White Man Jailed On Driving Drunk Charge

Marion C. Finch of Rocky Mount was arrested and placed in jail last night on a charge of driving drunk after patrolmen found him on the Falkland road where his car had stopped.

The officers said that they received a call yesterday afternoon to go out on the Bethel highway to arrest the man, but could not locate him on this road. They later found out the Falkland highway and rounded the man about two miles from Greenville.

Request Farmers Support Compact

Growers Urged to Attend Committee Hearing

All Pitt county farmers and others interested in the control of tobacco production were urged at a meeting last night of the directors of the county organization of the Farm Bureau to attend a joint hearing on the proposed compact bill in Raleigh Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the house and senate agricultural committees.

The importance of a large delegation being on hand in case of any opposition to the model measure prepared for introduction in all tobacco growing states was stressed by officials of the organization.

Pitt county was the birthplace of the Farm Bureau in this state and the Federation was organized for the primary purpose of seeking compact legislation. Unsuccessful in its efforts to have former Governor Ehringhaus call a special session, the bureau concentrated its efforts on securing the passage of a compact measure at this term of the legislature.

E. F. Arnold, executive secretary of the state organization, which was recently moved from this city to Raleigh, attended last night's meeting and reported on the progress made.

He told the directors that it was essential that they arouse farmers in this section so they would go to Raleigh Tuesday to support the measure.

J. E. Winslow asked the Pitt directors to relieve him of his duties as president of the county organization as activities for the State Federation kept him too busy to devote much time to the local bureau.

G. E. Trevathan of Fountain was named to succeed Mr. Winslow and (Continued on page three)

Radio Appeal Brings Canadian Response

New York, Jan. 16.—Interest in the national fight against infantile paralysis for which further funds will be provided by the President's Birthday Ball on January 30, extends beyond the borders of the United States.

Colonel Henry L. Doherty, for the fourth time chairman of the national committee for the nationwide birthday parties, said today he was particularly delighted with an offer of assistance from Archie Fuller of Toronto, Canada.

After hearing a radio address on the forthcoming celebrations by Colonel Carl Byoir, general director, Fuller wired national headquarters:

"Have just heard your plea for infantile paralysis. Will give you one hundred dollars if you will notify me to whom I must make cheque."

Tomorrow night's service, and each service to follow, will be presided over by one of the local ministers of the six participating churches, another minister reading the Scripture and leading in prayer while the third minister delivers the sermon.

Much Work Done By Legislators In Second Week

Liquor Legislation and Taxes Designed to Raise Record-Breaking Sum of More Than $70,000,000 Claim Attention

Evidence of bitter fights against the three per cent sales tax and raising the income tax level became apparent in committee sessions when both matters were temporarily postponed pending further study.

Liquor legislation made its debut with a bill calling for a state-wide referendum on the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic spirits.

Immediate opposition to the measure was voiced by representatives of 18 counties in which the sale of liquor is permitted under the New Hanover and Pasquotank acts.

Following on the heels of the "bone dry" referendum proposal came house bill 55, which would permit the state to enter into the business of manufacturing liquor and selling it at wholesale to counties.

Liquor stores would be operated only in counties which had gone "wet" in county option votes. The state, which would operate four distilleries, would retain the profits from wholesaling counties, and municipalities would divide retail profits, with the former getting two-thirds and the latter one-third.

A "balanced" budget was offered the legislature Tuesday accompanied by a message from Governor Hoye which said in part: "As conditions improve it will be impossible to reach the same objectives at the same cost, but these improved conditions which we truly hope for and believe to be actual should not be the basis for increasing the burdens not reasonably and fairly justified." His chief request was that the budget remain balanced.

TENSION EASES OVER STRIKES

More Conciliatory Attitude Exhibited By Factions

A more conciliatory attitude on the part of both management and workers eased tension today in the nation's major strike, although the number of persons made idle by reason of labor disputes stood at upwards of 210,000.

Officials of the General Motors corporation, with 17 plants strike-bound and 115,000 jobless as a result of a Detroit conference table to work out rules for negotiations beginning Monday.

Unionists began evacuation of factories they had closed by means of "sit-downs."

Ship owners, who had 232 vessels tied up because of the 79-day Pacific coast maritime walkout, proposed to give members of seven striking unions another week to consider peace proposals then call for a vote of acceptance. The walkout held 40,000 idle.

Ann Harding To Wed Orchestra Conductor

London, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Ann Harding blonde American motion picture actress, and Werner Janssen, New York symphony orchestra conductor, today filed their intention to marry at the London registration office.

Miss Harding fled across the United States and Canada last June to take her daughter outside the jurisdiction of American courts, where her former husband, Harry Bannister, was using every legal weapon to gain custody.

LEGISLATIVE CHAFF and CHATTER

Raleigh, Jan. 16.—Rumors that Hubert E. Olive, campaign manager for Governor Hoye in the primary, is seeking one of the two Supreme Court places to be filled in accordance with the Constitutional amendment adopted in November seem to be without any real basis in fact. At least so it is positively stated by one who was extremely close to Mr. Olive in the primary battles. This source, which should be reliable, unhesitatingly said that the Lexington lawyer isn't even considering a justiceship.

Asked what Mr. Olive does want, or is likely to get, the informant became much less communicative, in fact he shut up closer than several dozen claims.

It takes approximately three and a quarter minutes to call the roll of House members, several timings of the process show. Figure the number of roll call votes in the session and it will be seen that considerable time is taken by this rather mechanical process.

U. S. QUIZZES SPANISH WAR FLIERS

Returning to New York from Spain where they fought for the government loyalists in the bloody civil war, Bert Acosta and Gordon Berry, American aviators, were served subpoenas to appear before the federal grand jury for questioning—possibly about neutrality issues involved in their enlistment. They are shown leaving the ship in New York. Left to right: United States Attorney Gregory Noonan, Berry, Lewis Landis, attorney for Acosta, and Acosta.

Members of congress, turned today from the complexities of government reorganization and finance to welcome the vanguard of the throngs coming from President Roosevelt's second inauguration.

Festoons of red, white and blue bunting covered store fronts throughout the business districts. Along Pennsylvania avenue workmen completed the last of the temporary stands from which thousands will view the military inaugural parade Wednesday.

The avenue was the scene of another parade late yesterday—a procession of 2,500 WPA workers, members of the workers alliance of America.

"WPA must go on," they chanted while delegations called on government officials to present demands for more relief funds.

At the White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre promised their proposal would be considered.

Congress has not yet acted on President Roosevelt's request for $750,000,000 to meet relief needs until July 1. The house appropriations sub-committee continued hearings today on the measure which administration leaders hope to enact within a week or ten days.

The house was in recess until Monday, but bills to extend the treasury's stabilization fund and the President's authority to devalue the dollar were ready for senate action.

Offer New Theory In Mattson Case

Records of Tacoma Degenerates Studied In Detail

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Search for the "hidout" of Charles Mattson's kidnaper-slayer and a mill watchman's report he heard what he believed was a child's scream the night of January 6 topped developments today in the widespread hunt for the murderer.

The 10-year-old boy's badly beaten, nude body was found in the snow about seven miles southwest of Everett last Monday.

The watchman, whose name was withheld, told officers he had thought little of the cries at the time, assuming they were from a child a play.

Fred Haynes, former California convict, virtually was eliminated as a suspect.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Records of Tacoma degenerates were studied in detail today as searchers for the kidnaper of 10-year-old Charles Mattson swung back toward the kidnapping scene.

Federal agents, a reliable source said, requested and received records of Tacoma criminal trials, including several sexual perversion cases.

The disclosure strengthened a frequently expressed theory the Mattson kidnaping was the work of a demented person who possibly knew the Mattson family personally, rather than a well-planned abduction by an organized gang or a "big-time" criminal.

Man Listed 'Dead' When Truck Found Wrecked On Road

Family Already Had Started Making Preparations When Mistake in Identity Discovers

Durham, Jan. 16.—(AP)—N. L. Hall, McDonald, N. C. man, awakened at a tourist camp near Roxboro this morning and found not only his truck gone, but he had been declared officially "dead" by the Durham county sheriff.

Beside the wreckage of the truck bearing Hall's identification mark, Sheriff E. G. Belvin early this morning found the mangled body of a man. Believing it was Hall he notified relatives and turned the remains over to a local undertaker.

Then Hall's employer in Roxboro received a call notifying him of the young man's death.

"That's funny," he said, "Hall is standing beside me right now."

Hall said the dead man was B. H. Prevatt of Lumberton. He said he met Prevatt last night and they went to a nearby tourist camp in Hall's light truck. Upon awakening this morning he discovered both Prevatt and the truck gone, he said.

Funeral Services Sunday Afternoon For Thomas Goor

Local Merchant and Shoe Repair Shop Operator Suffers Fatal Attack Early This Morning

E. Thomas Goor, merchant and operator of a shoe repair shop here, died instantly this morning while being taken to the hospital after he suffered a heart attack or cerebral hemorrhage while driving his car down Dickinson avenue.

Mr. Goor had started to work when he suffered the attack. Witnesses said his car was running at a slow rate of speed when it crossed the railroad tracks. As he became unconscious and lost control of the car, the vehicle ran into H. H. Duncan's grocery store, breaking a window pane.

Township Constable Gus Slokes happened along and stopped, took the sick man in his car and started to the hospital. Before he arrived it was discovered that the man was dead and he was taken to a funeral home, where a doctor was summoned and pronounced death a result of either a heart attack or cerebral hemorrhage.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the local Catholic church, with Father Charles Gable in charge. Burial will follow in Greenwood cemetery. Members of the local orders of Red Men and Modern Woodmen of America will be in charge of the services at the grave.

Mr. Goor was a native of Russia. He came to Greenville immediately after entering this country in 1914. He is survived by his wife, one son, E. T. Goor, Jr., and one grand son, Walter Thomas Goor.

Pitt County farmers interested in the passage of the tobacco compact legislation will do well to be in Raleigh Tuesday afternoon for the public hearing on the matter before the General Assembly Committee on Agriculture.

The report by Superintendent Conley that the school buses of this county are in good condition, and that careful check is kept on the equipment at all times to safeguard the lives of the children who are transported to and from school daily, must cause our people to breathe a sigh of relief.

ESCAPE IF YOU CAN BY FREDERICK JACKSON

SYNOPSIS: Shortly before a late party starts in Anne Phelps' studio apartment, Count Vronski, who is trying to force her to marry him, is shot to death. Bigelow, the young American from Paris, finds Anne and Karsanokoff, the stunning dancer, staring at the corpse. They decide to hide it in a cupboard and go on with the party. Bigelow phones his old friend, Dr. Austrelitz, the psychologist, who comes to help. When the guests leave, Austrelitz suggests he and Bigelow remove the body to Vronski's apartment.

Chapter 12

Death Disguised As A Drunk

"If you don't mind waiting here," said Bigelow, "I'll take them home, first. I don't think we ought to leave this place unguarded for an instant, though, while he's here. Do you?" "Certainly not," agreed Austrelitz. "I shall wait, of course."

"If they are not in his apartment," said Bigelow slowly, "well—they are love letters—you wrote him love letters. But that can only prove you were fond of him—not that you desired his death."

"There's a Policeman!" Bigelow unlocked the cupboard door, between them, they got Vronski out. Fortunately, although several hours had passed since the shooting, rigor mortis had not yet set in, owing to the heat in the cupboard.

"These must be one," cried Austrelitz impatiently. "He must have had some means of getting in. Look again."

"Never mind. What did he see, after all, except three men and an automobile? ... Come along. He's out of sight."

"We'll have to get him in as far as his landing, in any case," said Austrelitz. "We can't let him stay here any longer. Too dangerous."

"As Austrelitz arranges the body on the floor, tomorrow, someone pounds on the door."

MUCH WORK DONE BY LEGISLATORS IN SECCND WEEK

(Continued from page one) The house committee on agriculture received a tobacco compact bill providing for cooperating with other states in uniformly regulating and controlling the week mart. In addition, the measure would create a tobacco commission and provide for local tobacco committees. School buses and textbooks bills also found places in the hoppers. One proposal would require each bus driver to be at least 25 years old, experienced and competent, and would make mandatory the presence of safety glass and governors on the vehicles. Bills were introduced providing for free basal textbooks for children in elementary schools and unification of the administration of schools, with the superintendent of public instruction acting as head

FRIDAY

Mrs. R. C. Deal was hostess to the George B. Singletary chapter U. D. C. Friday afternoon. Despite the rain and gloom outside, all was cheery and bright inside.

Among several items of interest, brought before the chapter, the donation of a beautiful picture of the Jefferson Davis highway, to be presented to the high school library, was outstanding.

Besides the route of the highway, the map has the picture of Davis, and the flags of the Confederacy, all surrounded by a frieze of small medallions bearing historical facts of the important points through which it passes. Other maps will be presented to the city schools as rapidly as they can be secured and framed, until each school has been given one.

The report on Scholarships was most interesting, a Reidsville girl winning the Davis Scholarship last year. This scholarship is worth $200.00 and is open to High School seniors only. The Daughters would like to see a Greenville boy or girl win this scholarship. Why not?

An invitation from the George W. Dunham chapter of Wilson to a tea at the home of Mrs. J. E. Woodard Thursday afternoon, the 21st, was received. Several members will attend.

The object of special interest this month being the nurses' fund, the chapter sends its quota. This fund supplies extra nursing for the old ladies at the Fayetteville Home.

Mrs. E. W. Harvey read the account of the recent finding of the indictment of Lee and other Confederate generals for treason, which had been lost for some time.

Following this Mrs. T. A. Person, using as a basis of her remarks, Lee's expression, "God Bless Old North Carolina," mentioned some things in which North Carolina is not "First." This was timely and worth while, causing us to sit up and take notice.

The hostess served a most delectable sweet course, and the members were loath to leave so hospitable a home.—Reported.

Miss Gorrell Interprets Program

Miss Lois V. Gorrell, violin teacher in the College, who has heard Zimbalist play and heard his wife, Alma Gluck, sing, gave a very interesting interpretation of the program the great violinist will present on next Tuesday night.

Requests, she said, had been sent to him that he play familiar selections as encores, and she explained the two ways in which artists respond, one by giving extra numbers between and others by adding them at the end of the program, and she gave a hint as to what constitutes good audience behavior, saying that he was sensitive and could not play when there was a movement in the audience. She told them that they could not applaud between the movements of a sonata, one of which he will play. This was composed by the noted violinist, Ysaye, especially for the violin. In one of the numbers a Scotch Fantasy made up of a number of Scotch folk melodies, was written by Bruch especially for the violin and the orchestra. The melodies used are: "And Robert Morris," "There Was a Lad," "Who'll Buy My Collier Herrin" and "Scots Who Hae."

A group of three songs and melodies, which were composed by the masters and have been adapted to the violin, are "The Walnut Tree," "Hark, Hark, the Lark," and "The Witches' Dance," all of which Miss Gorrell described. "Hark, Hark, the Lark" was played by one of the college piano students in the December recital.

Miss Gorrell also sketched his career and told many interesting little stories about the man, showing his personality and reputation.

4-H Clubs

Bell Arthur, Grimesland, Bethel, Factious, Stokes and Fountain 4-H Clubs met this week. The subject was "The Meaning of the 4-H's." The program conductor gave five parts to five members in the club to be discussed. The subject next month will be "Wild Life." Material will be furnished to the program conductors and club members are urged to collect what they can find. Several clubs voted for club projects. Some are planting the bridge back-fired. A bystander called school grounds. Others are offering their services in the transplanting

Help, Help, Murder! Just a Man Asleep

Wheeling, W. Va. (AP)—Three carloads of policemen rushed to the Actonville bridge with sirens screaming on a report that the toll-keeper was murdered.

They found the collector taking in the fares.

Nearby on the sidewalk was a man peacefully sleeping.

He had dropped to the walk just as an automobile crossing the bridge back-fired. A bystander called police without further investigation.

R. L. Little of Grimesland was named to the post of vice-president, vacated by Mr. Trevathan.

The model compact bill has been agreed on by representatives from all tobacco growing states. It also has the approval of the department of agriculture. It is being sponsored in North Carolina by the Farm Bureau Federation.

It was pointed out that bills must be similar in all states and any amendment would threaten the act for North Carolina as well as other states. As drawn, the bill would be effective upon favorable action by all states involved.

Before the meeting came to an end last night, Executive Secretary Arnold declared: "If you want control legislation for 1937 attend the hearing Tuesday, January 19."

Hunting Poor

London (AP)—Sportsmen hunting in the Scottish highlands complain that they have been finding nudists.

"We had been stalking all day and just approached within range of a herd," one relates, "when we came on a party of men and women who had much more than their knees bare. They scored off the stags and our day's sport was completely spoiled. They were promptly ordered off the estate."

BIGGEST KIDNEY STONE REMOVED

A kidney stone, which doctors describe as the biggest ever recorded in the history of medicine, was removed from J. E. Freeman, of Lithonia, Ga., in a two-hour operation at Emory University hospital in Atlanta, Ga. With a grapefruit beside it for the sake of comparison, Nurse Mary McLaughlin is shown with the stone which measured six-by-four inches and weighed three and a quarter pounds. The X-ray picture (inset) shows how the stone (white spot in the upper right corner) appeared before it was removed. (Associated Press Photos)

...but will take it up from all angles in order to inform the "students" and let them make their own decisions.

Rev. Mr. Barclay said that the forum would be held two times each month, the first in Greenville probably to be held the first and third weeks in February, in the high school auditorium.

It was pointed out that the forums are provided the various communities at no cost at all to the towns or any of its citizens, with the exception of a place to hold the discussions.

Rev. Mr. Barclay emphasized the fact that the forums provided a chance for every one to talk back. He said it was the aim to make them as exciting as a football game and as interesting or attractive as a picture show.

Rev. W. A. Ryan told of efforts by the Woman's club to inaugurate a movement rating films, as to their interest to adults and children and print their ratings in the newspaper each week.

Rev. Mr. Ryan declared that the move was not one to oppose moving pictures in any way but a means to provide an impartial preview of current pictures so parents could know whether the films were of the type which would interest children, adults or both.

Dink James, W. J. Bundy and Rev. W. A. Ryan were named on a committee to work out a program for church appreciation.

Visitors at the meeting included: Rev. Robert C. Grady, L. S. Allen, Marshall A. Brinkley, Durward Hart, R. L. Little, W. L. Smith, Jr., Tom Wilson and Kwanian Vernon Sheffield of Norfolk, Va.

Reviewing NOVEMBER 1936

'Roosevelt Catches 46 Fish' New Yorkers swarm in Times Square to get the landslide returns.

By VOLTA TORREY (AP Feature Service Writer)
'Roosevelt caught 46 fish and named one for every state.' A gagman wrote in November. 'Two got away.'

After the American people had spoken, in a shout, and James A. Farley had been honored as Public Prophet No. 1, the world had time for such unfinished business as (1) recovery, (2) peace and (3) romance.

Recovery figures were as positive as New Deal ballot totals. For instance: Money's More Plentiful. A 10 per cent pay boost for 500,000 steel workers started wages upward for millions.

While adding machines were playing this crescendo, the supreme court was holding the New York state unemployment insurance law constitutional. Dr. Restford G. Tugwell was resigning to enter the molasses business, social security was beginning for 20,000,000 workers, the A. F. of L. was continuing the indefinite suspension of C. I. O. unions and maritime strikers were snatching shipping.

Spain Fights On. Deeming world peace a more urgent matter than quieting the waterfront, President Roosevelt went to South America to talk it up.

In Madrid, meanwhile, citizens and comrades from many nations fought the fascists in the suburbs. Commercial castles and homes were toppling under bombers' repeated attacks. Women and children were covering in the subways. All month the city's fall appeared imminent, but the leftists' line held.

Germany and Italy recognized the besetters' government. Hitler flouted the Versailles treaty again by taking over control of the Fatherland's navigable waters. Japan and Germany completed an alliance to combat communism. Italy smiled its approval. Russia considered it an open move to ward war against her.

Noted Award Irks Nazis. To Karl von Ossietzky, who had passed three months in a nazi concentration camp, went the Nobel peace prize. Berlin considered it an insult.

Romance flowered in November: 'Romeo' Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and 'Juliet' Ethel du Pont announced their engagement. 'Caliban' John Barrymore and 'Ariel' Elaine Barrie were married.

'Sweetheart' Mary Pickford and 'Buddy' Rogers admitted the real thing had come along. 'D'Artagnan' Serga showed Budapest it was for love and love alone that he had wed. 'David' Edward VIII tried to bear the British lion for 'Wally' Simpson.

F. D. R. Gives Thanks. Secretive Sir Basil Zaharoff, munitions merchant, and open-hearted Ernestine Schumann-Heink, singing mother, died late in the month.
