ROOSEVELT IN BRIEF VISIT TO HEADQUARTERS

Makes Short Speech Thanking Party Workers

SEES VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS

President Lauds Farley for Conducting Campaign on High Level

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt paid a visit to Democratic national headquarters today and in a speech of thanks to party workers declared the increased interest the voters were taking in national affairs indicated victory for the New Deal next Tuesday.

Speaking from a balcony looking down on a 20th floor ball room of the Biltmore hotel, the Chief Executive said the most important impression he had obtained from the campaign was that people were taking a more "intelligent interest" and becoming "forum minded" on national affairs.

"I may be frankly a little prejudiced at the present time," he said, "but I believe the more people that go to those forums the bigger our majority is going to be next Tuesday."

The President also paid a warm tribute to national chairman James A. Farley, for having kept the campaign on a "pretty high level."

The President will deliver his last major speech of the campaign tonight in Madison Square Garden, bringing the campaign to a close Wednesday night with a 15-minute radio talk from his home in Hyde Park.

State Delegation To Go To Capital Interest Peanuts

Group of Carolina Farmers Decide to Send Representatives in Effort to Get Better Prices

E. F. Arnold, Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, said today that the peanut section of the Bureau and the Virginia Farm Bureau in session yesterday in Jackson, voted unanimously to send a delegation to Washington next Friday to confer with officials of the Department of Agriculture with reference to the peanut price situation.

Growers are alarmed at the weakness of the market, he said. The Joint Committee from Carolina and Virginia Peanut Growers voted unanimously to instruct the Delegation to demand a diversion payment on the basis of not less than four cents per pound on a sound 60 per cent meat content basis.

The Joint Committee also requested Mr. Arnold to contact Edward A. O'Neal, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and ask him to arrange the meeting with the Department of Agriculture and for him to request representation from all Farm Bureau peanut producing areas. Mr. Arnold further stated that the N. C. Farm Bureau Peanut Growers Committee passed a resolution praising the North Carolina Farm Bureau for advocating a peanut test farm and appointing a committee from their body to appear before the State Budget Commission on November 10 and that $25,000 be included for the purpose of establishing a peanut test farm in the center of the peanut producing area.

HOPPERS KNOW WHEN TO LET CANE ALONE

Independence, Mo. (AP)—Grasshoppers may eat anything from grass to saddle leather when pressed for food but they avoided sorghum cane fields during the long summer until after heavy rains. A county extension agent explained the can contains prussic acid during drought periods in quantity sufficient to kill cows grazing on it. Rain dispels the acid.

The grasshoppers moved in immediately following the rain," the agent said. "To me, that is conclusive proof of their intelligence."

Both Political Parties Are Expecting Big N. C. Vote

More Than 800,000 Ballots Predicted For Tuesday

Raleigh, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The fight will all be over Tuesday night, but Democrats and Republicans only put on more pressure today in North Carolina as the biennial general election crept steadily nearer.

More than 800,000 voters, a record number, are expected to vote Tuesday in 1,855 precincts where legal voting will start at sunrise and end 10 and 37 minutes later at sunset.

Leaders of both parties claimed victory. This year only Democratic and Republican candidates are listed on the ballots, though the socialists were listed four years ago.

With the offices to be filed ranging down from Presidency to township constables and magistrates in many counties, there are thousands of names included on the ballots the voters will get. The presidential and vice presidential candidates are listed on one ballot, state and congressional candidates on another, county and township officials on a third and five proposed amendments to the state constitution a fourth.

State chairman J. Wallace Winborne set the Democratic majority at a minimum of 285,000 and indicated he might push up the figure later while, Gilliam Grissom, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, claimed he would win by 25,000 or more votes.

Pitt Due Distinction for Growing Potatoes

Pitt, the largest tobacco producing county in the world, also is due distinction for growing sweet potatoes.

Elijah Mills yesterday brought to the city a potato weighing four and three-quarter pounds to prove that the soil in this section is adaptable to the growth of yams.

A CLOSE-UP OF ELECTION PROSPECTS

By RAY TUCKER

Washington, Oct. 31.—Franklin D. Roosevelt will defeat Alf Landon for the presidency next Tuesday in an electoral landslide which may approach the devastating proportions of his 1932 victory over Herbert Hoover. The President's popularity, however, will fall below 4,000,000 as against 7,000,016 four years ago.

The only states which seem sure for the Republican nominee today are Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Kansas. Some non-partisans doubt whether New Jersey and his home state are safe for him. Those seven states have 268 necessary to win. On that basis the electoral score would be 482 for Mr. Roosevelt and 49 for his challenger. Four years ago Mr. Hoover was swamped by 472 to 59.

Mr. Landon has a list of second line states which may land in his column, though they are 50-50 propositions now. But even if these are added to the seven more certain commonwealths listed above, he would end up with only 175 electoral ballots. This secondary strength lies in Massachusetts, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Indiana,

LANDON ON WAY TO KANSAS HOME

Roosevelt To Bring Campaign to Grand Finale in Madison Square Garden

(By Associated Press) The hurly burly of the 1936 campaign roared on today toward a conclusion.

As President Roosevelt, Governor Landon and hundreds of others prepared to speak their last major pieces tonight, all sides agreed that the clashing arguments of the past several months probably would lead next Tuesday to an outpouring of ballots shattering all records.

Advance analysis of registration figures have indicated a possible vote of well over 4,000,000—adding by more than 5,000,000 the total cast in 1932.

Before a Brooklyn crowd that howled with glee at his thrust, President Roosevelt denounced the Republican leadership last night, saying it is driven by "sinister forces" which have opposed social legislation for generations. He received New Deal acts and said they had made a "better, happier America."

Tonight Mr. Roosevelt planned to bring his campaign to its finale with a speech in Madison Square Garden, his last pre-election pronouncement except a brief radio appeal from Hyde Park Monday night.

Governor Landon, who had challenged Mr. Roosevelt to tell "where you stand" Thursday night, was homeward bound today, stressing what he termed the New Deal's "waste and extravagance on an unparalleled scale."

Tonight Mr. Landon planned to speak in St. Louis before going to Kansas to await the election returns.

Party's Chairman Seeks Heavy Vote For Pitt Tuesday

W. E. Hooks Issues Statement Urging Both Men and Women to Go Out to the Polls and Work

W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Pitt County Executive committee of the Democratic party, today issued a "last word to the voters" in which he called upon both men and women to go out to the polls and work for the success of the Democratic ticket in Tuesday's election.

Chairman Hooks' statement follows: "Next Tuesday, November 3rd, is election day and I, as Chairman of the Pitt County Executive Committee do hereby call upon and urge the men and women of Pitt County to go out to the polls and work for the success of the Democratic ticket from President Roosevelt on down to township constable. It is our duty to do this and it is my hope that every man and woman who has an automobile, will use that automobile to help in getting those out who have no way of transportation. Pitt County has always done her duty in the past and we believe our people will not fail us in this election. President Roosevelt saved us and now it is our duty to stand by him and pay our debt to him. If ever a man deserved a vote of thanks for the great administration he has given us then our President deserves that vote. Go out to the polls next Tuesday and stay there all day. Let's show to the world that Pitt County appreciates the Democratic Party in State and Nation."

Republican Expenses Shown With Report

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The Republican national committee reported today it had spent $1,302,086 in the 10 days ended October 28.

Filing its last pre-election report with the clerk of the house, the committee revealed that its total disbursement since January 1 amounted to $6,988,663.

Expenditures by Republican senatorial and congressional committees brought the party total outlay to $7,488,718.

A prime object of the War of the Spanish Succession was that of Britain and other powers to cripple the authority of France.

Farmers From Many Counties Sell Tobacco in City

K. W. Cobb, sales supervisor, said today that farmers from South Carolina and Robeson and other border counties brought their product to the Greenville tobacco market last week for their first time.

Mr. Cobb, who keeps in close touch with auctions here, said that farmers from at least three additional counties brought tobacco here in the past few days. He added that tobacco grown in 43 counties had been sold on the market this year.

Yesterday's sales of 939,376 pounds brought $245,144.89 for an official average of $26.10, a slight increase over the average struck Thursday.

So far this season 38,587,362 pounds have been sold here, bringing $9,363,731.30, an average of $24.27.

Negroes Returned From Florence, S.C. Held For Robbery

Bound Over to Superior Court Under Bail of $500 Each For Working "Pocket-Book" Game

Three negroes, two of whom were returned here from Florence, South Carolina only after extradition papers had been served, were bound over to Superior court under bond of $500 each on charges of robbery at a preliminary hearing in Municipal court this morning.

The three, Leo Solomon, Frank Harding and Ed Bennett, are alleged to have worked the "pocket-book" game on farmers after they sold their tobacco and cashed their checks.

Solomon and Harding are alleged to have taken a sum of money from Solomon Phillips and Bennett and Solomon are charged with having secured a sum from Asa Keyes.

Madrid Residents Flee For Shelter In Fear Of Raids

Big Increase In Exports of Leaf

Washington, Oct. 31.—(AP)—An increase in exports of leaf tobacco for the first six months of this year compared to the similar period in 1935 was reported today by the commerce department.

Exports through September totaled 268,114,000 pounds, valued at $76,567,000, compared with 225,969,000 pounds, valued at $73,515,000 for the same period a year ago.

A slight decline was reported, however for September as compared the same month a year ago. Leaf exports last month were 45,167,000 pounds, valued at $18,889,000, compared with 52,671,000 pounds, valued at $22,789,000 in September, 1935.

FAIR PROGRAM ENDS TONIGHT

Regular Matinee and Night Performances Scheduled

The first American Legion-sponsored Pitt county fair will close tonight after having provided residents of this area with the best exposition ever offered in this community.

The fair was declared a success from every standpoint. Although heavy expenses were attached to the exposition, Legion officials said that if good crowds were on hand today and tonight, they thought the fair would pay its expenses and pave the way for an even larger and better exposition next year.

Winners of premiums for the home and farm exhibits today collected in cash prizes offered for the best displays in the respective fields. The exhibits this year were by far the best ever seen here.

Although the weather was not as bad as it could have been, good weather every day and night and rain the first of the week prevented a large number of would-be patrons from going out to the grounds.

The free acts, offered each afternoon and night, with a public wedding on the stage in front of the grand stand on Thursday night being one of the features of the week, proved popular.

The Kaus United shows brought the best midway attractions here ever offered at a local fair. Although the company has shown here before, many new shows and rides were added this year.

The fair continued through today with a full program. Tonight the full program also will be carried out to bring the exposition to a close.

Weather for the Week Shows first part, especially over north portion and unsettled again toward close. Cooler about middle of week.

Citadel Students Die From Injuries In Auto Accident

Taxi Cab Driver Also Slain As Automobile Turns Over Retreating From Football Game Friday

Charleston, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Two Citadel cadets and a taxi driver died today from injuries received in an automobile wreck while they were en route home from the Citadel-South Carolina football game at Orangeburg. Three other cadets were injured.

Those killed were cadets N. G. Harris of Wilmington, N. C.; and F. H. Laney of Bishopville, and Harold Milligan, 29, Charleston taxi driver.

Harris, before losing consciousness, told motorists who brought the injured to the city that the driver lost control while passing another car on a curve at about 70 miles an hour. He said the car slipped on the road shoulder and turned over twice.

SCORES DIE IN FIRST ATTACK

Two Hours After Terrified Street Crowds Rush To Shelter Another Air Raid Warning Cuts Off Press Telephone From Spanish Capital to London

Madrid, Oct. 31.—(AP)—The shriek of air raid sirens sent terrified Madrid street crowds running pell-mell for shelter early this afternoon as death from yesterday's insurgent air raid passed the 163 mark. However, no planes appeared immediately.

(Two hours later, at 3 p. m., another air raid warning cut off an Associated Press telephone call between Madrid and London. The sound of sirens could be heard over the telephone but there were no accompanying explosions before the communication was cut.)

The deaths of scores of persons wounded in yesterday afternoon's sudden bombardment of the capital an this invasion swelled the total of Friday's brief minutes of terror.

Official reports following a check of Madrid wards disclosed 163 dead, including 30 women and 30 children, an 260 wounded.

Semi-official reports from suburban Getafe indicated 42 others had perished, with more than 150 injured.

SHORE BATTERIES FORCE REBEL DESTROYER TO SEA

(By Associated Press) Spanish shore batteries on the Bay of Rosas drove an insurgent destroyer out to sea today after the warship, in an apparent attempt to land troops, had shelled fishing villages, killing several persons.

Thousands of troops moved northward from Barcelona, where President Manuel Azana of Spain has established offices, to repulse the landing attempt while Spanish frontier authorities stripped the boarder of guards to reinforce the Rosas defenses.

The bay is 80 miles north of Barcelona, which may become the capital of leftist Spain if Madrid falls.

In bomb blasted Madrid meanwhile authorities moved to quiet reports that fascists sympathizers inside the city had thrown bombs from roof tops during a sudden unheralded air raid in which fascists planes bombed populous neighborhoods.

The Madrid battle fronts were quiet as government troops rested before renewing the assault on Torrejon de Velasco, south of the capital.

The newspaper L'oeuvre in Paris reported Italian officers in the Balearic Islands planned to conduct a plebiscite committing the Spanish inhabitants to a "declaration of independence."

News Behind The News

Washington By IRA BENNETT POSSIBLE: In a close election, political fumbling might defeat the people's real choice for President, and result in election of his opponent. A nose-and-nose finish between Roosevelt and Landon might be decided in Roosevelt's favor by De-aw-are.

Republican factions in that state have chosen two sets of Landon electors. A split vote for them probably would elect the Democratic electors, who would throw the state's 3 votes for Roosevelt, although the total combined vote for electors had favored Landon.

The tail-ender on a list of electors sometimes loses out through neglect of voters to go down the line. Thus an elector on an opposing ticket may get in.

The electors will meet at their respective state capitals on Dec. 14. Their votes will be counted by Congress on Jan. 6—if the House can organize between Sunday and Wednesday.

PROVISIONS: Many people think the cumbersome electoral system should be superseded by direct popular vote for President and Vice President. They say that direct election of Senators has not wrecked the country. The opposing side—there's always an opposing side—insists that direct election of Senators had produced a poorer quality of statesmen.

Under the present system, if electors fail to elect, each state has one vote in the House in choosing a President. Advocates of popular election do not say how they would preserve the equality of the states in choosing a President when the choice devolved upon them.

The law provides elaborate safeguards against failure of electors to deliver their vote to the President of the Senate before the day for holding the joint session of Congress. If the two branches disagree over the returns from any state they must separate and fight it out in Senate and House. No debate is allowed in joint session.

SWITCH: Choosing a President is a mighty operation, working with smooth and irresistible power when any candidate receives a majority. But when nobody receives a majority—wow! The complications begin.

Then the House must undertake to elect. It must choose one of the (Continued on page two)

URGENT: The foregoing gives point to the generally accepted prediction that the G. O. P. will make gains in the House.

The twentieth amendment brought about a new setup, which may be tested out after next week's election. The House which now acts as a newly elected House, not a hold-over. A neck-and-neck presidential race now is likely to produce a neck-and-neck vote in the House whenever it votes for President.

Passionate struggles in the past cause patriotic men to desire that the electors shall not fail to cast a decided majority for somebody.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

SYNOPSIS: Terence Mahony has been given two hours start of the police by Inspector Kennedy. Either Terence gets the evidence to convict Ambrose Lawson of the murder of Vincent Little, or he and Rath Prater stand trial for that deed.

Chapter 41 ELSA'S NEW IDEA

"BASSETT is hiding him," said Lawson. "It shouldn't be difficult to find out where. Bassett doesn't amount to much. I can suggest a couple of easy ways of finding out where Mahony is."

She was waiting for him in his study, and her face looked pale and worried. He smiled at her. "It's nice of you to come and see me," he said. "Inspector Kennedy told me about your interview with Mahony last night. That was a clever idea, and it seems to have had the desired effect. It can only be a matter of days, or even hours, before the police catch him."

"Yes, I know," said Elsa. "I thought he had killed my uncle then. I don't think so now." "I'm afraid I don't understand at all," he said. "It's rather difficult to explain," answered Elsa. "I know I laid a trap for him last night, and he fell into it in a way. That talk Terence Mahony had with me last night has convinced Inspector Kennedy that he killed my uncle. But it has convinced me that he didn't kill him."

"I see," said Lawson. He walked to and fro for a few seconds, frowning thoughtfully. This change of mind on Elsa's part was quite unexpected. But he could not see that it mattered much. "I don't see that you can do very much about it," he stated. "I must do something about it; I can't let them hang him," said Elsa passionately.

Lawson was on the point of telling her that her idea was quite impracticable, but suddenly checked himself. The glimmerings of an idea had suddenly occurred to him. "I don't care how much I spend," went on Elsa. "Surely there could be some way of arranging it?" "It might be possible," admitted Lawson cautiously. "But it would be very difficult. To start with, how would you get into touch with Mahony?"

It is the opinion of most people who are informed as to the causes of the many weaknesses in our social order that the place where most weaknesses occur and where strength is most often built up is in the home. If this be true, then the future of our Christian civilization rests largely with the home. The acceptance of this dictum will mean the reversal of many of our opinions and actions. We have been thinking that upon the Church and the school rests the burden of providing the world with an informed and inspired manhood and womanhood. Now we must turn our attention to the home. Believing this to be true, the leaders of the congregation of the Eighth Street Christian Church have planned a four-week course on "Achieving a Christian Home" and are to be congratulated on having obtained Mrs. J. H. Rose to teach the course. Classes will meet for four Sunday mornings, beginning tomorrow, during the regular Bible School period. The class room is on the main auditorium level, rear section. The ushers will direct you. This class is open to all who may be interested in the building of a Christian home.

Arrival of Norfolk Team Early yesterday afternoon the Williams and Mary bus arrived in Greenville, and almost immediately the visiting squad went to the College field for a secret drill which lasted from 2:30 until 4:30.

Dinner and Dance The Division squad entered the College dining hall after the student body had already assembled for dinner. The students cheered the visitors from the time they entered until they took their seats.

After dinner, the students and visitors went to the Robert H. Wright auditorium for dancing. The mingles of the Poe, Lanier, and Emerson societies introduced the Williams and Mary players to the upper classmen.

Pop Rally and Snake Dance The dance ended when Bill Tolson and Pokey Johnson, head cheer leaders, rushed into the auditorium and led the students and visitors out to the College field where boxes and crates, which had been soaked with gasoline, were ignited. The crowd gathered in a big circle around the fire, where they sang "Hail, E. C. T. C." and cheered loudly.

Les Ridenhour, captain of the Pirates, made a talk, and the Williams and Mary squad were pushed out into the ring and welcomed by the students. The Division team then "yelled" for E. C. T. C.

The students ended the celebration by snake dancing over the campus. It was the most rousing rally in the history of the college.

Three of the members of the faculty are spending the week-end in Durham. Miss Louise Williams is visiting her sister, Miss Mildred Williams, who is a junior of Duke University. Miss Ruth Spangler, who has been a graduate student at Duke for the past three years is visiting friends on the campus. Miss Alice V. Wilson is visiting her mother and her brother who is professor at Duke.

GREENIES WIN OVER KINSTON

Local High Score Two Touchdowns in 14-0 Victory

The Green Phantoms of the Greenville high school who got off to a good start with three successive first downs, whitewashed Le-mor county's Kinston Eagles by a 14-0 score at Kinston yesterday afternoon.

The first touchdown for the locals came about in the third quarter on a pass from Carl Pierce to George Lautares, who in turn lateraled to Howard Hodges. Hodges then ran 30 yards for the touchdown—the extra point was made off a tackle play by Carl Pierce.

The second and final scoring done by the Phantoms took place when only three minutes was left in which to play. Harold Forbes intercepted a Kinston pass and ran 58 yards before he was downed on the six yard line. Determined to keep his efforts from proving fruitless in the way of scoring, on the second play he plunged through the line for a touchdown. Carl Pierce and George Lautares forged into the line again by making an extra point on a pass.

Nine first downs were made by the locals as compared with six earned by the Eagles, who attempted seven passes and completed two. The Phantoms attempted nine passes and completed four, and were penalized three times for a 45 yard loss. The Kinstonians were 133-yards penalized three times. The loss of 15 yards, however, was somewhat smaller than the loss of the locals.

As the game wore on, the Phantoms gained 276 through the line of the Le-mor boys, and they gained 79 yards through the Phantom's line. The locals made 64 yards on passes and the Eagles 35 yards on passes.

The Kinstonians made three fumbles during the game, and the locals were accredited as having made 4.

Outstanding players for Kinston were Harlan, left end, and Evans, left half. Evans weighed in the neighborhood of 190 pounds, and kept forging through the line of the locals throughout the game. George Lautares, Wayland Tucker, Howard Hodges, and Carl Pierce were most aggressive for the locals.

Yesterday's game brought about the fourth win for the Phantoms, whose next game will be played here with the Farmville high on Friday afternoon of next week at 3:30 o'clock.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Election arguments boiled in the board rooms today but the stock market was unable to work up any great amount of steam on either the buying or selling sides.

Traders favored a few farm implement merchandising, cotton and wool issues for gains of fractions to a point or so, and neglected many of the leaders. Transfers approximately 700,000 shares.

CO-EDS HATE DIRTY NAILS. MEN HATE RED ONES

Grinnell, Ia. (AP)—The lads and ladies at Grinnell College are telling each other "the things we don't like about you."

"Things the men dislike in the women: 'red fingernails, giggling, screaming, cattiness, 'screw' hats, false sophistication, too much chatter, exposed lips and shoulder straps."

"Things the women don't like about the men: 'dirty fingernails, short haircuts, plaid shirts, sloppy appearances, bully attitude, bow ties, bristly cheeks, crooked hair parts and humming in partner's ear while dancing."

COLLEGE TEACHES SENSE OF HUMOR

Gainesville, Fla. (AP)—The University of Florida now has a course designed to develop one's sense of humor.

The school's catalogue lists the course as "Types of Humorous Literature," with appropriate credits, but W. E. Moore, instructor, said the study has the following aim:

"To develop the student's ability to view life from the standpoint of the spectator at a comedy, to perceive the comic elements in situations and in people without being upset by them, and above all, to recognize the comic elements in himself."

ART OF DRINKING LOST IN HUSTLE

Chicago (AP)—Club life and the art of drinking have faded from the average American's knowledge because he is in too much of a hurry to get somewhere and do something, says Albert Auerter, new manager of the exclusive Chicago club.

"Men join clubs to escape the routine of home," Auerter declares, "or to mingle with their social peers and enjoy service. The younger generation, however, does not even know how to order a drink."

"The idea most young men have of a party is to gulp down half a dozen cocktails and grab the hors d'oeuvres from the buffet. After the sixth cocktail they don't care what they eat."

This supposed Democratic strong hold consists of ten southern states, six border states, three coastal states and five in the corn and wheat belts. No Democratic leader concedes that the race will narrow down to such a neck-and-neck finish. They simply regard this political blueprint as insurance on the White House.

The Republicans should gain between 40 and 50 seats in the House, although they are claiming a maximum of 75. The Senate seats will probably end in a draw, the Democrats picking up a few for these they may lose. Though the administration forces will enjoy a clear majority in both chambers, the next Congress will be far more conservative than the 1932 and 1934 legislatures.
