DIPLOMATS OF LARGE POWERS SHOW CONCERN

Study Significance of Jap Forces in North China

J. S. OFFICIAL IS CONCERNED

Chinese Sources Insist Japanese Reinforcements Have Two-Fold Purpose

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Renewed attention was called today by William Phillips, under-secretary of state, to previous indirect American warnings against Japanese expansionist activities in China.

Peking, May 16.—(AP)—United States and other foreign diplomats began a study today of the serious situation arising from Japan's strengthening of its north China garrisons which caused the Nanking government to protest to Tokyo.

Diplomats pointed out the Boxer protocol, concluded after the uprising of 1900, permitted Japan and other signatories to bring in only protective forces.

In connection with a Japanese military attaché's statement that the reinforcements were required to protect and increasing number of Japanese residents in north China, a foreign diplomat declared no danger existed.

Both Peking and Tientsin have been normal with no communist activities in this area and no threat to foreign interests or lives.

Chinese sources insisted the reinforcements had a two-fold purpose: 1. To encircle north China with a view to ultimate occupation and subjugation by Japan.

2. To prepare for an eventual war with Soviet Russia which Japan might regard not only as a menace to Manchukuo, but also to its own island empire from the air.

Leaders Seek To Adjourn Congress In Three Weeks

Attempt to Smooth Way for Relief Appropriation Measure; Also Seek to Compromise on Tax Measure

Washington, May 16.—(AP)—Bent on adjourning Congress in three weeks, New Deal legislative leaders sought today to smooth the way for the $1,425,000,000 relief appropriation and to compromise on the tax issue.

The latter was the more complicated problem. The Senate finance committee was putting into shape today a tentative compromise proposal including an increase from four to five per cent in the normal tax on all individual incomes.

Some committeemen felt the proposal in which President Roosevelt's suggestion for taxing undistributed profits, would be a comparatively minor feature, might be approved by the committee today.

Awaiting treasury estimates on the proposed compromise the committee discussed technical phases of the "windfall" tax which President Roosevelt suggested against firms which avoided AAA processing taxes.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) predicted the committee would have a bill before the Senate the middle of next week.

A senate appropriation sub-committee considering the $1,425,000,000 relief fund for next year studied today a proposal to make $250,000,000 of previously appropriated money available to Secretary Ickes to continue making public works grants to states and municipalities.

Greenville Selected For Warehousemen's Meeting

1937 Session To Be Here; B. B. Sugg Elected President

Greenville was selected as the meeting place of the 1937 sessions of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's association and B. B. Sugg, a Greenville man, was elected president at the organization's annual meeting yesterday afternoon in Rocky Mount.

John H. Kerr, fourth district congressman from Warrenton, was the featured speaker at a luncheon meeting preceding the final sessions which lasted until late afternoon.

Mr. Sugg succeeds H. P. Foxhall of Rocky Mount and Tarboro. E. V. Webb of Kinston was selected vice president, succeeding Simon M. Moye of Greenville. A board of 12 directors also was selected.

The nominating committee report, unanimously adopted, named no successor to George P. Arrington, incumbent secretary, treasurer, who requested he not be renominated. Unofficially it was understood a successor will be named by President-elect Sugg shortly.

The new directors include W. Z. Morton, Greenville, D. W. Reavis, Kinston; W. H. Adkinson, Robersonville; Mr. Foxhall, W. L. House, Tarboro; Dixon Wallace, Smithfield; Mike Griffin, Wendell; Holt Evans, Williamston; Herbert Gravelly, Washington; J. Y. Monk, Farmville, and J. J. Gibbons, Wilson.

About 65 warehousemen were present. The Association went on record as favoring the continuance of the National Warehouse Association, pledged itself unanimously to support any plans adopted for the control of flue-cured tobacco production and appointed a permanent committee for this purpose, appointed a committee to draft a warehouse code agreement for the season of 1936, and transacted other business coming before the meeting.

The Association also passed resolutions condemning the practice of marketing low-grade tobacco and scrap tobacco and pledged itself to co-operate fully with the tobacco growers to work out a new program.

Efforts leading to the transfer of the hearing of the temporary order restraining city and county officers from confiscating slot and pin machines from Snow Hill to Greenville were undertaken this morning at a meeting of a steering committee making arrangements for a mass meeting here Tuesday night to protest operation of the machines in the city.

The committee also undertook plans to have the hearing moved from May 30 to an earlier date. The order, signed by Judge Walter Small in Washington this week, is returnable before Judge Paul Prizzelle in Snow Hill two weeks from today.

Local citizens became aroused over the situation immediately after the order was signed prohibiting officers from molesting the machines. A meeting was held and plans laid for a mass meeting in the court house Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Judge M. V. Barnhill has been invited to the meeting and has signified his intentions of attending. The Rocky Mount jurists is considered as one of the most hostile judges on the Superior Court bench to the devices and has been instrumental in removing them from public places in many sections.

The steering committee's meeting this morning was to work on details of the mass meeting Tuesday night. Another session of the group was called for Monday night. Members of the committee explained that they desired the hearing.

THREE KILLED, FIVE INJURED IN GUN FIGHT

White Officer Slain in Orange County, Virginia

NEGRO MAN AND SISTER VICTIMS

Sheriff Shot to Death Attempting to Arrest Negro on Charge Threatening Woman

Gordonsville, Va., May 16.—(AP)—A savage gun battle that lasted far into the night left three persons dead today, one a white officer, the others an aging negro and his sister, who toppled wounded, or slain, into the funeral pyre of their burning cottage.

Five officers and posse members were wounded, three of them so seriously as to require hospital treatment before a posse crept close to the negro tenant home and set it afire.

The dead: Sheriff William B. Young of Orange county; William Wells, 65, the negro; Cora Wells, his sister. Sheriff Young was shot to death by Wells during the afternoon as he and a state patrolman tried to arrest the negro on an accusation of a wealthy white woman that he had threatened her with a gun in a nearby cemetery.

Young was felled by a bullet in the heart and the patrolman was wounded in the arm and leg. Other officers in the party summoned hastily state officers and a posse of citizens which swelled at the height of the battle to nearly 300.

As machine gun fire swelled in the play of searchlights upon the house a state officer crawled close to an outhouse and flung his burning shirt, which he had dipped into gasoline into the building. The fire spread rapidly to the cottage and a final burst of shooting followed.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER. KILLED: What makes the Senate suspicious of the bedraggled tax bill is that so many large corporations which usually make high-priced lawyers against a revenue measure have been conspicuously silent and absent this time.

Had the heavy taxpayers endorsed the proposal, it would have aroused even more political opposition. But their acquiescence has stirred sufficient political concern to cool off the early enthusiasm for the proposition, though it was originally hailed as the kind of revenue-raising scheme which could be safely passed in a reelection year.

Meanwhile, owners of small corporations and business houses have flooded Capitol Hill with letters to the effect that all initiative and expansion would be killed by the surplus-division clause.

G. O. P. Keynoteur Frederick Steiwer regales cloakroom cronies with an anecdote which won't help the bill. He tells how he asked a prominent New York industrialist why he did not oppose the measure. The answer was that, though corporations did not relish this theory of taxation, they saw no reason for fighting a bill which would eliminate the threat of competition for a long while.

FLEEING CONVICTS HARD-PRESSED BY HOUNDS

Men and dogs combined to pursue one of the west's greatest man-hunts for convicts who escaped from the state prison at McAlester, Okla., after killing their foreman and kidnaping two guards and two farmers. Officers Recapture Two More Oklahoma Convicts

One Is Taken After Farmer Had Been Held Hostage

Antlers, Okla., May 16.—(AP)—The wounded Jess Cunningham, one of the eight desperate convicts who escaped from McAlester penitentiary Wednesday was captured today by officers at a farm home one mile south of here.

Previously a young farmer living three miles west of Clayton, Okla., had been kidnaped by two of the fugitive convicts and forced to accompany the desperadoes who were on foot. Hugh Askew, a posse leader, reported to prison officials, Askew said the name of the farmer could not be learned immediately.

SERVICES SET START SUNDAY

Dr. John W. Ham Arrives in City to Conduct Revival

Dr. John W. Ham of Atlanta, Ga., considered one of the foremost ministers in the South, will begin a two-weeks' service in Memorial Baptist church here tomorrow at the morning service. He arrived in the city today.

Dr. Ham will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow and again at 8 o'clock. Each week-day he will conduct Bible talks at 10 a. m., and will speak at gospel song and service meetings at 7:45 p. m.

The services will continue through Sunday, May 31. Dr. Ham has been engaged in religious work in many sections of the county and his vast experience provides him with a background for both helpful and interesting sermons.

He at one time was affiliated with the late Dr. Lynn G. Broughton, who was originally scheduled to conduct the services at Memorial Baptist church this year.

During the past 11 years he has been on the National platform of Evangelism and has conducted meetings between Los Angeles and Maine.

He is considered a teacher as well as a preacher and his sermons are delivered rapidly, but his enunciation is clear. Congregations have described his delivery as restful and non-sensational. Dr. Ham is a widely traveled speaker and will discuss recent travels in the Orient. (Continued on page two)

FORSYTH MAN HOLDING LEAD

Dr. Ralph W. McDonald Increases Majority in Straw Vote

Dr. Ralph McDonald continued to add to his clear majority in The Reflector five county poll today receiving 16 out of the 30 votes cast.

Clyde R. Hoy and Sandy Graham shared even honors in the day's voting receiving 14 votes each. Two other ballots received from Hyde County indicated a preference for G. W. Martin.

The Reflector is polling five of the eastern counties in a statewide poll being conducted by 25 North Carolina newspapers. Already two tabulations of the voting on a statewide basis have been published and on each Thursday from now until the primary another tabulation will be published. The Reflector's final quota of 500 ballots was mailed into its five counties Thursday and all ballots now outstanding must be voted before May 28. Persons who still have ballots on hand are urged to vote them at once in order that they might be included in the statewide tabulations.

The first statewide tabulation published Thursday of last week revealed McDonald with 48.8 per cent of all the votes cast but the tabulation published Thursday of this week showed that McDonald had slipped back to a percentage of 47.4 while Hoy and Graham had made corresponding gains. Hoy and Graham supporters declare that this is just the beginning of McDonald's downfall but McDonald supporters come right back with the claim that next week's tabulation will probably be a different story.

Today's standings of the candidates in this territory follows:

	McDonald	Hoy	Graham	McPhee
Pitt	144	48	30	3
Beaufort	44	17	47	1
Bertie	30	21	1	0
Hyde	29	23	4	0
Martin	45	11	8	0
Total	292	120	90	4
Total votes cast	506
McDonald majority	78

"AS RELIGION SEES IT" By DR. DEETS PICKETT. Research Secretary, Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals.

New War Between Churches and Wets on Liquor Question Predicted—Church People Will Not Tolerate Present Conditions, Dr. Pickett Declares.

The entire liquor question is coming up for discussion once again and that soon.

Not this year, perhaps not next. In due time, however, the adherents of the Christian churches are going to meet in conference, acknowledge that the present situation is an intolerable affront to common decency as well as conscience, and proceed to do something about it. That is just as certain as the rising sun. What is uncertain is what they are going to do and how they are going to do it.

The liquor traffic and its political supporters have learned nothing and forgotten nothing. We have the saloon back, with the same old bars and the same old bartenders. Nothing effective has been done to encourage consumption of the "milder beverages" to the disadvantage of whiskey, gin and brandy, as is evidenced by the fact that in the last fiscal year, we nearly doubled our consumption of distilled spirits, while we were increasing our consumption of beer by thirty per cent. The alarming increase in drunken driving, the rise in alcoholism, particular among women, the elevation of the drinking custom to a fad among young people—these seriously alarm the groups which have contributed most heavily to the security and prosperity of the nation.

Conditions Not Improved. The millions of good citizens who voted for repeal expected an improvement in drinking conditions. They believe that the public measures which would be taken to make repeal effective would at least be sincerely intended to serve the interest of temperance. To their dismay, the Congress of the United States has enacted thirty-four laws since March 22, 1933, which have obviously been intended to promote the use of liquors and the profits of liquor manufacturers. In the states, many measures generally approved even in the days of the old saloon for the purpose of safeguarding residence districts and the vicinity of churches and schools have been erased from the statute books.

Prohibition repeal was a veto exercised by one part of the population against a measure desired by a majority. They said in effect, "We will not tolerate this law." Now the other half is prepared to say, "We will not tolerate policies which encourage drinking, which have vastly increased drunkenness and alcoholism, which endanger the lives of our children on the public streets and which have in no way diminished crime."

No Alternative Prospect. A threatened impasse of this kind, in regard to any other matter, would seem to call for conference and compromise. But no decent alternative to prohibition is as yet proposed by any responsible and considerable group. If, for instance, the high-minded and influential citizens who promoted repeal were to suggest that the government take measures intended to eliminate the economic motive behind the trade, if they were to propose the legal prohibition of every means of trade promotion, the plan would certainly deserve a respectful hearing even by those who feel strongly that any countenance of such a traffic involves moral guilt and could not be regarded as acceptable.

But is anything of the kind suggested by a group which supports it with contributions of money and service?

It is quite plain, under these circumstances, that we are heading straight toward a head-on collision of forces well organized. It is all very well to tell the churches to "educate," but education is a slow process and in this instance, temperance education is face to face with an intemperance educational movement which runs directly counter to the teachings of our schools and churches and the majority of our homes for a generation. "Stop the suggestion of law, the force of trade promotion, the example of public men who popularize a bad custom, and then we will be able to educate," say the churches.

Alcohol Addicts Increasing. Dr. Wm. J. Mayo, the eminent surgeon, puts his finger upon the peril involved in the present situation when he points out that one in every three who begins the custom of drinking intoxicants will in all probability become an alcohol addict, not a drunkard, but one whose habit minimizes his worth to the community and destroys his own satisfaction in life. If then, we may reasonably count upon the existence in our midst of thirty million drinkers, then we may look forward to ten million alcohol addicts within ten years. What does this prospect mean in death and wretchedness and economic waste? The alcohol evil in its population as determined in its character and its extent by the amount of alcoholic liquors consumed and by the means years of addiction. Our consumption is rapidly mounting and our mean of addiction will steadily rise as new drinkers become veterans. Any policy which diminishes the consumption of liquors is a good policy which increases their consumption is a wrong policy.
