REP. DOUGHTON IS APPOINTED TO COMMITTEE

Named to House Group to Investigate Tax Dodging

EXPECTED HEAD PROBING GROUP

House And Senate Members to Meet Tomorrow to Determine Procedure

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—Congress completed the roster of its committee to investigate tax dodging today when Speaker Bankhead named six house members to work with six senators.

The action opened the way for the start probably Wednesday of what may be a sensational inquiry that will throw publicity on wealthy individuals accused by President Roosevelt of avoiding and evading millions of dollars in tax payments.

Chairman Doughton, North Carolina Democrat, of the House Ways and Means committee said the joint committee would meet tomorrow to organize and determine procedure, probably start the actual investigation Wednesday and probably ask Secretary Morgenthau to be the first witness.

In addition to Doughton, Bankhead appointed these members of the Ways and Means committee to the investigating body:

Representatives Cullen (D. N. Y.), Vinson (D. Ky.), Cooper (D. Tenn.), Treadway (R. Mass.) and Growther (R. N. Y.)

The senate members were chosen last week by Vice President Garnett.

Doughton is expected to be named joint committee chairman at tomorrow's meeting.

The treasury is ready to submit to it a list of names of persons, many of them reported to have large incomes, who might be called upon for testimony.

Mr. Roosevelt summoned Harrison and Doughton to the White House today to discuss to what extent the federal government can cooperate with the joint committee.

Charge Youth Stole Automobile

Alton Clark, about 17 years old, of the Ayden community, is being held on a charge of larceny of an automobile from Charleston, S. C., last December and abandoning it near Ayden on Christmas day.

The car was found by officers and the owner was determined by the checking of license plates, but Clark had evaded officers until last night when he was taken in custody and turned over to federal officers and taken to Washington for a hearing before a U. S. Commissioner. He probably will be taken to Columbia for trial in Federal court.

The automobile, owned by H. W. Hark, was found in a ditch and Clark was identified as having been seen driving it, officers said. Though he denied he stole the car and drove it across the border.

Clark, who is said to be wanted in Greene county for larceny, was quoted by officers as saying he had been staying with a relative in Petersburg, Va.

Amelia Earhart Hops Off Again On World Jaunt

Massawa, Eritrea, June 14.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart, who is flying around the world "just for fun," hopped off at 7:30 a. m. (11:30 p. m. est) Sunday night for Assab, Eritrea, en route to Aden at the southwestern tip of Arabia.

Before she lifted her monoplane off the runway of the airport just outside the capital of this Italian colony, she said she would attempt to fly non-stop to Karachi, India, if weather conditions were good.

She landed here at 2:40 p. m. yesterday from Erythraean Sudan to be welcomed by aviation officials after her 450-mile flight.

Aden lies across the Red sea while Karachi lies 1,600 miles beyond.

SEARCH BRUSH FOR NEW CLUE

Agents Seek to Uncover Evidence in Kidnap Case

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 14.—(AP)—A force of 100 searchers mobilized to beat the brush in the vicinity of the Alice McDonell Parsons home today in an effort to unearth some clue to the disappearance of the society matron and heiress.

"The present state of the investigation justifies the search," Earl Connelley, the federal agent in charge of the government's inquiry, said in announcing the hunt.

He added "it will be continued until we are satisfied we have made a thorough search in an effort to obtain the objectives we have in mind."

That was as far as he would go in defining the purpose of the newest move to solve the disappearance last Wednesday of Mrs. Parsons, who dropped from sight shortly before a ransom demand for $25,000 was found.

The area to be searched was described as "fairly wild," dotted with a few cultivated fields, but abounding with woods and tangled underbrush.

FRANCE RAISES DISCOUNT RATE

Action Taken to Stem Flow of Capital From Nation

Paris, June 14.—(AP)—The Bank of France raised the discount rate to six per cent today to check withdrawals of gold and France's Socialist cabinet drafted means to block what some newspapers called a "financial crisis."

The discount and other rates were raised two per cent for the first time since January 28 the action came simultaneously with official declaration that critics of Premier Leon Blum's regime were turning France into gold or foreign currency because of the government's need to find 20,000,000 francs, or about $600,000,000, before the end of the year for budget requirements. Raising of the discount rate is the usual means of making it too expensive to send gold or other capital abroad.

State Continues To Lead In Cotton Manufacturing

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, June 14.—North Carolina continued to lead the south and nation in cotton manufacturing during 1935, according to Census of Manufactures figures released today by the Department of Conservation and Development. Manufacturing products valued at $233,736,776, North Carolina had an edge of nearly $56,000,000 over her nearest rival, South Carolina.

During 1935, North Carolina mills manufacturing cotton woven goods, cotton narrow fabrics, and cotton yarn and thread, employed 93,964 wage earners to whom wages totaling $56,169,703 were paid.

Comparing 1935 production with the year 1933, it is revealed that a gain of nearly $44,000,000 was made by the industry in the latter year. Production in 1935, however,

Strike Ordered For Coal Mines

Johnstown, Pa., June 14.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' C. I. O. blasted today at America's second largest empire of steel, the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

"Strike" was the order he gave to 9,500 coal miners and the miners replied that the cessation of work in 19 mines, most of them Bethlehem owned, would be completed by tomorrow.

The strike order, issued in Washington yesterday, struck at mines of the Republic Steel Corporation of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, huge steel industries already pitted in a struggle against Lewis.

NO WAY CHECK TOBACCO WORM

State Entomologist Reports Heavy Damage to Crop

Raleigh, June 14.—(AP)—C. H. Brannon, department of agriculture entomologist, said today that "an unusual, very small species of wire worm" is attacking the tobacco crop in Stokes, Surry and Yadkin counties and "there is nothing that can be done about it this crop year."

Brannon visited the affected areas last week when farmers reported that in some instances half or more of their plants were dying in the fields.

"The wire worm, is an old tobacco pest," Brannon said, but I never before encountered this small species in such numbers in the fields. You can just look around and see where thousands of plants have died.

"The little worms, get in the plants and spray and dustings will not reach it. The only thing to do is to turn those things under in the fall and prepare the land for the next crop."

Dr. R. F. Poole, pathologist at North Carolina State College, returned from a trip through the old belt tobacco fields and said flea beetle attacks "are the worst I have ever seen."

Hardly a field in Surry, Yadkin, Forsyth and Stokes counties escaped the insect, he said, with damage running eastward from Mount Airy nearly to Oxford.

WHAT IT MEANS: C.I.O.'s Battle With Ford

By MORGAN M. BEATTY (AP Feature Service Writer)

Washington — Henry Ford and John L. Lewis are fighting the decisive battle in a campaign that will do down in history as the industrial war of the 20th century.

The stake is industrial democracy, and the winner will dictate the trend of a new era, whether he wants to or not.

If a fight fan were describing the struggle he would call it a "natural" or "grudge" fight.

Why? Because Ford developed the system of mass production and built his industrial empire on it.

And Lewis developed industrial unionism, a form of organized labor that fits mass-production methods like a glove.

Industrial unionism in Lewis' view is the organization of workers by industries instead of callings. He says automobile plant workers call themselves automobile workers, whether they happen to be boiler-makers, sheet metal workers, or putters-in of screws and bolts along an assembly line.

This is contrary to the old Amer-

COURT REFORM BILL REACHES SENATE FLOOR

Blistering Language Used in Unfavorable Report

FLAT REJECTION IS RECOMMENDED

Permission by Committee Makes it Possible to Call Bill Up For Debate

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee recommended rejection of the Roosevelt court bill in blistering language today, branding it "a needless, futile and utterly dangerous abandonment of constitutional principles."

"It should be so emphatically rejected that its parallel will never again be presented to the free representatives of the free people of America," said the report signed by seven Democrats and three Republicans.

The 10,000-word report echoed virtually all the objections raised to the measure in seven weeks of hearings. It said the bill would not accomplish its purpose, would destroy the independence of the judiciary and would make the government "one of men rather than one of law."

"It contains," the majority report said, "the germ of a system of centralized administration of law that would enable an executive, so minded, to send his judges into every judicial district, land and sit in judgment on controversies between the government and the citizenry."

As the controversial measure finally reached the senate after four months of nation-wide debate, administration senators said they virtually had abandoned its proposal for adding five new judges to the supreme court at once.

Permissions of the committee's report made it possible to call up the bill for debate at any time, but leaders gave no indication when they might do so. They were expected to wait at least until the senate passes the relief bill.

The eight members of the judiciary committee who voted for the bill did not submit a minority report.

Center of Capital Is Raided By Low Flying Rebel Planes

FALL PREDICTED AT ANY MOMENT

General Francisco Franco's Advance Guards Press Hard On Heels of Retreating Defenders and Rake Streets With Rifle Fire

Bilbao, Spain, June 14.—(AP)—Low-flying insurgent war planes from the besieging armies that have pressed into Bilbao's edges, raided the center of this Basque capital at mid-morning today, spitting machine gun fire.

The people of this "Pittsburgh of Spain," besieged almost since the start of the insurgent northern offensive early in April, fled for shelter as the planes dived and circles.

Defense anti-aircraft operations over this tightly hemmed-in area made evacuation of the wounded a grave problem.

The road northwest was under heavy attack from the air with 23 persons reported killed in one sector. This was virtually the only land escape for the Bilbao population.

The insurgents' advance guard pressed on the heels of retreating Basques into the outskirts of Bilbao and began raking the streets with rifle fire from the scattered houses which they occupied.

General Francisco Franco's shock troops spread out through the opening they cracked in the Basque capital's iron ring defenses, swarmed over the pine-covered hillside two hours before sunset Sunday and carried their red and yellow flag to the city's edge.

Franco, chief of the insurgent regime, was in persona command of the final stage of the campaign.

Mop-up troops were slowly working their way forward through the industrial outskirts of the suburban centers.

The factory smokestacks were cold and Bilbao looked dead, breathless and silent.

Four wrecks in which Greenville or Pitt county persons were involved occurred over the week-end, causing serious injury to two persons and lesser hurts to several others.

It was the first week-end in which any serious accident had been reported in this county or which involved local persons for the past several.

J. N. Stringfellow of Greenville, salesman for Swift and Company, was seriously injured about nine o'clock Saturday morning when the car in which he was riding with three Tarboro men overturned about 25 miles beyond Kinston while the four were on their way to Myrtle Beach, S. C. for the week end after attending the June German.

Stringfellow's head and face was badly injured, but it was not believed he suffered a fractured skull. His teeth were knocked out and it was understood his jawbone was broken. Eighty-five stitches were taken in his face.

He is at Parrott Memorial Hospital in Kinston where he will probably be confined for several days at least.

Matthe Lou Bland, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bland of Ayden, is in Pitt General Hospital here with a fractured skull as a result of having been struck in front of her home late Saturday afternoon by a truck said to have been driven by a Negro man of Ayden. Hospital attaches today described her condition as "pretty good."

Two automobiles collided on Pitt street between Third and Fourth, late Saturday afternoon, causing injury to several persons.

The two cars were said to have been driven by John L. Buck and Mrs. Helen Waters.

Mrs. Buck was cut about the face but two children riding in the back seat were not injured with the exception of slight bruises. Mrs. Waters was cut and bruised about the head and Mrs. H. A. Sawyer, who was riding with her, was cut on the leg. The accident occurred when

MOSCOW FOES ARE EXECUTED

Twenty-Eight Convicted of Wrecking Amur Railroad

Moscow, June 14.—(AP)—Twenty-eight persons have been convicted and executed at Svobodny in the Soviet Far East for wrecking the Amur railroad. It became known today.

The charges against these alleged wreckers were the same as those made in three previous trials in the Far East.

These trials already had resulted in 66 executions. All the condemned were accused of being participants in the Trotskyist Japanese terror organization which allegedly acted along the Amur railroad.

News of the latest Far Eastern executions came on the heels of the conviction and shooting of eight Red army generals on the power of the mightiest armed force in the world. They were executed Saturday for treason.

He described his intended trip as a combined holiday and lecture tour. Presumably he will talk about why he performed the ceremony at Monza. He hopes to leave for America shortly.

"I have received no communication from church authorities regarding my action in going to the Chateau de Candé," he said.

The Bishop of Durham announced, without comment, that he had received Jardine's resignation.

County ABC Stores Must Absorb State Sales Tax

By J. C. RASKERVILL

Raleigh, June 14.—The county liquor stores will be required to absorb the state sales tax of 7 per cent on gross sales, out of the 50 per cent mark-up or profit they will make on all sales, it was announced today by Chairman Cutlar Moore of the State Control Board.

He also announced that the new uniform price list with uniform code numbers had at last been completed and sent to the printer and that the new list would be distributed to the county boards and stores in time for the new prices to go into effect July 1. The new price list will have the effect of reducing the price on most of the numbers in the stores in interior counties from 10 to 15 per cent, but will not materially change prices in the counties which have been using the Virginia price list or prices in line with those charged in the Virginia stores.

"While all the counties will now be required to pay the state 7 per cent of their gross sales, this does not mean that their profit will be cut to 43 per cent as compared with the 50 per cent profit most of them have been making in addition to the tax," Chairman Moore said.

"For we have helped the stores get better wholesale prices on their cheaper numbers, especially those selling for 50 cents and 35 cents a pint, in that they will now get a 30 per cent mark-up or profit on these cheaper numbers, while formerly they made only about a 40 per cent profit on these items. The other way we have helped them is by making out the price list so that

First Church of Christ, Scientist
"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 13. The Golden Text was from Psalms 62:7. "In God is my Salvation and my Glory: the Rock of my Strength, and my Refuge, is in God."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me. Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee. For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling." (Psalms 116:6-8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his Heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering." LOCAL PERSONS INJURED IN WEEK-END ACCIDENTS

The two cars collided head-on as they attempted to pass each other where parked automobiles were on either side of the street.

Robert Medford of Scot's Neck is facing a charge of hit-and-run and reckless driving as a result of a wreck in front of the cemetery on the Washington highway early Sunday morning. Highway patrolmen who made an investigation said Medford fled from the scene after the wreck, but was caught later in the day.

The car in which Medford and three other Scotland Neck men were riding was said to have side-swiped one driven by Ben Sherrod, Greenville Negro, then to have travelled about 90 yards before it ran off the highway and landed bottom side up in Smith's run. No one was seriously injured in the wreck, but Medford's three companions were taken to the hospital for examination.

A Negro woman riding with Sherrod, was slightly injured.

MARJORIE REYNOLDS, a brunette newcomer from Muskogee, Okla., shines with a dark, statuesque Indian beauty—she is three-eighths Cherokee. From a beauty shop she went into westerns, was transformed into a "vampire" and now is being groomed for big things as Hollywood's latest glamor girl.

Methodist Pastor Delivers Message At Joint Services

Rev. T. M. Grant Takes Words of Jesus to His Disciples as Sunday Night Sermon Topic

Speaking from the words of Jesus to His Disciples—"Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples"—the Rev. T. M. Grant, preaching at the union worship service last evening, declared that Jesus' emphasis in discipleship was not merely on fruit-bearing but on "much fruit-bearing."

"It is not enough merely to say a kind word or do a simple, kind deed. Rather it is necessary to translate in our own living the full meaning that Jesus has for life. There are many people whose chief sin is that they are just good people—satisfied to be that, when they ought to be better people, moving out into life under the comprehensive nature of Jesus himself," said Mr. Grant.

"Can we lift our natures under the compelling imperative of Jesus and take in the races of mankind?" the speaker queried. "Can we conquer suffering? Can we live positively? Can we believe in the world mission that our Master believed in? We need—Jesus needs—men who believe in a Gospel which can change world conditions! That's bearing fruit—much fruit!"

The service was presided over by the Rev. Clarence Patrick, of Immanuel Baptist church, while prayer was offered and the Scripture read by the Rev. Wm. A. Ryan, of the Christian church.

Miss Mildred Clark, for offertory solo, sang "Alone." Congregational singing was led by J. H. Rose.

Officials Report Large Enrollment At Church School

Community Vacation Study Attended First Day by 83 Pupils; More Expected to Register

"The community Vacation Church School had a most successful opening this morning with the registration of 83 pupils, who are responding well to the efforts of the teachers," said Miss Frances Fields, Director of the school.

"But we expect a much larger enrollment tomorrow morning—the boys and girls have talked it up among their friends," she added.

Miss Fields stated that registration cards indicated 23 enrolled in the Intermediate Department, taught by Miss Sally Brooks; 18 in the Junior Department, taught by Miss Elba McGowan; 20 in the Primary Department, taught by Miss Marjorie West; with 22 registering for the Beginners Department, under the joint instruction of Mrs. Katie Lee Gardner and Miss Elizabeth Norman. Misses Ethel Gaston, Dorothy Butner and Elizabeth Wilson are assisting the teachers in their work, while Miss Fields supervises the outdoor recreational activities of the old groups, in addition to her duties as Director of the school.

From the standpoint of denominational representation, the following number of boys and girls registered from their respective churches: Methodist, 37; Eighth St. Christian Church, 9; Presbyterian, 8; Memorial Baptist, Immanuel Baptist and Episcopal—6 each; Free Will Baptist, 5; while 5 pupils indicated no denominational affiliation. One visitor was also enrolled.

The attention of parents is called to the fact that the daily sessions open at 8:30 each morning, lasting until 11 o'clock. The school, which will last for two weeks, is holding its sessions in the Third Street School.

3-BRUSH RULE KEEPS FACES GROOMED

It takes a bit of brushing to preserve that well-groomed look, even on summers most trying days. See what can be done with three brushes of varying size as June Lang, movie star, dextrously wields them:

LITTLE, WEE BRUSH
For the eyebrows, a tiny arrangement like a child's toothbrush will preserve the chosen line. Put a bit of oil on the brows and then brush upward gently. This treatment will keep the brows delicately arched.

MEDIUM-SIZED BRUSH
Powder may cling in odd spots if it is not removed with a soft brush, like this. Apply rouge and powder, brush off the excess and there you are. Powder especially clings to the nose and chin.

GREAT BIG BRUSH
One hundred vigorous brush strokes a day are the minimum if you want to keep your hair glossy. After brushing her hair from the roots up, Miss Lang settles her collar by brushing it back from her forehead.

CLUB PROJECT IS SUCCESSFUL

4-H Club Member Makes Success Father Failed

Hertford, June 14.—Joe Layden, 15-year-old 4-H club member, is taking over as his club project the bees which his father couldn't handle.

The elder Layden had given his 16 colonies of bees no attention for about two years because he was stung each time he attempted to handle the insects.

After he decided to dispose of them, County Agent L. W. Anderson suggested that he turn the colonies over to his son. Layden agreed to the suggestion and asked that two or three of the colonies be left out of the project since he had intended killing the bees to get the stored up honey.

Joe and the county agent opened and inspected all of the colonies and combined two of the weak ones. Nearly all others were marked to be supplied with supers.

Two of the colonies had old supers on them which were full of honey. Anderson stated. All of the colonies needed more room, and some had already begun to swarm. Layden was asked not to kill any of the bees, since that would not be necessary to secure the honey.

Joe and the county agent worked with the colonies for over an hour without making the bees angry and without getting stung.

Although the honey flow is about over, new supers will be provided since the colonies need more room, Anderson declared.

During the Russian revolution more than 1,080,000,000 acres of land belonging to landowners were acquired by the peasantry.

for Women only

Cardul is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Cardul") has been used and recommended by women for many many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefitted, consult a physician.

AMERICAN FARM ANIMALS ARE WORLD'S HEALTHIEST

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—The American Animal Health Foundation says its nation-wide study shows America is the healthiest country in the world for livestock and farm animals.

The foundation said foot and mouth disease, a grave problem for cattle, passes a few years ago, has been eradicated entirely and that tuberculosis is being brought under control.

"Hog cholera still remains the American farmer's most deadly enemy with an annual loss estimated in the neighborhood of $20,000,000," the foundation reported. "Most of this loss could be prevented if farmers would have their herds vaccinated each spring."

Scientists at Columbia University in New York have grown a Turkish tobacco stalk 6 feet tall in chemical nutrients.

One Acre Of Spinach Nets Return Of $86

Murphy, June 14.—One acre of spinach, grown by J. B. Shields of Tomotla in Cherokee county, has returned him a net profit of $86.01 after paying all costs of production and marketing, reports Assistant County Agent R. B. Wooten. The acre produced 10,948 pounds of spinach which sold for $144.85 delivered to the cannery. Total costs of the crop including harvesting and marketing were $78.80. Mr. Shields hired all the labor at a cost of $41.35 which leaves a production cost of only $37.45, says Wooten.

Wheat Crop Returns To Prove Profitable

Rockingham, June 14.—W. M. Lovern of the Elerbe community in Richmond county will harvest 200 bushels of wheat this year from a five acre plot planted to the Red Heart variety, reports County Agent O. O. Dukes. The crop was fertilized with 300 pounds of a 3-8-3 mixture last fall and has had two applications of a soda and potash mixture this spring. The mixture was in equal parts of soda and potash with 100 pounds being used at each application, says Dukes.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

Chapter 31
"I Have You Covered!"

MARRINGTON was dressed and waiting. I could see at a glance that she had been crying, but her mood was far from mellow.

"It's about time you put in an appearance, young man," she said curtly. "Where under the sun is Michael—or that Palmer girl? Am I to sit here all morning waiting for my breakfast?" No, mellow was not the word.

"I'm sorry, Aunt Martha. Mike's been having a bad time trying to dress himself. I sent him down to Gay to see if she couldn't calm him."

"It was the wrong approach. 'Calm him!' sooted M. Farrington. 'That little red-headed thing has had him on pins and needles ever since she got here. How is Barbara?'"

"Sleeping." I tried to make my voice soothing. "She'll be O.K. when she wakes up."

"Humph! Under the circumstances you might find a better word for it. I suppose that if I am very good my chauffeur will allow me to see her for a few moments just before dinner come along. James! Now what is the matter?" I was hesitating with my hand on the door.

"Aunt Martha, there's something I wanted to talk to you about before the police arrive."

Her eyes blazed indignantly. "Police! Is that quite necessary? You may tell George Foster that I won't allow it!"

"I'm afraid it will be out of his hands," I said. "He can help with the papers, of course, but—Aunt Martha, we ought to establish the fact that Higgins was a suicide, before the police get here—and—"

"Don't stutter. I shan't scream. And what?"

"And in order to prove that, we must prove that the bullet which killed Jim came from the gun in his hand."

Her eyes widened. "Then find the bullet, James!" she said sharply.

"I've been trying to. It—it just isn't there."

"Nonsense! It must be. Did you look in his head?"

"It passed right through his head. Her chin went, if anything, a little higher. "James, you couldn't find anything if it were tied to the end of your nose. Never could. Open that door."

"She was something to look at. I can tell you, with the tears still wet on her face, striding down that hall like a major-general. The rest of us might be ready for sanatoriums before we were through, but not Martha Farrington."

"Children should be brought up with a little self-reliance," she stated. "If a man is shot, he is shot by a bullet. Obvious."

"Yes, ma'am," I said meekly, and we passed forthwith into Higgins' room.

'Stand Over There'

HER face grew grim as she caught sight of that bed. But her voice was ragged.

"Poor Higgins," she said. "Poor, loyal fellow, James!"

The last word came with such unexpected force as to make me jump.

"Yes, ma'am!" I said in the involuntary tone of my youth.

"Were you the first person to find him?"

"Yes. He was lying just as he is now."

"I see." Her face screwed in thought. "He was about your height. Stand over there by the wall."

Without a word I obeyed her.

"Now then, a man about to kill himself is in no state of mind to sit down. He must have been standing here," she suited the action to the word, "with his gun in his hand like this." She stood facing the bed dramatically. "He pulls the trigger, is spun completely around by the force of the explosion, and lands on his back on the bed. The bullet must be over your head there, James."

The blanket over the dead man's form had not been moved. From the moment that I realized that M. Farrington, who had known Higgins all his life, was depicting that death scene with the imaginary revolver held in her right hand, my limbs had gone suddenly stiff. Even after she had finished speaking, I could not move. Her voice rang out sharply.

"Don't move, James! As the expression goes, I have you covered!"

She had reached under the blanket and removed the revolver from Hig-

A CANDID TALK

with Grover T. Whalen

At 50, New York City's onetime "official greeter" is a $1-a-year man at the helm of the $150,000,000 World's Fair (1939). Well set, faultlessly clad, he still thrives on hard work—and exercise. But he will loaf later.

1. High up in the Empire State building, Grover T. Whalen stands before a map of Greater New York to drive home points about the world's fair. First he wants to make something clear about the title. "Fair," he declares, "is a misnomer."
2. "A proper designation," he explains, "would be 'international exposition.' For an exposition means the presentation of a country's industries and accomplishments—the public gets to see a representation of the inter-relationships of business."
3. Suave Mr. Whalen has his worries. "Everybody in the United States seems interested in the fair," he says. "I meet hardly anyone who does not offer me a 'brilliant idea' for putting it across." There are plenty of job-seekers, too.
4. "Why do I accept a dollar-a-year? I feel that every citizen should make some contribution to the public service. I think this is the last public job I shall hold, however. By 1940, when the fair is liquidated, I will want a rest."

Maps Help Scotland Yard Men Spot Crime Before It Happens

By JOHN H. MARTIN
London (AP)—Within the granite walls of London's famous police organization all is confusion. But efficiency never had a better mask.

In cramped offices off the labyrinthine corridors of Scotland Yard, mild-mannered men smoothly direct the activities of 21,000 uniformed bobbies and inspectors who supply the germs of countless fiction "thrillers."

Charts and maps are emphasized in tracking criminals over Greater London, an area of some 700 miles filled with eight and a half-million persons.

Keep Tab On Bad Spots

Small flags show every crime-infested neighborhood and what the crime was. Officers who study these charts often know in advance the most likely place where a marauder will appear.

Teleprinters flash news to all affected police stations and signal lights atop police boxes summon roving bobbies, some of whom ride bicycles. Morse code instead of voice is favored for radio communications with cruising police cars.

The yard never enters a national case unless it is asked. Its only national functions are the fingerprint and criminal record divisions. From 25,000 to 30,000 prints are added yearly to the collection now totaling six million.

The yard is a great listener, its memory mechanical but no less amazing. It sets up every hypothetical case for the defense. Not until every possibility in the defendant's favor has been dissipated does the yard crack down on a man. Then it usually is just a matter of court procedure before sentence is passed.

Bobbies Unarmed

In the detective personnel of more than 1,000 plain clothesmen are squads of five men who work under one chief. Each of these men in turn has charge of a group. All go about their work showing extraordinary ability for keeping out of each other's way.

Scotland Yard bobbies are unarmed. They carry short wooden truncheons for use in extreme cases.

Buildings of London's famous organization are connected by an Arch of Doom, so called from the legend that no murder suspect brought in for questioning ever walked out a free man.

Sir Philip Game, Head of the Yard

but they count on their fists mainly. Pathologist Is 'Sherlock'

The yard's great consulting "Sherlock" is the prominent pathologist, Sir Bernard Spilsbury.

Scorning heroics, he works in his laboratory in Gray's Inn Road, never rushes to the scene of the crime for overlooked clues, nor barks at lesser minds. He gets the facts and sets to work, combining intelligence and common sense with his knowledge of medical science.

Don't get the idea Scotland Yard is infallible, although you may think it should be when you learn there are an estimated 20 policemen to every known criminal in London.

Just as in every country, there are many unsolved murders and notorious robbers on the yard's crime sheet.

The Brighton trunk murders, for instance, are still unsolved.

In both cases, the hacked remains of a woman were found in a trunk that had been checked at the Brighton railway station.

Crime Bill Is $135,000,000

Then there is "Flannel Foot," a notorious petty burglar who got his name by wearing flannel strips or socks over his shoes to deaden his movements. His exploits have amused the English and confounded the yard for more than 25 years.

Officially the home secretary is head of the yard but actively Sir

Sir Bernard Spilsbury, Scientific Sherlock

Philip Game is. An ex-army man, Sir Philip is busy modernizing equipment and methods, and trying to reduce London's contribution to the nation's annual crime bill, estimated at $135,000,000.

About $15,000,000 a year is spent in running Scotland Yard, which gets its name from the site of a lodging which served the old Scottish monarchs when they visited England.

Respected Negro Man Is Claimed By Death

Fred Glover, 45-year-old respected colored resident of this city, died in the hospital yesterday morning from a hemorrhage of the brain.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 o'clock tomorrow at the local Methodist Church, after which the body will be taken to Elizabeth City for burial.

Fred, known by a large number of Greenville residents, was born in Elizabeth City, the son of William and Louise Glover. He has lived in Greenville for the past 22 years, 14 of which he was employed by the Harvey ice plant. For the last eight years he has been with the Colonial ice plant.

He is survived by his second wife Edna, and one daughter, Eleanor Glover.

The lowest annual rainfall ever recorded — 1.33 inches — was in Egypt. The average annual rainfall on Mt. Waialeale at Kauai, Hawaii, is 451 inches.

ETIQUETTE

Three gentle hints to parents of camp-going sons and daughters:

- (1) Take every possible precaution to choose a good camp.
- (2) Don't load your departing offspring down with don'ts.
- (3) Remember that the camp mailbox locks lots emptier than the one at home.

With the constant increase in the number of back-to-nature addicts in the last few years, many assembly-by-night camps have sprung up about the country. Badly equipped, on unhealthy sites, and with inefficient managers, many of them are the scene, each year, of tragic events.

The wise parent will investigate the camp his child is to attend—and then dismiss all worries.

It's a good idea to visit the camp, talk with the supervisor and, if possible, meet the counselor who will be in charge of Daughter Debbie.

It's also a good plan to look at the bungalow or cottage where Debby Will Sleep, Survey the Lake or Swimming Pool where she will learn to do the distroke and glance around the dining and post-wow cabins.

Just because Debbie's classmates are planning to go to that particular camp is no reason her mother shouldn't ask a lot of questions.

Debbie should be provided with the same kind of equipment the other campers will have. And for her own happiness she shouldn't be provided with any more or any less money than her colleagues will have. (Consult the camp director.)

Once Debbie has left for camp, she must paddle her own canoe. She's expected to live up to camp rules and regulations—and abide by the decisions of the camp director and her counselors.

No whiney letters home—complaining about petty jealousies and troubles.

No boxes of candy (if they are forbidden) or espistles from Mother and Dad offering sympathy.

Woodworking is now a permanent course in the Negro schools of Greenville, the city school superintendent backed by our local board of trustees, have given us the honor of the principal and teachers in their efforts to secure beneficial results to this community.

President J. W. Seabrook of the Normal College located at Fayetteville, brought to the eighteen graduates of the local Negro high school such ideals as have been held before all former graduates during a turn of a century.

The characteristics of an educated person were eloquently portrayed and urged, that they be not content with their present status, but to strive for the mastery of the English language, courage, ambition, and above all be willing to work hard though to win with the best in your chosen field of endeavor.

The advanced type of citizenship that attends the annual exercises is at once inspiring and helpful to our local citizenship. The woodworking and home economics departments were the dream of the first board of trustees—led by Gov. Jarvis, F. C. Hartung and James L. Little. As Greenville goes forward under the sympathetic leadership of Prof. J. H. Rose and present members, Messrs. F. A. Sugg, Winslow, Harvey and Warren.

THE LANDING PROBLEM

Getting along with others is one of the fundamentals of getting ahead. Did you ever notice how few of us ever turn our critical ability to ourselves? No matter what you buy, you usually get what you pay for and no more. If price is your only consideration when you go to make a purchase it is more than likely that most of the time you are paying dearly for what you get considering the value you actually receive.

The reports of several drownings, automobile fatalities and other accidental deaths over the week-end, is another evidence that summer is really here and the populace is seeking recreation in the wide open spaces. At this time of year it is natural that most everyone would seek their recreation out of doors but in view of the increased automobile traffic and other dangers surrounding outdoor recreation, caution should be used and must be the watchword of all if tragedies that spoil many of these week-end outings are to be held to a minimum.

SPUD PROGRAM IS EXPLAINED

County Agent R. R. Bennett Issues Bulletin on Plans

R. R. Bennett, Pitt county farm agent, today released a bulletin on the surplus early potato purchase program and added that farmers wishing further information should get in touch with his office. Agent Bennett also revealed that detailed plans would be worked up shortly for administering the program in Pitt county.

shipping points and on terminal markets. This will permit a freer flow of the remaining part of the crop through the regular marketing channels. Use of Purchased Potatoes—The surplus potatoes purchased will be distributed by the FSCC through relief channels to needy persons unable to purchase potatoes in adequate amounts. By so diverting potatoes to this use they will no longer burden the normal channels of trade. This should have a beneficial effect upon the potato market.

Expected Effect on Market Price—Experience has shown that by purchasing even a limited number of cars of a commodity in a given area it is possible to affect the market price for all of the product in the area in which the buying takes place. As a result, all growers of the commodity are benefited. This, after all is the objective of the surplus purchase program.

COUNTY ABC STORES MUST ABSORB STATE SALES TAX

(Continued from page one) all prices end either with a five or a nought. "That is, items which formerly sold for $1.33 we have priced at $1.35 while those which formerly were priced at $1.42 we have now priced at $1.40, while in addition we have secured a lower base or wholesale price from the distillers or wholesalers. So even though the county stores must include the state tax in the prices charged and cannot add the tax to the 50 per cent mark-up, as many of them wanted to do, the counties will still be able to make about 45 per cent net profits on all sales as a result of the better base prices we have obtained from the distillers and to other adjustments in the price lists.

Couple that with Henry Bennett, the most efficient personnel and police force director in organized industry, and you have the answer to why Lewis' United Automobile Workers can claim no more than 10,000 or Ford's 150,000 workers. And, it takes a majority to unionize a plant lawfully under the Wagner labor act. Both Ford and Lewis are committed to accept the national labor board as the referee in their struggle. Both are openly and publicly pamphleteering among Ford employees, so that inevitably, as the months roll by, those 150,000 men and women will have to choose a road.

First blood was Ford's when he resisted the spring drive of the automobile workers successfully. Next blood was Lewis' when pictures of his pamphlets being beaten by Ford "workers" in front of a Ford plant got before the public. On the sidelines is the American public, the most powerful body of public opinion ever known in civilized society. It may be slow to acknowledge the victor in the economic struggle, but it will ultimately find him out, and raise his hand.

23 Counties Have Voted Up To Now For Liquor Stores

Nearly One-Fourth of 100 Counties Found in Wet Columns; Drys Victorious in Four Referenda

Raleigh, June 14.—There are now 23 counties in the state which are operating state-county liquor stores or which will open such stores soon, while seven more counties have either set dates for county elections on liquor control or are expected to set dates and hold elections during the summer. It was learned here today from Chairman Outler Moore of the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Board. Some 76 liquor stores are already in operation and more are to be opened soon in the four counties which have recently voted for liquor control and county stores.

The four counties which have recently voted for liquor stores and in which they will soon be opened are Durham, Dare, Johnston and Washington. The Durham stores are expected to open this week and those in the others will open as soon as sites can be obtained and liquor stocks purchased, Moore said. While no election was ever held in Bertie county a liquor store was opened in Windsor, the county seat, under an act passed by the 1937 general assembly. The 18 other counties in which liquor stores have been operated under the 1935 county liquor acts are: Pasquotank, Halifax, Warren, Vance, Franklin, Nash, Edgecombe, Pitt, Martin, Beaufort, Currituck, Craven, Onslow, Wilson, Lenoir, Greene, Moore and New Hanover.

WHAT IT MEANS: C. I. O.'s BATTLE WITH FORD

(Continued from page one) Wellington, or Grant and Lee. Just as Wellington's victory scrapped the map of Europe, and Grant's triumph changed the course of American history, so will Ford or Lewis—one or the other—set the compass for a new industrial era. Will it be Lewis' industrial democracy? Or Ford's "friendly autocracy" with workers as partners? Lewis frankly admits he's the champion of industrial democracy. Its chief ingredient, he says, is collective bargaining, "wherewith to demand and secure participation for the worker in the increased wealth and increased productive efficiency of modern industrial America."

For has pronounced his credo time and again by declaring his workers don't need to elect representatives to bargain with him, that they already have what Lewis claims they haven't got—a fair share of the profits of industry. He expressed his idea thus, in 1922: "At this stage our development, industry must be more or less a friendly autocracy... the workers are partners, but there must be a directing head, a boss... Thus Ford and Lewis want the same industrial paradise for both employer and employee. But Ford wants to reach it by the road he selects for his own industry, and Lewis wants to get there by bargaining with the employer to select the route.

It shows what may be coming sooner than expected. The Franklin Institute's science lecturers, Richard V. Thayer and R. H. Bruce are demonstrating it this year in a hundred cities. It is all light, no heat. They make it flame six inches high and stuff the flames into their pockets without scorching the cloth.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Groyer. By PRESTON GROYSER. Washington, June 14.—(AP)—How would you like your grandchildren to read this item: "It was in the year 2,000 A.D. that the noted Japanese Admiral Perry-Moto sailed into San Francisco harbor with a fleet of super-dreadnaughts and told quaking-kneed petty officers that it was time for the United States to come out of its shell of isolation and be a part of the world. "It was a complete re-enactment, in reverse, of the feat of American Admiral Perry in 1852. "For 80 years the United States had been steadily growing in upon itself after it went over to Europe to fight for peace, only to find the European nations did not seem to care much whether they had peace. "The United States refused to join the League of Nations partly because it proposed to enforce the World War treaties that promised more war than peace. It refused even to join a world court designed to adjudicate international differences. "A series of naval limitations treaties went to naught because of international mistrust. The United States then began to build enough ships to keep enemies far from its shores. "Because war scares developed both in Europe and the Far East, the United States enacted a neutrality act 17 years after the World War. It was a solemn, fearful thing—the United States, no matter what, would help neither friend nor foe and would order its ships off the high seas in time of war for fear they might get into trouble. "An international economic conference in 1928 was suddenly scuttled when the Roosevelt administration suspected that any discussion of stable money might jeopardize plans to rebuild domestic prosperity. Frightened even by European war preparations, the United States passed a resolution saying "No more loans to Europe unless it pays what it already owes." "That was the capstone on a trade-isolation program framed earlier under the Smoot-Hawley act which put tariffs so high that few nations could ship stuff here. "Russia was forbidden to do communist missionary work in the United States and teachers in certain public schools were forbidden even to mention that alien doctrine. "It was about 1940 that we finally broke out in Europe and the United States, in a panic that it might be involved, forbade Americans to visit Europe, ordered all its ships off the seas and virtually locked its ports to belligerent vessels. "For fear public sympathy might be aroused for one side or another, radio waves were blanketed out and foreign news was strictly censored. Foreign trade was strangled to avert international commitments and to protect the home market. Foreign scholars with alien ideas were barred. Foreign films and literature were censored, then outlawed. Foreign lecturers and finally foreign visitors were shut out. "There had been no such isolation since the Japanese isolation of two centuries earlier. Even the obsolete guns and plans when Admiral Perry-Moto landed. He could have blown San Francisco's harbor into bits, but he remembered Admiral Perry, 150 years earlier, had been a decent sort of a fellow.

Not forgetting the 4-2 defeat handed them Saturday afternoon, the Goldsboro Gold Bugs returned to Greenville Sunday afternoon at the Third street stadium and gave the Greenies a 6-0 thrashing before what was considered the largest spectator turn-out of the year.

The Greenies put Cook Kovi Williams on the mound against Goldsboro's Kuni Saturday and the local had held the Bugs to 4 hits, while Greenie batsmen were gathering 10 off the Bug ace—who lost his second game of the season—on Saturday.

Elliott did the mound work for Goldsboro Sunday, allowing only four scattered hits. Freddie Calliuri went the entire route for the Greenies. He was reached for ten hits and six tallies.

John Brennan started Goldsboro off with a tally in the second verse when he poked a circuit-clout over right field fence. In the fifth, the biggest stanza for tallies, Mike Balla, first man up hit to short and advanced to second on Thoele's wild throw to first. Jesse Overton got an infield hit, and Elliott singled to right, scoring Balla.

The next run in the fifth came about when Willie Powell singled to center to score Overton. Coombs reached first on an error by Melchor and Elliott scored.

Final tallying was done in the seventh when Coombs hit to the infield and stole second. Iemasik took a base on balls. Coombs advanced to third on a wild throw to second by Calliuri, and Jarvis singled to right to score Coombs and Iemasik.

Farley, Norwood, Thoele and Stowe with one hit each were the only Greenie batsmen to have hits in yesterday's tilt. Coombs with three hits, Jarvis with two and Brennan with a homer featured for Goldsboro.

Fast-Stepping Billies Run Victories To Six

Show Hill—The fast-stepping Billies ran their string of victories to six in a row by turning back Ayden's Aces Sunday behind stinging pitching by Cecil Longest, iron man of the mound staff. The score was 6-2.

Longest had the best of the Aces' Culler all the way in their pitching argument. He gave the visitors only seven hits and walked but three, and in only one inning were the Aces able to get more than one safe blow. That was in the sixth, when they put together a double by Schuerholz, a walk, and singles by Jirak and Manager Mont Joyner for their two runs.

The Billies got to work on Culler at once. Newborn started Snow Hill's first turn by rapping the first pitched ball over the left field fence for a homer. Wall walked, stole second, took third on an infield out, and scored on Bistrot's fly in the second. Walter Rabb started things with a double, advanced on a wild pitch, and scored what turned out to be the deciding run on Scoufas' fly. The Billies completed their tallying with singletons in the third, sixth and eighth frames.

A team of hopes owned by John B. Wood of Crozet, Va., died at the same time—one reared up and fell dead on the other which was killed by the fall.

From 1927 to 1936 Kansas dairy products were worth $1,280,650 more than the animals that produced them, according to the state board of agriculture.

New Bern Wins Over Williamston Martins

New Bern Home runs by Stith and Mullinax provided the victory punch as Bill Hamons pitched a 4-1 win for New Bern over Williamston here Sunday.

Hamons was very much right. He pitched six innings and blanked the visitors after the opening inning. The Martins offered a real threat in that first inning. Ears singled, Villepique walked and Stanley was safe when Hamons entered his bunt. Bruce McCay singled Ears home, and the situation was critical. But Hamons pulled out—he fanned Stevens and then threw a double play ball to Mc-Abee.

The Bears lost no time in stepping in front. In the home half of the first McAbee walked. Black grounded out, and then Stith, new second sacker, homered.

Only other scoring of the day—in the third—resulted from a homer by Glen Mullinax. Stith singled with one out. Knowles fanned, and then Mully drove out out of the park.

TREE SHORTAGE SLOWS REFORESTATION PROJECT

Misoula, Mont. (AP)—Anyone who has attempted to transplant a mountain pine tree will sympathize with the federal forest service's Savenac nurserymen, raising and planting 10,000,000 trees annually for the northern Rocky Mountain region.

So sensitive are the trees that sometimes slight changes in temperature will kill them. They are susceptible to a variety of diseases. Disastrous forest fires have denuded large areas and there are now 170,000 acres in need of planting. A year's output from the nursery.

JUNIOR A'S WIN

The Junior Athletics of Greenville won over the Ayden Junior Aces by a score of 8 to 3 in Ayden this morning. Tyndall and Jordan were the batting leaders for Greenville. Batteries: Greenville: J. Williams and Charles Williams; Ayden: Melvin and Johnson.

SPORT SLANTS

Big Ernie Lombardi, the 6-foot two-inch Californian who does the backstopping for the Cincinnati Reds, has his heart set on winning No. 1 rating among National League catchers this year.

Lombardi—they call him "Schmooze"—finished fourth among the senior circuit's hitters in 1935 with a .343 average. As a result of a late outburst last season he wound up with .333 to take seventh place. His 1936 mark included 23 two-baggers and a dozen homers.

The big catcher earns every hit he gets. Slow-footed, he must of necessity hit the ball on the nose to beat it out. His slow start gives infielders confidence and they play tag back on the grass for him.

Speedier Reds beat but blows that trail in put-outs when Ernie hits them.

Despite his slowness, Lombardi gathers momentum and, on extra base clouts, rounds second galloping like a truck horse with unusually long strides.

As a catcher he is not the best in the league, despite his ambitions. Frequently he leads the league in passed balls. But the fans forget his steps up to the rubber with his big war club on his shoulder. He wastes no energy swinging the bat before the pitcher winds up, but once he sees a pitch to his liking, he takes a healthy cut. And when he connects fairly the ball goes places in a hurry.

His main fault seems to be that his batting average waits in hot weather. In the spring he usually piles up a neat figure which suffers when Old Sol turns on the heat. With the cool weather of early fall Lombardi's average takes on a healthier hue.

MAD JOURNEY'S END

Homer Robbins, 31, escaped mental hospital patient, was found dead following the last of several gun battles with police and state troopers near Millbury, Mass. He died before his death he had wounded Patrolman Elliott Hairyrs. He is shown being lifted from an abandoned cellar by officers.

White and Hodges will meet the Chain stores team at the West Greenville diamond this afternoon as the Twilight League resume play after the week-end rest.

The chain store boys have scored only one victory in play so far this season and are at the bottom of the league. White and Hodges are in second place with three wins against the same number of defeats. The Sinclair team continues to pace the league, having won six contests and not having yet suffered defeat. Gulf, the fourth member of the league has won two and lost four.

A BALK starting this popping off when Diz pitched against and lost to Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants on May 19. Then he "dusted 'em off."

Tarboro—The Serpents Sunday failed to find their last punch and dropped their second straight decision to Kinston's Eagles and their fifth in a row. The score was 6-2.

The Eagles started the evening with a singleton in the first inning and although the Serpents went ahead in the second, with two runs, the Eagles came right back for a pair in the third to settle the game. The Serpents threatened in the sixth and ninth but when the clutch came, were unable to come through.

That ninth-inning rally got so warm that Earl Webb Kinston's starting pitcher had to get out of the heat. He begged for a touch spot to Bill Seles—the three on, two out, with the hard-hitting George Rimmer at bat—but Seles fed Rimmer a fly ball that Gillewater took in centerfield to end the game.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 14.—(AP)—Selling appeared in the stock market in relatively heavy volume today and topped many leading issues fractions to more than seven points for new lows for the year.

Brokers attributed resumption of the decline principally to further labor upsets although the business picture generally was not without its dark spots.

Steel and motors led the slide, but virtually all departments participated. Some support appeared near the final hour. It was insufficient to stem the tide.

Although utilities were not as hard hit as the rest, most sold at bottom prices for about a year and a half.

In addition to the calling out of workers in coal mines owned by steel companies, at odds with the unions, fears were expressed other industries might feel the pressure

Some support appeared near the final hour and extreme set backs were pared or reduced. At the same time, weakness was in evidence at the close. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,300,000 shares, the largest in around a month.

CLEAN PLACES FOR TOURISTS

Sanitary Eating Places Also The Rule In This State

By J. C. BASKERVILL
Raleigh, June 14.—Clean and comfortable places to stay, with screened windows, clean bedding and adequate water supplies, and food prepared in clean and sanitary kitchens, are now the rule in North Carolina and visitors and tourists who come to North Carolina as a result of the new state-wide advertising campaign need not have any fear about any lack of cleanliness or sanitation, according to Warren H. Booker, director of the sanitary engineering division of the State Board of Health.

The North Carolina law with regard to accommodations for tourists is one of the most stringent in the country and it is being strictly enforced by the State Board of Health, Booker said.

"Visitors from other states, as well as several of our inspectors who have come to us from other states, tell us that the accommodations offered tourists in North Carolina by the hotels, tourist camps and tourist homes are much superior to those offered by many other states," Booker said. "They also say this is true of the hotel dining rooms, cafes, restaurants and lunch stands subject to inspection by the State Board of Health, as far as cleanliness and sanitation is concerned.

"We have no jurisdiction, of course, as to the quality of food served or the manner in which it is prepared, other than to see to it that it is prepared of fresh ingredients in clean and sanitary kitchens and served under approved sanitary conditions. So from the standpoint of cleanliness and sanitation, I feel that we are well prepared to entertain the visitors who may come into the state."

In order to remain open, any cafe, restaurant, lunch stand or hotel dining room must make a rating of at least 70 when inspected by departmental inspectors, Director Booker said. During the past year between 15 and 20 per cent of the eating places in the state have been closed because of inability to pass inspection and have remained closed until they complied with the law, Booker said. In one county, all of the eating places but one were closed by inspectors until they made the changes necessary to meet the requirements of the law. In a fairly large city in the state, inspectors for the sanitary division recently closed 28 cafes, restaurants and lunch stands, informing the proprietors that they must either conform to the law and maintain clean and sanitary kitchens and counters or go out of business.

"The fact is that all the better eating places have found that one of the best advertisements they can have in a Grade A rating from the State Board of Health and that there is keen rivalry among the better places to maintain as high a rating as possible," Booker said.

"The result is that most of the proprietors are not satisfied with a B or C rating, but try to get the highest rating possible."

One of the biggest aids in bringing about higher ratings for eating places has been the new 1937 law, which requires that a cafe or restaurant must have a Grade A rating before it can get a license to sell wine on the premises, Booker said. As a result, hundreds of cafes and eating places which formerly were satisfied with the lower ratings have now added new equipment and facilities so as to get the Grade A certificates, Booker said.

There is also growing competition among the hotels, tourist homes and tourist camps for better ratings, he said. All of these are inspected regularly as to cleanliness, equipment, water facilities and so forth, to see that they conform with the law. They are required to have screens on all the windows, to have a safe adequate water supply, including cold drinking water, preferably from water coolers. The division disapproves of the use of ice water made

'SNAKES' ON HIGHWAY AID SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Los Angeles.—This city of heavy traffic is startling drivers into being more careful.

Instead of straight lines which tend to paralyze the eye, wavy lines now mark traffic lanes at dangerous intersections.

"The effect," says Traffic Engineer R. T. Dorsey, "is to bring the motorist suddenly to attention. He wonders, 'Am I drunk, crazy, or is the street actually moving?'"

The plan is especially valuable at night and in a fog, says Dr. Rafe C. Chaffin, optical expert, who suggested it.

8 MEN LOSE HEADS OVER VILLAGERS' MISTAKE

Chungking, China (AP)—Crying "wolf" in China is dangerous business.

While 15 servants were traveling on a river junk to meet their master at Chungking, suspicious villagers on the way decided they were robbers and informed the military guard. The boat was met by soldiers who opened fire and killed eight of the servants.

Before the mistake was discovered, the soldiers boarded the junk, chopped off the heads of the victims and carried them to the military officers to claim a reward.

Sweden Has A Surplus

Stockholm (AP)—A surplus of $175,000,000 is looked for in the Swedish state budget at the end of the fiscal year on June 30. This is due to certain unexpected high incomes. Swedish state railways yielded $3,370,000 more than calculated and other departments and bureaus had much larger incomes than expected.

During extreme dry spells a part of the Withlacoochee river, about six miles northwest of Valdosta, Ga., runs upstream.

Woman Passes As Man 27 Years
Budapest, (AP)—Paul Kuszen-da, 39, was imprisoned for obtaining money under false pretenses, and was put in the men's section. When the prison doctor later discovered the prisoner was a woman, she confessed to being Paul Kuszen-da.

She said she had worn men's clothes since she was 12, had fought for 18 months in the front line during the World war, and subsequently participated in burglaries, for which she had served prison terms as a man.
