REBEL FORCES LAUNCH DRIVE IN NORTH SPAIN

Campaign Described as Final Offensive On Sector

BISCAYAN AREA MAIN OBJECTIVE

Northern Sector Had Been Virtually Quiet Since the Insurgents Took Bilbao

Kendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 9.—(AP)— General Francisco Franco's northern forces launched today what insurgent officers called their "final offensives" against the provinces of Asturias and Santander, last government stronghold in northern Spain.

Insurgent planes and artillery bombed government defense lines in the Biscayan sector, trying to wipe out the last government resistance on the Basque-Asturian front.

Insurgents reported the bombardment was as intense as the fire poured upon the iron ring of fortifications of Bilbao before that Basque capital fell last June.

The northern sector had been virtually quiet since the insurgents advanced through Bilbao and a short distance along the highway to Santander. It was believed renewed hostilities meant General Franco hoped to mop up the region before fall to release his northern concentration of troops and war equipment for use on the Madrid front or elsewhere.

Insurgent officers at Irún, so termed if the final offensive, declared to reveal the point from which the drive started.

The officers, insurgent aviators and artillery men had been waiting several days for "perfect weather" to smash at the government's lines.

Bombing, accompanied by strong escort of pursuit planes, roared at dawn from Bilbao's international airport and upper fields behind the insurgents to drop their deadly cargoes.

Artillery began a systematic shelling of the positions that the general staff decided must be taken as penetrating wedge for the insurgent land troops.

Insurgent forces said recent victories on the northern front had left General Franco's troops in "almost complete control of the air" permitting the same coordinated air artillery and infantry action that smashed Bilbao.

Friends Of Scott Wondering About Promised Changes

Becoming Disappointed at Failure to Coordinate Chemical Labora- tories and Add New Life

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 9.—Friends of Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott who were especially interested in his plans to "revitalize" the Department of Agriculture and his promise to reorganize the food, oil and fertilizer divisions and laboratories, are becoming somewhat disappointed that no move has been made as yet to coordinate the chemical laboratories and put new life into these divisions, although Dr. B.
W. Kilgore has been the acting head of this work for more than seven months.

At the time Dr. Kilgore was appointed to take over this work succeeding Dr. Allen who was retiring because he had reached the age of 70, it was indicated that Dr. Kilgore would combine and coordinate the food, oil and fertilizer inspection laboratories, so that the two laboratories and the chemists in them could cooperate and work together.
Up to that time, if the food and oil laboratory ran out of samples, it closed down and the chemists twiddled their thumbs, even though the fertilizer laboratory across the hall might be loaded down with work. And if the fertilizer laboratory got caught up with its work and the food and oil division was loaded down, it would never think of lending a hand with the food and oil analysis.

But this condition has continued to prevail now for seven more months and neither Dr. Kilgore nor Commissioner Scott has made any move to change the set-up, though Dr. Kilgore is acting head of both divisions, it is understood. As a result, if one laboratory runs out of test tubes, beakers or flasks, the chemists will sit down and wait for a requisition to be filled rather than go across the hall and borrow some from the other laboratory.

Victim?

Police started a far-flung search for pretty Doris Major, cigarette girl in a Washington night club, who disappeared mysteriously after leaving a note that read: "I can't make things go straight in my think machine." Searchers are inclined to the theory that she became a victim of amnesia.

LOCAL MARKET OPENING NEAR

Preparations Being Made for Beginning Sales Aug. 26th

With the opening of the Border bell tobacco markets tomorrow, warehousemen and others connected with the industry in the Bright belt are making preparations for the opening on August 26.

Rains last week proved beneficial to young tobacco and farmers are exhibiting a general air of optimism. Cures last week were declared to have been unusually good.
It is generally conceded that the crop in this immediate section is the best to be found anywhere this year. Farmers have experienced good luck with their crop since the start. Although a number of farmers suffered losses from hail and wind storms, not as much tobacco was lost this way as last year.

The opening of the local market is only two weeks and three days off and the nearness of the opening day can be noted by activity in "Tobacco Town." The auctions begin a few days earlier this year than last, when they started on September 1. Farmers petitioned for an opening date the same time as the Border markets were opened but this was not granted.

A large opening day break is anticipated here as many farmers will have tobacco ready to haul to the market before the opening date. It is being predicted that Greenville will regain the distinction of selling more tobacco than any other market in the world this year, a place held at one time by the local warehouses.

Reports Activity Of ABC Officers

The monthly report on the activities of the law enforcement division of the Pitt County Alcoholics Beverage Control board, issued today by Board Chairman Charles O'H. Horne, shows that one still was captured, 116 gallons of whiskey taken and 7,000 gallons of mash destroyed.

Investigations made totaled 202 by the two officers who traveled 3,062 miles, spending 376 hours on duty.

Seven persons were arrested.
Charges preferred by the ABC officers resulted in five convictions and three cases now are pending.

and Russia hold a virtual monopoly of the principal raw materials needed in time of war.

Large Weed Crop Seen By Agriculture Commissioner

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 9.—Farmers increased their tobacco acreage 12 per cent over 1936 and August 1 prospects indicates even bigger yields than were estimated a month ago, Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr Scott said today on the even of the Border Belt market openings.

"It is evident from farmers' reports coming into the Department of Agriculture on August 1 that this state is experiencing one of the best crop seasons it has had in a number of years," he added.

'37 LINT CROP OF 15,593,000 BALES IS SEEN

Estimate Made by U. S. Department of Agriculture

MUCH GREATER THAN 1936 CROP

Final Outcome Pres- ent Yield to Depend on Influences Af- fecting Crop

Washington, Aug. 9.— (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today that this year's cotton crop would total 15,593,000 bales.

The forecast was based on conditions prevailing August 1 and on the area in cultivation July 1, less the 10-year 1927-36, average abandonment, announced as 33,429,- 000 acres.

The crop reporting board said the final outcome would depend upon whether the various influences affecting the crop during the remainder of the season were more or less favorable than usual.

Last year's crop was 12,398,882 equivalent 500-pound bales, that of 1935 was 10,638,291 bales and that of the 1927-1936 ten-year average was 13,200,857 bales.

This year's acreage compares with the harvested acreage of 30,028,000 last year; 27,640,000 in 1935; and 35,496,000 for the 10-year average.

The conditions of the crop on August 1 was 81.3 per cent of normal, compared with 72.3 a year ago, and 67.7 for the 1923-32 10-year average.

The indicated acre yield is 223.3 pounds compared with 197.6 pounds produced last year and 169.9 pounds the 1923-32 average.

North Carolina's acreage in cultivation, less the 10-year average abandonment is 1,668,000; the condition of the crop on August 1 was 85 per cent of normal; and the indicated production is 727,000 bales.

Final Rites Held For W. H. Cannon

Funeral services for William Henry Cannon, 79, who died Saturday afternoon, were conducted at the home on Greenville Route 3, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. F. R. Davis, Grimesland Methodist minister. Burial was in the Porter cemetery.

Mr. Cannon died at the home of his son-in-law M. K. Porter, after having been ill for the past year.

He was reared in the Ayden community of Pitt county, but moved to the section of the county where he died 30 years ago. He spent his entire life on the farm. He was a member of the Simpson Methodist church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs.
W. H. Coward and one brother, Ivey Cannon, both of Pitt county.

Miss Lydia Nelson is shown on the floor in a faint moment after she agreed for her baby son, Donald, to be adopted by his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst of Chicago. Miss Nelson gave the baby to the Horsts at his birth but a few days ago she and her common-law husband, John Regan, abducted him from Horst home. Regan is trying to revive her.

PITT GETS NEW DEATH CLAIMS SCHOOL BUSES E. T. ROBESON

Fifteen New Vehicles Allotted for 1937- 1938 Session

Notice of the allotment of replacement units of Pitt county school buses was received at the office of the Board of Education today. Pitt county will get this year fifteen 16-foot Ford buses equipped with Hackney Brothers bodies.

These units will be used to replace those being eliminated this year on account of poor mechanical condition. Most of the replacements are in Falkland, Belvoir and Chicod schools.

Sixty-five units of the Pitt county bus fleet have been repaired, painted, and placed in storage at the Pitt county garage, Winterville, and will be ready for delivery to the various schools August 23.

The Pitt county Board of Education is desirous of giving the school public first class service and is, at present, taking steps to make its organization more efficient. The board is making an inventory of county roads that are not at present satisfactory for bus service and is asking the Highway Commission to improve these routes by widening and draining them.

A full time mechanic will be placed in charge of the distribution of gasoline, the checking of mileage and the keeping of all records pertaining to use of gasoline and oil.

A truck drivers conference will be held at the courthouse Saturday, August 28, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of discussing with the drivers traffic hazards, maintenance costs, and safety devices. Lieutenant Lester Jones of the highway patrol will be the principal speaker.

The public is asked to cooperate with the Board of Education in the operation of school buses by driving carefully near school or when passing or meeting buses and if hoped that the general public will be sufficiently interested in the transportation of school children so as to take every precaution of safety, and at the same time will report any hazard or laxity of drivers to the school principal or to the office of the Board of Education.

For the past several years there has not been a serious accident caused by school buses in Pitt county and the board is taking every precaution this year to see that no accidents will happen.

Active pallbearers were: James Wilson, Troy Burnette, Withers Harvey, Jesse Boyd, Harold Suggs, James Skinner.

Revised Wage-Hour Bill Suggested By Committee

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The house labor committee formally recommended today enactment of a revised version of the wage-hour bill already approved by the senate, asserting it would greatly strengthen collective bargaining efforts.

"The bill is intended to aid and not supplant the efforts of American workers to improve their own positions by self organization and collective bargaining," the committee's report said.

"Terminating the measure a 'modest and conservative approach' to the objectives outlined by President Roosevelt in his message to congress recommending such legislation, the committee said it represented 'an attempt to begin to meet and not to avoid some of the most vital problems of American economic life.'"

Designed to apply only to industries in inter-state commerce and those directly affecting such commerce, the bill would empower a na-

SILK WORKERS IN WIDE AREA OUT ON STRIKE

Estimated 60000 Men and Women Desert Their Looms

ANNOUNCED AIM GET CONTRACTS

Laborers in New Jer- sey, Pennsylvania, New England and New York Quit Jobs

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 9.— (AP)—A CIO strike call to 60,000 silk workers in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New England and New York caused thousands of men and women to leave their looms today in an announced effort to obtain union contracts to improve labor conditions and stabilize the industry.

The only disorder reported along the fringe of work at Hazleton, Pa., where a picket at the large Duplan Silk Corporation mill was staged in the arm. His alleged assailant was arrested after being almost mobbed by the crowd which gathered.

Earlier four deputies were sent from Wilkesbarre to aid the nine city policemen on duty. The Dup-lan management said pickets, some of whom were recruited from the ranks of anthracite mine workers, jammed so tightly about the gates that some of the 1,100 workers who pushed through the lines emerged without clothing.

Representatives of the union and employers disagreed as to the extent of the strike in Pennsylvania, where more than 40,000 normally work in the silk and rayon industry, but New Jersey spokesmen for both sides agreed the walkout was "successful."

TWOC leaders in Boston said 95 per cent of the 10,000 New England silk workers would remain at work under contracts already signed.

Reuben Block, regional TWOC director for Pennsylvania, said reports from 14 district officers in the state to union headquarters at Allentown indicated at least 90 per cent of the workers were out, but P. W. Walter, spokesman for Allentown manufacturers, estimated the strike there was only about 50 per cent effective.

A spokesman for the Silk and Rayon Manufacturers Association, a new organization of the larger mills said the association which has given passive approval of the strike, was waiting to see "the actual strength of the union."

Two Persons Injured in Accident Saturday

Mrs. Rebecca Overman and Dorothy Ricks, 11, of Wilson, were injured in a wreck near Farmville Saturday afternoon, but no details of the accident were known here as no investigation was made by any local officers.

Mrs. Overman suffered a scalp wound and little Miss Ricks suffered a broken nose and abrasions of the arm. They were brought to the hospital here, but later were removed to a hospital in their home town.

Texans Now Stop Bullfights.
Austin, Texas, Aug. 9.—(AP)— Texans, armed with a new law, can use for injunctions and stop bull-fights.

The measure was passed at request of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals which charged that, although illegal, fights were held and promoters willingly paid the maximum $300 fine out of fat profits.

40-40 Wage And Hour Bill Predicted By A. D. Folger

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 9.—Enactment of the 40-40 wage and hour bill into federal law is seen as a certainty by A. D. (Lon) Folger, North Carolina's Democratic National committeeman, who was in Washington last week.

"Opposition to the wage and hour bill has completely collapsed," Mr.
Folger said in discussing the outlook for the measure. "The bill will become a law practically as it passed the senate—that is, with the 40 hour and 40 cent provisions."

Under the senate bill a five-man board will be given power to fix minimum wages—not higher than 40 cents an hour—and maximum hours—not lower than 40 hours—and to make adjustments for sectional and other factors affecting the cost of living.

Mr. Folger, however, sees tremendous difficulties in the path of

HUGE SAVINGS TO BE OFFERED

Greenville Stores Be- gin Preparing For Dollar Day

With the beginning of the week, the various merchants in Greenville who will participate in the semi-annual dollar day Thursday began opening new stock and planning generally for the big sales event which is expected to attract thousands of thrifty shoppers to the city.

Buyers reported that they "picked up" numerous bargains for Dollar Day which they will offer their customers at a great saving. "Dollar Day Specials" will be featured throughout the city by the participating firms.

With the stores scheduled to be closed Wednesday afternoon, clerks will be busy arranging and marking down goods in order that everything will be in readiness early Thursday morning.

The big sales event is held semi-annually in Greenville and shoppers over a wide area look forward to the big day each year. With prospects good for good returns to the farmers this fall this week's event is expected to attract larger crowds than usual.

Several Cases In City Police Court

Five cases were tried in city police court this morning, all of the defendants being Negroes.

Herbert Whichard was bound over to County court under bond of $100 on a whiskey charge. Ernest Reaves was convicted of being drunk and disorderly and was fined $5 and taxed with the costs.

Willie Watson was ordered held under bond of $100 for his appearance in County court on a whiskey charge. Isaiah Cogdell was taxed with the costs upon conviction of being drunk and disorderly.

Boy Pretty was charged with assault upon his wife, Mary Pretty, but the charge was dismissed and the prosecuting witness was taxed with the costs.

County Court Is Set to Resume Tomorrow

County court will be resumed here tomorrow morning after having been in recess last week so as not to take farmers from their harvesting at one of the busiest times of the season.

A large number of cases are awaiting trial in the tribunal, many of them having been sent up from city police court.

POLICE CORPS FOR SHANGHAI GO INTO ACTION

Roads Leading To Areas Around City Barricaded

ACTION FOLLOWS SERIOUS CLASH

Japanese Troops Take up Duties At Pieping After Par- ading Streets

Shanghai, Aug. 9.—(AP)— The Chinese peace preservation corps barricaded roads leading to Chinese areas around excited Shanghai tonight after a clash in which one Chinese soldier and one Japanese were killed.

The clash came as Japanese refuges evacuating the Yangtze valley and other Central Chinese areas poured into Shanghai.

The Kiangwan area on the northern fringe of Shanghai, scene of major Chinese-Japanese fighting, was rapidly closed off.

Members of the peace preservation corps, which are militarized police, patrolled the roads armed with rifles and hand grenades and heaped up sand bag barricades.

The Kiangwan and Chapel areas on the north and northwest borders Japanese military headquarters, the Japanese community and the northern edge of the international settlement.

In Tientsin, while the Japanese army completes its conquest of Northwestern Hopeh province China, Japanese administrators moved slowly toward establishment of a permanent civil government that would ignore Chinese claims of sovereignty over the rich region.

A Japanese brigade of 2,000 men marched into the city of Peiping yesterday with 50 trucks, 10 heavy and five light tanks and considerable cavalry, took the ancient capital of China's Manchu emperor under its protection and, made it for all practical purposes, a Japanese city.

The Japanese troops commander by Major General Kawabata paraded along the boulevards and under arches of triumph that proclaimed imperial China's glory. The various units deployed throughout the city taking up their duties.

In Tientsin, army headquarters of the Japanese who have wrested northern Hopeh from Chinese troops in a month of undeclared war, the judiciary police and communications administrations were brought under complete Japanese control. The Japanese commissioner of the Chinese salt monopoly announced he had taken charge of the Tientsin administration district including the Changlu salt fields, one of the richest in China.

New Patrol Auto To Take To Road Within Few Days

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 9.—By the end of the week travelers on North Carolina's highways are likely to see state patrolmen riding about in new patrol cars—sleek, shiny roadsters painted an attractive aluminum blue with flashy trimmings.

First of the new machines began to arrive at Raleigh headquarters last Thursday, and work of equipping them with radios was started at once. There will be sixty new cars in all, and they will all be in commission as soon as the radio equipment is installed.

Then they will be sent out—one to each patrol post where there now an old car—and the machine now in use by the patrolmen will be brought into Raleigh for installation of the radios, Major Charles Farmer, patrol chief, says.

When work on the old cars finished they will be put back into service and then every patrol post in the state will have a car, and each patrolman a motorcycle.

Use of the radio system will begin, Major Farmer said, until all cars have been equipped and a commission. Then a central station will begin to function; the radio enthusiasts and those who are curious to know what's going on need not expect to get much information as practically all calls to cars will be made in code. It would be obviously of more advantage to criminals than to officers if calls were made in ordinary language.

Regions inhabited by the Eskimo extend from Bering Sea over the northern coast of America and its group of Arctic islands to the east coast of Greenland.

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Eye hath neither seen God nor His image and likeness. Neither God nor the perfect man can be discerned by the material senses. The individuality of Spirit, or the infinite, is unknown, and thus a knowledge of it is left either to human conjecture or to the revelation of divine Science."

Murals In Modest Suburban Church Draw Throngs To Grimy Mill Town

By JOHN SELBY

MILLVALE, Pa. (AP)—One of the few great sets of church murals in the United States is drawing hundreds of people to a smoke-grimed hillside church in this Pittsburgh suburb.

The church is St. Nicholas', outwardly an undistinguished Romanesque building of buff brick, squatting peacefully on steep Maryland avenue, looking stolidly out over a carbarn, lines of railroads hiding the Allegheny river, a brewery—the usual mill town smoke over all.

The murals are by Maximilian Vanka, a Croat like the parishioners of Father Albert Zagara, whose idea the murals were. Friend of Louis Adamic and husband of Margaret Stetten of New York, Vanka spent only two months on the job. But he worked up to eighteen hours a day.

Magnificent Colors

The nine panels in the set are modern in the sense that they are painted simply, literally and without much concession to the minor conventions of church paintings.

The colors are magnificent and typical of the Balkans—the blues are frank, outspoken blues, and when Vanka has used red it is an honest red. This brightness is combined with a curiously immaculate quality which is partly the result of color choices, and partly of eliminating superfluous detail.

Father Zagara, proud of his share in a notable undertaking, readily leaves his littered desk in the frame rectory next door to explain things.

Eyes Follow Visitors

He is especially fond of the Madonna and Child over the big altar. The Virgin in her almost barbaric red gown and vivid blue robe, both wearing blue crowns. He walks rapidly about the church, scrupulously making his obeisances at each opportunity.

"See," says he, "the little Jesus and She—they follow you wherever you go."

Father Zagara is short and thin and his other bushy hair grows back on his head. He smokes a good many cigarettes, which break

CRITICS PRAISE IT

Maximilian Vanka's 30-foot Madonna and Child in St. Nicholas' Roman Catholic church in swoky Millvale, industrial suburb of Pittsburgh, is part of a set called by critics one of the few distinguished examples of church murals in the United States.

and scatter tobacco over his Franciscan garb.

He thought his people needed beauty, and before the mortgage was wholly lifted from his church, he gave them beauty. There is enough of the zealot in his appearance to explain why he did it.

One of his artistic friends has told him the murals are worth $25,000.

"We didn't pay so much," says he, his eyes atwinkle.

The practical has its place in Father Zagara's scheme, too.

Flanking the main altar piece are two magnificent panels—Christ on the cross at the left; the descent from the cross right.

Symbol of Pittsburgh

Facing these are two frankly topical paintings—Croatian mothers mourning a Croatian boy dead in battle, beneath a hillside stippled with white crosses; Croatian-American mothers mourning a son dead in industry. The moral is obvious, for the background evidently symbolizes Pittsburgh.

The four saints in the side arches likewise are men with something to say to moderns, and they say it from a shining silver background.

Outside, on the edge of the shelf on which Father Zagara's church stands, his temper and that of his people is easily seen. There is a thin row of trees, and there are four grimy lilac bushes, hostages to a less grimy homeland.

Only Two Models Used

Below these and directly in front of the church, there is a homely little vegetable garden. There are corn, beets, carrots, lettuce, cabbage and tomatoes. But the onions didn't do so well this year.

Only two models were used for the murals, and these also fit into the symbolism.

One was Father Zagara himself, who is seen at the right of the 30-foot Madonna, interceding for his aborning flock.

The other was used for the figure of Christ on the cross. This model was an unknown Negro from the steel mills.

These minute red points at first are more or less separated. Later, however, they enlarge and flow together so as to form a continuous scarlet skin.

The eruption first develops about the neck, behind the ears and on the upper portion of the chest. From there it spreads to the rest of the body and usually attains its maximum spread within 24 hours. The eruption remains in high color for one to three days and then fades rapidly, regressing first from those parts where it first appeared. Sometimes there is but very little or no skin eruption.

It is believed that the specific cause of scarlet fever is a certain type of hemolytic (blood-destroying) streptococcus. This germ produces a toxin or poison, which is destructive to the blood cells and also to the minute blood vessels called capillaries. The scarlet points which appear at the initiation of the eruption and the scarlet flush that subsequently results, represent in fact, a profound disturbance in the fine capillaries of the skin.

The damaging effects of the toxin of the streptococcus are of course not limited to the blood vessels of the skin, but involve the entire circulatory system and thereby practically all the tissues of the body. Hence we find that scarlet fever often gives rise to serious complications and after-effects.

Among these are acute inflammation of the kidneys (nephritis), inflammation of the middle ear or otitis media, scarlatinal arthritis, or point involvement, heart complications, affecting practically all the structures of the heart. The nervous system, too, is sometimes affected. Equally important with all the above are the complications and after-effects which involve the eyes and ears.

From all the above, therefore, it may be seen that scarlet fever is truly a menacing disease which calls for prompt diagnoses, competent treatment and expert nursing.

SCARLET FEVER

Scarlet fever is well named. Its most characteristic symptom is the appearance of red, stipple-like points within 12 to 36 hours after the onset of the initial symptoms which are vomiting headache, sore throat, possibly chill or convulsion, a feverish look with bright eyes and flushed cheeks, and a dry, hot skin.

SHORT SHOTS By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Aug. 9.—Without taking sides in any controversy about who shall do the electrifying, Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, state health officer, contends that rural electrification is one of the most valuable aids to rural health work.

reportable diseases from every cause except scarlet fever and syphilis, according to the report of Dr. J. C. Knox, state epidemiologist. There were reported 315 cases of the venereal plague against 197 for the week ended July 24.

It is a noticeable fact that all the on-the-surface contests in the Young Democrats of Wake County and of the state organization are between supporters of Sandy Graham in the 1936 gubernatorial campaign.

Too, both Miss Virginia Griffiths, successful candidate for president of the Wake Y. C., and Dick Telfair, whom she defeated were Grahamites.

Washington—The political oracles will be turning their binoculars toward Michigan a good deal in the next two or three years. They will be watching the movements of two "big time" Wolverine politicians—silver-haired Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who is rated among top-ranking Republican presidential possibilities for 1940, and sore-topped Governor Frank Murphy, who has a lofty position as an "inner circle" Rooseveltian.

WISER PUBLIC ON 'DOG DAYS' Period Does Not Constitute Time That Dogs Go Mad

Raleigh, Aug. 9.—The so-called "dog days" of July and August do not constitute the period in which dogs "go mad" or develop rabies, it was announced here by Dr. Roy Norton, assistant director of the Division of Preventive Medicine, State Board of Health, following a close study of a 5-year compilation made by Dr. John H. Hamilton, director of the division of laboratories.

Of the 7,419 brains examined at the laboratory during the 5-year period of 1932-36, inclusive, rabies was found to exist in 3,133 while 3,822 showed negative results. In 404 cases, however, it was impossible to make examinations, due to the condition of the specimens sent in.

Should Murphy decide to seek a second term as governor, he will be up for reelection next year. Along with the gubernatorial race, congressional elections are coming up in 1938.

Michigan Republican leaders are expressing confidence that they can beat Murphy if he runs in 1938 and wrest several seats in congress from Democratic incumbents. The big ambition is to have the state bulk of the GOP in pre-depression days, set the pace for Republican rejuvenation throughout the country.

FILES A LAW BRIEF IN PLAIN ENGLISH

Washington (AP)—There's no question about it—a new era has arrived. It took one Jean M. Boardman to prove it. And he accomplished his purpose by the simple trick of filing a brief in the District of Columbia court written in the same kind of language you and I use every day.

None of this "Comes the plaintiff, being of sound mind and body, unto do my," etc. Boardman let his client, Mrs. Leilia I. Snyder of Washington, petition the court like this:

"During the month of November, 1933, while we were temporarily living in Arlington county, Va., my husband repeatedly told me he did not love me," etc.

Man About Manhattan By George Tucker

New York, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Much of the New York that O. Henry knew has passed under the wheels of the wrecking crew, yet the town still continues to be a grab-bag of tag lines and incredible ironies. The theatrical boarding houses, the brownstone fronts, the carriages and the gas lights—these are in limbo with the cigar store Indian and the bioglar for two.

Take Pat O'Malley, for instance, and the contest she arranged, for the American Airlines and the Buttrick Patterns people. Pat is a girl and one of the best publicists in town. She handles the publicity for the American Airlines, and the idea was a nation-wide contest to discover the best dressed woman in America who made her own clothes.

Not all the brains come from dogs, however. The total from canines was 5,941 of which 2,777 were positive and 2,869 negative. Cats furnished 1,085 with 211 positive and 802 negative. Third came cattle, with 217 specimens of which 309 revealed rabies and the remaining 89 were negative.

All dogs and other domestic animals that have bitten humans or that have bitten animals should be confined. Dr. Norton said, for observation. They should not be killed but their actions watched and in the event one should become ill or show signs of rabies then the person bitten should immediately consult his family physician and take the Pasteur treatment. Stray dogs and those running at large promiscuously should be put out of the way in the interest of public safety, he advised.

FLAME TRAIL BY MARIE DE NEVOUD

free rein, and as they raced over the mesa, her mind flew from one memory of Ted to another, always coming back to the dread question: would she find him? Or would she be too late, and have to resign herself forever to be branded in his mind as a traitor?

Chapter 47 Kay And Marion Meet

"THEY took Tom Runyon away from the trial to go down and investigate the fire," said Shorty. "They did!" Kay suddenly remembered Tom Runyon's excited conference with the two men she had seen come up to him, when she had been running away from him and Josh Hastings.

"Sure," Shorty leaned forward confidentially. "Say—it looks like that Runyon bird's almost as good as he says he is!" He paused, and fixed Kay with a speculative eye. "You've sure got me guessing, Kay! Here I thought you were kind of taken with this Gaylor guy. Then when it came out at the trial that you'd given away his hiding place to Tom Runyon, I thought Runyon was the lucky fellow! Now, hang it all, if you don't seem a heap more stirred up about what's happened to Gaylor than to Runyon. Women sure see the beating!"

"What was that you said, Shorty?" she demanded. "Why, I was saying that I thought you liked—"

"I didn't," Kay's agonized denial had a ring of truth that made Marion pause a moment, as she tried to free herself from Kay's detaining hand.

"You poor dear!" Marion's hard look faded, and she drew Kay inside. "Of course I don't! I'm engaged myself, so you need have no concern over my feeling for Ted. That time you saw us, he was telling me how much he loved you!"

"Where is he?" Kay sobbed at last, when her emotion allowed her thoughts to become more coherent and articulate. "I can't let him go away, believing that of me!"

"How like him," Kay thought, "to risk his own safety for friendship as well as for love!"

A tender smile lighted her face for a moment. She gave Flicker the percusson cap used in cart-ridges, was invented by a Scotch minister.

Goldsboro, Aug. 9.—Greenville's Greenies trounced the Bugs here yesterday afternoon behind the 3-hit pitching of Freddie Caliguiri. Caliguiri hurled hitless ball for four innings, and the only man to give him any trouble was Daniels. Daniels hit the first pitch ball to him in the fifth for a home run, and got a single in the seventh. The only other safety allowed by Caliguiri was a single by Owen (Ace) Elliott in the sixth. Caliguiri fanned three and walked three. The Greenies clinched the game with two runs in the fourth. Pignataro followed Thompson's fielders choice and walk with a double that brought in two tallies. In the fifth Swamp Norwood homered, and after issuing walks to Thompson and Stowe and a single to Johnson, Pitcher Bobby May forced in a run by walking Jarvis. The pass to Jarvis was the eighth May gave out.

Pete Kunis relieved May in this frame and shut out the Greenies from then on. Kunis gave only two hits in 4 1-3 innings.

Thompson, Johnson and Pignataro collected two hit apiece to lead the Greenies' attack.

Henry's Snakes Take Martins in Nice Game

Tarbor 6.—The Serpents evened the series with the Williamston Martins by edging a 4-3 decision yesterday.

Fine relief hurling by Bernard Mooney featured the Serpents' victory. He relieved Eddie Malone at the start of the eighth, with the score tied at 3-all, and gave only one hit—an infield blow—during the final two innings to gain credit for the second victory in three days.

The Serpents put over the winning tally in the eighth. Manager Fred Henry started things with a single. Frankie Ware popped out to Pitcher Stroud Fields, and Fields then fanned Campbell, but Henry stole second and scored on Carl Carnahan's single to left-field.

All the runs came in ones. The Martins got one in the first on a walk to Howard Earp and Ace Vilepique's double. They scored again in the fifth, on Steven's double, McCay's sacrifice, and Deim's single. The Martins' final tally came in the sixth—errors by Lehman and Myers let Stanley come around.

The Serpents scored in the first, on Solly Myers' single, Lehman's sacrifice, and George Rimmer's single. In the second, Ware gained life on an error, advanced to third on Campbell's sacrifice and scored after Carnahan's long fly was taken. Tarboro's third run came in the seventh. Walks to Sharkey, to Jim Tuliam—batting for Malone—and to Myers filled the bases, and Lehman's second hit of the day brought in Sharkey.

Lehman and Carnahan, each with a pair of blows, paced the Serpents at bat. Vilepique and Stanley got two apiece to lead the Martins.

FIGURING OUT FARR

—By PAP

SPORT SLANTS

—By PAP

The late Tex Rickard liked nothing better than a heavyweight championship bout with an international flavor.

Tex could always see a wealth of material to publicize in the foreign heavyweights. That they lacked ring ability disturbed Rickard not in the least. They had "color." That was what made the turnstiles click.

That he could take Georges Carpentier, little more than a large middleweight, surround him with an air of mystery and sell some 90,000 cash customers the idea that the French fighter had a fair chance of defeating Jack Dempsey, was a tribute to his genius as a promoter.

And how Tex went for Luis Angel Firpo, his rubber collar, iron hat and all! That the Wild Bull of the Pampas happened to have a ponderous right-hand punch made the out-and-out just so much easier. Firpo carried his color into the ring and his hectic bout with Dempsey still stands at the top in fight thrillers.

There were plenty of visiting heavyweights who had color. Old Paulino Uzcudun's proud boast was that no man could knock him off his feet. He carried on as a chopping block for years until he was trotted out for Joe Louis. The Brown Bomber was building up a reputation. Paulino was tossed in as a sacrifice. Tom Heaney was another durable foreign fighter. Tom earned a title bout with Gene Tunney but made a poor showing against the former marine.

Primo Carnera had little but his immense bulk. They taught him something about boxing and he went on to win the heavyweight title. Primo was a manufactured fighter, pure and simple. When the going got rough he ferret his lessons.

Of all the foreign heavies to show in recent years Max Schmeling was, perhaps, the best. Not that Max was any world-beater when he won the title on the floor, or later when he lost to Max Baer. But Schmeling earned his spurs when he stopped the supposedly invincible Joe Louis.

Now we have Tommy Farr with us. What does the Welshman have?

The Pittsburgh B's

Pittsburgh (AP)—Boston has its Bees, but most of the National League's B's are at Pittsburgh. On the Pirates' active playing list are Pitchers Bauers, Blanton, Bowman, Brandt and Brown, and Third-Baseman Brubaker.

The word electricity is derived from electron, the Greek word for amber.

Colorado Springs.—(AP)—Arnold Blomquist, a freshman at Colorado college, captured the driving championship of the Western Junior open golf championship, averaging 243 yards with three tee shots.

His drives, all in the fairway, measured 242, 254 and 234. Harry Todd of Dallas, who won the match play title, hit the longest single ball—a poke of 270 yards.

TWO CONTESTS ON TAP TODAY

Flanagan's to Play Coburn's; Car. Sales Meet Leaders

TODAY'S GAMES
 Flanagan's vs. Coburn's (Third Street Stadium) Carolina Sales vs. Tadlock's (College Diamond)

STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Tadlock Ins.	10	1	.909

Carolina Dairy	6	5	.544
Flanagan Buggy	5	5	.500
Coburn Shoe	5	5	.500
Carolina Sales	4	5	.444
Blount-Harvey	4	7	.353
Lawyers	1	8	.111

Play will be resumed in the City softball league this afternoon with Flanagan Buggy company meeting Coburn Shoe company at Third street school and Carolina Sales and Tadlock Mutual Insurance agency mixing at the college diamond.

Last week Flanagan's scored a victory of the league leading Tadlock team, the first loss of the half for the insurance men, and Troy Burnette's sales team will be out to do the same thing.

Tuesday the lawyers are scheduled to meet Blount-Harvey at Third street stadium and Person-Garrett is scheduled to meet Carolina Dairy but the tobaccoists have announced that they probably will have to forfeit the game to the dairymen as most of their players will be out of the city.

No games are scheduled for Wednesday, but there are several postponed contests on the schedule and one or two of these may be played.

Thursday's schedule calls for a contest at Third street school between Coburn's and Person-Garrett and this too is unlikely to be played. Blount-Harvey and Tadlock's team are scheduled to play at the college diamond.

On Friday, the last day for which games are scheduled, calls for contests between Carolina Dairy and Flanagan's at Third street and Carolina Sales and the lawyers at the college.

NO SOFT SPOTS ON UNC'S CARD

Carolina Opens Grid Season With USC Sept. 25

Chapel Hill, Aug. 9.—There are no soft spots on the schedule mapped for the University of North Carolina football squad this fall.

The Tar Heels will play only nine games, however, instead of undertaking a 10-game program as they did last year when they lost only to Tulane and Duke.

The breathing spell will come between the Duke and Virginia games. Duke will be met November 13 at Durham and the Tar Heels will have a 12-day intermission before clashing with Virginia at Chapel Hill in their annual Turkey Day classic November 25.

Instead of opening with Wake Forest, as last year, North Carolina will inaugurate its campaign with South Carolina at Chapel Hill, September 25.

The Gamecocks held the Tar Heels to a 14-0 score at Columbia last fall, and they should be much stronger this year, because they had a wealth of sophomore material that will have the benefit of an additional year of seasoning. So this opener must be regarded by Coach Ray Wolf and his associates as anything but a breather.

The Tar Heels will next meet N.C. State at Raleigh, October 2, when the Wolf-pack will present their first edition under their new coach, Doc Newton. After being outplayed by the Wolfpack last fall in the first half, Carolina spurred in the second stanza to win 21-6.

The Tar Heels make their only trip out of the state to play New York university in Yankee stadium, October 9 in a major inter-sectional attraction. The Tar Heels were barely able to nose out the Violets last year 14-13.

Wake Forest will be met at Wake Forest October 16, and last year's score, 14-7, indicates Carolina can expect another tough scrap here. It will be Coach Peahead Walker's first edition at Wake Forest.

Tulane comes to Chapel Hill October 23 in another major southern contest. Last year the Greenies won 21-7 and deserved it.

Then comes the Furdham Rams, who will journey south to meet the Tar Heels at home October 30 as newcomers on Carolina's schedule. The Rams appeared Rose Bowl-bound last year until held to a tie by Georgia and defeated later by N.Y.U. They should have one of the strongest teams in the east.

New Bern Bears Edge Win Over the Eagles

New Bern—New Bern's Bears won a ball game in the first inning yesterday, lost it in the sixth and finally got it back in the eighth. The final count was 10-9, and Doc Smith's boys edged into a tie with Ayden's Aces for fifth place by defeating the Kinston Eagles.

A two-run rally in the eighth inning decided the game in the Bear's favor. Douglass walked and went to second on a wild pitch. Thoele singled, and moved to second while Douglass was being held on third. Mullinax grounded out, but Worliss Knowles singled through the closed-in infield to bring Douglass and Thoele home.

Homers had put the Eagles in the ball game in the first inning yesterday, lost it in the sixth and finally got it back in the eighth. The final count was 10-9, and Doc Smith's boys edged into a tie with Ayden's Aces for fifth place by defeating the Kinston Eagles.

On Friday, the last day for which games are scheduled, calls for contests between Carolina Dairy and Flanagan's at Third street and Carolina Sales and the lawyers at the college.

Football Season At Its Height For Workers Behind Scenes

MINNEAPOLIS — In certain quarters, the football season reaches its height in midsummer. The scene above is the "millinery shop". A fresh coat of paint, via air brush, is being given the helmets of the Minnesota gridlers.

HERE are the first opponents the Gophers will face when the season proper opens—tackling dummies. The "trainer" of the dummies is making sure they'll be ready for the big time they'll have with the Gophers He's re-stuffing 'em—making 'em new men, so to speak.

IT'S UP to this gentleman to see that the Gophers are well-shod. He works the year 'round re-soling and re-cleating the University of Minnesota's football footwear. His blows re-echo throughout the country as preparations are made for the "greatest football season of them all."

SHOULDER PADS are an important item on the football equipment list. Sticking and binding reinforces the pads the Golden Gophers will wear in their 1937 campaign—a campaign the fuses will lead to another national championship despite a tough schedule of games.

BUILDING WRECKER TEARS DOWN WRONG HOUSE

Fairmont, Ill., Aug. 9.—(AP)—It still happens—the contractor who tears down the wrong house. When Mrs. Emma Otis of Fairmont went out to her neat little 6-room farm house she found it two-thirds dismantled. A contractor was hauling away materials for use in building a negro tabernacle. The contractor shook his head, looked across the road at the dilapidated building originally contracted for and said weakly, "Yep, looks like I tore down the wrong house all right."

MASS ATTACKS MARK MADRID AIR ACTION

By ALEXANDER H. UHL

MADRID (AP)—You can't name a hero on the fast flying loyalist air force. For one thing, the government scrupulously guards the names of its flyers, many of whom are still in their teens. For another, air battles no more are the glorious affairs of the World War, when a Rickenbacker or a Richthofen could single out an enemy and send him crashing to the ground.

Like Naval Fleets

As seen from Madrid, they resemble naval combats. Squadrons of from half a dozen to as many as 50 planes go against enemy squadrons. They maneuver for position. When a ship is brought down it is not so much the prowess of the individual pilots as the swift intervention of other planes at the right moment.

But although residents of this besieged city have no air heroes, they have formed attachment for planes. Having stood open-mouthed watching, time after time, that thrilling spectacle of modern warfare, an air battle, they have become acutely plane-conscious.

In Madrid, the populace has given pet names to air battleships. 'Fly' and 'Snub-Nose'

Their favorite is a snub-nosed, fast fighter with retractable landing gear. What makes it a favorite is the fact that the daily bombing of the capital in the dark days of last November ended abruptly
