Garner Advanced For Presidency

Burke Pledges Support Move Against 3rd Term

To Seek Amendment Establishing Single Six-Year Term

BELIEVES F. D. R. WILL NOT RUN

Favors Resolution To Counteract Forces That Might Seek Induce President

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Senator Burks (D.-Neb.) named Vice-President Garner today as his choice for the Democratic presidential candidate in 1940.

Burks, one of the leaders of the Senate fight against President Roosevelt's Supreme Court bill, said if Garner were "not available" he would want another candidate with "the same qualities of hard common sense."

Burke pledged "full support" for a senate resolution to express opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt. Sen. Holt (D.-Va.) has announced he would submit such a resolution at the next session.

"I am going even farther," Burke said, "and work for constitutional (Continued on page three)

Discharged Indiana Police Captain Wants Action

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Matt Leach, discharged today as captain of state police, issued a statement in which he demanded a congressional investigation of the "methods and motives" of Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Leach charged the Department of Justice with failure to cooperate with the state police and said "the attitude of the Department of Justice now becomes definite antagonism."

Donald Stiver, Superintendent of State Police, said formal charges would be filed against Leach later, one of which he said would be failure to cooperate with federal agents. Leach, in charge of state police since 1933, during which numerous attempts to capture John Dillinger, notorious desperado now dead, were made, had refused to resign at the request of the state police board.

Leach said he would demand a hearing as provided by the state police law. (Continued on page three)

SALES RECORD ON LEAF MART

Offerings Larger Yesterday Than on Any Previous Day

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday experienced its largest day of the season, 73,294 pounds more of the golden weed having been sold here than on opening day. There was much more common tobacco on the floors yesterday than on opening day, however, and the price averaged less than on the initial sales day.

Yesterday 1,390,778 pounds were sold for $269,487.95, or an official average of $19.38 per hundred pounds. On the opening day 1,317,484 pounds were sold for $311,155.73, an average of $23.62 per hundred.

So far this season a total of 6,151,502 pounds has been sold for an average of $20.82, bringing farmers $1,280,783.21.

Observers declared that much of the tobacco being offered is of poor quality, but better prices are looked for soon when the quality of offerings will be much better than that being offered now.

Imperial Manager of Norfolk Branch Dies From Attack

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 4.—(AP)—John Allen Moore, 62, Norfolk manager of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and Ireland, died of a heart attack in a Washington, N. C., hotel today.

He was en route to Wilmington, N. C., on business and after visiting his brother, W. O. Moore in Washington, went to the hotel to spend the night. He left word to call him at 8:30 a. m., and when he failed to answer, attendants went to his room and found him dead in bed.

A native of Orange county, N. C., he made his early home near Mebane. He was vice-president of the Hampton Roads Maritime Exchange a director of the Norfolk Rotary Club, a director of the Propeller Club, and a former vice-president of the Norfolk-Portsmouth Traffic Club.

Fremont Man Held For Embezzlement

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Commissioner of Banks Gurney P. Hood said today John H. Hayes, teller and bookkeeper in the Bank of Fremont, was being held in jail in Goldsboro charged in a warrant with embezzlement in connection with an alleged $2,474.17 shortage in the bank's funds.

The commissioner said Hayes had confessed "all but two or three little items" investigated by Hugh McLean, Jr., state bank examiner, and W. F. Parkerson of Richmond, examiner for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

LINT PROGRAM BEING SOUGHT

South's Agricultural Commissioners Tackle Problem

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 4.—(AP)—The south's agricultural commissioners tackled the problem today of finding a cotton program acceptable to the cotton farmer and the United States Government.

Several proposals confronted the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture meeting, foremost of which was that of the former AAA cotton pool manager, Oscar Johnston of Scott, Miss., who yesterday called for control production with adjustment payments from federal custom receipts.

The commissioners will endorse a plan and present it to a senate agricultural committee when it holds open meetings here this fall. Johnston urged a program based on estimated world production and consumption with adjustment payments to compensate farmers for losses incurred under the Smoot-Hawley tariff. The plan would be administered as under AAA, but with no penalties though compliance, he said, would be so attractive as to induce the number of non-participants to a minimum.

His plan was regarded generally of having unusual significance in view of his previous connection with the administration.

Coupled with a plan was a plea for "strong" organization among southern cotton producers to bring pressure upon southern legislators to serve the south's cotton interests as a unit.

A parity between agricultural and industrial income would be the basis for adjustment payments under the plan.

OHIO OFFICERS SEEK BANDITS

Search On To Avenge Deaths of Two Officers

Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The trail of two desperate pay roll handits cooled today despite the efforts of a police army seeking to avenge the death of two officers and the wounding of another.

State highway patrolmen, county officers and police vainly combed a cornfield in which a woman said two men disappeared after demanding her automobile keys.

The dead were: Chief Sheriff's Deputy Edward Furry, 38; Patrolman Martin Randolph, 38; and Robert Cornette, 32, one of four whom a rading party surprised at a lake resort cottage 15 miles southwest of here yesterday.

Police guns also brought Harry Chapman of Chicago, reported in a critical condition. Officials sought the identity of the pair who escaped.

Cornette was released from the Ohio penitentiary last December 10 on sick parole and had been serving a life term for murder since June, 1924.

Mayor Injured In Attempt To Check Aroused Possemen

Dublin, Ga., Sept. 4.—(AP)—John Underwood, youthful mayor of Mount Vernon, Ga., lay seriously wounded here today because he tried futilely to intervene between an aroused posse and an aged Negro suspected of harboring a fugitive sought in a rape case.

The Negro, 75-year-old Will Kirby, was killed and a member of possemen struck by stray bullets when gunfire disrupted the mayor's effort to curb things down at Kirby's home near Mount Vernon.

Versions of the shooting differed. Special Deputy Sheriff Eustis Brady said Kirby had argued, but had not fired a gun. Others said the Negro fired a weapon.

Underwood was shot in the arm and back and Ralph Grinstead, posseman, was slightly wounded in the arm. Today an unofficial posse of seven hundred Montgomery county residents continued searching a dense swamp north of Mount Vernon for the fugitive Negro named in a warrant as Buddy Sharpe.

NOTE DELIVERED TO MAYOR YUI

Requests Removal Of Japanese Gunboats and Chinese Troops from Settlement

Shanghai, Sept. 4.—(AP)

American, British and French consuls general demanded today Chinese land forces and Japanese warships withdraw from the vicinity of the international settlement and the French concessions, haven for thousands of foreigners in this international city and splattered by artillery shelling in the bitter warfare between Chinese and Japanese.

The consular officials addressed a joint communication to Mayor Yui, protesting further endangering the International settlement, where about 100 civilians were killed yesterday. The mayor sped the representation to the Nanking central government.

THREE BURNED IN YACHT FIRE

Small Girls Lose Lives But Elders Make Escape

San Pedro, Calif., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Three small girls were burned to death early today in a yacht fire and six adults rescued by coast guardsmen, were severely burned.

The dead are Viola Timberlake, 11; her sister, Vivian, and Eloise Teague, 11.

Rescued were Mr. and Mrs. Al E. Timberlake, owners of the craft; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Teague, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burg, all of Los Angeles.

The vessel, the 50-foot Truant, left after midnight for a weekend at Catalina island, 30 miles distant. About four miles off the breakwater, Burg told coast guardsmen, the engine exploded and threw gas over the entire boat. The yacht quickly burst into flames.

The children and Mrs. Burg were in the cabin asleep, the others in the cockpit, also asleep, and the men were awake.

Flames enveloped the cabin inside and out. Twenty-three minutes after the explosion the coast guard cutter Aurora arrived and extinguishing the blaze, rescued the adults.

VACCINATIONS START MONDAY

School Children To be Insured Against Smallpox

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, Pitt county health officer, announced today that at the request of D. H. Conley, Superintendent of Pitt county schools, smallpox vaccinations will begin in the white schools Monday and be completed sometime during next week. Since a few children lose time from school on account of sore arms, it is thought that absence from school, if necessary, had better be in the beginning of the session rather than after the child settles down to work.

Upon the completion of the smallpox vaccinations, the schools will be visited for the purpose of inspecting the children for contagious skin diseases, especially contagious skin diseases, such as scabies (itch), pediculosis (parasites in the hair), ringworm of the scalp and impetigo. Impetigo, according to the health officer, is a skin disease that many children contract during the summer and still have in when schools open.

Vaccinations will also begin in the colored schools next week. In addition to vaccinations, the colored nurse will at the same time inspect the children for various contagious diseases, especially such skin diseases as mentioned above.

The City schools, both white and colored, will be given the same type of medical and nursing services as the county schools.

Since school regulations call for exclusion of all children with these various skin diseases, the health officer urged parents to consult their physician promptly, in order that the children may lose a minimum amount of time from school.

DENTIST IS MURDERED WHILE FILLING TOOTH

Kentwood, La., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Dr. A. D. Root, 50, was shot and killed late today while working on a patient in his dental office. Authorities started a search for a man listed as Gordon Newman, 45, farther residing 15 miles north of here at Gilsburg, Miss.

J. M. Foster, deputy marshal of Kentwood, said the attacker drove to the rear of the building in which Dr. Root had an office, went upstairs and shot the dentist four times with a rifle; then fled in his automobile toward Baton Rouge.

WHO WON AND LOST YDC ROW

Mae Oliver Got Job; Allen To Get Presidency

Reflector Bureau
By HENRY AVERILL

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Political commentators—real and would-be alike—are now deeply agitated over the question "who won the Young Democratic war—Arch Allen or Mae Oliver, the Grahams or the Hoys, or who?"

All are agreed that the loser is Winston-Salem where thousands were expected to congregate next week, attracted by the spectacle of a knock-down, drag out, raw head and bloody bones political battle.

To those sordid souls who follow strictly the advice of Omar Khayyam (Ah, take the cash and let the credit go), the Lady from Lee is the unquestioned victor. To those who prefer lustre to lucre, Mr. Allen is the hero of the hour.

Miss Oliver gets one of the best posts available to a woman in North Carolina. Mr. Allen puts himself in line for power and pelf not later than a year hence when there comes what is vulgarly, but expressively, termed the "payoff."

And so to the eye unjaundiced by prejudice, it would seem about an even break between the principals.

As a matter of cold hard fact there is considerable doubt whether either of the so-called machines, Graham or Hoy, functioned on all cylinders or with the throttle wide open. It is true that the leading Grahamites such as National Committeeman Len Folger went down the line for Mae. It is also true that the Hoy forces did not care particularly to see Sanford's leading lady politician in command of the Y.D.'s. But again there appears to be stand off. The Grahamites get a lucrative post for one of their partisans, the administration keeps control of the enthusiastic but easily managed youngsters of the party.

Four Defendants City Police Court

Four cases were aired in City police court this morning, three of the defendants being charged with drunkenness and one with assault. Two of the defendants were white men and two Negroes.

Dave Hines, Negro, was fined $10 and costs upon conviction of drunkenness. John Weston, Negro, was convicted of assault and was fined $10 and costs.

Roy Grady and John Lewis, white men, each were ordered to pay the costs upon conviction of drunkenness charges.

Pitt Prison Camp Escapee Is Sought

Officers today were searching for Frank Geddy, Negro convict, who escaped from the Pitt county prison camp near Avden late yesterday afternoon and who is believed to have robbed a home in the Shelmardine community.

Early last night an unidentified Negro entered the Shelmardine house and took a suit of clothes, a pair of overalls and a shot gun. The robbery occurred only a short while after the escape, leading officers and prison guards to believe Geddy was responsible.

amendment limiting the presidential term to a single period of six years."

He added, however, he did not believe President Roosevelt desired a third term.

The Nebraskan said he favored a resolution against a third term to counteract forces that might seek to induce the President to run again despite his personal inclination.

Burke declared Garner had "a lot of things the country needs and which would make him a worthy successor to President Roosevelt."

Meantime housewives who have been howling about the high cost of meat had the word of government experts in Washington that prices had reached a peak and declines would follow shortly.

American, British, French and other warships were in the Whangpoo about Shanghai's famous Bund, determined to protect their nationals, but the war-fagged city steered herself against the prospect of a more terrifying "reprisal push" by the mighty Nipponese war machine, temporarily stalled by China's big guns.

Great new fires broke out in Chinese sections of the city today under bombardment by Japanese aircraft. Each side claimed advances in fighting in the Liuho-Woosung sector along the mighty Yangtze and down-river from Shanghai proper.

Twenty Chinese civilians were wounded and one killed by Chinese anti-aircraft fire which sprayed Shanghai's leading residential district on Bubbling Well road.

Leach said a major part of the criticisms directed against him by the Department of Justice seemed because he "openly criticized" the Department in the hunt for the Al Brady gang, sought for several murders and bank hold-ups.

"We have been advised," he said, "that the Department of Justice advised persons whom we were questioning in the Brady case, not to talk to the Indiana state police."

"I am willing," Leach said, to tell the full story to any investigating body that wants to take the time to go into it."

SHORT SHOTS

By HENRY AVERILL

Reflector Bureau.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—Next week's Supreme Court docket contains no capital cases, and only two criminal appeals of any kind—one a liquor possession and the other an abortion case.

There are twenty-one cases on the docket, calling of which will begin Tuesday with the Second District appeals alone coming before the court on that day. Exactly two-thirds of the case were appealed from the Nineteenth District.

The fact that North Carolina's appeal docket has been kept practically up to date led to the court's recent decision not to avail itself of the new provision of law whereby it is authorized to sit in divisions, rather than en banc (all together to the layman). So, all seven justices will participate in practically all cases, though four members will constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business.

Advice for raising the three little College.

The Division of Purchase and Contract will next Thursday receive bids on such diverse articles as chese, red flags, nails and molasses barrels.

There must be a few gas-station-less corners left, as there are only 197,568 stations in the country, according to the publication "Economic and Social Value of the Motor Vehicle," while there must be more corners than that, though nobody seems to have compiled any statistics to prove it.

Labor Sunday Message 1937

(Issued by the Executive Committee of the Federal Council of Churches in America, through its Department of the Church and Social Service)

On this labor Sunday, dedicated to a consideration of the meaning of the Christian Gospel for our industrial life, we remind ourselves of the spiritual insight of the prophets of Israel who saw that the God who rules the universe is also the God of justice in human affairs. God, as revealed in the Bible calls us to share in His concern for justice for all. As Jeremiah said of King Josiah, "He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not this to know me? saith the Lord."

On this day we remind ourselves also of the compassion of Christ for the poor and sinners. That compassion, in a day when poverty was inevitable, becomes for us in our day, when poverty can be abolished, a demand for justice in the distribution of the product of industry. From the perspective of Christianity it is intolerable that masses of men, women and children should be denied the opportunities which comfortable people regard as necessities. God did not create wage-earners to be mere instruments for the making of money for others; the welfare of all must be inherent in the end for which all the processes of production and distribution are carried on.

Religious Significance of Labor Relations

It is because of the concern of religion for justice and for social welfare that church bodies have for thirty years officially declared for the right of employees as well as employers to organize. Back of these declarations has lain a conviction of the sacredness of human personality and of the dignity of the common man, which is born of the teaching of Jesus that all men are children of God. Such a belief issues in a demand for democracy, both in political and industrial relations. This leads to the organization of workers in order that they may have a recognized voice in determining the conditions under which they live and work. Experience has shown that since industry is often organized, on a national or even wider basis, labor unions of corresponding scope are needed if workers are to be adequately represented in truly democratic relations, and if industry-wide standards are to be maintained.

Many industries in this country have been organized over a long period of years. It has been demonstrated that it is possible for organized employers and organized employees to maintain generally harmonious relations, and to adjust their differences through joint conciliation without recourse to strikes or lockouts during the terms of their contracts. The past year has been marked by a significant advance in wider organization of workers. Of great importance was the evidence of industrial statesmanship on the part of a great steel corporation which reached an agreement with a union without the necessity of a strike. The decision of the supreme court validating the National Labor Relations Act marks a wider and more far-reaching recognition in law of labor's right to organize and bargain collectively.

As yet only a minority of American workers are organized, and it must be recognized that annual wages of many skilled workers are still below a comfort level of living, while the wages in many industries both urban and agricultural are grossly inadequate for a decent standard of living for an American family. Many millions still can find no work. We are convinced, therefore, that thoughtful Christians will welcome the contemporary gains in status and economic welfare on the part of labor as in line with the social ideals of Christianity.

In the growing complexity of society many of us have been so cut off from the lives of the industrial workers that we are tempted to think of them not as neighbors, not as persons whose welfare in this world is as important in the sight of God as our own, but as strange masses. While there are millions of wage earners in our churches, yet many of our congregations have drawn their membership, by reason of location and association, chiefly from the more comfortable middle classes. Many church members see the world from a point of view quite different from the point of view of the laboring masses. As a result of belonging to a class that is relatively secure, many of us tend to fear the very social changes which we should welcome because of the ethical demands of our Christian faith. While protesting against anything that accentuates class consciousness, we fail to realize that our own point of view is largely controlled by the bias of class. Our first need is for self-knowledge and repentance, and sincere desire that the same mind may be in us which was in Christ Jesus who counted not privilege and power as things to be grasped, but emptied Himself in the service of man.

Wider Issues Involved

There are many parties to industry. The demand of the hour is for greater tolerance, understanding and fair play among them. Voices have been raised among employers urging modification of the older attitudes of many toward organized labor. Leaders of labor should realize that with increasing power, the labor movement must accept greater responsibility, not only fulfilling its traditional ideal of a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, but also taking a broad view of the economic scene as a whole. The achievement of increasing industrial wages alone will not solve the total problem. A balance between agriculture and industry must be attained. Prices to consumers must be taken into account. Labor and consumers in many countries have been quick to grasp the advantages of consumers' co-operation as a vital part of the movement toward a better day. Comprehensive collaboration of all groups is urgently needed. Employers, labor, consumers and the government must work together to provide for the economic needs of all the people. We must create also such cooperative relations among the nations and such access to raw materials for all as shall promote international peace.

As industrial and economic life becomes more complex we discover increasingly urgent need for more personal consecration of individuals to the religious life. For religion will always be indispensable not only for the soul of the individual, but also as social cement to hold any society together in the bonds of peace. Selfish struggles for prestige or power on the part of individuals or groups can become divisive forces in any society. There must, indeed, be such a reorganization of our economic life as will remove the fear of economic insecurity on the part of men and nations which now leads to inter-class and international conflict, but there may still remain in individual lives those destructive and socially divisive forces of sin and selfishness, of jealousy and pride and intolerance which would tend to tear apart any social order. The church must therefore continue to serve society by proclaiming Christ's gospel of justice, love, and reconciliation, and by insisting that both individuals and economic and political institutions shall conform to the will of the God of justice and love.

SYNOPSIS: Wealthy, flashy Prescott Fanning abducts Janet from Baltimore on his yacht. She gets word to Neill, a young Federal agent who loves her. Rushing to Absalom's Harbor, he boards the yacht and finds, in a locked cabin, Fanning shot dead and Janet in a faint, a gun beside her. Neill hides her in the disused liners up the river. Back at the village he resumes his fisherman role to watch developments, offering to help Mark Bonniger, a keen local man who takes charge of the investigation. Kettering, a Baltimore lawyer, is on hand to fish, and queer little David Eyster, who hated Fanning, shows up.

DANGEROUS CONFERENCE

Having accepted Neill, Bonniger in his grave way was disposed to be friendly. After dinner in the hotel he suggested that he and Neill and Kettering should sit down somewhere and discuss the case.

"I'd be glad to hear any suggestions you or Kettering may have to offer."

Neill hardened with a sense of the danger of such a conference. He must appear to be working with them, while he played his own hand. He must study every word that he uttered. Bonniger was not the sort of man to be easily confused by false issues. Above all he must take care not to overplay his hand. At the same time, Neill was conscious of the grim humor of the situation. To be asked to sit down and discuss the best way of catching himself!

"Kettering, I think, should be told who you are," said Bonniger. "If you have no objections."

"That's all right with me," said Neill, "as long as the newspaper boys don't get hold of it."

"I will protect you with the press."

They took possession of the little parlor back of the hotel office, and locked the door to keep out the ever-present mob. The motor bus had arrived, and Bonniger had been closeted with McGee, the engineer. Neill's chief anxiety at the moment was to learn if McGee had said anything to Bonniger about calling him up at the Stafford. If he had, it wouldn't lead the investigator directly to Neill, because he was registered at the Stafford under an assumed name. But Bonniger would be able to get a good description of him at the hotel.

"What did you get from McGee?" asked Neill carelessly.

"McGee's story corroborates the other three as to the events leading up to the murder," said Bonniger. "McGee himself is outside suspicion because he went to town on Tuesday morning. I got one new thing out of him. He confessed to leaving a gun where the girl could get it. He was sorry for her. I showed him the gun with which Fanning was shot, and he identified it as his."

Neill was relieved in mind. Kettering was much impressed when he was told who Neill was. "It's providential that you should be here," he said.

"I don't know," said Neill. "Murder is a little out of my line."

"I've never solved a murder," said Kettering, "but I've defended more than one murderer."

Neill did not care much for Kettering. He was too wordy. He had an idea that Bonniger did not fancy him either. But the man had a bright mind. He could pounce on the weakness of an argument. Bonniger and Kettering made a formidable combination to be up against. Neill let them do most of the talking.

Thriving

Bonniger laid out the known facts. He took it for granted that the missing girl had shot Fanning. "Strange that nothing has turned up today to establish her identity," he said. "The story has been out on the streets of Baltimore for hours, but nobody has come forward to tell us who she is. Nobody has reported a girl missing. If I am to believe the stories of the crew, she was a girl of remarkable beauty. Such a one ought to be well known."

For Neill this was all to the good.

"The evidence suggests that some man helped her to escape from the yacht," Bonniger continued. "It may have been a stranger bent on rescuing a woman in distress. It's easy for a beautiful girl to find men to help her, of course. But neither girl, man nor skiff has been seen since they left the yacht. Where did they go? How could a beautiful girl in a pink evening dress and black velvet wrap disappear without having been seen by someone?"

"Perhaps the skiff swamped out in the bay and they were drowned," said Kettering.

"It's a possibility." Neill put in a word for Janet. "If Fanning attacked the girl, she was justified in shooting him."

"Certainly. But she would have to prove that she had not previously encouraged his advances. The crew testified that she seemed to come aboard the yacht willingly."

Kettering offered an alternative theory, that one of the crew might have shot Fanning before coming ashore to the movies.

Bonniger would have none of it. "Suppose one of these men shot Fanning to save the girl from him. Is it likely they would go ashore and leave her alone with the body?"

"Perhaps they procured a skiff for her," suggested Neill.

"Impossible. It was broad daylight when the crew came ashore and 50 people saw them. They went directly to the movie theatre and paid their way in."

"No," Bonniger continued. "I questioned each man separately this afternoon, and their stories hung together. Fanning, the girl and another couple came aboard Monday night and had dinner. Jolly party; plenty of champagne. Later the other couple went ashore. When the yacht started down the bay, the crew suspected that the girl might have been abducted because she had brought no baggage aboard. And as

Walter, the steward said: "She was the kind of a girl who might lead a man to do something crazy!"

"Yet they stood for it," said Neill angrily. "What kind of men were they?"

Bonniger looked a little surprised at his indignation. (Steady! Neill warned himself). "Well, they were not sure of it because, they said, she didn't cry or carry on in any way."

"Some women don't cry when they're in trouble. They turn stony."

"Quite right. Anyhow, you can't expect men of that sort to play the part of heroes. Fanning was their boss. . . The gun clinches the case against the girl," Bonniger said firmly. "She fired the shot, I take it, and her helper came on the scene afterwards."

The Crew Saw Him

Neill had the sense of a net slowly being drawn around him and Janet. "You only assume that she had a helper," suggested Neill. "There is no proof it."

Bonniger sprung a surprise on him. "Certainly there is proof. The three men who were sleeping on board saw him."

"Saw him?" echoed Neill. "How could that be? . . . When?"

"They couldn't tell me the hour. Sometime in the middle of the night."

"In the middle of the night!" "What is there about that which is so surprising to you?"

Once more Neill was warned not to betray so much feeling in the case. He laughed. "Oh, nothing," he said, "only it was fixed in my mind that Fanning was shot and the girl got away before the crew returned from the movies."

"Certainly Fanning was killed and the girl's friend came on the scene before the crew got back," said Bonniger, "because they heard neither the shot nor the breaking in of the cabin door. But it appears from their stories that the two did not make their final getaway until some hours later."

Neill concealed his confusion behind a wooden face.

"What did the crew tell you?" asked Kettering.

"They returned to the yacht at 10:15. All was quiet aboard and they turned in. They sleep in the forepeak. Some time later the steward, Walter, said he was awakened by a noise on deck. A few moments were lost while he was awakening his mates, and they were pulling on their pants.

"When they stuck their heads out the fore hatch, the man was on deck. He saw them and went over to see him dimly. They couldn't describe him beyond the fact that he was a big man. He pulled away swiftly in the dark. They thought at the time that it was a robber."

"What about the girl?"

"They didn't see her. I assume that she threw herself in the bottom of the skiff to escape observation."

This explained nothing so far as Neill was concerned. So there had been another visitor to the yacht after he and Janet had left it. Who was it? he asked himself. What was he after?

"Where do you suppose this guy was when the crew came back?" asked Kettering. "If he had a skiff with him they must have seen it."

"I am supposing that he heard the crew coming," said Bonniger, "and rowed off a little way in the dark to give them time to get below and go to sleep."

"Sure!" said Kettering.

This was a false deduction, though a natural one, and Neill could afford to smile at it.

Snow Hill Defeats New Bern, 2-1

SNAKES - BILLS PLAY SERIES

Snow Hill Took 2-1 Victory from New Bern Yesterday

Snow Hill, Sept. 4.—The Billies finally done it. In a hard-fought game here yesterday, the Snow Hillians counted a 2-1 win over Doc Smith's New Bern Bears to move into the Coastal Plain League finals. Tarboro will be the opposing team.

The opening game is being played in Snow Hill this afternoon. The series is a best-four-of-seven affair. The winner will be crowned champs in the Coastal loop.

A capacity crowd was expected to be on hand for the opener today.

Johnny Hruska hurled yesterday for the Billies. Bill Averette, who on Monday had pitched New Bern to their only victory in the series, was the loser.

Both Hruska and Averette pitched well, and there was only one earned run—with two out in Snow Hill's third, Hyder singled and Wall doubled to produce the first tally of the game.

Snow Hill other tally—the winning one—came in the fifth. An error by Thornton put Rabb on base, and Douglass miscued Hruska's bunt. Averette fanned Mewborn. With Hyder up, Melchor threw to first in an effort to pick off Hruska—the throw, if good, would have caught Hruska flat-footed; it wasn't good, the ball went into rightfield, and Rabb tallied.

New Bern's tally came in the fifth verse. Thornton walked, Soufas errored Melchor's bunt, and Osley beat out a bunt. Averette hit to Rabb, whose throw home forced Thornton. Vick then lifted a fly to Hyder in left—Hyder's throw to the plate was perfect, but Latham dropped the ball and Vick was safe with the run which tied up the game for a very brief spell. Douglass fled out to end the inning.

The fielding stars were Walter Rabb, who handled eight chances in great fashion, and Harry Soufas, who made a number of fine stops.

The Bears' five hits went to as many batsmen. Johnny Hyder, with two for three, and Dwight Wall with two for four, paced the Billies. The other Billie hit went to Emil Zak, star hurler who filled the right-field job.

Aaron (Robby) Robinson, acting manager of the Billies, did not indicated last night which pitcher he will send against Fred Henry's Tarboro club today. The starting assignment probably went to Cecil Longest, former Carolina hurler. The Tarboro club clinched its series with Williamston on Tuesday, and so Skipper Henry has his whole staff ready for action. Bernard Mooney probably got the ball today. All Tarboro hurlers have been hot in recent competition—the club ended the season's scheduled with eight consecutive victories and then bowled over Williamston in three straight.

The Billies and Snakes are scheduled to play in Tarboro tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon for the second game in Eastern Carolina's "little world series."

HOW'S THIS FOR HARD LUCK—HURLS NO-HITTER; LOSES

Orlando, Fla., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Jim McMullen, big Deland right-hander, qualified for the Florida State League's "Hard Luck Club" last night when he pitched a no-hit game but lost to the Orlando Gulls, 3-0.

For seven innings Jim pitched his high, hard one past the Gulls in one of the season's finest pitching duels, with young Bob Overstreet.

In the eighth, three errors, a walk and an outfield fly accounted for the runs.

SULLIVAN AIDE DIES

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 4.—(AP)—George W. Histed 84 who was John L. Sullivan's sparring partner more than half a century ago, died yesterday in the Edgerton Homestead here.

TITLE BATTLE SET FOR JUNE

Place as Yet Undetermined For Max-Joe Fight

New York, Sept. 4.—(AP)—As a climax to negotiations that have kept him busy for more than a year and have taken him across the ocean a half-dozen times, Max Schmeling yesterday signed a contract to fight Joe Louis next June for the world heavyweight championship.

The bout will take place under the promotional banner of Mike Jacobs—somewhere in the United States, sometime during the month of June, 1938. Further details concerning the time and place will be ironed out later.

It took some five hours of conferring to straighten out affairs so that the German, who won from Jack Sharkey on a fou in 1930, and lost it to Sharkey in 1932, would put his name on the document that entitles him to another shot at the championship.

Schmeling finally accepted terms of a 20 per cent "cut" in the gate receipts—which, Mike Jacobs confidently asserts, will be over one million dollars—as well as substantial percentages of the radio and motion picture income. Louis will receive 40 per cent of the gate. Schmeling had demanded a forty per cent share.

The contract, while it permits both Schmeling and Louis to engage in bouts between now and June, gives the challenger complete protection in the event Louis should lose the title. If the Detroit Negro should be beaten in the one or two tune-up bouts he expects to take on this winter, his conqueror is bound to defend the title vs. Schmeling.

Likewise, Schmeling's activities are limited to such as are not likely to impair his status as a challenger. If he fights anywhere outside of Germany, the bout must be promoted to meet Tommy Farr, latest victim of Joe Louis; Jim Braddock, former heavyweight champion; Bob Pastor, Max Baer or Buddy Baer.

If he wins the title, the contracts call for Max to fight only under the Jacobs banner until September 30, 1939.

SEASON OPENS IN SOME AREAS

Fishermen To Make Rush for Various Creeks, Rivers

Reflector Bureau Raleigh, Sep. 4.—Fishermen are expected to make a rush for the 25 areas along various rivers and creeks in the state which have been protected and closed to fishing since April 1, and which were just open again September 1. Commissioner John D. Charik of the game and inland fisheries division of the Department of Conservation and Development said today.

Some of the areas now open for fishing until April 1, 1938 are:

Beaufort county: Tranter's creek, a tributary of the Pamlico river, including all tributaries, for about 12 miles.

Columbus county: Waccamaw Lake and Waccamaw river, in front of mouth of river from Turkey Point one mile below Scoggin's Pond and down Waccamaw river to the railroad bridge.

Columbus and Brunswick counties: Waccamaw river from Lay landing three miles from South Carolina line to Seven Creeks and up Seven Creeks one mile, including tributaries.

Craven county: Brice's creek, a tributary of the Neuse river, from the mouth of the creek to the Blue Hill bridge at Riverdale, including all tributaries, about 15 miles.

Duplin county: Northeast Cape Fear river, from highway 41 bridge at Chirquepin to bridge at Hallville; Muddy creek from mouth of creek to the first bridge, about one mile; Maxwell creek from the mouth of the creek one mile above and all other tributaries, about 10 miles in all.

A HAIR'S BREADTH won the hobo crown for "David I" (Harry Beetson, above) from Hairbreadth Harry, loser by one vote at the Britt, Ia., convention.

New Hanover county: Smith creek, a tributary of New river, from mouth of creek to its headwaters, including all tributaries, about eight miles.

Onslow county: Northeast river, a tributary of New river, from highway No. 24 bridge to its head waters including all tributaries, about eight miles.

Pender county: Shelter creek, a tributary of Northeast Cape Fear, from the mouth of the creek to Shaken creek, including all tributaries and adjacent waters, about 12 miles.

Robeson and Columbus counties: Lumber river from highway bridge at Fair Bluff to Benton's Landing and up the highway canal along the Fair Bluff-Marietta highway from its mouth to Hovver's bridge and Porter Swamp from its mouth one mile up stream, including all tributaries, about 11 miles. Also following lakes: Pine, Short, Black, Deep, Grantham, Sunday, Shelter, Bay, Little Hogg, Big Hogg, and the Old River lakes.

HE PLAYS REAL GOLF —147 HOLES IN A DAY

Warrensburg, Mo., Sept. 4.—(AP)—It may or may not be a record, but when Wilson Morris, 21, finished playing 147 holes of golf over the Warrensburg course in one day recently he was ready to submit it as his bid.

Morris' score testifies to the fact that he was playing golf, not a hit-and-run game. He was 33 strokes under par for the distance. He covered the 16 and a fraction 9-hole rounds in 555 strokes. Par for the 147 holes is 589.

With Jack Bishop of Cartersville, Fla., a visitor, as a companion, Morris started play at 5 a. m. when unable to see the first green clearly, Bishop was forced to give up after 99 holes because of illness. He took 430 strokes, 34 over par. Morris continued playing, with a caddy and another witness. The first 80 holes were played without a caddy, the men lugging their own bags and dragging the sand greens.

Eastern Farmers Receive Huge Sum Over Million Dollars

Raleigh, Sept. 4. — (AP) — The Times said today about $4,000,000 was received by Eastern North Carolina growers for more than 16,000,000 pounds of tobacco on the new bright belt this week.
 "During sales for the season, which opened August 26, it is estimated receipts were in excess of $5,000,000 for about 23,000,000 pounds offered on the 14 markets," the paper says.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell said today North Carolina had received a check for "something over one million dollars" in inheritance taxes from the estate of the late Mrs. B. N. Duke of Durham.
 The Revenue Department is not allowed to reveal exact figures of such payments, but arrival of the Duke check was disclosed by the department's daily collection statement.

90 Per Cent Of Lint Qualifies For Loan

Washington, Sept. 4. — (AP) — Government cotton experts estimated today about 90 per cent of this year's cotton crop would qualify for loans under terms announced by the Commodity Credit Corporation Monday.
 The estimate came from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and was based on proportions of various grades and staples of the cotton crop last year.

Camera Coverage Of The World

WAY DOWN SOUTH IN THE LAND OF COTTON darkies are singing their old spirituals as they stoop to harvest another crop of cotton, expected to total 15,000,000 bales. Their burlap sacks filled, they weigh in their pickings, receiving from 50 to 75 cents per hundred pounds for their toll. The white staple is then loaded in high-sided wagons and rolled away over red clay roads to the gin. Night brings singing and dancing around the little cabins as the weary workers return from the fields. Prices this year are expected to be higher than any received for many years, so there's good cause for singing in the south.
