LEADERS SILENT PENDING CAUCUS

Vandenberg Talked as Possibility for G. O. P. Nominee in Case of Deadlock

Cleveland, June 8.—(AP)—Leaders of the already booming Landon campaign, working at top speed...

Senator Borah of Idaho newly arrived from Washington, shunted aside the leadership of a "stop Landon" drive which was his for the asking.

For the first time a confession came from headquarters of Colonel Frank Knox of Illinois. He was spoken of there as "a definite second choice" with a chance yet to win out if Governor Landon of Kansas fails to go over on the first three ballots.

"I don't want to go into a combination to attempt to control the convention," Borah told the Idaho delegation.

"They are willing for me to become the spearhead of a 'stop drive,'" he said, "but they say nothing about what will happen to me after the opposition has been destroyed."

Cleveland, June 8.—(AP)—Supporters of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas piped their bandwagon tune for the arriving main body of Republican delegates today while the divided but resourceful opposition still explored means to head him off.

Between breaths the Kansas delegates exchanged "I told you so glances" over the news that 36 of New York's 90 delegates had declared for Landon.

Conspicuous among the discussion of dissenters from any "band wagon" drive, was Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

Talk of Vandenberg as a possibility for the presidential nomination in event of deadlock persisted, notably among some seemingly interested in further deadlock.

Only Few Farmers in North Carolina On Rehabilitation

Out of Total of 142,158 Share Croppers and Tenants in State, Only Five Per Cent Enrolled Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, June 8.—Of a total of 142,158 share croppers and tenants in North Carolina, both white and colored, only about 5 per cent have been enrolled as rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement Administration as of June 1.

There are, according to the latest U. S. Census figures, 36,392 white croppers and 56,781 white tenants in the state. There are 30,001 colored croppers and 18,984 colored tenants.

Dare, where fishing in more of a pursuit-for-a-living than farming, is the only one of the state's one hundred counties which does not have a single rehabilitation client.

In thirteen counties of the state, Mask explained, not a single colored person has been placed on the rehabilitation rolls. These counties are Alleghany, Caldwell, Cherokee, Clay, Dare, Graham, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Madison, Mitchell, Polk and Swain.

COALITION TALK BOOMS LOWDEN

Opponents of Gov. Alf Landon's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination were reported engaged in efforts to form a coalition in support of Frank O. Lowden (above), former governor of Illinois. Lowden met the talk with silence. (Associated Press Photo)

TRUCK VICTIM FUNERAL HELD

Allen Wilson Moore Crushed to Death Sunday A. M.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at the Christian church for Allen Wilson Moore, 20, who was killed almost instantly yesterday morning when he was crushed between an ice truck he had just cranked and the end of a railroad tie.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of Eighth Street Christian church, of which Mr. Moore was a member. Rev. Mr. Ryan was assisted by Dr. G. R. Combs, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Young Moore was fatally injured yesterday morning as he was preparing to deliver some ice to the local hospital. Unsuccessful in his efforts to start the machine with the starter, Moore attempted to start it by cranking. The truck was parked near a railroad track, which was about two feet above the ground where the vehicle was parked.

Moore was employed by the Colonial Ice company and was at the plant yesterday when a call came for some ice.

When he got out to crank the machine, he left it in high gear. As he pulled up the crank, the motor started and the vehicle pinned him between the bumper and the end of a cross tie.

Moore called for help and was relieved from the position and rushed to the hospital, but died about five minutes after arriving there.

A member of an old and popular Greenville family, Mr. Moore is survived by his mother, Mrs. Cammie Daniel Moore; eight brothers, Ray, William and Luther Moore of Greenville; Meredith Moore of Duke University; David, Hugh and Carlton Moore of Washington, D. C.; and three sisters, Miss Eliza Moore of Richmond, Va., Miss Snoddie Moore of Greenville, R. F. D. No. 1, and Miss Eliza Moore of Greenville, R. F. D. No. 1.

EXPLAINS LAW 'CZARIST' ERA FOR LICENSES FOR CONGRESS

No Driving Permits Revoked Without Conviction

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, June 8.—No drivers' licenses are being revoked unless the drivers are convicted of an offense which makes it mandatory for their permits to be revoked.

The impression got out some weeks ago that the highway safety department was revoking licenses of drivers before they were given any trial in court. But this was through an error in a news dispatch which used the word "revoked" where it should have used the word "suspend," Fulk said.

The result has been that people are now maintaining that the highway safety division is revoking licenses without due process of law, when this is really not the case.

The highway safety division has not revoked a single license until it has received the proper notification from the various clerks of court over the state certifying that license holders have been duly convicted of drunken driving or some other of the seven or eight offenses for which it is mandatory for us to revoke a driver's license for one year," Fulk said.

The deaths and injuries were the result of 86 wrecks during May, as compared with 94 during the previous month.

Seventy-eight persons were arrested for driving while drunk. A total of 628 arrests were made during the period, 465 warrants were procured and 248 citations issued.

The activities of the Patrol resulted in 596 verdicts of guilty in court cases, as compared with only 32 acquittal verdicts. Sentences amounting to 58 months were meted out. Fines totalled $5,056.40 and court costs, $4,280.12. The Patrol recovered $5,150 worth of property and collected $11,058, making a total revenue of $25,425.47.

Other activities included: fires extinguished, one; first aid rendered, one; driver's license applications handled, 196; vehicles weighed, 128, with 45 found overloaded; vehicles stored, 36; automobiles recovered, four; courtesies extended, 759; warnings issued 1,581; light tickets issued, 4,113; lights corrected, 759; equipment tickets issued, 71; and vehicles inspected, 3,123.

The Patrol personnel spent a total of 14,678 hours on duty, traveling 125,725 miles.

Hoey Lead Over McDonald Cut To Narrow Margin As Final Tabulation Nears

MCDONALD FOR LEGAL LIQUOR

Quoted as Saying He Would Desert Old Tactics for New

Charlotte, June 8.—(AP)—The Charlotte News said in a news story today that Dr. Ralph W. McDonald would make liquor control his principal campaign plank in a runoff primary with Clyde R. Hoey for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The paper, declining to reveal the source of its information, makes the flat statement that McDonald has decided to subordinate anti-sales tax and "anti machine" tactics used up to now, in favor of a direct appeal on the liquor issue.

McDonald according to the News, will advocate: 1. Extension to all counties of the privilege already given 17 of voting whether to have county owned and operated liquor stores with the bulk of the accruing revenue to remain in the counties.

2. Creation of the office of state liquor commissioner with supervisory powers, particularly policing patterned after those of Virginia's alcoholic board of control and possibly with central purchasing facilities to promote low prices. The state would take only enough liquor revenue from the counties to pay for this central agency.

By PRESTON GLOVER. Washington, June 8.—(AP)—The death of Speaker Joe Byrns spelled to many veteran House members the end of a "persuasive" leadership and the re-birth of the "whip-crackers."

Byrns was a type of leader much removed from his outstanding predecessors since the turn of the century. Where party regularity was demanded on penalty of legislative punishment by "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Champ Clark, Nicholas Longworth, John N. Garner and to a less extent by Frederick H. Gillett and Harry T. Rainey, Speaker Byrns tuned in on a softer dial.

Longworth usually had a strong Republican majority, most of them habituated to party regularity. Garner, with less regular followers, had a peculiar advantage—and plied it skillfully—in that his majority during the last year of President Hoover's administration was only 219 to 216. To every Democratic member, that spelled regularity or loss of control. Garner saw to it they were regular.

Byrns and Rainey succeeded to the overwhelming majority swept in by the Roosevelt landslide. It was an unusual majority, in that it contained, besides a framework of skilled legislators, a host of members not used to any type of threat to "kick Father Coughlin down Pennsylvania Avenue."

He may be among the November casualties. Both possibilities point towards the selection of a less experienced leader—a distinct blow to the Democrats.

JELLING: For newcomers to the political stage, Alf Landon's young political impresarios or showing remarkable talent for teaching party veterans to sing on the job. Experienced New Dealers—FDR himself—could learn a few lessons from the Kansas school of harmony.

Campaign Manager Hamilton has lost no chance to close ranks. He was the first to welcome the suggestion that Herbert Hoover attend and address the convention. He seconded the proposal that Frank O. Lowden write the farm plank. He picked popular "Joe" Martin, an old-time Coolidge admirer, for floor manager. He has made discreet overtures to William Edgar Borah. Senator Vandenberg's indifference to Mr. Landon remains the outstanding exception to the success record.

Mr. Hamilton, of course, courted these rivals in the hope that Mr. Landon would profit from G. O. P. solidarity if he is nominated. But un-

The only encouraging aspect of the situation is that the farmers will probably receive better prices for the tobacco and cotton they are able to raise, due to the fact that the crop will be short and production light. Dean Schaub pointed out. For the drought has been general through all of the southern states. Truck farmers have also suffered heavily since the bean, pea and spring vegetable crop has been badly damaged by the dry weather. The drying up of pasture land has also affected dairy farmers throughout the state, Dean Schaub said.

Gains On Opponent

Dr. Ralph McDonald (above) emphatically declared this afternoon that there would be a second primary in North Carolina for the gubernatorial nomination on July 4. The erstwhile college professor, who was trailing Clyde R. Hoey by a little more than 1,400 votes with the returns yet incomplete, declared he would require a run-off.

Forsyth Man, Trailing Hoey by Little More Than 2,400 Votes with 127 More Precincts to Be Heard From, Declares Flatly "There Will Be a Second Primary on July 4th and July Fourth is Independence Day"

Charlotte, June 8.—(AP)—Dr. Ralph W. McDonald shaved Clyde R. Hoey's lead for governor to slightly more than 2,400 votes as late returns were tabulated here today from Saturday's Democratic primary.

Unofficial reports from 1,729 of the 1,856 precincts in the state gave the following standing:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Precincts. Hoey 182,449; McDonald 179,997; Graham 116,782; McRae 6,388.

A run-off contest for governor was made certain with the announcement by Dr. McDonald that he would remain in the fight against Hoey.

At his headquarters in Raleigh, the Winston-Salem legislator made the cryptic comment:

"There will be a second primary on July 4th—and the fourth of July will be Independence Day."

Simultaneously the Charlotte News declared here McDonald would change his tactics in the ensuing four weeks' drive.

The paper said it had learned from an "unimpeachable source" that he would make liquor control, a paramount point in his campaign, subordinating to it the sale tax issue and critics of what he called "machine rule" in the state.

Hoey resting at his Shelby home had no comment to make upon the outcome of the record shattering primary except to express his appreciation of the huge vote given him.

Senator Bailey had a long lead over former Lieutenant Governor R. T. Fountain, while the other two candidates, William H. Griffin and David L. Strain, trailed far behind. With 1,438 precincts reported, the vote for Senator stood:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Precincts. Bailey 190,907; Fountain 136,523; Griffin 18,327; Strain 11,026.

In the second congressional district Representative John H. Kerr defeated A. O. Dickens of Wilson, 21,670 to 16,346, with only 17 small precincts unreported.

Returns from 112 of the 167 precincts in the third district gave Graham Barden a substantial lead over Charles L. Abernethy, Jr. The vote was: Barden 13,542; Abernethy 10,752.

A second primary was indicated for the lieutenant governor's race. With 429 precincts yet to report, Paul D. Grady, resident proponent of the Senate, was leading with 120,003 votes, followed by W. F. Horton with 110,219, and George McNeill with 103,446.

State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, who had an overwhelming lead over Mrs. Helen Robertson Wohl, with 1,349 precincts reported, the vote stood: Johnson, 235,982; Mrs. Wohl, 74,398. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clyde A. Erwin had a comfortable lead over his two opponents, A. B. Alderman and Gilbert Craig. The vote from 1,340 precincts was: Erwin, 178,351; Alderman, 103,446; Craig, 103,446. (Continued on page six)

BENNETT NEW COUNTY AGENT

State County Agent at Large Is Taking Place of Arnold

R. R. Bennett, county agent at large for the N. C. State college extension department, has arrived in the city and taken over the farm agent's office vacated when E. F. Arnold was given a leave of absence to serve as secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Bennett has served in Rowan county since March 6 and has had other experience in his field of work. A graduate of State college, he taught agriculture at Troutman, Tredegar county.

The acting farm agent is a native of Guilford and reported he had had some experience in tobacco work. He added, however, he had never been employed in a county which is as strictly devoted to the leaf as this county.

Mr. Bennett expressed much satisfaction at being located here and declared, this is "one of the most progressive counties I ever have been in." He said farmers in the Piedmont and western counties could learn something by paying Pitt a visit. He called attention to the nice looking farm homes and said the soil quality appeared to be among the best to be found anywhere.

The new farm agent said it would take him some time to become acclimated to the county, but declared he was planning to get down to work at once toward putting the farm program across. He will also supervise field work being carried on in the county.

Five Cases Tried In Session Police Court

Five cases were disposed of in Mayor's court this morning, two defendants charged with fighting, two with being drunk and one with assault with a deadly weapon.

Bert Anderson was ordered held for trial in County court on charges of assault with a deadly weapon; Robert Williams was taxed with the costs for being drunk; Sam Carr and Emma Green were fined $10 and costs for engaging in an affray, and Weston Harris was taxed with the costs for being drunk.

All five defendants were negroes.

News Behind The News

Washington. By RAY TUCKER. TROUBLE Speaker Byrns' death came too late to effect legislative history at the 74th session, but House chieftains' scramble for his post will embarrass FDR if he is re-elected. It upsets a well-managed parliamentary household.

Cloakroom sentiment is wagering on Sam Rayburn of Texas and Rules Chairman John O'Connor of New York as most likely successors. Both are loyal administration men, though not so amiable or amenable to White House persuasion as Mr. Byrns was; they speak their minds bluntly at presidential meetings. Majority Leader Bankhead of Alabama is the logical heir, but his health may not stand the strain of leading a House which will be less overwhelmingly Democratic.

Two hidden facts operate against Messrs. Rayburn and O'Connor despite their exceptional qualifications. Should the Texan move up to the rostrum his Interstate and Foreign Commerce chairmanship would fall to fiery George Huddleston of Alabama, who headed the war on FDR's holding company and general power program. The White House of course dreads that prospect. Mr. O'Connor faces a sharp reelection struggle because of his threat to "kick Father Coughlin down Pennsylvania Avenue." He may be among the November casualties. Both possibilities point towards the selection of a less experienced leader—a distinct blow to the Democrats.

IT WAS A HARD NIGHT BUT WORTH IT

It was a hard night Saturday night but the number of congratulations we have received on our handling of the election returns makes us feel well repaid for our efforts. The Reflector was assigned two counties by the Associated Press, and despite the fact that it was an all night task we did not let up until the final precinct had been reported.

We repeat it was a big job and a hard night for us but even at that it would not have been possible for us to give our readers this news protection but for outside help. By the installation of extra equipment in our offices the local telephone company rendered us the best of service in contacting the various voting places.

Our yesterday's issue carried the full news regarding the county offices and there has been no appreciable change in the standings in the gubernatorial race since that issue was published.

GREENIES TAKE TWO FROM BUGS

Locals Win 3-1 Saturday and 8-2 Yesterday P. M. By J. L. WHITFIELD. The Greenies, Greenville's offering in the baseball field, produced a double-decker of wins over the week-end at the expense of the Goldsboro Gold Bugs.

Saturday's game was played here at the Third street stadium with Mattson, a boy from Utah, doing the twirling and allowing the Bugs only five scattered hits, which resulted in a 3-1 win for the locals. The tilt Sunday was played at Goldsboro with Clement doing the work on the mound for the Greenies, and he likewise obtained a win for the locals, the score being 8-2 in the Greenville club's behalf.

Mr. and Mrs. Brim Give Dance.
Greensboro, N. C., June 7—Of first importance among yesterday's events in smart society was the formal dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Millikan Brim at Sedgewick Country club to compliment Miss Ellen Mordcael Kelly and her fiancé, Marion Geddings Pollin, Jr., who are to be married Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cecil Kelly.

Several hundred guests, a number of them from the bridegroom's home city, assembled in the major at Sedgewick and enjoyed dancing to tunes of Lew Gogerty's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Brim received their guests at 10 o'clock with the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Brim wore an exquisite gown of white net over white taffeta and a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Flaring from the waist the skirt spread into the yards of graceful fullness. The neckline was cut very low in the back and at the dip of the V in front was a bow of white velvet.

Miss Kelly's stunning gown was yellow lace over taffeta in bright lemon shade and at the ruching of the shoulder she pinned a corsage of gardenias. Bands of taffeta ruching bordered the off-shoulder line at the neck.

The punch table was placed on the balcony where dancers found chairs when wishing a moment of rest. The two large bowls rested on antique silver trays, separated by a wine cooler filled with callalilies. Big pottery jars of Dorothy Perkins roses were arranged in the lounge where guests were received and sprays of the same pink rambler banked the mantels. The orchestra pavilion in the ballroom was marked by two great jars of magnolia branches.

Among the guests from Winston-Salem were Thomas Pollin, brother of the bridegroom and best man for the wedding; Miss Estelle Pollin, cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Claire Hanes, Miss Aurelia Plumly, Gordon Gray, one of the ushers, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armfield.

RED DEPUTIES CONTRIBUTE SALARY SLICES TO PARTY
Paris—(AP)—Each of the 72 communists in the new French chamber of deputies gets only a fraction of his salary.

Representatives of the communist workers' announced the red newspaper Humanite, "can live on a worker's salary."

Each communist deputy keeps only 1,600 francs (about $112) out of his 6,000 francs-a-month salary. The rest goes into the party's treasury.

MEANS SOUGHT END ARGUMENT

Raleigh School Row Expected to Reach Head Today

Reflector Bureau.
Sir Walter Hotel.
Raleigh, June 8.—The rumpus which has prevailed here for several days as a result of the summary dismissal of Principal C. E. Wessinger of Hugh Morson high school here by Supt. Paul S. Daniel of the city schools and which has precipitated two parades by protesting high school students and a mass meeting of enraged parents and school patrons, is expected to reach a final solution this afternoon when the Raleigh School Board will meet to hear Wessinger submit a formal, written reply to Supt. Daniel's charges of inefficiency.

Wessinger was notified that he would not be reemployed as principal next year in a letter from Daniel which contained no reasons for his being dropped and which Wessinger received the early part of last week. When Wessinger made an attempt to see Daniel and talk with him, he reported that Daniel would not talk with him or give any additional reasons for his dismissal.

When these facts became generally known, several hundred high school students paraded up and down Fayetteville street here in vigorous protest, carrying banners inscribed "Down with Daniel" and "Throw Daniel into the Lion's Den" and other similar sentiments. A group of high school boys carried a coffin on which was the sign "Bury Daniel." Thursday night parents and patrons of Hugh Morson high school, where Wessinger has been either a teacher or principal for 15 years, held a mass meeting and not only demanded the reinstatement of Wessinger but the resignation of Supt. Daniel and all the members of the present Raleigh School Board. Friday afternoon the high school students held another parade, after having been prevented from making a march on the home of Supt. Daniel Thursday night by the intervention of the police.

Whatever place history may accord eventually to the Cleveland Republican convention, it is safe to say it will be longed down as one incident in a long chain of developments—not as an isolated event significant for its own sake.

In June, 1932, when the party was assembling to choose a ticket and write a platform in Chicago the following words appeared in this column:

"The issues on which the party split 20 years ago were economic issues—the tariff, taxes, the concentration of wealth and the regulation of big business.

"The same two schools of thought are present today in Chicago. The party has been reunited in a physical sense, having learned a bitter lesson; but not one of the questions on which it divided in 1912 has been solved to the mutual satisfaction of Old Guard and insurgents."

These statements apply with the same force today to Cleveland. For a quarter of a century now Republicans have been seeking the perfect balance between two factions whose economic views are almost as different as day and night.

With Mr. Hughes as the nominee in 1916, the party experienced an appreciable swing toward liberalism. An era of conservative dominance began with Mr. Harding and continued with Mr. Coolidge. Mr. Hoover was put forward for the nomination as a liberal, and had the support of outstanding liberals who brought against him.

Nothing has stirred the people of Raleigh in years as has his action by Supt. Daniel in dismissing Wessinger as principal of the city's largest high school and for several days the people were more aroused over the school rumpus than over the political campaign. The students and parents of students are split into two camps, with some defending Supt. Daniel for his action. But it is generally agreed that a great many more seem to be siding with Wessinger than with Daniel. The opinion in most circles is that Wessinger will be reinstated. Some think the board may ask for Supt. Daniel's resignation before the matter is entirely cleared up.

HEADACHES IN STORE FOR GOP

Convention to Be Recorded as Chain of Developments

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, Associated Press, Washington)

Whatever place history may accord eventually to the Cleveland Republican convention, it is safe to say it will be longed down as one incident in a long chain of developments—not as an isolated event significant for its own sake.

In June, 1932, when the party was assembling to choose a ticket and write a platform in Chicago the following words appeared in this column:

"The issues on which the party split 20 years ago were economic issues—the tariff, taxes, the concentration of wealth and the regulation of big business.

"The same two schools of thought are present today in Chicago. The party has been reunited in a physical sense, having learned a bitter lesson; but not one of the questions on which it divided in 1912 has been solved to the mutual satisfaction of Old Guard and insurgents."

These statements apply with the same force today to Cleveland. For a quarter of a century now Republicans have been seeking the perfect balance between two factions whose economic views are almost as different as day and night.

With Mr. Hughes as the nominee in 1916, the party experienced an appreciable swing toward liberalism. An era of conservative dominance began with Mr. Harding and continued with Mr. Coolidge. Mr. Hoover was put forward for the nomination as a liberal, and had the support of outstanding liberals who brought against him.

Nothing has stirred the people of Raleigh in years as has his action by Supt. Daniel in dismissing Wessinger as principal of the city's largest high school and for several days the people were more aroused over the school rumpus than over later parted company with him. About Cleveland and is nominee? The developments of the coming campaign will answer that question more clearly than it possibly could be answered by the convention, but some things are apparent.

The Cleveland keynote is one of "confidence." Long in advance, the dominant party leaders agreed that the very first duty of the convention would be to put forward a "safe" candidate and platform.

In other words, the whole logic of the situation decreed beforehand that the Republican party of 1936 be the conservative party—at least in the sense of being more conservative than the Democratic party of 1936.

But the practical exigencies also demanded in advance that the second duty of the convention would be to give some encouragement and comfort to the liberals. That requirement was easily provable as a matter of simple election mathematics.

Here is the same old question over again.

Of course every campaign year has varied the picture somewhat, without changing essentials.

Into this general pattern fit all of the threads of the events leading up to, and culminating in, the Cleveland convention. The old economic issues remain supreme, and on these issues the party remains of two minds.

The left-wing attack on monopoly, the right-hand wing protest against corporation taxes, the dispute over the tariff, the pains of internal strife over the regulation of business—the whole story reads like a page from the political primer of 1912.

So Cleveland takes its place as one of a series of incidents. Its troubles are links in a long chain of trouble, for they illustrate once more that the natural line of division does not run between the parties but through them.

Talk of "coalition" arouses interest, but where does it get? Convention time finds most of the Republican liberal leaders in line, but grumbling at Cleveland, and most of the Democratic conservative leaders in line, but grumbling at Philadelphia.

The need for realignment is one point on which the political theorists and the practical politicians agree. Yet what is either party doing about it?

Cardinals Delays Dawn Angels.
Paris (AP)—Church bells of Paris now peel the morning angelus at 7 o'clock instead of at the traditional hour of 6. The change was ordered by Cardinal Verdier because many people living adjacent to churches disliked being awakened so early in the morning.

Warren William first attracted attention on the stage because Alexander Woolcott said he resembled John Barrymore. Warren has been trying to live it down since.

Black-Draught
RELIEF IS PROMPT AND REFRESHING

It's a good idea that so many people have—to keep Black-Draught handy so the can take a dose for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation.

"I have used Black-Draught a long time, about as long as I can remember, and have a package on my shelf now," writes Mr. Sherman Sneed, of Evansville, Tenn. "I take Black-Draught for constipation which causes headache, a bad, tired feeling and for biliousness, bad taste in the mouth and sluggish feeling. Black-Draught, taken about two right, clears up this trouble and I get all right."

Black-Draught is made of medicinal herbs, dried and finely ground, but no other change in their natural condition. It is a laxative that men and women like so well because of the refreshing relief it brings in constipation troubles.—(Adv.)

An Open Letter Of Thanks to My Friends

I take this means of expressing my gratitude and thanks to those who made by nomination possible. My victory does not sit upon me in either arrogance or conceit but in a spirit of warmth and grateful appreciation. I was in a race with three men who conducted their candidacies upon a courteous, dignified, and clean basis. I extend my friendship and appreciation to them.

To the people of Pitt County I pledge anew the best effort within me to their welfare and interest. They shall have my best. I shall be slow and deliberate and to this post of grave responsibility I shall be faithful, sincere, and honest. My heart beats steady and I warm for all my friends, nor shall I ever hold an atom of resentment towards any person who did not vote for me. Please believe me to be more grateful than I can say.

Signed: J. S. MOORE.

THANKS

I wish that I could personally thank each and every person who supported me in the race for Constable of Greenville Township. Unable to do this, I take this means of assuring you of my appreciation.

Racketeers Expect To Get Big Slice Of Ex-Soldier's Cash

Doughboys in For Tremendous Squeezing When They Collect Their Bonus Cash Beginning June 15

By HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington (AP)—Ex-doughboys are in for a tremendous squeezing when they collect their bonus cash and bonds, beginning June 15.

"In fact," says one veterans' administration official, "there are so many racketeers designed to get the money from the ex-soldiers that the bureau is afraid to let them be made public in fear that other racketeers will use them."

The bait tempting the unscrupulous is the $1,924,000,100 the treasury estimates will be made available to more than 3,500,000 holders of adjusted service certificates.

Some of the money, officials are certain, will start cash registers ringing in all parts of the country. But the government, making every effort to keep the "sucker" list as low as possible, has reports that big racketeers have been offering money for lists of bonus-eligible veterans.

"Persons who have been granting credit to veterans, expecting to get paid off in June, may find themselves suckers," these officials warn, also. "There is no legal way they can make a veteran cash his bond."

New York Cotton

New York, June 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, four lower to two higher with prices generally bound in sympathy with relative easy Liverpool cables and owing to showers in parts of the eastern cotton belt.
 Trading was moderately active at the start and the opening decline was only a partial response to the relatively easy Liverpool cables.
 At midday October was around 10.81 or two net lower while late months were relatively steadier and unchanged to a point higher.
 Futures closed steady unchanged to eight higher than Saturday's close, spots quit, middling 11.78.

Accordingly, we have suspended the licenses of some 200 drivers for these causes pending final trial."

'CZARIST' ERA FOR CONGRESS

 party leadership and many disposed to be far more individualistic than their leaders would have liked.
 Byrns, as floor leader under Rainey, used persuasion rather than threats of punishment or recalcitrant members when party favors were available. That, too, was his method as speaker.

It was not a fast working process in the beginning, and there came complaints from administrative sources that the leadership was not strong enough, that the whip should be applied.
 Byrns pursued his own way, and followed it further when in 1935 he became speaker.

He measured his success in the number of bills he put through in exactly the form in which the administration sought them. Included were the social security bill, the CCC act, and more recently the corporation surplus tax. It was in the Senate that re-writing began.

The bonus bill was over his head, as did repeal of the economy act, but close associates of the speaker thought he was somewhat friendly to both.
 Outstanding prospects to succeed him in the 75th congress are Representatives Bankhead of Alabama, Rayburn of Texas and O'Connor of New York. Bankhead, majority leader under Byrns, is considered "their apparent" because Garner, Rainey and Byrns succeeded to the speakership from the leadership Bankhead has the advantage too, of finishing out Byrns' place in the 74th congress.

All three are looked upon as followers of the Longworth-Garner whip-hand school. Oldsters in the house see further that the "greenlings" of the early New Deal days have had time to accustom themselves to party regularity. Moreover, many expect a reduced majority next congress to encourage Democratic members to stay within the ranks.

TEACHERS' CONTRACTS LIMIT SOCIAL ACTIVITY

Montgomery, Ala., (AP)—In Alabama school teachers must promise not to have company or go automobile riding on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday nights.
 And in Mississippi, a teachers' contract reads: "It is further agreed and understood by parties thereto that no teacher will play society or unnecessarily frolic on school nights."
 While a town in North Carolina requires its teachers to promise to "take vital interest in all phases of Sunday school work, donating his time, service and money for the benefit of the community; not to go out with young men except when necessary to stimulate Sunday school work and not to fall in love, become engaged or secretly married."

PITT

JOIN THE "AMERICAN" PARTY

TEAM UP with the million and more who make the "American" Party one of the biggest of its kind in the country. Its members may not have the same slant on politics—but they all pledge loyalty to "American."

For the "American" Party is made up of motorists who vote for the American Oil Company's Amoco-Gas and Orange American Gas at The Sign of Greater Values from Maine to Florida.

Amoco-Gas began its career as the original candidate in the special motor fuel field. That was 21 years ago and each succeeding year has won and held the votes of new users. Amoco's history has been all performance—not just promise.

If you want to "look at the record" ask the American Automobile Association, and learn that Amoco-Gas holds more official A. A. A. world's records than any other gas or motor fuel. Amoco-Gas will take you further—smoother—and for less. It costs a bit more per gallon at the pump—is worth much more—does more.

Or if you're a "regular" party voter, there's Orange American Gas—the "regular" party leader for years, and the best at regular price. Made from a pure petroleum base, it has no added chemicals, leaves no harmful deposits. These features and American's new refinery methods give Orange American Gas a new action that is getting action everywhere.

Join the great "American" Party yourself! Vote at The Sign of Greater Values—from Maine to Florida and inland!
