DIM PROSPECT FOR SETTLING LABOR DISPUTE

Administration Expert Confers With President

ANTAGONISM AT BOILING POINT

Climax Expected To Be Reached Tuesday When Executive Council Meets

Washington, July 11.—(AP)—A dramatic and unheralded conference between President Roosevelt and one of the administration's chief labor experts today underscored the concern felt in official circles here over the mounting crisis within the American Federation of Labor.

Hurrying to the union station last night, before the President's train pulled out on a journey to New York, Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, gave the chief executive an emergency report on the quarrel, threatening to split the federation.

He was understood to have reported that there seemed little immediate prospect of bringing together the two bitter antagonistic factions—John L. Lewis's industrial unionist and craft unionists bent on suspending the big Lewis group from the federation.

Afterwards Grady told newsmen that there was "no change in the situation." Reliable sources represented him as feeling there was too much hatred between leaders in the opposing camps.

Antagonism bold over yesterday when John P. Frey, leading craft unionist, formally accused Lewis of "insurrection," declaring that he was being aided by communists and demanded formally that he and 12 unions affiliated with the Lewis committee for industrial organization be ousted from the federation.

The quarrel will come to a head Tuesday when the federation's executive council is expected to vote on the question of suspending the insurgent unions which claim 1,250,000 members, or about one-third of the federation strength.

In Need Of Funds To Meet Expenses Community School

Daily Vacation Bible Study to Be Completed Next Week at Which Time Work Will Be Exhibited

The Daily Vacation Bible School has been in operation for three weeks, and has provided helpful recreation and spiritual training for about 250 children of the community in the two centers, at the Third street school building, and the high school building.

The children attending the school have come from all the churches of the city, and from many of our homes. The director, Miss Louise Golphin, and the teachers have labored well in bringing to these children much fine character building instruction and recreation. Their work will be exhibited to the public next week at the close of the school and then it can be more fully judged.

This work has been done at a cost of about 10 cents per day per child. The sum of $400 must be secured by the Ministerial Association to meet this expense before next Friday evening. To date the following sums have been received in cash:

Jarvis Memorial Church	$54.75
Eighth St. Christian Church	60.30
Memorial Baptist Church	62.50
Presbyterian Church	20.50
Total	$198.25

Slightly over $200 is needed to clear up this matter. If the people of the community realize the importance of this fine investment sure they will respond to this appeal. Kindly send in any donations to this fund at once. Contributions will be received at the Reflector office, or by any members of the Ministerial Association.

FIRST CHINESE-MADE CAR MEETS TESTS IN HUMAN

Changsha, China (AP)—China's first native-made automobile has been turned out here in Hunan province and successfully tested.

Costing $5,000 Mex. or $1,500 U. S. it is the result of two years of experimentation by Chinese engineers.

Provincial authorities have asked the central government at Nanking to subsidize the factory so it can reach its capacity of 40 cars daily. Ninety per cent of the autos now used in China are American.

GRIM SCENE IN THE WESTERN DROUGHT BELT!

This striking picture presents all the grim elements in the devastating drought now gripping middle western states. The scrawny cow, hungry and thirsty, vainly forages for feed in a drought-seared cornfield in Ford county, Kansas. In the distance can be seen a terrific dust storm sweeping over from the southwest. Unless those dust clouds soon give place to rain clouds, dire consequences may be the fate of the cow and those who live in the farmhouse beyond. (Associated Press Photo)

COBB EXPECTS GOOD TOBACCO

Supervisor Declares He Has Seen 'Some Wonderful' Crops

K. W. Cobb, sales supervisor for the Greenville tobacco market, said today he had "seen some wonderful tobacco this week," adding that "I have seen cured showed very good quality."

Mr. Cobb based his predictions on observations he had made in the past several days, during which time he travelled between 7,000 and 8,000 miles and covered most of the territory which patronizes the local market.

The sales supervisor predicted that practically every farmer in the territory would be curing some tobacco by next week.

Mr. Cobb said the tobacco crop in the flue cured section would be only 95 per cent of a normal crop. He was careful not to hazard any guess as to prices, but the law of supply and demand would indicate a good price for the leaf this fall.

Some tobacco of this year's crop in the opinion of Mr. Cobb, will be of good quality. He declared he believed the first and second curings would be "very good quality."

Reports from Pitt and surrounding counties are that a number of farmers already have started curing some tobacco and it was indicated that by the last of next week the process would be well underway.

Pitt School Head Pleased At Larger Teacher Allotment

County System to Gain Nine Teachers for 1936-37 Sessions; City System Gets One More

D. H. Conley, superintendent of the Pitt county school system, expressed satisfaction today with the increase of nine teachers in the allotment for the 1936-37 term, but gave credit to the patrons of the various schools for keeping their children in the city's rooms during unfavorable weather.

"The increase in our allotment was brought about by the cooperation of the patrons," Mr. Conley said, adding that closing schools in the most adverse weather also helped to keep up the daily average attendance up.

Three of the additional teachers are for white schools. They go to Bethel, Chicod and Grifton. The other six are for Negro schools and will be scattered over the county.

Mr. Conley declared the county system would have secured six more Negro teachers had there been sufficient classroom space to provide for them.

The Greenville system gained one teacher for the next school year.

Freak Irish Potato Is Shown In Greenville

An Irish potato with a "face" like a human being and a body similar to a wild animal was grown by Lawrence Howard, Pitt county tenant farmer.

The freak was being displayed here today by L. S. Hardee, on whose farm it was grown. A number of small potatoes had grown on the sides to form the oddity.

Five Arrested In Negro Dance Riot Face Trial Monday

One of Defendants, Charlie Suggs, Jr., Who Was Shot by Officers, Expected to Recover

Five negroes are scheduled to face charges in mayor's court Monday morning of assault on an officer and possibly other counts as a result of a "riot" which occurred at a dance when city officers sought to arrest a negro woman.

John Thomas Joyner, alias Bo Peep, is specifically charged with striking Officer J. R. Mobley with a chair. Joyner, officers said, fled from the city the night of the dance, but was later apprehended at the home of his sister near Robersonville.

Hattie Little, Greenville negro girl, who is charged with being responsible for the affair, is the only woman facing charges. She is charged with biting and scratching officers Mobley and L. D. Page in resisting arrest when they tried to take her in custody on charges of drunkenness and causing a disturbance.

Soloman Forbes is charged with throwing pop bottles at officers and Andrew Hopkins is being held on the same count.

Charlie Suggs, Jr., who was shot through the abdomen and is in Pitt General hospital, is the fifth negro arrested in the case. While his condition is not considered serious, he is not expected to be able to face trial Monday and his case will come up later.

Chief George Clark said it was impossible to arrest all who engaged in the melee, declaring that any number three bottles, but he said the biggest part of negroes attending the dance engaged in no forms of violence at all.

British Test Anti-Gas Spray

ASK EXTENSION TENTH STREET

Mayor and Alderman Appear Before State Commission

Mayor M. K. Blount and Alderman A. E. Hobgood, chairman of the street committee, reported today they were encouraged over the prospect of extending Tenth street to the Washington Highway after having appeared before the State Highway commission in Morehead City yesterday.

The project has been discussed at meetings of the City Board of Aldermen, but yesterday was the first time it had been brought officially to the attention of the State commission.

At a recent meeting of the Board, Mayor Blount said he had discussed the plan with the State Highway Engineer W. Vance Baise and also with the resident commissioner and had been encouraged by both.

The prospect extension would provide a street straight through from Dickinson avenue to the Washington highway and thus relieve the city of through traffic.

A contract for the widening of a portion of the Avenue already has been let, and the commission has asked for bids on the construction of an underpass at the Norfolk Southern crossing at the cotton mill. Bids on the underpass will be received next week.

Extension of Tenth street to the Washington road would necessitate building a highway across part of Greene Mill run, and the project at first was considered too expensive to consider, but Mayor Blount investigated all angles of the proposal and went to work to secure the interest of State Highway commission in the project.

Defendants Are Held For Recorder's Court

S. H. Johnson was bound over to County court under $200 bond, which he provided, at a preliminary hearing in Mayor's court this morning on charges of driving drunk.

William Harrison, negro, was also bound over to the court under bond of $300 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

In addition, a number of defendants were fined five dollars and costs upon conviction of exceeding the speed limit in the city limits.

News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER

LOSSES: Democratic higher-ups face the fact that the drought has cost them five states in the so-called "dust bowl." It may mean the physical disappearance of votes from territory where they cannot be spared.

Agricultural experts estimate that 35,000 farm families have already emigrated to coastal states from regions ravaged by dust, drought, grasshoppers. Every day more people are moving out, and emergency plans contemplate the exit of additional thousands. They will have no vote in November, and since they were presumably pro-Roosevelt, it amounts to a definite, mathematical loss. Moreover, they have quit states where the Lemke-Coughlin-Townsend ticket may cut most seriously into Mr. Roosevelt's strength—the Dakotas, Montana, Colorado, Nebraska.

This new catastrophe upsets the New Deal arrangements. It cuts down the sum Harry Hopkins will have for relief work elsewhere. It will stop or reduce repayments by farmers on loans advanced by various federal agencies. Politico-economic loss is as FDR's worst break so far.

HEAT WAVE IN FINAL STAGES DRY SECTIONS

Bureau Forecasts Relief for North Central States

EXPECT SHOWERS FOR SOME AREAS

Employees in Many Places Allowed To Quit Duties and Seek Cooler Places

Chicago, July 11.—(AP)—The end of the heat wave in the north central states was sighted today as the weather bureau announced cooler air from the Pacific would bring showers and "near normal" temperatures into the Dakotas tonight and then spread slowly eastward, reaching the eastern half of the region probably Monday night.

The ever-widening high temperature blanket stretching across the continent from the Rockies to the Atlantic Seaboard swept into the South.

The fatality table showed 492 had already perished during the seige, in its ninth day in the midwest.

Oppressive heat claimed 415 lives. Drowning accounting for 77 more. Aberdeen, S. D., recorded yesterday's top official reading, 113.5, but 100 degree torridity engulfed half the states. Baltimore's 107.4 and the 98 at Asheville, N. C., were all-time highs.

Twenty-nine women delegates to a Troy, N. Y., convention were overcome. A half holiday was declared for more than 100,000 WPA workers in New York city after 75 women engaged in a sewing project collapsed at their machines. Mayor LaGuardia ordered municipal employees to go home. Thousands of workers in business houses were permitted to leave.

Government employees at Washington were given permission to quit their posts.

The government reported the nation had poorer crop prospects on July 1 than at the same period in any previous year except 1934. But grain traders here termed the report virtually valueless because of the havoc wrought by drought and heat since July 1.

Masons Preparing For District Meet On Monday Night

Pitt County Lodges to Hold Fifth Annual Session in Aiden Community Building

The Masons of the Fifth Masonic District, which comprises all of the lodges in Pitt County, will hold their annual district meeting in Grifton Monday at 7:00 p. m. in the Community building.

Preceding the district meeting, there will be an Officers' Conference at 5:00 p. m. for all officers of the various Masonic lodges in the district, which will be conducted and presided over by John H. Anderson, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

Grifton Lodge is host to the district meeting, and supper will be served to all Masons at 7:00 p. m. At 8:00 p. m. the district meeting, presided over by W. J. Bundy, Greenville, District Deputy Grand Master, will convene. An address will be delivered by J. Giles Hudson of Salisbury, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. A silver loving cup will be awarded the lodge having the largest percentage of its members present. District Deputy Grand Master Bundy states that a large attendance is expected, and urges all Masons to be present.

A real battle is expected to develop, however, as to whether the liquor stores which will be authorized in local option elections will be under state control or county control, also whether the profits from the sales of liquor will go into the state treasury or into the county treasuries.

The 17 counties which now have liquor stores under county control and which get the profits from the operation of these stores, are expected to fight to the last ditch for a continuation of the county control system. Most of the other eastern counties which want county stores are also expected to line up with these counties. The "dry" counties, on the other hand, are expected to favor state control, with the state to get a slice of the profits. But they are not expected to get very far.

A good many believe that the present county laws will probably be superseded by a single state law setting forth uniform requirements and regulations for the sale of liquor, even though the liquor stores may remain under county control, with the counties getting all the revenue.

LIQUOR LOOMS SAFETY MEANS AS BIG ISSUE TO BE TAUGHT

Question to Receive Consideration At Legislature

Reflector Bureau. Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, July 11.—Liquor is expected to be one of the biggest and toughest issues with which the 1937 general assembly will have to wrestle, with the main question being the type of control that will be adopted. It is agreed that the door has been left wide open for the general assembly to do anything it wants to with the liquor question, since the 1936 Democratic convention failed to mention liquor anywhere in its platform.

The plank which had been written in advance and which was submitted to the platform committee would have pledged the party to submit the liquor question to a state wide referendum before repealing the state prohibition law. But the committee refused to accept his plank with the result that in the end nothing was said about liquor or prohibition at all, which means that the hands of the next legislature will be untied, to deal with it any way it sees fit.

The prevailing belief in most circles is that the next legislature will scrap the Turlington Act and adopt a state-wide law which will permit any counties that want liquor and liquor stores to hold elections and to have stores if a majority of the people vote for him. Such a law is expected to pass with very little opposition.

A real battle is expected to develop, however, as to whether the liquor stores which will be authorized in local option elections will be under state control or county control, also whether the profits from the sales of liquor will go into the state treasury or into the county treasuries.

The 17 counties which now have liquor stores under county control and which get the profits from the operation of these stores, are expected to fight to the last ditch for a continuation of the county control system. Rev. Mr. Fleishmann Speaks Sunday Night

The Sunday evening union service this week will be conducted by the Memorial Baptist Church. Rev. A. W. Fleishmann will preach, and special music will be rendered by members of the church choir. These services in the park have been helpful and provide a demonstration of unity of purpose, and a true fellowship in the churches as they work together in the proclamation of the Gospel.

A cordial invitation is extended to all people to worship in the park directly back of the municipal swimming pool. The cooperation of the public will be appreciated. In case of rain the service will be held in the high school auditorium.

OHIO STRIKERS AGREE RETURN TO WORK SOON

Walkout at Wheeling Steel Corp. To Be Terminated

PLAN ACCEPTED BY CORPORATION

Terms of Agreement Not Made Public by Official Committee Spokesman

Portsmouth, Ohio, July 11.—(AP)—Richard Evans, president of the joint committee of Portsmouth Leasing of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel workers said today striking employees of the Wheeling Steel corporation plant had accepted a settlement offered by the corporation.

Evans did not disclose terms of the settlement which would end the strike marked by the killing of one company guard and number of outbreaks of violence since it began last May 22.

He said he expected the 5,500 employees of the company to return to work within a few days.

The strike settlement, he added, was made on a fourth proposition submitted by the company with the approval of Parker F. Wilson, assistant to the president of the corporation.

Evans announced the decision of the striking employees, voted by secret ballot, on the settlement proposal last night.

Bureau Leaders Engage in Work on Organization Plan

Total of 27 Counties Already Organized in North Carolina with Total Membership of Over 5,000

Activities at the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation headquarters here are going forward at a rapid pace, with E. F. Arnold, executive secretary, and J. E. Winslow, president of the state organization, participating in various programs of the Bureau.

Mr. Arnold has just returned from a tour of a portion of the state and announced that the Bureau now has organizations in 27 counties, with a total paid-up membership of more than 5,000. Pender, Bladen and Sampson were the last counties in which Bureaus were organized.

Mr. Winslow and W. H. Dall, director of the state organization, left today for Danville, Va., where they will appear on a program headed by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the national organization. A large number of farmers from North Carolina border counties are expected to attend the rally and efforts will be made to have them line up with the organization in this state.

Mr. Winslow also will appear on a rally program to be held in Nash county soon. Mr. Arnold said he hoped to be there and also would take part if he is able to attend. Virginia farmers will be represented at the Nash county affair.

Two Brothers Held For County Court On Liquor Charge

Charlie and Walter Hardie, Pitt County Men, Run Into Trap Set By Local Officers

Charlie and Walter Hardie, brothers of Pitt county, are being held under bond for their appearance in court on charges of transporting illegal whiskey for the purpose of sale.

The brothers were arrested last night by Chief George Clark and members of his force when a trap was set for the alleged rum runners.

Tipped off that the brothers would pass through the city, the officers drove out to the cemetery on the Washington road and when the pair came into sight they blocked the road with two automobiles and a truck.

The Hardies turned down a side road, but were caught when they ran into a dead-end road. They were taken in custody at the dump pile.

The car which the brothers occupied contained two five gallon jugs of whiskey. The two were brought to police headquarters and posted $200 bond pending a hearing.

Chief Clark said the two had been suspected of hauling liquor for some time but had never been caught before.

MURDER TONIGHT
BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

Chapter 26
ALICE WHITE
WHEN Shipley is satisfied the cane is clean he goes on into the lane," continued Hylton. "By 7.25 he's at the junction of the side lane and the road, and he bumps into our heaven-provided tramp. Of course it startled him—just think of the state his nerves are in!"

"Not if, because. Have you ever had to do with a murderer, White? I have. Murdering somebody is just about ten times as intoxicating as getting blind drunk. It may sound funny, but it's true. When young Shipley was waving his stick at friend Durley and saying 'this is the stuff we keep for poachers' or whatever it was, what he was actually longing to say was 'see this stick? I've just done an old fool in with it; that's the kind of chap I am.'"

wink" within the last month. In other words, they have been politely told not to be hoity-toity in handling the supplicant public, whether it involves individual mortgages, municipal loans, relief payments.
Almost every department and agency has one or more men whose main job is political liaison. They rarely affect major policies, but they often intercede successfully for their friends and political in small matters. Even when they can't "fix it up" for an influential individual or group, they go through the motions of doing favors. Quiescent for a long time, the approach of elections has brought them into action.
Only a few departments—Messrs. Ickes and Morgenthau's—lack these functionaries. In fact, the politicians complain that these two Cabinet members "don't seem to know we're in a campaign."

INSPIRATION: Sweden has apparently become the ideal commonwealth for New Dealers seeking new social and economic experiments. Substantial, solid, middle-way Sweden, and not Russia, as Liberty Leaguers charge.
For some time there has been a quiet procession of government experts to the Scandinavian country. Former AAA Administrator Chester Davis studied their cooperatives, which sell at low cost direct to consumers. Minister Laurence Steinhardt has reported on them at length. FDR may sponsor them as "retail yardsticks" and a weapon against monopoly, if reelected. Leland Olds recently left to investigate Sweden's system of manufacturing and distributing power on a wholesale basis. Head Forester Silcox is looking into their advanced program for using — and preserving—forests.

Justice Brandeis is understood to be the inspiration for the exodus. He has studied Sweden's remarkable progress, slipped the thought to certain "brain trusters," and they passed it along to "the chief."

FORESTALLING: FDR was putting in a good word for himself when, speaking of Thomas Jefferson, he said: "He was a great gentleman. He was a great commoner. The two are not incompatible."
It was the closest the President has come to expressing his deep, personal resentment of his own class—the wealthy and socially prominent. It was his covert answer to the indictment that he has deserted his brethren — and breeding—to side with the "forgotten man," the "underdog" and the "common man." That's the grudge which many of his "economic royalists" hold against him. It accounts for the personal nature of anti-Roosevelt feeling in these circles. Their talk has reached the President's ears, of course. When it doesn't amuse him, it angers him.

Mr. Roosevelt also forestalled political baiters, who have been making the same charge in reverse. They have pictured him as a land-holding plutocrat more concerned for his own aggrandizement than for the masses' millennium.

FINANCES: National Chairman Farley's decision to keep campaign costs down to $2,000,000 amounts to making a virtue of necessity. The pickings are lean for the Democrats this year.
Purmer contributors are making out checks to the Liberty League and the Republican National Committee. At least fifty heavy angles of 1932 won't show up as Democratic bag-billers in this fight. Some have bluntly rebuffed Messrs. Farley and Morgan by letter and wire. Others have not taken time or a three-cent Farley stamp to acknowledge begging letters.

The party's money boys figure that Jackson and Jefferson Day dinner receipts, convention book sales and advertising and 6,300 tamboinor meetings will eventually net $200,000. They will try to collect the balance from state organizations, wealthy office holders (capitulate especially) and friends of FDR. They want to avoid a deficit for it's not easy for a defeated or rejected administration to liquidate debts.

New York
By JAMES McMULLIN
PLAQUED: There are persistent reports in informed Republican circles that Alf Landon will take the bit in his teeth with respect to monetary policy and pledge himself to return the dollar to a full gold standard within four years if elected. His indicated intention to flout the careful hedging of the O. O. P. platform has New York party leaders worried. Regardless of their personal views about money, they cannot see this course gaining any votes not already in the bag for him, and it would certainly jeopardize Republican chances of regaining the White House vote. Mr. Landon will be urgently reasoned with along this line.
Landon's selection of Charles P. Taft and Ralph West Robery as advisers adds evidence to these reports. Taft is known to have conferred with Ogden Mills and other eastern monetary conservatives before the convention. Robery is confirmed a sound moneyite in the traditional sense as you can find in New York.
The ever-present race question is also plaguing New York O. O. P. chiefs. Numerous protests have been sent to Landon because no Jew was honored by a place at the speakers' table when John Hamilton staged a party here recently.

That's a dangerous oversight in this state. To date Mr. Landon has not replied to the protests.

HIGHER: Leading food manufacturers have been holding a series of conferences to determine what modifications of policy towards their customers will be necessary as a result of the Robinson - Patman chain store law enacted just before Congress adjourned. The law aims at ending price advantages deriving from quantity purchases which chains enjoy over independent competitors. Several sections of the measure are vague and open to various interpretations and the manufacturers are groping around to find out where they stand.
Some food concerns have been allowing discounts to customers who took space in local newspapers featuring the manufacturer's products. This privilege was extended to chains and independents alike and a careful check was kept on the amount of display advertising actually done. Now this discount—and consequently the advertising itself—has been discontinued because it may come under the law's ban on discounts. This may alter the lineage records seriously.
There is a possibility that the manufacturers will use the money hitherto allocated to such discounts for direct national advertising, but this point is in the air. Well posted New Yorkers insist that the public will take it on the chin as a result of the law, if they claim that chain stores will have to raise their prices to retail customers to meet the higher costs imposed by the absence of discounts.

POKER: The Post Office Department recently announced that six airlines had agreed to a settlement of their claims against the government as a result of Farley's cancellation of their mail contracts.
There was plenty of intricate dickering behind that settlement. All of the lines whose contracts had been annulled filed suit for damages as well as for money due but never paid them for the last six weeks in which the old contracts were in effect. Government lawyers privately advised the Post Office

"Scared?" After a few moments, "Put your arm around me—not a bit."

"Strong enough for you, my darling." Small said, his lips pressed against the soft white neck.
Small disentangled himself from the woman's arms and lit a cigaret.
"What about old Burdett," he asked, "anything new?"
"No, Jimmy seems pretty busy about it."
"Life ought to have caught the chap red-handed whoever it was, that would have been one up for him."
"He was out this way that evening, after poachers."
"Will he might as well have been elsewhere. What's this Inspector chap like?"
"A bit funny, but quite nice, a proper gentleman."
"I suppose you'll be after him next."
"I don't go after people."
Small laughed and slid his arm round her again.
"I must go soon Harry, he knows I never stay very late at my sister's."
"Pretty fond of you isn't he?"
"He absolutely adores me. I can give him hell if I want to by getting in a temper and not letting him near me."
"Don't start any of them tricks here, or you'll be getting something you didn't reckon for."
She broke away with one of her abrupt movements.
"I really must go Harry, 'tisn't safe to be longer."
"Where's here?"
"Ne. That old fool of a woman comes up to clean the place out tomorrow; if I put her off she'll only talk. Won't you be walking the Big Wood way?"
"It might rain."
"It won't, I can tell you that. The weather's turned with the moon. 'Bout three o'clock tomorrow I'll have finished my traps and be where the cleaning is."
"I may not be able to come."
Small stretched himself and laughed.
"I expect ye will," he said.

Congressman Lindsey C. Warren To Be Promoted: Honorable F. C. Harding a Worthy Successor In Congress
According to information from Washington City, Congressman

Warren is scheduled to be appointed Comptroller General to succeed Mr. McCarl. This promotion of Congressman Warren seems almost certain, and equally certain it seems that Honorable F. C. Harding is from every viewpoint among the best fitted and best located successor in Congress to Congressman Warren. Therefore this suggestion to our citizenship.
By education and active life that has been more public than private Mr. Harding has developed ability to serve the people and an understanding of the needs of the great body of the people that fits him, beyond that of anyone else that I have in mind to serve the first Congressional district in Congress to succeed Mr. Warren.
From time to time during the past several years Mr. Harding's name has been mentioned as a possible candidate for this office, but the loyalty of Pitt, our county, to Congressman Warren in his candidacy from term to term, and Mr. Harding's own support given Mr. Warren has led him to decline to become a candidate. Today since it has become known that it is very probable that a successor to Congressman Warren must be selected; Mr. Harding has stated to me that it would be his pleasure to serve the first Congressional district in Congress if chosen by the people.

My opinion prompts me to state that Mr. Harding is the one man in Pitt county that would have unanimous support of the county. Also in my opinion his friends and relatives in Beaufort county would lead to almost unanimous support in that county. In addition, it is very probable that the other counties in the congressional district looking to the future for favors given and received would be pleased to support the candidate presented by Pitt county. We could have no more popular public servant as our congressman than our friend and citizen F. C. Harding.
The foregoing is submitted in the thought of public service in which every citizen should take a serious and intelligent interest.

While a member of the 1935 general assembly Dr. McDonald wrote a daily column or story for The Winston-Salem Journal and some of the journalistic jobs he took at his colleagues resulted in some bitter words in some of the house sessions. It is readily agreed that with his experience as a member of the 1935 general assembly and the added insight he has obtained into North Carolina politics while a candidate for Governor, that Dr. McDonald could undoubtedly turn out some very interesting copy for his newspaper during the next session of the general assembly.

Raleigh, July 11.—Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, erstwhile candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor defeated last Saturday by Clyde R. Hoey, will probably become editor and publisher of a state-wide weekly newspaper which will deal principally with state and national politics and through which he will continue his fight to smash "the machine" which he maintains now controls the Democratic party and the state, he told this correspondent today.

GREENIES SLUG OUT 13-3 WIN OFF NEW BERN

Local Get 19 Hits to Whip Cellarites Yesterday; Tarboro, Ayden and Williamston Get Victories

By J. L. WHITFIELD

The league-leading Greenies continued to hold their top-place position yesterday afternoon at the Third street stadium here by overcoming the New Bern Bears, who held the bottom place in Coastal Plain League standings by a 13-3 score.

The crowd attending yesterday's affair wasn't as large as usual. This was probably due to the unusually hot weather which prevailed when those witnessing the event had to continuously mop the heads of perspiration from their brows.

Paul Billett, who is rated one of the best tossers on the local pitching staff did the hurling for the Greenies and allowed only eight scattered hits, with only one being effective, while Williams went for six innings for the Bruins allowing 15 hits, and Roger Taylor of the visitors who led the locals with a total of 4 hits.

The fans cheered Roger Taylor when he went in for Williams, for they took a trip through their mental memory album back to 1922 when Roger was attending the local high and stood on the same spot he covered yesterday and struck out 18 men on an opposing team.

The locals did their first scoring when Hitchcock got a triple to left field and Booser hit for a double, going to third on an error by one of the Bears, and bringing in Hitchcock to score the first run of the day.

Four runs were scored in the third frame when Billett hit to short and went to second on a sacrifice by Bo Parley, Latham hit to left field and trotted to second on a passed ball, sending Billett on into home, and when Ace Parker got a single to left field and brought in Latham; the other two being scored when Hitchcock got a single and stole second and Booser hit to short sending Hitchcock to third, who later came on into home when Jack Sanford got a single and went to second on a passed ball.

Two runs were brought about in the fifth when Parker singled to left field, Hitchcock tripled, Brown singled to right field, and May singled to centerfield.

The locals also followed suit in the sixth when Parley singled to left field, Latham doubled and Parley came in on a passed ball, and Booser singled to bring in Latham. It was after this that Roger Taylor relieved Williams and during the seventh both teams had three up and three down. However in the eighth the locals cut the visitors down for a total of four runs. These came when Parley went for two bases on a ball that bounced over the fence, Latham walked, Ace Parker homered over the right field fence, Hitchcock tripled, Jack Sanford singled to center field, Brown walked, and May singled to second. This drew the curtains on the locals in the way of scoring.

The only runs for the Bears came about in the ninth when Brogden singled to left field, Webb walked, and Mundy, a newcomer for the Bears got a homer to left field.

Hitchcock with three triples, Parley, Booser, and Sanford with a double each, and Ace Parker with a homer lead for the locals, while Mundy of the Bruins did the outstanding work with the stick for his colleagues.

Sunday, local baseball fans will find the Greenies tackling the Goldsboro Gold Bugs at the Third street stadium here, with the game being called at 3:30 o'clock.

The crowd attending yesterday's affair wasn't as large as usual.

The fans cheered Roger Taylor when he went in for Williams.

The locals did their first scoring when Hitchcock got a triple to left field and Booser hit for a double.

Four runs were scored in the third frame when Billett hit to short and went to second on a sacrifice by Bo Parley.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 11.—(AP)—Stocks generally huddled profit-taking with comparative ease in today's market, a number galloping into new territory for the year or longer with gains of fractions to two or more points.

The turnover of around 750,000 shares was the best for a Saturday since last April. The close was firm.

New York Cotton

New York, July 11.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to six lower, on disappointing Liverpool cables, partially offset by trade and commission hedge buying.

The market held within three to five points of yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first hour.

Futures closed steady, 5 to 11 lower, spot steady, middling 13.59.

LEMKE STILL ASKS MEXICO TO PAY FOR 1,000 CATTLE

(By Associated Press)

Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, Union party candidate for President, has a claim against the Mexican government that has been hanging fire since 1912.

Back in 1907, the ex-range rider went to Mexico to manage a ranch and herd cattle for a group of Dakota business men. For nearly five years the ranch prospered.

Came revolution and early one morning a swarthy fellow named General Obregon arrived at the ranch with an army. He demanded a little beef—something to feed the men, he told Lemke—and calmly commanded 1,000 head of cattle "I didn't blame him," Lemke draws now. "It was war, and he was a great fellow, I like him."

Shorts Story About Working Gals

Carita Diaz (in chair) and Kay Nolan (on desk) helped organize the girls' club that requires members to wear shorts at work throughout the summer.

New York, July 2.—(AP)—The postman always looks in twice at Charles Atlas' offices here.

The reason: 20 or so young women who work there are charter members of the Otag Live Shorts club. They wear shorts at work.

Switchboard operator, file clerk, stenographer—all go about their tasks with a bright flash of bare legs. The swish of a skirt is unheard, save at departure.

Right now the various shorts reflect their wearers' personality, although later a regulation pair may be designed for the club.

Some girls like jersey and gabardine, some silk or linen tops with plain white or colored shorts. Some have frills and flounces, but the more conservative add nothing that might suggest frivolity.

After all, they're working.

The girls like the idea—unanimously. Their boss approves, too.

During the noon hour the girls go up to the roof for sunbaths. At 4 p. m. they do exercises in the office—all together—under the direction of Mr. Atlas, a physical culturist.

Miss Mae Boark, 21, his private secretary, is president of the club. She hopes to see the idea spread.

Snubbed by Lewis

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, is shown in Washington at a council meeting called to pass judgment on John L. Lewis and his insurgent group of industrial union leaders. The insurgents snubbed Green by ignoring the meeting. (Associated Press Photo)

Gorgeous Miriam Hopkins who is featured at the Pitt Monday-Tuesday in "These Three" with Merle Oberon and Joel McCrea. The picture ranges all the way from gayness to powerful drama and concerns three people who were victims of a whispering campaign which threatened to engulf their lives in a sea of dark disaster.

Austrian Makes Gas-Proof Tent

Vienna (AP)—Walter Prinz, 22-year-old student, has perfected a substance which he believes can be applied to cheap cloth to make it proof against poison gas. It was placed in a tent of the impregnated material withstood a "gas attack."

Swedes Buy Super-Whaler

Bremen, Germany (AP)—Claimed to be the biggest whaling ship afloat, the "Terje Viken," 19,500 gross register tons, was launched on the Weser river for a Swedish firm. As "mother ship" to nine smaller whalers, she will begin operations in the Antarctic next fall.

Brazil's Fascists Legalized

Rio De Janeiro (AP)—The high electoral tribunal by a vote of 3 to 2 decided that "Brazilian integralist action," the fascist party, had a legal right to function in Brazil. It dismissed a suit brought by the dissolved communist party.

Helen Gahagan and Melvyn Douglas were married, a few weeks after their first meeting, while acting in the same play.
