PLAN VOTE ON BONUS ISSUE THIS FRIDAY

Committee Recommends Payment as Recovery Measure

CASH PAYMENT GETS BACKING

Bill is Expected to be Called to Floor of House of Representatives Tomorrow

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—House debate tomorrow with a vote probably tomorrow night, today was assured cash bonus legislation.

The rules committee gave the right of way on the floor to the full payment bill backed by three veterans organizations. It will be called tomorrow and allowed four hours of general debate.

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—In a formal report to the House, the Ways and Means committee today recommended cash payment of the bonus as an essential part of the recovery program and as capable of increasing the nation's purchasing power.

The committee planned to seek today a rule to bring before the House the bonus measure backed by three major veteran organizations. It is expected to call up the bill tomorrow looking forward to a vote Friday.

"In the judgment of the committee," the report said, "immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates will increase the purchasing power of the nation. It believes that it is an essential part of the recovery program, that the present policy looking toward the covering of the bonus by the issue of new bonds is just, due and unpaid should be paid in cash to the veterans of our country who rendered their services and paid in their lifetime."

The commission said that additional money immediately necessary for payment would be about $1,000,000. It added the conclusion "that the adjusted service certificates is an acknowledgment that the war service of the veterans, then in flower of manhood should be recognized and that the veterans should receive that acknowledgment in their lifetime."

Decision On AAA Used In Arguing Case In Charlotte

Special Assistant to the Attorney General Argues Case on Grounds of Recent Ruling

Charlotte, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Supreme Court decision which wrecked the Agricultural Administration Adjustment Act was invoked today to defend the New Deal power policy.

Alexander Holtzoff special assistant to the attorney general, in arguing an appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal from a district court ruling granting the Duke Power Company an injunction against a proposed public owned power plant at Buzzard Roost, S. C., asserted the AAA decision upheld Congress in exercise of extreme balance of power in expense of general public welfare.

Holtzoff appeared for the PWA and Greenwood County, S. C., which appealed from the ruling of Judge H. H. Watkins in the western district court of South Carolina.

D. W. Robinson of Columbia who appeared with Holtzoff likewise cited the AAA decision and asserted it left the Duke Power Company only two grounds on which to contend for an injunction.

These, he said were that the project was so local as not to fall within a program of general welfare and that it was intended to be a "yardstick" to control the Duke Power Co.'s interest rates. He denied that the fact would support either contention.

Water at Winterville Shows Be First Class

A recent analysis of the water supply at the Winterville school showed it to be entirely free of pollution and wholly safe for the children.

The water supply was declared polluted in December and the school was two weeks earlier than the regular Christmas holidays were scheduled to begin so that a deep well could be dug.

After the well was completed, a sample of the water was sent to the State laboratories in Raleigh and an analysis by state chemists showed the water to be entirely free of pollution.

Paid Tribute

J. B. Spilman, for twenty-four years treasurer of East Carolina Teachers' College, who died December 25.

TRIBUTE PAID J. B. SPILMAN

Dr. Meadows Addresses Assembly on Late Treasurer

"Balanced Books" was the keynote of the tribute paid by President L. R. Meadows to the man with whom he had worked side by side for nearly twenty-four years—the late J. B. Spilman, treasurer of East Carolina Teachers College for the greater part of his history.

"He closed his books on Christmas morning," said Dr. Meadows, as he spoke to the assemblage of students and faculty yesterday morning on the life, character, and personality of the man who has been at the center of a affairs in the College from the third year of its existence. Dr. Meadows called attention to the fact that, as treasurer, he constantly touched the lives of every one on the campus at every point, but made them see that he was not merely the signer of all checks, but the careful, conscientious, tireless worker who kept his books balanced every day.

Dr. Meadows reviewed the years Mr. Spilman had been kept busy balancing his books. He recalled to occasions, one twenty-four years ago this spring and one a month ago, when Mr. Spilman had declined invitations because he had to spend the evening balancing his books. From this opening, Dr. Meadows filled in the years between, giving significant incidents from his experiences with Mr. Spilman which illustrated traits of character for which he was noted.

Dr. Meadows selected five special characteristics which perhaps all who were closely associated with Mr. Spilman would agree were pre-eminant qualities. He was first of all, he said, a man of understanding, keenly sympathetic, patient and considerate. The keen sense of humor which he possessed to a marked degree and his rare ability to tell a good story were qualities that brought delight to those who thrilled over his stories and chuckled over his jokes, and never was he known to tell a degrading story or a coarse joke.

"He was a capable man, thoroughly trustworthy, and this was the quality that all who had business dealings with him, stressed most. Never was his ability or trustworthiness questioned," said Dr. Meadows, and he quoted or referred to statements from the officials, from members of the Board of Trustees, from officers of other colleges, and from business men, that corroborated this.

"He was a lovable person, therefore he was loved," was the tribute paid to him by the man who had loved him for nearly a quarter of a century, who also said he had never heard him adversely criticized, and added "if he had an enemy I didn't know it."

"He was a thorough gentleman in the true sense of the word, always respecting the rights and privileges of others," Dr. Meadows said as he spoke feelingly of the long and close friendship. He was so overcome he could scarcely continue speaking when he attempted to tell

To Sell Property Where Tax Unpaid

Pitt county tax collectors have been instructed by the board of commissioners to turn over to the county attorney for action all taxes due in 1935 and prior years.

The commissioners instructed the attorney to bring action against all property upon which taxes have not been collected. In other words negotiations were started toward selling all property upon which taxes due in 1935 and before remains uncollected.

Democratic Leaders Meet For Jackson Day Dinners

President Roosevelt To Launch Campaign For Relection at Affair to be Held in Washington; Party Chiefs to Attend

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Democratic party leaders converged on Washington from all over the country today to help President Roosevelt formally launch his campaign for reelection tonight at the National Jackson Day dinner.

As he addressed similar gatherings from coast to coast, from the banquet table here at 10 p. m. (EST), the President will be surrounded by his Cabinet, most Democratic members of the senate and house and members of the national committee and other prominent party officials.

But almost as conspicuous as the list of guests will be the names of absentees. Alfred Smith once the Democratic presidential candidate, will not be there. Probably John W. Davis, another one time party nominee, will not. Missing will be other names that have figured prominently at former Jackson Day dinners. Smith and Davis are members of the American Liberty League, which reiterated its charge today that Democratic James A. Farley is selling tickets to the dinner to Federal office holders in violation of the law.

Farley quoted by the league as addressing state presidents of young Democrats clubs and using them to price the dinner high enough to provide revenue for the Democratic party. Several of these presidents, the league added, were Federal office holders.

The dinner tonight, will be followed by a meeting of the national committee to select a time and place for the national convention. Philadelphia and Chicago are the leading contestants, but there were reports of other bids from Atlantic City and San Francisco.

To Start Inspection Of Eating Places In County

City and County Sanitary Inspectors to Cooperate

HEALTH BOARD APPROVES PLAN

Restaurants To Be Forced To Maintain Certain Sanitary Requirements or Close

Plans for establishing a Pitt county system of inspection and grading for hotels, restaurants, cafes and other eating places as is now carried out by the State Board of Health are rapidly nearing completion and the system will be inaugurated at an early date.

The Pitt County Health Department has approved the plan and at a conference yesterday afternoon of Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, county health officer, J. P. Stone, county sanitary inspector, and E. G. Lynch, city sanitary inspector, details for carrying out the movement were formulated.

The inspection and grading will be conducted along the lines which the State Health Department employs. Eating places will be graded as to conditions of the wash rooms, dining room, kitchen and pantry, servants, milk supply, water supply, sewerage and surroundings. Any eating place graded under 70 will not meet the requirements and the owner will be subject to arrest and having his establishment closed.

Posters showing the official grade of the eating place will be issued by the health department and will be displayed in a conspicuous place. A grade of "A" will represent a sanitary condition of between 100 and 90; "B" between 90 and 80; "C" between 80 and 70. No grade will be issued below 70, as such a grade would not legally allow the operator to continue business under existing conditions.

Inspections will be made each month. Plans call for an educational campaign to acquaint cafe operators with rules and regulations regarding sanitary rules of the establishments before the plan is actually put into effect.

The city and county sanitary inspectors will cooperate in carrying out the inspection and grading of the eating places.

The movement was given the full support of the county board of health at a regular meeting this morning. Members of the board are Roy T. Cox of Winterville, chairman; Dr. Paul Fitzgerald of Greenville, Dr. W. I. Wooten of Greenville, Dr. M. T. Frazelle of Ayden, D. H. Conley, superintendent of county schools, and Mayor M. K. Blount, of Greenville.

The board also heard the report of Dr. Ennett on the year's work in the health department.

The report revealed that during the past 12 months great gains have been made in sanitary conditions of the county's dairies. Of the 13 dairy herds in the county a year ago, two were infected with tuberculosis and all with banga disease, the latter a cause of undulant fever, a serious malady to which users of milk from cows infected with banga are subjected. A total of 423 cows, or 42 per cent of all the dairy cattle in the county were shown to be suffering with banga disease a year ago.

It was shown that at the present time all herds in the county are entirely free of tuberculosis and banga disease. The health department placed much stress on the importance of removing the infected cattle from the dairy herds and said it was a great stride in better health conditions in the county.

COUNTY COURT ENDS SESSION

To Be in Recess Until Tuesday, January 28th

County court completed its week's hearings yesterday afternoon and will not sit again until Tuesday, January 28, two weeks of Superior court being scheduled for the next two weeks, beginning Monday.

A term of civil court will be held the week beginning January 13, while a criminal term is set to get underway the following Monday. Judge Marshall Spears will preside over both terms.

At the afternoon session of County court yesterday James Nelson was sentenced to four months on the roads upon conviction of assault with a deadly weapon.

Johnnie Taft, Josh Thigpen and James Langley were charged with larceny. A nol pro was taken as against Langley. Taft and Thigpen were convicted, however, and each sentenced to four months on the roads.

The case of S. F. Peterson, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor was transferred to Superior court, the defendant demanding a trial by jury.

Dance To Be Held In College Campus Building

While the full steering committee for the President's Birthday Ball to be held here January 30, has not yet been appointed, General Chairman W. W. Lee announced this morning that plans for making the ball the best yet held in this city were moving along rapidly.

Already President L. R. Meadows has again consented for the ball to be held in the spacious campus building of the college and the hall will present a gala appearance on the night of the ball. Negotiations are already underway to procure one of the best orchestras to be had to furnish music for the ball and as usual a radio address by President Roosevelt will be one of the highlights of the evening's entertainment. The evening's program will also include a floor show which promises to be one of the best features of its kind ever included in one of the balls here.

Chairman Lee stated this morning that within the next few days full committee appointments would be announced and plans for distribution of the tickets to the ball will get under way.

This will be the third annual President's Birthday Ball held in this city and expectations are that the attendance this year will surpass the two former ones. It was pointed out that a large proportion of the proceeds from the sale of tickets is retained by the local committee for use in aiding infantile paralysis sufferers in this county and this in an added incentive for the local people to give every possible support to the ball.

MORGAN FIRM SOLD ALLIES MUCH GOODS

Evidence Shows $363,000,000 Goods Handled

SEN. COMMITTEE HOLDS HEARING

Investigators Contend Morgan Financial Transactions Led This Country to War

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Evidence that companies in which J. P. Morgan was interested sold the allies $363,000,000 worth of goods before this country entered the World war was introduced today in the Senate committee of war time finance.

Investigators questioning the portly head of the house of Morgan contend financial transaction with the allied nations helped push America into the conflict.

A list submitted by the Morgan firm showed it arranged the purchase of great quantities of explosives and implements of war for France and England. Food, clothing and many other commodities also were bought.

Altogether the company was the purchasing agent for approximately $3,000,000,000 allied supplies. It received a commission of $300,000,000.

With a partner of Morgan also heard testified that he invited Great Britain to buy control of an American arms plant early in 1916.

The invitation was contained in a cablegram from Morgan to the Morgan house in London. J. P. Morgan and Company then was put agent in the United States for Great Britain and France, dated January 14, 1916, it said the Winchester Repeating Arms Company was in financial difficulties.

The point is would the British government be interested in purchasing this stock or in making any suggestions regarding its purchases or would they like to investigate the situation with the possibility of joining in interesting others in the purchase, in which event they might have to become a party," the message continued.

The reply, four days later, showed the British opposed to such proceedings.

The Senate munitions committee, which is investigating Morgan and his partners, contend American financial transactions with the allies led this country in the war.

REPORT MADE ON FINANCES

Tax Collections In County Total $275,995.59

The financial report for Pitt county, as announced today by J. H. Coward, county auditor, revealed that tax collections for the six months-period ending in December totalled $275,995.59, as compared with $378,523.14 for the similar period last year.

Collections for the past half year were $102,527.55 less than those for the period ending in December 1934. Mr. Coward pointed out that in the first half of the financial year 1934-35 enough collections were made to run the county for the entire year, with $23,000 left over. The good prices prevailing on the tobacco market were credited with the unusually good showing.

The percentage of the original levy uncollected for this fiscal period is 49.63, as compared with a percentage at the same time last year of 49.08.

The uncollected balance of the original levy for this fiscal year is $193,836.02, while on January 1 last year the amount remaining to be collected was $174,676.87.

The original levy for this fiscal year is $390,508.28, while the original sum for the last fiscal period was $355,899.99, an increase for the present levy of $44,608.29.

Of tax levies totalling $5,294,974.05 since 1927, the uncollected sum aggregated $430,643.36 on the first of this calendar year, as compared with $432,317.86 at the beginning of 1935. However, back tax collections for the six months' period ending January this year were $79,323.33, as compared with $197,300, or in the previous similar period.

Of this amount of uncollected back taxes, 1619 per cent of the 1934 taxes remained unpaid, while only 6914 of the 1935 levies are yet uncollected, all other years showing an average collection better than 95 per cent.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE AAA?

WORK STARTED ON BUILDINGS

PWA Project for Pitt County Schools Underway

Following several delays, caused chiefly by bad weather, work has been started on three of the school buildings or additions to be constructed in the county under a PWA project.

Work of digging trenches for the foundation is underway for the new building at Winterville.

Lines have been laid off for the Bethel and Grimesland buildings and work is expected to go ahead at a rapid pace unless inclement weather halts operations.

Tentative plans call for starting of work on the Arthur plant at an early date. Original plans called for work to start at the Arthur school earlier but it is located on a dirt road and the contractor found it difficult to haul materials and make other preparations for actual construction work.

The project on the various county schools is being carried on under a PWA grant of 45 per cent of the total cost. The county is providing the remaining 55 per cent. The total cost of the project will amount to approximately $225,000.

Rise in Tar River Here And Tarboro Predicted Thurs'day

Third Rise for Streams in Eastern North Carolina is Predicted by Weather Bureau Head

Raleigh, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A third rise, or at least a prolonged flood from the second rise, was forecast for Eastern North Carolina streams today as rains fell generally in the state.

Lee A. Denson, in charge of the U. S. weather bureau here, said the rains forecast for today and tomorrow would cause all streams to at least maintain high levels caused by former rains over the week-end but hardly cause rises above the stages reached when melting snow and ice flooded the courses last week.

No material flood damage had been reported. The Cape Fear at Fayetteville stood at 41 feet this morning, a rise of one and a half foot since yesterday but four feet below the level.

The politically weatherwise at Washington are bracing themselves against the storm. Goggle-eyed onlookers are rushing for seats down front. Watching the ominous scene from the White House windows, FDR long ago informed confidants that he was going to get "tough." His motives are personal and political. He is fighting mad at old friends who sneer at his policies; Liberty Leaguers head the roll of foes. He is sincerely and wrathfully sore at bankers, business men and manufacturers for their call-a-halt attitude, and dubs them "ingrates." The famous "breathing spell" will get no second wind through his help. Some advisers dread that he is tossing away any chance of capturing important eastern and middle western states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio. He doesn't agree. PARLEY HELD DISCUSS AAA DESTRUCTION

Roosevelt Calls Wallace For Luncheon Conference

NO HINTS MADE REGARDING PLAN

Condemnations of Supreme Court Decision Continue to be Heard at Capital

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—New Deal leaders speeded efforts today to find a new farm program.

The house agricultural committee summoned to an unexpected meet by Chairman Jones (D. Tex.)—one of those who has conferred with Mr. Roosevelt—directed the drafting of five tentative plans for its consideration. They were:

- 1—The domestic allotment plan.
2—The export debenture proposal.
3—An appropriation to various states on conditions that such states establish an adjustment program similar to AAA.
4—Appropriations for a land leasing program.
5—Conditional appropriations to individual farmers to comply with the conditions.

Washington, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt summoned Secretary Wallace for a luncheon talk today as he resumed a study of what the New Deal should do about AAA's destruction.

There was no outward hint of what the government plans about farm relief. Over a period of time, however, there was evidence administration leaders hoped the nation will reject the constitutional view of the court majority and in effect follow the course upheld by the minority.

This became increasingly clear today as Roosevelt administration officials from the White House down emphasized again and again that the justices handed down two opinions in the case that wrecked AAA. Already Secretary Wallace, author of the phrase "America must choose" has appealed to every farmer in the country to study both opinions.

Condemnation of the majority decision continued to be heard from some Democrats in Congress. Senator Black (D.-Ala.) said the court has "thrown away the charts" and that the country now is not ruled by laws but by men—five being enough to rule 120,000,000 people.

Whether the New Deal strategy would involve a drive for constitutional amendments remained undecided. President Roosevelt was silent on this and most AAA questions at his press conference last night.

Eagerly New Deal dealers watched reaction in farm areas. They found it mixed. For exchange Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the decision would plunge agriculture into "ruinous conditions" unless a quick remedy was found, but Charles W. Burkett, Vice President of the farmers independent council, hailed the decision as a blow to "bureaucracy and regimentation."

Pitt Health Office Will Be Removed to Tucker Home

Home Demonstration Offices Also To Be Located in Building Purchased Recently by County

Plans are being made to move the County health offices and those of the home demonstration agent to the old Tucker residence on Third street at an early date.

J. H. Coward, county auditor, said today he expected the moving to be completed about the 15th of this month. Arrangements call for the location of the two offices on the second story of the building.

The first floor of the building, purchased in December by the county, is occupied by the county farm agent, the assistant agent and all Agricultural Adjustment administration activities.

No definite announcement has been made as to what will be located in the vacated offices, but plans for transferring the county Alcohol Beverage Control board to the offices now occupied by the health department are being considered.

Drive carefully and save lives

Make your plans now to attend the President's Birthday Ball here January 30. The proceeds from the sale of tickets for the ball will be used to aid those who suffer from infantile paralysis.

The National Democratic Organization needs the support of every Democrat. There will be no Jackson Day dinner here but those who wish to aid the national cause may do so by purchasing the dinner tickets for the One Dollar that will be forwarded to the national organization.

Hundreds of children of this city attend school daily at the training school at the college and it seems to us that it is about time somebody was doing something to improve the drive in front of the building so that the school will be more accessible. The property of course belongs to the state but if the college has no funds for the work then certainly the city should lend its aid in seeing to it that this drive is improved.

NEVER MIND THE LADY

by David Garth

SYNOPSIS: Allaire West suddenly has deserted the gay life her parents lead, and George Fox, who would very much like to be Allaire's fiance, and Anne, who would like to be Allaire's wife, are both in a state of confusion.

Chapter 38 DISAGREEMENT "SURE I like it, but what are you doing down here?" Willett answered. "Fox with you or something?"

"No," Allaire said, forcing a smile. "George isn't here." "You didn't come down alone?" "All alone, Terry."

"I don't get it. What made you pick this jumping-off place for a sight-seeing trip?" "It isn't a sight-seeing trip." Her voice was low. "I came down because I—I wanted to be with you, and I was afraid you might not come back for a long time, if ever, and, Terry, life didn't seem to mean a thing without you—"

There it was, a girl showing her heart. That same girl whom George Fox had once seen gently probe the splintered leg of a beautiful quivering thoroughbred and sigh as if a loved child were dying. A girl putting all her chips on the turn of a wheel.

Terry could only look at her. Initiative and action—those qualities had always been hers and he'd loved them in her. And she'd followed him down here?

This girl of private cars, and stone mansions, and silver evening gowns; this girl in a town like Providence. It was impossible. She didn't know what she was getting into.

Even as he recognized those qualities of initiative and action, something turned him—something whispering—something sat on his shoulder and yelled it his ear—stay hard, the soft, stumbling, stay hard, no good can come of this to either.

Retreat: Mussolini's Ethiopian campaign has bogged down more severely than II Duce expected. Confidential advisers of French governments are beginning to reach Washington from sources which cannot be divulged.

Amelia Earhart, when she faces her audience at East Carolina Teachers College on next Wednesday night, January 15, will not only thrill her listeners as she tells them the dramatic story of her "Aviation Adventures", but she will delight them with the bits of whimsical humor and the little sidelight she throws in by the wayside. She is an accomplished speaker and has the reputation of winning not only the admiration of her audiences but their warm affection also.

The slim, tousle-haired woman, whose picture is familiar to all, is in private life, Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, the wife of a noted New York publisher and author, who has himself been a flyer, but to the public she will always be "Amelia Earhart." She is a woman of grace and charm and of keen intelligence and modesty.

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Jan. 8.—All motor truck operators in North Carolina who are classified as common carriers and thus hauling freight or other commodities for a charge, are urged to secure application blanks at once in order to secure their certificates and permits from the Federal government before February 12, which is the deadline after which no truck owners may secure these permits, according to word from the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington.

Application blanks may be obtained either from the motor carrier division of the State Utilities Commission here, from the North Carolina Truck Owners Association, with office here in Raleigh, or from the Interstate Commerce Commission, Bureau of Motor Carriers, Washington, D. C.

In order to assist the various motor carriers in filling out their applications and to better explain the new Federal law which requires all such carriers to register with the ICC in Washington, it will send a special representative to the state. This representative will be Mr. B. Fridson. He will be in Greensboro at the O'Henry hotel January 10 and 11, in Winston-Salem at the Robert E. Lee hotel January 16 and 17. Municipal Officers Called for Meeting in Kinston Jan. 16

Officials From 31 Cities and Towns, Including Those in Pitt, Asked to Attend Regional Session

Kinston, Jan. 8.—The City of Kinston will be host to a regional meeting of municipal officials from 31 cities and towns on Thursday evening, January 16, it was announced here today by Mayor D. F. Wooten of Kinston.

This meeting, which is one of a series that is being held throughout the state under the auspices of the North Carolina League of Municipalities, will be a round-table discussion following a dinner at the Hotel Kinston. All officials of the municipalities in Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Duplin, Greene, Hyde, Jones, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico, Pitt and Wayne counties have been invited to attend.

Mayor Wooten explained that the primary purpose of the meeting is to have the attending officials become better acquainted with each other and with different problems confronting the cities and towns represented. The discussion will be used as a basis for a future municipal legislative program, the principal topics to include problems of finance, tax collection, unemployment relief and legislation. No lengthy speeches are planned, but an interchange of ideas and experiences by the attending officials will occupy most of the time.

Mayor Wooten and Arch T. Allen, Jr., Field Consultant of the League Municipalities, have been working on arrangements for the meeting.

Black-Draughts Good Reputation

The confidence people have in Black-Draught, built up from its factory use so many years, is shown in its being handed on from one generation to another. It must be good to have such a strong following.

Here is a typical reference to Black-Draught by a satisfied user: "We have used Black-Draught for twenty years," writes Mr. Fred Richardson, of Hartshorne, Okla. "My mother has used it for fifty years. It is the best medicine I know anything about. I take it for scur stomach and constipation, or when I feel sluggish and bad. Black-Draught is splendid to regulate the bowels, cleansing them of waste matter, ridding them of constipation. I expect to use it twenty-five more years if I live and it gives satisfaction as it has always given."

Begining January 1st
We were compelled to go on a more Cash Basis, and when our statement is presented at the first of each month, we shall expect it paid, and if not paid by the 10th we will not be in position to extend further credit.

MANY SEEKING AUTO PERMITS

With 615,000 Drivers' Licenses Out, More Applying

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh, Jan. 8.—Between 615,000 and 620,000 drivers' licenses have already been issued to applicants over the state, while additional applications for drivers' and chauffeurs' permits are continuing at the rate of from 500 to 700 a day, Director Arthur Fulk of the Highway Safety Division of the State Department of Revenue said today.

Since November 1, the applications for drivers' licenses have been accompanied with $1, while the chauffeurs' permits have cost $2 from the start.

Director Fulk estimates that there are at least 750,000 persons who will eventually secure drivers' licenses, perhaps even more, since there are more than 500,000 registered automobiles and trucks in the state. When the highway patrol actually starts to check up on the holders of drivers' licenses, it is expected that the number of new applications each day will become even larger. So far the patrol has not made any campaign for the enforcement of the drivers' license law, other than to arrest drunken drivers, reckless drivers and others violating the law. For whenever any motorist is now arrested for any violation of the motor vehicle or highway laws, patrolmen always ask for their drivers' license and have the power to suspend it for some violations.

The motorists of the state have cooperated splendidly in getting their drivers' licenses and we would have gotten their permits back to them much sooner if we had not been delayed in getting our equipment," Fulk said.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 license applications have been received which were improperly filled out, with the result that much delay has ensued in getting these applications corrected. In some cases it has been impossible to find out the names of the persons submitting these applications, either because writing was not decipherable or because parts of names were omitted. But every effort is being made to return these applications and get them properly filled out, so that the licenses can be sent to the applicants.

TRIBUTE PAID TO J. B. SPILMAN

the students of the passing of their friend at the moment when all were awakening to the joy of Christmas morning.

Dr. Meadows is the only one now left of a group of eight men on the staff who for years would gather together and work or for social intercourse. He spoke touchingly when he expressed the belief that Mr. Spilman had gone to join the others; President Wright, Messrs. Austen, Wilson, Underwood, Ragsdale, and Dr. Laughinghouse.

In closing, he gave these items that appeared on the balance sheet: hard work, leading to success; suffering out of which grows sympathy; long hours of study which led to wisdom. His final admonition to the students was that they should balance their books in the proper manner so that they, too, as Mr. Spilman, when they pass into the great beyond, may have their books approved.

The following tribute to J. B. Spilman from his Colleagues, the staff of East Carolina Teachers College, was spread on their minutes at a meeting held last night.

"We, the members of the staff of East Carolina Teachers College, wish to express our appreciation of the life, character, and personality of our late colleague, J. B. Spilman, our just pride in his invaluable service as treasurer of the College for twenty-four years, and the deep sense of loss we feel in his death.

"Integrity of character, a strong sense of justice, ability to judge people based on understanding of human nature, staunch loyalty to principles and institutions as well as to people he found worthy, were qualities he possessed that made him a valuable officer of the Col-

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The stock market settled today into quiet strength after extremely active trading in early dealings.

For several hours the ticker tape fell behind. But some of the most active previous prices were merely holding early advances.

Rails, food shares, oils and utilities showed the most general firmness, but some of the widest gains were in industries.

Utilities continued to attract interest in anticipation of the coming decision of the Supreme Court, of condition of TVA and Alabama power case.

New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady seven to 11 points on higher Liverpool cables and buying.

The opening advance met some southern selling and scattered liquidation which eased prices a few points. March reacted to 11.18 while October declined to 10.15, leaving active months four to five net higher at the end of the first hour.

The market was quiet after the loss of Liverpool shot out after buying. At midday March was around 11.19 and October 10.20 with the market six to 10 points higher except for January which was 19 points higher at 11.65.

10. Committees at Work.

The most important congressional committees are those on finance appropriations and foreign relations in the senate; in the house those on ways and means, appropriations and rules.

All bills relating to the appropriation of money originate by custom in the house. All revenue bills by law are framed in the house ways and means committee. The senate finance committee corresponds to ways and means in the house.

The house committee on rules dictates the procedure on proposed legislation. The senate foreign relations committee handles treaties and all questions affecting the nation's foreign policy.

There are 33 standing committees in the senate and six others appointed for specific purposes. Standing committees in the house number 47 and special ones three.

The house has 10 committees designated as principal or exclusive committees in that a member of the majority party cannot serve on more than one committee.

The committees meet regularly or on call of the chairman to consider the bills that have been referred to them. Sometimes long hearings are held on the more important bills, with those interested appearing to express their views.

The committee then considers the bill and may report it out with or without amendments. Also it may be pigeon-holed.

Sometimes a committee takes up
