100,000 IDLE AS RESULT OF AUTO STRIKES

Pontiac Truck and Coach Company Plant Closed

GENERAL MOTORS WORKERS BACK

Possibility of Sit-Down in Soft Coal Industry Faces Strike-Weary U. S.

Detroit, April 1.—(AP)—A sudden outbreak of strikes in General Motors plants that affected 18,400 men at its peak roared today as the company announced 7,300 men had returned to work in the Fisher body plant at Cleveland.

Off-setting that settlement, however, was a strike that closed the plant of the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company at Pontiac, Mich., this morning. The company, employing several thousand men, is not a General Motors unit, although partially owned by the corporation.

Also closed by strikes were the Fisher body plants at Pontiac and the Chevrolet Motor company's final assembly plant at Flint, Mich. Closed or partly closed because of strikes in other plants were the Pontiac Motor Company at Pontiac and the Fisher plant No. two at Flint.

About 17,400 men still were idle. Today's strike developments increased the number of car workers idle in Michigan to more than 100,000.

Four hundred thousand soft coal miners today commemorated installation of the eight-hour day, while an apprehensive strike-weary industrial world faced the possibility of another widespread strike.

Their leader, John Lewis, said unless operators capitulate to wage and hour proposals offered them in a new working contract there would be no resumption of bituminous mine operations tomorrow.

Negotiations between heads of the United Mine Workers and coal producers continued in New York in an effort to avert what would be the biggest industrial tie-up in the prolonged wave of strikes.

Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan asserted he would press "day and night" for solution to the Chrysler strike, affecting about 80,000 wage earners.

A strike, ostensibly planned to embrace 30,000 workers in San Francisco's bay district got underway today.

Closed Season On Fishing In Effect For Next 40 Days

Lake Mattamuskeet Exempted From Regulations to Provide Fishermen With Sole Opportunity

Followers of the sport of fishing—and there are a large number in Greenville and elsewhere in this section—will have to forego their pleasure for the next 40 days, during which time the closed season will be in effect.

Only one opportunity remains to continue fishing. State officials were notified yesterday by officials of the United States Biological Survey that Lake Mattamuskeet, federal migratory bird refuge in Hyde county, would not observe the closed season. This policy has been followed in preceding years.

Regulations regarding fishing were revealed today by Cecil R. Jones, local game and fish protector.

Seasons in the Eastern and Central counties vary somewhat from those in the Western counties. In this section the closed season will remain in effect until May 11, at which time fishermen again will be allowed to take to the streams until March 31, 1938.

Regulations also include size and bag limits. It is unlawful to take more than 15 trout of all species or a total of 75 of all species of fish in any one day.

Wayne Citizens Back Rawlings For Office

Raleigh, April 1.—Delegations continued to appear before Governor Hoey today to ask appointment of different persons for the new highway commission, which will take office about May 1.

Today 25 or more citizens from all parts of Wayne county requested the appointment of W. L. Rawlings, a Goldsboro banker, and a smaller group from Cumberland county requested selection of Benjamin Huske, Jr., Fayetteville insurance and hardware man.

Queen Of Beasts Under The Surgeon's Knife

"Dutchess," a seven-year-old carnival lion, underwent an emergency operation in Charlotte, N. C., because she ate too much meat—together with the canvas bags wrapped around the meat. Securely strapped and put to sleep with hypodermics, she scarcely flexed a muscle while veterinarians removed her stomach and retrieved the bags. Barring complications, "Dutchess" is expected to recover. (Associated Press Photo)

NEGRO ADMITS SERIOUS CRIME

Rushed To Asheville From Marion For Safe Keeping

Marion, N. C., April 1.—(AP)—McDowell County Sheriff Grady Nichols said today Mann Smith, 17, Negro, arrested here late last night, had confessed he criminally assaulted a 12-year-old West Marion white girl yesterday afternoon in a wooded section near the child's home.

The sheriff said the "situation looked bad" when he slipped the Negro out of the McDowell county jail and whisked him in an automobile to the jail at Asheville for safe keeping.

A large crowd gathered before the court house here shortly after midnight when the word went around officers had captured a suspect. A posse had searched a Negro section of town, known as "Blackbottom" throughout the early part of the night.

College Begins Work Following Vacation

While classes at the college began this morning the offices of both the registrar and treasurer are almost as crowded with students lined up for registration as they were yesterday, but in this one building whereas yesterday the entire staff was on duty and the moving line extended around all sides of the Robert H. Wright auditorium.

Definite figures would be changing so rapidly they will mean nothing until the rush is over, but the chances are that for every one that drops out a new student will drop in. The list of March graduates will be announced in a day or so.

Bailey Attack On Farley May Threaten Patronage

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, April 1.—The bitter attack made by Senator Josiah W. Bailey in his speech in Chapel Hill Tuesday night on Postmaster General Jim Farley, in the course of his speech defending his own position in opposition to the President's supreme court reorganization program, is causing much more interest here than the portion of the speech in which he defended himself and in which he maintained that he said "I have voted for the administration officer than the state has—nine administration measures have been passed by congress this year and I voted for every one of them."

In the course of his speech Senator Bailey also paid his respects to Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, who was the principal speaker at the "convict the record" second Victory Dinner here, following the "Sad Tydings" dinner at which Senator Tydings, who had been invited to make the address by Senator Bailey, made a speech regarded as a very thinly veiled attack upon the President and his court reorganization program.

"I am so cold in Ickes it would take four hundred million degrees of heat to make me feel him," Senator Bailey said.

Fire Destroys Cleaning Plant

The branch plant of College Cleaners, located at the intersection of Dickinson and Grand avenues was almost completely destroyed by fire shortly after noon today.

Fire Chief George Gardner said the blaze started in the boiler room when cleaning fluid caught fire and spread rapidly. No definite check on the loss was possible as a quantity of clothes, equipment and building were destroyed.

INQUIRY AIMED AT U. S. NAZIS

Proposed Inquiry Approved By House Rules Group

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—A proposal for an inquiry into un-American propaganda, aimed chiefly at a reported Fascist movement in this country, won today the approval of the House Rules committee.

It was put forward by Chairman Dickstein (D-N.Y.) of the House immigration committee, who said he could name 125 spies working in behalf of a Fascist state in America.

In his early testimony before the committee the New Yorker also asserted a Nazi army was being drilled in this country, complete with uniforms and swastika, and a Detroit, Fritz Kuhn, had an organization of 200,000 Nazi sympathizers.

The investigation proposal will go from the rules committee to the House for final determination.

Another committee, which recently had heard considerable testimony (Continued on page six)

GEDEON TAKEN TO SEE BODIES

Father and Husband of Victims Undergoes Questioning

New York, April 1.—(AP)—While police watched carefully the reactions, Joseph Gedeon was taken today to view the bodies of his artist model daughter, Veronica, and wife Mary, slain with a boarder, Frank Byrne, Easter morning in the triple murder on Beekman Hill.

Gedeon, upholsterer, who discovered the baffling crime, has been questioned almost continuously since District Attorney William Dodge announced yesterday police have a "definite suspect."

Captain William Reynolds, in charge of 50 detectives working on the case, said Gedeon "faced a charge of violating the anti-firearms law because of the finding of a revolver in the apartment where he lived near the home of his estranged wife and daughter.

Reynolds said detectives were ordered to accompany Gedeon to funeral services for the two women in the Roman Catholic church of St. Gregory, the great, this morning.

Plan Conduct Clinic In City Tomorrow

The regular monthly, State Orthopedic Clinic provided by the U. S. Children's Bureau and sponsored by the Greenville Rotary Club, will be held tomorrow at the offices of the Pitt County Health Department, 215 W. 3rd St., beginning at noon.

This clinic is conducted by Dr. Hugh A. Thompson, Orthopedist, of Raleigh.

This clinic serves not only Pitt County, but the counties of Beaufort, Hyde, Pamlico and Carteret, and all persons are eligible for a free examination, and those unable to pay for treatment will get free treatment, also.

It is desirable that patients be referred by their own physician.

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt County Health Officer, stated that the clinic is serving a large number of patients. The March clinic had the largest attendance of any so far, there having been 27 patients in attendance.

Alamance Co. Man Seeks Vote On Liquor

Burlington, April 1.—(AP)—Albert Pearson of Haw river said today he would circulate petitions asking the Alamance county commissioners to call an election on the establishment of whiskey stores.

LOYAL TROOPS PUSH PURSUIT OF INSURGENTS

Spanish Government Defenders Gain On Three Fronts

REVOLT PERSISTS IN REBEL RANKS

Italy and Germany Still Determined Not To Allow 'Bolshevization of Spain'

(By Associated Press) Spain's government troops pushed their pursuit of General Francisco Franco's insurgents on three widely separated fronts today.

After revolt, despite mass executions and arrests to crush them, were reported to have spread into new sections of insurgent-held Spain.

The counter revolt against the insurgents' leaders, first reported in Spanish Morocco, may have engulfed the key centers of Villa Dolid and Algira and even in Salamanca, seat of Franco's government.

The government disclosed smashing successes in drives against insurgents in the Guadalajara and Cordoba sectors and toward Franco's erstwhile headquarters, Burgos, North of Madrid.

But Franco's men gained ground in a new assault on the Bilbao sector of the Northern front. Insurgent airmen who bombed Durango, Southeast of Bilbao, killed 60 persons and injured 150.

Europe saw these repercussions: Both Italy and Germany apparently were still in agreement not to permit "bolshevization of Spain."

Mussolini, they said, remained confident the insurgents would win and for the time being would respect the European non-intervention agreement, but if the Spanish government continued to receive foreign aid, Italy "stands ready to reassume full liberty of action."

Grand Jury 'Strike' Criticized By Judge

San Francisco, April 1.—(AP)—A "sit-down" strike of a grand jury paying into the city treasury was paid $1,000,000 annually to protect vice and gambling was answered today by summary dismissal.

"Neither this jury nor any other can sit down on the public interest of San Francisco," superior court Judge George Steiner was quoted as saying in a story copyrighted by the Chronicle.

"I believe the jury has destroyed public confidence in the outcome of the current proceedings by inexplicable and unjust bickering and continued refusal to act on its own terms."

India Prepared For Any Serious Disorder

Calcutta, Ind., April 1.—(AP)—Confident of a swiftly spreading general strike, India's vast corps of police and army was held in tense readiness today to put down any violent opposition to the birth of constitutional semi-home rule for 11 legislative provinces.

Suspect Released In Mattson Kidnapping

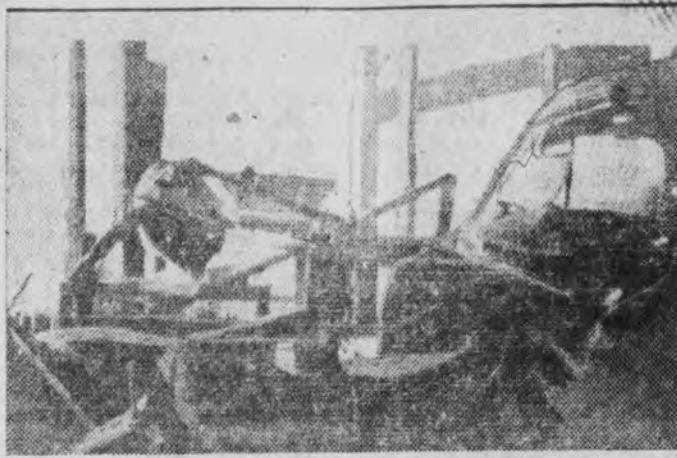

Tucson, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—Sheriff Fred White said today he had released Verne Charlton, 34, Seattle man held since Saturday for investigation in the kidnapping and murder of 10-year-old Charles Mattson.

"It winds up everything," the sheriff said. "He has left the jail and we have no more interest in him."

Influenza Prevalent In Wayne County Jail

Goldensboro, April 1.—(AP)—Dr. S. B. McPeeters, Wayne county health officer, reported today 15 of the 40 inmates at the county jail were taken ill with influenza last night.

BLAST IN CAR INJURES MAYOR

Gail Jacobs, mayor of the pleasant little college town of Kirksville, Mo., a man who didn't know he had an enemy in the world, was injured seriously by an explosion attributed by police to a bomb placed in his automobile in such a manner that it was set off when he stepped on the starter. The car was blown to bits, as the top picture shows, and his garage (below) was shattered. (Associated Press Photos)

PITT SCHOOLS CLOSE APRIL 30

Many Activities Remain Before Commencement

With the county schools scheduled to end their session's work on April 30, many activities are being planned before commencement will bring an end to the 1936-37 school year.

It was May 29 last year before the school's completed the term. They are practically a month ahead of the fact there has been only a few interruptions due to the weather or other causes beyond the control of officials.

The county-wide track meet is scheduled for tomorrow, junior-senior banquets are being held in the various schools and many other activities are scheduled for the final month of school.

Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, head of the state department of instructional service will lead discussions at a conference of mathematics teachers at the college on April 7. Teachers are expected here from several Eastern North Carolina counties.

Seniors in the various high schools of the county will be here for "Senior Day" to be observed by the college on Thursday, April 15.

As usual, teachers and students are facing a busy month just before the closing of the term, but they express much satisfaction at being able to get out at the scheduled time, instead of a month later as was the case last year.

Airplanes may be utilized by the government in Argentina to transport doctors and medical supplies in territories where transportation is inadequate.

ORDERS DEATH FOR HUNDREDS

Stalin Calls For Extermination Of Bolshevik Enemies

Moscow, April 1.—(AP)—Joseph Stalin called upon Russia today for "merciless" extermination of all Bolshevik enemies in what was interpreted as a virtual death sentence for hundreds under arrest as counter revolutionaries.

The demand of the Soviet leader, regarded as an ultimatum to the communist party, was made in the Kremlin March 5 before the closing session of a Plenum of the central committee of the party and was published today.

"I think it is clear," the secretary of the central committee declared, "that the present wreckers and diversionists—no matter whether they have masked themselves under the flag of Trotskyism or Bukharinism—have lost their influence in the workers' movement and have become simply an unprincipled idealless band of professional wreckers, diversionists, spies and murderers."

J. H. Rose Broadcast Set For 7:30 P. M.

J. H. Rose, superintendent of Greenville schools will speak over radio station WPTF in Raleigh Saturday at 7:30 p. m., and not at 7:30 in the morning as was stated in yesterday's paper.

Mr. Rose himself says he doubts if he would have many listeners at that time of the day, even if he could get up in time to get to the broadcasting station.

He will speak on the subject of "Forum and Its Possibilities."

Heat Turned On Governor For Major Appointments

Raleigh, April 1.—Reflector Bureau)—The blow-torch bearers are heaping the heat on Governor Clyde R. Hoey with regard to his forthcoming appointment of ten new members of the State Highway and Public Works Commission and a chairman, who will regard to the chairman of the new Alcoholic Beverages Control Board and the two part-time members.

But while Governor Hoey has announced he will make the liquor board appointments in the very near future and before he makes the highway commission appointments, a great deal more interest is being shown in the highway commission jobs than in the liquor board jobs.

Just about the only thing Governor Hoey has done since the general assembly adjourned has been to read hundreds of letters pertaining either to the highway or liquor commission jobs, and to listen to delegation urging the appointment of various individuals. Until Tuesday of this week, most of the endorsements were confined to letters, telegrams and telephone calls. But since the Governor's office reopened following the Easter holidays, there has been an almost unending line of delegations going into and coming out of his office.

Indications are that the contest for the chairmanship of the new highway commission has now simmered down to a contest between George W. Coan, present state administrator of the WPA in North Carolina and Capus M. Waynick, the present chairman. The names of some others have been mentioned, such as Odus M. Mull of Shelby, a fellow townsman of Governor Hoey, State Senator Ernest V. Webb of Kinston, "Deacon" Green of Asheville, Representative Con C. Johnston of Mooresville, Irydell county, and a few others.

Those who know what is going on behind the scenes are convinced that the contest for the chairmanship of the highway commission, as far as those taking an active interest in the appointment are concerned, is over.

RIVER PROJECT IS SANCTIONED BY COMMITTEE

Tar River Waterway Approved by Rivers, Harbors Group

PROPOSAL NOW WELL ON WAY

Expenditure of $328,000 and Annual Maintenance Of $49,000 Provided

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—Representative Lindsay C. Warren of Washington, N. C., announced today the House Rivers and Harbors Committee had voted unanimously to include improvement of the Tar river between Greenville and Washington, N. C., in this year's proposed rivers and harbors bill.

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—The House Rivers and Harbors committee took under advisement today proposed improvement of Tar river in North Carolina to provide a 12 foot channel between Washington and Greenville.

The cost of the project, already approved by the army engineers board, is estimated at $328,000 and cost of maintenance at $49,000 annually.

A 12-foot channel from Washington to the Hardee Creek, a tributary of the Tar river four miles below Greenville, is proposed with a turning basin in Hardee Creek.

Attorneys Confer On State's Damage Suit

Raleigh, April 1.—Attorneys representing North Carolina in its suit for several hundred thousand dollars in damages against the Norfolk Southern Railroad Company conferred with Governor Hoey today.

The case is slated to be heard by a special master at Norfolk, Va., on or about April 12. Governor Hoey said, but may not be reached by then.

The state alleges the Norfolk Southern did not properly maintain the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad while it had that line under lease.

Duval New Member Distinctive Club (?)

J. O. Duval, city clerk, today received his card of identification as a full-fledged member of the Burlington Lions club. Mr. Duval said it was the third membership card he had received.

The identification card stated that the new member is entitled to every courtesy from Lions everywhere and an honorary member of the club for life.

The club reserves the right of "publication, broadcast or otherwise dispose of lies" sent to it.

Mr. Duval is a great fisherman, or so one would be led to believe by the catches he reports.

41 Marriage Licenses Granted In March

Forty-one marriage licenses were granted at the offices of Pitt County Register of Deeds J. C. Gaskin during March, compared with 35 in the previous month. So far this year 137 licenses have been granted to couples of all races.

Of the 41 licenses, granted last month, 15 were to white couples and 26 to Negroes.

Washington Granted Funds Erect Armory

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—The WPA announced President Roosevelt had approved allotments totaling $2,345,840 for projects in 36 states.

WPA officials said funds are available and projects may be started when and if state officials desire.

Washington, N. C. was allotted $11,677 for an armory building.

John Clark Initiated Into University Club

Chapel Hill, April 1.—Students from many sections of North Carolina have just been initiated into the University Club, an organization of fraternity and non-fraternity men which plays host to many visiting delegations which come to Chapel Hill.

The new members include John Clark of Greenville.

Argentina is to have a government-controlled wireless communications company.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward, Robert, Jr., and Bill Ward, of Raleigh, have returned home after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wells on Seventh Street.

Miss Martha Frances Ward and Miss Dorothy Roberts of Raleigh, spent Easter with Miss Elizabeth Wells.

Miss Virginia Ponton of Raleigh, was the week end guest of Miss Mary Rachel Teel.

Mrs. Jack Lewis, Miss Pat Whitehurst and Miss Rebecca Williams spent today in Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Warren Club Hostess
Members of her bridge club met at the home of Mrs. C. M. Warren yesterday afternoon for a very delightful hour of bridge.

Tables were placed in a setting of pear blossoms, tulips, hyacinths and jonquils. At the conclusion of the game Mrs. Warren, assisted by her daughter, little Miss Adelaide Warren, served a tempting salad course.

Mrs. A. J. Moore, of high score, was given dainty handkerchiefs. For second high, Mrs. Frank Park was given bridge cards.

The Senior Class of Winterville High school will present the play, "Behind the News", a comedy in three acts, Friday evening, April 2nd, 8 o'clock, in the school auditorium. Admission 15c and 25c.—(Adv.) 21, 1 & 2

Red Oak Merry Makers
The Red Oak Merry-Makers will present "A Mock Radio Program" at Chocod High School Tuesday night, April 8th, at 8 o'clock. They will also be at Arthur April 8th. Benefit Red Oak church.—Adv. 1 21c

Exhibit of Carolina Gardens
Mrs. Bayard Wooten of Chapel Hill will present natural color pictures of Carolina Gardens at Third Street School auditorium Friday evening at 7:30, April 2. These pictures are photographed in natural color—a new and interesting art—and are not hand-painted.

They include Wormsley gardens, near Savannah; Middleton, Magnolia and Cypress gardens, near Charleston; new and beautiful gardens, near Georgetown, and the gardens near Wilmington.

Mrs. Wooten explains the pictures in a very interesting manner as they are shown. She needs no introduction to us as she is known not only in North Carolina but nationally because of her artistic photography.

There will be an admission fee of 25 cents to defray expenses. The public is cordially invited.—Adv. 1 21c

Inter Se Club
Wednesday afternoon the Inter Se Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. M. K. Elount.

The time was used largely for committee reports and discussions. A letter of congratulations and friendship from the Clio club was read by the president.

At the close of the meeting members participated in a pleasant social hour while the hostess served a delicious salad course.

Junior Woman's Club
The Junior Woman's club will meet in the club building on Friday afternoon at 3:45.

Dr. Carl Adams will be guest of the club and give a review on the "Return of Religion."

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. D. H. Conley, Mrs. Royce Hunsucker and Mrs. B. F. Bullard.

The Round Table
Members of the Round Table enjoyed the regular Tuesday afternoon meeting, held at the home of Mrs. T. G. Basnight, in Stokes.

Spring flowers from Mrs. Basnight's own garden, tastefully arranged throughout the house, added a welcome to that extended by the hostess herself.

Mrs. S. J. Everett, the newly-elected president, called the meeting to order and conducted a short business session. Mrs. E. W. Griffin served as recording secretary for the first time since her election.

The paper for the afternoon, on "Diet in Relation to Health," an excellent study, was given by Mrs. Griffin. Those present appreciated the research and extensive reading which had certainly been done in preparing the paper.

During the social hour following the program, the hostess, assisted by three of her young friends and neighbors, Misses Larue Morning, Dorothy Robinson and Ethel Clark, served a delicious salad plate, followed by hot coffee and sweets.

The Round Table members enjoyed their short visit to Stokes.—Reported.

SATURDAY
1:00 P. M.—Mrs. J. Knott Proctor and Mrs. J. J. White will entertain at the Country Club, honoring Miss Maria Garrett and Miss Helen White, brides-elect.

Tea For Miss White
Outstanding among the many lovely affairs honoring Miss Helen White, bride-elect, was yesterday when Mrs. Charles C. Skinner, Jr., and Miss Ada James entertained at tea at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferguson on West Fourth street.

The home throughout was beautifully decorated in profusions of cut flowers in various colors.

Mrs. G. B. W. Headley and Mrs. J. B. James greeted guests on arrival. Mrs. L. C. Skinner presented them to the receiving line in the living room. In the receiving line were Mrs. Skinner, Miss James, Miss White, Mrs. S. T. White, mother of the honoree, Miss Maria Garrett, bride-elect, and Mrs. C. W. Byrum and Mrs. James S. Jenkins, recent brides.

From the living room the guests were invited to the dining room, by Mrs. W. I. Skinner, Jr. A color note of pink and blue was emphasized in the dining room. The table was covered with imported lace and centered with a blue bowl of pink roses and pink and white sweet peas. Pink candles in blue holders were placed at the corners.

At one end of the table Mrs. Charles Skinner poured coffee and at the opposite end of the table Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb poured tea. Miss Nina James, Miss Mary Elizabeth Ferguson, Miss Mabel Glenn Best, Mrs. Dink James and Mrs. A. E. Shackell passed sandwiches, mints, salted nuts and decorated cakes.

From the dining room through the rear hall Mrs. C. S. Forbes and Mrs. J. L. Winstead directed guests to the library, where they were received by Mrs. W. L. Best and Mrs. J. L. Fleming.

In the sun room from an attractively appointed table, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen and Mrs. Larry James served raspberry ice. They were assisted by Mrs. W. B. James, Mrs. W. W. Lee and Miss Cotten Skinner.

Mrs. Hortense Moye and Mrs. J. B. White said good-bye to several hundred guests calling from four to five-thirty.

Jerold Frederic Here Tomorrow
The chance to hear the greatest of the younger pianists, Jerold Frederic, will be given to the people of this section tomorrow night when he will give a concert at the College in the Robert H. Wright auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

He is about thirty years old, but his playing retains the poetic fire and imagination it had when he was the "boy wonder." He has continued studying, practicing and growing until he has become a truly great artist.

As a young man himself, he interprets both the masters and later composers for the younger generation. Those who have heard him say his playing is exciting.

UNC DORMITORIES SPONSOR DANCE SET ON APRIL 23-24
Chapel Hill, April 1.—Students in the lower quadrangle dormitories at Carolina will give a series of dances on the nights of April 23, 24, it was announced today by Billy Robinson, chairman of the Interdormitory Dance Committee.

Freddy Johnson and his Carolina orchestra will furnish music. Residents of the upper quadrangle dormitories are planning a set of dances for May 14.

BRISK CONTEST FOR COURT JOB

Governor Hoey Faces Task of Naming Superior Court Judge

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, April 1.—A brisk contest is developing as a result of the creation of the new Twenty-first Judicial District by the recent general assembly and the fact that Governor Clyde R. Hoey will have to appoint a new Superior Court Judge and a new solicitor for this district before July 1. The new district is composed of Caswell, Rockingham, Stokes and Surry counties and was carved out of the Eleventh and Twelfth Judicial Districts.

While Governor Hoey is being flooded with endorsements for would-be candidates for both the judgeship and solicitorship in this new district, most observers here regard Senator J. Gilmer Sparger of Stokes county as being a strong contender for the appointment as judge, along with Alley H. Gwynn, at present solicitor in the Eleventh district, but who will no longer be able to be solicitor after July 1. It is being recalled here that Sparger was a strong supporter and wheel horse of the administration in the recent legislative session and that as chairman of the senate roads committee he went to bat for the Governor whenever called upon. Some think that if Sparger is not named judge, he may be appointed solicitor.

Other names mentioned in connection with the judgeship are those of John Folger of Mt. Airy, also his son, Fred Folger. Others are mentioning the name of National Committeeman A. D. (Lon) Folger, who a few months ago resigned as a special judge rather than give up his post as National Committeeman. Some now think, however, that Lon might be willing to resign as National Committeeman to become resident Superior Court Judge in his own home district, since he would come up for election after the original appointment and not serve entirely at the will of the Governor. But there is not much to indicate that Lon is under consideration for this appointment right now.

Since Gwynn will automatically be out as Solicitor in the Eleventh district, the Governor will also have to appoint a new solicitor in that district, which will consist of Alleghany, Ashe and Forsyth counties. But so far few names have been heard with regard to this appointment.

Some crowds at movie prizefights, football games and such show the enthusiasm of wilted lettuce, but this one acts as if it had money on the winning underdog. The reason, aside from Sullivan's prowess, is not hard to find: the fight fans are handicapped, and include such tried camera veterans as Stuart Holmes, once the screen's leading villain, now doing yeoman duty in bits.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — Film factory: This will be hard to take, but the screen's golden-haired outie is slowly but inexorably changing to a raven-haired lass.

On the "Wee Willie Winkie" set she goes into a scene with C. Aubrey Smith innocently unaware that in two or three more years her crown of curls will have lost its glitter. But when the time comes, Shirley Temple will be past caring—at least, the producers probably won't care.

Standing by on the set, observing hawk-like for any crumbs of news that might fall from the gilded area of the diminutive Golden Presence, I observe this trick of nature in its earlier stages. Unmistakably, there at the roots of the curls is a suggestion of incipient brunette. And Mrs. Temple, sitting by as always, confirms the suspicion. Once she herself had golden curls. She turned brunette when she was 10.

They seem to be having trouble with the scene. C. Aubrey, seated with Shirley standing before him in nightgown and holding a lighted candle, is "blowing up" on his lines, a falling Shirley never displays. But Shirley seems to enjoy this. Each time she can blow out the candle.

Between "takes," Mrs. Temple and Eddie O'Ferris, Director John Ford's brother and assistant, discuss tomorrow's location trip.

"I'll drive in our car," she says firmly, "but I think the studio ought to buy the gasoline!"

This, I take it, is in jest. When Mrs. Temple talks business, she does not deal in trivialities like buttons, pin-money or gasoline.

"Kid Galahad" is operating today on a canvas-covered arena on the back lot. Under the canvas is the prize ring where Wayne Morris is to do battle. They are taking "action shots" of the crowd, but it is only part of a crowd. Turning the White Bettie Davis knits on the sidelines, Humphrey Bogart and Joe Cunningham (playing a reporter) stroll around, and Edward G. Robinson sits himself outside, Assistant Director Jack Sullivan boomingy urges the crowd to frenzy. Sullivan like a cheerleader, gets the gang to "give" and give it does. Some crowds at movie prizefights, football games and such show the enthusiasm of wilted lettuce, but this one acts as if it had money on the winning underdog. The reason, aside from Sullivan's prowess, is not hard to find: the fight fans are handicapped, and include such tried camera veterans as Stuart Holmes, once the screen's leading villain, now doing yeoman duty in bits.

More Girls Entered In Debate Contests

Chapel Hill, April 1.—Girls will outnumber boys as contestants in the 25th annual series of triangular debates to be held throughout the State under the auspices of the North Carolina High School Debating Union on Friday, April 2, it was announced today by Secretary E. R. Rankin.

Statistics just compiled show that the 234 member high schools of the High School Debating Union will be represented by 527 girls and 400 boys.

The query is: "Resolved, That the government should own and operate all electric light and power utilities."

The schools which win both debates in Friday's contest will send their teams to Chapel Hill to enter the final competition on April 21 and 22 for the Aycock Cup, the trophy which has been donated by the Intercollegiate Debaters of the University of North Carolina.

The 234 member schools have been grouped into a total of 81 triangles or pairs for the State-wide contest.

Eighty-two counties of the State are represented by schools holding membership in the High School Debating Union.

Vocational Students Hear Talk By Sellers

A prediction that brick and other manufactured materials will eventually replace lumber as the principal article in construction work was made Wednesday by R. E. Sellers in an informative talk to the new class in Vocational Guidance at the local high school.

Mr. Sellers, who is president of the Sellers Brick Manufacturing company, explained carefully to the class the methods used in making bricks, and showed the class four different types of bricks made in his factory. Approximately thirty days are required to make a brick, according to Mr. Sellers, and forty thousand bricks are used in the construction of an average six-room brick house.

A. B. Ellington was scheduled to address the class today on the subject of "The Retail Book and Stationery Business as a Profession."

On Friday G. C. Honeycutt will discuss "The Relative Advantages and Disadvantages of the Grocery Business."

EVE'S ORCHARD

MARGARET WIDDEMER

SYNOPSIS: After five working years in New York, Eve Mannersfield goes back to her 200-year-old house and orchard in Connecticut. Uncle Henry, an old family friend, moves in to help run the place. The penniless Featherstones come to board, stay several weeks and leave without paying Eve, deserting their serious young son Judge. George Cleveland, Eve's calm, practical neighbor, loves her though she is engaged to gay city-loving Denny. Returning from a trip to the city, accompanied by Denny and Judge, Eve finds Marilyn Featherstone's farewell note.

Chapter 31 Denny Walks Out

"WELL, the worthless panhandlers!" Denny, tall and furious, the sun shining across his tanned hair, took Eve in his arms. "My poor darling little idiot, to think of your letting them give you that way! How far back were they on board?" Eve laughed a little hysterically against his shoulder. "All the way! And she didn't even put away the butter."

Denny released her, and whistled as they took in the wrecked dining room Marilyn's hospitality had left in its wake. A spill glass of Eve's precious wine dripping across a big dish of limp lettuce. A vegetable dish with the remains of the peas. The big gray coffee pot in the middle of a big stain that spread across Aunt Lina's best damask tablecloth, meeting Jimmy Katz's usual cigarette hole. A slip of red-and-white that had been ice cream; a wooden dish with the butter melted by the warmth of the day. Marilyn had fried both the chickens Uncle Henry had killed for Sunday, and the remains were on one end of the biggest platter. Jimmy Katz had been hospitably given of Eve's best.

Denny followed Eve in as she began mechanically to tidy the table. He laughed, too, though he swore. "Hollywood orgy!" he said, and reached for a chicken leg as he perched on a chair arm. Then he frowned. Eve felt better. Denny's anger for her was comforting. "Hollywood orgy," she agreed, piling plates.

"Precious, this leaves you in a hell of a hole."

She realized as he spoke just how deep the hole was. Her own savings nearly gone, and no Featherstones money till goodness knew when—if ever—for repayment or expenses ahead. She couldn't expect Denny to pay everything for this big house even if they married on the spot. Taxes—repairs—well, thank goodness, she had Denny behind her, gnawing his chicken bone gaily in his white shirt and gray trousers on the chair arm in the sunset light. As she passed, piling the dirty plates, making the table a little less dreadful, he put his unoccupied arm around her again.

Judge Is The Bother

"UNCLE HENRY can be given back to the Indians any time, of course. Judge is the bother," he said, frowning in thought. "I wonder if there's anybody who would advance the kid's carfare to Hollywood? Trouble is everybody knows the Featherstones never pay their debts."

"But, Denny, I can't turn an invalid child out like a cat."

"Sweet, you talk as if he wasn't a Featherstone! That kid has been checked around and left on people's hands all his life. He's led the life of a library book! He doesn't know anything else."

"But that's why, the doctor said, he's in the condition he is."

"His condition isn't your affair, Eve. Your affair is to get married to a fine young man who has a swell job, and come live in New York with him, and have weekends at Southampton, and a nice little honeymoon at Nassau." He laid down his bone and finished the claret in the bottle and smiled up at her.

She leaned against him, feeling suddenly tired and confused.

"But I can't break my promise to him."

He looked at her in surprise.

"Darling, you don't care more for Judge than you do for me, do you?"

"Of course not. But throwing him out now might smash him for good. The doctor said—"

"It would mean postponing our marriage again!"

"I don't see why at all!"

"Well, but, my crazy lamb, we can't start married life with a ready-made nervously-smashed son. Be reasonable. I promised Mitzi maybe I'd sweep you off with me to her place even today. Let's drive back now. There's a regatta tomorrow night and a big dance tonight. We'll pick a few more bones and leave a note for Uncle Henry and drive till about nine, landing on Long Island in the excellent moonlight. I'll get Mitzi to send the kid over—by Jove, bright thought! And Monday, what do you say we get all married?"

She could only say helplessly again, "But I promised him I'd keep him. A child who trusts me, Denny—"

"For the matter of that, I promised Mitzi you and I would turn up for the old regatta. I thought you could pack what you wanted and tie up some strings. I like my promise best."

He was smiling at her winningly, Denny's own flashing smile of happiness over a good party.

"You Don't Love Me Enough!"

"Denny, can't you see it's different?"

"Well, I don't know what to do," he said despairingly. "You mean you won't go to Mitzi's and get rid of the child, after I made these arrangements for us?"

"But how can I?"

He stiffened. "All I see for it then is to go back without you."

"Denny—just because I can't put that poor little child out?"

"I never saw anyone so stubborn!" Denny said angrily. "Once for all, Eve, it's the only thing to do—unless you feel he's more to you than I am."

"That isn't the point, Denny!"

"It is the point," Denny had suddenly flared up into one of his moments of resentful anger. He came

"I never saw anyone so stubborn," Denny said angrily.

"But, Denny, of course I'll go to Mitzi's if you like. Only I can't send Judge away."

"That's your decision?"

"It isn't a decision!"

"Sounds like it to me." He stood up, flinging his coat across his shoulder. "Once and for all, Eve—"

"Denny, don't you see that I can't?"

"All right. I have your answer. Telephone me if you change your mind."

He picked up his bag and walked out. Before she could run after him or cry out he was whirling down the road in the old car. Aghast, she stood watching him from the doorway.

Pompoon, 1936 2-year-old champion, working out at Columbia, S. C. in "semi-final" training for the Kentucky Derby, is impressive looking. The son of Pompey and Oonaugh is positively handsome. At 2, he was slobber than his sire. At 3, he promises a better record.

Jerry Louchheim's colt came out of winter quarters in great shape. He has added weight and height, which serves to impress you with his Derby chances. Pompoon now weighs more than 1,000 pounds, and stands 17 hands.

Admirers of Pompoon see in him the thoroughbred to break the jinx that has trailed winners of the rich Belmont Futurity, by winning the Derby. His sire, Pompey, failed to make the grade.

Pompoon's 2-year-old record made him the winter-book favorite. He won six of eight starts last year. Pompoon has shown he can carry weight and keep his speed. No

Sir narrowly beat him at Saratoga. Reaping Reward narrowly beat him at Narragansett. On each occasion, Pompoon carried much more weight than the winner. At Saratoga he carried as high as 130 pounds—four pounds more than he will bear in the Derby.

Pompoon was bought by Jerry Louchheim at the Saratoga yearling sales for $2,000. He won it back, plus an additional $80,000, as a 2-year-old.

Pompoon likes mud. Not only do his trainers laugh off any suggestion that Pompoon might not like the Derby distance (mile and a quarter), but they insist he can run on any sort of footing, fast or heavy.

Pompoon has won the admiration of many turf enthusiasts. He had some easy early training at the Three Cousins' Stock Farm, Maryland, this winter before swinging into serious work at Columbia. Easy 2-mile gallops and that sort of thing. The result was he won the admiration of all horseflesh of that country.

RUSH WORK ON PATROL RADIO

Five Stations Expected to Be Completed By May 15

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, N. C. (AP)—Work on the five state highway patrol radio stations is progressing satisfactorily and all of the stations should be completed and ready for use by about May 15, Captain Charles D. Farmer, commander of the patrol, said today.

"We are pushing the work as rapidly as possible and the engineers believe that all of the stations can be completed by the middle of May, at least by June 1," Captain Farmer said. "We have been delayed a good deal by the weather, but with better weather in prospect, it should not take long to complete the stations."

The Asheville stations is already completed with the exception of the installation of the transmitting equipment and this has been shipped. Both the house and 300 foot transmitting tower have been erected and only a few days will be required to install the transmitter and other appliances. Captain Farmer said.

The Salisbury station has been completed except for plastering the interior and the erection of the steel towers, now only partially completed. But Captain Farmer believes that both the plastering of the tower will be completed within a week or ten days. The Raleigh station has also been completed, except for the plastering of the interior and work is being started on the erection of the steel tower.

The station at Williamston is nearing completion and the roof will be put on this week, while the tower will be started as soon as the building is finished.

The excavation has been completed for the station house at Elizabethtown and the foundation poured, with the result that the brick and tile work should now be able to go up rapidly.

We are wondering just how long this country is going to tolerate mob rule in the form of sit-down strikes of various kinds.

Reports to the effect that automobile license plate sales in this state to date are 100,000 ahead of last year indicate a returning prosperity to North Carolina. It is to be hoped, however, that all this extra riding doesn't mean that some will let their other obligations go hang while they devote the major part of their funds joy-riding.

NO OTHER WAY

With security and prosperity the chief thought and topic of conversation at this time, we believe the following formula to obtain these goals, contained in a statement by Dr. Virgil Jordan, is most timely:

"The prosperity and security of all the people in this country have come and can come only out of the work they do. The amount of prosperity and security they can have at any time depends solely upon the combined effort of mind and muscle which they are willing and able to apply in using the natural resources of the country to produce the necessities and comforts they consume and exchange, and the tools and machines they need in order to produce as much or more in the future. The more work everyone does, the more people there are who work, the harder and longer and more effectively they work, the more prosperous and secure they will be. There is no other way."

Farmers Anxious Over Burley Tobacco Crop

Marshall, April 1.—Madison County farmers are becoming "anxious" about the burley tobacco situation, said George W. Miller, county farm agent of the State College extension service.

More beds are being planted to burley than in previous years, Miller stated, and leading farmers are afraid that an increase in the crop will best prices down next fall.

A number of growers, he added, have made up their minds to try to produce a higher quality leaf on a limited acreage rather than try to expand their plantings.

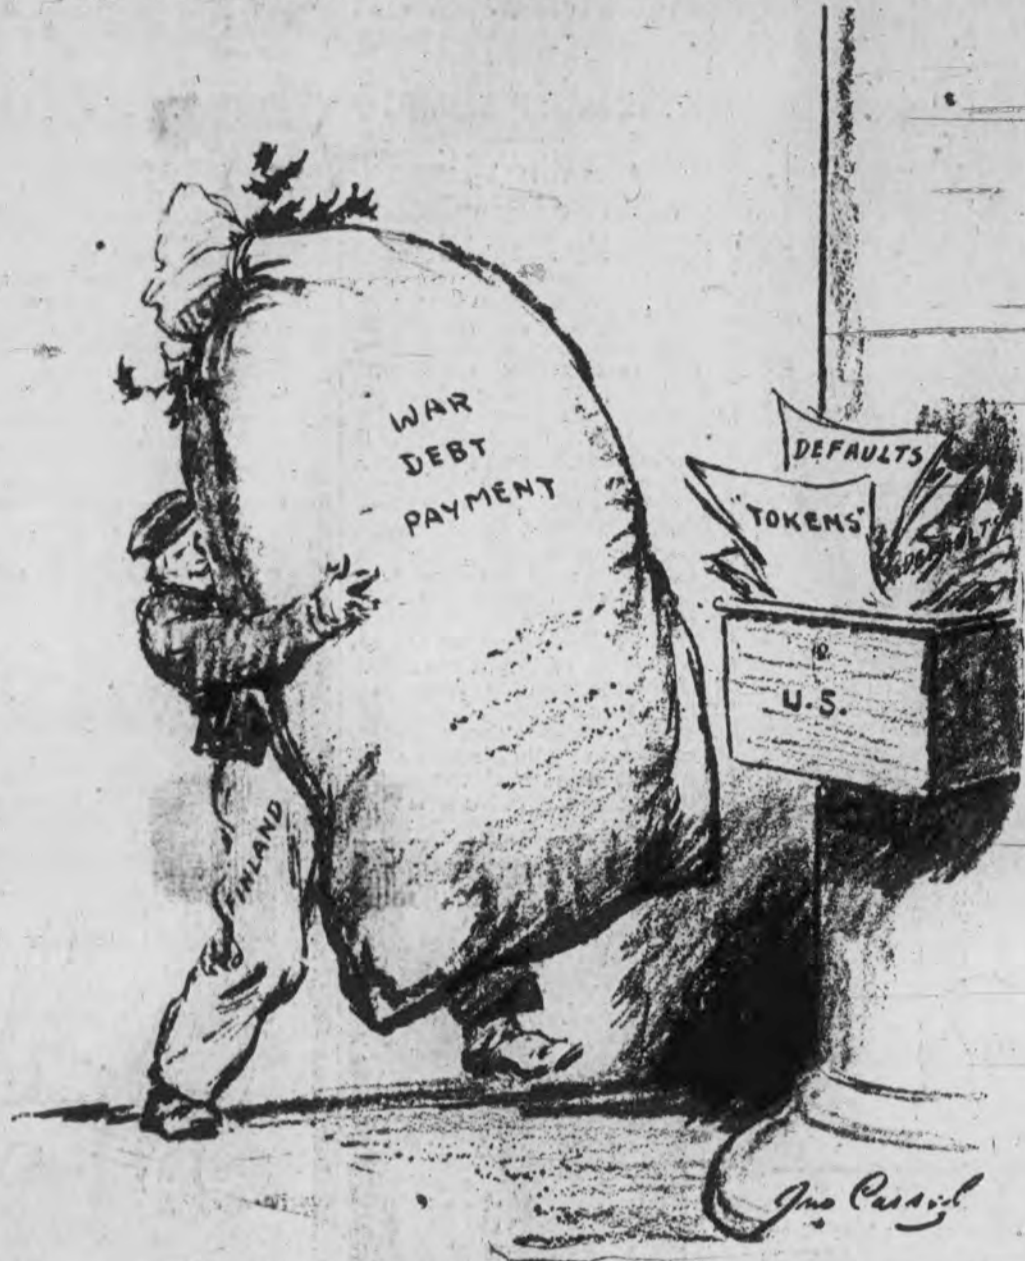

Miller pointed out that the payments offered under the soil conservation program for diverting tobacco will in many cases be more than growers will get for low quality leaf on a glutted market.

PIONEER DESIGNS NON-SKID FOOTWEAR

Washington.—The United States has become a haven for diplomats shoveling upstairs to make vacancies for favored sons of the dictator-ship.

Long has it been known that Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador to the United States, was "out of touch" with the Nazi administration. The La Guardia name calling incident furnished an opportune time to withdraw him.

Replacing him is Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff, who was acting secretary of state at the German foreign affairs office. Succeeding him is Hans G. von Mackensen, son of the famed world war field marshal. But von Mackensen's "favored son" status comes from the fact that he also is the son-in-law of Hitler's foreign minister, Baron Konstantin von Neurath.

Fulvio de Suvich came to the United States as ambassador from Italy under circumstances strikingly similar. He was the man who "did all the work" in the foreign affairs office in Rome although Mussolini held for himself as one of his titles that of foreign minister. When Suvich came to Washington, he was succeeded by Count Giano, son-in-law of Mussolini.

Here is a straw in the wind: There is an organization of clerks and secretaries of representatives known as the "little house" which elects a speaker and often votes its own views on issues before the house even before the first act.

When the President first made his Supreme Court revision proposal the "little house" took up the issue. There was a real tussle and the President's plan emerged victorious by only two votes, as one report had it.

But the question was voted on again recently and the President's plan won out by a vote reported at two to one. To value this vote it should be recalled that these employees are in close contact with their bosses, see all the mail from the constituents, and likely the more important mail coming in from administration sources.

Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming writes a "letter to the editor" to explain that his name is not pronounced "Oma-hony" or "Oh-may-cry" but "Oh-mah-oney," the "mah" as in ma and pa, and the "oney" as in honey but evidently without the "h" sounding too strongly. The accent is on the "mah."

Senator Duffy, who comes from Wisconsin, not a corn state, has found a new use for corn cobs. An expert whittler, he has carved out walnut letter openers for several of his senatorial friends. The handle of each is composed in part of a section of corn cob neatly and smoothly fitted in.

Ramsey Potts Named On National Group

Chapel Hill, April 1.—Ramsey Potts has accepted the invitation of Holcombe Ward, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, to serve on the intercollegiate committee of the U. S. L. T. A. for 1937.

Potts, captain of the Carolina tennis team this season, is ranked third in the national intercollegiate and fifth in the South amateur lawn tennis rankings.

He will serve as one of the three undergraduate members, who with four graduate members will aid Chairman Charles S. Garland of Chicago in appointing a referee and a tournament committee.

How's Your Health?

By Dr. Iago Goldston

Preventing Athlete's Foot Athlete's foot is, misnamed, for anyone may be afflicted with it, "athlete or no." But it is true that those who frequent gymnasia, swimming pools and the like, are more liable to contract the disease.

It should be properly called ringworm of the toes, for the condition is caused by a fungus agent of the ringworm variety. The condition is preventable and also curable.

The prevention of athlete's foot begins with keeping the feet covered when walking about home, in gymnasium or locker room, and about the ramps of swimming pools. The spores of ringworms are likely to be distributed in these places and may invade the exposed skin of the feet.

Prevention is also furthered by a thorough daily washing of the feet and of the spaces between the toes with warm water and soap. Following this, the feet should be dried thoroughly, for the ringworm organism thrives in a moist and warm environment.

Those who frequent gymnasia, swimming pools and other places where persons are likely to go about barefoot, will do well to protect themselves further against infection with ringworm by dusting the space between the toes with a sterilizing powder.

This powder is composed of two parts each of salol and chloral hydrate in combination with 98 parts of purified infusorial earth. It should be applied to the space between the toes daily and particularly after the feet have been exposed at the beach, swimming pool or any place where people are likely to walk about barefoot.

Many people suffer from athlete's foot, and because of the mildness of the symptoms, are unaware of it. It is desirable therefore to be acquainted with the picture presented by this condition in order to institute early treatment and to avoid infecting others.

The most common symptom is the presence of soft, macerated, dull skin between the toes, most commonly on the little toe and the one next to it. Sometimes, small blisters may be seen in this location, between other toes, and also along the inner border of the long arch of the foot.

The affected parts may itch and the patient who succumbs to the temptation to scratch is likely to spread the infection.

HEAT TURNED ON GOVERNOR FOR MAJOR APPOINTMENTS

(Continued from page one) cerned, is clearly between Coan and Waynick, with virtually all factions who have been opposed to Waynick united back of the Coan candidacy.

It is a well-known fact here that for a number of months WPA employes have been carrying on a quiet but insistent campaign in behalf of Coan for the chairmanship of the highway commission. And with the widespread contacts which Coan has had through the WPA, reaching into every city, county and town in the State, there is no doubt but that this campaign has been very effective. Within the last ten days it is understood that a letter was sent out from the WPA offices here to the mayors of most of the cities and towns in the state, asking them to support and endorse Coan for the chairmanship of the new highway commission and intimating that Waynick was already out of the picture. Within the last few days, a large number of the delegations which have called on Governor Hoey have been composed of mayors and city and town officials. An observer in the Governor's office today remarked that it was easy to see who Coan's lieutenants are over the state.

It is also generally agreed that Coan's candidacy for the highway post has the full support and backing of Senator Josiah W. Bailey, who is regarded as being Coan's political "angel" and who was responsible for his appointment as head of the WPA organization. Reports are to the effect that Senator Bailey would be only too glad to see Coan named head of the new highway set-up, both because it would have him the trouble of trying to find a new place for Coan when the WPA is liquidated—probably in July—and because it might give the Senior Senator a look-in in the distribution of highway department jobs. For the highway commission has the biggest job counter in the state, employing more than 10,000 persons.

The report is also going the rounds that Congressman Robert L. Doughton, since he has been bitten by the senatorial bug and is on the verge of becoming a candidate for the U. S. Senate against Senator Robert R. Reynolds next year, is flirting with the idea that Coan, if named highway chairman, and with his other contacts, might not be of considerable assistance to his candidacy. So there is no doubt that Coan has some very powerful political backing. The outcome of the contest is being keenly watched here.

U. S. Senator Hitchcock says: "Luckies please both my taste and my throat"

"For close to fifty years I have been a regular smoker, so I think I know what constitutes a good cigarette. Luckies please me on two scores. I like their fine flavor. But even more important is the fact that they are a light smoke, easy on my throat. At any rate, it's results that count, and a light smoke pleases both my taste and my throat."

Herbert E. Hitchcock

HON. HERBERT E. HITCHCOCK U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Hitchcock's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

LOWER PRICES FOR POTATOES

Increased Production In View For Spuds and Yams

Raleigh, April 1.—An increased production of Irish and sweet potatoes, with lower prices, is indicated for the 1937 crop. Prof. M. E. Gardner, of State College, said today.

Irish potato growers in nearly all States producing early and intermediate potatoes commercially are planning to increase acreage and production this year, according to a report Professor Gardner received from the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In the early States, the report said, a 32 per cent increase in acreage over last year is expected, and in the intermediate States a 7 per cent increase is indicated. In 18 of the late States an average increase of 6 per cent is indicated.

For the entire nation, the increase in acreage will probably be around 6 per cent, the report stated. Prices will probably be lower than in 1936, but higher than in other recent years, it was estimated.

Although a larger acreage will be planted, Professor Gardner continued, this will be offset to some extent by the fact that there is a smaller supply of old potatoes remaining to be marketed.

The sweet potato crop for 1937 will probably run around 71,000,000 bushels, assuming normal yields, the report said. This would be about 11 per cent more than produced in 1936, and about 7 per cent above the 1928-'32 average.

Prices to farmers over the country averaged 93.9 cents a bushel on February 15, or 6 cents higher than on January 15, and 24 cents higher than on February 15, 1936. It was the highest February price since 1930.

The expected increase in sweet potato production this year will probably result in slightly lower prices, the report pointed out.

Father Sponar Again Visitor To Greenville

The Rev. Father Leo Sponar C. P. S., who visited Greenville several years ago, is again in the city for a brief stay. Many of his friends will remember him for his interesting travel talks that he gave during his former visit over station WEED.

On Friday night Dr. Sponar will conduct the Eucharistic Hour at the local Catholic church on Second street. He will also be the celebrant at both of the Masses on Sunday morning and preach the sermons.

Father Sponar has returned to conduct Missions in Grifton and Ayden. He will open his Missions in St. Jude's Chapel of Grifton on Sunday evening, and preach every night during the week. The following Sunday he will open his Mission in St. Mary's Chapel of Ayden, where he will remain for the second week.

The theme of his sermons this year is Religion or Communism.

HAILS CHANGE HIGHWAY BODY

Expected Bring Administration Closer To People

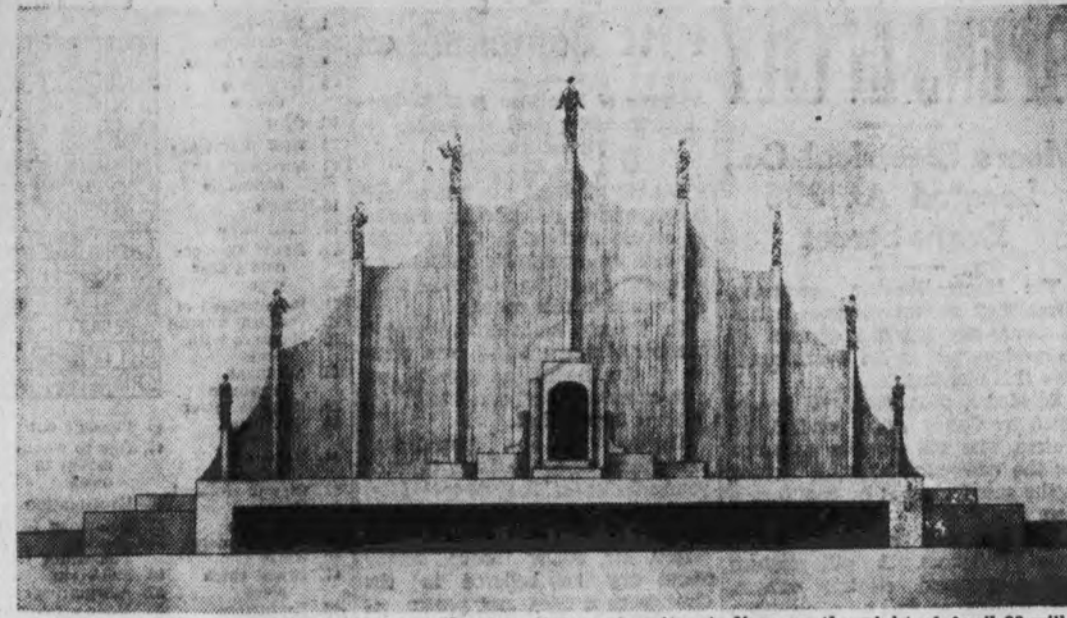

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, N. C.—The enactment of the law reorganizing the State Highway and Public Works Commission and calling for a commission of ten members and a chairman, was dictated by a desire to have a commission that would come into closer contact with the people of the state and decentralize the administration of the state's highway system more than has been the case for the last few years.

There has been a growing resentment among the people of the state for several years at having to come to Raleigh to appear before the commission, no matter how minor the matter might be, in order to get any consideration—and many complained that even then they got very little consideration. More and more they talked of the highway commission as it existed under the late Chairman Frank Page, how smoothly it functioned and of how much better the old district system was than the present plan.

The change back to the district system, as provided for in the 1937 law, under which the state will be divided into ten administrative districts with one member of the new highway commission from each of these districts, came about largely as a result of the dissatisfaction with the five member commission. It is now agreed. This was helped along by the approval given to the proposed change by Governor Clyde

Artist Sketch of Stage for Educational Pageant

The great educational pageant to be staged in Duke university stadium on the night of April 23 will have 3,500 actors who will appear in their various roles before a huge blue, gold, and ebony setting, a sketch of which is shown above. The setting, to be placed at the end of the stadium horseshoe, will measure 198 feet wide and will be 48 feet high. A theatrical workshop has been set up in one of the big Durham warehouses for its construction. The setting will be featured by nine slender columns, each supporting one of the muses, and connected by blue draperies. The pageant, to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the founding of public schools in this state, is to be sponsored by the North Carolina education association during its annual meeting here. More than 20,000 persons are expected to witness the elaborately designed and spectacularly lighted spectacle.

R. Hoey and the agitation for it in the general assembly by such members as Senator J. C. Pittman of Lee, Senator S. Gilmer Sparger of Stokes, Representative Con C. Johnston of Iredell, Representative Ernest Gardner of Cleveland, and others.

Under the new law, Governor Hoey must appoint the ten new highway commissioners and a new chairman by May 1, and designate the boundaries of ten districts which the Commissioner will represent. After the new commissioners are named and the new districts set up, each commissioner will be more or less responsible for the highways in his district, and will hear all complaints and refer all disputes over roads in his district. Only when a commissioner is unable to settle a dispute locally will it be brought to the attention of the entire commission.

It is believed that this return to the district system for the highway commission will bring about a decided reduction in the dissatisfaction which has existed towards the highway commission. In the first place, it will not make it necessary for delegations to travel hundreds of miles to Raleigh to appear before the entire commission, frequently for only five or ten minutes, except in extreme cases. Instead, the district commissioner will hold hearings in the district, probably in the various county seats, to hear requests for new roads or complaints about existing roads. It is believed that the district commissioners will be able to settle nine out of ten highway disputes locally and that only very few cases will have to be taken before the entire commission here in Raleigh. In most cases, if the local delegations are given plenty of time to air their grievances and be heard, they are pretty well satisfied, it is pointed out.

Another advantage of the new plan which will become effective May 1 is that it will make it possible for the entire commission, in its periodic meetings here, to give more thought and consideration to the state-wide aspects of the highway system and its problems, since the local problems will have already been disposed of. It will also make it necessary for the district commissioners to become much more familiar with the highways and their condition in the counties comprising their districts, than is now the case. For at present five commissioners are selected from the state as a whole and not from any particular district, with the result that they have no very definite responsibility for any particular territory.

It is also believed that this new system will to a very large extent eliminate much of the dissatisfaction which has been aimed at the chairman of the commission in the past. For since the chairman was the spokesman for the commission, and announced decisions, many got the idea that the chairman was the commission or at least trying to dominate it. But under the new set-up, the people will come in contact principally with their own commissioner, rather than with the chairman. This is expected to materially lessen the pressure heretofore resting constantly on the chairman.

New York Cotton

New York, April 1.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened firm, up eight to 13 points on steeper Liverpool cables, trade and foreign buying. Shortly after the first half hour bid crop positions had recovered a few points from the lows and prices generally showed net gains of about four to six points. July which sold off to 14.33, was quoted at 14.41 at midday, when prices generally were net unchanged to five points higher.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, April 1.—(AP)—Stock market leaders today started the new month on a downward trend as fresh labor disputes helped to chill buying sentiment. While there were the resistant spots among oil and specialties, declines of a fraction or more were in the majority near the fourth hour. Trading was unusually light. Grains pointed lower following European liquidation and other commodities were uneven. Export copper rates were reduced.

ELECTRICAL CO. OPENS IN CITY

Moore Electrical Co.,
Located At 306
Evans Street

The Moore Electric company, Greenville's newest business establishment, was formally opened at its headquarters at 306 Evans street this morning. Ed Moore, proprietor, will be assisted by LeRoy Ange and S. M. Waters, who will serve as salesmen for the new establishment, located at the stand vacated by the Textile store.

The firm will handle Westinghouse appliances. It will feature kitchen-approved electric ranges, refrigerators, as well as a complete line of radios, hot water heaters, washing machines and vacuum cleaners.

In addition a line of smaller electrical appliances, such as toasters, etc., will be carried at all times.

The store has been open several days, but the formal and official opening was held today, when the floors of the store were stocked with a good sample of what the firm has to offer.

CAROLINA TRACKMEN MEET PRINCETON NEXT CONTST

Chapel Hill, April 1.—Carolina's varsity track team will oppose Princeton at Chapel Hill next Wednesday afternoon, April 7, in its second test of the season. The Tigers, who recently finished second in team scoring in the IC4A indoor meet in New York, are reported to have their strongest team in the past several years. Princeton will encounter North Carolina Wednesday and then will move over to Durham Saturday to contest Duke's Southern Conference champions.

Grange Active In Efforts Organize Pitt Communities

Number of Meetings Held in Section Recently; Last Gathering at Stokes Tuesday

Several meetings are being held throughout this section in an effort to arouse interest in the National Grange, an organization of farmers, with the possibility that local units be formed in this county.

On Tuesday night of this week a number of farmers and farm women of the Stokes community met and considered the question of organized-farm effort.

The meeting was opened with two Piano Solos by two talented young ladies of the town. After singing and prayer, Mark H. Smith introduced the speakers.

Rev. Mr. Keller spoke briefly about why he believed in the Grange as a tried and proven organization for farmers.

Harry B. Caldwell, lecturer of the North Carolina State Grange, delivered an address on the Grange. Among other things, he emphasized the fact that the Grange is the oldest and the largest farm organization in the United States. It was established more than 70 years ago and now extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to Mexico.

He said the Grange affords an opportunity to develop the social life among the parents and children of the community.

The educational work in semi-monthly meetings of the Subordinates results in the development of intelligent, informed leadership among the farmers.

One of the most outstanding achievements of the Grange is in the field of legislation. The Grange is wholly responsible for the establishment of the R. P. D. Mail Service. The Grange stood alone and won a remarkable victory in the regulation of Public Utilities.

The Grange led the fight for a Farm Credit System, for three and one-half per cent interest on Federal Land Bank Mortgages, adequate appropriations for Vocational education and other agriculture agencies for Soil Conservation, Rural Electrification, Tax Reform, Adequate Educational Opportunities for rural boys and girls.

It aided in the fight for four amendments to the State Constitution: First, $1,000 exemption on homesteads; Second to increase the tax rate on incomes; Third, the debt limitation clause of the Constitution; Fourth, to permit classification of property for taxation.

It wrote into the Tobacco Compact Act the safeguards for the protection of the small farmer. These are a few of the many things the Grange has succeeded in doing in the Legislative field, cited by the speakers.

RICHMOND PITCHING ACE TO PLAY AGAINST U. N. C.

Chapel Hill, April 1.—Bucky Jacobs, brilliant Richmond pitcher, will likely be on the mound Saturday when the Spiders oppose the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in a Southern Conference attraction. Jacobs is well known to North Carolina sport folk. Last summer he pitched for New Bern in the Coastal Plain league and was regarded as one of the finest moundmen in the circuit. Jacobs also starred at forward on Richmond's basketball team last winter and was rated one of the best shots in the Conference.

INQUIRY AIMED AT U. S. NAZIS

about the American for government and the preservation of democracy, the Senate Judiciary group heard Dean Henry Bates of the University of Michigan Law School testify in opposition to President Roosevelt's court reorganization plan.

He declared it was not "liberal and progressive" and would move "toward a theory of government rampant in part of Europe at the present time.

Many of his remarks were directed to committee chairman Ashurst (D. Ariz.) staunch defender of the Roosevelt proposal. Ashurst, once studied law under Bates.

New developments of the Wake of the Supreme Court's recent decision validating minimum wage legislation found the labor department studying possibilities of shaping a model state minimum wage law. The department's minimum wage committee will meet to canvass the situation April 8.

Both sides in the court reorganization dispute contended their arguments had gained new strength from Monday's Supreme Court decisions.

The rewriting of laws found unsound by the high court came before the Senate in a new coal control bill designed to replace the invalidated Guffey-Vincon law.

The House itself considered the bill to provide funds for the government of the District of Columbia.

Interest receipts on American-held foreign dollar bonds dropped from $183,000,000 in 1935 to $175,000,000 in 1936.
