AAA TO SEEK REACTION OF LINT GROWERS

Ranking Officials Travel Into South for Information

CONCERNED WITH BANKHEAD LAW

Desire Attitude Toward Control Contracts in Case Act Is Thrown Out

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Several ranking officials of the AAA cotton section travelled into the south today seeking reaction of farmers to the new cotton contract and to litigation before the supreme court involving the farm administration.

The officials were said to be concerned chiefly about the attitude of the farmer toward the Bankhead law and the operation of the cotton program without this enforcing act.

The AAA officials privately expressed the opinion the Bankhead law would be invalidated eventually and the cotton program would depend on voluntary control contracts. The Bankhead law provides a penalty tax for farmers ginning cotton in excess of a national allotment.

Because of this possibility and the pending supreme court case more importance was attached in some quarters to this Southern trip of AAA officials.

Approximately 90 per cent of the southern cotton acreage had been covered by adjustment contracts. Secretary Wallace recently said he delivered this percentage would not fall below 80 even in the Bankhead act were declared unconstitutional.

Christmas Tree To Be Planted Here Honor Late Mayor

Woman's Club Sponsors Movement to Honor Roy C. Flanagan Each Christmas Time

The Woman's club will plant a Christmas tree in the City park, near the swimming pool as a tribute to the memory to the late Mayor Roy C. Flanagan and appropriate services will be conducted at the memorial each Christmas.

A large holly tree in the yard of the late Mayor will be decorated this Christmas under the sponsorship of the club. The City Water and Light commission will light the tree and plans are in progress to have the lighting completed by the middle of next week.

The tree to be planted in the park will be the scene each year of a Christmas memorial service to Mr. Flanagan. It will be lighted each Christmas and Christmas carols will be sung or other appropriate programs will be given around it.

MENDIETA QUILTS PRESIDENCY

Smiling, Col. Carlos Mendieta is shown leaving the palace at Havana shortly after he resigned the presidency of Cuba. After ruling since January, 1934, Mendieta said he quit to facilitate the holding of presidential elections shortly. Jose A. HEAVY DAMAGE CAPITAL FIRE

Postoffice Building at Washington Burned Inside

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The $8,000,000 postoffice building which stands on Pennsylvania avenue four blocks from the White House today was scarred by an internal fire which blazed dangerously through early morning hours.

All the capital fire apparatus was summoned to battle the flames in the new structure from which volumes of smoke belled. More than a dozen firemen were overcome temporarily in efforts to reach the blaze which never was visible to hundreds of spectators outside.

When government employees went to their offices, today the fire was reported "out" although apparatus still was on hand awaiting a final check of the damaged structure.

One semi-official estimate—and that admittedly rough—put the replaceable damage at "more than $100,000."

NEGROES HELD FOR ASSAULT

Trio Arrested Near Scene of Attempted Robbery

Three negroes were being held in the county jail here today charged with assaulting and attempting to rob Ed Harris, filling station operator, at Bell's Forks on the New Bern highway Wednesday night.

The trio, James Morris, Charlie Carmon and Adolf Carmon were arrested by a group of officers and lodged in jail to await a hearing in County court.

He is survived by two children, J. T. Summerlin of Durham and Mrs. J. R. Peaden of Belvoir township.

WHEAT PRICES SOAR HIGHER

Increase Follows Announcement in Argentina

Chicago, Dec. 13.—(AP)—World wheat prices shot higher today following announcement that Argentina had fixed a minimum price or its grain 20 cents above the ruling market figures. Wheat futures in Chicago jumped five cent per bushel, the limit permitted.

Trading at the opening here was very exciting and December and May wheat contracts were lifted above the dollar a bushel level for the first time in recent weeks.

Values at all markets rose swiftly with the opening. Liverpool jumped around five cents. Winnipeg was up three cents daily limit allowed.

Buenos Aires market scored one of the sharpest price advances on record by opening 19 cents a bushel above the previous close.

MOVE TOWARD NEUTRALITY

President to Propose New Law to Next Congress

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Continuation some form or other of the temporary neutrality law will be proposed to the next congress by President Roosevelt.

He told his regular Press Conference today that the present neutrality law enacted last August expires next February. Obviously he is trying to get something to take its place.

Mr. Roosevelt said it would be a couple of weeks before his proposal on neutrality is put into final form.

Contract Is Let To Improve Harbor at Morehead City

Work to Be Started Immediately; Six Months' Time Estimated Required For Completion

Washington, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Army engineers said today a $206,388 contract for Morehead, N. C. inlet harbor improvements had been awarded to Gahagan Construction Company, Brooklyn, N. Y., and called for dredging an ocean vessel channel inside the Morehead City inlet to the terminal now under construction and a turning basin at the terminal.

The project is a part of the $1,455,000 PWA project under construction there.

Six months was estimated as the time required for completion of the harbor project.

Selassie Requests League To Call Special Meeting

Ethiopian Emperor Asks Special Session on Grounds Franco-British Peace Plan Violates League Covenant Spirit

(By The Associated Press) Emperor Haile Selassie asked the League of Nations to call a special meeting of the league assembly on the grounds that the Franco-Great Britain peace plan violated the spirit of the league covenant.

The plan in which Italy was offered about half of Ethiopia in exchange for peace already has resulted in a call for the session of the league until next Wednesday.

Many of the smaller nations in the league were represented as opposed to the plan on the grounds that it would give Premier Mussolini his objective in East Africa. Rebellion against the Franco-British proposal for peace in the Italian-Ethiopia war threatened in the House of Commons today as the impression grew in Geneva the plan would be turned down.

By letter and telegram British constituents protested to their representatives in parliament against the war settlement suggested which would give Italy a part of Ethiopia.

An official communique from Addis Ababa reported the defeat of an Italian post near Deabut, north of Makale, by a strong Ethiopian patrol.

The Italians fled, burning villages behind them the communique said.

The opposition from the British countryside led to comment in the parliamentary hall of threat to oust foreign secretary Sir Samuel Hoare unless the league of nations vetoed the peace offers formulated by him and Premier Pierre Laval of France.

A mutiny in the British cabinet was brewing, informed sources said under the leadership of Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

Unofficial advices from Geneva predicted the failure of the proposal before the league council next Wednesday and when that body begins its considerations.

Authoritative sources at Rome said Pope Pius through the church's wide diplomatic channels was influencing he attempt for peace. Three Papal Nuncios—in France, Poland and Austria—were named as having played important parts in the movement to bring the war to an amicable end.

NAVAL PARITY WINS SUPPORT

French and Italian Delegates Join with Japanese

London, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Japanese delegates to the international naval conference maneuvered today to win the support of France and Italy in the Asiatic empire's demands for sea power equality.

The Japanese revised their request for a common upper limit of naval tonnage to include the five powers Japan, the United States, France and Italy—instead of the first three only, as previously suggested.

The French and Italian opposed the Japanese demand yesterday because they were not included. However informed sources said they will bring the French and Italians more in the general debate.

JAPAN DELEGATES AGREE FOR RUSSIA HAVE EQUAL NAVY

London, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Japan granted Soviet Russia the right to a fleet equal to its own in return for tonnage equality for all nations before the international naval conference today.

This widening of the scope of Japan's position was regarded as one of the most significant developments of the five day old conference.

The delegates from Tokyo developed the theory that a single standard should apply to all nations indiscriminately, regardless of their defense requirements or other problems.

LEAF MARKET CLOSED TODAY

1936 Season Ends with Close of Friday's Sales

The 1935 Greenville tobacco market closed its season today, with the official average for the season approximately $21 per hundredweight.

Official figures for the season were not available as today's offerings and prices were not tabulated until late in the afternoon.

At the close of Thursday's sales 60,254,582 pounds had been sold for a total of $12,688,083.23, or an official average of $21.02 per hundred pounds.

Thursday's sales of 62,574 pounds brought a total of $7,052.20, or an official daily average of $11.27.

PITT TOBACCO SALES STATED

Figures So Far This Year Above Those of 1934

Tax warrants received at the offices of E. F. Arnold, Pitt county farm agent today indicate 34,717, 173 pounds of tobacco grown in this county has been sold so far.

The poundage sold is not completely up to date, however, as the warrants have to be sent to Washington by the market on which the tobacco is sold and in turn have to be sent back to the county agent.

Mr. Arnold said he felt when a complete tabulation was made probably after Christmas, it would show that 35,000,000 pounds of Pitt grown weed was sold in the season.

Last season less than 32,000,000 pounds of Pitt tobacco was sold. The acreage was increased this year, however, accounting for the increase in poundage.

Gross receipts for the weed totaled $7,427,854.54 for the sales accounted for to date. Net receipts, after warehouse and other charges were deducted, were $7,136,914.01.

Scout To Canvass City Tomorrow for All Discarded Toys

Playthings Will Be Turned Over to Children Who Ootherwise Probably Not Get Any

A final urgent appeal was made today for children and parents of the city to gather all old discarded toys and have them ready for the Boy Scouts to pick up tomorrow morning.

The Scouts will make a canvass of the city and gather the toys, which will then be turned over to the City firemen to recondition and generally put in first class condition.

The Salvation army will distribute the toys this Christmas to unfortunate boys and girls in the city who otherwise probably would not receive any.

A similar plan was carried out last year and brought much holiday cheer to many children.

5. C. Representatives Align With Senate

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 13.—(AP)—By a vote of 108 to two the South Carolina house of representatives today aligned itself with the senate in requesting Governor Johnston to withdraw troops from the state highway department but did not extend legislation pending such action.

County Earns $28,195.28 From Legal Liquor Sales

November Sales Fall Below Those of Previous Months

LOCAL STORE NOT SOLD OUT BLOUNT SAYS

No Foundation to Rumor Blount-Harvey Has Sold Out

"The rumor is without foundation, the Blount-Harvey Company has not sold out and we are not contemplating selling our business," declared Judson H. Blount, head of Blount-Harvey Company, Greenville's biggest department store, when questioned today as to the reports being circulated to the effect that the concern had sold its business and location to a large chain store concern.

For the past several weeks there have been rumors to the effect that the Blount-Harvey Company was selling its department store and the organization would center its interests in other lines of business. During the past several days the rumor had reached the stage that those passing it along from mouth to mouth had designated new locations for the Blount-Harvey Company and stated the lines of business to be entered into.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER
WEALTH: A close study of 1934 income tax returns reveals that there are 537 U. S. millionaires rather than thirty-two, as misleading surface figures indicate.

Webster's dictionary defines a millionaire as a "person whose possessions amount to a million dollars or more," whereas statisticians have twisted it to mean a mogul who pays an annual income tax of $1,000,000. The thirty-two people who enriched Uncle Sam by that amount in 1934 were in fact multimillionaires. Taking into account exemptions, deductibles and non-taxable holdings, the 525 people who paid taxes of more than $300,000 are classed as millionaires for practical political purposes. The argument runs that they kicked through with an amount equal to 5 per cent of $4,000,000.

Rooseveltians go even further in depreciating this talk that their hero has smashed great fortunes for the fun of smashing them. They list as millionaires all who paid an annual tax of $50,000 on the theory that this represents 5 per cent of $1,000,000. With that sort of arithmetic they raise the number of the painfully prosperous to more than 8,000.

TAMED: President Roosevelt is taking no chances that the U. S. Tariff Commission will make faces at Secretary Hull's trading agreements as George Peek did. The agency empowered by Congress to advise

State Basketball Team Starts Year Tomorrow Night

College Station, Raleigh, Dec. 13.—Boxers and basketball players of North Carolina State's varsity teams will break training following their engagements tomorrow night until Friday, December 27 when they will resume practice for the heavy schedules arranged for January and February.

The teams go into action tomorrow night for the first time this winter when they face teams of Atlantic Christian College. The basketball game will be played here in Frank Thompson Gymnasium, starting at 8 o'clock. At the same hour, the boxing teams will square off in Wilson.

These engagements are the only ones on State's boxing and basketball schedules until January. The court quart had games set for Monday and Tuesday of next week with the Norfolk Collegians and the Naval Apprentice School, but they have been dropped.

A game here with Clemson on January 6 will open State's regular basketball season. The first regular boxing match is set for January 11 with Catholic University at Washington.

Coach Bud Reas, former State basketball star, has developed a strong quint at Atlantic Christian and it most likely will give Dr. S. R. Sermon's Techs a nip and tuck battle. The Christians have defeated "Y" teams of Rocky Mount and Goldsboro.

State's Techs have been running through intra-squad practice games for a couple of weeks and appear in good shape. They will, however, be subject to the usual errors made by a team playing its first game of the season.

Dr. Sermon appears pleased with the progress the Techs have made since practice drills began. Captain Charlie Aycock and Stuart Flythe compose a pair of tall and capable forwards. Connie Mac Berry, sophomore, is a fixture at center, and the play of the guards is good since competition for these positions is unusually spirited. Neil Dahymple is practically assured of one guard post. The other appears to be a three-way battle between Chub Womble, Don Dixon, menogram player, and James Rame, lanky sophomore.

CHRISTMAS POEMS

The following Christmas poems were written by pupils in the fifth grade of Third Street School. Mrs. A. B. Corey is the teacher:

Santa Claus
Santa Claus is coming tonight,
Santa Claus, so jolly and bright.
He is coming with might and main,
Santa Claus will never wane.
He loves the children here and there,
He loves the children everywhere.
—JANET EVANS.

Santa Claus
Christmas Eve is here at last,
With Christmas trees all around.
And San a Claus is about to come
Into our very town.

And in the morning when you wake
You'll be in bed snug and tight,
You'll go downstairs to see what you've got.
Boxing gloves! You're ready to fight.
—WARREN FICKLEN.

Christmas Time
When Christmas Eve comes and everyone's full of joy,
Santa goes to see every good girl and boy.

And when everything's quiet, and
Daddy's turned out the light,
Old Santa puts toys under the Christmas tree bright.

He always puts a doll in the house
of every girl,
And in the house of every boy he puts a top that will whirl,
And after Santa goes up the chimney
so black,
He speeds away and gives his reindeer
a crack.

Then in the morning when he children look at their toys with glee,
Way up in the North Pole Santa will be.
—PATRICIA WALDROP.

Santa Claus Is Coming
Santa Claus is coming with his pack of toys,
Santa Claus is coming to his girls and boys,
He'll be very good for he only comes to see us once a year.
—CECIL DANIELS.

In Santa's Workshop.
In dear old Santa's workshop,
There are many things to see,
There are many, many kinds of dolls.

Some are very wee,
He has many, many toys,
For all the good little girls and boys.

And oh, what lovely trains,
Just like those that run on the plains.
—ANN SKINNER.

Christmas Night.
Christmas will soon be here
I can hear the Christmas bells ring clear,
Over the chimney top,
Santa's sleigh will stop,
And a toy for me he'll drop.
—LUCILLE DANIELS.

Fireworks Are Expected If Chandler Comes to N.C.

Governor of Kentucky May Come to Aid of McDonald

UNDOUBTEDLY DRAW CROWD

Even Rumors That Chandler to Visit State Causing Worry in Political Camp

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Dec. 13.—If Governor "Happy" (A. B.) Chandler of Kentucky, the exuberant and youthful Democratic "radical" who opposed the sales tax and tough the old line Democratic "machine" in Kentucky and as a result won the governorship, comes to North Carolina in January to help Dr. Ralph S. McDonald of Winston-Salem, his North Carolina counterpart, open his campaign for Governor, he will undoubtedly get a crowd.

No one seems to know for sure yet whether Governor Chandler is actually going to help McDonald in his campaign here or not. But some one who claims he heard it from some one who says he knows absolutely that it is a fact, has let it slip out that Governor "Happy" Chandler will open McDonald's campaign for him here early in January.

At any rate, even the rumor that Chandler may come here and help McDonald is giving the boys on either side of the political fence from McDonald the jitters. They knew only too well what kind of havoc Chandler played with the Democratic machine of former Governor Ruby Lafoon of Kentucky and the bricks he heaved into it, with the result that all of Lafoon's cronies nor all of his Admirals could put it back together again after Chandler got through humpty-dumptying it. They also know that McDonald is running on almost the same platform in North Carolina that Chandler ran on in Kentucky—opposition to the 3 per cent sales tax and to the present Democratic administration and so-called "machine". About the only difference is that McDonald has trimmed and redecorated his platform to fit with the other aspects of the North Carolina political picture. It is also pointed out that Chandler ran as an out-and-out supporter of the Rooseveltian "New Deal" which the then Democratic administration in Kentucky had repudiated. McDonald is running on a "stick with Roosevelt" platform and contending that the present Democratic regime in the state is no any too hot for the "New Deal" and that the other candidates are siding more with the bankers and big business than with the masses.

The opposition of McDonald—which means the friends and supporters of Lieutenant Governor A. H. (Sandy) Graham, who now helps the nickname of Sandy" will help him as much as the sobriquet of "Happy" helped Chandler, and the backers of Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby—maintains that even if McDonald does get Chandler to come down into North Carolina for a speech or two, that it will not help him very much. They maintain that it is a violation of Democratic tradition in this state to get any one from any other state to come help in a primary campaign, and that if Chandler comes to help McDonald, it will be regarded as meddling in state politics by an outsider. The result will be that it will react against McDonald instead of help him. These same one also point out that McDonald is himself a "foreigner," a native of Illinois—a former school teacher who is now trying to tell the people of the state that their plan and system of state government has been and still is all wrong and that he is the only one who knows enough about taxation and government to get it straightened out. The opposition to McDonald is also confident that before the campaign is over the majority of the people will realize that it is going to be impossible to top off $10,000,000 a year of the state's revenue by repealing the sales tax, and at the same time increase almost all expenditures, especially for schools, as McDonald is advocating, without putting on some new taxes—probably more distasteful than the sales tax.

These opposed to the McDonald doctrine of "remove the sales tax and get more of everything" are already busy in many parts of the state, especially in the eastern agricultural section, maintaining that if the sales tax is removed the state will have to impose a state-wide property tax for schools again. This, they maintain, would mean that the property owners would again have to pay for the support of the schools while thousands who used the schools, such as tenants, mill workers and others, would not pay a penny in taxes. Reports are that this line of argument is having some effect here and there.

Yet the anti-McDonald forces would much prefer not to have Governor Chandler come into North Carolina to help Dr. McDonald, most observers here agree. For there is no doubt that Chandler did what was considered the impossible in Kentucky—and he might help McDonald do the impossible in North Carolina.

Carol Service At College.

A beautiful carol service by the college choir was the feature this morning at the assembly hour. All the students joined in the singing of a few of the songs. Miss Mary Hoover Boyd, Misses Eoline and Helen Sawyer sang a lovely trio. The carols sung were as follows: "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," by Mendelssohn; "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," by Willis; "Angels O'er the Fields Were Flying," old French carol; "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," 16th century melody; "Card of the Russian Children," arranged by Gail; "O Little Town of Bethlehem," by Redner; and "Silent Night," by Michael Haydn.

Monthly Supper Club.

The December meeting of the Monthly Supper Club of the Eighth Street Christian Church was held Monday night in the church. The president, Margaret West, commended the various committees and also praised the ones who prepared the meal served. It was announced that in the January meeting, V. M. Mulholland of the local high school would speak on "Youth Action on Leisure Time." The cooks for the January meeting were appointed by the president. Mrs. W. A. Ryan gave a short informal plea that all families of the Christian Church try to worship together at least on the next two Sundays preceding Christmas. —Reported

First Church of Christ, Scientist.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 8th.

The golden text was from Psalms 93:1. "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them." (Luke 4:15, 40)

The lesson passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The testimony of the material senses is neither absolute nor divine. I therefore plant myself unreservedly on the teachings of Jesus, and on the testimony of the Science of Mind. Other foundations there are none. All other systems—based wholly or partly on knowledge gained through the material senses—are reeds shaken by the wind, not houses built on the rock."

E. Muelberger, organist and choir director, will have charge of the musical score as the pageant unfolds. Prominent soloists of the city will have leading parts.

An offering for the cause of Ministerial Relief of the Southern Presbyterian Church will be taken. Proceeds are to go to the home of disabled and retired ministers, their widows and orphans—as a special Christmas "Joy Gift."

RED OAK NEWS

The ladies of the Red Oak Home Demonstration Club were guests to their husbands, sweethearts and a few invited friends at a banquet at the Rotary building last Wednesday evening.

Miniature Christmas trees, poinsettias, and Christmas garlands were used as centerpieces on the long tables, which were laid for one hundred guests. A menu consisting of barbecue, bread, slaw, pickles, sweet potatoes, potato salad, cake, coffee and cream was thoroughly enjoyed.

Oysters were provided for the ones who did not like barbecue. After supper short and snappy speeches and jokes by Messrs. James Allen, Amos Evans, Tom Manning, Ben Harris, Miss Nita and Mrs. Hugh Ragsdale were enjoyed.

The "Friendship Quilt" made by the club women was given away and the luck person was Mrs. Nita Sullivan.

The success of the banquet was due to the cooperation of every club woman. Out of a membership of fifty-six there were only six who for some reason were unable to attend. A rising vote of thanks was extended Mr. and Mrs. Johnny May for their excellent services. It was a wonderful meeting and it seems to draw our community closer together. We can hardly wait for next December to roll around.

Announcement Party.

Mrs. J. P. Vainright and Mrs. Amos J. Evans delightfully entertained at a dinner party at the home of the latter last Friday evening at six o'clock.

Graceful arrangements of poinsettias and miniature Christmas trees were used throughout the home in keeping with the holiday season.

The table was lovely with its appointments for twelve. The centerpiece was a box hidden with Christmas greens. From this box streamers led to each plate. After the guests were seated they pulled the streamers and on the end each found an envelope containing a puzzle. When this was put together it was found to be a red heart on which the words "Ruth and Carl, December 23."

After dinner was served the guests were sent on a treasure hunt. Each one found an attractive gift for herself. Miss Evans was the last one to find her treasure which was a basket of lingerie, gifts from the guests.

This announcement will be read with interest by the many friends of Miss Evans and Mr. Crawford. Miss Evans is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Evans and Mr. Crawford is the younger son of Mrs. Elias Crawford.

Guests included Misses Rubelle Vandiford, Inez Allen, Charlotte Tyson, Dot Tyson, Jewel Cozart, Nannie Rowlette, Lucille Thigpen and Mary Hoover Boyd.

CHRISTMAS OPPORTUNITIES

Yesterday in this column we urged our readers to begin now to look about them and pick out some needy family to make happier at Christmas by helping to take care of their needs. If you have not found such a family to include in your Christmas plans we will publish, beginning tomorrow or Monday, a list of families that will need aid at Christmas, and we urge that the people of this community who are able give their help to these families. The Christmas season is a time for spreading cheer, good will and happiness and certainly bringing happiness to needy families during the Christmas season should be foremost in our minds. Decide now to help make someone happy this Christmas and if you have not already found that someone, then we urge you to study the list of Christmas opportunities as they are published and pick one or more families from that list.

Public Schools Big Issue in Gubernatorial Campaign

Reflector Bureau,
Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILL
Raleigh, Dec. 12.—The public schools, and especially the amount which the state should provide for their maintenance, has already become a big issue in the campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor with indications that it may become the dominant issue in the campaign, more and more of those who are following the trend of thought over the state agree.

Some think the question of school support is going to be the only really important issue both in the campaign and in the 1937 session of the general assembly, just as it was almost the only big issue in the 1935 session.

That the candidates for Governor already realize the importance of the school issue and the question of school support, is attested by the fact that all four of the candidates have already declared themselves in favor of more adequate school support, including larger increases in teachers' salaries, longer school term, smaller pupil load. He advocated an appropriation of $25,000,000 a year for schools in 1935, is expected to advocate appropriation of at least $30,000,000 a year in 1937. Says North Carolina now ranks at "the bottom of the list of all the states in the quality of instructional service offered."

Clyde R. Hoey, lawyer: Favors increasing of school funds so as to provide better salaries for teachers, also advocates nine months school term, apparently a state-supported nine months term, though he has not been specific on this point. Has not made specific statement as to size of school appropriation he will favor.

Lieutenant Governor A. H. (Sandy) Graham, lawyer: Favors increasing salaries of teachers and more adequate support of the basic and minimum eight months school term by the state, with ninth month to be provided from supplemental taxes by individual cities, towns

NEVER MIND THE LADY

by David Garth

SYNOPSIS: Terry Willett met in the tropics, where Terry was trying to finish up his engineering job, and Allaire was killing time—the highest possible speed. But Terry went back up river and found that his father was dead and had asked to be buried in Virginia. And Allaire set out for America thinking more than she wanted to think of Terry. Allaire has been killing time at the bar of the Arundel, which is a high class gambling joint, talking with a friend named Charley.

Chapter 16

"HEY all aren't as nice as you, Charley," Allaire stood with hands on hips and regarded the polished interior of the Arundel speculatively. "We really can't blame the Trigger Fish. Why should it go seventy miles an hour when it's just as satisfied to sleep and eat?"

"Pshaw," said Charley. "I'm no botanist. Or is it biologist? Say, where are you going?"

Allaire turned. She leaned forward and patted him on the shoulder.

"Out," she said mysteriously, "to go seventy miles an hour. 'Night, Charley."

He saw her take her wrap in the foyer, nod to the doorman, and slip out into the night. Charley couldn't figure her out.

She never got drunk, but when she

"It is," said Allaire. "And one of these days Miss West is going to get a car that will make you think you're pedaling a tricycle. See if I don't."

"You're got away from me plenty," Murphy said. "I still can't figure out how I lost you in Middleburg that time last spring."

"I can't either," she smiled. "I put it down to masculine gallantry. How are you, Murphy?"

"O. K. But listen, you hadn't ought to speed like this, Miss West. You'll crack up some day, so help me."

"I'm trying to get home by sunrise. It's perfectly beautiful then."

"You always go too damn fast," said Murphy.

"That's why I like to drive at night. No traffic."

They lit cigarettes in a gesture of truce between two friendly enemies.

"THIS ain't night," insisted Murphy. "It's early mornin'. And there's milk wagons and such. Say, where you been? This is the first time you've come through here in months, ain't it?"

"I've been in South America," said Allaire.

"Yeah?" said Murphy.

"Yeah," said Allaire, nodding. "What kind of a place is it?"

"Dangerous," said the girl. "Mur-wanted to blow off steam she pulled the throttle wide open in bursts of sheer headlong speed. She'd been driving like that ever since she came back from South America. Probably plenty angry at somebody or something, although she'd never choose to let you know it.

He gave up. Much easier to deliberate on the whys and wherefores of the Trigger Fish who sat on the bottom of the aquarium like a rock. What an existence for a fish. Charley was convinced it was the stupidest existence he'd ever seen.

ALLAIRE operated independently of the separate establishments maintained by her parents. Her course lay between her father's New York town house, her mother's family home in Washington, and her father's country place in Virginia, with little side excursions and appearances of her own thrown in for good measure.

And she was driving like hell again. She whipped down to Washington, spent a couple of days there, and then took to the open road again. It was thirty miles to sunrise when her long blue roadster raced through a quiet Virginia countryside in the hush of early dawn. Already the first faint red glow was touching the hills, and her father's country home was thirty miles up the valley.

A police motorcycle picked up her trail and chased her down a long stretch of open pavement in a duel of roaring motors.

Then the policeman won. He drew up abreast and careened about a curve with the car in a hairbreadth partnership of burning tires and screaming brakes.

"Get over!" he yelled frantically. The girl flitted a hand and brought the car to a stop. Her white polo coat was streaked with dust and her bright hair bound by a purple ribband was aflutter at her temples from the windlash of her terrific speed.

"Hello, Murphy," she greeted lazily. "Well, this is a pleasure. It's been a long time since you arrested me last."

The officer showed his goggles up on his brow and stared.

"Well, for the love of Mike! Miss West—!"

John A. McRae, lawyer: Favors more adequate support of schools and better salaries for teachers, but also advocates the utmost economy in the entire state administration, which also includes the schools.

Thus all of the candidates advocate more liberal support of the districts which want a ninth month add it and support it by the imposition of local supplemental taxes. McRae has not been so specific as the others, merely advocating more adequate support of the schools.

The organized school forces, consisting of some 23,500 school teachers, of which some 16,000 (almost all of the white teachers) are members of the North Carolina Education Association, the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers, numbering more than 46,000 active members, and allied organizations, are unanimous in wanting higher salaries for teachers, a larger appropriation for schools, a longer school term and a twelfth grade, though there is some difference of opinion as to whether the longer term (ninth month) should be state wide and state supported, or be brought about by local supplementation. Indications are that these organizations are going to work for a school appropriation of not less than $30,000,000 a year in the 1937 general assembly.

Those who pay the state's taxes, however, of which 66 per cent. are now going for the support of the schools, as well as many of the school patrons especially in the rural districts, maintain that the state supported eight months term is sufficient and that any increase in the length of term should come from local supplementary taxes. Most of these agree, however, that teachers' salaries should be increased as much as possible.

Another feature on the program was an open forum on the economic outlook of the colored pharmacist.

GHOST TOWN'S BUILDING STANDING AFTER 44 YEARS

Carthage, N. C. (AP)—A ghost town sleeps 40 miles from here.

Once engaged in the production of millstones out of Moore county grit, the town has been abandoned 44 years.

The buildings are all there, including homes, postoffice, hotel, stores and other structures, but no people.

The stained hotel register shows the last entry was made April 2, 1891. The streets are grown over in weeds and shrubs.

Why human beings abandoned the spot is a matter of conjecture.

The ancient Parthians, according to Plutarch, beat kettledrums to frighten their enemies.

After East Texas farmers for years had regarded the "prairie pea" as a harmful weed, Cliff Wells, Franklin county farmer, used it for hay with success and is planning to harvest again.

SANTA and the IRON QUEEN

BY SIGRID ARNE

THE FAIRY QUEEN WAVED HER HAND....

SYNOPSIS: Santa's elves rescue him from the kingdom of the Iron Queen where he was held prisoner. They take along the queen and a silver dragon they made at her command.

Chapter V
IRON QUEEN IN PRISON

Led by the queen of fairies the elves carried Santa and the Iron Queen back to toyland as easily as if they were birds. When they arrived they found the toyshop windows ablaze with candles which Mrs. Santa had it to guide Santa home.

Santa burst in the door with a "Ho, everybody! I'm back." He whirled Mrs. Santa around and kissed her rosy cheeks where he saw streaks from the tears she had been shedding. The dolls were so excited they tumbled over each other, and a red flannel rooster stood on a toy piano and crowed commission's economist during a period when it showed its sympathy for the Hull-Roosevelt views. His appointment definitely depicts the role which this organization is expected to play—namely, second fiddle.

As now organized the commission consists of a majority which will bow to presidential will in these matters—the two low-tariff Virginians, Lane Lucket Brossard from Louisiana and Dr. Durand. Their principal function these days is to dig up material for use by the State Department in negotiating reciprocal agreements.

DEBTS: Although the Democrats' financial cupboard has been bare, Jim Farley has figured out a scheme for liquidating the $400,000,000 deficit before the next campaign. Refusal of the moneybags to come across required the adoption of heavy handed measures.

The National Chairman has assigned a quota to every Democratic state organization. They may raise the amount any way they please but most are exacting a percentage of their salaries from the boys and girls on the official payroll. That total ought to reach $300,000, with an average assessment of $5,000 per state. Cities will be asked to bid high for the next national convention, even though it will be only a revival-and-ratification meeting, and a minimum of $200,000 should fall into the party chest.

Mr. Farley has already planned where the first receipts will go. They will be used to pay off the debt owed to John J. Raskob. The party bosses don't want to be in hook to Al Smith's closest friend any longer than they have to. They've been owing him for three years now.

POWER: Tammanyite John J. O'Connor seems headed for the House leadership in fact if not in name. The aging "Ed" Taylor of Colorado swears he will not carry the burden another session and friends of Majority Leader Bankhead of Alabama say he is too ill to undergo the strain.

Rules Chairman O'Connor's dominance of the lower chamber can be a curse or blessing to FDR. Though a loyal administration man Mr. O'Connor must keep in right with Wigwam chieftains none too friendly to the President. Brother Basil O'Connor has been frequently alighted by the White House, although he used to be FDR's partner.

On the other hand, John is popular with fellow-members. He stood up for their prerogatives in several clashes with the Senate at the last session. He is also blunt and courageous. He told FDR several unpleasant truths which other leaders were withholding during parliamentary crises. It would benefit both Tammany and the White PROGRAM: A wayfarer from Washington recently asked Herbert Hoover whether he was a candidate for the presidency directly or indirectly, wistfully or hopefully. In his reply the former President showed a firmer grasp on political and psychological realities than he ever did in the past.

"Young man," said Mr. Hoover, "I have outlined a definite program for myself. I intend to make a half a dozen—maybe more—speeches between now and nominating time next June. I will make enemies every time I say a word—enemies among the people and the politicians. So I suggest that you come to me after I have finished my speaking tour and ask me that question again."

So many disavowals of any intention to seek presidential honors have grapevined into GOP inner circles that both Chairman Fletcher and the Hoover-hating Borah are beginning to believe them.

CONCERN: The Securities Exchange commission is pulling some pretty smooth stuff for a bunch of supposed greenhorns. For the second time they have taken the utility law sharpshooters completely by surprise. Their motion to the District of Columbia Supreme Court for a stay on power company applications for injunctions until the Commission's own suit against Electric Bond and Share is decided by the U. S. Supreme Court "or otherwise disposed of" is "nicely calculated to hamstring the opposition. If the motion is granted it means that the Commission cannot be enjoined from enforcing the law unless and until the "mighty nine" rule it unconstitutional.

New York power circles are privately much perturbed by this sudden turn of events. They had figured on keeping the Commission so busy defending itself against scattered suits all around the map that it wouldn't be able to focus properly on its one aggressive counter-attack. Now it looks as if that beautiful strategy had gone sour. The District of Columbia outcome might well be decisive. There's a plenty of room for legal doubt as to whether federal officials can be enjoined in courts located elsewhere unless they wish to be.

Furthermore the Commission is refusing to play the utilities' game by participating in stockholders suits against managements to prevent the latter from complying with the law. This ingenious indirection was designed to keep the Commission busy in cases where direct injunctions didn't seem feasible. But all U. S. District Attorneys have been advised that no federal agency is having any part of such suits. Downright non-operative, the utilities call it. They still profess to be entirely confident of ultimate legal victory—but you can detect an undertone of concern about "what those SEC birds are going to try next."

PUSH: Informed New Yorkers have picked up some rather impressive statistics on the growth of the Townsend old age pension movement. The Townsends are reported to have collected about $600,000 so far this year—a large part of it in dime-a-month contributions. The weekly magazine has achieved a paid circulation of about 200,000. Some 5,000 clubs have been formed with memberships ranging from 100 to 15,000 and a drive is on to add a thousand more clubs by the time Congress meets.

Congress will be inundated with Townsend propaganda. A monster petition is being prepared for submission to the legislators. The object is to line up no less than thirty million signatures—which would set a new high water mark for organized demand. A campaign carried on over a nation-wide radio hookup is also in prospect.

is nothing to what it was. Coughlin is described by people who know him as groping desperately for some issue that will strike the popular fancy as in the good old days of 1931-34.

Astute critics remark that Father Coughlin made his big mistake when he tore away the veil of mysticism that had surrounded him for nine years on the air in an effort to promote his National Union of Social Justice by personal contact with his followers.
