HUTSON FEELS OUTLOOK FAIR FOR LEAF CROP

Marketing Holiday Probable if Production Goes Up

WHEAT GROWERS DECLARED LUCKY

Prospects for Corn and Cotton Growers Said by Expert Not to Be So Good

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The outlook for corn and cotton farmers in the United States at present is "not so good," J. B. Hutson, assistant federal AAA administrator, told North Carolina farmers and farm women here today, while the tobacco situation apparently is not running into difficulties and wheat growers appear to be lucky.

Hutson spoke at the annual Farm and Home week session. "The corn crop may be disastrous to the corn farmers," Hutson said "as the crop may be so big that they can't sell it at all at a good price. The cotton crop may go up to 14,000,000 bales with consumption probably around 13,000,000. You can't foresee the effects yet but it doesn't look good.

"The United States appears lucky in regard to its wheat crop. We have the only big crop in the world this year, it seems.

"The tobacco outlook right now is fairly good as both the production and consumption is up some. However, if the production goes up even 50,000,000 pounds more than now forecast the price may drop badly. We may have to have a marketing holiday to ascertain if farmers want a marketing agreement and fix individual quotas.

"The agricultural program for the nation for the next two years, Hutson said, should include: Conservation of land, acreage limitation through some means; and provision for marketing agreements or other devices to handle surpluses.

Land conservation, he said, merely was "good farming." The cultivated acreage, he continued, should "supply the demands, but not create a big surplus to beat down prices" and when exceptionally good weather creates surpluses, "marketing agreements or other devices should be used to keep surpluses in line and hold prices up."

Orthopedic Clinic Set For Thursday

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt county health officer, today again called attention to the fact that the regular orthopedic clinic would be conducted tomorrow afternoon, and not Friday as heretofore.

The change will be for this month only, the date reverting back to Friday next month. The change was made because of the fact that Dr. Hugh S. Thompson of Raleigh, who conducts the clinic, has an important meeting Friday and could not be here on that day.

Wake County Opens First Whiskey Store

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Wake county's first ABC store, approved in a recent referendum, opened for business at noon today and some 75 persons quickly made purchases of whiskey legally in the county for the first time in thirty years.

The woman was in the first crowd. The hour for opening the store had been kept secret.

POLAND SPLURGING WITH RED TAPE

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Adding to a growing list of permits the Polish government now requires that all persons residing in the frontier zone get permission to remain there. Other permit regulations deal with the building or demolition of buildings, felling of trees, ownership of radios and cameras.

A person must have a permit if he wants to move in the middle of the night. The Carpathians, which contain most of the places that interest curiots, fall in the frontier zone. So does the sea shore. The only bright spot in the haze is that the permits are free.

Drought to Nth Degree

Nanking, China (AP)—Weddings and funerals, most elaborate of Chinese festivities, will be held in Kweichow Province. The government has prohibited the making of rice wine in the province to conserve the stock of rice for drought relief.

Japanese Reports Claim Way Open Into North China

Pamphlets Scattered by War Planes Declare Northern Hopeh Occupied and March of Central Chinese Army Halted

(By The Associated Press) Continuous aerial bombardments, Japanese authorities declared today, have ruted western concentrations of the Chinese army and blasted a clear path for Japan's march across North China.

A pamphlet scattered by Japanese war planes said "All northern Hopeh has been occupied," and the northern march of Central Chinese government forces has been stopped. A Chinese concentration 85 miles south of Peiping "perished or fled" in an aerial bombardment.

Parallel columns of Japanese pressed southward in eastern and western Hopeh toward the border of Shantung province, near where the main Chinese armies reportedly were centered. Another Japanese force of 4,000 troops driving north of Peiping approached Chinese positions around China's great wall.

Peiping itself was quiet and foreign residents began returning to their homes from tent cities in embassy compounds.

Japan continued pouring troops into the area from the Manchoukuo border and through the great wall passes north of Peiping. The reinforcements, fully mechanized and well equipped troops, were believed to have raised the number of available Japanese effectives in North China to 25,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lamb of Washington, D. C. returned to Peiping after taking refuge in a Buddhist temple. They said both Chinese and Japanese troops were looting the country side around Peiping.

July Building Permits Show More Construction

Storm Described As Only Slight

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A tropical storm which the weather bureau termed only a "slight disturbance" moved slowly northward through the Atlantic about 200 to 250 miles east of Florida today.

The weather bureau in an advisory issued 9:30 a. m. said the storm "showed little increase in intensity," but the center is "attended by a wide area of squalls."

"Small craft," the weather bureau warned, "should continue to exercise caution along and off the Atlantic coast north of Titusville to Cape Hatteras during the next 24 hours."

DUNN EXPLAINS NEW STATUTES

Summarizes 1937 Acts at Meet of Bar Association

A summary of the acts passed by the General Assembly of 1937 by Judge A. B. Dunn was a feature of the regular meeting of the Pitt County Bar Association, held as Respass' last night with almost every member present.

Talks were made by other members of the association. W. J. Bundy spoke on the "Interior Courts of Pitt County," basing his talk on tribals with jurisdiction less than that vested in Superior court.

John Hill Paylor of Farmville discussed the procedure of legislation in the General Assembly. The meeting was presided over by President Julius Brown, and Eli Bloom served as secretary in the absence of the regular officer, Charles Whedbee.

The summary by Judge Dunn listed the most important acts enacted by the last legislature. Statutes discussed follow:

An increase in the number of Supreme court justices, with four constituting a quorum. Supervising and regulation of producing and marketing of tobacco. (Continued on page two)

Highway Fund Diversion Still Possible In 1938

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—Opponents of highway fund diversion cheered inwardly if not loudly, when the state's big surplus as of July 31 was announced; but they still shuddered at the thought that this escape perhaps portended a double portion of diversion for the fiscal year 1938-39.

The surplus meant that there will be no need for diverting anything from the highway funds to the general funds at this time, but it is recalled that the 1937 legislative enactment on the subject applies to a biennium. The assembly struck out the previous provision for mandatory diversion and provided that there should be no diversion whatever so long as a surplus exists. It permits, however, diversion to the extent of $2,100,000 annually and it is the opinion of state officials that this provision is cumulative and

ROBED WOMEN PICKET CONSULATE

Dressed in black from head to foot, women members of the anti-fascist Italian league solemnly marched back and forth in front of the Italian consulate in San Francisco. They gave no names, said nothing, but a placard told their story: "We mourn for Spanish children killed by Italian fascist bombs."

CITY WORKERS GET SECURITY OF EMERGENCY

Program Adopted for City Firemen and Policemen

A "Little Social Security" for members of the Greenville police and fire departments was put into operation yesterday afternoon at a meeting of a board named to administer the program.

Mayor M. K. Blount will serve as chairman ex-officio and City Treasurer W. C. Harris, secretary ex-officio. Chiefs George A. Clark and George Gardner of the police and fire departments, respectively, also will serve as members ex-officio. The Board of Aldermen named two members to the board. Former Aldermen A. E. Hogshead and Vernon Parrish were chosen.

In discussing the set-up, Mayor Blount declared that he believed some means should be taken to provide for employees of the city when they become too old to work or suffer injuries while in line of duty just as much as for employees in private industry.

The mayor has been behind the movement for some time and was instrumental in having local legislation passed at the last General Assembly allowing the city to set up its own Social Security and also put employees of the fire and police departments under civil service.

Under the plan adopted yesterday two per cent of the employees' salary will be deducted each month and the total amount will be matched by the city.

The board is making a study in order to formulate rules under which the money will be appropriated to members of the two departments when in need, whether because of old age, illness or injury.

Nurse Located In St. Louis Hospital

Winchester, Va., Aug. 4.—Miss Martha Pifer, who disappeared in May from a United States sanatorium at Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she was a nurse, was reportedly located at a St. Louis hospital today.

Her brother, Dr. H. J. Pifer, said he was notified by a St. Louis hospital "the young woman came to herself" at the hospital in the "last day or two."

A physician said she apparently was suffering from some form of amnesia.

SOUGHT $2,000 FOR RETURN OF AMELIA

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover disclosed today federal agents had arrested Wilbur Rothbar of New York in connection with an attempt to extort $2,000 from George Palmer Putman for safe return of his missing aviatrix-wife Amelia Earhart.

Amelia was lost with her navigator, Fred Noonan, in mid-Pacific in a flight around the world.

Hoover, director of the FBI, said Putman received a letter last Sunday advising him his wife was on a ship and the writer would contact him the following day.

The man, who subsequently talked with Putman said he was a seaman out of New Guinea engaged in smuggling narcotics.

While at sea, the man told Putman the ship sighted a plane and took off an injured woman who members of the crew later identified as Miss Earhart. The man demanded $2,000 for her safe return.

Kidnaped Victim Safe In Hands Of Chicago Attorney

Couple Admit Snatching Two-Year-Old Donald Horst Yesterday, But Claim To Be Natural Parents

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley announced today Donald Horst, 2, snatched last night from his parents' Northwestside home, had been found and was safely in Crowley's office.

Crowley said Mr. and Mrs. John Regan had the child and the Regans told him they were Donald's natural parents. The Regans were questioned at Crowley's office.

A birth certificate filed with the board of health showed Donald Otto Horst was born January 4, 1935, at a residence then the home of friends of the Horsts.

The certificate gave the father's name as Otto Horst, the mother's as Mrs. Martha Szybski Horst and the attending physician as Dr. John Rose.

Crowley said John Regan and wife Lina told him they took the baby from Mrs. Horst and drove away with him in a car. The prosecutor quoted the Regans as saying the car was driven by Fred Ewert, for whom a search by police of seven states was launched.

Ewert was a chauffeur for Dr. Rose, a partner of Horst in a sound equipment manufacturing business. Crowley said he expected Ewert to appear shortly at his office.

Five minutes after two men and a woman snatched baby Donald from Mrs. Horst, a demand for $5,000 ransom was telephoned last night.

The chauffeur, Ewert had become the object of a police hunt after an automobile salesman, Arthur Humburg, to whom the license of the kidnaper's car was traced said he had lent the machine to Ewert.

Large Profits Realized From Sale Of Whiskey

Gross Sales Since Stores Opened Total $484,554.76

Charles O'H. Horne, chairman of the Pitt County Alcoholic Beverage Control board, revealed today that the liquor stores in the county had sold $484,554.76 worth of whiskey since the first units were opened on July 27, 1935.

During the first year, during which time the stores were open only 11 months, the stores had a gross sale of $230,404.50. During the 12-month period which ended June 30, 1937, the stores sold $254,150.26 worth of liquor.

The board paid the state of North Carolina a total of $14,536.64 during the 23 months up to the end of the last fiscal year. In addition the state was paid approximately $1,000 in chain store taxes.

The fiscal year-end audit shows that the eight stores have made a profit of $95,523.59 during the time they have been in operation.

The board has turned over to the general fund of the county the sum of $40,000, in payments of $20,000 each. It has a paid inventory of approximately $40,000 in stock and had approximately $13,000 in reserve for operating expenses on June 30.

The Board has spent about $5,000 for truck, store and office supplies and equipment and other necessary equipment.

Chairman Horne today called attention to the fact that the stores had shown an appreciable increase in business during the past several months. He said he considered this increase was due to a large part to the fact that the ABC board was granted the privilege by the last legislature to employ special officers and give them the power of arrest. He said that before the board was empowered to employ officers and give them the power of arrest, its hands were practically tied as far as a special law enforcement department was concerned. A good portion of the money spent prior to the granting of this power along these lines was for educational programs.

An indication of the amount of increase in business in the Pitt county stores was shown by the July report. It was revealed that sales during last month were approximately $8,000 ahead of the same month for last year.

Gambinus, a mythical Flemish king, is credited with the first brewing of beer.

Political Guns Roar At Cotton Road Dedication

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 4.—Yesterday's motorcade and celebration down about Gloucester, Clinton and way stations was billed as a "Cotton Road" celebration, but the thunder of oratory sounded to many like the booming of big guns along the political front.

There were listed on the program seven "Addresses" and at least six of them were made by North Carolinians known to have now or to have had in the past political ambitions. The seventh might be termed non-political in its implications only so far as North Carolina is concerned. It was delivered by Burnett H. Maybank, mayor of Charleston, and Hinson's remarks were doubtless relayed to the faithful in South Carolina's biggest city.

The half dozen Tar Heels who appeared on the program with suspected political intentions were Congressman Graham A. Barden, State Treasurer Charles M. Johnson, Secretary of State Thad Eure, former State Senator Rivers D. Johnson, erstwhile American Legion National Commander Henry L. Stevens Jr., Commissioner of Agriculture Kerr Scott, Judge Henry A. Grady. In addition there was, of course, Governor Clyde R. Hoey, but his appearance could be attributed more to his official position than to any aspirations to future greatness.

Mr. Barden, naturally, neglected no chance to look out for his fences, the ceremonies being staged in his home district. Rumors that young Charles Abernethy is likely to oppose him next year have been too loud to be ignored. Mr. Barden, therefore, was not unwilling to appear before so many of his constituents.

Mr. Johnson is generally credited (Continued on page two)

DEVELOPMENTS ON FOUR BILLS SIGN END NEAR

District of Columbia Tax Measure Put Out of Way

GROUP AGREED ON LABOR BILL

Southern Congressmen to Confer With Roosevelt on General Farm Program

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Developments on four bills—the wage-hour, sugar, tax loopholes and District of Columbia tax measures—substantially advanced the congressional drive for adjournment today.

The District of Columbia tax bill, carrying a price maintenance rider, was cleared out of the way entirely when the senate completed action on it and sent it to the White House.

The price maintenance provisions would relax anti-trust laws to allow manufacturers and wholesalers to fix prices on their goods in states having price maintenance laws.

The committee on tax evasion, jointly composed of senators and representatives, completed its investigation of income tax avoidance and evasion devices today and prepared to report tomorrow recommendations for closing tax loopholes.

The much-discussed sugar legislation won favorable action from the house rules committee despite opposition of the agriculture, state and interior departments.

The House Labor Committee voted to substitute the senate's wage-hour bill for the house measure.

It agreed, however, to incorporate in the senate legislation amendments previously approved.

Committee members said the action was designed to expedite recommendation of the bill to the house.

Only three members, representatives said, voted against substitution of the bill. The representatives were Griswold (D.-Ind.), Lamberison (R.-Kan.) and Hartley (R.-N.J.).

The senate resumed consideration of the Wagner housing bill, working under a debate limitation designed to expedite final action on the measure.

Several minor amendments were disposed of in rapid-fire order and the administration worked to get a prompt vote.

Other developments at Washington of the day included: A decision by 35 Southern congressmen to send a committee to talk with President Roosevelt on a general farm program, and especially loans on cotton.

The belief that the President will nominate a successor to Justice Van Devanter before congress adjourns increased meanwhile among high administration supporters.

Claims Heavy Loss Among Insurgents

Madrid, Aug. 4.—(AP)—General Jose Miaja, commander of the Spanish government central armies, said today insurgents had lost more than 20,000 men and suffered complete upsets of their summer campaign in the government's month-old offensive outside Madrid.

During the drive, he said 2,000 insurgents were taken prisoners.

"The operations were of great importance," he explained.

"You can not measure the result merely by the number of kilometers we sliced from the government territory. At first glance it may appear no more than the capture of a few towns.

"But in reality, we have broken many threads of the enemy's schemes."

COUNT UNHATCHED CHICKS AND FIND 'EM SCARCE

Washington (AP)—The department of agriculture is riding roughshod over that old saw about not counting your chickens before they are hatched.

The department's economists have just concluded that poultry hatchings will be 7 to 10 per cent smaller in 1937 than 1936. The high cost of feed, resulting from drought, is blamed.

The Cost of Caution Bowling Green, O. (AP)—Caution proved costly to Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson of Budolph, Ok. on a visit to Bowl (Ore.), they decided that dense fog would make the 6-mile return to their home hazardous, so remained here overnight. They set out for home next morning—and hadn't gone 50 feet before colliding with a truck.

JOINT PERMIT GOES ON SALE
Hunters and Fishermen to Get Chromium Brass Badge

Hunters and fishermen properly licensed for the combined sports will be distinguished this year by a new circular chromium-brass badge for display on their person while in the field or along the stream bank. J. D. Chalk, state game and inland fisheries commissioner, said today.

"These new state resident badges for 1937-38, are the most attractive ever issued by the Department of Conservation and Development. Made of brass, with a sturdy fastening pin, the buttons are lettering license should prove one of the most popular ones ever offered. Since the coming of good roads and automobiles, which allow quick travel into all parts of the state, county fishing and hunting boundaries have practically disappeared. By purchasing the combination license, resident sportsmen may fish and hunt in every county of the state without having to purchase another license," the commissioner explained.

To hunters and fishermen, one of the attractive features of the new combination license will be the saving it offers. Purchased separately, hunting and fishing licenses cost North Carolina resident sportsmen $2.10 each. The new combination hunting and fishing license will cost only $3.10.

How's Your Health?

Based on the New York Academy of Medicine
By Dr. Igo Goldstein

The bathing season yields a large annual crop of difficulties and diseases. Some prove disastrous. So whoever "goes abating" should pay attention to his ears.

Man is not an aquatic animal. He has no means of clearing off his ears and only feeble ones for guarding the passageway leading to the inner ear (via the Eustachian tube).

If you would be safe, observe the following precautions:

Do not bathe (save in a bathtub) when you have a cold. Not only are you likely to "pollute" the water and infect other bathers, but you are also likely to wash some of the organisms from your own throat or nose back into your middle ear (by the Eustachian tube).

Do not forcibly blow your nose while your nasal passages are still full of water. Wait until the water has drained out.

Avoid swallowing while attempting to clear your nose or ears. The act of swallowing opens wide the throat end of the Eustachian tube.

If you are one of those who secrete much wax in the outer ear canal, have this wax removed by a physician before doing much swimming. Wax present in the outer ear canal in any appreciable quantity is likely to swell when mixed with water and will obstruct the canal and render you temporarily hard of hearing.

Should this occur, do not attempt to remove the swollen wax with any hard object. Have it removed by a physician or if emergency treatment is required, use a soft-tipped rubber ear syringe and gently squirt a stream of tepid water (body temperature) into the ear canal. In this way the plug usually may be dislodged.

When diving from a high point, protect your ear drums by means of suitable plugs. A bathing cap worn over the ears will add to the protection. Ear plugs may be made of a mixture of animal wool and plasticine or wax. These can be moulded to fit. Ordinary cotton wool is worse than useless.

He is a member of the board of trustees of Louisburg college and for several years was dean of the Young People's Assembly of the North Carolina Conference.

Find NYA Project At Brevard To Be Proving Success

Director of North Carolina Cities Work at College as Example of Worth of New Deal Activity

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, N. C., August 4.—The National Youth Administration's project at Brevard College, Brevard, is being cited by C. E. McIntosh, NYA director for North Carolina, as a fine example of the real worth of this "New Deal" activity.

The young men employed on this project are performing really valuable services and are being greatly benefited themselves, while at the same time they are doing constructive work which will be of value to the college and community.

"The work project is divided into three sections," said Mr. McIntosh. "Ten or twelve of the boys are building a city street which runs through the college campus. Three boys have been assigned to work on the city golf course, building bunkers, setting sod on the fairways and doing other useful work.

"The most important work which is being done on the project, however, is the building of a vocational agriculture building and shop on the grounds of the Brevard High school. "The teaching program is also progressing nicely, though some of the boys are not beyond the fourth grade level in academic study.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor who wants to get her ranch and marry Kay. Ted pummels Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. A girl named Marion finds Ted and her nursing saves his life. Arrested, he is tried for Scrap's murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. Ted is about to be taken back to Montana for a second trial, when he learns Hastings has kidnapped Kay.

Chapter 43

Dash For Freedom

AS TED rode out of Clear Water with Zeke Farley and his posse of four men grouped before and behind him, his eyes scanned the outskirts of the town.

His week's enforced rest had done him a world of good, in spite of the mental strain he had been under, and he felt like a different man from the weak and nearly fainting person who had come into town by this same route such a relatively short time before.

"What are those old buildings down there?" He turned to Joe, who was just behind him, and nodded toward the north end of town with an air of idle curiosity.

"Just a bunch of old shacks," Joe answered. "First off, it looked like the town was going to spread that way. Then, the railroad came a mile farther south than they'd reckoned, and left that end flat. Cleaned Ran Simpkins and a couple of others out complete, and their places have been deserted ever since."

"They're not much to look at," Ted observed carelessly, cleverly disguising the excitement that coursed through him at the thought of Kay being concealed somewhere in those ruined shacks. The time for a break was not yet, and Heaven only knew when it would be. But at least he knew where to head to look for Kay.

One thing would be in his favor: if he once made a getaway, the last place they'd expect him to make for, would be Clear Water Basin! And while they were scouting for him in the mountains, he'd at least have a chance to get back and free Kay. After that, it didn't much matter what happened, he thought recklessly, as they left the confines of the town, and headed up the trail on the west side of the central divide.

A Pretext For Lagging

FOR two hours they had been climbing, and the long purple shadows thrown by the setting sun filled the deep canyon that yawned at their left, as they rounded the high cliffs on their right.

So far there had not been the slightest chance for a break, but Ted was pinning his hopes on the more open regions above, just before they struck the big timber. For Kay's sake, as well as his own, he could not afford to let his impatience lead him to take too reckless chances.

To his relief, Zeke Farley had decreed that they should push on after dark, until they reached the more dangerous passes. Ted's attitude of alternate weak irritation and apathy had persuaded Zeke Farley, as Ted intended it should, that he was incapable of any desperate or daring action, and this feeling had communicated itself to the other members of the posse. So when Ted complained of his cinch being too loose, causing his saddle to slip, there was no objection raised to his dismounting to fix it.

Italian Air Force Tries Out Plane Built With Wing Like A Bird's

Study of birds in flight inspired the invention of this Italian airplane. An automatically flexible section of the wing varies its curvature according to the plane's speed.

ROME (AP)—An airplane wing flexible like the wings of a bird and patented five years ago in Washington, is being given a tryout by the Italian air force.

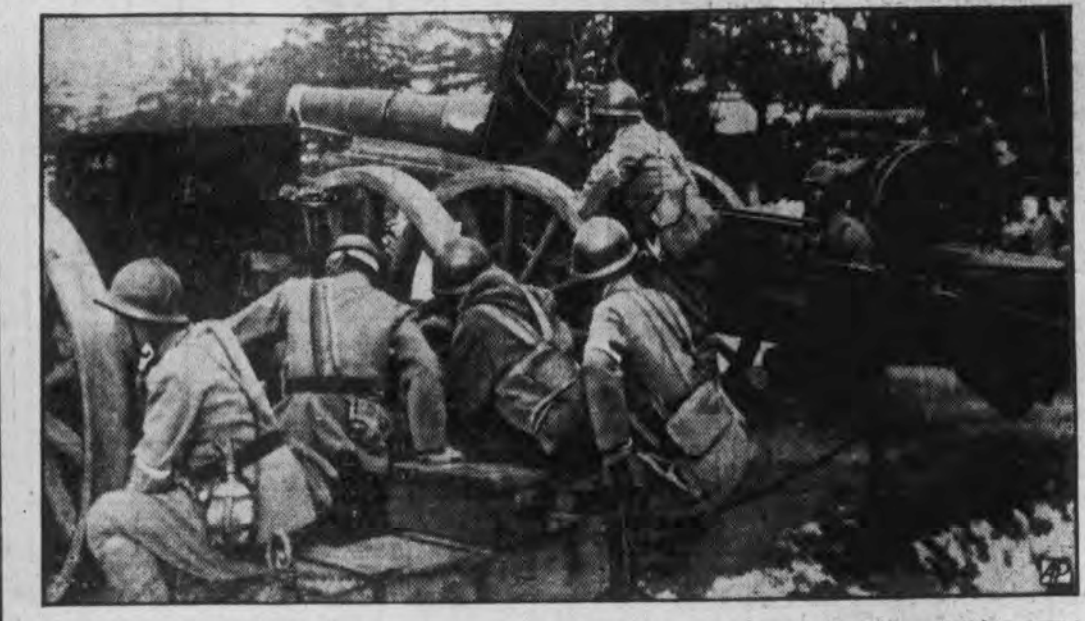

Under the eyes of the inventor, Ugo Antonio, of Pisa, an experimental plane is under construction at the enormous "air city" of Guidonia, near here.

Antonio's airplane is a combination of the flexible wing idea and an invention consisting of an automatically flexible section of the wing which varies its curvature according to the speed of the plane and acts as a stabilizer.

Antonio's plane was given a tryout some years ago in England. It gave excellent performance until one day when it was wrecked. Since then he has refined his plans.

He says the plans will rise 3,000 feet in seven minutes, 6,000 feet in 18 minutes, can change its velocity from 300 to 100 m. p. h. in six seconds by varying the curvature of the wing, and practically without its own length and can rise almost vertically.

Antonio has been working on his various aeronautical inventions since 1907, when he obtained his first patent in Germany. He is a keen student of the principles of bird flight.

JAPAN'S ANSWER. Japan's big guns moved into position in North China, striking new fears into that country and the world that the move marked the beginning of an attack against the ancient walled city of Peiping. Negotiations between diplomats thus far had failed. Japan began shelling Chinese garrisons.

LAST WEEK AT CAMP CHARLES

Boy Scout Encampment to Close Season Sunday, Aug. 8

Aquatic week at Camp Charles will be appropriately observed with two canoe trips, and the first group left Camp Charles today. Three canoes were put into the stream this morning at Castle Rock by the camp and will go down Turkey creek into Contentnea creek and on down to Wilson, coming out at the golf course. This morning's group was under the leadership of Bob Littrell, the waterfront director, and Thursday the second canoe trip will be held with Needham Bryan, assistant camp director in charge.

The campers who are enjoying this last week at Camp Charles include, besides the junior and senior staff, Scouts Archie Whitehurst, Joe Mooring, Leslie Snow, Earl Patches, Albert Mangum, Avin Moore, Julian Ford, Jack Bailey, Joe Wilkins, Everett Thompson, J. D. Richardson, Reginald Gray, Billy Harrison, John Conner, Elmo Gray, Francis Parks, Theron Harris, Richard Webb, Dick Stambaugh, James Wilson, Willie Parks, Aubrey Hammond, Carl Bailey, Billy Wilson, Wiley Forbes, John Drake, Kay Helms, Paul Taylor and Lon Taylor.

Senior week which closed Sunday afternoon, was most successful, and numerous advancement projects were undertaken by the campers, with Scoutmaster Vernon Seehriest in charge.

Eagle Scout Frank Williams, who served as instructor in birds, each morning last week held bird hikes, and the following birds have been definitely identified at Camp Charles as they were observed: Leggs Scout Williams and his early risers: Wood Pewee, Blue Gray Nighthawk, Mourning Dove, Tufted Titmouse, Carolina Wren, Pine Warbler, Maryland Yellowthroat, Cardinal, Red Eyed Vireo, Downy Woodpecker, Red Headed Woodpecker, White Breasted Nuthatch, Yellow Billed Cuckoo, Yellow Warbler, Chipping Sparrow, Brown Thrasher, Wood Thrush, Summer Tanager, Crow, Ruby Throated Humming Bird, Hooded Warbler, Blue Jay, White Eyed Vireo, Blue Bird, Little Blue Heron, Goldfinch, Catbird, Yellow Shafted Flicker, Belted Kingfisher, Crested Flycatcher, Indigo Bunting, Field Sparrow, Quail, Purple Martin, Chimney Swift, King Bird or Bee Martin, Yellow Breasted Chat, Cooper's Hawk, Red Bellied Woodpecker, Louisiana Water Thrush.

Scout John Thigpen of Williamson is in charge of carving an Eagle badge, with all Scouts working toward the Eagle rank, on a large rock by the roadside between the lake and the baseball field. The work is now well underway.

Next week Camp Charles will be used by the girls. The camp has been loaned in the spirit of the good turn of the Boy Scouts, and troop camps for Boy Scout groups will not be held there until 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon, August 15, when Camp Friendly will be closed.

The installation of the ram and reservoir of 120 gallons immediately outside of the kitchen has been the greatest improvement at Camp Charles this year, possibly even greater than the re-roofing of all cabins. No more do the boys have "water troubles."

Last week a large group of boys were advanced by Garry Fulghum, pinch-hitting for the regular court of honor chairman, Ernest Paschall, who was attending the National Guard camp, however, this week Mr. Paschall will officially close the 1937 Camp Charles court of honor.

GOLF: HEREDITY OR ENVIRONMENT? ASKS

London (AP)—The fact Jessie Anderson, winner, and Dorsi Park, runner-up in the British Women's golf championship, are daughters of professionals has led to the question being asked whether heredity and environment are responsible for the development of golfers.

A spokesman for the Eugenic Society declared: "A common-sense view of the matter—part heredity, part environment and probably part chance—is all any scientist would advocate adopting on the question of family qualities. Until we can make definite experiments in the breeding of humanity (if indeed we ever do), we cannot define the chance of inheriting any specific talent or quality."

with being a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1940. He aspires, so "his" said, to the so-called "administration" support. He is assured of a big nucleus of state employe votes by reason of his strong stand during the 1937 legislature for payment to the employes of the back salaries withheld from them in depression days.

Young Mr. Eure, the handsome newcomer to state politics who upset Stacy Wade last year, hasn't said he intends to run for anything, but most politicians are always planning something of the sort, and so it is not stretching much to imagine him as a possibility for further political advancement.

Viewing the future with a long range outlook, there are those who see him as a prospective gubernar-

Senator Rivers may not have any definite political goal at the present time—certainly he has not indicated that he has—but it is generally thought that he will again be active in his accustomed arena.

Some would-be prophets have called this Cotton Road celebration the spot chosen by Henry Stevens for a trial balloon ascension. These crystal gazers see him in the role of the "Veterans' Candidate" for governor. The Warsaw lawyer emerged from a comparatively long period of political obscurity last year to give Sandy Graham the benefit of his golden tongued oratory.

Mr. Scott, storm center of controversy for his alleged "spoilsmen" attitude after becoming Commissioner of Agriculture, has no announced objective, but can be expected at least to be anxious to have a second term.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington - The state department has received its "representation fund" for 1937 and again for 1938 after being long years without it, but even so the sum is so small it is almost futile in present troublesome times when such a fund is badly needed.

The "representation fund" is money for use by diplomats in throwing parties for other diplomats and people who count by that means they create good will - at least get needed information.

The fund has had an unusual history. About 12 years ago, after much pleading and representation, the state department received $60,000 to help its ministers and ambassadors foot the heavy bill for entertainment forced upon them. It wasn't nearly enough, but it was a starter.

Along came the depression and a desire to lop off odds and ends of appropriations that seemed unnecessary. The entertainment fund might have survived but for the discovery that some of the diplomats sent to countries where liquor was permitted - that included most - served liquor to their guests. That was too much. The fund was abolished and any money American envoys had from then on they took from their salaries or from their own pockets.

The year 1937 brought a return of the appearance of prosperity and the state department, wonder of wonders, received $125,000 for entertainment. It was repeated for the 1938 appropriation bill.

Envoys Underpaid Traditionally, American diplomats are underpaid. The ambassador to England along with others of the ambassadorial rank, gets $17,500. His residence is furnished by the government, or rather on behalf of the government. Actually J. P. Morgan presented the government with a home for the ambassador in London several years ago. There are posts where the ambassador and ministers do not get residences. They have to pay for them out of salary.

Ministers, next in rank to ambassadors, get $10,000 a year. But frequently the cost of holding such jobs exceeds the pay. That is why ambassadors to the big countries like England and France are men of private means, able and willing to spend from their own pockets to keep up their end.

Other countries for the most part don't put such a burden on their envoys. The British ambassador to the United States, Sir Ronald Lindsay, reputedly gets $75,000 a year salary and allowances. He lives in a very elaborate embassy out at the end of swank Massachusetts avenue.

Ambassador Saito from Japan gets $40,000 salary and allowances, and a residence.

Both these diplomats can, and do, entertain often and well. But American ambassadors abroad have only their salaries, and a split from $125,000 to "do the necessary."

The equipment for one battery of field artillery costs $250,000, two times the whole amount the state department gets for entertainment. But then, it has always cost more for war than for peace.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York - The conduct of night club guests in New York is uniformly good, but occasionally there enters upon the scene a disturbing influence which is quickly and effectively dispersed.

Such an occurrence took place at Be-Collada's Spanish restaurant, E. Glass, the other night, and the five party, received a measure of entertainment that wasn't listed on the program.

What happened was that a large and buxom señora, with a mop of frizzy black hair and of a positively fascinating ugliness, made herself obnoxious and was tossed out. Collada had observed not 15 minutes before that "she doesn't seem to belong here."

She was Spanish and telling everybody about it. At the next moment she was on the floor, at the head of the Medical Arts Center in New York with two guests. A dancer from Seville was on the floor. Suddenly the lady screamed something in Spanish and a shower of water sprayed the guests at the table next to our hysterical black-headed friend leaped up and screamed. The head of the Medical Arts Center wore a linen suit, and the head waiter was on the scene. "Get her out of here or we'll leave," said the Medical Arts Center man.

"I'm getting her out as quickly as possible," the head waiter promised. Meanwhile he entered into a hurried conversation with the frivolous one. She was very angry. Her evening had been ruined, she declared. The master of ceremonies had announced the dancer as being from Seville, when, as everybody with a grain of intelligence could see, the fellow was not Spanish at all. So screamed the vexed ugly one. The funny part of it was that the dancer, having just been brought over from Spain, and unable to speak a word of English, didn't know the lady was denouncing him as an imposter.

However, the headwaiter firmly out smoothly laid the check on her table and personally helped her in to her ermine wrap. She waddled out, screaming invectives and shaking her chubby fists. She was about five feet high and she weighed about 200 pounds. The large fan-shaped comb in her hair had slipped from place and was dangling by a hair, so that as she made her exit it looked like a drooping rooster's feather trailing in the rain.

Sam Byrd, who gave up practically a lifetime job in his "Tobacco Road" role to produce and act in last season's flop, "White Man," will try, try again this season in his own production of Paul Green's "Star in the West," in which he also will star.

Both these diplomats can, and do, entertain often and well. But American ambassadors abroad have only their salaries, and a split from $125,000 to "do the necessary."

The equipment for one battery of field artillery costs $250,000, two times the whole amount the state department gets for entertainment. But then, it has always cost more for war than for peace.

FRANCO AND FAMILY.

Attack By Cooper On 'Raleigh Gang' Praised By Many

Indicated That Wilmington's Mayor Remarks May Turn Out to be First Stanza Siren Song

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 4 - The recent attack of Wilmington's irrepresible Mayor Thomas E. Cooper upon what he called the "Raleigh Gang" has struck exactly the right note in many circles, though it was nothing but a completely "sour" chord in others, according to comment heard in political discussions hereabout.

There are indications in some quarters that Mayor Tom's remarks may turn out to be his first stanza in a siren song intended to land him in the 1940 gubernatorial primary as the choice of those who represent the local alleged "interference" in local affairs.

The occasion of Mr. Cooper's outburst was a convention of veterinarians down at a New Hanover beach, but the echo of his words has been sounding in many sections, for there are those in every county who are for one reason or another, against centralization of powers in Raleigh. To these the Wilmingtonian's stand comes as a call to arms and here is more than a chance that the author of the state's first county-control liquor statute may be called upon to bear his banner.

King beats Aces! You don't believe it? Then read this: Greenville's Greenies and Ayden's Aces waited until the last part of yesterday's game to score—but when the dust was raised the Greenies had one more than the Aces as Don King registered his second victory since joining the Greenville club. The score was 5-4.

For six innings it was one of those old-fashioned mound duels. During the first six innings, the locals collected only two hits off Earl Webb, Ace starter—Rudisill triple in the second and King's single in the sixth. The Aces made only 3 hits off King in the first six verses—singles by McCormick, Corrado, and Fary in the third, fifth and sixth.

King fanned 10, walked none and was reached for 9 safeties. The Greenies drew first blood of the game in the seventh, the locals tallied three times in this verse—but Ayden came back in the eighth to tie the score. Each team tallied in the ninth—but the Greenies did it once too often for Monk Joyner's outfit and walked off with the tilt.

Rudisill opened the Greenies' half of the ninth with a single. Jarvis sacrificed. With a man on second and the Greenies trailing by one run, Catcher Roy of the Greenies, pulled the same stunt he did in the game here Sunday. Just before stepping up to the plate, he rubbed the negro bat boy's head for luck, and then promptly singled to tally the tying run. King's single put Roy on third. Woodrow Webb replaced Earl Webb. Powell then hit a fly ball to right, and Roy tagged up to score the winning run.

Skipper Stowe's single in the seventh started Greenville's three-run rally in that verse. Johnson went out, Rudisill walked, and Jarvis was out. Roy's infield rap tallied the Skipper. King beat out an infield hit, scoring Rudisill. Powell's double tallied Roy.

Singles by Schuerholz and Jirak and an infield out, together with Joyner's double counted two runs for the Aces in the eighth. Fary singled, and then was caught off first. While Fary was being run down, Joyner tallied. King then struck out Johnson and Corrado.

McCormick's single, an infield out, and Schuerholz's single tallied Ayden's ninth-inning run. Jirak was safe on an error, but Baker hit into a double play—Thompson to Powell.

King, with three hits for four tries, topped the batters. The Greenies play Tarboro here tomorrow afternoon at Third Street Stadium.

Coburn Shoe company's softball team came close to beating the league leading Tadlock Mutual Insurance agency team yesterday afternoon but fell short in one of the best games of the season. The leaders won by a score of 2-0 in a game which yielded only four hits.

Each side made two hits each, but one of the safeties for the Tadlock team was a homer by Gibbs, former star in the Twilight loop before it folded up. May hit the other safety for the winners, while Deal and Forbes hit safely for Coburn's. Larry James showed up good in the afternoon Carolina Sales, winner of the first-half play won a 6-4 victory over Flanagan Buggy company by scoring five runs in the first frame. The Philco team were held to one more run during the rest of the game, but this Fordmen were unable to push across enough runs to put them on even terms. The game was a hard-fought, but clean game throughout.

Wagner and Lynch hit homers for the winners and both looked good in the field. Ed Waldrop and Howell were stars at bat for the Sales team and Boyd Cox played almost spectacular ball in the field for the winners.

Snakes Score 4 in 10th To Beat Kinston, 6-2

Kinston, Aug. 4.—Tarboro's Serpents were forced to go an extra inning today to get victory over Kinston, but Fred (Snake) Henry's proteges managed to get that victory and as a result they jumped from fifth place to third in Coastal Plain standings.

Tarboro tallied four times in the extra inning to come out on the big end of a 6-2 score. Big Jim Tatum's homer with one on was the big blow in the four-run 10th.

Doug Hautz pitched the win, and the loser as Bill Sekeres. Tarboro outhit Kinston, 10-8.

A walk to Pee Wee Myers started Tarboro's 10th—and Kinston's downfall. Lehman bunted, and Catcher Schuts threw to first—the ball hit Lehman on the arm, and Myers went on to third. The local players turned on the big squawk, claiming that Lehman deliberately had raised his arms and that he should have been called out for interfering with the play. The big squawk availed nothing. Rimmer's infield out scored Myers. Ware beat out a bunt, and Lehman scored. Then Tatum homered.

The Eagles scored in the second and eighth. A walk and hits by Stoner and Wright brought the tally in the second; Wyrostek's safe bunt, Schultz's sacrifice, and Stringfellow's single scored the other.

Tarboro tallied in the fifth on Rimmer's single, his stolen base, Ware's fly, and an infield out. The other Serpent tally came in the eighth—Rimmer bit for the circuit.

Rimmer, with three safeties topped the batters.

New Bern's Hamons Bests Martins, 4 To 1

Williamston, Aug. 4.—Doc Smith brought his New Bern Bears to town today and decided to send Pitcher Bull Hamons against the Bull's cousins.

Hamons found Williamston's Martins still his cousins—he proceeded to strike out 13 while turning in a four-hit job for a 4-1 victory, his sixth decision of the season over Art Hauger's locals.

While the Bull was setting down the home boys, his mates were reaching Ray Strunk's pitching for 15 hits, including doubles by Birch Douglass and Mullinax, a triple by Thoele, and a homer by Bobby Suth.

New Bern counted twice in the third—on singles by Thornton, Thoele, Mullinax, Knowles and Suth, plus an error—and those tallies proved enough for Hamons to win on.

Two of the Martins' hits were bunched in the third—Victoria singled and Howard Ear tripled—and the locals thus avoided another whitewashing.

Thoele's triple and Mullinax double counted one for New Bern in the seventh, and Suth's eighth-inning homer ended scoring for the day.

Thoele was the batting star. He hit three singles and a triple. Ear's running catch of Melchor's Texas leaguer was the fielding feature.

Hamons started by retiring the side on strikes in the first inning. His strikeout victims finally included all of the Martins except A. C. Villeplique and Hans Stanley.

Snow Hill's Leaders Win From Bugs, 8-2

Snow Hill, Aug. 4.—Snow Hill's Billies yesterday continued their heavy hitting and slugged an 8-2 victory over Goldsboro in the opener of a series.

Three home runs featured the 15-hit attack of Manager Walker's proteges. Joe Bistoff, league's homer king, hit one over the right-field fence after Robinson had walked in the fifth. The blow, Joe's 21st of the season, broke a 2-all tie and settled the contest.

Rabb singled to open the sixth, and Mewborn homered over the left field wall. A bit later, Dwight Wall singled, and Robinson hit one over the right-field fence. Bobby May relieved Pete Kunis. Bug starter, and stopped the scoring.

Johnny Hruska hurled the victory. Except in the fifth—in which the Bugs mixed hits by Kunis and Musser with a walk and a bunt to get their runs—Hruska did not give more than one hit an inning. He yielded only five in all.

The Billies' first tallies, made in the second, came in on a hit by Rabb and a fly by Hruska. Those run-bringing licks came after Robinson's double, Bistoff's walk, and Soufas' infield hit had filled the bases.

Robinson offered the feature plays of the errorless game.

Chinese Win Shooting Event
 Los Angeles (AP)—The aimed eyes of Frank Jowe, Chinese youth, have no trouble in seeing a pistol target. In 1937 postal matches, in which supervised shoots are held locally and targets forwarded to the National Rifle association for scoring, Jowe emerged winner of the 50-foot slow fire event and 20-foot match in the tyro class.

YOUNG DI MAG FOOLS 'HOME RUN' HITTER

San Francisco (AP)—After a terrific smash toward the center field fence, Steve Barath, third baseman for the San Francisco Missions, trotted around the bases and smilingly waved his cap to a cheering crowd of 7,500.

It wasn't until he got to the dug-out that he realized the cheers were for Dominick Di Maggio, younger brother of Joe Di Maggio, young Yankee star, who had made an "impossible" catch.

FOR ONCE AN UMPIRE COULDN'T SAY A WORD
 Boone, Ia. (AP)—Nyal (Curly) Davis, softball league umpire here, had to call himself out.

A foul tip struck him in the throat.

The blow made Davis swallow his chewing gum, temporarily tying up his vocal cords.

When Johnny Broaca deserted the Yankees in Cleveland without so much as saying good bye, he gave Kemp Wicker another chance to prove he was ready for the big show.

Wicker was recalled from the Yankees' Newark farm to bolster the weakened hurling staff of the world champions. Manager Joe McCarthy lost little time in finding out whether or not Kemp was the blond left-hander out on the mound the first day he was available. It was the opening day of the recent St. Louis series. Kemp gave a fine account of himself, turning in a steady exhibition and defeating the Browns, who were playing their first game under their new manager, Jim Bottomley.

Kemp may not rate the regular starting assignment that was Broaca's before the former Yale star lost his effectiveness and ambition, but he is likely to prove handy to have around when the pennant race gets into the home stretch.

Until Kemp came along Lefty Gomez had to take care of all of the Yankees' sounpaw pitching. Wicker gives McCarthy a lefthander to use as a relief pitcher when the occasion demands a change of style.

Wicker first joined the Yankees about the middle of last season. He cut in on the World Series melon and figured he was fairly certain of a berth with the champions. His work in training camp this spring failed to impress McCarthy so he was sent to Newark for further seasoning. He had a record of seven victories and two defeats with Newark when the Yankees picked him up.

He is a native of North Carolina. After having attended Weaver college and North Carolina State each for a year, he signed with Montreal then a Detroit farm. He was released and found his way into the Yankee chain. He may not have a real fast ball but what he lacks in speed he makes up for with a fine curve that he knows how to use.

Red 'Tiger' Louis and Jack Steed to Clash At Beach

Atlantic Beach, Aug. 4.—On Friday night, July 9, Red "Tiger" Lewis of Richmond gave Jack Steed, Greensboro boxer who claims the middleweight championship of the Carolinas title a trouncing in the ring at the casino here. In the eighth the referee called it a TKO in favor of Lewis. That annoyed Middleweight Champion Steed so he immediately challenges the Richmond slugger for another bout here in this salty atmosphere. Their challenge fight, a 10-rounder, is scheduled to be presented at the top of the card in Add Warren's boxing show on

This was part of a parade of 1,000 uniformed men wearing swastika arm bands as they marched past a reviewing stand at the 100-acre German-American bund camp in the Sussex hills of New Jersey. A group of Italian-American "blackshirts" were guests. Speakers criticized efforts to block plans for "America's white man's camp"; John L. Lewis and the C.I.O.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Rails, metals and specialties were leaders in the stock market upturns of fractions to a point or more today.

Trading got away to an indifferent start with rails droopy but energy was injected into carriers by a Wall street rumor current wage negotiations would likely produce a smaller pay increase than demanded by unions.

Upturns in rails brightened the stock market.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

NEW YORK (AP)—The most colorful teen age cloth New York has designed in years are going to school this fall.

Those that will draw the A's and B's are stamped with these qualities—good fit and simplicity of cut; they do intriguing tricks with colors, and they are meant to be worn with an air of sophisticated grace.

Wool Smart This Year

The smartest classroom frocks are made of wool—often with a nubbed or hairy weave. Most are slim and high-necked, though a few show fullness in gored skirts. All are trim-waisted and short-skirted with hemlines fourteen to sixteen inches from the floor.

Slide fastenings (used for contrasting color ornament as well as for closings), leather trims in belts and fastenings, saddle stitching and pockets (sometimes hidden under pleats) make them smart and young.

There is a great variety of straight box jackets, breezy hip-length, made of plain or plaid wool or colored leather.

Authentic Scotch plaids are good this year. They are used often in two-piece frocks, important items in the school girl's wardrobe. Many two-piece dresses combine plaid with plain wool, as a grey, red and black plaid packet-blouse worn over a grey wool skirt.

Box Coats Popular

Plaids appear again in the popular box coats (generally pruned of back fullness) which top the chic new teen-age suits. Believing that a simple wool suit is important in the school girl's wardrobe (they are good for class room, town and travel wear), designed have created a wealth of them, with spruce fitted packets.

Frocks to "go places" after school are cut to give the school girl glamor. Since most girls want at least one black one (despite mothers' protests), there are many black crepe afternoon frocks designed with the fitted corsetlike waistline and shirred bodice effect. Gold accents—masks, mesh bows or cock's heads—and colored metal trim give them zing. The sleeves generally are just a little longer than elbow length.

Colored velveteen or crepe make dresses for the girl who doesn't want black.

'Chunky' Cut Fur Coats

The last word in fur coats for the school girl is the new "chunky" cut, which ends at mid-hip and is cut on straight bulky lines. It is generally made of one of the full-furred pelts such as skunk or guinea (South American llama). Straight coats of kidskin or squirrel, rel, about forty inches long, are also smart.

Cloth coats are generally cut on fitted belted lines. Black, brown and wine-red are favorite hues. Big fur collars appear on some, but the smartest have small Persian lamb collars that hug the throat closely. One of the smartest and most practical coats for the school girl is a monotone tweed recker with velvet lapels and pocket edgings of the same color.

BLAMES AUTO AGE FOR THE SCARCITY-GRADE A ROOKIES

Wichita, Kas. (AP)—Pat Crawford, the South Carolinian whose baseball playing career was cut short by an infection after a minor operation on his hip, sees a dearth of first class major league recruits, and has figured out a reason.

Crawford, a member of the 1934 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, attended a baseball school here recently—not as a pupil. The school enrollment was 161, but of this number only six were considered promising enough to warrant trials in Class C or D clubs.

The cause of this lack of ability is no longer a mystery to Crawford. "See that thing crawling along there," he said, pointing to a sleek automobile. "That's one reason.

"The boys have a better chance now than they ever had. When I was a kid my mother made me a ball with a peach-stone center.

"Now, with all the fine athletic equipment in the schools, the kids have a great chance.

"But they play a game of ball in the afternoon and get in their cars at night, with dates, and forget about baseball. They don't seem to have the ambition for the game."

There are more than 1,000 asterooids, or minor planets, revolving around the sun.

The average price paid for sub-marginal land by the Resettlement Administration in 1936 was $4.50 an acre.

To inform barbarians of the Romans' shipbuilding secrets was punishable by death under the code of Justinian, A. D. 534.

GETTIN' THE BUSINESS

means giving the mileage

It's up to me to make this business go, because it's mine. I never did a smarter thing than featuring Conoco Germ Processed oil, with all its long mileage for you. Talk doesn't make mileage or customers, but I can tell you what does... Oil-Plating your engine with Germ Processed oil. The patent Germ Process makes oil actually take hold of every working part and keep it coated with a durable Oil-Plating... entirely extra to the regular moving type of oil film. Oil-Plating backs up the oil film while the car is running, and never drains down during hours of parking. Then you'll never start up without lubrication. And at the end of your longest run on a hot day, your engine will still have its full safe plating of Conoco Germ Processed oil. The way it lasts gives me a right to be called Your Mileage Merchant.
