COURT REFORM ACT ATTACKED BY O'MAHONEY

Wyoming Democrat Declares It Would Deny Liberty

ASSAILS EFFORT TO FORCE VOTE

Opponents to Proposal Refuse to Allow Consideration of Any Other Bill

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told the Senate today the administration's court bill would give a president so minded "the power to wreck every vestige of human liberty."

His speech opened the second week of debate over the proposal. At the outset he attacked an anti-filibustering rule invoked by Administration Leader Robinson to force an eventual vote on the measure.

Resulting angry arguments led to charges and denials that a filibuster on the bill already was on the way.

In his speech the Wyoming senator attacked bitterly the compromise bill advanced as a substitute for the original Roosevelt court bill.

He clashed frequently with Robinson, who sat just a few seats in front of him.

"We are rapidly coming to the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States," he said, "and now we are asked to consider a bill to revolve the government."

"This bill should be called a bill to centralize the administration of justice and give a centralized government greater control over administration of justice than ever before in the history of the government."

Emphasizing that he was "not speaking of the present occupant of the white house," but of any "occupants" O'Mahoney asserted the issue was whether "any president" should be given such powers.

"If the bill is enacted, he declared, 'this generation may pass on and the next generation may be living under a system which constitutes a revolutionary change from the system handed down to us.'"

Just before O'Mahoney started speaking, he and other senators opposing the bill had blocked consideration of a conference report on the non-military appropriation bill of the War Department. They also blocked introduction of the McCull-Bope farm bill.

The parliamentary fight started shortly after noon when Senator Copeland (D. N. Y.) sought to obtain consideration for the conference report.

Tall, scholarly Senator Bailey (D. N. C.) was the other speaker of the day. Robinson asked unanimous consent to take up the report with an agreement limiting debate to two hours. O'Mahoney quickly objected.

Greenville Officers Get Stolen Money

Miss Sarah Weaver probably has the greatest confidence in the Greenville police department—and anyone else would feel the same way under similar circumstances.

Miss Weaver, who rooms with Mrs. W. L. Whichard of 106 East Ninth street left her pocketbook on the porch for a few minutes Saturday about noon to return and find it gone and with it approximately $70 in cash.

The local police department was notified and Chief George A. Clark and his men went into action and several hours later had apprehended two little Negroes and most of the money.

Woodrow Peyton, one of the Negroes, was said by Chief Clark to have taken the money home to his parents, who in turn gave it to two other Negroes and hid the boy, later taking him to Kinston. Discovering these facts, Chief Clark called the Kinston police and the boy was "picked up" there and returned here. About half of the $50 alleged to have been taken by the boy was recovered.

John Hardee Wooten, who allegedly took $23 of the money also was taken into custody after the money was found hid in his home.

Resume County Court Facing Heavy Docket

County court will be resumed here tomorrow morning with indications it will take two days to complete the work facing the tribunal.

No county court has been held here in several weeks and during the interim a large number of cases have been added to the docket. There were only a few cases pending, however, at the time the court recessed for the several weeks.

HOWLAND'S HEADQUARTERS

Waiting anxiously for sight or word from Earhart and Noonan were the occupants of the 'Government House' on Howland Island shown here. The fliers were to have used Howland as a refueling stop on the trans-Pacific leg of their world hop.

Two Persons Killed In Clash At Strike Scene

LOYAL FORCES ON OFFENSIVE

Spanish Government Troops Drive Against Rebel Forces

(By the Associated Press)

The Spanish government drive into insurgent siege lines west and northwest of Madrid today threatened the safety of thousands of insurgents outside the capital's gates.

Insurgent forces which have been besieging the city for more than eight months were in danger of being cut off. The government attacks reached a point 15 miles south of Madrid and drove a wedge toward an important insurgent supply base.

Official insurgent forces said "we have established a powerful line of fire against the enemy drive," and said the government had lost more than 10,000 dead and wounded in the offensive, aimed to break the siege of Madrid.

Near Valencia three government warships and an insurgent cruiser waged a naval battle, but shore witnesses said none of the vessels appeared to have been hit.

Great Britain's war against time to find a way of restarting the stalled machinery of non-intervention in the Spanish civil war. It was believed a British program for breaking the international non-intervention deadlock might be placed before the 27-nation neutrality committee within the next 48 hours.

Morehead City, July 12.—The State Board of Conservation and Development is in session today in its regular mid-summer meeting usually held here at which the board hears delegations of fishermen and sportsmen who may have any complaints or who may want changes in the rules and regulations. Most of this morning's session was devoted to the hearing of delegations.

The full board is expected to give its approval to all that has been done by this committee which

Total Deaths in Seven Weeks' Old Strike Now at 15

Massillon, Ohio, July 12.—(AP)—Two men died today of bullet wounds received in a clash between police and strikers near a Steel Workers Organizing Committee headquarters here, bringing to 15 the toll of the seven weeks old steel strike.

Six other persons were wounded in the clash. Police arrested 14 men charging them with suspicion and disorderly conduct or holding them on open charges for investigation.

Fulgencio Calvada, identified as a native of Mexico and a former Republic steel employe, was the first to die. Coroner Edward Reno said a .38 caliber revolver bullet crashed the back of Calvada's head.

Nick Valdes, 45, died of a gun shot wound in the abdomen several hours after the fighting. Police said they had not determined his affiliation.

Plans went forward meanwhile for the reopening of the last major units of steel mills closed by the strike, which at its height made 100,000 men idle in seven states. These are the works of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company at Indiana Harbor, Ind., where 7,700 workers have been idle.

In Columbus, Ohio, Federal Judge Mel Underwood ordered immediate hearing on its merits of a CIO suit to enjoin the use of National Guardsmen in the Mahoning strike zone. He reserved decision on efforts to obtain a change of venue.

Final Rites Held For Worthington Infant

Robert Bruce Worthington, three-day-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Worthington of near Winterville, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Services were conducted at the graveside in Greenwood cemetery at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Clarence Patrick, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church.

Besides his parents, the infant is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Thomas Redden, Elmer Clair, Reggie Rose, Virginia Dare, Fattie Corbett, Paul and Bettie Ruth.

Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, wife of Britain's former prime minister, says faulty nutrition has a great deal to do with deaths of mothers.

In different contests, Mrs. T. H. Adams of Gary, Ind., won an auto, Son Robert a wrist watch, Daughter Alice a dog.

Fruitless Search For Famous Flier Halted For Time

Hunt For Amelia Earhart, Believed Dead By Many Authorities Awaits Arrival of Aircraft Carrier Lexington

Honolulu, July 12.—(AP)—The vast mid-Pacific hunt for Amelia Earhart, missing flier, believed dead by some naval authorities, was halted today in the isolated Phoenix Islands sector and searchers awaited arrival of an aircraft carrier to open last-resort efforts.

The carrier, Lexington, steaming southward from here, was expected to reach the area and launch her 63 planes by Tuesday morning.

Read Admiral Orin Murfin, 14th naval district commandant, announced the navy had completed its fruitless search of the Phoenix Islands more than 200 miles below the equator and far south of the course Miss Earhart and her navigator had plotted in seeking Howland Island.

The aviator and her navigator, Frederick Noonan, disappeared July 2, presumably within a short distance of Howland Islands, their goal on a 2,570-mile flight from New Guinea.

Admiral Murfin said the Lexington, running far below its top speed, had been signed to "mop up" areas already scanned by planes from the battleship Colorado and to search other likely regions along the equator.

Fliers from the Colorado, who have searched thousands of square miles in the Howland area said they had lost hope.

"The Lexington will concentrate on a search of the sea west of the area previously hunted," Murfin said.

"There is always the possibility that the plane, if adrift, will be carried westward by currents."

RENEW BATTLE ORDERED JOIN RANKS OF CIO

Japan and China Engaged in Conflict Along River

Peiping, July 12.—(AP)—The rattle of machine guns tonight told Peiping that the five-day battle between Chinese and Japanese troops along the Yungting river, ten miles west of the city, had been resumed.

The new outbreak of firing began at 10 p. m. (9 a. m. EST) and half an hour later was still going furiously.

Resumption of fighting caused consternation to Peiping, where tension had been relaxed because the day had passed without further hostilities. An armistice had been in effect, although neither side would say an agreement had been reached.

It was the sixth night of the conflict along the Yungting, where Chinese and Japanese first clashed Wednesday night.

BIRD NESTS PRECIPITATE NEW CRISIS IN NANKING

Nanking (AP)—Nesting time means trouble time for the capital's power company and candle lit hours for its inhabitants.

Trees are plentiful in Nanking, but the city's crow and magpie population have gone modern to such an extent that they prefer electric wire clusters to grove and woodland for home sites. Wet twigs laid across two or more live wires have blown so many fuses and burned out so many insulators of late that the power company has appealed to the police to protect overhead lines, by force if necessary.

Opinion On Liquor Law Challenge To Dry Forces

Reflector Bureau
By J. C. BASKERVILLE
Raleigh, July 12.—Recent opinions handed down by Attorney General A. F. Seawell or Assistant Attorney General Harry McMullan with regard to the state's new and old liquor laws, including the so-called wine law, are regarded by many here as a very definite challenge to the dry forces in those counties which have chosen to remain dry, likewise a challenge to the law enforcement officers in those counties.

For if the dries in these counties really want to stop bootlegging and the sale of liquor and of hard liquors camouflaged as "fortified wines," they have plenty of law under which to act—provided they can get the law enforcement officers to act—it is being pointed out here.

Within the last few weeks, the Attorney General's office has ruled:

1. That the Turlington Act is still in effect in all counties except the 24 or 25 which voted for county liquor stores under the 1937 local option act, with the exception that it is now legal for any one to possess an transport as much as four pints, two quarts or one gallon even in so-called dry counties.

2. That search warrants may be issued, as in the past, by officers or citizens on information and belief, provided the necessary affidavits have been made out in advance of the issuance of warrants, so that officers have just as much authority as ever to issue warrants and raid places suspected of selling liquor.

3. That the sale of bottled highballs, either by the bottle or by the drink, which contain anything other than wine and neutral spirits, even though within the limit of 24 per cent alcohol by volume, is illegal in either wet or dry counties, unless sold in the liquor stores in wet counties.

4. That in order to be immune from the transporting and possession sections of the Turlington Act, persons transporting liquor from liquor stores in legally wet counties into dry counties, must have the pack-liquor stores under the 1937 local

FEAR FELT FOR ARMED STRIFE NORTH CHINA

Peace Between China and Japan Hangs In Balance

REINFORCEMENTS RUSHED TO SCENE

Both Nations Reported Sending Troop Reinforcements To Affected Area

Tokyo, June 12.—(AP)—Peace between Japan and China hung in a precarious balance today as both powers were reported rushing troop reinforcements to the North China area where fighting has been in progress since Wednesday.

"Adequate armed forces had been ordered to China, not only from Manchoukuo, but also from Korea and Japan proper, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japan's premier declared after an emergency cabinet meeting.

Reports that the Chinese government had refused to recognize any agreement made by local Chinese authorities in North China and had ordered 50,000 reinforcements to the zone caused observers there to declare they saw little prospect of avoiding war.

The Japanese government, a spokesman announced, would not negotiate settlements of the series of clashes with the Chinese Central government at Nanking. The incident, he said, was local and could be settled only by the military authorities on the spot.

Fighting broke out in the western suburbs of the former capital of China about Wednesday midnight during night maneuvers of the Japanese garrison stationed in North China under the Boxer treaty of 1901.

Japanese charged that troops were fired on by Chinese during the war games and were forced to defend themselves.

"What Japan wants from China," a government official said, "is an apology for unwarranted attacks, reparation for the slain Japanese soldiers and cessation of all anti-Japanese movements."

Advices from the Japanese general staff in North China declared all Japan's demand had been accepted "in their entirety" by the political council which governs the area.

The dispatch added, however, the official orders "can not be enforced among the Chinese troops of the 29th route army who are rapidly anti-Japanese. Optimism, therefore, is not permissible."

Department Wars On Phoney Peach Disease

Raleigh, July 12.—A war on Phoney peach disease to protect the state's $2,000,000 peach industry, will be waged by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture between now and September 15. The disease attacks the branches, twigs and fruit of the trees slowing the growth of the peach until it is so small that it is unfit for market. C. H. Brannon, head of the Department of Agriculture's entomology division, explained. Seven years ago the disease made its first appearance in the state and today the heaviest infection has been found in Anson, Cleveland, Gaston, Mecklenburg, Robeson, Rutherford, Stanly and Wake counties. The Department of Agriculture has revised its Phoney peach disease quarantine to cover all areas within the state that are known to be infected. At the present time the only control known for the disease is the removing of infected trees. There are 2,806,963 peach trees in North Carolina of bearing age. Reach Compromise Allowing Sabbath Shows In Raleigh

Movies to Continue in Capital City, Under Guise of Charity, as a Result of Agreement

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, July 12.—Sunday movies will continue to operate here without interruption, under the guise of charity, as a result of an agreement reached by Manager W. G. Enloe of the theaters operated here by the Carolina Theaters, Inc., of Charlotte and the local post of the American Legion, it was learned today. Details of the agreement were not revealed, but indications are that the theaters will give somewhere in the neighborhood of ten per cent of their gross receipts to the American Legion post to be used in its charitable work in the city and county. This agreement is expected to act as a life insurance policy for the theaters and protect them against the enactment of a Sunday closing ordinance by the city. Some ten days ago Manager Enloe notified O. S. Slaunwhite, commander of the local American Legion post, that after July 1 the theaters would no longer turn over 14 per cent of the gross receipts of their Sunday shows to the Legion charity fund, as they had been doing for more than two years. Legion officials immediately protested, maintained that the theater manager had made a verbal contract with them to donate 15 per cent of the Sunday gross receipts to the Legion for charitable work as long as Sunday shows should continue and that this action by Enloe was a breach of a valid contract. For several days there was talk of trying to get the city council to enact an anti-Sunday movies ordinance on the grounds that Sunday shows were a nuisance.

But if limiting is not accompanied by other sound farm practices, such as rotations, fertilization, green manuring, and proper tillage, it is better not to lime at all," said Erickson. "High Point, July 12.—The use of lime can play an important part in the conservation of soil, particularly in sections where heavy clay soils that are low in organic content predominate, according to E. T. Erickson, project manager of the soil conservation service in High Point. Lime, which "sweetens" the soil by neutralizing acids, makes conditions favorable for the growth of many plants, especially legumes. A thick, vigorous stand of vegetation decreases the speed and cutting power of run-off water, increases the organic content of the soil, and makes the soil sponge-like in structure, thereby minimizing erosion. The beneficial effect of liming soil is three-fold, Erickson said. Its use improves soils chemically, biologically, and physically. Speaking of the improvement in the chemical composition of soil caused by liming, Erickson pointed out that lime contains calcium, an element essential to the growth of plants. From the biological point of view, Erickson said that the numerous organisms in the soil beneficial to plant growth are "lime loving." In a sweet soil they are active, causing the organic matter to decay,

High Point, July 12.—The use of lime can play an important part in the conservation of soil, particularly in sections where heavy clay soils that are low in organic content predominate, according to E. T. Erickson, project manager of the soil conservation service in High Point.

Ready For Showers New York (AP)—Mademoiselle's evening gown may now be treated with a water-repellent finish. Consequently, she is prepared for dancing at the seashore, or for an unexpected shower inland.

Season of Stripes New York, July 12.—(AP)—It's a season of stripes. Everything is made of striped materials. Evening gowns, afternoon frocks, blouses, scarfs, bags and right down to shoes—all are striped in gay colors.

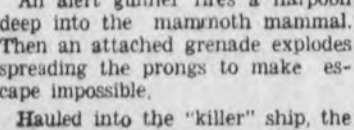

Celery Men Vs. Deer Herd owners in this region, while sympathetic with aims of conservationists, wish someone could do something about keeping deer within bounds. Ten years ago a group of sportsmen released 10 deer in bottom lands of the Kalamazoo river. Now, celery men say, the herd has increased 250 and is causing severe damage to their crops.

'Moby Dick' Hasn't A Chance When Modern Killers Attack

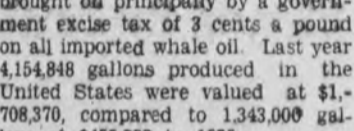

1—WHALE, HO!

(By the AP Feature Service) "THAR SHE BLOWS" is echoing again from crow's nest lookouts as the American whaling industry snaps out of the doldrums it has been in for years.

2—TAKE AIM

An alert gunner fires a harpoon deep into the mammoth mammal. Then an attached grenade explodes spreading the prongs to make escape impossible.

3—A SKEINE

Hauled into the "killer" ship, the whale is towed to a huge sea-gong factory capable of extracting oil from as many as 15 in one day. This modern, efficient method—very much different from the days of "Moby Dick" when harpoons were thrown by hand from small boats—is one reason for the boom brought on principally by a government excise tax of 3 cents a pound on all imported whale oil. Last year 4,154,848 gallons produced in the United States were valued at $1,708,370, compared to 1,343,000 gallons at $455,320 in 1935.

LIME IS USED TO IMPROVE SOIL

High Point, July 12.—The use of lime can play an important part in the conservation of soil, particularly in sections where heavy clay soils that are low in organic content predominate, according to E. T. Erickson, project manager of the soil conservation service in High Point. Lime, which "sweetens" the soil by neutralizing acids, makes conditions favorable for the growth of many plants, especially legumes. A thick, vigorous stand of vegetation decreases the speed and cutting power of run-off water, increases the organic content of the soil, and makes the soil sponge-like in structure, thereby minimizing erosion. The beneficial effect of liming soil is three-fold, Erickson said. Its use improves soils chemically, biologically, and physically. Speaking of the improvement in the chemical composition of soil caused by liming, Erickson pointed out that lime contains calcium, an element essential to the growth of plants. From the biological point of view, Erickson said that the numerous organisms in the soil beneficial to plant growth are "lime loving." In a sweet soil they are active, causing the organic matter to decay,

Deaths Recorded in Black Folders By Parole Office

Raleigh, July 12.—The case records of all prisoners sentenced to death are bound in black folders in the office of Commissioner of Paroles Edwin Gill—not because the color was thought to be appropriate but for purposes of easy identification in the files, Commissioner Gill said today. "I don't know why we decided to use black folders for the death cases, unless they afforded the most contrast with the other colors used," Commissioner Gill said. "These folders do make it much easier for the file clerks to find them, however." Commissioner Gill has three of these sombre, black folders on his desk today—the case records of three men, all Negroes, scheduled to die in the state's lethal gas chamber at Central Prison Friday morning of this week. These folders contain the records of Fred Steele and Sam Jones, two Charlotte Negroes convicted of the murder of a taxi driver there about a year ago, and of Brady Laurence, Iredell county Negro, under death sentence for the murder of a white man in an argument that developed at the commencement exercises of a Negro school in the Scott's community in Iredell county some months ago. All three of these convicted Negro murders must die in the gas chamber Friday morning unless Commissioner Gill recommends clemency for them and Governor Clyde R. Hoey grants it. Indications are that a temporary reprieve will be granted either Laurence or Steele and Jones, since prison authorities do not like to execute more than two men on the same day. Commissioner Gill said that he had not yet reached a decision as to what he would recommend to the Governor. Each of the black-bound folders contains the picture, prison record, health record and examination, finger print records and all official communications concerning the prisoners from the judge, solicitor and other officers, also his complete case record as compiled by the welfare officer who has interviewed the prisoner. These folders are filed away after the prisoners have been executed. When Stanley Healey, head of an Australian farm school, sailed for England he took 300 letters from his pupils. He planned to read one a day.

Snow Hill, July 12.—Snow Hill's Cecil Longest's four-hit hurling, coupled with an act by the "homer triplets" caused the downfall of the Greenville Greenies in the Greene county capital yesterday afternoon. The final score turned out to be 5-2.

It was Peahawk Walker's boys' seventh consecutive victory and their 16th in the last 18 games. It also was their third victory over the Greenies in the past few days. The Billies took Saturday's game by a score of 5-4.

The Snow Hill victory made Cecil Longest's record for the season 10 wins and 3 defeats.

Longest let the Greenies down without a hit for six innings—Kenosh broke the spell with a single—and shut out the visitors until the eighth. The Greenies got a single in that frame—by Karl Williams' single—a walk to Freddie Caliguri, and a single by John Rudisill—and one tally in the ninth—a walk to Farley. Norwood's single, a walk to Johnson, and Hambright's fly.

The "homer triplets" act came in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames. Joe Blistoff led off the fifth with the first. Harry Soufas led of the sixth with a second, and Robby Robinson led of the seventh with another. That three blows ran the Billies' lead to seven runs.

Snow Hill's big inning was the fifth, when they registered four tallies. Singles by Latham, Hyder, Soufas and Longest, combined with Rabb's sacrifice, a hit batsman ticket for Mewborn, and an infield out, made up the attack.

Singles in the second and eighth rounded out the Billies' work. In all, the locals got 13 hits. The fielding of Greenville's Kenosh and the Billies Rabb and Mewborn offered other featured of the game.

WHAT IT MEANS: Border Gunfire In The Far East

THE FAR EASTERN STAGE Russia and Japan have the leads in the dangerous drama of border clashes. Long arrow shows distances from Moscow and Tokyo to the most recent clashes on the Amur river. Short arrows indicate other skirmishes.

MORGAN M. BEATTY tells in this week's "WHAT IT MEANS" story the background of the trouble developing in the far east as related to the recent skirmishes on the Soviet-Manchoukuoan border.

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
(Associated Press Feature Service Writer)

WASHINGTON — Every time pistol fire disturbs the air over the Soviet-Manchoukuoan border in the far east, the world shoots an apprehensive glance toward Moscow and Tokyo.

Are Japan and Soviet Russia about to start another war? World diplomats frown, confer and hope not.

In fact, the belief here is that the open skirmishing is nothing more than natural heat-lightening that occurs intermittently along any unmarked boundary in a near-wilderness. And certainly the Amur river dividing the Soviet and Japan's puppet state is a shifty, hazy boundary, if ever there was one.

But the real international fear is that Japanese and Russian zealots may be magnifying the border explosions to stir up patriotic fervor among non-too-enthusiastic populations.

As for the border troops, themselves, the military men on both sides of the river have to keep their official noses clean. Just to show enthusiasm and pride, they must report back home that they're telling the other fellow "where to get off," and following up the verbal assaults with appropriate battle-fire.

And so the vicious circles whirl steadily on—to what? Few disinterested watchers doubt current Japanese budget is one of the largest in the nation's history, and what makes matters worse, taxpayers are shouldering heavier taxes to keep the military machine up to snuff. Nearly half the budget is going to the army and navy. Heretofore, the large business—ginning with the Manchoukuoan conquest in 1932 have been financed by loans instead of additional taxes.

And incidentally, prices have been rising in Japan, even on food in the great Tokyo markets. Combine all those factors and you have the elements of discontent, or at best, an apathetic interest in many quarters in the army's scheme to build a machine as big as Soviet Russia's.

Russia's Satiation
New look at Russia:

Widespread confusion and fear have followed the execution of nearly 200 citizens accused of trying to sabotage the Stalin government.

Eight of the executed persons were among the most brilliant generals in the Soviet Army. It is whispered in Great Britain that these generals were trying to form a military alliance with the German army to pave the way for military dictatorships in both countries and thereby cut down the power of Hitler and Stalin.

Official reports of sabotage continue to fill the Russian press, with the second 5-year industrial plan drawing to a close this year. If these reports are true, the question immediately arises: has Stalin's second five-year plan actually failed?

If it has, what effect will that failure have on the already-projected third five-year plan, during which Russia's are expected to "overtake and surpass" the United States industrially?

Meanwhile the financial status of the nation remains a mystery, but it is plain enough that Stalin has been encouraging any scheme that will give the nation a common subject for enthusiasm. The darkening polar fights are an example. And while he warns the nation of its enemies without, what better proof that such enemies are active than the Manchoukuoan border clashes? He used one of the recent border clashes as a springboard for a huge domestic defense loan.

International Comparison
Now look at the international position of the two nations:

Japan is pledged in a treaty with Germany to fight off the spread of communism. This encourages stories in the press relating the communist menace, and army statements that Japan must continue to build her military machine.

The Russian press has long told its readers to prepare for war against those who would destroy communism. With Japan and Germany openly pledged to such destruction, the common foe must be Germany and Japan. Stalin has been sending reinforcements to the far east provinces along the Manchoukuoan border, and he may have established a self-sufficient army around Vladivostok. But have military executions disturbed the morale of that army? Maybe the Japanese can find out through "border clashes." Maybe.

Ever since he was 15 years old George Tebbetts had been groomed to take over the back-stopping job for the Detroit Tigers. The late Frank Navin saw a potential big league catcher in the boy and financed him through Providence college. He was really Tiger property even then. And when he had college he reported to the Springfield club of the Three-I league. Then on to Beaumont, the Tigers' farm in the Texas league.

He came up to the Tigers last September and caught the last 10 games of the season under Mickey Cochrane's orders. Cochrane was grooming him to take over the catcher's post when he, Mickey, was ready to lay aside his pads and mask. That would not be for at least a year, Cochrane figured.

When Mickey was accidentally cut down by one of Bump Hadley's wild pitches, the green 22-year-old youngster was put on the spot. He was sent in to take Cochrane's place behind the bat. There was the veteran Ray Hayworth ready to take over the job now and then, but Ray was not equal to the task of catching every day. It was plainly up to Tebbetts.

The way the youngster responded was a revelation to even his greatest admirers. Right from the start he showed that he had the mechanical requisites of a good catcher—he could throw, handled the pitchers well, kept the runners close to the bags. He showed rare judgment in signaling for pitches.

For one thing, he is not afraid to throw to the bases. He is ever ready to call for a pitchout in order to try to trap runners wandering too far off the bags. He's a rugged ad. too, and one who can hold up his end in a scrap when the occasion demands it.

Conference Is Called In Rocky Mount Area

Louisburg, July 12.—The first meetings in the Rocky Mount District of the North Carolina Methodist Conference in connection with the $100,000 Louisville College Forward Movement program will be held during the next few days, it has just been announced.

Two meetings in this district are to be held, the first at Weldon and the second at Wilson. The Wilson meeting is to be held on Tuesday, July 13 at eight o'clock and the one at Weldon is scheduled earlier in the day at four in the afternoon.

The meetings are being called by Rev. J. M. Culbreth, Presiding Elder in the Rocky Mount district, who will introduce the speakers. Expected to attend and take part also are Rev. J. O. L. Long of Weldon, district director and Mr. Wade A. Gardner of Wilson, district chairman.

Ayden Tops Goldbug Nine By Score Of 8-4

Ayden.—The work of a pair of pitchers—one appearing in a relief role and the other serving as an outfielder—set the pace for the Aces as they turned back Goldsboro's Bugs Sunday, 8-4.

The pitching pitcher was Earl Webb, who blanked the Bugs for six innings while his mates got to work and came from behind to win the game. The outfielding pitcher was Mackie, who took the place of the injured Manager Monk Joyner in leftfield and batted three hits—a homer, a double, and a single—to pace the Aces' attack. Joyner was cut of the game due to recurrence of a shoulder injury.

A two-run rally by the Aces in the third tied the score and a four-run spurge in the fifth that wound up the game's scoring clinched victory for the locals. Jirak started the big fifth with a double. Corrado did the same, and scored a moment later as Mackie homered. Baker and Johnson singled, and Pete Kunis, Goldsboro starter, went to the showers. Bunn Hearn, Jr., took the mound and issued a pass to McCormick. Baker scored on Webb's infield out.

In the second, singles by Mackie and Johnson and a double by Lami produced two runs. The Aces' fourth inning runs came on Mackie's double, a fielder's choice, Johnson's single, and Vick's wild throw.

Goldsboro's big third, which brought Webb onto the mound in place of Lanier, was started by Coombs' single. He stole second and scored on Overton's single. Overton took second on the throw-in, and scored on Ball's single. Vick tripled and Inastack drew a walk. This brought Webb to the hill, and he forced Daniels to hit into a double play.

Hearn did a nice piece of relief work for the Bugs, but it was too late. During his turn of three and two-third innings, Hearn yielded not a single hit.

AHEAD OF HERSELF. Betty Ann Laxton, 32 months old, Muskogee, Okla., has the vocabulary of an 8-year-old and is rated "above genius."

Williamston In Win Over Eagles, 10 To 3

Williamston.—The Martins continued their 1,000 gait for season's play against Kinston by defeating the Eagles, 10-3, today behind fine hurling of Larry Wade. Wade struck out 10 and kept the Eagles' hits nicely separated. It was Williamston's 10th win in as many games with Kinston and the seventh victory in a current winning streak.

Art Hauger's locals elected a dozen hits—two homers, four doubles, a triple, five singles.

Deim and Wade hit the homers. Deim hit his with two on in Williamston's four-run third inning. Deim also opened the fifth, which advanced on Villapique's sacrifice, scored on Stanley's double. Stevens walked, McCay grounded out, and Deim sent the ball for an out-of-park ride. Pitcher Wade's homer opened the locals' fourth. Howard Earp followed with a triple, the signal for Manager Krim Bess of the Eagles to decide he'd had enough as the visitors' hurler. Villapique greeted Bess' successor, Bill Sekeres with a single. A sacrifice and an infield out brought Villapique around.

Stringfellow, third Kinston hurler, took over with one out in Williamston's three-run fifth. He stopped the rally in that inning and pitched one-hit ball the rest of the way.

Howard Earp was the batting star for the Martins. He hit a single, a double, and a single. Wyrastek and Gillenwater, with three hits each, led Kinston.

Now Bern Wallops Serpents for 8-1 Win

NEW BERN.—Lanky Stuart Flythe continued his comeback climb in organized ball by offering a convincing one-hit pitching job against Tarboro as New Bern won Sunday, 8 to 1.

Flythe came very close to a no-hit game, and it wasn't the fault of Worless Knowles, New Bern right-fielder, that the former State College athlete missed. Catcher Quinn of the Serpents slashed a liner to right in the third—Knowles came in fast, grabbed the ball off his shoestrings, somersaulted and came up with the ball. Umpire Cone, nearest arbiter to the action, ruled Quinn safe at first. Evidently the umpire's view was that Knowles had dropped the ball, getting it on a hop.

Today's hurling by Flythe was his second fine performance against Tarboro in five days—he pitched and batted the Bears to a 1-0 win over Fred Henry's club in a 13-inning game here Wednesday.

Tarboro's run in today's game resulted from a couple of errors. Savage was safe in the ninth when Miller erred on a grounder. Douglas aided Henry's bouncer but threw wild to second. Savage taking third, Flythe fanned Malone, but Myers' outfield fly scored Savage. Flythe then lanned Carnahan to end the game.

Sith's double, a walk to Knowles and Douglas's safe bunt filled the bases with Bears in the third. Thornton's outfield fly scored Sith, but Knowles was thrown out. Sheppard's single scored Douglas, and the throw-in permitted Sheppard to take second. Flythe's single scored Shep.

Flythe doubled in the fourth to score Thornton, who had singled and scored a bit later on Miller's single.

Hautz, Tarboro's starting hurler, worked six runs in his seven innings. He led Malone took over the right. The new hurler retired two batters but then ran into trouble—Theole doubled and Mullinax homered.

Tex Thornton, filling in in the outfield for the injured Ed Black, hit a double and two singles, to share New Bern batting honors with Burch Douglass, who hit three singles.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - Whenever some unit of government, industry or labor shows a tendency to go haywire, events always seem to occur that arouse the public's indignation to act as a brake.

Labor got in bad by carrying the sit-down strike to excess in the automobile plants. Steel employers struck a sour note by declining to deal with labor leaders, and later had to modify their position.

Now, the police get theirs in a news film of the Memorial Day shooting of steel strikers in Chicago.

Sickening Scenes

Go to see it, and sit through a second showing. You see strike demonstrators backing away from a first display of gas and guns. They turn in seeming panic, then there is a burst of gunfire. Shirt-sleeved strikers fall in a wave. Police close in, clubs fly, cracking on the heads and shoulders of the fleeing as well as the fallen.

It's ghastly, and you feel more shock than anger. An officer strolls into the face of the camera, grins wryly at a fellow officer. There is no use getting mad about it. The shooting and clubbing seem utterly wanton and the police attempt at justification sounds futile.

How Not To Do

For a dozen years, or as long as that Chicago Memorial day affair can be remembered, every policeman in the land should be shown that picture. It should be run off before him while he is a recruit and again from time to time as he grows seasoned in the work.

Remember Chicago.

HOW BRITAIN WOULD CARVE UP PALESTINE (Inset Shows Palestine's Relation To Its Neighbors)

(By the AP Feature Service)

After-effects of the World war, continuing to agitate Europe, are now having repercussions in the Holy Land, where a British commission has proposed the partition of Palestine to end Jewish-Arab outbreaks and bring to fulfillment two British promises dating from the European conflict.

among the Arab and Jewish populations of Palestine, and particularly the influx of Jews escaping from persecution in Central Europe, made peaceful solution well-nigh impossible.

The commission has recommended partition of the Holy Land into sovereign Jewish and Arabian states, with a new British mandate over an area containing Jerusalem, Bethlehem and Nazareth.

Small Sized

Palestine is about 140 miles long, 25 miles wide at the top, and 80 miles wide in the south. It contains some 9,000 square miles, an area which even a small American state could tuck away in a corner.

How's Your Health?

Edited for the New York Academy of Medicine

By Dr. Jago Goldstein

Ten Dietary Essentials

Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, professor of nutrition at Teachers College, Columbia University, recently listed ten dietary essentials. Five of these represent calories, protein, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

The average American diet is not lacking in calories. It is quite likely, however, to be deficient in protein, and even more so in calcium, phosphorus and iron.

These deficiencies could be appreciably corrected by adding to the common diet milk and milk foods, tomatoes, cod liver oil, green vegetables and the whole grain cereals.

The science of nutrition is highly complicated. To acquire a thorough knowledge of the caloric requirements of the body, of its protein needs, of the different vitamins, etc., calls for years of close study.

This function is to supply the body with the materials required for work, growth and the replacement of worn-out tissues. Not all foods can fulfill each of these requirements. Some, like the starches, are fuel or energy foods. Others, like the proteins, are tissue building foods.

RED NAPOLEON READY FOR FAR EAST CRISIS

(By the AP Feature Service)

Upon the strategy of a bushy-browed "Red Napoleon" hang Soviet Russia's hopes for maintaining her position in the far east if war comes with Japan.

MARSHAL BLEUCHER

Russia Counts On Him

Marshal Vasily Konstantinovich Blyucher, veteran Asiatic campaigner, commands an estimated 400,000 men in eastern Siberia. Clashes between some of his units and Japanese-led troops along the Siberian-Manchukuo border have given the world as many war scares as the conflict in Spain.

Read For Year's Siege

Should the long-ferred conflict break out, Blyucher would be practically on his own. Fresh troops and supplies would lie thousands of miles away, in Russia proper.

Blyucher is 48 year old. He has a bulbous nose, typically Russian, and a bristling mustache. Hard, cold eyes stare from under his heavy brows.

Of humble origin, he was an agitator against the czar and was frequently in trouble with pre-revolutionary authorities. During the World War he was founded while fighting with the czar's army and subsequently discharged from service.

Most Important Post

He resumed revolutionary activities and during the civil war won renown as a red army commander. In 1935, when titles were introduced into the soviet armed forces, he was elevated to the rank of "Marshal of the Soviet Union." His present post is considered to be the most important under the red flag.

RIVER EXPERTS FIGHT FLOW OF 'FRANKENSTEIN'

HERE'S HOW the man-made San Simon river cuts away Arizona banks when the flood stage sends it on a soil-eating orgy.

(By the AP Feature Service)

SAFFORD, Ariz. - A destructive 60-mile river has come into being near here as the result of farmers' attempts to "improve" a vast, once fertile valley.

Now the government is trying to check the Frankenstein by planting grass and creosote bushes along its banks. It is estimated $840,000 must be spent to salvage what is left of the 750,000 acres of farm and grazing land in San Simon valley, through which the new stream snakes its way.

First embodied by the late Will C. Barnes, Arizona pioneer and writer, the rich valley quickly attracted farmers and Texas cattlemen. Annoyed by spring freshets, the settlers dug a small drainage ditch and ploughed furrows to direct the water to it.

From this beginning the San Simon river sprang, attaining a depth of 30 feet and spreading to a width of several hundred. When rain falls, many tons of soil are washed away and networks of muddy gorges replace the "beautiful grassy meadow" that awakened Barnes' admiration back in 1882.

Soil conservation engineers will try to "anchor" adjacent soil by planting the native shrubs.

SURVEY SHOWS BIG PIG CROP

Raleigh, July 12.-AP - W. H. Rhodes, chief of the State Department of Agriculture's statistical division, reported today the spring pig crop in North Carolina "is 24 per cent more this year than last spring and producers report intentions of farrowing 10 per cent more sows during the fall of 1937 than in the fall of last year."

"Of all states having more than 100,000 breeding sows, North Carolina has decidedly the largest percentage increase in farrowing this spring," he added. "While far heel growers greatly increased their 1937 farrowings and hog breeding intentions, the country as a whole showed a decided decrease."

State Department of Agriculture authorities estimated that there 116,000 farrowing sows in the state during the past spring, or 15 per cent more than were farrowed in the spring of 1936, 26 per cent more than in 1935 and 22 per cent more than the average for the past 14 years of record.

With an estimated 104,000 sows bred for farrowing this fall, the pig crop is scheduled to be the greatest since 1933 and one of the largest since 1924, last fall producers reported their intentions of increasing their spring farrowing nine per cent, but the actual farrowing was 15 per cent more or six per cent more than earlier intended.

ment officers in the dry counties have plenty of law with which to drive out bootleggers, dry up "nip joints," hush up "speak easies" and stop the sale of highballs, both bottled and bar-made, generally known to be prevalent throughout many of the dry counties, on the excuse that they are legal under the state's wine law. It is generally admitted. Here in Raleigh the city police have made hundreds of raids since the county voted dry and made the city drier than it has been in 15 years, although the rural wet spots out in the county are said to be almost as wet as ever. Reports received by the state liquor control board are to the effect that the sale of cocktails under the guise of fortified wines has been almost entirely stopped in the counties having liquor stores, largely because the sale of these highly powerful concoctions of colored alcohol, artificial fruit flavors and a dash of cheap wine were cutting heavily into liquor store sales.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Josh Hastings, partner of the Flying Six, tries to buy Kay Cranston's Lazy Nine after her ranch house and barn burn.

ing you the best offer you're likely to get. "Perhaps," Kay turned to the door to hide the flash of anger she felt against her aunt for being such an easy tool in Josh Hastings' hands.

Chapter 23

A Moonlight Ride

It was quite dark when Kay clattered up the Flying Six ranch house. At her whoopee, Babs and Ruth came dashing out.

"Well, well, bless me if you don't all look the same age!" Josh Hastings got up and came toward them.

Kay instantly straightened up and smoothed her hair. It was all she could do to repress the angry contempt and scorn she felt for this man, who had tried by such sneaking means to get the best of her.

"Where've you been all day?" Aunt Kate's querulous question broke the awkward moment.

"I was terribly sorry not to get over sooner," she contritely went over and kissed her, "but I was waiting around for Ted Gaynor to come back with his mother and sister."

A curious pause followed these words, and something made Kay glance up keenly at Josh Hastings.

Kay felt a cold unreasoning clutch at her spine. With great difficulty, she repressed the involuntary shudder that contracted her muscles.

The memory of that premonition she had had when Ted said goodbye to her flashed over her again, but she sternly ignored it. No matter what Josh Hastings had tried to do to her, she couldn't blame him for Ted's failure to appear!

"I reckon you've made a mistake, taking on that man and a whole parcel of relatives," Aunt Kate broke through the strained moment.

Josh Hastings let out a great gasp. "Trust Aunt Kate to hit the nail on the head!" he exclaimed, with indulgent appreciation.

"Sure I have," Aunt Kate agreed complacently, a pleased smile on her lips at the flattery of her host's glance.

"Perhaps I have made a mistake," Kay obeyed a sudden mischievous impulse. "If they weren't coming, you and Babs could come back now and have that cabin."

"Well, seein' you've promised it to them, I reckon you'll have to see it through."

Kay smiled at Aunt Kate's hurried change of tactics, as she saw herself transferred from the comfort of her present quarters to the rigors of the pioneer life in a small cabin.

Unavoidable Escort

"HOW about that timberland you were thinking of buying the last time you were here?" Josh Hastings' tone was elaborately careless as he put this question, but his eyes were alert as he studied Kay's expression to try to discover whether Scrap Johnson had told her what his errand to town that day had been.

The fact that Kay had come over to the Flying Six would seem to indicate that she had not discovered his effort to double-cross her, but Josh Hastings was eager to get this point cleared up. If Scrap had told her, he'd have quite a bit of explaining to do, and he had a plausible yarn all ready. But if she knew nothing about it, his best line obviously was to let well enough alone.

"Oh, yes, I was telling you about that!" Kay met his glance with wide-eyed innocence. "I bought it up. In fact, one of my punchers was in town attending to it for me that afternoon I was here. Didn't I mention it?"

"No, you didn't," Josh Hastings' efforts to conceal his feelings were less successful than Kay's, and she smiled inwardly at his disgusted tone.

"Well, if you take my advice, you'll sell out while you've got a chance," Aunt Kate put in her word. "Josh Hastings, here, is giv-

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, July 12.—(AP)—With U. S. Steel, crossing 111, its best level for the recent recovery, for a gain of around three points, the stock market leaders today took a turn for the better.

While the rally lacked speed, general gains of fractions to two or more points were well distributed near the fourth hour.

Grains dipped and other commodities were mixed. Bonds were without definite trends.

Merchandising, farm implements, and aircraft issues were in the forefront of the advance. Many utilities and rails did little either way.

Apparently settlement of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Aluminum company strikes helped bolster sentiment. Wall street continued to feel most labor controversies would be ironed out soon.

In the matter of U. S. Steel some analytical quarters estimated second quarter profits of the corporation would exceed $3 a common share.

Stocks took their cue from the steels and selected issues pushed up fractions to three or more points.

Only moderate activity accompanied the forward tilt. Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

Enzo Fiermonte—From Bathing Beach to Work-House

(By the AP Feature Service)

Four years of life with his wealthy wife, the former Mrs. Madeline Force Astor Dick, have permitted handsome, Italian-born Enzo Fiermonte to spice his career with varied pursuits. A five-day sentence for speeding adds the latest chapter to the story of the emigrant prize fighter whose manly beauty brought him a fortune he'd never have earned in the ring. Here's a picture account of the Adventures of Enzo:

His Job Is 'Tough'

MAJOR SMITH

Miami, Fla. (AP)—It's still a tough job being a military pilot. So says Major Bernard L. Smith, 52, oldest active officer in the navy or marine corps.

"Look at the instrument board," he says. "It's all one man can do to keep up with the instruments."

Major Smith, who commands the marine aviation unit at Opa-Locka, got his first flying orders May 21, 1912. He was "naval aviator No. 6"—only five men received flying orders from the navy before he came along.

The greatest development in aviation? In motors: "They just don't seem to fall any more."

Since he calls his job tough, has he had narrow escapes? No: "I've never had to bail out. I've been in only two accidents, the last one in 1914."

New York Cotton

New York, July 12.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, up one to six points on improved Liverpool cables and commission house buying.

The market remained quiet, but a little local selling appeared when the demand tapered off. October, which had sold off from 12.48 to 12.40, was 12.43 at midday, when prices generally were one to four points net higher.

Cotton futures closed steady, one to five lower. Spot steady, middling 12.87.

CALL MEETING TALK NEW LAW

Problems in Fertilizer Industry Will Be Discussed

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, July 12.—Problems of the fertilizer industry and the new North Carolina fertilizer law will be discussed at an all-day meeting of manufacturers, chemists and agronomists called by the State Department of Agriculture for Tuesday morning, July 13 in the agricultural building. It was announced today by Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott.

D. S. Coltrane, chief fertilizer inspector and assistant to the commissioner of agriculture, will preside at the meeting. Commissioner Scott will deliver the address of welcome.

All interested persons are invited to attend the session.

The following towns will be represented: Go/eboro, Wilson, Farmville, Greenville, Washington, New Bern, Kinston, Wilmington, Smithfield, Fayetteville, Red Springs, Lumberton, Laurinburg, Rockingham, Angier, Monroe, Wadesboro, Davidson, Mooresville, Newton, Shelby, Salisbury, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Pine Level, Dunn, Lillington, Sanford, Rocky Mount, Raleigh, Williamston and Hertford.

The theme of the meeting will be: "Manufacturing Fertilizer to Comply with the New North Carolina Law."

WRITING FROM CHINA? DON'T TELL SECRETS

Shanghai (AP)—For a few cents, professional letter writers will turn out a missive on love, business or just folksy chit chat for the folks back on the farm.

Plenty of flourishes and a semi-classical style mark the prose of the professionals who still hold forth from one end of the country to the other, although the government's drive on illiteracy may eventually mean their doom.

The only disadvantage is that everybody else knows what you're writing, too. Curious passersby stop to listen to the letter as it is dictated and even peek over the writer's shoulders as he brushes the mysterious characters.

Automobile accidents caused 4-352 deaths in 125 major cities of the U. S. during the first 24 weeks of 1937, compared with 3,592 auto deaths in the same cities during the corresponding period of 1936.

Under a pile of dirty rags whereon Beggar Raymond Gran of Paris, France was found dead, police discovered $15,000 in stocks and bonds.

Her Job Is 'Easy'

MRS. LANGFORD

Houston, Texas. (AP)—It's an easy job being an air mail guard. And Mrs. Ruth Langford, probably the only woman air mail driver in the United States, enjoys her work.

Eight times every day Mrs. Langford and her husband carry the mail between the Houston postoffice and the municipal airport.

Mrs. Langford's hand is always near the holster on the airport-postoffice trips.

Is she afraid? "Of course not."

Where did she learn to shoot? In Georgia—"knocking squirrels out of trees."

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

The following real estate transfers were recorded in the offices of the Pitt county Register of Deeds during the past week:

James L. Evans, Jr. to R. C. Flanagan, Jr., 1 lot $170.00; Carrier Bell Ross, to J. H. Ross, 1-2 interest in 347 acres, $100.00; Kelly Mills, Jr., to C. R. Mills 4 54-100 acres, $350; George L. Madry, Jr. and wife to Della Robinson 1-3 interest in 209 acres, $100.00; George L. Madry, Jr. and wife to Vance L. Robinson, 1-3 interest in 200 acres, $100.00; Victoria M. Clark, to Isaac McCoy, lot 5.00; Pauline T. Griffin, to Maggie L. Clark, lot 10.00; D. S. Wilson et al. to W. H. White, lot 100.00; Louis Daniels, to C. H. McGowan 15-1-10 acres $350.00; Town of Greenville to D. Alton Gardner, lot $73.50.

YOUNG NAZIS TOLL TO READ THE PAPERS

Berlin (AP)—One hour's regular newspaper study a week in German schools is recommended by Education Minister Bernhard Rust, who says: "German newspapers constitute the nation's diary, and the link between Fuehrer and people. The young generation must familiarize itself with the great happenings of the day in the fatherland."

Sometimes 5,000 persons a day visit the bureau of engraving where money is made in Washington.

...different from all the rest

Just as the savory aroma of appetizing food is half the pleasure of eating, so the fragrance of fine tobaccos is half the pleasure of smoking.

That's the reason we go half way around the world for the costly aromatic Turkish tobaccos that help give Chesterfields their more pleasing aroma.

Blended with mild sun-ripened home-grown tobaccos they make Chesterfields milder and better-tasting
