DEFINITE CLUE UNCOVERED IN PARSONS CASE

Garbage Men Barred From House of Missing Woman

STORY RELATED TO AUTHORITIES

District Attorney De- clares Development May Prove to Be 'Important'

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 15.—(AP)—Two garbage collectors told federal agents today that last Wednesday, the day Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, society matron, vanished, they were not allowed to get in the Parsons' Long Island home when they called. It was the first time such a thing had happened in four years, they said.

The collectors, Arthur Chadwick, 31, and his Negro helper, George Winfield, told their story to Earl Connelley, inspector of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Assistant District Attorney Lindsay Henry of Suffolk county.

It was their custom to enter the house, they said, to send to the basement and collect the garbage, but that on Wednesday they were met by Mrs. Anna Kurrypanova, housekeeper and companion to Mrs. Parsons, who pointed to a large package tied with cords and told them:

"That's all."
"They also told Connelley the Parsons car which Mrs. Kurrypanova said stood outside the house all day was in the garage when they called."

"This story may be extremely important," Assistant District Attorney Henry said.

Deep Sea Fishing Off N. C.'s Coast Good All Summer

Amberjack, Tarpon, Cero and Other Game Fish May Be Hooked, Says Fisheries Director

Raleigh, June 15.—Deep sea game fishing is good in the Gulf stream off the North Carolina coast during most of the summer where amberjack, tarpon, cero and other game fish may be hooked for anyone who want to venture out far enough to get these big fish, according to Dr. H. T. Prytherch, director of the biological laboratory of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries at Beaufort.

Dr. Prytherch is one of the recognized experts on fish in the United States, especially those to be found in North Carolina waters and heads a staff of biologists who do nothing else but study the marine life along the coast.

In his laboratory at Beaufort Dr. Prytherch has a beautiful tarpon some four feet long only recently mounted, which he caught last summer on a fishing trip to the Gulf stream. On another panel, and also just completed, is a large cero which was hooked by Senator Josiah W. Bailey while on a Gulf stream fishing trip with Dr. Prytherch. On these trips to the Gulf stream, Dr. Prytherch collects samples of sea water at varying depths in order to study microscopic animal and plant life in it, also as many different specimens of fish as possible.

"On one of our last trips to the Gulf stream we hooked a 16 foot shark but he cut the line in two before we could land him," Dr. Prytherch said. "The big fish are out there, all right, for anyone who want to go after them."

The only drawback to deep-sea fishing in the Gulf stream off the North Carolina coast is that it is from 30 to 35 miles out to the stream, necessitating a pretty dependable and seaworthy boat to get there. Dr. Prytherch uses the 46 foot cutter belonging to the biological station, built especially for experimental fishing. This cutter, the Sandpiper, can do about 15 knots and can make the run from Beaufort to the Gulf stream in from three to four hours in good weather.

"In order to be safe and guard against possible breakdowns or mishaps, Gulf stream fishing should be done by two or more boats at a time, since it is none too safe for a small boat to go out that far by itself," Dr. Prytherch said.

More than 200,000 C.C.C. boys are enrolled in special courses in agriculture.

House plants will do better next winter if set out of doors during the summer months.

Warehousemen To Petition For Earlier Opening Of Eastern Carolina Markets

Abandons Babies

Mrs. Mary Regina Prohl, 34-year-old mother of 10 children, was held for grand jury investigation on charges of abandoning her twin baby girls in a farm-yard near Buffalo, N. Y. Police say she admits leaving the babies, hoping they would be cared for.

SCOUT LEADER TO LEAVE CITY

Ralph H. Mozo Promoted to Florence, S.C., Position

Ralph H. Mozo, assistant scout executive of the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America, received notice recently from Regional office to report to Florence, South Carolina, as Scout Executive of the Pee Dee Council.

Mr. Mozo has served efficiently since September 1935 as assistant executive. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mozo will be missed by the young people of this county and over East Carolina territory of 21 counties.

Scout Executive Sigvald promises Greenville that the Executive Board under President F. C. Harding will name an early successor to Mr. Mozo. The Personnel Committee has been appointed from the Greenville District of the East Carolina Council who with members selected from the other Districts of the Council will meet next week to consider several applicants recommended by the National Scout Office and the Regional executive.

Mr. Mozo has earned this advancement by his efficient work, especially in Pitt County. The advancement comes as he serves as assistant Camp Director at Camp Charles where Pitt County boys are enjoying "a certified vacation."

Mr. Mozo will serve in a leadership capacity in connection with the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C., June 30-July 9th. His resignation becomes effective July 10th.

Local Government Units In Good Financial Shape

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 15.—A majority of the cities and counties in North Carolina are now back on a firm and sound financial foundation and have put their fiscal affairs in good shape as compared with 1934, it was announced today by Charles M. Johnson, who is director of local government as well as state treasurer.

There are now only 17 counties still in default in North Carolina as of May 1, 1937 as compared with 62 counties which were in default in May, 1934, according to figures prepared by George Adams, accountant for the Local Government Commission and released today by Mr. Johnson. Among the cities and towns, there are now only 77 in default as of May 1, while in May, 1934, there were 152 cities and towns in default, these figures show.

The approximate total of the defaults in the 62 counties and 152 cities and towns in 1934 amounted to $19,050,858, including both prin-

E. V. Webb Named President; New AAA Program Endorsed

The Eastern North Carolina Tobacco Warehousemen's association, in annual session here today, unanimously endorsed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1937, now pending before Congress, voted to comply with a request by farmers that it petition the United States Tobacco association to open the Eastern Carolina markets at the same time as the Border belts, and elected E. V. Webb, of Kinston, president for the coming year.

B. B. Sugg of Greenville is retiring president. Mr. Webb has served as vice president during the past year.

President Sugg was in charge of the meeting. Mayor M. K. Blount delivered an address of welcome, in which he declared that Greenville always was glad to welcome those connected with the tobacco industry. J. C. Eagles, Jr., of Wilson responded to Mayor Blount's welcoming remarks.

H. P. Foxall of Tarboro introduced J. E. Winslow, president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, who made one of the two feature addresses of the meeting.

Mr. Winslow explained the set-up of the proposed new AAA program and declared it had the endorsement of every farmers' organization in the country. He related, in particular, the efforts of the Farm Bureau to have the legislation enacted.

"He declared that the federal program would obtain parity prices and provide an ever normal granary. He referred to the Soil Conservation phase of the program, and added that this is proving of much benefit to the farmers through diversion of the water will be a lifesaver to the farmers, it also will protect the consumer by assuring a normal supply to meet the demand, he declared."

Mr. Winslow also presented in behalf of farmers in Eastern Carolina the request that the Warehousemen's association petition the United States Tobacco association to open markets in this section at the same time they are opened in the Border belts. He declared that farmers are either forced to travel a long distance to sell their product or hold it for several weeks at a time when most farmers are in need of ready cash. He pointed out that year after year tobacco is hauled to other belts by farmers in this area who otherwise would be forced to hold it until the Eastern markets open.

President Sugg then presented J. C. Lanier, former tobacco expert with the old AAA, who paid tribute to the united efforts of the warehousemen for their part in securing better conditions for farmers.

Mr. Lanier declared that state compact as a means of controlling tobacco production were out of the question. He said the plan had been tried and failed and added that farmers would have to look to some other means. "Federal legislation is the only way out for the tobacco farmer," he declared. Reminding that the problem was a sectional one, he said there was little inclination on the part of Congress, as a whole to help. He called on the warehousemen to continue to support the farmers in their efforts to secure parity prices through control of production, adding that all available support would be needed to

Held For Murder

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin A. Stamey are shown above in an affectionate pose before the latter's body was found in her burning home and before the state charged her husband with her "lethal murder." Stamey will face trial in Morganton, N. C., at the August term of court.

WAR WIDOWS GET PENSIONS

Not a Single Living Confederate Veter- an in Pitt, However

Widows of Confederate soldiers received pension checks today, the semi-annual payments having been received at the clerk of court's offices yesterday for distribution today.

The checks are delivered semi-annually, one June 15 and December 15. There are 24 eligible for the pensions in this county, five of whom are classed as class A widows and receive semi-annual payments of $150 each. The others get checks two times each year for $50.

There is not a single living Confederate veteran living in the county.

Widows to whom checks have been delivered or are ready to be paid follow:

Mrs. Martha L. Baker, widow of A. J. Baker; Mrs. Fannie Brooks, widow of H. P. Brooks; Mrs. Nancy Briley, widow of J. A. Briley; Mrs. Mary A. Cannon, widow of J. W. Cannon; Mrs. Mary Crawford, widow of D. L. Crawford; Mrs. Jennie Carney, widow of R. H. Carney; Mrs. Martha A. Davenport, widow of J. R. Davenport; Mrs. Alice E. Galloway, widow of E. S. Galloway; Mrs. Venie Davis, granted a pension through a special legislative act; Mrs. Jennie Hardee, widow of F. M. Hardee; Mrs. Lydia C. Gardner, widow of J. E. Oliver; Mrs. Susie Roberson, widow of W. L. Roberson; Mrs. J. A. Stokes, widow of J. A. Stokes; Mrs. Lucy Worthington, granted a pension by a special legislative act; Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, widow of Joe Wilson.

Committee Named On Spud Program

County Agent R. R. Bennett today announced the personnel of a committee to administer the Federal potato program for Pitt county, which is composed of J. V. Taylor, F. C. Martin and C. G. Whitehurst of Bethel.

The Bethel community is the largest potato producing section in the county.

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation has announced plans to purchase potatoes in an effort to keep the market from being flooded and consequently causing prices to slump to below-production cost levels.

The duty of the county committee will be to cooperate with the field representatives of the Commodities purchase division of the AAA in carrying out the details of the program.

Local receiving agents will be designated at an early date.

Agent to Be Sent to Fishing Waters Off Pacific Coast

REPORT MADE OF UNDUE ACTIVITY

Associate of John L. Lewis Supports Mini- mum Pay Clause in Wage and Hour Bill

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—The State Department announced today government representatives will be sent to the Pacific coast and to Alaskan waters to investigate the activities of Japanese fishing boats, reported to be operating near Bristol Bay, but outside American territorial waters.

The action was decided upon after American fishing interests in those areas had advised Washington there were in Alaskan waters an "unusually large number of Japanese fishing vessels."

The communications were received about a week ago and addressed to President Roosevelt and various senators and expressed apprehension lest the Bristol Bay salmon fisheries be invaded by the Japanese.

Meanwhile a close associate of John Lewis took issue with that labor leader over wage fixing provisions of the administration's wage and hour bill in another part of the capital.

Lewis had opposed flatly any delegation of power to an administrative board to set wages above bare minimums. He expressed the belief such wage fixing would be a threat to collective bargaining.

Sidney Hilman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, an affiliate of Lewis' C. I. O., told a Congressional Labor committee he "strongly supported the wage fixing measure of the bill. He saw in it an aid to collective bargaining among the Lewis-paid workers in many industries."

Hilman testified in support of the bill after George H. Davis, of Kansas City, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, appeared to oppose it.

The Senate Finance Committee recommended a one-year extension of "nuisance" taxes, now due to expire June 30. The taxes are commodities ranging from chewing gum to electric power. The house previously had voted a two-year extension of the Lewis, estimated to produce $650,000,000 annually.

Chance To Argue Case Is Granted To Edith Maxwell

Court Grants Plea For Virginia Girl Twice Convicted of Slaying Father in Argument

Wytheville, Va., June 15.—(AP)—The Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals today granted Edith Maxwell, twice convicted of killing her father, the right to argue before the State Appellate Court of Appeals from a second conviction carrying a prison sentence of 20 years.

The privilege of arguing the case came in the form of a writ of error and supersedeas granted the hill country girl after a second conviction in the killing of Trigg Maxwell, her father in a family quarrel July 21, 1935. She was lodged in jail at Wise the past week-end after one of her four underwriters on her $15,000 bond had asked to be relieved of that responsibility.

Pitt Women Named to Eastern Star Offices

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 15.—Governor Clyde R. Hoey is being kept on the go so much lately making speeches and welcoming celebrities that some of his friends are suggesting that he buy an airplane or some roller skates, or possibly both, in order to facilitate his peripatetic, which being interpreted means to make it easier for him to get around.

"I really think I need one of these little airplanes that you can land in a back yard," Governor Hoey said this morning. "But I doubt if the roller skates would help much."

Governor Hoey left here shortly after noon today for Asheville, where he will spend the balance of the week at the annual Rhododendron Festival there and where he will participate in the reviewing of the festival parade. He may possibly get back late Saturday, although his office staff is not looking for him until Monday morning.

Governor Selects Two New Judges Supreme Court

J. Wallace Winborne and M. V. Barnhill Added to State's Highest Tribunal; Walter Bone to Succeed Barnhill as Jurist

Raleigh, June 15.—(AP)—Governor Hoey appointed J. Wallace Winborne of Marion, and Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount today to the two new seats on the State Supreme Court.

Gregg Cherry of Gastonia, Speaker of the 1937 House of Representatives, received the approval of the Governor to succeed Winborne as State Democratic Chairman, and Walter J. Bone of Nashville, was appointed to succeed Barnhill as resident Superior Court judge of the Second district.

The Supreme Court Justice and Superior Court Judge each receive $8,050 a year pay.

The 1937 legislature, carrying out a constitutional amendment approved last November, provided for a Supreme Court of seven members instead of five as now constituted.

"One is a distinguished representative of the bench and the other an outstanding member of the bar," said Hoey in appointing Barnhill and Winborne.

"It was difficult to make a selection amid the wealth of judicial material available for service on this high court," he said. "It has been most gratifying that there has been no unseemly scramble for these positions. x x x"

All of the appointments, the Gov. said, become effective July 1.

Bone practices law as a partner with Congressman Harold Cooley.

The Governor released Winborne's letter of resignation as Democratic State Chairman and said the original would be delivered to D. L. Ward, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee. Ward, he said, would call a committee meeting "at some future date to select a state chairman."

FLIGHT ENDED FROM ERTREA SAILORS MOVE BRITISH AGENT

Amelia Earhart Lands at Karachi, India After 20 Hours

Karachi, India, June 15.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart arrived here tonight at 7:05 p. m. (9:05 a. m. est) completing a long and interrupted hop from Massawa, Eritrea, on her "just-for-fun" aerial flight around the world.

Earlier unconfirmed reports said Amelia had landed at Dvadar, Aluchistan, because of minor engine trouble.

The round-the-world flier had been expected to fly on to Karachi this evening, reports had said.

She had taken off early yesterday from Massawa Eritrea, and had been unreported for 20 hours.

Three Negro Sisters Bear Babies One Day

Three Negro sisters living in Pitt county gave birth to children in less than a day during last month. It became known today.

One child each was born to the three women between 1:55 p. m. one afternoon and 5:00 a. m. the next morning.

On May 16 at 1:55 p. m., a son was born to D. S. and Sarah Adams Strong of Greenville. On the same day, at 11 p. m., a son was born to Willie and Cars Adams Forman of Ayden, Route one. On the following morning at 5 o'clock a daughter was born to P. B. and Bettie Adams Blount of Ayden, Route one.

War Official Nephew Of Late L. C. Arthur

Louis A. Johnson of Clarksburg, W. Va., who was named to fill the post of Assistant Secretary of War by President Roosevelt yesterday, is a nephew of the late L. C. Arthur of this city. Mr. Johnson is a former national commander of the American Legion.

President Roosevelt sent the West Virginia name to the Senate for confirmation. The post of Assistant Secretary of War has been vacant since Harry H. Woodring of Kansas was elevated to the secretaryship upon the death of George H. Dern.

Governor May Resort To Airplane, Roller Skates

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 15.—Governor Hoey was kept on the go attending commencement exercises, collecting honorary college degrees, welcoming Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the Strawberry Festival in Wallace and wound up the week Saturday night by making an address before the Business and Professional Women's club in Durham Saturday night.

But in spite of all these many outside engagements, Governor Hoey continues to keep up with his work here and to see hundreds of people each week, ranging from those who want his help in getting their jobs to conferences with state officials about important matters of state government. Governor Hoey does most of his dictating to stenographers out at the mansion before he comes down to his office in the capitol, or after closing hours in the afternoons. He spends almost every Saturday afternoon in his office in the capitol working or dictating, because he can be free from interruptions.

C. I. O. SIEGE OF STEEL PLANTS GAINS GROUND

Strike Idle in Seven Great Lakes States Set at 80,000

VIOLENCE FLARES IN AMBRIDGE, PA.

CIO Pickets Assault A. F. of L. Members Seeking to Return to Their Jobs

Johnstown, Pa., June 15.—(AP)—The CIO siege of steel, involving 80,000 strike-idle men in seven states of the Great Lakes region, gathered momentum today with renewed skull-cracking, bloodshed and a threat of fresh strife in the Detroit automobile field.

Violence broke out at Ambridge, Pa., as 50 C. I. O. pickets assaulted 50 members of the rival American Federation of Labor, seeking to return to work at the National Electric Products company.

A move for peace went forward at Columbus, Ohio, where Gov. Martin Duvey sought to bring steel and C. I. O. leaders together in agreement. But the pre-conference atmosphere was gloomy.

At Ambridge nearly a score of American Federation of Labor men were beaten with clubs as they marched toward the company gates chanting:

"We're going to work."
Police fired tear gas shells but the American Federation of Labor back-to-work movement failed. The men did not get to the plant.

In Detroit Homer Martin, U. A. W. A. head, conferred with representatives of 17 locals throughout the country. Speculation immediately arose concerning new demands the U. A. W. A. will present to General Motors Corporation on expiration of a "truce" agreement August 1.

Reckless Drivers Will Not Be Able To Spot Officers

Motorists Had Better Watch Their Step After July 1 as Some Patrol Cars to Be Unmarked

Raleigh, June 15.—Speed demons, reckless drivers and chance takers had better watch their step, or rather their driving, after July 1, since not all of the new highway patrol cars will be painted aluminum color as at present, it was learned here today. Some of them will be just plain black Ford coupes and coaches, just like the regular stock cars and hence cannot be "spotted" by drivers at a distance, and will be driven by the officers of the patrol.

The reason given for not painting these cars like the ones that will be driven by patrolmen is that it will enable officers of the patrol to check up better on the activities of patrolmen, since the patrolmen will not be able to identify one of these cars as another patrol car.

However, it is agreed that if any of the officers in these cars observe any other drivers violating the highway laws, it will be their duty to stop and arrest them. It is also agreed that by not having cars that can be identified through rear-view mirrors or from a distance as highway patrol cars, a good many drivers are likely to get caught that now always slow down and drive carefully whenever they see a patrol car.

"We still believe that the patrol cars driven by the patrolmen should be painted a special color so that they can be readily recognized by day or night as patrol cars," said Captain Charles D. Farmer, commander of the patrol. "This not only helps the patrolmen and protects them by immediately identifying them, but also protects those stopped by patrolmen since they can be assured they are not being stopped by highwaymen posing as officers. We do think it is necessary, however, for the officers to have cars that cannot be recognized as patrol cars in order for them to better check up on the patrolmen and on law violators who can be caught only by using patrol cars which cannot be identified as such from a distance."

Craig-Whitted
Fayetteville, June 14.—Saint John's Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Thursday afternoon at 5:30 when Miss Alice Monteiro Whitted became the bride of Locke Craig of Asheville. Dr. B. F. Huske of Kinston officiated.

The altar vases held white gladioli and white cathedral candles burned in the altar candelabra. In the chancel baskets of white gladioli were placed against a background of palms.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. E. H. Lambert, organist, played "Love's Greetings"; Edgar, "Cantone Amora"; Nevin, "Viennese Refrain"; Kreisler, "The Evening Star"; Tanhauser, Mrs. Noel Paton sang "Oh, Promise Me," deKoven, and Mrs. Helen Dodson Lindsey sang "Beloved, It is Morn." Florence Aylward. During the reading of the vows Mrs. Lambert softly played "My Heart at Thy Dear Voice," Saint Saens and as the couple knelt for the blessing, "Oh Perfect Love," Barnby. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played for the processional and the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride entered with her father, Lloyd Nash Whitted, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore her mother's wedding gown of white lace over white satin. The gown was princess style with the lace skirt ending in a short train over the long white satin train. Her veil fell from a becoming fitted cap of illusion with a band of orange blossoms across the front. Her only ornament was a handsome gold locket and chain worn by her grandmother at her wedding. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies centered with a corsage of orchids, which she wore later for traveling.

Her attendants were Miss Betty McNeill as maid of honor and Mrs. Bruce Warren of Greenville, Mrs. D. E. Hudgins, Mrs. M. B. McLean of Greensboro and Miss Dorothy Clark of Fayetteville as bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of aqua silk net and lace cut with basque waist and high neck line, with long full skirts. They wore large hats of pink velvet ribbon. The bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of mixed garden flowers tied with long streamers of pink and aqua ribbon. The maid of honor carried an arm bouquet of briardrift roses.

The bridegroom had as his best man, Mackie Mills of Bennettsville, S. C. The groomsmen were Jim Stikeleather, Bob Powell and Carter Jennett, all of Asheville; Wallace Tighe of Columbia, S. C., Ras Evans and Billy Whitted of Fayetteville.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nash Whitted. On her paternal side, she is descended from the McKay and Cromartie families. On her maternal side she is a granddaughter of the late Alexander Lillington Blow and the late Alice Monteiro Blow, and a descendant of the Cooke family of Virginia. She is an alumna of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and a popular member of the young social set of North Carolina.

Mr. Craig is the youngest son of Mrs. Locke Craig of Asheville and the late Governor Craig. He was educated at the Asheville School for Boys, the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State College. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. He holds a position with the United States Forestry Service with headquarters in Asheville.

The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of old rose chiffon with a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother's gown was of lavender lace and her corsage of briardrift roses.

Following the wedding the bride's parents entertained at a lovely reception at their home on Haymount. The guests were received at the door by Mrs. W. H. Dail of Greenville and Mr. C. W. Rankin, and introduced to the receiving line, which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Whitted, parents of the bride; Mrs. Craig, mother of the groom; the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. George Craig of Asheville, and the members of the bridal party.

In the rear hall punch was served from a beautifully decorated table by Miss Charlotte Butner, of Atlanta, and Miss Maude Blow Fulford, of Greensboro.

In the dining room the guests were served molded toes, cakes and mints from a beautifully appointed table, which was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with a large silver bowl of white

ALL IN FUN

Telescope Makers Get No Thrill From Stars

By EDWIN J. MCKAY

Philadelphia (AP)—Nearly 100 amateurs from all walks of life devote spare evenings at Franklin Institute to the painstaking task of making telescopes—which they may never use. Most of them take no interest in the stars outside of a look or two after the instrument is finished. To them, the telescope making is just another hobby. Here's how they do it:

1—The business manager of a Philadelphia paper shakes abrasive on one of two round plates of glass.

2—An office secretary grinds the top piece, which is to be the finished mirror, against the bottom.

3—A portrait photographer completes the task by polishing the upper plate still deeper to form a paraboloid.

4—A radio engineer uses the knife-edge test, which shows up tiny flaws, to determine the mirror's accuracy.

5—Another engineer takes a squint with the completed job. Stars are reflected from mirror at bottom to focus at top.

ROMANCE OVER FOOTLIGHTS

After pictures of Heloise Martin, former Broadway dancer and Drake University coed, appeared in a college magazine, her "boy-friend," Ernest F. Bergmann, Jr., of Chicago, and brawny Drake football star, punched the editor on the nose. The publicity resulted in a new Broadway offer for Heloise, but she chose her hero instead. Here are the two after the wedding in Wheaton, Ill.

BEAUTY SALON TO BE COOLED

Vanitie Boxe First In East Carolina To Offer Comforts

The Vanitie Boxe, local store and beauty parlor, has just installed the latest air conditioned system—the first of its kind in Eastern North Carolina.

The cooling system was installed through the courtesy and cooperation of the Smith Electric company.

In its announcement the Vanitie Boxe, owned and operated by Mrs. Julia A. Johnson, listed a number of advantages which will be available to its patrons.

Chiefly among the advantages are shopping in absolute comfort, beauty service without having to suffer from the heat, and cool relaxation from the hot streets while visiting in the store-beauty shop.

The Vanitie Boxe also announced that it would remain open evenings by appointment. The store-beauty shop is located on Evans street at Five Points.

TO AVOID TREASON, SAY 'AR-KAN-SAW'

Oklahoma City (AP)—The name, sub, is Ar-kan-saw. Pronounce it Ar-kan-zes and you are committing treason.

The Oklahoma City chamber of commerce, planning to dedicate one of its programs to the state of Arkansas, wrote to the Little Rock chamber of commerce just to make sure the name wouldn't be pronounced wrong.

"Everybody now pronounces the name of the state 'Arkansas,'" said

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

Chapter 13
How Jude Died

THERE was an awful wait before the Skipper's level, expressionless face went on.

"I was about 19 and Jack must have been 23. He'd been away at school, and he'd come home to his father's law office, which he hated, and married a girl his family liked, but he was wretched, and I felt sorry for him. I wouldn't listen to Martha's warnings. Neither would Father. He told her to mind her own business.

"The upshot of the whole thing was that I suddenly found myself violently in love. He was a handsome kid.

"In those days you couldn't divorce a person just because you hated the sight of her. Jack had no grounds and his wife refused to divorce him. Sounds silly now, but it didn't then. People had a habit of being pretty consistently horrible to anyone who even mentioned such a word. And the way the sort of person who cared a great deal about what people have to say, I didn't blame her much, but I wasn't that type.

"So Jack and I were gloriously happy for a short time, and then our kid was born. Make no mistake about it, Mike. You were born because I wanted you. I knew what I was doing. You were a cute little devil, if I do say so myself. I wanted to name you after your father, but no one would hear of it.

"It was in February. There was a smile in the quiet voice. "You have no idea what an uproar you caused. In her way I don't think Martha blamed me, but she had been tearing her hair for months. She had thinned the servants down to the few old faithfuls—among them Higgins. The entire household knew, and the stage was set for a nice, private, Victorian scandal—the one thing above all others that I wanted to avoid.

"We had some lovely scenes. I intended to flout my child in the face of all society, and Martha's ravings on the side of convention meant nothing to me. But my father's diat. He blamed himself for ruining my life and went on in awful fashion. Jack's wife nearly died of shame. She entered the final count that licked me. She pointed out that I would be playing a filthy trick on the child. That got me. So all they took up the refrain and rubbed it in.

"As a result, old boy, you'll never find another person who will admit that you were born here on Farrington Bluff one February day. Six months later an infant named Michael Farrington II supposedly arrived from the far south where young Norman Farrington and his hypothetical wife had met with a fatal and hypothetical boating accident.

"That ended the chapter—or should have ended it. It ended a lot of things for me, at any rate. It did a good job on me when they set about showing me what I had done to you. Your father and I have never been alone together since you were two weeks old. The risk was too great. I made a little nightmare of my sins to brood over when the nights were long and lonely. Perhaps if I hadn't, this horrible thing would never have happened. But it's too late now."

Then Norman Escaped

HE smiled wanly. "On the whole I've been worth it—or I thought it was until recently. You're not a bad kid, Mike. I used to flatter myself that you hadn't suffered because of my pique. You had every thing a kid could need. You and your father were good friends. I was a pretty happy old fool. And then—Norman escaped.

"I've told you about that, but I didn't tell you all of it. He turned up here at night in the middle of a snowstorm. He was—pitiful. Half-frozen, half-starved and entirely lucid. He wanted protection from the entire world—and above all from "that girl."

"Martha was frantic. If you've been any fetich, Mike, Norman was hers. I know from recent alienists' reports that for all his seeming sanity, his condition was in reality worse than ever. But Martha wouldn't believe it. Norman pleaded and wept; Martha begged and stormed. You see, Father had left the money and everything else in my hands and it was up to me. I finally agreed to let him stay for a while, but I intended to send him back and Martha knew it.

"It was then that I realized my mis-lake. Martha was not merely upset. She was insane—as insane as ever her poor mother and brother were, but in a crazier, deadlier way. Suddenly she began urging me to send for you kids, and when I flatly refused, she threatened to write and tell you the whole story. I was an ass. I see that now, but I didn't then. I would have walked off the bluff to keep you from knowing the truth. I was dumb enough for that. I sent for you.

"On the night you arrived, she sprang her whole amazing trap on me. She told me that she had also invited Jude, whose name I had mentioned in my invitation, more to make it sound natural than for any other reason. She said that Jude was arriving within the hour. Her proposition in a nutshell was that either I promise not to send Norman back or she would arrange a marriage between Blinshop's daughter and Blinshop's son.

"I didn't know about you, Gay Mike. You're a close-mouthed infant when he wants to be. I did know that Jude was a stunning kid—and that Mike used to be fond of her.

"I was on the verge of doing almost anything when Jude's arrival diverted me. I left her with Martha and went out for a tramp in the rain to try and collect my wits. That was another fatal mistake. It seems that Jack had just told his daughter what I didn't have the courage to tell my son. And Jude, poor kid, proceeded to confide her knowledge to my sister, blowing the whole plan sky-high unless Martha could prevent both Michael and me from talking to Jude. If Michael had heard that story, Martha's last hold over me would have been gone. To make matters worse, Higgins, in the dining room, heard it all. If only he could have told me so before he did!

Knew Her Game Was Up

WELL, anyway, you three walked into a pretty mess when you came here Friday night. Martha knew that her game was up, but I didn't, and her one aim was to keep me from knowing it. She made one bad slip. She didn't know that you talked alone with your sister in the game room. She didn't know that Jude had told you the whole thing. And I knew nothing. I lived centuries Friday night when I realized that you were together. I threw out one desperate line to you, Jimmie, and you must have thought I was crazy.

"Upstairs we had an awful session, but the storm cut it short. You see, I consented to let you come on one condition—that Norman was not to be allowed in the house until after you had left. Late Friday afternoon we fixed him up in the boathouse where there was heat, and he seemed quite comfortable. But in the middle of our war we realized that the storm was whipping up a food tide and that the boathouse wasn't safe. He had an old skeleton key of Father's, but he might have fallen asleep and would be trapped there.

"I thought of William's summer quarters over the garage. I got into my oilskins and went down the back stairs and out along the porch. You were still in the game room, Mike, and I suppose you saw me through the window. I saw you."

"Yes, well, Norman had left the boathouse and I couldn't find him. I thought that sooner or later he would head for either the house or the garage. I got to the garage just as you were coming out of it. Norman had already tried to escape in one of the cars. I doubted that he would go to the house. As a matter of fact, I mostly told the truth about where I was that night. The poor collie was in a bad way when I got to the stable. I stayed there a long time, and when Norman failed to arrive I started back.

"As luck would have it, I didn't get a chance for a private word with Higgins. He told me his story just before lunch yesterday. It seems that he had kept his eye on Martha's door. As I went down the back stairs, Jude came up the front ones, looking for me. Martha met her in the hall, crying and wringing her hands. She told Jude that I had just rushed out the front door shouting that I was going to throw myself off the bluff. Jude rushed out after me. Martha stood behind her on the porch and shot her with Higgins' revolver before the old man could stop her."

Couple Make Business of Wrecking Homes

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. F. E. Stephenson is a professional home wrecker. Her husband helps her. It's strictly business.

Mrs. Stephenson took a course in architecture and joined her husband in the wrecking business shortly after their marriage 29 years ago.

"I take care of the sales, do all the drafting and drawing and help with the estimates," Mrs. Stephenson says. "Mr. Stephenson gives all the orders because men don't like being bossed by a woman."

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE (AP Science Editor)

Rochester, Minn.—A new treatment for gout is under experiment in the Mayo Clinic here and is reported in its Proceedings.

What causes gout is still unknown.

There has been only one major new treatment since the 16th century, says this publication. The 16th century treatment was colchicine—but how this drug affords relief has never been learned. It is still prescribed as a rule at the very first attack.

Even the belief that diet can bring relief is being questioned. The Mayos are now experimenting on two drugs combined, salicylates and glycine.

NATURE WEEK AT BOYS' CAMP

Boy Scouts At Camp Charles to Take Part in Program

Largest group yet enrolls for Nature Week session with scouts from Wilson Greenville, Rocky Mount, Robertsonville, Grifton, Fountain and Kingston.

Over 40 happy scouts have enrolled for this last session of Camp Charles, that is it's the last session before the camp closes for the National Jamboree. The session this week is known as 'Nature Week.' Already many nature activities are underway. Turtles have been found and snakes observed, even a rare discovery of a Ruby-throated Humming Bird's nest with the male and female both on the nest have been located and being guarded by the campers in the Christian Church cabin who are located closest to the 'find.' A museum is being built and an aquarium.

All camps this week have the name of a bird. Bird Hikes are to be conducted—three of them. Dr. Blauvelt, the local expert of reptiles will be asked to speak to the campers one morning. Each meal the boys have a 'meal ticket' which is to bring a certain leaf—and by the end of the week each camper will know more of leaves than ever before.

Animals too will be studied. Their footprints will be taken in plaster cast.

The regular advancement program and recreational activities will continue. Volley ball, archery, golf, baseball, etc. are on the 'daily menu' and craft work with the boys making leather book covers, moccasins, watchfobs, arrows, and many other projects continue.

J. Gilbert Smith and J. Q. Patrick are visiting scoutmasters.

The campfires are better this week since six members of the Robertsonville band have brought along their instruments. The campers look forward to these nightly experiences down in the woods sitting around a council—fire and singing songs, taking part in stunts, hearing their own camp newspaper with news of the campers read by 'Bob-wire.'

Inspection is not looked at with awe but as an opportunity to win the coveted pennant.

Yesterday Dr. Badie Clark substituted for Dr. Malcolm Mullen the chairman of the Health and Safety committee and inspected all the campers.

Wednesday is visitors day and a special program will be planned. The public is invited.

Tonight a special meeting of leaders of the Jamboree including Scoutmasters R. E. Kinz of Washington, Needham Bryan of Wilson, Albert Corath of Rocky Mount and a number of Jamboree scouts will be held at the camp with the Scout Executives. Final plans for the participation of the East Carolina in

The camp is having a successful season. Yesterday Capt. Collins preached to the campers at their camp church service. Everything is being done to assure this being a certified vacation. The camp will close Sunday afternoon, the 20th and reopen on the 18th of July for three additional Older Boy periods. It is expected that these last three weeks will be filled quickly so Wilson scouts should register at the Scout Council office at once.

The campers at the camp this week are:

DUKE INSTITUTE OPENS TONIGHT

Three Groups to Join in Hearing Address By Dr. Leach

Durham, June 14.—The two-week sessions of the Duke Institute of International Relations, the North Carolina Pastors' School, and the Rural Church Institute will begin at 8 o'clock tonight at Duke University with Dr. Henry Goodard Leach, editor of the Forum, delivering the opening address to the concurrently meeting groups.

"Pathways to Peace" will be the subject of the noted editor, traveler, and lecturer's address. In addition to the 500 persons enrolling in the institutes, interested persons from the general public and the summer school are expected to hear Dr. Leach.

Dr. Leach is well known both in this country and abroad, being a distinguished figure in the world of letters, education, and international affairs. Born in Philadelphia in 1870, he received an A. B. degree from Princeton in 1903 and the A. M. and Ph. D. degrees from Harvard in 1906 and 1908, respectively. For the next two years he had a traveling fellowship from Harvard in Denmark.

During 1913-05 Dr. Leach was master of Groton School and in 1910-12 was instructor in English at Harvard. He has written two books on the Scandinavian countries: "Scandinavia of the Scandinavians" and "Angelic Britain and Scandinavia." In recognition of his service to the cause of international understanding between the United States and the Scandinavian countries, he has been decorated by the governments of Sweden, Denmark and Norway.

LADYBIRDS PAY DIVIDENDS TO THIS BUG COLLECTOR

Wenatchee, Wash. (AP)—When W. C. Peach, the ladybird king, has a good day, there are 50,000 bugs in his automobile.

Peach works nradly from April 1 to July 1 scurrying over rocks and hills of Central Washington in search of ladybirds (coccinellid beetles). Find them in huge colonies under rocks, hanging on bushes and in the bark of old trees, he pops the bugs into gunny sacks.

Later he places colonies in small screened boxes and ships them to orchardists all over the nation. The ladybird has an enormous appetite for aphids, the enemies of roses and fruit trees. Hence, Peach's catches are in demand wherever fruit trees grow.

Though his job allows him nine months' rest a year, Peach earns his money during the three months he works. A day's work frequently involves a 5,000 foot mountain climb, a journey over a log across a chasm or the close investigation of a towering cliff.

GERMANS OPEN DRIVE TO "EAT MORE FISH"

Berlin (AP)—Germany's economy campaign has led to the opening of kitchens in many cities to teach women how to cook fish.

"Germany must become a nation of fish-eaters," the newspapers argue. "An immense capital swarms in our lakes and rivers, waiting for the fishermen's nets to exploit it for the nation's needs."

But unless hausfrau can serve up fish in a variety of delicious dishes, officials fear that this aspect of the large-scale drive to make the rch self-sufficient may fail. Hence the kitchens.

EARLIER OPENING NEEDED

The tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina are right in requesting and urging the opening of the tobacco markets in this area at the same time that the South Carolina and border markets open. Past experience has shown that the growing season in Eastern Carolina is just about the same as that of the border belt and the crop in this area is usually ready for market just as early as that in the border belt.

Production of a tobacco crop is costly and by the time a farmer has some of his crop ready for market he is naturally in need of money and does not want to have to wait two extra weeks for his local markets to open, or else have to go to the expense of hauling a portion of his crop a hundred or two hundred miles to market in order to realize some needed ready money.

This matter of fixing the dates of the opening of the markets in the various belts is handled by the United States Tobacco Association, and it is to be hoped that they will consider the position of the Eastern North Carolina farmers, and hear their plea when they go into the matter of fixing opening dates this year. There is no sound reason why the Eastern North Carolina farmers should be penalized by having to wait to sell their crop long after it is ready for market or else go to extra expense of carrying it a great distance to the markets that are open.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF ALL

The Eastern North Carolina Warehouse Association used wisdom in endorsing the new AAA program now before Congress, for as pointed out at the association's annual meeting today the whole of Eastern North Carolina might be considered as one big farm and the interests of all regardless of the nature of his or her business is more or less dependent upon the farm income of the section.

This section of the country came out of the depression under the old AAA, but since that law went into the discard it has been clearly shown that state compacts and other makeshifts are not workable in the matter of controlling production and maintaining parity.

The new Federal farm program is so designed as to guarantee an ever normal supply to meet the demand, at the same time to prevent an overproduction, and likewise it will protect the consumer against unreasonably high prices and give the farmers a fair return for their

THE LONG DISTANCE CALL

It seems that there could be no objection to such a plan and certainly it is up to the people of this agricultural section of the country to get behind our congressmen and urge them to make every effort to get the program enacted into law.

Camden, Tyrrell, Hyde, Pamlico, Carteret, Jones, Lenoir, Brunswick, Sampson, Caswell, Ashe, Avery, Yancey, Swain, Graham, Cherokee and Clay. The 77 cities and towns still in default were not made public.

In 1932, virtually every county east of Raleigh with the exception of Vance, Franklin, Warren, Halifax, Northampton, Hertford, Gates, Currituck, Dare, New Hanover and Columbus, were in default. In the west, every county from Buncombe county westward, including Buncombe, were in default, while many more were sprinkled through the Piedmont.

Defaults have now been removed in 45 counties by refunding operations and exchanging new bonds for old ones after negotiations with the holders of the old bonds. Director Johnson said, "Five of these counties were able to pay out entirely without having to refund at all, due to improved business conditions. A few of the cities and towns were also able to remove their defaults without refunding. Where it was necessary we have given the same help we gave the counties."

Of the 17 counties still in default, two of these are only technical defaults and will be removed very soon. The others are more serious and some time will be required yet to work out satisfactory agreements with the bond holders. But we believe that eventually most of these counties will be refinanced by a plan that will remove the defaults. Most of the 77 cities and towns still in default are small ones, but it frequently takes more time to work out refunding plans for these than for the larger ones. At any rate, these figures show that the Local Government Commission has been getting some real results during the past three years in helping defaulting local governments.

Some surprising interest savings have resulted to the various local governments involved as a result of the refunding plans consummated. The saving in interest alone amounting to approximately $40,000,000, Johnson said. In addition to this saving the various units will realize a further saving by being able to buy back their callable bonds below par and by selling new bonds issues at lower rates of interest.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington. — Pres. Roosevelt's regional planning proposal, which some regard as adding six more TVA's, opens a way for ending the impasse among the directors of TVA No. 1.

Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the board, and David E. Lilienthal, have been at administrative sword-points ever since they took over the job of making the Tennessee Valley project such a great navigation and flood control enterprise that power men screamed in agony.

Four Against One
Morgan, the moderator, wanted to cooperate with local power companies, principally Commonwealth and Southern, in development and distribution of power. But his engineering training did not carry him far enough in the field of social betterment to suit Lilienthal. The younger, aggressive Lilienthal wanted to make the Tennessee Valley into a southern Yallahs where there would be little room for earthly minded private owners of public utilities.

He converted Harcourt A. Morgan, the third member on the board, to his views, and with Senator Norris and President Roosevelt, on his side, soon had Chairman Morgan pinned to the wall. TVA has been extending steadily, haltered at points by the courts, in competition with the power companies. It has extended particularly in the direction of setting up communities in the power business.

For a time Chairman Morgan's resignation was expected but the administration, and Senator Norris, have a high respect for Morgan's engineering ability. One person close to court, said it was likely a Columbia Valley authority would be set up soon enough to pennit Morgan to be ferried over there. His engineering skill would be useful in working out a distribution system and, as yet, there is no plan to use CVA as an agency to revitalize the Pacific Northwest.

Birth Control
Puerto Rico may soon be paying Margaret Sanger to help it get started on a birth control program. It might surprise her, since she recently listed Iceland and Bermuda as the only two spots where authorities permitted birth control information to be spread.

But the Puerto Rico legislature recently repealed all barriers against dissemination of the information, after its population had expanded so fast there now are scarcely enough turnips to go around and certainly not enough of the better things of life.

Mrs. Sanger helped Bermuda set up clinics after its authorities reported a population growth of 10.

000 to a new top of 30,000, most of the increase being Negro. Puerto Rico for many years desperately overpopulated, has added about 15 per cent in a decade, semi-official estimates indicate.

Colored News

The regular monthly meeting of the Greenville Colored Civic League will be held at Sycamore Hill Baptist church Wednesday night. The meeting will begin promptly at eight o'clock and will adjourn at nine-fifteen. Under the interested supervision of our city and county officials, and many of the colored and white citizens and organizations and community has rapidly grown to the extent that, a civic organization is absolutely necessary. Representatives should have the consideration of our leading citizens when saying or doing things for our group. Therefore, we are sincerely urging every citizen to become a member and help to do a greater work in building the spiritual, educational, social, economical, commercial, and civic status of our community. The program will be as follows: The woman's duty to society, Rev. J. A. Nimmio. The church's duty to society, Rev. C. W. McNeil. A discussion on social science, Elizabeth Battle. International cooperation, Mrs. P. W. Moore. White citizens are invited to attend all meetings.

O. A. Dupree, president; J. B. Taft, secretary.

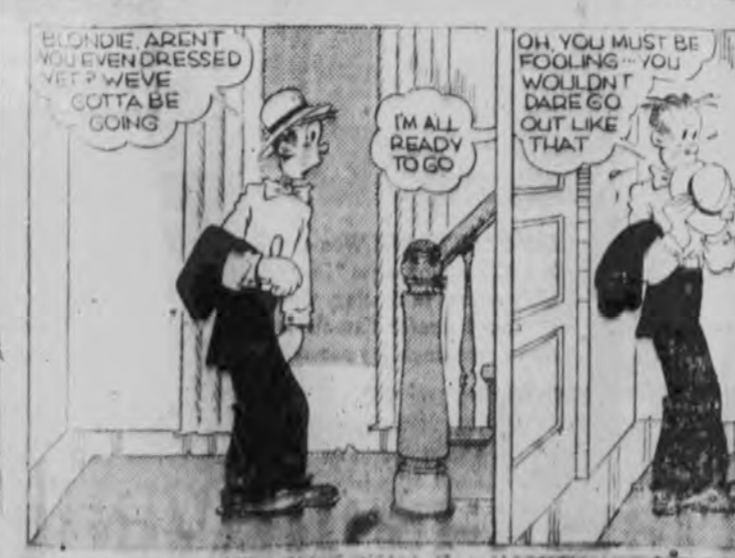

The average school term in the city is 181.7 days a year; in rural communities, 160.8 days.

'LOST' PILOTS RETURN HOME

BLONDIE

WAY TO PEACE AGGRESSIVE ONE

Dr. Leach Addresses Opening of Duke Summer Institute

Durham, June 15.—The Duke university summer institutes were opened here last night. The first joint session of the three groups was held in Page auditorium, with Henry Goddard Leach, editor of Forum magazine, speaking on "Footpaths to Peace." The noted speaker stated that "the most direct route to peace is an aggressive one." He pointed to the Scandinavian countries as worthy examples for other nations to follow.

Last night's joint meeting officially opened the two-weeks sessions of the Duke Institute of International Relations, the North Carolina Pastors' school, and the Rural Church institute. Public lectures by other outstanding authorities on international relations are to be given each evening during the two weeks.

Commenting on a recent questionnaire asking for a program to limit war, Dr. Leach reported that there seems to be no uniformity of opinion among leading Americans as to how war can be limited. "Some see our only hope in preparedness and bigger armaments," he said. "At the other extreme are the idealists who preach non-resistance."

"Between these groups are the advocates of the new neutrality who cry for various degrees of isolation. Some wish to place embargoes on munitions and money to all nations at war. Others bid them come and pay cash on the barrel head. Some even urge complete non-intercourse with any nation that goes to war in violation of the pact of Paris."

"These new neutrality programs are praiseworthy, but they involve great economic loss to ourselves and injustice to our friends abroad and may lead to more complications than the old doctrine of freedom of the seas."

The Scandinavian countries—Denmark, Norway, Sweden—have, for the time being at least, solved the problem of peace, Dr. Leach stated. They were able to keep out of the world war, and with honor, he continued. He gave the following reasons for peace in Scandinavia.

The noted editor and lecturer advocated a world court and an international police force. "The organization of these United States indicates the way of common sense for the world peace movement," he said. "Eventually the nations will have to agree on a workable world court and an international police force."

Other speakers who will be heard at public meetings of the institutes are: Russell P. Barnes, Herbert F. Fraser, Hornell N. Hart, Wilfred L. Husband, Pitman B. Potter, Miss Josephine S. Schain, and Y. T. Wu.

FRENCH TAUGHT BY AROMA AT AMERICAN BAR

Shanghai, China (AP)—There is a bar in Shanghai that offers visiting American sailors a little education along with their beer.

The proprietor once was a navy man and he still is interested in nats. When they ask him the meaning of the "chez this and chez that," they find all over Frenchtown, he explains that "chez" is French for "the house of."

To make it easier, he decided to put up such a sign himself. Unfortunately no one in the navy or elsewhere knows him by name but only by his unexplained nickname, Smell Bad. So the sign had to read "Chez Smell Bad."

HOW MODERN WOMEN LOSE FAT SAFELY

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings out all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished. Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—you feel younger in body—Kruschen will give you a joyous surprise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.
NOTE—Many people find that the only diet change necessary while taking Kruschen regularly is TO EAT LESS.

The Greenville Greenies will play Doc Smith's New Bern Bears tomorrow afternoon at 4 P. M. in the first game in the local park this week. Bo Farley's locals had a successful week last week. They won four out of six tilts. They are in New Bern this afternoon in an attempt to defeat the Bears. In addition to tomorrow's game, the local nine will battle Williamston here Friday and Snow Hill here Sunday. Several new additions to the club is expected to help some.

The Greenies are tie for fifth place with New Bern and a win today from the Bears will put the locals in fifth place by themselves. Tarboro holds the fourth position, and is three or four game in front of the locals. There has been a lot of change in the past two weeks in Coastal Plain standings. The Martins had held the first rung all season, until Goldsboro took it away from them last week. The Martins' win yesterday put them within one game of first place, however.

In other words, the Coastal Plain race is getting hotter and hotter every day. Anything can happen, and your guess is as good as ours about who will be in the driver's seat at the end of this week's play.

OLD-FASHIONED DUEL.
Williamston, June 15.—Charlie Stevens' circuit clout in the second inning proved to be the margin of victory for Art Hauger's Martins yesterday as Jim Rollins outpitched Kinston's Krim Bess in an old-fashioned pitchers' duel here.

Stevens' homer cleared the roof of the high school gym adjoining the ball park.

Rollins yielded only four hits; he fanned four and walked one. Bess yielded six safeties; he fanned two and walked two.

Rollins—strike-out king of the local loop—was master of the Kinston club throughout. The Martins threatened only once after Stevens' homer sent them in front. In the fifth, the home club loaded the bases. Deim started it with a fence rattling single. Lakotas popped to the backstop. Sharkey singled and Rollins drew a free pass. Earp fouled to Dirmann. Up came Ace Villepique who slammed one clean out of the park via left-field fence—but alas—in foul territory. Another foul. And then Bess tossed a slow one for the third strike.

Deim, Martins' first sacker, handled five chances and featured the Martins' defense. Wright, Eagle shortstop, had a perfect day on eight opportunities.

The game was the only one played yesterday in the Coastal loop.

Blount-Harvey, defeated Person-Garrett in an over-time contest yesterday afternoon, but failed to coast their place in the standings as the team just a over it. Carolina Dairy, also turned in a victory, defeating the lawyers, 11 to 5.

A home run by Roberts in the second put the lawyers in a tie with the dairymen. Shortly thereafter the attorneys piled up a small lead and held it until the latter part of the game, but were forced to relinquish it when the dairymen got down to hitting and the lawyers' fielders were unable to handle some chances that should have been snared into put-outs.

Blount-Harvey, with the score tied at 6-all at the end of the regulation contest, pushed over one run in the eighth to defeat the second place Person-Garrett team. The department store men scored when Vincent led off with a hard-hit three bagger and scored on Barnhill's single. Person-Garrett were unable to score in their half of the inning.

The features of the game came in the seventh inning. Person-Garrett having scored once in the first and second and twice in the fourth inning were leading Blount-Harvey who had scored only once in the second and twice in the sixth inning by one run, when Barrett of the department store team hit a home run with two on to bring the score to 6-4 in their favor. However, the tobaccoists came back in their half and scored twice more to knot the count.

Wells with a triple and a single shared batting honors for Person-Garrett with Ruffin, Arthur, and Troy who collected two hits a piece. Barrett with a home run and a single, and Barnhill with two hits to his credit.

Feeling honors went to the two Forbes boys, Harold and Jack, of the Person-Garrett team. Tripp, third sacker, was the main plug in the Blount-Harvey defense.

Yesterday afternoon at the West Greenville Diamond the White and Hodges soft ball team nosed out a 13-11 victory over G. V. Knight's Chain Stores boys. The victory put the winners up into second place with a good lead over their nearest rivals the Gulf No-Noxers. The game started off in a suggest affair with each team scoring two runs in the first inning. The Chain Stores boys took the lead in the second inning by scoring four runs on hits by Bostic, Corbett, Blackman and Brinson by the White and Hodges organization came back in the third inning to score six runs on hits by White, Vincent, Hart and Neims in the frame with every man on the team getting a hit that inning and with this lead it was good enough to win the game. stunted the sensational youngster to the sidelines, the other hurlers took charge.

Manager Steve O'Neill had expected little help from the veteran Willis Hudlin. Hudlin won only a single game in 1936 while being charged with five losses. He was starting his 11th campaign in a Cleveland uniform. He did not promise much.

The same Mr. Hudlin has been pacing American league hurlers with half a dozen straight wins. Apparently he is headed for his best season since ringing up 18 victories in 1927.

Why the sudden reversal of form? There are several explanations. The most plausible is the return to form of Catcher Frankie Pytlak.

Last year, after having been on the sidelines because of illness, during the greater part of the 1935 pennant race, Pytlak suffered a fractured jaw and was forced out again after playing in one-third of the scheduled games.

This season finds Pytlak fit. Frankie is a fine mechanical catcher, and a smart one.

His handling of pitchers often has meant the difference between victory and defeat. He knows Hudlin and handles him to get every possible advantage.

Pytlak's timely hitting has placed many games on the winning side of the ledger. He is hitting well over .300 and driving in his share of runs. As long as Frankie is able to carry on the Indians are likely to prove tough.

N. Y. Stock Market

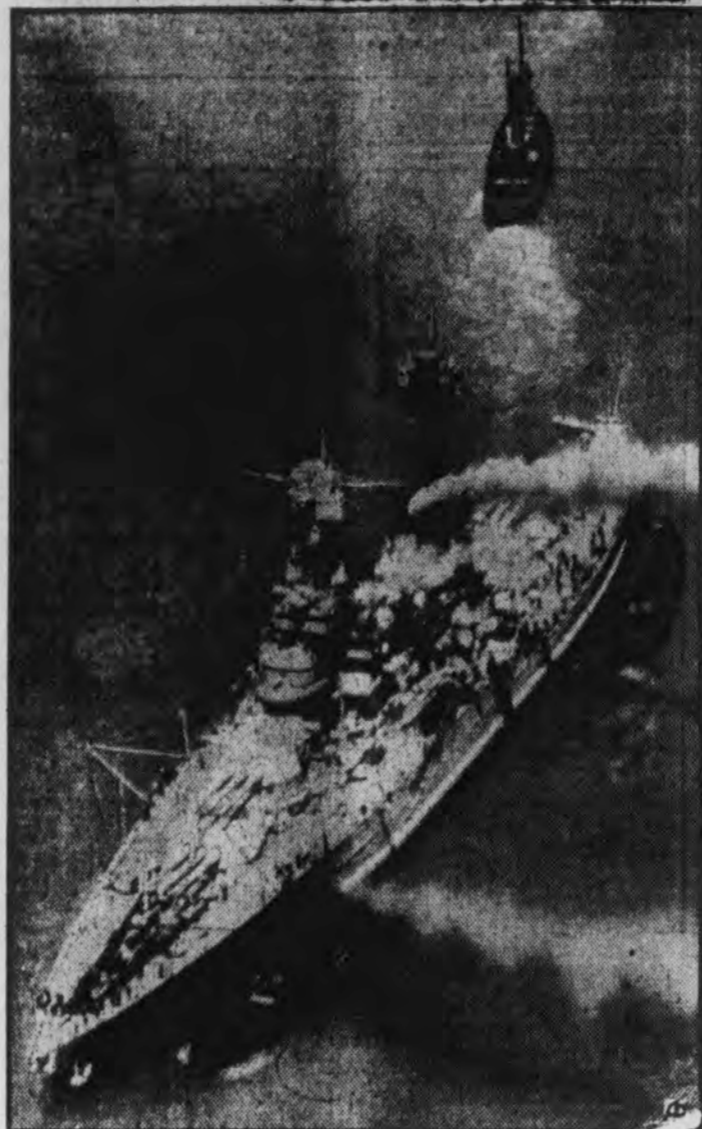

New York, June 15.—(AP)—Strike fears appeared to have faded a trifle in today's stock market and leading issues recovered part of their sharp Monday's losses.

The comeback however was rather half hearted and volume was hardly up to that of the preceding session. There was also an assortment of moderate losses near the fourth hour.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

The United States imported nearly 400 times as much liquor and wine as it exported last year.

STUCK IN THE MUD

Twelve tugboats failed to dislodge the 32,300-ton battleship Tennessee after she had ground her nose in the mud near Battleship Row in San Francisco Bay. Most of her crew, fuel tanks and tons of shells were unloaded to lighten her weight.

SPUD PROGRAM IS COMMENDED

To Help Growers and at Same Time Feed The Needy

Raleigh, June 15.—The purchase of surplus Irish potatoes in North Carolina by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation should help the growers, and should also be commended from the nutrition standpoint, said Miss Mary E. Thomas, extension nutritionist at State College.

she pointed out, and will be of much nutritional value to the needy families who are to receive them.

"They are one of our principal sources of carbohydrates. They contain mineral salts, especially phosphorus and iron, a small quantity of protein, and significant amounts of vitamins B, C, and G," she stated.

The cellulose furnishes bulk and the minerals supply to the diet the alkaline or base-forming substances that are needed. All these elements tend to perfect an energy-giving food, she added.

Potatoes may be prepared in many appetizing ways and the thrifty housewife may serve them almost daily and yet not fade the appetite of her family, Miss Thomas continued. It is not only good economy to stock up on potatoes now, but city housewives will be helping move the surplus from an over-burdened market.
