HOEY INVITES PROPOSALS ON TAX QUESTION

Suggests Commission Make Concrete Recommendations

HENRY BRANDIS NAMED SECRETARY

Governor Asks Tax Classification Body to Study Homestead Exemptions in Detail

Raleigh, July 15.—(AP)—Governor Hoey suggested to the tax classification amendment commission today that it make any "concrete recommendations" it desired to about the tax structure of the state instead of merely studying the question of classification of property for taxation.

The commission held its first meeting this morning with the Governor and after chose Henry Brandis Jr. associate director of the institute of government at Chapel Hill as executive secretary. It was indicated Brandis would be paid about $3,600 a year.

Under the legislation resolution authorizing appointment of the commission it is empowered to study the question of classification as authorized by a 1936 constitutional amendment, and also the matter of exemption owner-occupied homesteads from taxation up to $1,000 in tax valuation.

"I expect the commission to go fully and in detail into the matter of homestead exemption and classification," said Governor Hoey, "but I also suggest that in its investigation it make any recommendation it desires concerning the whole tax structure."

RECOVER PART STOLEN MONEY

Minister Is Charged with Robbing and Killing Woman

Paris, Mo., July 15.—(AP)—Prosecuting Attorney Tom Proctor of Monroe county announced today recovery of $1,900 he said presumably had been taken from Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45-year-old church worker whose battered body was found late Tuesday floating in the Mississippi river near Louisiana, Mo.

Proctor said the money was taken to the home of Sheriff Russell Wilkes at 2 a. m. today by Miss Myra Hanan, who has made her home here with the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Newton since her childhood. He quoted Miss Hanan as saying Newton, 51, a northern Missouri Baptist minister for 30 years who yesterday was charged in a warrant with the slaying of Mrs. Kelly had given her the money which he described as "valuable papers" Tuesday when he left to officiate at a funeral.

He related Miss Hanan said she opened the envelope after learning of the strange death of Mrs. Kelly. The minister steadfastly denies any connection with Mrs. Kelly's death. Proctor said Sheriff Wilkes said Miss Hanan and Noel Newton, son of the accused minister "admitted burning some women's clothing the son found in his father's car Tuesday night when he drove her to O'Leary."

Within a short while Miss Appie Daniels became ill and the too was advised to have her appendix removed. The twins, who are related to Dr. W. I. Wooten of the hospital staff, are getting along nicely.

BREAK HINTED ON COURT BILL AFTER PARLEY

Four First-Term Democrats Confer With President

SENATOR MALN'Y IS AGAINST PLAN

President and Congress Sorrowfully Await Hour of Funeral for Robinson

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Four first-term Democratic senators discussed the administration court bill with President Roosevelt today and the White House, and immediately afterward foes of the measure hinted at a major break in the court fight.

The four senators—Gillette of Iowa, Andrews of Florida, Johnson of Colorado and Brown of Michigan—refused to say anything more than that they had discussed the court bill with the President.

Reports quickly spread among their colleagues, however, they had urged the chief executive to withdraw the bill and at least three of them told him flatly they were against it.

One, Senator Brown, had come out only last week for the compromise bill pending in the senate. Senator Gillette was publicly against the bill. The other two have been publicly non-committal.

At the same time the opposition lined up another publicly committed senator in Maloney of Connecticut. Meantime the President and Congress sorrowfully awaited the hour for paying their final tribute to Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas.

The state funeral service will be held in the senate chamber tomorrow. In a brief session today the senate completed congressional action on bills calling for a $65,000,000 farm tenancy program over a three year period, appropriating $194,536,063 for the war department's non-military functions, and providing one million dollars for an anti-grasshopper campaign.

The war department bill included $105,000,000 for flood control. The senate and house passed a resolution permitting the Interior department to continue operation for 15 days pending passage of its regular appropriation bill for the fiscal period which began July 1.

Senators Pope of Idaho and McGill of Kansas, both Democrats, submitted a revised draft of the proposed agricultural adjustment act of 1937.

Controversial legislation was eliminated from consideration by the senate by agreement until after Senator Robinson's funeral in Little Rock, Ark. The senate will not meet again, after the services here tomorrow, until Tuesday.

ARMIES READY FOR START ACTION WEEK-END TRIP

Japan and China Poised for Widespread Conflict

(By the Associated Press) Armies of China and Japan were poised today for action in North China if the crisis there developed into widespread conflict.

There had been no serious fighting in the area surrounding Peking for 48 hours, but the Chinese government foreign office spokesman in Nanking said the government had ordered reinforcements to North China to support the 29th army, which has been fighting Japanese troops for the past week.

The spokesman said six divisions (about 80,000 men) were standing by "some where in North China." The Japanese war office announced in Tokyo troops would be dispatched from Japan proper to North China to aid Japanese troops regularly garrisoned there and units of the Japanese army in Manchuria rushed to the battle area last week.

Peiping dispatches reported an agreement at Tientsin between local Chinese and Japanese authorities to settle the crisis to the satisfaction of Japan.

But the Nanking government has vigorously asserted it would recognize no such local agreement.

Blast Occurs at Baker Mine Near Sullivan, Indiana

ENTOMBED MEN'S FATE UNCERTAIN

Miners From Surrounding Community Rush to Join in Rescue Operations

Sullivan, Ind., July 12.—(AP)—Twenty men were killed today by explosion and fire today in the Glendora Coal company's Baker mine, northeast of here, Ack Ogilvie, safety engineer of the Indiana Coal Operators' association, said this afternoon.

Sullivan, Ind., July 15.—(AP)—Four men were reported dead and 25 trapped in the Baker mine five miles northeast of here after an explosion today.

Officials of the deep shaft coal mine said the fate of the trapped men was uncertain. They said the explosion occurred two miles from the mine's entry.

Mine rescue crews were summoned from Vincennes and Terre Haute and ambulances throughout the territory were sent to the shaft. The mine is owned by the Glendora Coal company.

H. E. Wilson, chief inspector of the state division of mines, was notified of the explosion at Terre Haute. He started immediately to take charge of rescue operations.

Men at the mine's mouth made various estimates of the number trapped in the shaft. Some said they believed 75 had gone into the workings.

The explosion occurred Sunday after the day shift had entered the pit. Crews from nearby shafts began efforts to get air into the shaft to the trapped men.

The cause of the explosion could not be determined immediately. Hundreds of miners throughout the community hurried to the mine to join the rescue work.

Wives and relatives of the trapped men, frantic with fear, gathered around the tippie.

Sen. J. W. Bailey Gets Crowded Out Of Public Notice

North Carolina Senator Fails to Get Most Out of Dramatics in Opposing Court Proposal

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, July 15.—Senator Josiah William Bailey's protracted argument in the United States Senate against the Roosevelt court bill emphasized the observations long made by friends and opponents alike that Mr. Bailey somehow does not get the most out of his dramatics.

State and even national dailies carried much of the text and ranked the speech high in the forenoon, but that done, the Bailey leadership ends and the lesser men return to carry off the bulk of the credit. It has been so ever since the North Carolina senator gave notice of his opposition to the Roosevelt plans and he seldom gets any reference which he does not force by official position.

Nobody ever has been able to explain this attitude toward Bailey. If the lesser ones received their credit along with Bailey the answer would be easy, but the little ones often crowd him entirely out. And if the press were hostile to him that would account for some of the indifference to Bailey. But the senior senator simply does not appear to have any genius for attaching newspaper men to his causes, and if they notice him they are occasionally in mood to comment with slight irreverence upon him.

Wrangling Develops At Probe Of Strike Deaths

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—The court's inquest into 10 deaths in Memorial Day steel strike rioting was turned into a wrangle today, with CIO attorneys accusing the state attorney's office of pursuing an anti-union policy.

The four union lawyers charged to their feet and shouted the charge after assistant state attorney, Mal Coehlin said his office was not concerned with the positions of strikers or employees in the case, but merely was performing its official duties.

Johnston-Lassiter
The marriage of Mrs. Janie Johnston Lassiter to J. B. Johnston was solemnized in a quiet ceremony at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride on Biltmore street.

The Reverend Clarence Patrick, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, united them in marriage in the presence of a few relatives and close friends.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

The King's Daughters Meet
The Patient Circle held its regular meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Hortense Moyer Tuesday.

The circle is now making the meetings an all-day affair, sewing on articles for a bazaar to be held early in November.

Owing to the extreme heat, the meeting never really came to order. However, there were some good reports from committees, lots of clothes collected and distributed.

Quite a number of finished articles were turned in.

Every member brought a lunch and at one o'clock our hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. W. R. Smith and Mrs. C. A. Bowen, served the lunch.

Naturally it was some time before we could get settled to work again.

About 2:30 our contest manager put on a spirited contest and Mrs. E. W. Harvey was the winner.

At 2 p. m. our president served ice cold watermelon.

At 3:30 the circle parted, wishing that the meetings were closer together.

The last meeting always is considered the best and we are sure of this one. Our memory quilt is just going fine, so we hope that when a King's Daughter solicits your name for her square, you will give two. The proceeds of this quilt will go to enlarge the boys' chapel at the Stonewall Jackson Training School in Concord, N. C.

The circle is planning the next meeting to be held at Atlantic Beach the second Tuesday in August. All King's Daughters are urged to attend and bring a lunch.—Reported.

CAMP CHARLES OPENS SUNDAY

Local Boys Urged To Enroll at Earliest Possible Date

Opening Sunday, July 18, at 3 p. m., Camp Charles will begin its last three weeks with Pioneering week, with special emphasis given to pioneering, camping and kindred merit badge subjects, under able leadership.

East Carolina Council Scouts are urged to register with the Scout council office without delay, since the camp has only a 60 capacity.

The camp director states:

With Pioneering week opening Sunday, July 18, similar Scout weeks will be held the week of July 25th and the camp will officially close the week of August 1-8 with Aquatic week.

On Tuesday, July 20, Mr. William E. Lawrence of the health and safety department of the national council will make the camp inspection. Mr. Lawrence, it will be remembered, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the East Carolina council in January. Mr. Sigwald, the local Scout executive and camp director associated with Mr. Lawrence in connection with the National Jamboree recently.

Camp Charles has been continuously used throughout the summer and even the weeks when council mass camp was not conducted. Troop leaders, with their scouts, enrolled for troop camping experiences. Last week a Wilson Scout group held a troop camp, while this week one of the Rocky Mount troops, under the leadership of Scoutmaster A. Tom Cronenberg, is there with a group of boys.

Already Scouts of Greenville, New Bern, Wilson, Rocky Mount, Williamston and other communities of the council have registered for the first session of Camp Charles of this half of the camping season. Mr. W. K. Helms, camping chairman for the council, suggests that local Scoutmasters delay no longer in making reservations for their Scouts.

Every camp building has a new roof, and in addition the large mess hall, which seats 110, has been entirely re-roofed and screened. A hydraulic ram is being put into the camp this week as an additional improvement to the campsite. Mr. W. L. Morris, fire warden for Wilson county, is having his men at work this week in a reforestation project.

The Scout executive will serve as camp director, assisted by Needham Bryan, Jamboree coutmaster and Harmon Foundation Award Scout, and who has served for the last six or seven years in a leadership capacity at the camp, and again will serve as assistant camp director. Mr. J. C. Patrick of Grifton will serve two summers ago on the senior staff and served one week this year with a large group of his troop 48 Scouts.

The senior staff, of course, will be supplemented by an adequate junior staff of one Scout from every administrative center. Lloyd Bryan, brother of Needham Bryan, the assistant camp director and an Eagle Scout, who has served for many years as camp bugler, will serve as assistant to the camp director in giving life saving instructions, as well as the position of bugler again for Camp Charles.

The local district is represented by Scout Kenneth Henderson.

Attractive camp folders are available and may be secured upon request.

COUNTY ASKED NOT TO HURRY

Liquor Dealers Want Wake to Take Time On ABC Stores

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, July 14.—Wake county has at last picked storerooms for the sale of alcoholic beverages, but the queerest thing yet observed in the development of the ABC places is the request of liquor manufacturers that Wake do not open too soon.

The first of August is the very earliest possible opening, but the manufacturers would delay business longer. Selling whiskey is their business, but they ask Wake to get ready before it sells. Moreover, these dealers would be better satisfied if the delay were 30 days longer.

They have found trouble in all counties where the opening was premature and conditions of the opening were unsatisfactory. Unfavorable reaction of the public was inevitable. And it has taken the full two years to recover from it. The distillers so often before the state ABC board and urge it to insist that the county stores wait until they are ready to open. There may be sales lost, but not goodwill. When big days are set in certain communities waiting to open the state board uniformly refuses such opening.

In Wake's case there is a second complication. Leading Negro citizens have asked the county commissioners to give them a store in their fourth division. They carried that section heavily and some of the drys contend that the Negro vote in Raleigh turned dry Wake wet. Some of these Negro voters tendered their support to the drys who advised against their participation in the election. The Negroes then voted wet according to some of their number.

But the liquor manufacturers regard it very important that no initial mistake be made in the opening. It is generally conceded that Wake will be the hardest county to

The amounts held with this tenacity are minute. Wood also holds similar amounts of water with exactly the same force.

The laboratory scientists say the new information should be industrially useful in understanding wood own. Mrs. Aycock has been a widow 25 years and Mrs. Craig 13. Governor Ehringhaus appointed Mrs. Aycock to the presidency of the North Carolina railroad company and she received a salary of $75 a month. Mrs. Craig was paid $75 a month at the instance of the 1935 general assembly, but the amount was increased by the late general assembly.

COUNCIL OF STATE GIVES SALARIES GOV. WIDOWS

Living widows of governors are Mrs. A. W. McLean of Lumberton and Mrs. T. W. Bickett of Raleigh. Mrs. Bickett has passed 65 but she is superintendent of the Wake county welfare department and receives a salary in excess of her state allowance should she avail herself of it. The legislature which passed this policy was generally commended in the light of history which shows that most of the governors leave office greatly impaired if not impoverished in their finances.

The governorship in the days of Mrs. Aycock's landladyship over the mansion paid only $3,000 a year, but that salary did little more to the personal fortune of an executive than the $10,500 that is now paid. And when Mrs. Craig occupied the mansion the state neither bought nor maintained the governor's automobile.

GASTONIA MAN IS UNDECIDED

Regard Cherry Only Man Who Could Defeat 'Our Bob'

Raleigh, July 14. — R. Gregg Cherry, the "Iron Major" from Gastonia who was speaker of the house during the 1937 general assembly and who cracked as stinging a verbal whip over the heads of house members as any speaker who can be remembered, is having a lot of pressure brought to bear on him to become a candidate for the United States Senate against Senator Robert R. "Our Bob" Reynolds next spring, according to reports being heard here.

The boys who want to beat Bob are said to be convinced that hard-bolled Gregg is just about the only man who stands a chance of beating the "Bounding Basque" in the kind of rough-and-tumble campaign which the roving Senator from Buncombe county always puts on.

The trouble seems to be that they are having some difficulty in convincing Cherry that it would be worth his while to give up his law practice in Gastonia and North Carolina to become a member of that very exclusive club in Washington, known as the Senate at a salary of only $10,000 a year.

Observers here are inclined to agree with those who are already enthusiastic in their advocacy of Cherry as an opponent of Bob Reynolds, that he would undoubtedly be a formidable candidate and would probably give Bob a harder fight than any one else who might get into the race for the Senate against him.

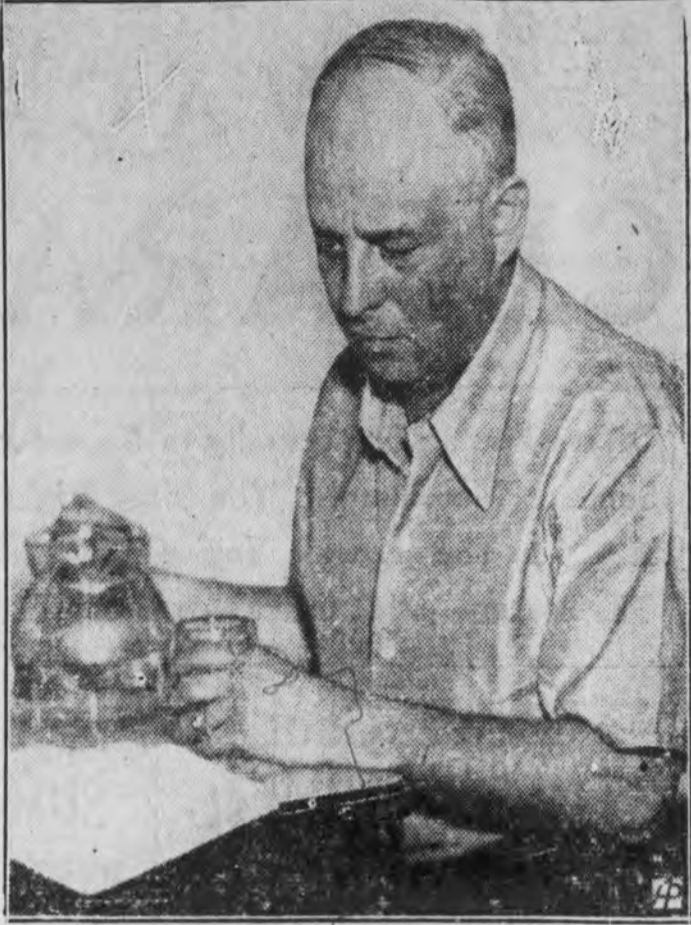

They agree that Cherry has been a New Dealer, or at least enough of a New Dealer, to pass muster with most of the "liberal" or "Rooseveltian Democrats," many of whom are now sticking with Reynolds because Bob has stuck with the president on almost everything during the past two years, including the supreme court reorganization and labor regulation bills. It is further pointed out that Cherry is sufficiently conservative to win the support of almost all of the middle-of-the-roads and even of a good many of the conservatives with Liberty League leaning—which should assure him of getting an ample campaign chest without much trouble.

It is being intimated that if Cherry should decide to run against Reynolds, he could count on very strong support from the so-called Bailey "machine," although Senator J. W. Bailey would, of course, through senatorial courtesy, take no part in any campaign that might mean the defeat of his present colleague. Things like that are never done. But the senior Senator could not help it, of course, if his friends and supporters back here in the state should decide to back Cherry rather than Reynolds. Nor is it expected that the senior Senator would shed any tears if such an ardent New Dealer as Senator Reynolds should be defeated and a less ardent New Dealer nominated in his place. There are also very evident indications that the big business men, bankers, corporation presidents and others who are elated at Senator Bailey's opposition to the president and the New Deal, would be much more inclined to support middle-of-the-road Cherry than out and out New Dealer Reynolds.

Another advantage that Cherry would have over other possible candidates against Reynolds is his physique and undoubted ability to carry on just as intensive a campaign as Reynolds and stand up under it. Most observers here agree that if there is a man in the state who could get into just as old and de-lapidated a car as Reynolds, go into every nook and cranny of every county in the state and speak the language of the people, shake hands, kiss babies and kid the ladies with the same gusto and gusto as "Our Bob," it is "Iron Man" Cherry. He could hurl verbal bombs at Bob that would sizzle and smoke and be as impervious to Bob's barrage as an elephant is to a mosquito—for Cherry has been in politics long enough to develop a hide like a hippopotamus and to roar and shout just as loud as Bob. He can both take it and dish it out. He would also have the advantage of the many contacts already made in county of the state from having served in the last four sessions of the general assembly and as speaker of the house in the most recent.

But no one knows yet what Cherry is going to do since he hasn't said yes and he hasn't said no. There is no doubt, however, that he has Bob's friends somewhat worried and Bob's opposition also worried for fear he won't become a candidate. He has them all guessing.

A HOT CASE FOR LIEBOWITZ

In more ways than one, Samuel Liebowitz, the noted New York attorney, engaged in a hot fight in defense of the nine Negroes facing new trials at Decatur, Ala. in the celebrated "Scottsboro case". He tie off, collar ajar, he quaffed a cooling drink and tried to cool off during a court recess while the blistering sun sent the mercury soaring above 100 degrees.

Sees Little Need Of Club To Back Sen. J. W. Bailey

Such Clubs Said to be in Formation Throughout State, But Efforts to Find Them Unsuccessful

Raleigh, July 14.—Efforts to find "Stand By Bailey" clubs in North Carolina have not been successful, but such organizations are reported to be in the formation.

What precisely for such clubs there is now nobody seems to know. Senator Bailey is five years away from another contest and guessing that far ahead is quite hazardous. Had Senator Simmons bolted Al Smith in 1936 instead of 1924 the chances are strong that the Senator would be breaking the all-time record for continuous senate service. But it was a fatal timing in 1928 with its nearness to 1930. Similarly, Senator Bailey may find 1942 voters less liberal toward him than the primary of 1936 was. But the reputed "Stand-By-Bailey" club is believed to have more concern for 1940 than for the two years later primary in which Bailey may be a candidate to succeed himself. The Stand-By-Bailey people probably would oppose the Roosevelt candidate for president. It is not yet accepted in Raleigh that Bailey may himself be a candidate for the nomination, though this suggestion has been made innumerable times. And color is given to it by very close friends of Senator Bailey who "would not be surprised if Bailey is seriously considered as the nominee."

Beyond the purpose of promoting a more conservative presidential candidacy than the Roosevelt successor or personally chosen by Roosevelt might prove, or of advancing the Bailey name for national consideration, the proposed Stand-By-Baileys could formulate no timely excuse for such a club, but there are good men everywhere in the state who think that such a club is to be formed.

EXPLAINS ACT AT WISCONSIN

State First to Set Up Unemployment Compensation

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, July 14. — Wisconsin probably because it was the first state to enact an unemployment compensation law, and is the first that has commenced to pay compensation to unemployed workers, has a law and a system that is unlike that of any other state, according to Charles G. Powell, chairman of the N. C. Unemployment Compensation Commission. He and E. W. Price, director of the Unemployment Compensation Division, spent several days in Madison, Wis., last week studying the Wisconsin system.

"The Wisconsin commission does most of its work by hand and a large force is thus required," said Mr. Powell. "The Wisconsin office has a check writing machine, but almost every other operation is performed by hand, including setting up records of individual employees, as well as individual employees, and keeping these records up to date. "In fact, they do not keep the records of employees up to date," said Mr. Powell. "They think we are doing a lot of unnecessary work in keeping the records of all North Carolina employees up to date by entries from the reports of employers every quarter. They claim that not more than half the employees will ever call for compensation, and the work done in keeping their records is useless. When a worker becomes unemployed, they have to bring the record up to date by making entries from reports from the start."

The Wisconsin commission is now sending out about 6,000 checks a week, which means that about 6,000 employees who come under the act are now unemployed, Mr. Powell said.

"Most of our work is done by machines," Mr. Powell said, explaining that the N. C. commission has almost completed cutting addressograph plates for every person in North Carolina who has a Social Security account number. These names and numbers are printed on cards and ledger sheets and work and pay records of all covered employees are transferred to these permanent records each quarter. "When a worker becomes unemployed after the first of next year, when payments are due to begin, it will take us only a few minutes to have his complete work and pay record before us."

"Posting machines will be used and every process possible is by machinery to prevent all possible delay in getting checks to those who are due to receive them," Mr. Powell said.

BOYS LEAVING FARMS BECAUSE GIRLS ARE TOO

Ames, Iowa, July 13.—(AP)—It's the girls who lead the boys away from the farm, says R. E. Wakely, Iowa State College sociologist, after making a survey of why young folks move to town and stay there.

"When young people get out of high school they've lost the main social contact of their lives and have nothing to take its place," Wakely says.

"Consequently, the girls who do not marry get out as quickly as they can and go to town. The boys must follow them, if they expect to find wives. So the town, rather than the rural community center, has become the center of attraction.

"A few are coming back to teach in rural schools and a very few more are staying home, mostly because they can't get away."

After holding Doc Smith's New Bern Bears to one run in six innings, the Greenville Greenies were the victims of a seventh and ninth inning scoring party. The final score was 8-4.

The Bears gathered 13 hits off three Greenville hurlers. The hits coupled with six errors for the locals proved to be the main reason why the Bears tallied eight times.

An error, Thoele's single, and Mullinax's single, and Smith's fly scored two for the Bears in the seventh and then Worliss Knowles hit for the circuit to send in his club into a 5-4 lead.

The ninth inning runs resulted from three errors. Flythe's single, and a bunt.

Bill Averette pitched the victory for the Bears. After a rather shaky start, he settled down after the third inning and hurled no-hit ball the rest of the route.

Wilson Thoele, ex-Greenville, hit three for four to lead the Bears' 13-hit attack. Rudisill, with two for three, paced the Greenies.

Greenville journeys over to Goldsboro this afternoon to pay the Buss a visit. Clarence Roper's boys will meet Bo Farley's locals here Friday.

Billies Again Bitten By Tarboro Snakes

Snow Hill—Tarboro's Serpents get out yesterday to prove that it wasn't just an accident when they defeated Snow Hill 15-13 Monday and ended the Billies' latest winning streak of eight games. And the Serpents proved it—they blanked the locals 1-0 as Malone won over Earl Zak in a hurling duel.

The defeat was the first of the season for Zak who had won nine games. The Snakes Monday chased Zak from the hill with one away in the first inning, but he came back yesterday with a fine performance—fine as it was it wasn't good enough against Malone's stellar hurling.

Donp Hantz also "came back." Hantz Tuesday offered great relief hurling to protect a Tarboro lead in closing stages of the free-scoring game. And yesterday he delivered the single which sent in the game's only run.

The score came in the fifth inning. Lehman walked, advanced on Savace's sacrifice, and came home when Hantz cracked a single to center.

Tarboro's other hits, all singles, were scattered—he Carnahan in the first; Tatum in the second; Rimmer in the sixth; Ware in the eighth.

Boxing Bosses

SELDOM PICTURED but powerful in the control of boxing and wrestling are the three members of the N. Y. State Athletic commission. They "out-lawed" the Chicago bout in which JOE LOUIS (above) lifted the heavyweight crown from Jim Braddock, then promptly recognized Louis as champion "because there is nothing else to do." Because Max Schmeling, who got the go-by from Braddock, refused to answer cables, they removed him from the ranking of No. 1 challenger and okayed the British Empire Champion, Tommy Farr as the first to be awarded the chance to dethrone the Brown Bomber. So—meet the commissioners:

BRIG. GEN JOHN J. PHELAN speaks in non-stop sentences, but he rules the fistie fortunes with an iron hand, making decisions as well on whether a wrestler may apply vaseline to make himself more elusive and on how much pay preliminary boys may receive.

BILL BROWN operates health camp up the Hudson river and is the "stormy petrel" of the boxing box-men. He doesn't like ex-champion Max Baer and says so whenever given the chance. And he "spoke up in meeting" so often and vehemently that the commissioners wrangle in private now before announcing important decisions.

D. WALKER WEAR is the silent partner on the boxing commission, seldom offering anything but a hand-cupper care and a poker-face to the hearings of the champions and stumble-bums who come before the commission.

Williamston—Williamston came off with an even break in a two-game series with Goldsboro in a wining yesterday 4 to 1, behind fine pitching of Big Jim Rollins.

Rollins struck out 10 and allowed only six hits in gaining the nod over young Benn Hearn in a hurler's battle. Hearn yielded six hits, fanned four, walked one. Rollins walked six.

The battle was scoreless until the Martins' fifth Lakotas, handed a walk scored as a result of Victoria's hit and an error. Pitcher Rollins singled scoring Victoria.

Stanley singled for the locals in the seventh Steven's bunt was error. Stanley scored as McCay hit into a double play.

The last Martin run, in the eighth resulted from singles by Stevens, McCay and Lakotas.

Goldsboro's lone run came in the eighth—Mejano walked, Charlie Gadd tripled.

HE'D SHORTEN MEETS TO HEIGHTEN INTEREST

Iowa City, July 14.—(AP)—Assistant Coach W. T. Swenson of the University of Iowa has a formula for pepping up interest in high school dual track and field meets.

He recommends abandonment of the broad jump because it lags, the 220-yard dash because it cannot be made interesting to spectators, the 200-yard low hurdles because it is not a test of hurdling ability and the discus throw because it is dangerous and uninteresting.

This would leave the 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, half and one-mile runs, 120-yard high hurdles, 440, 880 and mile relays, pole-vault, high jump, javelin and shot put. Swenson says these should be run off within an hour and that about the same program with addition of the two-mile run and possible elimination of one of the sprint relays, could be used to speed up college meets.
