TWO OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE AIM REOPEN MILLS

Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Republic Plants Involved

EXECUTIVES GIVE DEFIANT ORDERS

Sit-Down Threatened At Youngstown Mill If Back-to-Work At- tempts Are Made

Cleveland, O., June 21.—
(AP)—Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, announced today that he would attempt to reopen the strike-bound sheet and tube plant in the embroiled Youngstown area at 7 a. m. Tuesday.

At the same time Republic Corporation announced it would attempt to reopen one of its mills tomorrow morning. Two were killed and 26 injured at the mill Saturday night in a battle between strikers and city police.

The defiant orders to reopen came as strike leaders headed by John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for Industrial Organization, entered a conference with Federal mediators here in an effort to find a peaceful solution of the Great Lakes steel strikes.

Sit-down strikes in sheet and tube mills have been threatened by union leaders if there was any back-to-work attempt.

Informed observers believed the reopening orders may have been issued with advance knowledge of a truce to be reached at the Cleveland conference.

It was believed that the conference may agree to appeal the issue to the National Labor Relations board and thence to Supreme court for final decision on the question whether the Wagner act requires signed contracts.

The strike hinges on the refusal of the steel companies to sign contracts.

On the Johnstown front of the strike the great Cambria works of Bethlehem Steel were closed under a martial law proclamation of Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania.

Tight-lipped as to plans of the mediation conference the steel union leaders and the Federal mediation board continued deliberations behind locked doors in a Cleveland hotel.

Purnell said the mayors of Youngstown, Campbell, Struthers and Hubbard and Sheriff Ralph Ecker "have stated to me they are willing and now able to protect company employees lawfully asserting the right to resume work."

Christian Pastor Delivers Message At Union Services

Rev. W. A. Ryan speaks on subject of faith at Sunday night meeting in M. E. Church.

"What's left of our faith," queried the Rev. Wm. A. Ryan, of the local Christian church, in introducing his sermon at the union worship service held last night in the Methodist church. In an age of bewilderment such as the present, such a question is increasingly being asked by people, the speaker held, as he pointed out that at least three values and emphases of faith remained, to which people could give assent.

"First, Jesus Christ is an historical fact in the life of the world. Even the bitterest critics of Christianity will admit that," said Mr. Ryan.

OPEN WORK ON TENTH STREET

Man Who Laid City's First Hard Surface Contractor

Work on the Tenth street extension was started today by a contractor who has played a large part in the advancement of Greenville.

F. J. McGee, whose headquarters are at Norfolk, Va., now, but who was a resident of this city at one time, was awarded the contract for the project when his bid was found to be about $4,000 below the nearest competitor.

Mr. McGee was particularly anxious to make this improvement for Greenville. It was he who laid the water pipes for the city's system and he also laid the first hard pavement in Greenville, the stretch from the corner of Evans and Third to Five Points and on to the Atlantic Coast Lane depot.

The Tenth street extension is part of an extensive improvement program secured for the city within the past 12 months. Dickinson avenue was widened and the underpass erected at the cotton mill, making a great improvement to the entrance to the city in that direction.

When the extension is completed traffic will be able to go out the Washington road without having to come all the way to Five Points. It is expected to relieve the traffic situation to a great extent.

Bailey Not Helping Self By Opposition To Relief

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, June 21.—The things the farmers and working people are saying about Senator Joseph W. Bailey these days in the eastern part of the state are anything but complimentary and indicate that he has not helped himself politically with the rank and file of the people, according to reports brought back here by those who have been traveling through the coastal plains section lately. For while Senator Bailey thinks too much money has been spent on relief projects thru the WPA and thinks the new appropriation should be reduced, the rank and file of the people, especially in the smaller towns and rural sections know they have gotten many worth-while improvements as a result of the new school buildings, community houses, recreation centers, swimming pools and other projects which have been built with relief labor. It is pointed out. They also are convinced that most of those who have worked on these projects were deserving and would have suffered if they had not had Injunction Granted On Petition of Republic Steel Corp.

Warren, Ohio, June 21.—(AP)—Judge Lynn Griffith in Trumbull county Commons Pleas court today granted the petition of the Republic Steel corporation for an injunction restraining the activities of strike pickets.

Under the injunction pickets were restrained permanently from arming themselves with clubs or other weapons, obstructing streets or highways in the county, interfering with any persons in the county, intimidating by threats of violence any person from entering the employ of the Republic Steel corporation, interfering with the movements of freight trains or trucks or damaging property of the steel company.

Judge Griffith limited to 12 the number of pickets that may be stationed at one time at the main gate of the Niles plant and eight at the main gate at Warren, with 62 as the limit for six entrances at Warren.

The court also enjoined the steel company from throwing objects at the strikers at any time or place, from threatening violence against the strikers and from making assaults against the strikers or their families.

The company was ordered not to move freight trains or trucks into or out of its plants until Wednesday at 6 a. m.

The court's order regarding the pickets says that it may be amended when necessity is made to appear.

Halts World Tour For Rest Period

Bandong, Dutch East Indies, June 21.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart said today to take a three day rest and have her plane overhauled before taking off on the next leg of her flight around the world.

She landed at Bandong at 10:17 a. m. today (10:37 p. m. est.) after a flight from Singapore over the Java sea and a part of mountainous Java. Military planes were aloft to lead her to the landing field when she circled for 15 minutes, apparently unable to see the airfield markers.

After her plane is checked by the workmen of the Dutch Air service she plans to take off for Darwin, Australia.

Riverhead, N. Y., June 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Piernan was sentenced today to 20 years imprisonment in the New York state prison for women for killing her daughter, Helen, aged seven.

The 28-year-old embroiderer attacked her daughter, Helen, in a woods killing her and attempting to kill her son, Jimmy, aged five, also by beating, slashing and burning.

FRANCE SEEKS FORM CABINET

Mobile Guards On Duty in Strategic Points of Paris

Paris, June 21.—(AP)—Trucks filled with mobile guards rumbled through Paris boulevards to the capital's strategic points today as twice-Premier Camille Chautemps attempted to assemble a new cabinet to lead France out of her governmental crisis.

Steel-helmeted troops deployed in front of the senate to prevent any demonstration against the body that overthrew Socialist Premier Leon Blum and his people's front yesterday by refusing to grant decree powers to deal with the financial crisis.

Acting with significant speed, President Albert LeBrun summoned Radical-Socialist Chautemps to the palace before dawn and designated him to form a new cabinet.

Chautemps, secretary of state in the retiring cabinet, immediately began a round of conferences with leaders to determine what support he could glean for a cabinet probably uniting the same Leftist elements that supported Blum.

Among his first conferees was Joseph Cahaux, head of the senate finance committee who led the fight against Blum's decree demand, from whom he apparently sought to determine if there is a possibility of a new cabinet obtaining decree powers to deal with a rapidly emptying treasury.

Paris took the cabinet resignation news calmly.

Insurgent Troops Press On Through Captured Bilbao

Troops Stream Through Capital and Press Campaign Against Santander, Last Stronghold of Basques

(By The Associated Press)
Thousands of Insurgent General Francisco Franco's troops streamed through captured Bilbao today to the hills west of the city in the start of a campaign against Santander, 45 miles away, last stronghold of the Basques.

Foot bridges were thrown across the Nervion river to speed the movement. Insurgent officers considered subjugation of Santander province necessary to overcome the menace of water famine in Bilbao. Water conduits were broken from territory still held by government forces.

Roads to Bilbao were jammed with insurgent trucks bringing food to the city's 300,000 inhabitants. Five food ships were reported en route to the city from San Sebastian, Insurgent held fort.

Basque government troops were reported entrenched three miles west of Bilbao for a new stand against the invaders.

At Madrid a huge government mine exploded in suburban University City, where Insurgent troops were entrenched. The government commander reported it split in half the University City clinical hospital, insurgent stronghold.

ARREST SEVEN AT LUMBERTON

Men Charged With Forcible Trespass at Cotton Mill

Lumberton, June 21.—(AP)—Seven men were arrested on charges of forcible trespass and assault today after J. J. McCurry, electrician for the Mansfield mills alleged that they attempted to prevent reopening of the plant this morning. Another man was charged with forcible trespass.

McCurry said he was shoved out of the entrance as he opened the door to the day shift. A part of the weave room force went on strike several days ago.

Patrolmen and county officers made the arrest. Mill officials reported that about 100 employees entered the mill to work.

Strikers and sympathizers clustered around the plant. The situation in other mills here remained the same as last week. The Jennings mill was closed as a result of a strike, but the Ada McLean and one unit of the Mansfield plant continued to operate.

State Being Advertised By Roanoke Island Fete

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, June 21.—North Carolina is getting more advertising and more publicity throughout the nation and even the world right now than ever before in its history, now as a result of the new advertising campaign which will not be started until after July 2, but as a result of the activity now in progress on tiny Roanoke Island, a part of Dare county, in getting ready for the celebration which opens July 4 of the 350th anniversary of the settlement of the island by Sir Walter Raleigh's "Lost Colony" and the birth of Virginia Dare, the first white baby born in this hemisphere.

For state officials who are interested in the state advertising campaign agree that the interest being taken throughout the world in the Roanoke Island birthday party is focusing more attention on North Carolina than hundreds of thousands of dollars spent in advertising could have done, and with virtually no expense to the state. For all the expense connected with the

ANTI-LYNCHING BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Senate Group Votes 13-3 for Favorable Report

SEN. CONALLY SEES PASSAGE

Administration Forces Refuse To Put More Cost of Relief On Local Communities

Washington, June 21.—
(AP)—The senate judiciary committee approved today by a vote of 13 to 3 the Wagner-Vannuys anti-lynching bill.

The committee's vote sent to the senate floor a measure similar to anti-lynching bills that have met with filibusters from Southern senators in the past.

Senator Connally (D. Tex.), one of the three committee members who voted against the measure, said he did not believe the southerners would filibust this time. He said it looked as though the bill would be passed.

The house already has passed the anti-lynching bill introduced by Rep. Gavagan (D. N. Y.). The senate committee substituted for that measure the bill introduced by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) and Van Nuys (D. Ind.).

The latter measure would define lynching as physical violence by a "mob" of three or more persons against a person in custody of a peace officer, but would specifically exclude violence by gangsters or racketeers or in connection with a labor controversy.

A peace officer convicted of willful negligence in protecting a prisoner would be liable for damages subject to a fine up to $5,000 or imprisonment up to five years or both. Counties where lynch mobs obtained a prisoner would be subject to civil liability to the injured person or his legal representatives of from $2,000 to $10,000.

Mr. Windham, 61 years of age, lived in Farmville and Greenville all his life. He was well known throughout the county, having taken active part in religious, civic and fraternal activities, until declining health forced him to discontinue such interest.

He was the son of Thomas and Louise Eason Windham, now deceased, who lived in Farmville.

He was a member of the Methodist church and of Greenville Lodge No. 284 A. F. & A. M. He was connected with the building industry until declining health forced his retirement.

Surviving are his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Alice Bundy; a son, Aaron H. Windham; four daughters, Mrs. Jacobia Miles of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. H. G. Moore of Kinross, Mrs. J. W. Liles of Raleigh and Miss Agnes Windham of this city; four brothers, J. M. Windham of Southern Pines, G. W. Windham of Farmville, S. L. Windham of Aberdeen and A. B. GERMANY HAILS QUADS AFTER QUARTER CENTURY

Munich, Germany (AP)—There wasn't much fuss made over Frau Emma Ottmann and her quadruplets when she gave birth to three girls and one boy in 1912. But when they celebrated their 25th birthday recently there were congratulations all around, and even a four-line item in a Munich newspaper.

Although the father of the quads died when they were 12, his widow managed to bring them up single-handed and prepare them for earning a living. All have jobs now.

DOG PACKS ATTACK SOUTHWEST FLOCKS

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Dogs, for centuries the traditional protector of peaceful flocks, rank with wolves as livestock destroyers in some part of Texas.

That's the claim of ranchers advocating a law to stop wanton slaughter of sheep, goats and even cattle by uncontrolled dogs.

Their claim police dogs are the worst offenders and that the toll of livestock in one county alone was $20,000 in one year. The dogs kill for pleasure, not for food, ranchers say.

It is estimated that one-third of the 15,000 college students in the District of Columbia have federal government positions, working for Uncle Sam in the day and attending classes at night.

Blindweed, the midwest's public weed enemy No. 1, can be eradicated by summer tillage at less than $10 an acre, says Dr. F. D. Keim, Nebraska Agricultural College agronomist.

PLAN ASSUME EXTRA DUTIES

Employment Service to Undertake Added Activities

Raleigh, June 21.—Federal and State unemployment compensation legislation contemplate close integration of unemployment compensation with employment service, which will place new and additional responsibilities upon the State employment offices, said R. Mayne Albright, Acting Director of the North Carolina State Employment Service, in returning from Washington where he and E. W. Price, Director of the Compensation Division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, met with officials of the Social Security Board and the United States Employment Service.

The plans for location of offices, increased personnel, new procedures and forms, budgeting accounting and statistics must, this year, take into account not only the regular placement program of the North Carolina State Employment Service, but also the new and additional problems created by the advent of unemployment compensation.

The State employment services are State agencies affiliated with the United States Employment Service, under the terms of the Wagner-Peyser Act, and receiving a certain proportion of their funds and considerable administrative supervision from the United States Employment Service. The Wagner-Peyser Act, however, does not authorize appropriations sufficiently large to permit the performance at Federal expense of the additional functions placed upon the State employment services by unemployment compensation. The cost of the additional functions placed upon the employment offices by unemployment compensation must be met through grants to the States by the Social Security Board for the administration of their approved unemployment compensation laws.

Included in the additional responsibilities placed upon the employment services by unemployment compensation are the following:

1. General registration of all those claiming benefits and the determination of the continuous availability of the applicant for work, if he is to continue to receive benefits.
2. Intensive placement work involving the mandatory determination of the worker's usual occupation and the availability of work.
3. Certification that no suitable work is available for the applicant a condition of eligibility for benefits. Still other duties may be assigned to public employment offices in a State through the particular requirements of a State unemployment compensation law.

The policy of joint action agreed to by the Social Security Board and the Department of Labor will assure integrated Federal functioning in these matters and will enable State officials to plan the necessary expansion and coordination of employment services and unemployment compensation well in advance of the date benefit payments are to begin.

Forest Fire Loss During May Shows Decided Decrease

Damage by 299 Fires Last Month Much Less Than That During March and April of This Year

Raleigh, June 21.—The forest fire damage during May showed a decided decrease over March and April of this year, with only 299 fires reported by counties organized for protection, according to figures released today by the Division of Forestry, Department of Conservation and Development. Careless smokers caused the largest number of fires or 90, while incendiarism was a close second with a total of 79 fires. Only six fires were reported from brush burning.

A total of 11,157 acres was burned over last month, a decrease of over 24,000 acres from April. The average fire covered 37.8 acres in the cooperating counties, the Rockingham District reporting 13.7 acres for the lowest average. The total damage in dollars for the 60 counties participating in forest fire control was estimated at $17,785.50, while the average damage per fire was given as $169.

All of the 299 fires started in May, except three which were traced to lightning, were preventable, the foresters reported. Fishermen, campers, the railroads, lumbering, brush burners and fires of incendiary origin, took their toll. The foresters were able to trace the cause of every fire reported last month, not a single blaze being listed under the heading "unknown."

In May a year ago, 1067 fires broke out in the cooperating counties, burned over a total of 84,000 acres, and did damages estimated at nearly $145,000.

MANY PERSONS BEING PLACED

Private Placements Jump to New High Peak During Week

Raleigh, June 21.—Private placements jumped to a new high peak during the week ending June 12, when 2,239 persons found employment through the facilities of the North Carolina State Employment Service. This figure represents the largest number of private placements made during any one week since the beginning of the Employment Service in North Carolina in 1933.

This private placement record represents 67 per cent of all placements made during the week of the 3,364 total placements. 1,125 were made on public works projects. There were no relief placements reported for this period.

This is the highest record of placements made by the State Employment Service since the week of June 13, 1936. It is significant to note that of the 3,799 total placements only 1,466 were in private industry, while 1,977 were on public works projects and 356 were relief placements.

During the current fiscal year, a total of 49,828 private placements have been made. This figure represents 50.7 per cent of the total of 98,134 placements made during the year.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine surprises a desperate young man about to set a forest fire. Ted Gaylor convinces her he is no firebug and that this is his first attempt—an aim to get a fire fighting job and buy food for his mother and sister. Kay offers him a place in her outfit. Tom Runyon, the fire patrol, rides up, and Kay has to use her wits to shield Ted from Runyon's suspicion. Riding home alone, Kay sees smoke, and races on to discover her ranch house and barn hopelessly lost to the flames. Seth Jordan, her faithful foreman, has saved the desk with the insurance papers.

Chapter Five

Come To The Flying Six

HOW Kay lived through the next few hours she never quite knew. After the arrival of the truck, everything seemed to happen all at once. Babs came home, accompanied by Josh Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, and his daughter Ruth, Babs' chum and inseparable companion.

As she was soothing Babs, whose 10-year-old courage was temporarily eclipsed by the enormity of this disaster, Kay suddenly looked up to find Josh Hastings' eyes fixed on her with a peculiar, enigmatic stare. He quickly averted his gaze.

When Babs was finally calmed down, and had gone off with Ruth to inspect the charred ruins from a safe distance, Josh Hastings took Kay's hand in his possessively.

"It's a burning shame for you to have this happen, Kay."

In spite of the emotional strain she was under, Kay was quick to detect the note of hypocrisy in his tone. She looked up at the florid face and china blue eyes of her nearest neighbor, and it seemed as though his real thoughts were written all over him.

her, and the next minute, a small whirlwind was giving her an impulsive hug. "Is he asking us to stay at the Flying Six? Please say 'yes,' Sis! Please!"

Ruth's voice joined in the pleading, and Kay looked doubtfully from one eager face to the other, as she tried to decide.

"Please, Sis!" Babs repeated, pushing back her blonde curls and winking at Ruth to egg her on to join in the coaxing. "Where could we stay, anyway?"

"I'm going to stay in one of the cabins," Kay answered, with sudden decision. "But if Mr. Hastings and Ruth would really like to have you, you could go back with them for a little visit."

"Whoopee!" Babs and Ruth both broke into a triumphant shout, then Babs' eyes suddenly clouded. "But Sis, wouldn't you rather have me with you? I wish you'd come, too!"

"Perhaps she will, yet," Josh Hastings' tone seemed to imply something.

"I'm afraid I'll be too busy," Kay answered. "I'm going to start rebuilding at once."

The smug skeptical smile Kay had noticed before passed over Josh Hastings' mouth.

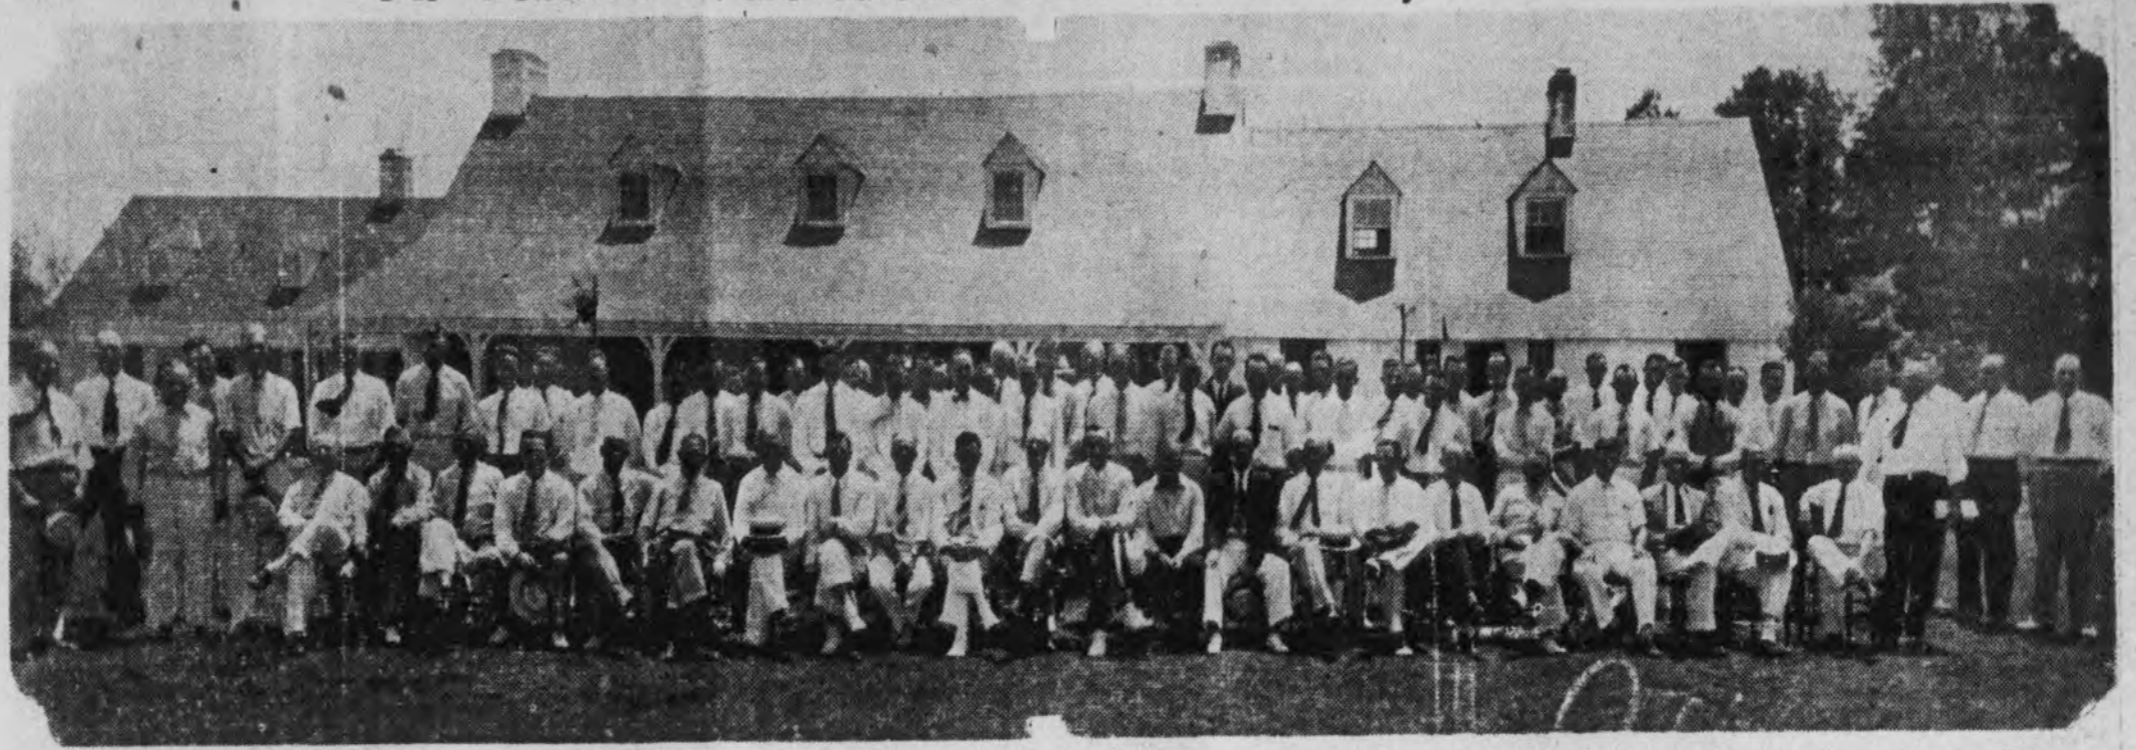

"I'll be going in to Red River tomorrow, to see about the insurance," Kay went on, bravely ignoring his implied doubt of her program, "and—" she broke off short, and pointed down the road. "What's that coming?"

The others followed her gaze.

Aunt Kate Rolls In

LOOKS like Jennings' livery team," Josh Hastings scrutinized the oncoming backboard, enveloped in a cloud of dust.

"But who could it be?" Even as she voiced the question, a dread suspicion flashed into Kay's mind, and she started to run down the road. This would be the last straw, if she was right, she thought, as she topped a rise and scanned the approaching vehicle. She saw that her worst fear was realized.

Shown above are tobacco warehousemen of Eastern Carolina who gathered here for their annual meeting last week and voted to petition the United States Tobacco Association to open local markets at the same time as the border belt. B. B. Sugg, retiring president, is near the center of the front row.

The mother city didn't know, then, that the joke was on her.

Plunging right into the pool, or whirlpool, you'll find you get a wee bit giddy. You might, first off, take the attitude that Culver City should call itself anything it pleases, including all cars.

The Real Sufferers

But there are computations, as if the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce hadn't thought of plenty already. I'm thinking of its dateline-users. We'd be the ones to suffer.

That's justice, because we probably caused all the confusion. But justice isn't always fun.

If we'd been specific in datelining, maybe this wouldn't have happened. Like this: "SOUTHEAST CORNER STAGE 12-A, BURBANK, Calif.—Jack Warner today" etc. Or this: "GARBO'S BUNGALOW, M-G-M, CULVER CITY, Calif.—Garbo smiled, loved, laughed, danced, hop-skip-and-jumped today," etc. That would have satisfied everybody.

But this does worry me. If Culver City becomes Hollywood, North Hollywood will have to North-north-east Hollywood, West Hollywood will be East Hollywood and South Hollywood will have to revert to its original name, Los Angeles.

It would play rob with our pat languages, too. We say an actor "Goes Hollywood" and that covers it. But then—has he gone "Culver City-Hollywood" or just "Hollywood-Hollywood?"

It's a headache-fraught situation.

Until this thing blows over, address me at Little Rock, Ark. The folks down there have made up their minds.

Kansas produces more alfalfa seed than any other state in the union.

REICH SENDS CHINA FAST TORPEDO BOATS

Shanghai (AP) — German-built speedboats equipped with two torpedo tubes and capable of a speed of 45 miles an hour are the latest acquisitions of the Chinese government. Two of the craft have been delivered here and it is understood eight more are to follow.

It is reported that the deadly albatross Chiang Kai-shek has craft are to be stationed in the Yantze river at Chinkiang, not far from the Pacific Ocean. A dozen similar craft, built in Britain, are reputed to have arrived up the river.

David B. Ballengee, 92, of Clayton, W. Va., believes he is the nation's oldest postmaster.

CHIANG PLANS PLANS 5,000 MILES OF NEW RAILROAD

Shanghai, China (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has drawn up plans for the construction in the next five years of two railway systems, totaling 5,000 miles. That means construction of as many miles as were built in the half century before 1935.

The Notre Dame cathedral in Paris, begun in the 12th century, has never been completed.

A small whirlwind was giving her an impulsive hug. "Please say 'yes,' Sis!"

He wasn't sorry this had happened! He was glad, because he hoped that now Kay would be forced to do what he had been urging ever since her father died. From the first, he had been determined that Kay should sell out to him, and he had lost no opportunity to discourage her and drive home his point.

Kay's eyes narrowed as she drew her hand away.

"It's bad, of course. But I'm insured, so I can build again and start on."

To her surprise, a gleam of triumph flashed in his eyes. He started to say something, then didn't.

"I expected you to say that," he smiled tolerantly. "It's foolish, but this is no time to talk business. You must come and stay with us until you decide what to do."

"Thank you, but I'd better stay here, I think," Kay tried to soften her refusal with a smile, but an ugly look flashed in Hastings' eyes at her answer. It passed so quickly, that Kay couldn't be really sure that she had rightly interpreted his expression. When he spoke again, he used the same note of patronizing tolerance.

"Just as you say. But I don't see exactly how you're going to manage," he glanced significantly at the smouldering ruins. "At least, let Babs come back with us for a few weeks. That would suit Ruth and me down to the ground."

Babs Does Some Coaxing

KAY hesitated. She hated accepting favors from him, but it would certainly be a lot easier to have Babs away just now. Babs' friendship with Ruth put it on a slightly different basis, and yet—

"That's awfully good of you," she temporized, "but—"

"What's good of him, Sis?" Kay started, as Babs' voice broke in on

By the time the buckboard came up, the others had joined her, and Aunt Kate was waving them a smiling greeting.

"I felt so much better, I figured I'd come on and surprise you," she called cheerily. Another moment, and the buckboard topped the rise, opening up a full view of the smouldering ruins.

With a sinking heart, Kay tried to answer Aunt Kate's flood of horrified questions. What could she do now? This last complication was just one too many!

As though answering her thought, Josh Hastings stepped forward, and smilingly extended his invitation to Aunt Kate.

Kay felt as though a trap from which there was no escape was closing around her, as she listened to Aunt Kate's voluble thanks and acceptance.

"That's mighty neighborly of you, Josh Hastings," she quavered, "and we'll all be right glad to come."

"I'm not coming, Aunt Kate, but it will be fine for you and Babs to go," Kay steeled herself to meet her aunt's piercing black eyes with firm determination. For all the old lady's 77 years, she had a strong will of her own.

"Tut, tut! Of course you're coming," she snapped. "What'll you do here, with a parcel of men, and no place to sleep?"

"I'm going to fix up one of the cabins," Kay gratefully turned to Seth who came up just then to join them, and put a hand on his arm to steady herself. "The bunkhouse and the boys' mess shack are all right," she went on. "I'll eat with them until I get my own housekeeping going. So there's nothing to worry about."

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

somewhere-in-California—Seems to me the solution ought to lie in a nutshell. This Culver City-Hollywood name-changing feud, I mean. The question is, can one nutshell hold all the nuts?

It's a long story, but a good deal can be left on the cutting-room floor. Hollywood is only a dateline, not a city. Culver City is a city, but not so often a date line. Putting those two and two together, Culver City ups and mentions it would like to take over the name of a place that doesn't exist. Oddly, from such a place, the protesting Nave rose in chorus to put DeMille's fabled affirmative corps to shame.

The proposition has both places in a dither, if you can call a dateline a place.

If you know your Hollywood you know there isn't any. It hasn't any mayor, any city hall, any police department, any railroad station, any city limits. It has a chamber of commerce, a postoffice and a postmark, and a name.

One Had Meaning

Once upon a time Hollywood was a place. The earliest settler called it "Hollywood"—the story goes—after certain natural beauties.

Hollywood gave up its identity to Los Angeles in return for—of all things—water. The mother city, I am informed, turned the faucet on abstractedly, with a condescending gesture, and kept a speculative eye on the boundaries of San Francisco.

According to the calendar today is the longest day of the year and the first day of summer. Probably there are many who have seen days that seemed much longer, and so far as the weather is concerned it seems to us that what we have been having for the past two or three weeks could well be considered summer.

There were 87 deaths in North Carolina in May as a result of highway accidents, to say nothing of the hundreds of injured. The May record is an increase of 13 over April when there were 74 highway fatalities in this state. Too much speed and too much recklessness on our highways is taking an ever-increasing toll of lives, and drastic steps must be taken if this slaughter is to be curbed. There are too many automobile drivers who operate their cars at speeds beyond all bounds of reason and safety and depend entirely on their luck to get by, and as long as our highways are invested with drivers of this sort no one is going to be safe on the highways.

Work on the Tenth Street extension got under way today. When completed this new extension will divert a lot of through traffic from our downtown section and will have its effect in relieving traffic congestion on Dickinson Avenue and at Five Points. This new direct east and west route through our city will prove of great benefit to the traveling public as well as help relieve traffic congestion on our streets.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - Thousands of bright-eyed graduates are being cut loose from the colleges these days to go out and remake the nation, and they might just as well know there are vastly greater opportunities now for first hand remaking than ever before.

Never in the nation's history, except for the World War period, were so many jobs open in this field.

Social security has just started and the Wagner labor act, recently upheld by the Supreme Court, hasn't really hit its stride yet in opening jobs. TVA is helping remake the south but the new Norris bill, likely to be enacted in some form next session, will remake six other sections in similar fashion.

Enactment of the wage - hour bill (when and if) should create seats of jobs for the federal government must keep its eyes open when it begins imposing wage and hour conditions on private industry. And federal eyes come high - $2,000 to $10,000 an eye per year, depending on how much the eye is expected to see.

There are hazards in federal employment, but then insurance companies and banks can fire you, too, the principal difference being they can let you have it any time, instead of every two or four years. It is always smart to get in with a growing industry, and no industry except airplane making is growing faster than the federal government. The pay isn't so hot over a period of years but the chances are you will get to the "own-a-car" stage on a federal job long before you would as a clerk in your uncle's hardware store. If you are the rabbit type and don't like the hazards of the election turnover, the civil service awaits you. The pay is lower as a rule (although the top brackets hold jobs at $6,000 and up), and you become part of a card-index system instead of a person. If you are the wolf type and have a little learning in the low or a background of social welfare learning, congress is open to you after a time, and with even fewer years experience there will be good pay available on federal agencies. Even rabbits get into congress. We know a man who served 22 years in the house and his proudest boast, when they finally caught up with him, was that he never took a positive stand on any issue. He lost his $10,000 a year seat but there is a veritable graveyard of commission posts for fugitive rabbits, and he got one. Look into this thing, fellah, and you see a big guy who knows your congressman.

STATE BEING ADVERTISED BY ROANOKE ISLAND FETE

(Continued from page one) "When I was in Mantoo last week, Mr. Fearing told me they had recently had requests for stories from some 20 English newspapers, including such papers as The London Times and other large London papers. In fact, the London Times recently sent one of its staff correspondents and staff photographers to Roanoke Island to write a series of stories about it and the forthcoming celebrations and to get pictures of the reconstructed Fort Raleigh where the first settlement was located. In fact, the London and British newspapers seem to be taking even more interest in Roanoke Island the birthday party to be held there this summer than our own papers right here at home." But the newspapers here in the United States are also taking more and more interest in this little island off the North Carolina coast now definitely conceded to be the birth-place of English - speaking civilization in North America. Mr. Elberidge said. For in addition to the scores of requests for stories about the celebration being received each week by Mr. Fearing in Mantoo, many additional requests are being received for similar stories by the Conservation Department here. Mr. Elberidge said. During the past week several stories were prepared by the publicity division for publications in Cincinnati, Ohio, New York City and Detroit and for a patriotic magazine, with a nationwide circulation, telling about the Roanoke Island birthday party and more requests are expected almost daily from now on.

The state which seems to be taking more interest in the Roanoke Island celebration than any other is not North Carolina, but the farthest state from North Carolina - California, according to Mr. Elberidge. More requests have been received for information about the celebration from persons in California and from newspapers there than from any other state, with New York ranking in second place. Literally thousands of visitors are expected from these two states. So far, probably less interest in the celebration has been shown by people, right here in North Carolina than from any other section, both Elberidge and Fearing agree, although they are hoping that the people here will become more interested when the celebration actually gets under way after July 4. There is no doubt, however, that little Roanoke Island is giving the state of North Carolina hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of advertising over the nation and throughout the world that is not costing it a penny and that will bring tens of thousands of visitors to the state to spend thousands of dollars this summer.

BAISE SLATED RETAIN OFFICE

Chairman Dunlap Invested with Power Name Engineer

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 21. - Chairman Frank L. Dunlap has been given the authority by the highway commission to name the new State Highway Engineer at any time he may see fit to do so without further consultation with the commission, he revealed today. Chairman Dunlap also indicated that he hoped to announce his selection for chief engineer early next week. He declined to state how many applicants there were for this post or who was under consideration for it.

The prevailing belief in most circles here is that W. Vance Baise, the present chief highway engineer, will be reappointed, although Dunlap has given no intimation to any one as to what he expects to do. The fact that Baise has made an excellent record as chief engineer, has been with the highway commission for some 15 years or ever since the state's highway construction program was started and is regarded as having the best grasp of the many Federal regulations and rules governing Federal Aid highway construction in his favor. It is known, of course, that many of the contractors and politicians who were opposed to former Chairman Capus M. Waynick were also bitterly opposed to Baise and had hoped that the elimination of Waynick would also mean the elimination of Baise. But indications are that most of the members of the new highway commission have been well impressed with Baise, his knowledge of the highway system and his ability.

It is believed that several others have sought to obtain consideration and that other names have undoubtedly been proposed. But most opinion here is that Baise undoubtedly has the inside track and will be reappointed. Indications also are that the commission will name the new director of the prison division at its next meeting here, June 30. It is believed that Oscar Pitts, the present acting director, is in line for this appointment.

Foreign visitors wore Paris hats. Nexhmie liked them. So when her father handed her a veil, she tossed it out the window.

Her father called her a wildcat. Then she broke away from her cloistered life to attend school. Later, American women invited her to study in the United States.

"When they leave," answered the girl, "I will go to America."

"In that case," said the old man, "I will disown you."

Nexhmie went. In the two years she has been here, he has not written.

Instead of the colorful, bloomers-like costumes of her homeland, she wears gay, co-ed clothes, including beer jackets and and shorts. Now she wants to go home and change the views of traditionalists like her father. Writing textbooks and establishing a co-educational college, she thinks, will do it.

Not being able to try their technique on the Greenville Greenies Saturday afternoon due to a virtual cloud-burst, Peabody Walker's Snow Hill Billies gave the locals a 6-0 licking at the Third Street stadium here yesterday afternoon, letting them by with only five hits.

Freddie Caliguri, who pitched the locals, hurled a good game, but his wildness proved his undoing. He was reached for eight hits and six runs.

The visitors started scoring in the very first verse when Mewborn and Alexander were given free passes by Caliguri, and Wall hit to the infield to score Mewborn. The second tally in the first stanza came when Alexander scored on a passed ball charged to Melcher-Greenie backstop.

In the fourth, Bistoff, Billie catcher was safe on an infield hit. Tatum doubled to right, Rabb hit a high fly to center—Bistoff tagging up and scoring. Tatum later scored on a wild pitch by Caliguri. Still anxious to earn all the runs they could, the Billies came back in the seventh with a one-run attack. Rabb reached first on Theole's error, Zak singled and got out trying to stretch it, but Rabb managed to tally.

In the eighth, Robinson of the Billies hit for the circuit over the right field wall.

Swamp Norwood got on level ground yesterday and did some spectacular fielding for the locals. During the entire game he handled seven put-outs. In one instance, a hard-hit fly in Norwood's territory looked for a minute to be a possible round-tripper. Seeing the danger, Norwood turned his back to the ball—made one of those so-called down-on-the-farm dashes, and turned around just in time to nab the horse-hide for a put-out.

Bo Farley with two of the five hits made by the locals, led for the Greenies with the willow, while Wall and Zak with a pair of hits each and Robinson's homer featured for the Billies.

Al Pignataro made his debut with the Greenies yesterday. He hails from Utah and is playing right field. The box score:

IOWA BASEBALLERS 'TRADED' AUDIENCE FOR BILLY SUNDAY

Hutchinson, Kas. (AP) — When Frank Ormsby was managing a base ball team in Bedford, Ia., he had his players go to church every night for three weeks.

Ormsby, now a Hutchinson policeman, called on the late Billy Sunday when he arrived to open evangelistic services. He proposed that if Sunday would play baseball with the team, he would guarantee that every member of the Bedford nine would attend the services every night the evangelist was in town.

"Sunday grinned at me, and then fielded out his hand," Ormsby relates. "It's a deal," he told me.

Sunday played right field. The games drew the largest crowds in Bedford's baseball history. In turn, the 15 ball players helped swell the crowds at Sunday's services.

FIRST DEFENSE.
 James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, makes the first defense of his title in a bout with Joe Louis at Comisky Park, Chicago, Tuesday night, June 22. Braddock won his crown from Max Baer on June 13, 1935, at New York. He is 31 years old.

FIRST CHALLENGE.
 Joe Louis, the Crown Bomber of Detroit, makes his first challenge of the heavyweight title against Braddock. His career has been one of the most spectacular in ring history, marred only by a decisive beating from Max Schmeling. Joe is 23.

SPORT SLANTS

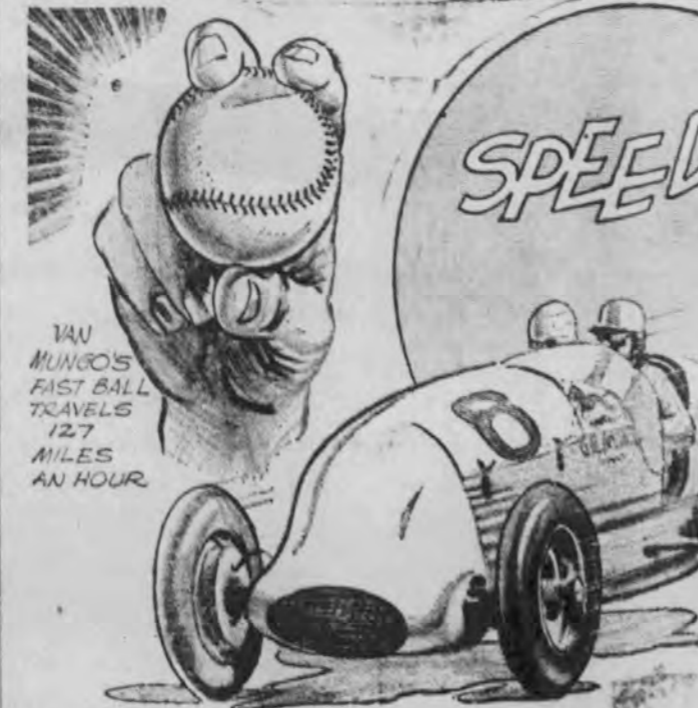

Last year, when promoters of the Vanderbilt cup race planned the inaugural at Roosevelt raceway, Long Island, they went so far as to make the course dangerous that they failed to produce an exciting race. The treacherous turns made speed out of the question, and as for thrills there just weren't any. The drivers were too careful.

So it was just another auto race that Tada Nurologer had been beating. The promoters saw the light. It won't happen again.

Roosevelt raceway has been redesigned. There are plenty of dangerous curves but their number, has been greatly reduced so drivers may step on the gas. About 100 miles an hour will be possible on the straight ways.

It promises to be a thrilling race as well as a real contest when drivers like Les Meret, three times winner of the Indianapolis classic, White Star, the year's winner and record-breaker in the same event, and a flock of other leading knights of the roaring road guide their gas buggies around the course.

Equipoise covered the mile in 1:34.4, about 40 m. p. h. Bill Tilden drove a tennis ball at 118 m. p. h. Van Mungo and Bob Feller rifle the ball toward a batter at 130 in m. p. h. Jack Dempsey's left hook traveling nine or ten inches to drop an opponent traveled at a 150-mile clip. Joe Louis punches a bit slower around 127.

WILMINGTON MARTINS DEFEAT KINSTON NINE

Kinston — Wilmington scored five times in the eighth inning to give Larry Wade a 6-2 verdict over Kinston's Pat Cooper in a well-pitched game here Sunday.

Each club made seven hits, and the batting star of the contest was the Martins' Bruce McCoy, who hit a pair of homers and a single.

McCoy's second homer came in the eighth and scored Stevens and Deim ahead of him. All the Martins tactics in the big inning came after the Eagles had nuffed opportunity to retire the side and transfer wire of the "unlearned" type. With one away, Valepque and Staney got on by errors. Cooper passed Stevens to fill the bases. A single by Deim sent in two tallies, and then came McCoy's homer.

Five throws by Frank Mock and Glennamer, Kinston outfielder, cut off Martin runs in the sixth and eighth.

Schulte batted for the Eagles in the first inning. After McCoy's homer of the day, in the fifth, had tied the score, the Eagles came back in their half to count on Cooper's single and Dr. Mann's triple.

OFFICERS NEED WORK IN PAIRS

Murder of Patrolman Shows Necessity of Such a Move

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, June 20. — The cold blooded murder of Highway Patrolman I. T. Moore near Goldsboro early Friday morning by two negroes in a stolen, one-eyed car, when Patrolman Moore attempted to stop them, shows the need for patrolmen work in pairs when on night patrol duty or when stopping and weighing trucks at night, it is being pointed out here today.

For while it is not generally announced and regarded as part of the risks patrolmen take every day, those in the patrol office here know that patrolmen are frequently shot at by drivers of cars when they attempt to stop them, often merely for defective lights or minor law violations.

In fact, those most familiar with the workings of the patrol, regard it as unusual that Patrolman Moore was the first patrolman to be shot and killed in line of duty, since scores of patrolmen have had encounters with drunken or desperate drivers in which nothing more than luck has saved their lives. About a year ago a patrolman in the western part of the state, while chasing a reckless driver, was fired on with a sub-machine gun from the rear of the car, three bullets going through his glove and up his coat sleeve, while one bullet smashed the headlight on his motorcycle, the headlight saving his life.

If Patrolman W. D. Kinsey had not been working with Patrolman Moore early Friday morning, heard the shots fired and immediately given chase to the second negro who escaped, it might have been several hours before the killing of Moore was discovered, it is pointed out. But Kinsey immediately gave the alarm and rushed both Moore to a hospital, and got other officers out after the negroes.

Present indications are that Patrolman Moore had gone some distance up the road from the station where they were weighing trucks in order to warn the trucks to slow down, saw this car with one headlight and waved it down. When the driver failed to stop, he jumped on the running board, when one of the occupants shot him. Moore in turn shot into the car, was then shot again, died soon after. Indications are that the two negroes were driving a stolen car with a load of stolen meat. One of the negroes shot at Moore or some other officer, but died.

Tarboro Serpents End Losing Streak Sunday

Tarboro — The Serpents rebounded from a string of eight losses and routed the New Bern Bears Sunday behind seven - hit pitching by Lefty Doug Hautz. The score was 6-0.

Hautz was in real danger only once — in the eighth, he walked three men in a row, with none out. But he bore down and got the next two men on infield flies and the third on a fly to the outfield.

Hautz helped his own cause along with a homer in the fourth, with none out, but it wasn't necessary. The Serpents had clinched the game with a three-run rally in the third inning.

Thornton gave the Bears a little life in the ninth by singling, with one away, but McCoy drove the ball to Meyers, who tossed to Warren at second to catch Thornton. Warren shot the ball to Henry, catching McBride, and the game was over.

Carnahan and Ware set the pace in the Serpents' eight-hit attack on Bull Hannon's — each got two blows.

Sith was the only New Bernian to hit safely more than once. He reached Hautz for a double and a single.

Harold Wagner, catcher at Duke this spring, joined the Serpents today and did the catching. He came from Portsmouth of the Piedmont League in a shift that sent Paul Royce to the Virginia club.

Curfew Prevents Loss For Goldsboro Team

Goldsboro. — Thanks to the Sunday baseball curfew law, Goldsboro's winning streak remains at five games. The Bugs were trailing Ayden by 7-3 when Sunday contest was called in the visitors' half of the twelfth inning. The official final score for the 11 completed innings was 3-3.

Umpire Cios called the contest promptly at the deadline of 6:00 p. m. Manager Monk Joyner of Ayden, the home team, had registered a protest with him because of "stalling" by the Bugs after the Aces broke into the scoring column. The umpire said the Ayden manager indicated he would register a claim for a forfeit.

It was a fine ball game. Bunn Hearn, Jr., son of the Carolina baseball coach, started on the mound for the Bugs. It was Young Hearn's debut in pro ball, and he worked nicely until he issues passes to the first two batters in the ninth — he then was yanked in favor of Ace Elliott. Jirak greeted the new hurler with a double which sent in two runs and tied the score at 3-3.

The only Ayden score prior to the ninth came in the sixth — on Colorado's double and Joyner's single.

Goldsboro got its runs in three innings. Powell's single and Ignasiak's double scored one in the first, a walk, a sacrifice, and Brennan's single scored one in the second; Overton's single, a sacrifice, Adamic's single, and Powell's fly scored one in the fourth.

Those runs were made off Earl Webb, who was going along nicely when pulled at the start of the ninth in order that Mackie might bat for him. Mackie drew one of the passes which led to the tying of the score.

Lanier went to the pitching hill for Ayden in the home half of the ninth — and he pitched hitless ball the rest of the way.

Three White Men Held For Murder

Wilmington, June 19. — (AP) — Solicitor John Burney said today three men charged with the slaying of Paul Krohmalny, who disappeared from home in Pender county 15 months ago, would be given preliminary hearings at Burgaw within 10 days.

Burney listed the men as Pete Krohmalny, and son, Paul, brother and nephew, respectively, of the slain man, and Irvn Williams, son-in-law of Pete Krohmalny. All were held at Burgaw.

The solicitor said he would try to prove the defendants killed the man for $1,000 in money orders which he derived from the sale of property in Toledo, Ohio, and later burned the body.

AND SO CAMPBELL CHECKED HIS COAT!

Arriving at the field Campbell looked around for a place to put his overcoat. A prisoner walked up and offered to hold the garment. Campbell hesitated.

"Oh, don't worry," assured the convict, "I'll be here when you get back. I'm doing 50 years."

Samuel D. Riddle, who owned Man O' War and now owns War Admiral, 1937 Kentucky Derby winner, is said never to have wagered on the races.

Clark, who has been playing the game a comparatively short time, was runnerup in the spring tournament at the Pueblo golf and country club, losing to Kenneth McCabe, 3 and 1, in the finals.

The grid star fell seven holes behind soon after the second round opened, but rallied to make a fight of it until McCabe closed him out on the 35th green.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Gloom produced by continued strikes depressed the stock market today, but it was partly dispelled later by soaring wheat prices and shares recovered a little from early lows.

Losses of fractions to around a point prevailed but gains of about as much were recorded, notably by steels.

Demand for steels accompanied the announcement of Republic Steel corporation it will resume operations at some plants tomorrow.

The fall of the Blum government as a result of the French budget crisis stimulated scattered offerings, brokers said, but on the whole the market took the news phlegmatically.

Wheat jumped the allowed limit of five cents a bushel for some deliveries on adverse weather reports. Corn was strong. Cotton gained. The French franc and pound sterling rose. Bonds were irregular.

In late trading steels slipped and joined the rest of the list for moderate declines. Transactions approximated 450,000 shares.

Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.), would permit Congress to prohibit labor by children under 16 years of age.

It is designed as a substitute for the child labor amendment, pending before the states. That amendment has failed of ratification by the necessary 36 states.

The committee added a clause to the amendment to provide if not ratified by state conventions within seven years the amendment would lapse.

Unusual Marks Found On Terrapin In Pitt

A highland terrapin bearing unusual marks was taken by J. H. Smith near his home about 10 miles from Greenville on rural route number one and attracted much attention when brought to this city today.

On one side of the terrapin appears a perfect "3," while under the number is an almost perfect "M." On the other side appears the Hebrew character for a "M."

HEAVY DEMAND ON WOODLANDS

Pulp and Paper Industry Moving Into Southern States

Raleigh, June 21.—With the pulp and paper industry moving into the South, heavy demands are going to be made upon southern forests in the future, said R. W. Graeber, extension forester at State College.

"Yet our forests can supply indefinitely all the timber needed. If the wood is cut selectively and the forest areas given the proper care and management," he stated.

The problem of meeting the increasing demand for timber, and turning it into a valuable source of cash income without destroying the forests, will be given major attention on Thursday, August 5, which has been designated forestry day of Farm and Home Week at State College, August, 2-6.

The North Carolina Forestry Association, Graeber continued, is joining with the extension service in sponsoring the forestry day program.

Subjects of interest to farmers, timber owners, sawmill operators, and pulp and paper manufacturers will feature the day, he pointed out.

James G. K. McClure, president of the North Carolina Forestry Association, will outline the services of the association in conserving and developing the State's forestry resources.

A representative of the U. S. Forest Service will discuss "The Hidden Danger to Farm Timber Resources of the South." The issue of whether North Carolina should classify timber separately from land for taxation will also be discussed.

Exhibits of sawmills, pulpwood barking machinery, and other timber handling equipment will be on display, Graeber added.

BANDIT HANGOUT SETTLES DOWN

Lenapeh, Okla. (AP)—From its wild beginnings Lenapeh has swung to a reputation as the law-abiding community in these parts.

It has no town constable. None is needed to mind its 336 residents. But before it settled down Lenapeh, just north of Nowata in the northeastern corner of Oklahoma, was the hangout for such bandit characters as Henry Starr, Al Spencer and members of the Poehart and Conno-Jarrett gangs.

Austrian Anti-Semites Unite

Vienna (AP)—With the formation of the Pan-Aryan Union, Austrian Hitlerites are campaigning for nationalization on a new front. The anti-semitic organization was established in February, but its existence was not known generally until the Neugebels Weibblatt, which has close connections with the chancellery, reported it months later. Its aim is "the advancement of national, international and inter-racial cooperation among aryan and similar peoples for the protection and advancement of their intellectual, cultural and economic interests."

'Iron Veterans'
Dueseldorf (AP)—Two "iron veterans" are on display at the Nazi "Nation at Work" exposition here. One is a set of locomotive wheels cast in Rheinhausen in 1874 which have covered 1,250,000 miles—67 times the earth's circumference—61 years. They are still in good working condition. The other is a ship's crankshaft made by Krupp in 1856, with 70 years of service behind it.
