MEXICO CITY WILL HAVE "FACE LIFTED"

Mexico City (AP)—Old Mexico will have her face lifted before the arrival of 1937 tourists.

A public works program involving expenditure of $16,000,000 has been outlined for the capital by Coe Hinojosa, chief of the federal district.

The funds will be spent in enlarging the police force, rehabilitating the city's water plant, erecting a new jail and improving streets and roads.

Chemists say only 8 to 15 per cent of the fuel value of gasoline is converted into mileage by the motor car.

Youth Confesses Killing Physician After Kidnapping

Twenty-Year-Old Willow Springs, Mo., Man Declared by Federal Agents to Have Admitted Slaying Abducted Doctor

Willow Springs, Mo., Feb. 3.—(AP)—The bullet-pierced body of Dr. J. C. E. Davis, 65, country doctor kidnapped a week ago, was found in an Ozark thicket by officers early today and a Department of Justice agent said a 20-year-old youth had confessed the slaying.

Earl Connelly of the federal bureau of investigation said the youth, identified as Robert Kenyon, Grunnett, Mo., grided since yesterday in the $5,000 ransom abduction, led officers to the body near a roadside 14 miles Southeast of here.

Dr. Davis disappeared from his office a week ago after being summoned, his secretary said, on a medical call by a "Mr. James."

The man responsible for the crime led us to the spot," Connelly announced to reporters, shortly before daylight.

"The man gave us sufficient information that we know that he was the kidnaper and then he took us to the body."

Connelly said Kenyon was taken to "another prison" to avoid possible mob violence.

Connelly said the doctor's body had been left where it was found and would not be moved immediately.

However, he said, the doctor apparently had been killed only a short while after he wrote a ransom note demanding $5,000, received by relatives last Thursday. That note was in the doctor's hand writing.

Germany's Lost Colonies No. 1 European Problem

British Cabinet Concerned Over Hitler Demands

Foreign war ships, planes and men forged above the surface of the "brother-light-brother" conflict today. And Germany's war-lost colonies again became a number one problem for Europe.

Three Spanish government planes were reported to have dropped three bombs near the British battleship, Royal Oak off Gibraltar.

British officials "assumed" the Royal Oak had been mistaken for an insurgent ship. That was the outstanding instance of foreign repercussions from the war the Spanish Socialist government has been waging with Fascist insurgents.

The British cabinet, conferred by a report Adolf Hitler may demand a return of the colonies Britain gained from Germany at the world war's end may ask Hitler for explanatory footnotes on his Saturday Reichstag address.

A clarification of this point, however, may already be on the way. An authoritative source pictured Hitler's ambassador to London, Joachim von Ribbentrop, as possibly ready to give Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden just such a blunt interpretation of the Hitler oration.

Only 2 Cases Tried In City Court Term

Only two cases were tried in City court this morning, both of the defendants being Negroes.

Claude Clemmons was bound over to County court under bond of $200 on a charge of operating a disorderly house.

Peyton Atkinson was fined $10 and costs upon conviction of being drunk and disorderly.

HERE'S SOME STATISTICS ON FAST AUTO DRIVING

Ames, Ia. (AP)—If you are in such a hurry that you drive your automobile 70 miles per hour or faster, then your time should be worth at least $1.40 an hour or you are losing money.

Prof. R. A. Meyer, Iowa State university highway engineer, has figured out from a series of tests that gasoline expense increases about one cent per mile between the speeds of 35 and 70 miles an hour, while increased oil consumption, and wear and tear on tires and motor adds another cent.

"If you drive a 70-mile trip at 70 miles an hour instead of the 35-mile gait," the professor says, "you may save an hour's time but your expense cost for the trip goes up an extra $1.40—to say nothing of increased danger to life and limb."

SEEK PREVENT $10,000 BLAZE TAX EVASIONS TUESDAY NIGHT

Committee Adopts Act Aimed at Chain Filling Stations

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 3.—A new evasion-proof chain filling station tax section for the revenue act, as drawn up and proposed by the sub-committee named some weeks ago to prepare a new section which the big gasoline and oil companies could not evade by leasing their filling stations to their former employees, or otherwise, has been adopted by the joint finance committees, following its presentation Tuesday afternoon.

The new section, presented in the form of an amendment to Section 162 1-2, fought so bitterly by the gasoline and oil lobbyists two years ago, virtually rewrites the section and is designed to make the tax apply regardless of whether the filling stations are operated by the gasoline companies or by private individuals, so long as a "substantial quantity" of the gasoline manufactured or distributed by these companies is sold from these filling stations.

The section was prepared by a subcommittee of which Representative Oscar G. Barker of Durham was chairman and who led the fight for the tax on chain filling stations in the 1935 session.

The only opposition to the section when presented to the committee came from Senator Henry L. Ingram of Asheville, Randolph county, who is a distributor for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The new section reduces the tax on chain stations up to and including the first 38 taxable stations, but considerably increases the tax on chains having 38 or more taxable stations.

It is estimated that this new tax will bring in between $250,000 and $350,000 a year. It was estimated two years ago that the chain filling station tax adopted at that time would yield a least $250,000 a year in revenue, but evasion of the law by many companies has greatly reduced the yield, while others have paid the tax under protest and then have brought suit for recovery. It is believed by those who have read the new section that it is about as evasion-proof as it can be made and that the big oil companies and their high-priced attorneys will have a hard time finding any loopholes in it.

Relief Chairman Calls Attention To Benefit Show

Rev. W. A. Ryan Again Urges Good Attendance at Performance at Pitt Theatre Tonight

Flood Relief Chairman W. A. Ryan today again called attention to the benefit show at 11:15 at the Pitt theatre tonight and made the following appeal for a good attendance:

Don't forget the Benefit Performance at the Pitt Theatre tonight 11:15. All proceeds go to Flood Relief. Stage numbers by Miss Ramona Staples and Miss Carolyn Hamric. First-run film, "Meet Nero Wolfe." Price of admission is 35 cents. This makes it possible for almost everyone in Greenville except the children to have a share in this great work of relief. Cost to the individual is insignificant — value to sicken folk in the flooded areas will be in proportion to the number who attend.

Late shows in Greenville are usually well attended. Let's not make this an exception. Rather let it be a great public exhibition of local interest. Unless something unforeseen occurs, this is the closing appeal to the people of our community for this particular cause. Let us close as we began and as we have carried on—with high enthusiasm and great unselfishness.

Flood Relief Donations Still Acceptable Here

Pitt County's contributions to the Red Cross flood relief fund passed the $4,000 mark with today's contributions of $53.50. Listed in today's report were contributions from the Stokes school totaling $25.00.

Contributions are still acceptable and those sponsoring the drive expressed hope that the fund might reach $5,000 before the drive was closed.

A benefit show to be staged at Pitt Theatre late tonight is expected to swell the fund considerably.

Contributions are as follows: Previously reported $4,548.01 Friend 2.00 Mrs. C. W. Wilson .50 Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Carroll 1.00 Cash 1.00 Ed Anthony 1.00

Grim Watch Kept On Levee System Protecting Cairo

Muddy Ohio Rising Again After 15-Hour Standstill; Optimistic Predictions Cheer Rural Communities Below Cairo, Ill.

(By Associated Press) Flood besieged Cairo, at the crisis of its historic battle against the river stood a grim "crest watch" today.

The muddy Ohio was rising again. After a 15 hour standstill, as though gathering strength for the final assault before spilling its crest into the Mississippi, the big stream brimmed to a new record breaking height against Cairo's 60-foot seawall.

The gauge showed 59.6 feet, less than six inches from the top of the huge concrete barriers. The biggest, army engineers said, will come when the waters begin pounding against the three-foot emergency bulwark of earth and wood. Forty-one railroad flat cars loaded with dirt-filled sacks were stationed at strategic points around the inside of the seven-mile levee system that borders the city, ready to plug breaks in the dyke.

Meanwhile optimistic predictions the "worst" was over cheered rural communities down the 1,000-mile stretch below Cairo in the Mississippi valley.

After a week of suspense and fear a "super flood" dwarfing the 1927 disaster in the Mississippi valley was inevitable, hopes along the vast army of flood fighters along the water front was raised by confident assertion of engineers victory was

Congress Given Measure Asking $5,000,000,000

Program Would Combat Both Floods and Depression

Washington, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The administration sent to Congress today a $5,000,000,000 works program to combat both floods and depression.

In the message transmitted with the program fashioned by the national resources board, President Roosevelt said, "It is time to develop a long range plan and policy of construction, to provide the best use of our resources and to prepare in advance against any other emergency."

The vast plan contemplating an outlay of $5,011,000,000 over a six year period provides not only for flood control projects, but also for highway and public building and other construction.

It lists specific works to be undertaken in the development of the nations resources and to provide a bulwark against depression.

Faced with the problem of immediate flood aid, the administration released $136,000 for emergency rescue work and levee maintenance on the White, St. Francis and Upper Zasco river systems.

Senate leaders strived to pass the deficiency relief bill today. It carried a $700,000,000 relief appropriation which will serve as a reservoir for federal flood aid funds.

One last dispute remained today before the Senate voted on the bill carrying funds for flood relief. Senator Bailey (D-NC) proposed the bill be amended to require a "certificate of necessity" from states and cities asking federal aid for their destitute.

Would Have State Install Elevator System In Capitol

House Committee on Buildings and Grounds Also Looks Toward New Office Building

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—(Reflector Bureau)—The installation of elevators in the century-old capitol building will be proposed within the next few days by Chairman W. C. Spruill of the house committee on buildings and grounds, provided a committee of engineers and architects sends it is possible to install elevators in the historic old capitol without in any way changing its architecture or weakening the building in any way. Chairman Spruill revealed today.

He is also going to introduce a resolution for the creation of a special committee to make a detailed investigation and survey of the present state-owned office buildings and the space available, and to submit recommendations for the construction of a new state office building which will take care of present state office space needs, also future needs.

From the slight study I have already given the matter, I am convinced that the state needs a new office building right now of from eight to ten stories to take care of state agencies now compelled to pay rent for space in office buildings in Raleigh." Chairman Spruill said.

"There are indications that within the next ten or 12 years, the state will need a 12 to 18 story building. Accordingly, I believe the building should be so constructed that if only eight stories are built now, from four to seven stories may be added later as they may be needed."

Indications are that nothing will be done for the present concerning (Continued on page four)

WOULD ALLOW ALL COUNTIES WHISKEY VOTE

House Committee Recommends Substitute Measure

SENATORS PASS LEAF COMPACT

Sub-Committee To Draft Supplementary Legislation To Tobacco Proposal

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A House judiciary committee recommended passage today of its substitute bill to allow any county to hold a referendum on creation of county operated liquor stores, and the Senate enacted into law the tobacco measure.

The House this afternoon returned, 58 to 56, to adopt a minority favorable report on the Hutchins bill for a state-wide prohibition referendum and then recessed for an hour before taking up a substitute bill to allow any county to hold a referendum on the question of creation of county liquor stores.

Four bills were given the House to carry into effect recommendations of the gasoline terminals study commission.

The liquor substitute bill would give counties and cities all profits from stores but would create a state board to have general supervision of the system. Stores now operating in 18 counties would not be affected except to be placed under the state board.

Senators did not debate the tobacco measure after it would, alongside a sub-committee would draft supplementary legislation to embrace amendments proposed to protect "the little or new farmer" and to provide for right of appeal and challenge of crops.

Representative Barker of Durham and others introduced a bill to authorize the control of state oil. It found it desirable to extend $100,000 in creation of state-owned gasoline terminals; to create a board for gasoline inspection; and to give the state right of eminent domain in setting petroleum products over which to run pipe lines for transportation products should it be found advisable to build such lines.

Senator Gravelly of Nash introduced a bill to ban one motor vehicle from passing another within the limits of school safety zones.

There were 26 new bills of the house and six in the senate.

A public hearing was ordered next Wednesday on the Garret bill to abolish capital punishment in the state.

Session Of Court Brought To Close Here Yesterday

Abandonment, Assault and Liquor Cases Constitute Majority of County Court Trials

The weekly session of County court was completed yesterday afternoon, a large number of cases having been disposed of at the afternoon session following a busy morning.

David James was acquitted of a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and also of carrying concealed weapons.

John Speight, charged with abandonment, was ordered to pay $10 monthly for the upkeep of his children.

Hubert Maynard, convicted of transporting whiskey for sale, was given a 12 months sentence, suspended upon condition he pay a $75 fine, with costs to be deducted. His driving license was revoked for two years. Judgment was suspended in the case against Carl Thompson, indicted jointly with Maynard.

David Adams, Jr. will be given a hearing in Superior court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Claude Cratch was acquitted of a similar charge.

Nash Hardee was given a six months sentence, suspended upon payment of cost and on further provision that he remain of good behavior for two years, on a charge of destroying property.

Eugenia Spencer Brown was given a 90-day sentence, suspended upon payment of the court cost, and a doctor's bill incurred by the prosecuting witness. She was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Mack Diggins was taxed with the court costs and ordered to pay a doctor's bill of prosecuting witness upon conviction of assault with a deadly weapon. Further judgment was suspended.

Don Lewis was given from 12 to 18 months for possessing illegal liquor for sale.

GOING AT IT RIGHT

The action of the local A. B. C. Board in providing sound movies for the schools of the county depicting the evils of the use of alcohol is, we believe, a move in the right direction to cut down the use of intoxicating liquors. Last year the board provided the schools with text books on the subject, and by supplementing these text books with sound pictures now the board shows that it is really in earnest in its efforts to control the use of alcohol.

In addition to the showing of the pictures on the evils of alcohol, the picture machine will be used for showing health and educational pictures in the various schools throughout the county.

The best way to cut down the consumption of liquor is to educate the people as to the evils of its use. If every county in the state would stage a continuous campaign along these lines we believe the day would eventually come when there would be little demand for liquor.

Past experience has shown that people will get liquor when they want it regardless of the law, but if we educate a generation of non-drinkers then we will not have to worry about legislating against liquor.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood—Jack Haley is never mistaken for a juvenile when he makes faces. The trouble was in the old days, that a comedian could not go around to managers' offices making faces. After weary turns in vaudeville, Jack thought he was getting somewhere at last when he got a call from the musical comedy producers Schwab and Mandel of Broadway.

But you're a juvenile, not a comic," he was told. And he got no job then. Lands in Pictures. Eventually, however, he worked for Schwab and Mandel, first in the Chicago company of "Good News" and later on Broadway in "Follow Thru". And so he came to pictures.

Haley is not exactly the most conspicuous of movie celebrities. His name seldom hits the fan magazine pages, and he has never been the subject of an extensive interview.

Yet his home in Beverly Hills is one of the town's nicest with swimming pool and all the trimmings and when he gets around he holds his share of the spotlight, for he is no timid recluse. His wife is the former Florence MacFadden, once of the stage, but now making a career with Jack and their three-year-old boy.

ESCAPE IF YOU CAN

BY FREDERICK JACKSON

SYNOPSIS. Count Vronski, who was blackmailing Agne Phelps with love letters, is shot to death in Agne's studio. Bigelow, the American from Paris, finds Agne and Karasnakoff, the glamorous dancer, starting at the corpse. They hide it during a party. Then Bigelow and Dr. Austreitz, the psychologist, move to Vronski's rooms. Police arrest Thorne Dryden, a wealthy chap who hated Vronski. When Dryden's wife, Lorna, vanishes, Agne and Bigelow set out to find her. First they go to Madge Forrester's night club to check up.

Chapter 26 Topp's The Answer

THE dance ended, then, and Mirabelle came back, followed by Tommy Tuttle. Bigelow got up to give her the chair he had been occupying. "Darling!" cried Mirabelle. "Did you ever see? About Lorna, I mean, I called you up today, but you were out! I can't believe he did it!"

"But what I say is, if there isn't more in it than has come out yet, why did she run away?" put in Tommy Tuttle. "I can't imagine why he did that," admitted Anne.

"Unless it was the shock," said Mirabelle. "People do lose their memories sometimes. She may be wandering somewhere—not knowing who she is. Isn't it awful?"

"I asked Jacques Beauzange to-day what he made of it," said Tuttle. "He was out with her, you know, the night of the murder. She has merely told the servants that so that no one will try to get in touch with her."

"Where is it going to be any easier to trace her than to trace Lorna Dryden?" "Yes, I think I've already guessed where they are!" Anne was nodding confidently to herself.

"Where?" asked Bigelow interestedly. "Topp's got a house in Westchester, it used to belong to the Hewitts, but just after the crash they were in an awful mess—they couldn't afford to keep the place up and they couldn't afford to move. So Betty Hewitt got the brilliant idea of raffling it off for a hundred dollars a chance. Most of her friends came through and bought blocks of tickets. Topp bought a book of 10, I remember, and she won. She didn't want the place at all, but it was hers. The Hewitts cleaned up thousands on the deal and departed. They went to Florida and scammed there. And Topp's been a paying taxes or the house ever since. Nobody wants to buy it, it seems."

"It's quite a big place and the upkeep is considerable. She even wanted to give it away but nobody wanted to shoulder the responsibility. So there it is. She's still got it and she says it's what she gets for trying to help out her friends."

"And you think they may be here?" asked Bigelow. "I'd gamble on it," declared Anne. "The house is surrounded by grounds and shut off from the road and from the river by big trees. There are no neighbors to overlook it and no servants there—not even a caretaker. Topp had someone looking after it for awhile but he got arrested for being drunk and disoriented and just locked everything up after that and left it. She said she was not going to let the damned place become a nuisance. So you see they could go there with a stock of provisions and remain indefinitely without their whereabouts becoming known here in town."

"Yes, I see," said Bigelow. "Even if Topp went into the village to shop, no one would think anything of it. Everybody about there knows that she owns the place, now. And it's quite comfortably furnished. The Hewitts left practically everything behind them."

"Where is this place?" asked Bigelow, trying to subdue his excitement. "On the Albany Post road just beyond Tarrytown. It takes about an hour to drive up there by car," Bigelow looked at his wrist-watch. "It's rather late," said Anne. "And it's not likely that anyone else has gone on the trail yet. We'd much better get a few hours sleep and make an early start in the morning."

"Right," he agreed, but he called the waiter and settled his bill. As they went out, Karasnakoff waved to them from her table. She was in a sea-green frock, cut high at the neck and with long sleeves. On one shoulder, she had a trailing spray of yellow and green orchids. She looked exotic and arresting, and Woody was leaning across the table toward her, completely fascinated. Karasnakoff was laughing. . . .

Bigelow's shadow trails him as he starts for Westchester with Anne, tomorrow. . . .

LEGISLATIVE CHAFF and CHATTER

Raleigh, Feb. 3.—Admitting himself none too well informed on the Tobacco Compact bill, but ready to support the committee which had considered the matter, Representative J. C. Hobbs, New Haven described his position by relating a story sometimes attributed to "Uncle Joe" Cannon, one-time Chief of the House, when he was mentioned for the Republican nomination for president.

As Uncle Joe used to tell it he was returning from a big frolic in a North Carolina country town and was full of something more liquid than jollity, when he came upon a rattlesnake coiled and about to strike. He regarded the reptile for a split-second, refused to move back one step and snarled: "Go ahead, damn you, I'm about as well fixed for you now as I'll ever be."

Among those galleryites who heard the Tobacco Compact argument not the least attentive were members of the Sunday School class of the Fuquay Springs Baptist church. Special "privileges of the gallery" were accorded the class by Speaker Gregg Cherry.

Many think that the veteran "Pete" Murphy was having his little joke when he asked that the entire Compact Bill, a measure of some 24 printed pages, be read. The Salisbury colon made his request, then returned to the space behind the speaker's stand as the clerk began to intone the bill. Representative Ernest Gardner, Salisbury, came to the rescue of the House with a motion to dispense with reading of the bill. Needless to say, the motion prevailed.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold Millions have found in Calotabs the most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough with the most powerful germicidal ingredients, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.
Last evening at their home on Dickinson Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown were honored at a beautifully appointed dinner given by their children in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The table was centered with an artistic arrangement of tallman roses and a miniature bride and groom. For the dessert course a gold and white wedding cake bearing the inscription "Fiftieth Anniversary" The bride of fifty years ago sat the cake.

Miss Carolyn Hamric and Billy Tolson served the tempting course dinner.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. W. H. Tolson, Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Watts, Miss Lila Watts, Lawrence Watts, Jr., M. and Mrs. J. Key Brown, Dr. and Mrs. James Brown, Jr., Harry Brown, Dr. W. M. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown, Miss Bessie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Brown and Dr. J. C. Greene.

Throughout the day friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brown called to extend best wishes. They also received numbers of telegrams, phone calls and lovely gifts.

Mrs. Brown wore a most becoming gown of black velvet.
Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married on February 2nd, 1887.

Speaks to Students.
"Stand on Thy Feet" was the subject of a most inspiring talk made to the college students by Rev. R. C. Grady yesterday morning during the Assembly hour. He showed how these words of Paul might be applied in two situations, the first, according to the way we use our time, and the second, the way in which we take criticism. He divided criticism into two classes, constructive, which has the sole purpose of building up one's character, and destructive, which tends to tear down and is given out of envy. To illustrate the point that most criticism is irresponsible, Mr. Grady quoted some lines from Abraham Lincoln showing that whether anything turns out all right or if it turns out all wrong, there is nothing that can be done to change it, so all one can do is to do his best and not worry over the critics.

At College Friday.
The ever-popular comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," is the play that will be presented by the Rocky Mount Little Theatre Players in Austin auditorium at the College Friday night of this week, at 8:30 o'clock. This was one of their most successful productions last season.

Rocky Mount has had a little theatre for over ten years, which is one of the oldest little theatre groups in North Carolina. For many years the group was known as the Little Theatre Guild, but a few years ago the name was changed to The Little Theatre Players.

The Players operate on a season subscription basis, giving four subscription performances in their home town each year. However, their activity is not limited to these main productions. Many skits are given before civic and women's clubs, and at the regular meetings, experimental productions and readings are given. Original play production is also encouraged, and this year members of the group have submitted several plays in the dramatic competitions sponsored by the Carolina Dramatic Association at Chapel Hill.

Sometimes they give performance of their most successful production in other towns. They have appeared twice at the College, one time giving a performance of "The Swan." Their performance of "She Stoops to Conquer," one of the greatest comedies of all times, is said to be excellent.

FAVOR CHANGE OF ROAD BODY

Highway Reorganization Bill Due Any Day Now
Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Feb. 3.—The bill being drawn by the joint committees on roads as a substitute bill for the one introduced by Senator J. C. Pittman of Lee county is rapidly nearing completion and should be introduced almost any day now, according to reports here today.

The bill will provide for a sweeping reorganization of the State Highway and Public Works Commission on a district basis and probably call for a commission composed of ten members and a chairman from the state at large.

It is generally agreed that this committee substitute will be the "administration bill" and have the full support of Governor Clyde R. Hoey. It is known that the chairman of the roads committee—Representative Con C. Johnston in the house and Senator S. Gilmer Sparger in the senate—have held several conferences recently with Governor Hoey and that the bill when completed will pretty generally conform with the Governor's ideas.

The opinion in most political circles here is that the bill, if enacted, will mean walking papers for most, if not all of the members of the present highway commission, with the exception of Chairman Capus M. Waynick.

A good many think the intention of the bill is to wipe the slate clean and bring about a completely new deal with a new deck which would mean that Waynick would go along with the other members of the commission. But the belief of a number of the older heads here including some known to be very close to Governor Hoey, is that the bill is designed more to save Waynick and smooth the way for his reappointment as chairman of the highway commission, than to put the skids under him.

Accordingly, the belief is growing in many quarters that a new set of highway commission members will result, but that Governor Hoey will retain Waynick as chairman.

There are several reasons for this belief. One of the foremost is that the administration of the highway department, which includes the prison department with a turnover of 17,500 prisoners yearly, is probably the biggest job in the state government today and one which requires more business and administrative ability than any other.

It also requires intimate and detailed knowledge of the state's 58,000 miles of highways—enough to run twice around the world and from Raleigh to Japan on the third lap—the ability to make quick decisions and to handle men. At the present time, the highway department has approximately 10,000 employees and the chairman and members of the commission supervise the expenditure of about $30,000,000 a year, including Federal as well as state funds.

In other words, the chairman of the highway commission is similar to the president of $200,000,000 corporation employing about 10,000 people and spending between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 a year, while the members of the commission correspond to the members of the board of directors.

The stockholders of big corporations do not change their presidents and executives every four years and do not put in inexperienced men as presidents, but select able, experienced men and then keep them in as long as they operate the business successfully.

Accordingly, the belief is growing that Governor Hoey is going to keep Waynick as chief executive of the highway commission, although he is expected to give him a new board of directors consisting of ten members, largely because of Waynick's experience, his familiarity with the state's highway problems and set-up and because of his acknowledged efficiency and ability, despite the fact that many of the highway contractors, machinery and materials men and a good many politicians are opposed to him.

Many believe that the very nature of most of the opposition to Waynick is one of the best reasons Governor Hoey could have for retaining him as chairman. Others point out that it would be folly to put in an entirely new commission, also a new chairman, none of whom had had any previous experience in administering highway matters—and they frankly do not believe Governor Hoey is dumb enough to do anything like that.

Accordingly more and more here are of the opinion that if the highway commission is reorganized on a district basis, with ten district commissioners and a chairman from the state at large, that much of the opposition and dissatisfaction with the present commission will be eliminated.

ANTI-COLD RECIPE IS GIVEN BY PROFESSOR
Urbana, Ill. (AP)—To fight a cold eat fruits, vegetables, butter, egg yolk and milk, says Miss Harriet Barto, assistant professor of dietetics at the University of Illinois.

She says tests on college students show that a liberal amount of vitamin A included in the diet through use of butter, cream, egg yolk, whole milk, fruits, fruit juices, green and yellow vegetables and fish liver oils definitely shortened the duration of colds in some cases.

PARKING LOT INDEX TO PROSPERITY
Granite City, Ill. (AP)—An automobile parking lot is an infallible index of prosperity to Christ Bechtel, an employe of a steel company here.

"After the crash in 1929 cars began disappearing by the dozen," Bechtel said. "From 1932 to 1934 there weren't a hundred cars a day in the lot here. In many cases five or ten workers sold their automobiles and bought a second-hand truck, co-operating on running expenses."
"Now look at the lot. There's not enough room to park a bicycle and you'll lock a long time to find a car that's more than three years old."

HOLD CONTROL BEEN SUCCESS

New Hanover Officials Deny Increase in Bootlegging
Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Feb. 2.—Stung by widely publicized statement of the Reverend Arthur J. Berton that bootlegging has increased in New Hanover since opening of the county ABC stores, officials of the city of Wilmington and county of New Hanover have hastened to deny in whole and in part assertions of the Wilmington minister.

Chairman Addison Hewitt, of the board of county commissioners and a lifelong dry both in personal habit and public record, openly declares that the county system has been a success.

"I think the operation of ABC stores in New Hanover has been a success. We certainly had liquor before and we have it now, but we do not have the numerous dives there were to be found scattered around over the county," he said.

There has been no increase in drunkenness and I am sure that bootlegging has been materially reduced and is confined to small operators who are doing a re-sale business."

In the opinion of Chief of Police J. S. Lane, who cites statistics to prove his statement, conditions in Wilmington are materially better.

"Arrests on account of bootlegging decreased from 201 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, which was the last year prior to opening of the liquor stores, to 112 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936," he said.

"There is every evidence that bootlegging has decreased fifty per cent at least and I would say there has been a one hundred per cent decrease in the operation of speakeasies.

"In my opinion conditions, so far as liquor is concerned, have greatly improved since the Alcoholic Beverage Control system has been in operation."

Sheriff C. David Jones, of New Hanover feels the same way about conditions in the county.

"I wish to state personally and as sheriff of New Hanover county that the liquor situation has improved materially in respect to the manufacture and sale of illegal liquor since the opening of the A. B. C. stores in this county," he said.

"I find that the officers are getting more cooperation from the general public in enforcement of the law. I am satisfied that court records will bear me out in this statement.

"Under the present setup there are three men deputized as officers and their duty is to run down liquor violators."

The officials said they would not have thought the matter of state-

HIGHS PRESSED TO WIN GAME

Defeat Rocky Mount After Two Extra Periods

In the most thrilling game played this season, the Green Phantoms of Greenville High School won their fourth straight victory in the Class A. Conference Basketball race...

Never was there more than two points separating the teams. The regulation game ended 14-14. A five minute extra period was required to settle the issue...

The ball went up in center, and the Greenies worked it under their coal where a jump ball was called between George Lautares and his man...

After two minutes of play had elapsed in this period, little Johnny Lautares again demonstrated his coolness under fire by grabbing a loose ball and dribbling through the whole Rocky Mount team...

The Green Phantoms have no home games for this week, but they go to Danville, Virginia, this coming Saturday to take on last year's Virginia state champions...

GRIM WATCH KEPT ON LEVEE SYSTEM PROTECTING CAIRO

(Continued from page one) High winds which had driven croppy waves against the valley's defense from Cairo to the Gulf of Mexico had subsided and engineers said, barring additional rains to stir the river into new fury, the flood waters would roll down the valley without the collapse of a single barrier.

Would allow all counties have whiskey (Continued from page one) Raleigh, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The house judiciary committee yesterday favorably reported a substitute liquor bill today providing for counties and cities to get all profits from county operated liquor stores.

The measure, explained to the committee by Rep. Bryant of Durham, was substituted for the Hanford bill and provides for county referendum before stores may be set up in counties not having them. An unfavorable report was given the Hutchins bill calling for a state-wide referendum on prohibition.
