Democrat Leadership Challenged

NEVADA SOLON FLAYS FARLEY

Situation Arises Over Opposition to Court Measure

Washington, July 10.—(AP) — Senator McCarran, (D-Nev.) challenged the Democratic leadership today to throw him out of the party for opposing the Roosevelt court bill.

Carrying on the opposition attack against the compromise judicial reorganization bill in senate debate, the stolid Nevada senator said he did not believe such a step was the intent of those in charge of the administration measure, but if it was he would "rather go down" than return to the senate.

He warned his party the "day may come" when the three electoral votes from Nevada may be needed "to save the Democratic party."

McCarran opened the unusual Saturday session of the senate with a display of oratorical language delivered in a high pitched voice, but with few gestures.

The opposition group for which he spoke held a slim margin in the neck-and-neck race for publicly committed senate votes. Forty senators have announced they would fight the administration compromise. 39 openly have pledged support.

REBEL PLANES OPEN ATTACKS

Insurgent Ships Roar Across Spain Toward Madrid

(By the Associated Press)
A fleet of Spanish insurgent planes, 100 tri-motored bombers carrying tons of explosives and 150 machine-gunning pursuit ships, roared across Spain toward Madrid today to pave the way for a big drive to smash the capital's defenses.

The planes attacked a tank-protected army of 30,000 Spanish government soldiers. Aides to insurgent General Franco said government losses were heavy.

An official communique said 3,000 government militiamen were killed and 6,000 wounded in a counter attack by insurgent troops in the Brunete sector, 15 miles west of Madrid.

General Jose Miaja, commander of Madrid's defenders, said the government had made new gains in an offensive against the insurgents of the western edge of the capital.

In London, Great Britain again faced the task of finding ways and means of maintaining the 27-nation non-intervention scheme to prevent men and arms from reaching either side in the Spanish civil war.

Necessity for speedy action was further spurred by the announcement of the French foreign office that the non-intervention international patrol of the frontier between France and Spain by foreign ob-

MAKES RULING AS TO YOUTHS

Barred from Working in Stores Selling Beer and Wine

Raleigh, July 10.—(AP)—Youths under 18 may not be employed in establishments which sell beer and wine. Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell ruled today, since both drinks come under the classification "alcoholic beverages."

The language employed by the general assembly, is such that no doubt is left to its meaning. Seawell said in his opinion, requested by Major A. L. Fletcher, state labor commissioner.

"Wine and beer fall within the definition of alcoholic liquors and such being the case the provisions of the statute include the employment of minors under 18 at places in which beer and wine are sold," the attorney general wrote.

The attorney general expressed the same opinion in a letter to James Vogler, Mecklenburg representative in the 1937 General Assembly and secretary of the Charlotte Retail Grocers association.

Vogler said he did not believe the legislature intended to prohibit the employment of youths under 18 by drug stores which sell beer and wine.

Japanese Official Calls Conference

Tokyo, July 11, (Sunday)—(AP)—War Minister General Sugiyama summoned a staff conference at 2 a. m. today (12 noon EST) after advice that hostilities between resumed in North China.

Members of the foreign office, cabinet ministers and naval officials also conferred through the night with tension intensified by Japanese dispatches from China reporting Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek had ordered Chinese land and air forces into the North China area.

HOT WEATHER GRIPS NATION

At Least 114 Lives Already Claimed by Heat Spell

Chicago, July 10.—(AP) Heat waves billowed with unabated vigor over most of the nation again today.

The season's most protracted hot spell showed no signs of ending an assault that already has taken at least 114 lives and caused hundreds of prostrations.

"Generally fair and continued warm" was the weather bureau's unwelcome forecast for virtually all of the heat-stricken states east of the Rockies.

Local showers afforded temporary relief to sections, but temperatures soon resumed their climb.

Warmer weather was in store for the corn belt, where temperatures in the upper 90's have prevailed five days. The highest temperature east of the Rockies yesterday was 102 at Phillipsburg, Kansas.

Record-breaking heat gripped New York City for the third consecutive day when thermometers registered 96 yesterday. The stifling weather was blamed for eight deaths in the metropolitan area.

Thousands of WPA workers in New York City were sent home because of the heat. Some mills in Massachusetts closed. Shorter hours were ordered for some conservation workers in Minnesota.

PLANT CLOSED AT REIDSVILLE

Edna Mill Shut Down
After Second Strike
In Two Months

Reidsville, N. C., July 10.—(AP)—The Edna cotton mill was closed today by the second walkout within two months.

Spinners and doffers struck yesterday and the mill shut down, a statement from the management said, after the strikers threw the switches in the other departments.

BANDIT SLAIN BY PATROLMAN

Policeman Wounded In Gun Battle In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, July 10.—(AP)—One man was slain and a policeman wounded early today in a gun battle as two patrolmen confronted two men they said they had watched rob a service station.

The men sighted the officers as they started to leave the station. Patrolman George Puff said, and came out firing. Patrolman Bart Flaherty, 38, was wounded in the hand.

Puff returned the fire with a shotgun and a man he identified as Bert Brown, 21, of Northside Pittsburgh, dropped fatally wounded.

The patrolman closed in and captured the other man, whom they said was Clyde Rowlands, 23, of Pittsburgh, and charged him with robbery.

Puff said Brown was killed by his own shotgun that police had retrieved a few days earlier from a stolen car they said Brown had abandoned.

Temperature Here Hits 99 Saturday

Greenville citizens today sweltered under the highest temperature of the season—99 degrees—on notch higher than yesterday when the mercury reached 98 degrees.

Although the mercury was a point higher today than yesterday it did not climb as rapidly as it did on Friday. At 9:30 o'clock the official reading was 96 degrees and had climbed only two degrees by 2:30 o'clock, regarded as about the hottest part of the day.

Rocky Mount reported 103 to lead all places in the state reporting. Fayetteville had 98; Greensboro 95; Raleigh 93 and Charlotte 93.

Shanghai, China, has become a city of skyscrapers, largely built by Americans.

NAVAL PLANES SCAN PACIFIC

Today's Search Will Probably Reveal If Amelia Still Alive

Honolulu, July 10.—(AP) —Three navy planes were ordered catapulted over the major group of the Phoenix islands today in a search which naval officers said would probably reveal if Amelia Earhart is still alive.

The battleship Colorado's searching planes, shooting into the lead at 12:30 p. m. (EST) were directed to sweep Enderbury, Phoenix, Birnie and Sydney islands.

Shore patrols from the minesweeper Swan were ordered toward Canton, largest of the Phoenix islands, while the planes scout other possible refugees of Miss Earhart and Frederick Noonan, navigator, of her round the world plane, missing 8 days.

Two ships set a rendezvous 15 miles south of Canton at 4:30 p. m. (EST) to refuel the minesweeper. The Colorado's planes may then survey Canton from the air.

If these searches do not reveal trace of the missing aviators, naval officers said there was but scant hope of their being found in the projected search by 62 planes from the aircraft carrier Lexington, now speeding toward tropic waters from Hawaii.

Moore-Tatum

Salisbury, July 10.—Impressive in its simplicity and beauty was the ceremony Friday morning, July 9th, at the Ridgecrest Baptist church, to unite in marriage Miss Catherine Vandervoort Tatum, daughter of Mrs. Ezra Walter Tatum and the late Ezra Walter Tatum, of Salisbury, and Dr. Davis Lee Moore, of Stokes, N. C. The wedding was private, attended by relatives and close friends, and was followed by a wedding breakfast, given by the bride's brothers for the relatives and bridal party, at one of the Asheville hotels.

The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock by Dr. Milton L. Brown, retired missionary from China. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Walter Law Tatum, and had one attendant, Miss Anne Law Tatum, Jr., bridesmaid, who is the only niece of the bride, of Salisbury. Dr. Archibald Lipe Barringer, of Mt. Pleasant, N. C., was the bridegroom's best man.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. J. Webb Daniel of Lincolnton, N. C., sister of the bride, played "To a Wild Rose." Before the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. M. L. Braun sang

"At Dawning" and "Because." The bridal party entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin.

The church had simple but beautiful decorations of green and white, cathedral tapers in candelabra and large baskets of rhododendron and gladioli, gleaming white against a bank of hemlock.

The bride wore a lovely two-piece white crepe dress with three-quarter length cape, with white accessories. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Little Miss Anne Law Tatum, Jr., bridesmaid, was adorable in a white taffeta dress cut on princess lines. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay, showered.

Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mrs. E. W. Tatum and the late E. W. Tatum, of Salisbury. She spent two years at Meredith College and received her A. B. degree from Carolina College in 1927. For several years she taught in the public schools of Salisbury and Newton, and for the past few years she has been bookkeeper and secretary for the Salisbury Motor company.

Dr. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Moore of Stokes, Pitt county. He received his education at the University of North Carolina, Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, Pa., and served as internship at Watake hospital in Durham. For several years he was a popular member of the Boyden High School faculty in Salisbury.

After the wedding breakfast in Asheville, Dr. and Mrs. Moore left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. The bride wore a two-piece suit of navy blue triple-sheer crepe, with hat and matching accessories of matching navy.

Upon their return, they will make their home in Falkland, N. C.

Home Beautification

Pitt. County Club Women with one accord welcome all the interest and enthusiasm from any source for a beautiful Eastern North Carolina. The Father of us all meant that we should have beautiful surroundings. He gave us the grass and the trees, the birds and the flowers. The tin cans and other rubbish have been carelessly left by man. We can make the roadsides and the homesteads beautiful by picking up and cleaning up our places and giving nature a chance to do her part. In the forty-one home recently visited we found native grass to be the prettiest. Too much damage has been done unintentionally with the broom. Have you ever tried sweeping your tobacco plant bed? What result would you expect? Let's do our part in this program not only for tourists, but for the home folks. When there's enough beauty criminals will move along to some other section. They seldom operate where there is beauty on all sides. The boys and girls, and old people, too, will prefer the farm homes to the "home on wheels" when everything is orderly, clean and beautiful.

Canning Season Is Here

For several weeks women and girls throughout the county have been canning. Have you determined your canning budget? If you are to have every day, throughout the winter months, two vegetables other than potatoes, and two fruits, you will need 57 pints of vegetables and 45 pints of fruit for each adult in the family—and 15 pints of a variety of jelly, jams, pickles and preserves. If these things are not in jars they will need to come from the stores. Which is easier and cheaper for you? There are recipes and help in this office for any who wish them.

H. D. Council Meeting

The Home Demonstration Council invited all club members and older girls to the council meeting July 21. Mrs. Cornelia Morris will be here with a large display of home-made products for market. The older girls will be organized into a Service Club.

State Short Courses

The State Short Course for boys and girls will be held at State College the week of July 26. Several are going from this county. Their names will be listed soon. The Farm and Home convention will be the following week. Don't miss this opportunity. It is unfortunate that these meetings come during the tobacco season. However, you will find it profitable to attend these meetings.

Club Schedule Next Week

Tuesday, 3 P. M.—Red Banks H. D. meeting with Misses Stella and Lillie Tucker.

Wednesday, A. M.—4-H Canning Club will meet in H. E. Laboratory in the Bethel High School.

Friday, 6:0 P. M.—4-H Club picnic and Club meeting at the club building at Pierce.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

Hollywood—Easiest rut for an actor to fall into is that of perential officer of the law. Once a policeman always a cop—unless the actor's lucky.

They tell it on Robert Emmett O'Connor, so often seen as the detective, that his big chance to break with the role was nixed by an executive who saw the tests. O'Connor was trying for a priestly part.

"Every time he talked to the condemned man in the cell," the executive said, "I expected him to whip out the handcuffs from under his passock."

O'Connor doubtless has played other characters, but he's typed in my mind, too. Offhand I can't think of a single film in which he hasn't had the bracelets ready. That's how movie-typing works on casting directors.

E. E. Clive, who has contributed bright moments to some 30 films, almost fell into the copper's mold. His first picture, "The Invisible Man," had him in policeman's uniform for the first time in his long stage career, but he was a cop in five films after that. The old judge in "A Tale of Two Cities" started him on a variety of cinematic costumes. Now they "see" him practically any character role, which is how a real actor should be seen.

Appears Before Title

The policeman's role in "Dead End" is played by James Burke, but Burke is counting on it to step up his career rather than settle it. "I'm in the picture even before it starts," he grins. (You'll see him strolling down the dead end street before the title flashes on the screen.)

Right up with the law as a typing agency ranks the butler role. First screen butler I remember was Sidney Bracy (in that early serial "The Million Dollar Mystery") and he's butted in countless films since, right up to the present. Edgar Norton varies butting with the role of prime minister or foreign diplomat and is acceptable in a variety of parts, but somehow he still represents the polished essence of screen butting.

Eric Blone's butting debut in "The Gay Divorcee" naturally called for encores, but he's been just as funny in the rare non-serving roles he has had. He, at least, ought to make the casters think twice.

Two Persons Hurt In Wreck Friday

Marvin Radford of Snow Hill not only was injured in an automobile collision yesterday afternoon, but is facing a charge of driving while drunk and operating a motor vehicle in a careless and reckless manner.

The wreck occurred on the Bethel highway, about a mile beyond the Tar river bridge between an automobile operated by Radford and a truck driven by Paul C. Bennett and owned by the Quinn-Miller company of Kinston.

Bennett was not injured, but Floyd Gilbert, who was riding with Radford received injuries.

Radford suffered lacerations behind the right ear and Gilbert was cut about the head and face. They were brought to the offices of Drs. Smith and Skinner where their wounds were dressed. The injuries were severe but were not considered critical.

According to State Highway Patrolman H. B. Smith, who investigated the wreck, the Radford car crossed the road in front of Bennett's truck, striking it on the right side.

Mrs. W. T. Bost Objects to Disciplinary Method

Raleigh, July 10.—(AP)—Mrs. W. T. Bost, state welfare commissioner, said today the use of the lash to enforce prison discipline "has always been contrary" to the policy of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

"The state board had not reversed that policy," Mrs. Bost said, "the board has always taken the position that there were other methods of securing prison discipline which could be used more effectively."

She was commenting in response to questions on the State Highway

Frank Dunlap, commission chairman, has said the rule was passed only as an "informative step" since use of the lash has not been abandoned and printed discipline rules contained no authorization for application of the whip.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—A fascinating study amid the psychological fauna of New York is the metamorphosis of of the theater-going mind from early season enthusiasm to midwinter tolerance and late spring skepticism.

As the season advances your veteran first-nighter grows shorter and grumpier in disposition. September is a month of cheer. Hungry for anything half-way good, the town acclaims almost any drama of indifferent quality only the purists and professional observers maintaining a wry silence.

There is a reason for this early generosity. Most of the folk who make up New York's first-night audiences have been away for the summer and they are anxious to peek in their new fall hues in the public eye. Too, they haven't seen each other for several months, and, if the play is a little dull, at least the enthusiasm of greeting old friends and launching a new season dims the fact that the entertainment behind the footlights isn't quite up to standard.

Then comes mid-winter. Productions are coming in at the rate of from two to five a week and the early crop has been pretty well pruned by that time. The fairly good ones continue to comfortable houses, and the new arrivals are so numerous that only the better ones command attention.

It is during the long, bleak haul from January to May that one's patience grows a little short. A swarm of new producers, usually with a shoe-string and a prayer and encouraged by the false receptions of early season ventures, are tossing unworthy dramas onto the stages of theatres whose marquees should have remained dark.

Show business in New York could easily be likened to baseball in the major leagues. . . . When the season first begins, every manager is fired by his new acquisitions, his rosy promises of pitching talent, and enthusiastic backing of the fans.

But by July 4 the race has settled down to a stretch fight between two or three contenders, with the rest of the field dismally in the rear.

That is what happens on Broadway. By mid-winter the field has been spread-eagled by a few shrewd top-notchers, the Gilbert Millers, the Guthrie McClintics, the Katharine Cornells (who produces her own plays), the Theater Guild and a few others.

It is to these banners that far the greater majority of playgoers rally in the after-Christmas months.
Being in no mood to encourage ennui, they venture forth only when they know they can get what they want.

PATROL TO USE PRIVATE CODE

Messages to Be Sent Out to Officers to Be Secret

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, July 10.—"Calling all patrol cars, calling all patrol cars; XY at GR at noon today; BDS heading north; watch all RDS for BDS and stop all CRS if look suspicious."

Messages such as this, only less intelligible to the average person, are what highway patrolmen are likely to hear from their receiving sets when the new highway patrol radio communications system gets into operation early in August. For most of the calls which will be sent out over the five patrol radio stations to patrolmen and officers all over the state, will be sent very largely in code known only to patrolmen, police officers and sheriffs, Captain Charles D. Farmer said today. Some of the code will be known to highway patrolmen and their officers, so that the stations will be able to communicate confidential information to them without any one else knowing what it is all about, Captain Farmer said.

"Suppose there should be a bank hold up somewhere in the state and we should spread the alarm by announcing over the radio 'Bank hold up in Greensboro at noon today, bandits heading north; watch all roads for bandits and stop all cars if look suspicious.' That would immediately tip off the bank robbers and their confederates, since the chances are that nine times out of ten they will have radios in their cars, too.

"So we will use a secret code that will have meaning to all the patrolmen but which will mean nothing at all to any one who is not familiar with this code. In this way we will be able to spread an alarm in case of a bank robbery, prison break, hold-up, riot or other trouble and direct officers to the vicinity in which they are wanted, without letting the public or those involved know anything about it."

The code, now being prepared by Captain Farmer and his assistants, must be submitted to and approved by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington before it can be used.

CHANGES DATE OPEN PROJECT

Public Celebration Is Set for July 30 in Sandhills

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, July 10. — The public celebration and formal opening of the Sandhills Land Use Project will be held on July 30 instead of on July 16 as at first planned, Frank Eatman, the project manager and a member of the citizen's committee on arrangements has announced from the project headquarters at Hoffman. The new date was decided upon because it was found inconvenient for Governor Clyde R. Hoey and other notables to attend on the July 16 date, which had been only tentatively adopted.

The celebration is to be held in Indian Camp park, a new park on the Sandhills project where a new lake, a large pavilion, 10 vacation cabins, and other recreational facilities have just been completed. The expenses are being contributed by Richmond, Scotland, Moore, Hoke, Robeson and other surrounding counties and plans are being made to feed upwards of 2,000 people.

The celebration will last all day, the committee announced. Inspection tours will start at 9:00 a. m., the public addresses at 11:00, barbecue dinner at 1:00, followed by further inspection of the project in the afternoon and a dance that night.

In addition to Governor Hoey, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace Resettlement Administrator W. W. Alexander, the North Carolina congressional delegation and other notables have been invited.

Members of the committee on arrangements are: C. B. Deane, chairman; Edwin Pate, Lauringburg; J. A. McGoogan, Raeford; J. R. Page; Aberdeen; Rev. W. I. Howell, Hamlet and Frank Eatman, Hoffman. This committee was appointed and given full authority to arrange the program, at a citizen's meeting held at the headquarters of this 62,000-acre forestry, wild life and recreational development, two weeks ago.

Churches To Join In Union Services

The regular union worship service will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Visitors to the city during summer months are especially welcomed.

The six participating churches in this united attempt, which is now in its seventh successful month, are the local Presbyterian, Episcopal, Christian, Methodist and Independent Baptist and Memorial Baptist churches.

With the time drawing near for the annual vacation exodus of ministers from the city, the joint congregation is promised a "change in preaching fare," with the local ministers providing substitute preachers from elsewhere for the services to be held in their absence. Arrangements have also been made to have prominent laymen of the various churches preside over the union services during the absence of the local ministers.

Tomorrow night's service, as those in the past, will again be featured by a strong message, hearty congregational singing of familiar Gospel hymns, and special music by the choir.

This Isn't First Time Amelia's Been 'Down'

(By the AP Feature Service)
Perhaps the gods were warning Amelia Earhart. A blown-out tire just as she was taking off from Hawaii last March 20 on her first attempt to circle the globe made her quit—but just for the time being. She had her heart set so strongly on the trip—and crackups were nothing new. In her 19 years of flying, the 39-year-old ladybird had been in four others, with little hurt to herself.

AMELIA EARHART ... after first crash in 1928

Crash Diary
Remember that first crash? It was Aug. 31, 1928. She was taking the man she later married—George Palmer Putnam—for a ride in a small biplane. She came down to a perfect landing at Pittsburgh, then taxied into an unmarked ditch.

No. 2—Sept. 25, 1930—Norfolk, Va. (below)—This time she suffered a slight scalp wound when her plane nosed over after landing. "Too much braking," she explained laconically.

No. 3—June 12, 1931—Abilene, Tex.—After a slow take-off in an autogyro she dropped 30 feet onto sore autos but was not injured.

No. 4—Sept. 12, 1931—Detroit—The autogyro again. Trying a slow-landing in front of a crowded grandstand. She dropped 20 feet, smashed landing gear and a wing. She wasn't hurt but her husband, running toward the wreck, tripped over a guy rope and had to have hospital treatment.

'Last Big Flight'
Then came the March crack-up in Hawaii. But that did not discourage the ladybird. She was out to make her "life dream" of flying around the world come true.

It was to have been her last spectacular flight, said her husband, running toward the wreck, tripped over a guy rope and had to have hospital treatment.

So she took off again, heading the other way round the world—and settled down—in the vast, watery wilderness of the southern Pacific.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

New York—It's getting so that a plant can't have any privacy, even for its roots.

A new way of looking at them has been invented by G. H. Bates, English agricultural scientist of Stafford. He uses the principle of a dental mirror, a tilted glass fastened to the end of a rod.

His mirror has a handle several feet long. It carries an electric light bulb just above the mirror.

To look at roots Mr. Bates bores holes, sometimes five feet deep, and fits hollow pipe, or glass tubes into them. The tops of the pipes are covered against rain. When it is time to look at roots, the cover is lifted, mirror lowered and there are the roots growing in an around the pipe.

Mr. Bates has been watching the effects of fertilizer. He expects to begin looking at sugar beet roots next.

STATE OF TEXAS SUES FOR MILLIONS

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Texans are speculating whether a deficit of approximately $10,000,000 in the state's general revenue fund may be paid, and a tidy sum laid up in assets.

In one suit the state is asking $17,500,000 penalties from more than a dozen of the major oil companies charging they conspired to violate the Texas anti-trust laws.

In the other suit the state seeks to recover inheritance taxes of the late Col. E. H. R. Green. Exactly how much the taxes may total is not known, but it may be several million dollars.

The issue in the Green case is where his residence was located. Several states claim it. The case will be argued before the United States Supreme Court.

A bill has been introduced in congress authorizing the federal commissioner of education to make a study as to the advisability of offering courses in aviation in public schools.

'Too Lazy To Work,' Rookie Ace Makes Good Under The Big Top

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lefty Lee Grissom of the Cincinnati Reds, the bulky California farmer boy who is the outstanding rookie pitcher of the major leagues this year, is playing baseball because he is too lazy to work.

His discoverer, Gene Valla, is the authority for the statement. Valla, former San Francisco Seals' outfielder and more recently manager of various semi-pro teams, should know something of Grissom's habits.

He had the big fellow here with him for 16 months, during 1932 and 1933. For nearly a year and a half, Valla coached Grissom, employed him and fed him.

Grissom hails from Los Molinos, a tiny community in northern California where his folks have a small ranch. Although he learned most of his pitching from Valla during his stay in the bay area, not many ball fans of this section even know him.

Passed By Ivory Hunters

Valla was so sold on his protegee's potentialities, he signed him to a contract, agreeing to act as his manager-coach. He offered to sell the husky southpaw to his old club, the Seals, but the management turned him down because Valla stipulated he was to get a percentage of the purchase price when Grissom was sold to the majors.

Joe Devine and Bill Esick, New York Yankee scouts, also turned Grissom down, according to Valla, because of the contract he requested giving him a piece of the purchase money.

Says Valla: "The first I heard of Grissom was from a bush ball player I had gotten a job for. This fellow, Al Williams, had seen Grissom playing first base in the country league. He sent him to me in the hope I could get a job for him with some semi-pro outfit.

"When I saw him throw the ball, I knew he had the makings of a great pitcher. I had played with Rube Marquard, Larry French and Jackie May and knew what they had on the ball. They were in the majors and this Grissom had more stuff than they had when I knew them.

"He was big, good-natured, never earned more than $1.50 a day in his life and didn't want to work, so he was meant to be a ball player. I couldn't get him a job, because he wasn't eager to work. He worked for a while in my tire shop but he hurt his right hand. I think he purposely put it into the buffer. But I believed so firmly he would make good I kept him in board and room.

A Natural Clown

"He didn't know how to put on a suit, field or bunt, or do anything but throw the ball. He could make the ball smoke, though. Grissom weighs over 200 pounds, stands more than 6 feet and has hands like hams. One day I put him in to pitch the last two innings of a game here. He looked like a sketch out of the comics, with a suit that didn't fit him and didn't cover him in spots.

"There were laughs when he went out on the mound. But, after he threw a couple of pitches, the boys didn't want to step up to the plate. He began to show improvement in 1933 but the big-time scouts wouldn't give him a tumble because of my percentage demand. By this time his keep had cost me around $450.

"Then Professor C. E. Chapman of the University of California, who has a sideline hobby of scouting for Cincinnati, saw him pitch a game. He recommended him to the Reds. I got $1.50 in the deal, so everybody was happy. Steicking with Grissom helped me out. When he made good I got a job scouting for Detroit."

Bring in the baseball money hasn't changed Grissom's traveling habits any. Valla said the 26-year-southpaw, when he wanted to come to San Francisco from Los Molinos last winter for a visit, hitch-hiked his way here with 50 cents in his pocket.

Five regional national libraries costing $10,000,000 each to supplement the public library system of the United States would be authorized by a bill recently introduced in congress.

LEFTY LEE GRISSOM, the Cincinnati Reds' slab sensation, was the only 1937 rookie honored by nomination to play in the inter-league all-star game.

Ayden Aces Defeated By Cellarites Again

Ayden-Kinston made six runs in the first two innings and added the rest of their scores in the eighth to defeat Ayden's Aces, 9-6.

Butcher, Ayden's starting hurler, yielded four runs in the first and two in the second. Pittman Harward went to the hill at the start of the third and pitched well except in the eighth.

The Eagles got busy with one away in the first. Wyrostek singled but was thrown out at second. Joyner to Schurholz when he attempted to make two bases on the hit. Schultz singled. Stoner was safe on an error, and Gillenwater doubled. That combination produced one run. Patton homered to add three tallies.

Cooper's single, an error by Schuerholz on Stringfellow's bounder, and Wyrostek's single added two in Kinston's second.

The Ace's big inning was the second. A hit-batsman, Baker's single, and a walk filled the bases. A walk to Mackie, pinch-hitting for Butcher forced in a run. Schuerholz singled to send in another tally, and Spider Webb relieved young Pat Cooper, Kinston's starting hurler. Jirak's infield out sent in the third and last run of the inning.

Snow Hill Gets Win Over Tarboro Snakes

Snow Hill—A 10-run party in the second inning featured by home run by Horse Meworn and Aaron Robinson, carried Snow Hill to victory over Tarboro and extended the Billies' current winning streak to five games. The final score was 12-4. Irby Wright, succeeding Amidon with one away in the first inning, pitched seven-hit ball for the Billies today. He was able to coast after the big second inning.

Clancy started on the mound for Fred Henry's Serpents. He got the Billies out in order in the first inning, but singles by Bistroff and Tatum and a walk to Latham filled the bases in the second. One run counted when Lehman errored Rabb's slow bounder. Soufas' single sent in two more. Wright went out. Meworn's homer counted three runs. Wall singled and then Robinson homered. Bistroff went out. Singles by Tatum and Latham were added before Clancy was yanked. Satterwaite, his successor yielded singles to Rabb and Soufas—each good for a run—before retiring Wright to end the inning.

Jim Tatum homered for the Billies in the eighth.

Williamston Martins Beat Goldsboro, 5 to 2

Williamston—Williamston batters backed up Jim Rollins' four-hit pitching with a 17-hit attack which produced a 5-2 decision over Goldsboro here. The defeat was the sixth in a row for the erstwhile pace-makers of the circuit. Rollins fanned 10.

The Martins collected 13 singles, two doubles, and two triples. Every member of the club broke into the hit column but Don Victoria, new catcher, took the cake with three singles and a double for a perfect day.

Victoria's single in the second sent in the first Martin run—after McCay, Deim and Lakotas had singled to fill the bases. Stanley's single batted in Earp in the fifth. In the seventh, Earp's long hit scored Victoria but Earp was thrown out at the plate when he sought to extend the drive into a homer.

New Bern—Bill Averte, ex-N.C. State athlete, pitched an 8-3 win for New Bern over Greenville today. The Bears were never in danger after a two-run cluster in the fourth broke a 2-all tie, but they added four scores in the sixth for good measure. The game, error-studded, was dull. The Greenies erred six times to make things easier for the locals, who made things miserable for three Greenville chumpers. Greenville made two in the third on Kenosh's single, Caligirai's safe bunt, a wild pitch, and Sheppard's error on a throw to the plate by Miller after he had fielded Caviness' grounder. Norwood's single, Melchor's double, and Hambright's fly scored one for the Greenies in the ninth.

A walk, Mullinax's single, and an error gave New Bern a run in the first. Successive singles by Knowles, Douglas and Stith brought a score in the third. Sheppard stole home in the fourth. He walked, stole second, and went to third on Miller's infield hit. Sheppard and Miller then put on a double steal, and Miller moved all the way to third when Melchor erred on the play. Black's squeeze bunt scored Miller with what proved to be the winning run. Mullinax's double sent in two runs in the sixth, and Stith's double scored Mullinax. Stith went to third on the throw-in. At this point Moser relieved Caligirai. The new hurler walked McAbee. Stith scored as he and McAbee pulled a double steal. McAbee then stole third. Sheppard walked and stole second. Rudisill came to the box and managed to retire Averte.

HE WON THE SENIOR HIGH AND LOW HURDLES CROWNS AFTER TAKING THE "JUNIOR 100" ON THE FLAT

Sport Slants

By PAP'

Allen Tolmich, the Wayne university youngster who stole the show from the Cunninghams, San Romans, Woodruffs and the like at the National A.A.U. track and field championships in Milwaukee when he won the junior 100-meter dash and then came back the following day to take both hurdles titles, is one of those stars who dashed into prominence almost overnight.

He first stepped into the national picture last winter by placing second behind Sam Allen in the 65-meter high hurdles at the indoor championships. Dan Ferris, the A.A.U. official, had him compete in the indoor nationals for the first time on the strength of a performance in which he established a new hurdle mark for some obscure distance. He showed enough in chasing Allen across the finish line to stamp him a comer.

At the Texas relays early in April Tolmich won the 100-yard dash and then romped over the high hurdles ahead of the field. Those victories definitely established him as a star. He followed his Texas efforts with several excellent showings, and on one occasion at the Michigan State championship meet won four individual events and topped it off with a 49-second quarter on the first leg of Wayne university's winning relay team.

The most impressive performance of all was, of course, his victory over Spec Towns, the Olympic champion and world record holder, in the high hurdles at Milwaukee. Towns had a string of 57 consecutive victories before Tolmich outstepped him for the national crown. In winning the low hurdles Wayne university's one-man track team clipped one-tenth of a second off Heye Lambertus' meet mark of 23.4 to become the first man to win a National A.A.U. hurdles double since Steve Anderson turned the trick in 1929.

A total of 3,054,468 spindles were pires: Cios and Gillespie. Time 2:09 active in Georgia during April.

EXPECT PITTS RETAIN OFFICE

Prison Matters Declared Rapidly Coming To Head

Raleigh, July 10.—Although action is still being deferred by the State Highway and Public Works Commission with regard to the prison division and the selection of a director, indications are that the commission is waiting only for its subcommittee to make a report of its findings and recommendations before taking definite action.

This committee is composed of Chairman Frank L. Dunlap, and Commissioner Robert Grady Johnson of the Third Division and T. Max Watson of the Ninth Division. While this committee has not yet made its report as to personnel to the full commission, indications are that it will make its report in the near future. It is generally conceded that the commission handed this committee one of the hottest potatoes the entire commission has ever had to handle, when it gave it the job of trying to iron out the wrinkles that exist in the prison division and of trying to bring about harmony in an organization regarded as being shot through with political and personal jealousies.

Present indications are that Oscar T. Pitts will eventually be appointed as full director of the prison division, that Dr. George S. Coleman will not be retained as prison physician at Central Prison and that Warden H. H. Honeycutt will probably be moved to some other position. It is also regarded as possible that Disciplinarian L. G. Whitley may be shifted to some other position and that there may be other drastic changes in the prison personnel.

It is now generally understood that Pitts has told the commission that unless he is given full authority over prison division personnel, so he can build up an organization that will work together and be loyal that he is not interested in being reappointed. It is also generally understood that Pitts is insisting upon the removal of Dr. Coleman and at least the shifting of Honeycutt to some other position, if not his many years of service with the
