-of-state corporation or closely affiliated through stock ownership, have been difficult to reach, said Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell, without imposing an inequitable tax on purely local corporations.

The 1933 legislation enacted in the revenue bill a provision which treated, for tax-assessment purposes, as capital and sum borrowed in excess of capital stock and accrued surpluses. That measure was effective, said the Commissioner, in collecting taxes from foreign corporations because they often operated their North Carolina corporation almost entirely with money "borrowed" from the parent or foreign corporation. "But," said the Commissioner, "it has been shown quite definitely that, at the same time, it proved a burdensome and sometimes almost confiscatory tax on home-owned corporations that, because of the depression, were forced to borrow in excess of their capitalization in order that they might remain in business." It was pointed out in this connection that the money borrowed by home corporations was legitimately borrowed, while the borrowed by subsidiaries from their parents was not actually a loan, but actually working capital "loaned" in order to avoid tax on capital stock.

The new section, placed tentatively in the new revenue bill, deals expressly, in so many words, with subsidiary corporations, grants to the Revenue Commissioner discretionary powers in determining their net worth, upon which the franchise tax is based. If, in his opinion, says the new provision, a subsidiary corporation has insufficient capital for the conduct of its business he is authorized to include money borrowed from, or owed to, its parent in computing its net worth in determining its liability for franchise taxes. This is, of course, an elastic clause and would permit the Commissioner to more nearly equalize the corporation tax load.

HEARING SOON ON DAY LIQUOR CONTROL BILL

Drys Seek to Delay Action as Legislature Turns Attention to Whiskey Fight

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 23.—A hearing on the dry liquor control bill will be held in the near future before the House Committee on Propositions and Grievances in spite of efforts being made by Cale K. Burgess, vice-president of the United Dry Forces, to get the hearing postponed.

Chairman Laurie McEachern of Hoke County said today. McEachern admitted he had received a letter from Burgess asking for an indefinite postponement of the committee hearing on the day bill.

It is believed the reason Burgess and the United Dry Forces thoroughly aroused over the State seek to bring a large delegation of high-powered dry speakers here to the hearing.

"This bill is now before the Committee on Propositions and Grievances, awaiting action by the committee," McEachern said. "The bill cannot come awaiting action by the committee, so the longer the committee delays action, the longer it will be before the House and the entire General Assembly can take action on it."

More and more serious consideration is being given to the day bill, introduced last week by Representative N. E. Day, of Onslow County, especially as members of the General Assembly are beginning to realize that they must find some new revenue and that this is going to be increasingly difficult.

Justice Thomas Trenchard took advantage of the time to slip into chambers and get a coat to put under his robe. The room was chilly. Colonel Charles Lindbergh, father of the slain baby, watched Kelly's motions with interest.

N. Y. Stock Market New York, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Selective buying of industrial shares lent a firm tone to a quiet stock market today after a dip in the rails had threatened to unsettle the list.

Electric equipment led in the midday strengthening.

In U. S. Government Bond issues were higher. Commodity markets moved narrowly in the earlier hours of trading with grains advancing a little. Mild reactionary tendencies developed in stocks late today.

Transfers approximated 600,000 shares.

POLICE COURT IS POSTPONED

Regular Wednesday Morning Session Deferred Until Saturday Morning

The regular Wednesday morning session of police court was abandoned this morning on account of the absence of Mayor R. C. Flanagan, who went to Raleigh yesterday on business.

It was also stated at the police department this morning that Chief of Police George Clark was in Raleigh and probably would return during the late afternoon.

There were several cases scheduled for hearing this morning, but they were postponed until the regular sitting of the court next Saturday morning.

The assault charge against Louise Glover, negro, was also scheduled to receive attention of the court this morning. The woman has been in jail since the first of week charged with shooting Blaine Saunders also colored in the eye with a pistol. A single bullet was fired into the man's eye, producing total blindness, when he allegedly attempted to whip the woman at her home in the western part of the city last Sunday morning. They were described by police as sweethearts who had reached a "parting of the ways."

Latest calculations of scientists show that a rocket ship, to reach the moon and return safely to the earth, would require a load of 20,000 tons of fuel and would weigh not less than 40,000 tons.
