

Be Sure You Are Properly Registered If You Want To Vote In The Primary June 6

Several hundred Greenville citizens are going to visit the polls Saturday, June 6, and find that they cannot vote, unless these people get busy now and see to it that they are properly registered on the books of the precinct in which they live. The registration books will be open at the various polling places in the city Saturday of this week, and on the following Saturday, and all persons not registered by that time will be unable to vote. After the 1932 primaries Greenville's one voting precinct was split into four separate precincts and a new registration was ordered before the regular November (Continued on Editorial Page)

CLYDE R. HOEY LEADS GRAHAM

With 11,799 Votes Cast Thus Far, McDonald Way Out in Front with 5,600, Followed by Hoey with 4,116, Graham with 1,874 and McRae with Only 209

By C. A. PAUL
(Copyright, 1936 by The Daily Reflector and 24 Co-operating Newspapers)

Gains by Clyde R. Hoey and Sandy Graham were registered in the newspaper straw vote on the democratic governorship race as almost 4,000 new votes were tabulated this week. Hoey's net gain was 2 1/2 per cent, Graham's exactly two per cent. While Hoey gained 1 1/2 per cent and Graham 6-10 of one per cent, McDonald lost 1.4 per cent, thus increasing Hoey's and Graham's actual gains. John A. McRae, the low man, also lost ground. While McDonald's strength was undiminished in the east, where he is polling a clear majority over all opponents, he slipped in the west, although he still has a plurality of the votes even in that section.

With 11,799 votes tabulated, the division is:

McDonald	5600
Hoey	4116
Graham	1874
McRae	209

The percentage standings of the four candidates and their relative positions one week ago today follow:

McDonald	5600
Hoey	4116
Graham	1874
McRae	209

A comparison of the candidates' strength in the east and in the west reveals that McDonald is still polling more votes in the east than his three opponents combined and that he has a plurality in the west. The east-west standings, with actual votes above the line, percentage of the total below the line:

McDonald	189,000
Hoey	139,600
Graham	64,000
McRae	6,800
Total	400,000

McDonald would fall short of nomination in the first primary by 10,401 votes because 200,001, one more than one-half the total, is required for nomination.

A significant phase of the poll is that McDonald from the very outset has led in the balloting in all the counties containing the state's larger cities, with a single exception, Buncombe, which contains Asheville. McDonald leads in Mecklenburg (Charlotte), New Hanover (Wilmington), Wake (Raleigh), Forsyth (Winston-Salem), Guilford (Greensboro) and Durham (Durham).

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER

DATA: Chairman Henry Fletcher has suffered a rough ribbing for hiring Professor Neals Carpenter, an outright Socialist, but he may have the last laugh on his critics. It turns out that he knew what he was doing all the time.

Mr. Fletcher was warned that Prof. Carpenter had liberal ideas and approved many New Deal objectives. But the chairman also knew that the academe had once been employed by Harry Hopkins' WPA in the field, had been fired and was sore. So Mr. Carpenter was brought to Washington to furnish the Republicans the inside story of supposed politics, graft and inefficiency in the relief regime. He told all he knew, and that's supposed to be plenty.

BIG ZEPPELIN SETS RECORDS

German Craft Sets New Marks in Both Crossings

(Copyright by Associated Press)

Frankfort-on-the-Maine, Germany, May 14.—(AP)—All records for both east and west crossings of the Atlantic fell as the giant German Zeppelin, Hindenburg reached home today.

The official flying time for the voyage from Lakehurst, N. J., was given as 49 hours, three minutes during which the craft covered 4-162 7/8 miles.

With its landing mechanism functioning perfectly, the Hindenburg rested in its hangar by 6:10 a. m. (EST) signaling completion of its maiden round trip between Germany and the United States with passengers, mails and freight.

Crowds gathered to view the Zeppelin before it leaves for the United States Saturday on the second of its projected series of commercial trans-Atlantic flights.

PRINCE ERNST DENIED POWER

Fascist Peer Ousted From Official Austrian Post

(By Associated Press)

Little Austria, sometimes called "the head without a body" stole the international show from her more powerful neighbors today.

Kurt Schuschnigg, chancellor, arose suddenly from the political backwash of the nation which the World War decimated. He ousted the volatile fascist Prince Ernst von Starhemberg from the vice-chancellorship.

The cabinet shakeup brought an apparent showdown on Starhemberg's gay uniformed private army, the Heimwehr, on which he has refused to disband and possibly portended events of international scope.

Better relations with Germany and possibly more favorable official reception of the movement for Hapsburg restoration were forecast in some quarters.

Bureau Issues Report On Lint Consumption

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Cotton consumed during April was reported by the census bureau today to have totaled 376,762 bales of lint, and 61,450 of lintless, compared with 548,913 and 60,811 during March this year, and 468,402 and 69,341 during April last year.

ASTOR: When Peter Grimm quit as housing adviser to Secretary Morgenthau, administration publicists carefully created the impression that he left Washington because he had concluded his survey of the New Deal's battling and conflicting housing agencies. Mr.

But that isn't all. Mr. Carpenter's state's evidence proved so valuable, politically, that it gave the G. O. P. a grand idea. Now they're contacting—and paying—every person they can discover who has served in some New Deal agency or other, and been let out. They are filing away the confidential memoranda of ex-employees of WPA, PWA, NRA, AAA, etc. They're withholding this explosive data until it will do most damage—September and October.

SELECT PLACE OF CAMPOREE

Boy Scouts to Hold Affair at Third St. School

The Boy Scouts of the Greenville District are going to hold their Camporee on the Third Street School grounds Friday afternoon, Saturday morning and Sunday morning. Scoutmaster Roy Campbell announced today. He explained that a camporee is a gathering together of all the Scouts in the District for a demonstration of camping for the benefit of the public who wonder how they do it. Mr. Campbell said the public is invited to come observe at anytime they wish.

Friday night there is to be a Council Ring and campfire which will be of interest to the public who would like to observe the "doings" of the boys and their leaders. Saturday morning will be the best time to see the boys' tents and arrangements for sleeping. Through the morning there will be patrol competition in the various Scout activities connected with camping and the last thing will be a treasure hunt which will involve the boy's knowledge of the compass, tracking, trees and trail finding. This camporee, Camporee Chairman Campbell said, is confined at this time to scouts of the district

McDONALD STILL HOLDING LEAD IN NEWSPAPER POLL

(Continued from page one) been "Stop McDonald!" It is that repulsive for the fact that during the week McDonald lost 14 points and that Hoy gained 11 points while Graham picked up 6 of 1 point? Will the trend continue? Or will it subside? With the first primary only a little more than three weeks away it is readily seen that if Hoy and Graham, or either, continue to gain at the present rate they will still fall far short of overtaking McDonald. In fact, Hoy's rate of gain during the past week will have to be four times as fast during the next three weeks in order to overtake the leader, while Graham's rate of gain will have to be stepped up more than 50 times. These suppositions do not take into consideration any losses McDonald may suffer. If he loses ground during the next three weeks as he has during the past week then Hoy will have to gain only twice as fast. Graham only 25 times as fast.

From the Graham camp comes the argument that his campaign was "ster getting underway than McDonald's or Hoy's, and that he will show phenomenal strength in the election. If that is true the straw vote will shortly record a bulge in the Graham vote because it must be kept in mind that ballots have been mailed in equal weekly allotments, each consisting of 20 per cent of the total. Today The Reflector and the 24 cooperating papers are making the final mailing. Thousands of new votes will be placed in the hands of voters by tomorrow.

Next Thursday another statewide tabulation will be made and will appear in this territory exclusively in The Reflector. In the meantime tabulations of the vote in The Reflector's territory will appear from time to time.

Why Gulf is the Gas for May

Birds are nesting. It's Spring . . . and it's the time of year to use Spring gas. The average temperature is several degrees higher than it was in April, and unless you're using a gas specially refined for Spring driving you're throwing dimes and dollars away. Get That Good Gulf Gasoline. Because it's "Kept in Step with the Calendar"—all of it goes to work, none of it goes to waste. Pull up at the Sign of the Orange Disc and try a tankful—today.

Only a Paper Poppy
Only some paper petals
With two leaves of paper, too
Only a paper poppy
Does it mean anything more to you?

The red is for the courage
Of the men who fought and bled
And then came back to spend their days
In the ranks of the living dead.

The green of the leaves reminds me
Of the sunny hill sides over the sea
Where rest the war town bodies
Of those who died that war might cease to be.

The cup that is formed by the petals
Covers a heart of gold
It stands for a labor of love
Whose value can never be told.

Only a paper poppy
But it holds the hopes and fears
Of numberless men and their loved ones
As they carry on through the years.

Program At West Greenville School.
As has grown to be the custom of West-End, the pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades presented on last Friday evening in the school auditorium, their annual spring program.

The program was both educational and entertaining, giving a history in song and dialogue of American music. Beginning with earliest American days, the history included our national anthems, Indian, negro, mountaineer, pioneer and cowboy music. Also Stephen Foster's songs, songs of the seventies and eighties, later patriotic songs and American hymns. The program was given under the direction of Miss Laura Foley. Little children taking speaking parts included: Misses Margie Allen, Charlene Moye, Theo Dell Nichols, Mary Ann Duncan, Mary G. Hales, Beaulah Hudson, Irene Forbes, Mary Baran Taylor, Louise Speight, Sudie Carrawan and Ila Lynn Allen; Masters Mitchell White, Ed McGlohon, Tom Cannon, Edmund Curry, James Hudson, Thomas Thorp, Floyd Williams, Shirley McGowan, Leo Edwards and Kirby Allen.

The large choir was composed of children from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades and was directed by Miss Laura Foley, accompanied by Miss Ona Shindler.

At the close of the program, a very gratifying report of the year's work was read by the secretary of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mr. Potts To Hold Revival.
Rev. J. R. Potts will leave for Greensboro Saturday morning where he will fill the pulpit of the Westminster Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, and will proceed to Boone, where he will conduct a two-weeks revival.

Junior Woman's Club.
The Junior Woman's Club will meet in the club building on Friday afternoon at 3:45.

Miss Ona Shindler will give a musical program "Appreciation of Music" from the first grade through the Glee Club.

Members of the Senior Woman's Club will be guests.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Miss Evelyn Hart, Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, Miss Laura Foley, Mrs. Brick Starling, Mrs. Picklen Arthur and Mrs. Joe Taft.

All members are especially urged to attend as this is the last meeting before the club disbands for the summer months.

The Round Table.
On Tuesday afternoon, for the last meeting of the Round Table club year, members were entertained by Mrs. E. W. Griffin at her home on East Fifth street.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. James Johnston, Mrs. Wyatt Brown and Mrs. Adelaide Bloxton.

In addition to the gift of books given this year, members voted to continue their subscription to the Good Housekeeping Magazine for the library. Roll call was answered with lines from favorite poems.

Beginning the year's program on "Shrines of the United States" with those in "The Albemarle of North Carolina," and having made a complete circle of the country, the concluding program on "Historic Williamsburg" was a happy climax to an interesting year's travels.

The program leader, Mrs. G. R. Combs, introduced Mrs. Adelaide Bloxton, who gave a most vivid, realistic and first hand picture of this wonderful place.

Having lived in Williamsburg and having been connected with the college there she gave many items of interest inaccessible to those not familiar with the place and surroundings.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald and Mrs. James Johnston, served an ice course.

End of the Century Club.
Mrs. Picklen Arthur was gracious hostess to the End of the Century Club on Tuesday afternoon, May 12, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson.

After the business, was dispensed with by the president, Mrs. Frank, the books for the year were given over to the library committee who will place them in Sheppard Memorial Library.

At this time the program was turned over to Mrs. Ed Batchelor who presented Miss Ramona School of Dancing.

Miss Stripes is a graduate of the Fay Boy School of Dancing, Richmond, Va., studied under Eleanor Fry and Harold Fisher and the Russian dancer, Sonia Sarova, New York. She gave a most delightful resume of the dance from its beginning up to the modern day.

Her able discussion of each phase of the dance and her interesting portrayal of many of the modern dancers with whom she has been intimately associated proved a most charming subject to her listeners, who realized that Greenville was indeed fortunate to have in her midst so able an exponent and teacher.

Miss Staples ended her talk by inviting every member of the club to be present at the recital her pupils will give on Friday night, May 15th.

After the program, Mrs. Arthur assisted by Mrs. F. P. Brooks, served a delicious salad course.

Realizing that this was the last meeting of the year, good-byes were said reluctantly amid expressions of regret that so interesting and worthwhile a season was at an end.—Reported.

Thomas Robinson Taken To Atlanta For Life Sentence.
Confessed Abductor of Stoll Kidnaping Taken to Penitentiary Following Plea of Guilty

Atlanta, May 14.—(AP)—Federal guards brought Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., to Atlanta by train from Louisville today to serve a life sentence for the $50,000 kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll.

The 29-year-old Tennesseean, who pleaded guilty in Louisville last night, was hustled to the White Stone Federal penitentiary in southwest Atlanta less than 60 hours after his arrest in Glendale, Calif.

Robinson was sentenced by Federal Judge Elwood Hamilton.

In the 10 preceding days the department of justice agents had brought to heel Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, wanted for the $300,000 Edward G. Bremer and William Hamm kidnapings in Minnesota.

Protest Delay In Italian Deputies Consideration Of Endorse Measure New Textile Bill Enlarging Empire

Representatives of Textile Workers Criticize Postponement of Ellenbogen Bill

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Two representatives of textile workers protested today against any delay in congressional consideration of the Ellenbogen textile control bill.

In a joint statement Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the United Textile Workers, and John W. Edelman, of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, said administration leaders pigeon-holed the measure to set up a little NRA for the textile industry until the Supreme court ruled on the validity of the Guffey coal act.

They pointed to differences between the two and argued that a decision in the coal suit would settle the constitutionality of the textile bill.

Chamber Unanimously Ratify Bill Creating Italian Empire Based on Ethiopian Conquest

Rome, May 14.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies clamorously and unanimously ratified the bill creating an Italian empire in the presence of Premier Mussolini and his entire government today.

The regimented deputies were uniformed in blackshirts. They were enthusiastic.

Watching the vote from the diplomatic gallery was Baron Pompeo Aloisi, head of the Italian delegation to the League of Nations, who had just returned from Geneva.

Mussolini read the decree creating a new empire based on the conquest of Ethiopia without comment.

Road Force Making Progress On Repairs

Raleigh, May 14.—The highway department is now making real progress in repairing the county roads over the state which were so badly damaged this past winter. Chief Highway Engineer W. Vance Baise said today. He has just received a report from Division Engineer T. T. Betts in Fayetteville, listing the various projects in that division which are now under way, located in 17 different counties.

"Now that the weather has become more favorable, our maintenance and repair forces are beginning to make real progress on the county roads," Baise said. "In another month or two it will be possible to see the results of this emergency repair and betterment work in every section of the state."

Gypsy Weather

BY MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

SYNOPSIS: Dirk Joris is having his sister-in-law, Hope, introduced with the idea of finding out what mysterious errand took her out of the old Joris estate early one morning. Rupert Joris married Hope knowing nothing at all about her; what little Dirk knows does not help clear the mystery surrounding her. Somewhat to Dirk's surprise, Hope is a success with all the Joris friends; somewhat to his own dismay, he finds himself thinking about her often—too often.

Chapter 20 RODEO

DIRK was to wonder in the succeeding days if Hope had somehow divined his arrangement with Martin, for she went nowhere during the day.

Nothing happened. Certainly the watchers at the gate were discovering no reason for being there. Dirk thought of discharging them, still calling himself a fool; then, in a recurring mood of caution, permitted them to remain. But he made up his mind to keep them only a month longer.

One evening, coming home early, and entering the library, he found Hope at the telephone. She put the receiver casually, though quickly, into place, greeting him in a low voice. The room was almost dark, and he could not see her face.

"Take me to the rodeo?" she asked. Dirk, drawing off his gloves, was aware of a tension, a disquiet, in the room. He asked when the rodeo was to be.

"It begins tomorrow," she told him. "Madison Square Garden. The two weeks before the horse-show. I want to go the evening of the twenty-fifth, and Rupert may not be in town. He doesn't want me to go alone."

She was moving about the room, had lit a coppershaded lamp to add its glow to the firelight, was drawing the dark-green curtains at the windows, rearranging the bowl of marigolds on the table with swift brown fingers.

She stood presently beside the hearth, looking down at the coals, drawing her skirts away. The warmth and light of the room seemed to come from her still, red figure, rather than from the fire. Dirk could see her face in the small, silver-wreathed mirror on the mantel. She was smiling tremulously.

"I know you think it's comical," she said, "Rupert's not wanting me to go alone. He doesn't know, of course, how much I've knocked around by myself. Unless..." She gave him a quick look. "Unless you've told him. Have you?"

Dirk answered in a low voice. "How could I tell him: what I don't know?"

"But you know," she said, "about the circus." "The circus, yes. But I promised not to mention that. Do you think I would break my word?"

She was silent, looking at the fire. Dirk put his answer more positively. "I have told nothing. I shall tell nothing. You may trust me."

He had not moved, nor she, yet suddenly they seemed close, some barrier had melted between them, some tension eased. She was turned away from him, but the little mirror showed him her face moving convulsively. She seemed to be striving for composure before facing him again. Presently she looked up and in the mirror caught Dirk's eyes. A look of horror broke across her face. She bent over the fire.

Horror smote Dirk also. Horror that she should catch him spying on her, or seeming to spy. He went to her side. "If there's anything... Listen to me, Hope. I'd do anything for you. Anything on earth. Do you understand?"

She looked up at him, smiling now, her words a little shaken. "Understand? Of course," she said. "Ask something of me." He insisted. "Anything."

"I do. Take me to the rodeo." The moment was gone. She was laughing now, smoothing her hair at the little mirror, for they heard Rupert in the hall. She must always, thought Dirk, be smooth and beautiful for Rupert.

As for the rodeo, he said he would order seats. "I've already ordered them," she answered. "I was ordering them when you came in."

ON the twenty-fifth it seemed so likely that Rupert would be at home that Dirk exchanged Hope's seats for a box, and invited Isabel. In the end Rupert went with them. Hope had seemed gayer with Dirk since their meeting in the library, and at the same time more intent on avoiding him. The night of the rodeo she left him entirely to Isabel, sitting on Rupert's other hand, keeping Rupert's substantial bulk between them, so that Dirk could only rarely see her face.

It was natural that she should want to see the rodeo, even in what Dirk felt must be their unsympathetic company. The rodeo was the sort of horse-show to which she had been bred.

Dirk watched the bronco riding, wondering why he had never thought to visit a rodeo before. Isabel watched too, apparently less bored than usual, wearing a dark sports-suit, and a boyish hat.

She would be bored before it was over, but now she was interested even in the cowboys who, not taking part in the events, squatted on their heels about the arena, looking on. Sometimes when a cow or a bucking horse became too general in its activities they leaped aside, climbing the chutes or the rails of the box.

Rupert asked Hope why they were there, and passed her reply along to Dirk and Isabel.

"They're studying the horses, watching to see if a horse takes a long neck, or a short one."

It was during the steer-wrestling that a vast scramble occurred in the arena, and a cowboy leaped neatly into their box.

"That's the craziest steer we've got," he apologized, as Rupert rose to make room for him. "Some devil." Dirk had been watching the steer, and the cowboy who, mounted on a pinto pony, was flying after him. Even as they looked, the boy left his horse, leaped to the steer's back, grabbing him below the horns. The steer whirled and twisted, lay suddenly on the ground, all four feet extended.

The cowboy in the box heaved a sigh and smiled.

"Lucky Dan's in the money, all right," he said. "I thought he was crazy, trying to wrestle Lucifer. None of us thought a New York kid could do it. Lucifer's killed two men, Westerners."

Rupert was interested. "Lucky Dan from New York?" he asked.

"So they say," answered the cowboy. "I sure don't believe it now."

"Why not?" inquired Isabel. The visiting cowboy was tall with keen gray eyes and skin as brown as a mango. "We have ranches here," she added.

He appeared to observe her for the first time. His gray eyes held admiration, and repressed amusement.

"Yes, Ma'am," he agreed politely, and leaped over the rail.

Rupert sat down again, but not before Dirk had seen Hope, leaning forward in her chair, staring into the arena with white face and fixed eyes. She was watching the New York cowboy, listening to the megaphoned voice of a judge proclaiming Lucky Dan's triumph over Lucifer.

There was an immense sound of applause, and Lucky Dan took off his sombrero, disclosing a grave young face, and a blond head. He bowed, never smiling, scarcely seeming to care.

Dirk watched him leave the arena. Something in his walk, something in the way he had taken off the sombrero—

Where, Dirk asked himself, had he seen Lucky Dan before? Where witnessed those automatic gestures, that slightly bowed gait? Did he imagine he held a memory of them because the boy was so plainly Hope's reason for being here?...

NEXT day Dirk inquired at the rodeo-offices about Lucky Dan. He had come, indeed, from a ranch upstate, had only lately entered the contests, under the management of his father, a hellion individual named Jones.

"As for the boy," said Dirk's informant, an arena director in a teggallon hat, "as for that kid, he's got the face of an angel. Golden hair and blue eyes."

"What do I know about him? That's enough, ain't it? Neither him nor his dad mixes much with the crowd, so it's not easy to know 'em. Nobody likes Jones. He bullies the kid, but the kid don't seem to mind."

Dirk asked when Lucky Dan would ride again.

"Can't tell you that, at least not in advance. He got in late, and he has to wait every time till somebody drops out. Of course we knew ahead when he was going to wrestle Lucifer. That's how he got in, off to bulldog old Lucifer."

And that was how Hope had known that she wanted to see the rodeo on the twenty-fifth. Dirk wondered if she would ask to go again.

That night he directed the detectives to look up the history of the Joneses, father and son. That history, he had no doubt, was closely woven with the riddle of Hope.

Mr. D. J. Whichard, Jr., Editor, Daily Reflector. My Dear Mr. Whichard:

I am sure I am voicing the sentiment of the mothers fifty-five and older, who attended the Mother's Day Party on Monday of this week, when I say it was indeed a lovely party. As one of them, I wish to thank the Pitt Theatre, The Daily Reflector, and the Greenville Floral Company for making this event possible. Our hearts were stirred by the lovely picture "Little Lord Fauntleroy"—the story we read in our younger days.

I am sure we shall be looking forward to this event in the next year with anticipation and interest. MRS. D. D. OVERTON, One of the Mothers.

Although European threats of war are partly responsible, smart publicity by army advisers lies behind the national defense push. Instead of baiting liberals and pacifists, as navy propagandists do, the army's topnotchers have preached the gospel of "national defense for peace." Almost overnight they have transformed the attitude of anti-militarists. Professional pacifists now argue for military expansion, and church groups warn that there are eventualities "worse than war." Some, of course, see the rebuilt army and navy as agencies of world peace, since the League has proved so futile.

Ironically, both Congressional apostles of a bigger-and-better army and navy on Capitol Hill are devout churchmen. Chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee is Morris Sheppard of Texas, ardent prohibitionist and lay preacher. Head of the House Naval Affairs Committee is Carl Vinson of Georgia, a quiet, non-belligerent chap. Both say that peace-at-any-price people's protests against large appropriations have sagged 100 per cent within the last six months. "Preparedness" has become the motto of the pacifists.

A MILLION miles on Firestone Tires without an accident. That is the record of Ab Jenkins, famous driver, who has driven on all kinds of roads and in all kinds of traffic in every state in the union. What a tribute to safe, dependable, tire equipment! Make this proof of performance your guide in choosing new tires to protect yourself and your family. There are three important facts you should know about the tires you buy—FIRST—THE FACTS ON TRACTION AND NON-SKID SAFETY

A leading university in 2,350 tests has found that the new, scientifically designed tread on the Firestone High Speed Tire stops a car up to 25% quicker. SECOND—THE FACTS ON BLOWOUT PROTECTION Ab Jenkins used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires when he drove his 5,000-pound car over the hot salt beds at Bonneville, Utah, in the record-breaking time of 127 miles per hour, covering 3,000 miles in 23 1/2 hours without a blowout or tire trouble of any kind. THIRD—THE FACTS ON ECONOMY AND NON-SKID MILEAGE The largest transportation companies in the country, such as Greyhound, to whom safety and tire economy mean business efficiency, use Firestone Tires from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the Gulf. And our own test fleet records prove that the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 gives you up to 25% longer non-skid mileage. The Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 proves by performance its superiority in all of these three qualifications. Make this proof of performance your yardstick of safety and value. Decide today to equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1936—the safest driving equipment money can buy.

Greenies Get Easy Win Over Visitors By 18-5 Score

Reynolds Mays' Greenville high school proteges established another winner at the Third street stadium here yesterday afternoon by overcoming the nine of the Williamston by a score of 18-5.

Pitchers Downing and Tucker did the twirling in yesterday's clash. Richard Downing started on the mound for the Greenies and was relieved by Wayland Tucker after allowing four hits and two runs. Tucker permitted the visitors to obtain one hit and two runs.

The locals made a total of 21 hits during the whole game. Carl Pierce, George Clark, Harold Forbes, Joe Hatem, and the team captain in yesterday's tilt, Bill Clark, came through with three hits each to their credit. This is the first time in some while that five of the team's staff made the same number of hits in one game. Bill Clark played his last game of the season in behalf of the locals yesterday, although the season ends this afternoon. Bill has made a good showing in center this year, and his playing ability has brought forth many favorable comments from fans who have seen the team in action.

Joe Hatem came within a stone's throw of putting the old apple over the fence in centerfield yesterday. During the game he connected with a fast ball thrown by Williamston's pitching hopes, Cooke, and sent a drive that hit the fence with a heavy thud.

Hardison of the visitors was the only successful member of the visitors to lead the batting for his team. He led with two hits.

The locals end their season here this afternoon by engaging the Fayetteville high yesterday J. H. Rose declared that all school students would be admitted free, and it is thought that the team will experience the largest attendance of the game than during the whole year.

Batteries: Greenville—Downing, Tucker and Pierce.
Williamston: Cooke and Wynne.

MODERN PLANT IS DISPLAYED

Cooling and Heating System at Carolina Sales Corp.

What the modern home and business will be equipped with in the near future as to heating and cooling systems has been installed at the Carolina Sales corporation sales room.

The public has been invited to visit the corporation's offices to see for themselves how the dual system works, purifying and cooling the air in summer and heating it in winter.

Dirt is filtered out of the air, which is left dry. A complete change of air in the offices takes place every 15 or so minutes. The change is not at once, however, old air going out and new coming in continuously. Twenty per cent of the new air comes direct from outside the building, is purified and mixed with air which has been cleaned, re-filtered and forced back into the room.

A condensing unit is used to clean and cool the air. The air is forced through filters of spun glass, removing all impurities and dust. A grill is provided for outgoing air and another for incoming air, after it has been run through a mixing chamber.

For winter use the condensing unit is used to warm the air, which is also purified as in summer.

R. E. Cawhern, commercial sales manager for the Carolina corporation, said the plant was available for homes and businesses of all sizes. He added it could be installed in homes already built, as well as in homes being constructed. The cost, he said, for the entire cooling and heating system for the average home would amount to about $1,200. He explained the installation of the plant would be a money-saving device in the long run, cutting down on the cost of old methods of heating during the winter.

Mr. Cawhern declared the system was out of the experimental stage, adding "we are dealing with something we know something about."

He predicted that in the near future the average modern home would be equipped with the system. He also predicted a wide use of the plant in office buildings and stores. The sales manager said he was working on several contracts in the city at present.

PLAN IS TRIED AT CAMP POLK

Raleigh, May 13.—Both discipline and the general morale of the prisoners at Camp Polk Farm, the prison camp for youthful prisoners from 16 to 24 years old, has been greatly improved as the result of the new plan now in effect there. Acting Director Oscar Pitts of the prison division of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, said today.

Under this new plan, the discipline of the camp is entirely under the direction of Superintendent R. R. McLain, while the operation of the farm is under the direction of Capt. F. A. Hodges. Formerly both the prison discipline and the operation of the farm was under the direction of one man, Capt. Hodges.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 14.—(AP)—Rallying forces got their backs up against today's stock market and gave prices a punch for gains of one to around five points.

Business news seemed to be the principal motivator of the recovery move. Considerable short covering also was said to have appeared because of the dwindling volumes of the past week showed a drying up of selling. The activity, while not feverish, was more pronounced than in recent sessions.

The late tone was strong, sales approximately 1,400,000 shares.

CITY CLEARED PIN DEVICES TODAY BY OPERATORS

On Monday of this week Chief of Police George Clark issued official notice that all machines must cease operation by the following night or his officers would be instructed to seize them and hold them until the matter could again be thrashed out in the courts. Following the issuance of Chief Clark's order L. B. McCormick, owner of the machines obtained an order from Judge Walter Small, who is holding court in Washington, restraining the local police from seizing the machines or molesting in any way the operation of the machines. The order was made returnable before Judge J. Paul Frizzelle at Snow Hill on May 30.

When it was found that city officers were for the time blocked by the restraining order Mayor M. K. Blount and Chief of Police George Clark Tuesday sought the aid of Sheriff Sam A. Whitehurst in carrying out the order to break up the operation of the machines here. Sheriff Whitehurst was said to have immediately issued an order that the machines must be out of operation by six o'clock that evening but a short while later he appeared in the office of the clerk of the court and requested to have himself made a party to the restraining order which likewise blocked him from molesting the operation of the machines in any way.

The matter was discussed in a meeting of citizens Tuesday night and a mass meeting was set for next Tuesday night at which time an effort will be made to enlist the aid of as many of the county's citizens as possible in a movement to get the machines out of Pitt county and keep them out. Judge Barnhill, recognized as one of the state's outstanding jurists has accepted an invitation to address the gathering at the mass meeting.

Judge Small's order restraining the city officers together with the order signed by J. F. Harrington, Clerk Superior Court, including Sheriff Whitehurst in the order follow:

North Carolina, Pitt County, In the Superior Court:

L. B. McCormick, trading as McCormick Vending Machine Company, vs. M. K. Blount, Mayor of the Town of Greenville, and G. A. Clark, Chief of Police of the Town of Greenville.

This matter coming on to be heard before his Honor, W. L. Small, one of the Judges of the Superior Court of the State of North Carolina, and being heard on May 11, 1936 in the Town of Washington, North Carolina, upon the petition of the plaintiff, and it appearing to the Court that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief prayed for in the petition:

It is now, therefore, considered, ordered, adjudged and decreed that the defendants, Mayor and Chief of Police of the Town of Greenville, North Carolina, their servants, officers, agents and employees, be and they are hereby restrained and enjoined from in anywise interfering with the use and operation of any of the marble tables, the property of the plaintiff, in the Town of Greenville aforesaid or within its jurisdictional limits, and that they be restrained and enjoined from removing or attempting to remove any of the aforesaid tables from any place where they may be now or hereafter located, and that play be had at said tables uninterrupted by and without interference from the defendants:

And the defendants be and they are hereby ordered and directed to appear before the Hon. J. Paul Frizzelle, Resident Judge of the Fifth Judicial District at the Courthouse, in Snow Hill, N. C., on Saturday, May 30, 1936, at ten o'clock A. M. and show cause if any they have why this restraining order shall not be continued to the hearing.

And the Sheriff of Pitt County, upon the filing of bond in the sum of $250.00 to be approved by the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to serve upon the defendants named a copy of this order, together with a copy of the petition.

And this matter is retained for further orders.

Signed W. L. Small, Judge Superior Court.

This matter coming on to be heard before the Hon. J. F. Harrington, Clerk Superior Court of Pitt County, on May 12, 1936, at the office of said Clerk in the Courthouse at Greenville, and being heard:

It is now, therefore, upon motion of S. A. Whitehurst, Sheriff of Pitt County, considered, ordered and adjudged, that he be and is hereby made a party defendant to the above entitled action, and that he, together with his deputies and agents, be and they are hereby in all respects restrained in the same manner and to the same effect as is provided in the temporary restraining order heretofore issued herein against the defendants above named by his Honor Judge Small, without prejudice to the right of said Sheriff to interpose
