ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS FACING DELAY

Senate-House Group Fails to Agree on Housing Bill

PROBABLY QUIT TASK SATURDAY

House Leader Rayburn and Sen. Barclay Agree Postponement Necessary

Washington, Aug. 20. — (AP) — Congressional leaders virtually abandoned hope of adjourning Congress tonight when Senate-House conference committees failed to reach an agreement on the important Wagner housing bill.

House Leader Rayburn told reporters a resolution for adjournment tonight definitely would not be brought before the House.

He said he had told Senate majority leader Barclay it would be impossible to adjourn before tomorrow and Barclay had agreed with him.

House leaders had not been so optimistic, but the House membership displayed a distinct desire to get the long grind over with as soon as possible.

The Wagner low-cost housing bill over which the Senate and House have differed sharply possibly had held the key to adjournment, although another major factor was the fact the House had a full calendar for today and a private bill session set for tonight.

The Senate debated the $1,800,000 third deficiency appropriation bill. The bill was millions larger than when it passed the House.

Bankhead summed the adjournment situation so far as the House concerned, saying: "We expect to adjourn tomorrow by midnight, before it possible."

Meantime, Mrs. Dixie Graves, wife of Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama, took her oath of office, as successor in the Senate to Senator Plak, recently appointed to the Supreme Court.

She was sworn on the Senate floor as the fourth woman to hold a seat in that body.

Her husband had explained he named her senator only until a special election could be called.

SEEK TO CURB WEED DISEASES

Study Made Here Today by Extension Service Experts

A further study of tobacco diseases with a view to providing information to the grower in the winter section of the county this morning by experts from the Extension Service of N. C. State college, working in collaboration with the Pitt county farm agent's office.

Dr. R. F. Poole, plant pathologist of the service, Dr. Luther Shaw and K. J. Shaw visited several fields with R. R. Bennett, county agent, and C. D. Griggs, assistant county agent.

It is estimated that 100,000,000 pounds of tobacco are lost annually in North Carolina because of various diseases.

With Pitt the largest tobacco producing county in the world, it is only natural that most of the difficulty, J. B. Hutson, assistant Bennett declared. Some of the common diseases found here are mosaic, granule wilt, southern root rot, sore shank and root knot or big root," Bennett declared.

"We are making every effort to find methods of control for tobacco diseases," declared the agent, adding that if successful farmers will be saved millions of dollars annually.

Lenoir Furniture Plant Shut Down Following Strike

Caldwell Sheriff Declares Factory Completely Closed and Strikers Picketing Peacefully

Lenoir, Aug. 20. — (AP) — The Caldwell Furniture plant was closed here today by a walkout, begun, union organizers said, when the management refused to negotiate union demands for a 40-hour week and 40 cents an hour minimum pay.

J. C. Tolbert, Caldwell county sheriff, said the plant had been closed completely and strikers were picketing the premises peacefully.

Albert Beck of Lenoir and W. E. Cheek of Nashville, Tenn., A. F. of L. representatives, said the 300 workers at the plant voted at a mass meeting to go on strike Monday when efforts to meet an agreement with the management failed.

The A. F. of L. men predicted the strike would be settled shortly.

FIRES FOLLOW EARTHQUAKES IN MANILA, P. I.

Residents Flee Homes and Hotels in Darkness

NO REPORTS OF ANY FATALITIES

American Refugees, Landing at Port Terrible by the Worst Shocks in 40 Years

Manila, P. I., Aug. 20. — (AP) — Two sharp earthquakes threw Manila into darkness tonight in a terrifying welcome to American refugees arriving from war-torn Shanghai.

Manila residents fled from their homes and hotels into the darkened streets. Many fires started by the shocks, the worst in 40 years, added to the panic.

Several large buildings and a number of churches were damaged. Other major structures swayed noticeably. Many injuries, but no deaths, were reported during the confusion after the first shock, about 8 p. m. The second tremor added new terror 20 minutes later. The shocks were felt at least 200 miles away.

Most terrified by the rumbling and shaking of the earth were the 376 refugees arriving aboard the President Jefferson to a supposed haven after their experiences in Shanghai.

One girl among a score of screaming refugee women and children undergoing rigid inspection in the customs house cried:

"Is this another war?"

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. and son, Quentin, had hurried ashore under the escort of President Samuel Jerezon's personal bodyguard and were whisked away by automobile.

Some refugees were forced to look for persons expected to greet them on their arrival. Others carried their own bundles, some wrapped only in paper.

The compass of all was practically restored when the electric lights were turned on again after the main power line had blown out.

Sir Hubert Soars Into Polar Areas To Search Fliers

Crew of Rescue Pilots Waiting For Fair Weather to Push Into Wastes on Hunt Cheered

Fairbanks, Alaska, Aug. 20. — (AP) — Sir Hubert Wilkins brought new cheer to an impatient crew of rescue pilots waiting for fair weather to push out over polar wastes in their search for six missing Russian fliers.

Sir Hubert and his pilot, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, took off for Port Smith in North West Territory, 1,200 miles distant, this morning.

Their huge silver flying boat will then fly north to help the other aviators search for Sigismund Levanevsky and his five companions, last heard from a week ago today several hours before their four-motored plane was expected in Fairbanks to refuel for a dash to the United States.

Jimmie Mattern, grounded for three days by bad weather, continued preparations here for an exhaustive search for the northern Alaska coast and beyond to the polar ice caps.

French, Belgian Citizens Say Doom Spanish Northwest Sealed

Hendaye, France (Spanish Border), Aug. 20. — (AP) — Santander and the Spanish northwest today appeared doomed to fall before General Francisco Franco's columns, slowly but relentlessly advancing through rain and mud.

"It's only a question of days," said French and Belgian citizens who arrived from Santander, last important city-stronghold of the government in northwest Spain.

These refugees said famine faced the city because it was impossible to get food through the insurgent blockade of the port.

Today Franco's troops pounded through a natural barrage of fog and rain for possession of the waterworks of the city. The general's communique said his forces met strong resistance in all parts of the Santander front, with government troops reinforced by thousands of men rushed from the Asturias. An insurgent brigade, the communists said, captured Santa Cialla, taking 150 prisoners.

In less than a week of the insurgent offensive, Franco's commanders reported, Santander's outlying defenses in the tumbling terrain to the city's southwest had been virtually smashed.

The Bethel community produces practically all of the potatoes grown in Pitt county for commercial purposes.

Negroes Executed In Virginia Chair

Richmond, Aug. 20. — (AP) — Two Negroes died in the electric chair at the Virginia state penitentiary today after one of them had failed in an attempt to take all the blame for the murder of Willie Smith, nephew of a Greenville county store keeper.

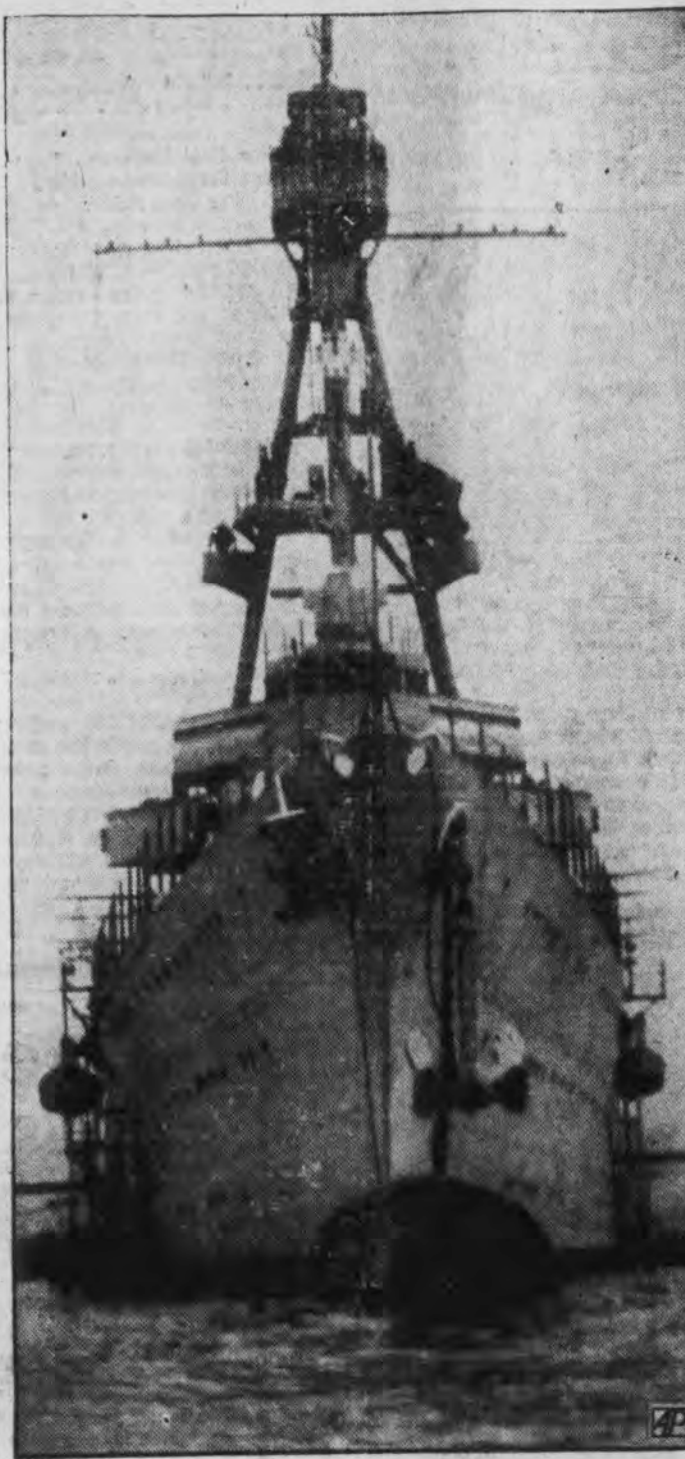

Laurence Wyche was electrocuted first. Willie Leake of Dunn, N. C. who tried to save his companion this week by writing a letter to Governor Peery declaring Wyche had no part in the slaying died next.

Smith was killed in an attempt to rob his uncle, the state contended he was struck by a bullet intended for the older man.

The Virginia supreme court of appeals declined to review the appeal.

The health officer stated that the clinics were largely attended in June, but in July there was a decided dropping off.

He said he thought that the urgency of farm work in tobacco was responsible for this condition, the husbands and the landlords not realizing the importance of regular attendance at the clinic on the part of expectant mothers.

The health officer is making a special appeal to the landlords, that they make it possible for the husbands of these expectant mothers to bring the into the clinic. Even though it does take a half (Continued on Page Two)

Flagship of Admiral Harry Yandell Under Fire after Standing by While 1,000 American Refugees Are Taken to Manila Aboard S. S. President Hoover; Fourth of Shanghai Aflame as Chinese Blast At Jap Defense.

Shanghai, Aug. 20. — (AP) — One United States sailor was killed and 18 wounded tonight when an anti-aircraft shell of undetermined origin struck the aster well deck of the cruiser Augustus, flagship of the U. S. Asiatic fleet.

The Augustus, flagship of Admiral Harry Yandell, fleet commander has been lying in the Whangpoo river, a little downstream from the heart of the International Settlement, covering the evacuation of the American refugees from Shanghai.

The shell plunged from a high angle. Both Japanese and Chinese artillery and anti-aircraft batteries had been firing furiously throughout the late afternoon and into the night.

The sailor killed was Freddie John Faigout of Raceland, Fla.

None of the 18 wounded was seriously hurt.

The Augustus stood by earlier in the day as two United States destroyers and Dollar liner tender carried 1,000 American refugees down the river to board the President Hoover for Manila.

In the meantime, a fourth of Shanghai was ablaze as Chinese forces struck savagely at Japanese properties along the Whangpoo and Chinese artillery blasted at Japanese defense lines.

American property suffered heavily elsewhere at Peiping, Chinese armies were reported to have launched a general offensive against North China from its Japanese conquests.

And at Tokyo Premier Prince Ko noye barred foreign intervention in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war and asserted any settlement must be made by China and Japan alone.

Several Injured As Cars Collide

Tragedy was narrowly averted here this morning when a truck load of Negroes on their way to church picnic overturned with several members of the party suffering painful but not serious injuries.

The truck was driven by John Henry Hollis of Bethel. It was following a log truck headed in the same direction. The log truck slowed down as it started to pass the parked car.

The truck driver pulled out to pass the log truck. Just as a light car driven by R. E. James of Stokes started to pass the car parked on the shoulder of the road.

The two cars met in an almost head-on collision.

The injured were taken to a doctor and it was found that none of the injuries were serious.

State highway patrolmen and Hollis would be tried on charges of reckless driving.

Heat Waves Move East As Rains Aid Farmers

Humidity Carries Suffering to Sweltering Residents of Cities

(By the Associated Press)

Three distinct heat waves drifted slowly across the United States from the west to east today, separated by virtual walls of rainfall, which farmers valued at millions of dollars.

Combined with the heat in most of the areas affected were high degrees of humidity which carried suffering to sweltering residents.

A composite picture of the weather in various sections of the country during the past 24 hours follows:

New England — Temperatures up as much as 17 points with the heat in Boston breaking a 54 year old record for Aug. 20; at 10 a. m. the thermometer passed 91 degrees.

Middle Atlantic Seaboard — Temperatures high as 94, the same as yesterday, recorded at Newark, N. J., with overnight rains in Central Pennsylvania and New York falling to relieve suffering more than momentarily.

The south — Temperatures holding steady near yesterday's top of 95 recorded at Baltimore. Tennessee crops shriveling for lack of rain and none in sight.

SUPPORT MOVE OF PORTUGAL

Industrialists Sanction Severing Of Relations

Lisbon, Aug. 20. — (AP) — Portuguese industrialists rallied today to the support of the government in its severance of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia.

Manufacturers praised Portugal's decision not to accept tenders of official supplies from Czechoslovakian firms after the Praha government's reluctance to allow the filling of a large Portuguese order of machine guns.

An official communique here yesterday attributed the diplomatic breach to an international quarrel over the machine gun order and declared Czechoslovakia was influenced in her stand by "third party pressure."

"The 'third party' preamble was the Soviet Union."

A special meeting of the Portuguese Commercial association expressed approval of the government's stand in the face of the "impertinence" of Czechoslovakia in failing to fulfill the arms contract.

The association characterized the Praha government as "daring not to trust the word given by the Portuguese government."

How's Your Health? Edited for the New York Academy of Medicine. By Iago Goldston, M.D.

The Mentally ill: The mental hygiene problem can be expressed in terms of the causes contributing to mental illness. Of the total number of cases in institutions, 10 per cent, each are due to alcohol and syphilis. Injuries to the central nervous system, some suffered at birth, and senility account for many more cases.

Syphilis, alcohol, accidents and degenerative conditions, are together responsible for approximately 40 per cent of the institutionalized cases. The remaining 60 per cent is composed of those patients suffering from the so-called functional mental illness.

Dr. Frederick L. Autry of Albany, N. Y., has set up these "guide-posts" for a mental hygiene program:

1. Parental and pre-parental education, which he defines as "education of the unborn child" through wise mating, and the competent rearing of the child through the years one to six.
2. The school, which has the second opportunity at least in an organized way, to unfold constructively the child's nature and direct its development. The services of the school should include educational and occupational guidance.
3. A well-balanced program of work, play, rest, sleep, relaxation, diet and elimination.
4. A neat balance between challenging conflict and security. "The feeling of belonging, of being wanted and loved, or at least constructively socially regarded, are essentials of our emotional atmosphere."
5. A sound constitution, safeguarded by annual physical and dental examinations.
6. A confidential relationship with others to serve as a safety valve for anxiety and fears.
7. Ambition and standards of living to be kept within the capacity for reasonable satisfaction.
8. A wholesome sense of humor, turned toward oneself as toward others.
9. The periodic taking of critical inventories of our prevailing reactions, "since few of us are beyond the stage of 'improvability.'"
10. The habit of interpreting conduct, rather than judging it, since behavior is merely a symptom of the individual's seeking satisfaction, security, affection, mastery, social recognition and approval.

PITT HEALTH HEAD REVEALS SCHEDULE FOR PITT CLINICS (Continued from page one) day out of the tobacco work, the wife is entitled to this consideration, he declared.

"We find that the attitude of the landlord largely determines whether or not his tenants avail themselves of the opportunity of these clinics," he added.

The clinics are open to all expectant mothers, white or colored, who are unable to afford a private physician.

President Speaks In Setting Of Own Making At Manteo Chief Executive Surrounded On All Sides By Products of WPA, In Address Wednesday

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 20.—Critics of WPA projects as "wasteful" and "useless" should consider the setting in which President Roosevelt made his Manteo address Wednesday. It has been pointed out by Fred Cohn, information director of the state WPA with headquarters here.

For at Manteo the chief executive was surrounded on all sides by products of the organization for which he was primarily responsible, Mr. Cohn said.

"The President was really right in the 'bosom of his family,' figuratively speaking," said Mr. Cohn.

Listing the things done by WPA in connection with the Manteo celebration Mr. Cohn noted the following:

(1) The entire restoration for Roanoke Island was a WPA project and was carried out by WPA workers.

(2) The amphitheater and stage upon which the "Lost Colony" is presented were built by the WPA.

(3) The ramp upon which President Roosevelt sat during the performance was built by the WPA.

(4) The caste of characters for the "Lost Colony" was selected almost entirely from WPA theatre project actors.

(5) Extras were drawn from the OCG boys, another Roosevelt innovation.

(6) Dr. F. H. Koch, director of the "Lost Colony" performance is supervising director of the WPA theatre project in North Carolina.

(7) Earle Stapleton, who arranged the music for the "Lost Colony" is state director of the WPA music project.

Corn and Peanuts Estimated Better Than N.C. Average Eight Per Cent Increase Seen in Corn Crop; Peanuts Five Per Cent Better

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 20.—North Carolina's corn and peanut crops are estimated as well above the average in the monthly crop report of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, based on the conditions as of August 1.

The indicated corn crop will be 44,194,000 bushels, an increase of 8 per cent over last year and one of the largest corn crops on record in this state, according to the report.

The August 1 condition of the peanut crop was 83 per cent of normal, a five per cent increase over the past ten-year average for that date, the report says.

"The corn crop is consistently good in all sections of the state with the exception of the southern Piedmont counties where the lowest July rainfall occurred," the report says.

"Growers reported an average condition of 83 per cent of normal on August 1, which is 8 per cent better than a year ago and 5 per cent better than the past ten-year average on August 1."

Of peanuts the report said: "The July rainfall was conducive to a very rapid growth of the peanut plants. August weather conditions will determine the setting of nuts. Too rapid development of the peanut plants is usually at the expense of the formation of the nuts. This is too early a date to determine a definite indication for production."

The crop reports are based on statistics prepared in the office of Frank Parker, United States Department of Agriculture statistician with the State Department of Agriculture.

Jamaica Officials Extend Gratitude Raleigh, Aug. 20.—The government of Jamaica has expressed its thanks, through diplomatic channels for North Carolina's courtesies to its registrar-general, P. G. Duff, who spent a month in the State Health department, studying vital statistics.

The expression came through the British ambassador, who communicated it to the Secretary of State of the United States. He, in turn, forwarded the communication to Governor Hoyer, who sent his compliments to the Secretary of State.

Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, state health officer.

"His Majesty's ambassador pre-inform him that P. G. Duff, registrar-general and deputy keeper of records in Jamaica, was recently awarded a travel fellowship by the Rockefeller Foundation to enable him to take a course of instruction in this country in the latest methods relating to vital statistics. Mr.

Duff returned to Jamaica on the first of July, 1937, at the expiration of a course which lasted approximately six weeks.

"The government of Jamaica now have expressed a desire that their thanks for and appreciation of the courtesies afforded to Mr. Duff during his course of study be conveyed to the director of the United States Bureau of Census, the Secretary and State Health officer of the North Carolina State Board of Health." Thanks also were extended Maryland officials for their courtesies to Mr. Duff.

CAROLINA DAY SET FOR CAMP

General Public Invited to Fort Bragg Aug. 25th

Fort Bragg, Aug. 20.—The third week of the annual Citizen's Military Training camp at Fort Bragg is well under way. All the battery athletic teams are fighting it out for the coveted athletic medals. The boxing cards are getting better and better as the elimination in the various weights progresses. The candidates themselves now conduct their own parades without aid from the Regular Officer instructors. Weekly dances and amateur night performances are enjoyed by all the boys.

In order that friends and relatives of the boys may see the great progress they have made, General McCloskey, the commanding general of Fort Bragg has designated Tuesday, August 24th as South Carolina day and Wednesday, August 25th as North Carolina day. A full program of events has been arranged for both days. Colonel Kennedy, the camp commander and himself a Carolinian, has invited the governors of South and North Carolina to be present on their respective days. In the mornings the regular schedule of classes and exercises will take place so that all visitors may observe some. The visitors then will be treated to a regular camp meal in the various mess halls of their CMTC friends. After lunch a special parade will be held on both days honoring the distinguished Carolinians. For South Carolina day a swimming meet will be staged by the boys. For North Carolina day the annual track and field meet will be held.

It is hoped that a large number from both states will be able to attend. A most enjoyable day is guaranteed to all. Make your plans now to come up to Fort Bragg to see your boy on one of these dates.

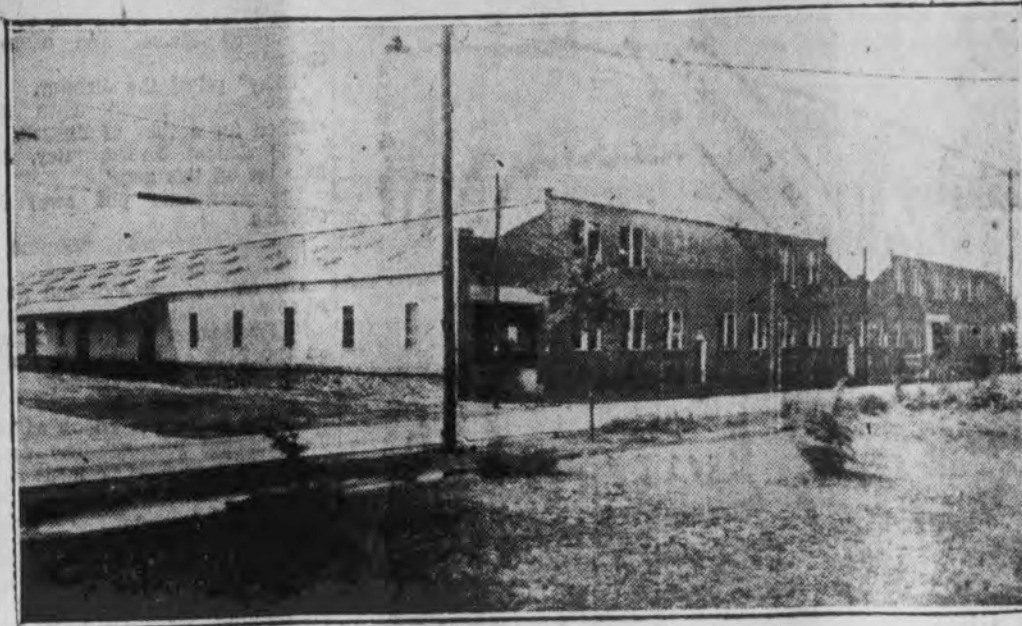

QUEEN ELENA OF ITALY HELPS GERMAN HOSPITALS

Kassel, German Aug. 20.—(AP)—To the initiative of Queen Elena of Italy, Germany owes its first hospital for special treatment for inflammation of the brain (encephalitis) recently opened here.

Queen Elena had been told by her daughter Giovanna, queen of Bulgaria, of a cure discovered by a Bulgarian herbalist. She had clinics opened in Rome, Milan and Turin. A visit to her elder daughter Marfalka, who lives here as the wife of the provincial governor, Prince Philip of Hesse, resulted in two German experts being sent to Italy to study the remedy. The new clinic, named for Elena, is to get medicinal supplies free from Italy until Germany can produce them.

Let The Eyes Have It, But Carefully

By BETTY CLARKE (AP Feature Service Writer)
Eye make-up always is a ticklish business. Don't tackle it during business hours, say beauticians. Use discrimination when you put it on for evenings. Like other cosmetics, eye make-up should enhance, not overwhelm natural beauty—you're not going to face the footlights. Lucille Manners, radio star, shows how to do all this successfully:

REFRESHMENT . . .
First, bathe the eyes with lotion, preferably a witch hazel or boric acid compound. Miss Manners dips a piece of cotton in a bowl of the solution, but an eye cut is also practical. Daily bathing of the eyes is particularly refreshing in the summer.

REALIGNMENT . . .
After drying the eyes, get out the mascara, which is applied best with a brush, and color the lashes gently. Brush the upper lashes upward, the lower ones downward. Since mascara separates each eyelash, be careful to apply only a minimum. If you're a blonde, avoid dark mascara.

AND HARMONY
Let your eyeshadow harmonize with the color of your eyes, says Miss Manners, busy applying just bit to her upper lids. Blue for blue eyes, green for hazel eyes, brown for brown eyes, and so on. Unless you want to look emaciated, she warns, don't put any under the eyes.

No Other Major Changes Anticipated For Patrol

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—Appointment of Arthur Fulk as major commanding the State Highway Patrol will bring with it no immediate or startling administrative changes, certainly not before a thorough survey of the situation has been made. Appointment of two captains and four lieutenants gives Major Fulk a symmetrical setup with two divisions—an eastern and a western—with two troops commanded by lieutenants under each captain commanding a division. At least tentatively division headquarters will find Captain Charles Farmer at Raleigh and Captain L. R. Fisher at Asheville. The headquarters for Troop A, Lieut. Lester Jones commanding, will be at Greenville where they now are; Troop B will have its headquarters tentatively at Payetteville, with Lieut. D. T. Lambeth in command; Troop C, under Lieut. Arthur T. Moore, will be at Greensboro; and Troop D, Lieut. C. R. Adams commanding, will be based tentatively at Salisbury. The tentative headquarters for Troops B and D were chosen because the newly appointed lieutenants make their homes there, and there exists a district possibility that these headquarters will be changed after a traffic survey has been completed. Major Fulk's aim is to allot 50 counties to each division and 25 counties to each troop, as nearly as may be done in view of the varying density of traffic in different sections. In connection with the traffic survey, the registration of automobiles by sections will be given serious consideration.

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.
Raleigh, Aug. 20.—B. C. Jones, Swain's representative, who headed the election laws committee of the 1937 General Assembly, was in Raleigh yesterday, but said his visit was entirely unconnected with politics. Mr. Jones spoke long and often during the session last winter and his committee came in for more than a little criticism when it delayed all action on election law reforms till the eleventh hour and then killed practically the entire plan recommended by the state Democratic Executive Committee.

Miss Mae Oliver, Sanford's candidate for president of the state's Young Democratic Clubs, is breaking into the public prints these days by appearing as organizer and chairman of the Reporter plan for Democratic women's organizations. She spoke recently in Goldsboro and is slated to address meetings in Durham and Raleigh.

Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell is out in the field and will not return to his office here before the middle of next week. Among other things he will speak at the Auto Dealers' convention in Charlotte this coming Monday.

An efficient stenographer is holding down the State REA office here. While Dudley Bagley, administrator; M. Grainger, engineer; and D. S. Weaver, secretary, are attending a meeting of the full REA board in Asheville. None are likely to be back here before the first of next week.

"President Roosevelt minced no words in his Manteo speech," said Major A. L. Fletcher, commissioner of labor. "I think he had a very nice message for the folks."

There's a real feud on between the Department of Revenue and the Employment Commission. Hot words are being passed and there are more than hints of dirty work at the crossroads.

"The Unemployment Commission as just put thirty young men to work," said Bob Ward, chief of accounting division of the D. of R. and I understand the first question they were asked when they applied was 'Can you play softball?'"

The Revenueops have defeated the out-of-workers three times in four years this season, it seems, and the offer are determined to put a stop to that sort of thing.

A fellow can get gassed right at home on the farm as well as in town, cautions John A. Arey, a dairy specialist at State, who points out that gas is in a silo while the silage is fermenting is dangerous to human life.

"Don't enter a stip during the fermentation period unless another person is at hand to give aid if needed," he added.

They tell this somewhat Scotch like on Alex Powell, Jr., new member of the Highway Commission, who it is relate, explains his alleged refusal to carry a watch or a match box: "Any countryman you meet will tell you what time it is or give you a match."

MAIL TO SANTA CLAUS IS 4 MONTHS EARLY

Milwaukee, Wis.—(AP)—A Milwaukee boy has avoided the rush by mailing his Christmas list to Santa Claus, North Pole, in August.

Postmaster John A. Fleisner said the letter would be held until some charitable organization requests all such letters around Christmas time.

Bears Act Like Pigs

Gaylord, Mich.—(AP)—Officials of the Pigeon River CCC camp report that bears are "muscling in" on the pigs.

Despite popular theories that black bears like fresh pork, the CCC officials report that bears have invaded pig pens in the neighborhood and cuffed the porkers aside as to take their places at the trough.

California peace officers pool their information on motor accidents with a central bureau of statistics, which then puts out analyses of accident causes and recommendations.

THE OLD PLANE WITH A NEW PROPELLER

Washington Daybook

By Preston Crover

Washington—The sort of fish the President is hooking down the Potomac river these summer weekends is an enticing subject in Washington.

Three times in a month he's taken his rather antiquated Presidential yacht, the Potomac, down the river from the navy yards to cast bait over the side on sunny Sundays.

"Just for a rest," says White House announcements.

But Washington is looking beyond the announcements to the President's fishing companions on those three trips. On separate weekends in July they were Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan and Senator Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin. On the second weekend in August the guest was Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana.

Could the fish the President sought to hook on those trips possibly be an alignment for 1940?

Certainly the three gentlemen didn't just sit aft and angle. They have ideas, and if their tongues wagged at all, they must have waggled in the tunes familiar to them.

And what are the tunes?

LaFollette and Minton have voted an almost straight Roosevelt ticket in the senate. They have placed their official approval on all the Rooseveltian moves toward the "more abundant life," such as TVA, "more abundant life," the court reform bill, the Wagner labor relations act, the holding company bill, reciprocal trade treaties, housing and the wages and hours bills.

The two senators who have hooked fish with the President have jobs that put all their major ideas on record. But there's reideaded Governor Murphy of Michigan. He seems to be driving in the same direction in a recent speech he said, "Our people are not suffering from having too much. They are suffering from another abuse: from a few having too much."

It was Murphy, in an interview at Bridgeport, Conn., who said to a reporter: "there is considerable support in the nation for a third term for President Roosevelt."

It was Murphy who sat patiently through hours of talk in the six-week General Motors strike this spring getting a compromise agreement without ordering his state troops to evacuate the strikers.

In February this year President Roosevelt sent a message to congress asking for a change in the supreme court. But two years before that young, black-eyed, pugnacious Senator Minton shouted at an Indiana crowd, "You can't eat the constitution." Republicans decided quite loudly that he had no respect for the constitution, but the voters decided to send him to congress.

As soon as Mr. Roosevelt arrived here in 1933, he set afoot plans for federal relief; but months before that, young Senator LaFollette had been brow-beating the senate for just that. Since Roosevelt took the steering wheel LaFollette has voted with him and asked for more as far as relief is concerned. In one speech he observed cynically that anyone today taking Horace Greeley's advice, "go west, young man, go west," would have to thumb his way.

So this is the trio which has gone fishing with the President most recently. These are the men whose ideas, unless they played the part of deaf-mutes, hammered on the consciousness of Mr. Roosevelt for 24 hours.

Washington wants to know if they sunk any hooks into the Potomac that were shaped like "1940" and if they brought up any dripping fish initialed "F.D.R."

For unmounted units, a flag is a color; for mounted or motorized units, a standard; and for ships it's an ensign.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—One of the intimate, informal little side-lights which New York is always willing to show you—if you look for them—is the taking of pictures for the smart advertisements which adorn the backs of magazines.

Almost every day you can see models posing at counters, climbing out of cars, entering elevators—apparently casual members of the scene—yet they are trained actresses being caught for the toney advertisements of automobiles, hosiery, frocks, all the other trillion and one things that thrill the feminine (and sometimes the masculine) eye.

Today, for instance, two automobiles, whirled up to the curb in 5th avenue, near 48th street, and two lovely young girls got out. Despite a temperature which threatened to make ice cream cones out of the buildings, the young women were dressed in richly warm fall frocks. They carried school books in their arms. It didn't take the crowd, which miraculously mobilized in the twinkling of an eye, a minute to understand that here was a delineation of what smart young ladies in finishing schools must wear this autumn.

One of the girls sauntered up the steps of a church and sat down. She raised her arm as if to shield her eyes from the sun. The other lapsed into a pose on a lower step. There they were, two trained models, posing on the steps of a 5th avenue church. But, next month, when the ads appear, they will be college misses, gazing across the campus from the steps of some college administration building.

er to the ground, just as they did in the old tales of long ago. The knight gazed tenderly at the fair-haired Elaine. The cameras clicked. "Okay" yelled the director. The princess leaped down and reached for a tube of lipstick. The Knight bawled, "Hey, Joe, help me off this nag." The cameraman put away his camera. "The director said, 'Gimme a match, Lancelot.'" The charger stomp!—and flicked at a fly with his towing tail. You remember this one. It was on the back of all the big magazines—advertising cigarettes.

Charles Walters is known as "The Tap-Dancing Pierrot." The name has clung ever since he made such a hit in "The Show Is On."

New York—Tommy Farr got off on the right foot when he met the New York sports writers. Farr is the reformed Welch coalminer who has come from London to "flog" Joe Louis for the world's heavy-weight championship.

"Oll' bash in 'is bloody face in a round or two. O've studied pictures of your Louis and O' ave what it takes to stop 'im. You'll see."

"Where in the world did you get that?" somebody inquired, pointing admiringly to Tommy's cauliflower ear, one of numerous badges of courage that testifies to his mine and ring wars.

"Oll' me ear. O' got it in a blasted rigger match," he yelled. "O' was playing three-quarter 'alf-back and when scrum was called O' pitched 'ead first after the bloody ball an' got this blasted bash on the ear."

The real delight to this dock-walker is his vocabulary. It is a whole lucky-bag of "blimys," "bloody," and "blasted," he drops his "hatches." He has hands like hams and is a vast rugeed specimen with the gritty exterior of Wales in his features yet with a strange vein of wit in his make-up.

"O've come across this bloody sea to give your Louie the 'orriddest beating of 'is life. O'll thrash 'em, blimy O' will, you'll see!"

Farr has come a long way. He too is a Cinderella man, plucked from the gas-lights and bare-knuckle frays of British carnival life, where he used to cudgel town bullies, for a living. . . . He faced the reporters aboard the Berengaria in natty tweed cloth, a green shirt, and a yellow polkadot tie. . . . There was champagne in his suite for the sports writers. . . . His pockets bulged with a roll of bills. . . . Back of him stretched the mottled history of 150 fights, for some of which he received $4 for having his gizzard knocked loose and his teeth rattled.

It is a strange set-up for this Cinderella man of the British coal mines to be ushered into the title picture. Ordinarily he wouldn't be permitted to fight in the preliminaries. But such is the low estate into which the title has fallen, with third-raters scrambling for the championship, that here we have an Unknown Quantity, a veritable Mr. X, about to go to law for the highest and most valuable of pugilistic prizes. That shows you what fancy phenagling can do—if you hold the right ace. Braddock, the ex-champ, was a third-rater, at best, a sorry figure to wear Dempsey's old crown.

Gene Tunney winces every time he thinks of Louis or Braddock. What happens? Schmeling half kills Louis, and Braddock promptly runs out on him, feeding the crown to Louis. Mike Jacobs, who owns Louis, has made it clear that he wants no part of Schmeling, being smart enough to know that Schmeling would slaughter Joe. So Schmeling is heaved overboard and in comes Tommy Farr.

Well, good luck, Cinderella. If you've got a glass jaw, or a glass slipper, you better send them right home to Blighty. O've got a 'unch Twelve O'clock is going to get 'ere sooner than you expect. O' ave!

Ski Champion Wins New Laurels—Baden, Germany—(AP)—Christel Cranz, world ski champion and German heroine of the last Winter Olympics, has passed her B-test as a glider-flier. The customary greeting of a great deal of noise produced on tin canisters, gasoline cans and oil drums, with a liberal addition of lusty voices was accorded to Christel. In addition she had a "victory flag" of gunny sacking a bunch of hand-picked field flowers and a "B" artistically constructed of evergreen.

A pitching duel between Dr. N. E. Ward for the Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency team and Troy Burnette of the Carolina Sales lasted for six innings of a scheduled seven inning game of softball at Third street stadium yesterday afternoon, but each weakened in the seventh and the Sal's team scored one in the first half, but the insurance men came back in the game to score two and win the game.

The victory put Tadlock's men one game ahead of the city championship. The insurance men won the first game Monday, but the second contest was taken by the Kelvinator-Radio men.

The two teams will meet again at Third street stadium this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

During much of the first six innings yesterday afternoon it was three up and three down. Both sides were playing jam-up ball and the pitchers were in rare form, keeping the few hits scattered.

With darkness drawing near and the score knotted at 0-0, Burnette's mites went to bat in the first of the seventh and pushed over one run. As things had gone for the first six innings, this looked enough to win.

But the insurance men had another idea and with no outs, scored two runs on three successive hits.

Doug West, first in n up, paced a two-bagger. Dr. J. M. Barrett then stepped up to the plate, found one of Burnette's pitches to his liking and clouded another two-bagger. Reynolds May then caught on fair and hit a two sacker to s.w up the game.

Both Burnette and Ward hurled a fine brand of ball and such pitching usually would win any man's ball game.

A large crowd turned out to see the contest and even more people are expected to see today's contest, in which Tadlock's will be working to make it three to one, while Carolina Sales will be out to even things up again.

Tarboro Edges Win Over Ayden's Aces

Tarboro, Aug. 20.—Tarboro and Ayden, both hoping to land one of the berths in the Coastal Plain's post-season play-off, waged a hot battle here yesterday. In the second extra inning, Pitcher Bernard Mooney of the Serpents singled to send home the winning run in a 6-5 duel with Mackie of the Aces.

Tarboro apparently had the ball game won in the regulation distance, but the Aces came to life in the ninth, put over three runs to tie, and then the teams were where they started.

With two away in Ayden's 10th and with Crosswhite on second—he had forced Fary, who had singled—Mackie hit a line single to center. The ball went through Campbell's legs, and Crosswhite scored. That looked like the ball game, but Solly Myers decided he'd like to play some more. The Tarboro shortstop hit one out of the park in the home 10th.

Campbell, the goat because of a couple of errors, turned hero in Tarboro's 11th by starting things with a single. Tatum, attempting to sacrifice, popped to Mackie. Lehman doubled to left, Sharkey was intentionally passed, and Mooney broke up the game by hitting a single to right.

Myers' single and Ware's inside-the-park homer scored two for Tarboro in the third, and another was counted on Henry's single, an error and Campbell's single.

Ware's single, a sacrifice, and Tatum's single added one in the fifth. Hits by Jirak and Baker, sandwiched around an error, produced one for Ayden in the sixth. Mackie singled to start. Ayden's rally in the ninth. Schuerholz hit a line drive over second and Campbell went to his knees to make sure of fielding the ball, but the ball continued on to the fence, and both Mackie and Schuerholz scored. Jirak doubled, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on a fly.

Billies Blank Bugs To Keep Wide Margin

Goldboro, Aug. 20.—Johnny Hruska notched his eighth victory for the Snow Hill Billies by pitching a shut-out over Goldsboro yesterday.

The Bugs not only lost the game; they also lost Danny Musser, who suffered a fracture of the right leg when he slid into the keystone sack in the second inning.

Pete Kums worked for the Bugs and hurled three-hit ball for six innings. Then came trouble—Robb by Robinson homered over the right field wall in the seventh; a walk and Hyder's triple brought a run in the eighth; Joe Blastroff homered in the ninth.

Balla, Goldsboro shortstop, provided the fielding feature. In the second, he leaped high to stab a rap by Robinson and turned it into a double play.

Manager Clarence Roper of the Bugs, with two for four, was the only player making more than one hit.

Greenville's Greenies suffered their second straight defeat here yesterday afternoon when the Williamston Martins came out on the big end of a 4-2 score.

Williamston scored all four of their tallies in the second inning. The Greenies scored both their tallies in the ninth.

Fields was the winning pitcher. Moser was the loser. The Martins collected eight hits, while the locals got six bingles.

In the second inning the Williamston club went to town. Stevens' double and Victoria's single brought in the first tally. Villipique sacrificed, Lakotas walked, and Fields was retired. Earp hit to short, and Victoria scored when Thompson's throw to second was wild. Deim's double sent in two runs.

Greenville was held scoreless until the last inning. Norwood started the locals' last turn with a single, and Thompson duplicated. Pignataro went out, but King contributed a single to tally Norwood. Lakotas' error put Rudisill on base and loaded the sacks. Thompson came home when Jarvis singled, but Rudisill over-ran the keystone sack which led to a putout. While Williamston was trying to get Rudisill in a chase, King tried to score—but Earp's throw home caught King.

Event during the scoring innings, neither team made more than one hit to an inning.

Dorothy May Bundy, the youngest member of the U. S. Wightman Cup team, was born and reared in a tennis atmosphere. Her father, Thomas C. Bundy, won international fame as a doubles player. He teamed with Maurice McLoughlin to win the U. S. doubles title in 1912 '13 and '14, and to represent the U. S. in Davis Cup competition.

Dorothy's mother, May Sutton Bundy, was perhaps even more famous for her exploits on the courts. After having won the U. S. women's singles crown in 1914, Mrs. Sutton invaded England the following year and won what was called the world tennis title at Wimbledon. She was beaten for the same title in 1916, but won it again in 1917.

The annals of California tennis history are replete with the brilliant play of May Sutton Bundy and that of her three sisters—Ethel, Violet and Florence. Daughters of a

Bears Get Pair From The Luckless Eagles

Kinston, Aug. 20.—Baseball fans sat through four hours of baseball here yesterday and witnessed a shelling at Grainger ark that would put the Chinese and Japanese to shame. New Bern's Bears improved their standing in the Coastal Plain loop by capturing both games of a doubleheader, 6-3 and 12-10.

The double victory enabled the Bears to slip past Tarboro and into third place. New Bern and Tarboro are tied on a "games" basis, but the Bears have a one-point advantage in percentages. Tarboro playing two games more with New Bern to date, has played only 500 ball in those two contests—and that accounts for the difference in percentages.

The first game of yesterday's bill was tame compared to the second. In the initial battle, Kinston literally booted the game away with six miscues, thus allowing Worless Knowles to chalk up a victory. He hurled six-hit ball. Krim Bess of Kinston allowed eight scattered hits.

home runs, two triples and three doubles thundered from the bats of the rival clubs. Each team made three homers.

Kinston went to work in the second. With the bases loaded, Taylor slammed out a double to score three.

In the third, the Eagles got two when Stoner homered with one on.

The Bears also uncoupled some aerial bombs in the fourth. Douglass homered with the paths empty, and Stith hit one with Thoele on.

In the sixth, Thoele tripped with one on, and Thornton followed with a homer.

Kinston counted three in the 6th when Wright walked, Morris doubled, and Wyrstek homered.

With two out in the Kinston 9th, Wright homered with one on.

No Crack Down Expected On Maximum Hour Law

Reflector Bureau. Raleigh, Aug. 20.—The State Department of Labor does not plan to "crack down" on violators of the new maximum hour law until its inspectors have completed tours of their divisions and until employers have all had the law explained to them, Major A. L. Fletcher, commissioner, said.

"So far we have found employers entirely cooperative in obeying the law," said Major Fletcher. "And each one of them who has been found to be violating the law has promised to correct the situation. Almost every violation has been found to be the result of misunderstanding of the law and not due to willful non-compliance."

"We do not plan to crack down on any employer until he has had the law explained to him and has failed to respond to an educational campaign."

The labor department has seven inspectors in the field, two having been added since passage of the maximum hour law by the 1937 General Assembly, and these inspectors have been in the field practically since the first of July checking on compliance. It will take them at least sixty days, Major Fletcher said to cover their districts completely and so no prosecutions for violations are likely before September 1st, at the earliest.

"There were so many exceptions made to the original bill that it is very easy to understand the confusion of employers in trying to obey the law," Major Fletcher said.

As originally introduced the bill provided a maximum week of 55 hours for men and 48 hours for women employed in North Carolina but it was so riddled with amendments and exceptions that in its final form more were wret excluded from its provisions than were included.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coon

Hollywood—One by one the movie comedians are going on the air, and the cry from all of them is "material, good material." There isn't enough humor, apparently to go around, not when the show has to be changed as often as it must.

Joe Evan Brown, flirting with a medium wherein his most famous comic asset can be heard but not seen, admits to a bit of an inferiority complex about it. Told me he wouldn't mind if he could be sure of good material, but didn't want to go on with "oldies."

"The old gags are all right occasionally if you can kid 'em," he said, "but I dunno, I dunno."

Meanwhile there's a deal on for his "commercialization" in the fall and if he goes on, he'll leave Chaplin and Lloyd about the only major film comedians attending strictly to their film knitting. And pretty soon that's going to be a distinction in itself.

Big new sign at the entrance to Culver City proclaims: "Culver City—Where Hollywood's Movies Are Made." This rather lets out Burbank, Universal City, Hollywood and North Hollywood, but so far has drawn no return in this continued tales of two cities.

I don't care either, but it seems to be established that Ann Southern is the town's leading air traveler since her marriage to Roger Pryor—and it might as well be recorded here, too.

Alan Dinehart, playing a movie director in "All Baba Goes to Town," is sure that David Butler, his director, won't find fault with his performance—because Dinehart is aping Butler's real performance as a director in the reels.

Joan Crawford's gold bracelet, with links spelling "I Love You," was a present from Franchot. . . . But no tokens of affection are being exchanged between Joan Bonnell and Errol Flynn, her leading man in "The Perfect Specimen."

Joan's lack of enthusiasm for her screen hero is in contrast to the interest she is supposed to show in him for the picture, which makes her a real actress. . . . Flynn and his director, Mike Curtiz, have been going 'round and 'round on the set, too. . . . Some of the boys were taking bets one day on whether Curtiz would sail into Flynn that day or wait until the end of production. . . . of Governor Clyde R. Hoey's favorite songs will be included in the carillon program at Duke university at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Anton Brees, internationally famous master of the singing bells, will give the recital complimentary to the Governor and Mrs. Hoey, who will attend the recital with friends.

Among the songs on the program will be "America," "Sweet Genevieve," "Sylvia," "Deep River," "Abide With Me," "Day is Dying in the West," "Springtime" and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from the opera "Samson and Delilah."

Incidentally these songs have been among the favorites of Mr. Brees listeners during the present summer. Mr. Brees is completing his sixth straight summer at Duke and is invariably heard by large numbers of music lovers, many of whom rarely miss a recital.

The carillon is one of the world's rarest musical instruments and Mr. Brees is the acknowledged master among carillonists. In the late fall Mr. Brees will return to his home carillon, the Bok Singing Tower at Lake Wales, Fla.

Immediately following the recital at 5:30 p. m., there will be an informal gathering of friends of the university in the grove adjoining Page auditorium, at which Governor and Mrs. Hoey and Mr. and Mrs. Brees will be present.

FARMER DIGS UP RING LOST TWENTY YEARS. Auburn, Neb., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Carl Gebers, an Auburn farmer, knocked off a piece of dirt containing a gold ring recently while cleaning the shovel of his cultivator. He told the editor of the Auburn newspaper about it, and a little more than a week later received a letter from Mrs. Henry Unland of Jordan, Mont., who said she had read the story and recalled she had lost a gold ring 20 years ago when the Unland family lived on the farm now owned by Gebers. Gebers sent the ring to Mrs. Unland. Lambs Find Cow a Good Mother. Fremont, O.—(AP)—A cow on Mrs. Josiah Smith's farm near here is mothering five orphan lambs. Mrs. Smith said she was tired of feeding the lambs from a bottle, so put them with the cow as an experiment. The cow now shows a genuine affection for her "adopted" brood, and gets a warm greeting from when she is driven into the barnyard each night.

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

SYNOPSIS. When Neill, a young federal agent, got to Baltimore for a week's vacation with his girl, he finds Janet won't break a dinner date with Prescott Fanning. Peeved, Neill says Fanning is too old for Janet, too slick and spends too much money. They quarrel and part. Neill sets up out to check up on Fanning. He finds him at his hotel and strikes up a bar friendship. Fanning is genial, but discloses nothing about himself. Finally he invites Neill to his party. They go upstairs to Fanning's suite, have a final shot and set forth. In the taxi, Neill loses consciousness.

Chapter Five Janet's Gone!

WHEN Neill came to, he found himself lying fully dressed on his bed at the Hotel Stafford. For the moment his mind was a blank. He was only aware that he felt terrible. The sun was streaming in and he glanced at his watch. Nearly 12 o'clock. He sat up, pressing his head between his hands, then staggered into the bath for water. Suddenly recollection returned—Janet; the Lord Baltimore hotel; Prescott Fanning; the taxicab. Good God! Fanning doped me! he thought. But how? I was watching him. The dope must have been in the wet glass when he brought it from the bathroom! Oh, God! What a fool I was!

"You was in the gauze all right. Paralyzed."

Neill went through his pockets. His money had not been touched, but a glance in the other side of his wallet told him his papers had been ransacked. So Fanning knew now that he was a treasury department agent. Only one thing had been taken: a photograph of Janet.

When he thought of Janet, he turned sick with anxiety. What had happened to her? He ran to the phone and called up the smart dress shop on Charles street where she worked. A woman's voice, refined and acidulous, said: "No, Miss Emory isn't here."

"When will she be in?"

"I don't expect to see her again. She sent me a telegram this morning resigning her position. She has left me flat. It is the most inconsiderate . . ."

Neill was not interested in Madame Annette's feelings. He hung up. Janet gone! He could not take it in fully. Gone?

He took down the receiver again and called up the flat that she shared with a girl pal. A sickening wait while he listened to the double buzz of the bell ringing at the other end. No answer. Remembering what Eyster had told him, he called up the City pier to ask about the yacht Nadj. She had pulled out at 7:30 the previous evening, he was told. At 7:30 Fanning had been with Neill. But of course they could have joined the yacht at some other point later. Where was the yacht bound? Through the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, he was told, and out to sea.

He rose and paced the room in an agony of distress, not knowing what to do. Janet's friend was a student at the Maryland institute and he didn't know how to reach her by phone.

A Cab Driver Reports

IN a moment or two his telephone rang and he ran to the instrument with a wild hope of hearing Janet's voice. No such luck. It was the clerk downstairs saying: "There's a young man here wants to see you. He says you don't know his name. I think he's a taxi-driver."

"Send him up," said Neill.

It was a wizened little fellow in nondescript clothes with an engaging grin. So far as Neill could remember, he had never seen him before. He said, grinning:

"My name is Johnny Tingstrom. I'm the guy that picked up you and the other guy at the Lord Baltimore at 7:30 last night."

Neill seized his arm and jerked him through the door. "For God's sake what happened?"

"Wait a minute!" Tingstrom laughed. "The other guy, he tells me to drive to the Belvedere . . ."

"I remember that."

"When we are coming up the hill beside the Peabody he raps on the glass and says: 'My friend has passed out cold.' So I push looks at you and gets out and we was in the gauze all right. Paralyzed. So the guy says: 'He lives at the Stafford. We better take him home and put him to bed. And I says: 'Okay, boss.'"

"So I drives to the Stafford and we take you in, one on each side. The clerks and the bellhops and the other guys in the lobby, they get a big laugh seeing you brought in cold so early in the evening. So me and the other guy we lays you on your bed and beats it. I drives him to the Belvedere . . ."

"Now I think there's something tributed near the fourth hour. Dealings were comparatively slow. In addition the financial temperature was chilled by another drop in U. S. Government bonds. Transfers were around 800,000 shares.
