FIVE PERSONS DIE IN WRECK VIRGINIA ROAD

Accident May Prove Fatal to Two Other Young Persons

AUTO COLLIDES LOADED TRUCK

Early Memorial Day Wreck Occurs on Petersburg Turnpike Near Richmond

Richmond, Va., May 30.—(AP)—An early memorial day automobile-truck crash near here took the lives of five young persons and injured three others, two so seriously that they may also die.

The eight, all of Hopewell and Montosa, Va., had been to a dance in Richmond and were driving homeward at 1:15 a. m. over the Petersburg turnpike when the car plunged into the rear of a lumber truck driven by C. H. Dubose, 18, of Roseboro, N. C.

The five victims ranged in ages from 14 to 18.

The automobile ploughed into the lumber projecting from the trailer. The timbers sheered away the top of the sedan and struck the eight occupants, almost decapitating several.

Three of them were dead upon arrival at the hospital, attaches there said.

One of those still alive has a crushed head and he was "not expected to live," the hospital reported.

Officers held Dubose on technical charges and placed him in jail pending an investigation. His helper, R. H. Lewis, Salemburg, N. C., was released. Neither was hurt and the truck was not damaged.

Funeral Services For Wreck Victim Held In Afternoon

Driver of Automobile Which Struck William Jennings Nichols Exonerated At Inquest

William Jennings Nichols, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nichols of Flemings Cross Roads, died last night at nine o'clock in Pitt Community Hospital as a result of being run over by an automobile driven by Elijah Mills of Chicod.

An inquest was held this morning by Coroner A. E. Ellwanger and it was learned that young Nichols was riding along on the rear of a cart at Flemings Cross Roads. He jumped off and proceeded across the highway directly in front of the Mills' car and was struck before the car could be brought to a stop. Mills was exonerated of blame in the inquest.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. D. W. Alexander, Free Will Baptist minister. Burial followed at Kings Cross Roads near Farmville. Besides the parents he is survived by four brothers, Zeno Gray, Robert Lee, Bruce and McDonald Nichols; two sisters, Christine and Velma Ruth Nichols.

Young Nichols was graduating from the third to the fourth grade this week.

Threaten To Expose Black Legion Secrets

Detroit, May 30.—(AP)—Whatever remains untold of the secrets of the night riding black legion, guarded with lash and pistols, seemed fated for exposure in multiple inquiries that took definite form today.

Eighteen men were in custody in Michigan as the investigation of the order went into its second week.

CHINESE SEEK WRECK TROOPS

Natives Seek to Destroy Railway Bridge On Route

Tientsin, China, May 30.—(AP)—China delivered an answer today to Japan's action in dispatching more troops to northern garrisons with destruction of a railway bridge between Tangku and Tientsin and an attempted wrecking of a Japanese troop train near Tientsin.

The incidents occurred without casualties, but Japanese military authorities took a grave view of the situation. High Chinese sources deplored the episodes, declaring Japan might welcome such occurrences as a pretext for armed intervention in North China.

Extreme bitterness prevailed in Tientsin, where there is a considerable American colony and where 800 American soldiers are quartered.

The two incidents occurred last night just after Japan, overriding Chinese protests, landed 3,000 fresh troops for its North China garrisons bringing its military strength here to nearly 100,000 men.

Apparently seeking to block trains bearing the newly arrived reinforcements into the interior, unknown persons blew up the railroad bridge between Tientsin and Tangku, eastern port where the troops landed.

Complicating the already serious situation, another Japanese military train bearing infantry reinforcements to Tientsin narrowly escaped destruction when a charge of explosives was set off under the railway over which the cars were running.

Both incidents occurred in the path of the troops moving into Tientsin. Informed sources assumed the explosions were intended as an attempt to frustrate Japan's military plans in North China.

Alumnae Program Of Old Graduates At College Today

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, Charter Member of Faculty, Representative At Luncheon Meeting

"Times Marches On" was the theme of the Alumnae program presented at the luncheon today. Mrs. Eula Proctor Greathouse, of Rocky Mount, was a happy choice for toastmistress as she was here when the first class was graduated, was one of the first groups taken into the Alumnae Association. She has returned many times throughout the years and has been an active member of one of the most active chapters in the Alumnae Association.

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, a charter member of the faculty, who is alumnae hostess this year, responded for the faculty to the address of welcome and introduced the members who were present from the first class who graduated twenty-five years ago. She called attention to the fact that next year will be the silver jubilee of the Alumnae Association.

Mrs. Christine Vick Joyner responded for the alumnae, expressing the pleasure they feel whenever they gather for these annual home-comings. The response for the new alumnae, those taken into the organization this morning, was to sing the College Song.

Representatives from the twenty, ten, and one-year ago classes told the story of the march of time in three decades. Mrs. Martha Lancaster Fountain, speaking for the class of 1916. Mrs. Maude Johnston Heath, for the class of 1926, and Miss Elsie Camp, for the class of 1935.

The fitting climax of the program was the message of Dr. Meadows speaking for the present.

At the beginning of the business meeting of the Alumnae Association this morning, the members of the graduating classes filed down the aisles of the hall and took their places as a tribute to their new members. The president, in receiving them into the full membership in the association, gave them an inspiring welcome and the presidents of the two classes, Miss Roberta Brantley, of the two-year class and Miss Ethel Vick, of the four-year class, in the happy responses pledged support to the association and the college. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report followed.

The roll of classes was called and the members of each class stood. There was not a gap in the twenty-six classes from the first A. B. class in 1912. The A. B. degree girls and the two-year girls stood separately, the boys having a place in the last two classes to graduate.

Dr. E. L. Henderson, chairman of the committee handling the Robert H. Wright Memorial Fund, made a report on the fund, giving the approximate amount contributed.

HURLS CHARGE AT ZIONCHECK

Injured Woman Taken to Hospital As Result of Scuffle

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Benjamin Scott Young, who was forcibly ejected early today from the apartment she subleased to Representative and Mrs. Marion A. Zioncheck, later was taken to emergency hospital in an ambulance.

Ambulance attendants said she had a fractured right hip. Mrs. Young contended the injury was a direct result of scuffles with the Zionchecks.

"Don't take me to the hospital," she sobbed as she was carried away from the apartment building. It is more important for me to go to the police station and swear out a warrant for these awful people."

She told police Zioncheck had "ruined my home, called me vile names and stood on me."

The apartment where the difficulty occurred was subleased to Zioncheck last winter. Mrs. Young, a magazine writer recently returned from a South American trip to reclaim it after she said she had complaints from the apartment house in an effort to obtain possession. Mrs. Young went to the rooms yesterday and refused to leave.

Mrs. Young summoned both an ambulance and police this morning. It was the fourth time officers had been called to the apartment since yesterday morning.

CONSOLIDATION OF UNIVERSITY IS CONSIDERED

Discuss Moving Engineering School from Chapel Hill

FACULTY FIGHTS PROPOSED MOVE

Representatives State College Present at Trustees' Meeting to Uphold Plan.

Greensboro, May 30.—(AP)—Discussions concerning the proposed removal of the engineering school from the Chapel Hill branch of the greater university of North Carolina to State College at Raleigh, a move in the consolidation of the Chapel Hill, Raleigh and Greensboro institutions, occupied the morning session of the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina here at Woman's college today.

Representatives from the general alumni association of the University of North Carolina and from the Chapel Hill faculty presented extensive arguments attempting to show that the moving of the engineering school would be unsound economically would destroy the only post graduate center of advanced engineering education in the southwest and would tremendously weaken the Chapel Hill branch of the greater university.

Charges were made that the Raleigh school is not qualified to teach highly technical and professional engineering in such a manner as it is being taught at Chapel Hill.

Representatives of the faculty of State College were present and were prepared to present their side of the argument.

The various patrols staged stunts, with the winning group being allowed to name one of its members acting mayor. Scout Everett participated in the contest and, when his unit was declared winner, he was immediately named to the honor of helping Mr. Blount run the city today.

"Mayor" Everett declared, however, that he had rather go swimming than hold police court and attend to other affairs of the city.

Young Everett is a charter member of Troop No. 57 of Scotland Neck. The unit has been organized only about a year. Rev. D. L. Pouts, Methodist minister of Scotland Neck, was instrumental in getting the troop started and accompanied the boys on the Camporee.

A farm boy, "Mayor" Everett gave a number of barnyard imitations to cop first prize in the patrol stunt contest.

The Scouts arrived here yesterday afternoon, set up camp cooked and ate supper and participated in the mass program before retiring at 10 o'clock.

U. S. OBSERVES MEMORIAL DAY

Nation Pauses To Honor Dead American Soldiers

Memorial Day Ceremonies at Capital Includes Parade Down Pennsylvania and Constitution Avenues and Addresses

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—At home and on foreign soil homage was paid today to the memory of American soldiers dead.

Ceremonies in the capital included a parade of the Civil, Spanish American and World War veterans along Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues with government leaders and diplomats in the reviewing stand.

Arlington national cemetery, where 43,000 war veterans lie, was the scene of midday ceremonies including addresses by General John J. Pershing and Secretary Roper with President Roosevelt to pay silent tribute.

In Belgium, among other nations where United States soldiers are buried, the day was observed after the American traditions and the graves were decorated.

Bugles sounded "taps" over the six pieces of American territory in France where thousands of white crosses marked the burial places of soldiers and sailors of all ranks. The day again recalled the shortening roster of veterans, who bore arms back in '61. The 2,128,948 men of the union army have dwindled to approximately 10,000, figures here indicate. Of a maximum Confederate army of 900,000, there are approximately 9,000 soldiers, according to an estimate by General Harry Greene Lee of Nashville, Tenn.

END CAMPOREE RACER IS HURT IN AFTERNOON AT SPEEDWAY

First Annual Camporee Staged in City Two Days

Some 180 Boy Scouts from the East Carolina Council completed a two-day Camporee here late this afternoon.

The mass campfire program last night was held in the High School gymnasium due to threatening weather. Mayor M. K. Blount made the address of welcome and "turned the city over" to the Scouts. One of the boys, B. B. Everett, of Scotland Neck, was named acting mayor for today.

The terrific pace caused three of the 32 starters to drop out before 100 miles had been rolled off. Wild Bill Cummings, winner of the 1935 race, failed to start because his clutch stuck. Jimmy Snyder, Chicago, surrendered to motor trouble after going 50 miles.

In full sight of thousands of spectators in the stands lining the track a car driven by Al Miller of Detroit, was wrecked while tearing down the stretch at terrific speed. Miller was injured and rushed to the hospital. It was the first accident of their race.

The extent of Miller's injuries was not immediately determined. He apparently had a broken hip.

The race was slowed down while the wrecked car was dragged off the course. Miller's mechanic, Jimmy Jackson, P. dianapolis, leaped from the swerving car to safety.

Quebec, May 30.—(AP)—Harry Bannister, former husband of Ann Harding, swore out a warrant for the arrest of the screen star today on a charge of abducting their daughter, Jane.

OPERATORS OF PIN MACHINES TAKE NON-SUIT

Officers Left Free To Wage Campaign in City

ORDER HEARING IS CALLED OFF

Indications Are Large Number of Persons Would Have Been on Hand for Hearing

City and county officers were left free today to continue their campaign against the operation of pin machines in the city, but a check-up revealed very few, if any, of the devices in public places in Greenville.

Owners of the machines took a non-suit in the court order to be heard today and the case, set for the court house this morning, was called off.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill was scheduled to hear a order temporarily restraining city and county officers from confiscating the machines. The non-suit taken by the plaintiff removed the necessity for the hearing.

Chief George Clark said any of the machines found in operation in the city would be confiscated immediately. Practically all of the devices were removed from public places, however, following a mass meeting in the court house last week of some 500 citizens. A Pitt County Law and Order League was formed in a resolution unanimously adopted at the session. One of the stated aims of the league is to see to it that all gambling machines are prohibited from operating in the community.

An unusually large number of persons were in the city this morning and indications were a big crowd would have been on hand for the hearing had it been held.

Chief Clark said the action of the owners of the machines in taking a non suit signified they had "thrown up their hands."

The temporarily restraining order was signed by Judge Walker Shortly in Washington recently after Chief Clark announced he would confiscate all pin machines found in operation at the expiration of 24 hours. The order was made returnable before Judge Frizzelle in Snow Hill today, but upon the efforts of local citizens, the hearing was transferred to this county.

NO TIME TO STOP THE FIGHT

With the slot machine owners accepting a non-suit in the matter of the restraining order that was to have been held this morning, the city for a while will be free of the slot machines. It is understood that the non-suit was taken and the machines will remain out of operation in this city pending ruling of the Supreme Court on a slot machine case from Johnston county that will establish the legality or illegality of the machines. While this situation leaves this city free of the slot machine evils for the time being, these forces in this city that want the machines to stay out should not go to sleep at the switch. No one can foretell what ruling might be handed down by the high court as to the legality of the machines under the present state laws, so those who want to get rid of the machines for good and all should be taking steps to see to it that the next legislature is composed of men who will enact a holeproof law that will leave no question as to the illegality of the machines. North Carolina should get rid of the slot machine evil for once and for all time through enactment of such a law.

Sgt. Henry Wallace, normally a powerful and philosophic person, is beginning smart under the savage irony which Harold Ickes turns on him whenever they meet or appear on the same platform. Their feud is less bitter than the rivalry between Meers, Ickes and Hopkins, but it may turn out to be more serious. It began when $5,000,000 for soil erosion prevention was allotted to Mr. Ickes to be spent under PWA as an emergency measure, and to displace Mr. Wallace's far-fung soil erosion establishment. Squabbles at Washington and in the field especially forced FDR to place all soil conservation projects under the Secretary of Agriculture. Mr. Ickes is trying to retrieve through the Lewis bill, which changes the name of his bureau to the Department of Conservation. But his move seems to have only a temporary and nuisance value. Though it is causing Cabinet trouble, Mr. Ickes himself doesn't expect it to become law. Gypsy Weather

By MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

SYNOPSIS: Although Dirk has definitely not solved the mystery surrounding Hope Devine, who appeared one night at the old Joris estate and in her married form was Dirk's older brother—he at least seems to have blundered into something which has caused Hope's mind of a great loss. She seemed on the edge of a decline, and quite suddenly she is almost her old self, although she will not go to a dance with him. She is trying to tell him something which he thinks may be important.

Chapter 34 NO CONFESSION

"I've been an awful care to you," Hope said to Dirk. "I've been your responsibility all along. It was you I came to see that first night. If you hadn't gone to Jersey, and spoken to me, I shouldn't have come. I've a notion, too, that you persuaded Rupert to keep me on. I want to tell you that I understand all you've done... your motive, I mean... and that you won't have to worry any more."

He felt that she was making uncertain passes, watching for betrayal. He said: "Thank you for thinking my motive was right. It was always you I was thinking of... as in the case of wiring your father."

"I'm not really capable of happiness," Isabel said. "I never thought of such a thing... until just now. Before last night... there were times when I hated you." She looked away. "Yes, I know," said Dirk. "Her eyes came back to him. 'The first time I saw you,' she said, 'there in the circus... I mean, when you spoke to me, when I turned around and saw you standing there... it seemed as if I had to go with you, to follow you... That was why...'"

SHE started, straightened. Her glance chilled. Her voice grew hard. "I was telling you that I understood," she said. "You had a right to protect yourself, your house." "From what?" he asked. "Her eyes fell. She seemed not to breathe. He leaned nearer. His hand closed over hers. 'From what, Hope?' more gently, His blood was racing with the thing she had said a moment before... about that first night at the circus, about wanting to follow him. If he could make her say all, tell all!"

stage a vocal catch-as-catch-can with no holds barred. FDR has not yet heard of the experiment. The privatizers concede that they blundered seriously before 1929 and admit the need of some reforms. But they don't think they should be kept in the doghouse indefinitely for their mistakes, and they'd like to know when and where the reforms will stop. Their chief indictment of FDR is (1) that he seeks to manage their affairs, but (2) won't ask the service or cooperation of "practical and experienced" men—like themselves.

Year's Developments Outlined by Meadows

In his talk to the Alumnae of the College today, President Leon R. Meadows enumerated developments for the past year and pointed out prospects for the future.

Among the new developments he called attention to the introduction of a commercial course, to the fact that the boys have a dormitory, the elimination of the two-year course, the beginning of the project of paving the campus, the painting of the rooms in dormitories, the repairing and replacing of floors, the furnishing of parlors in the girls' dormitories, and the addition of a large number of books to the library.

He called attention to the fact that the enrollment of the College this past year has been the highest in its history, having reached 1077 during the winter term.

In looking into the future, he took as the theme that we "must train for better citizenship and develop character." He showed that public school curricula must be changed to meet the needs of the people and changes in methods of teaching must be effected so that the material we present will function better in the lives of students.

Suggestions for objectives for next year and the discussions that followed created great interest. The objective selected for the next two-years was to work up a fund so that they would be able to employ an Alumnae Secretary on the campus who would be a field worker and bring the college into direct contact with the chapters throughout the state. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a Home-Coming Day, to be celebrated next year. Two beautiful tributes were paid in a concrete way. The beautiful flowers decorating the stage were sent to Mrs. Robert H. Wright to be placed on Dr. Wright's grave and a committee was appointed to place flowers on the grave of Mr. Spilman. The tea, in honor of the guests and the Alumnae in the afternoon was held in the lobby of the Campus Building instead of on the campus. Revival at Memorial Baptist Church To End Sunday

"Five Messages of the Cross" was the title of the sermon delivered by Dr. John W. Ham, at Memorial Baptist church, last night. The sermon was based upon the text, "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." 1 Corinthians 1:18.

As one beholds the fact of the Cross, there are five distinct messages that come to us from it. They are most important, and are effective in the lives of those who hear and accept the truths embodied in them.

The first message of the cross is that of Pardon. At the Cross of Jesus Christ we receive the pardon for sin that cannot be procured from any other source. It is of Divine value since the holiness of God is satisfied and the mercy of God has been enabled to act toward the sinner thereby. Satan constantly accuses men before the throne of holiness. Jesus, our Advocate, stands between holiness and the sinner with the sole plea of His sacrificial death on Calvary. This voluntary death enables God to extend pardon and remain ethical, holy and just.

The second word of the Cross is that of Peace. "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." This peace is simultaneous with that of pardon. There is a controversy between the soul and God, until the pardon has been received. The moment Christ is accepted as a sin-bearer and substitute, a new position is given the sinner. His position is as though he had never sinned. God views the believer in another one, even His Son. Once this is realized peace is the logical sequence in the soul.

The third message of the Cross is Power. "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name." John 1:12. We are given power to become the sons of God the moment we believe upon Him. It is a most effective experience for the believer in Christ to be enabled by His power to live righteously.

The fourth word of the Cross is that of Protection. "Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." 1 Peter 1:5. The means of this protection employed by the believer is faith. That faith is directed towards the One who has all power. The believer does not depend upon good resolutions, good environment, good works, to realize this protection which the cross affords. We are often kept when we are least conscious of danger. God is able to take care of His own when the necessity arises, even though His own are not conscious of the necessity. Eternal life is a gift. The work of the Holy Spirit is that of regeneration. This experience places the soul of the believer beyond the power of Satan to destroy. This is a transaction of Divine origin and has behind it the Divine seal of authority. The last word of the Cross is that of Perfection. 1 John 3:2. "Beloved now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when He shall appear, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is." This is to be realized in the ultimate. We are redeemed in spirit here, and we shall be redeemed in body yonder. We shall be glorified like Christ, and share in the perfection that adorns His person.

Mrs. John D. Holmes and Mrs. Elbert C. Holmes, accompanied by Mrs. Daisy Holmes Smith sang at this service. Their beautiful rendition of the familiar words, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" stirred the audience with their own fine message. This concluding service of the week marked a high experience for all present. Sunday will bring the series of meetings to an end with three services.

In the morning hour of worship Dr. Ham will speak on the subject, "The Central Theme of Revelation." At 3:00 p. m. a service for Men Only will be conducted. Dr. Ham will speak on a topic of intense interest concerning present world affairs: "Mussolini, Hitler, and Satan." These three personalities are moving on the stage of world affairs in line with prophetic forecast. All men are invited to be present and to hear this message. The evening service at 8 o'clock will offer the last opportunity to hear Dr. Ham. His sermon will be, "Saying 'Good-Bye' to God." The ordinance of Baptism will be administered.

Local Boy Wins Prize For Best Private Library

Chapel Hill, May 30—Louis C. Skinner of Greenville will receive the first award to be made to an undergraduate student for the best private library collected while a student in the University, it was announced yesterday by Nora Beust, chairman of the library award committee.

A $25 award is to be made to Skinner. Miss Beust reports that a gratifying number of students entered the contest. "As he is a pre-medical student, Skinner's entire collection shows the influence of his interest in that field," says Miss Beust. Included in his collection were novels with a strong psychological basis, books on witchcraft, psychology, and sociology, biographies of men of science, and an unusual collection of essays and criticisms, besides poetry, drama and general literature.

CONSOLIDATION OF UNIVERSITY IS CONSIDERED

President Graham stated in his report "We can in our consolidation be one in three and three in one, with the distinct qualities, associations and loyalties of the brother institution present in the traditional localities, yet united in function, values and services for the whole state."

CAMPAIGNS IN FINAL STAGES

Gubernatorial Race Gets Hotter As Primary Nears

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

By J. C. BASKERVILLE

Raleigh, May 30.—As the campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor enters the final week it looks more like the Kentucky Derby than a North Carolina primary—a horse race in which the three leading candidates are running much closer to each other than any of them will admit and in which none is conceding anything to the others. It is a tight race and any one may win, although Dr. Ralph W. McDonald is still the favorite to lead, with Clyde R. Hoey to place in second and Sandy Graham to show in third. John A. McRae may come in under the wire after the crowd has gone home.

But McDonald, Hoey and Graham do not enter the last lap until Monday. Those betting on Hoey maintain that he has an excellent chance to close the gap between him and McDonald between now and Saturday so that he may come down the home stretch to the wire in first place. The Graham backers, however, are more convinced than ever that they will be able to pull up enough on Hoey to put Sandy in second place, especially if McDonald should continue to weaken as many maintain he has during the past ten days. The McDonald enthusiasts, however, maintain that even though their horse may be showing signs of getting a little bit winded, due to his tremendous spurt ahead early in the race, that he can slow up considerably from now until next Saturday and still come under the wire in first place.

As to what has happened this past week, a cross section of the observations made in all three camps indicates the following as being a pretty accurate picture of the situation over the state as a whole:

1. Sandy Graham has made very heavy gains throughout the counties east of Raleigh, cutting deeply into the following of McDonald in many of these counties, but without more than denting the Hoey support in these counties. But wherever Graham has reduced McDonald's lead he has also reduced the lead of Hoey within striking distance of first place, especially in those counties in which McDonald is being run in the lead. Hoey in second place and Graham in third. As a result, the gains which Graham has made are helping Hoey just as much as they are helping Graham except in those counties in which he has been able to pass Hoey and get into second place.

2. Hoey has an undisputed lead in a majority of the western counties, or those in the Tenth and Eleventh Congressional Districts, as well as in eight or ten counties in the southeastern portion of the state and an even chance to split the vote three ways in the other eastern counties and in the Piedmont. His managers maintain that he will get at least 60 per cent of the western vote and will show enough strength in the Piedmont and eastern counties to assure him of second place, if not to put him into first place.

3. While McDonald has undoubtedly been losing votes heavily in the eastern counties during the last ten days to two weeks, he has been concentrating his efforts there in the more populous counties with their large industrial centers, with the result that he has gained more votes in these more populous counties than he has lost in the smaller eastern counties. They also point out that those who have deserted McDonald have come to Graham rather than to Hoey, that even so Graham cannot get enough votes to oust Hoey from second place, with the result that in the second primary between McDonald and Hoey, those who may have gone over to Graham will come back to McDonald.

There are evidence, however, that the McDonald managers and supporters are secretly much more concerned over the heavy shift in the eastern counties from McDonald to Graham than they are willing to show publicly. The talk to the effect that McDonald would be nominated by a clear majority over all the other three candidates has now stopped almost entirely and any of the McDonald workers will now admit privately that they are not now hoping for anything more than for McDonald to be high man in the first primary. They are confident, however, that McDonald will get a much larger vote in the Piedmont and western counties than his opponents believe he will and that he will have a lead of at least 20,000 votes over whoever is in second place.

Nor are the Hoey managers much disturbed at the shift from McDonald to Graham, since to them it indicates a general dissatisfaction with McDonald and his platform and a rapid dissolution of his strength. Convinced that Graham is trailing so far back in third place that he cannot possibly overtake Hoey, the backers of the Shelby man point out that every vote Graham takes away from McDonald merely reduces the distance between Hoey and McDonald and makes it more likely that Hoey will be able to overtake and pass the former college professor. They also maintain that before the final week of the campaign is over many of those who have now gone to Graham will move over to Hoey, especially as it becomes more and more evident that Hoey will at least be in second place, if not in first position. The Hoey supporters also are convinced that both the McDonald and Graham managers and supporters are not taking into proper consideration the tremendous "silent vote," especially among the church women and church people of the state which they are confident will be cast for Hoey.

The Graham supporters, however, are not in the least worried by the claims of their opponents and maintain that the heavy trend to Graham which is being concerned by both the rival camps is going to get bigger and bigger during the final week and that Sandy is already assured of second place. They contend that this trend is a definite indication not only of lack of confidence in the promises and program of McDonald but of a definite distaste for Mr. Hoey and all that he represents. They are further convinced that the early strength shown by McDonald was not an indication of any great personal following but of a tremendous dissatisfaction with the present state administration and of the old practice of hand-picked Governors and other state officials. So they are confident that the trend to Graham is going to become more pronounced this next week and that these who are coming over to Sandy are going to stick.

But no one will know for sure who has "doped" the situation correctly until after the votes are counted next Saturday night.
