BRITAIN JOINS IN PROTESTING WAR VIOLENCE

Objects to Interference with Neutral Shipping

MEASURE TAKEN BOLSTER PEACE

Action Calculated To Give Reassurance to Demands on Spain By Berlin and Rome

London, June 1.—(AP)—Great Britain joined Germany and Italy today in protesting the Spanish government's violence against neutral shipping — apparently as a measure to bolster Europe's peace.

The British stand, well informed sources believed, was calculated to give reassurance to Berlin and Rome that their demands against the Spanish government were justified.

At the same time it was intended to obtain safety of shipping through the creation by the Spanish government of safety zones for neutral war ships.

British spokesmen reiterated the government was not taking sides in the controversy, but was trying only to reform the framework of the International "Hands-off-Spain" committee, now weakened by Italian and German withdrawals after the bombing of a German pocket battleship.

The British protest was based on an attack on the British flotilla leader, H. M. S. Hardy, off Palma, Mallorca, May 25. The foreign office said the ship was almost hit by aerial bombs.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged foreign envoys to regard the need for restraint in the new Spanish European crisis.

Informed quarters quickly stated while the government deplored such attacks as the Spanish government's aerial bombing of the German battleship Deutschland, there was no thought of condemning the Reich's retaliatory bombardment of Almeria.

No government meanwhile was willing to undertake an investigation of the Deutschland or the Almeria incidents despite official statements "full facts are not available."

College Students To Complete Work Thursday Afternoon

Freshmen and Sophomores To Be Allowed to Go Home Immediately After Finishing Examinations

All class room work and examinations at East Carolina Teachers College will end at the close of the day Thursday.

This year for the first time all freshmen and sophomores will be allowed to go home when they finish their last examination, although those who wish to remain have the privilege to do so.

Late Thursday afternoon and Friday rehearsals will be held by the Juniors and Seniors for the commencement exercises.

Some of the Alumnae are expected to arrive Friday afternoon so as to take in all the commencement exercises.

The music recital which opens the commencement exercises begins at 8:00 will be especially interesting this year. The new concert grand piano is a joy to both the pianists and the listeners. This is the first year there has been two glee clubs, a boys and a girls club.

Alumnae Day which is always on Saturday of commencement will be especially interesting this year as it is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization. The "daisy chain" which will be made out of daisies but of golden colored crepe paper binding the class together will be given in the late afternoon by the D class. This is the first time in several years this popular feature of commencement has been used.

Mrs. Gladys Bingham of the physical education Department has charge of the figure. Dean Tabor and his College orchestra will furnish the music.

Dr. W. A. Lambeth who preached the sermon here some years ago will return for this year. The Sunday morning services will be held in the Wright auditorium at 11:00 o'clock.

Dr. W. K. Greene, dean of undergraduate students at Duke University, who is a very popular speaker will deliver the commencement address at 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning, and the graduating exercises following closes the year.

Miss Earhart Off For Another Try Around World

Aviatrix to Make Trial Flight as Far as San Juan

San Juan, Puerto Rico, June 1.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart landed at San Juan at 1:30 P. M. (EST) today on the first hop of her proposed "just for fun" flight around the world.

Miss Earhart, flying at a pace she called leisurely, completed the 1,033 miles from Miami in seven hours and 33 minutes.

Miami, Fla., June 1.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart took off for San Juan Puerto Rico at 5:57 a. m. (EST) today on a second attempt to fly around the world "just for fun."

The slim aviatrix waved a bare arm in farewell and then gunned the big twin-motored monoplane some 2,000 feet along the runway before she lifted it easily into the brilliant tropical dawn.

Just before the take-off her husband, George Putnam, leaned into the cockpit to kiss her good-bye and shake hands with her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan who is to accompany her on the 28,000-mile west-to-east journey.

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM

The blonde aviatrix exuded confidence and smiled, but Putnam after leaving her side paced nervously back and forth along a balcony until her ship got off the field. With him were his son, David, and the young man's wife.

Putnam planned to remain in Miami until his wife reached Natal, Brazil, her jumping-off place for Africa. A commercial airlines will monitor her flight over its regular route to South America and expects to have reports on her progress.

Miss Earhart planned to cruise the 1,033 miles to San Juan at a leisurely 150 miles an hour to test her plane further and said she would return to Miami if anything went amiss.

PROBE CALLED TO FIX BLAME IN STRIKE RIOT

To Seek to Determine Cause of Outbreak at Chicago Plant

TO INVESTIGATE OTHER CLASHES

Regional Director Reaffirms Union's Determination to Picket Republic Mills

(By the Associated Press)

Contentious questions arising from strike violence pushed the primary dispute over collective bargaining into the background on the labor front today.

In the steel and motor industries, civil authorities tried to sift the blame for clashes incident to the CIO's drive for the right to represent workers.

At Chicago an inquest was ordered into the deaths of five men hurt in a clash between police and a crowd that surged toward the Republic Steel Corporation's South Chicago plant. Investigators hoped to determine the responsibility for the riot.

Meanwhile 67 men accused by Police Captain Thomas Kilroy in Sunday's Carnegie clash were held in custody for arraignment on charges of conspiracy to commit an illegal act. Van Bittner, regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, which called the steel strike, reaffirmed the union's determination to picket plants of the Republic and Inland Steel Corporations and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

A clash at the Republic's Warren, Ohio, plant also provoked conflicting charges from unionists and the management.

Republic stated it would continue to operate plants at Warren, Canton and Niles, Ohio, and at Chicago and Buffalo "because thousands of men in those plants want to continue at their jobs."

President Asks Congress Put Stop To Tax Dodging By Enacting Legislation

May Not Be Joke After All

President Roosevelt today asked Congress to pass laws which would eliminate tax dodging by a minority of the nation's "very rich individuals," declaring that the burden was being left to persons less able to bear it. John J. Raskob (left) and Pierre S. du Pont (right) are shown above outside a hearing room in New York, where the government is trying to collect approximately $1,600,000 in alleged deficiency taxes.

Says Burden Being Shifted to Those Less Able

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to stop tax-dodging "by a minority of the very rich individuals."

The chief executive, in a message saying evasion by the wealthy shifts the tax load to those less able to pay, urged legislation at this session "specifically and exclusively aimed at making the present tax structure evasion-proof."

"We face a challenge to the power of the government to collect uniformly, fairly and without discrimination taxes based on statutes adopted by Congress," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt declared the full power of the government would be thrown behind a treasury investigation of income tax evasion and avoidance. He asked authorization to expand the inquiry, giving the treasury full power to summon witnesses and compel testimony.

The President transmitted a pre-

WOULD ALLOW WAR VETERANS SAVE POLICIES

House Refuses To Sustain Veto Of Chief Executive

SENATE STRIKES AT TAX DODGERS

Resolution to Set Up 12-Man Committee Adopted and Dispatched to House

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The House voted today to override President Roosevelt's veto of a bill to extend the time in which World War veterans may renew their war risk term insurance policies.

Chairman Rankin, (D-Miss.), of the World War Veterans committee, declared failure to pass the measure would cause more than 20,000 veterans to drop their insurance.

The Chief Executive, in a veto message Friday, stated he did not believe the extension was "warranted or ultimately will prove profitable to the individuals concerned."

Meanwhile the President asked Congress to strike swiftly and directly at the "evaporation or unethical avoidance" of income taxes by wealthy tax payers.

Some authorities estimate the government may add about $100,000,000 to its income as a result of its action against what the President called "successful tax dodging by a minority of very rich individuals."

The Senate, moved by a special message from the President reporting widespread tax evasions and avoidance, acted immediately to authorize a Congressional inquiry.

The Senate unanimously adopted and sent to the House a resolution to set up a joint congressional committee of 12 members to investigate evasion and report back by February 1, 1938, recommendations to tighten the tax laws.

The hotly debated $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation measure came up in the House again after a holiday week-end which the administration spent in trying to work out a compromise on earmarking of funds for flood control, PWA and other purposes.

The Supreme court, meantime, finished its eight months term, the last for Justice Willis Van Devanter, who retires tomorrow, by agreeing to pass upon constitutionality of Federal loans and grants to aid in financing municipal power plants.

It refused to review litigation challenging constitutionality of the 1936 act regulating utility holding companies.

Report Shows All Expenditures For Pitt TB Patients

Of $738.11 Retained Locally From 1936 Christmas Seal Sale Fund, $273.10 Been Spent

Mrs. K. B. Pace, treasurer of the Pitt County Tuberculosis Seal Sale Fund, has just released a report through the Pitt County Health Department of the expenditures from January 1st to June 1st.

The Seal Sale Fund is used in an effort to control tuberculosis among patients who are unable to provide proper control for themselves.

A summary of the treasurer's report shows that $11.75 was spent for sputum cups; $2.96 for clothing for a colored patient; $30-$15 each for white and colored patients—for pneumothorax (an operation which compresses the lung with air, giving the lung rest just like a splint or brace would give rest to a tuberculous hip); $43.15 for milk for white patients; and $38.80 for colored patients; $33 for x-rays for white persons; and $81 for Negroes; $22 for moving picture films on the control of tuberculosis; the pictures having been shown in the various schools; $2.44 for miscellaneous expenses. This makes a total of $737.10 spent during the first five months of the year.

The treasurer also reported that the total amount derived from the 1936 Christmas Seal sale was $1,002.15, approximately 25 per cent greater than the $808.40 raised the previous year. The State Tuberculosis association received 20 per cent of the fund, or $200.43, and the National association five per cent, or $50.11, leaving 75 per cent, or $752.11 for local use.

Dr. N. Thomas Burnett, health officer, declared that the seal sale fund, which, of course, was contributed by the general citizens of the county.

PROTEST FILED WITH VATICAN

Reich Attack Critical Speech by Cardinal Mundelein

Berlin, June 1.—(AP)—The German government today formally accused the Vatican of endangering international relations with the Nazi Reich by fall in "disavow" the critical speech of George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

A diplomatic note handed to the Holy See by Diego von Bergen, the German ambassador to the Vatican, said:

"The Holy See must realize that it is unexpected and uncomprehending attitude in this matter so long as it remains unrelieved has removed the pre-conditions for the normal course of relations between the German government and the Roman Curia." (The Roman curia is the body of congregations, tribunals and officers through which the Pope governs the church.)

The foreign office said the note did not mean relations with the Vatican were not being broken off. Von Bergen, it was explained, left Rome on his usual summer vacation. But, it was stated, he will not go back for some time.

Miss Nannie May Claimed By Death

Clerks In Stores Get Half Holiday

A majority of Greenville's stores will be closed tomorrow afternoon as they inaugurate the summer schedule of a half-holiday each Wednesday afternoon.

The stores will close at 12:30 p. m. for the day.

Officers in the court house and all lawyers' offices are closing each Saturday afternoon and will remain open Wednesday afternoons.

In addition to the stores, other establishments are expected to observe the half holiday each Wednesday. Included among these will be the Sheppard Memorial library. The library, however, will be open on Wednesday nights, as usual.

Everett Kennon of Mine Run, Va., has been in 19 automobile accidents without suffering serious injury.

HIGHEST COURT ENDS SESSION

No More Decisions Forthcoming Until Next October

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The Supreme court wound up an eight months' historic term today by agreeing to pass on constitutionality of Federal loans and grants to aid in financing municipal power plants.

It then adjourned not to meet again until October. Before that time Congress may act on the controverted court reorganization proposal to put "new blood" on the highest bench.

Before adjourning the court declined to review litigation filed by the Electric Bond and Share company and 26 subsidiaries challenging constitutionality of the 1935 act regulating public utility holding companies.

That left, in effect, a lower court ruling which required such companies to register with the securities commission but did not involve constitutionality of the legislation. A review was sought without waiting for a customary opinion by the circuit court of appeals.

As he entered the court room Justice Willis Van Devanter 78, nodded to friends in the chamber and then chatted for a few moments with Chief Justice Hughes.

Among other action today the court:

Refused to review a decision the sixth Circuit court of appeals, ordering a trial before the Eastern Tennessee Federal District court to determine whether the TVA could expand its power program in eight states. Nineteen private utilities companies are seeking to enjoin the TVA activities.

Declined to pass on two new cases challenging the Wagner Labor Relations Act on the grounds it made no provision for a judicial review of decisions of the National Labor Relations Board as to who should represent employers in collective bargaining.

Carolina's Cotton Stand Said To Be Below Normal

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, June 1.—Stands of cotton at present are below normal over the state as a whole. W. H. Rhodes, chief statistician for the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, reported today.

"While no report has been prepared for the 1937 cotton crop, planting conditions this spring have been very irregular," he said. "Some sections have been very dry resulting in delayed germination, while other sections have had rather cold and wet soil conditions. Growers in many coastal counties report an excellent stand while in the Piedmont area the stand is considerably off due in part to dry conditions and in some instances to very poor quality of seed."

In 1936 North Carolina produced 597,000 (500 pound) bales of cotton compared with 572,000 produced in 1935. The yield per acre was estimated to be 298 pounds of lint compared with 294 harvested the year before.

The Department of Agriculture estimated that the 1936 crop was reduced 28 per cent from a full crop or normal yield per acre from causes such as weather, disease and insects. Of the reduction, 14 per cent was lost due to deficient moisture as compared with four per cent from this cause in 1935, which reflects the excessive drought conditions in the Piedmont counties and some coastal areas.

Only four per cent of the total loss of cotton last year was attributed to the boll weevil as compared with nine per cent from this pest the year before. Rhodes reported, adding that only two per cent of the loss was attributed to plant diseases. The remainder of the reduction was the result in some sections, of excessive moisture, insects other than boll weevil and other climatic conditions.

The 973,000 acres in cultivation on July 1, 1937 was 3.6 per cent more than was planted in 1935 and the 957,000 acres harvested, showed an abandonment of 1.7 per cent.

LOCAL ARMORY NEARLY READY

Several Improvements Made Over Others In State

Frankly admitting that he was skeptical of making any definite prediction as to when he would be ready to turn over the City-County Armory, O. G. Guley, superintendent, said that if no interruptions halted work he hoped to complete the structure within two weeks.

The heavy outside doors are being put up today and most of the plumbing fixtures already have been installed. All of the hardware, with the exception of brass rails for the stairs and stage, has arrived and is being put on.

Additional concrete for paving the equipment store room is due to arrive most any day now and laying this is the last major job to be completed.

Offices for the commanding officers of the local unit of the National Guard have been completed and office space for the local unit of the State Highway Patrol is practically ready for occupancy.

Philip Schwartz, state inspection engineer for WPA, was here today making a routine check-up and took occasion to compliment the work of Superintendent Guley. He declared that the local building was "one of the most workmanlike" in the state.

The local armory is considered a great improvement over most of those under construction or recently completed in the state. Mr. Guley has added several improvements from the original plans.

"You can say that we hope to have the armory completed within two weeks," replied Mr. Guley to a question he has been asked hundreds of times within the past few months.

The truckers will meet at Washington, N. C. Friday afternoon and the peanut growers at Jackson Thursday afternoon. J. W. Tapp of the AAA in Washington will attend the peanut meeting and E. Y. Floyd, in charge of the State Soil Conservation program, will be at the truck crop conference.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN FALL OF 15 FEET

J. L. Baker and son, Linwood Baker, suffered cuts and bruises, but were not seriously injured, when scaffolding upon which they were working at Williams' funeral home this morning gave way, throwing them to the ground 15 feet below.

The two were painting the undertaking establishment and were lifting a heavy ladder when the scaffolding fell. They were thrown over a wall into the dirt and the wall shielded them from the heavy timber.

They were taken to the hospital and given first aid treatment, but later were taken home.

Pitt Marriage Total During May Declines

According to figures released today from the office of J. C. Gaskins, Pitt County Register of Deeds, 35 licenses to wed were issued during the month of May, twenty of which were secured by white couples.

In commenting on the issuance of licenses to white couples is indeed unusual," he added that usually twice as many licenses are issued to colored than to white.

There were 61 licenses issued in April.

expressed a growing interest in our organization and has been the source of much inspiration in our efforts to accomplish the little that we have.

Since December of this term, our programs have been conducted by the students, and have been a resumption of some unit of work recently studied. These programs have been unusually interesting; they have given the children a chance to express in their own way, the type of work most appealing to them, and have given the parents an idea of their children's activities during school hours.

Our last meeting was held on Wednesday, May 26, at which time Miss Laura Foley's grade presented the opera, "Hansel and Gretel," followed by a selection of instrumental and vocal music. Officers for the ensuing year were also elected, and consists of Mrs. Earl Sellers, president; Mrs. Bill Drum, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Denton, secretary and Mrs. Jack Edwards, treasurer. A vote of thanks was extended to our outgoing president, Mrs. Herman Duncan, for her untiring interest and loyalty in serving in the past.

The school for many years provided its own medicinal supplies, collected offerings of groceries at welfare cases, supplied milk and crackers for children at intervals and this year remembered the flood sufferers. We have also managed to improve our library, having having placed during this term, 68 additional books.

The finances necessary to "carry on" have been obtained through a monthly free will offering; by school children selling flower and garden seeds; by selling photographs and sponsoring the sale of Christmas seals.

Our organization has functioned in good will and with a most inspiring spirit of cooperation. We have sadly missed the former members of our faculty who were not with us this term, and have greatly enjoyed and appreciated the new ones as well as those who have been with us from year to year.

And now at the close of this school term we feel that we have enjoyed a good year at West Greenville, and are encouraged to attempt greater things for the future.—Reporter.

First Church of Christ, Scientist

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Mesmerism and Hypnotism Denounced" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 30, 1937.

The Golden Text was from Jeremiah 15:20, "I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the Lord, and I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep. A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this. When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed forever. But thou, Lord, art most high for evermore." (Ps. 92:5-8).

Max Sanders of Gastonia, vice president of the Council; Nancy Forbes of Birmingham, Ala., with Frank Curry of Lebanon, Tenn., committee chairman; Katharine Glascock of Raleigh with Jack Gaw of Greensboro, committee member; Bessie Bray of Mount Airy with Lewis Webb of Mount Airy, committee member; and Geraldine Gardner of Farmville with W. G. Andrews of Bethel; committee member. The orchestras of Hal Kemp and Eddie Parley will play for the dances which will be held in colorfully decorated Thompson Gymnasium, beginning next Friday evening.

Evans, Mrs. H. T. Savage and Mrs. Thurman Crawford are hostesses for the afternoon.

Inspector Traps Dangerous Seeds Sacramento, Calif. (AP)—High prices for alfalfa seed, base of one of this state's principal crops, have given the state department of agriculture a new problem.

Cheap seed shipped here has been seized and analyzed and found to consist of as high as 29 per cent weed seed. In one specimen, it was determined that in every pound of seed sown by a farmer he would be planting 106,294 weeds.

Cromwell To The Rescue London (AP)—T. M. Sexton, Laborite M. P., has discovered an inaccuracy in the dates of Charles the Second's reign, as inscribed on the front of the Houses of Parliament. He wants the government to correct it by adding a record of Oliver Cromwell's interregnum—1649-1687—to the inscription.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

SYNOPSIS: The mysterious shooting to death of Jude Blinshop, my old flame, opens our story, told at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael'sunts. After a series of strange attacks, we find the body of Michael's mad father on the bluff. Aunt Martha is shot in the shoulder, then nearly drugged to death with sleeping powders. The Skipper, Mike's tall, tweedy younger aunt, disappears and Cook takes dope. William, the chauffeur, proves an ex-convict. I savedrop on Cook, William and Annie the maid, who are talking against Higgins, the butler, then I quit William.

Chapter 46

What About Higgins?

"YOU'D better answer questions, all of you," I said at last. "How did you manage to get here, William? Did Cook arrange it?"

"No, I told you once, Mr. Blinshop did. Cook's been here a long time. She got Annie this job when they sent me up. And then—I just happened to get here. I might have known there'd be some hitch to a break like that."

"Did anyone here know that you were related?"

William shook his head. "I didn't want to take no chances."

Every word he uttered dovetailed with a wild idea forming in the back of my mind. Right then, it seemed too anybody," I said patiently. "I'm trying to find out what happened. Two people are dead, and if we don't want to be in their shoes, we've got to find out what happened. We won't find out anything until everybody tells all he or she knows."

I paused to gauge the effects of my words. It was considerable.

"Now," I said quietly, "did either of you straighten up William's room after we searched it a few minutes ago? No one can hold it against you if you did. It will just keep us from running up any more blind alleys."

"No," said William earnestly. "I swear I didn't!"

Annie's negative was thin and wavery but Cook's came forth torrentially.

"Very well, Cook," I said curtly. "Annie, did you leave Miss Farrington alone—even for a second—after William came downstairs?"

Annie answered without the slightest hesitation. "No sir. Not for a second even!"

Only Higgins Could—

ONE point was settled then. Almost anyone in the house might have placed those letters in William's room, but there was only one person who could have removed them—Higgins. Everyone else was carefully checked. Unless the Skipper was in the house! Or either Gay or Michael was withholding them for a purpose. The only purpose that I could imagine for such an act was to conceal the fact that either had put them there.

I lost my temper. "This won't get you anywhere—where are the letters?"

bizarre to be true, but I was to think better of it.

"What did you do with those letters?" I said.

"What letters?" His face was bewildered.

"Don't be a fool," I snapped. "We searched your room just now and found the letters from your warden and from Mr. Blinshop. A few minutes later, when we came back, the letters were gone. What did you do with them?"

William's face was twisted in terror.

"As God's my judge, Mr. Wells, he said, 'I didn't have no such letters.'"

I lost my temper. "You had them or someone in your family did. I saw them. This won't get you anywhere. The first policeman who comes into this house can have you identified. Where are they?"

"Do you know what he's talking about?" William turned dazedly from Cook to Annie. They both shook frightened heads. "What—what was in them, sir? Where was they?"

"They were in your driving cushion," I said. Slowly, as accurately as I could, I repeated their contents. Before I was halfway through, my bewilderment redoubled. As surely as I was sitting there, not one of the three had ever heard my words before. It was insane and pointless. They had absolutely nothing to gain by denials. William voiced the conclusion that was formulating in my own mind.

It's—Crazy!

"SOMEbody put 'em there! Put 'em there and then swiped 'em."

"Did you ever have such letters?" I demanded.

His eyes clouded. "I don't know. I had references from the warden and Blinshop once, but I forget what I done with them. I—think—I showed 'em to Miss Barbara when I got this job and then chucked 'em. It's crazy."

It was all of that, I turned to Cook. "How long have you been down here?" I inquired.

"Hub!" Cook's heavy jaw dropped and then snapped together. "In this kitchen? I come down with Willie to sit him some supper."

"Has she been here ever since?" I directed the question at William.

His face darkened. "Sure, she's been here. What do you think? You needn't try to pin anything on her, too."

"I'm not trying to pin anything on enforcement fund, with more coming in all the time. This county tried to get a bill through the general assembly to permit it to divert this amount into the general fund, but failed to get it passed.

Chairman Cutlar Moore of the state control board said that in addition to urging the counties to make greater enforcement efforts, the board intended to put on at least two special investigators or detectives to help the county boards and their officers.

"The main thing we are striving for is control and to make it rough on the bootleggers," Moore said.

Talks To Parents

Tell Me A Story!

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

This has been the child's repeated request for thousands of years—not "read me a story"—anyone can do that—but "tell me a story."

There is something personal about a story which is told to a child. It is his story, adjusted to his age and taste. It belongs to him as no story read from a book can possibly belong to him. Even the stories of the past—mythological, Biblical, fairy stories—are all more interesting to the tiny child if told instead of read. Best of all are stories out of the life of someone the child knows, or stories in which he himself is a figure.

A child who has never been told stories has lost one of the joys of childhood, and a joy so easy and cheap to bestow, that it seems incredible that he should be denied it. Some fathers and mothers will insist that they cannot tell stories.

Yet they will describe to some friend just what they did down street that morning, including the comments of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones whom they met, and a full description of Mrs. Smith's clothes. They are telling stories to their friends and making them interesting enough to hold their listeners' attention. Why can't they do it for their children?

Liquor Board To Require County Units Enforce Law

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 1.—The various county liquor control boards, which are not now spending at least 5 per cent of their net profits for enforcement of the state and county liquor control laws, will be required to spend at least this much in enforcement work while many of the boards will be urged for better enforcement and for the breaking up of bootlegging, F. Webb Williams, of Elizabeth City, of the state control board said today. For while many of the counties have been spending the 5 per cent of their net profits enforcing the law, as the law requires, some of the counties have made little or no effort at enforcement, Williams said.

"We have already sent out letters to the county boards calling their attention to the law and uring them to make immediate provision for the spending of not less than 5 per cent of their profits in law enforcement," Williams said. "We think some of the counties should spend more than 5 per cent, probably as much as 10 per cent, in enforcing the county and state control laws with a particular view to breaking up bootlegging."

Most of the county boards have been employing special agents and under-cover men ever since the county liquor laws went into effect in the summer or fall of 1935, Williams said and many of these have obtained fine results in stamping out bootlegging. But a few of the counties have little or no effort at better enforcement. One county which has had liquor control for some time has not spent a cent for enforcement, Williams said, and now has more than $3,000 in its

Gambling Devices Expected To Stay Despite N. C. Law

Coin Operated Machine to Be Out-Lawed on July 1 Under Flanagan Law Passed by Assembly

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, June 1.—Slot machines are expected to remain in the back rooms of many filling stations and beer bars in many counties of the state after July 1 despite the fact that the new Flanagan law goes into effect on that date and that this law definitely prohibits the operation of any coin operated gambling machines in the state, according to a good many observers here.

But all of the slot machines operators are expected to defer paying the state license taxes, which become due tomorrow, until after the hearing is held on the injunction brought by the representatives of a Fayetteville and Danville, Va., operating company to restrain the state from collecting the license tax for an entire year. Hearing on this injunction will be held in Federal court here Thursday, June 3, at which time Judge Meekins is expected either to make it permanent or throw it out of court, although he may grant the injunction only for a period of 30 days.

There is nothing to prevent slot machine operators not included in the injunction proceedings from paying their license taxes to the Department of Revenue for the entire year and then take a chance with the local law enforcement agencies. It is pointed out. For if the license taxes are paid on slot machines, the state has nothing more to do about them, regardless of the Flanagan law. For the enforcement of this law is definitely in the hands of local police departments, sheriffs and solicitors. Accordingly, it is expected that some slot machine operators will pay the state license taxes on their machines and then take a chance with the local law enforcement agencies, just as they have been doing in the past. It is generally known that thousands of slot machines have been operated in many counties in the state in spite of strict laws against them, because local law enforcement agencies winked at the law and made no effort to enforce it.

Officials in the revenue department here, however, think that most of the slot machine operators will wait to see how the injunction suit comes out in Federal court here before paying their taxes for next year.

Editorial for the New York Academy of Medicine

Medical Advances

Demonstration that the cause of influenza is a virus, is one of the noteworthy advances in the war against influenza.

Interesting, too, is the discovery that viruses recovered from influenza sufferers at widely distant parts of the world—such as England, Puerto Rico, United States, Alaska, Australia, Holland and European Russia—appear to be of an identical strain.

The accidental infection of a research worker handling a ferret cub with influenza proved this disease can be transmitted from animal to man, and clinched the evidence of the virus cause of influenza.

Most significant of all has been the development of a vaccine containing the virus of influenza which is capable of inducing resistance against the disease in inoculated individuals. It is still too early to try to estimate the probability of practical success in using this vaccine, but "there is ample justification for hope."

Appreciable advance has also been made in the nutrition field.
Nutrition is a wide, inclusive subject embracing not only food intake, but all other factors influencing metabolism. Among these factors, exercise is possibly as important as the foods eaten. Physical development and health are primarily dependent on proper feeding and exercise, and their full benefits can be obtained only in those whose bodily and mental qualities have been developed to their innate maximum of proper feeding.

Studies of the health and nutrition of different groups of individuals suggest that the commonly accepted standard of "adequate caloric intake"—3,000 calories a day—is perhaps too high. The technical commission on nutrition, appointed by the health section of the League of Nations, decided that a daily allowance of 2,400 calories net is adequate to meet the energy requirements of an adult male or female living in ordinary everyday life in a temperate climate, and not engaged in manual work.

Good nutrition, however, is not solely a matter of caloric intake.
The 2,400 calories advised should be consumed in the form of foods containing abundant quantities of the mineral salts and vitamins. The latter implies milk, milk foods, eggs, meat, fish, common vegetables, and fruits.

Part of "American's" Great Refinery at Texas City, Texas

- (1) 1933 . . . World's greatest refining unit built at Texas City, Texas
- (2) 1937 . . . New units added. New scientific equipment added. Refinery capacity doubled . . . more than ever world's greatest and most modern refining unit!

In 1933 the flat prairie-land at Texas City, Texas suddenly became alive with industry! Giant cranes tugging at mighty beams and girders! The staccato beat of riveting machines! The world's largest refining unit was being built.

Soon this great refinery was producing New Action American Gas . . . millions of gallons of it! The new refinery yielded the best regular gasoline we could possibly produce. And you recognized it for the value that it was. You bought millions of gallons of it . . .
more and more and more!

As a result of your demand for American Gas, the giant cranes returned to the Texas coast. The builders came back! The world's greatest refining unit was no longer big enough to meet the increasing demand for American Gas.

We enlarged the refinery . . . more than doubled its capacity. But we did more than merely increase its size. Scientists, chemists, engineers, had been busy . . . pushing science's fight against crude oil! New, improved equipment was installed. New processes perfected and patented. And as a result of these new processes and equipment we can now build greater value into regular gasoline than was ever possible before!

The new gas is ready—NOW! We named it New Value
American Gas—because of its extra built-in values.

It is known as a "sweet" gas—meaning it's pure, free from undesirable odors, —and no added chemicals! You'll say it's a "sweet performer," too—in mileage, economy, smoothness!

Really, New Value American Gas sets a new measure for value in regular gasoline! Try it—it's the greatest buy in "regular" that you've ever seen or used! Stop at the Sign of Greater Values —fill your tank with New Value American Gas—then listen to your motor sing its song of smoothness and performance!

Greenville opens the week's play at Snow Hill today, but will be at home on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, with Snow Hill, New Bern and Ayden providing the competition on the local diamond.

Of the three foes this week, New Bern is the only team the locals have not secured a victory over. The locals also have to score their first victory over Williamston, but they do not meet the Martins again until June 17.

No games were played in the loop yesterday, it being an off-day and no contests having been postponed during the past week.

The Greens start the week with a standing of 364, having won 8 and lost 14. They rest in seventh place, with only Kinston below them.

Two of the three teams the locals meet this week are second division nines, only New Bern being among the four leaders, and the last in this group, Ayden and Snow Hill are just above the Greens and victories over them will boost the locals' standing place.

When the Greens return here Wednesday for the Snow Hill game, local fans will witness at least two new faces in the lineup. Kooma has replaced Muto at second and a new pitcher has recently joined the staff.

SECURITY ACT IS EXPLAINED

Confusion Can Be Eliminated by Simple Formula

Raleigh, June 1.—Confusion that apparently exists in the minds of most people over the several divisions of the Social Security program can be eliminated once and for all by a very simple formula, which, once learned, is not easily forgotten. It may be termed the A B C's of the Social Security program, and is offered by Chairman Charles G. Powell, of the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission, as follows:

A stands for assistance. Old Age Assistance, the Federal-State-County cooperative plan of paying to every needy individual 65 years of age and over a sum sufficient for a decent living, up to $30 a month.

B stands for benefits. Old Age Benefits, in which the worker pays a small part of his wages, doubled by his employer, into a fund to the Federal Government to provide him a regular monthly income ranging from $10 to $85 a month for the rest of his life, after he reaches 65 years of age and stops work.

C stands for compensation. Unemployment Compensation, sponsored by the Federal Government and operated by the States, by which a small percentage of their payrolls is paid by employers on their workers to create a fund to be paid to the workers on the basis of one-half their normal wages, but not over $15 a week, when they become unemployed through no fault of their own.

D, to continue the little formula, might stand for dependent children, a Federal-State-County cooperative plan of paying up to $18 for the first child and $12 for each additional child, not over 16 years of age, if kept in a home by a close relative, when the natural breadwinner no longer supports the children.

AB, also, might stand for Aid to the Blind, another Federal-State-County cooperative plan of paying up to $30 a month for the needy blind in the State.

In these first five divisions, money is paid to individuals. In the other five, the Federal and State governments cooperate in furnishing funds for services. They include Maternal and Child Welfare, services to Crippled Children and Public Health work, all administered by the State Board of Health; Child Welfare services, administered by the State Welfare Department, and vocational rehabilitation, administered by the State Education Department.

North Carolina is cooperating fully in all of these divisions, or will be when the Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to the Blind laws become effective next month.

Sinclair's Gashouse gang routed the Chain Stores yesterday by the score of 32-15 in a loosely played game at the West Greenville diamond. Rube Dressach held the Chain Stores boys well in hand as his mates spotted him to a 12 run lead in the first inning. Although the "Rube" was hit freely he was never in danger. Butch Barrett's hitting along with John Clark's spectacular playing at second base featured for the Gashouse gang. Gardner, Blackman and Nobles lead their team on field and at bat.

Carolina Sales vs. Lawyers (College Diamond)

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

Person Garrett and Tadlock won victories in yesterday's softball games, the former defeating Coburn's Shoe company in a one-sided contest, 12-0, and the Insurance men eaking out a victory over Blount-Harvey.

The shoe men were unable to hit the fast pitching of Wells for Person-Garrett and were never able to put a single mark in the run column.

A home run by Doug West on an error proved to be the deciding factor in a closely played game between Blount-Harvey and Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency. The score had been deadlocked three times at various stages of the game.

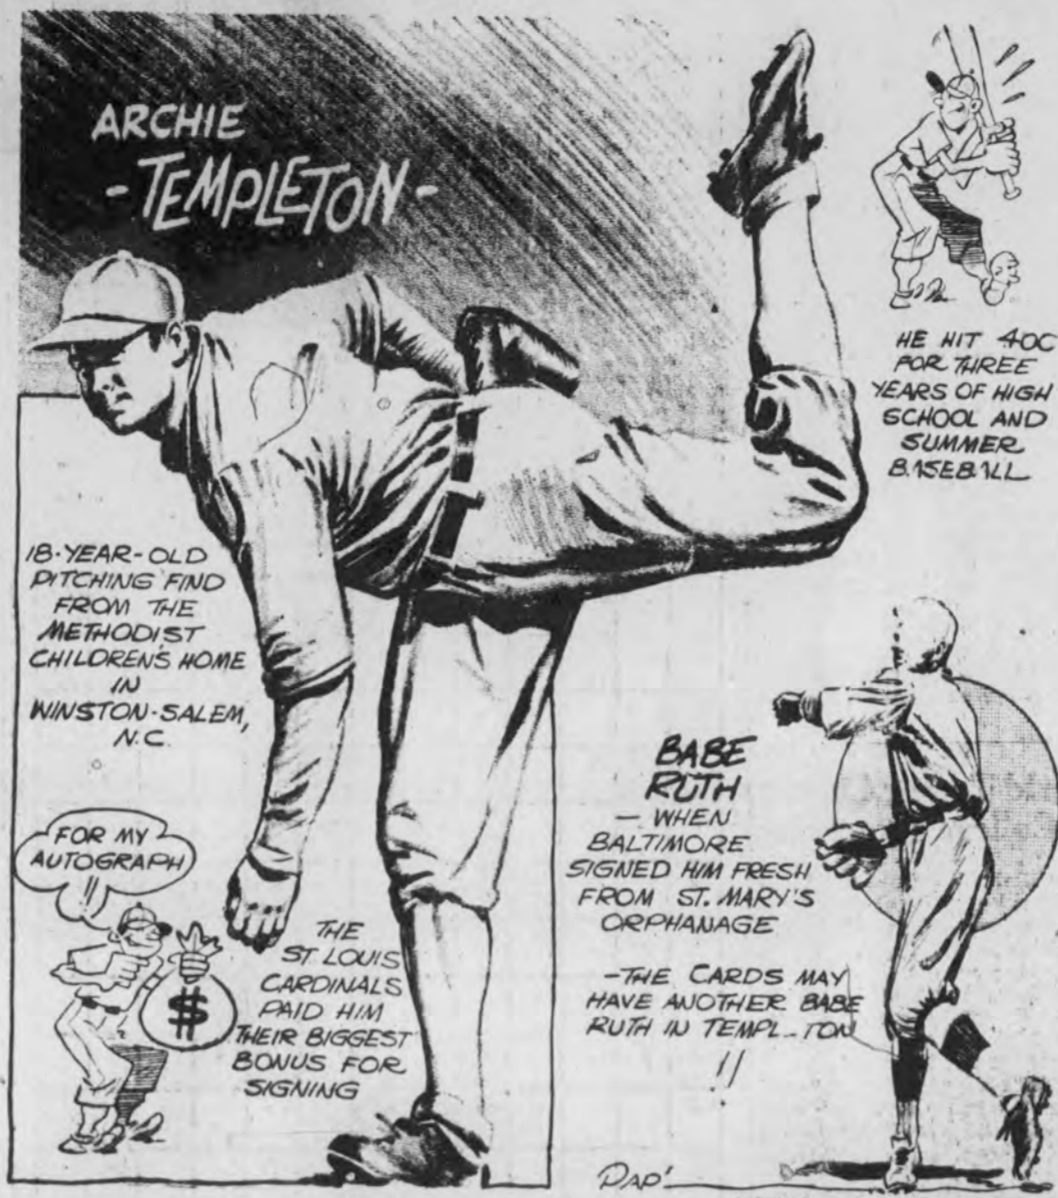

A number of errors allowed the Insurance team to score five runs in their half of the first inning, while Blount-Harvey came back in their half of the second inning to knot the count. The game was tied 8-8 at the beginning of the seventh when West poled a long one to left field for the deciding run.

ANOTHER TAR HEEL

SPORT SLANTS

The St. Louis Cardinals may or may not have picked up another Babe Ruth in the person of 18-year-old Archie Templeton. But there are parallels that recall the Sultan of Swat when you review the youngster's career.

Templeton attracted the attention of Cardinal scouts while playing with an orphanage team in Winston-Salem, N. C. just as Babe Ruth did as a youngster in Baltimore.

Archie looks like the Babe did when he launched his baseball career. Teammates call Archie "Moon." He's a husky lad, a 6-footer weighing 190 pounds. He is a left-handed pitcher, too, as Ruth was.

Templeton's amazing hurling and batting prompted the Cardinals to out the largest bonus they ever paid for a signature.

In 60 innings this spring Templeton allowed only 16 hits and 11 runs. He boasted a batting average of more than 400 for three seasons of high school and summer baseball.

Templeton, who entered the orphanage from Charlotte nine years ago, did not confine his activities to baseball. He made almost every 1936 all-North Carolina high school football team. Coaches voted him the best schoolboy back of the year.

His work had much to do with the Children's Home winning 12 straight games to run its streak to 34 in a row over three years. This grid record was climaxed by winning the state high school, the state

In addition, Archie was for three years the spearhead of his team's attack on the basketball court.

Archie first attracted attention when he fanned 24 Mooresville men last year, winning, 4-2. He repeated against another team with 24 more strikeouts. This spring he did not lost a game.

START YOUR NEW HOME WITH A BIGELOW NANTASKET

Your rugs "take a beating" 365 days of the year (excepting leap year when it's a good 366). Probably no home furnishings item gets as much punishment day after day, so be sure you buy the kind of rugs that won't sprout irritating worn spots or lose their fresh, clear colors in short order. Rugs from the famous Bigelow Weavers, no matter what the price, are firmly woven of Lively Wool, colored with costly dyes. So look for the blue-and-gold label.

HELPFUL HINT DEPARTMENT—USE OUR EASY DOWN PAYMENT PLAN
You don't have to wait for your fifth anniversary—conveniently while you're enjoying them! Ask us or even your first. Give your new home the benefit of Bigelow rugs right now! You can pay for them about it! We can offer you very liberal terms of rug payment.
