

THE WEATHER

Occasional rains tonight and Saturday. Somewhat warmer tonight. Colder in west and central portion Saturday afternoon.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

TRUTH IN PREFERENCE TO FICTION

NEWS FOR THE READER

RESULTS FOR THE ADVERTISER

VOL. 99 NO. 33

United Wire

GREENVILLE, N. C. FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 17, 1936.

Associated Press

Price: Five Cents

Virginia Senator Slings Coward at Degraders of Former President Wilson

Senator Nye Repeats Charge Wilson 'Falsified' ALSO ANSWERS SEN. CONNALLY

Texas Senator Keeps Seat and Listens Gravely as Sen. Nye Refers to Him

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A cry of "coward" was flung today by Senator Glass (D.-Va.) at "any man who degrades the character and integrity of Woodrow Wilson," Chairman Nye of the Senate military committee, had just repeated the charge that Wilson "falsified" the records of the World War.

"If it were permitted under the Senate rules to say that any man who degrades the character of Woodrow Wilson is a coward I would say it," he declared.

Defending his contention that the war-time president "falsified" by saying he did not know until after the war of secret allies treaties for the distribution of European territory, Nye earlier had clashed bitterly with Senator Connally (D.-Texas).

In defending his charge that Wilson "falsified" the records of the World War, Senator Nye characterized as a "flow of brilliant gutter-English" the attack made on him yesterday by Senator Connally.

Connally had accused the North Dakota, chairman of the Senate military committee, of "insulting" Wilson's memory without any just cause.

Taking the floor before one of the largest galleries of the Senate, the youthful military investigator asserted "He had expected, early in the concentration of efforts to end the committee's work since it had dealt with gun makers, poison gas dealers, shipbuilders" and others with "large influence."

Connally kept to his chair listening gravely most of the time, but occasionally grinning as he heard Nye refer to his speech.

Repeating his contention that Wilson and his secretary of state "falsified" Nye held up private papers of Wilson's secretary which he said he obtained from the congressional library on the promise they would not be made public.

"I will not betray that confidence" he said, but he passed the papers around to the senators.

"After the senator from Texas reads that, if he can declare Wilson's secretary did not falsify, I fail utterly to understand what it will take in the nature of proofs," Nye said.

SENATOR SAYS BONUS TO PASS

Sen. Harrison Says Payment Is Certain

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Opening Senate debate on the baby bond bonus payment bill today, Senator Harrison (D.-Miss.) declared flatly the measure would become law whether or not President Roosevelt signed it.

"Whether this bill is signed by the President or not," the finance committee chairman asserted as crowded galleries looked on, "it will become law because it is the best way out of the situation and because it is lighter and easier on the government."

Harrison, one of the bill authors, was questioned repeatedly by opposition as to why he was supporting full payment of the soldiers' bonus now as against his former position.

"I am not embarrassed," he said, "I have not believed these certificates have been paid until due in 1945 but a great many people whether because of propaganda or a change of opinion believe this matter should be gotten out of the way."

A 15 per cent increase in retail business was registered in Birmingham, Ala., during 1935.

FDR CONFIDENT OF FARM PLAN

President Says New Proposed Program Satisfactory

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Confidence that the new farm plan proposed under the soil erosion and conservation law would carry out the purpose of the dead AAA and bring about what he considers a well rounded agricultural development of the nation, was expressed today by President Roosevelt. The executive discussed the agricultural problem at his press conference after stipulating that he was not replying to the farm address last night by former president Herbert Hoover. He explained he had not had an opportunity to read Hoover's speech.

There was an intimation that new taxes might be necessary to meet the program as a substitute for the old processing levies, killed by the Supreme court. The president said, however, he was not ready to discuss that phase.

Mr. Roosevelt said slight amendments to the existing soil erosion and conservation act will be necessary. He reserved any estimate on the amount of money which would be required by the government to lease land from farmers under the proposed plan.

Some congressional leaders who attended yesterday's White House farm conference had mentioned $300,000,000 to $400,000,000, as necessary for carrying out the program in 1936.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that soil erosion constitute not only actual washing away of soil into rivers, but also the use of chemicals of the soil from planting the same crop.

Asked if this interpretation did not bring every farmer of the country under scope of the erosion law the president said he thought it did.

He explained the existing machinery, including county agents, probably would be employed in carrying out the purpose of the new program.

Saying the undertaking under soil erosion constitutes no change in the administration's farm relief efforts, the President recalled a statement he made last October 25. From it he read to a crowded press conference to a "long time more permanent plan for American agriculture."

GREAT POWERS AGREE ON PLAN

Four Big Naval Countries Draft New Agreement

London, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The delegation of four great sea powers started today drafting an agreement for an exchange of fleet building information designed to prevent an arms race despite Japan's withdrawal from the international naval conference.

Authoritative sources said they understood the American and British delegates were making immediate new surveys of their strategic position in the Pacific to determine what steps should be taken independently on the question of possible fortification of their possessions there.

A feature of the information exchange agreement was an "escape clause" to permit individual steps against a sudden move by any power such as Japan not having entered into the agreement.

Should a non-signer power build a new type of ship the agreement could be set aside.

None of the delegates now representing the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy in efforts to maintain some sort of fleet restrictions to replace the London naval limitations expiring at the end of this year, believed the new agreement would be very expensive.

They felt, however, that they had "Japan in a corner" as one delegate described it.

Pecan trees should be spaced 60 feet apart each way.

CHAIR NOT TO CLAIM HAUPTMANN TONIGHT

His life spared for the present by a 30-day reprieve granted by Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, Bruno Richard Hauptmann (right) will not be electrocuted in the electric chair (left) tonight at 8 o'clock, as originally scheduled for the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. (Associated Press Photo).

Pitt County Farm Group Seeks Prompt Farm Laws

Suggests Counties Send Delegations to Washington

WRITES LETTERS MANY LEADERS

Tentative Dates Suggested for Various Counties to Send Representatives

A movement has been started by the Pitt county board of agriculture to secure the cooperation of farm groups in other Eastern North Carolina counties in sending representatives to Washington to encourage the immediate enactment of satisfactory legislation to replace AAA.

J. E. Winslow, chairman of the local board, said the idea of the movement was to encourage the passage at once of some farm program so that farmers may receive the benefits from this year's crops.

Enough time has not elapsed since the letters were mailed for the local board to receive any answers, but it was stated that Martin and Johnston counties already had signified interest in the plan. Johnston county farm leaders promising cooperation.

The letters were mailed to 34 counties and recommended tentative dates for the various counties to send delegations to Washington to press their representatives for prompt action.

While the plans are only tentative, it was explained that one point the delegations would stress was that congressmen wait until later to seek to attach any amendments they might prefer.

The letter points out that if each of the tobacco growing counties in the state were to send a delegation, it would mean that there would be a group in Washington on each day for two or three months. The letter also calls attention to the fact that the plan is only a suggestion and if farm leaders in other counties have any plan in mind, the Pitt county board would be glad to consider such a move.

Mr. Winslow stated in the letter he had been assured the Pitt county farmers would send such a delegation of 2,000 to the national capital.

Attention was called to the representative of the tobacco growers named to represent the growers in the capital. Claude T. Hall of Wooddale was named to the post yesterday by the tobacco growers advisory committee.

It was pointed out this morning that leaders of the various delegations could contact the representative and find out where persuasion was needed next, on those legislators not behind any proposed farm program.

The letters were addressed to the chairman of acreage control committees in Eastern North Carolina. An additional note was sent to the various county agents by E. F. Arnold, Pitt county farm agent, asking that they interest themselves in the move.

In 1900 the buggy manufacturing industry was a billion dollar business.

PLAN PROGRAM FOR DRAINAGE

Seek to Carry Out Numerous Malarial Projects

Negotiations are underway for carrying out more than two score small malarial drainage projects in the county with labor furnished by the National Youth Administration.

According to latest plans, the projects will be carried out with the individuals furnishing supervision and tools, the labor to be furnished by the Federal agency.

The Pitt County Health office has been informed that a certain amount of labor will be provided by the National Youth Administration for this work. Much of the work is expected to be furnished by boys from 16 to 20 years of age, mostly negroes. Another plan discussed is for boys located in CCC camps furnishing the labor. It is further understood the government will not furnish anything except labor, all transportation and other expenses being borne by the project sponsors.

People in the county having small projects of the nature are asked to make their applications with the Health office.

Man Electrocuted At State Prison on Charge Of Murder

Robert Dunlap, Buncombe Negro, Dies in Chair for Poison-Murder of His Sweetheart

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Robert Dunlap, 27 year old Buncombe county negro, was electrocuted here today for the poison murder of his sweetheart.

Dunlap was the first victim in the reconditional death chamber at state's prison.

Gas executions are due to start Friday.

The man was convicted of killing Pauline McMillan by putting poison in sausage she ate. Two other persons also allegedly died from eating the food.

Pine straw should be left beneath trees to protect the soil and supply needed plant food.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News

Huges and Co. The only difference lies in the new warrant for passing out public funds.

Arguing as a lawyer years ago, Mr. Huges told the honorable court that Congress had the authority to tax or borrow "of agricultural development throughout the country in accordance with a systematic and general plan to promote the cultivation of the soil."

(Continued on Page Four)

GOV. HOFFMAN ANSWERS FOES IN STATEMENT

Dr. J. F. Condon Now Sightseeing in Panama Canal Zone

MRS. HAUPTMANN VISITS HUSBAND

Gov. Hoffman Pursues Investigation of Condemned Kidnap-Slayer

Trenton, N. J. Jan. 17.—(AP)—Striking at threats of impeachment Governor Harold G. Hoffman in fighting mood defended his 30-day reprieve of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, today with a bristling retort to his foes.

"If impeachment is the price that must be paid for daring to follow dictates of my conscience, I am ready to pay it the 39 year old Governor said in the longest statement he has issued on the case.

"A good investigation of the Lindbergh case might be a healthy thing," he said.

The Governor's statement, following publication in the Trenton State Gazette and Trenton Evening Times today of editorials entitled: "Impeach Hoffman" came shortly after an exchange of cablegrams between Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Dr. John F. Condon (Falsie) had been made public.

The Attorney General advised Condon that the Governor's sources must be construed as a reflection upon the state of New Jersey and the authorities that investigated the Lindbergh case. Condon offered to return forthright from Cristobal where he arrived today. Wilentz said there was no use of it.

"I am moved by no mauling sentiment in this matter," Governor Hoffman went on. "I am the father of three children. I look upon kidnaping as one of the most dastardly of crimes.

"When Hauptmann was told that his only chance to save his life was to go before the board of pardon, and "say I am guilty," and throw himself upon the mercy of the court he spurned the opportunity.

"I am interested in the preservation that thing we have rather proudly called 'Jersey justice.' A stay of a comparatively few days can not defeat that end."

Trenton, N. J. Jan. 17.—(AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman secretly pursued the investigation which gave him "divers reasons" for reprieving Bruno Richard Hauptmann, while the enigmatic Dr. John F. Condon spent the day sightseeing in the Panama Canal Zone.

The Governor was absent from the capital and his feelings could not be ascertained on Condon's published statement at Cristobal that he did not know if he were to return to the United States.

The reprieve, while legally only for 30 days, but actually giving Hauptmann a lease on life of from two to three months, will give Condon ample time for both sightseeing and questioning by the Governor Hoffman has said he wished to interrogate the "Falsie" of the ransom negotiations. He called his departure "highly significant."

At the state prison death house, Hauptmann slept late and Col. Mark O. Kimberling, the principal keeper waited for the delivery of the reprieve from the Governor's office. He said he expected it in a few hours. The fact that the reprieve was not ready for the Governor's signature yesterday prevented its delivery at that time.

Mrs. Hauptmann and who remained at a hotel with her son after the reprieve was granted, visited her husband at the state prison today.

William Conklin, the Governor's press aide, professed lack of knowledge of the status of the signing of the reprieve.

Funeral Services Held For Ed Langley, 53

Funeral services were conducted for Ed Langley, 53, this afternoon from the home of J. E. Manning, who lives on the Stantonburg road about two miles from Greenville.

Rev. M. A. Woodard, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville, was in charge.

Burial was in the family burying ground near Stokes.

Mr. Langley died last night at Mr. Manning's home, where he had been lying. He was married in Stokes and lived there until about six years ago.

Mr. Langley leaves no immediate survivors, only cousins.

Surviving as active pallbearers were Preston Manning, Raymond Vandelford, Lonnie Stokes, Sam Horne, L. F. Taylor, J. E. Pearce.

Antarctic Fliers Found Alive In Little America After Hope Abandoned

Found Alive

Lincoln Ellsworth (above) was found alive today by the British ship Discovery, 11, after having been missing on antarctic expedition for several weeks. His companion Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, also was found.

SOURCES DENY ITALY CLAIMS

Fascist Contend Complete Victory On Southern Front

(By The Associated Press)

The Fascist command in Africa claimed the slaughter of 4,000 in a general battle on the Southern front, but official Ethiopian sources denied the reports.

Marshall Pietro Badoglio, the Italian commander in chief in Ethiopia, announced the southern engagement ended in "complete victory" and that the troops of Ras Desta Dempu were fleeing along caravan routes to the northwest, pursued by Italians.

In Addis Ababa, however, officials said a major engagement in the area was impossible because of the scattered position of Ras Desta's army.

An Italian plane and its crew of four, which made a forced landing inside the Sudan frontier, have been interned under International regulation, the British foreign office announced in London, the Italian government was notified.

Italy, taking its turn at protests to Geneva, complained of Ethiopian "autrocities" and abuse of the Red Cross symbol in a note to the league of nations.

Nearly 3,000 British troops arrived in Alexandria and were reported unofficially to be en route to the strategic Mersa Matruh base. There were rumors three battalions were moved to Egypt as a precaution against possible trouble in Libya.

Postal Receipts During Last Year Made Wide Gains

Local Postoffice Reports Increase In Business With Total Business of $46,467.58 in 1935

If postal receipts are considered a fair barometer, Greenville experienced much better business last year than in the previous 12 months.

T. T. Hollingsworth, postmaster, announced today that postal receipts for 1935 totalled $46,467.58, as compared with $44,831.09 in 1934 a gain of $1,636.49.

The postmaster also announced that while no definite figures were available, business so far this month has been the best for the period in several years.

The postoffice will remain in the first class division for an additional year as a result of the good showing in receipts last year. In order for a postoffice to remain in first class, receipts must amount to $44,444.

Reach Lincoln Ellsworth and Herbert Hollick-Kenyon

DISCOVERY, II, RESCUES FLIERS

Two Explorers Located After Having to Land When Fuel Exhausted on Flight

London, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A British relief expedition flashed back from the antarctic today word of the rescue of Lincoln Ellsworth, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, long lost explorers, found alive and well in the frozen wastes of Little America.

After piercing the ice locking the bay of Whales, a British loyal ship located the America Ellsworth and the Canadian Mollick-Kenyon safely landed there after having exhausted their fuel on a bold projected flight across the south polar region.

Ellsworth has been taken aboard ship, the director wireless the Colonial office late today. The message said:

"The ship started returned with Ellsworth January 16."

The long silence was due to a damaged radio transmitter, the British government colonial office announced.

A landing party from the Discovery, 11, finally found them comfortably encamped on the face of the great ice barrier.

Not since they took off November 23 from Dundee island, far south of Cape Horn, across the South polar region for the Ross sea south of New Zealand, had any word been received from the daring fliers. Hope for their safety was fading, even abandoned by some.

A terse seven-word message from the matter of the "Discovery," ended this morning the seven-weeks of anxiety.

"Ellsworth and Hollick-Kenyon are both alive and well," said this message to the Colonial office headquarters of the committee directing the Discovery's work.

PLAN COURSES FOR TRAINING

Scout Leadership Instruction to Be Given Here Soon

Dr. E. L. Henderson, District Chairman of Leadership training for the Boy Scouts, announced today that a training opportunity will be open to Scoutmasters, Scouters, and those interested in the Scout work beginning Monday evening January 27 at the Austin building of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College.

There will be courses in First Aid, and crafts. Those completing the First Aid course will be awarded the Red Cross specialization certificate, which is one of the requirements for the Scoutmaster, or Scoutmaster Five Year Key.

There will be no charge for any of the courses given in this training opportunity. Men that are interested in boy development and leadership are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to better fit themselves for an active service for their community.

During 1935 seven different courses were offered in training courses given in different parts of the East Carolina Council. It is hoped that even more than that will be given this year. One of the major objectives for the council for 1936 is "Men of Character Developed and Trained in Leadership."

Treasury Offices To Be Established To Handle Payroll

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—(AP)—U. S. sub-treasury offices for handling WPA payroll will be established in Asheville, Charlotte and Elizabeth City by Feb. 1.

J. W. Revner, disbursing officer here, said the branches would handle payrolls for four of the eight WPA districts in the state. Only payroll checks will be handled by the offices.

Steps looking toward establishment of the branches were taken seven weeks ago when delays in WPA payrolls caused serious protests.

Milk, Will Power Help Wendy Add Weight; Jeanette 'Diets' On Exercise And Singing

The Hollywood parade unrolls and discovers Jeanette MacDonald (left), who finds exercise and singing keep her weight correct; Arline Judge, center, who is picking the right horse these days at the Santa Anita track; and Wendy Barrie, who suggests goat's milk when a few extra pounds are needed.

But it is pointed out that until 1933 all these high schools were supported locally and that they could have been continued as nine months schools ever since if the people in the districts had been willing to vote a supplement to provide for the additional month. So the local governing and taxing authorities are to blame for the failure of the schools to remain on the accredited list and not the state, it is maintained here.

The federal crop reporting service forecasts 25,500,000 boxes of citrus-fruits for Florida's 1935-36 season.

St. Petersburg, Fla., with 73 churches, sometimes is called "the city of churches."

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE
Having qualified as Administrator of the estate of L. C. Arthur, deceased, late of Pitt county, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to present them to the undersigned at Greenville, North Carolina, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D., 1936, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery.
This December 6, 1935.
R. B. ARTHUR, Administrator.
L. C. Arthur Estate.
F. C. Harding, Atty. 12-6 4wks.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION
This is to notify all persons that I have this day qualified as administrator of the estate of J. J. or John J. Smith of Grimesland, N. C., and to give all persons notice that if they have claims against the estate to file them with me or my attorney at the addresses below within 12 months from this date or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to the estate will please make immediate settlement.
This the 24th day of Dec., 1935.
Mrs. Permelia Smith, Administratrix of J. J. Smith Estate, Grimesland, N. C.
Sam O. Worthington, Atty. Greenville, N. C. Dec. 26-17w-6wks.

NOTICE OF ADVERTISEMENT OF SALE OF LAND FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.
North Carolina, Pitt county, Superior Court.
Pitt county, va. Frank Bennett and wife, Mrs. Frank Bennett.
By virtue and in pursuance of a decree of the Superior Court made in the above entitled cause of Nov. 17, 1930, the undersigned, a commissioner appointed for the purposes therein named (it being a suit to foreclose the lien on the hereinafter described land held by the county for the non-payment of taxes) will expose for sale to the highest bidder, at public auction on Monday the 17th day of February, 1936 highest bidder, at public auction at the Court House door in the city for cash, on Tuesday the 21st day of January, 1936, at the court house door in the city of Greenville, North Carolina, at 12 o'clock, M. C., the following lots of land situated in the County of Pitt, State of North Carolina, described as follows:

One certain tract of land lying and being in Chicod township, Pitt county North Carolina, adjoining the lands of Moseley Brothers, Hardee and others, containing 25.50 acres, more or less, and being the same land conveyed by J. J. Perkins to Frank Bennett by deed registered in Book O-16, page 332, of the Pitt County Registry.
This 20th day of December, 1935.
J. B. JAMES, Commissioner.
12 21 17w 4wks

located in Chicod township, on the hardsurface road leading from Greenville to Vanceboro, adjoining the lands of H. S. Worthington and others, containing 14 acres, more or less, and being known as one of the shares of the Mariah Ewell or Hewell land that was allotted to John O. Smith in such division.
This the 16th day of Jan., 1936.
J. B. JAMES, Commissioner.
Jan. 17-17w-4wks.

NOTICE
North Carolina—Pitt County.
In The Superior Court
Beulah Tripp

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND FOR NONPAYMENT OF TAXES
Pitt County -vs.- John O. Smith.
By virtue and in pursuance of a decree of the Superior Court made in the above entitled cause on October 21st, 1929, the undersigned commissioner, appointed for the purposes therein named (it being a suit to foreclose the lien on the hereinafter described land held by the county for the non-payment of taxes) will expose for sale to the highest bidder, at public auction for cash, on Monday the 17th day of February, 1936 the relief demanded in said complaint.

This 16th day of January, 1936.
J. F. HARRINGTON, Clerk Superior Court Pitt County.
Jan. 17-17w-4wks.

SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY
The undersigned Administrators of the estate of W. K. Woolard, deceased, will on Tuesday, the 28th day of January, 1936 expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash, all of the personal property of the late W. K. Woolard, consisting of corn, hay, beans, cotton seed, bean harvesters, tractor, dies, mowing machine, hay baler, transplanter, one Ford Truck, one 1933 Chevrolet Sedan Automobile, cows, hogs, mules, harness, wagons, carts, tobacco trucks and all farming implements of every kind and description; also household and kitchen furniture.
This sale will be held on the premises of the late W. K. Woolard, known as his homeplace where he resided at the time of his death. Said sale will begin at 9 o'clock a. m., on Tuesday, January 28th, 1936 and will continue until all of said personal property which is for sale has been sold.
This the 16th day of Jan., 1936.
J. H. WOOLARD,
W. T. WARREN,
Administrators of the Estate of W. K. Woolard.
Jan. 17-eod-6t.

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Unreel parade: Wendy Barrie's recipe to gain weight quickly: two quarts of goat's milk daily, plus will power where cigarettes are concerned.

And Jeanette MacDonald's for the opposite weight results: none. Donald Loomis, Metro physical director, says Jeanette can eat potatoes at every meal, if she chooses. He is against tabs on potatoes and bread.

"Jeanette MacDonald eats potatoes every day," he says, "and her weight never varies an ounce. Exercise, and the physical effort of singing, make this possible."

Arline Judge is getting a reputation for picking winners at the Santa Anita track—she just picks 'em, that's all, and manages to come out on top—Our informant had no word on how Wesley Rugles, Arline's spouse, fares—

Speaking of Families.

Boris Karloff was the youngest of nine children—Speaking of families, Michael Whalen really has relatives—ten years ago there were 84 first cousins he knew in and around his home town, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—not counting those he knew of but didn't know—

Some use has been found for the Los Angeles river (which nine months a year is a dry ravine) and it proves that movies are resourceful. The stream runs past Universal's back lot. They dammed it, gave it a landscape make-up, and it served as a Sacramento river background for "Sutter's Gold."

The two sharks they need for the prison moat in "Prisoner of Shark Island" will be paid for at 20 cents a pound for fish weighing around 1,000 pounds each—if the schooner captain was successful in his commission to "bring 'em back alive."

Hicough Catalogue
Ernie Alexander, the wobbly-legged movie drunk in "The Black Gang," is cataloguing the varieties of hicoughing—So far he has them listed (with appropriate descriptions like those of Robert Wildhack, the snoring specialist) as follows: plain, molar, silent, motionless and the "Big Bertha"—the last the fust dangerous, seizing its victim after he believes the attack is over—

At last, a real reason for an actor's keeping his home town secret! A young girl who had just won her first "break" requested it.

"You see," she said, "I have about 40 relatives there, all poor. Two-thirds of them work for the railroad, and travel free!"

ROAD PROJECT FORGES AHEAD

Highway Beautification Work in State Approved

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, Jan. 14.—Four new highway beautification projects for North Carolina, aggregating $47,300, have just been approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in Washington. W. Vance Baise, chief engineer of the State Highway and Public Works Commission announced today.

These beautification projects will be carried out under the supervision of F. H. Brant, landscape engineer of the highway commission, with labor employed through the U. S. Reemployment Service, but will be paid for from Federal funds. The Federal law under which both Federal Aid and Emergency are allotted to the state specifies that one per cent of the total must be spent in highway beautification work. Since North Carolina this year has an allotment of $5,800,000 in Federal Aid Funds and $4,720 in emergency aid funds, making a total of $10,520,000 of Federal funds for highway purposes, the state must accordingly expend one per cent of this amount, or $105,000 this year on highway beautification work. Baise pointed out.

The four projects just approved are as follows:

1. Forsyth county, on U. S. Route 421, between Greensboro and Winston-Salem, from the junction of State Route 158 to Kernersville, 6.6 miles, to cost $15,000.
2. Brunswick county, on U. S. 74, extending west from Leland for 7.2 miles, to cost $13,150.
3. Chatham county, on U. S. No. 1, from Haw River to the Wake county line, 4 miles, to cost $8,150.
4. Bertie county, on U. S. 17 from the junction with N. C. 35, a distance of 4.3 miles towards Windsor, to cost $11,000.

All of this beautification work will consist of a flattening of slopes on both sides, planting of shrubbery, selective cutting and thinning of trees along the sides of the roads and the planting of vegetation on the slopes to prevent erosion. This work not only beautifies the roadsides, but greatly helps in the maintenance and reduces the cost of maintenance. Baise pointed out.

Over 11,000 different species of animal inhabit North Carolina.

Braves Brown Bomber

This smile was Charley Retzlaff's confident reply to queries about how he felt regarding his coming bout with Joe Louis, the sensational negro heavyweight, in Chicago January 17. Along with being a fighter, Charley is a North Dakota rancher. (Associated Press Photo)

SCHOOL BODY CHECKS FUNDS

Commission Is Busy Certifying Supplemental Budgets

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, Jan. 17.—The State School Commission is being kept busy right now certifying supplemental budgets for county and city school systems which have already been approved. Executive Secretary Lloyd E. Griffin said today.

He is examining and signing these budgets as rapidly as he can get them out. The total amount approved so far has not yet been calculated, but present indications are that the School Commission has approved approximately $2,000,000 worth of supplemental budgets, which means that the various county, city and town school systems are supplementing the state appropriation of $20,031,000 this year by adding at least $2,000,000 from the city or county funds, much of it raised by supplemental taxes.

These same counties, cities and towns formerly raised between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 a year from local taxation for the support of the schools before the state set up the eight months school term and financed it from state funds, thus abolishing all local property taxes for the support of the schools. Griffin pointed out. Now that economic conditions are improving, there are many city and town school districts, as well as some county systems, amble able to pay supplemental taxes for additional features not included in the state budget or for a twelfth grade or a ninth month. It is agreed here.

Considerable attention has been called to the fact recently that a number of North Carolina high schools were dropped from the accredited list of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, with the implication that the state is to be blamed for this because it has not provided enough funds for these high schools to continue on a nine months term basis.

SECRETS

&

One whiff of its mellow bouquet, one swig of its golden goodness, one drink in which it is mixed—and you'll know why CAPTAIN APPLE JACK APPLE BRANDY is the top drink with thousands. If you haven't tasted it straight, or mixed it in your favorite drink... man alive... you've missed something that makes life more worth living! Sold at State Stores. Hickory Town Distilling Co., Hanover, Pa.

Announcing

NEW CHEVROLET TRUCKS

FOR 1936

New Power... New Economy... New Dependability

NEW PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES

always equalized for quick, unswerving, "straight line" stops

NEW HIGH-COMPRESSION VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE

with increased horsepower, increased torque, greater economy in gas and oil

NEW FULL-TRIMMED DE LUXE CABS

with clear-vision instrument panel

FULL-FLOATING REAR AXLE

with barrel type wheel bearings exclusive to Chevrolet

6% NEW GREATLY REDUCED G. M. A. C. TIME PAYMENT PLAN

The lowest financing cost in G. M. A. C. history. Compare Chevrolet's low delivered prices.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

White Chevrolet Company, Inc.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Also B. & W. CHEVROLET COMPANY, FARMVILLE, N. C.

Social and Personal

Mrs. L. E. Ross, Mrs. Claude Christopher, Mrs. Al Hoffman, Mrs. L. B. Tucker and Mrs. Hugh Hughes spent today in Raleigh.

Wayland Hart is at home from Washington, D. C., for the weekend.

Mrs. R. A. Fountain, Mrs. E. A. Fountain, Jr., Mrs. Bruce Bessley, and Mrs. Yelverton of Fountain, were here today.

Mrs. H. H. Duncan went to Richmond, Va., today.

Mrs. Swanson Graves of Washington, spent today with her mother, Mrs. Pattie Forbes.

Mrs. Barr Club Hostess. On Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Fifth street, Mrs. J. S. Barr delightfully entertained members of her bridge club.

Tables were placed in a setting of colorful flowers. At the conclusion of the game Mrs. H. C. Sugg was awarded a piece of brie-a-brac for high score.

The hostess served tempting refreshments.

Troop 30 Boy Scouts. Rev. A. W. Fleischmann will speak to Troop 30 Boy Scouts on the third Scout law, Helpful, this evening at the Rotary Club.

Literature Department. On Tuesday afternoon the Literature Department of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the new year, at the home of Mrs. C. O'H. Horne on Fourth street, with Mrs. Horne and Mrs. J. N. Hart joint hostesses.

After a brief business session, Miss Eunice McGee, in a few well-chosen words, introduced Mrs. M. K. Fort, guest speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Fort presented a charming paper on the subject of Interior Decoration, laying special emphasis upon the leading decorators of our country and, in conclusion, forgetting not to mention our own interior decorator, Miss Lella Higgs, in whom Greenville finds just cause to be proud.

During the social hour which ensued, the hostesses served a tempting ice course.—Reported.

Leave Hospital. Mrs. Lee A. Folger, Jr. and little son have left the hospital and are now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Garrett.

Dinner at College. The custom of having formal dinners at the College at intervals, when the students dress for dinner, and when some special group of students assumes responsibility for the arrangements and decoration of the tables, was established last year and this year the dinners have been on the evenings of the public entertainments.

The Y. W. C. A. sponsored the dinner on Wednesday evening. The committee to arrange the seating was composed of: Misses Margaret Martin, Juanita Davis, and Ruth Wise. Those on the committee in charge of decoration were: Misses Nola Walker, Elen Jenkins, and Elizabeth Copeland.

The table decorations were of green and white, with a white candle in the center of each table with the electric lights turned off, the soft glow was lovely. The new year touch was given by the "36" on the place cards and by the large figures in white arranged in calendar style on the drape. While there were no outside guests, by rearrangement of seating, each table had a guest.

The Hedgerow Players. The Hedgerow Players will give a performance of "The Romantic Age" on the night of January 25 at the College, hence this will be the next attraction on the entertainment program instead of the Sibelius Singers, who will appear on February 21.

A readjustment of dates made it possible to get the Hedgerow Players earlier than the date first arranged.

The Hedgerow Theatre is the largest and most distinguished repertory theatre in America. This is their thirteenth season. Jasper Deter, the founder and director, has had a hand in training some of the great movie stars, among them, Ann Harding.

"The Romantic Age" is a three-act comedy by A. A. Milne.

Winners in Amateur Contest. A large and appreciative audience was present last evening at the Pitt Theatre to hear those taking part in the Sibelius Amateur Hour sponsored by J. O. Clark, agent, and his Sibelius Dealers.

The trio by Misses Helen and Eoline Sawyer and Miss Mary Hoover, boyd won first place. Mrs. Ray Tyson accompanied them. They were awarded ten dollars in cash and they will appear as guest artists on the stage at the Pitt Theatre on Wednesday, January 22nd, with the Major Jones' Amateurs.

James Dudley Simpson, with his black-face act, was given honorable mention.

Others taking part were Miss Sara White Rhyne, whistler; and vocal numbers by Miss Helen Phelps, Miss Iris Hooker, Miss Christine Windley, James Savage and Edward Conway.

Although one of the most pronounced "dry" states, North Carolina sometimes is referred to as "the wine country."

Japan has a COC patterned after the United States Civilian Conservation Corps.

Social Calendar

FRIDAY

6:30 p. m.—The Kiwanis Club will meet in the Woman's Club building.

7:30 p. m.—The Young People and Intermediate groups of Eighth Street Christian Church will meet in the church.

Mrs. Warren Bridge Hostess.

Mrs. E. S. Warren was gracious hostess at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on East Fifth street. Trailing ivy and cut flowers made an attractive background for the bridge tables.

A delectable salad course was served following the game.

For high score Mrs. Frank Park was awarded a box of powder. Mrs. E. W. Myers of New York, was remembered with bridge cards, and Mrs. Samuels of Lexington, Ky., with a box of stationery.

Mr. Holshieder Improving. Friends of Donald Holshieder will be glad to learn that he is improving, following the amputation of his leg in a Norfolk, Va. hospital.

He makes his home here with his sister, Mrs. G. W. Venters, Jr.

New Chevrolet Truck On Display. The new 1936 Chevrolet trucks, featuring full-floating rear axle, perfected hydraulic brakes, and completely redesigned cab, went on display today at the White Chevrolet Co., Inc.

Increased power, economy and dependability, combined with long life, are embodied in the new models, according to White Chevrolet Co., Inc. The line includes a complete range of body types in the half-ton and ton-and-a-half field, he said. In conjunction with the various kinds of special equipment that is available, they offer a solution of all commercial vehicle needs.

"There is every prospect," said Mr. White, "that the market for trucks in 1936 will be the greatest in history of the country. Economic conditions are improving steadily, as is shown by all available data on industrial payrolls, farm commodity prices, department store and mail order house sales, and bank statistics."

"Into this broadened market Chevrolet is introducing the finest commercial vehicles it has ever built. We have several orders on hand already, and anticipate heavy volume this month. Factory output is up to a point which assures prompt delivery of orders."

New Service Station Opens For Business. P. A. Mixon today announced the completion and formal opening of Mixon's new service station at the corner of Evans and Fourteenth street. The station will handle Shell products and feature one-stop service.

TO STAGE STYLE SHOW AT N. C. STATE COLLEGE. College Station, Raleigh, Jan. 16.—The Ninth annual Style Show and the seventeenth annual Students Textile Exposition sponsored by the textile students of North Carolina State College will be held this year on April 23.

Ten North Carolina Women's colleges have already accepted invitations to participate in the Style Show, and Dr. Thomas Nelson, head of the textile school, stated that other colleges were expected to accept the invitation.

U. N. C. ENGLISH PROFESSORS HONORED AT LANGUAGE MEET. Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. George R. Coffman, head of the University English Department, and Dr. Richmond P. Bond, also of that department, have been elected to high offices in the Modern Language Association of America.

Dr. Coffman was made a member of the Association's Executive Council in which capacity he will serve until December 31, 1939. Dr. Bond who has been secretary of the philosophy and literature of the classical period discussion group, was named chairman of that group.

The Association, whose members number approximately 4,000, will convene in Richmond next winter.

Sequoyah, a Georgia Indian, invented an alphabet of his own although he was unable to read or write.

No Appointment Necessary—We'd Like To Have You Try Our Service!

Shampoo & Wave 25c up
Permanents $2.50-$3.50-$4.50
Graduate Operators—No Students

PERMANENT WAVE SHOP
Five Points—Munford Bldg.
"Look For The Big Sign"

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

WE GUARANTEE WATCH REPAIRING—JEWELRY REPAIRING Engraving—Reasonable Price LAUTARES

Maryland Senator Paints and Writes

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, Jan. 16.—Maryland's slender, ruddy-complexioned young Senator Millard Tydings, until a few weeks ago the senate's most eligible bachelor, was still honeymooning when congress swung into action, but keep an eye on him during this session.

Next to the 78-year-old Carter Glass of Virginia, Tydings is probably the most outspoken Democrat in that body. There are a lot of things about the Roosevelt administration he doesn't like and he says so on the slightest provocation.

He's likely to provide some real fireworks as the session progresses. Quick-tempered, he more than once has looked horns with both his Democratic and Republican colleagues. As a matter of fact, he traces his public career from the day he was made a target for an ink bottle.

In was when he was trying his first case in court. Opposing counsel had charged him with misrepresenting the facts in the case. Tydings' reply so enraged his opponent that he let fly with an ink bottle.

"My political career dates from that incident," he says. "People got the idea they should run me for public office. They've been doing it since."

Popular In Senate. It took Tydings only 11 years to travel the political highway from the Maryland house of delegates to the United States senate. And he took time along the way to rise in private to lieutenant colonel during the World War and win the distinguished service medal as well.

All of this was before he reached 37.

Newly 45, he is one of the most popular men in the senate both among his colleagues and outsiders. In 1932 he served as chairman of the senatorial campaign committee—the year the Democrats captured control of the senate.

Ever since he has borne the sobriquet among the Democrats of "Glad Tydings."

He Paints and Writes. Despite the fact he represents a state adjoining the District of Columbia, thus making him one of the most harassed men in the senate by visiting constituents, he still finds time for other things than senatorial duties.

He is a portrait and landscape painter of real ability. He writes verse, is an amateur playwright and an author of books. At the conclusion of the World War, he wrote a history of the machine gun units in France. During the war he commanded a machine gun battalion which saw heavy fighting.

He was graduated from college as a mechanical engineer and for a while was with the engineering department of a big eastern railroad. Law and politics, however, soon claimed him.

His seat in the senate is in the rear on the Democratic side of the chamber. Most of the time he sits and listens to debates with an air of amused tolerance. When he takes part, however, it is with fire and force.

His curly hair, slender build and ruddy complexion make it easy to pick him out from his more elderly colleagues.

Rural sections still have the edge on cities in pneumonia fatalities, he says, the rate for urban deaths being about 20 per cent greater.

"The outlook," however, he says, "is that this difference may also change in the near future as scientific methods of controlling this disease are more perfectly developed and more extensively utilized."

In Illinois, says Dr. Jirka, there is not any local department organized for rural health service. Thirteen other states, he says, also have taken no definite steps to stamp out disease on the farm.

"Rural areas," he says, "are just as healthful now as they ever were, perhaps more so. The shift in comparative healthfulness has resulted from the fact that cities have been able to take advantage of preventive medicine more quickly and more extensively."

Aiken county, S. C., is one of the leading kaolin (porcelain-clay) production centers in the United States.

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

NEW "LUMINOUS" STRAW SHOWN IN RESORT HATS

Something new under the Florida and California sun is this "luminous" straw with iridescent highlights. Helen Marshall, blond soprano, here wears the original "mother-of-pearl" hat designed by G. Howard Dodge. The rectangular crown also is a new note and the back there are short streamers of straw and shoulder-length streamers of chcolate green rayon ribbon.

of amused tolerance. When he takes part, however, it is with fire and force.

His curly hair, slender build and ruddy complexion make it easy to pick him out from his more elderly colleagues.

Rural sections still have the edge on cities in pneumonia fatalities, he says, the rate for urban deaths being about 20 per cent greater.

"The outlook," however, he says, "is that this difference may also change in the near future as scientific methods of controlling this disease are more perfectly developed and more extensively utilized."

In Illinois, says Dr. Jirka, there is not any local department organized for rural health service. Thirteen other states, he says, also have taken no definite steps to stamp out disease on the farm.

"Rural areas," he says, "are just as healthful now as they ever were, perhaps more so. The shift in comparative healthfulness has resulted from the fact that cities have been able to take advantage of preventive medicine more quickly and more extensively."

Aiken county, S. C., is one of the leading kaolin (porcelain-clay) production centers in the United States.

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

is not any local department organized for rural health service. Thirteen other states, he says, also have taken no definite steps to stamp out disease on the farm.

"Rural areas," he says, "are just as healthful now as they ever were, perhaps more so. The shift in comparative healthfulness has resulted from the fact that cities have been able to take advantage of preventive medicine more quickly and more extensively."

Aiken county, S. C., is one of the leading kaolin (porcelain-clay) production centers in the United States.

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is to find if there is any correlation between the depression and the number of juvenile criminals. So far, according to Dr. Sanders, the reports show that the years of depression have not affected the children's court records at all. A study of 16,000 decisions handed down by 108 courts has been made.

This report is a follow-up of a book published on juvenile cases since 1919, when the juvenile-case system was established.

SANDERS MAKING FIVE-YEAR STUDY JUVENILE COURT CASES

Chapel Hill, Jan. 16.—Dr. W. B. Sanders, of the University School of Public Administration, is preparing a study of juvenile court cases covering the past five years, which will be published by the North Carolina State Board of Charities in the early spring.

The purpose of the survey is

The Daily Reflector

Every Afternoon Except Sunday Established 1882

DAVID J. WHICHARD, Jr. Owner and Publisher

TELEPHONE 36

Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C. as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

(Payable in Advance) One year $5.00 Six months $2.50 Three months $1.25 One month .50

Subscription will be discontinued at expiration of time paid.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All right of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES: The F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Kansas City.

HOW LONG.

It is an important question that Carl Goerch asks in this week's issue of the State Magazine, in connection with the slot machine industry in this state when he asks "How long are they going to be allowed to get away with it?"

The editorial in the State says:

One of the most powerful influences in North Carolina is that which is represented by the slot-machine industry.

Despite efforts on the part of many leading citizens who realize the harm done by these contraptions, they are still allowed to operate in many cities throughout North Carolina.

During the last session of the legislature the lever-type machine was definitely outlawed. But the manufacturers managed to slip in another kind of machine—the kind in which balls fall into slots or pockets. They're supposed to be games of skill but they're used for gambling practically exclusively.

Not only that but the old lever-type is also gradually making its reappearance again.

If these machines are allowed to operate in your city, it is prima facie evidence of one of two things: either some of your city officials have been bribed, or else they are deliberately closing their eyes to what's going on. In other words, they're either crooked or inefficient.

The slot-machine industry has defied the better element of citizenship in North Carolina. It has defied our legislators and the influence of our churches, as well as that of other institutions.

How long are they going to be allowed to get away with it?

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Continued from Page One

Son Mortimer of Chairman Anning Prall eavesdropped unwittingly as certain radio lawyers bragged that they could "fix" at least two members for $25,000 — too quiet, some commissioners think—disclosed that the lawyers had been indulging in what is charitably termed "alcoholic exaggeration." But GOP members of Congress got word of the inner commotion and set themselves for a Congressional inquiry.

To forestall partisan flare-backs on Capitol Hill, the radio czars propose to award themselves another clean bill of health.

The Republicans smell a radio rat. They charge that GOP orators have been ruled off the air for political reasons. They think that Democratic stations have been favored in the granting of license. In their opinion, the big chains have been unduly generous to the party in power. With radio scheduled to headline 1936 oratory, GOP-ers are conspiring to scare up a pre-campaign scandal.

SUSPICIOUS: Political mathematicians figure that President Roosevelt will lose to his unknown Republican opponent by 9,600,000 votes if the Literary Digest canvass counts noses correctly.

The theoretical majority for some lucky fellow is based on a total presidential vote of 41,000,000. On the basis of the Digest poll that breaks down so as to give 24,390,000 votes to the GOP nominee, 15,200,000 to Mr. Roosevelt and 1,000,000 to all minority candidates, Republican dopsters privately admit that such a mathematical conclusion is too good to be true. It inclines them to share Democratic suspicions that for the first time the poll is producing a lop-sided result.

The normal total of floating voters—No-Man's-Landers—is approximately 8,000,000. But if the Digest forecasting is authentic, it means that almost 6,000,000 Rooseveltites in 1932, together with about 2,000,000 new voters, will prefer somebody

THE BOOMERANG CLUE BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS: Bobby Jones, fourth son of the Vicar of Marshfield, is playing golf with Dr. Thomas. Bobby's ball drops into the chasm he should have shot over and in the bottom of the chasm he and the doctor find a dying man—tanned, handsome, about forty, Bobby stops with the man while the doctor goes for help. But the man dies mysteriously. Bobby didn't shoot at Evans! And Bobby is taking out the man's handkerchief to wipe his face with it. A photograph of the face in the paper strikes him strangely.

Chapter Two THE STANGER

But it was the arresting quality of the face Bobby saw in the photograph rather than the beauty itself that seized upon the boy's imagination. It was the kind of face he thought, too easy to forget.

Gently and reverently he replaced the photograph in the pocket from which it had come. Then he sat down again to await the doctor's return.

The time passed very slowly—or at least so it seemed to the waiting boy. Also he had just remembered something he had promised his father to play the organ at the evening service at six o'clock, and it was now ten minutes to six.

been an accident? Can I help in any way?"

He was a tall man with a pleasant tenor voice. Bobby could not see him very clearly, for it was now fast growing dusk.

He explained what had happened, while the stranger made abashed comments.

"There's nothing I can do," he asked. "Get help or anything?" Bobby explained that help was on the way and asked if the other could see any signs of its arriving.

"There's nothing at present," "You see," went on Bobby "I've got an appointment at six."

"And you don't like to leave—" "No, I don't quite," said Bobby "I mean, the poor chap's dead and all that, and of course, one can't do anything, but all the same—"

He paused, finding it, as usual, difficult to put confused emotions into words.

The other, however, seemed to understand. "I know," he said "Look here, I'll come down that is, if I can see my way—and I'll stay till these fellows arrive."

"Oh! would you?" said Bobby gratefully. "You see, it's my father. He's not a bad sort really, and things upset him. Can you see your way? A bit more to the left now to the right—that's it. It's not really difficult!"

Bobby replaces the photograph in the man's pocket.

Naturally his father would understand the circumstances, but all the same he wished that he had remembered to send a message by the Doctor. The Rev. Thomas Jones was a man of extremely nervous temperament. He was a fussy, and when he fussed, his digestive apparatus collapsed and he suffered agonizing pain.

Bobby thought he considered his father a nuisance, was nevertheless extremely fond of him. The Rev. Thomas, on the other hand, considered his fourth son a pitiful young ass, and with less tolerance than Bobby sought to effect improvement in the young man.

"The poor old gov'nor," thought Bobby. "He'll be ramping up and down. He won't know whether to start the service or not. He'll work himself up till he gets that pain in the tummy, and then, he won't be able to eat his supper."

"He won't have the sense to realize that I wouldn't let him down unless it were quite unavoidable. And anyhow, what does it matter?"

"But he'll never see it that way. Nobody over fifty has got any sense—they worry themselves to death about little things that don't matter. They've been brought up all wrong, I suppose, and now they can't help themselves. Poor old Dad, he's got less sense than a chicken!"

HE sat there thinking of his father with mingled affection and exasperation. His life at home seemed to him to be one long sacrifice to his father's peculiar ideas.

To Mr. Jones, the same life seemed to be one long sacrifice on his part, ill-understood or appreciated by the younger generation. So many ideas on the same subject, doctor.

What an age the Doctor was! Surely he might have been back by this time?

Bobby got up and stamped his feet moodily. At that moment he heard something above him and looked up, thankful that help was at hand and that his own services were no longer needed.

But it was not the Doctor. It was a man in plus-fours whom Bobby did not know.

"I say," said the newcomer, "Is anything the matter? Has there been an accident? Can I help in any way?"

He was a tall man with a pleasant tenor voice. Bobby could not see him very clearly, for it was now fast growing dusk.

He explained what had happened, while the stranger made abashed comments.

"There's nothing I can do," he asked. "Get help or anything?" Bobby explained that help was on the way and asked if the other could see any signs of its arriving.

"There's nothing at present," "You see," went on Bobby "I've got an appointment at six."

"And you don't like to leave—" "No, I don't quite," said Bobby "I mean, the poor chap's dead and all that, and of course, one can't do anything, but all the same—"

He paused, finding it, as usual, difficult to put confused emotions into words.

The other, however, seemed to understand. "I know," he said "Look here, I'll come down that is, if I can see my way—and I'll stay till these fellows arrive."

"Oh! would you?" said Bobby gratefully. "You see, it's my father. He's not a bad sort really, and things upset him. Can you see your way? A bit more to the left now to the right—that's it. It's not really difficult!"

Naturally his father would understand the circumstances, but all the same he wished that he had remembered to send a message by the Doctor. The Rev. Thomas Jones was a man of extremely nervous temperament. He was a fussy, and when he fussed, his digestive apparatus collapsed and he suffered agonizing pain.

Bobby thought he considered his father a nuisance, was nevertheless extremely fond of him. The Rev. Thomas, on the other hand, considered his fourth son a pitiful young ass, and with less tolerance than Bobby sought to effect improvement in the young man.

"The poor old gov'nor," thought Bobby. "He'll be ramping up and down. He won't know whether to start the service or not. He'll work himself up till he gets that pain in the tummy, and then, he won't be able to eat his supper."

"He won't have the sense to realize that I wouldn't let him down unless it were quite unavoidable. And anyhow, what does it matter?"

"But he'll never see it that way. Nobody over fifty has got any sense—they worry themselves to death about little things that don't matter. They've been brought up all wrong, I suppose, and now they can't help themselves. Poor old Dad, he's got less sense than a chicken!"

HE sat there thinking of his father with mingled affection and exasperation. His life at home seemed to him to be one long sacrifice to his father's peculiar ideas.

To Mr. Jones, the same life seemed to be one long sacrifice on his part, ill-understood or appreciated by the younger generation. So many ideas on the same subject, doctor.

What an age the Doctor was! Surely he might have been back by this time?

Bobby got up and stamped his feet moodily. At that moment he heard something above him and looked up, thankful that help was at hand and that his own services were no longer needed.

But it was not the Doctor. It was a man in plus-fours whom Bobby did not know.

"I say," said the newcomer, "Is anything the matter? Has there been an accident? Can I help in any way?"

He was a tall man with a pleasant tenor voice. Bobby could not see him very clearly, for it was now fast growing dusk.

He explained what had happened, while the stranger made abashed comments.

"There's nothing I can do," he asked. "Get help or anything?" Bobby explained that help was on the way and asked if the other could see any signs of its arriving.

"There's nothing at present," "You see," went on Bobby "I've got an appointment at six."

"And you don't like to leave—" "No, I don't quite," said Bobby "I mean, the poor chap's dead and all that, and of course, one can't do anything, but all the same—"

He paused, finding it, as usual, difficult to put confused emotions into words.

The other, however, seemed to understand. "I know," he said "Look here, I'll come down that is, if I can see my way—and I'll stay till these fellows arrive."

Daily Cross Word Puzzle

ACROSS Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle. 1. Margin 4. Solemn vows 5. Article 12. Poem 13. Go suddenly and swiftly: coolly. 14. Lubricant 15. Fight 17. Cask 18. Frickly seed covering 20. Playing card in certain games 21. Ovale 23. Note of the scale 24. Gives forth 27. Sailor 28. Go by 30. Object of intense devotion 31. Alternative 32. Highest 33. Exist 34. Winglike 37. Fodder 38. Expression of impatience or disgust 39. Symbols 41. Word of refusal 42. Fingering glove 43. Short stop 45. Kitchen utensil 46. Pertaining to vinegar 48. Soft, waxy, silver-white metallic element 51. Play on words 52. Handler of wild animals 54. Devoured 55. Masculine nickname 56. Build 57. Give permission 58. Short stop 59. Down 1. Huge fabulous bird 2. Artificial language 3. One who belongs to a long 4. Ridges of glacial drift 5. Deed 6. As far as 7. Professional tramp 8. Prize in a contest 9. Dry and hot Grid for the Daily Cross Word Puzzle with numbers 1-57 indicating starting positions for words.

are so keen for Alice to win the reportorial bout that they supply her with ideas—and editorial criticism. "I am afraid, Alice dear," said one dowager, "that you are inclined to write over the heads of your readers."

New York By JAMES McMULLIN WARWICK: Arthur H. Vandenberg's stock is rising swiftly in Republican inner circles, New Yorkers in close touch with the Borah boom predict confidently that the Idahoan will step aside at the psychological moment and hand over his delegates to the Michigan Senator.

A friend and supporter describes Borah's attitude this way: "Bill is a realist. He knows his own nomination—if he could get it—would split the party wide open. He also knows he's pretty old for the grind of a nominee's campaign. But he's determined to have a decisive voice in selecting the candidate and he wants to be the real power behind the presidential throne. He would consider that the crowning achievement of his career."

"He figures he can play Warwick at the convention in a way that will stake him a decisive claim for the job of privy counselor number one. He would welcome the post of Secretary of State—as Bryan did in 1913. Meanwhile he will play 'safe' by clinging to his Senate seat. Vandenberg fills his 'liberal' bill better than anyone else in sight."

ACCEPTABLE: Other hidden factors are operating in Vandenberg's favor. Conservative New York leaders are primarily concerned about two things—a united Republican party and a nominee who can be trusted to "behave" if elected.

Advertisement for 666 Colds and Fever. Liquid-Tablets, Salve-Nose Drops in 30 minutes. Includes image of a person and a bottle of medicine.

Advertisement for Hotel Lord Baltimore. Features a picture of the hotel and text: "Your car is taken at the door by an expert garage attendant. Yours is one of 700 comfortable rooms—each with bath and shower, running low water, full length mirror and bed head reading lamp. You're at the center of Baltimore's business and social activities. You enjoy characteristic Maryland cuisine in any of our distinct restaurants—And the rate—only $3.00 single."

second thought. It's all very well to strengthen the arm of a liberal administration—but what would happen when conservatives came back to power? It would be too ironic if the additional authority they had worked to confer on Washington were used to slap them down.

Then you have the South with its ingrained resistance to encroachment on states' rights. That hinders sponsorship of the amendment by the Democratic party. On the other hand, conservatives are not unanimously opposed by any means. Some who have fascist leanings feel that greater federal powers might be just the right medicine in the right hands.

Finally the prohibition specter looms big in the background. With such an amendment it might again be imposed on the country by simple Act of Congress. That gives wet liberals pause. The issue is inevitable—but there will be more talk than action for a long time.

PERVERSION: It's a rare day that the Securities Exchange Commission doesn't come up with a new headache. The latest is a demand from stockholders in several companies to force their corporations to disclose to them details of operation which they claim is essential information in determining whether to hold or sell the stock. The respective companies have refused their direct request.

That's a nasty one. If the Commission refuses to act it will be charged with dereliction of duty. If it tries to act its authority will certainly be challenged in the courts—probably successfully. And the SEC wants no such challenges that it can possibly avoid.

Moreover, how can the Commission tell whether a stockholder's thirst for information is legitimate? If it were possible to compel corporations to divulge business secrets to shareholders they would soon have no secrets left. Competitive firms would only have to buy a few shares to get all the inside dope they wanted. The Commission has no desire to be responsible for any such perversion of the public utility provisions of the law. About all it can do is to look the other way and hope for the best.

NOTICE OF SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION

North Carolina—Pitt County In The Superior Court David Moore -vs- Geneva Moore The defendant, Geneva Moore, will take notice that an action as above entitled has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt County to obtain an absolute divorce from the defendant on the ground of two years separation. And the said defendant will further take notice that she is required to appear in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County on the 6th day of February, 1936, or within thirty days thereafter and answer or demur to the Complaint of the Plaintiff or plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the Complaint.

This the 6th day of Jan., 1936. J. F. Harrington, Clerk Superior Court Pitt County. By E. F. Tucker, D. C. David M. Williford, Attorney for Plaintiff. Jan. 7-17-4w.

NOTICE OF RE-SALE OF LAND BY EXECUTORS

By virtue of the power and authority given and conferred by the last will and testament of the late Elizabeth Tripp of Pitt County, which will has been duly recorded in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, and one sale having been held on the 9th day of December, 1935, and the bid having been raised and a resale ordered, the undersigned will on Saturday, the 11th day of January, 1936 at 12 o'clock noon and before the court house door in Greenville, N. C., expose to public sale the following described tract of land:

Weather Proven USED CARS

Buck the wintry blasts in one of our Weather Proven Used Cars. Dependable—powerful—comfortable. Terms, not "cold" cash. Why walk? Come in!

- CARS 1935 Ford DeLuxe Sedan. Driven 9500 miles. Like new $435 1934 Chevrolet Master Coach New tires, original finish. Perfect $385 1934 Chevrolet Standard Coupe with new oversize tires all around. Runs and looks like a new car $365 1934 Ford DeLuxe Coach. Exceptionally clean and carries an O.K. Tag $350 1933 Chevrolet Master 4-door sedan. Clean inside and out. A real buy at $325 1933 Chevrolet (Master) Coach. This car has been completely checked from stem to stern and very clean inside $295 1933 Chevrolet Master Coupe. This car has been refinished and put in first-class condition and is ready for many miles of satisfactory transportation $295 1932 Chevrolet Sedan that has been owned by a business man here in Greenville as a family car since it was new and is in first-class condition. This car has thousands of miles of good unused transportation $250 1932 Ford "B" Model Coach. In very good condition and very economical to operate $235 1931 Chevrolet Coach. New tires and real transportation cheap $135 1931 Ford Rumble Seat Roadster with '36 license. See this car, for only $ 95 TRUCKS 1934 Chevrolet 3-4-ton Pickup. Refinished and conditioned. A dandy for $350 1933 Chevrolet 11-2 long W. B. Truck. All new tires, newly painted and O. K. $350 1933 Chevrolet Truck in running condition. Long W. B. $300 1933 Dodge Long W. B. Truck with D. Wheels and runs good. Look this one over for $175 1927 Model T. Ford Truck with 1936 license, new tires and runs good $ 45 We also have 50 other cars in all makes and models priced from $25 to $450. Most of these Cars have been re-conditioned and are in First Class condition and carry O.K. Tag. We have the most complete assortment of used cars in Pitt County and they are priced very reasonable. Be sure to look our stock over before you buy.

For easier starting in cold weather let us tune your motor. You'll be surprised the difference it makes! Let US Care for YOUR Car!

Large advertisement for Cobbs Creek Blended Whisky. Features a man holding a cigarette and a bottle of whisky. Text: "See this cigarette? it's MILD - That's what I want in my Whisky! 90 PROOF - yet smooth enough to sip! NOW enjoy in your whisky what you get in your cigarette—mildness! For here's a whisky that doesn't have to be gulped—there isn't a harsh edge in its make-up. It's so smooth you can sip it, yet its 90 proof tells you it's got all the buoyant warmth you want. And, like your cigarette, its enjoyment is inexpensive. For whisky mildness—call for Cobbs Creek! Continental Distilling Corporation, Philadelphia, Pa. America's Taste Sensation! Try it ... MILLIONS SAY COBBS CREEK IS WHAT WE SAY IT IS ... Mild!

BAD DRIVING BIG MENACE

Reckless and Careless Motorists Cause Most Wrecks

Reckless and careless driving continue to be the chief causes of automobile accidents in North Carolina, the accident statistics for December just released by the motor vehicle bureau of the State Department of Revenue show.

Of the 105 fatal and 456 non-fatal accidents in December, in which 115 persons were killed and 722 injured, 90 of the fatal accidents were caused by some form of reckless and careless driving, while 375 of the non-fatal accidents were attributable to the same cause, the figures show.

The same figures include the accidents attributed to drunken driving, given as the cause of 13 fatal and 81 non-fatal accidents.

But excessive speeding alone caused almost twice as many fatal accidents as drunken driving, the figures showing that there were 24 fatal and 56 non-fatal accidents attributed to excessive speed.

Driving on the wrong side of the road was responsible for 24 fatal and 25 non-fatal accidents. Hit-and-run drivers were responsible for 13 fatal and 25 non-fatal crashes, while carelessness or inattention or excessive speed caused drivers to lose control of their cars and drive off the roadway, causing five fatal and 74 non-fatal accidents.

Out-and-out reckless driving was given as the cause of 16 fatal and 89 non-fatal crashes. Only one fatal accident was caused by a driver attempting to pass on a hill or curve, but 14 non-fatal accidents were attributed to this cause.

Falling to give the required hand signals was responsible for one fatal and 16 non-fatal accidents.

Due to the snow and icy streets and highways, there were more skidding accidents in December than in many months with 8 fatal and 74 non-fatal accidents. The reason more of these accidents were not fatal, it was pointed out, was because the roads and streets were slippery and dangerous and the drivers forced to drive at slow speeds.

But even slower speeds and more care could have prevented most of these skidding accidents, it is maintained.

Pedestrians suffered heavily in the accident toll, as usual, with 46 of those killed and 89 of the injured being pedestrians who were struck by cars, the figures show.

The Sportsman

A great, silvery fish leaps skyward, shimmers a moment in the sun glare and returns to battle. To novices having a go at sea angling for the first time, the beauty and thrill of that flash over blue water may make them forget momentarily that on the end of the line is a king of the deep—the tarpon.

There will be newcomers, of course. And by next year these recruits will be returning veterans. There is perhaps no sport in the world that converts on so quickly and completely. Many of these fishermen, old and new at the game, will head for Port Arkansas, Texas, where right now guides are overhauling boats and gear for the 1935 season.

The first time a reel whines with the vicious rush of a big fish there is a new tarpon enthusiast. It is a fight that requires finesse as well as stamina. Imagine a fish weighing 100 pounds or more being brought to boat on an 18-pound test line. The thrills provided are enough to send addicts to the far corners of the earth.

Kayoed By Fish And deep sea fishing on the Gulf coast is such as to cause Dr. Richard L. Sutton, noted sportsman, to write from New Zealand, where he had been lured by Zane Grey's use of the fighting qualities of the antipodal marlin: "Port Arkansas fishing is the best in the world."

To Dr. Sutton must go the distinction of having been knocked out by a fish. It happened last summer and serves to illustrate the power behind a tarpon's leap. When, the big fellow came into the boat, it struck the doctor a blow on the head that smashed his tropical helmet and injured betelbrae in his neck. The doctor has motion pictures of the combat that are most interesting.

But this was not the end of the affair for Dr. Sutton. For the next five months he suffered pains in his neck. Any pressure downward on his head caused the pain to increase. He entered a hospital at Kansas City early in December and for several days remained about with weights attached to his head to relieve the pressure. He still sleeps with a support around his neck.

However, the experience failed to take the edge off the doctor's desire for deep-sea fishing and he is making plans to return to the old battleground next summer. There is something about this fishing that gets into the blood, for Dr. Sutton talks about tarpon angling more than any other sport and he has had a big game in the arctic, Africa and many other places.

Tarpon 'Battle' Plane In the summer of 1934 Pilot Bill Hunt was lifting his flying boat from the calm waters of Neuces Bay. As he cleared the surface silver flashed over his right wing and the ship staggered in flight. Setting

SUNKEN SHIP ENTOMBS CREW

Shortly after this picture was taken by a coast guard plane circling low over the wreckage of the freighter Iowa on Peacock Spit, a new storm hit the north Pacific ocean, stopped patrols from recovering the bodies of the victims, and threatened Oregon coastal towns. The entire crew of 34 perished, and many bodies were believed entombed in the vessel when the Iowa was dashed against by raging ocean storms. (Associated Press Photo) trip in Delaware, the biologist introduced muskrat to his home under the name of "marsh rabbit." He says the results were fine, but he's afraid "marsh rabbit" by any other name might not be welcome at his house.

W. G. Kinsolving, Corpus Christi publisher and sportsman, contends big-game fishing is more hazardous than big-game hunting. Gaffing a tarpon after some 20 minutes of play, he brought it aboard. Once in the boat the fish started the fight all over again. In the struggle the gaff was driven through Kinsolving's hand. Fortunately, the tariff was one of the barbless variety.

Yes, deep-sea fishing presents an element of danger that inland fishing lacks, but the regulars and initiates always go back for more.

Advertisement for Washington Daybook, featuring the title in a stylized font and the name of the publisher, Herbert Plummer.

By HERBERT PLUMMER Washington, Jan. 17—In marked contrast to the beginning of his administration Mr. Roosevelt begins the last year of his first term as President with a notable absence of what has come to be known around Washington as a "No. 2 man of the new deal."

With the possible exception of Prof. Felix Frankfurter, who is said to appear quietly at the White House from time to time to advise with the President, there is no one man who can be singled out at the present as being closest to the President.

Time was in this administration when there were several individuals who seemed to qualify as No. 2 "new dealer."

Early in his administration here were three men in this category. They were Lewis W. Douglas, director of the budget; Louis McHenry Howe and Dr. Raymond Moley.

The hand of these three men was seen in everything of importance. The President rarely began a day without a bedside conference with all three of them or with each individually.

They Come and Go Moley left the administration after his disagreement with Secretary Hull at the London economic conference. Howe was stricken ill and has been absent from active duty since. Douglas was allowed to resign after disagreement over financial policies of the government.

General Hugh Johnson came along next. Because his job as NRA administrator was the biggest job at the time and his authority the greatest, he enjoyed the distinction of being known as the No. 2 man of the administration.

Donald Richberg was hailed in some quarters as the "Assistant President" when the President made him director of the industrial policy committee. His period of fame was comparatively short-lived and today he is back in private life.

Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell often was pictured as No. 2 man of the "new deal," although it is doubtful if he ever merited it. To the conservatives he was the symbol of national regimentation and was both victim and beneficiary of the publicity that brought him. His star descended rapidly.

Jerked From Obscurity Thus they have come and gone, or waxed and waned in power—all of those on whom the President has seemed to bestow greatest and most general authority. Perhaps one of the most striking things of the Roosevelt administration has been the rise and fall of fame brought to its personalities.

Many were jerked from comparative obscurity almost overnight to be extinguished just as suddenly. Apparently most of them have accepted a comfortable anonymity calmly, even gratefully.

Washington—(AP)—The U. S. Biological Survey has an official who'll tell how to make muskrat a part of the family menu—tell anyone, that is, except his own wife. Returning from an inspection

MUSKRAT FINE ON MENU IF CALLED 'MARSH RABBIT'

Washington—(AP)—The U. S. Biological Survey has an official who'll tell how to make muskrat a part of the family menu—tell anyone, that is, except his own wife. Returning from an inspection

Washington—(AP)—The U. S. Biological Survey has an official who'll tell how to make muskrat a part of the family menu—tell anyone, that is, except his own wife. Returning from an inspection

Washington—(AP)—The U. S. Biological Survey has an official who'll tell how to make muskrat a part of the family menu—tell anyone, that is, except his own wife. Returning from an inspection

Washington—(AP)—The U. S. Biological Survey has an official who'll tell how to make muskrat a part of the family menu—tell anyone, that is, except his own wife. Returning from an inspection

Girls Basketball Game Here Tonight

The girls basketball team of the Tarboro High School will meet the Greenville High team in the high school gymnasium here tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

mortgage deed executed by William, Sermons, Jr., and wife, Helen Tucker Sermons, on October 26, 1934, to Belle A. Harris of record in Book F-16 at page 573 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the debt therein secured, and a re-sale having been ordered by the Clerk of the Superior Court, the undersigned mortgage will on Saturday, the 18th day of January, 1936, at 12 o'clock, M.

before the courthouse door in Greenville, N. C., offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real property, to wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Greenville Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, beginning at a maple in the ditch at the J. B. Hardee corner and running with Hardee's line and the Allen heirs' line to the Cherry line, thence with the Cherry line to the Mack McGowan corner, thence with the Mack McGowan line to the Little Run, thence up the run to the Page line, thence with the Page line to the Denton line, thence with the Denton line to the maple at the beginning and containing 54 1-2 acres, more or less.

This the 2nd day of January, 1936.

BELLE A. HARRIS, Mortgagee. HARDING & LEE, ATTYS. 4-36 11 wk 2 (re-sale)

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon us in a Deed of Trust executed by J. H. Edwards

NOTICE OF RE-SALE OF LAND Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain and wife, Annie Edwards, on the 2nd day of February, 1926, and recorded in Book K-15, page 544, we will on Saturday, the 18th day of January, 1936 12 o'clock noon at the courthouse door in Pitt County, Greenville, N. C., sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land, to-wit:

Beginning at the old Mill Run at a stake, a corner with Lot No. 5 of the J. J. Tucker Homeplace Division, running thence N. 24 E. 93 poles to a stake on Mill Rd.; thence with said Mill Rd. N. 38 E. 17 poles to a stake, a corner with Lot No. 7 of the J. J. Tucker Homeplace Division; thence S. 80 E. 140 poles to a stake; thence S. 45 E. 62 poles to a stake on Mill Run; thence up said Mill Run with its various courses as follows: S. 35 W. 17 poles; S. 72 W. 20 poles; S. 65 W. 30 poles; S. 53 W. 35 poles; N. 1 W. 27 poles; N. 68 W. 25 poles; W. 22 poles; S. 80 W. 37 poles; N. 72 W. 20 poles; N. 18 W. 32 poles; N. 83 W. 23 poles; S. 65 W. 25 poles to a stake, the point of beginning, containing 144 acres, more or less, according to survey and plat made by Thomas Cotton, October, 1907. Bounded on the N. by the lands of Ella A. Smith, on the E. by the lands of Ella A. Smith and W. H. Galloway heirs, on the S. by the lands of W. H. Galloway heirs, and on the W. by the lands of Pattie G. Wilson.

This land is sold subject to all unpaid taxes.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of J. H. Edwards and wife, Annie Edwards, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust.

A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale.

This the 6th day of Dec., 1935. Interstate Trustee Corporation, Substituted Trustee. Durham, N. C. Dec. 23-11w-4wk.

Auction Sale Monday January 20, 1936

The following remaining assets of the National Bank of Greenville, consisting of Notes, Judgments, Cash Items and Real Estate, will be sold at Public Auction in front of State Bank Building at 10:00 o'clock A. M., Monday, January 20, 1936. Terms of sale, Cash. Prospective buyers may upon inquiry at State Bank & Trust Co., obtain additional information desired and not given in this advertisement. Any one indebted to the Liquidating Trustees of the National Bank of Greenville will be permitted to make settlement before the day of sale and have their names stricken from future advertisements.

A large table listing various assets for auction, including names of individuals and companies, and their respective values. The table is organized into columns and includes sub-sections for 'NOTES AND JUDGMENTS' and 'CASH ITEMS'. Values range from a few dollars to over 2,000 dollars.

Advertisement for Guaranty Bank & Trust Co. and State Bank & Trust Co. featuring the headline 'Banks To Observe Holiday Monday Jan. 20th, Lee's Birthday' and 'being a legal holiday, the banks in Greenville will not open for business.'

Advertisement for J. A. Watson featuring the headline 'To Our Friends and Customers' and 'We are pleased to announce that we are further extending our services to the farmers in the Greenville section by the addition of FERTILIZERS to our several lines of merchandise.' It includes an image of a seabird fertilizer bag and the text 'For your protection, every bag is trademarked with a big red seabird on the back, and where you see this bird, you'll find good fertilizer.'

Observers Ponder Status Of McDonald's Campaign

Opinions Differ As to Where Candidate Now Stands

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, the youthful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, still going places in his campaign, or has he already arrived? Is he still making the progress he was up to four weeks ago, or has his campaign slowed down perceptibly during the last 30 days? Is his campaign balloon already inflated with as much gas as he can pump into it, or is he just getting ready to begin to pump?

The answers to these questions differ a good deal, depending largely upon those to whom they are propounded. The enthusiastic McDonald supporters, of whom there are still many in these parts, maintain that the McDonald campaign is not slowing up in the least, but rather gathering momentum from day to day. They further maintain that McDonald has not actually opened his campaign yet and that he was just beginning to inflate the balloon which he hopes will carry him into the Governor's mansion. They insist that the public "ain't seen nothin' yet" if it thinks the few speeches McDonald has been making here and there for the past several months are really campaign speeches and maintain he has more tricks up his sleeve than Houdini.

But it is being noted that supporters of the other candidates for Governor do not look as worried as they did and that instead of regarding the claims of the McDonald supporters with long and serious faces, as was the case until four or five weeks ago, they now seem serene and undisturbed when the talk turns to McDonald, how many votes he has already gotten and how many he will get when they are counted.

In other words, there is a definite feeling in political circles and elsewhere over the state that McDonald is not making the gains he has been making and that his campaign is definitely slowing down. Some even think he has already reached his peak of popularity over the state and that from now on he is going to have all he can do to hold what he now has. And while most of the politically wise here are still willing to concede that if the primary should be held today, McDonald would probably lead, they point out that neither Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby, nor "Sandy" Graham of Hillsboro have "opened up" yet. But when these other candidates do open up, McDonald and the issues involved, it is maintained that the situation is going to look very different from the way it does now. So far McDonald has had smooth sailing, plenty of rope, and a curious public anxious to get a look at him and hear what he has had to say. But more than the ability to arouse curiosity is necessary to get votes and active support. It is maintained. It is also conceded that McDonald is proving to be a good showman and entertainer. But the best clowns do not always get the most votes.

One of the reasons for the growing convictions among many observers that McDonald is definitely slowing down in his quest for votes is the fact that many people just cannot understand how the Winston-Salem school teacher proposes to remove the sales tax, and thus reduce the state's revenue by at least $10,000,000 a year, and at the same time increase state expenditures for schools, social security, old age pensions and other things to the extent of about $20,000,000 a year. A lot of people are beginning to ask where he plans to get all this other revenue.

Still another factor that is causing a good many Democrats to pause and think is how Dr. McDonald expects to be nominated and elected Governor by praising the Democratic administration of President Roosevelt to the skies and standing squarely with him on the national Democratic platform, but thinks it necessary to damn and repudiate the records of the Democratic party and of the present Democratic administration here within the state. A lot of them just don't get the logic of it and frankly don't like McDonald's implications that the various recent Democratic administrations here in the state have been dishonest and crooked. This is especially true of many of the members of the 1935 general assembly who served with McDonald in the house and who refused to pass most of the measures McDonald proposed, since they regard his charges against the present administration as slurs against the records as legislators.

With those who do not know any better or who want to believe McDonald's charges, he still goes over his, of course. But there are a lot who are not believing all he says.

NEW DOLLAR BILL 'CHEAP'
GEORGIA BANK HEAD SAYS

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—Ebert P. Peabody, president of one of the national banks here, frowns on the treasury department's new dollar notes. He terms the money "cheap."

"The paper is cheap, the engraving is cheap and it is hard to tell the notes from counterfeit money," he says.

The banker pointed out that tellers could differentiate the old silk-paper issues from bogus money by the "feel."

BUREAU HEADS PREPARE PLEA

Make Annual Pilgrimage to Request Appropriations

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, Jan. 13.—The supreme court's knockout blow to AAA pushed into the background, to a large degree, public interest in the President's budget message on the day of its delivery to congress, but not to the army of department heads and bureau chiefs of the government.

From now until around the first of March executive heads and fiscal agents of every government department, bureau, board and alphabetical agency will make their annual pilgrimage to capitol hill. There, before the appropriations committees of both house and senate, they will attempt to justify expenditures requested for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1936.

A keen sense of the dramatic is necessary in most instances for their audiences are among the most hardboiled in Washington. The house appropriations committee, for example, is composed of 38 members. They are divided into subcommittees, each of which is supposed to have minute knowledge of the government bureaus upon which it holds hearings.

Department and bureau heads, therefore, often find it advantageous to support their oratorical appeals with charts, graphs, exhibits and other visual evidence of efficient administration.

Few tricks are overlooked in their efforts to get what they want from the holders of the nation's purse strings. Long ago government administrators discovered that an effective method of expanding their activity is to establish a branch of office in a state. Immediately representatives of other states will demand the setting up of similar establishments within their borders.

If one state is to have its rivers improved, its waste lands reclaimed or its people rehabilitated, congress can do no less for other states.

There's more apprehension among the government heads this year, however. They had a hard time in persuading the bureau of budget to maintain existing departmental appropriations. The set-up of the house appropriations committee is one that leads toward greater economy in government.

Representative Buchanan, chairman of house appropriations, already has served notice he intends to see that appropriations are pared to the bone. There's a lot of sentiment back of him in the house for such a move.

DEPENDABLE USED CARS

- 1928 Pontiac Sedan $65
- 1929 Pontiac Sedan $65
- 1928 Buick Coupe $100
- 1932 Ford V-8 Coach $195
- 1933 Plymouth Deluxe Coach $275
- 1933 Plymouth Deluxe Coach $285
- 1933 Plymouth Del. R. S. Coupe $345
- 1934 Plymouth Coach $365
- 1934 Plymouth Coach $385
- 1935 Plymouth 2-Door Demonstrator at a Big Saving "Courtesy & Fairness"

Greenville Motor Co., Inc.
Dodge & Plymouth Distributors
410 Washington Street

HAUPTMANN'S NEW LAWYERS

Desperately seeking to escape the electric chair for the murder of Baby Lindbergh, Bruno Hauptmann has employed Neil Burkinkshaw (left) and Dwight Beard (right), Washington attorneys, to aid his last-ditch fight. Their retention was seen as an indication Bruno contemplates another attempt to appeal the case to the United States Supreme Court. (Associated Press Photos)

DWIGHT BEARD CAUGHT IN TEXAS

Hunted in many states for a long series of crimes ranging from murder to petty robbery, Dwight Beard (left), former Lenoir, N. C., high school football player and religious worker, is shown after his arrest in Dallas, Tex. The officer questioning him is Detective Captain Will Fritz. Beard escaped from the North Carolina state penitentiary while serving a life sentence for murder. During his freedom he was accused of shooting a policeman and committing several robberies in Atlanta Ga. (Associated Press Photo)

J. R. JAMES, Mortgagee, 10th day of June, 1927, and of Julius Brown, Atty. record in Book T-16, at page 281 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, default having been made in the payment of the debt therein secured, the undersigned mortgagee will on Monday, the 27th day of January, 1936 at 12 o'clock, M.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF LAND Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage deed executed by Jesse Kilpatrick to R. M. Chamblee on

FOR A BETTER 'SCOTCH & SODA'

Try OVER-SEAS American Blended Scotch Whiskey

J. D. AMAN
WHOLESALE and RETAIL
Plumbing and Heating Supplies
423-25 Cotanch St. Greenville, N. C.
Phone 734

ROBINSON CRUSOE ADAPTED from the Daniel Defoe classic

1650 WAS A ROMANTIC PERIOD IN ENGLAND BUT ROBINSON CRUSOE'S THOUGHTS WERE ALL OF THE SEA AS HE DECIDES TO GO TO HIS FATHER AND ASK HIS PERMISSION AND BLESSING ON A LIFE ON THE SEA

before the courthouse door in Greenville, N. C., offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash the following described real property, to-wit:

That certain tract of land lying and being in Swift Creek Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, and being the tract of land left to Jesse Kilpatrick in the Division of the Estate of his father, J. B. Kilpatrick, deceased, adjoining the lands of the W. J. Laughinghouse place on the South, and on the North by John Chapman, and on the East by Moses Kilpatrick, and on the West by the Joe Bland place, the above lands described contains 33 1/2 acres more or less, which is recorded in the Register of Deeds office in Pitt County at Greenville, N. C. This the 26th day of Dec., 1935. R. M. CHAMBLEE, Mortgagee, Harding & Lee, Attys. Dec. 30-1tw-4wk.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND By virtue of authority vested in the undersigned as Commissioner under that order made in Special Proceeding No. 3553, entitled Margaret S. Everett and others vs. Joseph Daniels, John Daniels and others, pending in the Superior Court of Pitt County, I shall sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville on Monday, January 27th, 1936 at 12:00 o'clock, Noon

That certain lot or parcel of land lying and being just beyond the corporate limits of the Town of Greenville on the East side of Pitt Street extended next to the ditch and near William Redmond lot and being the lot described in Book V-7 page 269 Pitt County Registry of Deeds and being a part of the Patrick property, Lot No. 22, and being 75 feet by 210 feet and further described in Book J-6, at page 227, Pitt County Register of Deeds of office, and also more fully described in that deed of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County in Book M-19, at page 586, to all of which recorded deeds reference is hereby made and the same are made a part and parcel hereof in as full and ample a manner as if copied in full herein. Purchaser required to make deposit of ten per cent and sale made subject to the approval of the Court. This December 23, 1935. CHARLES H. WHEDBEE, Commissioner. Dec. 30-1tw-4wk.

WANT ADS PAY

A&P FLOUR REDUCED!

WHERE ECONOMY RULES

Iona Sunnyfield Pillsbury's
24-lb. Bag 80c 24-lb. Bag 85c 24-lb. Bag $1.19

Famous "Tea Store" Kind
CHEESE - POUND - 20c
Gelatin Dessert
SPARKLE Assorted Flavors 4 Pkgs. 17c
PEA BEANS 10 lbs. 29c
Snowpeak Cut
ASPARAGUS 3 8-oz. Cans 25c

Grandmother's PULLMAN LOAF 20-oz. 9c
Sliced or Unsliced

POPULAR BRANDS
CIGARETTES Carton $1.15

Sunnyfield Fancy Creamery
BUTTER - Pound - 39c
TUB BUTTER, lb., 37c

N. B. C. Chocolate P. & G.
POMS Pound 19c SOAP 5 Lge. Bars 19c
N. B. C. Choc. or Vanilla Red Circle
SANDWICH lb. 19c COFFEE lb. 19c
Camay Mello
SOAP 4 bars 17c WHEAT Lge. Pkg. 15c
Evaporated Pinto
APRICOTS lb. 23c BEANS Pound 5c

Sliced Bacon, lb. 37c
Tender Beef Roast, lb. 13 1-2c
Tender Veal Roast, lb. 17 1-2c
Fresh Ground Beef, lb. 17 1-2c

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC

Beginning January 1st

We were compelled to go on a more Cash Basis, and when our statement is presented at the first of each month, we shall expect it paid, and if not paid by the 10th we will not be in position to extend further credit.

We will give 10 per cent discount on all Cash purchases to eliminate bookkeeping.

No Discount on Charge Accounts

PITT DRUG CO.
PHONE 75

PENDER'S Quality Food Bargains

... that mean bigger savings to the thrifty housewife!

PHILLIPS DELICIOUS SPAGHETTI 5c can

Anglo Corned Beef 2 cans 29c

Colonial Brand Noodles Strongheart DOG FOOD can 5c

Macaroni Phillip's Vegetable SOUP Large Can 10c

Spaghetti Premium Flake CRACKERS 1-lb. Pkg. 17c

4 pkgs. 17c

The Perfect Oleo NUCOA lb. 21c

GORTON'S Ready-To-Fry Codfish Phillip's Delicious PORK and BEANS 3 large cans 25c

2 cans 25c

Gibb's Pure HOMINY 2 large cans 15c

Peter Pan Bartlett PEARS 3 large cans 50c

Grade Nut Flakes, pkg. 10c

Maxwell House Coffee, lb. 27c

HOUSEHOLD NEEDS

Northern Tissue, 3 for 16c

Northern Gauze, 4 for 15c

P. & G. Soap, large, 4 for 15c

Camay Soap, 4 for 17c

Chipso, for white wash, 3 for 25c

Complete line Fresh Fruits and Vegetables.

IN OUR MARKET

Western Roast Beef, lb. 15c

All Meat Franks, lbs. 19c

Tender Veal Chops, lb. 20c

Smoked Sausage, lb. 19c

By R. W. McDONALD

ROBINSON'S FATHER IS AGED AND ILL WHEN THE YOUNG ADVENTURER CONSULTS HIM

THE ELDER CRUSOE, GRIEVED AT THE WORDS OF HIS YOUNGEST SON TOLD HIM KINDLY HOW HIS OLDEST BROTHER HAD LEFT HOME AT AN EARLY AGE AND HOW HIS MOTHER HAD WATCHED AND WAITED IN VAIN

THE OTHER BROTHER HAD BEEN KILLED IN BATTLE WITH THE SPANIARDS

Bonus Issue Been Headache To Presidents For 16 Years

Four Have Used Veto Power to Stave Off Veteran's Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The soldiers' bonus has been a headache to every president for the past 16 years.

Four have used their veto power in an effort to stave off the demands of World war veterans. Twice the President's position was sustained and twice his stand reversed by congress.

President Harding was the first to face the music. In 1922, some four years after the war ended, congress passed the first bonus measure. It provided four different types of optional settlements which the veterans were allowed to elect:

1. Adjusted-service pay;
2. Paid-up endowment insurance;
3. Vocational training aid;
4. Farm or home aid.

On September 19, 1922, Harding vetoed the act and his veto was sustained.

In 1924, congress passed a bill which had as its object the issuance of adjusted service certificates. It became law after congress had overridden President Coolidge's veto May 19, 1924.

Drama Reaches Peak

In 1931 congress passed the emergency compensation act. This act provided that loans up to 50 per cent of the face value of the adjusted service certificates could be obtained. President Hoover is a vigorously worded message to congress vetoed it, but the senate overrode the veto 78 to 17 and the house 328 to 79.

During President Roosevelt's administration came the most dramatic skirmish between the legislative and executive branches. The issue was made in 1935 by those who wished to tie up cash bonus payment with proposed changes in the nation's monetary system.

The Patman bill, providing payment of full value of the adjusted service certificates in new currency of the United States—greenbacks—passed both houses of congress.

Personal Message

President Roosevelt went to the capitol to deliver his veto message on the Patman bill before a joint session of congress. He hardly had returned to the White House before the house overwhelmingly overrode his veto. The senate stood by the President.

The pressure for full and immediate payment of the bonus has been terrific for a number of years. Here is what has happened since the drive was started in earnest.

June 15, 1932: House passed a bill, 211 to 176.

June 17, 1932: the bill was defeated in the senate, 2 to 18.

April 28, 1933: it was proposed as an amendment to pending legislation, but defeated in the senate 60 to 23.

January 27, 1934: bonus legislation was proposed again in the senate as an amendment to pending legislation, but defeated without a record vote.

February 27, 1934: it once more was proposed as an amendment to pending legislation in the senate, but was defeated 64 to 24.

March 12, 1934: the house passed a bill by a vote of 295 to 125.

June 6, 1934: the bill was reported unfavorably in the senate by the senate finance committee and never brought to a vote.

June 11, 1934: proposed as an amendment to pending legislation, but defeated in the senate, 51 to 31.

March 22, 1935: passed the house, 318 to 90.

May 7, 1935: passed the senate, 55 to 32.

May 22, 1935: vetoed by the President and immediately passed again in the house, 322 to 98.

May 23, 1935: the President's veto was sustained in the senate, 64 to 40.

NINE PERMITS ARE REVOKED

Number of Motorists Losing Licenses Now 979

Raleigh, Jan. 15.—The number of drivers' licenses revoked to date was brought to 979 today as the Division of Highway Safety of the Department of Revenue announced the revocation of nine more licenses. One of these nine was revoked following a second conviction for reckless driving since the law went into effect; November 1, only the second revocation for reckless driving to date. This the score now stands at 977 revocations for driving while drunk and two revocations for reckless driving.

The reason only two licenses have been revoked for reckless driving is that under the new law a driver must be convicted twice of reckless driving before losing his driving permit, while the permits of drunk drivers are revoked immediately following the first conviction. The second driver to lose his license for reckless driving was Willie Richardson of Winston-Salem, convicted December 2 of careless and reckless driving for the second time since the new law went into effect, also for transporting liquor.

Four Presidents used their veto power on bonus measures but none so dramatically as President Roosevelt who took the vetoed measure to congress in person and delivered his veto message before a joint session of the house and senate. The President is shown above speaking on that precedent-breaking occasion.

Those whose licenses were revoked for a period of one year today for driving while drunk, are as follows: Banks Wilson Deal, Landis; James Foster, Greensboro; Bud Davis, Gastonia; E. C. Castleberry, Apex; Carl Ripey, Rutherfordton; Amos Broadway, Southern Pines; Paul Anderson, Charlotte and Richard Cossum, West End, also convicted of transporting liquor as well as of driving while drunk.

The highway safety division already has in its files records of several hundred drivers, possibly as many as 1,000 who have already been convicted once of reckless and careless driving. Within a few days a letter will be sent to each of these informing them of the record of one conviction and warning them that if convicted again on the same charge they will lose their driving permits for one year.

Like Valentino and George Raft, he began theatrically as a dancer. He was working in a New York bank when Lisbeth Higgins, a society girl with dancing ambitions, chose him as a partner. He danced (with her and other partners) in clubs, roof gardens and shows. He danced in "Lady, Do!" in 1927 and was in "Street Singer." He got his "big break" when he took Tullio Carminati's role in the road show of "Strictly Dishonorable."

Cesar Romero is a New Yorker by birth, Cuban by descent. His mother was Maria Mantilla, Cuban concert singer; his father Cesar Romero, which makes him a junior. His mother's uncle, Jose Marti, is noted in Cuban history. Cesar was born Feb. 15, 1907.

He is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds—and thinks he should weigh more, but can't gain. He has black hair and dark brown eyes and that "sleek foreign look" which once was sufficient in itself to assure screen success.

Cesar Romero appeared in several other plays, including "Dinner at Eight," before Metro signed him for "The Thin Man," a comparatively

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood, Jan. 17.—(AP)—About Cesar Romero, a Latin who has proved he warts none of the "second Valentino exploitation": His full name is Cesar Julio Romero of the Spanish form of Julius Caesar. His family liked famous names but did not dream this son

Horses and Mules FOR SALE

We have a Carload of Young Kentucky and Tennessee Mules. Also a lot of good Used Mules. We Sell, Trade or Buy. If you will see us we will save you money.

Moye & Morris
Stables in Rear of Centre Brick Whse.
GREENVILLE, N. C.

minor role at that. He was ready to go back to New York when Universal made a atest and signed him.

NOTICE OF SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION
North Carolina, Pitt County.
In The Superior Court.
Louis Elks
vs.
Peggy Ann Elks.

The defendant in the above entitled action, Peggy Ann Elks, will take notice that an action as above entitled has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt County to obtain an absolute divorce from the bonds of matrimony, on the grounds of two years separation.

The defendant will further take notice that she is required to appear in the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County on the 6th day of February, 1936, or within thirty days thereafter and answer or demur to the complaint of the plaintiff, or the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

This the 6th day of January, 1936.
J. F. HARRINGTON,

Clerk of Superior Court,
Pitt County, North Carolina.
GAYLORD & HANNAH,
Attorneys for plaintiff.
1 wk 4 wks.

NOTICE
North Carolina—Pitt County.
In The Superior Court.
Onelda Falson
vs.
William Clarence Falson

The defendant William Clarence Falson will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt County, North Carolina, for the purpose of obtaining an absolute divorce from the defendant; and the said defendant will further take notice that he is required to appear at the office of the clerk of Superior Court of said county in Greenville, N. C., within thirty days as required by law, and answer or demur to the complaint in said action, or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

This 1st day of January, 1936.
J. F. HARRINGTON, Clerk
Superior Court Pitt County.
Jan. 6-1tr-4wk.

KNOWN FOR VALUE

GRANTS

January Sale

First quality Children's Anklets, while they last, pair	8c	One Day Special—Full Fashioned Chiffon Silk Hose, pr.	49c
$1.00 values. Boy's Suits. Dressy but made for hard wear	$1.00	Beautiful Rayon Undies, values to	19c
Oriental Rugs, a value that cannot be duplicated at	$1.00	25c Rayon Stripe Children's Jersey Bloomers	10c

W. GRANT CO.
421 EVANS STREET

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor — and neighbor, it's your price!

This gives you a peek into the Wilken Family liquor closet.

Our family's whiskey being priced so reasonably — it's easy to keep a handy supply on tap!

"YOU'LL BE SURPRISED AT THE LOW PRICE!"

THE WILKEN FAMILY BLENDED WHISKEY

Knowing how likely some neighbor or other is to stop by most any time, we're all for keeping the shelf full up. And it don't take much for everybody to do just the same as us. If you're one of the folks that's so excited over the tastiness of our Family's Whiskey, you got to thank the boys that help me for a whole lot of it. Granting I've had 43 years experience at making whiskey, this here proposition is a Family affair, and I just couldn't make out without those boys!

THE WILKEN FAMILY BLENDED WHISKEY

Blended and Bottled by Joe S. Finch & Co., Inc., Schenley, Pa.—Division of Schenley Products Co., Inc.

SUPERVISED BY THE WILKEN FAMILY

CORPORATIONS PAY DIVIDENDS TO STOCKHOLDERS

Under Our New Plan We Also PAY DIVIDENDS FROM 4% TO 100%

Come In and Get a "Secret Panel" Profit Sharing Card

MYSTERY -- THRILLS -- SURPRISES

NO BLANKS -- Every card pays you a dividend of No Less than 4 per cent on Purchases made in Our Store in appreciation of your patronage.

What dividend does the secret panel hold for you

Trade with Us---We Share Our Profits with you

Home Grocery Stores

We Deliver Phones 155-380

FOR GOOD TIRES SURE STEERING SAFE BRAKES DEPENDABLE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM TUNED-UP ENGINE

BUY A Safety-Tested Used Car FOR SAFE WINTER DRIVING

EVERY used car listed here has been Safety-Tested—completely checked and conditioned to give you thoroughly safe and dependable operation . . . The great popularity of the 1936 Oldsmobile has brought in an excellent assortment of used cars . . . many makes and late models . . . all priced for quick winter sale.

Prices this week are at their lowest!

1934 Chevrolet Master Coach, completely reconditioned and runs perfect. Good tires	$385	1932 Plymouth 4-door Sedan. Good tires and newly painted. A real buy at this price	$245
1934 Olds "8" 5 Passenger Touring Coupe. Looks and runs like new. Good tires	$595	1933 Ford V-8 Tudor Sedan. You can't find a flaw in the interior or motor	$300
1933 Chevrolet Master 6 Wheel Sedan. Very Clean	$325	1929 Buick Sedan owned by local family. In best of condition	$95

Drop by and see our unused values. Any price to suit your pocketbook. Prices ranging from $45 to $650

Our cars sold on the new low G.M.A.C. Plan.

SEE CLASSIFIED SECTION FOR ADDITIONAL BARGAINS IN SAFETY-TESTED USED CARS

Pitt Oldsmobile Co.

415 GRAND AVENUE (Incorporated) TELEPHONE 187

Safety-Tested BY YOUR OLDSMOBILE DEALER

SEEK PLAN TO BUILD LINES

Federal Agency Limited in Loans to Cities

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—Cities in the state with municipally owned power plants which thought they would be able to borrow money from the Federal Rural Electrification Administration with which to build power lines into rural districts and thus enlarge their territory, were disappointed a few weeks ago when the Rural Electrification Administration announced it could not lend any Federal money to cities for extending their power lines beyond their city limits.

The REA attorneys had discovered a clause in the North Carolina laws prohibiting cities and towns with municipally owned power plants from selling bonds or pledging their credit for extending their lines outside the city limits. It looked for a time as if several hundred miles of proposed rural electric lines could not be built.

This was a blow to Wilson, Tarboro, Rocky Mount, Kinston, Greenville, Farmville and other cities with municipally owned power plants which were planning to borrow money from the REA and build lines out into the rural sections of their counties.

But Chairman Dudley Basley of the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority was not to be stampeded. He has not been a farmer for years for nothing and tough propositions are his meat. He started figuring and devised a plan for the formation of non-profit corporations in rural districts which would own electric lines which can be served by municipally owned plants. These corporations will borrow the money needed from the REA in Washington—provided the REA agrees to this plan—will then contract for the construction of the lines and when they are finished, lease them to the municipally owned plants at a figure sufficient to repay the loan, with the city plants assuming all the expense of maintenance, service and upkeep.

Chairman Basley was in Washington yesterday to discuss this plan with Chairman Morris L. Cooke of the REA and to see if it would meet the approval of the various powers that be which must pass on loan applications. Those connected with the state electrification authority are very hopeful that the plan will be approved.

rates. For many people who would like to carry this insurance do not do so because they feel they cannot afford it. That is why I believe a reduction in rates would yield a greater volume of business."

Texas Seeks to Rival Kentucky

Austin, Tex. — (AP) — Texas, where they ride 'em fast and rough and play polo for relaxation, is shooting for a horse-racing reputation as a rival of Kentucky. With a huge centennial celebration this year the Lone Star state will "shoot the works" for its growing stables.

The year 1935 saw Texas' biggest racing season. Racing officials' reports to the state show more than $1,000,000 paid in purses and stakes to horsemen. An estimated $20,100,100 was wagered in 185 days of major race meets, compared with $19,652,006 in 152 days of 1934.

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, and a racing commissioner said, "Texas and not Kentucky should be the leading ground for raising fine horses in a few years."

"There are more good horses in Texas now than it ever has had. Some of the finest horse flesh in the country is in Texas now. There have been several good breeding farms established. Weather conditions here are advantageous."

RELIGIOUS 'TRANCE' STILLS GIRL

Limp and still as though death had overtaken her, Shirley Tapp of Detroit, to all appearances, remained unconscious a week after she went into a religious "trance." She is shown supported by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Tapp. The father claims she was "slain by God's power" at a meeting of their sect in order that she might attain "greater grace." (Associated Press Photo)

Richmond Livestock

(Courtesy J. N. & J. L. Williams)

Richmond Livestock Market. Receipts moderate to light. Early indications $10.25 top for choice 160-200 pound corn fed butcher stock; 260 pound practical top $11.50, few fancy to $12; cows $3 to $5; bulls $3.50 to $5.50; heifers $4 to $7.50; sows; and medium steers, $5 to $8; strictly good $8.50 to $9. Ewes $3 to $4.50; lambs $8 to $10 for average run. Weather fair, temperature 40.

Chicago Grain Market

(Courtesy Vernon Parrish)

	Open	Close	Prv. Cl.
WHEAT:
May	100 1-8	100 5-8	100 3-8
July	88 3-8	88 3-4	88 7-8
Sept.	87 1-8	87 1-4	87 3-8
CORN:
May	60 1-8	60 1-2	60
July	60 1-2	60 5-8	60 3-8
Sept.	60 1-2	60 5-8	60 1-2
OATS:
May	28	28	28
July	27 1-2	27 1-2	27 1-2
Sept.	26 3-4	26 3-4	26 3-4
RYE:
May	54 3-4	54 3-4	54 1-2
July	54 1-2	54 1-2	54 1-4

One family and two army enlisted men are the only inhabitants at Fort Sumter, S. C.

New York Cotton

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady one lower to four higher with interests largely in exchanging from old to new crop months.

Liverpool was a buyer of winter months and there was a moderate demand from the trade for the spring and summer positions, and further evening up of operations in January were within a range of 3 to four points.

At midday March was ruling around 11.36 and October 10.24, making net advances of 7 to 15 points.

N. Y. Stock List

2:30 P. M. List

American Radiator 25 3-8
American Tobacco 100 3-8
American Telephone 160
Anacosta 29
Atlantic Coast Line 30 3-4
Atlantic Refining 30 3-8
Bethlehem Steel 52 1-2
Chrysler 87 3-4
Commercial Solvent 21
Continental Oil 12
DuPont 143 1-4
Electric Power Light 8 1-4
General Electric 37 7-8
General Motors 54 3-4
Liggett and Myers 115
Montgomery Ward 35 1-2
Reynolds Tobacco 57 7-8
Southern Railway 14 3-4
Standard Oil 53 3-4
U. S. Steel 47 3-4

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Share prices backed and filled narrowly in today's market. Turnover was restricted after a rapid opening.

Metals and oils gave ground. A cut in silver prices hurt the former group while the latter appeared to be under the influence of profit taking.

Forty-nine persons died in 1935 in Miami, Fla., from injuries suffered in traffic accidents.

Governor McAlister of Tennessee has created a body of honorary colonels.

More fishing - hunting licenses were sold in Virginia in 1935 than in 1934.

WANTS

RATES: 1c per word (minimum 25c per insertion, this size type. Larger type, double price. Persons not having regular account with this office must send or bring cash with copy. No want ads taken over telephone.

WE SELL GLASS AND CUT glass any size at the Dickinson Avenue store. J. A. Watson, Seed-Feed-Provisions. 16-1f

BUY YOUR GASOLINE AND OIL from the Old Reliable—eleven years under same management. Serve-U Filling Station, J. M. Fleming, Jr. Mgr. Phone 9114.

FOR SALE—GOOD TRAILER—folding spring cot, Simmons bed and springs—2 new uncalled for suits, sizes 34-39—one roll top desk. See E. H. Pender, Tailor Shop, 107 E. 4th St. 15-2f

PHONE 619 If it's Laundry or Dry Cleaning. The Old Reliable—We Know How. RAINBOW CLEANERS

GET YOUR AUTO PARTS AND accessories from us—wholesale or retail. Greenville Auto Supply Co., 309 Evans Street—phone 776. Jan 6-1 mo

STOP AT THE GOLDEN LEAF—good music, sandwiches, drinks. Shell gas and oil. 11-5f

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY—Chocolate Marshmallow Roll. People's Bakery.

FOR RENT—SMALL APARTMENT in my home, suitable for couple. Call 247-J. Mrs. Pattie Lanier.

FOR RENT—OFFICE IN MURFROD Building—corner Dickinson Avenue and Evans Street. Apply to B. W. Moseley. 17-2f

HAVE YOUR ELECTRIC SWEEPERS and Phonographs repaired—expert service. 1,000 latest hit Records for sale. Serv-U Filling Station, phone 9114.

JUST RECEIVED NEW SEED garden peas, cabbage plants and onion sets. It is time to plant now. J. A. Watson, Seed-Feed-Provisions. 17-1f

LOST—ONE BLACK AND WHITE setter dog. Named Bruce. Return and get reward. J. H. Blount. 17-3f

MEAT SALT — TABLE SALT — Smoke Salt, and all kinds of salt—any size, fine, medium or coarse grades. Any quantity—one bag or a thousand. Our prices are the best in town. J. A. Watson, Seed-Feed-Provisions. 7-1f

WANT A "MAYFLOWER" BOAT replica? 27' long, 26" high—electric lighted. Beauty extraordinary—for table or radio—Special price $6. Tige's Novelty Exchange, 1113 Cotah St., City. 1-1f

CORD WOOD FOR SALE—DELIVERED or undelivered. See L. R. Whichard, Stokes; J. V. Taylor, Bethel; W. J. Bundy, Greenville. Dec. 13-1f

USE COLLEGE APPROVED FEEDS and at a reasonable price—Starting Mash, $2.70 per bag; Growing Mash, $2.40 per bag; Laying Mash, $2.40 per bag. Pitt FCX Service. Dec. 13-1f

EGGS ARE HIGH — PURINA. Feedright and Full "O" Pep laying mash are cheap. See us for a quality laying mash. J. A. Watson, Seed-Feed-Provisions. 16-1f

WE CAN SUPPLY YOU WITH any kind of paint for any type paint job, inside or outside. Get our prices and estimates. J. A. Watson—Seed, Feed, Provisions. 24-1f

CLEANING and PRESSING ALTERATIONS Called for and Delivered CAROLINA DRY CLEANERS Phone 176—Leon Smith, Prop.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL Fish—Oysters—Clams—Shrimp We know they are fresh—we catch them. Dressed and Delivered Free Phone 149

PITT SEAFOOD CO. Located Back of Webb's Warehouse.

W. B. HERRING GROCERY CO. Dickinson Ave. Opposite State Bank And Trust Co.

MILLIONS JERSEY & CHARLESTON Wakefield, Copenhagen and Golden Acres Frost Proof Cabbage plants for sale. Write for prices. Mrs. L. C. Arthur, Greenville, N. C. phone 782-J. 16-1 mo.

ONE PERFORMANCE ONLY! Monday NIGHT at 11:30

In Person! ON THE STAGE ELWYN AND HIS MIDNIGHT SPOOK PARTY All Seats 40c

John WAYNE IN HIS GREATEST DRAMA OF COVERED-WAGON DAYS "WESTWARD HO" Also 1st Chapter Thrilling Serial Tailspin Tommy in the "Great Air Mystery" Also Last Chapter "THE ROARING WEST" Adm. 25c Child 10c

TODAY-SATURDAY CAGNEY Swaps his G-gun for barefist to rule Frisco's famous underworld!

JAMES CAGNEY in the FRISCO KID MARGARET LINDSAY - RICARDO CORTEZ LILY DAMITA - AND 1000 MORE Plus HAL LEROY COMEDY Music Act PITT

RATES GO UP WITH WRECKS

Insurance Rates Expected to Rise in This State

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—Automobile accident and liability insurance rates in North Carolina are sure to be increased again unless the upward trend in automobile accidents is halted and the number decreased, according to Commissioner of Insurance Dan C. Boney. Within the past few weeks he has received requests from two companies for permission to increase their automobile liability rates in the state, but refused these requests in the hope that the next few months will show a decided decrease in automobile accidents, Boney said.

"I refused these requests for additional increases in the automobile liability insurance rates because I am convinced the people of the state are at last waking up to the terrific cost of automobile accidents as well as to the unnecessary loss of life and limb they are causing and that the accident rate is being to decrease from now on," Boney said. "In fact, I am confident that an aroused public opinion, assisted by the new drivers' license law and the enlarged state highway patrol, is going to bring about a decided reduction in accidents during the next six months."

But even if the number of accidents decrease steadily from now on, there will be little hope for a material reduction in liability insurance rates until the accident records show a decline over a period of from one to two years, Boney pointed out. So if the accident rate starts decreasing immediately, there will be little hope for a reduction in the liability rate on automobile before 1938, unless the insurance companies should decide to reduce their rates voluntarily before that time.

"It has been my contention all along that automobile liability insurance rates are already too high in North Carolina and have reached the saturation point," Boney said. "In other words, if the rates should be reduced, more people would carry insurance, the insurance companies would make more and their losses would not be so great as at present with the higher

Mixon's

Super Shell Service Station

Is Now Prepared To Render

ONE-STOP SERVICE

at their

Brand New Station

LOCATED

14th and Evans Street

Shell Petroleum Products National Batteries
Specialized Lubrications Washing
Kelly Springfield Tires and Tubes

P. A. MIXON, Prop.

PHONE 772

NOTICE TO ALL "FOXY" BUYERS:

CALVERT'S PRICE HAS BEEN REDUCED!

THE GOOD NEWS
	WAS	IS NOW	You Save
Calvert's "Reserve"	QUART $2.70 PINT 1.35	$2.25 1.15	45¢ 20¢
Calvert's "Special"	QUART 2.15 PINT 1.15	1.80 .95	35¢ 20¢

CALVERT, best of the better blended whiskies is, substantially, best of the better buys. For CALVERT, a constant champion of moderation, now champions more moderate prices! Good judgment says, "Buy better whiskey." Sensible economy adds, "Call for CALVERT." Enjoy a "good" night and ... a "good" morning. Call for CALVERT.

CLEAR HEADS CALL FOR Calvert

© 1936 Calvert-Maryland Distilling Co., Inc. Executive Offices: New York, N. Y. Calvert's "Reserve" and Calvert's "Special" Blended Whiskies

SHOW THEM NO MERCY!