Japan Tightens North China Grip

VIRTUAL RING ABOUT PEIPING

Invaders Drive Toward Complete Control of Tientsin

(By Associated Press)
Japan tightened her grip on the North China province of Hopei today by virtually surrounding the ancient capital, Peiping, and driving toward complete control of Tientsin, commercial gateway to the area.

Japanese artillery boomed continuously in Tientsin in an attempt to drive from the central railway station area and the Chinese city groups of die-hard Chinese machine gunners.

Heavy weather kept Japanese planes from resuming their two-day bombardment of scattered Chinese positions, but artillery systematically blasted at surviving Chinese opposition.

The heavy shelling increased panic among Chinese residents. Thousands of them tried to enter foreign concessions.

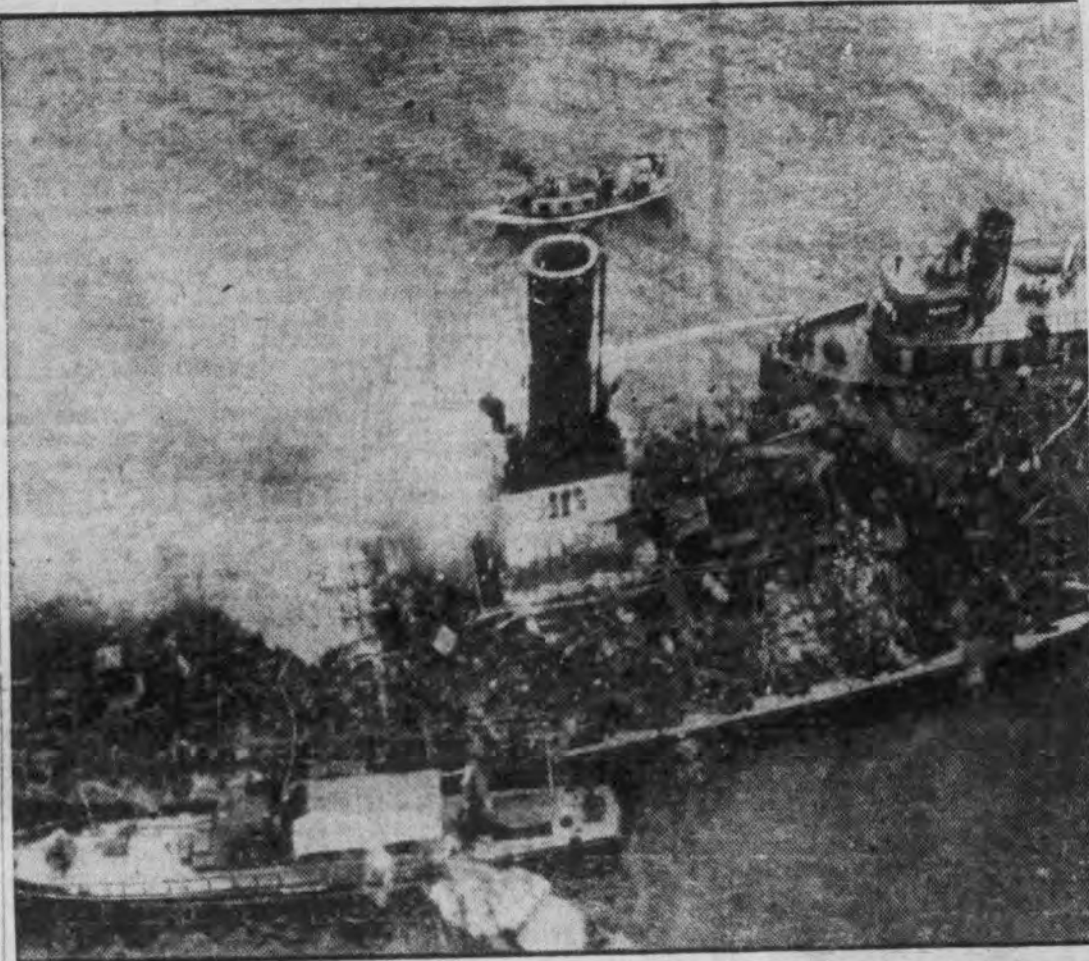

Northwest of Peiping at Haiyuan 2,000 Japanese troops battled the 37th division of the 29th Chinese army. The only possible gap in the ring around the city came at Tungchow, 20 miles east.

Fate of the Tungchow Japanese garrison was in doubt, but reports indicated Japanese planes and machine guns routed Chinese gendarmes, who attacked the post Thursday.

Some concern was felt for the safety of two Americans in the Tungchow region—Harry S. Martin of Boston and James A. Hunter of Peoria, Ill.

At Tokyo, General Suiyama, minister of war, declared Japan must be ready to settle the crisis by direct military action. At the same (Continued on Page Three)

Two Die, Two Missing, 150 Imperiled In Fire On Vessel

J. R. Polikoff, an attorney of Aiken, S. C., and an unidentified man perished, two others were missing and 150 passengers and members of the crew were imperiled by an explosion and fire that destroyed the Chesapeake Bay liner, City of Baltimore, en route from Baltimore to Norfolk, Va. The smoldering hulk of the vessel is shown beached on Sandy Shoals 14 miles southeast of Baltimore. Standing by are police and fire boats.

SENATORS DUE BALLOT TODAY

Southern Solons Bitterly Opposed To Measure

Washington, July 31.—(AP) — Senators Harrison of Mississippi and Connally of Texas led a band of Southern Democrats today in an eleventh hour revolt against a major Roosevelt objective—wage and hour standards.

They were trying to sidetrack the issue for this session by sending the Black-Connery wage and hour bill back to the labor committee.

Administration leaders, however, predicted the measure would pass by a comfortable margin in the final vote, set for 3 p. m. (EST).

The rebellion emphasized that the rift in Democratic senate ranks had continued despite cessation of the court reorganization fight.

Senators Byrd (D.-Va.) and Smith (D.-S.C.), long critical of the administration, helped rally the rebel factions. Some senators said privately the President Garner was encouraging the group in one of its aims—early adjournment of congress.

The wage and hour bill was the most controversial item remaining on the session's program. It would empower a board to fix minimum wages in interstate industries no higher than 40 cents an hour. The maximum work week could not be reduced below 40 hours.

To Discontinue Railroad

Belhaven, N. C., July 31.—(AP)—Officials of the Norfolk Southern railway announced today the branch line from Mackeys to Bishop Cross would be discontinued under authority of an Interstate Commerce Commission order.

NEW VIOLENCE VISITS IRELAND

Belfast Awakened With Dynamiting By Terrorists

Belfast, Ireland, July 31.—(AP)—Terrorists awakened Belfast with dynamite today in a fresh outbreak of the violence which greeted King George on his visit to northern Ireland three days ago.

Explosion of a land mine 50 yards from a police barracks in the west end and beating of a man his assailants termed a "spy and a police tout" sent officers on a house to house search for political extremists.

Both the city and the Ulster-Free State border were quiet after the early morning violence but police took extra precautions against fresh demonstrations.

A band of terrorists held up Thomas Doherty and five companions before dawn. While three men kept the companions lined against a wall the others bludgeoned Doherty with revolver butts. They left him seriously hurt.

MASTER FEELS VESSEL FIRED

Reiterates Belief At Federal Board Holding Inquiry

Baltimore, July 31.—(AP)—Capt. Charles Brooks, master of the ill-fated City of Baltimore, reiterated to a federal inquiry board today his belief the disastrous fire which destroyed the liner and cost two lives was started deliberately.

The captain blamed sabotage, he said, because he could not otherwise understand how the fire spread so quickly.

"Do you think any member of your crew would be guilty of sabotage?" J. F. Staley, Department of Justice attorney and member of the board asked.

"No sir," the officer replied. "I can only state however, that it is mysterious that the vessel of the size of the City of Baltimore could take fire and that within five minutes flames would be bursting over the top deck from one end to another."

He testified that a man who rescued him (Capt. Brooks leaped overboard after all passengers and crew had left the burning ship Thursday night and was picked up by a speed boat) came to the Brooks home and said he had picked up an empty kerosene can on shore near the scene of the fire.

Mineral oil and not kerosene was used aboard the ship, he testified.

N. C. ESCAPES STORM'S PATH

Latest Advices Warn Area North of Virginia Capes

Washington, July 31.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory 10:30 a. m.: Northeast storm warnings ordered north of Virginia Capes to Sandy Hook, N. J., except upper Chesapeake Bay. Gulf disturbances that crossed Florida peninsula Thursday night centered 7:30 a. m. short distance south of Cape Hatteras, moving north-northeastward at least 20 miles an hour. Highest wind reported 32 miles an hour from southeast at Hatteras. Disturbance will be attended by strong shifting winds reaching gale force over small area near center."

New Orleans, July 31.—(AP)—The weather bureau reported early today a storm of narrow diameter carrying winds of gale force (50 miles an hour) was centered some 150 miles east of Charleston, S. C., was likely to strike the coast in the region of Cape Hatteras about noon. The bureau issued the following advisory warning:

2:30 a. m. (CST) northwest storm warnings ordered north of Wilmington, N. C., to the Virginia Capes. Disturbances of small diameter central midnight 150 miles east of Charleston increasing in intensity and moving north or north-northeast about 12 miles an hour. OPENING WEEK AVERAGE GOOD

One-Fifth of Predicted Georgia Tobacco Crop Sold

Valdosta, Ga., July 31.—(AP)—Tobacco growers of the Georgia-Florida bright leaf belt sold about a fifth of the predicted 1937 yield at opening week auctions that established an average price of 25 to 26 cents a pound.

The market closed firm for the week yesterday after two days of brisk sales. Unofficial total poundage was reported at about 7,000,000 a day.

The agricultural economic bureau at Washington said opening prices were about as expected and reported main offerings consisted of good to choice quality primings and low to fair quality cutters.

"Prices appeared to be satisfactory to growers and there were but few rejections," the bureau announced. The opening compared in average price with last year's first week's figure of slightly over 25 cents a pound.

Padgett-Edwards

The marriage of Miss Sallie Arrington Edwards to Joseph Wright Padgett was solemnized in a quiet but pretty ceremony this morning at ten o'clock at the home of Miss Lill Padgett on Seventh street.

The bride and bride-groom entered together. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar banked with lilies against a background of ferns and palms, with branched candelabra holding cathedral candles placed on either side.

The Reverend T. McM. Grant, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a most becoming suit of white gabardine with white accessories. Her flowers were a shoulderette of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Padgett is the attractive daughter of J. M. Edwards of this city and the late Mrs. Annie Boyce Edwards. For some time she has been with the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph company.

Mr. Padgett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Padgett of Mount Olive, was formerly here with White's Stores.

After a wedding trip to northern cities Mr. and Mrs. Padgett will make their home in Mount Olive.

were introduced. They were A. Vernon Sheffield, member of the Norfolk, Va., club, and M. P. Fox, who recently moved to Greenville and became an official of the Tidlock Mutual Insurance agency.

Two new members were welcomed into the club by W. J. Bundy. The two were W. L. Smith, Jr., and Dr. N. E. Ward.

President Berry Bostic then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Tyson. Miss Helen Phelps was first on the program, entertaining the club members with two selections, "September in the Rain" and "I Know Now."

Miss Phelps and Greenville's popular trio, Misses Eolire Sawyer, Helen Sawyer and Mary Hoover Boyd, then sang "Diane," "Sweet Lah-lah-nee" and "Little Old Lady." The program was concluded with the club members joining Miss Phelps in singing "Bel's of St. Mary's."

After the regular meeting, officers and the board of directors were called into a business session to discuss a number of important matters.

4-H Short Course

This week has been a busy one for Midred Edwards of the Pierce club, Sue Watson of the Bethel club, Hal Thomas Erwin and Chas. Nichols of Bell Arthur, and Austin Smith of Chicod. They are attending the annual State 4-H Short Course at State College. We wish more boys and girls of Pitt could have this opportunity.

Farm and Home Convention

The annual Farm and Home convention will open at State College Monday, August 2 and continue until 12:30 Friday, August 6. Several men and women of this section will attend. It is a wonderful opportunity to combine an inexpensive vacation and a study of the new methods in home-making and agriculture. Association with others of the same profession is quite an asset. Leave your work behind for a few days and go to the college for refreshment. It will pay. Dormitory rooms are free and meals will be served cafeteria style. If four or five arrange to go in one car and divide expenses, the cost of transportation will be small. Women will need the type of clothing you would wear at a local club meeting, plus one dress a little more dressy. No evening dresses will be needed. Mrs. Hoey will give a tea at the Mansion Tuesday from 4:30 to 6:30 and there will be a Federation Garden party Thursday afternoon. The same dress will be appropriate.

Each afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00 there will be a Rural Ministers' conference with B. Troy Ferguson in charge.

There will be conferences for adult 4-H leaders which will be quite helpful. Tours will be conducted to Duke University.

Classes for women will include the following: Foods, Entertaining, Making American Cheese, Food Conservation, Judging and Scoring Products, Copper Work Using Old Steel, Clothing, House Furnishings and Home Management, Parent-Child Education, Home Beautification, Library, Recreation, Parliamentary Procedure, Poultry and Dairy, First Aid, and Training 4-H Leaders.

TEACHERS NOW SURE OF RAISE

More Than 23,000 To Get Full 10 Per Cent. Boost

Reflector Bureau
By J. C. BASKERVILL

Raleigh, July 31.—The more than 23,000 school teachers in North Carolina are going to get the full 10 per cent increase in salaries given them by the 1937 general assembly in addition to the increases or "increments" earned as a result of increased experience and better certifications. It was learned today following a meeting of the salary schedule committee here Friday, although members of the committee declined to discuss what had been done or make any statements for publication.

It was also learned that while the salary schedule for teachers will probably remain unchanged except for the addition of the 10 per cent increases provided by the general assembly, that the schedule for principals and superintendents will probably be revised somewhat to remove inequalities which have existed in the past and tend to provide more adequate salaries for the superintendents in the smaller counties and principals in the smaller schools. But this is not expected to materially increase the total amount needed for teachers salaries, but rather merely to correct inequalities.

The factor which has been holding matters up and clogging the salary machinery so that for a while there was some doubt as to whether it would be possible to grant the school teachers the full 10 per cent increase in salaries, beginning this fall, was the item of $150,000 which was "loaned" to the school commission by Governor Clyde R. Hoey and the Council of State some months ago so that the commission could purchase $750,000 worth of new school busses instead of only $600,000 worth. When this "loan" was made to the commission, Governor Hoey was understood to have indicated that it could be paid back out of the 1938-39 school appropriation instead out of this year's appropriation. But some of the members of the school commission were of the opinion that this "loan" had to be repaid out of this year's allotment, in which case there would not be enough money to give the teachers a full 10 per cent increase and also give them their regular earned increments, or the salary increase a teachers gets every year for having taught an additional year, up to eight years, or for having obtained a higher class teaching certificate. If this $150,000 is to be repaid out of this year's appropriation, it was generally agreed that the teachers would either have to take a 10 per cent raise with no increments or take about an 8 per cent raise and get the regular increments.

But most of the members of the school commission not only feel that the teachers are entitled to the full 10 per cent salary increase plus the increments, but that they really should have more. Lieutenant Governor W. P. Horton, who is chairman of the commission, Lloyd Griffin, the executive secretary, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clyde Erwin, who is vice-chairman of the commission, and most of the other members are outspoken in their conviction that the

Senator Lewis Advises Against Enforcing Neutrality Bill

Washington, July 31. — (AP) — Senator Lewis (D-Ill.) said today the United States could be at war with China or Japan, or both, "within an hour" if it complied with demands for immediate enforcement of the neutrality law.

Discussing the administration's policy about the Asiatic crisis, Lewis told the senate:

"Those who are demanding that the United States enforce its neutrality law at once, fail to see that the moment we announce either one of the nations as the aggressor and declare both as being at war our ships of trade delivering American goods in the Orient would be at once seized by either China or Japan, or both, as bringing supplies to the enemy x x x"

Meantime at the capital a senate inquiry committee appointed Col. Lawrence Westbrook former assistant war administrator, a special investigator, for its inquiry into activities of the American cotton cooperative association.

Elsewhere the capital predictions that a federal judge could be promoted to fill the supreme court vacancy quieted speculation over the availability of Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan.

Other developments:

Rep. John McClellan Malvern of Arkansas said if Gov. Carl Bailey would refuse to accept the nomination of the Arkansas Democratic state committee for the senate "party harmony will be restored in Arkansas and a primary election can yet be called and held in approved Democratic fashion."

CLAIM REVOLE AMONG REBELS

Granada, another southern Spanish city, site of the famed Moorish Alhambra.

The Fabra (Spanish) news agency in a dispatch from Gibraltar said bomb explosions could be heard within the ancient city and that insurgent authorities were struggling desperately to localize the mutiny.

The agency said the Granada uprising came when Spanish soldiers were ordered from their barracks to make room for Italian volunteers under Franco's banner.

A radio broadcast by General De Llano, one of Franco's chieftains, made an absolute denial of the Granada revolt.

In the same broadcast he hinted Franco might be preparing for a new offensive toward Madrid.

teachers in North Carolina are doing more work for less money than almost any other class of workers and that every possible sacrifice must be made to see to it that they get the 10 per cent pay boost which the general assembly intended them to get.

The general assembly appropriated $24,396,000 for the operation of the public schools this coming year, which is agreed to be adequate to pay the teachers the full 10 per cent pay increase in their last year's salaries and also give them their increment increases, unless $150,000 is taken out of this amount to pay the loan from the emergency fund advanced for the purchase of additional busses. It is now generally agreed that this loan will be carried over and charged against next year's appropriation, which is considerably larger than this year's, amounting to more than $25,000,000. If it becomes evident that it cannot be repaid out of that appropriation, another legislature will intervene before the expiration of that fiscal year and an emergency appropriation can be obtained with which to pay it, others are pointing out.

As a result, it is now apparent that not less than $20,150,000 of the $24,396,000 appropriated for the public schools this year will be used in paying for instructional service, and that the teachers will get their 10 per cent salary increase and their increments as well, most observers here are convinced.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington—Not since his election in 1932 has there been such an accumulation of circumstances as have arisen now to dog the course of President Roosevelt.

Strangely, the date of the beginning of the accumulation was not November 3, when he entered his second term and thus became subject to second term difficulties. The beginning was February 5, when he submitted to the country his proposal to put "new blood" in the supreme court.

It was a bold step, taken by a President who always before had acted boldly with uncannily good results to his own prestige. On the eve of the election, when many were looking for something to indicate a prolongation of the "breathing spell", the President reviewed to a Madison Square Garden audience his "magna charta" for the under-privileged, and said:
"For all these things, we have only just begun to fight."

Luck changed

Until February 5 he had answers for everything, and the barbs of his opponents were turned away with retorts often more pointed than the weapons of his critics.

But during the court fight there were several un-Roosevelian blunders. Administration spokesmen said old judges could not think straight.
Yet the oldest justice of all, Brandeis, had been thinking the way the administration called straight. Old judges, they said, could not keep up with their work. But an analysis of department of justice files disclosed that elderly district judges kept their dockets cleanest.

Meanwhile the court changed its tone and put the President in the position of demanding new members because he doubted whether the court's change was either sincere or permanent. Then came that letter to Senator Barkley.

Atop all that was piled the act of Governor Lehman of New York in denouncing the court plan.

plained that the labor relations board helped force liquidation of a cotton mill in Tupelo; and Representative Snell of New York, Republican leader, suggests that the Democratic national committee violated the corrupt practices act by soliciting corporations to buy quantities of the 1936 convention book at $250 each.

The President's name was linked with these since he autographed a special page pasted into each. The White House said the President did not know the use to which his signature was to be put. But that only slightly reduced the value of this situation to his political foes in 1938 and 1940.

EMPLOYMENT SHOWING GAIN

Increasing Both in Industry and Commerce in N. C.

Reflector Bureau
Raleigh, July 31.—Better employment conditions in industry and commerce are being shown almost daily in the requests of employers in North Carolina for additional blanks for making their reports on the payments to individual employees
during the first and second quarters of 1937, as compared with 1936, it was indicated today by Chairman Charles G. Powell, of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

The division usually sends out blanks for these quarterly reports to the number reported by the employers for 1936, with additions for a moderate increase in the number of employees. In many instances, the employers ask for additional blanks, indicating that they have had a more than moderate increase in the number of employees. This seems to reflect considerable improvement in business and industry in the recent months, Chairman
Powell pointed out.

In this connection, Mr. Powell finds that occasionally an employer who had eight, nine or ten employees in 1936 and was thus brought under the Unemployment Compensation act, has reduced his force to six or seven and thus thinks that he is no longer under the act. However, Mr. Powell points out, the act requires that if an employer was under the act for 1936, he must remain under it and pay contributions on his employees for even if he reduces his force so he does not have as many as eight employees for as many as 20 weeks during the year.

If an employer who was under the act for 1936 finds that he has not employed as many as eight workers for 20 weeks in 1937 and wants to get out from under the act
he is required to file with the Unemployment Compensation Commission a written application for termination of coverage prior to January 5, and if the commission finds that such employer did not have eight employees for 20 weeks during the preceding year, then the coverage may be terminated as of January 1.

In accordance with the act, an employer, who is under the act or one who does not have a sufficient number of employees to bring him under the act, or is in an excluded employment, and is admitted into coverage by voluntary action, is required to pay contributions for two years before he can terminate his coverage, Mr. Powell cites. He also reminds that an employer who comes under the act for any part of a year is under it for the entire calendar year.

HEAVY LOSS BY FOREST BLAZES

Total of 165 Fires Reported During Past Month

Reflector Bureau
 Raleigh, July 31.—A total of 165 forest fires burned in counties cooperating with the state in forest fire control during the month of June, according to a report issued today by W. C. McCormick, chief forest fire warden, Department of Conservation and Development.
 "This was 134 fewer fires than reported for May of this year, but due to abnormal conditions, the number of acres burned in June and the average damage per acre were both higher than for the preceding month," McCormick said. Although the middle of May ordinarily marks the end of the fire hazard season in North Carolina, we had this year several large forest fires which broke out in the eastern counties in some of our most extensive and valuable timber tracts. These blazes burned over land which usually at this time of the year is under several feet of water.

Chief among the causes of fires for June were careless smokers in the woods, who were responsible for starting 64 fires. Incendiarcaused 30 fires, while brush burning resulted in 21 forest fires being started.

The total acreage reported burned was 14,267 acres, or nearly 3,000 acres more than reported in May with its larger number of forest fires. New forests suffered the most severe damage, over 11,000 acres of young growth having been burned.
 The average damage per acre amounted to $2.11, while the total damage to forests in the cooperating counties was estimated at $31,090.

In regard to the number of fires
 by districts, District Number Two was low, reporting only two fires during the month. Districts four and six tied for high with 57 fires
 each.

One of the most spectacular fires
 of the month occurred in Beaufort county. Burning over pocosin land ordinarily under water at this season, this fire was subdued only after days of fighting by a CCO suppression crew, and the use of fire plow and a large number of dynamite charges.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
 (AP Science Editor)

Washington — There are heat waves up in the stratosphere, far above the topmost balloon flights—probably 100 or more miles up.

Radio evidences for these high,
 hot winds is found by four U. S.
 bureau of standards scientists, S. S.
 Kirby, N. Smith, T. R. Gilliland and S. E. Rejmer. The air where they occur is probably so thin a human being could not feel it blowing.

Nevertheless the scientists report in the Physical Review this thin air expands, so that its electrical density is cut down to 25 per cent of normal. Sunspots are the cause and the expansion that seems due to heat comes during magnetic storms that interfere with radio transmission.

NEGRO LOSES REPRIEVE HE WON BY SINGING

Austin, Tex. (AP)—James "Iron-
 head" Baker, who sang his way out of the Texas penitentiary, is back inside its walls.
 Gov. James V. Allred, impressed with the negro's ability to sing folk songs, granted him a reprieve last year from a life sentence for habit-ual burglary so he could accompany John A. Lomax, curator of folk songs for the Library of Congress, on a tour.

When the tour ended he worked at several jobs, he says, but easier money beckoned.

After Baker was charged with burglarizing several Austin residences, the governor revoked his furlough.

NIGHT TRAFFIC HAZARD IS GREATER THAN DAY

San Francisco (AP)—Increasing
 traffic fatalities among pedestrians at night are revealed by traffic accident surveys collected by the California State Auto association.

One study gave the night pedestrian hazard as 63 per cent greater than the daytime. The survey also showed that of traffic deaths involving pedestrians over 50 years old, 82 per cent occurred in dusk or darkness.

Why in the World Should Anyone Become a Catholic?

Take the modern man who boasts the right to believe just what he wishes and no more—to worship how, if, when and as much as he pleases and no more. Why in the world should he deliberately shackle his mind and his body to a church that insists that he believe everything it teaches and that he worship and live as it directs?

Why in the world?

Yet 63,845 people last year in this country alone became Catholics of their own free will and desire. Before the Catholic Church would admit them, each had to study facts, had to know exactly what he was doing, had to be convinced that the one body which has ever claimed to be God's mouth-piece was alone the Church which Christ founded for all mankind.

Facts, thought, humility and courage form the foursome that brings thousands into the Catholic Church yearly. Misrepresentation, superficiality, egoism and faint-heartedness for the quartet which leads from Indifferentism to Modernism to Atheism.

Shackled minds? Surely not those that bind themselves to the Truth that makes you free; but rather those enslaved by the thought that God's complete truths are lost or befuddled or really not very important after all.

All types of people each year join the Church founded for all types of people; and among the converts is always represented the very cream of intellectuality—scientists, educators, authors, professional men and clergymen—the last to so great an extent that the Saint Paul Guild, a national society with headquarters in New York City, was formed to help those valiant souls deprived by their conversions of both salary and vocation.

Why in the world should anyone become a Catholic? No worldly reason certainly; but the world will some day die and the soul goes on and on forever.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants to buy her ranch and marry Kay. Ted pummels Scrap Johnson, a co-worker who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. A girl named Mari finds Ted and her nursing saves his life. The sheriff arrests Ted on a tip unconsciously given by Kay. The cards are stacked against him at his trial for Scrap's murder. The sheriff is charging the jury when Kay protests the trial on a technicality.

the situation! Glancing over her shoulder, she saw Josh Hastings appear at the door. Tom Runyon was in the background, talking excitedly to two men who had buttonholed her, and were apparently giving him some unwelcome news. Thankful that his attention, at least, was diverted from her for the moment, Kay started to run down the street toward the hotel, her one-thought being to reach her room before a threatening dizziness overcame her. At the far end of the practically deserted street, stood the rambling two-story wooden hotel, where she had taken a room, and Kay sped toward it.

Hastings carried unconscious Kay to his car.

Halfway there, the buzzing in her ears increased to a deafening roar, and an enveloping blackness sent her staggering ahead a few more steps before she fell in a dead faint. A second later, Josh Hastings was beside her. Picking her up, he carried her a few yards to where he had left his car parked. He put her hastily and more gently on the back seat, sprang in and drove off at high speed.

Black Prison

When Kay came to, her first impression was that the blackness which had overcome her was still around her. Then, as consciousness gradually came back, she realized that she really was in a totally dark place of some kind, with a dank, unpleasant odor. A nameless terror brought Kay to her knees, on the damp floor where she had been lying. Groping about her, her hand came in contact with a cold piece of iron. She ran her hand along its surface. It felt like an old forge.

She grasped it to steady herself, and got to her feet, fighting with all her might not to give way again to the surging rumbling in her ears and the wild beating of her heart. At least, she wasn't bound and gagged!

She shouted aloud, and her voice resounded with a muffle roar against the low ceiling.

As her eyes gradually became accustomed to the dark, she reached out toward the wall, taking a few experimental steps away from the prop that had been supporting her. Her foot hit against a hard obstruction, and stooping down, she felt some pieces of scrap iron. She realized that she must have been brought into the cellar of some blacksmith shop.

Kay called again as loudly as she could. This time, heavy steps overhead responded to her call, and with mounting excitement she heard the thumping of feet descending some stairs. A moment later, a door some 10 feet away from her was pulled open. Josh Hastings appeared, framed in the dim light that penetrated through that doorway.

Canning Demonstration
A canning demonstration was given at the home of the Negro County Agent, D. D. Dupree, by Mrs. Annie Sawyer. A good number of women were present. Everything is being done to stimulate an interest among the farm women to can all surplus vegetables. In the remote parts of the county a little prize is being offered by the Agent's wife, Etta Dupree, to the farm woman that fills the most jars this year. She also is helping to teach them to can.

The Agent is trying to interest a good number of farmers to attend the Edgcombe Test Farm meeting. He feels that the outing will do them good, along with the many things there is to learn at the farm.

Crops are looking fine throughout the county and everything looks encouraging since the rain. The only setback is the army worm, which is very destructive. But if the farmers will take precaution and follow advice given, they can easily be overcome.

DOOMED STEER FLEES CATTLE DEATH HOUSE

Omaha, Neb. (AP)—A blow on the head by a sledge hammer in the hands of a packing house worker meant only "git along little dogie, git along" to one steer.

He rolled down the chute onto the killing floor with blood in his eye. Finding no immediate means of exit, he jumped out of a two-story window and started down the street.

After he had gone more than a mile from the plant, he fell exhausted and was killed by a group of packing house workers who had given chase.

NOW IT'S WINDSOR ST. — "JUST BECAUSE"

Evanston, Ill. (AP)—Residents on the three-block stretch called Simpson street petitioned city councilmen to change the name of their thoroughfare to Windsor street, "just because."

When the council got the petition the mayor could not restore order for five minutes. Some of the petitioners told the council the Duke and Duchess of Windsor romance gave them the idea. They thought the new name would attract people. Others thought it "nonsense" and "foolish" but the council ordered a resolution drawn charging the name.

Chapter 40 KIDNAPED!

A confused hubbub broke out in the court room, and through it, Tom Runyon and Josh Hastings both tried to force their way to Kays side.

The sheriff's pounding fist proved futile to stem the uproar. Pulling out his gun, he sent a shot shattering through a window. "Silence!" he yelled.

In the stupefied moment that followed, Josh Hastings called out, "Don't listen to her! She's been suffering from concussion of the brain, and she's not right yet. She doesn't know what she's talking about."

"I do know what I'm talking about," Kay declared, "and I've brought my proof."

"You're crazy," Sam Cutter broke in. "Scrap Johnson was murdered a half a mile this side of the line. The monument's right there by the trail, on the way up to the summit."

"I know it is," Kay brought out a pamphlet, and held it impressively aloft. But what you evidently don't know is that the summit where Scrap Johnson was murdered is a migrating divide. Wait! I'll read it to you from the latest U. S. geological survey."

In the stunned silence that followed, Kay read in a clear voice:

"The summit is known as a retreating or migrating divide. Waters tributary to the Bitter Root river in Montana are capturing by evasion those of the Clear Water river in Idaho, so that the divide is slowly being shifted westward, adding to the territory of Montana, and diminishing that of Idaho. The existing divide is six to eight miles from the irregular line representing the original divide."

Kay looked up at Sam Cutter's baffled and astonished face. "That monument you spoke of marks the original divide. Actually it is six to eight miles on the Montana side, and as Scrap Johnson was murdered only half a mile west of it, there's no question but that the killing took place in Montana."

"Let me see that book!" Sam Cutter demanded hoarsely, as a flood of excited comment broke out, everybody talking at once.

The only quiet person in the room was Ted Gaynor, who sat, momentarily stunned at the unexpected turn of events. Relief at the delay and change in venue of the trial mingled with amazement that it was due to Kay.

Ted reproached himself for his aloofness that morning. She evidently wanted to atone for her betrayal of him, and while he could never forget that treacherous act, he at least should have seen her.

A sudden tense silence in the room brought Ted's eye back to Sam Cutter's face. Everyone was watching him as he read the pamphlet Kay had quoted him. With an abrupt movement, Sam Cutter threw the booklet on the table and crashed his fist down.

"This trial is adjourned," he announced in acid tones. He glanced over to where Zeke Farley was seated, gazing at him in stupefaction. "I'll turn the prisoner over to you whenever you are ready."

Totally disregarding the uproar that followed his words, he wrenched open the door of his office, which gave off the back of the room, strode in and slammed it.

Collapse In The Street

Kay pushed her way out through the excited crowd, pretending not to see Tom Runyon and Josh Hastings, as they tried to fight their way to her.

A sudden exhaustion flooded her as she gained the front door, and came out in the fresh air. She simply had to be alone to take stock of

After suffering two 2-1 losses in Thursday's double-header at New Bern, Greenville's Greenies came back again yesterday to make another lone tally. The run held up this time, and the locals came out victors over Doc Smith's Bears.

Don King, new Greenville flinger, was the hero of yesterday's victory. He won the verdict over Bull Hamons. The two pitchers matched 3-hit hurling, but Hamons threw in a wild pitch to let in the only tally of the game.

Greenville has played three games with the Bears, losing two and winning one. For the three games the Bears have collected only nine hits and four runs, off four local hurlers.

King, lefthander from Iowa, who came to the Greenies last week, hurled one-hit ball for seven innings. Over that stretch, the only New Bern safety was Douglass' third-inning double. The other two hits were made by two former Greenville players, Mope Melchor in the eighth and Thoele duplicated in the ninth.

The Bears' only real threat came in the second. With two out, King walked three men. The inning was ended when Hamons hit to King.

Two of the locals' hits came in the first two innings—Thompson beat out an infield hit in the first, and Johnson singled in the second to start the locals' tally on its way. Norwood's single in the fifth was the Greenies' third and final blow of the day.

The local southpaw fanned six, walked five; Hamons struck out five, walked three and hit one.

Snow Hill's Leaders Get Win Over Snakes

Tarboro—Snow Hill's Billies, held to five hits and a single tally for six innings, blasted 10 hits in the next three verses to chalk up a 9-2 triumph over Tarboro yesterday.

Until the seventh, Doug Hautz had the Snow Hill batters well in hand. Hruska, Snow Hill hurler, was doing nicely, too. Over the rest of the way, Hautz weakened—and Hruska strengthened.

Snow Hill opened scoring for the day by sandwiching singles by Robinson and Soufas around an error by a Tarboro player.

Tarboro's runs came in the fifth. Sharkey opened with a single. Hautz fanned. Campbell tripled, and Ware laid down the right kind of squeeze bunt.

Pitcher Hruska started Hautz downfall. The Snow Hill hurler singled in the seventh, and he came around on singles by Mewborn and Hyder. This knotted things at 2-2. The Billies went three runs in front in the next inning—Robinson and Soufas singled, and Walter Latham banged a homer. The ball sailed over the left-field fence.

Peahead Walker's boys made doubly sure of triumph by counting four times in the ninth. Hits by Hyder, Wall, Bistoff and Soufas were mixed with an error on Mewborn's rap to count three runs. Bistoff scored on Latham's infield out.

Tarboro pulled an unusual drub play in the seventh. With Latham on first as a result of a walk, Rabb bunted. The ball was picked up by Catcher Sharkey, right on the base path. Rabb, with his bat on his shoulder, stood at the plate. The wise Sharkey threw to Myers to force Latham at second, and Myers threw to Ware at first caught Rabb for a double play.

Harry Soufas and Hyder, each with three for five, led the Billies' 15-hit attack.

Williamston's Martins Take Bugs For Ride

Goldsboro—The Williamston Martins edged a 2-0 victory over the Goldbugs yesterday afternoon as chunky Strud Fields outdid Owen (Ace) Elliott in a mound duel.

Fields allowed only six hits and let no Bug get beyond second base, but a weak spell crept up on him in the ninth, and he had to get a little assistance from Jim Rollins. In the last frame, after Maisano went down, Dynamite Ignasiak singled to right-center and Musser drew a walk—the sixth Fields issued. Rollins, Coastal Plain strikeout leader, took over at this point and fanned Overton and forced Elliott to ground out to short.

Elliott, hurled a fine game—he allowed only five hits and fanned nine—but the Martins mixed him with errors for a singleton in the first frame, enough to win, and added a second marker in the sixth. The loss was Elliott's fifth in 10 starts.

The Martins' first run came on singles by Howard Earp and Ace Villepique and errors by Daniels and Musser. In the sixth Villepique doubled, took third on Overton's error, and scored on a single by Stephens. Alex Daniels, Goldsboro, right fielder, had a slight run-in with Umpire Cone in the first inning. Angered at Cone's calling him out on an attempt to steal third, Daniels picked the official up and shook him. Players of both clubs ran on the field, but there was no trouble and Daniels was allowed to remain in the game.

Villepique and Earp, each with two hits, were the only players to connect safely more than once.

Ayden Wins Slugfest From Kinston, 12 to 5

Kinston—Ayden's Aces had two scoring innings, each featured by a homer, and those two tallying parties proved more than enough for victory over Kinston yesterday. The score was 12-5.

The Aces made four runs in the first verse, and Faust Johnson's homer with one on was the big blow. The Aces made two times four runs in the sixth—and Babber McCormick's homer with two on was the big blow.

Les Butcher pitched the distance for Ayden and had the Eagles cooped until the eighth. Wright's single with three on sent in two runs in the eighth, and another counted on an infield out. The Eagles made two more in the ninth—this time Wright doubled with three on. Butcher yielded only four hits until the eighth.

Bill Sekeres, Kinston's starter, was yanked during Ayden's eight-run sixth inning. Muhlenbein went the rest of the way.

Monk Joyner's double, following singles by Jirak and Baker, sent in Ayden's first run. Fary's bunt tallied Baker, and then Johnson, hit his homer.

Joyner, Fary, McCormick, and Butcher made two hits apiece to top Ayden's 13-hit attack. All the starters figured in the hitting.

Patton and Wright, each with two for four led Kinston.

In one of the most exciting and hardest fought games of the season, Coburn Shoe store yesterday defeated the Carolina Sales team 11-10 in an extra inning contest.

The victory boosted the shoe store team to a good third place with four victories and three defeats, one half a game behind the second place Person-Garrett team. There is no hopes, however, of the shoe men overtaking the league leading Tadlock team, which has scored nine victories without suffering a single defeat in the last half day.

Yesterday's contest was close throughout and the score was tied four times during the encounter. The Carolina Sales team came from behind in the last half of the seventh to tie the score and the game went into an extra inning with the score at 10 all.

In the first half of the extra frame Edmonds clouted a homer to give the shoe men a one-run advantage, which the Sales team was unable to match in their half of the eight.

In the other game played yesterday Flanagan Buggy company scored a victory over the cellarite lawyers. The game was close, however, up to the last inning. The lawyers started off with a good lead, scoring five in the first inning and three in the second.

Hodges, member of the Flanagan team, displayed a brand of ball which has not been surpassed in the league this summer. His work in the field-out-off several would-be runs for the attorneys. Joe Dudley showed up good for the lawyers and displayed a much better than usual brand of ball for the losers.

Sport Slants

T. O. M. Sopwith's attempt to lift the historic America's cup is the 16th challenge for the prize which was an ordinary yachting trophy when it was on in 1851 by the schooner-yacht America, in a race around the Isle of Wright.

Ever since the cup was placed in international competition on this side of the Atlantic in 1870, British and Canadian sportsmen have repeatedly tried to capture it—with no success.

Millions have been spent in their attempts as well as for the defense. The trophy in pursuit of which all this money was poured into the sea cost something like $500.

No other challenger captured the imagination as did the late Sir Thomas Lipton. Sir Thomas first challenged in 1899 and tried on five occasions through 1930, when his last yacht, Shamrock V, made her bid. He was planning a sixth attempt when he died.

Sir Thomas failed to capture the trophy but he won the hearts of sportsmen the world over. He took his defeats in good grace. He in-

Join The Crowd; See A Ball Game

Efforts are underway to have 2,000 fans at the Greenville-Williamston ball game here tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The local team has been bolstered materially within the past week or so and results were shown in the last three games played. Thursday the locals lost both ends of a double-header to New Bern, the score in each game being 2-1. Yesterday the Greenies got some of the breaks that have been going against them and won over New Bern 1-0.

An urgent appeal is being made "to support Greenville, a team with new life—new pep—new get-up."

Tomorrow will be the last opportunity fans will have to witness a Sunday game on the local field. The schedule shows that tomorrow will be the last time the Greenies will play at home on Sunday.

sisted he was "licked fairly and squarely."

Lipton came the closest to capturing "the old mug" in 1920 when his Shamrock IV, and the defender, Resolute, went to the start for the deciding race with two victories apiece. The wind was blowing pretty hard the day of the "rubber" race and the experts agreed that Shamrock IV could have stood up better and traveled faster in the hard going than Resolute. But Lipton, in a fashion that was typical of him readily agreed to a postponement when the committee proposed it.

The postponement ruined Lipton's chances. When the race was held the breeze was light. Resolute won easily.

ASKS BIDS ON PITT PROJECT

Contract on Rural Power Lines to Be Let August 9th

The Pitt-Greene Rural Electrification project has been released for bids and bids will be opened in the office of John B. Lewis, project attorney, at Farmville at 11 o'clock on the morning of Monday, August 9.

The contract will call for the construction of about 81 miles of power line in the two counties. Forms may be obtained from the corporation or from the engineer, Col. P. M. Anderson, Investment Building, Washington, D. C.

One of the steps to be taken in the immediate future is the necessary easement on private property. When these have been obtained the engineer can proceed with the staking of lines. This action clears the way for the building of the lines as soon as the contractor has been selected.

New York, July 31.—(AP)—Slow but persistent buying in motors and steels provided the stock market with lifting power in today's final July session.

While the ticker tape jogged along indifferently most of the time, gains of fractions to more than two points were pinned on the favorites.

Profit taking was present in a few sectors, but leaders finished not far from their tops.

Navy Waiting Roster Low At Present Time

The Navy Recruiting station at the post office building in New Bern announces that the waiting list is low and more applicants are wanted. They must be between the ages of 17 and 25, in good physical condition and at least a 7th grade education, have parents consent and no police records. Six men will be sent in from this station for enlistment on August 10.

No County Court For Next Tuesday

County court attaches today again called attention to the fact that no cases would be heard Tuesday, August 3. Decision not to hold court next Tuesday was made because of the fact that farmers will be in the midst of their busiest season.

Solicitor Charles Whedbee will take advantage of the recess to catch up on his fishing, he declared today.

The court is scheduled to resume hearings again on Tuesday, August 10th.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York—Saying their vows to the muted strains of "O Promise Me" in the Little Church Around the Corner, an orange-blossomed bride and her bridegroom were promising to love, honor and obey when two Western Union boys suddenly entered and began pelting them with rice.

Astounded at the turn of events this wide-eyed innocent (who has a long and honorable career as professional best-man and well-wisher to his credit) decided to investigate. It seems a friend of the bridegroom in Atlanta, unable to attend the ceremony, ordered Western Union to have a couple of messengers on hand with plenty of rice. The lads were to hurl about 20 pounds at the happy pair. This they did with alacrity.

Now the custom is an established thing. Although this occurred only a few weeks ago, the vague, inexplicable efficiency of the grapevine system got the word around and the company now receives requests every day to rice some happy couple. I must try it some time.

Lounging in the bar of a Broadway hotel, Billy Jones, the comedian, was gratified to note this episode:

An actor who is known as "The Death of the Party" was filling his cigarette-lighter.

"This is a good lighter," he observed.

Glancing up, his companion inquired: "How many cigarettes do you get on a gallon?"

That reminds me of the young

THE MERRY MARX - MEN

Laugh Sweepstakes — you can't lose if you get a ticket on the Marx Bros. in "A Day at the Races" opening Sunday at the Pitt Theatre.

pulp-writer who was bemoaning the fee (the usual 10 per cent) exacted by his agent. "They're a no good lot," he muttered. "Show me an agent and I'll show you a rat."

A huge individual detached himself from a nearby table and came over.

"I'm an agent," he said without humor.

The hack paled but managed to make good.

"And I," he answered, "am a rat."

Then there is this tiffle of trivia, although I personally cannot vouch for it. Several days ago the occupants of an office building were amazed at a lot of hammering in one of the choice suites.

"I'm having my office sound-proofed," the executive explained. "I can't stand the street noise."

However, the truth of the matter is this: Since he has become a playboy, the executive sleeps off his parties during working hours. His snores were demoralizing the staff.

SHOW TO STAR LASSES WHITE

Black-Face Comedian Included in Stellar Cast Here Tuesday Evening

Memories of another day when the Al G. Fields minstrel roamed the nation will live again Tuesday, August 3, when the Lasses White Tent Show plays in Greenville.

Headlining a cast of 75 performers will be Lasses White and his partner in comedy, Honey Wilds.

The team wrote a new definition of black-face comedy when they toured the circuits with Al G. Fields and later with Neil O'Brien. In more recent years they have entered every American home via the radio in Lasses White's own minstrel, 'Lasses and Honey.'

With them will be other nationally known radio artists in persons of Uncle Ezra (Slim) Williams and his Barn Dance Revue, featuring such stars as the Cannon Sisters, Red Jenks and his magic trumpet, Stan Stanley and Wyley Kilpatrick, the dancer.

The show also includes a ten-piece orchestra, a chorus sparkling with beautiful girls, 15 vaudeville acts, "Lomoaa" and her troupe of tropical dancers whose act has been hailed throughout the nation as the true interpretation of native Hawaiian dances and songs.

RAID SHELTER. It's serious business, this civilian training in England for imaginary air raids. For instance, in the "black out" of the Portsmouth area, animals and humans were directed to shelters. In the rush, this little shelter drew an odd assortment of refugees.

AT WATERLOO. Jack Benny and his wife, Mary Livingstone, radio entertainers, crossed the Atlantic safely, and are shown arriving at Waterloo station, London-bound.

MICKEY CAN'T PLAY. Mickey Cochrane, ailing for two months since he was bean-balled, returned to the dugout to manage the Tigers when the team came to New York. There will be no more playing for him this season. He's shown with Hank Greenberg, first baseman.

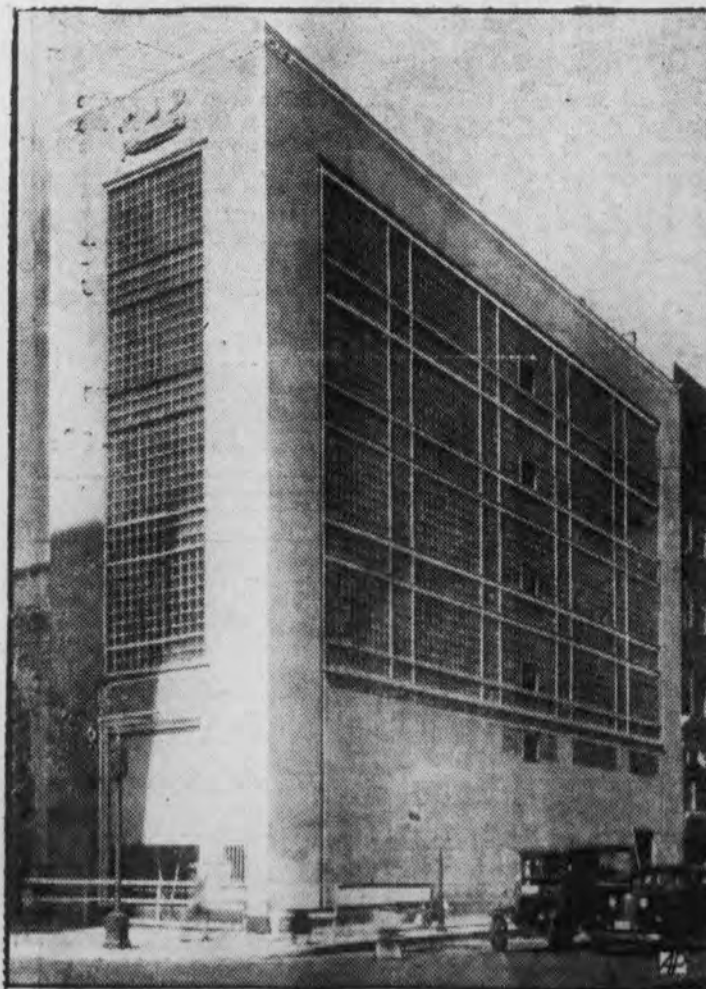

JUST FOR THE RIDE. Kaye Don, British daredevil motor racer, arrived at New York from England on the Queen Mary. The sole purpose of his trip was a vacation, he declared, disclaiming any business or racing motives for the voyage.

MILLIONAIRE'S MUG. America's Vanderbilt and England's Sopwith were ready to race again for the America's Cup, yachting's prized trophy which dates back to 1851.

THANKS, POP! "Nothing like a good big black cigar after a meal," Brandon Hanson, 21-months-old Memphis youngster, seems to say. His father, Nick Hanson, with whom he is shown, says the boy has been smoking cigars since he was just one year old.

IT'S STONE-PROOF. They've been talking about people who live in glass houses for years. Here's one in fact on New York's Fifth avenue built mainly of glass bricks, with nickel-silver trimming. It will house the Corning Glass Works offices.

SENATOR BOB. Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., Wisconsin Progressive, was among the considered "possibilities" for appointment to the supreme court vacancy.

WILL IN BRONZE. Will Rogers, America's famed humorist, would probably have poked fun at the idea of himself in bronze, but here is Jo Davidson, the distinguished American sculptor, finishing a model of Rogers for a shrine in Colorado Springs.
