Fascist Guns Planted In Shadow Of Madrid

SIRENS SHRIEK OVER CAPITAL

Preparations Speeded for Attack On Government Seat; Insurgent Officers Express Confidence City Can Be Taken Within Four Days

(By Associated Press) Fascists planted their guns today almost in the shadow of Madrid...

In Madrid the shrieks of air raid sirens echoed every half hour as insurgent planes wheeled high over head and watchers atop the city's highest buildings got a grim, plain view of the warfare to the South and West.

Today insurgent aircraft contented themselves with dropping leaflets urging surrender. However, the pedestrians, remembering last Friday's disastrous bombardment from the air, moved with the utmost caution.

The insurgents also occupied the village of Pinto, about 10 miles South of Madrid.

Three fascists fliers were killed near Talavera de la Reina, when the tri-motored bomber was shot down by government war planes.

Fascist officers, literally within sight of the towers in the center of Madrid, said the Madrid militiamen were abandoning the fight and running back to Madrid.

Federal Receipts Record Increase, Statement Shows

October Revenues Incline, While Expenditures During Period Show Substantial Decline

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The month's end treasury statement today showed an increase in October receipts over the same month a year ago and a drop in total expenditures.

The October deficit was set at $412,512,127, compared with $561,138,206 for the same month last year. In the first four months of this fiscal year expenditures exceeded receipts by $97,496,312, compared with $1,393,259,976 deficit in the same period last year.

Gold stocks, which have been rising steadily in recent months, reached a new high of $1,044,666,138 on October 31. This was an increase of $199,000,000 a month and was $1,342,000,000 over the same date a year ago.

October receipts totaled $272,172,437, compared with $235,435,238 in October, 1935. Receipts for the first four months of this fiscal year were listed at $1,408,088,114, compared with $1,233,899,703 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Total October expenditures were $684,784,564, including $314,887,007 of emergency expenditures. October expenditures a year ago were set at $796,673,447, including $285,835,495 of emergency outlays.

Final Rites Held For Little Sawyer Infant

Garland S., six-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sawyer of near Winterville, died Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the home of his grandfather, F. A. Haddock. He had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock by Rev. Walter Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville. Burial followed in the family cemetery.

Besides the parents, two sisters, Joyce and Shirley Sawyer, survive.

FOUR MORE YEARS! NEW DEAL?—OR GRAND OLD PARTY?

The battle of oratory is past history now—but a mightier battle of ballots decides whether the nation shall have four more years of the New Deal or restoration of the Grand Old Party to the seat of government after four years of Democratic rule. President Roosevelt is counting on electoral sanction for continuance of the New Deal. (Associated Press Photo)

One of the most spirited presidential campaigns of a generation came to a close with both Democrats and Republicans growing louder in their predictions of victory at the polls. Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the Republican nominee, assailed President Roosevelt's New Deal and proclaimed "when I am president," things will be different. (Associated Press Photo)

Carolina Precinct Solid Democratic

Henderson, N. C., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Nuthush precinct in Vance county, first to report in today's election, voted 31 to 0 for the straight Democratic ticket, State and National.

The entire registration of the precinct had voted at 10:10 a. m., and the polls were closed.

The precinct voted in favor of all five of the proposed constitutional amendments.

COMMON WEED HITS NEW TOP

Best Prices Paid For Grades Yesterday Since 1919

Veteran tobaccoists here declared today that common and medium grades tobacco sold higher on the local tobacco market yesterday than at any time since 1919.

Hundreds of farmers who sold their product on the local market yesterday apparently went home delighted at the prices they received. Many of these farmers sold tobacco here for the first time and, in the words of one closely connected with the market, went home singing the praises of the Greenville market and sorry they had not sold their entire crop on the this market.

Offerings yesterday of 1,031,464 pounds brought $284,781.58, for an average of $27.61.

Thus far this season 39,618,826 pounds have been sold on the Greenville market, bringing a total of $9,648,513.38, a general season average of $24.35 per hundred weight.

The public is invited to join The Reflector's election party tonight and receive returns from the county, state and nation.

Special wires will be used in bringing the Associated Press returns from this and other states to our offices. The results will be announced immediately upon their arrival here.

The Reflector will remain open all night in order to keep up with the voting trend in all 48 states.

EDWARD VIII PLEDGES NATION SEEK PEACE

London, Nov. 3.—(AP)—King Edward today pledged his nation to do all in its power "to further the appeasement of Europe."

Standing in front of the throne in the House of Lords, garbed in heavy state robes of gold edge crimson velvet, the 42-year-old bachelor monarch made this significant plea for peace to the bristling armed camps of troubled Europe.

It was an unceremonious king who opened parliament. Not authorized to wear the imperial crown until after the coronation May 5, Edward followed the glittering jeweled emblem of the nation and empire in the procession.

King Edward launched into the reading of his address from the throne after first affirming his solemn declaration of protestant faith.

Wedding Britain to the task of placating Europe, Edward said the nation would persist in efforts to bring about a meeting of the Locarno powers, and expressed the hope that the London naval agreement of March would become "the basis of international agreement to which all naval powers will eventually become parties."

He stressed Great Britain's determination to back the Spanish non-intervention committee, while at the same time pressing "every opportunity to mitigate human suffering and loss of life in that unhappy country."

Roosevelt Casts Vote Before Noon

Hyde Park, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Pres. Roosevelt and eight members and friends of his family, cast their votes shortly before noon today in a little green and white town hall in this village's first election district.

The president, wearing a gray suit and blue tie covered with white donkey designs, walked into the hall on the arm of his third son, Franklin, Jr.

HEAVY VOTING IN THIS STATE

Various Communities Reporting Record Balloting

Raleigh, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Early reports from today's election in North Carolina with one precinct already reporting a unanimous vote, indicated citizens were going to the polls in record numbers.

There was no disorder by noon, but the first word of election strife came from Thomasville, where republicans challenged the registration of approximately 1,700 persons, most of whom were said to have died or moved away.

Without exception, Mecklenburg county registrars reported voting the heaviest in history. Veteran observers estimated the county vote would be nearer than 30,000 than the 25,000 generally expected until yesterday.

News Behind The News

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER MORTALITY: Although Senator James O. Couzens was a flaming New Dealer, his death uncovers a Rooseveltian secret for balancing the budget and reducing the public debt within the next four years.

The tax collectors expect to square their financial books thru the estate taxes which the government will collect from a score of agreeing "economic royalists". It would be somewhat lugubrious to mention their names, but there are several billionaires and multi-millionaires whose normal life expectancy indicates that they will die before 1940. Like certain Supreme Court justices, they may seek to outlive the New Deal's high taxes but it will be a close race.

Should death and the New Deal win, it is estimated that their contributions to the Treasury would easily amount to a billion dollars or more. In fact, one set of mortality statistics prophesies a governmental levy of $2,500,000,000—enough to put current federal books in the black.

VIOLENT: The new Maritime Commission has exploded a bombshell among lobbyists at Washington. They discovered only a few days ago that Senator Hugo Black of Alabama had slipped into the maritime law a provision for registration and figurative finger-

STRIKERS SEEK EXTEND TIE-UP

Crews of All American Ships Urged to "Sit Down"

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Leaders of the Pacific coast general maritime strike called today for a tie-up of all American ships. They sought to extend the blockade to Atlantic and Gulf ports.

The "new policy" instructions issued by the joint committee representing seven dock and seagoing unions, ordered crews of Pacific coast ships to walk off at "any United States port."

Crews of all other American ships were urged to "sit down" and draw the blockade tight around the entire United States.

A hearing here by the federal maritime commission, from which union representatives bolted yesterday, postponed indefinitely assistant secretary of labor Edward J. McGrady continued efforts to bring about resumption of settlement negotiations. The immediate critical issue was the employers demand "that safety crews remain on tied up ships."

Vessels in paralyzed Pacific coast ports increased to 150 or more. Joseph Curran, head of the seamen's defense committee claimed 133 ships were idle at Atlantic and Gulf ports.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Water front employers indicated here today they would place skeleton crews aboard ships to safeguard them during the maritime strike, while at New York the leaders of two rival sailors' unions forecast the arming of men and violence.

Observers here agreed that if non-union crews were placed on the ships violence would follow and Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady was attempting to persuade maritime groups to man the tied-up vessels.

In New York David Grange, third vice president of the interbarter seamen union declared his union would be ready to put crews on all ships tied-up by the "sit down" strike of the insurgent seamen defense committee.

Joseph Curran, chairman of the seamen defense committee, replied "I foresee violence, and plenty of it."

Governor Alf Landon Votes In Home Town

Independence, Kan., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon officially ended his contest for the presidency today by casting a personal ballot for the Republican ticket in his home town at 8:49 a. m. (Central Standard Time.)

Smiling a greeting to neighbors and joking with his old friends, the Republican nominee, with Mrs. Landon and his 79-year-old father, John Landon, went to an automobile sales room voting place of the first precinct, third ward, in this town of 15,000, soon after his arrival from Topeka on his special train.

Plenty of Tomatoes

Lancaster, Pa. (AP)—The "Garden Spot" produced enough tomatoes this year to give every man, woman and child in the United States a glass of tomato juice. Income from the tomatoes, a new large-scale crop in Lancaster County, was estimated roughly at $300,000.

Fruit And Vegetable Strikers Return Work

Salinas, Calif., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Salinas violence - marred lettuce workers strike - ended by a vote of union workers it was announced here early today. It lasted two months.

The votes by members of the fruit and vegetable workers' union here and at Watsonville were 613 for returning to work immediately and 342 against.

Several outbreaks in which police, highway patrolmen and special deputies drove back pickets with tear gas, occurred during the strike.

W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, has said that he expected more than 8,000 votes to be cast in the election.

In 1932 Roosevelt received 7,721 votes in Pitt county, while only 253 Republicans went to the polls to register their choice. Twenty-four votes were cast for the Socialist candidate in 1932.

Democrats Lead In Kansas Vote; South Still Solid

Election Retorts Frequent In City

Election quips were heard on all sides today as the populace became election minded. Among the best heard were the following:

A farmer coming to town yesterday said he observed another farmer in his lot greasing up a vehicle frequently seen on the roads four years ago. Asked what he was doing, the farmer replied: "I am for Roosevelt, but I am just greasing up my old Hoover-car just in case."

A high school youth went to school this morning with a placard on his back reading: "Hoover promised me a bicycle. Roosevelt gave it to me, a x x x don't let Landon take it away from me."

GERALD SMITH HELD IN JAIL

Former Huey Long Follower To Be Tried Tomorrow

New Orleans, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, former organizer of short-sleeved clubs for the late Huey Long, early today stalked angrily from a jail cell in which he was placed after denouncing the state administration in a radio address.

Smith taken into custody with three others at the hotel room last night, was booked on charges of disturbing the peace, reviling the police and using obscene language. He denied all accusations.

Smith refused a release offered by Mayor Robert E. Maestri, but left the jail at the expiration of a two-hour period in accordance with an ordinance concerning persons arrested for city law violations.

Arrested with Smith were his secretary and two friends. All four were ordered to appear Wednesday night at midnight, at police court to answer to the three charges. Maximum penalty for conviction on each is $25 fine.

Smith, in his address at an open air rally last night, charged he had evidence of a "hot oil deal."

"When this deal is finally uncovered it will make the Tea Pot Dome scandal look like a copper kettle," he said.

County Expected To Cast Vote Equal That Of 1932

A total of 9,701 ballots—a record number—were cast in the first primary this year, but the number dropped off to 4,335 in the second primary when Dr. Ralph W. McDonald was defeated by Clyde R. Hoey.

Police reported no disorders at any of the polling places in the city and the sheriff's department said it had received no reports of any unlawful incidents at any of the polling places in the county.

The women were counting for a number of the ballots being cast today. Efforts have been underway several weeks to get a large number of Democratic women out for the election.

ALA. PRECINCT STANDS BY FDR

All-Time Record Vote of 45,000,000 Predicted; Backed by Solid South Chief Executive Maintains Lead as Scattered Votes are Tabulated; Democrats Holding Good Lead in Huntington, W. Va.

(By Associated Press) Amid increasing reports of a record-shattering vote, the nation today awaited the mixed trends of early returns from hard fought Roosevelt versus Landon elections.

According to pre-balloting forecasts, Frank D. Roosevelt piled up a mounting lead in the solid South. In New England Alf M. Landon held onto a margin of two score votes, all of them cast and counted before breakfast time.

In the election held in West Virginia, the Democratic nominee most frequently ahead on the basis of scattered returns that tallied only fractions of the 45,000,000 figure credited by some as the possible 1936 vote total.

In Landon's home state of Kansas an incomplete vote from 126 precincts out of 2,600 gave Roosevelt 2,718 to 2,133 for the Republican nominee.

In West Virginia, incomplete returns from 39 of Huntington's precincts gave the Democratic standard bearer 1,928 votes against 1,178 for Landon.

Few reports of disorders at the polls were heard across the nation up to mid afternoon. In one of the few instances an election officer was shot and critically wounded at McRoberts in the eastern Kentucky mountains.

From the Metropolitan centers of New York and Chicago and elsewhere came reports that heavy voting promised to shatter all records. He presidential and vice presidential nominees of both major parties all (Continued on page six)

One Boy and Three Girls Born, But Only Two Survive

Senath, Mo., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Two of the quadruplets born last night to Mr. and Mrs. James Bridges, died today in their isolated 2-room river valley cabin.

Dr. F. W. Speidel, 67-year-old county doctor, who delivered the one boy and three girls last night, left for the home of the shrew-cropper family shortly after he was informed of the deaths.

He said the child born first died about 5 a. m. and the fourth child delivered succumbed a short while later.

The condition of one of the other two was believed critical.

Dr. Speidel considered transfer of the survivors to a Jonesboro, Ark. hospital.

Greenville Boy Dies Of Spinal Meningitis

Adrian Earl Smith, age seven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith, of Greenville, died in the local hospital last night from a short illness of spinal meningitis. He was only sick a few hours.

Funeral services were conducted from the Williams Funeral Home this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. R. C. Grady, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial followed in Greenwood cemetery.

He is survived by his father, mother, three brothers, Willie, Franklin, Harry W. A. Jr., and four sisters, Ethel, Mary, Lois and Bessie.

printing of all shipping representatives at Washington. Under an obscure provision of the act lobbyists for all companies holding or seeking a government contract must register on the commission's books. They must detail salaries, fees, retainers, bonuses, travel expenses and all funds spent upon "entertainment." Worst of all, the must furnish this information if they appear on shipping questions before the commission. Congress, any committee thereof or any other government department, it effectively strangles the shipping lobby, which has been the best paid and most successful on Capitol Hill for twenty years. Due to lobbyists' opposition, the special bill for registration of all special pleaders failed at the last session of Congress. Now the scheme is to redraft all legislation so that it will exile lobbyists from Congressional and departmental corridors. It may be the most violent conflict at the coming session of Congress.

SCALPS: Although President Roosevelt expects to win easily today—his private estimate of his electoral total is supposed to be 435—bold strategists at Democratic headquarters will not be satisfied unless they carry certain "grudge states."

They yearn to win Massachusetts so as to repudiate ex-Gov. Joseph B. Ely of that commonwealth. They are straining all their political muscles in New York so as to discredit the man in the brown derby—Al Smith. They ache to carry Pennsylvania because a Democratic victory there might mean the complete collapse of the Republican party. They want Delaware as a snub to the Duponts, who have financed both the American Liberty League and the Republican party.

Mr. Roosevelt, of course, will be content to win without any of these states, if possible. But a triumph in these "royalist" regions—he admits it—will fill his political cup to the overflow mark.

MILKER: Politics is a selfish cutthroat game—or occupation.

A certain Republican ex-Senator from New England noted for his witty tongue was drafted by the C. O. P. high command to trail President Roosevelt through New England. His assignment was to deliver speeches and shed interviews which would offset the appeal of the President. Having been badly treated by toponch G. O. P.-ers, the former Senator telephoned a political publicist and said:

"Let's milk these rich babies! You hire the best hotel rooms you can find. Get hotels which are near to haberdashery stores. My rinds are running low, and I'm short of shirts, ties, handkerchiefs and underwear. The grand old party will pay for them." The anti-Roosevelt trip, in short, will cost the G. O. P. about $5,000 and it is doubtful if the ex-Senator will swing a vote—not even the haberdashery vote.

REFERENDUM: Although Mr. Roosevelt has declined to say whether he will seek re-establishment of the N. R. A. post-election quarterbacks look for such a move.

The President has told all questioners to examine his speeches if they would obtain his views on the need for a new N. R. A. Though hidden in verbiage, his campaign promises foreshadow federal regulation of wages, hours and working conditions. He has intimated that he will ask a constitutional amendment to restore the industrial controls which the Supreme Court took away from the executive branch.

The President is a politician, however. He will probably abandon his NRA crusade if the election turns out to be close. Moreover, there will be no sense in submitting a constitutional amendment if the Republicans control most of the state legislatures after November 3. So politics—not statesmanship—will determine

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Kennedy has given Terence Mahony and Ruth Fraser a new hour story of the law, because he thinks Terence may turn up important information against Ambrose Lawson, leader of a gang of crooks. But Lawson is guilty of the murder for which Terence is blamed, and expects to put Terence out of the way himself. And now he is working through Miss Little, cinema star, who wants to help Terence and expects to have him kidnapped and run out of the country while she collects evidence in his favor.

Chapter 42 ELSA DETERMINED

"WOT was you thinkin' of offerin'?" Basset asked.

"I'll pay you anything you like if you'll arrange for me to see him," protested Elsa earnestly. "And I'm not thinking of trying to harm him. I want to help him."

Her sincerity was evident; so Basset abandoned his suspicions. He smiled, and suddenly his fat, cunning face became astonishingly genial and human.

"Ort right, miss; I was only tryin' yer out," he said. "If Mr. Mahony is willin' to see yer, I'll fix up a meetin' an' there's no question of any money between you an' me. I'm out to 'elp Mr. Mahony just as much as you are."

His face hardened suddenly.

"But if anythin' was to 'appen to Mr. Mahony through this meetin' with you, I'm tellin' yer plain, I wouldn't be in your shoes arterwards for all the gold in the Bank of England."

That concluded the interview between them, and they parted. Elsa felt somewhat guilty after she had left Basset. She had no doubt that about Mahony had been kidnapped. Basset would think that she had betrayed him, and, in spite of the fact that Basset was a self-confessed crook, she did not want him to think that of her. Yet, in a way, she was undoubtedly planning to betray Mahony as she had betrayed him before.

But Lawson soon banished all her qualms and doubts. He did it very cleverly.

"So Basset threatened you, did he?" he said. "Well, then, if you take my tip, you'll abandon the whole idea of trying to help Mahony. From what I've heard, Basset is the kind of man who carries out his threats, and it's not worth helping Mahony if you're going to have a bad car accident, or have your beauty spoiled by an accurately hung broken bottle, afterwards."

"I don't care what happens afterwards if I can help him," said Elsa defiantly, as Lawson had known she would. "I got him into this trouble and it's up to me to get him out of it. I shan't abandon the idea at all."

"If you take my advice—" began Lawson.

"I don't want any advice," interrupted Elsa. "All I want is the help you promised me."

"Very well, if you're determined to go on with the idea, I suppose I shall have to help you," said Lawson in a resigned voice.

When Basset left Elsa he went straight to Mahony and reported the result of the interview to him.

"You know 'guy'ner, I was all against 'er at first; I thought she was wantin' to do the dirty on yer, like she did when you met 'er before," he stated. "But I changed me mind. I think she's on the straight this time. I think she's really out to 'elp yer."

"I DARE say she is," replied Mahony smiling. "But she's a marvelous actress, you know, Fatty. She took me in once, and while I wouldn't profess to be such an authority on women as you are, I wouldn't put it past her to take you in. There are one or two things about all this that strike me as a bit queer."

"In the first place, what made her think of trying to get into touch with me through you? She may have thought of it herself, but it doesn't strike me as the kind of thing that would occur to her unless someone else suggested it. Then, if she's got information to give me, why must she see me personally to give it? Why can't she write it out and send it to me through you?"

He paused, smiling.

"Personally, I believe that she would help me if she could," he went on. "But I think there's just a possibility that she may have asked someone—some old friend of hers, perhaps—to help her to help me, and he may have generously agreed, and may be using her as a cloak for his own schemes against me."

"You think Lawson may be behind whether NRA shall be revived. The voters may not know it, but their ballots today constitute an indirect referendum on that proposition.

New York

By JAMES McMILLIN

DIVIDED: On this fateful day, New York anti-New Deal chiefs are retrospectively noting mistakes in the way they played their cards. Bankers and industrialists who were out to beat Roosevelt recognize belatedly that they should have teamed up better with the purely political leaders on the G. O. P. side.

Absence of this teamwork has meant hopelessly divided authority. Organizing for a Landon victory was a gigantic task in any case because of the almost complete collapse of Republican county organizations. Urgently needed consolidation of political and industrial forces was never achieved. On the con-back in 1940. Most professional politicians on the Republican side—always excepting the original pre-Cleveland Landon boosters—have been privately skeptical of success from start to finish.

It still remains to be seen which side was more successful—the industrialists seeking to make use of politicians, or the politicians seeking to make use of industrialists. The election returns will tell the story.

SKELETON: Whatever the outcome, many high-ranking anti-New Dealers—both bankers and politicians—will long nurse a deep-rooted resentment towards Herbert Hoover. The ex-President is widely blamed for the breakdown of the party machine—a collapse that has proven a terrific handicap.

The point is, according to insiders, that Mr. Hoover had lived abroad too long to appreciate the merits of the American political system. He never understood that a national party was no stronger than its county organizations. He had ideas in the back of his mind for revamping the system on more idealistic lines and minimizing the importance of local political bosses.

Consequently the county organizations got no encouragement from Mr. Hoover from 1920 on. In fact, they were effectually starved to death by 1930. Consequently they were in no shape to withstand four long years with the enemy in power. Therefore what John D. Hamillton inherited could hardly be called even a skeleton—it was more like a couple of odd ribs plus a few stray finger and toe bones.

PRECEDENT?: Keen New York observers are keeping a watchful and rather nervous eye on the "splinter party" situation.

There are important elements—including powerful foreign influences—who, while not hostile to democracy as such, would privately prefer a right-wing dictatorship in the United States to the New Deal tax program with its implications for the future. A dictatorship can and does give favors where they do the most good—and takes care that there is no subsequent embarrassing discussion of them.

No intimation is intended that these elements are working directly towards a dictatorship. But they are making a desperate effort to cut down New Deal strength from the left by fostering theoretically leftish splinter groups. If enough Lemkeites, Coughlinites, Townsendites, etc., are elected to the next Congress they could seriously impede the functioning of Congress. In that case, if history is any

The details of his plan for the following night depended on the situation of the house, but so far as the main lines of his plan were concerned, his mind was already firmly made up. He had no intention of taking any chances with Mahony this time.

Lawson is forced to a change of plan, Monday.

trary, these two elements worked out of box at crucial purposes all through the campaign.

No one was exactly to blame for this. It was simply a matter of allied armies working with separate commands and inadequate liaison.

WHICH? In essence, the industrialists were trying to utilize the Republican party machinery—such as it was—as a framework for their single-minded purpose of beating Roosevelt.

Many G. O. P. politicians, per contra, never had any real faith in a Landon triumph. Their main idea, which of course could never be admitted publicly, was to use the banker-industrialist hatred of Roosevelt as a stimulus to contributions which could be devoted to rebuilding the party machinery and running it through a dress rehearsal in preparation for a real come-guide, American democracy might be headed for serious trouble.

In Italy, in Russia and in Germany the lack of a strong majority in the national legislature—due to minority "splinter parties"—resulted in governmental sterility and popular discontent in all three cases and these led in turn to dictatorships.

COMFORT: Some New York right-wing extremists are consoling themselves already in anticipation of a sock on the jaw. As salve for the wounds they privately expect, they talk of measures to counteract a popular decision in favor of Roosevelt.

These hard-boiled bitter-enders perfectly responsible citizens in the business world—are arguing that if a great mass of new voters is pulled to the polls to re-elect Roosevelt, it will be taken as a false record of what the country wants.

"Such new voters are incapable of judging issues for themselves and real patriots are not going to take this loaded baiting lying down. If Roosevelt gets a large majority, he is likely to resume his dictatorial attitude of 1933. In that case the only bulwark against his running wild would be formation of an organization of the French Croix de Feu type."

An initial membership of 10,000,000 in such an organization is seriously discussed. It will be quite a comfort to some folks, even if it never gets beyond the bedtime story stage.

Bridge Shower for Miss Burnette
Miss Helen Burnette, bride-elect of the month, was honored at a pretty party yesterday afternoon when Mrs. John Adams entertained at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson. Chrysanthemums and marigolds made an artistic setting for four attractively appointed bridge tables. Mrs. Charles Whedbee, making high score, was given a novelty crystal tray. High score table prizes were won by Mrs. Lee Folger, Jr., Mrs. Guilford Smith, Mrs. J. H. Harrell and Miss Ruth Horne. The honoree, Miss Burnette, was presented bread and butter plates in her selected pattern.

A tempting salad course was served.

The surprise of the afternoon came when little Bobbie Smith, small son of Mrs. Guilford Smith, entered and presented Miss Burnette with a tray, holding a shower of lovely miscellaneous gifts.

The Faculty Reception
The residents of Ragsdale Hall, the teachers' dormitory at East Carolina Teachers' College, gave a brilliant reception from 8:30 to 10:30 last night in honor of new members of the faculty and staff, and their wives or husbands. About one hundred and seventy-eight attended the reception.

The guests were the members of the staff not residing in Ragsdale Hall, local members of the Board of Trustees, former members of the staff who are living in Greenville.

and the wives or husbands of the above. Three special guests were Mrs. Robert H. Wright, wife of the man who was president of the College for twenty-five years; his daughter, Mrs. Durward Parker, of Elm City; and Mrs. Lula Fleming, wife of the man who introduced into the Senate the bill for the establishment of the school.

The receiving line was broken into four parts which formed in the connecting parlors. The four receiving lines included President and Mrs. Meadows and the guests of honor. In the first line were Dr. and Mrs. Meadows and the four new teachers who reside in Ragsdale Hall, Misses Adams, Spangler, Plumb and Schnyder. The second line included Mr. and Mrs. Daventon, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, and Dr. and Mrs. Baughan. In the third line were Dr. and Mrs. Hill-drum, Mr. and Mrs. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Farley, and Mr. Johnson; while the fourth included Mr. and Mrs. Gullege, Mr. Stephan, and Miss Clark. Each group occupied a different parlor.

The hostess introduced the guests to the honorees as follows: Misses Lewis, Rainwater and Bowen received the guests at the door. Miss Alice V. Wilson, who is the official hostess of the Hall, introduced them to the first line, while Misses Redwine and Ross conducted them to the punch room, where Misses Hooper and Nulton presided over the punch bowl, and Misses McGee and Williams assisted. Misses Gorell and Turner introduced the guests to the second line; Misses Wahl and Jenkins to the third line and Misses Hyman and Grigsby to the fourth line. Misses Rose and Newell escorted the guests to the refreshment room, where Miss Blonston and Holzclaw served at the refreshment table. Those assisting in serving were Misses Mack, Norton, Kuykendall, Green, Elizabeth Smith, Hunter, Hughes, Willis and Wadlington. Misses Coates, Charl-ton and Meade received in the parlor near the exit. The hostesses exchanged places during the reception.

The decorations in fall flowers gave a tapestry effect to the connecting parlors and halls. Large floor baskets of autumn leaves, grasses and berries artistically arranged, placed in alcoves, on the central stairway, and in corners, formed a rich background, while vases and bowls of these and mixed chrysanthemums were placed on the table. The center piece of the refreshment table was a bowl of chrysanthemums in shades of yellow and red. Autumn leaves were placed on the plates and were used in the punch table. Refreshments consisted of ice cream, small decorated cakes and mints of light colors, and salted peanuts. Most of the refreshments were prepared by a class in cookery in the Home Economics department as a class project.

Among those who live in Greenville who have at some time been members of the College faculty or staff are Mrs. K. B. Pace, Mrs. Ed Batchelor, Mrs. Burke Stancill, Mrs. Norman Winslow, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, Mrs. W. I. Wooten, Mrs. Bruce Sugg, and Mrs. Guy Smith.

CONVOCATION OF EDENTON WILL MEET AT BELHAVEN

The attention of the women of St. Paul's parish, Greenville, is called to the annual meeting of the Convocation of Edenton, which will be held next Friday, November 6th, at St. James church, Belhaven. This meeting will be one of interest and value to every woman who attends as the program covers all phases of the work of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church.

The Convocation will be opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion at ten o'clock, and immediately following this service there will be a business session at which brief reports will be made by each Auxiliary in the Convocation, followed by an address by the president, Mrs. W. S. Carawan. After Noon Day Prayers will come the Institute Hour, when the work of the various departments of the Woman's Auxiliary will be discussed, with the diocesan chairmen leading. At one o'clock luncheon will be served with the women of St. James Auxiliary, Belhaven, as hostesses. The afternoon session will feature addresses by Bishop Darst and Mrs. Fred Outland, Diocesan President of the Auxiliary, as well as reports on the summer conferences at Camp Leach and Lake Kanuga.

OHIO TO OFFER FAVORITE SON

'Mother of Presidents' John W. Bricker

By KENNETH TOOILL
Columbus, Nov. 3.—Ohio—"mother of presidents"—once again is grooming a favorite son for a position of national importance.

He is John W. Bricker, 43 year old Republican attorney general, who is considered a sure bet for governor in today's election over the incumbent Democrat, Martin L. Davey, by perhaps the largest majority in the history of the state.

Bricker has, in fact, been referred to as "the next governor of Ohio" since he announced his candidacy last year. Bricker's personal popularity has had a lot to do with it, but principally it is the unpopularity of Governor Davey.

Pursuing a policy of ignoring the old-time Democratic leaders, Davey split his party wide apart while the Republicans are at this moment more closely knit than they have been in a generation.

But while Bricker's election as the state's chief executive is a foregone conclusion, it is looked upon by Ohioans generally as merely a stepping stone to a much higher post.

There are some who have of late envied Bricker as a fortune occupant of the White House. But quite obviously the direction of today's presidential election will have considerable influence on that.

There are others who look ahead to see him in the United States Senate. In any case, his career in national politics will depend on whether he will be reelected to a second term as governor in 1938.

The odds thus far have been decidedly against the reelection of a Republican governor in this state. George K. Nash, who served from 1900 to 1904, was the only Republican chief executive to fill two terms although many Democrats have been so honored. But Bricker is looked upon as one man who can overcome this bugaboo and make the rift.

His election this year by a tremendous majority is certain to have a helpful effect upon his chances two years hence. His personal popularity will help, too. He is accepted as a good mixer wherever he goes and has one of the widest personal acquaintances of any public official in the state's history.

Another factor that will help him in his quest for a second term is the disorganized condition of the Democratic party, which cannot possibly be straightened out in time for the 1938 campaign. Then, too, there is a rift between the Democratic party in the state and the New Dealers that cannot be healed in two years. It will require another defeat to bring them to their senses. By that time they will be driven in desperation to forget their differences, let bygones be bygones and go down the line together. But this rebirth cannot be effected until 1940, at the earliest, by which time Bricker's second term will be expiring.

There will be open to Bricker that year at least the United States senatorship and possibly the presidential nomination. Should Senator Vio Donahay, probably the most popular vote getter in the history of this state, seek a second term, Bricker will have to oppose him. That indeed would be a battle of giants. It would be a case of two favorite sons, acclaimed by the electorate without regard to party affiliation, opposing each other and even the keenest of political prognosticators do not venture a guess as to the outcome.

There is a belief in many quarters close to the Senator that Donahay will not seek a second term. But to offset that there are others claiming to be on the inside who insist with equal emphasis that he will be a candidate.

Obviously, if Senator Donahay does not choose to run, it will make matters much easier for Bricker in 1940. Competent political observers say they do not know of any Democrat in the state who could have a chance to beat him.

MODERN WOODMEN TO HOLD MEETING IN CITY TOMORROW

Following the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Secretary C. Joyner, the address of welcome will be delivered by L. S. Spence.

A report on all camps in the district will be made, after which District Manager L. P. Lane will address the various camps. State Manager J. A. Doubles will discuss woodcraft in North Carolina.

The program next calls for the address by Mr. Grady on the accomplishments of Modern Woodmen of America.

The business session will include appointment of resolutions committee, election of officers and announcements.

A supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock with Dr. Joseph Smith acting as toastmaster. The Wendell band will provide music during the supper.

Following the supper, the meeting will be called to order with the Big Class Adoption by the Wendell Dergue team, with all camps participating, on the program.

Democratic Circles Feel Sure Of Heavy Majority

No Jitters Felt In State Over Election Outcome

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.
By J. C. BASKERVILL
Raleigh, Nov. 3.—There are no jitters in Democratic circles here today as to the outcome of the election in either the state or the nation.

The utmost confidence prevails that President Roosevelt will be re-elected with a resounding majority and that Clyde R. Hoey and the entire Democratic state ticket will be elected by one of the largest Democratic votes ever cast in North Carolina.

Officials in Democratic headquarters here even believe that more counties will elect Democratic county officials and Democratic members of the general assembly than ever before and that the Republicans will be given the most stinging wallop they have had in years. The Democratic leaders and voters may have the jitters in other states and may be anxious and doubtful as to the outcome of the election. But this is not true here, most observers agree.

This is just as true of the rank and file of the Democrats at work in stores, offices, shops, filling stations, garages, driving trucks or taxis, as it is of the active political leaders. Those who are for Roosevelt and Hoey are for him one hundred per cent and are not even admitting the possibility of defeat.

"It is this splendid spirit and feeling of confidence that makes us so sure that the Democratic majority rolled up in North Carolina today is going to be one of the largest in the history of North Carolina Democracy," Chairman J. Wallace Winborne, who has been guiding the Democratic campaign in the state for the past three months and especially the last six weeks, said.

"There is a militant, determined spirit among the people of the state and they are voting and getting out the vote as never before. They have not forgotten five cent cotton, ten cent tobacco and the Hoover cars of four years ago and have no desire to go back to conditions as they were taken under the closing months of Hoover and Republican misrule. They know they have never received any consideration from the Republican party in the past, especially from any National Republican administration and know they would receive even less should Landon by any chance be elected this time. But a majority of the people of the state do realize that President Roosevelt and his administration have helped North Carolina and the south and that the only way to be assured of making any more progress during the coming four years is to reelect Roosevelt. The southern people, especially the people of North Carolina, are not without gratitude."

Agreeing that the only question involved here in North Carolina is the size of the Democratic majority for both the state and national tickets, Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus is implicitly confident that President Roosevelt will be reelected in the nation as a whole.

"A majority of the people in the United States are for President Roosevelt and are in favor of giving him four years in which to bring the country completely out of the depression," Governor Ehringhaus said. "I am more convinced of this than ever following my two weeks of campaigning for the National Democratic Committee in Ohio and Pennsylvania. I am also confident that Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and New York will give the President a majority in spite of the very intense campaigning against him in those and all the other states. But this is one time when the rank and file of the people are not being misled nor fooled by Republican ravings or by the rantings of big business. This is an election in which the people are going to express themselves."

Another big factor in this election, in the state as well as in the nation, is the vote of the younger element—the Young Democratic men and women, of whom hundreds of thousands have registered, according to D. L. (Libby) Ward, Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee and J. Ed. Butler of Morganton, president of the Young Democratic Clubs in the state. The Young Democrats of the country are for Roosevelt and the New Deal because they represent progress as opposed to Republican stagnation, accomplishment as opposed to defeatism, they maintain.

Not is the part the women of the state and nation are going to play in today's election to be underestimated, according to Mrs. J. B. Spilman, vice chairman of the state committee, who has been in charge of the women's division. She is confident the women's vote will be a big factor.

With the first sparks from the election and showing little of how the resulting fire will spark, millions of sovereign voters today pounded out increasing tempo their choice of national and state leaders.

First returns from New England, some of them cast shortly after midnight and others before the sun was well risen, gave a few votes edge to Republican Landon. Hardly had these ballots been recorded when a handful of Texas precincts came in with a majority for Democratic Roosevelt, swinging the tiny margin the other way.

But with statisticians figuring that an all-time record of 45,000,000 votes may record their choice before 11 p. m. tonight—the first few hundred ballots told little.

With four New England and five small Texas precincts reported, the count was Roosevelt 168 and Landon 103. Thus before part of the nation was awake and hardly any part of it settled down for the day the battle was on in earnest.

unafraid and untrammelled.

Another big factor in this election, in the state as well as in the nation, is the vote of the younger element—the Young Democratic men and women, of whom hundreds of thousands have registered, according to D. L. (Libby) Ward, Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee and J. Ed. Butler of Morganton, president of the Young Democratic Clubs in the state. The Young Democrats of the country are for Roosevelt and the New Deal because they represent progress as opposed to Republican stagnation, accomplishment as opposed to defeatism, they maintain.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY HAS OFFERED MOST CHIEF EXECUTIVES

The United States have been mostly Republican ones, and that Democrats down South here think they win only now, and then and that it is only a mishap when they do win. But, he said, there have been more Democratic than Republican presidents.

George Washington was elected without political parties. John Adams was a Federalist. William Henry Harrison was a Whig. Zachary Taylor a Whig. Filmore a Whig. Polk there had been no Republican party. Buchanan was the last Democratic president before the civil war.

Contrary to its current reputation, Mr. Harding said history showed Virginia not to be the "mother of presidents" since Virginia has produced four presidents. New York four, Ohio seven, and North Carolina three—Andrew Jackson, Andrew Johnson and James K. Polk. As an aside the speaker told of how one mile apart—one in South Carolina and one in North Carolina—there were markers in existence now claiming to be the birthplace of Andrew Jackson.

Just picking up odd interesting facts about presidents the speaker next spoke of the Father-Son Presidents—John Adams and John Quincy Adams. The nearest to father-son since has been William Henry Harrison and a grandson—Benjamin Harrison—who were both presidents. As for national source of our presidents all have been from England, Ireland, or Scotland except two—Hoover, a Dutch descent and one Swiss.

Next he related how the Republican party came into being at the call of Abraham Lincoln for the purpose of undoing the ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States on the constitutionality of the Missouri Compromise—the Missouri Compromise declared all states North of 36-44 would be free and all South slave but in view of the Supreme court ruling on the famous Dred Scott case (that a slave was a man's chattel no matter what part of the United States the master might take the slave) it followed that the Compromise was unconstitutional. The Missouri Compromise was repealed in 1854. Out of feeling over this ruling the Republican Party got the issue that saw its formation.

In closing Mr. Harding said he wanted to say as a Southerner and the son of a Confederate officer that slavery seen now in the cool light of thought was a cancer on the body politic and it took the operation of the Northern sword to remove it.

The club had no guests last night. The attendance prize given by Claude Gaskins was won by Lawrence Stroud, J. B. Kittrel, the club president, presided.

nately 1,300 ballots cast in Nash county by 10 a. m. and observers there estimated 4,000 would vote during the day.

Five precincts in Cumberland county reported more votes cast by noon than were cast by 1 p. m. in the 1932 election.

Goldboro likewise reported heavy balloting and there was similar reports from many parts of the state.

The day opened warm and fair, but with rain indicated for some sections before the polls start closing between 5 and 5:30 p. m.

PRES. ROOSEVELT LEADS IN EARLY BALLOTING

had voted before noon and even the weather man held out an encouraging hand.

Late reports told of snow and rain in some sections—abnormal cold west of the Mississippi, but wild weather in the East—and led to a weather bureau statement that voters staying away from the polls would have to find some other excuse.

(By Associated Press)

With the first sparks from the election and showing little of how the resulting fire will spark, millions of sovereign voters today pounded out increasing tempo their choice of national and state leaders.

First returns from New England, some of them cast shortly after midnight and others before the sun was well risen, gave a few votes edge to Republican Landon. Hardly had these ballots been recorded when a handful of Texas precincts came in with a majority for Democratic Roosevelt, swinging the tiny margin the other way.

But with statisticians figuring that an all-time record of 45,000,000 votes may record their choice before 11 p. m. tonight—the first few hundred ballots told little.

With four New England and five small Texas precincts reported, the count was Roosevelt 168 and Landon 103. Thus before part of the nation was awake and hardly any part of it settled down for the day the battle was on in earnest.

STUDENT COST LOW IN STATE

Says Amount Spent Is No Efficiency Yardstick

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—The amount spent by a state, county or city each year per pupil should not be the only measurement for school efficiency or endeavor, Lloyd Griffin, executive secretary of the State School Commission, said today, deprecating the efforts of those who maintain North Carolina schools are far down the list because its per capita cost per pupil is not as high as in other states.

"If per capita cost is to be used as the chief indicator of educational effort and efficiency, then the best schools in the United States are the one-teacher schools in New York where one teacher frequently has only three or four, or sometimes only one or two pupils and where the per capita cost is sometimes as high as $300 or $400 per pupil," Griffin said.

"But there is nothing to show that the two or three pupils in these one-teacher schools get any better instruction than the pupils in the consolidated schools in North Carolina in which a teacher has from 30 to 35 pupils instead of only two or three. We do not believe it is just to the taxpayers to compel them to maintain a school building and pay a teacher for only two or three pupils.

If per capita cost is the best way to measure school effort, then Indiana has the best school transportation system, since in some counties the cost of bus transportation amounts to as much as $40 per pupil per year and where politicians and political lame ducks are given jobs as school bus drivers at $150 a month and where the school transportation system is a definite part of the state's political machine.

On this basis, our school transportation system, the largest in the United States, is all wrong and very inefficient because the per capita cost is only $4.90 per year per pupil and because we use student drivers who get $8.50 a month instead of worn out politicians for drivers at $150 a month. There are other factors than high cost in determining whether the schools are good or bad."

Prague, capital and metropolis of Czechoslovakia, is building a completely electrified apartment houses. They will get their entire power and heat supply from the local electric plants.

Historical Sites In North Carolina To Be Designated

Markers To Be Placed at Masonic Orphanage, Davidson College, Kill Devil Hill, Other Spots

Reflector Bureau, Sir Walter Hotel.

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—The Masonic orphanage at Oxford, where almost 400 children are being reared, is among five new locations to be designated by historical markers. R. Bruce Abernethy, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, said today. Legends for the five additional markers have recently been completely under the direction of R. C. C. Crittenden, secretary of the State Historical Commission, and approved by the special committee of historians which also must pass upon all the wording.

One of the new markers will be placed at Davidson College, vehement Presbyterian institution in Mecklenburg county and which will reach its one-hundredth milestone next year. Another of the markers will tell of the memorable accomplishments of the Wright brothers at Kill Devil Hill, in Dare county where they made their first flight in a power driven airplane on December 17, 1903.

The fourth marker will memorialize the founding of New Bern in 1710 by the Swiss and Palatines under the leadership of Baron de Grafenreid.

The fifth plate will designate the site of the home of Gabriel Holmes, a Confederate general. This marker will be placed in Sampson county, near Clinton.

Bayreuth Looks Ahead
Bayreuth (AP) — Plans for next year's season have already been announced by the administration of the Bayreuth festival plays. Eight performances of "Lohengrin," five of "Parsifal" and two of the "Ring" will be given. The festivals are scheduled to begin on July 22 and last 'till August 26.

SOUTHERN ECONOMIC GROUP TO HOLD ATLANTA MEETING

Durham, Nov. 2.—Five members of the Duke university faculty are expecting to attend the ninth annual conference of the Southern Economic association in Atlanta, Ga., November 6-7, and several of them are to appear on the program.

Dr. Calvin B. Hoover is program chairman for the conference. During the first day of the conference Dr. Frank T. deVryer will speak on "Social Security Legislation in the South," and Dr. Joseph J. Spangler will read a paper on "Population." John Y. Springer and Weldon Welton, members of the economic department, and possibly others plan to attend the sessions.

The People hired a President today. It's a $75,000-a-year job. The hours are irregular. It's considered nice work if you can get it. Here, in pictures of some who have held it recently, is a quick description of the job somebody got today.

He lives in the White House, rent free. Office quarters are provided in a wing of the same building. When he goes out of town he rides on a special train. (Taft)

He may address congress in joint session. (Wilson)

He gets vacations on pay, and various sections of the country vie for the honor of being his host. (Coolidge)

Wherever he goes he is guarded by secret service agents. (Roosevelt)

He travels free on government ships. (Hoover)

AMERICA'S FINEST LOW-PRICED CAR
The Crowning Achievement of Pontiac's Policy of Giving More for Less

REMEMBER—no matter what other important business you have on hand—be sure to see the 1937 Pontiacs. You'll be well repaid, for Pontiac has built a new, six and eight that have no counterparts in the history of motoring. The highlights of the 1937 Pontiacs are shown at the right. But even this imposing list can give you only the faintest notion of how completely Pontiac has overturned previous ideas of what a low-priced car should be. The new Silver Streak is bigger—full five inches bigger—and what a difference that makes in roominess, riding ease, smartness! It's an even better value—enriched with more basic advancements than any new car at its price. And it is even more economical than last year's Pontiac, official economy champion of its price-class! Come in—see the latest, greatest models of the most beautiful thing on wheels—let your own eyes prove that everything points to Pontiac for 1937. It is America's finest low-priced car.
