NEW PROGRAM PROFFERED BY GREAT BRITAIN

Seeks to Bring Germany and Italy Back Into Committee

REBELS RESUME MADRID ASSAULT

Lull Left by Day in Which Not a Shot Was Heard Broken By Insurgent Shells

London, June 8.—(AP)—Great Britain offered a three-point proposal today to induce Germany and Italy back into the non-intervention committee and to safeguard Europe from the chaos that might spread from a new "incident" in the Spanish civil war.

Great Britain proposed:

- 1. Extension of safety zones for neutral shipping and war ships in the neutrality fleet patrolling Spain.
2. Assurances from both sides of the Spanish conflict to abstain from provocations such as the recent Spanish government aerial bombardment of the German pocket battleship Deutschland.
3. An arrangement in the event the first two measures fail to bring Italo-German agreement to bring the matter up for consultation by all four powers engaged in the patrol, Britain, France, Germany and Italy, to consider necessary action.

The prospect for an agreement were not viewed optimistically in European chancelleries, but the situation was not regarded as hopeless.

Madrid, June 8.—(AP)—Insurgent shells screamed into Madrid at 10-second intervals in an one-hour bombardment today while besieging troops fought futilely to take a greater slice of suburban territory in the southwestern Carabanchel sector.

Scattering the lull left by a day in which not a shot was heard in the capital from the thunder of General Francisco Franco's batteries tumbled the Madrileños from their beds and into underground places of safety.

Basic Exemptions To N.C. Sales Tax Effective July 1st

Bread and Rolls Along With Nine Other Food Articles Will Not Be Subject to Levy

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, June 8.—Bread and rolls will not be subject to the sales tax after July 1, after which date nine other basic food articles will also become exempt, it was pointed out today by Department of Revenue officials, coincident with the announcement by Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell that the tax would be more stringently enforced and collected than ever before, that merchants would be required to keep more complete records.

The nine other exempted food articles are flour, meal, meat, sugar, salt, coffee, milk, lard and molasses. By meat is meant any fresh, smoked, salt or processed meat other than canned meat. For canned meat also canned milk, will continue to be subject to the sales tax.

Merchants selling both taxable and non-taxable articles must keep an accurate record of all sales of taxable and exempted articles, otherwise they will be required to pay the full 3 per cent sales tax on their gross sales, it was pointed out by officials in the sales tax division. In making their returns each month merchants must list their gross receipts, then their total taxable sales and total non-taxable sales. If they do not keep accurate and detailed records of both the taxable and non-taxable sales in their stores, they will be taxed on the basis of their gross sales, it was pointed out. Several different methods are being outlined for use by grocery stores to keep track of their taxable and non-taxable sales and these will be mailed out soon to all merchants along with the new rules and regulations.

So far no definite system for separating taxable and non-taxable sales to the customer, so that they will not get mixed up and the customer taxed for exempted articles, has not been worked out, it was said. But it was indicated that thought is being given to this problem. (Continued on page six)

FOUR CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Hearings During Session This Morning Unusually Long

Only four defendants were tried at the morning session of Pitt county court, leaving a large number on the docket, many of which are expected to be disposed of at the afternoon hearing.

Two of the defendants were tried on charges of abandonment and these took up an unusually long time. The other two involved violation of traffic laws and they, too, consumed more time than the usual run of cases.

Of the four cases tried, two defendants were acquitted, one white man and one Negro was convicted and one of each race acquitted.

Arthur E. Gurganus, white man, was adjudged not guilty of abandonment but William Arthur Dail, also a white man, was convicted of a similar charge. Prayer for judgment was continued, however, until the first Tuesday in July.

John Atkinson, Negro, was acquitted of a charge of careless and reckless driving but Alex Holmes, also a Negro, was convicted of hit-and-run and careless and reckless driving. He was given a 90-day road sentence on the careless and reckless charge and an eight-months sentence on the hit-and-run charge, the sentences to run concurrently. Notice of appeal to Superior court was filed and bond set at $200.

At the conclusion of the morning session, approximately a score of cases remained to be heard during the afternoon or at a later date. Many of these were on charges of driving drunk, careless and reckless and larceny. Liquor cases also were scattered throughout the docket.

F. D. R.'S SON MAY RUN FOR TEXAS OFFICE

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Rumors at the capitol here indicate that Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the President, may enter one of the Texas statewide races next summer. The reports generally link him with the campaign for lieutenant governor.

Young Roosevelt, whose home is Fort Worth, already has evinced a keen interest in Texas politics. He is a past officer of the state organization of Young Democrats and was an active supporter of Governor James V. Allred in his successful campaign last year for re-election. Since then he has been appointed by the governor as a member of the board of directors of Texas A. and M. college.

Doughton Certain Senate To Provide For Parkway

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, June 8.—Congressman Robert L. Doughton is confident that the U. S. Senate will approve the $5,000,000 appropriation for parkways in the Department of the Interior appropriations bill, now before the senate appropriations committee and that the bill will be enacted before July 1, so that this money will be available whenever needed after that date, he indicated while passing through here en route to New Bern where he was one of the principal speakers at the convention of the North Carolina Merchants' Association. "I have no cause for worry over the fate of the parkway appropriation in the senate and feel confident it will be approved without any material opposition," Congressman Doughton said. "I think that most of the members of the senate appropriations committee realize that the Blue Ridge Parkway is a national scenic highway of interest to every citizen of the United States and in no sense a local or sectional undertaking. For this parkway really means more to the people in the middle-west and in the north-east than to people in North Carolina and in the southeastern states generally, since the idea in building it is to provide a means for people in other states to visit the Blue Ridge mountains and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park." While the $5,000,000 provided for additional construction work will be allocated by the National Park Service and since part of the parkway is in Virginia, some of this amount will undoubtedly be allotted for work in Virginia. Congressman Doughton pointed out. But since most of the parkway lying in Virginia has been just about completed, Doughton believes that at least $4,000,000 of this $5,000,000 should be made available for additional highway construction in North Carolina. So far only about 76 miles of the parkway has been put under construction in North Carolina, out of a planned total of 270 miles.

SAYS STAR HAD PREMONITION OF HER DEATH

Friend of Jean Harlow Says Film Star Expressed Fear

ONLY RELATIVES VISIT MORTUARY

Body of Actress Clad in Favorite Color of White and Placed in Bronze Casket

Los Angeles, June 8.—(AP)—The body of Jean Harlow, clad in white, her favorite color, lay in a bronze coffin today as a close associate recalled the blonde film star voiced a premonition of death when she was stricken ill May 29.

The strange fear of the actress, who amassed an estimated $1,000,000 in seven years of success, was described by Violet Denoyer, friend and make-up attendant for Miss Harlow.

"Jean looked at me strangely one morning—the same day she was taken ill," said Miss Denoyer.

"You know, Violet," she told me, "I have a feeling I am going away from here and never coming back."

Ever since Christmas the star had worn a huge star sapphire ring on the third finger of her right hand. It was a gift from William Powell.

The body of Miss Harlow was held at a mortuary for her mother and immediate relatives to look upon a last time before the funeral service tomorrow.

BRITISH GOLD POLICY STAYS

Sir John Blasts Hopes of Returning To Former Standard

London, June 8.—(AP)—Sir John Simon, new Chancellor of the Exchequer, today blasted British hopes of an immediate return to the gold standard.

"I see no need for any new declaration of policy at the present time," said the chancellor, who succeeded the new Conservative prime minister, Neville Chamberlain, in the post. He answered a question in the House of Commons.

Sir John reaffirmed Great Britain's policy of maintaining a flexible price for the pound, regulating its value in relation to foreign currencies through purchases and sales of bullion in London.

MISS EARHART NOW IN AFRICA

Delays Flight Across Continent Until Tomorrow

Dakar, French Senegal, June 8.—(AP)—Amdin Earhart flew here today from St. Louis, capital of Senegal, for an easier take-off on the next leg of her flight around the world.

Aviators here said Miss Earhart's time of 18 hours and 22 minutes for the 1,900 miles from Natal, Brazil, to St. Louis, Senegal, where she landed yesterday, apparently was the record for the eastward South Atlantic crossing.

Miss Earhart flew through rain most of the way across the ocean, she said. The visibility at nightfall was bad and her wireless worked poorly.

The slim American flier after her arrival here from the Senegalese capital laid up her plane for repairs. She said it would be tomorrow or Thursday before she could hop off across Africa.

She planned to follow the British route to Khartoum in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan to avoid flying across the Sahara.

Three Men Scheduled to Die Friday To Be Granted Reprieve Because of Remodeling

Raleigh, June 8.—(AP)—Parole Commissioner Edwin Gill announced today renovation work under way at Central Prison would again necessitate reprieve of three men scheduled to be executed Friday.

There has been no executions since Governor Hoke took office in January and 20 men are on death row in temporary quarters under sentence.

The men who had been scheduled to die this week for murder are Melvin Coggins, convicted in Nash; A. W. Watson, convicted in Martin and Thomas Perry, sentenced in Wake for rape.

UNC Yearbook Lauds Resources Of State

Chapel Hill, June 8.—The Yackety-Yack, University of North Carolina yearbook which has just come from the press, is dedicated to "North Carolina of Today." The new annual was edited by Henry Lewis of Jackson, with Ned McAllister of Durham as business manager.

The dedication sketch points out that "The University is a child of the state of North Carolina. With this thought in mind, we believe it fitting that we should dedicate this 47th volume to the mother of the University. We here strive to visualize the accomplishments of the state in all their ramifications." Appropriate pictures accompanying the theme depict the state's resources, recreation centers, historical points of interest, commercial and industrial centers.

MOVE TO TAKE PROFITS FROM WAR SUPPLIES

Five Senators Propose Virtual Monopoly For Government

CONGRESS BUSY WITH HEARINGS

Senate Agriculture Committee Members Hear U. S. Farm Bureau President

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—A group of five senators proposed today to help "take the private profit out of war" by giving the government a practical monopoly in the manufacture of war weapons and munitions.

Senator Bone (D-Wash.) headed the group which included also Clark, of Missouri and Pope, of Idaho; and Nye and Frazier, of North Dakota, Republicans.

While Nye disclosed the quietest of the munitions nationalization plan, a variety of committee hearings went forward on capitol hill.

The House Interstate Commerce committee undertook a study of an administration-approved bill to extend securities' commission regulations over bond and stock holders' protective committee, involved in corporate reorganization.

Katherine Lenroot, children's bureau head, suggested federal child labor legislation should permit use of state systems for enforcement purposes. She testified before a group studying the Black-Connerly Labor Standards bill.

To the Senate Agriculture committee, Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau, submitted a bureau request for an "honest dollar" based on an index of basic commodities prices.

In the controversy over court reorganization, a proposal of Senator Andrews (D-Pa.) for a flat enlargement of the Supreme Court by two members received consideration as a possible basis for compromise.

NAZIS LAUNCH HUGE WARSHIP

Germans Advised To Be First to Attack in Case of War

Kiel, Germany, June 8.—(AP)—Germany launched the second of three cruisers of her naval building program today with this admonition from the Baltic naval commander, Vice Admiral Conrad Albrecht:

"If war should be forced on us, be you the first in attack!"

The 10,000-ton warship mounting eight eight-inch guns was christened Bismarck as she slid down the waves at this naval station. Thus she was named both in honor of the 19th century Prussian militarist here General Gerhard von Bismarck and the warships of the same name. One of these armored cruisers was sunk in war time.

Both Admiral Erich Raeder, the Reich naval chief and Vice Admiral Albrecht were present.

Albrecht also told the gleaming new man of war:

"Fight like your predecessors in the spirit of Bismarck and may God give you victory."

Contract Let For New Automobiles For State Patrol

Sixty Regulation Stock Coupes, Four De Luxe Coaches and One De Luxe Ford Sedan Purchased

Raleigh, June 8.—A fleet of 65 new patrol cars for the state highway patrol was purchased by the Division of Purchase and Contract today, it was announced by Director Capus M. Wayne on the basis of bids submitted May 20.

Of these 65 cars, all of which will be Fords, 60 will be regulation stock coupes, four will be de luxe coaches for the lieutenants and one will be a de luxe sedan for the captain of the patrol. All will be equipped with bullet proof windshields, outside aerials for the radios which will be installed in all of the cars, and with special generators to take care of the radio equipment.

All of the patrol cars will be painted a silver color with aluminum paint, except for the hoods, which will be painted black, with black trim, just as the present patrol cars are painted. All of the present patrol cars are Ford roadsters. It was decided to change to coupes and closed cars, however, since the open cars do not afford sufficient protection for the patrolmen in rainy weather and during the cold winter weather.

The awarding of the contract for the new cars was held up by the board of awards at the request of the Department of Revenue, since at one time consideration was being given to the purchase of heavier cars. But yesterday the revenue department decided that the lighter cars would do, so the board awarded the contract on the basis of the May 20 bids to the lowest bidder, which was the Ford company.

Maxwell Says Consumers Must Pay N. C. Sales Tax

By J. C. BASKERVILL (Special Correspondent). New Bern, June 8.—The sales tax must be paid by the purchaser, as the law requires, and in no case absorbed by the merchants — and the merchants must transmit the tax collected each month amount to 3 per cent of their gross sales, for it will be just too bad for the merchant who tries to "chisel," Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell, who is in charge of the enforcement of the sales tax and all other state revenue laws, today told the hundreds of merchants from every section of the state attending the annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants' Association. For while most of the merchants of the state have been and still are cooperating with the Department of Revenue and are observing both the spirit and letter of the sales tax law, there are some who are still trying to "chisel" and get by without paying the tax to the state or the amount they should pay, Maxwell said. These are the merchants the department is going after harder than ever—and it is going to be rough going for them, Mr. Maxwell said. "The merchant who collects his tax when he sells his merchandise, who keeps an accurate record of his sales and then reports his tax collections promptly and accurately, has nothing to fear—and the sales tax will not cost him any money," Mr. Maxwell said. "It is only the occasional merchant who tries to beat the tax who gets caught and who finds that the sales tax is expensive to him. For with the system of collections we now have and without efficient field auditing force, it is virtually impossible for any merchant to try to cheat himself, the state or his fellow merchants without getting caught sooner or later. In one single case, within a period of two months, we recently collected $96,000 of delinquent sales taxes. This should indicate the thoroughness of our system." (Continued on page four)

RECOVER BODY NEW BERN MAN

Assistant Post Master Drowns in Neuse River

New Bern, June 8.—(AP)—The body of George W. Howard, assistant post master here, was found in the Neuse river at Oriental this morning following discovery of his car there last night.

No other details were immediately available.

Mr. Howard, about 45, had been missing since 11 o'clock Sunday morning when he left his home, telling his wife he was going to the country club to get his golf clubs. He was to have taken part during the afternoon in a golf match in Farmville between teams of that place and New Bern. He did not go to the country club and was not seen again until his body was found.

Postmaster R. R. Eagle said a check of Howard's accounts revealed them in perfect shape.

Negro Boy's Body Finally Recovered

The body of Jasper Barnes, 16-year-old Negro boy who was drowned Sunday afternoon, was recovered late yesterday afternoon from Tar river after several hours of dragging and diving for the remains.

The body came to the surface after Joseph Belcher, Negro, one of those diving for the body, struck a log on the bottom of the river and moved it enough to release the drowned boy's body, which had become lodged under it.

The youth was drowned early Sunday afternoon while swimming in the river about three-quarters of a mile upstream from the bridge. Search for the body Sunday afternoon and most of yesterday failed to produce any results.

Burial services will be held tomorrow.

PEACE REIGNS AS MEDIATORS CALL PARLEYS

No Major Outbreaks in Nation's Industrial Fields

REPUBLIC PLANS TO TAKE ACTION

Large Independent Steel Company Consider Moves Against Affiliates of CIO

(By the Associated Press) Quiet prevailed over the nation's industrial fields today as mediators tried to bring opposing factions to the conference table.

Mayor Daniel Knaggs of Monroe, Mich., said he would ask Governor Frank Murphy for state police, if necessary, to permit reopening of the Newton Steel company, a subsidiary of Republic Steel. He said a straw vote showed the majority wished to return to work and the plant would reopen tomorrow despite picketing.

While an estimated 73,000 steel workers remained idle in seven states, the Republic company planned new moves against the C. I. O.'s affiliates.

Republic offices shunted Pullman cars into a plant siding in South Chicago to house non-striking workers after Mayor Edward Kelly said the company was violating city health and housing ordinances. The South Chicago plant was the scene of a recent bloody riot which caused death of several and injuries to many others.

In Pittsburgh striking employees of the H. J. Heinz plant voted to select either an American Federation of Labor affiliate or a company organization as their collective bargaining agent.

Lansing, Mich., returned to normalcy after a "labor holiday" demonstration by the United Automobile Workers in protest against the arrest of eight pickets. Union leaders said more than 2,000 employees of business places and transportation services joined 10,000 to 12,000 industrial employees in idleness. A back-to-work order was issued after city and county officials decided to quash complaints against the pickets.

With the completion recently of the typhoid vaccination clinic in the Western half of the county, Dr. N. Thomas Bennett, Pitt county health officer, today announced the schedule for the Eastern half of the county.

The schedule for the city was announced yesterday.

That for the Eastern half of the county, for both white and colored citizens, follows:

Tuesday, June 15, 22, 29, and July 6.

9:00 a. m., The Grimes Farm, Stokesboro, Filing Station; 10:00 a. m., Grimsland School, Clayroot Church; 11:00 a. m., Simpson, Porter's Store, Chapman's Cross Roads; 11:30 a. m., Jim Braxton's (Frank Wooten's Farm), Waxton Highway.

Wednesday, June 16, 23, 30 and July 7.

9:00 a. m., Stokes School, Cox's Cross Roads; 10:00 a. m., Oby Forbes' Farm, Black Jack, Spencer's Store; 10:30 a. m., Packlotts School; 11:00 a. m., Ham's Cross Roads; 11:30 a. m., Ernest, Dudley's farm.

Thursday, June 17, 24, July 1 and 8.

9:00 a. m., Leans Station, Mills School House (white); 10:00 a. m., Whitehurst Station, Chiscol School; 11:00 a. m., Roy Venter's store, Sam Manning's farm.

Vaccinations are done every Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning at the Health Department.

Children over three years of age and all adults need to be vaccinated against typhoid fever.

The Health Department received a report of a typhoid case only a few days ago, which means that the typhoid season has arrived, and the Health Officer is urging that people protect themselves against this dread disease.

He called attention to the fact that the county had 23 cases last year with four deaths, and stated that this tragic situation will not be repeated if the people would avail themselves of the vaccine.

First Church of Christ, Scientist
"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson, Sermon in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 6th.

The Golden Text was from Genesis 1:1. "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. I, even I, am the Lord; and beside me there is no savior. I have de-

In the annual exhibition of the work of the students of the art department, Miss Johnston had many pieces. Of special interest are her original renderings of various interiors.

In connection with her major work in Interior Decoration, Miss Johnston has had a thorough training in the cultural as well as the practical arts.

As "Queen of Stratford" recently, Miss Johnston symbolically typified the idealism of Stratford at a brilliant May Day pageant which took place on the stage of a new campus amphitheatre and was witnessed by hundreds of spectators.

Dressed in her coronation gown of crossbar sheer and lace with crown of point d'esprit and arm bouquet of white spring flowers in, interspersed with the school iris, the Queen and her court witnessed the presentation of a May Day drama and an elaborate program that ceremonially marked the annual spring planting in Stratford's spacious gardens.

VISITOR HEARD AT CLUB MEET

District Governor Edmund S. Harding, Rotary Speaker

Speaking to a group of prospective members of Rotary, Edmund S. Harding, of Washington, Governor of the 57th District, declared that Rotary had something worthwhile in it for every man.

Mr. Harding briefly sketched a picture of the beginning of Rotary among a small group of business and professional men in 1905, its gradual evolution into a busy man's club which took the place of the many fraternal organizations with their secret orders and signs, and its development of a balanced plan to cover the Rotary ideal of service.

This same object plan as set forth by Eugene Newhouse, former International President of Rotary, has been divided into four parts: Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service and International Service. "This," declared Mr. Harding, "is the well rounded out program that is offered to every man that comes under the influence of Rotary."

The meeting was presided over by J. B. Kittred, president, who in turn introduced the guests to the club. Among those present were J. C. Waldrop, Paul Scott, S. V. Morrison, Henry Andrews, Sr., Bob Ball, J. G. Fleming, W. S. Tyson, Sam Dickerson, Charles Cobb and E. L. Henderson.

The Rotarians heartily welcomed an old member, Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, who has recently returned from California.

The attendance booster pie donated by Marshall Brinkley was won by Wesley Harvey.

INDIAN CAMPS CAUSED BALDS IS NECESSARY

Bare Spots On Appalachian Mountain Tops Explained

Raleigh, June 8.—Indian camps of a former day on the southern Appalachian mountain tops were responsible for the "balds" found there today, in the opinion of Dr. B. W. Wells, head of the botany department at State College.

These bald spots, grassy areas which have resisted the encroach of high-altitude trees growing on all sides, have long been a mystery to men of science. Dr. Wells pointed out.

After spending five summers investigating "balds" in the Balsam, Smoky and Roan mountains, Dr. Wells came to the conclusion that no natural phenomena would produce such areas. Neither do fires or logging operations.

But he found reason to believe that Indian camps gave mountain outcrops and sedge grasses a chance to gain a foothold. Once these grasses got started, they were able to "freeze out" all trees, shrubs, and other vegetation normally growing at those altitudes.

In supporting his hypothesis, Dr. Wells pointed out that the "balds" are always located on well rounded mountain summits, never on sharp peaks. In almost every case, there is a good spring near the lower border of the "bald."

The "balds" are also on the southern exposures of the summits. Ideal sites for summer camps, Dr. Wells pointed out.

He also found that frequently on high altitude trails the grass has been able to grow thickly enough to keep out other vegetation, and that these in effect are linear "balds."

So far, Dr. Wells has climbed mountains to study 23 "balds," including Andrews Bald on the southern spur of Clingman's Dome mountain at an altitude of 5,800 feet. A report of his theory as to the origin of these balds recently appeared in "Science," weekly magazine devoted to the advancement of science.

SAYS PASTURE IS NECESSARY

Specialist Addresses Field Day of Farmers, Dairymen

Newton, June 8.—North Carolina, noted for its present lack of good pastures, can have pastures as good as in any State of the Union, declared A. C. Kimrey, of State College.

Speaking to 75 farmers and dairymen gathered at the farm of John S. Rowe, near here, for the second annual field day of the Catawba Jersey Cattle Club, Kimrey stated that even the best bred animals cannot be profitable if they don't have plenty of pasture.

Pastures must be sown on good soil to produce adequate, nutritious grazing, he pointed out. The land should receive phosphates, potash, limestone, and if possible stable manure in liberal quantities.

"Don't try to get a good pasture by sowing 15 to 20 pounds of seed to the acre," he warned. "From 40 to 50 pounds are necessary to produce a good sod."

"Kentucky blue grass, red top or herd's grass, orchard grass, and white Dutch clover are good. Mix up the seed and sow liberally."

Other speakers at the field day included: Walter S. Hoff, principal of the Maiden schools; E. L. Moore, director of the N. C. Jersey Cattle Club; Earle Brinthal, Catawba County farm agent; J. W. Hendricks, president of the N. C. Jersey Cattle Club; and John S. Rowe, owner of the Rowe Jersey herd.

In the judging contest held with cows of the Rowe herd, the Star-town team won the loving cup offered by the Shuford National Bank of Newton, the Ball's Creek team took second place, and the Sherrill's Ford team was third.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

SYNOPSIS: A mysterious shot kills June Blinshop, my old flame, at the start of our stormy weekend at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunts. A series of strange attacks occurs. Then we find the body of Michael's mad father below the bluff. Aunt Martha, stout and Victorian, is shown in the shoulder, and nearly finished with sleeping powders. The Skipper, Mike's tall, tweedy younger brother, disappears. Evidence piles up against Higgins, the old butler, and I reluctantly lock him in his room. Later I drag from him the advice to look in the "old loft" for the Skipper. Mike and I run for it.

Chapter 46

The Cedar Chest

DIDN'T stop to find out what he was talking about. There was a rush of voices behind us, but we were for the front stairs. A' the head of them Michael swerved to the right and sprinted once more toward the servants' corridor. He swung into the other hall before I was halfway from the stairs. By the time I reached the swinging door, he had a ladder-like set of steps pulled straight down from the ceiling directly in front of the head of the back stairs.

"Not in use," he panted. "Forgot completely." He disappeared into darkness.

I followed him, barking my shin's pain as I went over the edge.

Madly I tore at the knots while Michael continued to bellow.

"Skipper!" he was calling. "Skipper! Skipper!"

In the darkness, there was no sound but our own heavy breathing. The air was dusty and heavy. Squatting on the edge of that trap door, I felt a maeze coming, tried to muffle it, failed.

"Damn it!" said Michael. "Shut up, can't you?"

He was listening. I could feel the vibration of his body where he crouched against me. But there wasn't a sound.

"Are there any lights, Mike?" I whispered.

"No."

It was like us to be without a light at that moment. I didn't have heart enough to swear. Michael was edging himself away from the trap into the darkness. He bumped into me as he went and I felt a bulge in his coat pocket—the bulge of William's flashlight.

"Mike!" I said. "You have the flashlight. In your coat!"

His hand slipped into the pocket. There was a grunt of relief and the next moment a beam of light gradually disclosed a section of the room we were in. It was low and directly under the rafters. The eaves sloped down to the floor and at its highest point it was not over five feet high.

If the old carriage loft brought to my mind the dust of other decades, this gave me a feeling of the dust of other centuries. It was full of Farrington relics. Furniture, clothes, mattresses, trunks, suitcases, chests, bedding. Apparently it ran over the outer section of the servants' quarters and had not been used in years. The atmosphere was musty and stifling.

Michael's light came slowly down to the floor at my feet. At the head of the trap door the floor was polished clean as a whistle by the clothes of persons coming up from below. The glancing of the light on my own knees showed me a gray film of dust coating my trousers.

But beyond that polished space and beyond the hodgepodge of our footprints, a clear trail of footprints led off in the direction of the other end of the loft. There were two sets of them, blurred as if made by people talking either in stockings feet or slippers. Michael's light flashed around a circle. Not five feet away from that double trail was a single set—returning.

The Broken Vase

WE painfully slurred trunks, old bureaus and washstands. Once we narrowly escaped disaster when Michael, banging into a cedar chest, dropped the light. The air got thinner and mustier as we proceeded. It was dawning on me that we should have to work rapidly. There were no windows in that loft. If the Skipper was there, she had been there for hours.

"Mike! Mike! Where are you?" It was Gay from the direction of the trap door.

Michael shouted, "Go back! Stay with Aunt Martha. We'll be there in a minute."

A thick row of old draperies hung from the rafters. A pile of bolsters, I nearly yelled when I banged into an old hoop skirt. As we went along the chances of the Skipper's still being alive seemed to grow slimmer and slimmer. I tried to think what one did for a case of suffocation, but the only word that came to my mind was, "Dead—dead—dead!"

"Could a person live six hours in this?" I whispered to Michael.

His only answer was a grunt. Leading the way around a tall old mirror, he pulled up with a bang, his breath whistling in the silence. Over his shoulder I peered into the circle of our light.

The footprints had stopped. There was a blur of stirred up dust, and a

WETS IN WAKE PLAN ACTIVITY

Advocates of Liquor Control to Perfect Organization

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, June 7.—Liquor control advocates here in Wake county are already organizing in order to put on a county-wide campaign favor of liquor control and liquor stores and to set the vigorous anti-control drive already being made by the dry forces in the county.

One meeting of the liquor control advocates has already been held and another is slated to be called within the next few days. Wake county will vote on whether or not it will open liquor stores on June 22.

The liquor control forces realize they have a real fight on their hands, especially since Mecklenburg and Wayne counties voted against liquor control in recent elections. It is agreed that the dries have been doing a very efficient job within a minimum of ballyhoo and that if the control forces sit tight without going anything that the dries will win. It is generally conceded that the situation here in Wake county is close and likely to remain that way.

The fact that Wake county already has two wet counties contiguous to it—Franklin and Nash—with Wilson county almost touching it, and the further fact that both Durham and Johnston counties have recently voted for liquor stores, thus making it surrounded by five wet counties, is regarded by a good many as indicating that this county will now vote for liquor stores. It is frankly conceded that thousands of Raleigh and Wake county people have been buying those 100s of dollars worth of liquor in the Franklin and Nash county stores ever since they have been opened, that still more will now buy from the Durham and Johnston county stores. As a result, more and more of the people in the county are deciding that Wake might as well have some liquor stores of its own and get the benefit of the revenue now going to other counties.

The campaign between the wets and the dries is expected to get hotter and hotter as the time for the election nears.

The Virgin Islands of the United States, formerly the Danish West Indies, were bought for $25,000,000 by the United States from Denmark, in a treaty proclaimed Jan. 25, 1917.

BUREAU ACTS TO END MENACE OF PLANE GAS

Washington (AP) — New insurance of safety in the air will be provided in the near future, the bureau of air commerce says, in regulations to prevent carbon monoxide gas poisoning in airplanes.

This gas, which is odorless, colorless and tasteless, has caused thousands of deaths in automobiles and homes but it will not be allowed to become a factor of danger in flying, bureau officials say. It causes serious sickness and death when breathed because it absorbs oxygen.

The army, navy and marine corps have found that five-hundredths of one percent in the air breathed in the cockpit or cabin of an airplane is dangerous and the danger increases with altitude because in rarefied atmosphere the percentage of oxygen in relation to carbon monoxide is different.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

Hollywood — Have you ever been drunk on pictures? A Hollywood correspondent's wife gets that way. Seeing pictures is part of her husband's business, and if she wants to see much of him she sees pictures too.

It isn't that I don't like pictures,
I do. And as one who has seen something like four a week for five years I can say authoritatively that Hollywood's output is constantly improving.

For us there is no selecting of pictures with an eye to whether we shall enjoy them. We see them for it seems to me, hundreds of reasons, but whether they will entertain us personally is beside the point.

A Hollywood correspondent goes to pictures to see for himself what's in them. He goes to see the work of a director, a new player on whom he has just done a story, something photography, a certain set, a new "come-back." He is perhaps interested in what a borrowing studio has done with a star who has not been treated too well in the matter of story or direction on his home lot.

We see pictures at previews.
There is a preview, somewhere about town, practically every night.
There are plain previews, and "gala" ones. You know a preview is "gala" because it is announced on an engraved invitation, with reserved seats enclosed, and because the studio, on the appointed evening, brings out all the kleig lights and sun arcs in town.

The "gala" previews are fun because of the stars attending. It is always interesting to watch the way different ones treat autograph seekers. At "A Star Is Born" Frederic March went at snail's pace across the sizeable forecourt of Grauman's Chinese signing autographs to right and left. He quite definitely had the approval of the crowd who watched.

Janet Gaynor signed one or two at the door, but was quickly taken in tow by two or three gentlemen from the studio and rushed to her car.

There were two distinct hisses as John Barrymore went past.
There is much to be said on the good side of more than 200 pictures

a year, but I sometimes find it hard to agree smilingly when the out-of-town visitor says, "Aren't you 'Lucky' to get to see All those pictures?"

What's this picture doing in a gasoline ad?

SHOPPERS searching for bigger values! Buyers looking for a greater dollar's worth! What's this got to do with gasoline buying?

It's got a lot to do with it! Plenty to do with it!

Why? Because these shoppers are looking for greater values! And you ought to apply the same thinking to gasoline. You buy gasoline more frequently than other purchases. It is an important item in your family's budget. You owe it to yourself to go where values are!

American Gas has always been the best regular gasoline buy. But now we have created an even bigger buy!
A new gas of greater value!

Science has recently found a way to give you a new value in regular gasoline. Value not possible before—because the facilities did not exist to make it. New processes were perfected... patented. New additions made to what was already the world's greatest refining unit.

We doubled our capacity... improved the gas. We are now able to build-in—refine-in—extra values that mean a lot to you and your car.

The new gas is ready—NOW! And because of its extra built-in values we call it New Value American Gas. It means New Value for you—greater value for your gasoline dollar... greater value from the money already invested in your automobile. It is known as a "sweet" gas—meaning it's pure, free from undesirable odors—and no added chemicals. You'll say it gives "sweet" performance, too, in your car.

Buy your gas on VALUE—and you will buy the New Value American Gas!

MEET KINSTON THERE TODAY

Four of Six Games Played Last Week Won By Locals

The Greensies, augmented by two new players, will begin the week's play in Kinston this afternoon. Urah Norwood of Norwood, N. C. State outfielder last year and who has seen action in the Coastal Plain League before, playing with the New Bern Bears in former years, and Mope Melchor, regular University of North Carolina catcher the past season, are the two new men who are scheduled to be in the line-up this afternoon.

Amos G. Dawson, of Zebulon, former Atlantic Christian college star, pitcher who was with the New Bern team earlier this season, joined the club Saturday.

This week's schedule calls for home games on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday. Kinston will be here tomorrow, Ayden Friday and Goldsboro on Sunday.

Last week the locals scored four victories against only two defeats. They lost to Snow Hill Tuesday, won over the Greene county boys Wednesday, won over New Bern Thursday and lost to the Bears on Friday, and defeated Ayden in Saturday and Sunday contests.

The Greensies begin the week in sixth place, one game behind New Bern and two behind Snow Hill, the latter team being in the cellar position of the first division. Should the locals climb to a place in the first division this week it will be the first time they have been able to boast of such a standing this season. The locals have won 12 games and lost 16, for a standing of 429.

Three players were released today to make room for the new men. Those let go were Thomas Conway, catcher, Harvey Hinton, outfielder, and Beifort Zerbe, pitcher.

MEDWICK, MARTIN JOIN IN HOMER ACT

St. Louis (AP) — Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin of the Cardinals started this season offering "double bills" in home runs.

Each hit his first circuit clout at St. Louis, April 24.

Neither batted out another until both achieved the feat May 5, in Boston.

Each got his third homer of the season May 11, in Brooklyn.

Medwick socked one the next day, in Philadelphia. Since Martin didn't respond, Medwick obliged by hitting another to make up for his teammates' failure.

Central's Teams Win Everything Edmond, Okla. (AP) — The Central Oklahoma Teachers didn't leave much for the rest of the teams in the Oklahoma collegiate conference this year.

The Broncos won the 1937 conference championships in baseball, basketball, track and tennis, and the 1936 football title. They have won the track championship eight years running and the baseball title five straight seasons.

TEXAS CLASS OF '17 GRADUATES 20 YEARS LATE

College Station, Tex. (AP) — The class of 1917 at Texas A. and M. College is just getting around to commencement exercises.

Class members 20 years ago were too busy preparing for war to remain on the campus for graduation formalities. A month before commencement — time most of them went to officers' training camp at Leon Springs, where they received their diplomas.

They have been invited by the class of 1937 to share college exercises June 3, 4 and 5.

The league-leading Carolina Sales softball team scored a 6.5 victory over Blount-Harvey yesterday afternoon to retain their standing, while Carolina Dairy was defeating Coburn's Shoe Company to pull away from a tie with Blount-Harvey.

The dairymen kept out in front throughout the game with the shoemakers, but the hitting was about even, the winners hitting safely 10 times and the losers eight. No player was able to do a sensational hitting.

Shannon did the hurling for Coburn's, while I. Grey was on the mound for the winners.

Carolina Sales and Blount-Harvey engaged in a nip and tuck battle, the sales boys barely defeating the well-balanced and hard-playing merchants, 6-5. Blount-Harvey got off to a fast start, scoring three runs in the first inning, and held a 3-1 lead for 3 innings. The Sales boys were ahead in the fourth when Hooks drove a hard hit ball over the centerfielder's head for a home run, scoring two runs ahead of him.

Blount-Harvey came right back to tie the score in the fifth. In the sixth Carolina Sales pushed across a run and this was matched with a run in Blount-Harvey's half of the seventh. The first batter for the Sales went out, then the Waldrop brothers went about winning the ball game. Ed Waldrop walked, stole second and came home on a hit by H. Waldrop.

Blount-Harvey, although defeated, outplayed and out-hit their opponents. The winners were able, however, to hit with runners on bases and when hits meant runs.

Stancill and Barrhill were batters for Blount-Harvey; Burnett and Gaston for Carolina Sales.

Tarboro, June 8.—Snake Henry's Tarboro Serpents bunched five hits for as many runs in the eighth inning and handed the Williamston Martins a 5-3 set-back yesterday in a play-off of a deadlock registered by the clubs during the first week of the Coastal Plain League season. Incidentally the teams fought to a 5-all tie here Sunday, and that new game remains on the "unfinished business" schedule of the clubs.

Larry Wade, big right hander, handcuffed the locals for seven innings of yesterday's game. The former Oglethorpe university athlete yielded just two hits over that stretch, but then the Serpents found the range and forced Wade from the mound. Four hits were made in the fatal eighth before Wade was sent to the showers. He was yanked with none away. He was Biggie—and Myers of the Snakes greeted the new hurler by hitting a fly ball over Right-Fielder Ledbetter's head. Myers' hit, coming with two on, was good for the circuit and settled the game.

Kulpinski's single started the fireworks against Wade in the eighth. Hantz, batting for Svace, rifled a double down the right-field foul line. Roye doubled against the left field wall, Kulpinski and Hantz tallying. Mooney's single to right put Roye on third, and Mooney went to second on the throw-in to the plate. Wade then made his exit, and Myers made his homer.

The game was the only contest of the day in the Coastal loop, and the result served to cut the Martins' lead on the league lead to a mere matter of percentage points. The Bugs of Goldsboro, runner-up in Coastal Plain play for first place, are even with the Martins on a "games" basis, but trail in the percentage column, .654 to .643. Each of the virtually deadlocked leaders is a full game ahead of Tarboro's third-place club. Today's result enabled Tarboro to gain a full game on Williamston and a half-game on the Bugs.

HOUSEWIVES WAR ON ALL FOOD TAXES

Chicago, June 4.—Taxpayers of food will be fought by the Housewives' League of America, beginning a drive to check rising food prices.

"Our studies show the increase in retail food prices is due almost entirely to taxation," assert Mrs. Wilbur Fribley, president of the League and spokesman for its 500,000 members. The Agriculture Department reports retail food 7 per cent above last year and the highest in six years.

"We are going to oppose chain store and oleomargarine tax bills and other legislation in Washington and in the various States—where proposed commodity taxes would affect the grocer, the butcher, the baker and directly, the housewife's purse."

Mrs. Fribley has just completed a tour of League centers.

Today at the West Greenville Diamond W. L. Altep's Gulf No. 10 knockers will take on G. V. Knight's Chain Stores organization. These two teams are tied for third place and both are out to get in the running of the Twilight League.

Yesterday in a hard fought game the Sinclair H-C Gashouse gang was victorious over a revised White and Hodges team by the score of 12-9 to make it their fifth victory in as many starts. White and Hodges took the lead in the first inning and held it until the third when Sinclair put across five runs to put them in front and to remain there. The losers staged a eight-run rally in the fifth to pull within one-run in the winners, but Sinclair came back with two more in the sixth to make it twelve in their column. Charles Runley the starting pitcher for Sinclair held his opponents well in hand until the fifth inning when three hits along with five errors and two walks drove him to the showers. At this point Sweeney M. J. Sinclair's fine center fielder came to the rescue and relieved Runley, R. Hedges and Cecil Billo along with the fine fielding of Tyson, B. B. Sweeney, M. J. and E. Moore Dupree lead the Gashouse gang while in the White and Hodges line-up J. Knott, Proctor, D. J. Vance and Howard Hodges lead their team in the letting department and E. L. White, Hester and John Mayo Burns did the same in the field.

SAYS NEGROES SUPPORT MOVE

Colored Race Responding to Public Health Education

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 8.—Negroes of North Carolina are becoming more health conscious than ever before and are responding in fine spirit to public health work being done in their behalf, according to Dr. Walter J. Hughes, negro physician, employed by the State Board of Health, as he left Raleigh for a course of lectures through which he hopes to reach 6,000 teachers in the summer schools included in his schedule.

"Through these teachers we will reach many thousands more, including the pupils they teach, as well as negro parents throughout North Carolina," Dr. Hughes said. "I will also contact preachers and others who are interested in public health. Last year I came into contact with exactly 3,081 teachers. Conditions this year are much more favorable, and I confidently expect to bring the total up to 6,000—certainly, not less than 5,000."

Dr. Hughes will lecture in chapters and to select groups at the following negro institutions for higher learning, in the order given: Johnson C. Smith University;

Charlotte; Livingston College, Salisbury; Teachers College, Winston-Salem; Agricultural and Technical College, Greensboro; North Carolina College for Negroes, Durham; Shaw University, Raleigh; State Normal for Negroes, Elizabeth City; State Normal for Negroes, Fayetteville.

The teachers who hear his lectures in the above named schools will be required to stand examinations and will be given credit on this work, which is carried on by the State Board of Health, in close cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction. Dr. Hughes explained that he would give lectures embracing the following general subjects: Public Health Administration, school hygiene, Communicable disease, control of tuberculosis, control of venereal diseases.

"Dr. Hughes' services were first made available through the Rosenwald Fund," said Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, State Health Officer, "and half his salary will still come from that source. North Carolina was the first state to undertake work of this type, and it has more than proved its worth."

THIS WILL BREAK CALIFORNIA'S HEART

Austin, Tex. (AP)—The experts were wrong when they said Texas would have only 80,000 old age pensioners. The rolls now list 120,000 and are still growing with the system in effect less than a year.

The low figure was based on the experiences of other states. The only explanation offered by authorities is that people live longer in Texas.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 8.—(AP)—Yielding traders bought and sold stocks indifferently in today's market. In dealings which kept the ticker tape die at frequent intervals, prices were inclined to edge upward near the fourth hour.

Arifacts and specialties gave a better than average performance and steel, hesitant in the morning, stepped forward after noon along with some coppers and rails.

U. S. government securities and corporation bonds held their own, as the new $80,000,000 treasury loan was over subscribed about six times. Transfers approximately 550,000 shares.
