ASSAULT MADE ON STRETCH OF SPANISH COAST

Section 25 Miles North of Valencia Heavily Shelled

REPORTED NAZI SHIPS TOOK PART

Hull of Ship Being Demolished for Junk Practically Only Damage of Attack

Valencia, Spain, June 28.—(AP)—The Spanish government coast between Sagunto and Castellon was heavily shelled today from the sea. One report which was not confirmed, said German ships participated.

Sagunto is about 25 miles north of here.

The attack, intensive enough to be heard in this temporary seat of the Spanish Central government, stretched about 30 miles farther north to Castellon.

Some observers identified the insurgent cruiser Canarias as the sole attacker. Others said there were two or three ships firing.

Shore defense batteries thundered in an effort to drive the attacker. A government war ship put to sea.

Coast batteries here shot flares to illuminate the hostile moving targets close off shore.

Altogether 22 shells were counted.

At Sagunto the main damage was done to the hull of a ship which was being demolished for junk. Assault guards there said two or three ships came within a mile of the shore with a lights out and fired 14 shells at the fort. They said the shells were Spanish-made.

Baptist Minister Delivers Message At Joint Services

Medal Presented to James Register for Distinction of Being "Most Ideal Scout in Troop"

At the union worship service held last night at the Methodist church, and presided over by the Rev. Thos. M. Grant, pastor of the church, presentation of a medal given by Mrs. Frank W. Brown was made by Troop 23's Scoutmaster Ed W. Dwyer to James Register, "chosen by his fellow-scouts as being the nearest ideal Scout of the troop." Troop 23 is under the sponsorship of the Eighth St. Christian church, one of the six local churches participating in the community worship services.

The Rev. Clarence Patrick, minister of Immanuel Baptist church, preacher for the service, chose as his subject, "The Difficulty of Forgiveness." Stating that forgiveness is "an act of soul," Mr. Patrick held that most Christians find its expression difficult because, "for one thing, of the wrong that's done. Again, we realize its difficulty when we love people and have a high regard for them. Thirdly, it's such a difficult experience for the one who is forgiven. Forgiveness is one of the most humiliating experiences in life we have to undergo.

"In the face of the great forgiveness of God, we must be willing to forgive! In the awe-inspiring presence of God we are compelled, we are led to forgive," the speaker concluded.

As offertory the choir sang "Oh, for a Closer Walk with God," Spruill Spain taking the solo lead. Congregational singing was led by H. A. McDougle, while Mrs. Paul Davenport was organist for the service.

High School Band Plans Rehearsals

The High School Band will begin a series of summer rehearsals tonight at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

The band has a number of engagements throughout the summer months and all former members who are home for the summer are cordially invited to attend all rehearsals and take part in the activities of the band while here.

Every member is urged to be present and on time tonight as important business will be transacted.

Mrs. Spilman Chosen Speaker For Meeting

Announcement was made today that Mrs. J. B. Spilman of Greenville and Raleigh would address a meeting of the Rural Mail Carriers Auxiliary at the Woman's club here Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The Auxiliary will meet here in connection with the annual meeting of the mail carriers.

PLANTERS DUE MEETINGS SET REFUND OF TAX BY FEDERATION

Court of Appeals Holds Cotton Farmers Due $3,500,000

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—The United States Court of Appeals held today that 100,000 cotton producers were entitled to more than $3,500,000 in refunds for cotton tax exemption certificates they brought under the repealed Bankhead act.

The court said the cotton farmers were coerced to buy the certificates under threat of a confiscatory tax. The Bankhead act was repealed after the supreme court invalidated its basic principles in holding the Agriculture Adjustment Act unconstitutional.

The court of appeals ruled on suits brought by two Alabama and two Mississippi cotton planters against Ernest Deal, manager of the national surplus cotton tax exemption certificate pool. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, W. A. Julian, treasurer of the United States and comptroller Payne and Administrator Davis of the defunct AAA.

Farmers Starting To Cure Tobacco

Unless the United States Tobacco association leads the protest of Eastern Carolina markets to open the season earlier this year, there is little doubt that much tobacco will be taken to other belts and sold.

This year's crop, declared to be unusually good, is early and some farmers already have put in barns. Among those who have started curing is Ola Tucker, who put in two barns today.

The Eastern Carolina association, in annual session here last week, petitioned for an opening date at the same time the Border belts are opened.

Agricultural authorities say a single barberry bush can harbor $4,000,000,000 spores of grain-destrating black stem rust.

Beautification Program Needed In North Carolina

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 28.—If North Carolina wants to attract more visitors, and especially to keep them coming back year after year, the various communities and the individual's in them must paint up, spruce up, beautify roadways and vacant lots and eliminate the many eyesores which exist in almost every part of the state at the present time, according to Coleman W. Roberts of Charlotte, member of the State Board of Conservation and Development and of the special advertising committee which is directing the $250,000 state advertising campaign and president of the Carolina Motor Club.

Mr. Roberts maintains that it is very necessary to get the cooperation of every county, city and town in the state in making the state more attractive to visitors in order to make the new state advertising campaign a success.

"Believe it or not, but unsightly and ugly spots leave a far more lasting impression in the minds of visitors than do the beautiful places they may see, with the result that it is up to us to eliminate as many of these ugly spots as possible before the new visitors start coming into the state," Mr. Roberts said.

"We may have become so used to that we do not realize it, but most of our highways have become so full of eyesores that we do not realize it, used to it that we do not realize it, but most of our highways enter our most attractive cities either through ramshackle, tumble down colored sections with paintless, rickety shacks, or through equally unattractive industrial sections, dotted with unsightly dump heaps, poorly built and ill-kept filling stations and other eyesores. And along many rural highways are unpainted, poorly kept farm houses, and tenanted houses, with tumble down barns and sheds, ill-smelling pig pens that are most repulsive to visitors from other states. Yet a little paint, a little thought, some vines, flowers and shrubbery could transform most of these places into places of real attractiveness. Most of the owners of these places are able to stand

NOTED LAWYER TO REPRESENT ROBERT IRWIN

Samuel Leibowitz Takes Charge and Postpones Case

KILLER EXPECTS TO ESCAPE CHAIR

Twenty-Four Hour Guard is Maintained to Prevent Sculptor From Killing Self

New York, June 28.—(AP)—Robert Irwin, one-time divinity student turned sculptor, was held without bail today in two brief court appearances and hired a well-known criminal lawyer to defend him against the triple-slaying on Beekman Hill Easter Sunday.

Samuel Leibowitz, who has defended 123 persons in first degree murder trials without a client going to the electric chair, announced the young man had retained him as counsel and immediately won a postponement of arraignment until June 30.

Irwin, held for the "manual strangulation" of beautiful Veronia Geedon, artist's model, and her mother and the ice pick killing of a roomer in the Geedon home, was before Magistrate Brough in homicide court barely half a minute.

A short while previously he had appeared in police lineup for only a minute.

The law acted swiftly. A minute and a half and the 29-year-old artist was rushed to the Tombs to await the next scene in the drama begun he fell violently in love with the sister of "Ronnie."

It was because of this love, which paradoxically brought hate, Irwin said, that he was forced to kill "accidentally" the two women and the man that Sunday three months ago.

The young sculptor said he would be saved from the electric chair because he had spent several years in what he called "the nut house."

While the indictment request was to be presented at "the earliest possible moment," Irwin was uncooperative in a 24-hour guard by three police to prevent any danger of his taking his own life.

The confession, made to a Chicago newspaper, apparently was accepted by the New York police.

Asheville Lawyer Chosen For State Probation Officer

J. Harry Samples Selected For New State Office Paying Salary of $7,500 Annually

Raleigh, June 28.—(AP)—The probation commission appointed J. Harry Samples, Asheville attorney, director of probation today and fixed his salary at $7,500 a year.

The 1937 legislature authorized a probation system to handle criminals in the state, to become effective October 1.

The appointment, said Parole Commissioner Edwin Gill, who has been acting secretary of the body, has the approval of Governor Hoy.

Gill said Samples, who will take office July 15, had been notified of the appointment and had accepted.

The selection was made on the third ballot and then voted unanimously. Commissioners declined to disclose the names of other candidates for the post.

Amelia Ready For Dangerous Section

Post Dadwin, Australia, June 28.—(AP)—Emelia Earhart made ready today for the "worst section" of her globe girdling flight.

"It's been a very interesting flight," said the American flyer after setting her monoplane down in northern Australia, ending a hop from Koepang in the Dutch East Indies.

"But for slight mechanical trouble which was remedied at Bandoeng, Java, we have experienced no hold ups. We've been sitting down waiting for Australia to turn and we'll push on to Lae, Guieu New Guinea tomorrow morning," she explained.

The 1,500 mile hop from Lae will take the American flyer across a vast stretch of the Southern Pacific out of sight of land except for a scattering of small islands. Her destination is Howland, Island, tiny American possession, just above the equator. Miss Earhart has kept her route as near the equator as possible.

From Howland she plans to fly to Hawaii and then to Oakland, Calif.

STORM CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

Rains Bring Only Brief Respite From Hot Weather

An electrical storm, winds, heavy rains and some hail brought relief from record-shattering temperatures in Pitt county and elsewhere in this section last night, but caused considerable damages to crops in the area.

B. T. Clark, in charge of the official weather bureau here, reported that the mercury reached 99 degrees yesterday, the highest for the season. The relief from the sweltering apparently was only temporary, however, as Old Sol was on duty again early this morning and no indications were in view for a let-up in the heat wave.

The river rose here nearly two feet in the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning. Mr. Clark reported that the stream was standing at only three feet yesterday morning, but had risen to four feet, nine inches at that hour this morning.

Heavy damage to crops by winds, and in some cases hail, was reported today by farmers in various sections of the county. Unofficial reports said the Shelburne section suffered the most damage from hail, while farmers in other sections declared winds were responsible for heavy losses.

Farmers in the Black Jack community suffered heavy loss by winds and some hail also was reported. Two miles belonging to W. C. Spencer were killed by lightning.

A house was reported to have burned in Grimesland after having been struck by lightning, but the owner or other details were not available.

Several Tried In City Police Court

Charges of drunkenness comprised most of the cases aired in the regular Monday morning City police court today.

O. T. Houghton, white man, was taxed with the usual conviction of public drunkenness. Dalton Creech, white man, was fined $10 and costs on a similar charge. Robert Harrington, Negro, was fined the same amount on an identical charge and Roy Sutton, white man, was taxed with the usual conviction of engaging in disorderly conduct.

Alfred Williams, Negro, arrested by local officers on whiskey charges during the week-end, was turned over to Federal officers. Chief George Clark said the Negro was out of a federal penitentiary on a parole.

To Make Surveys In County Schools

J. H. Moore, Pitt county sanitary inspector, after a joint conference Saturday with Superintendent of County Schools, D. H. Conley and Dr. N. Thomas Knight, health officer, is making plans for the regular summer sanitation survey of the Pitt county public schools.

It is hoped to have the schools in the best possible sanitary condition when they open again in the fall.

The main points in this survey will be an effort to have a safe water supply and safe excelsior disposal. These two items are by far the most important items in the protection of the health of the children and teachers.

Jones Residents To Vote Tuesday

Trenton, N. C., June 28.—(AP)—Jones county citizens ballot tomorrow in the eleventh county referendum of the year on the question of establishing county liquor stores.

Five counties: Wake, Durham, Washington, Dare and Johnston, have approved the stores, and five: Alleghany, Mecklenburg, Currituck, Wayne and Columbus, have voted dry.

WORKERS TREK BACK TO WORK

Estimated 15,500 Return to Jobs In Youngstown, O.

Youngstown, Ohio, June 28.—(AP)—Major General Gilson Light of the Ohio National Guard said today approximately 15,500 men were back at work in the strike-slated steel mills in Youngstown.

As the strike called against four independent steel companies entered its 33rd day, back-to-work movements were launched all along its Ohio-Pennsylvania front.

The steel workers organizing committee, C. I. O. affiliate, called out workers of Republic Steel corporation, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Bethlehem Steels, Cambria plant at Johnstown, Pa., and the Inland steel company after the concerns had refused to sign labor contracts with the SWOC.

C. I. O. leaders, disputing claims of employers as to the number of men returning, declared the figures should be "discounted 50 percent" and added "we have just begun to fight."

At Johnstown P. E. Howels, superintendent of the Cambria works' lower gate in Franklin borough, the principal entrance, said 1,200 men came back to work today.

Plans were underway to attempt to reopen plants in the Calumet area of Chicago, where 22,000 workers have been affected by the strike.

To appeals for national guardsmen to aid the mills to reopen, Governor Clifford Townsend of Indiana said he would refuse such requests.

However, he said he would propose a plan which he believed would be acceptable to both sides. It will provide for reopening of mills under a truce while the national labor relations board hears C. I. O. charges that Inland and Youngstown violated the Wagner act.

Opposition For Reynolds Sought By New Deal Foes

Reflector Bureau, Raleigh, June 28.—Senator Josiah William Bailey, big business and the other anti-Roosevelt and anti-New Dealers in the state are making a determined, if not a frantic effort, to find a candidate in North Carolina to oppose Senator Robert R. Reynolds in the Democratic primary next spring who would stand at least a 50-50 chance to beat him, according to reports heard here both from industrial and financial centers of the state.

For it is no secret that big business is more sore on President Roosevelt and the New Deal than ever before, since the new social security program and the taxes to support it went into effect, that it has no love for Bob Reynolds and the position he has taken in support of the President and his program.

It is also generally agreed that Senator Bailey has already deeply entrenched himself in the hearts of the anti-New Deal industrialists, bankers and lawyers by his opposi-

MONDAY TO BE HOLIDAY HERE

City and County Offices to Close; Merchants Undecided

Employees of the city and county will take a holiday Monday, July 5, the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce will meet tomorrow night and decide whether to close stores and some establishments already have decided to close.

Roy T. Cox, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, announced today that workers would be given the day off, but had not decided for certain whether the regular first Monday meeting of the board would be delayed.

Mayor M. K. Blount said that city employees would be given holiday off since Independence Day, July 4, comes on Sunday.

Persons connected with a number of private establishments have announced their firms would close Monday. The Daily Reflector will observe a holiday and no publication will be printed that day.

Mrs. R. L. Powell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared that a meeting had been called for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock to decide whether the various merchants would close their stores on Monday. She said the meeting was called at the request of a large number of merchants.

Following the meeting on the question of closing grocery store operators will go into session to discuss opening and closing hours, both on Saturdays and during the week. All grocery men in the city are urged to attend the meeting, which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

STEEL STRIKE SENATE PROBE DISCONTINUED

Post Office Committee Votes 12-1 To End Probe

IN AGREEMENT ON RELIEF BILL

To Consider All Judicial Proposals For Amendments to Constitution July 12

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—The senate postoffice committee voted 12 to 1 today to end its investigation of the mid-western steel strikes without further hearings or testimony by Postmaster General Farley.

By a vote of 12 to 3 it rejected a plea by Senator Bridges (R-NH), that Farley be summoned for questioning about alleged interference with the mails by pickets.

The postoffice committee recommended that further study of the strike situation be left to the senate civil liberties committee, which will begin an investigation Wednesday of the Memorial Day clash between strikers and Chicago police.

The postoffice committee instructed Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) to report that a "sufficient investigation" of interference with mails already had been made and that the senate should not authorize a special inquiry.

Senate and house conferees reached a speedy agreement on the administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill today after they had trimmed $8,000 from the funds earmarked for the public works administration.

By eliminating an item for uncertified "miscellaneous projects," the conferees cut the PWA fund from $367,000,000 to $359,000,000.

Few other important changes were made in the bill. Congressional chiefs said they expected to place the measure before both houses for final approval today.

The conference committee eliminated (Continued on page two)

Germany and Italy Refuse To Accept Neutrality Patrol

Announcement Comes On Eve of Meeting to Consider Plans For Filling Gap Left by Powers

Rome, June 28.—(AP)—Italy and Germany will not accept a "complete Franco-British international neutrality patrol of Spain, an authoritative spokesman declared today.

The announcement came on the eve of a non-intervention committee meeting to consider steps for closing the gap left in the patrol by the withdrawal of German and Italian warships.

Neither the Rome-Berlin Axis nor "Europe in all its sane and vital parts" would accept the Franco-British plan, declared Virginia Gayda, editor who frequently mirrors Premier Benito Mussolini's opinion.

"Nothing can be done," in Europe and "especially in the Mediterranean" without Italy and Germany, he wrote in a two-column editorial.

A joint Franco-British patrol of Spanish waters without cooperation from other governments would be advantageous to the Spanish Central government he said.

Wreck Results In Hit-Run Charge

State Highway Patrolman C. R. Williams said today Joe Ray, Ayden Negro, would be charged with hit and run driving as a result of having struck an automobile driven by H. A. Sansbury on the Washington road Saturday afternoon.

According to the officer, the negro was driving a truck loaded with potatoes and hit the Sansbury car, an Austin, when he attempted to pass and met a car coming from the opposite direction.

Sansbury drove his car on to a telephone and called local officers, and patrolmen soon took the Negro in custody. He was freed later under bond. The officer quoted the Negro as saying he did not know he had struck the automobile.

To Give Swimming Lessons During July

Swimming lessons will begin today and will continue through the month of July.

There will be a small fee in addition to admission to the pool. All classes will be given from 12 to 1 daily except Sunday.

These classes are for non-swimmers only and will be conducted by Eugene Hamric, life guard.

14 Days For 'King'
Birmingham (AP) — Seventy-year-old John Mainwaring, who called himself the "other king" demanded the right to be treated in his full royal stature when tried at Cannon, near here, for the theft of five shillings (about $1.25). He said he felt pretty "ashamed" at the irreverent court that sentenced him to 14 days in jail.

TURKEY PATROL
ROUTS GRASSHOPPERS

Tecumseh, Neb. (AP) — A. J. Russell, farmer near Crab Orchard, isn't bothered with grasshoppers. This is why:

For years he has kept a flock of turkeys—300 or more—at work in his fields. The turkeys like grasshoppers, and that, Russell says, is what makes it all so utterly simple.

"There is no particular expense to it," he says. "No spreading of poison, and when fall comes you've got a nice big drove of fat turkeys ready for market."

Housing Shortage Acute

Washington (AP) — A housing shortage is forcing respectable families in many large cities to occupy quarters "unfit for decent habitation," says Stewart McDonald, federal housing administrator. Residential vacancies, he says, which reached a peak in 1933, have steadily diminished during the last three years.

Two-Faced Wardrobe For Budget Summers

ALL SPORTS OUTFIT

This outfit, all of lightweight wool jersey—white shirt, dark blue shorts and skirt—is good for golf, tennis, sailing. It has a jersey brassiere to wear with the shorts for swimming.

DOUBLE-DUY COAT

By day this summer—weight wool coat steps out with any gay sports costume. By night it goes to the country club over a colorful cotton dance dress. Stitching gives it a crisp finish.

A BUDGET MUST

A suit can be worn on vacations, weekend trips or cool days in town. This one, of lightweight gray tropical worsted, is worn with a Persian silk scarf and a turban. The skirt is pleated.

FOR DINING OR DANCING

You can go a lot of places in this summer evening frock of white dimly splashed with old-fashioned nosegays. Its frilled shoulder line, suggestive of brief sleeves, fits it for dinner while its full skirt is good for dancing. Caught at the base of the vee decolletage is a cluster of gay summer flowers. Your summer evening gown may be of dotted swiss, pique, dimity, net or chiffon.

What It Means: Congress Vs. President

By MORGAN M. BEATTY (Associated Press Feature Service Writer)

WASHINGTON—Headlines tell a confusing story of troubles between the President and some of the Democratic majority in Congress.

Some of them hint pretty strongly of congressional revolt against White House rule. The "revolt" may turn out to be just a family half-pulling contest—but there is one serious aspect to family squabbles: they sometimes lead to a wide-open split.

The situation is confusing because each time a rift appears, the issue at stake is different.

One day it's the Supreme Court issue, the next it's relief, again it's flood control, or tax-dodging. Each time congressmen who disagree with the President explain their stand carefully enough but the explanation is all clogged up with the details of the question of the moment.

Strip each issue down to fundamentals, and you'll find the rebels suspect the executive of trying to evade legislative territory, or vice versa. And every time one branch of our government suspects the other of raiding its domain, political fireworks follow.

Sometimes the President wins; sometimes Congress or the Supreme Court; more often the differences are compromised and each branch gets enough satisfaction to save its public face.

No Coat Tail Threat
But there's no denying that the political stage is rigged this year for a knock-down, drag-out party split if either the President or congress loses his, or its, head.

Mr. Roosevelt is in his second term, and congressmen can expect another standard-bearer in 1940. Therefore there can be no threats to withhold Presidential coat-tails from congressmen who might need to ride them to victory. If politics follows the normal course there will be no Rooseveltian coat-tails three years hence. And, too, many congressmen will have to face the electorate next year long before any presidential timber arrives on the political scene.

But more important in the current chip-on-the-shoulder contest, is this fact: The President did not choose to take congressional leaders into his confidence when he proposed to enlarge the Supreme Court in his favor. Not only did he take his own party majority by surprise but he had the audacity to pin to his message of draft of the legislation he wanted.

Now congressmen have always jealously guarded their right to sponsor legislation. After all, they feel the people have hired them to do the lawmaking. Even if they don't draft all legislation, at least they want to take it over in advance and approve it.

But in the highly important case of the Supreme Court bill, the President skipped the formalities. Then what happened?

shore, far from the roar of congressional debate with the President there to talk and listen.

Can the Democratic family get together and finish out the current term of congress without the kind of fight that clips political careers and leaves a scar that will always show?

The odds are about even.

Philco Distributors Return From Meeting

James T. Little, general manager of the Carolina Sales Corporation, has just returned from a meeting of Philco radio distributors in White Sulphur Springs, Va., where the new models were displayed and the sales program for the coming year outlined.

Mr. Little expects the coming year to be the best in the history of the corporation. He said more newspaper advertising space would be used during the coming year than at any previous period.

He was accompanied to the meeting by E. E. Rawls, sales manager of the corporation, and C. W. Stickle, sales distributor.

Good Corn Grown In Farm In Pitt County

That Pitt county soil is good for producing corn as well as tobacco is shown by the crop of that particular grain produced by James Adams on the farm of Miss Alice Moore.

A specimen of the crop was brought to the city today measuring a little over a foot. The corn was as pretty as could be grown any place.

MOST BANK ROBBERIES INSIDE JOBS, SAY G-MEN

Washington (AP) — G-men estimate that three out of four bank robberies committed in the United States during 1936 were "inside jobs."

During the year, 299 bank officials and employees were convicted of stealing bank funds, but only 73 bank robbers.

inated a provision which would have required the works progress administration to make public the names, positions and salaries of all administrative officers. It had written into the bill at the request of Sen. Davis (R-Pa.), who contended it would stop use of WPA jobs for "political purposes."

The national resources committee, a planning board which has operated largely with relief funds, was exempted from a clause which limits administrative costs of all agencies using relief money to five per cent.

The senate judiciary committee agreed to consider on July 12 all pending proposals for constitutional amendments affecting the judiciary.

A score or more proposals affecting the court have been brought up in the committee for many months besides the Roosevelt court bill, providing for enlargement of the Supreme Court unless older justices

Sen. Burke (D-Neb.) one of the leading foes of the Roosevelt measure, announced that if there continued to be a distinct difference of opinion in the committee he would recommend the creation of a special committee to "study the whole judicial system and report back to the next session of Congress."

Burke said he would make his suggestions "after the court bill has been recommitted." Opponents of the bill have discussed an attempt to sidetrack the measure in the senate by having it sent back to committee.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Just as Ted Gaynor is desperately about to set a forest fire to get a job, Kay Crandon stops him, places his hands, gives him a look at the Lazy Nine. When her ranch house and barn burn, Josh Hastings, who wants to buy the Lazy Nine and marry Kay, invites her to the Flying Six. She refuses, distrusting him, but young sister Babs and Aunt Kate go. Ted tells Kay Hastings is "a snake." The insurance money, which Kay planned to use for rebuilding, has to go on the mortgage. It's a blow, but Kay recovers when Ted starts the outbreak to cut its own lumber and rebuild without pay.

Chapter 11 Kay Talks Too Freely

KAY held Ted back as the others entered the mess shack. "I brought you this," she said, suddenly shy at the look in his eyes, as he gazed inquiringly at her. She unbuckled a cartridge-studded belt with a swinging gun, and handed it to him.

"You said you'd sold yours," she explained simply. "This was one of Dad's. I'd like to have you have it."

A huskiness came into Ted's throat as he tried to thank her, but she hurried in without waiting for him to voice his feelings.

By the time Kay got back to her cabin, the bitter blow of the morning seemed nothing more than a joke. It would be a great relief to have the $10,000 insurance money paid off on the mortgage, and she'd have her house and barn into the bargain.

A sudden impulse decided her to go over and tell Aunt Kate and Babs about it, and she turned down to the corral to get Flicker.

"Won't Josh Hastings be mad, Flicker?" she gloated, with a triumphant laugh. "If he did have anything to do with the fire, he's had his trouble for nothing."

Planning how she could arrange to get Aunt Kate and Babs home as soon as possible so as not to be under any greater obligation than she could help to Josh Hastings, Kay decided to get the boys to throw up an addition to her cabin the first thing so that they could all fit into it, while the building was going on.

Ted Gaynor had gone off right after lunch, and was planning to bring his mother and sister back within two or three days.

"It'll be no end of fun, Flicker," she murmured, with sparkling eyes and a heightened color as her mind dwelt on Ted Gaynor. "We'll all be regular pioneers, and live just as they did in the early days."

Her mind full of schemes and plans for the future, Kay covered the 10 miles to the Flying Six in what seemed no time at all, and met trotting up to the ranch house to find Aunt Kate dozing on a porch in the sunshine.

There's A Fine Man!

"HELLO there!" Aunt Kate awoke with a start at Kay's call.

"Well, it's about time you were winking over to see how I was getting on," she grumbled, but the affectionate welcome in her eyes blazed her querulous greeting.

"Come up here and give an account of yourself!" Kay dismounted and ran up the steps, looking about with an interesting eye to see if there were any signs of Josh Hastings. She was torn between the hope of getting away without seeing him, and the mischievous desire to flaunt her new plan before him.

"I suppose Babs isn't home from school yet?" Kay observed, as she kissed her aunt. "I was so upset at night that I'm afraid I didn't give you a very cordial welcome," she added apologetically.

"Made me feel about as welcome as a pole cat!" Aunt Kate was never one to mince words. "But I'll hold it up against you, considering the circumstances. Luckily Josh Hastings did the welcoming for you. There's a fine man for you!" She shot Kay a quick shrewd look out of her bright black eyes.

"It was good of him to step into the breach the way he did," Kay answered evasively. "Is he back on town yet?"

"How'd you know he went to town?"

Before Kay had a chance to answer, a deep bass "Hello" sounded from the direction of the corral, and the next minute Josh Hastings rounded the corner of the porch.

"Hello, there!" There was nothing in his greeting to indicate whether he had overheard Kay's trade against him. He came up on the porch and held out his hand, which Kay was reluctantly forced to take. "You were sure in a hurry the last time I saw you," he added. "Had some bad news?"

"It seemed like mighty bad news then," Kay answered, "but now I see it in a different light. It's opened up all sorts of possibilities."

"Sensible girl," he commented. "So you've come over about the Ter I made? Well, I'm standing right behind it."

POSITION OF REYNOLDS FOUGHT BY NEW DEAL FOES

(Continued from page one) at many of the big business leaders in the state, especially in the manufacturing and banking fields, in complete agreement with Senator Bailey's reported position and are certain that the President slipping, that it is time for them to become more active and do everything possible to defeat Bob Reynolds and send back to the senate some one who will cooperate with Senator Bailey in trying to put the skids under the New Deal, which to them is nothing but a raw deal. They are understood to be hitting only for the outcome of the President's supreme court reorganization plan — which they are already sure has been defeated — to merge from their frothing seclusion to take an active part in the national campaign next spring.

This same group is also reported to be deeply pleased with the apparent strength of the dry forces in ones who reelected Mr. Roosevelt

"Oh, no," Kay answered sweetly. "I've no more intention of selling than I ever had. I just came over to see Aunt Kate."

There was a moment's pause. As Kay glanced innocently up at him, she could see the natural flush in his face deepen. That was the only evidence of surprise he gave, but his blue eyes narrowed.

"No intention of selling, eh?" he echoed. "Just how are you planning to rebuild, without your insurance?"

"The same way the pioneers did," Kay answered easily, thoroughly enjoying herself. "There're plenty of trees to get lumber from, and we've plenty of labor to do the job."

"Who put that scheme in your head?" he demanded brusquely, cutting short Aunt Kate's exclamation of surprise. "I never heard anything so crazy!"

A shade of doubt crept into Aunt Kate's look of interest at this sweeping disapproval of Kay's plans.

"I hope it isn't crazy," Kay answered, with exasperating calmness. "None of us think it is. But anyway we're going to try it."

"The whole idea's as wild as a cooed coyote!" He turned to Aunt Kate. "Can't you stop Kay from throwing away what little money she has on such a crazy plan?"

Aunt Kate looked from one to the other, her eyes squinted in her wrinkled face. "I don't quite make out what it's all about."

"It boils down to this," Josh Hastings broke in impatiently without giving Kay a chance to answer. "The insurance money has to go toward paying off the mortgage, so Kay has nothing to rebuild with. I've made her a generous cash offer to take the whole ranch off her hands, so that she'll have a neat little nest egg to live on instead of ruining herself and losing the ranch into the bargain. And here she comes across with a wild-cat scheme to rebuild without any money."

"That does seem kind of foolish," Aunt Kate agreed. "You'd better not be so hasty, Kay."

"Plenty Of Trees, Eh?"

"THERE'S really nothing to discuss," Kay tried to keep her temper at this unfair attempt of Josh Hastings to win Aunt Kate over to his side. "It's all decided. The first thing I'm going to do is to build an addition to the cabin, so you and Babs can come home."

She turned to Aunt Kate, who looked none too pleased.

"Don't you agree to any such thing, Miss Crandon," Hastings swung abruptly from Kay to Aunt Kate. "You stay right here until Kay comes to her senses. He paused, and stared reflectively into the distance. "Plenty of trees, are there?" he murmured half to himself, fixing Kay with his cold blue stare. "Just where are all these trees of yours?"

Kay was aware of a sudden gone feeling in the pit of her stomach. What a fool she'd been to talk so much until she'd been sure of those few acres of timber on Old Man Warren's ridge! Trying hard to make her voice casual, she sought to undo her indiscretion.

"There's a lot of timber back of our north range," she answered vaguely, adding with spirited sarcasm in the hope of diverting his mind from its present train of thought. "We haven't begun to cut yet, naturally!"

"Some haul you'll have from the north range," Hastings observed with satisfaction. "And I can't seem to remember much big timber up that direction anyway." He gave a shrewd chuckle and added tolerantly, "Well, I reckon you'll have to make a try at it, before you'll be satisfied."

Kay's premonition of trouble, instead of being dispelled by the change of attitude was greatly strengthened. There wasn't a minute to waste! She must get in to Old Man Warren at once and get an option on that land! Even though she hadn't mentioned her intention to buy that up, Josh Hastings could easily reason it out for himself that that was the only available timberland for her to get.

She slipped down from the porch rail, where she had been perched beside Aunt Kate. "I'm afraid I can't wait for Babs to get home from school." It was all she could do to keep her voice calm and unhurried. "I promised I'd be right back."

"Got to get started cutting down that timber?" It was Josh Hastings' turn to be sarcastic.

"Not quite yet," Kay's effort at an easy laugh wasn't any too successful, as she bent down to kiss Aunt Kate. "There's no such terrible rush." She hoped he couldn't hear the pounding of her heart which drummed in her own ears. She must get away now, at once, and get hold of Old Man Warren before it occurred to Hastings to try to block her!

"Wait a minute," Josh Hastings put a detaining hand on her arm. (Copyright, 1937, Marie de Nervaud)

But those who are much closer to the rank and file of the people than is Senator Bailey in Washington or the corporation and bank presidents in their richly furnished offices, behind mahogany desks, maintain that the people of North Carolina are still as strongly pro-Roosevelt as ever and as enthusiastic for the New Deal as ever. They are suggesting that if Senator Bailey would come back to North Carolina and talk to some of the farmers, working people, day laborers, clerks, mill and factory employees, instead of to bank presidents, corporation heads and corporation lawyers, he would find this out, also that his course in Congress is not helping him with the class of people who have the most votes — and the

WHOEVER WINS IN SPAIN, KIDS LOSE

(By The Associated Press Feature Service)

1—WAR WAS FUN at first for many Spanish children. Babes in arms became babes with arms playing soldier for fun.

2—THEN WAR SHOWED ITS UGLY SIDE. In a nightmare of screaming shells, the tots dropped their wooden guns and fled with harried mothers to refuge. In Madrid, they huddled in the subway; elsewhere they clustered in open fields and caves.

3—PANIC—STRICKEN little boys who would ordinarily be in school suddenly found themselves orphaned.

4—NOBODY WANTED TO PLAY SOLDIER AFTER THAT. The big boys—only in their teens—have taken up their dead fathers' weapons. But the younger children's one thought has been—escape. Many, especially the Basques, have been taken to England; others, like this group, found refuge in France.

5—SAFE AT LAST in a foreign land, they wolf down food, learn to laugh again, play peace-time games. But many will never see their parents. These tots have already lost the war.

gress up and beautify in every way possible.

There is no structure anywhere whose appearance cannot be greatly improved when tied to the earth with flowers, trees, grass and shrubs. There is no soil in the state that will not lend itself to producing screens of vegetation for the biologists that need covering.

North Carolinians must remember that the best advertisers their state can have are the visitors who come here and who are pleased and surprised at what they find and who then go back home and tell others about it—and that the worst advertising it can get is from those who come here and are disappointed. So it is good business for every one in the state to try to do his or her part to make the state more attractive from a scenic standpoint for the visitors who come here for rest and recreation.

It is also sound business as well as a fine way to advertise the state and keep more and more visitors coming back to it, for all those who come in contact with tourists—the highway patrolman, local police officers, filling station attendants, tourist home and the tourist camp operators, hotel employees, cafe proprietors — always to be courteous and helpful and eager to lend any assistance they can to make the stay of these people in North Carolina more pleasant.

If the people over the state will keep these things in mind, there is no doubt that our next state advertising campaign will get results and bring hundreds of thousands of new tourists and new dollars into the state.

Unadorned industrialism, a powerful though not a beautiful youth, was the fair-haired son of the people. To compensate for the type of architecture which concerned itself only with utility, North Carolina now needs to cover up.

this way they retard and interfere with the action of the digestive fluids. The mucilaginous substance is also likely to absorb the products of digestion and to carry them down the colon, instead of allowing them to be absorbed by the blood.

These bulk-producing laxatives, it has been shown, also interfere with the absorption of calcium, phosphorus and certain vitamins.

Lubricant mineral oils are also likely to retard digestion by coating the food particles.

Certain of the vitamins — notably A, D and E — are soluble in oil, and hence are likely to be dissolved by the mineral oils present in the intestines. In this way the body is deprived of the vitamin ingredients of the foods eaten.

Not all individuals, of course, experience the same effects from the use of roughage laxatives or lubricating mineral oils. Used under the supervision of the physician who watches for untoward effects, they are not likely to prove harmful. But when self-administered, they may prove injurious.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

DETROIT — Virginia Bruce has been rated as possessing the most overly profile in Hollywood.

Now comes a new plastic surgical ruler, which admits she's all the critics say, but shows that she has the extreme limit of tip-tilted nose.

On this ruler, devised by Claire L. Straith, M. D., of Detroit, her nose tilts upward at the tip by 25 degrees. The average tip-tilt in feminine noses that go in for beauty is about 20 degrees.

In men for good looks, the plastic surgeons figure on a tilt ranging from "zero" to 10 degrees. The angle for tilt for good looks depends on convexity or concavity of the profile.

D. Straith's ruler is a "profilometer," a device by which a plastic surgeon can measure the nose he is building at all stages. The sculptor can see the nose-he chisels. But the plastic surgeon works from the inside and until invention of the ruler had to guess.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York — Speaking of terse criticisms, there was the incident of a Broadway press agent's reaction to an invitation to handle the publicity for a waning restaurateur.

The fellow in question was noted for his fine chop houses of the past, but in recent seasons his popularity has diminished.

"Well, come and have dinner with me," he urged the space-grabber. "See for yourself what a nice place I have."

Unable to escape, the press agent arrived and sat through a far from savory dinner.

Reflecting bitterly upon the experience next morning, he dispatched this telegram to the restaurateur: "What you need is a chef, not a press agent."

It must be true, the saying that a racket — just any old racket — will work in New York. There was the "hit show" gag that cropped up in the police reports the other morning.

It appears that a broker received two tickets to "The Women," a Broadway star attraction, and with the tickets was a note saying,
"Guess Who?"

Unable to solve the anonymity of the donor, but nevertheless delighted to have two tickets to a hit drama, the broker and his wife went gaily off for a pleasant evening.
What is more, the performance was excellent, and the pair had an enjoyable time — until they got back home.

Their apartment, of course, had been ransacked. A collection of rings and watches, together with the silver and a sum of cash was missing.

At last they discovered a little note pinned to the dining room tablecloth. It said impudently:
"Now you know."

Carousing past No. 2 Beekman place on a recent evening I was delighted to witness one of those unexpected little side-shows which New York is always so willing to put on.

There was a strutting troubadour on the sidewalk, or rather he wasn't exactly a troubadour. This fellow, a sad-eyed derelict, was a street musician, and he earned his living by playing impromptu tunes to any and all who would listen, and who would, incidentally, contribute a few coins.

Several yards away stood one of those haughty doormen who, so far more imperious than a grand duke could or would want to be. He suddenly stepped briskly up to the startled fiddler.

He said something in a low voice to the fellow, and I suppose he was inviting him to get the hell away from there. The fiddler looked up and gravely passed his violin over to the doorman. Whereupon that be-livered personage, shedding his austerity like mascara at a tear-jerker, caressed the fiddle fondly and held it up to his chin.

It was, I assure you, a delight and a surprise to stand and watch him give an impromptu recital, with a beggar's borrowed fiddle, there on Beekman pavement.

Several months ago Drew installed

When the locksmith's door opens,
Queenie bounds up to the customer

Queenie's mouth and pennies into her master's pockets.

Big Raleigh Bootlegger Plans To Quit For Good

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, June 25.—I am going out of the liquor business here for good, especially since the police have started turning on the heat the way they have — for now that Raleigh and Wake county have voted for liquor control and liquor stores it will be impossible to make any money selling liquor. I have been planning to quit the business before the new liquor stores were opened — but I think I will quit right away — I'm through."

This was the statement made by one of the Raleigh's leading bootleggers and one of 15 raided here by the police yesterday in a series of city-wide raids — none other than E. W. (Pete) Blackwelder and regarded as having made more money in selling liquor in Raleigh than any other of some 200 reputed bootleggers here. "Pete" is reported to have bought his liquor by the truckload, $3,000 worth at a time and to have had the most select clientele in the city. He maintained day and night delivery service to any part of the city and his telephone number is regarded as being as well known as that of the State Department exchange. When the legislature was in session "Pete" and his delivery boys made dozens of trips a day through hotel lobbies to the elevators, making deliveries to rooms upstairs.

Pete's declaration that he is going out of business and going to stay out will undoubtedly prove a great disappointment to the hundreds, if not thousands, of persons from other parts of the state who for years have known they could get their favorite brand delivered, to their hotel rooms within fifteen minutes after calling "Pete's" number. It is agreed that it is also agreed that some of these, regarded as rather prominent politically, may hesitate somewhat to visit the liquor stores in person to buy their liquor.

"It will be foolish for any boot-legger to stay in business in Raleigh after the county liquor stores open up, since they cannot compete with the county liquor stores which will sell liquor and gin at 50 cents a pint," Pete said. "Besides, the risk will be greater since it stands to reason that the city and county authorities are going to tighten up on enforcement and turn the heat on the bootleggers. A few may try to hold on for a while, but I don't see how any one can hope to make anything at all, considering the competition and the risk. At any rate, I am through."

"This bureau was not able to get a statement from any of the other eight or ten bootleggers here regarded as having been in the liquor business on a large scale. But reports from those who have talked with them indicate that most of these are planning to "retire" from active business as soon as legal liquor stores are opened because they feel they cannot compete with the lower prices charged in the liquor stores or take the added risks they will have to take.

It is readily admitted, of course, that some bootleggers will stay on and try to "get by" for a while by selling "white corn" for less than 50 cents a pint or by operating "hip joints" in back rooms, selling single drinks or "nips" at from 10 cents to 20 cents a "nip," depending upon the grade of liquor sold. But with city and county officers more on the alert — and with special investigators constantly on the lookout — bootlegging is going to become more and more risky here, most observers agree.

One of the places raided here Friday by police was only two doors off Fayetteville street and less than two blocks from the state capitol and was equipped with a regular bar and all the trimmings. It is understood that patrons were required to give a special knock on the door, were then carefully scrutinized by a "spotter" before being admitted and that strangers were admitted only after being vouchered by regular customers. It is also understood that patrons could buy drinks over the bar of almost any sort and any brand, or could furnish their own liquor and have them mixed or get cracked ice and charge water upon payment of a service charge at the bar.

With the sentiment in the city and county now conceded to be for control, the police department believes it will be able to make it in-

How To Keep From Getting Murdered

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
(AP Feature Writer)

WASHINGTON — If you don't want to be murdered—
1. Keep out of quarrels.
2. Never be the third person in a marital triangle.

If everybody followed that advice,
more than half the 300,000 Americans now doomed to be murdered might escape.

The suggestions result from a special study of murder causes—made for the AP feature service by government experts on crime statistics.

The marked-for-murder figure comes from the federal bureau of investigation. Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover bases the forecast upon the course of the present homicide rate—10,000 to 10,500 a year. That means, on the average, a murder every 45 minutes somewhere in the United States.

Beware of Summer Heat

Murder records indicate that 31.9 per cent—or about 95,700—of the "barked" citizens will be slain as the result of an altercation of some kind.

The next largest group of the doomed—25.3 per cent, or 75,900 persons—will be slain because of marital and domestic trouble, sex jealousy and passion.

Another caution — watch your step these hot days. Records show that the homicide rate runs higher in summer. Nerve-rasping heat is the only obvious reason.

Since more than 60 per cent of murdered Americans are killed with firearms of various kinds, perhaps the toll could be reduced if bulletproof vests became the fashion. Or

CHIEF CAUSE OF MURDER

Quarrels, government statisticians say, will cause the murder of 95,700 persons now living.
This quarrel was staged by Loretta Young and Charlie Winninger in "Cafe Metropole."

If laws against the sale of firearms out of 100 he can't do it.
First, the murdered has no characteristic physiognomy.

"Many a law-abiding, gentle-natured citizen has a more sinister
"mug" than the late "Baby Face" Nelson," says a veteran G-man Nelson, a member of the Dillinger gang, killed three G-men and sundry other citizens before the federal agents filled him with lead.

Second, the murderer rarely gives any warning. You don't suspect him, because usually he does not have a criminal record. (Only 17 per cent of the persons arrested for murder had previous criminal records, according to the bureau of Marital triangles, fatal to third persons, will bring death to 75,900.

In "Woman Alone," Oscar Homolka (left), the husband, is killed. John Loder is the other man; Sylvia Sidney plays the part of the wife.

investigation, as compared with 36 per cent in robbery arrests.)

Rate Is Lower
As for the rest of the 300,000 murders, 34,200 will result from persons committing a felony; 30,800 from revenge or a grievance; 13-800 in fights among criminals, and 49,800 will be in the "miscellaneous" class, which includes unknown causes.

There is one tiny bright spot in the picture. The homicide rate, which climbed from 2.1 per 100,000 population in 1900 to a peak of 9.6 in 1933, declined to 8.3 in 1935. That is the last year for which complete government figures are obtainable.

WOULD YOU KNOW A MURDERER WHEN YOU SAW HIM (OR HER)?

DONALD WIGHTMAN and his ex-sweetheart recently started a 29-30 year term for the assault of her mother in Bryson, N. J.

DR. ALICE WYNKOOP got a 25-year sentence for the "operating room" shooting in Chicago of her youthful daughter-in-law.

HELEN JOY MORGAN, Flint,

years for shooting to death her former sweetheart, a garage mechanic.

truted for the "American Tragedy" slaying of his sweet-

Tarboro, June 28.—The Serpents made in four consecutive triumphs by defeating the Greenville Greenvies here yesterday afternoon, 7-2, in one of the shortest games of the season—one hour and 21 minutes.

The Snakes defeated the Greenvies in Saturday's game in Greenville by a score of 6-5.

Doug Hautz, with a four run lead in the first inning, sailed along easily and kept all the Greenvies well in check during the 5-1-3 innings, but he was forced out in the sixth when he pulled a tendon in his right leg. He was relieved by Malone.

Wilson Thoele was the only Greenvie causing any trouble for the Serpents. He batted in both runs for Greenville. In the third, he poled a triple with Williams on base and in the sixth he hit a homer.

The three pitchers who saw action in the game proved very stinky—the batters had work for what they batted. Not a walk was issued. And only one man fanned—Malone breezed three by Rudisill.

The Serpents' four-run blast in the first as a very uncordeal welcome for Williams. The tallies were brought in on singles by Myers, Manager Henry, Lehman and Savage. Kenosh's error, Rimmer's long fly and Ware's sacrifice.

Successive doubles by Pizzolato and Malone, Carnahan's single, and Ware's triple accounted for the Snakes' three other runs, in the eighth.

Carnahan, Henry and Savage collected a pair of hits each to lead the 13-hit attack on Williams. Wilson Thoele, with a pair of safeties, was the only Greenvie batsman to get more than one hit.

New Bern Bears Fall Before Billie Team

New Bern — Snow Hill had an easy time getting an 11-3 victory over New Bern Sunday, thanks to Ventura's four-hit pitching and heavy hitting by his mates.

Mike Bistoff, the Billies' home star, didn't collect any specimens of his big specialty today, but he made up for the delinquency by pounding three doubles in four trips. In all, the Billies reached three New Bern hurlers for 10 safeties. Wall homered in the sixth with one on.

Ventura kept the Bears' four safeties well scattered, but the locals coupled with a walk-errors by Robinson and Latham on a grounder by Douglas, and a double by Worless Knowles to count a pair of runs in the sixth frame. Mullinax opened the ninth inning with a homer to account for the Bears' other tally.

Peahead Walker's boys wasted no time in getting after runs. Lefty Flora walked Mewborn, first up, and Wall gained life on McAbes' error. Flora then passed Bistoff and Latham to force in a run. In the second, the Billies scored three times—Mewborn again wangled a pass from Flora, Wall was hit by a pitched ball, and Robinson and Bistoff came through with doubles.

That was the end of Flora, and Berry took over the mound. He forced Tatum to fly out for the third out.

Greenville All-Star Nine Wins, 13 To 7

The Greenville All-Stars defeated Rocky Mount's All-Stars here yesterday, 13-7.

Harrell Forbes, Carl Pierce and Baxter Ridenhour featured in the locals' 13-hit attack. Livestly, Rocky Mount pitcher, and Todd led Rocky Mount with the willow.

Berry Dall, Howard Hodges and Ed Well shared hurling duties for the Greenville outfit.

Bottom-Place Eagles Win Over Goldsboro

Goldsboro — A home run in the eighth inning by Charlie Gadd, former State College athlete, was the deciding as Kinston's cellar Eagles took their second straight decision over the league-leading Goldsboro Sunday. The score was 6-4.

Gadd's circuit clout broke a 4-all tie that had existed since the third inning. And it was another homer — by Shute — which had pulled the Eagles into that deadlock.

Fine relief hurling by Manager Krim Bess put the Eagles back in the game after the Bugs had jumped on Muehlenbein in the second inning for a 4-0 lead. Bess went in with one out, four runs in, and pitched shutout ball for seven and two-thirds innings and drew credit for the victory.

The Bugs got right to work on Muehlenbein while Barker was holding back the Eagles. Adamcik started the second-inning rally by working the Eagle hurler for a walk. Brennan singled, Balla walked, and Overton came through with a single that brought in Adamcik and Brennan. The play also brought in Balla as Schultz threw wild to the plate. Overton pulled up at third, and scored on Coombs' fly.

Then it was the Eagles' turn—in the third they matched the four runs. Bess opened the inning with a double and Thurman Vick followed with a single. Dirman was safe on a fielder's choice as Ignasiak pegged to third and caught Bess. Schutte tripped, and Vick and Dirman scored. Then Schultz climaxed the rally with the homer that tied the count.

Cormick was hit by a pitched ball, and the bases were full. Butcher drew a walk, and Joyner was forced in with the second run.

Biggie took over the start of the seventh, and the Aces started to work on him immediately and go what proved to be the winning run. Jirak walked, Johnson sent him ahead with a sacrifice, and Baker brought in the tally with a single.

It was almost over when the Martins counted their last run. With two away in the ninth, Stanley drew a walk from Webb. Stevens singled to center, and Stanley circled the bags as the ball went through Johnson's legs. Webb got McCay on a fly, however.

Ace Villepique, Martins' centerfielder, turned in the day's fielding feature part of a double play. He took a long fly by Corrado and made a perfect throw to catch a tanner attempting to make third on the tag-up.

Ayden Edges Victory Over Martins, 3 To 2

Ayden — The Aces edged a 3-2 victory over Williamston's Martins here Sunday afternoon to sneak into fifth place in the Coastal Plain standings as New Bern last to Snow Hill.

Les Butcher started for the Aces and got credit for the victory, though he had to get a little help from Earl Webb. Butcher retired in the seventh after throwing Villepique a two-base ball and issuing a pass to Stevens. A wild pitch by Webb and a single by McCay brought in a run, the Martins' first.

The Aces matched the tally in their turn, however, and with the run to go with two they had made in the sixth, took the decision. Their drive in the sixth meant the end for Fields, who started on the mound, and brought in Biggie.

Faust Johnson started the sixth-inning rally with a single. Baker sacrificed him along, Monk Joyner singled, and Johnson pulled up at third. He scored on Pary's hit. Mc-

THEIR FATHER BELIEVED 'F' WAS LUCKY

King Farouk Of Egypt With (L. to R.) Sisters Fawziya, Faiza, Faika and Fathiya.

By JOHN MARTIN
LONDON (AP)—Six royal residents in England are looking forward to another coronation far more important to them than the one just held here.

King Farouk, the 17-year-old boy king of Egypt, his mother and four younger sisters will return to Cairo the last of June to complete preparations for his coronation on July 31.

Just now the group is winding up a four months' "object lesson in history" spent visiting the continent and England.

king before his death. The girls' mother, Queen Nazi, a dark, slim Moslem beauty not yet 40, sees to that.

In principle, their father wished the bright-eyed princesses reared not only as loyal members of their race, religion and family but as constructive citizens of the world.

So the girls spend mornings at their lessons and afternoon at sport, sightseeing and shopping.

With a professor of Arabic who is accompanying them, the study of the Koran and religious exercises.

With the court physician, who also came along, they practice rhythmic dancing for grace and health.

They are devoted to one another and to the king who often joins them on the closely guarded tennis court, or t swimming, riding and motoring.

The king, who lives with his staff at nearby Keny House, taught the two older girls to drive and gave them autos for their birthdays.
