FIGHT LOOMS ON LABOR LAW

Il Duce Pens Slashing Editorial

REGARDED AS HINTS OF WAR

Says 'Reality' One Day Will Overwhelm 'Make-Believe'

Milan, Italy, July 24.—(AP)—Il Popolo D'Italia, Premier Mussolini's mouth-piece, declared today "reality" one day would overwhelm international "make-believe" and well-informed persons said this "reality" was "war."

The newspaper's slashing 750 word editorial was attributed to Il Duce himself.

It cited as one item of a group of "fictions" the belief some day world war debts to the United States would be paid. Another "fiction," the newspaper said, was the belief abroad that Valencia is the real seat of the Spanish government.

"One day all these castles of cards will be overwhelmed by reality which in all time has had a single grave and unchangeable name," the article added without using the word "war."

But the remark quickly was given a martial significance by authoritative sources.

Referring to the war debt "fiction," Il Popolo said:

"The people continue to contend they believe these debts will be paid one day."

"Now everyone knows this is materially and above all, morally impossible. Nevertheless when the fateful dates, June 15 and December 15, come around the European governments inform America they find it impossible to pay."

"America takes note of this and puts it down on the order of the day."

COREY SLATED TO GET OFFICE

Legionnaires Leaving For Annual State Convention

Arthur B. Corey, who is a candidate for state commander of the American Legion, left today for Durham, where the annual convention of the ex-soldiers is scheduled to get under way tomorrow and continue through Tuesday. Others legionnaires will leave tomorrow.

The convention will be brought to a close with the election of a new commander and other officers Tuesday.

Mr. Corey has the backing of the local post and also is being supported by legionnaires throughout the state. He is regarded as having a good chance of being elected. His only opponent is Hector Blackwell of Fayetteville.

Mr. Corey has been considered the local candidate for post commander for two years. Wiley M. Rickens of Lincolnton is the retiring commander and the office is to go to an eastern man this year.

PETE TRAXLER 'TOO TOUGH TO KILL'

"I'm too tough to kill," snarls Pete Traxler (right), southwestern outlaw, as Dr. J. P. Devine gives him a blood transfusion at Hugo, Okla., following the desperado's capture by his two hostages who wounded him and killed his companion, Fred Timmer, farmer, and J. E. Denton, oil field worker, in their flight from a posse. But while they napped, the hostages grabbed the fugitives' guns, killing Tindol instantly and wounding Traxler in the chest.

FOUR FREED IN ASSAULT CASE

Scottsboro Case Completed in Swift, Dramatic Fashion

Decatur, Ala., July 24.—(AP)—In swift, dramatic fashion, four of the nine Negroes "Scottsboro" defendants were freed today shortly after the eleventh jury to sit in the internationally-known rape case had returned a verdict of "guilty."

Freeing of the four by the state of Alabama cleared the case from the Morgan county court docket.

A few minutes earlier Charlie Weems, one of the nine, was convicted and given 75 years, and Ozzie Powell shot in an alleged escape attempt last year pleaded guilty to charges of assault, with intent to murder and received a 20-year sentence.

Rape charges against Powell were erased as they were against the four freed. An officer was stabbed just before Powell was shot in 1936.

The Negroes twice have been saved from the electric chair by the U. S. supreme court's reversal of Alabama court convictions.

Weems' case went to the jury amid charges of "hypocrisy" and "perjury" hurled by the defense.

The jury had the case 20 hours. Today's development left five of the Negroes under sentence. One, Clarence Norris, has been sentenced to death. Besides Weems, Haywood Patterson, also was given 75 years and Andy Wright, 99 years.

The four freed Negroes will be turned over to their attorney, Samuel Leibowitz, this afternoon. They are Olen Montgomery, Willie Roberson, Eugene Williams and Roy Wright. Williams and Roy Wright were adjudged juveniles at the time of the attack.

SINO-JAPANESE TENSION EASES

Influx of Nippon War Supplies Continues, However

Tientsin, July 24.—(AP)—War tension in North China apparently eased today though the influx of Japanese war supplies continued and seasoned observers pointed to danger spots where friction might renew the war-like dispute between Chinese and Japanese fronts.

The Chinese withdrawal of the 37th division from the Peiping area met Japan's first condition for settling the trouble that broke out July 7 during Japanese troop maneuvers west of Peiping and touched off the crisis.

Transportation and other activities in the Hopeh-Shahar district approached normal for the first time since the tension arose.

A Japanese army officer at Tientsin seaport declared, however, this "war is not over yet by any means."

DRAFT BILL ON LOWER COURTS

To Serve as Substitute for FDR's Original Measure

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—A senate judiciary sub committee virtually completed today a tentative draft of legislation designed to speed lower court procedure. It would serve as a substitute for the President's original court reorganization bill, which included supreme court enlargement.

Members of the sub committee named to draft the new bill indicated it might be ready to report to the senate some time next week.

Working with unexpected speed, the group agreed to add the new legislation to a minor house bill on the judiciary which already is awaiting senate action.

Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.), a vigorous opponent of the original Roosevelt measure, said the sub committee had "covered in general terms all parts of the program" which administration chiefs had indicated they would accept.

Before the drafting sub committee held its first meeting, Senator Connally (D.-Texas) announced he would try to write into the skeleton judiciary reorganization bill a provision to restrict issuance of injunctions by the lower court judges.

Meantime a senate dispute weakened the possibility of passing crop control legislation before congress adjourns.

Chairman Smith (D.-S.C.) of the senate agriculture group said, "I don't anticipate any general farm legislation at this session x x x."

NEW THREAT TO ADJOURNMENT

Senator Vandenberg Would Give Protection to Employers

Washington, July 24.—Sen. Vandenberg (R.-Mich) complicated the talk of early congressional adjournment today by announcing he would offer amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations act when the senate takes up wage-hour legislation next week.

His statement foreshadowed a major conflict over expanding what critics have called "one-sided" legislation in favor of labor unions. The Wagner act guarantees the right of workers to organize unions and to bargain collectively.

Vandenberg's amendments would: Forbid coercion by unions, sit down strikes, compulsory union assessments for political purposes and strikes called without approval of a majority of employees.

Forbid non-citizens from serving as union agents or officers

Permit employers to ask the Labor board for collective bargaining elections

Require both parties to a collective bargaining agreement to sign a written contract

Forbid unions guilty of "unfair labor practices" from collecting dues or serving as collective bargaining agents.

Despite indications that the Vandenberg proposal would prolong debate over the wage and hour bill, many legislators talked hopefully of winding up the session early in August.

A general disposition was evident to strip the program down to bills now ready for action.

LOYAL FORCES HOLD POSITION

Insurgent Pressure Is Reported Weakening at Madrid

Madrid, July 24.—(AP)—Insurgent pressure on the flanks of General Jose Miaja's western front salient was reported weakened today with the government still holding its two-weeks' old positions despite five days of furious counter thrusts.

General Francisco Franco's army was said to have suffered heavy losses in the desperate effort to retain its sieged grip on Madrid.

Franco's troops concentrated their drive today on the tip of the "pocket" which Miaja's militiamen, artillery and planes had opened in the insurgent rear guard positions about 15 miles west of here, near Brunete.

They attacked government trenches along the banks of the Guadarrama river, three miles east of the town, but the panorama of war on the sun-baked hills and plains remained generally the same as after Miaja executed his thrust (Continued on Page Three)

Object Of Survey Determine Method To Protect Coast

Movement on to Develop Measures to Prevent Rain, Mud and Waves Froce Destroying Banks

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, July 24. — Development of measures to prevent the mud, rain and waves slowly destroying the picturesque "banks", North Carolina's first line of defense against the infringement of the Atlantic ocean, is the purpose of extensive beach erosion survey and control activities now in progress by the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development and the U. S. Beach Erosion board.

Begun some eight years ago upon a very modest scale, the work today has extended to cover a greater portion of the entire length of the North Carolina coast, from near Kitty Hawk on the northern banks to Fort Fisher in the south.

The purpose of the studies is to determine the trend and rate of erosion on the beaches caused by wave action, and to discover, if possible, the forces which are causing erosion. Data thus collected is of great aid in planning proper shore protection devices, when and if they should become necessary.

The Beach Erosion board, through the Corps of Engineers, U.S.A., makes cooperative studies with the North Carolina Division of Water Resources and Engineering, which includes aerial photographs of the beaches and inlets, soundings and measurements of the tidal prisms flowing through the inlets. Based upon the results of these surveys and investigations which are now in progress, the Beach Erosion board will prepare a comprehensive study of the beach erosion processes in North Carolina.

It was learned from T. S. Johnson, chief engineer, Water Resources and Engineering division, that work at the present time is being concentrated on the region from Nags Head to New Inlet. It is thought that the movement of the Department of the Interior to establish a Coastal National Park in this area will have the effect of greatly accelerating survey and control activities.

Woman Who's Dub At It Gets Rich On Sewing

RURAL SEAMSTRESS

On a work bench made from saw horses, Mrs. Alberta Wall quilts a pillow case. She is typical of the farm women around Hardinsburg, Ky., who makes pretty needlework pieces for millionaires and kings.

By KEN WHITE

HARDINSBURG, KY. (AP)—This county seat town of 800 people cradles a million-dollar needlework industry which caters to royalty, movie stars and millionaires. It was founded 16 years ago by a woman who can't sew a stitch to this day.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Beard, back in 1921, were pondering what to do with their wool. Beard ran a general store here and raised sheep on the side. The current wool price was 10 or 12 cents a pound; they didn't want to sell for that.

Mrs. Beard had an idea. "I'll get it made into some comforters," she said. "We need some."

"Good," said Mr. Beard. She did.

"Maybe I could sell some of them at a profit," said Mrs. Beard.

"Go ahead and try," nodded Mr. Beard. She went to New York.

Business Mushrooms

"Can't you get them handstitched by some women down there?" suggested a department store buyer. "We can get machine-made ones at a hundred factories. Make something distinctive."

Mrs. Beard came back to Hardinsburg, hired three women to do the sewing and went into business.

For two years she "farmed out" her comforters. Each week-end the housewives who did the work delivered the finished product to the Beard home, and the Beards packed and shipped it.

Suddenly, the mushrooming business was crowding the Beards out of their home. They built a studio in the back yard.

Five years later Beard sold his store and bought the frame building where he attended school years before and went into the wholesale needle-work business.

Mrs. Beard retained the backyard studio, organizing Eleanor Beard, Inc., and employing her own personnel distinct from that of her husband. Her business is all retail; his is all wholesale, known as Kentucky Cottage Industries, Inc.

Mrs. Beard now divides her time between Hardinsburg and her main office in Louisville.

"Mr. Beard sells to many stores that compete with me," Mrs. Beard laughingly explains, "so I guess that makes us competitors. But the friendliest of competitors, mind you."

Old Italian Process

Hundreds of women in Breckenridge and three or four adjacent counties work for either Mr. or Mrs. Beard. They take the material into their homes and work on it when they are not milking, washing or ironing. When it is ready they bring it back for the finishing touches, which are applied in the studio or the Industries' factory.

The friendly competitors both employ a process known as "trapunto" (between the stitches), originated in Italy in the 15th century and little used in America.

The design follows a double line. After it is stitched, it is "stuffed", giving the exterior an embossed appearance.

"You know," sighs Mrs. Beard, "I wish I could do that. Surprises some people, but I never have been able to pull a stitch."

MANY DRIVERS LOSE PERMITS

Total of 122 Revocations in State During One Week

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, July 24.—The driving licenses of 122 drivers were revoked this week by the highway safety division of the Department of Revenue, it was announced today by Ronald H. Hocutt, assistant director of the division. As usual, most of the revocations were ordered following convictions of drunken driving or combination of drunken driving and other offenses. There were 119 revocations for drunken driving and allied causes, one for driving while the driver's license was suspended, one for driving while it was revoked and one was revoked because of two convictions of reckless driving.

The 122 revocations this week brings to the total number of drivers' licenses revoked to date to 11,651 since the law went into effect. This does not include 2,119 licenses which have been suspended for various causes, but chiefly of those drivers who have taken appeals to higher courts following their conviction in the lower courts. The safety division now suspends the licenses of almost all drivers who appeal. Until this practice was decided upon, convicted drivers frequently appealed to the higher courts in order to keep the privilege of driving their cars a while longer. Hocutt said. Since the division started suspending the licenses of convicted drivers who took appeals, fewer appeals have been taken, the records indicate.

The number of revocations is showing marked decrease over several months ago, when the average number of revocations amounted to from 150 to 180 a week. Last week there were only 112 revocations and this week only 122, it was pointed out.

"Drivers are coming to realize more and more that our drivers' license law has real teeth in it and that the only way they can continue to keep the privilege of driving their cars is to observe the law," Hocutt said. "But even now our records show that entirely too many drivers are trying to drink and drive at the same time. But we feel that we are gradually educating the drivers and convincing them that it pays to stay sober and drive safely."

Grow Grass That Grows Faster

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—An artificial method of increasing the germination rate of drought-resistant southwest grasses was explained here by John T. Cassidy of the U. S. Forest Service experiment station at Tucson, Ariz.

These grasses, said Cassidy, have such hard seed covers that sometimes two or three years action by desert sand is needed to wear away the shell and permit the grass to sprout. Artificial abrasion of the seed has increased germination 16 per cent, he said.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—The International Longshoremen's association clamped a meat embargo in Buffalo today as Dr. John Boland, state labor chairman, tried to settle the four-day strike of 2,000 food handlers.

Stewards of the longshoremen's association said they would allow no more meat shipments unloaded in Buffalo after wholesale grocery truck drivers and butchers extended their strike to a fourth meat packing firm.

Union leaders called a walkout and started a picket line going at Swift and company plant after Sam Licata, business agent of the United Teamsters' union, charged the company's trucks were hauling butter and eggs for wholesale grocers shut down by the truck drivers' strike.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington — A dilemma faces President Roosevelt on the Supreme court issue. If he imposes his will upon the senate and house and the bill is passed, he will have a nest of bitter opposition in both chambers that won't clear up in a long time. Certainly it won't clear up before the 1938 congressional elections and the Presidential election of 1940.

But if the President surrenders it will be recognized as a retreat that he has been so insistent to date upon passing the court bill seems to indicate his belief that a defeat now presupposes defeats upon other fronts of his extensive program.

Incidentally, the loss he suffers will be the principal immediate effect either of defeat or success for the court bill. The wildest-eyed of the oppositionists do not forecast immediate dictatorship. The principal argument is that it will set a precedent for later, less-restrained Presidents to really take the court out of play and to centralize government power.

Conversely, defeat of the bill would not mean that the President must then scrap all phases of his executive reorganization bill, the wage-hour bill, the farm bill. He might rescue much by modifications.

Repercussions

It is altogether likely that within half an hour after a vote is taken to decide the fate of the court bill other pending legislation will be taken up and acted upon as if nothing had happened. That is the way such things move.

One thing is certain, that either outcome will have a prompt effect on the 1938 elections. The court bill cannot escape being made an issue if the President has his way and the court bill passes. Republican planks probably will call for the repeal of the act. It would be locking the barn after the horse is gone for in that time President Roosevelt would have had an opportunity to name two judges under the bill, as well as fill the Van Devanter vacancy.

It will be a live issue passed or defeated.

And so sharply divided is the Democratic majority in house and senate that never a doubt that when he goes home to face his constituents he will run into the toughest questioning of his experience. And the schism will carry into the 1940 convention, affecting not only formation of the platform but selection of candidates.

Mr. Farley has made it plain that dissenters in his party will be made to smoke. But don't forget that the heat will be applied equally from other sectors to those who support the bill.

But Wells was a big man in letters before he ever wrote a line for the newspapers. He was the only one of that select British group who did not begin in the Fleet street shops. That is, except the late John Galsworthy. Galsworthy was born rich; he had no need to work for his living.

The other day they tagged Enzo Fiermonte, a fancy dan of the prize ring, with a jail sentence for ignoring a traffic summons. And did that make boog boys out of the Broadway crowd—well, two of them anyway. It wasn't 24 hours after Enzo received the bad news that a liveried chauffeur arrived in traffic court to pay a dollar fine for Milton Berle, the stage and radio comic. Berle was fined for parking his automobile in a restricted area opposite 49 West 50th street. Then, five minutes later Herman Shumlin, the producer, came legging it into court. He, too, forked over a buck, that being, the damage levied against him by Magistrate Louis B. Brodsky for ignoring city traffic laws during a forgetful moment the day before.

Strangers wandering past that little leathery-smelling nook in 6th avenue will notice any number of used boxing gloves, baseball mitts, leather aprons hanging on the walls. To all the world it looks like a second-hand shop where one may purchase such bric-a-brac. But it isn't. The proprietor is a "book" and takes bets on horses, but the boxing gloves et al, aren't for sale. They fascinate him and that's just his way of decorating his office. Paintings and flowers leave him cold, but to his way of thinking, nothing is so attractive as a row of nice, smelly catcher's mitts.

HIS MEMORY FOR NAMES WAS RATHER FAULTY—

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—"Where were you on the night of November 3, last?" might be a fair question to ask one of the inmates of McAlester penitentiary.
 In a letter requesting the board of affairs to enlarge the prison school, the Rev. A. R. Garrett, prison chaplain, included the following memorandum on a new prisoner just matriculated from LeFlore county:
 "He didn't know who is President of the United States. He did not know the name of the county from which he was sentenced, and in which he had lived all his life. He didn't know the name of the judge who sentenced him. He didn't know who was governor of Oklahoma."

'Prison' Life's Fun For This $10,000 Baby

TEETHING RING

Like any nine-month-old baby, Su-lin, only giant panda ever to reach this country alive, has a nursery of her own—with a swivel chair of her down on which to try the new teeth she is cutting.

YOU'RE NEXT

She's heading for the photographer now—but can do no harm with her 43 pounds. He won't tarry, though, when she grows up to 300.

HER PUBLIC

A show-off before visitors, she's one of the few bears who rates a registered nurse. No wonder. She's worth $10,000. Mrs. William Harkness brought her back after an expensive hunt in China's wilds.

THIS WAY OUT

She's a smart baby, too. The doorknob on her room at Chicago's Brookfield zoo has to be guarded for she's getting the hang of it.

Camera Coverage Of The World

IN FRANCO'S JAIL.

Harold E. Dahl (top), of Champaign, Ill., one of the American "four flying aces" with Spanish loyalists, was captured by insurgents. His wife, Edith Rogers (below), at Cannes, France, was said still to be getting his weekly $1,500 salary. She once sang with Rudy Vallee's orchestra.

RAJAH DEPOSED.

"Sunny Jim" Bottomley, (above), coach and reserve first baseman, was named acting manager of the St. Louis Browns. Manager Rogers Hornsby (below), long a figure in baseball, was relieved of his duties "for good of the Browns," President Barnes announced.

THE POWER PLANT.

Husky arms and hard hands are part of the equipment of this British Tommy Farr, now training for a fight with Champion Louis at New York, Aug. 25. He weighs 208 pounds—without the trunks—and expects to weigh just that for the fight. He says he does the 100-yard dash in 10.4. He licked Max Baucus last week.

SUMMER RAINBOW.

Rainbow stripes in navy, orange, red and yellow give undulating movement to this summer evening frock.

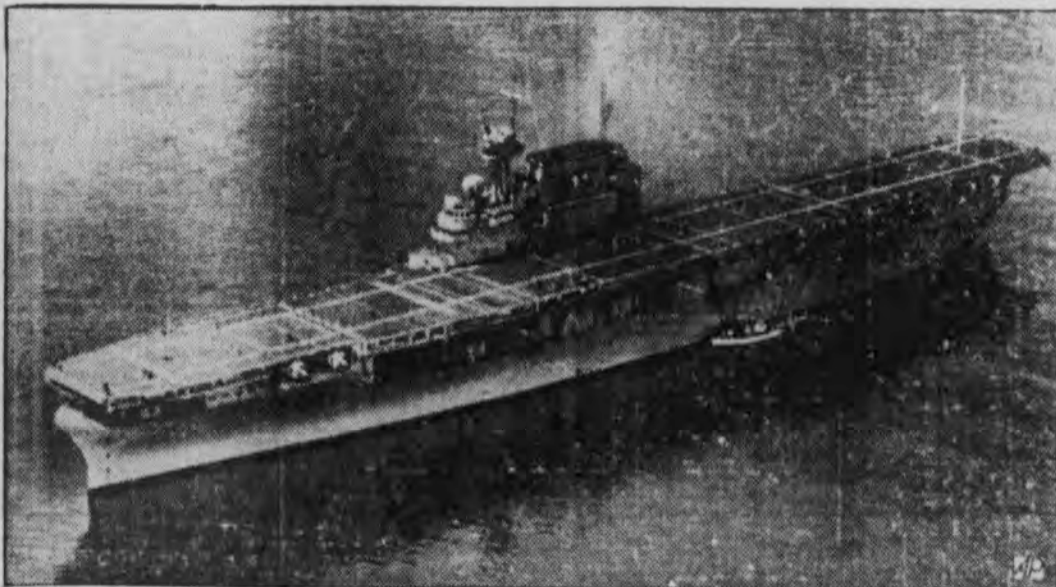

HOT FEET. Their prospective trip to France, where they will present a review at Cannes, seemed to have put too much gusto into the rehearsals of this chorus at New York. At any rate, George Hale, the dance director, called in the emergency fire apparatus and cooled down the "smouldering" doggies. The show must go on!

CHINA FIRM.

Wang Chung-Hui, Chinese foreign minister at Nanking, asserted his country will maintain a firm attitude in the Peiping crisis.

FLOATING WAR BASE. Here's the newest sea-going nest for Uncle Sam's navy warbirds—the aircraft carrier Yorktown which was undergoing tests at Rockland, Me. The big boat has a displacement of 19,900 tons; carries a dozen 5-inch anti-aircraft guns; is manned by 2,072 men including fliers, and can do 34 knots. It's the last word, at the moment, in aircraft carriers.

PARKER.

Frank Parker, an outstanding performer, also may draw an important singles berth in the Davis cup challenge.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Fire destroys Kay Crandon's ranch house and barn. Neighbor Josh Hastings tries to buy her ranch and court Kay, but she hates him and is determined to rebuild. Ted Gaynor, a puncher she impulsively hired, fights Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. Shooting it out, they wound each other. Hastings finds them unconscious and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a cabin where a girl (Marion) nurses him. The gun puts Sheriff Farley on Ted's trail. Kay sees Ted and Marion together in the cabin, and later, delirious after a fall, babbles all. The sheriff breaks into Marion's cabin at dawn.

Chapter 34

Taken Prisoner

THE sheriff's eye travelled swiftly over Marion. Convinced of the truth of her statement that she hadn't a gun, he motioned her to one side.

"You keep out of this now," he ordered. "I'll be wanting you to answer some questions later."

Striding past her, Zeke Farley crossed over to Ted's bunk, just as one of his posse was making a rope fast about Ted's wrists and ankles.

"Thought you'd given us the slip, didn't you?" he gloated. "Well, it ain't so easy in these parts to get past the law."

Ted, who had been so rudely awakened from a sound sleep, took rapid measure of the situation. He struggled to a sitting position and faced the sheriff with steady eyes.

"I don't know what this is all about," he declared. "If you're looking for murderers, the man to find is Scrap Johnson. He did his best to murder me, and darn near succeeded."

"We've found him," the sheriff answered grimly, "with a bullet through his temple."

From what Ted had overheard from the first searching party that had passed the shack, he was prepared for this answer, but his expression of intense surprise couldn't have been more natural, if it had been real. It was up to him, he felt, to tell a straight and convincing story of what had happened, and not complicate it by anything he had overheard.

"Never from any shot of mine," Ted explained. "I was taking a drink of water, and turned around to see him stealing up on me and pulling his gun. He got the drop, and my shot went wild. It might have nipped him, but it never hit a bull's eye like a shot in the temple. But even if it had, it was a plain case of self defense. He—"

"You can tell that at the trial," Zeke Farley broke in gruffly. "Sam Cutter'll be up here any time now, and he'll take you in charge. Scrap Johnson was murdered just over the Idaho state line, so that means you'll be tried in Clear Water Basin."

"You may as well know, though," he added, "that your story's full of holes. The bullet that killed Scrap Johnson came from your gun. We've got both the gun and the bullet, and the report just came in yesterday."

Ted's surprise at this statement was genuine and mixed with incredulous dismay.

"Must be some mistake there!" He caught Marion's eyes on him, with a mute warning in their brown depths, and the angry retort he was about to make died on his lips.

She was right about going slow! Anything he said now might be twisted to count against him. The only thing to do was to go peacefully, and trust justice and fairness to acquit him at the trial.

A Whispered Word

A SHOUT from the woods broke in on them. A minute later Sam Cutter and his posse came stamping up the steps and crowded into the shack.

In the confusion, while Zeke Farley was explaining the situation to the new arrivals, Marion slipped around beside Ted.

"Try to get them to leave you here a few days longer," she whispered, "and don't mention Dad whatever you do!"

She shrank back, as Sam Cutter came over toward them. He was a powerful man with a bull dog jaw and a shrewd glint in his squinted gray eyes.

He took both Ted and Marion for a minute without speaking. Then he said, with heavy sarcasm: "I'm sorry to break up your little outing, but your boy friend will have to come along with me."

Marion flushed at his tone, as an angry oath escaped Ted in spite of his resolve to keep cool.

"But for this young lady, I'd be dead now," he declared. "She nursed me through this crisis, and anyone who insults her will answer me to reckon with later." He glared at the men crowded around him.

"He isn't strong enough to be moved yet," Marion broke in, but Sam Cutter interrupted with a hoarse laugh.

"I reckon he'll stand the trip," he jeered. "And if he doesn't, that'll save us just so much trouble." He motioned to his men to get Ted outside.

"I can ride, all right, if you untie my ankles," Ted protested. "You needn't worry about my trying to make a break. I'm resigned, as you are to get this thing all up."

Sam Cutter gave him a long look and curtly ordered his men to cut the ropes that bound his feet together.

"I ain't worryin' about his making a break," he remarked, "but it'll be a whole lot easier going. He turned to Zeke Farley. "Thank for the tip about this bird. I'll try to do as much for you some day, reckon the girl friend comes your territory." He gave Marion a boldly admiring look, and added facetiously, "Some guys have all the luck!"

Zeke Is More Gentle

WITHOUT giving Ted a chance to have a word with Marion they hustled him out. Zeke Farley motioned his men to follow and wait for him outside.

She waited, resolved to have a break the silence. With every nerve tense, she was determined not to say anything that could be used against Ted, or that would involve her father. She was thankful that she had Zeke Farley deal with instead of Sam Cutter, whom she put down as a bully and a brute.

"Let's hear your story, now," Zeke Farley said finally. His voice was more gentle, but none the less firm.

"There's not much to tell," Marion answered. "I came out early one morning to find Ted Gaynor crawling across the clearing delirious and apparently dying from loss of blood. How he ever got as far as this, I don't know. I got him in just before the storm broke, and naturally did what I could for him. He pulled through, but it was a narrow squeak."

"Had you known Gaynor before?" the sheriff asked.

"I never saw him in my life before," Marion answered, looking straight into Zeke Farley's eyes.

"Humph!" was his only comment, but his eyes held an unwilling admiration for Marion's straightforward manner.

Scholarship Won By Local Shoe Salesman

Friends and customers of the Coburn Shoes, Inc., are congratulating Ralph LeRoy Shell on the announcement of his success in winning an important scholarship. The news came this week that Mr. Shell leaves for Augusta, Georgia to take up his studies at the Scholl Training school of master shoe fitting.

HOEY TO NAME WELCOME BODY

Hospitality Committee for State to Be Chosen

Reflector Bureau By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, July 24.—Governor Clyde R. Hoey has been giving careful consideration for several weeks to the task of appointing a state-wide "Hospitality Committee" and now expects to be able to announce the personnel of the committee in the near future, he indicated today, when the main committee is appointed and after consultation with its members, he then expects to name a similar "Hospitality Committee" in every county to work with the state committee in stimulating interest among the people in every county in getting them active in preparing for the increase in tourists expected from the new state-wide advertising campaign, Governor Hoey said.

"The success of our new state-wide advertising program is going to depend to a very large extent upon what we do here at home to make the strangers who come to the state feel at home and enjoy themselves," Governor Hoey said. "It is also going to depend a great deal upon the first impressions obtained by those who come here for the first time, since these are the people who in the long run are going to give the state most of its advertising by going back home and telling other people about North Carolina. If their first impressions are favorable, if they find the people here friendly and courteous and anxious to help them and to entertain them, they will be the most valuable advertising medium we can have."

"But if these thousands of visitors come here in response to our advertising campaign and find the people indifferent, the accommodations poor, prices too high and the food served in restaurants, cafes and hotels below the average, it will be very unfortunate. For not only will most of these visitors not return to North Carolina again for their vacations, but they will prevent others from coming here—and no amount of magazine and newspaper advertising will be able to overcome unfavorable word-of-mouth advertising by persons who have already visited the state and have been disappointed in what they found here and in the manner in which they were received.

"The purpose of the state and county 'Hospitality Committees' is going to be to first make a survey of the state as a whole and then of each county and to list the favorable features of each community. Also the facilities for entertaining tourists and visitors," Governor Hoey said. "But their job will not stop there. They must also look at each section and county from the critical point of view of the tourist and try to find as many unfavorable things and pick as many flaws as possible—and then go about the task of correcting these flaws.

"Their job will be to seek out unsightly places, such as old automobile and trash dumps, ramshackle buildings and other eyesores and either have them removed or screened from public view. They will be expected to call on property owners and get them interested in beautifying their houses, barns and yards by the planting of flowers and shrubbery and possibly the application of paint to their buildings.

"One of the most important aspects of their job will be to get in contact with restaurant, cafe, hotel and tourist camp operators and try to make them see that it will be good business for them to serve the best food possible and provide the most comfortable accommodation with pleasant, smiling service.

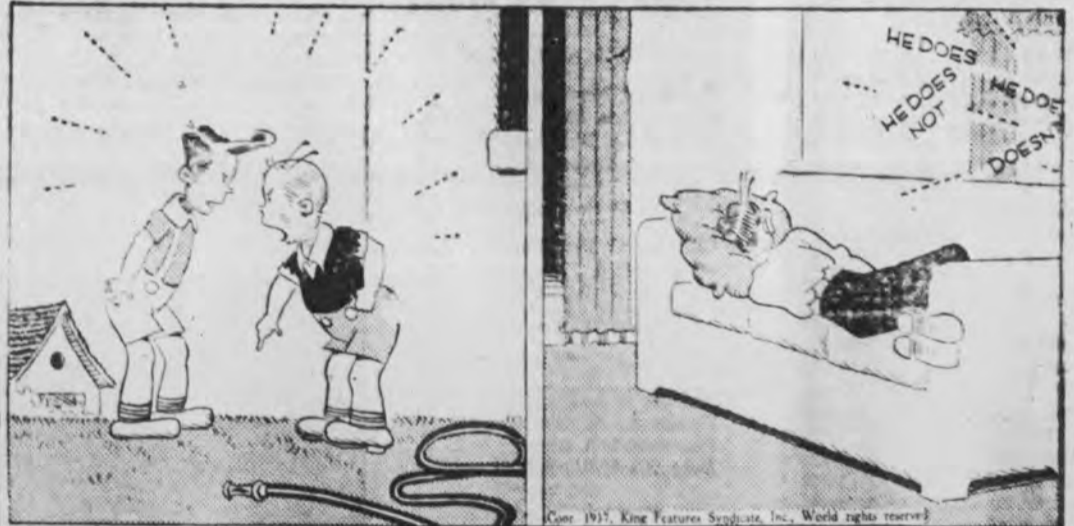

"So these committees really have a big job before them—so big that the success of the state advertising program depends very largely upon how well they do their job."

Governor Hoey revealed that a big response is already being received from the advertising already done and that every mail brings letters addressed to him personally asking for information and booklets telling about the state as a whole or concerning particular sections.

Greenville's Greenies again fell victims to Art Hauger's Martins at Third Street Stadium here yesterday afternoon. Pitcher Ray Strunk was the hero. He supplied the clinching blow in the eighth to tally Deim and Lakotas with the tying and winning runs, and a bit later Earp's outfield fly tallied Victoria with another for good measure.

Deim double to left started the Martins' winning rally in the eighth. Lakotas drew a walk, and then Victoria laid down a bunt. Delaney threw to third, and Umpire Howard ruled Deim safe on a close play. After some argument over the play at third, Pitcher Strunk decided he preferred victory to defeat—and singled to settle things.

Delaney and Strunk both hurried the route. Williamston outhit the Greenies, 10 to 8.

Al Pignataro stole home during Greenville's three-run second inning. Johnson's double and Pignataro's single sent in the first tally in this verse. Calliguri's single put Pignataro on third, and then Calliguri and Pignataro put on a successful double steal. Delaney's single and an error sent in Calliguri.

Steve Lakotas, with three hits for as many tries, led the hitters.

The Greenies journey over to Ayden this afternoon for a tilt with the Aces. They play Ayden here Sunday at 3:30.

FARLEY QUILTS AS CLUB PILOT

Injuries Force Manager to Resign; Stowe in Charge

G. V. Smith, president of the Greenville baseball club, announced today that Bo Farley had resigned as manager of the team and had gone to his home.

Farley, who managed the local club for the past two years, was forced to retire because of an injury he suffered to his right arm last week when he collided with a player at second base. The arm was fractured and Farley not only will be out the rest of this season but it is feared he may be out of baseball for good.

Farley, former all-round athletic star at Duke university, also has coached at the local high school and college. He has made an enviable record in athletics in Greenville, both as a coach and a player. He played third base on the Coastal League club and was one of the leading infielders in the loop. He also maintained a good hitting average and was noted for coming through in the pinches.

Since coming here Farley has made a large number of friends who will regret to see him leave. He resigned his position at the college recently and with his resignation from the local baseball club he has severed his last connection with athletics in Greenville.

The team will be managed temporarily at least by Durwood Stowe, who had charge of the team since Farley has been out of the line-up.

President Smith declared that rumors that Greenville was considering dropping out of the league were without foundation, and that, instead, the club was getting its team into position to finish the season much higher up in the standings than it is at the present time.

Some new players already are in and more are scheduled to arrive tomorrow in the immediate efforts to bolster the team. It appears that the club officials are determined to close the season with a "bang."

League Leaders Take Goldsboro by 5 To 4

Snow Hill — Pete Kunis came pretty close to mastering the Snow Hill Billies yesterday, but his Goldsboro mates couldn't give him the needed scoring lift. As a result Snow Hill won over the Bugs by a 5-4 count.

After the locals had grabbed a 4-0 lead in three innings, the Bugs jumped into a tie with a four-run reprisal during which Kunis homered with two on. Ignasiak opened Goldsboro's fourth with a single, Gadd duplicated, and the bases were filled when Malsano beat out an infield hit. Musser flied out and Overton dittoed—Ignasiak scoring on Overton's fly. Kunis then hit a line-drive homer over the left-field fence.

Goldsboro's runs came against the pitching of Korpel. Hruska relieved him with two out in the fourth and pitched two-hit ball the rest of the way. Pitzer made both of those hits. Hruska walked one. He pitched to just 19 batters in his 5 1-3 innings.

Doubles by Hyder and Korpel gave Snow Hill a run in the second. Three were made in the third. Wall's single, a walk, and Bistoff's single tallied the first, with one out. Hyder's infield hit filled the bases. Soufas' single sent in the second run of the inning, and Rabb's fly sent in the third.

The Billies got the winning run in the fifth; hits by Robinson and Bistoff and a walk to Hyder filled the bases, with one out. Robinson tallied as the bugs made a vain try for a double play on Soufas' rap to short.

BUNNY

— THE LAST HURDLE DON BUDGE AND COMPANY MUST CLEAR TO REGAIN THE DAVIS CUP

All Rights Reserved by The Associated Press

Budge Wins Over Englishman Foe

Wimbledon, England, July 24. —(AP)—Surviving a marathon 28-game first set, America's Don Budge crushed Charles Hare, Englishman, 15-13, 6-1, 6-2, after Frankie Parker of Milwaukee had lost to Henry "Bunny" Austin, British stylist 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

Cassell pitched the victory for Tarboro. He yielded six hits, nicely separated and fanned six.

The Serpents offered stinging defensive play, topped by three double plays.

Yesterday's win returned Tarboro to third place, one percentage point ahead of Goldsboro.

Frankie Ware, the league's chief manufacturer of two-base hits, rapped out three today to lead Tarboro's attack. The diminutive second sacker accepted eight fielding chances to take defensive laurels.

Monk Joyner, Ayden pilot and the league's top hitter, couldn't show the home folks—he was playing virtually in the "backyard" of his birthplace—how he mistreats Coastal Plain hurling. Although drawing a horsecollar as a hitter, Joyner backed up to the fence on three occasions to rob Tarboro hitters of extra-base knocks.

Tarboro counted twice in the first inning, and those runs proved to be exactly twice as many as Cassell needed. With two out in the opening canto, Ware doubled, Rimmer walked. Then Jim Tatum hit a two-bagger to score the two runners.

Tatum, with two for three, ranked next to Ware in Tarboro's attack. Jirak and Baker, each with two for four, led the Aces.

Each club made six hits, but Tarboro did a good job of getting blows against the pitching of Makie.

AYDEN HURLER SHOWING FORM

Butcher Was Protege of Connie Mack in Spring of '36

Lester (Hard-Rock) Butcher who is making his dent in the professional pitching records with the Ayden Aces, was a protege of Connie Mack of the Philadelphia A's in the spring of 1936, although he now belongs to Trenton of the New York-Penn League, which is a stepping stone to the Washington Senators.

Butcher went to training camp with the A's in the spring of 1936, and pitched 16 scoreless inning in exhibition games. Along with Buck Ross, he was considered one of the best rookie hurlers in camp.

But he needed professional experience, and the A's arranged for him to spend the summer in independent ball at Pulaski, Va., and were to farm him out this year.

At Pulaski last summer, Hard-Rock won 18 and lost two and gave an average of less than two earned runs per game. He had a string of 13 consecutive victories, including four shutouts. He averaged around ten strikeouts a game and his control was near perfect.

There is no record of him having signed a contract with the A's, and when the Washington farm club made him a good offer for this year, he accepted it. Trenton sent him over to Winston-Salem in the Piedmont league, where Manager Alvin Crowder stamped him as a promising pitcher, but in need of more polish before he could win in the Piedmont loop.

Trenton then sent him on to the Aces to get that polish, and the NY-P club still has a string which will enable the Senators to pull him back.

Butcher has played every position, and being a good hitter, was making a mark as an outfielder until the middle of 1933. The pitcher for his club failed to show up one day and he took the mound, allowing four hits, fanning 10 and turning in a 2 to 1 victory. Since that time he has been concentrating on a pitching career, and he has the connections that will move him up the ladder if he uncorks the stuff.

California registered 2,377,260 motor vehicles in the first five months of 1937—a gain of 193,484 over the same period a year ago.

SPORT SLANTS

Tennis enthusiasts who expect the British Lion play dead when Don Budge and his friends take the courts in the Davis cup challenge round may be in for a surprise. While it is true that Britain's big gun of tennis was silenced when Fred Perry turned professional, the King's men still have a real threat in Bunny Austin.

Day in and day out, Austin is not a great tennis player even though he is currently the No. 1 amateur tennis player on the British Isles. But on the days when the challenge rounds of the Davis cup matches have been played for the past few years he has been truly great.

None too robust, Austin has managed in the past to pace his training and conditioning so as to come up for the big test at the very peak of his form. He has a way of husking his energy that is uncanny. He begins to build up to his peak in the French hard court championship in which he usually loses. Day by day he increases the tempo of his practice periods. By the time the Wimbledon tournament rolls around he is nearing the fine edge he is seeking at Wimbledon. The semi-final round seems to be the point where he shows flashes of great tennis and then passes on to the sidelines. He is then moving along on schedule. When the time comes to defend the Davis cup he is ready.

Austin draws his conditioning so fine that his strength seems to evaporate in the three days of Davis cup play. He is likely to beat the first man he faces (whether it be Don Budge or anyone else) but by the third day, he is not likely to have very much left. Still, there is no telling what this gamester will do now that he stands practically alone with the back against the wall. One thing is certain. He'll make any tennis player in the world hustle to beat him when the Davis cup is on the line.

STATE AUDITS NOW IN SHAPE

Much Progress Made In Department During Six Months

Reflector Bureau

Raleigh, July 24.—Much progress in the auditing of state departments which never before have been audited, was reported to Governor Clyde R. Hoey today by State Auditor George Ross Pou. In a letter to the governor, Auditor Pou pointed out that according to his records, no audits had ever been made of a large number of state departments and agencies and that the audits of a number of state institutions were badly in arrears, including State College, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, which was five years in arrears, the N. C. Soldiers' Home and the Industrial Farm Colony for Women prisoners.

Between the time he took office in January and July 1 of this year, the audits of all state institutions have been completed and brought up to date, Auditor Pou said. In addition audits have been made of the following state departments and agencies which the records of the auditor's office showed had never been audited:

Department of the Attorney General; Commissioner of Banks; State Board of Elections; Historical Commission; Department of Labor; Transportation Advisory Commission; State Library; Library Commission; Utilities Commission; State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

Audits which were in arrears when he took office have now been completed for the following departments and agencies, Mr. Pou said: Insurance Department; State Department of Agriculture; World War Veterans Loan Fund; Industrial Commission and the Department of Conservation and Development. The only departmental audits still in arrears are those of the Department of Revenue, the Motor Vehicle Bureau and Highway Patrol. The State Supreme Court and the Commercial Fisheries division of the conservation department, State Auditor Pou indicated.

Preliminary audits have been made and are in process of completion for the Division of Purchase and Contract, the Governor's office, State Board of Health, Secretary of State and the State Textbook Purchase and Rental Commission, none of which had ever been audited before, Mr. Pou said.

JAPAN DECIDES REVALUE GOLD

Officials Turn From War Crisis to Domestic Problems

Tokyo, July 24. —(AP)— Japan turned from war-like preparations to domestic problems today after more than two weeks' feverish excitement over the North China military crisis.

Parliament convened for a short two-week session to deal largely with economic proposals as the government announced its decisions to revalue gold reserves of the Bank of Japan, a move that will triple the book value of Japan's gold hoard.

The war scare was allayed, temporarily at least, by war office reports hostile Chinese troops had withdrawn from the Peiping area, scene of the greatest Sino-Japanese tension, and by other reports indicating the Nanking government's willingness to accept the local agreement for ending the difficulty in North China.

The deputies said after the shooting the union and the operators agreed to a truce, called pickets from the highways and arranged a meeting to be held later in the day.

Camera Coverage Of The World

FOR A CHANGE. Although there's standing room only, it looked like a cute idea. Cuter still was Jean Parker, screen beauty, who arrived at a beach near Hollywood with this "cabano." She surfed about a bit, and then was able to make a quick change to a dry suit for sunning.

COOL DEB.
An outstanding debutante of the season is Miss Marsyl Stokes of Newport, R. I., shown ready for a swim at Bailey's beach.

YANKEE BIG SHOT. Joe Di Maggio's the "big shot" of Yankee Stadium now. He is the home run and scoring ace of the league, and isn't so far behind the veteran team-mate, Lou Gehrig, in batting percentages. Joe likely will clean up $40,000 this year.

PEN AND SWORD. The one-year-old Spanish civil war settles down to a grim business. These two veteran government soldiers carry fountain pens along with bayonets, and when war pauses they write the folks back home. It is a dug-out on the Madrid front.

GE S A CROWN.
Egypt's King Farouk, who will be crowned in Oriental splendor and invested with the sacred sword of Mohamed Ali the Great at Cairo on July 31.

LOTS A PILLS. Rheumatic Charley Grimm, boss of the National league-leading Cubs who is taking treatments in a St. Louis hospital, may be out of bed soon. He's having a great time as a sick man with the principal peeve against a wide assortment of vari-colored pills.

$30,000 DUEL. Kentucky-bred Muscletone, now the pride of Italy, challenges the great Greyhound, America's trotting champion, for a $10,000 purse and owner wagers of $20,000. The 3-year-old is listed as the entry of Givo Maiani, but Mussolini is regarded as the real owner.

HIGH HAT.
Towering toques for fall, says Paris. This off-center one is of royal blue felt, with red and yellow upholstery braid.

ON THE LINE-SKI. Just like any other little girl, Shirley Lett got out her autograph book for signatures when she played unofficial boss to the Soviet flyers who made the record-breaking polar hop from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif. They visited her at a studio.
