Foreign Troops Mobilized As Japanese Blue Jackets Take Up Stand In Shanghai

CHINESE ARMY CONTROLS CITY

Central Government
Troops Streaming
Into City Answer
Only to Military Authorities as Situation
Grows More Tense

Shanghai, Aug. 12.—
(AP)—Ranks of Japanese blue-jackets moved into battle positions in Shanghai to face an unstemmed torrent of Chinese regulars tonight and the garrisons of the United States and three other nations mobilized "for the worst."

A "peace" conference intended to ease the crisis in the panic stricken city ended in failure.
Backed by 21 warships at Shanghai's wharves, Japanese naval forces estimated to number between 5,000 and 8,000, moved into the same positions they occupied during 1932's Chinese-Japanese hostilities.

They deployed along the fringe of the Japanese park of the International settlement and roads extending northward.

Chinese Central government troops, streaming into the city, answered to no authority but the army. Civilian authorities would not try to stop them.

Each force indicated it was not planning to attack. But the situation needed only a spark to touch off an explosion.

United States Marines, 1,050 strong, mobilized along with Russian, French and British garrisons.
The Americans were charged with the protection of nearly 4,000 United States citizens in Shanghai, and citizens, some of whom were cut off by the Chinese advance.

British forces numbered 950 and French 600. A Russian volunteer company was summoned to duty.

The American marines took up patrol duty along the northern border of the international settlement.
Chinese refused to withdraw the troops pouring into the city. Japanese replied:

"There is nothing left then but to take up defensive positions." Twenty-eight foreign men of war were tied up along Shanghai's river front. Twenty-one of them were Japanese.

Two British, three French and two United States vessels were the "neutral" contingent. The American ships were a navy tanker and a small, obsolete gunboat.

Veteran Insurance Money Subject To Inheritance Taxes

Funds Held by Administrator of Beneficiary of Deceased War Veteran Liable for Levy

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 12.—Proceeds of a Veterans' Insurance policy, held by his beneficiary, are subject to North Carolina's inheritance tax upon death of the beneficiary. Assistant Attorney General Harry McMullan has ruled in response to a request from the Department of Revenue.

"Moneys derived from a veterans' insurance policy held by the administrator of the beneficiary of the deceased veteran are subject to the inheritance tax," he wrote.

The inheritance tax, Mr. Mc-Mullan declared is not a tax on property but is a tax on the "right of succession" to property and therefore the insurance policy proceeds are not protected by the general rule that moneys from compensation checks of insurance policies of veterans are not subject to taxation.

The question of exemption from taxation of veteran's money derived from governmental sources has always been a perplexed one and nearly all aspects of the matter have been threshed out in court decisions.

Earlier this year the United States Supreme Court decided in Lawrence vs. Shaw, a case arising in North Carolina that a veteran's compensation money is not subject to taxation by county or state even where it has been deposited in savings banks and is drawing interest as would any other investment.

A member of the strike committee was bludgeoned when 17 police and 150 girl strikers clashed at the Dominion Woolens and hurt and six arrested ensued as the company started a back-towork movement following a walk-out.

Wilson County Sheriff Gets Into More Trouble

Charged With Drunk- en Driving and Also With Assault

Wilson, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sheriff W. A. Weathersby of Wilson county was arrested twice last night on charges of drunken driving brought by State Patrolman F. B. Pleagle and detective P. R. Hartis of the Wilson police force.

Coroner V. C. Martin served the warrants on the sheriff but did not lock him up. Two years ago Weathersby was charged by State Patrolman J. A. Merritt with drunken driving, but was acquitted in court.

Later he was removed from office by Judge Marshal Spears after a hearing on allegations of Black Creek citizens that he was drunk at the polls the day of the second Democratic primary.

Other warrants served on the sheriff this morning charged him with assault with a deadly weapon and with threatening City Officers Hartis and C. P. Hocutt.

The second warrant charging the sheriff with drunken driving was sworn out last night by Hartis after the sheriff was said to have driven up the street after having been arrested by the patrolman.

Increase In Farm Income Noted First Half Of '37

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—North Carolina farm income during the first half of 1937 was $44,381,000, the report said, in the same period a year ago.

According to an announcement from the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics received at State College, total farm income for the first six months of this year amounted to $48,491,000.

The income for the first half of 1936 was $44,381,000, the report said.
The figures were based on income from principal crops, livestock, livestock products, and government payments to growers cooperating in one agricultural conservation program.

PRICE OF LEAF REMAINS GOOD

(By the Associated Press) Tobacco prices were reported today to be holding up to the levels established on the first two days of trading in the 16 market towns of the North Carolina-South Carolina fire-cured belt.

At Lumberton R. C. Rankin, sales supervisor, said there had been a "slight increase" in prices. Offerings were estimated at 700,000 pounds.

Prices remained steady at Darlington, with offerings of 250,000 pounds.

Some piles brought up to $41 a hundred at Dillon, where better grades were reported predominating.
Around 800,000 pounds were offered at Lake City. Sales for the first two days were reported at 1,250,000 pounds at an average of $23.

War Planes Sent To Quell Revolt

Beirut, Syria, Aug. 12.—(AP)— French troops and airplanes moved into northeastern Syria today to quell a revolt of wild Kurdish tribes and to end the back country warfare between Mohammedans and Christians.

MotORIZED infantry equipped with machine guns swept into the village of Amouda and found 15 bodies under the ruins of looted and burned houses.

(In Jerusalem it was reported French airplanes had wrecked Amuda with bombs ahead of the infantry occupation.)

Amuda is a village populated mainly by Christians. It was attacked August 1 by united forces of Kurds and Moslems from the interior who pillaged 100 Christian owned shops.

(The Jerusalem report was the French took military measures against Amuda because they were exasperated by lawlessness within the village.)

BLACK CHOSEN FOR COURT JOB BY PRESIDENT

Immediate Confirmation Blocked By Two Senators

ALABAMA SOLON LEADER FOR FDR

If Confirmed, Will Be Fifth Senator to Step Directly Into Place On Tribunal

Washington, Aug. 12.— (AP)—President Roosevelt named Senator Hugo Black of Alabama to the Supreme Court today, but his immediate confirmation was blocked by Senators Burke (D-Neb.) and Johnson (R-Calif.)

The wiry Alabamian was named by Mr. Roosevelt to succeed Willis Van Devanter, retired in unusual secrecy. It was listed among other routine nominations, but was not made public at the White House as is customary.

The nomination immediately created a tremendous stir in the senate and brought a hearty endorsement from leaders of organized labor's divided ranks.

Opposition was immediately expressed in other quarters. Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) said he would vote against confirmation.

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) of the judiciary committee, demanded immediate approval of the nomination with reference to committee, the usual procedure.

Senator Burke, one of the leaders in the recent fight against the Supreme Court enlargement bill which Black supported, quickly objected.
He was joined a moment later by Johnson, who said he would object to immediate action.

Their objections forced the nomination to go over for action at least until tomorrow.

The nomination to the place formerly occupied by Willis Van Devanter, was sent to the senate in a routine list of other appointments.

The White House did not make it public, leaving news men to learn of the designation at the senate.

Black has been a leader in advocating the administration's wage and hour legislation.

He was a world war captain.
He started law practice in Birmingham immediately after graduation from the University of Alabama in 1906.

He has served in the senate since 1926 and is 51 years old.

As a justice of the court Black will have an opportunity to pass on constitutional laws on which he voted in the senate.

They include the measure regulating public utility holding companies, authorizing federal loans and grants for public owned power plants and fixed prices in the soft coal industry.

Supreme court experts said there was no law or regulation to prevent a senator from participating in decisions affecting legislation he advised in having enacted. Whether justices disqualify themselves from passing on certain litigation is up to the individual jurist, it was explained.

Black, if confirmed by his colleagues, will become the fifth member of the United States senate to step directly from the senate to the supreme court. The supreme court place pays a salary of $20,000 annually or just twice the senator's pay of $10,000.

Werlein, 35, of Chicago, who confessed she had killed her husband, George, 46, because he questioned the paternity of their 9-months-old son. Shirley told police she saw her stepfather knock her mother down and beat her head against the floor. A cor-ner's jury found the killing justifiable homicide.

The Rural Electrification Authority has forwarded a note and mortgage to the sponsors of the $60,000 Pitt-Greene project. Authorization for signature should be secured promptly and the forms executed and returned to Washington, a bulletin from the Washington offices of the REA stated.

Bids on construction of the 61 miles of rural power lines in the two counties were opened in Washington August 9. When these have been approved by REA a construction contract will be signed and actual work begun.

Adherence to the REA normal progress schedule will enable farmers in the area to begin using electricity some time this fall.

Police Skeptical Over Confession

Lemmon, South Dakota, Aug. 12.
—(AP)—A transient who Chief of Police Pat Jones said had admitted participating in the kidnaping and slaying of Charles Mattson faced questioning by federal investigators today.

Investigators were skeptical of the story told by the man who gave his name as Floyd Hutchinson of Alliance, Neb.

Jones said Hutchinson, arrested last yesterday on a vagrancy charge, insisted he and a companion visited Dr. W. W. Mattson, father of the kidnaped boy, at his Tacoma, Wash., office last December to obtain narcotics and a few days later abducted the boy.

Agreement Breaks Current Legislative Log-Jam Over Bill

Washington, Aug. 12.—(AP)— Senate leaders reported today they had negotiated an agreement to consider anti-lynching legislation next session in order to break the current legislative log-jam over the issue.

Earlier organization of a southern filibuster against the Wagner-Van Nunes anti-lynching bill in the senate had led to suggestions by some administration leaders congress might be forced to adjourn without acting on some of the administration program.

While talking entirely off the record, administration leaders acknowledged the development of a filibuster on the bill would force congress either to stay here to break it or let some of the program go.

It would be possible under such circumstances, they said, to pass the wage-hour and housing bills, which already have been approved by the senate, but the sugar and tax loophole bills, which have not been acted upon by the senate, might die.

Meanwhile the farm legislation situation was little clarified by developments in the senate agriculture and finance committee before which general farm and sugar bills are pending.

The agriculture committee voted

New Liquor Control Plan Works Smoothly In State

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 12.—North Carolina's liquor control plan—county stores under general state supervision—is working smoothly in the 27 counties in which are located 82 liquor stores, Cutlar Moore, chairman of the State Liquor Control Board, said today.

The county boards are working in harmony with the state group, he said, and in general there has been very little of the conflict that was rather freely predicted during the legislative session which enacted the liquor plan.

Already 15 of the 27 counties have adopted the uniform audit system set up by the Budget Bureau, and have likewise adopted the uniform price list set by the state board.

The audit system was made necessary by law and the Budget and the Budget Bureau was charged with setting up, Mr. Moore said.

Under the statute and regulation adopted by the board all counties in which liquor stores are located must adopt the uniform audit system before September 1. Mr. Moore pointed out and the state board will "crack down" on any which have failed to do so by the appointed date, he added.

Enforcement of the liquor laws is in general very good, according to the chairman, with the state unit cooperating with county officials in a coordinated attack on bootlegging.

Three Tenement Houses In New York Give Way To Violent Rain Storm

Another Soviet Flight Started To This Country

Moscow, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Sigmund Levaneffsky, the Soviet Union's most famous flier, took off today for a trans-polar flight to New York.

Unlike two previous successful Russian flights to North America over the roof of the world, this will not aim for the Pacific coast and will not be non-stop.

Levaneffsky and five members of his crew took off at 6:13 p. m. (10:15 a. m. EST) with stops scheduled at Fairbanks, Alaska, Edmonton, Alberta and possibly Chicago.

SEEK NEGROES FOR BURGLARY

Two Capital Crimes Committed in Pitt During Week

Sheriff S. A. Whitehurst revealed today that two cases of first degree burglary had occurred in Pitt county this week, the latest being last night.

The sheriff declared that a Negro entered the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Milton D. Tucker of the Simpson community about 2 o'clock this morning. He said that Mrs. Tucker awoke and found the Negro standing by her bed. Startled, she screamed and the man fled. No trace of him has been found, but officers are waging an extensive search.

Mr. Tucker has been staying at a tobacco barn nights recently, but decided to stay at home last night.
The sheriff said he did not know whether the Negro's intention was robbery or a more serious charge.

On Sunday night a Negro entered the home of Mrs. Ben Gardner of Gardner's crossroads, and went into the room of a daughter. The Negro took some money from a pocketbook on a table in the room and knocked over a bottle of medicine, evidently when he put the pocketbook back on the table. When the bottle fell to the floor the daughter, a school teacher, was awakened. As she sounded an alarm the Negro fled and no trace of him has been found.

Sheriff Whitehurst said he believed the crimes were committed by different persons.

He said both Negroes would be charged with first degree burglary when and if apprehended. The crime is a capital charge in this state and carries a penalty of death.

Advertising Drive Being Carried To Foreign Countries

Campaign Being Waged in Behalf of North Carolina Being Carried to Many Far Places

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—North Carolina's advertising campaign has extended into at least 43 states, Porto Rico, the District of Columbia and five foreign countries, a tabulation of inquiries made by Paul Kelly, assistant director of the Department of Conservation and Development, reveals.

Mr. Kelly tabulated only inquiries made in response to advertisements inserted by the department in the August issue of the National Geographic Magazine, and the July 26 issue of the news-weekly, Time.

The foreign countries from which requests for information have come are Canada, Cuba, England, Switzerland and Haiti.

The request from Switzerland was especially interesting in that it was made by the teacher of a class of Americans who wishes to use information and data about North Carolina for instruction of the class.

All together, Mr. Kelly said, a grand total of 640 inquiries had been received through August 10th.
The peak of returns from publication in the two periodicals had already been reached, he said. The maximum of inquiries in one day was 81, received by the department on August 4. In view of the fact that the Geographic is a monthly, Mr. Kelly said he expects numerous more inquiries.

Each inquirer has been written a personal letter from the department, and has been furnished with information along the lines requested, Mr. Kelly said.

Tons of Water From Overflowing Storm Sewer Swoop Down On Ancient Build- ings, Ripping Them Asunder

New York, Aug. 12.— (AP)—At least 19 persons were crushed to death in their sleep early today amid a smothering avalanche of bricks and debris, when three Staten Island tenement buildings collapsed during a violent rain-storm.

Tons of water roaring down from an overflowing storm sewer about midnight struck the ancient brick dwellings and ripped them asunder.

Rescue squads of police and firemen pulled at the tangled wreckage for additional victims.

Two water-soaked bodies were taken from the wreckage shortly after 7 a. m. and Police Commissioner Lewis Valentine expressed the belief three persons still were missing. Four injured, including a policeman-rescuer, were in a hospital.

Valentine called the disaster "the worst in years."

The trapped victims were crushed and then buried beneath wreckage in a 30 foot cellar filled with muddy water. Those not killed by falling debris apparently were drowned.
The buildings, struck by a foaming torrent gushing from a storm sewer on a hill above them, were leveled as if by a tornado.

The tenement collapsed at the height of a storm which swept the metropolitan area last night and killed four other persons by lightning and drowning.

All but one of the victims of the collapsed buildings, Adam Malicki, perished in the crumbling ruins as the floors caved in beneath them without warning. Malicki, one of four critically hurt died a few hours later in Staten Island hospital, where the three survivors fought to keep alive, their bodies broken and bruised by falling timbers.

Six of the dead were women, six were children, others men.

BLAIR ADVISES WINTER CROPS

May Be Sown From Early August Until October 10

Raleigh, Aug. 12.—Winter cover crops for conserving and building up the soil may be sown from early August to October 10 in North Carolina, according to E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State College. In the mountain region, he said, cleaned crimson clover seed should be sown in corn middles in August.

In central and eastern North Carolina, crimson clover seed in the hull may be sown in corn, cotton, tobacco, and other row crops, he continued.

The unhusked seed will not germinate for several weeks, he explained and by that time the weather will be cool enough to give good results. The rate of seeding per acre should be thirty pounds of unhusked seed or 20 to 30 pounds of cleaned seed. After sowing, the seed should be covered lightly, not over half an inch deep. This can be done best when the ground is moist.

Vetch, Austrian winter peas, and clean crimson clover may be sown in piedmont and coastal plain areas any time between August 20 and October 10 that soil conditions are favorable.

The rate of seeding should be 20 pounds of vetch per acre, 30 pounds of winter peas, or 20 to 30 pounds of cleaned crimson clover. Vetch and winter peas should be covered about two inches deep.

The seed of these crops costs about the same at present, and growers should sow the one that suits his conditions best, Blair said. Crimson clover is preferable on medium to heavy soils, especially if well supplied with moisture, while vetch and Austrian winter peas are better adapted to light, dry soils.

Hundreds of admirers of Jean Harlow requested that her last picture, "Sarotoga," be completed and released. The above is a scene from the picture which opens a three-day engagement at the Pitt Friday.

HELPS FOR HOUSEWIVES

To prolong the lives of children's books apply a thin coat of colorless shellac to the covers.

Small weights sewed on the hems of glass or draw curtains will help keep them hanging straight.

Tomato juice put up in glass jars should be stored in a dark, dry place to preserve its color and flavor.

To remove iodine stains soak the stained area in two cups of warm water and soap suds in which one table spoonful of household ammonia has been dropped.

To prepare dates so they will blend better with other ingredients in cooked dishes, cover them with a little hot water or milk. That will soften them.

A weekly waxing, requiring only a few minutes, will greatly lengthen the lives of hardwood floors. It will also save work, since the wax fills the pores in the wood and keeps out dust.

Bread should be cooled thoroughly before it is stored. In hot weather, especially, each loaf should be inspected daily—for mold. Bread box also should be cleaned and aired frequently and kept in as cool a place as possible.

Tea stain removers; (1) Rub the stained area with glycerine and then wash it out in warm water and soap suds; (2) stretch the stained section across a bowl and pour a kettle of boiling water—held 2 feet or so above—over it; (3) sprinkle with salt and lemon juice and let garment lie in the hot sun until the stain has disappeared.

TEACHER'S SON PLANS TO ENTER COLLEGE AT 12
Austin, Tex. —(AP)—A mathematics professor's son plans to enter college a year from September at the age of 12.

The boy, Martin Ettlinger, began his studies in private elementary school when he was four and completed the grades in two years. Then he sprinted through junior high school in a year.

His parents decided to put him on a half-day schedule in high school so he wouldn't be graduated too young. He could have qualified for college entrance last year but broadened his studies to include many elective subjects.

Educators believe his speedy academic advancement is due to his ability to read rapidly and remember what he reads. Three years ago they discovered he could read backwards equally well.

Danville, Ill. —(AP)—The Fred Kemna family eats, sleeps and pays taxes in Illinois and Indiana.

All of which sounds like a headache, but there isn't much to do about it because the 96-acre Kemna farm between here and Perryville, Ind., is divided by the state line.

Parts of the living room, kitchen and sleeping quarters are in Indiana, the rest in Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Kemna and their son, Richard sleep in Indiana; Marietta the daughter, sleeps in Illinois.

CHINESE SCRAP IRON GUARDED FROM JAPAN
Amoy, China. —(AP)—China has succumbed to the scrap iron collecting vogue. A sixteen day period has been set aside in Amoy during which time each resident is supposed to collect and turn in all iron and copper scrap iron he can lay hands on.

The Chinese believe that Japan is buying scrap iron in China for re-arming. Although the export of iron has been banned, the Japanese are reported to be buying iron in China sending it to Taiwan or Hongkong and transshipping it to Japan.

Exports of United States farm products in 1936 were valued at $767,000,000.

How's Your Health?

Edited for the New York Academy of Medicine
By Iago Galdston, M.D.

PREVENTING SCARLET FEVER

We can prevent scarlet fever in two ways: by controlling the spread of the germ and by rendering the individual resistant to its toxins.

Scarlet fever is caused by certain germs called streptococci which, gaining a hold in the body, produce and liberate the poisons ultimately responsible for the disease.

The germs are present in, and are primarily spread by, the discharges issuing from the body of the diseased person. The principal sources of these discharges are the nose and throat. But the germs are also present in matter issuing from running ears, or draining abscesses.

Furthermore, the germs of scarlet fever may be present in the nose and throat secretions of individuals who are not themselves sick with scarlet fever. Such persons are called "carriers" and they may spread the disease wherever they come in contact with susceptible individuals.

Therefore, though isolating the individuals sick with scarlet fever does in a measure control the spread of its germs, the disease may still be spread by its carriers. Hence quarantine alone does not assure adequate protection against the spread of scarlet fever.

For this reason health authorities favor the active immunization of susceptible individuals, notably of young children.

The susceptible individual is recognized by means of the Dick test. A minute quantity of scarlet fever toxin is injected into the skin. In a susceptible person, the area around the site of injection becomes red and inflamed within 24 hours. In the non-susceptible person—one who is naturally resistant, or who has had scarlet fever and developed a strong immunity—no such reaction occurs.

In practically all instances susceptible persons can be immunized against scarlet fever by being repeatedly injected with small quantities of scarlet fever toxin. The development of adequate immunity is established when the Dick test, formerly positive (showing a skin reaction) becomes negative. The immunity thus developed persists for several years. When this form of protective treatment is given to young children it carries them thru the danger period—the first 10 years of life.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robb Coons

Hollywood—Frank Lloyd's production of "Wells Fargo" covers a lot of American history, from 1844 to 1870, and incidentally traces the story of transcontinental communication and transportation. So it was interesting, with Joel McCrea playing a pony express rider, to have Frank Lloyd's daughter Alma visit her father on the set, wearing an orchid that had left Honolulu the day before.

The lady in crinolines to whom McCrea makes love in this picture is Mrs. McCrea or Frances Dee. . . . It is their first film together since "The Silver Cord," in which they met and fell in love. . . . And now all they have to do to make their love scenes convincing is to act the way they always do. . . .

There used to be a hesitancy in casting husband and wife as romancers in the same picture, but now that the casters grant that audiences have grown up enough to admit marriage might be romantic. . . . At least Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone are together in enough pictures. . . . and maybe Dick Powell and Joan Blondell who used to romance on the screen before they were married, will again be considered the type for each other. . . .

Cecil B. DeMille's press agents, past and present, are like a religious order, figuratively salaaming at mention of the old master's name. Barrett C. Keisling, these many years a DeMille alumnus, is still devout. . . . Barrett's written a school textbook, "Talking Pictures," designed for use in the 3,000 schools of the country that had movie courses last year. . . . He estimates that 6,000 schools are giving courses now. . . . McGill U. in Canada is first to learn about talkies from Keisling. . . .

Directors get their sleep spoiled by the funniest things. . . . A sign painter one night recently was given a copy for a banner, "This harem is unfair to organized labor." He called up David Butler to check. . . . This was a gag for the "Al Baba" picture, but how was a painter to know, not having read the script?

Painters are not the only workers who labor on films without knowing what and why. . . . Here is a group of "sailor girls" participating in rifle drill in Tokyo. They are required to attend lectures and drills in national defense, handling of rifles, use of gas masks and administration of first aid. They look toward the China war front unafraid.

The fighter's cabin is sealed to permit sea-level comfort at altitudes ranging to 25,000 feet. The chief tactical advantages expected from the new ship are increased speed and greater insusceptibility to attack.

The two shown here are P. A. Ashminiteva, 82, who worked 62 years before retiring and L. I. Uspenskaya, 67, who worked 25 years. Residents of the home receive living quarters, board and medical treatment.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Aug. 12. — The names "Justice Winborne" and "Justice Barnhill" have been lettered on the doors of the offices of North Carolina's two new supreme court justices...

Members of the North Carolina Historical Commission are stretching their heads in an effort to find out how it happened that the marker recently erected at Davidson college contains incorrect data on the undergraduate days of the late President Woodrow Wilson.

The marker says "Woodrow Wilson studied here 1872-73." Fact is that the war president's year at Davidson was 1873-74.

According to Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson, data for the marker were supplied by his brother Dr. Thomas W. Lingle whom the prexy describes in a letter to Historical Commission Secretary C. C. Crittenden as "very meticulous about matters of this sort."

Anyhow, down will come the marker, back it will go to be entirely recast, with the correct dates substituted.

Governor Hoke's trip to Manteo next week to introduce President Roosevelt has caused postponement of two state board meetings. Highway Commission will gather in Raleigh August 19, instead of 18; while state REA meetings will convene in Asheville August 20, instead of 19.

From the Textile Workers' Organizational Committee, 1204 Independence building, Charlotte, comes a 16-page pamphlet entitled "American Labor Rises to Power," with sub-title "The amazing growth of unionism under the inspiration of the CIO." It opens with a foreword by John L. Lewis, praises fulsomely the CIO and all its works and closes with this paragraph: "In this historically significant search for what is the best in our civilization, the CIO carries forth the guiding torchlight, and the response to its call for thought and action has been magnificent. All power to the CIO."

The North Carolina Historical Commission and certain citizens are at odds concerning the historical value of the fact that North Carolina's first deed is reputed to have been put on record in the courthouse at Edenton. The commission hasn't yet recognized this fact as worthy of an historical marker—Secretary C. C. Crittenden says it probably will not at any future date. The citizens and papers disagree violently and are beginning to inquire "How long?"

The ballot battlefield is quite far away, but nevertheless reports are drifting into Raleigh that Stokes county is showing signs of dampness, at least. Voters there will decide August 17 whether or not they want liquor stores. From Alamance, which votes the same day, come reports that the dries will likely win.

What's become of the Henry Stevens for Governor boom supposedly launched on the "Cotton Road" motorcade recently.

NEW LIQUOR CONTROL PLAN WORKS SMOOTHLY IN STATE

In addition to Frank Batts, its inspector, the state board now has a force of undercover agents in the field and good results from their work are being shown.

Counties which have recently conducted vigorous "crack down" campaigns include Edgecombe, Pitt, Nash, New Hanover, Wake, Vance, Franklin, Halifax, Durham, Johnston and others.

Printed rules and regulations have been sent each county by the state board. Mr. Moore said, and observation of these rules will be strictly required. Practically all counties are cooperating in their

Race Against Fire

A GREAT sweep of wind bent the treetops with a roar as of distant ocean waves.

Both men started, and glanced up, then Josh Hastings slumped back again.

"Get me out of this damned uncomfortable position, can't you?" he rasped.

Ted made no answer, as he gazed anxiously at the white clouds that scudded past overhead, and sniffed the faint acrid smell that began to penetrate the fragrance of the pines. Ignoring Josh Hastings' groans and protests, he pushed ahead, his alarm growing as the hours passed, and the wind continued to rage with ever increasing velocity.

There was no telling how fast the fire might travel under these adverse conditions! A brownish haze obscured the sun, and already it was hard to make out the outlines of the distant ridges. He could just see the bold profile of the central divide, with the cut of the pass through it, as he plunged down into a canyon. The next time he emerged it was lost in the fast growing smokiness of the atmosphere.

Josh Hastings, who had lapsed into a semi-conscious state of wrathful resignation, scanned Ted's face as he came back from his last survey of the ridges. The light had perceptibly dimmed, and the two men coughed continually with the irritation of the smoke in their lungs.

"We have nothing but the vaguest circumstantial evidence against Josh Hastings," she explained. "But what we have combined with the proof of his guilt in that other case, should at least prove strong enough to discredit him, if nothing more."

"The trouble is, that discrediting Josh Hastings isn't going to be enough to clear Ted's name," Marion worried. "I wonder if it wouldn't be better for him to disappear for a while, after all?"

"No!" Kay declared proudly. "This is the time for him to clear his name. And then, if what you say about his feeling for me is true—" She left the sentence unfinished, but the color that flooded her cheeks ended it for her.

"If only Dad is safe, and I can make him see reason, we might have a double wedding," Marion suggested. "I know you'll like Hal as much as I do Ted."

Forgetting their anxiety for the moment in their absorbing plans for the future, the two girls made their way back to the shack, pushing against the wind that swept up from the south.

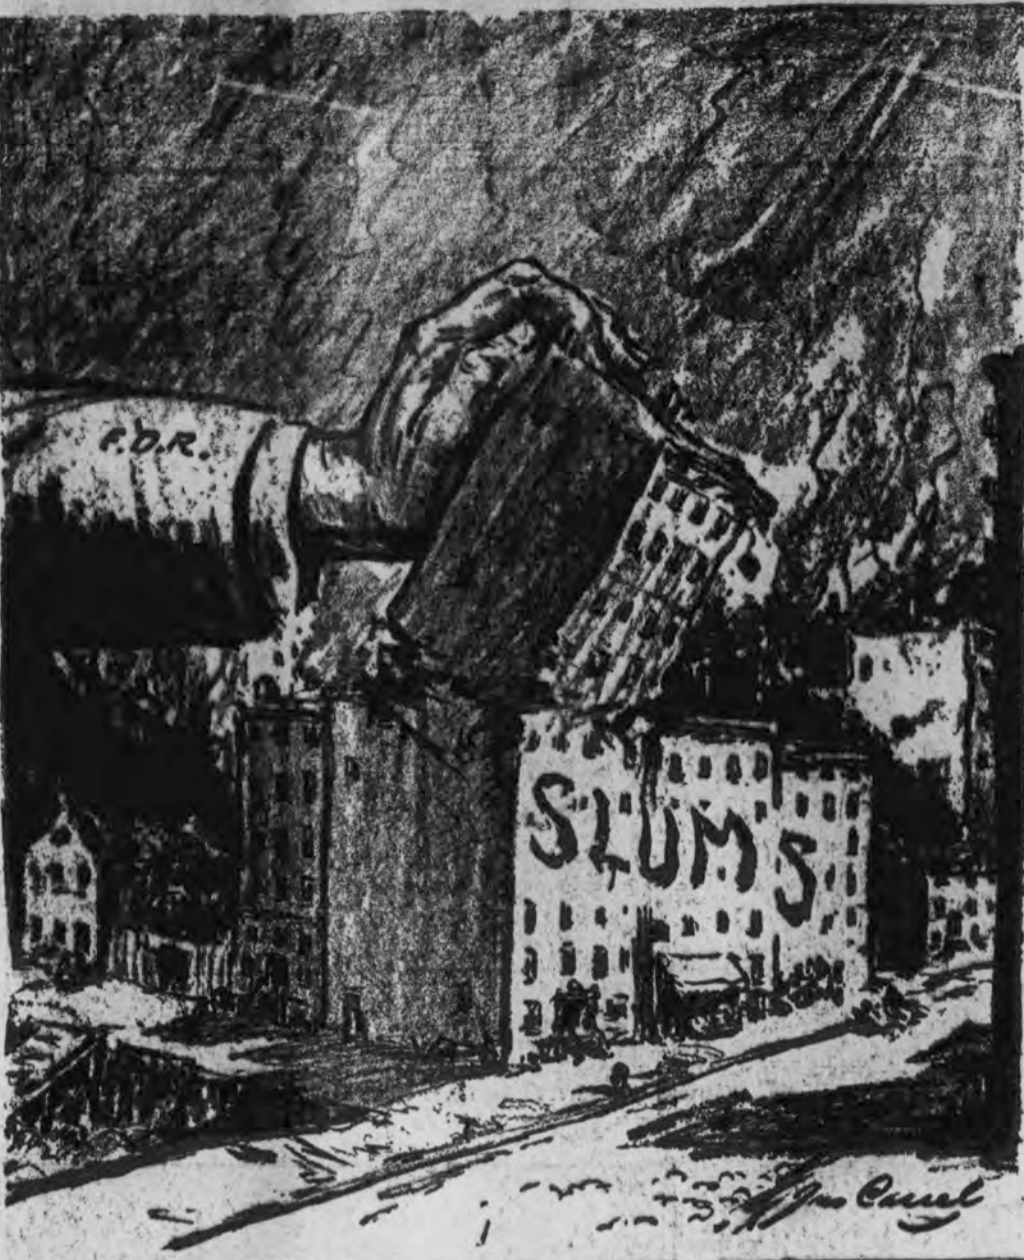

The Smell Of Smoke

"I HOPE this wind will die down," Kay exclaimed anxiously. "I don't want any more fire to reckon with! And there might be a chance of its reaching our timber ridge, although Shorly assured me it couldn't."

"Of course it can't," Marion soothed. "These winds always spring up around noon, and die down again almost as soon as they've started."

"It seems to me, the smell of

MAKE ROOM FOR BETTER HOMES AND EMPLOYMENT!

Washington Daybook

By Preston Grover

Washington — We have studied the situation for some time and it seems that if you weigh more than 200 pounds you are not so likely to get to congress.

This is not an invitation to come forward and buy our obesity cure, for we have none, other than the usual caution to avoid trying to eat up the surplus. Secretary Wallace is charged with the task of eliminating the surplus so don't let any feeling of loyalty along that line induce you to eat yourself out of the congressional eligibility lists.

There are exceptions, of course. But the percentage is low. Off hand we would say that Representative Hobbs of Alabama, one time a Sunday school teacher, would exceed 200 pounds by a fair margin. He is both tall and burly. Representative Daughton of North Carolina might also tip the scales about that pound-age for which, not so plump as Hobbs, he is tall and full of framework.

Going over to the senate, the spectator's eye is immediately caught by the massive form of Senator Johnson of Colorado, who is not only one of the biggest of legislators, but also one of the newest. He sort of contradicts the 200-pound theory. It is possible some of the other 200-pounders came to congress before they reached the heavy-duty stage. But Johnson had his 200-pounds with him when he left Colorado.

A quick glance around the senate chamber probably will show also Dieterich of Illinois and perhaps tall and stately Anshurst of Arizona as above the 200-pound line. As to what happens to tenth-ofaton members after they get to congress, there might be a division of opinion. The really top-flight jobs seem to go to heavyweights. The late Senator Joe Robinson probably did a shade better than 200. So do Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Robinson's successor as majority leader, and possibly Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Barkley's defeated rival.

But often enough important committee posts are held down by flyweights to middle-weights. Senator Glass, chairman of appropriations, probably never passed 125 pounds. Senator Pittman, chairman of foreign relations, is tall but slender. Chairman Fletcher of military affairs is light enough to dance on a bass drum.

Returning to the house, we find Speaker Bankhead possibly topping 200, for although not corpulent he is lofty. Floor Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas is a solid block and probably 200 or better. But these two have been there a long time and pictures of them in their freshman years indicate they acquired plump with experience.

It may be that some heavy gentry out in the districts are planning to make a race of it next year but we caution them that in congress their numbers are few, if not far between.

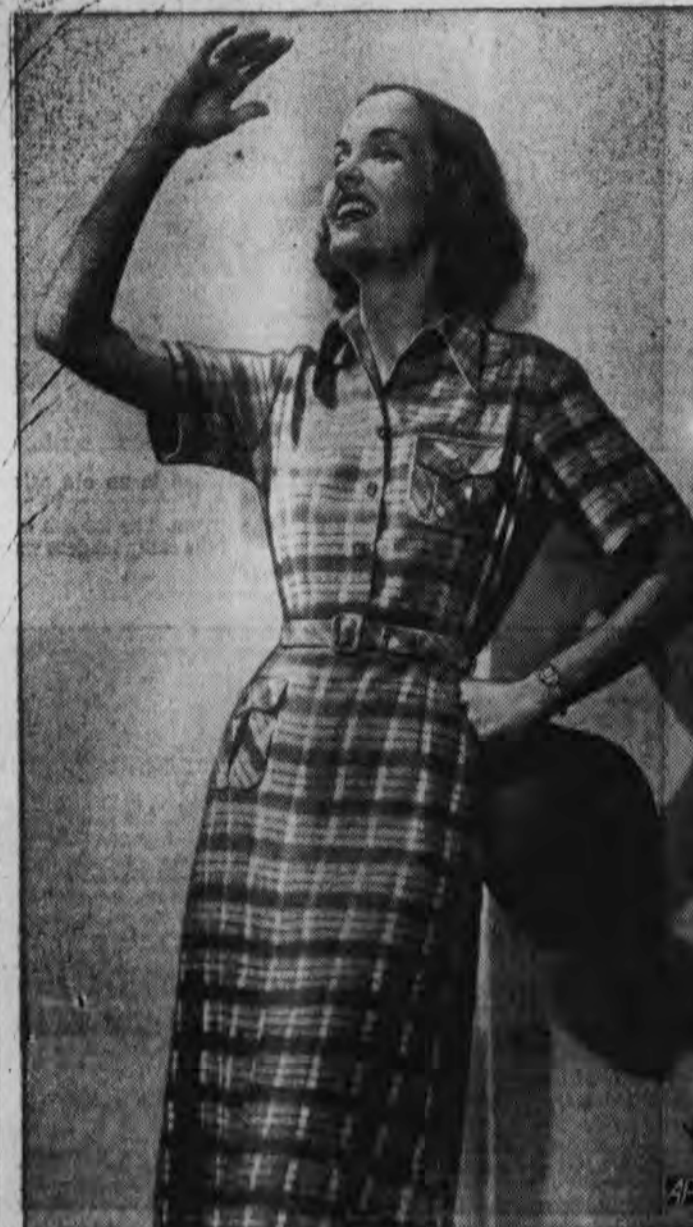

Man About Manhattan

New York—Jerry Wald, the old Graphic columnist who ran into Jack Warner and became a successful student writer, came back from the coast and fell into this situation his first day in town.

"Really," pursued the manager, becoming slightly nettled, "this is a place of business and as we own it, I think we are entitled to our own rules and regulations." "But I am a customer," snapped the young man, "and if there were no customers, where would the restaurant get off?" The manager bit his lip. He said at last, "Very well. Mail us your check."

Carl Garner once attended a dinner at which several prominent Communist writers and editors were present. At the end of his set speech he ad libbed about the reviews his "Stars Fell on Alabama" had received in the Daily Worker and the New Masses, newspaper and magazine, respectively of the Communist party.

"Why don't you fellows get together?" he demanded. "Look, in the 'Daily Worker' my book is attacked as the work of a capitalist spy, while in the 'New Masses' it's labeled 'some of the best reporting' that had ever been made of the American scene." "Where does that leave me?"

New Bern Beats Aces In Extra-Innings Tilt

Ayden—Ayden and New Bern yesterday started over again on the marathon business. The clubs, which played a 10-inning tie at New Bern Tuesday, were booked for a twin bill yesterday—they took so long to settle the "first game," there was no second.

New Bern won, 11 to 10 in 14 innings. A walk to Douglas, Mullinax's sacrifice, a walk to Knowles, and Fary's error on Stith's blunder brought the winning run.

Melchor saved the game for the Bears. He hit a homer in the ninth after Thornton had singled, to produce the two runs needed to tie the things at 9-9. Melchor also homered—and also after a single by Thornton—in the fifth.

Joyner homered for Ayden in the fourth; Knowles did it for New Bern in the fifth.

An error and Knowles' double gave New Bern a run in the 10th but the Aces got that back in the home half—on doubles by Jirak and Baker.

Schuerholz and Joyner featured afield.

ROBINSON TIES MONK FOR LEAD

Billie's Robby And Ayden's Joyner Batting .388

Robby Robinson, Snow Hill third-sacker, has caught up with Monk Joyner in the battle for batting leadership of the Coastal Plain league.

Latest official averages for the circuit show Robinson in a tie with Joyner, Ayden manager, for the top—each has .388. The averages include games of last Sunday.

Although Robby and Monk are tied for the "real" lead, the first name on the batting list is that of Stoner, Kinston outfielder. Appearing in the figures for the first time—a minimum of 75 times at bat is necessary for inclusion of a player—Stoner has the No. 1 spot, with an average of .395 for 81 times at bat in 27 games. Robinson has been in 74 games, Joyner, 72.

The latest official averages were announced Tuesday by J. Gaskill McDaniel of New Bern, league statistician.

Players with averages above .285 and at bat 75 or more times, including games of August 8:

Williamston's Martins Winner Over Leaders

Williamston—Williamston took a 3-1 victory over Snow Hill yesterday in a game which included lots of excitement.

Stroud (Roundy) Fields won over Joe Joyce in a real mound battle; rival infielders offered sensational plays galore.

Joyce set the Martins down without a hit until the seventh—in that vein, the locals bunched three blows to settle things: Don Victoria singled to center for the first Martin hit. Stevens sacrificed and the play to second failed when Rabb erred on Joyce's throw. McCay's taut scored Victoria, and Joyce struck out Lakotas. Artie Deim singled to score Stevens with the tying run, and Fields then pulled the "Pitcher Wins Own Game" trick by hitting a single to send in McCay. Howard Earp allied the clincher with a hit which scored Deim.

Snow Hill rallied in the ninth, but a double play took care of things.

The visitor's run came in the second inning and resulted from a walk to Robinson and a double by Bistroff.

Manager Walker of the Billies was chased in the sixth for arguing too vigorously with Umpire Cone about a third strike called on Latham.

THESE TWO PITCHERS HAD A BUSY DAY

Topeka, Kas.—(AP)—It was a big day for pitchers in the Ban Johnson league.

George Holmes, Chanute tosser, struck out 20 men while pitching 20 innings of baseball. He blanked the Eureka club, 13-0, in the first half of a twin bill but dropped the nightcap, 6-4, after 11 innings.

Minnie Horn, Topeka hurler, stole the show when he shut out Kansas City, 8-0. During the course of the afternoon he fanned 12, issued no passes and hit a home run with all bases occupied.

Rome had more than 800 public baths in the eighth century A. D.

The radio distress call—written SOG—was adopted in 1908.

Federal land grants to assist states in establishing agricultural colleges were begun in 1862.
