REFUSE RENEW FRANCHISE OF TELEPHONE CO.

City Aldermen And Carolina Company Unable Agree

BOARD IN FAVOR COLLECTING TAX

Contract Offered By Phone Company Declared Unsatisfactory by Aldermen

Possibilities of negotiations on the part of Greenville officials with telephone companies other than the Carolina which now operates here, or even probability of establishing a city-operated exchange were seen here today as no solution appeared near in the controversy between the Carolina company and the Board of Aldermen.

Before leaving here for Raleigh this morning, Mayor M. K. Blount said that a number of North Carolina towns own their own exchange, and added "it is probable that unless the telephone company is willing to accept the terms offered by Greenville that efforts will be made to negotiate with other telephone companies or the probability of establishing its own exchange considered."

Several months ago the Carolina company took up with the Board of Aldermen the question of renewal of its franchise, which expired three years ago after having been in operation for 30 years.

Since that time the company has been operating in the city without a franchise or agreement. Under the old franchise the city received three free telephones in consideration for execution of the contract. Since expiration of the franchise the town has been paying, until recently, for additional telephones.

Under the new franchise the telephone company offered 15 free telephones, the mayor said, calling attention that the new contract was asked for 30 years duration.

The Board of Aldermen, after discussing the matter on several occasions with telephone officials, Mayor Blount said, "is of the opinion that in consideration of permitting the telephone company to use its streets, over ground and under ground, for telephone cables that a reasonable payment therefor should be one per cent of the gross receipts of the telephone exchange in Greenville and in addition there to one telephone for each 100 subscribers in Greenville.

"We feel that this is a public utility and the telephone company can well afford from its profits made to pay the town the amount requested," he declared.

It was pointed out by the mayor that in some states the towns are permitted to levy a tax on telephone companies, but in North Carolina the state does not permit this at the present time. Measures providing for the levying of such a tax probably will be introduced in the present session of the legislature, it was understood.

"Surely a portion of the tax collected by the state, which is six per cent on the gross receipts of all telephone companies, should be divided or a portion thereof allocated to the towns in which telephone exchanges are located," Mayor Blount declared.

Dr. Fountain Dies Of Heart Attack in N. Y.

Word was received here today of the death of Dr. William J. Fountain, 66, who succumbed to a heart attack this morning in New York at the home of his son, with whom he has been living for the past two years.

Formerly of Tarboro, Dr. Fountain was at one time a resident of this city and served as coroner. He retired from active medical practice when he went to New York about two years ago to live with his son, William J. Fountain, Jr.

Details of services were not known here, but a telegram received by Mrs. Scott Galloway said burial would be in Leggett's tomorrow.

Warnings Mailed Buy City License Plates

Letters will be mailed this afternoon to automobile owners living in the city who have not purchased their new city tags, it was announced at the clerk's office, and if no attention is paid to the warnings warrants will be issued.

To date 1,221 plates have been purchased, compared with a total of 1,442 in 1936. City officials declare that there are too many lags and if stern steps have to be taken to force them to purchase the tags, such means will be taken.

FIRING SQUADS TAKE BIG TOLL

All Ethiopians Found With Arms in Homes 'Liquidated'

Rome, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Italian conquerors of Ethiopia announced in a terse, official communique today firing squads had "liquidated" all Ethiopians found with arms in their homes—a grim sequel to an attempt to assassinate Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani in Addis Ababa.

The communique did not say how many persons had been shot but unofficial sources estimated the total at upwards of 100.

It was announced formally, but vaguely that of the 2,000 suspects held "some hundreds" had been liberated.

Only Slight Damage in Automobile Blaze

An automobile fire at a Girl filling station at the corner of Fourth and Washington street this afternoon caused only slight damage, Fire Chief George Gardner said.

The alarm came in at 1:15. The fire was said by Chief Gardner to have been started as a result of gasoline left on the motor after it had been cleaned with the fluid. The vehicle caught when the motor was started.

Hoey Favors Erection Of Break-Proof Prison Camp

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 23.—Plans for the building of an escape-proof prison camp in North Carolina which will be as difficult to break out of as is the Federal prison on Alcatraz island in San Francisco bay, are being pushed here as a result of the escape of seven of the state's most dangerous convicts from Caladonia Prison Farm last week.

Governor Clyde R. Hoey today revealed that plans for the building of such a prison camp or unit are under consideration and gave his approval to the proposal. He pointed out that there are a number of very dangerous and vicious criminals in the state prison system which must be kept confined, preferably at hard labor, and that the present facilities in the prison system are not adequate.

"I have not gone into the matter as thoroughly yet as I intend to, but I feel convinced that North Carolina needs a special unit or prison camp for the confinement of the worst type of criminals and from which escape will be virtually impossible," Governor Hoey said.

FINAL SENATE VOTE NEAR ON REVENUE BILL

Measure Approved by Upper Branch On Second Reading

BILL ATTACKED AS 'DAMNABLE'

Sen. Halstead Lashes Out Against Act, But Fails to Offer Substitute

Raleigh, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The senate debated again, then passed on second reading today the $76,000,000 general fund biennial revenue bill.

Rep. Thomas of Harnett gave the house a bill to abolish Lee county and annex it to Harnett.

Senators voted 41 to 2 to approve the tax measure and prepare it for final reading tomorrow so it can be returned to the house and the recessed to take up the $145,000,000 appropriations bill this afternoon.

Halstead of Camden made a vigorous attack on the tax measure, saying he could never "vote for a bill as damnable to the business interests of the state as this."

He attacked the three per cent sales tax with basic food exempted, but did not offer his two per cent exemptionless measure.

The Thomas bill would repeal a 1907 law creating Lee county. The measure would make Lee county become "Lee township" of Harnett county.

Committees worked unusually hard and local fights occupied attentions before them and on the house floor.

House judiciary committee number one appointed a sub committee, including Rep. Paylor of Pitt, to redraft the Harnett bill proposing to legalize liquor making in the state. The county option liquor bill, ending 38 dry years in the state, was ratified into law last night.

WAR RAGES BY LAND AND AIR

Insurgents Drive To Separate Valencia and Barcelona

(By Associated Press) Spanish Insurgents battered away by land and air today in a drive to separate Valencia and Barcelona, temporary capital, and Barcelona.

Planes dropped incendiary bombs on Valencia while ground forces fought their way to Viver. Only 20 miles northwest of the present seat of government.

Madrid defenders attacked to the northwest and west of the city while the Insurgent Aragon campaign went forward. Fighting was violent in two sectors on the Madrid front and government guns were reported sweeping other Insurgent lines in the area.

Insurgent in Avila believed the Madrid radio station had been damaged by bombs. It suddenly ceased broadcasting today.

General Quiro de Llano, southern Insurgent commander, broadcast a "personal conviction" Madrid would fall March 2.

James Jones, Negro, was given an eight months' term on the roads on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Prayer for judgment was continued in the case charging Enoch Smith with assault with a deadly weapon, but judgment was not passed immediately on Robert Harrington and Charlie Barrett, charged jointly with Smith. The defendants were Negroes.

Officials Of City Prepare Bill For Extending Limits

Proposal To Be Sent To Delegation In General Assembly For Action By State Legislature

The city clerk, engineer and stenographer were busy today preparing a bill for submission in the General Assembly now in session at Raleigh to extend the Greenville city limits.

The bill is being written and will be checked by the engineer to see that it includes all the new territory proposed in a resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen recently. As soon as it is completed it will be forwarded to the Pitt county delegation in the legislature for introduction.

The proposed extension will take in the territory east of the city to a point about half way from the present limits to the cemetery. The extension will run southward to include part of the "Bama" south of the Norfolk-Southern railroad, tobacco storage plants, the Greenville Oil and Fertilizer plant, the slaughter house, the cotton mill and territory as far west as the Seve-U filling station. Dropping back to the road in front of the old fair grounds, the new limits running northward will take in territory of the city to a point beyond the new Negro school on West Fifth street.

"Two things are needed in dealing with the hardened, dangerous criminals in the prison system, and of which the number is steadily increasing," Wayne said. "One is a prison unit of maximum security, where no visitors will ever be allowed."

Zinc and lead concentrates valued at $17,000,000 were produced in 1936 in the tri-state mining district—Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma—as compared to approximately $13,000,000 worth in 1935.

HOUSE PLACES COURT ROW IN SENATE'S LAP

Lower Branch Leaders to Await Developments

CAPITAL MOURNS DEATH OF SOLON

House Adjourns Early Out of Respect For Appropriations Committee Head

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Initiative in considering President Roosevelt's court reorganization program was left up to the senate today.

House Democratic leaders said after a White House conference they would await senate developments before taking up the program. Senate committee hearings have been set for March 9.

Speaker Bandhead said if those were prolonged the house judiciary committee might start hearings before the senate group finished.

At the conference, besides Bandhead, were Representatives Rayburn and Sumners of Texas and Boland of Pennsylvania, all Democratic mainstays in the house.

House members mourned today the death last night of an 87-year-old administration leader—73-year-old Chairman James Buchanan (D-Tex.) of the appropriations committee. Succeeding him as head of the group, which passes on administration requests for funds, is Representative Edward Taylor (D-Colo.) at 78, the oldest man in the house.

The house adjourned early out of respect to Buchanan. Main business on the senate docket was the administration's reciprocal trade policy extension, which some members have tried to tie up closely with neutrality proposals.

The senate civil liberties committee heard a United Automobile Workers organizer put blame for a riot at Flint, Mich., during the recent General Motors sit-down strike on the "Flint alliance and Flint police," he charged the two agencies committed provocative acts.

Sit-down strikers held six other Detroit factories while another, the Michigan steel casting company, closed when 200 workers decided to ask for higher wages and a 40-hour week.

Questions involving wages, seniority rights, piece work and speed of production remained for consideration as negotiators for General Motors corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America started their second week of conferences.

Officials of Chrysler corporation had no comment to make on the U. A. W. A. announcement that it would demand the right to be the sole bargaining agency for the firm's employees.

FLOGGING CASE TRIED IN COURT

Two Men Hailed In Columbus County Recorder's Court

Whiteville, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Will Inman and Jesse Cox testified at Columbus county recorder's court here today they were abducted and flogged by a band of hooded men last Transylvania night as the Rev. Vance Simmons and Grafied Simmons, distant cousins, pleaded not guilty to participating in the floggings.

Before the pleas were entered the defendants asked that the trial be transferred to Brunswick county and then asked a postponement of the trial. Recorder Joe Brown, denied both motions.

Inman, who previously had told officers how he was abducted and flogged, related his story in detail today.

Tobacco Compacts Bill Tied To Court Proposal

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Feb. 23.—It may seem a far cry, but to many the fate of tobacco compacts legislation and tobacco control in general now appears to be all bound up with President Roosevelt's proposal to increase the Supreme Court membership from nine to fifteen.

This comes about from the fact that there now seems to be the earliest chance for cooperation between the tobacco-growing states in compact legislation and from the further fact that the Supreme court as presently constituted has already ruled that the Federal government has no proper sphere of action in the premises.

Hence it now appears that unless there is reorganization of the court, there will be no chance for federal legislation which would stand up, and if further appears that there must be federal legislation or there will be no tobacco control.

Inasmuch as most farm experts are agreed that there must be tobacco control or the farmers will face ruin, there seems to be every incentive for the tobacco farmers

PICK JURY IN MURDER TRIAL

Edgar Smoak Goes On Trial For Murdering Daughter

Whiteville, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A jury was quickly picked today to try Edgar Smoak, accused multiple insurance plot poisoner, on a charge of murdering his 16 year old daughter, Annie Thelma.

Although a special venire of 200 had been called for jury duty, the regular panel of 37 was not exhausted when the 13th juror was chosen a few minutes before noon.

Wilmington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The process of picking 12 men to try Edgar Smoak on a charge of murdering his 16-year-old daughter, Annie Thelma, began in superior court here today.

Even as the carpenter's helper went on trial for his life, a few feet beyond the packed court room the grand jury was closeted in an ante chamber weighing another murder indictment against the 39-year-old defendant.

Selector John Burney asked the grand jury to indict Smoak also on a charge of poisoning his second wife, Mrs. Alice Mason Smoak, died in July, 1935, a year and a half before the death of the young high school girl.

The heavy set, youthful prosecutor disclosed he did not plan, however, to try Smoak on the charge of killing his wife if he obtains a conviction on the first indictment.

Burney said Smoak had $1,000 insurance policies on the lives of both his second wife and his daughter, as well as on the life of the first Mrs. Smoak, who died in 1922, and on Mrs. Bertha Stuart, to whom Burney attributed a statement Smoak also tried to poison her.

RACE IN ARMS DENOUNCED BY UNITED STATES

INTIMIDATION IN BULLITT ADDRESS

Ambassador Says Possibility That United States May Be Driven to War

Paris, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Both the French foreign office and the United States embassy today discounted some French predictions that a Monday speech of Ambassador William C. Bullitt presaged major Franco-American moves to reduce trade barriers and further world disarmament.

Bullitt's speech last night at a Washington's birthday banquet was interpreted by usually well informed diplomatic sources as a virtual indication by President Roosevelt of a new international policy as a result of Germany's rejection of French and British overtures of economic peace.

These quarters speculated on the possibility the statement of American policy might be followed by American, British and French proposals for economic collaboration with Germany.

But such a proposal bringing the United States into the European settlement, would be based on a strict and agreed agreement with the Reich, these reports said, for collaboration in a general arms limitation program and lowering of trade barriers to consolidate peace.

"We are entirely aware," the ambassador said, "that there is always some possibility some nation might be sufficiently reckless to drive us into war."

Then Bullitt launched into the sharp criticism of the world armament race.

CLUB REVIEWS PAST HISTORY

Old Timers in Rotary Discuss Early Days of Club

By BILLY NISBET (Club Reporter)

In celebration of the 32nd anniversary of Rotary, which is today, Wyatt Brown and his committee composed of F. C. Harding and J. H. Blount called on several of the older members to give the younger members some memories of past days of the Greenville Rotary club, at their regular meeting last night. Sam White, in remembering the earlier days of the club, recalled that the club building was used as a community house, and more particularly was the center of the boys' work. He stressed the fact that the Greenville club had done great missionary work in the county by going out and holding meetings in various places before there were any other Rotary clubs in Pitt county. In this work, in his opinion, he stated, was sown the seed of Rotary.

Another good work he recalled was the farmers' nights which have created a good feeling toward Greenville and between those who live in Greenville and those who live outside.

Haywood Dail, in his humorous way, depicted the beginning of Rotary in Greenville. Four fellows went to a ball game, he said, and on their way back they realized the need of meeting together and the need of fellowship, so the Greenville club is the result of it today. These four were Paul Clodfelter, Alex Blaw, D. M. Clark and J. B. Kittrell. Recalling some of the hardship the Rotary club had in building their home, he gave credit to Jasper Winslow and Ralph Garrett for their work on the building committee; to Alex Blaw for his plan of financing the building through the Building and Loan association, and all the members for their work and financial assistance.

These old club members prepared the Rotary club for the enjoyment of the younger members of today, he said.

In Haywood's opinion, he accomplished two great things in his administration as president. The Rotary International President came here, and he swapped "Reddy" Clark for Fordy Harding.

In conclusion he declared that during the depression he had come to the club meetings in low spirits, but after meeting with such a fine group he went forth with new determination. Then he realized that Rotary was really worth while.

Fordy Harding presented to the club a brief sketch of the history of Rotary; the beginning of Rotary at Chicago by Paul Harris in 1905; its leap to San Francisco in 1906 when the second club was formed; and its development into an international organization by the forming of a club at Winnipeg, Canada, in 1910.

In presenting the International aspect he emphasized the fact that Rotary passed first from the United States into Canada because there is a close identity or unity between the man of the United States and the man of Canada. Canada, then, was the first link between the United States and the outside world.

With over 4,200 clubs in the world and with Rotary in 83 different nations, he reasoned that there was something—not a political organization, not a religious organization, not an international organization—that could unite the world. Recalling the meeting of two South American representatives on the stage and their shaking hands at an International Convention, he realized that Rotary could and would ultimately become a means of world peace.

Judson Blount, in charge of the musical program, presented Misses Helen Sawyer, Eoline Sawyer and Mary Hoover Boyd, accompanied by Miss Ona Shindler, and they rendered two delightful numbers, "God Touched a Rose" and "Working on the Railroad."

President Kittrell called the attention of the club to the fact that there were five charter members still in the club: Jasper Winslow, Haywood Dail, Claud Gaskins, Lawrence Stroud and J. B. Kittrell. He also pointed out that there are now four Rotary clubs in Pitt county: Bethel, Farmville, Ayden and Greenville.

Wayland J. Sermons was presented as a new member to the club, and T. C. Bryan, member of the High School faculty, was a guest of the club.

Billy Nisbet won the booster attendance prize given by A. B. Stallworth.

PENSIONS FOR TEACHERS OUT

Lack of Funds Expected to Prevent Passage of Plan

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, Feb. 23.—Lack of funds is expected to prevent the enactment of the bill to provide pensions and retirement pay for public school teachers and all teachers in state educational institutions, provided the bill ever gets out of committee, according to those who are already studying the bill in an effort to find out how much it would cost the state, as well as the teachers.

The bill introduced in the House Saturday by Representative R. E. Sentelle of Brunswick county, is now before the house committee on education. But if reported out of this committee, it will then have to go to the joint finance committee, where it is regarded as almost certain to meet defeat.

For the bill as now written would cost the state anywhere from $1,250,000 a year up and likewise cost the school teachers and instructors in state educational institutions an equal amount. The bill, if enacted into law, would require every school teacher and instructor in a state educational institution to pay in 5 per cent of his or her salary each year into the retirement fund and would also require the state, as their employer, to pay in an equal or even greater amount each year, in order to build up the fund from which retirement wages and pensions would be paid when teachers reach retirement age at 60 or 65. The bill is similar to the Federal old age benefits law, with the exception that the Federal law requires deductions of only one per cent a month from wages, with the employers paying a similar amount, while this bill would require reductions of 5 per cent from teachers' salaries as they are now getting, plus the retirement and old age pensions plan. But most observers believe the teachers would rather have the 10 per cent increase in salaries than the pension and retirement plan, if they cannot have both and agree that there is virtually no chance of their getting both.

The finance committee, however, have already served notice that they have raised all the revenue they can find, while Chairman Victor S. Bryant of the house finance committee and Chairman Libby Ward of the house appropriations committee, admitted that when the revenue and appropriations bills passed the house, they were about $650,000 out of balance. Since then, the senate has been experimenting with the revenue bill with the result that the revenue bill is more out of balance with the appropriations than when it was passed by the house. For instead of adding more revenue to the bill, the senate, has been reversing the procedure and removing it. Accordingly, the chances for finding $1,250,000 a year in additional revenue with which to finance a state pension system for teachers are not very bright, even though almost every one agrees such a pension system is desirable and would be a good thing.

About the only way such a pension system could be put into effect pointed out, would be for the teachers to agree to accept a 5 per cent increase in salaries, instead of 10 per cent as now proposed, and then use this 5 per cent increase in paying their share of the pensions and retirement premiums. This would leave them approximately the same

SOWS NEED PROTEIN TO FARROW HEALTHY PIGS

IN THEM DAYS, ARMY MEN WAS MEN

Stilwater, Okla. (AP)—Sows need plenty of protein in their feed to farrow healthy pigs, advised C. F. Thompson, swine specialist at Oklahoma A. and M. college.

Pigs born to sows with an adequate protein supply during pregnancy will weigh more and be more vigorous than those from sows whose rations are deficient in protein, Thompson says. Proper balancing of rations is more important than feeding large amounts, he adds.

First Church of Christ, Scientist
"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 21, 1937.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 3:5: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? Or who hath been his counselor? Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For to him, and through him, and to him, are all things; to whom be glory forever. Amen." (Romans 11:32-36.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "The time has come for a finite conception of the infinite and of a material body as the seat of mind to give place to a diviner sense of intelligence and its manifestations to the better understanding that Science gives of the Supreme Being, or divine principle, and idea." The American Association of University Women held a meeting this morning in the practice house of the high school to organize a series of meetings for the "Development of the Pre-School Child."

There were thirty present for the organization. Mrs. J. H. Rose, chairman of the Educational Department of the A. A. U. W., presided. Mrs. J. Picklen Arthur was named secretary and Mrs. Dink James, librarian.

The class will be taught by Miss Jessie Schnopp. At the meeting this morning Miss Schnopp outlined the course of study which includes ten lessons.

The class will meet in the economics apartment across from the high school on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock.

All interested persons are invited and urged to attend.

Rehearsals for "Tweedles"
Rehearsals are well under way for the Senior Normal play which will be presented on the night of March 12 at the college. The play is a delightful modern comedy, "Tweedles," by two of the most popular writers of this generation—the Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson.

The annual play by this class is a regular feature of the Winter term. Plays by the two senior classes of the Colleges are always included in the program sponsored by the entertainment committee.

The next attraction on the program, which is Miriam Winslow and her group of Dancers, will come on March 2.

A. A. U. W. Meet in Savannah
Mrs. Picklen Arthur, president of the Greenville branch, has announced the Tenth National Convention of the American Association of University Women, which will meet in Savannah, Ga., March 15-18.

The theme of the convention for this year is Education—the Foundation for Social Organization. Among the distinguished speakers who will appear on the program are Dr. Meta Glass, President of the American Association of University Women and President of Sweet Briar College; Dr. Kathryn McHale, General Director; Morse Cartwright, Director of the American Association for Adult Education; Dr. William G. Carr, Director of Research, Educational Policies Commission of the N. E. A.; Dr. Mary R. Beard, and others.

The convention will bring together representatives of the Association's 54,000 members, organized in 746 local branches throughout the United States, and in Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, China, Japan and Argentina. Education is the center of the Association's activities, and convention reports will include the story of the fight of local branches and state divisions on behalf of schools and libraries during the depression, and also a report of the Association's work in improving educational opportunities for women in colleges and universities, and securing equal recognition of women with men on faculties and in student bodies. A. A. U. W. members carry on an extensive study program, and in response to current interest in economic and governmental problems the Association has recently added a department in social studies. Other departments of study include educational standards and trends, child development and education for family life, international relations, and the arts.

The Association also provides opportunities for gifted women through the award of research fellowships, and the Savannah Convention will celebrate progress in raising a million dollar endowment for that purpose. Contributors bringing the endowment to over a third of that sum will be reported at the convention.

Skinner Keeps Plugging Against Authorized Measure

A Patriotic Privilege
The following item, written by Miss Arella Adams, Secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of North Carolina, will be of interest to members and the general public:

"If for no other reason than the two major purposes of the American Legion and its Auxiliary—Rehabilitation and Child Welfare—membership in these great patriotic organizations would be a great privilege.

"What is Rehabilitation? It is, in simple language, the act of re-instating. Upon this principle the American Legion Auxiliary is founded and it is our purpose to aid in the restoration to a more complete life in health, wealth, and happiness for every veteran of the World War, who still suffers the horrors of one of the most bestial conflicts in all history. Our rehabilitation program, we are delighted to say, is not confined to veterans only. The members of our organization join with all other service organizations in lending material and physical assistance to those so unfortunate as to be victims of the recent tragic flood.

"Cases come to our attention daily in which there is an urgent appeal for food, clothing and shelter for those families of veterans of the World War, some already having passed on, leaving their families in dire need. Why? Not because they had rather it be that way, but they had to pay the price of war with human life—some still lingering on beds of affliction in hospitals and in homes; therefore they are unable to provide for their loved ones. Child welfare, or the care of these families, is our great concern and our constant endeavor.

"This year as well as in all other years since the birth of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, concerted action is being exerted in the teaching of true Americanism; the enactment of laws which will lead toward peace-loving, law-abiding and healthful citizens; support and encouragement of educational institutions, development of a clearer understanding of foreign ideals and customs and promotion of international friendly relations in the name of Fidae; and seeking to stimulate a truer sense of duty in a patriotic devotion and service to God and country.

"Today the membership of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion Auxiliary is stronger in numbers than on any similar date during the past six years with 4,499 members of its 5,081 quota enrolled for 1937. The National organization is 17,992 stronger than on this same date of last year. Four hundred and twenty-two thousand women enlisted in the National organization of the American Legion Auxiliary in the year 1936, and if records are true that number will be exceeded in 1937. Consider for one moment the vast amount of good that can be accomplished by 422,000 women, active and loyally enrolled in this great service organization which is second to none of its kind in the world.

"To me, eligibility for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is a high privilege. Your eligibility and mine has been bought and paid for by some one dear to us. Then it is our sacred trust to 'catch the torch' which they have thrown and to 'carry on' unselfishly in our great 'Peace-Time Service Program.'

"The Post and Unit Officers' Conference of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of North Carolina, will be held in Salisbury March 21 and 22, at which time our National President of the Auxiliary, Mrs. O. W. Hahn, of Wayne, Nebraska, will visit our department."

BUICK RESUMES OUTPUT AFTER DELAY BY STRIKE
The Buick division of General Motors resumed output of automobiles Wednesday, February 17, and was expected to be in full production shortly thereafter, according to word received today by Folger Buick Co. Inc., Buick dealer here, from Harlow H. Curtice, Buick president.

After 45 days of idleness as a result of the automobile strike, the average mill worker and tenant farmer has about $50 worth of property. He says, "Let that be exempt, but make everybody list and pay on personal property above that value."

"He points out that the man who owns about $200 worth of personal property would pay about $2.00 tax if there were no exemption. This wouldn't hurt any individual to any noticeable extent, but in the aggregate would add many millions to the state's taxable values.

He favors an exemption of $50 at most, in the belief that this would cover the case of practically all those who are really unable to afford to pay any personal property tax at all.

"Whenever they go to list their taxes, it is easy for them to say their personal property is worth 'just about $300,' when it may in fact be worth many times that much," he believes.

Every $100 cut off the exemption would add $20,000,000 to the tax values of the counties of the state, he says, pointing out that the tax yield on this sum would enable many counties to meet their budgets without resorting to what he says is the almost universal practice of evading the constitutional limit which holds general purpose levies to 15 cents.

He doesn't feel that last November's vote for the amendment was a mandate to the legislature to give the full exemption, or any part of it for that matter.

The tall, earnest former chairman of the Warren county board feels that these exemptions are the greatest handicaps to real tax relief for North Carolina's citizens.

He has it all figured out that if the legislature should exempt homesteads up to the full $1,000 allowed by the amendment county tax values would be cut by approximately twenty-five per cent. The result would be a tremendous hike in tax rates all over the state.

He cited Brunswick county as an extreme example, declaring that to give a $1,000 exemption would cut the taxable values of the county from $4,500,000 to approximately $1,500,000. Other counties would suffer almost, though not quite, as much.

On the subject of the personal property exemption he is just as positive in his opinion. He feels, and says so at every opportunity, that the $300 allowed free of taxes is an open invitation to deceit by the tax payers.

"The average mill worker and tenant farmer has about $50 worth of property. He says, 'Let that be exempt, but make everybody list and pay on personal property above that value.'

"He points out that the man who owns about $200 worth of personal property would pay about $2.00 tax if there were no exemption. This wouldn't hurt any individual to any noticeable extent, but in the aggregate would add many millions to the state's taxable values.

WHAT IS A NECESSITY

If it wasn't such a serious matter the action of the legislature in setting forth the necessities to be exempted from the sales tax would be a good laugh. Coffee is considered a necessity and is exempt from the tax, but those who prefer tea to coffee find that their tea bears sales tax. A suit of clothes or a pair of shoes are neither necessities according to the revenue bill and must bear the sales tax. Under the building material section of the sales tax, crushed stone is a necessity for building purposes and is not taxed, but the cement used to hold the stone together is not a necessity and is therefore subject to the tax. Likewise, according to the legislature, window glass and mill work are not necessities in the construction of a building, for these items are subject to the tax.

From the start we have been opposed to the sales tax and still oppose this form of taxation, but if the state must have this form of taxation in order to balance the budget, then why not stop all this nonsense about defining necessities and pass a flat two per cent sales tax measure without exemptions? Of course the Democratic platform in the last campaign promised that the sales tax would be removed from all necessities and there are some party stalwarts who insist that something must be exempted in order to live up to the platform, but in its present form the revenue bill is a far cry from fulfilling the provisions of the platform, and we believe that the flat sales tax reduced to two percent would be far more acceptable to the people of this state.

lowed and where the prisoners will never be taken outside the enclosure, thus making it impossible for any one to smuggle guns in to them and making it impossible for them to try to get away.
The second thing needed is plenty of hard work for them to do inside the prison enclosure. At Calsonia Farm we have the hard work, but it is outside the prison enclosure, this more or less inviting escapes such as took place last week. At Central Prison we have the maximum safety in the cell blocks, but we do not have anything for the prisoners to do—and these hard boiled convicts need to have hard labor to do and lots of it. That is why we are more and more inclined to believe that the construction of an extra-safe, maximum security prison camp on the rock quarry property would be just the thing for these long-term, hardened criminals.
The chance for escape could be reduced to almost zero and we could keep them at work—hard work—all the time without having to take them outside the enclosure.

Chapter 43 The Letters Come Back

ANNE and Bigelow did not speak again until it was necessary to drop back into a trot....

"Of course you've heard nothing more from Karanako?" she asked then.

"No, nothing more."

"I was longing to call her up this morning when I called you," said Anne, "only I simply couldn't waken her, knowing the hectic night she had last night."

"Why did you want to call her up?"

"To find out what chance there is of Hagedorn's trapping her. I mean—whether anyone in the hotel is likely to remember seeing her go out again that night."

"I should think that is almost certain," said Bigelow. "She must have used the elevator."

"But that particular elevator boy may not still be employed there... mean, we just learned yesterday that she was the woman in the mink coat, but she has known it all along. And she's clever. She has had time to think about covering her movements that night...."

"You think she may have got rid of any inconvenient witnesses?"

"I should have tried to, if I had been in her place," said Anne.

"Yes," agreed Bigelow, "it's quite possible she did think of that."

"And another thing I want to ask her is whether there is any chance

"Well—my dears," she cried in greeting. "A most amazing thing has happened to me.... Breakfast, Walters, at once. Tell Cook to hurry!" she broke off to say, and watched Walters disappear through the door at the rear. "I don't understand it at all," she went on then. "And I could hardly wait to see what you make of it. Do go into the dining room. Or do you want to wash or anything first?"

Bigelow and Anne exchanged a laughing glance. "That can wait, Darling," responded Anne, "but it's quite clear your mystery can not! Now, then—out with it!"

"You left, you know, before the mail arrived," said Mrs. Phelps, seating herself at the head of the table.

"But when it came, there was a small package for me. And what do you suppose I found in it?"

"Tell me," said Anne grimly.

"Letters," said Mrs. Phelps.

"Letters—repeated Anne, startled. Bigelow stole an anxious glance from one to the other.

He had kept them all together, it seems, in a lacquered cabinet. And I've had them ever

Jack Oakie's College Gets "No Study" Plan

YOU can tell from the picture that Jack Oakie, radio and screen comedian, has just thought of a new way to increase enrollment at his mythical Oakie Doakie College.
"What we need is a new 'no study' plan," he says. And Miss Penny, his secretary, thinks that's just too, too wonderful.

More local prohibition bills have gone to their slaughter by House Judiciary Committee No. 1. Black Mountain and Swannanoa would be without beer or wine if Representative R. E. Finch had his way—but he probably will not, and they will.

Some faces in the highway patrol are exceedingly red now that there are persistent reports that three patrolmen passed the car carrying seven Caldonia escapees and three hostages on the highway between the prison farm and Weldon. The guardians of the law are said to have been overtaken with exceeding short sightedness.

On all sides, however, there has been a great deal of commendation for the business-like way in which Sheriff C. David Jones, of New Hanover, netted a pair of the get-aways who drifted down toward the sea.
Particular stress is laid upon his cool judgment in warning his men not to shoot to kill if the convicts did nothing more than try to run.

THEY turned over the horses to the groom and got into Anne's car.

"I believe I've got an appetite," observed Anne in tones of awe, "and for no reason in the world I'm feeling more cheerful than I have for a long time."

"Where are we going to breakfast?" asked Bigelow. "I'm feeling ravenous, myself."

"At home, I ordered waffles and sausages and hot rolls and plenty of coffee. But if that isn't enough, I'm sure they can do you some bacon and eggs, too, in no time."

"Sounds substantial enough," admitted Bigelow, grinning. "I'll come!"

Mrs. Phelps came rustling down the stairs to meet them as Walters admitted them. Her hair had already been done and she was wearing a luxurious house gown of orchid-colored stuff that trailed and billowed about her in the manner of a past era. But she looked exquisitely nice and fresh and comfortable in it.

Legislative Chaff and Chatter

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Feb. 23.—Friday's session of the House brought a bumper crop of bills introduced—so many of them, in fact, that most commentators (including this column) are just getting around to a real study of what they were all about.

"Pete" Murphy, of Rowan, handed up a bill declaring trustees of the University of North Carolina to be commissioners of public charity and as such, exempt from the prohibition again double office holding.

"Bob" Patton of Macon must have some sort of peeve against newspapers which have been publishing his county's tax sale advertising. He put in a bill prohibiting the county from paying more than 70 cents an inch for such ads, and providing that if papers refuse to accept them, then the list can be posted at the courthouse door with all the effect of publication.

Representative E. A. Raspberry, of Greene, wants all prison guards to wear uniforms. He introduced a bill providing for such uniforms and making it a misdemeanor for others to wear similar garb. At

Why Railroad Men Get Gray
Johnstonburg, Pa. (AP)—The train was just pulling away from the station, and the excited woman running down the platform screamed for it to stop.

WHAT TOP-RUN MEANS
This diagram of the whiskey distilling process shows how peak quality is secured by cutting off the run, with "heads" and the heavy "tails"—and taking only the top of the run to make Crab Orchard.

THERE'S good reason why the genial flavor of Crab Orchard lingers so pleasantly with you! It's TOP-RUN whiskey—distilled just the same as the costliest whiskeys. Now it's aged and mellowed a full 18 months. Kind to your system and your purse, Crab Orchard is your kind of whiskey!

SPEAKING for myself and 16,000 other Buick workmen—we're mighty glad to be back on the job! It's been tough to stand by, knowing how eager thousands of people were to get one of these great cars. And it's a grand feeling now to see the wheels turning and the line rolling, and to watch those big, handsome babies pouring out regular as clockwork! There's power in them, and style, and comfort—and when you see them made, like I do, you know they're packed with good, honest workmanship as well as top-notch engineering. We're proud of those Buicks, and the way you've taken to them, and we're going to get yours to you as quick as we can.

United Squirrels 'Take Revenge'
Philadelphia (AP) — Mrs. Earle Bryant returned to her Collingswood home after a day's absence and wondered whether it pays to be kind to animals.

Window sills were splintered, flower pots overturned and upholstery ripped.

Police said it was the work of squirrels accustomed to being fed by Mrs. Bryant daily in the back yard. When no food was offered, police surmised, the squirrels were tempted into the house and then chewed at window sills and scampered up draperies before they found that the chimney leads out as well as in.

Last High Game Of Year Tonight

The last high school basketball game to be played in the local gym this season is scheduled for tonight when the girls will meet their oldest rivals, the Washington team.

The boys played their last home game here last night, defeating the Danville quint.

The girls team has shown much improvement since early season play and at present holds one of the best teams in this section.

TITLE BATTLE DUE THURSDAY

Duke ad Carolina To Decide 'Big Five' Championship

Chapel Hill, N. C., Feb. 23.—University of North Carolina and Duke University will go into their State championship basketball game at Durham Thursday night on well-nigh even terms again.

The contest, second between these arch rivals this season, will close the 1937 hardwood campaign for both teams. Carolina copped the first affair at Chapel Hill two weeks ago, 41-35, in one of the most thrilling, hardest engagements of the winter. The Tar Heels swept away to a 36-12 lead at halftime and appeared headed for a decisive triumph, but the Dukes came from behind in the final stanza to practically wipe out the big margin. The White Phantoms staved off two courageous rallies toward the close to go one up on the Blue Devils in the 1937 cage series.

Prior to their first meeting, Duke had won 11 of 14 contests for a percentage of 322. Carolina's record showed 11 triumphs against three defeats for an average of 785. The Blue Devils held the edge in season's performances but the Tar Heels showed that past records mean little or nothing in Duke-Carolina games.

Now the dope indicates a slight advantage for the Tar Heels over the season period. Duke has annexed 15 victories against six setbacks for a percentage of 714 while Carolina has tallied 14 wins against four losses for a mark of 778. Coach Eddie Cameron's quint will be gunning for revenge and will be striving to duplicate the first Tar Heel performance. Duke will be advantaged somewhat by playing on its own court.

Both teams will be on the rebound. Washington and Lee's fast-moving Generals snapped a Tar Heel winning streak of 12 consecutive victories by beating Carolina, 23-19, at Lynchburg, Va., Saturday night. Duke has broken even two games with Washington and Lee

BATTLING FOR TERRY'S OLD JOB

If ability to get up in the air after the high ones decides who's to do the first basing for the New York Giants this season, it looks like Manager Bill Terry's old job might fall to John McCarthy (right), a rookie purchased from the Newark club. However, Sam Leslie (left), Terry's substitute for several seasons, is putting up a stiff fight for the assignment. They are shown working out at the Giants' camp in Havana. (Associated Press Photo)

After dropping consecutive battles to W. and L. Carolina and V. M. I., the Methodists apparently started on the comeback trail Saturday night by boxing out N. C. State in a spectacular overtime struggle, 36-33.

Carolina must defeat Duke to clinch the Big Five crown. A Duke victory would give the Tar Heels and Blue Devils joint ownership of the Big Five title.

Of course there are reports that the Atlantic Coast Line railroad has been fighting against compact laws in Georgia, but these reports have been officially denied and there is small reason to think that these efforts, even if made, were decisive.

The weak point of compact legislation by states lies in the invitation it holds out to other states, previously not in the tobacco-growing class, to get into the business on a large scale wherever the soil permits. No matter how many Natchez, Miss., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Mississippi river rolled its flood crests past Natchez toward the Gulf at diminished speed today, while an estimated 10,000 refugees driven from their lowland dwellings in Louisiana and Mississippi sought relief at highland stations.

Hundreds of workers remained on duty along the big river dikes, but there were no developments to indicate the barriers would fall. The 35-mile stretch of low levee in the Concordia Parish remained a scene of much activity as workers doubled efforts to fortify embankments between Point Breeze and Deer Point.
