NEW DEALERS EYE REACTION COURT RULING

Chief Executive Says No Man's Land Is Established

NO INDICATION FUTURE ACTION

Roosevelt Is Content With Expressing View; Congressmen Hint Amendment

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—With President Roosevelt contending that the Supreme court majority has staked off a no-man's land which no government can enter, the New Deal watched carefully today for public reaction to the court's invalidation of the New York minimum wage law for women.

President Roosevelt gave no indications as to what, if any, future moves the administration may make to extend government power into the zone he mentioned. No new demands for constitutional amendments were heard among some legislators.

The Chief Executive contented himself with expressing the view in his press conference last yesterday that decisions of the Supreme court majority in such a way that states and federal governments had no power to establish minimum wages.

In a statement, Secretary Perkins said "public welfare demands that women workers shall be prohibited from accepting wages so low that their health is impaired."

On the House floor Representative Aylmer (D. Mont.) urged that a constitutional amendment be necessary to enable Congress and the states to enact regulation over wages and hours.

Representative Wood (D. Mo.) said the decision on the New York law should be followed by a constitutional amendment. Representative Fish (R. N. Y.) made known he would seek a plank in the Republican platform calling for a constitutional amendment under which states could deal with minimum wages.

Greenville Office Loan Corporation To Be Closed Soon

Federal Agency to Complete Lending Activities on June 13 and Devote Time to Collecting

It was announced at the office of R. B. Davis, Acting District Manager and District Service Supervisor, that the District Office at Greenville will be closed on and after June 6 under instructions from T. C. Abernethy, State Manager.

It was also announced that the State office is being transferred from Salisbury to Greensboro, and the District office at Greensboro is being consolidated with the State office. This action was taken in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation at Washington and is in the interest of economy.

The Corporation will complete its lending activities on June 13th, and its future business will be confined to servicing and collection of loans heretofore made, as well as the upkeep of property. All loans heretofore serviced in the Greenville District will be serviced in the Raleigh District under the direction of Eric W. Rodgers, Acting District Manager and District Service Supervisor, Post Office building, Raleigh.

The Greenville district office was established here on August 1, 1933, and has been in existence almost three years.

Conference Report On Flood Measure Wins Easy Victory

Bill, As Approved By Conference, Includes Only Flood Control Projects; Power Plants Dropped

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—The omnibus flood control bill was sent to the White House today when the House adopted the conference report on the measure. The vote was 295 to 52.

The bill authorizes a variety of flood control projects in 40 states. As passed by the House, the bill carries authorization of amounts to $370,929,000.

As approved in conference, the bill included only flood control projects and eliminated all power projects.

France Strike Movement Threatening Food Supply

Developments Preface Resignation of Premier Sarraut in Preparation for Designation of Leon Blum as New French Head

Paris, June 3.—(AP)—A strike movement which embraced 350,000 workers and 300 factories rolled over France today as socialist and radical socialists prepared to take over the government.

These figures were estimated by authoritative sources at 4 p. m. as the strike developed throughout the country.

The capital itself was threatened with a shortage of food, milk, water and meat.

Ice supplies were cut off, the workers in pumping stations threatening to quit and bakers considering joining the strike.

The new developments, prefaced the resignation of Premier Albert Sarraut and his cabinet tomorrow in preparation for the designation of Leon Blum, socialist leader as premier.

Paris' milk supply was threatened as refrigerating and ice manufacturing plants stated shutting down.

Industrial regions around Paris and in Northern France showed possibilities of being paralyzed and war industries were affected as workers quit work in munitions factories.

The branches of several American firms were occupied by strikers today.

The United States embassy said none of the company officials was molested and that no assistance had been asked.

The demands of strikers in all industries were identical among them were higher wages, a 40-hour week with abolition of over time, recognition of union representatives in the factories and pay to discharged employees.

Member Of Black Legion Testifies Over Protest

SENIOR CLASS HEARS TRABUE

High School Commencement Brought to Close Here

The commencement exercises in the Greenville High School came to a close last night with the presentation of diplomas to the seventy graduates. Preceding the presenting of the diplomas by J. L. Little, Chairman of the local school board, the large audience of sixteen hundred people heard an inspiring address by Dr. M. R. Trabue, Director of the Division of Education of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

The exercises were held in the Robert H. Wright Building at East Carolina Teachers College. The exercises were presided over by Superintendent Junius H. Rose, and on the platform with Superintendent Rose and the speaker, Dr. Trabue, were members of the local school board and Rev. W. A. Ryan.

The exercises opened with the Senior Processional to the tune of "God of our Fathers, with the Seniors in caps and gowns. Following the invocation by Rev. W. A. Ryan, the Girls' Trio, consisting of Mable Beaman, Pauline Abyeunis, and Rosalyn Swindell, sang "The Lonely Rose." Then the brass quartette, Charles Futrell, Quinn Bostic, Harding Suggs, and Bill Clark, played "Out of the Dusk to You." Following the address by Dr. Trabue, the entire mixed chorus presented "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower" in a most beautiful manner.

Superintendent Rose announced the following awards for the year. The Dixon Athletic Trophy went to Carl Pierce. The Distinguished Service Cup went to Harding Suggs. The Scholarship Prize for four years' work in high school was awarded to Misses Mary Lou Butler and Geraldine Harris. This prize is offered by the Woman's Club.

Dr. M. R. Trabue, in discussing education from the point of view of some of its present-day short comings, challenged the members of the graduating class to determine that a new and better system of education be established in North Carolina in the next generation. The speaker's comments were not only a series of negative criticisms of the present set-up, but were also made up of specific suggestions as to what might be reasonably expected of an effective public school system.

Instead of emphasizing formalized book learning, Dr. Trabue suggested that the public school should assist its students in developing a background for solving the actual problems of life. For example, the problem of how to preserve one's physical health was stressed as an ever important one—one which the public schools should always have in mind. How to earn a living should likewise find its emphasis in the public schools, as well as how to invest one's money and one's leisure time. Another responsibility which the public school should assume, according to Dr. Trabue, is that of teaching students something about choosing a mate and making a home. The final point of the address pertained to the assuming of community responsibility. The public school is definitely the place for training in this field.

In view of the fact that the Greenville schools are experiencing an expansion and re-organization at this time, Dr. Trabue's remarks were a challenge likewise to the adults in the audience to see (Continued on Page Five)

ZIONCHECK CHECKS IN—AT ASYLUM

"Either I'm crazy or a lot of those windbags down in congress are!" So saying, Congressman Marion Zioncheck of Washington state lit himself a cigarette and resigned himself to a lunacy test at Gallinger hospital in Washington, D. C., following a hectic day of pranking in the capital. Police committed him to the asylum after he left a bag of empty beer bottles in President Roosevelt's office. (Associated Press Photo)

Sample ballots for the Democratic primary Saturday show eight positions on the state ticket for citizens to vote their choice. There are also eight offices to be filled in the county this Saturday.

On the county ticket, however, the voters will express their choice for two members of the House of Representatives and for one candidate from each of the new districts for county commissioner.

A square has been provided at the left of each name and the voter is required to mark a cross opposite the name of the person for which he wishes to vote.

A total of 25 names appear on the county ballot. Included are four candidates for the State house, two of whom will be elected. No contest is being waged for commissioner in two of the county's five districts, only one candidate having filed from the second and fourth. In the other three sections each voter will vote for one candidate in each.

Two-way races are provided in the county for State senator, sheriff, treasurer, coroner, County court judge and county solicitor. Therefore a run-off primary for county offices is possible only for representatives and county commissioners.

In six of the eight contests on the state ticket, however, run-off votes are possible. Four candidates each are seeking the post of U. S. Senator, governor and auditor. Three are in the field for each of the positions of lieutenant governor, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction. Only two candidates are seeking the posts of treasurer and commissioner of agriculture.

Instructions printed at the top of the ballots set forth: "1. To vote for a candidate on the ballot make a cross (X) mark in the square at the left of his name. 2. If you fear of deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it to the registrar and get another."

Melvyn Douglas made his theatrical debut in high school as a Hindu in a play called "The Little Princess."

Only "Slight Prospects" In View For Normal Crop

Plans Undertaken at Washington to Seek Federal Aid for Farmers in Southeastern Drought Stricken States

Raleigh, June 3.—(AP)—With only "slight prospects" for scattered showers held out by the weather bureau here today, state agriculture officials said there was "practically no hope at all for normal crops" this year in North Carolina due to dry conditions.

Lee A. Denson, in charge of the weather bureau, said the dry spell extended back to April 12 "and is undoubtedly one of the worst droughts during planting season" in the state's history.

Frank Parker, federal-state crop reporter, returned from a field survey with the report a "crop seemed impossible even if the most favorable conditions prevail now on."

Cotton, tobacco, potatoes, truck, small grains, fruit and pastures are being worst hit, Parker said.

W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, said his report showed "the situation is very serious and it seems late to expect a normal tobacco crop."

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Plans to seek federal aid for farmers in southeastern drought stricken states were outlined today at a meeting of congressmen from that section.

Attending the meeting, called by Rep. Hampton P. Fulmer of Orangeburg, S. C., were four representatives each from South Carolina and Georgia, the two states hardest hit by the current drought.

Fulmer said representatives from North Carolina, Florida, Alabama, and Tennessee had assured him of co-operation in obtaining federal assistance.

The representatives decided to write local agricultural officials for specific information about conditions before taking their plea for aid to Secretary Wallace and farm credit officials.

The local farm officials were asked to say whether they desired liberalization of soil conservation rules so an additional allotment of acres may be made to increase benefit payments or additional loans from the farm credit administration as a method of assistance.

Southern Chinese Armies Capture Cities In North

Jap Advances From Canton Gives Account of Events

Shanghai, June 3.—(AP)—Japanese advances from Canton stated tonight that south China armies advancing northward had captured northern Chinese cities along the Hunan frontier.

The report gave no immediate indication as to how many cities had been captured or as to what resistance the south China armies had encountered.

Earlier in the day, Japanese sources said 250,000 Canton government troops were marching in three directions toward Fukien and King-si provinces.

National government authorities at Nanking immediately denied the Japanese reports of hostilities.

A spokesman for the foreign office declared: "The Japanese reports about the situation in the southwest are not confirmed at any quarters here."

Japanese sources reported the Canton Chinese government has declared war against the Nanking Chinese government toward forcible coalition of the two regimes.

Chinese quarters, to the contrary, said such suggestions were made to distract attention from Japanese smuggling in North China and reinforcement of Japanese garrisons in the Tientsin-Peking areas.

Mr. Alderman spent a short while in the city, leaving for Hyde Washington and Tyrrell counties, the only ones in the state he had not been in during his campaign.

The candidate spent last week in the West and said he received "very encouraging" reports from voters in that section.

Inspector Proctor reported to head-quarters of Troop A of the State Highway Patrol here today to take charge of the drivers' license division.

Inspector Proctor will be located temporarily in Greenville and later will be sent to Wilmington. The placing of license applications in the hands of an inspector will lessen the office duties of the regular patrolmen and allow them to spend more time on the roads.

No Responsibility Found By Inquest Of Poison Deaths
No One Held by Probe Into Deaths of Four Johnston County Fertilizer Plant Employees
Selma, N. C., June 3.—(AP)—C. A. Johnston county coroner's jury found today that no one was criminally responsible for the deaths of four workmen who died after breathing poison gas fumes while cleaning a vat at the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company fertilizer plant here May 25.

Coroner E. N. Booker conducted the inquest at which G. W. Missel of Charleston, S. C., foreman of the crew working in the vat and three men who survived with him after hospital treatment, testified. Missel said the three negroes said precautions for the safety of the men had been taken.

ADJOURNMENT OUTLOOK NOW SEEMS BRIGHT

House Democrats and Republicans Reach Agreement

ACTION SPEEDS RELIEF PROGRAM

Deficiency Bill Sped to Conference for Reconciliation of Differences

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Congress improved its adjournment outlook today when House Democrats and Republican reached an agreement which sped the $2,430,829,000 relief deficiency bill to conference for reconciling differences with the Senate.

Reporting to a special resolution voted by the rules committee was not needed when Chairman Buchanan (D. Tex.) and Rep. Taber (R. N. Y.) and other Republicans reached an understanding on the floor for procedure to govern the House conferees in discussions with the Senate.

This agreement directed that the conferees have authority to accept any or all Senate amendments except the $10,000,000 additional expenditures authorized by the Florida ship canal and the $300,000,000 fund given the Public Works Administration for grants. Buchanan will bring these back for separate House votes.

The committee took a second important action in the interest of speed. It approved a resolution authorizing the House to take recesses upon motion of the majority leader or rules committee chairman during the remainder of the session and to permit consideration of bills brought by the rules committee on the same day without the usual two-thirds vote being required.

Wide Effects Court Ruling

Town of Bethel Case Ruled on by U. S. Supreme Court

The United States Supreme Court this week denied the appeal for rehearing in the case of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company against the Town of Bethel. This action was instituted in the United States District Court of North Carolina restraining the Town of Bethel from levying an assessment for paving on the main street of Bethel, title to which was claimed by the petitioner.

The action involved the jurisdiction of the petitioner in the Federal Court of this state, and on appeal by the Town of Bethel from the District Court, restraining the Town of Bethel the United States Circuit Court of appeals held that while the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company is a Virginia corporation, it is also a domestic corporation of North Carolina and therefore the action was improperly brought in the Federal Court.

On petition by the Railroad Company for rehearing in the United States Supreme Court the same was denied, which affirms the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals in favor of the Town of Bethel. The effect of the decision is that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company cannot institute action in the Federal Court or remove causes from the Superior Court to the Federal Court when the cause of action arises in North Carolina.

The scope and effect of this decision is far reaching in its effect upon the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, because most of the actions involving more than three thousand dollars for or against the Coast Line are usually tried in the Federal Court of this state. Counsel representing the Town of Bethel are Blount and James of this city. Thomas W. Davis and W. B. Rodman, Jr., represented the Railroad Company.

Sur Tax Increases For Top Brackets Given Approval

Senate Tentatively Approves Provision of New Revenue Bill Which Would Provide For Boost

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—The Senate today gave tentative approval to provisions of the tax bill which would increase sur-taxes on all incomes in brackets beyond $8,000.

Temporarily, however, the chamber skipped over the heart of the measure embracing a new plan for taxing incorporated industry.

There was no record vote on the increases in income sur-taxes, one of the major features of the tax bill.

The boost in income sur-taxes was expected to produce $50,000,000. The chamber cleared the way for the major scraps over the bill by adopting with some modifications the amendment imposing excise and processing taxes of three to four a-p one-half cents a pound on imported fish and vegetable oils.

VOTE FOR

GEORGE McNEILL

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.; CUMBERLAND COUNTY

BUSINESS MAN

FOR

Lieutenant Governor

of North Carolina

SUBJECT TO THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, JUNE 6, 1936.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

Fayetteville, the capital of the Upper Cape Fear section, is presenting her able and distinguished son, Hon. George McNeill, as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and there are many convincing reasons why he should be chosen for this honorable and important office.

In the first place, he has the ability to fill the office and will do so with credit if chosen for the honor.

He will bring to the office, if elected, strong native ability, legislative experience in the House and Senate, with a broad background of political experience.

Furthermore, he is a good business executive, having made a success of his own business in a time when only the ablest survive. The State needs such men in its service.

In the prime of life, of a dynamic and attractive personality, Senator McNeill's nomination will add strength to the Democratic ticket.

And lastly, this part of the State has been modest in its demand for political honors, and his many friends in this section of the State feel that it will not only be good politics but also good policy to accord this honor to Senator McNeill.

'ACES' DEFEAT GREENIES HERE

Ayden Team Scores 14 Runs to Top Locals in Opener

The Ayden Aces outfit and outplayed the Greenville entry in the Coastal Plains league at the opening game here yesterday and walked off with the curtain raiser by an easy margin of 14 to 8.

Ayden opened the first inning with two runs, but the locals retaliated in their half of the inning to score four markers and gain the lead for the only time during the game, the visitors having chalked up four runs in their half of the second canto.

Although threatening several times and drawing within two runs of the visitors in the sixth, the Greenies were unable to overtake their Pitt county neighbors.

"Boners" proved costly to the Greenville aggregation, the sixth inning rally having been cut short by poor base running.

While Ayden gave the locals a trouncing, the game was close enough throughout until the ninth inning to keep interest at a high pitch. Ayden added three runs to its two-run margin in the first half of the last inning to make secure their hold on the lead.

Individual honors for the day went to William "Bill" Hitchcock, Auburn, Ala. boy, who is holding down shortstop for Greenville. The local player starred both in the field and at bat. On two occasions he made stops of fast grounders and threw the batter out at first on plays that looked almost impossible to handle. Both first basemen also looked good at their positions.

Early season nervousness was evidenced more by the Greenville team than the Ayden Aces, the locals giving the impression that they will provide a much better brand of baseball as the season wears on.

While the crowd was short of what had been expected on the opening day, the color was there. Less than 500 fans turned out for the opener, and many of these were from Ayden.

Hitchcock led his team with the stick, and added a homer, a double, and a single to the credits the Greenies obtained during the game.

A lone homer was banged out in the eighth inning by an Ayden player, Tabor, but the sacks were empty and the homer resulted only in giving the visitors another run. Tabor also made a triple and two singles. Others leading with the stick for Ayden was Johnson, who obtained three singles, and Lathan, who made a double and three singles.

Clement from the Oglethorpe University was started on the mound in behalf of the Greenies and remained until the third inning when he was relieved by Matheson from the state of Utah, after allowing five hits and four runs. Matheson tossed until the sixth inning and was replaced by Proctor of Georgia after yielding ten hits and six runs. Proctor allowed six hits and four runs.

An Ayden hurler, Weldon, got off to a bad start and did some tossing which resulted in giving the Greenies four runs, two walks, and two hits. Teague went on the mound for Weldon and allowed the locals' nine hits and four runs. Kearsey relieved Teague in the sixth inning and hurled the remainder of the game, and the Greenies could obtain only two hits off the skillful twirler.

This afternoon the locals are facing the Aces in Ayden. Other teams who won in yesterday's Coastal Plain loop were Snow Hill, Ayden, Kinston and Williamston.

BOY KEEPS UP WITH CLASS WHILE IN BED TWO YEARS

Marion, Ky.—(AP)—The fact that a spine injury kept him out of school for more than two years failed to prevent Randall Phillips from being graduated on schedule with the 1935 Marion high school class.

Two years ago Phillips suffered a dislocated vertebra, a fractured skull and severe lacerations when a grapevine on which he was swinging plunged him over a cliff and onto a pile of rocks.

Since then the boy has been confined to bed except for a few hours daily when he has had his study periods. With the help of faculty members and classmates, he completed his course.

DEMOCRATS!

It is time to wake up to the fact that your Democratic Party is being attacked with charges of fraud and corruption. This attack is being made by Professor Ralph W. McDonald, who is asking your party to honor him by nominating him for Governor. You must realize the Republicans are laughing with glee at that attack and each of them is glorified at the turmoil. Are you ashamed at the record of your party in North Carolina, and do you believe our state needs a school professor from Illinois, who have lived in North Carolina twelve years and who lived here eight years before he voted a ticket, to attack our party and cause the Republicans to laugh?

Who Is This Professor That Is Attacking Our Party? LET THE RECORD SPEAK

In 1924 Professor McDonald, who had been born in Illinois, but was then living in Arkansas, through the medium of a "mail order" teacher agency, secured a job as principal of Sunnyside school in Cumberland county. He taught there during the terms of 1924-25 and 1925-26. During the second year there was considerable dissatisfaction, so just before school opened in the fall of 1926 he resigned as principal, recommending as his successor one of his teachers, whom he highly praised as fully qualified to handle the situation. The resignation was accepted by the committee and the new principal was elected. A few days later McDonald returned to the community and reassumed the prerogatives of principal. Court action was resorted to to get rid of him. At a hearing before Judge Garland E. Midyette on October 1, 1926, McDonald contended that his resignation was not final, but was conditioned upon the election and qualifying of the new principal; and although he had previously highly recommended the new man, he now set up the claim that he was incompetent and unqualified as principal. He further contended that although the local committee had five members (with whom he had dealt for two years) in fact there were only three lawful members and that two of them, or a majority, favored his continuance. He further contended that although he had read his resignation to the local committee, that his contract was with the County Board of Education and he had not resigned there. Upon these technicalities he was permitted to remain for that term, but was permanently enjoined from making contemplated changes in the school building. See Judgment Docket, Book L, Page 240, File No. 22029, Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cumberland County).
When that term of school was over Professor

McDonald left the county to take up advanced studies at Duke University, leaving behind several unpaid judgments, the largest of which was cancelled of record May 1, 1936. (See Judgment Docket, Cumberland County, Book L, Page 301, and Book M, Page 5).

From Duke he went to Winston-Salem where he became teacher of education and psychology in Salem College. He had been in Forsyth County just about long enough to establish his voting citizenship there when the 1932 campaign for governor came along. In that campaign he is supposed to have voted for Governor Ehringhaus, and he came valiantly to the defense of the identical group which he now so bitterly attacks.

He continued teaching psychology in Salem College until the spring of 1934. Meantime he had written some articles and published some pamphlets which expressed ideas of government reflecting perhaps his early Illinois environment but more radical than North Carolinians would accept. He resigned his professorship in the girls' college in the spring of 1934 to devote his full energies to his race for the legislature. He was nominated and elected, and served in the 1935 session.

Having had an anti-sales tax plank in his platform, he pledged support to the anti-sales tax candidate for speaker of the house, Willie Lee Lumpkin, his present campaign manager. He came to Raleigh at the opening of the Legislature, and at the Democratic caucus in the hall of the house of representatives on January 7, 1935, he deserted his friend and voted for Grady Johnson for speaker. Later he explained to other friends that he saw that Johnson was going to win and he thought he might get more out of it to vote for the winner.

For weeks McDonald kept the finance committees tied up with his taxation program, and in the end accomplished nothing. After having railed all the session against the viciousness of a sales tax, McDonald on May 4, 1935, voted for House Bill 1360, which placed a sales tax on meals.

This is the most objectionable of all sales taxes, because it is a double tax, the sales tax already having been paid upon the groceries when purchased. Finally, when the revenue bill came from its last conference trip, and when McDonald's associates stood to their guns and voted "No," that doughty warrior had fled the field and was not present to vote.

Then, in the last turbulent days of the assembly, when the cry of "liquor" had thrown the house into confusion, McDonald suggested to his colleague from Forsyth, Hal Alspaugh, that they put their county in the Pasquotank bill and permit their people to vote on the legal sale of liquor. Alspaugh offered the amendment and McDonald voted for it. Some of the dries demanded a roll call on third reading, and McDonald voted "No"—one way when not put on record, the other way when he was.

THE TAX RECORD OF PROFESSOR McDONALD, WHO CLAIMS TO BE A TAX EXPERT.

COUNTY OF FORSYTH North Carolina Winston-Salem

Vernon W. Flynt,
Tax Supervisor May 6, 1936
Mr. Troy V. McKinney,
Tax Supervisor
Shelby, North Carolina

Dear M. McKinney:
I have your letter of May 5th in reference to tax listings of Dr. Ralph McDonald in Forsyth County.

Dr. McDonald is presumed to have become a resident of Forsyth County in 1928, although too late to list taxes for that year. He did not list any taxes until the fall of 1931 when he listed for 1931 poll and personal property tax in the sum of $4.00. On March 15th, 1933, this office discovered that he had not listed for the years 1929, 1930 and 1932, and he was, accordingly, placed upon our tax books for poll tax or $2.00 per year. In 1933 and 1934 Dr. McDonald listed his taxes regularly. In 1935, he again failed to make a return and he was placed upon our tax books by simply copying the 1934 return with a small allowance for depreciation. Taxes paid for 1933 were $3.38; for 1934 were $6.90 and 1935 were $6.35.

Briefly, Dr. McDonald has made voluntary tax return to Forsyth County only three times since becoming a resident in 1928. He listed late in 1931 for 1931 taxes and he made voluntary returns at the proper time for 1933 and 1934 taxes. He was "picked up" or arbitrarily assessed by this office for the year 1929, 1930, 1932 and 1935.

This letter must not be construed as a personal attack on Dr. McDonald for his failure to perform one of the duties of citizenship. I have no desire to enter a controversy or deal in personalities in connection with the gubernatorial campaign now in progress. I have simply answered your questions just as I have recently answered Dr. McDonald's similar inquiry about another citizen of this county.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) VERNON W. FLYNT,
Tax Supervisor.

Hear Mr. Hoey in Greensboro Thursday P. M. Over State-Wide Radio Network NOW LOOK AT THIS RECORD

Clyde R. Hoey is the son of a Confederate veteran who was wounded in battle. He was born in SHELBY, N. C., in 1877. From six to twelve years of age he attended school in winter and worked on his father's farm the rest of the year. At twelve years of age the death of his father and the poverty of his family compelled him to leave school, to become the bread-winner of the family. He was never able to go to school again except one summer session at law school. He found employment in a print shop, and at sixteen purchased a newspaper on credit, working as a newspaperman until 1908. In 1898, when 20 years of age, he was elected to the legislature from Cleveland County, and served until 1902. In 1899 he obtained his law license. In 1908 he was made chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Cleveland

County. In 1913 he became assistant district attorney for western North Carolina. He was elected to Congress in 1919, serving until he voluntarily retired in 1921. In 1928 he was presidential elector at large and made 66 speeches in North Carolina for the Democratic Party.

Will You Reject an Honest, Sincere, Lifelong Democrat who has given some of the best years of his life to your party, and who for thirty-five years has been actively engaged in support of Democracy in North Carolina? CLYDE HOEY HAS FOUGHT FOR OUR PARTY—OUR PARTY SHOULD NOW FIGHT FOR HIM.

Mr. Democratic Farmer:

"You must realize the complete repeal of the sales tax at this time will result in a state tax on your land for the running of our public schools. Land bore the burden before the sales tax, and must bear it again if the sales tax is repealed. Don't let your eyes be closed by empty promises from the school professor who promises everything to get your vote. The sales tax pays the State of North Carolina $10,000,000 each year, and our lands cannot stand any further taxes. The sales tax has been your salvation.

Mr. Democratic Merchant:

Perhaps you do not like the sales tax. Neither does Clyde Hoey. He is in favor of eliminating the sales tax on flour, meat, lard, and all other necessities of life, and of outright repeal as early as the state's revenue will permit. He also favors a change in the method of collecting the sales tax so as to eliminate inequalities, and pledges his immediate help in this respect. These guarantees can be fulfilled. Don't fall for empty promises.

Are You in Favor of Free School Books?

Is it not fair that North Carolina should furnish school books free to every child, if it requires that child to attend school? Have you considered what this means to the people who cannot buy school books? CLYDE HOEY FAVORS FREE SCHOOL BOOKS, and has assured the people of North Carolina that this can and will be done. Professor McDonald is not in favor of free school books.

Old Age Pensions:

Mr. Hoey is greatly in favor of cooperating with President Roosevelt and the National Administration in providing old age pensions. Under the leadership of President Roosevelt the National Government has already made provision for old age pensions to be effective in any State upon the passage of the appropriate legislation by the State. Everywhere Mr. Hoey has emphasized his stand in favor of this question.

The Tobacco Situation:

Mr. Hoey is absolutely in favor of having the tobacco situation solved in favor of the tobacco farmers as quickly as possible. In his speech at Tarboro on May 15th he declared that if elected he would not wait until he should be inaugurated Governor to take steps to bring about relief for the tobacco farmers, but immediately after he is elected he will proceed to try to solve the problem in the interest of the farmers and will call in a committee of farmers to work with him on it.

OUR FINAL STRAW VOTE

The final state-wide tabulation of the newspaper straw poll of the gubernatorial race will be published tomorrow afternoon. While the poll, we believe, will predict a true trend in the voting it must be considered that the final votes were cast in this poll last Thursday night and any trends since that time must be taken into account in considering the accuracy of the poll. Just how accurate the poll will prove to be in the last analysis will not be known until the votes of next Saturday's primary are tabulated, but at any rate to date the poll has shown just how the people who received the straw ballots voted them. The names to whom the ballots were mailed were picked impartially and systematically and if the straw poll falls down, which we do not believe it will, it will be because the people vote one way in a straw vote and another in the primary.

At any rate this straw vote has been interesting and certainly to date it is the most accurate prediction of the outcome of next Saturday's primary. Recently claimed shifts might change the percentages of the votes of the various candidates but we do not believe that their standings will be changed.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(Continued from Page One) The Hilles-Hamilton feud began in the early days of the Landon boom. The New Yorker discovered that the campaign manager was quietly recruiting support in what used to be Hilles precincts. The veteran committeeman felt hurt rather than angry. Then they collided head-on at the winter meeting of the national committee. Hilles insisted on trying to increase the number of convention delegates, so as to strengthen anti-Landon blocs. Hamilton begged the elder man not to stage a showdown. "I can beat you," he told Hilles—and he did.

The New Yorker, however, dominated the committee of arrangements. He retaliated by naming Senator Steiwer as keynoter—the Rep. Bert Snell as permanent chairman. The Congressman has usually been a close Hilles ally. The Old Guard may die—probably will at Cleveland—but it's taking death hard.

FIASCO: Senate taxmakers' soreness against Roosevelt—Morgenthau—Oliphant whipsnapping has reached the boiling point. Even such a loyal partisan as Finance Chairman Pat Harrison has lost patience with backstage interference in his compromise moves.

The Senator exerted every ounce of his good nature to obtain committee agreement to the 7 per cent penalty tax on undistributed surpluses. A majority had held out stubbornly for no more than 4 per cent, but he got them to make a more generous gesture toward the basic idea of Mr. Roosevelt's break-up-business scheme. But that move completely discarded the theory sold to Secretary Morgenthau and President Roosevelt by General Counsel Oliphant.

Several Progressives whispered in cupped ears that everything could be fixed up by a presidential cold-

ing. Messrs. Morgenthau and Oliphant roared that the Harrison compromise would discredit the Treasury. Mr. Roosevelt called a committee conference but it generated more heat than light. Senators in the know blame Mr. Oliphant for the fiasco and the ludicrous mess. The same venture that the four months' backing-and-filling will prove the G. O. P. contention that the Democrats don't know how to collect—or spend—money.

RIFT: President Roosevelt's choice of a man for such a minor office as United States marshal may determine whether he will carry Nebraska and several nearby states. It may also decide whether he will have the wholehearted backing of Senator George Norris next fall.

Val Peter, the present marshal, is a Republican holdover. But he is an influential figure because of his German descent and his ownership of three newspapers. So Mr. Norris proposed to Colleague Burke that Peter be kept in office at least until after election. Mr. Burke agreed, but subsequently recommended the appointment of another man, supposedly at the suggestion of former National Committeeman Arthur Mullen.

Protests against the Burke-Mullen candidate poured in to Washington, and Mr. Norris reinforced them with personal pleas to the President. If Mr. Roosevelt listens to the politicians, it will dislodge the Senator and be the first rift in their political and personal friendship. His heart wouldn't be in the reelection campaign, and he might easily sit on the sidelines.

PRACTICAL: No Congressional session ever pursued lobbyists with such fun and furor as this one. Senator Black and Rules Chairman O'Connor turned up sensations involving picturesque figures such as "Elmer, the messenger boy." No word carried such scorn as "lobbyist."

Nevertheless the House and Senate conferees have been wrangling over their respective anti-lobby measures since April 8. The earlier enthusiasm for driving special pleaders from Congressional and departmental corridors seems to have disappeared.

Conservatives are filibustering against any legislation. Liberals insist that the House requirement of wholesale registration is too extreme. More than 100 Representatives may lose out next fall, and they may want to do some lobbying on the side. Meanwhile the Democratic lawyer-lobbyists are denounced by FDR are growing wealthier every day.

New York By JAMES McMULLEN DICKER: Alfred Landon's promoters are working hard in the East and elsewhere to close up whatever gaps yet remain in the Kansan's armor. New York political sharps cite three recent developments as indicating the astuteness of their current maneuvers. In contrast to the political bungling that marked the early stages of their campaign.

They have deftly sidetracked Senator Arthur Vandenberg as a possible spearhead for a "stop Landon" drive. Eastern anti-Landonites have privately rated the Michiganite the most promising candidate around whom to rally. Now this idea is wet-blanketed because Vandenberg has recently developed a friendly attitude towards the Kansan. He isn't open to Landon but he's at least benevolently neutral. Landon agents have been quietly gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up a standard for the people."

His spoke of thousands of men and women all over North Carolina, groping in darkness, ignorance and superstition, and urged the graduates to prepare to go out in the various communities and work among these people and there live a life that will be a benediction to them. Rev. Johnson said: "Think not of yourselves, nor of your racial identity, but rather what you can do. Hold yourselves up. Be able to look the world in the face. Whatever you do, let it be the best. Cook the finest meal, dig the best ditch, plow the best row. Gave to the people the best that you have and the best will come to you." There will be other exercises during the week. The graduation exercises will be held Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. E. A. Taylor, of Scotland Neck, will be the principal speaker.

Vienna Seals Flee Castle

Vienna—(AP)—Six sea lions recently added to the zoo at Schoenbrunn Castle, don't like their luxurious quarters. Two night watchmen have been detailed to keep the animals from wandering around the grounds.

Jungle Cities Found In India

New Delhi, India (AP)—Ruins of thickly populated cities have been found in the tiger-infested jungles of Kotah state by Dr. A. S. Altekar Nandi, professor of ancient history at Benares Hindu University. Inscriptions on temples and pillars of sacrifice were in corrupt Sanskrit of the third century, B. C.

New York Cotton

New York, June 3—(AP)—The stock market showed a little disposition to indulge in bullish capers today and except for scattered specialties the list held to a narrowly irregular range.
 Quiet dealings were the rule throughout, most traders standing aside pending further information on an outbreak of serious labor disturbances in France and the final decision of conferees on the new tax program.
 The late tone was irregular. Sales approximated 650,000 shares.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER
 Washington—Some of the Democrats who usually fall heir to the job of writing the party platform are disturbed by their task this year.
 They believe that the platform, regardless of what it says, will be superseded by the issues President Roosevelt (they concede his nomination, of course) raises in his speeches.
 Debates in congress and comment

elsewhere would indicate not all Democrats are in favor of certain measures and policies that must be defended in the platform. Notable among those that have come in for critical comment are the reciprocal trade act, large governmental expenditures and centralization of government. (Democrats fear the Republicans will call it bureaucratic government.)
 Those three, together with the unemployment problem, are listed by capital politicians as the spots in the administration armor the Republicans will hit hardest.

Longer Than in '32

Democratic platform builders are reconciled to the prospect of a long platform in contrast to the approximately 1,600-word document of 1932. First they expect an extensive endorsement of New Deal activities, and planks designed to make more or less permanent some of the agencies that have survived the emergency stage.
 Some Democratic stalwarts, veterans in politics before the advent of the New Deal, have felt the reciprocal trade treaties were a usurpation of senatorial authority. These agreements permit the administration to act without senate ratification.
