FARM LEADERS SEEK INSTALL SUBSIDY BILL

Want Measure to be Put Into Effect Before Planting

OFFICIALS MEET IN TWO CITIES

Official Sources Say Approximately Same Acreage to Be Retired as Last Year

Memphis, Tenn., March 5.—(AP)—Inviting "criticism and suggestions" Secretary Wallace in a statement to the nation's farmers read here today gave first notice of proposal requirements which they must meet to receive subsidy payments for soil conservation.

The statement read simultaneously at regional meetings of the farm leaders here and at Chicago, outlined these "minimum standards of performance."

1. The farmer must have in 1936 an acreage of soil conserving crop equal to not less than a given per cent of the total acreage planted in soil depleting crops.

2. The farmer must have in 1936 an acreage of soil depleting crops not in excess of a base determined for the individual farmer.

3. The farmers must maintain in 1936 the number of acres formally devoted to food and feed crops for consumption on his farm.

The secretary's statement said to participate in the new $500,000,000 soil conservation program, each farmer should have records of the normal acreage of all soil depleting crop grown on his farm; the normal yield per acre of the major soil deplete crops grown and the acreage be devoted to soil conservation and soil depleting uses in 1936.

Wallace's statement confirmed earlier reports from AAA officials that the conservation subsidy payments probably will be made on two bases. A "moderate" payment would be made for each acre planted to soil conservation big crops in 1936 and a larger payment would be made for each acre shifted from soil depleting crops to those designed to conserve fertility.

(Copyright by The Associated Press) Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—Government officials came to Chicago today to outline details of the new farm program before mid-western agricultural leaders.

As three-day meetings convened simultaneously here and in Memphis, Tenn., to hear the first detailed exposition of the project, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's representatives sought the speed necessary to put it into operation before the planting season.

Pending officials' disclosure, authoritative sources said the plan to be put forward under the new $500,000,000 soil conservation act adopted when the AAA was invalidated, would take this form:

Approximately the same acreage of the major crops will be retired as the AAA specifications for 1936 called for, the retired land to be sown to soil building crops.

The farmer will choose which crops he will put into the retired acres, cooperation being entirely voluntary. No contracts will be made. Proof of cooperation with the plan will be left up to a township committee.

Benefit checks will be substantially less than those prevailing under AAA.

The checks probably will be paid at the end of the growing season. A flat rate will be paid, not varying among crops.

Marcellus M'Lawhorn Dies Today At Noon

Funeral services for Marcellus M'Lawhorn, 64, who died about noon today, will be held from the graveside in Byrd cemetery near Winterville, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. W. H. Brunson, Christian minister of Ayden, in charge.

Mr. M'Lawhorn is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. Sophie Miller M'Lawhorn and the following half-sisters and half-brothers: Charles M'Lawhorn of Durham, Mrs. Rufus Tripp of Whaleyville, Va., A. D. M'Lawhorn of Winterville, Heber M'Lawhorn of Kinston, Mrs. V. H. Dixon of Rocky Mount; Mrs. Dora Bullock of Winterville; Alfred M'Lawhorn, of Winterville; H. A. M'Lawhorn of Winterville, Mrs. Corrine Williams of Winterville.

A large number of nieces and nephews also survive.

The outstanding 4-H club member in North Carolina for 1936 will be awarded a four-year scholarship to the North Carolina state college.

WALK DOWNSTAIRS? NOT THESE CHORINES

There are more ways than one to get down stairs, these Broadway show girls demonstrated when the strike of building employes stopped elevator service in numerous New York skyscrapers. Having no fancy for walking down fifty floors or more, they got astride the bannisters and slid down after the best fashion of Tomboy Sue. COUNTY VOTES FOR NEW DEAL

Roosevelt Is Triumphant in State of Gov. Talmadge

Donelsonville, Ga., March 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt emerged triumphant today from a test of strength against Governor Eugene Talmadge in the country's first presidential primary.

In rural Seminole county in southwest Georgia, Democratic voters yesterday called for renomination of the President by a vote of 661 to 120 over his persistent critics. The result, which is on any delegation named to the national convention by the State Democratic Committee, brought forth varied comments today.

Marion Allen, President Roosevelt's Georgia campaign manager, hailed the primary virtually unpublicized outside the county before the balloting, as "concrete evidence of what the voters throughout the state would do if a statewide primary is held."

Governor Talmadge said "I haven't heard about it. I doubt if the Talmadge folks had much chance to get out and vote."

In Washington Congress Eugene Cox, Georgia Democrat in whose district Seminole county lies, commented that "the political situation as reflected by this vote is not at all surprising but is indicative of the true situation throughout South Georgia."

Talmadge carried Seminole overwhelmingly two years for renomination for Governor, 832 votes to 216 for his opponent.

ITALY WILLING ACCEPT PEACE

Source Declares Will Agree to Appeal Under Condition

Rome, March 5.—(AP)—Italy will accept the League of Nations' appeal for peace with Ethiopia, an excellent source said today, as a basis for discussions under certain conditions.

What the condition will be was not disclosed exactly but the principal one was declared to be that territory already occupied by Italy in East Africa must be considered hers and must not form any part in peace negotiations.

While Premier Mussolini's government still studied its formal reply to the proposal, dispatched last Tuesday, Under Secretary for foreign affairs, Fulvio Suvich, and the Austrian Prince Ernst von Starhemberg surveyed the relations of their two nations and the European situation as it affects them in one hour conference.

These conversations formed a prelude to a conference this afternoon between the Austrian-Vice chancellor and II Duce.

January, 1936, was the coldest January for Greensboro, N. C., since 1918, records show.

Improper Lighting Direct Cause Of Liquor Charge

Constable Gus Stokes and Patrolman H. B. Smith Arrest White Man and Two Negroes

Operating a vehicle's with no rear light last night was the direct cause of Earl Harrison of Martin county being caught with about 10 gallons of illicit liquor and lodged in jail, along with two negroes with him, to await trial in County court.

Constable Gus Stokes and Patrolman H. B. Smith were "cruising" on the Bethel highway when they spotted a car without a rear light. After stopping the driver, Harrison, an examination of the car found the illegal liquor.

Harrison said he was from Martin county but did not disclose where he was headed for. He and the two negroes, William Goddard and Henry Goddard, were locked up in the county jail and are expected to be tried next Tuesday.

MAN ARRESTED FOR INCITING

Charged with an Attempt Overthrow Puerto Rico

San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 5.—(AP)—The National Guards unit of San Juan were mobilized in the army against possible emergency today as the United States arrested seven nationalists on charges of recruiting soldiers in a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States by force.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 5.—(AP)—Marshall Draughton today arrested Pedro Albizu Campos, nationalist leader on a charge of recruiting soldiers and a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States by force.

The warrant for arrest also charges Campos, a lawyer and Harvard graduate, with inciting to insurrection.

Campos surrendered to the Marshall's.

During the last several months there have been frequent incidents involving nationalists and United States authorities. The nationalists seek independence for Puerto Rico from the United States.

Col. E. Francis Riggs, chief of the island police and former army officer, was assassinated February 23 by two self-confessed nationalists who were later killed by police.

During the election registration period in January, 12 persons were killed and more than 100 injured. Warrants on similar charges were issued for six other nationalists.

A grand jury will be summoned next week for an investigation of recent Nationalist activities which were climaxed with the murder of Col. Riggs.

Forward Revocations To Safety Division

The names of persons having their drivers' license revoked or suspended at the term of County Court Tuesday were sent to the State Highway Safety division today to be entered on the records.

The list includes: J. E. Fauette, of Grimesland; Oscar Parker, of Farmville, suspended for 30 days; Clyde Stalls of Bethel; Oscar Stalls of Bethel; George Cannon, suspended until damage to property is paid.

Syrian Nationalists Drop Titles. Beirut.—(AP)—Syrian nationalists have appeal to the public to drop the titles "effendi," "bey," "pasha" and "emir" as contrary to democratic and Arabic principles and remnants of the Turkish regime.

SAYS INTENDS CARRY STRIKE TO THE FINISH

Leader Declares He is Prepared Extend Walkout

END CONFERENCE IN DISAGREEMENT

Real Estate Operators Decline to Arbitrate on Closed Shop Issues at Session

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Carrying out his promise of a "fight to the finish" following unsuccessful peace negotiations, James J. Bambrick leader of the building workers strike, today ordered his district lieutenants to prepare to call out employes in three sections of the city, one of them a big mid-town office building area.

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Shortly after Mayor LaGuardia appealed to realty interests to arbitrate the building service employes strike, James J. Bambrick, strike leader, today declared that he would "carry the fight to a finish."

Bambrick said he was prepared to issue strike calls for sections of the city as yet unaffected by the walkout, which began last Sunday.

The statement of the strike leaders came after peace negotiations at the city hall ended in sharp disagreement.

Real estate owners through representatives declined to arbitrate on the closed shop issue, one of three demands the union is making.

To the realty interest Mayor LaGuardia, who has strenuously sought a settlement of the strike said:

"I want to appeal to the real estate interest to consider this offer. The minute the arbitration offer is accepted the union will call off the strike and go back to work I cannot see how any reasonable person can reject any such offer."

Police estimated that the fourth day of the strike found service impaired in 1,508 buildings. They reported that since the strike began they had made 90 arrests for assault and other forms of violence.

Emerging from the long conference at the city hall this morning, Bambrick declared that the union "had offered to arbitrate everything in the interest of the general public" but the real estate owners "flatly refused to arbitrate."

Lieutenant Jones Reports Corporal Not Badly Injured

Corporal Merritt Injured When He Entered Wood Pile Where Convicts Are Stationed

Lieut. Lester Jones, head of Troop A of the State Highway Patrol, said today he had received a report on the wounding of Corporal J. A. Merritt by a Woodville prison inmate in a mutiny yesterday, but that he was not seriously injured.

Corporal Merritt was injured by one of five convicts who refused to work or otherwise obey orders of camp officials. The convict who injured the patrolman with a wooden club, was shot and seriously wounded by the camp superintendent. He and two others who were injured by guards are in the hospital at Central prison. The two others who participated in the mutiny are in the dark cell of the prison camp.

Corporal Merritt was hurt when he entered the woodpile where the convicts had stationed themselves and defied all orders. He and Patrolman George S. Dale entered the woodpile as camp guards held drawn pistols on the convicts.

'IT' GIRL A HOME BODY NOW!

DENTAL CLINIC ASKS FARMERS AIDS STUDENTS REDUCE CROPS

Children in Pitt County Schools Receive Great Benefits

With a puppet play depicting the advantages of proper tooth care, scheduled to be presented next week at 15 schools in the county, Dr. N. Thomas Emmett, health officer, said today much was being accomplished toward preserving teeth of school children.

Dr. A. D. Underwood now is engaged in treating teeth of children in the various schools in the county. In all he will spend 17 weeks on the work in the county. The dentist is paid by the state and county health departments.

Dr. W. L. T. Miller, negro dentist, has been engaged in work among the negro schools. He has just completed five weeks on the work and has submitted his report showing that 431 children were examined, 235 extractions were made, 102 fillings inserted and a total of 313 children treated for various infections, including general mouth cleaning.

Dr. Underwood has not completed his work among white children in the county. His report for last year showed he treated 743 children, made 312 extractions and 750 fillings. The combined population of the schools where treatment was given was 3,503 and the units included Stokes, Pataolus, Arthur, Belvoir, Falkland, Grimesland, Bethel and Farmville.

It is impossible to hold clinics in each school in the county during the 17 weeks the dentist is assigned to Pitt county and the schools not included last year will be visited this year. Work is being carried on in Farmville, the clinic not having been completed last year.

The puppet show will be presented during school hours, but parents and children too young to attend school are invited to witness the play.

No Clues Found In Accidental Death Brother Local Man

E. H. Wilson Returns From Funeral of Brother Who Was Killed by Hit and Run Driver

E. H. Wilson of Greenville, reported today upon his return home from Somerset, near Roxboro, where he attended the funeral of his brother, Otho L. Wilson, that no clues had been found to the driver of the hit-and-run automobile which fatally injured the Person county man Monday night.

Mr. Wilson was found about nine o'clock Monday night lying on the side of the Durham-Roxboro road, about a half-mile from Roxboro. He was taken to a Durham hospital, but had died while en route. He suffered two broken legs, a broken left arm and an fractured skull.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wilson attended the funeral services, held yesterday afternoon from the graveside in the family burying plot. Members of the Roxboro American Legion, of which the accident victim was a member, were in charge.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tarlton D. Wilson of the Somerset community; two brothers, O. T. Wilson of Dunn, and Mr. Wilson of this city; and one sister, Mrs. A. W. Hicks of Person county.

About 20,000 troops are stationed on the island of Oahu, Hawaii.

County Agent Arnold Says Meeting To Be Called Soon

County Agent E. F. Arnold urged Pitt county farmers to hold their tobacco crops within 70 per cent of their base acreage under the invalidated 1936 AAA contracts and said a meeting would be called soon to inform growers of the latest developments in plans to enact legislation curtailing the weed crop.

All contract signers will be urged to attend the meeting, probably to be called for next week. Mr. Arnold said that at the present time there was nothing definite and a meeting just now would be useless, so far as advising farmers of developments was concerned.

J. E. Winslow, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Agriculture, is in Memphis, Tenn., attending a regional conference on the soil conservation bill and he is expected to address the farmers at the proposed rally.

Mr. Arnold said he felt sure some plan would be worked to aid in the curtailment of the tobacco crop, but said that it was important that farmers hold their plantings down in order to be able to participate in any program.

ASK TREASURY SUBMIT IDEAS

Group Seeks Alternate Proposals For Tax Legislation

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Legislators studying President Roosevelt's plan to lay a drastic new tax on undistributed profits of corporations today called on treasury experts to submit other ideas for raising the needed revenue.

The call was issued by the House Ways and Means sub-committee on taxes, Chairman Samuel B. Hill, (D. Wash.) said the treasury had several alternate proposals but he did not disclose their nature.

He said the committee reviewing them to "see the whole picture" and not because of dissatisfaction with the president's recommendation.

It was apparent today that committee members, like most members of congress, had not yet made up their minds about the sweeping changes proposed by the Chief Executive in corporation taxes. Although a few were voicing praise or denunciation, the rank and files were reserving judgment.

A close advisor of the Chief Executive forecast that Mr. Roosevelt would not readily abandon his proposal.

The House sub-committee had made little progress today. Hill said it would probably be at least a week before it was ready to report to the full committee.

NOTHING NEW IN SITUATION TOBACCO CROP

Governor Emphasizes Necessity of Action By Congress

ANSWERS VIEWS FRANK HANCOCK

Declares If He Were Congressman He Would Have Introduced Bill Long Ago

Raleigh, March 5.—(AP)—Gov. Ehringhaus emphasized today that Congress must pass legislation to authorize tobacco compacts by states before any state law based on that passed in Virginia could become effective.

"There is little new in the situation," Governor said. "But the Virginia law specifically says in its very first words that it is effective only if the congress passes consenting legislation. If our legislature met here tomorrow and passed such a law it would be worth with congress action."

Noting comment in Winston Salem last night by Congressman Frank Hancock that "if I were Governor the legislation would be in session working out legislation to aid our tobacco and cotton growers," Governor Ehringhaus replied:

"Without criticism of my good friends or any other member of congress, if I were in congress I would have long ago introduced and pressed a bill to authorize state compact legislation."

Government Acts Dismissed by Court At Own Request

Lawns Involved Right of Government to Condemn Land For Slum Clearance and Housing

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Two new deal cases involving the government's right to condemn land for PWA slum clearance and low cost housing projects were dismissed today by the Supreme Court at the request of the government.

This action leaves in effect lower court decisions that the government did not have the right of condemnation for such purposes.

The action was requested by Solicitor General Reed.

After he left the courtroom Reed told newsmen the dismissal was asked because "the cases have become moot since all the available money has been spent otherwise."

Employment Force Seeking Persons to Fill Job Vacancies

Call Issued for Stenographers, Practical Nurses, Brick Masons and Housekeepers

F. A. Jordan, manager of the Pitt county branch of the State employment service, today issued an appeal for unemployed stenographers, practical nurses, brick masons to register at the local offices at once.

Mr. Jordan explained that there was a shortage of people to fill these positions and that there were many vacancies in the particular fields. Persons capable of filling any of the positions may register in the local offices, located in the basement of the Sheppard Memorial Library.

The shortage of stenographers, practical nurses and housekeepers is a local problem, brickmasons are needed throughout the state and New York state has issued a call for opticians.

Mrs. May Thompson Evans, state employment service director, has advised Mr. Jordan to issue a call for help in the various lines listed so that anyone capable of filling the openings may qualify for the positions.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER GIFTS: Most spectacular evidence of the New Deal's lack of teamwork is the Internal Revenue Bureau's unpress-agented move to sue Senator James Couzens of Michigan for unpaid taxes. It will cause several kinds of sensations when it leaks out, for the Senator is one of President Roosevelt's most ardent admirers, although reversing the right to rebel. It seems that several years ago Mr. Couzens contributed $1,500,000 to a children's fund in Detroit. The story is that he refused to buy ten cents worth of shoe-strings from an uncouth beggar, couldn't sleep all night because of conscientious pains and next morning phoned his lawyer in Detroit to underwrite a foundation for crippled children. Anyway, he gave it. Last year he disbursed out $550,000 for a low-cost housing venture near Pontiac and Harry Hopkins kicked through with $300,000. Couzens' idea was to discover whether the project was feasible. Now International Revenue Commissioner Guy Helvering, Jr. demands that Mr. Couzens fork over a "gift tax" for these philanthropic outlays. There has been extensive and violent correspondence between the two and the action is (Continued on page four)

Governor Defended And Abused For Weed Stand

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
 By J. C. BASKERVILL
 Raleigh, March 2.—Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus is being bitterly assailed and accused of fiddling while the 1936 tobacco crop burns and prices drop back to 1932 levels by those who are critical of his position in the present tobacco crisis. While his friends are zealously defending him for moving cautiously and refusing to be stampeded into taking action that might prove even more disastrous later on.

As the storm of controversy grows as to whether Governor Ehringhaus is right or wrong in the course he is pursuing with regard to tobacco crop control and in so far refusing to call a special session of the general assembly to consider joining with Virginia and South Carolina in an effort to control the 1936 tobacco crop, it is agreed that the mythical smoke now issuing from the dome of the capitol is tobacco smoke rather than political smoke, although some are inclined to see a mixture of the two.

There is no doubt that Governor Ehringhaus is determined to wait and see what sort of tobacco crop control laws Virginia and South Carolina enact before he intends to indicate what he will do towards calling a special session of the general assembly here in North Carolina, those who have talked with him during the last few days are convinced.

It is also apparent that he is not inclined to approve any tobacco crop reduction compact plan that is not subscribed to by the four leading flue-cured tobacco producing states—North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia, although it is virtually certain that Georgia will not be able to join in any such compact this year because of the chaotic conditions there and the refusal of Governor Eugene Talmadge to call a special session.

Caustic criticism is already being heard, however, of the position being taken by Governor Ehringhaus from the tobacco growing sections and other portions of the state as well for the course he is following in the present tobacco crisis. Many are contending that instead of holding back and waiting to see what Virginia and South Carolina will do with regard to a state pact and state tobacco crop control that Governor Ehringhaus should be taking the lead, since North Carolina produces five-sevenths of all the flue cured tobacco grown, or about 500,000,000 pounds per year out of a total normal crop of about 700,000,000 pounds. Virginia and South Carolina produce only about 70,000,000 pounds a year each and Georgia normally produces only about 50,000,000 pounds though last year the Georgia crop was estimated at 60,000,000 pounds and a further increase is expected this year.

Governor Ehringhaus stated on his return from the tobacco conference in Washington last week that it would be folly for the three other tobacco producing states to go into any compact without Georgia, especially in the face of reports from Georgia to the effect that the tobacco farmers there may increase their production to 100,000,000 pounds in 1936. But experienced tobacco men here maintain that it would be almost impossible for Georgia to expand its crops to 100,000,000 pounds this year, especially since the season is late and experienced tobacco hands relatively few there. They maintain that if North Carolina would join with Virginia and South Carolina in a pact to limit production without Georgia, the amount grown in Georgia not greatly affect the total crop or the price even if it could manage to expand its crops to 100,000,000 pounds. A good many are frankly saying that instead of hanging back and waiting for other states to act, Governor Ehringhaus should take the lead that he should have taken it weeks ago—and at least cooperate with Virginia and South Carolina.

In 1934, the tobacco farmers received about $130,000,000 for their tobacco, including benefit payments, and in 1935 about $125,000,000, due to the increased crop which was in excess of 800,000,000 pounds. If no steps are taken towards controlling production in 1936, indications are that the crop will amount to 900,000,000 pounds, of which 600,000,000 or more will probably be grown in North Carolina, according to the latest estimates. This will probably bring prices down to 19 cent a pound, with the result that tobacco growers would get only about $90,000,000 for their 1936 crop as compared with $125,000,000 for their 1935 crop and $130,000,000 for their 1934 crop, or $65,000,000 less than they received in 1935 and increase buying power that much over the entire state. Many contend this would bring chaos to North Carolina and a return of 1933 "Hoover cart" days. So there is a growing demand for some action by some one.

TAX DECREASE WAS EXPECTED

Shrinkage Was Not as Much as Had Been Looked For

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
 Raleigh, March 4.—The shrinkage in revenue, due to the severe winter weather in January, was not as much as had been expected, the figures showing the revenue collectors for February just issued by the Department of Revenue, indicate. It had been estimated that sales tax collections would show a shrinkage of about $300,000 below normal for the month and that gasoline tax collections would be off at least $200,000.

The actual figures as released by the Department of Revenue, however, show that the sales tax collections in February on business done in January, amounted to $715,287 as compared with $510,202 in February, 1935. It is estimated that the normal retail business done in January should have amounted to at least $30,000,000 and the tax collected should hence have amounted to at least $900,000. Thus the sales tax receipts were cut almost $200,000 by the bad weather in January, while the gross sales of merchants were reduced about $6,250,000 by the excessive snow and extreme cold.

The expected reduction in receipts from the gasoline tax did not materialize, however, the revenue from the gasoline tax in February of last year by $683,271, since collections in February this year amounted to $2,367,226 as compared with $1,683,954 in February, 1935. But for the eight months period ending Feb. 29, 1936, collections amounted to $18,506,703 while collections for the corresponding eight months ending Feb. 28, 1935, amounted to $19,037,016, indicating that highway revenue collections so far in this fiscal year are $530,310 behind the collections to the same date last year.

The fact that there was no decrease in gasoline tax collections during February is ascribed to the fact that the snow and bad weather necessitated a greater consumption of gasoline on the part of cars and trucks in operation, thus making up for those that were not operated.

To Sponsor Minstrel.
The Monogram Club, which is composed of the men students who make their letters in athletics, will sponsor the annual minstrel show at the college.

This will be given early in the spring term on April 3, with Miss Lorraine Hunter as the director. Plans have been made and the rehearsals will begin this week. It will be very different from the minstrel show of previous years, with various new features. The show is arranged as a play which incorporates the minstrel features. There will be forty in the cast.

The cast was selected some days ago, and on last Tuesday night the 23 members of the club entertained them at a party in the Y Hut when the script of the play was read.

Troop 30 Boy Scouts.
William Tatt, Greenville District Camping Director, will speak to Troop No. 30, Boy Scouts, Friday evening at the Rotary Club.

Student Tour To Virginia
More than forty Greenville High School students and friends are planning to make an educational tour to historic Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Yorktown, Virginia on Saturday, March 7.

Included in the itinerary are Jamestown, where the first permanent English colony in America was made; the historic buildings in Williamsburg, which have been rebuilt by donations from J. D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Yorktown, the site of General Cornwallis' surrender to Washington; and the five-mile James River bridge.

Paul Ricks of the college will supervise the tour; T. C. Bryan of the high school faculty is assisting with the arrangements. Those who, to date, have registered for the tour are:

Public School Faculty: — Misses Donnie Boone Hasket, Evelyn Hart, College Students: — Misses Jewel Cole, Elizabeth Wilson and Mary Beale Parker.

Leading Farmer Says Tobacco Outlook Is Serious

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, March 5.—The tobacco crop and price outlook for this year is becoming increasingly serious and immediate action should be taken to bring about a state pact plan and Congressional action to validate it, according to Dr. J. Y. Joyner, one of the leading farmers of the state, of LaGrange, Lenoir county, who conferred with Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus here Wednesday.

Dr. Joyner cut short a vacation in Florida to return to North Carolina because of the serious tobacco crop outlook. He was one of the tobacco leaders who stood by Governor Ehringhaus in 1933 in demanding that the Federal government do something for the tobacco farmers at that time.

"I think a special session for the North Carolina general assembly will be absolutely essential to bring about any sort of tobacco crop control and to prevent 1936 prices from dropping to destructive levels, if South Carolina passes a state pact plan similar to that already enacted by Virginia," Dr. Joyner said.

"I do not think it would be wise for North Carolina to call a special session, however, unless South Carolina agrees to go into a pact with Virginia and North Carolina without Georgia and unless Congress will enact the proper legislation necessary to validate the state pact plan.

However, I believe that North Carolina tobacco growers, with the assistance of those from Virginia and South Carolina, can go to Washington and bring enough pressure to bear to insure the necessary Federal legislation, just as we went there in 1933 and stayed there until the AAA and the Department of Agriculture changed their minds and finally agreed to bring tobacco under the control plan. There is no doubt in my mind that we can get the proper legislation from Congress to insure the success of the state pact plan if North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia agree to cooperate, and even if Georgia stays out, since Georgia produces only 10 per cent of the crop anyway."

Beautification Of State Fair Grounds Be Started at Once

WHISKEY LAWS ARE EXPECTED

More Liquor Legislation Seen If Session is Called

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, March 5.—Liquor is expected to figure along with tobacco if a special session of the general assembly is called by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus for the purpose of enacting state legislation and a state pact to control tobacco production in the various tobacco producing states.

For after the general assembly once convenes, it will be free to take up anything it may desire in addition to tobacco control, since in North Carolina the Governor has no veto power and has no authority to limit the deliberations of a special session to the objects set forth in the call.

Consequently, it is believed that next to the tobacco control legislation, the general assembly is most likely to enact some new legislation with regard to liquor, and probably on the county control plan such as is now in effect in eight counties. Most of the opinion heard here is to the effect that it will be almost impossible to enact a state-wide liquor control law now that the county option, county liquor stores plan is proving so successful in the eighteen counties now operating legal liquor stores. Not only are these counties unwilling to give up the revenue they are getting from these stores, but neighboring counties that do not now have liquor stores are in many cases anxious to have the privilege to hold elections and open stores if approved by a majority of the voters. In a good many counties here in the eastern part of the state, candidates in present "dry" counties are running for the 1937 legislature on a platform favoring still in the investigative stage. It may not be important but the Senator was bitter foe of Mr. Helvering's confirmation when the latter's name came before the Senate.

RUBBLE: Casual observers may suspect that Democratic majorities in House and Senate have turned on President Roosevelt. In recent weeks they have administered what may seem like rebukes to the executive branch.

They have refused funds for Panamaquoddy, for the Florida ship canal, for the famous shelter belt. They have protested bitterly against the disciplining of Major General Johnson Hagood. They have increased appropriations beyond the limit set by the budget.

As a matter of fact, Democrats on Capitol Hill were never more loyal to the President. As they read the newspaper ballots, his stock has been going up while theirs has been sagging. They will swing on this coast late next fall. They have been given to understand that they won't hurt his feelings if now and then they flare up and spike the GOP contention that they are "rubor augments." It will help them and the President, too.

CHARM: Both the Republican and Democratic National Committees have engaged radio promoters for the 1936 presidential campaign. The poor performances of several ballyhooed speakers before the "mike" convinced the back-stagers that the headlines need a little professional coaching.

AL Landon's last radio talk didn't register so well and Senate leader Robinson's stumbling reply to A. Smith was a flop, oratorically. Almost every politician who will take to the air between now and November is taking lessons on how to exude personality over this new medium. Stanley High, erstwhile prohibition crusader, has been hired by the Democrats at the President's request, and their disagreement over repeal is forgotten. John W. Elwood, Owen D. Young's a-voird nephew, is priming Republican crooners.

Radio technicians recently voted on the most popular and talented political voice on the radio. President Roosevelt finished first and Father Coughlin came next. No body else. Democrat or Republican, was even close.

REQUISITE: Alf Landon should look his prettiest when New York political wayfarers travel to Topoka to size him up next month. He may not know it but their reports may determine whether the Empire State's delegation of ninety-odd will line up for him at Cleveland. And New York's decision may bring such states as New Jersey and Pennsylvania into line.

New York's "big eight" like Landon's looks. They think he is sufficiently conservative on finances to suit them and sufficiently liberal to pick up votes. Beyond that they know nothing about him. So they are paying their own way to Kansas to discover whether he's the best man to pick to defeat a native New Yorker—Franklin D. Roosevelt. Here's how the most influential member of the GOP's legislative slate put it:

"New York, first of all, is anti-Borah. The delegates have agreed on that. We like Landon but we don't know much about him. We want to look him over. As we see it, the chief qualification our candidate must have this year is character. We don't want—or need—any geniuses.

New York By JAMES McMULLIN FAT: Utility chiefs have surrendered hope of getting at this session an amendment to the holding company act which they could accept and which would settle the question of federal regulation of the industry for keeps. Several Congressional leaders of both parties had displayed keen interest in the idea, but New York sponsors knew all along they couldn't get to first base without White House approval—or at least White House neutrality. They realized the

THE BOOMERANG CLUE BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

Chapter 43 "MURDER! POLICE!"

HOW Bobby and Frankie got out of the post office without disgracing themselves neither of them ever knew.

Outside, with one accord, they looked at each other and shook with laughter. "At the Vicarage—all the time!" gasped Bobby.

"And I looked through four hundred and eighty Evanses!" lamented Frankie.

"Now I see why Bassington-French was so amused when he realized we didn't know in the least who Evans was!"

"And of course it was dangerous from their point of view. You and Evans were actually under the same roof."

"Come on," said Bobby. "March-bolt's the next place."

"Like where the rainbow ends," said Frankie. "Back to the dear old home."

"Dash it all," said Bobby. "we must do something about Badger. Have you any money, Frankie?"

Frankie opened her bag and took out a handful of notes.

"Give these to him and tell him to make some arrangement with his creditors, and say that Father will buy the garage and put him in as manager."

"All right," said Bobby. "The great thing is to get off quickly."

"Why this frightful haste?" "I don't know—but I've a feeling something might happen."

"How awful! Let's go ever so quickly."

"I'll settle Badger. You go and start the car."

"I shall never buy that tooth-brush," said Frankie.

Five minutes saw them speeding out of Chipping Somerton. Bobby had no occasion to complain of lack of speed.

Nevertheless, Frankie suddenly said, "Look here, Bobby, this isn't quick enough."

"Bobby glanced at the speedometer needle, which was at the moment registering eighty, and remarked drily, "I don't see what more we can do."

"We can take an air taxi," said Frankie. "We're only about twenty miles from Medeshot airport."

"My dear girl!" said Bobby. "If we do that we'll be home in a couple of hours."

"Good," said Bobby. "Let's take an air taxi."

The whole proceeding was beginning to take on the fantastic character of a dream. Why this wild hurry to get to March-bolt? Bobby didn't know. He suspected that Frankie didn't know either. It was just a feeling.

At Medeshot Frankie asked for Mr. Donald King, and an untidy-looking young man was produced who appeared languidly surprised at the sight of her.

"Hello, Frankie," he said. "I haven't seen you for an age. What do you want?"

"I want an air taxi," said Frankie. "You do that sort of thing, don't you?"

"Oh, yes. Where do you want to go?"

"I want to get home quickly," said Frankie.

Five minutes later they were off.

"The same thing that has brought you, I expect."

"You have found out who Evans is?" asked Bobby.

Moira nodded. "Yes, it's a long story—"

"Come inside," said Bobby.

But Moira shrank back. "No, no," she said hurriedly. "Let's go somewhere and talk. There's something I must tell you—before we go into the house isn't there a cafe or some place like that in the town? Somewhere we could go?"

"All right," said Bobby, moving unwillingly away from the door. "But why—"

Moira stamped her foot. "You'll see when I tell you. Oh, do come! Here's not a minute to lose."

They yielded to her urgency. About halfway down the main street was the Orient Cafe, whose some what grand name was not borne out by the interior decoration. The three of them filed in. It was a slack moment. Half-past six.

They sat down at a small table in the corner, and Bobby ordered three coffees.

"Now then?" he said.

"Wait till she's brought the coffee," said Moira.

The waitress returned and listlessly deposited three cups of tepid coffee in front of them.

"Now then," said Bobby again.

"I hardly know where to begin," said Moira. "It was in the train going to London. Really the most amazing coincidence. I went along the corridor and—"

She broke off. Her seat faced the door and she leant forward staring.

"He must have followed me," she said.

"Who?" cried Frankie and Bobby together.

"Bassington-French," whispered Moira.

"You've seen him?"

"He's outside. I saw him. With a woman with red hair."

"Mrs. Cayman," cried Frankie.

She and Bobby jumped and ran to the door. A protest came from Moira, but neither of them heeded it. They looked up and down the street but Bassington-French was nowhere in sight.

Moira joined them.

"Has he gone?" she asked, her voice trembling. "Oh! do be careful. It's dangerous—horribly dangerous."

"He can't do anything so long as we're all together," said Bobby.

"Brace up, Moira," said Frankie. "Don't be such a rabbit!"

"Well, we can't do anything for the moment," said Bobby, leading the way back to the table. "Go on with what you were telling us, Moira."

HE PICKED up his cup of coffee. Frankie lost her balance and fell against him, and the coffee poured over the table.

"Sorry," said Frankie. She stretched over to the adjoining table, which was laid for possible diners. There was a cruet on it with two glass-stoppered bottles containing oil and vinegar.

The oddity of Frankie's proceedings riveted Bobby's attention. She took the vinegar bottle, emptied out the vinegar into the slop-bowl and began to pour coffee into it from her cup.

"Have you gone batty, Frankie?" asked Bobby. "What the devil are you doing?"

Original assignments are 25 cents apiece, with bargain rates if more than two members of a family join at one time. Dues are a dime a month—transmitted to Detroit—for which each member will receive the Coughlin magazine.

Members are warned to be careful about showing literature to non-sympathizers, and local clubs and their officials are flatly forbidden to make public statements of any kind. All public announcements must come from headquarters.

TECHNIQUE: Growth of these groups has been rapid in some regions near New York. A recent check-up in southern New Jersey showed 51 full-fledged clubs already in existence and about 4000 nuclei striving to grow up. It is hoped that at least 3000 of these will have come to maturity in 3 months. Long Island and northern Pennsylvania are also fertile territories. Coughlin's plan is to develop these clubs quietly under cover until June 1st—then startle the country with a crashing announcement of the National Union's imposing membership. The radio priest doesn't intend to repeat last year's mistake of sticking his neck out in public prematurely. Complete mobilization is wanted by June so that organization problems will be out of the way and the troops can be deployed at maximum effectiveness for the election campaign. Plenty of Congressmen will learn new wrinkles in the development of pressure group technique.

FISHING: There are capable men on Congressmen E. J. Bell's committee to investigate Townsendite finances but informed New York sources predict they will find it difficult to uncover anything which isn't already generally known. The inquiry will not disclose a gigantic slush fund—because there isn't any. As a matter of fact, many members of Townsend groups are inclined to be a bit slack about keeping up their dues.

This doesn't necessarily mean that Dr. Townsend's entourage is composed of altruists. The real money is in the profits of the Townsend weekly—which is owned by an entirely separate corporation. The Townsendites have retained ex-Senator Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia as counsel. He isn't a believer—but at this juncture it was felt that legal ability was a greater asset than devotion to the cause. Hardwick will probably lay great stress on a recent decision by Judge Buffington—of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia—which established limitations (in an income tax case) on the government's right to indulge in fishing expeditions into the personal affairs of its citizens.

INVESTMENTS: Stanford University's success in obtaining court approval for investment of part of its funds in common stocks will lead to a flood of similar applications by other institutions. The standard explanation of this yen to substitute equities for bonds—as voiced by Herbert Hoover and many others—is as a hedge against inflation. Actually that's a minor motive compared to the urgent need of such institutions to build a larger income on the same amount of capital. Financial institutions whose investments are rigidly prescribed by law such as savings banks—are also casting yearning eyes at the stock market. They point out that "legal lists" have by no means provided an adequate protection against loss—as witness the current quotations on many a railroad bond once rated gilt-edged.

TOBACCO FERTILIZERS MADE OF NATURE'S TREASURED PLANT-FOODS

FROM THE SEA FROM THE SOIL FROM THE MINES FROM PACKING PLANTS. WE use tons of fish scrap in Robertson's Proven Fertilizers and the manure of fish-eating birds. They supply plant-foods in forms no chemist can imitate. COTTONSEED-meal, rich in Nitrogen, Phosphoric Acid and Potash, is generously used in Robertson's Tobacco Fertilizers. It nourishes the crop constantly. THE bones of prehistoric animals are mined and turned into superphosphates to supply the phosphoric acid that crops need. IN blood and tankage are recovered the elements that grew the feed for livestock. We use them regularly in Robertson's Fertilizers.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES. USE THESE MAGNESIA-RICH—THOROLY CURED—BETTER INGREDIENT—FERTILIZERS. To prevent damage to the leaf from frog-eye and sand-drown, we use large quantities of Sulphate of Potash Magnesia. We put in Muriate to give body and weight. Then we add dolomitic limestone and "cure" the mixtures. This makes the magnesia available. Our Tobacco Mixtures contain one-half organic nitrogen and one-half mineral—proven best by years of test. *ROBERTSON'S Tobacco FERTILIZERS *SILKY LEAF 3-63 *OLD RELIABLE 2-93 *10 INGREDIENTS PACKED IN COTTON BAGS *GOLD DOLLAR 3-5 *GOLD STANDARD 3-06 PROVEN FORMULAS FOR EVERY CROP chances were slim—but they have been putting out feelers along this line quietly and with extreme diplomacy. For some time they couldn't obtain any definite reaction either way—but now at last it has come. The answer—indirectly but forcefully conveyed—is that "there will be no compromise with the utilities." And that's that. There are clear indications that FDR is satisfied with the popularity of his utility program and intends to stand pat on it as a major campaign issue. CLUBS: Father Coughlin refuses to concede that his influence is waning. He is directing his followers in a strenuous though unpublished drive to make his National Union for Social Justice a more potent political force than ever. The recruiting system works this way. EXTRA SESSION SEEMS LIKELY

Governor Ehringhaus However, Still Skittish Over Move

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, March 5.—A special session of the general assembly to enact a state pact law to control the tobacco crop in North Carolina in cooperation with South Carolina and Virginia is regarded as being more likely today than at any time so far, although it is agreed that Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus is still extremely skittish towards a special session. Some observers are already predicting that a special session will convene here by not later than the middle of April. No one is willing to rush a guess as to when the session might adjourn, since if it once started it would be free to take up anything it wanted to and stay in session indefinitely, although the pay of members would not continue for more than 20 days.

It is agreed, however, that Governor Ehringhaus will not call a special session until South Carolina enact a state pact and tobacco crop control bill similar to that already enacted in Virginia, agreeing to enter a state pact without Georgia for the year 1936 and until Congress enacts a law validating these state pact laws or assurance is given that it will pass such a law. For it is generally conceded that it would be useless to have a special session here unless it was certain that Congress would approve the state pact plan and enact the necessary legislation validating it and unless South Carolina will come into the pact for this year without Georgia. It is also agreed that the Georgia tobacco growers would have to show some degree of voluntary cooperation before the pact could become effective, since the Virginia law specifies that the tobacco crop control compact shall not become effective "unless and until the Governor (of Virginia) shall find as a fact and proclaim that effective means have been adopted in Georgia to regulate the tobacco crop and hold it within the quota as set forth in the act."

A committee of North Carolina tobacco growers, composed for the most part of the tobacco farmers who have been urging Governor Ehringhaus to call a special session, is in Columbia, S. C., today conferring with the South Carolina legislative committee before which the state pact bill is now resting, in an effort to determine whether South Carolina will agree to enter a pact with Virginia and North Carolina for 1936 only, without Georgia. It is expected the North Carolina committee will urge the South Carolina committee to enact virtually the same law as Virginia has enacted, so that it can become effective without Georgia, but providing that the Georgia growers must show some voluntary cooperation. It is believed that whatever action is taken in South Carolina will be taken by the end of this week or early next week at the latest.

If South Carolina enacts this state pact law, as it is now expected to do, the only remaining hurdle in the path to a special session of the North Carolina assembly will be Congressional action to validate such a pact. In an effort to find out what is being done in Washington, or if anything is being done there towards the enactment of this validating legislation, Governor Ehringhaus late yesterday sent telegrams to all the Congressmen from tobacco growing sections, asking the following questions:

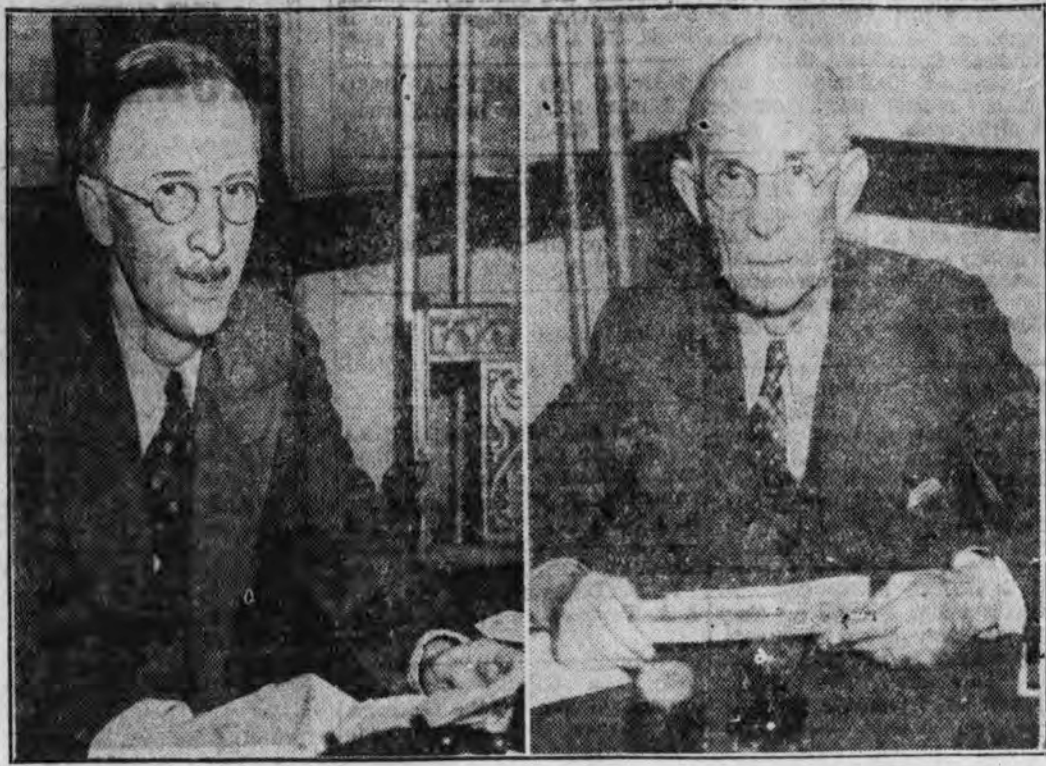

1. Has a bill been prepared by the Department of Agriculture, or by any one, to permit the bright tobacco growing states to enter into a pact for the control of tobacco production in 1936 and ensuing years?
2. Has such a bill been introduced?
3. Will the Department of Agriculture support such a bill if it is introduced?
4. What is the prospect for the passage of such a bill if it is offered?

This telegram was sent to Senator J. W. Bailey and to Representatives Lindsay Warren, Harold Cooley, Bayard Clark, Graham Barden, John H. Keer, Frank Hancock and W. B. Umstead. Governor Ehringhaus indicated he wanted to receive and study the replies of these members of Congress to these questions before he would commit himself any further with regard to calling a special session, even if South Carolina should enact a state pact law identical with the one enacted in Virginia. For without the enactment of a permissive law by Congress, the state pact laws would be completely useless.

However, there is no denying the fact that pressure for a special session from the tobacco producing counties is growing greater every day. The result is that if South Carolina enacts its state pact law and Congress passes the required permissive act, few see how Governor Ehringhaus can refuse to call the North Carolina assembly into special session to enact a similar law.

Mermaids, as part of their act, have learned to grip unseemly some part of the trunk upon which they pose. This combats the natural tendency of the water to displace its own weight and force the girls to the surface.

OFFICIALS DEFY TALMADGE'S 'DICTATORSHIP'

Gov. Talmadge's "financial dictatorship" of Georgia met stubborn opposition when State Treasurer George Hamilton (left) and Comptroller General William B. Harrison (right) refused to approve the spending of 1936 revenue without an appropriations bill. Harrison balked at countersigning the first warrant drawn by the governor since he set up the "dictatorship" and Hamilton backed up the comptroller. They are shown examining the warrant. HOEY SELECTS CITIES DESIRE R. L. THOMPSON HANDLE FUNDS

Newspaper Man Is Named Public Relations Director

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, March 4.—The name of Clyde R. Hoey is in the spotlight here again as the result of the appointment of Robert L. Thompson, veteran political reporter of The News and Observer here, as his public relations director.

Much political chatter has also resulted from the pilgrimage thru many of the eastern counties during the past week or so by Claude Ramsey, ace news and political reporter of The Asheville Citizen-Times and who is writing a series of articles for his papers in which he is saying that Hoey seems to be leading all the other three candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in most of the eastern counties. Ramsey admits he is finding considerable sentiment in favor of Dr. Ralph W. McDonald in some of the eastern counties, likewise some which seem to be definitely for Graham, but thinks Hoey is definitely in the lead except in the counties in the First Congressional District.

The appointment of Thompson as Hoey's publicity chief is regarded as significant from two points of view, and because considerable political significance is seen in it by both the Graham and McDonald supporters. The Hoey forces are delighted at the selection because they regard Thompson as being an unusually able newspaperman with an excellent political background, in addition to his newspaper experience, since he has covered the last five sessions of the general assembly in North Carolina for The News and Observer or the Associated Press. He has also had extensive newspaper experience both with the Associated Press and United Press in Washington and Baltimore. With the exception of the perennial W. Thomas Best, veteran correspondent for The Greensboro News and the acknowledged dean of Raleigh newspaper writers, and one or two others, Thompson probably has an extensive background of state political and governmental affairs as any newspaperman in the state and more than any of the candidates with the exception of Lieutenant Governor A. H. Graham.

I Ate What I Liked... Fat Slipped Away

It was so easy—I did not go on a diet. I took no exercise. I did not weaken my body with drastic purgatives. Yet fat slipped away. Each day I felt myself growing lighter, more slender. Now my figure is lovely, graceful. And I never felt better in my life.

That, in brief, is what thousands who have reduced the Marmola way might well tell you. Four times a day they take a little tablet containing the right quantity of a world-famous corrective for abnormal obesity.—A corrective prescribed by physicians everywhere and acknowledged to be the most effective known.

Since 1907, more than 20 million packages of Marmola have been purchased. Could any better recommendation be had?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. Soon you will experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent!

Marmola is on sale by dealers everywhere—from coast to coast.

Urge Decentralization of Relief Administration

Raleigh, March 2.—Greater decentralization of the administration of unemployment relief by the federal government, more liberal regulations as those eligible for relief and state participation under the Federal Social Security Act so that counties, cities and towns may be relieved of the cost of supporting the aged and poor who would benefit from this act, is asked by the North Carolina League of Municipalities in a report made public today by a special committee named by the league to study the relief needs in North Carolina and report its findings.

The money now being spent on relief by Federal agencies could be made to go further and provide relief for many more persons if the government would allocate this money directly to cities, towns and counties to be expended by them through already existing agencies, rather than through the highly organized, highly centralized and too much supervised organizations which the government has set up, the report declared. The money should be allocated on the basis of the number of relief cases at the present time, rather than those on relief a year ago, he report states. These local governments, of course, would be willing to make proper accounting to the Federal government for the funds received.

"The highly centralized administration of the various Federal unemployment relief agencies, such as the WPA, the PWA, ERA, NYIA and the other alphabetical agencies has resulted in so much red tape, delays, inefficiency and extravagance that the relief dollar has not gone as far as it might have gone under more decentralized administration," the committee report says. By turning the relief funds over to the local governments, the committee contends that "the administration of relief funds locally through existing agencies will make the relief dollar go much farther."

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS!

IF YOU WANT THE KIND OF TOBACCO THAT ORANGE GROWS, YOU CAN GET IT ONLY FROM ORANGE!

There are now many imitations of Orange. Success breeds imitation. But, there is still only one Orange, as every tobacco grower knows who has used it.

Over a period of many years Orange has been challenging all comers. During the past four years 37 growers have tested it against 71 competitive plots, using every well known competitive brand on the market.

What happened? Orange's 4 year average in these tests shows that it produced $49.40 per acre more—nearly $100 per ton extra!

Do you wonder that we say "beware of imitations"?

Do you wonder that we say—Orange will outgrow, outproduce, outquality and outdo in every way any tobacco fertilizer known.

Do you wonder that we say—if you want the kind of tobacco Orange grows, you've got to buy Orange!

The next best tobacco fertilizer you can buy is S-D JAMACA. Thousands of satisfied users prefer it to any other tobacco goods made.

ENGLISH DEPUTY M. F. H. FOLLOWS HUNT ON BUS

Ardingley, England (AP)—Colonel Ralph Clarke, deputy master of Old Surrey and Burston foxhounds, made hunting history by leaving his horse and mounting a passing bus in order to keep up with the pack.

The colonel later jumped from the bus blowing his horn, remounted on Sir Walter Scott's horse and resumed the chase during which hounds had run unchecked for three hours.

The fox showed disapproval of this unorthodox method of pursuit by going to ground.

New York, March 5.—(AP)—The strength of carriers and specialty stocks was the principal bullish influence in today's market. There was a little profit taking and a few of the steels, motors, utilities and mines selling apparently was not of an urgent character. Wall Street opinion of the tax question was still divided and some commission customers were said to have adjourned to the sidelines pending congressional action. The late tone was firm. Transfers approximated 2,600,000 shares.

and wife, Lizzie Boyd, on the 10th day of March, 1923, and recorded in Book U-14, page 529, we will on Saturday, the 7th day of March, 1936 12 o'clock, noon at the courthouse door in Pitt County, Greenville, N. C. sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land, to-wit:

Beginning at an iron pin with pointers in the run of the said Pine Log Branch canal, a corner between Mary E. Tyson and Lawrence Anderson; thence with the agreed chopped line made between Ruel Willoughby and Geo. W. Hemby and Arden Bynum in the year 1884, and recorded in Book F-4, page 267, as follows: S. 7 E. 112 ft.; S. 2-30 E. 357 ft.; S. 1-20 E. 153 ft.; S. 3-30 E. 155 ft.; S. O-30 E. 98 ft.; S. 6-05 E. 50 ft.; S. 2-40 E. 289 ft.; S. 1-50 E. 261 ft.; S. 2-20 E. 242 ft.; S. 1-40 E. 174 ft.; S. 3-05 E. 183 ft.; to an iron pin with pointers on the N. edge of a ditch, a corner between Mary E. Tyson and Lawrence Anderson in Sylvester Memby's line; thence with the dividing line between said Tyson and Hemby along the N. edge of the ditch N. 81-35 W. 700 ft.; N. 79-35 W. 500 ft. to a maple; N. 79 W. 105 ft. to an iron pin on the N. edge of said ditch, a corner made today between said Tyson and R. E. Willoughby; thence with the dividing line made today between said Tyson and Willoughby N. 92 1/2 ft. to an iron stake with pointers, another corner between them; thence with another of their dividing lines made today, N. 77-55 E. 952 ft. to an iron stake with pointers in a ditch, another corner between them; thence with another dividing line made between them today through the field N. 2-10 W. 1169 ft. to the center of the Stantonsburg Road; thence with the said road N. 75-20 E. 521 ft.; N. 56 E. 195 ft. to the center of Pine Log Branch canal bridge; thence up the run of the said canal to the beginning, containing 93 acres, more or less.

This land is sold subject to all unpaid taxes. This sale is made by reason of the failure of Alonza Boyd and wife, Lizzie Boyd, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust. A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale. This the 21st day of Jan., 1936. Interstate Trustee Corporation, Substituted Trustee.

A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO. All kinds of people choose Luckies, each for reasons of his own. But everyone agrees that Luckies are A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco. It is a rather surprising fact that the leaves of the same tobacco plant may vary far more than the leaves from plants of quite different types. Chemical analysis shows that the top leaves contain excess alkalies which tend to give a harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable, acid-alkaline balance. In Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the center leaves are used. Luckies are less acid. Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%. RESULTS VERIFIED BY INDEPENDENT CHEMICAL LABORATORIES AND RESEARCH GROUPS. Luckies—"IT'S TOASTED" Your throat protection — against irritation — against cough.
