TADLOCK WINS OVER BOYD IN CITY ELECTION

Vernon Parrish, Alderman From Second Ward, Defeats C. B. Rowlett

All except one member of the Board of Aldermen were returned to office in the municipal election held in this city yesterday. It was revealed today by complete but unofficial tabulation of the balloting.

J. H. Boyd, alderman from the Fourth Ward was defeated by A. C. Tadlock by a majority of 85 votes. Boyd, who had served on the board since 1927, received 65 votes and Tadlock 150.

In the Second Ward, Vernon Parrish, who was named to the board about three months ago to fill an unexpired term, was returned to his seat over C. B. Rowlett by a majority of 93 votes. Parrish's vote was 212 and Rowlett's 119.

With contest in only two wards, the voting was the lightest in previous years with exception of two or three occasions when there was no competition.

Mayor R. C. Flanagan, who was without opposition, received a total of 607 votes.

Four other members of the board who were without opposition received a comparatively light vote.

Voting was very light during the early morning hours, but yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock business started to pick up and between that hour and 5 o'clock the largest vote of any single period of the day was recorded.

Balloting was conducted at the court house, and candidates were lined along the streets with a few of their constituents throughout the day. Many wise cracks passed between constituents and candidates with contest on their hands and this tended to add some spice to the balloting.

The total vote cast for aldermen was less than 800. Up to 3 o'clock hardly over three hundred persons had registered their approval for the candidates.

In view of the fact that Mayor Flanagan did not have any competition, he registered a large vote of approval, his total being less than two hundred of the total ballot for the board candidates.

The vote follows: Mayor R. C. Flanagan, 607; L. B. Fleming, First Ward, 15; C. B. Rowlett, Second Ward, 119; Vernon Parrish, Second Ward, 212; H. H. Duncan, Third Ward, 27; Dr. M. B. Massey, Third Ward, 108; A. C. Tadlock, Fourth Ward, 150; J. H. Boyd, Jr., Fourth Ward, 65; A. E. Holgood, Fifth Ward, 32.

Two other members of the board, Mrs. J. L. Hassell, and Joseph M. Taft, did not come up for election this time.

HALTS DEATH OF KIDNAPER

Governor Orders Stay Of Execution of Walter McGee at Jefferson City, Mo.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 7.—(AP)—Governor Guy B. Parr today halted Walter McGee, kidnaper of Miss Mary McElroy, scheduled to be hanged in Kansas City, Friday, a stay of execution to May 31.

The governor's action was taken a few minutes after McGee's fight to escape the gallows apparently reached the end of the trial in Missouri Supreme court, when the Supreme court ruled against him in two proceedings.

"I am granting McGee a stay of execution until May 31 in order to study the case and go over the records," the chief executive said.

The court denied a motion for the transfer of McGee's case to the superior court en banc and refused a request for the appointment of a special commissioner to take dispositions.

McGee, who abduct- d Miss McElroy in 1933 was the first kidnaper to receive the death penalty in the United States.

ROAD DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

Two More Persons Killed in April Than In March in This Patrol Division

Seven persons were killed and sixty injured in a series of accidents in this highway patrol division during April, it was revealed today in the monthly report of Lester Jones, patrol lieutenant.

Five persons were killed and forty injured during March, giving April an increase of two killed and 20 injured over the previous month.

The report of the divisional patrol head also indicated that 247 persons were arrested during the month on charges of driving drunk.

The driving drunk total is also an increase over the previous month in spite of the fact that members of the patrol are doing everything in their power to smash this form of violation.

Of the 247 persons arrested 240 were found guilty and received sentences totaling 133 months. Only seven were adjudged not guilty.

The patrolmen also investigated 181 complaints, issued 971 warnings, extended 527 courtesies and ordered the correction of 1,992 lights.

It also inspected 1,101 vehicles, recovered two cars, stored 28 and rendered first aid in five separate cases.

Total revenue collected by the patrol was given as $20,058.02.

CROSSWORDS NOT LOTTERY

BY BRITISH COURT RULING

London.—(AP)—A crossword puzzle is not a lottery, it has been ruled in dismissing a charge brought against a newspaper which offered $10,000 in prizes for solutions of a set of brain-teasers.

The prosecutors based his case on the fact that there were many words which offered all-embracing, making it a matter of extreme luck if anyone guessed them all right.

The possible solution of the many alternative words involved a sum of geometrical proportions running into six figures.

LEGISLATIVE RAMBLINGS

By C. A. PAUL

Two bills were killed by Senate via the tabling route as it started what it hopes is the last week of the legislative session. The bills tabled were the Ward bank debtor measure and the Tonnessen bill which would have required all automobiles sold in the State to be equipped throughout with safety glass.

The Ward bill, offered by Representative Ward of Craven, had previously passed the Lower House. It would have enabled those owing delinquent banks to purchase credits in the same bank and apply such credits at their face value toward wiping out their indebtedness. It enacted into law the measure would have thus enabled those from whom closed banks usually realize enough cash to pay depositors some portion of their frozen accounts to buy at great discounts assets which are in many cases almost worthless and settled their debts. The result would be a relief to the State and several foreign countries.

The Daughters are asking the merchants and all places of business to display their Confederate flags on this day also.

Mistrial is ordered in damage suit

Jury Fails to Agree in Action of Bethel Concern Against Drainage District

Mistrial was ordered today in the suit of Whitehurst-Andrews Company, of Bethel, against Pitt County Drainage District No. 2 which held sway in the opening session of civil Superior Court here yesterday.

After deliberating since yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the jury announced this morning about ten o'clock that it could not agree and Judge Clayton Moore, of Wilmington, who is presiding over the one-week term or court, ordered a mistrial.

The Bethel concern was seeking damage of $1,500 as a result of a fire which allegedly burned over 130 acres of woodland in the drainage district. It was charged that the fire started in brush which drainage district workmen "carelessly and negligently" placed along the banks of the drainage district canal.

Two or three compromises were announced in cases which had been set for hearing during the day.

The calendar on aims around 30 cases, and it was expected the majority would be disposed of.

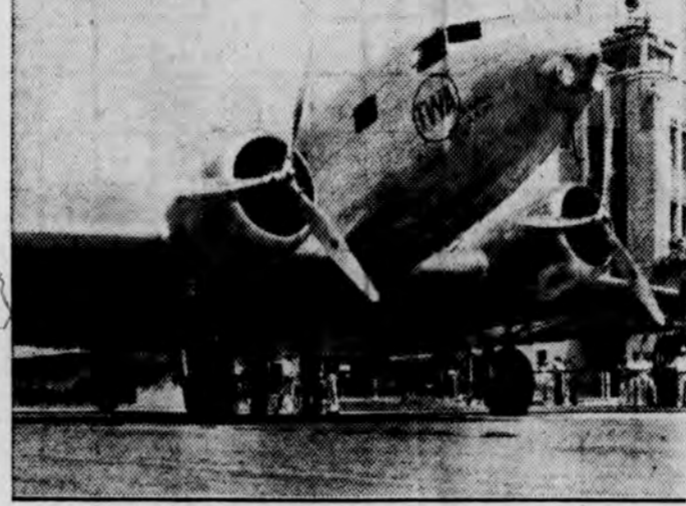

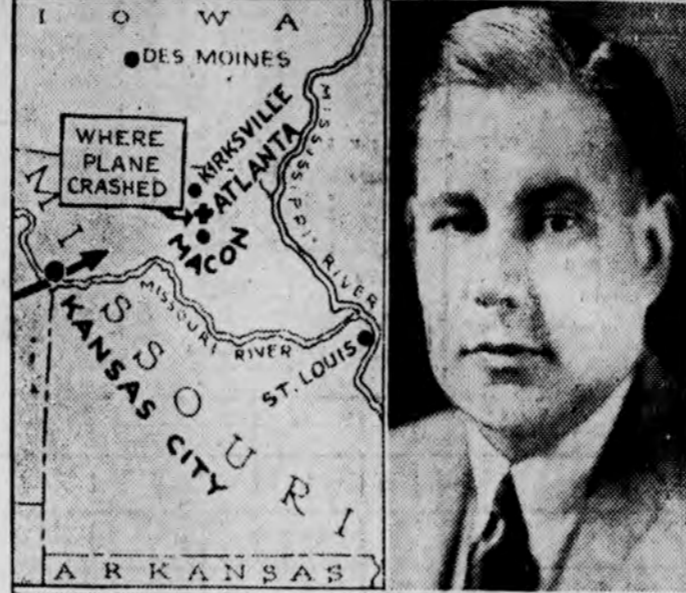

Deny Garrett Kin Right To Part of Estate

Philadelphia, May 7.—(AP)—Claims of the kin of the late Walter Garrett, millionaire snuff manufacturer, who seek to share in the $17,000,000 estate of his widow, Henrietta Garrett, were rejected today by Judge Allan Starne in Orphan's court.

Judge Starne held that the claimants who assert kinship to Mrs. Garrett will have the opportunity to submit claims unless and unexpected appeal to the Supreme court results in his decision being overruled.

Judge Starne's ruling is the first since the litigation over the $17,000,000 estate drew more than $5,000,000 claimants from the United States and several foreign countries.

WAGES FACTOR IN TROUBLE OF MILL INDUSTRY

Sectional Differentials Blamed For Crisis Facing Mill Industry Of America

Washington, D. C., May 7.—(AP)—Sectional wage differentials now favoring the South today were placed near the top of the factors blamed for these troubles of the textile industry in New England as another delegation from that area went before a special Cabinet committee studying the textile industry problem.

Appearing before the committee today were Senators Walsh and Coolidge and Representative Andrews of Massachusetts textile manufacturers.

A delegation of Mid-Westerners, headed by Representative Eicher, Republican of Iowa, also was scheduled to be given a hearing. Eicher has drafted a three-point program which includes the providing of raw materials to exporting manufacturers to enable them to compete in the world market.

Wage differentials—recently defended by Southern manufacturers when they appeared before the committee—again were injected into the hearing yesterday by a delegation led by Governor James Curley of Massachusetts, and including Representatives of the New England council of manufacturers and labor in the Southern States.

The committee was told Northern mills could not compete with the Southern plants enjoying wage advantages of $2.56 a worker.

They also appealed for removal of the cotton processing tax and protection from all imports—two questions on which Southern and Northern textile interests are in accord.

ITALY AGAIN PREPARES FOR ETHIOPIANS

New Divisions Mobilized in Answer to Action by the Ethiopian Government

Rome, May 7.—(AP)—Italy today mobilized three new divisions and recalled to the colors part of the class of 1933 in answer to the "steps of mobilization taken by the Ethiopian government."

An official communique sighted three reasons for the newest phase of this nation's preparation for possible troubles in East Africa.

"The rotatable furnishing of arms to Addis Ababa by European factions which we have definitely determined.

"The steps of mobilization taken by the Ethiopian government.

"The recent address of Emperor Haile Selassie to parliament."

The communique said the mobilization was ordered to "guarantee the security of our East African colonies."

Italy's Eritrea and Italian Somaliland border on the Ethiopian kingdom and many times in recent months frontier troubles have served to increase diplomatic tension between the two countries.

Emperor Haile Selassie has appealed the issue to the league of Nations.

Two battalions of fascist blackshirts militia will be mobilized from Telermo, Cuenofroli and Revena, the communique said, in addition to the regular army.

The regular army division called for service in East Africa was the Sadaadaba of Baglari, Sardinia.

The blackshirts division were the "March 23" and the "October 28."

CHILDREN ARE ROTE GUESTS

Dr. Herbert ReBarker Principal Speaker at Gathering Here Last Night

By WYATT BROWN

With a unanimous vote the Rotarians last night extended their time beyond the usual hour in order to enjoy more fully their guests and entertainers made up of the children of Greenville. Each Rotarian had a child between six and twelve as his guest. On the serious side there was a brief talk by Herbert ReBarker, president of the club, and a reply from the youths present represented by Charles Wooten.

Tilting his remarks, "Our Responsibility to the Youth Today," Dr. ReBarker followed with the assertion that he was going to speak plainly. He explained he was well aware of the situation by having had a hundred boys under his care this year.

"First of all, a child has the right to be born well. Second, he or she must have a clean environment." With that, Mr. ReBarker stated that he knew positively that there were many conditions in Greenville that are not wholesome, for dealing with his boys had revealed the true situation. With a great deal of vehemence the speaker said that if the law enforcement group cannot take care of the situation, it is time the people of Greenville took a hand. As an instance, the speaker said that he had

NEGRO HELD IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Bennett Taft Jailed Without Bond After Serious Wreck at Ballard X Roads

Bennett Taft, colored, of the Bell Arthur community, was held in jail without bond today in connection with the automobile accident Sunday night near Ballard's Cross Roads in which Mrs. W. R. Copeland, of Williamston, was seriously injured and several others hurt.

Taft escaped immediately after his car collided with the Copeland machine and was picked up by county officers, at his home yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Whitehurst said today the negro would be held without bond pending the condition of Mrs. Copeland, who was rendered unconscious in the crash and who was reported to be in a critical condition yesterday.

Reports from the local hospital today indicated, however, that Mrs. Copeland was "some better," although she was still in a serious condition.

The woman's husband, who was driving the car, lost several teeth and received painful cuts on the head. Two other occupants, Miss Sarah Cook and Mrs. Ruth Ward also of Williamston, suffered cuts and bruises and also received hospital attention.

Washington Taft, brother of Bennett, was painfully cut on five or six women occupant's were also injured slightly.

Taft attempted to pass another machine while bound in the direction of Farmville and crashed head-on into the Copeland machine which was headed for Greenville.

Taft is held on a charge of reckless driving and assault with a deadly weapon.

JOHN DAWSON FOR SENATE

Reports Say Kinston Man Will Seek Post Now Held By Josiah Bailey

Greensboro, May 7.—(AP)—It was learned here today from an authentic but unquotable source that John G. Dawson, Kinston attorney and long-time servant of the Democratic party, quite likely will announce in a short time his candidacy for the United States senate in opposition to Senator Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh.

Dawson, according to the informant, has recently been called upon by a number of delegations from over the state and asked to enter the race. It is reported too that Dawson already has received pledges of support of a substantial nature from 93 of the 100 counties.

The Kinston man has long been in public life. He is a former speaker of the State House of Representatives and former chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee. It is known that he has many friends in the west and central sections of the state and he had lived all his life in the east.

There are, it is estimated, 10,000 pecan trees on the lots of more than 3,000 homes in San Angelo, Texas.

DEATH TOLL IN AIRLINER CRASH GROWS

Total Increased to Five Today With Death of Mrs. William Kaplan

Macon, Mo., May 7.—(AP)—The death toll in the crash of the fog-bound PWA air-liner near Atlanta, Mo., was increased to five today with the death of Mrs. William Kaplan. Hollywood film studio executive, died early this morning, 24 hours after the big dual motored craft struck the earth while seeking a landing field.

Two others were described as in a critical condition as result of injuries suffered in the accident which brought death to Senator Bronson Cutting, of New Mexico.

The condition of Paul Wing, of Hollywood, was reported "very low." C. B. Drew, of Santa Monica, California, although reported in a critical condition, was said by physicians to be resting easy after a blood transfusion.

The dying words of the pilot, bits of wreckage and stories of survivors and rescuers formed a jigsaw puzzle from which investigators sought the cause of the crash.

Without the information which Pilot Harvey Bolton and co-pilot Kenneth Green could supply when they alive, investigators referred to Bolton's last words:

"I ran out of gasoline."

SCOUT CAMP OPENS JUNE 2

First of Three Seven Day Periods of Eastern Council to Open At Wilson

William H. Taft, campaign chairman for the Greenville District Boy Scouts, announced this afternoon that Camp Charles, the Council Camp for all Boy Scouts of the East Carolina Council, will open June 2. At that time the first of three seven-day periods will get underway.

Scoutmaster Jake Skinner announces that he has reserved the third session (June 16 to 23) for members of Troop 30. J. B. Beland of Arden, has selected June 23 to 30, and Mr. Wilkerson of Troop 33, will probably have his Scouts open the first week (June 2 to 9th). Thus Pitt County Scout's will be represented at nearly everyone of the periods, Mr. Taft states. Scouts from Stokes, Bethel, Farmville and other communities in Pitt County will also have representation at the camp.

A neat camp folder telling of the things Scouts may expect at Camp Charles will be distributed by the camping chairman next Monday afternoon. Since the capacity of the camp is limited to 300 for the five weeks (60 each period), it behooves local Scouts to lose no time in making sure of their reservation. There are 1,300 Scouts in the Council, John J. Sigward, Scout executive, reminds us.

Camp Charles assures parents "a certified vacation" for their Scout sons, and as to the program, eats and other things that go to make up a good camp, just ask anyone that has been to Camp Charles in former years.

At a meeting of local Scoutmasters last night the hope that every Scout of the county would attend at least one week, was climaxed when the slogan, "Every Scout in Camp," was adopted. The Scout leaders meeting at Hill Home Drug Store at a little supper, after which several local Scout leaders received Train in Certificate from Prof. E. L. Henson, Certificate form Prof. E. L. Henson, Camp Charles was lauded and declared the ideal site with its beautiful lake, adequate buildings, nature trails, baseball diamonds, professional staff and volunteers staff, including M. B. Hearne as camp naturalist, and other features as indeed the camp the assures "a certified vacation."

Camp Charles is not operated for profit and charges are but a dollar a day. Besides, each camper advancing one rank, swimming and life-saving are taught by both Leon Keaton, the assistant executive, and the Scout executive to all campers.

News Behind The News.

Washington By RAY TUCKER

SLOGAN: President Roosevelt now knows what conservative American business men think of his policies. For a solid week during his national convention at Washington, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States ridiculed and decried the New Deal. Their diodes confirmed earlier reports that the President was slipping with bankers, business men and industrialists.

They talked economic problems, but they thought in political terms. Mr. Roosevelt has taught them the connection between these two realms. Although they agree that business shows a slight pickup, they insist that Mr. Roosevelt himself is the only question mark on the economic horizon. Talking more confidentially in their formal speeches than in their formal speeches—which were bitterly anti-New Deal—they wish that Congress would extend the NRA in modified fashion and go home. They have no heart

ENEMY'S KISS

SYNOPSIS: Allison Rede goes to a lonely house in Swazee to meet her father. But her father is not there; instead she is frightened by a horrible, hairless man, and rescued by a second stranger, who is pleasant and gives her some of Guy Western. Guy insists that she lock the bedroom door behind her and rest, with his dog Gaffe to guard her, while he waits downstairs for her father—or for the dawn.

Chapter Eight THE INITIALS

ALISON turned the key in the lock; there were no blankets on the bed, and she did not undress but took off her blouse and skirt, her shoes and stockings and piled all four of the pillows in their grey ticking under her head.

The room, small and square was furnished in a strange, old-fashioned way, with heavy pieces of satinwood all to match, and an engraving of Queen Victoria's coronation occupying the place of honor over the mantelpiece.

Alison, used to the fresh, modern rooms at school or to her own luxurious room in London found it queer, as she settled down under the coat—as queer as the thought that she was going to bed in a strange house, with a strange dog by her side and an unknown young man for her sole company.

Queer and, in spite of her anxiety for her father, just a little thrilling. She had never had an adventure before in her life; her days had had an ordered smoothness, almost dullness, and even her traveling had been done in comfort, either with her father or someone to meet her and to see her off.

She was nice; she liked the way he spoke, the rather firm, deep voice—refreshing after a year abroad and the excitable tones of foreigners! Alison, curling sleepily down under her thick coat, thought "I do like him. Guy Western, Guy's nice. He looks like that somehow. Not like Hal or Charles—not even like Philip or John—Western. I wonder how he spells it—r. n. o. u. r. n."

She felt Gaffe's tail thump and put down a hand to pat him; the big dog wriggled ingratiatingly up against her and she kept a large red toenail in her hand. Blinking down at him, Alison noticed his collar and, in a spasm of curiosity, leaned over to read the brass tab.

"Gaffe"—then two initials and a telephone number. Only the initials were G. L.

The man who had left her went slowly downstairs and through the empty house, listening intently, looking into every corner as he went. But there was no sound. He opened the drawing room door, walked across and drew the curtains, then sitting at the desk, tried the top drawer of three. It was locked.

He sighed. He took out a penknife, slid it in between the drawer and the desk, and began steadily and with an increasing pressure, to force open the lock.

ALISON woke with a start. For a moment it seemed to her dazed mind that she was back in the train with the steady beat of wheels under her ear. The next she met two imporing dark eyes fixed on her, and located the beating noise as the thrashing of Gaffe's thick tail on the bare boards.

At the sleepy invitation of her extended hand, the dog jumped on the bed, wriggling delightedly and asking her in the clear language which all nice dogs use to wake up and take some notice.

Alison sat up. The rain had stopped; pale wintry sunlight was leaking through the wooden slats of the green blind and she had the impression which sometimes comes immediately on waking, that she had overslept.

She glanced at her watch, then remembered that the glass had got broken on the journey and that it had stopped. She slid out from under her coat, feeling a little stiff, drew up the blind and flung open the window, looked out.

The blue haze of an autumn morning was just lifting; seen by daylight the Croft House had dropped its mystery and had become just a house set in a sloping garden, with four fine old trees glowing red and gold on one side, a dismantled tennis court below and beyond a low fence, high green downs which rolled away towards a valley.

MIGRATION: It is an ill wind which blows somebody good, says the political prophet. Until a few months ago proposals to construct both a power and irrigation dam at Grand Coulee in Washington State seemed chimerical. Ever the Interior Department, which always favors bigger and better projects was hostile.

But now the Reclamation Service wants to go ahead with the whole project. It has submitted a recommendation for construction of an irrigation-and-power structure to cost $400,000,000, whereas the original proposal for a power dam contemplated the expenditure of only $186,000,000. The new program provides for irrigation of more than 2,000,000 acres of land now wast.

The dust storms have changed the economic and political perspective. Families bereft of farms and homes by the hegra of soil, according to recent surveys, will migrate to the Grand Coulee basin as soon as it is made fertile and habitable. So all aboard for Grand Coulee—an artificial development which dwarfs the Pyramids, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon and the Tower of Babel.

Still in the Senate's Calendar Committee is the Page prohibition enforcement bill which would establish a dry army in the State. Due to come over from the Lower House today is a bill which would impose a graduated tax on hotel rooms and make subject to the 3 per cent sales tax the rental of hotel rooms.

Despite the hopes of most legislators that sine die adjournment will occur Thursday it was made plain today that final adjournment will take place on Friday, perhaps as late as Saturday.

The officers and board of directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway, in which the State owns 72 per cent of the stock, will eventually operate the railroad, which extends from Goldsboro to Morehead City, according to the opinion of many of those who have been following the rather troubled course of this railway and the Morehead City port terminal project.

While the port terminal project at Morehead City is now progressing, the Public Works Administration, having approved the plans last week, the affairs of the railroad have not yet worked out definitely yet. Since the officers and directors of the "Mullet" line, as the N. & N. C. Railroad is generally called, cancelled the lease held on it by the Norfolk Southern almost a year ago the Norfolk Southern has been continuing to operate trains over the road under order of the courts. It is generally believed that the Norfolk Southern would like to re-lease the "Mullet" line, but this is not likely since it already owes the A. & N. C. about $70,000 in interest and back taxes. It is also believed that several other railroads would like to lease this 105 miles of railroad from Goldsboro to Morehead City and Beaufort.

MOTHER O' MINE

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were damned of body and soul,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

Remodel Church On Pay-As-You-Go Plan
Smithfield, N. C., May 6.—"We don't believe in church debts," said Rev. Herbert Massey, pastor of the Smithfield Baptist Church which is becoming completely remodeled and modernized.

The cost which will be between five and ten thousand dollars is being met at the church proceeds with the work. Much of the labor is being donated by members. H. H. Johnson, who supervises the foremen, is giving part of his time and the pastor himself was found on the top of the church handling brick Saturday morning.

The inside floor plans are being changed, giving place for a pipe organ and a different location for the choir. Another story is being added behind the pulpit to make room for the elementary Sunday school department.

And we should not forget the negro youth now that we have done something for the white children. Anywhere two miles from town on the mill run you will find every hole full of colored boys trying to get a swim in summer.

The speaker called the attention of his hearer to the fact that soon the voters of Greenville will have the opportunity to vote whether there should be nine months' school. In no uncertain terms, Dr. ReBarker gave his opinion that the nine months should be added, though he explained he does not have any children to benefit from such a vote. He said that he was sure the vote would be successful.

That every young person who has finished school should be applied an opportunity to have gainful employment. He said it is up to the Greenville business men to give the young folks the encouragement of a job.

In closing, the speaker emphasized the need of every child to have a pal, and every good citizen should supply his children with one by being one.

In a few well chosen words, the youth's side was stated by Charles Wooten, who called the attention of the Rotarians to the great value of environment in shaping a child's future. He told them that a youth expects guidance an ideals to be supplied; and looks for an example. In trouble the youth wants encouragement and sympathy; in success he wants praise and promotion.

In closing, the young fellow expressed in the artless words of naive youth a sincere plea: "I think it would be nice if you would be better adults."

LOST FAT
Because She Heeded DOCTOR'S ADVICE
And Didn't Listen To Gossiping Neighbors!

Mrs. H. H. Long of Clarinda, Iowa writes: "Kruschen was recommended to me by my doctor. Weight when starting was 226. Weight now after 3 jars is 208. Doctor says I'm doing fine."

When Kruschen Salts is prescribed by reputable physicians to safely take off fat and greatly improve health—why listen to gossipers who don't want you to be slender? Envious!

Have a mind of your own—get a jar of Kruschen to-day (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Take a half teaspoonful in a cup of hot water every morning—tastes fine with juice of half lemon added. If you don't lose 12 lbs. and feel years younger—money back. For sale by Pitt Drug Co. or any drug store. Adv.

Cardui Brought Improvement
Because she was subject to pains, nervousness, irregularity, and began to feel so weak, Mrs. Betta McDonald, of Stearns, Ky., began to take Cardui. She writes: "Cardui is right. I could see an improvement right off. I took about eight bottles. I am lots better. I am over the weakness and my head and back do not bother me now."

Resistance to monthly pains is naturally increased, bringing relief, as strength of the whole system is built up. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
