EVANS DRAWS 3 TO 5 YEARS IN STATE PEN

Local Man Convicted In Death of Lucille Belk

APPEAL IS NOTED TO HIGHER COURT

Jury Given Case About Noon and Deliberates Until Court Reconvenes

Don Evans, 38-year-old Greenville man, was sentenced to from three to five years in the state penitentiary by Judge N. A. Sinclair following his conviction here this afternoon of advising or procuring an illegal operation for Miss Lucille Huntley Belk, who died as a result of the treatment.

An appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court was noted and bond was set at $5,000. Defense attorneys were seeking this afternoon to have the bond lowered, but Judge Sinclair had not granted the request shortly before time for court to recess.

If the appeal is perfected, the case will be argued before the state's highest tribunal some time this fall and the court will hand down its decision at will.

The jury was given the case at approximately noon and shortly before court reconvened after lunch the 12 men sent word that they were ready to report.

When the jury pronounced the defendant "guilty" a hush filled the courtroom, which was nothing like as crowded as it had been throughout the trial. The defendant paled somewhat and tears appeared in his eyes. It was several minutes before he showed any signs of disappointment, but he later looked at an attorney seated beside him and shook his head as if in despair. His mother and sister, who have been in the courtroom during much of the trial, were not present when the verdict was returned.

Louis Gaylord and Albin Dunn, defense attorneys, immediately filed notice of appeal after the three-to-five year sentence was set. Solicitor D. M. Clark conducted the prosecution alone.

All arguments in the case were completed yesterday except for that by the solicitor. Judge Sinclair then charged the jury and it retired at 12 o'clock. It took about two hours to reach a verdict.

Miss Belk, a student at East Carolina Teachers college, died about a month ago. Evans was arrested several days later by Chief of Police George Clark and Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst, who were the state's chief witnesses.

The defense contended the girl died the operating herself if there was one.

The operation is alleged to have taken place in a hotel room.

Several days after the defendant was arrested he was given a hearing before Judge J. Paul Prizzelle in Snow Hill on a writ of habeas corpus. Bond was set at $10,000 and in default of this Evans has been in jail since.

Miss Belk was the daughter of a Monroe merchant, Evans lives in this city, but operates a farm in the county.

Negro Given Long Term For Robbing Newspaper Boy

Sentenced to From Five to 10 Years For Stealing Money From Young Spencer Carroll

John Atkinson, negro, was given a sentence of from five to ten years this afternoon in the present term of criminal court by Judge N. A. Sinclair, after being bound over to Superior court under charges of highway robbery.

The negro is alleged to have choked and robbed Spencer Carroll of a small sum of money while the young boy was carrying his newspaper route. The alleged robbery occurred about six months ago, but Atkinson left the city and was apprehended only recently. An additional charge was placed against Atkinson for throwing a brick at another negro who went to aid young Carroll when he heard his screams for help.

CITY RECEIPTS SHOW INCLINE

Collections In August Double Same Month In 1935

A financial report made at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night by City Clerk J. O. Duval showed that collections during August practically doubled those in the same month last year.

Total collections for last month were $14,900.88, while in August, 1935, they amounted to $7,324.28.

The largest increase was in current year receipts, $5,535.85, having been collected during the period, as compared with only $1,828.22 in August, 1935.

License tax receipts were the only division which showed a decline from the August, 1935, figures. During the past month $1,139 was collected, while in the same period in the previous year $1,587 was taken in by this division.

The swimming pool showed a good increase this August, $328.81 having been turned over from the fund, compared with $240.63 in the similar period last year.

New year (1936) taxes collected last month amounted to $5,499.40 while in August last year only $3,851.58 was received. Miscellaneous receipts also showed a big increase, $1,061.06 having been realized last month, compared with $488.31 during the similar period of 1935.

Receipts from other funds, showing 1936 figures first follow: court costs, $183.86 and $84.85; prior year's taxes, $720.21 and $313.66; cemetery, $111.50 and $59; cost to taxes, $246.11 and $112.94; paving, $65.97 and $58.17.

Move Institute Suit To Collect Old Taxes

The Board of Aldermen last night instructed the city clerk to institute suit against citizens who owe back taxes and paving assessments as much as five years old which he is unable to collect otherwise.

Efforts have been made recently to collect old paving assessments as the city has just about completed a new street improving program and will have these assessments on its books.

The $75,000 street program by the city has been completed except for sidewalks and some other curbs and gutters.

FIND OLD SHOT BELIEVED USED IN TEXAS REVOLT

Houston, Texas (AP) — A stone and iron cannon ball weighing two and a half pounds and believed to have been fired during the San Jacinto campaign in the Texas revolution 100 years ago has been found. J. M. Griffith, Houston postmaster, said the ball is the weight of those used in the famous Twin Sister cannon, which disappeared after the battle of San Jacinto. No trace was ever found of the gun, which was presented to the Texans by the city of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Demand Continues To Remain Brisk On Leaf Markets

Goldboro and Farmville Prices For Poorer Grades Stronger, Reports News Reporting Service

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The general demand for tobacco continued good on the Goldboro and Farmville markets yesterday, the tobacco news reporting service reported today with prices for poorer grades stronger.

Cutters grade C3L officially graded by the free government service averaged $37.30 per hundred yesterday and Wednesday. Cutters C4L averaged $36.90 yesterday as did grade C4F while Wednesday the averages were $36.30 and $35.90.

The lowest prices listed yesterday were $11.10 per hundred for priming type P4F and $11.30 for just X4E compared with $10.10 for P4F and $9.10 for X4F Wednesday.

22.54 AVERAGE INITIAL WEEK

1,499,306 Pounds of Tobacco Sold Through Thurs.

Tobacco sold on the local market for the first week of the 1936 auctions brought an average of 22.54, as compared with the first week's average of 17.93 last season.

The auction week closes on Thursday and only three days were included in the period as sales opened Tuesday.

The first week of auction contained more sale days last year and 1,212,658 pounds of the weed was sold as compared with only 1,499,306 pounds this year.

Farmers selling tobacco on the Greenville market received a total of $337,944.81 through Thursday, as compared with $576,030.25 during the similar period in 1935.

A large number of farmers in this section were late in curing their tobacco and this accounts, in part at least, for the small offerings so far this year.

Prices continued good on the warehouses here today, and especially were high prices being paid for fair to good quality. Poor grades continue to be constitute the larger portion of the offerings, bringing the average down.

Offerings were only about moderate today and the price average is expected to be about in line with the first three days. Sales were not completed in time for warehousemen to compile official figures until late in the day.

Second Hand Dealers Face New Regulation

Stringent regulations have been passed by the Board of Aldermen in regard to the sale of second-hand clothing in Greenville.

The dealers are required to pay a $50 tax and a sign must be placed over the doors to signify that the clothes sold are second-hand.

In addition the city has the authority to require the fumigation of all garments, the cost per article not to exceed one dollar.

In adopting the ordinance, the Board declared the action was taken as a sanitary measure as used clothes are shipped in from sections and there was a probability they carried germs of contagious diseases.

TWO EXECUTED STATE PRISON

Both Victims of Electric Chair Convicted Murderers

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—(AP)—J. B. (Buck) Carden, of Durham, and George Alston, Chapel Hill negro, died by electrocution at state's prison today for having committed murders.

Their execution left only one man under sentence of electrocution in the state, John Pressley of Gaston county, as lethal gas was substituted for the current by the 1935 legislature for all persons convicted of capital crimes committed after July 1, 1935.

Pressley had been scheduled to die today, but secured a reprieve. Alston, 24-year-old former house boy for Professor McClamrock, of the University of North Carolina, was executed first, after making a statement he had killed his sweetheart, Helen Hayes.

The negro entered the death chamber at 10:34 and was given a shock of electricity at 10:37. A second shock was needed before Dr. G. S. Coleman, prison physician, pronounced him dead at 10:45.

Carden, 42, convicted of killing his wife, Vera, entered the chamber at 10:52 and was given only one shock of two minutes and 20 seconds. He was pronounced dead at 10:59.

Carden died without making any statement, prison officials said. In his fight, twice to the state courts and an effort to carry the case to the United States supreme court he man's counsel contended he shot his wife by accident.

Ban Push-Cart Sales From City's Streets

Push-cart peddlers who sell pop-sicles and such wares will be banned from the city streets, an order passed at last night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen having denied them license.

City officials said they had had numerous complaints against such practices and they took the action in response to these protests.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind The News

Washington By RAY TUCKER

CONTRASTS: There may be no connection between New Deal spending and New Deal primary victories, but Democratic contestants are making out a good case for the G. O. P. claim that there is a tempting tieup.

Democratic Senators and Representatives campaign for renomination, in almost every instance on the issue that they obtained huge grants, loans and relief payments for their states and districts. They have promised that the golden stream will continue to flow if they are returned to Washington. The voters apparently put faith in these pledges, for this argument proved convincing almost without exception.

In southern and western states administration playmates went a little too far to suit the high command. They contrasted the government's generous advances with the scant amount of taxes which those states had paid to Uncle Sam. G. O.

BREAKDOWN: The major beneficiaries of this kind of "gimme" campaign have been Mr. Roosevelt's three Senate leaders—Messrs. Harrison of Mississippi, Robinson of Arkansas and Byrnes of South Carolina. All were supposed to encounter primary trouble, but they crashed through in grand style.

Those three states received $815,910,292.00 from the federal government as against local taxes totaling only $64,449,896.96. The ratio in favor of the trio's constituents is about 12 1/2 to 1. Arkansas, for instance, received $303,730,943.99 as against federal taxes of only $9,684,586.36. These three men were in a position to use the argument most effectively. EPOCHAL MEET OF CANDIDATES IS CONCLUDED

Roosevelt and Landon Depart in Separate Directions

POLITICS BANNED IN CONFERENCE

President Heads For Hannibal, Mo., Following Parley in Des Moines, Iowa

Des Moines, Sept. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, heading for Springfield, Ill., and a continuance of his tour in drought conference today was understood to have assured seven governors at a conference here yesterday that all in need would be cared for until spring.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Governor Alf M. Landon went their separate ways today while the nation studied reports of the epochal meeting of the opposing presidential candidates for possible political effects.

The chief executive headed for Hannibal, Mo., on his special train and Governor Landon motored toward the Kansas capital at Topeka after they spent a good part of yesterday afternoon and evening in each other's company.

They came together with a hearty handclasp in the offices of Governor Clyde Herring in the Iowa state house. They chatted amiably about fishing at a luncheon. They conferred for 40 minutes about the problems raised by the drought. They engaged in more conversation at a dinner aboard the president's train.

But the Democratic and Republican standard bearers steered clear of the moot subject of politics, reported the other governors and officials of six other states who sat in on the drought conference.

Woman Takes Off On Non-Stop Trip Across Atlantic

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Abingdon, Eng. Sept. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Beryl Markham, blonde English society woman took off today on an attempted non-stop flight to New York.

Flying alone, the tall 33-year-old matron lifted her green monoplane "the Messenger" into the air at 6:50 p. m. British summer time, (12:50 p. m. EST.)

Only a few friends saw Mrs. Markham, who is the mother of a seven-year-old boy, take off from the Royal air force field here.

She says to be the first woman to make the westward Atlantic crossing alone.

Mrs. Markham, who has an aerial background of adventuresome exploits in Africa, will have the advantage of a full moon on her lone night flight across the ocean.

The air ministry reported she had 40 mile headwinds in some places at a height of 15,000 feet.

Low clouds and rain belts also spotted her course most of the way across Ireland and the Atlantic.

THREE DIE OF POISON FUMES

Mother and Two Daughters Victims of Deadly Gas

Poplar Springs, Md., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Swift acting ensilage gas—almost pure carbon dioxide given off by fermenting cattle feed—left a mother, her nine-year-old daughter and her foster daughter dead today.

Two men narrowly escaped asphyxiation while attempting to rescue them.

Anna Richards, nine, playing, fell eight feet into an old underground ice house converted recently into a silo. Screams of her playmates brought Mrs. Ella Malinda Richards, 37, her mother, to the pit.

Mrs. Richards jumped into the pit, sought to lift the child and was overcome by the fumes. Mary Sine, 19, Anna's foster sister, lowered a ladder into the pit, descended to the level of the corn and dragged Anna's body across the ladder's lower rung before she too collapsed.

A passing motorist, unidentified, an employe of a nearby garage, Norman Beccart, succeeded in bringing Anna's body to the surface, but they were nearly overcome by the deadly fumes.

Hooks and ropes finally were used to bring the bodies of Mrs. Richards and Miss Sine to the surface. Attempts at artificial respiration were unsuccessful.

Baptists Provide Parochial School Housing Quarters

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The lion and the lamb have not quite snuggled up to each other and snoozed together, but the officers and congregation of the First Baptist church here in Raleigh have offered the use of the Sunday School rooms of the church plant to the Sacred Heart Catholic church for the use of its Parochial School until the new Catholic school building, now under construction, is completed, it was learned here today.

The Rev. Father L. E. M. Freeman, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, has accepted the offer and within a few days the Catholic school will open and start its classes in the Sunday school rooms of the First Baptist church.

Another interesting angle of what may appear to some to be a strange arrangement whereby a Catholic church is conducting its Parochial school in the Sunday School plant of a Baptist church, is that the superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday School and a member of the governing board, is the Superintendent of the Raleigh city schools, Claude P. Gaddy. It is understood that Supt. Gaddy is in entire accord with the proposal and did all he could to help Father Freeman secure the use of the Sunday School rooms for the use of the Catholic school.

The reason for this unusual arrangement is that the Sacred Heart church is now building a new stone building for its Parochial school on the lot next to the church, replacing an old wooden frame building. It had hoped to have the new building completed in time for use when school opened this fall, but there were several delays, with the result that the new building will not be ready for use for several months yet.

The arrangement is not regarded as unusual here, where the most cordial relations have existed for many years between the Catholic and Protestant churches and their pastors. It is regarded by many as being one of the most liberal and tolerant in the state, as is its pastor, the Rev. J. Powell Tucker. The church people here are pointing with pride to this rather unusual example of interdenominational cooperation.

Order Investigation Of Michigan Politics

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A "complete investigation" of all state and national political activities in Michigan was ordered today by the senate campaign expenditures committee.

Benry Howard, Chicago favorite to win the race, landed here at 9:08 a. m., after a flight of four hours 54 minutes from New York. He took off 16 minutes later and said he planned no other stops on the 1,421 mile flight to Los Angeles.

FLIERS READY BEGIN RETURN

Eastward Lap Concluded by Daring American Airmen

Croydon Airframe, Eng. Sept. 4.—(AP)—Formerly completing the eastward lap of their proposed round-trip trans-Atlantic sky holiday, the Americans, Harry Richmond and Dick Merrill, landed at Croydon at 2:57 p. m. today (8:57 a. m. EST).

They flew from South Wales, where the fastest ocean crossing paused in a cow pasture yesterday, by way of Bristol.

Less than 200 persons, most of them members of the airport staff, witnessed the completion of the flight in a pouring rain. The reception was completely informal.

This contrasted sharply to the tension at Croydon yesterday where 1,000 persons waited for hours for the Americans, only to learn they had come down in South Wales out of gasoline.

Heavy rain and fog delayed the departure for Croydon until noon. Then as the bad weather abated the fliers took off determined to begin the return flight to New York "whenever we get favorable weather."

Two Participants Given Set Back In Bendix Speed Race

Joe Jacobson of Kansas City, Forced to Jump When Plane Explodes Near Home City

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Drama involved two contestants in the trans-continental Bendix Air speed race today as they shot westward from New York toward Los Angeles.

Joe Jacobson, 31, Kansas City parachuted to safety when his plane exploded near Stafford, Kansas, after he had flown from New York to Kansas City at a speed exceeding 195 miles an hour.

Amelia Earhart Putnam, famed trans-oceanic woman flier, battled a flapping emergency door on her westward flight to Kansas City with a loss of time she estimated at 40 minutes or more.

Three of the seven contestants landed here during the morning for refueling. One refueled at Wichita and another at St. Louis. Two were unreported.

Dr. Noble's Resignation Lucky Break For Mr. Hoey

Belief Had Been Present He Would Not Be Retained

Reflector Bureau,
Six Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILLE
Raleigh, Sept. 3.—The resignation of Dr. M. C. S. Noble, Jr., as Assistant Commissioner of Revenue, is being heralded here as the luckiest "break" so far for Governor-nominate Clyde R. Hoey and Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, in that it eliminates what most observers agree was going to become a very embarrassing situation for all three.

The belief has been current in political circles for many weeks that Dr. Noble would not be reappointed Assistant Commissioner of Revenue after Mr. Hoey became Governor while some have felt that the opposition to Dr. Noble might extend beyond him to Commissioner Maxwell and result in a demand for the retirement of Maxwell, though no material opposition to the reappointment of Maxwell as Commissioner of Revenue has become apparent as yet.

The fact that Dr. Noble has already tendered his resignation to become effective September 15, almost four months before Mr. Hoey becomes Governor, is not only going to relieve Mr. Hoey and Commissioner Maxwell of much worry and embarrassment, but is going to prevent Dr. Noble from being the center of much embarrassing controversy and political discussion during the next four months, most observers now agree.

For while there was a very determined and vigorous opposition to Dr. Noble—so great that it was already being conceded he would not be reappointed—those who know the facts know that most of this opposition was largely political and that there was nothing against Dr. Noble's record. So if he had remained on as Assistant Commissioner of Revenue until after Mr. Hoey became Governor and had not been reappointed, he would have been dropped "for the good of the party" than for any actual weakness in his record, it is generally agreed.

Actually, Dr. Noble has done everything he was supposed to do as Assistant Commissioner of Revenue and done it well, those who have followed his record for the past three years agree. A good many also believe that Commissioner Maxwell not only approved most of the things Dr. Noble did, but is now genuinely grateful to him in that ever since his appointment, Dr. Noble is the one who has caught all the blame and dissatisfaction that has developed, rather than Maxwell. For Dr. Noble was the buffer and shock absorber between all those who had kicks and complaints with the Department of Revenue and Commissioner Maxwell—the official hell-catcher, as it were.

The result is that for many months now there has been a growing demand for the dropping of Noble, but virtually no objection whatever to Maxwell, so that it is now being predicted that with Dr. Noble out of the Revenue Department, there will be objection whatever to the reappointment of Maxwell as Commissioner of Revenue for another four years. If it had not been for Dr. Noble, the disgruntled politicians and others who have been centering their attack on him would undoubtedly be out after Maxwell instead, many are convinced. So in one sense, Commissioner Maxwell owes his present apparent security and lack of opposition to Dr. Noble.

A good many people still are not able to understand why Dr. Noble was ever appointed Assistant Commissioner of Revenue by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, with power to hire and fire employees and to reorganize departmental divisions, apparently without consulting Commissioner Maxwell.

Those who know the inside story, however, believe that it resulted from the desire of the Governor to retain Maxwell as head of the revenue department because of his wide experience in and intimate knowledge of taxation in North Carolina, and a like desire to reorganize the department on a more efficient basis. But Maxwell was in no position to reorganize any of the divisions or fire any of the employees of the Department of Revenue, due to the fact that he had been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor for which almost every employe of his department had supported him.

So in order to bring about anything like a thorough reorganization of the department, it was necessary to put some one in charge of the personnel who was under no obligation to any employe in it. Accordingly, Dr. Noble was selected for this job. He took it with his eyes wide open, knowing he would be cursed, disliked and opposed at every angle. He knew it was a "goat" job. But he took it anyway. He fired many old employes, got rid of many "lame ducks" and much dead timber, greatly improved the efficiency of the department. He virtually completed his job about six months ago.

Dr. Noble is now being commended by men who know him here to, having the good sense to realize that his job was finished and it was time to quit.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — Fritz Leder stands, violin in hand, before an orchestra and leads it in a stately waltz while the camera turns on him and the "playback" loud speaker emits previously recorded music.

Leder of course is not a cross-strait leader. To the side of the orchestra, out of range, stands Rudolph Berliner, actually conducting, and Leder frequently glances sidewise at him to follow his movements.

Glenn Swarthout, star of the film "Champagne Waltz," and her husband, Frank Chapman, singer who is also musical adviser on the picture, are on the sidelines talking about the Leopold Stokowski concert in the Hollywood Bowl, and Miss Swarthout says "it was her greatest musical thrill singing under his baton."

"We talk about Stokowski — he's in Hollywood to conduct a number for 'The Big Broadcast.' Just then Rudolph Berliner, his scene completed, comes over to tell about movie music in the days when Stokowski could not have appeared on the screen.

Berliner is a distinguished looking, white-haired man, a genial talker and a serious musical artist. He has been in the picture world the past 13 years, and before that was an instructor at the Chicago conservatory. For many years he was musical director for C. B. DeMille, and served in the same capacity for Fox.

Once in course of his work he made a survey of film theaters and studied audience reactions to the music—organ or orchestra—that accompanied silent pictures. He noted in many instances that audiences seemed restless, and attributed it to the fact that the music and the film scenes conflicted in tempo.

"They were being confused—seeing one thing with their ears and another with their eyes," he says.

That was why the movies began issuing, along with their films, "cue sheets" for the musical accompaniment. No longer did organists play "The Campbells Are Coming" as accompaniment for a desert scene with a camel caravan on the horizon—as Berliner insists he heard one do on his tour.

From the cueing, musicians developed regular catalogues of pieces that could be used for "kitchen stove music," "chair music," "fork music," "chase music," and so on—each suited exactly to the mood of a scene in which, say, a mother

FIFTEEN LIVES TAKEN IN TURKISH FEUD

Istanbul, Turkey—(AP)—A bloody vendetta, arising over a land dispute, has already taken a toll of fifteen lives, including seven children, at the village of Aksum and Kurdistan.

A peasant and his nephew carried out the wholesale slaughter before they themselves were hunted down and killed by enraged villagers.

Six victims, including three children, fell in the first attack during a night of wedding festivities.

On the funeral day, the murderers returned to shoot two more villagers and a child, and again they escaped. The next day they reappeared, wiping out a whole family.

Fears that the feud may spread plunging the whole area into bitter internecine strife, have led many of the more peaceful villagers to leave Aksum.

WHY WE NEED A PUBLIC LIBRARY

No longer are libraries merely safe places for books. In fact, no longer is a book safe in a circulating library, as the assistant in charge of overdues well knows. It is a platitude to say that our library creed no longer emphasizes the preservation of the book but the use of the book. The person, not the book, has become important. Not the number of books on the shelves but the number of books in circulation has been the major concern of the modern library.

From the advertising standpoint one satisfied borrower is worth a hundred posters. Marianne Read Martin, Public Library, Norfolk.

J. D. Wilson Declares FDR Popular in West

J. D. Wilson, who has just returned from a trip west, is fully convinced that President Roosevelt will have little difficulty in winning the presidential race against Alf M. Landon.

The local man said he heard a number of persons in Kansas, the Republican nominee's home state, express the opinion the Democratic standard bearer probably would carry that state.

He added that all during his trip through the central and western regions of the country he heard expressions that Mr. Roosevelt would be returned to the White House for another four years by an overwhelmingly majority.

Mr. Wilson attended the Ohio Life Insurance convention in Yellowstone Park. He also visited Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, Denver and Kansas City while away.

PLAN PROVIDE PRISON SPORT

Football May Follow Baseball as Fall Recreation

Reflector Bureau, Sir Water Hotel.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Football may follow baseball as a recreation and sport for prisoners in the state prison system, Cecil Pitts, acting director of the prison division of the State Highway and Public Work Commission said today, although the question has not yet been definitely decided. But the route obtained from baseball has been so worth while that at least two football squads may be organized as an experiment. Pitts indicated. If this experiment proves satisfactory, other football squads may be organized in the various prison units.

"The boys are still too much interested in their baseball teams to be thinking much about football yet, but I understand that we have a former member of a University of Georgia football team out at Central Prison here who is reported as being a hum-dinger football player," Pitts said. "Quite a number of the other prisoners have also had some experience in playing football. So we ought to be able to get up at least two good teams at Central Prison alone. Then these work out all right, we might organize football teams at Camp Polk, Caledonia Farm and some of the camps. But we will have to wait and see about all that."

Some of the prison baseball teams now play as good ball as some of the professional teams, Pitts said. Games are played out at Central Prison here every Saturday afternoon and occasionally on week days and some spectacular baseball is always on tap. A week or so ago one of the games went to 14 innings, the final score being 2 to 0, Pitts said. The competition is keen, though good natured, and the sportsmanship of the best.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER Washington—The difficulty encountered in selecting judges for the Virgin Islands has thrown the publicity spotlight periodically upon them to a degree encouraging to some residents hoping to make them an off-shore paradise for tired American vacationists.

Boyd Brown, president of the Virgin Islands Company, a federally-financed organization designed to put the island residents again on their feet, told friends in Washington that already some private capital was buying in on the prospects the place might become a vacation spot rivaling the British Bahamas.

Others concerned with the island's fate estimate it may be a long job to make of them an Atlantic Catalina, but perhaps worth trying. The islands have colorful spots in their history which the interior department is capitalizing upon in its promotional literature. For years they were a pirate haven, then were

SOCIETY WOMAN VICTIM OF 'SEX-MAD' KILLER

Ruth Muir (left), socially prominent welfare worker, was found dead in a grassy ravine on "Lovers' beach" at La Jolla, Calif., and officers concluded she was the victim of a "sex-crazed" killer. Covered with a sheet, her body is shown lying in the grass where she was beaten to death. Detectives are seen searching the ground for clues. (Associated Press Photos) dotted with sugar baronies with accompanying rich habitations. The recent history of the islands, however, has been somewhat forlorn. They were sort of "war babies." Denmark had owned them for 250 years when the United States decided to buy them in 1917 for $25,000,000 on representations from the Danish government that it was uncertain it could prevent them being becoming German submarine bases. Years before, a deal for the United States to buy them for $5,000,000 failed only by a narrow margin. Interior department officials call it a rather excited buy.

Since 1900 they have had ups and downs, mostly the latter, until when President Hoover visited them in 1931 he said the United States had merely acquired an island "poorhouse."

Those were almost fighting words to the residents, a large percentage of whom are of negro extraction but interior department officials say it acted also as a challenge for the islanders to do better. Ever since their purchase, congress has had to appropriate about $250,000 a year to help finance the insular government. Since the interior department took them over from the navy about five years ago nearly $2,500,000 had been spent there, resettling unlanded tenants rescuing cane land from the jungle and improving health conditions. The Fiji islands number more than 200.

Every housewife will love to own the MIX MASTER for sale at the CAROLINA SALES CORPORATION. It is the greatest labor-saving gadget I know of for the kitchen. Just try an omelet and see the difference in the texture of an omelet whipped with an electric mixer and one whipped with an ordinary hand beater. No cook in the world can beat eggs with the even, thorough stroke that the electric mixer has...

I have been reading some of my favorite magazines and I'll have to confess that I enjoyed reading about the beautifully decorated and electrically equipped kitchens as much or more than I did the stories written by the highest paid authors... My! a joy those kitchens are to the home loving woman... so clean no smoke or dirt from old fashioned stoves, no smutty cooking utensils to ruin one's hair and destroy the sweetest disposition in the world, no kerosene, no coal, no matches to give out just when you are late and need to cook in a hurry. Have you joined the "Treasure Hunt" at the RUSS PLUMBING AND HEATING COMPANY yet? I'll bet a number of you have some article manufactured by the Fairbanks-Morse Company and all you have to do is take it to Mr. Russ and let him give you an entry blank with complete directions for entering the contest and winning the $25.00. Contests are so much fun... it is only natural that we like to win and when it means being just a little smarter than the other contestants we can always view with pride the prize we won by thinking just a little faster than someone else. I heard a very successful business man say that he still treasures the first prize he won in a contest... he was just sixteen and he won against twenty-five hundred high school students because he could think a little faster than they could... He said that every time he secured large business contracts over other successful firms he would take a peep at his first trophy and say "I owe it to you for you proved to me that I could do it if I would really try." If you would see what this is all about a visit to the RUSS HEATING AND PLUMBING COMPANY will clear it all up for you.

September means going back to school to thousands of boys and girls every year. Everywhere we see shopping for school and the usual hurry and bustle that accompanies getting the children ready for school. I have been wondering how many girls and boys around Greenville would like to finish a complete course in a few months and be ready to earn their own Christmas money or at least begin the new year with a position in some high-class shop where their earnings are above the usual salaries paid in business to beginners. You'd like this wouldn't you? This is the suggestion I'd like to make... Suppose you go to see Mrs. Thorsen at the THORSON SCHOOL OF BEAUTY CULTURE and let her show you how to become independent in a few months time at very little expense to you or your parents. Many girls are stepping out of Beauty Schools with their diplomas all ready to take advantage of the busy "Tobacco Season" and extra earnings... Lucky they are... Now if you will begin your course at once you will be ready for the busy Christmas Season and the busy Easter season and all the busy days in beauty shops next year... and remember it will cost you less than one hundred dollars to take a course that will earn thousands for you!

EAGLES - ACES PLAY ANOTHER TIE CONTEST

Score 10-All in 10th When Darkness Halts Contest; Play In Kinston Today

COASTAL PLAIN LEAGUE (Post-Season Finals)

Arden	2	1	667
Kinston	1	2	333

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Arden plays at Kinston at 4:00 o'clock.

Kinston, Sept. 4.—For the second time this week the Aces and Eagles have played extra innings in a deadlock when darkness halted the playing. The teams met here in the fifth game of the play-off, and 10 innings of battling failed to bring anything but a tie score. The score was 3-3.

Upchurch, who turned in fine relief hurling after taking the hill for the Aces in the second inning of Monday's game when the two teams played to a 10-10 tie, went the route in yesterday's game. He gave up only six hits and after Herbie Cheeks homer in the second inning the former Philadelphia Athletics hurler was complete master of the Kinstonians. The only hit he allowed after the second was Relief Pitcher Dave Smith's single in the eighth. Only three Eagle runners reached base after the score.

Rambert started for the Eagles, but was yanked in the seventh for Smith, who hurled runless ball for the remainder of the game. Rambert had yielded six hits, two of which were made in the seventh.

Parrish, with a double and a single for a .500 average, and Worles Knowles, with two single for five attempts, paced the Aces. No Kinston player made more than one hit.

Charlie Keller, with a triple, made it the twenty-second consecutive game in which he has hit safely.

Under the rules of the play-off, a tie game is played at the place it was tied, so the two teams are playing in Kinston again today.

SPORT SLANTS

Jockey Jimmy Stout passed up a flock of tempting offers last winter to remain with Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons. It proved to be a wise decision, for it gave Stout the chance to ride William Woodward's Granville in all his big engagements. And since the son of Gallant Fox is well on the way to clinch 3-year-old honors of the current season Stout is destined to earn an important place in turfdom's hall of fame.

Things did not break any too well for the Granville-Stout combination early in the season. They did all right in a choppy overnight race at Jamaica which served as Granville's 3-year-old debut, but ran into trouble in the Wood Memorial when Teufel, with Eddie Litzenberger up beat them by a nose. In the Kentucky Derby Stout was tossed when Granville stumbled shortly after the barrier went up. Stout allowed Ira Hanford to pick his mount off with Bold Venture right under the wire in the Preakness. Murehorn won a nose decision over Granville in the Suburban Handicap.

Granville found himself in the Belmont when he caught Mr. Bones at the last 16th pole and beat him by a nose in another close decision. Then came the Arlington classic just about the only race which Granville won by a comfortable margin. Here he held a 2-length margin over Mr. Bones. In the Kenner Stakes, Granville went back to his old ways and came dangerously close to being beaten by Memory Book.

In the Travers Stakes Granville gained a nose decision over Warren Wright's Sun Teddy after having been fouled several times en route. Granville ran a great race to win the Travers. He just about convinced everyone that he was the best horse of his age, performing like a real champion where a horse with less courage would have quit. Aside from the fouling which hindered Granville's progress there was the muddy condition of the racing strip to contend with.

Granville was never considered a good mudder but in the Travers he gave the son of Gallant Fox a lesson that he could run under any conditions. The track at Saratoga was in just about the same shape as it was on the memorable occasion a few years ago when Gallant Fox lost a decision to a 100-to-1 shot, Jim Dandy, in the Travers. And under Stout Granville has not run a really bad race all season.

Stout should know the horse better than anyone else. Certainly he has had ample opportunity to get acquainted with Granville. And under Stout Granville has not run a really bad race all season.

The wholesale fouling on the part of the jockeys at Saratoga, the exhibition in the running of the Travers being a fair example, calls for severe disciplining by the stewards. Several jockeys, consciously or unconsciously, have hindered other mounts with the free use of their whips. The riding in general has been altogether too rough to do the game any good.

Turfmen agree that it is about time the ruling body took steps to stop these unfair tactics. The evil is certain to grow until it is cut down with a few stiff suspensions.

"That light and suspended sentences do not seem to deter a certain class of drivers from taking another chance." So he has imposed the stiffest sentences the law allows since appointed to his post last January.

BLACK-DRAUGHT For Clean System Helps To Prevent Sickness

One of the advantages of Black-Draught is that, if it is taken at the first disagreeable feeling of constipation, one or two doses usually bring relief. Prompt relief, such as that, is well worth while. Constipation is too dangerous to be neglected.

"A clean system for health" plan has saved thousands of people much useless sickness. They keep a package of Black-Draught in the family medicine cabinet and take this purely vegetable laxative at the first sign of constipation. They say the relief it brings is mighty hard to beat.

Find out, by trying it, why so many people prefer Black-Draught when it comes to buying a laxative. —(Adv.)

ERECT TOWERS LOCATE FIRES

Structures Built for State by Relief Agencies

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel. Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The Emergency Conservation Work program has erected within the last two-year period a total of 27 forest fire towers and turned these structures over to the State Department of Conservation and Development as one feature of its activities, according to a report from F. H. Claridge, director of N. C. E. C. W. to State Forester J. S. Holmes.

With nine lookout towers constructed during the previous biennium, the total number of these structures added to the State primary detection system since the initiation of the ECW program has reached a total of 26.

Another important accomplishment of the federal emergency organization, the report points out, is the construction of 369.2 miles of telephone lines connecting the lookouts on the towers with commercial exchanges and with the ground force of wardens. During the previous biennium, 54.4 miles of telephone lines were constructed, making a total of new lines since the beginning of ECW of 423.6 miles of telephone lines.

The OCC camps have been an important factor in the control of forest fires in the state as shown by the fact that the State directed forestry camps have devoted 18,490 man days to this work during the two-year period. Of this amount of fire fighting activity, 4,058 man days was over time work, including activities of camp personnel and enrollees at night, on holidays and during other ordinarily leisure periods.

Other activities of the camps include the construction of 604.4 miles of truck trail; erection of 388 bridges; and collection of 3,385 bushels of cones for seed purposes.

One of the most distinctive phases of the work program, according to the report, in the form of sand fixation is being carried out by the camp at Manteo. This consists of the building of sand fences and the planting of beach grass to stabilize the sand.

At the end of the report period the latter part of June there were seven camps and two side camps operating, representing a steady reduction from a maximum of 13 in the winter of 1934.

THE SPORTSMAN

By LARRY BAUER. An official of a prominent sportsman's organization once said:

"Hunters think nothing of killing more ducks than they need—yet they begrudge the few taken by hawks, which must kill to live."

The truth of his words is evident in the so-called "campaigns to control" the hawk, which, in some cases, have resulted in downright slaughter. Individual persecution also has taken a great toll of these birds. Among the species becoming rare is the marsh hawk and the peregrine falcon, commonly called the duck hawk.

Despite the fact that the peregrine is a killer, its extinction would serve no good purpose and there would be another irreplaceable link in the great scheme of the outdoors. The nature lover would miss this hunter of the skies.

An interesting description of the duck hawk in action, by a Lake Superior wild life observer, is contained in the following:

"Close kin to the sporting falcon of the middle ages, this hawk has been clocked in flight at 180 miles per hour. It nests on inaccessible crags and ride the wild lake gales. From the cliff above a nest north of Little Marais this hawk may be seen daily, cleaving the air with short, powerful wing strokes making sporty kills for food. Its quarry seldom escapes. "Like other falcons, the peregrine takes its prey in pursuit. A blow from its clenched talon or plummeting breast means quick, sure death.

"Near the rest of the hawk was observed patrolling the shore at a considerable height—an altitude that perhaps made it forgotten of unseen by prospective victims.

"It's flight was darting and rapid at times, when heading into the wind, it slid off sideways and covered a mile in a matter of seconds. Suddenly along the cliffs appeared five swift-moving teal ducks. The hawk swung into action.

"Like a thunderbolt it headed toward the flock. The ducks continued oblivious to the danger. Then like lightning the hawk appeared slightly ahead of its prey

Lower Transportation Costs Being Worked On In Effort To Aid Both State and Public

From the data so far collected, members of the commission are convinced that one of the biggest factors in the high cost of gasoline is the cost of transportation and of handling.

We are also going to give much study to the present state laws governing the sale and transportation of gasoline with a view to modernizing them.
